One of the most bitter mayoral contests in the history of the city of Rahway will come to a close on Tuesday, Nov. 2.

Residing among three candidates for mayor, Rahwayans will also select three councilmen-at-large from among nine candidates from three different slates.

In the mayoral balloting, the Democratic incumbent, Daniel L. Martin, will face Sixth Ward Republican Councilman James J. Fulcomer and the Independent candidate, George G. Link.

Seeking his fourth term, Mayor Martin was born and raised in Rahway. The mayor was the first elected official ever accorded honorary membership in the Police Chiefs Assn. of Union County. He is a project manager presently working as the supervisor of the electrification project on the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad. A veteran of military service, the Democrat is married, and he and his wife, Mrs. Cheryl Martin, have two children, Jennifer and Danny Martin.

A two-term councilman, Mr. Fulcomer is a former president and treasurer of the Rahway Lions Club, a committee chairman of the Rahway Chamber of Commerce, the former state chairman of the Young Republicans, the vice president of the Elizabeth Teachers Union, a former delegate to the Union County A. F. L. - C. I. O. Council and the Republican municipal chairman in Rahway.

A government and history teacher at the Elizabeth High School, the GOP candidate is a life-long county resident. He is married to Mrs. Katherine Fulcomer, has two daughters, Jennifer Fulcomer, 7, and Jacqueline Fulcomer, 4, and a son, Jason Fulcomer, born on May 22 of this year. He is a member of the Zion Lutheran Church of Rahway.

From 1967 to 1978 Mr. Link served as the chief and the director of the Rahway

Fire Dept.

Now retired, he attended the East Meadow public schools in East Meadow, L. I., and Hempstead High School in Hempstead, L. I. He attended the Nassau County Fireman's Training School, the New York State Firemen's Training School, the Union County Training School for Firemen, the New Jersey State Fireman's School and the Rutgers Fire and Arson School. He became a Rahway fireman in 1947, was promoted to captain in 1955, to deputy chief in 1963 and to chief in 1967.

The Independent candidate is a member of the Rahway Kiwanis Club and the past Distinguished President of the Year in addition to receiving an award from the New Jersey Kiwanis for life-saving.

One of the two Democratic incumbents running for his second term on the Governing Body, the City Council President Vincent P. Addona is an 18-year city resident. He is the past president of the Rahway High School Parents, Teachers, Student Organization, and served for 13 years with the Citizens Youth Recreation Council. He is employed as a vocational educator in the Elizabeth school system, and is a member of the Rahway Council No. 1146 of the Knights of Columbus.

The other incumbent, Walter McLeod, is a 10-year veteran of the Governing Body, having served nine years as the Fourth Ward's representative, and having won a Special Election for the city-wide post last year. Mr. McLeod is a supervisor for the Western Electric Co. A member of the Ebenezer African Methodist Episcopal Church of Rahway, he is a 27-year resident of Rahway.

The newcomer Democrat, James Cadigan, is a former School Board president and a 20-year resident of the city. Successfully elected twice to the Board, he is a past president of the Rahway C. Y. R. C. and is a member of the Rahway Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. He is a construction supervisor in the mechanical trades and is a past president and trustee of the Plumbers Union Local No. 24.

The only Republican incumbent running for an at-large post, Councilwoman Irene F. Rinaldi has served on the Council since 1978. A member of the Rahway Planning Board, she also serves as a member of the Local Assistance Board and as the Council liaison to the Rahway Housing Authority.

Mrs. Rinaldi is the controller of Ultragroup Overseas Corp., a multi-national company engaged in the importing and exporting of heavy machinery and chemicals. She is the past secretary of the Lincoln Park Civic Assn. and is a member of the Rahway Taxpayers Assn. and of the Union County Women's Political Caucus.

Another GOP contender, Anthony P. Lordi, is the president of the Rahway Chamber of Commerce, the vice chairman of and a former advisor to the Rahway Parking Authority, a former president of the Rahway Lions Club, and a former Rahway Italian-American club president.

The 30-year city resident is the former president of the Industrial Carriers Corp. and the president of the A. P. Lordi Pallet, Inc.

The third GOP hopeful, Sharon L. Surber, was active in efforts to protect residential homeowners against zoning applications or changes that may destroy residential property values and neighborhoods. She is the treasurer of the Rahway Chamber of Commerce, a Rahway Landmarks member, a member of the Union County Elderly and Handicapped Transportation Board, a former executive secretary for the Tri-State Metal Erectors and a member of the Rahway Taxpayers Assn.

A Democratic councilman-at-large from 1971 to 1978, Wilson D. Beauregard is running for that post this year as an Independent. Elected the Council president in 1975, he is retired as a quality-control aide for the New York Printing and Advertising Co. The past senior vice commander of Rahway Post No. 5 of the American Legion served for three years on the Board of Directors of the Union County Health and Tuberculosis Assn.

He is a past member of the Citizens Advisory Council for the Board of Education, and for 20 years a member of Local No. 51 of the New York Printing Pressmen's Union. He is also a past member of the Rahway Parking Authority and a member of the city's Veterans Central Committee.

Also on the ticket headed by Mr. Link, James F. McCartney, Sr. attended local schools, the Bloomfield Technical Institute and the Thomas Edison Vocational High School in Elizabeth. He is a member of Newark Local No. 52 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and of Rahway Post No. 5 of the American Legion.

He served in the Navy during World War II and the Korean Conflict.

The third member of the Link ticket, Salvatore D'Addario, Sr., is a life-long city resident. He attended St. Mary's Grammar School in Rahway, Rahway High School and the Lincoln Technical Institute, where he obtained his New Jersey State Black Seal Firemen's License.

County, state races attract cornucopia of experience

By R. R. Faszczewski
In addition to selecting local officials, voters in Rahway and Clark will also be casting ballots for a United States senator, a Union County surrogate and four county freeholders.

The fight for United States senator is among Rep. Millicent Fenwick, a Republican; a Democratic nominee, Frank Lautenberg, and several independent candidates—among them, Mrs. Rose Monyk of Rahway.

Representing the state's Fifth Congressional District in the House of Representatives since 1974, Mrs. Fenwick served in the State Assembly from 1970 to 1973. She then became the state director of consumer affairs, a post she served in until her election to the House of Representatives. She was re-elected to the House post in 1976, 1978 and 1980.

Mr. Lautenberg, the president of Automatic Data Processing, a company he started, is a former commissioner of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey. He also founded a center for cancer research and is noted for several philanthropic activities.

Mrs. Monyk is a life-long Democrat. She served as a member of the committees for referenda on the Rahway Fire Headquarters in 1974 and on the Rahway City Hall in 1978. She was elected as a Democratic committeewoman in 1978, ran as an independent for the New Jersey Senate in 1979, won the Democratic nomination for the House of Representatives in 1980, and ran in last year's Democratic gubernatorial Primary Election.

The surrogate's race will pit incumbent Republican Rose Marie Sinnott of Summit against Democrat Ann P. Conti of Mountainside.

Appointed to complete the term of the former surrogate Walter Ulrich of Rahway this year, when he received a state appointment, Mrs. Sinnott served as a freeholder from 1975 to 1982. She received her bachelor of arts degree from Marymount College, and is a former English teacher, a former freelance writer and the former president of Sinnott and Bournique, Inc.

Mrs. Conti is a practicing attorney dealing with estates, wills and trusts. The associate counsel for the Union County Board of Social Services, she is a member of the Union County Bar Assn., the president of the Women Lawyers in Union County and a former administrative assistant to the United States Veterans Administration.

The four Republican nominees for freeholder, Blanche Banasiak; Bernard G. Yarusavage; Robert C. Miller and John Kulish; will be facing Democrats, Thomas W. Long; Charlott DeFilippo; Walter Boright and Jerry Green.

The chairwoman of the Freeholder Board, Mrs. Banasiak was the chairwoman of the last Elizabeth City Charter Study Commission, and was the first woman elected to chair the Elizabeth Republican Party. She served as the vice chairwoman of the Freeholder Board and was the vice chairwoman of the Elizabeth Flood Control Committee.

She also served on the Narcotics Enforcement Officers Assn. and the county planning board.

The mayor of Clark since 1973, Freeholder Yarusavage is in his first year as a freeholder. He has also served as a Clark councilman, a Planning Board member and a director of the New Jersey Conference of Mayors. He attended Rutgers University's Institute of Labor Management, and is employed by the Exxon Research and Engineering Co. in Linden.

Freeholder Miller was the mayor of Berkeley Heights, and has served on the borough's Governing Body for two terms. He is a member of the Board of Directors of Communities on Cable-Public Access Television and the Local Finance Board of the New Jersey Dept. of Community Affairs. He is employed as a seminar leader by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

A fire commissioner and a former mayor of Hillside, Mr. Kulish served as the TRAFFIC CONGESTION - The residents of the Lake Ave./Schwin Dr. area of Clark are shown discussing traffic problems with the Clark First Ward Township Council candidate, Raymond Krov. Besides having difficulty gaining access to Lake Ave. safely, the residents are equally concerned about their children's safety since out-of-town motorists increasingly use the neighborhood streets as a shortcut, reports Mr. Krov.

Administrator responds to City Hall questions

Stating, "all information regarding the new City Hall and the Police Headquarters is open and available for any citizen who wishes to examine it," the Rahway City Administrator Joseph M. Hartnett charged today Alvin W. Lawrence, the president of what Mr. Hartnett called, "this own taxpayers' association," has "completely misrepresented the facts on this issue."

"What Mr. Lawrence is complaining about," the official said, "is not the information isn't available to the public, but we have not gift-wrapped it, and delivered it to him."

"The same thing applies," Mr. Hartnett commented, "to council members, James J. Fulcomer and John Marsh, who say they want this information but have been either too lazy or too busy writing press releases about going to the prosecutor to come in and look at the information."

The administrator said he was "amazed at how lazy certain council members are. If they spent one-tenth the time doing their jobs as they do politicking, they would have all the information they want about change orders or anything else."

The official noted there are several facts which "differentiate" A. W. Lawrence from other citizens.

"First of all," he noted, "Mr. Lawrence is not legally considered just a private citizen. He has been defined by the Supreme Court of the State of New Jersey as a 'public figure' as a result of one of his own libel suits."

"Second, Mr. Lawrence is a habitual litigant against the people of Rahway and has cost the taxpayers literally millions of dollars over the years, both in direct costs and in the delays his lawsuits have caused to various programs and projects," he added.

"Third," Mr. Hartnett said, "Mr. Lawrence has in the past ignored requests by the city to either return documents he has taken or make restitution for them."

"Under these circumstances," Mr. Hartnett noted, "it is obvious dedicated city officials have a duty and an obligation to protect the public interest whenever Mr. Lawrence threatens to menace the city's time and money."

Mr. Hartnett also pointed out, "I wish to remind Mr. Lawrence the question about placing the construction of the new City Hall on a referendum was decided in a court of law, and he lost."

The administrator concluded by saying, "When Mr. Lawrence calls for this administration to 'step aside,' it is for one reason and one reason only—to clear the way for himself and the political opponents to this administration. But he does not have the depth of conviction to put his own name before the public as a candidate in a democratic election."

MARSH ENDORSES FULCOMER FOR MAYOR
Mayor candidate, James J. Fulcomer, Jr., is endorsed by the Second Ward Councilman John C. Marsh, right, who described Mr. Fulcomer as "the best man for mayor in the Tuesday, Nov. 2 election." Councilman Marsh, a former Rahway mayor, said when he left office Rahway taxpayers were paying $44,000 less than Westfield for municipal purposes. "Today under the extravagant spending of Mayor Martin we Rahway taxpayers are paying over $2,500,000 ($2.5 million) more than Westfield. That's 2.5 million reasons to vote for the Fulcomer team for mayor and Council for a much-needed change," he added. The Second Ward Councilman also asked the people to make a special effort to replace the two incumbent Democratic councilmen-at-large with Council candidates, Anthony P. Lord and Sharon L. Surber, to move the balance of power on Council in "favor of economy."

"THE WHOLE ART OF GOVERNMENT CONSISTS OF BEING HONEST."

-Thomas Jefferson

If there is anything that the people of Rahway can be proud of, it is the twelve-year record of honesty and integrity that the administration of Mayor Daniel L. Martin has brought to Rahway. The outrageous innuendos and smears which have been raised in this year's political campaign cannot take that away.

In a lifelong career of community service, one thing Daniel L. Martin has earned from everyone is trust. Because of this, for example, he was the first elected official ever accorded honorary membership in the Police Chiefs Association of Union County.

Any community can have disagreements or controversies over issues affecting the community. But we agree that by far the most important factor in governmental leadership - indeed, the very foundation of good government - is honesty.

In this regard, the choices in this year's election could not be clearer. Day-in and day-out for twelve years the Martin administration has created a government in Rahway which is respected and trusted - State-wide, County-wide, and locally. No last minute election allegations can change a proven twelve year record and neither do we believe people are fooled by such election-time tactics.

As a citizen, you may have many different opinions on different issues. But we think this election is important enough to be decided on one issue - who should be trusted to operate Rahway city government for the next four years.

It's up to the good people of Rahway to decide this election. After all, if they don't, who will? Please make sure you vote and vote for those who have earned your trust - Mayor Martin, Council President Vincent Addona, Councilman-at-Large Walter McLeod, and James Cadigan.

And when you vote please remember what Thomas Jefferson said.

Thank you.

Fulcomer means economy: Bodine

I would just like to remind people they overweighed for economy in the March referendum. If the people vote in the November election in accord with the demonstrated views on the issues, they should vote for Councilman James J. Fulcomer for mayor and for the City Council runningmates, Anthony P. Lordi and Sharon L. Surber.

To do otherwise would make their vote in March an exercise in futility. This Tuesday, Nov. 2, vote is the day that really counts. I urge the people to put the issues first, partisan politics and factionalism last and vote for the Fulcomer Team.

Andersens: Fulcomer wrong on tavern

IN RESPONSE TO STATEMENTS MADE IN LAST WEEK'S NEWSPAPER, for those people in Rahway who do not know the name of the establishment being referred to by James J. Fulcomer's cronies in the newspapers it is the Jersey Devil. Recently, we decided to see for ourselves what all the hoop is was about.

We went to the Jersey Devil and had one of the most delightful surprises we have ever had! This establishment is styled after the country taverns where husbands and wives can go for a night of single-long, dancing, good conversation and friendship.

It was a night of good, wholesome fun! Cities could certainly use more places with this idea in mind.

Unfortunately, Mr. Fulcomer seems to disapprove of good, wholesome fun—this is the only business he writes about. We have yet to read anywhere this candidate is offering to cut his livelihood in order to hold the mayor's job!

Mayor Daniel L. Martin has been open and above-board with regard to his holdings in this business. Mr. Fulcomer should inform the people who sign his letters that Mr. Martin is not a candidate for mayor. It's a shame Mr. Fulcomer can't do a better way to use newspaper space more constructively than to attack a non-candidate who is so hardworking and straight-forward!

Mackow: I know Martin knew law

How dare Rahway Mayor Daniel L. Martin pooh-pooh violating the law by saying he and his business administrator were not aware of the state regulations requiring City Council approval on change orders involved with construction contracts.

I know they were aware of this law because I heard and saw Councilman John Marsh demand at the City Council meetings during the late 1970's the mayor follow the law, and submit change orders to the City Council before executing them.

The City Council represents the people of Rahway, and if the mayor doesn't think enough of following the rules like every other citizen in our city then he definitely doesn't deserve to be re-elected.

Mr. Pitts replies to Nellie Weber

The Fulcomer-orchestrated letter signed by Nellie Weber in the News Record is a mirror image of the way Mr. Fulcomer has sought to dispose of Republicans who have protested his actions over the course of many years.

He figures if he uses the word "liar" often enough against them they will disappear from the scene. Certainly, it is no disgrace for any normal, decent person to throw up his hands in disgust at being called a "liar" week in and week out. Many good Republicans have done so during the "Fulcomer years," and who can blame them?

But I have news for him. I think it's pretty clear Mr. Fulcomer has underestimated me, just as he has grossly underestimated Irene F. Rinaldi.

The Nellie Weber letter wants me to become a Democrat because I don't support Mr. Fulcomer. I have news for you, too, Mrs. Weber. It is you who are intruding on my house. Mr. Fulcomer is no Republican. If you want to call things by their right names, why don't you call yourself and your four or five cohorts Fulcomerites? Don't call them Republicans. That is the party of Abraham Lincoln, and I am deeply offended Mr. Fulcomer uses his name in the guise of our greatest President's party.

Let me say one more thing about that letter as gently as I can, Mrs. Weber. Mr. Igel is not the chief financial officer of Irene F. Rinaldi's company. He is the vice president. He is not in charge of finance. Mrs. Rinaldi is, as I said—and for which I was called a "liar" again—the controller of her company.

Shame on you, Mrs. Weber. Kathy Fulcomer gives failing grades to people who don't get their facts straight. You're not a "liar," you're just a failure, that's all.

Bernard Hayden: Rent control aids all

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following was written as a letter to the voters of Clark by Bernard R. Hayden of 133 Stonehenge Terr., the former Second Ward Councilman.

I previously was a Second Ward councilman. I was for rent control then and I am for rent control now, and I am a homeowner!

Many times during my years on Council, the landlords of Clark asked for, and were granted, meetings with Council or the Rent-Living Board. When the landlords were requested to meet, they were not setting a fair return on their investments. They refused to provide the financial documents.

The Rent-Living Board of Clark, which consists of landlords, homeowners and tenants has stated many times the rent control ordinance in its present form is sufficient, and its terms are in the best interests of the landlord and the tenant. The Rent-Living Board held that it was not necessary to do anything to amend it, after the ordinance.

On Election Day, Tuesday, Nov. 2, the voters of Clark must cast their votes on this question.

1. Who does a particular "rent control" want to change the present situation? 2. Who does it want to produce properties?

2. Why would a certain group of people appoint themselves as the arbiters of this township? True, it is a free country, and one may campaign for whatever he believes in. The nucleus of this group are the same people that seem to be involved in many a wrong in our town. Is it that they feel comfortable in what they call their "rent control"?

In conclusion, I would like to state even on the false assumption that rent control is a landlord's only source of profit, rent control laws operate to provide a fair return, and remember the significant source of a landlord's profit remains hidden in his books.

Tenants of all ages are an integral part of this community, and contribute to the economic and social climate of Clark. Many of the young adults in our community presently cannot afford the high rents, and move into other communities. Remember, most of us have been tenants ourselves at one time, and perhaps some day we may find ourselves wanting an apartment in Clark.

Don't be misled please vote "NO" on repealing rent control!

Mrs. Fulcomer answers Democrats

The Martin Democrats recently mailed out an eight-page tabloid filled with misinformation and even lies. Two lies particularly irritate me.

One is the false claim that my husband, James J. Fulcomer, wanted a Council salary increase for himself this year. The fact is he introduced a cut in the salary of councilmen this year which would have eliminated the increase for councilmen this year, but all the Martin Democrats voted against that cut.

Maybe the Martin Democrats should vote against themselves but the Council members and their misinformation in their own literature on this point.

Second is the false claim my husband was dismissed from some writing position for Republican freeholders. That too is totally false, and can be verified by calling up the Union County Republican Committee.

My husband has never been dismissed from any position of employment and it is disgraceful the present mayor should invent such a lie about anyone.

While these are not big issues, these are even more recent examples of the lengths the mayor's $43,000 political propaganda will go to to elect his mayor, and two more reasons to vote for a change.

Bostock disputes Mrs. Rufalo's facts

Regarding the subject of rent control, Mrs. Rufalo is misstating the case when she implies the issue is homeowner versus tenant. The real issue is Clark versus landlords.

An examination of the facts shows many factors such as inflation and escalating school budgets cause increasing taxes. Rent control is not one of these factors.

By her own admission, Mrs. Rufalo states apartment dwellers make up only 8% of the township's population. Only 4.5% of the township tax base. It is almost a 1 to 1 ratio of the tax base to the number of apartment dwellers.

It is obvious the landlords are trying to pit segments of our community against each other in an effort to get big money for themselves.

Ask yourself this question: Do a couple of landlords who don't even live here have Clark's best interests at heart? Since when are landlords concerned about homeowners?

Repealing the rent control ordinance would only serve to make a couple of rich men a little richer. It would definitely not lower the homeowners' taxes. If it were, it would be a conspiracy to defraud on many of our citizens.

Statistics show the chances of you having an accident caused by a mechanical defect are about the same whether you live in a state with periodic motor vehicle inspections or not.

In fact, in many cases regular inspections can do more harm than good by giving a motorist a false sense of security. His car is safe to drive when it may not be.

W. Mark Crum, the author of "Vehicle Safety Inspection Systems: How Effective?" studied inspection programs throughout the country, and found states requiring periodic inspections have on the average higher accident rates than states that have not adopted those programs.

Mr. Crum concluded drivers who have their cars inspected regularly may take risks because they believe their vehicles are in good working order.

These findings, together with complaints by motorists about the time consuming process, convince me of the need to restructure our inspection system.

I propose closing all 38 state operated inspection stations. Instead of cursory annual inspections, cars would be subjected to thorough checks at state approved private garages every five years or every time a used motor vehicle is registered in the state for the first time.

During these intensive inspections, for instance, mechanics could conduct a complete check of a car's brake system, the most common cause of accidents resulting from mechanical failure—instead of the quick, inadequate test now administered by state inspectors.

School buses and worktrucks, however, would continue to require annual inspections.

Sure, my proposal would save the state money. The state could sell all inspection station property for an estimated $20 to $30 million. But my major concern is to make motor vehicle inspections more effective and less time consuming for motorists.

Sound Familiar?

I'd like to share with you some direct quotes from a newspaper story.

"It's been a strong campaign. A strange, sometimes dirty campaign." Levin was answering Rinaldi's congressional proposals with substantiated different suggestions, while attacking Rinaldi on the basis of performance. Rinaldi, meanwhile, answered Levin's proposals with attacks on a personal level, condemning the Democrat for being both wealthy and young, neither of which Levin could do much about.

"This has been the dirtiest campaign in the history of Union County," Rinaldi said. And few people who had heard the incumbent Republican call Levin a "rich kid trying to buy his way into Congress" could argue that point.

The strongest epithet Levin has heaped on Rinaldi was that of "coward" when Rinaldi refused to debate the Democrat at any forum. Why has Rinaldi run such a low-profile campaign except for the name-calling? And if he did want to campaign, why hasn't Rinaldi talked about the issues and not his opponent's background?

Doesn't this story sound as if it were written yesterday? In fact, this story appeared in the Courier-News in 1974. My opponent's campaigning hasn't changed much in the past eight years, has it?

I've talked about issues in this campaign. I've talked about my opponent's inconsistent record. I've talked about his not being responsible for any significant legislation. And I've told you what positions I support and will work for in the important areas of unemployment, crime, the economy, and the environment.

What has my opponent talked about in the 1982 campaign? That's right. My wealth and family background. (My opponent has gone to great lengths to tell you that I'm wealthy. I wish I could mention that his financial record filed with the Clerk of the House shows that he may be worth well over a million dollars himself.)

Vote for Fulcomer seen as tax savings

The people of Rahway on Tuesday, Nov. 2, should remember that Mayor Daniel L. Martin and his Democratic councilman tried to raise our taxes above the state mandated limits this year.

Fortunately, the people voted "no" in the March referendum.

The law that stopped an even higher tax increase than the one we got expires this year. If that happens, and if Mayor Martin is re-elected again, he and the Council will be free to raise our taxes as high as Mayor Martin wants.

There is only one way to stop this even higher tax increase. That way is to vote for Councilman James J. Fulcomer for mayor and at least voting for Commissioner Anthony P. Lordi and Sharon L. Surber for Council.

They are the ones who have been fighting for economy and on whom we can trust to cut the waste from our extravagant city budget.

Frances Brennan endorses Fulcomer

Now more than ever, we need a change. We need to vote for Councilman James J. Fulcomer for mayor and City Council candidates, Anthony P. Lordi and Sharon L. Surber for a much-needed change. A vote for their Martin or Link Democrats would mean four more years of even higher tax increases. Twelve years is enough!

Democrats, Independents and Republicans overwhelmingly endorsed the Fulcomer position in the March referendum. On June 8, the people did it again.

Let's finally bring change to our city by voting for the Fulcomer Team. On Tuesday, Nov. 2, we must vote as if our pocketbooks were at stake...they are!

OUR CHAMPION

Ray Hoagland, the sports editor of The Rahway News Record and The Clark Patriot, will be inducted into the New Jersey Boxing Hall of Fame, tomorrow at the Fourteenth Annual Induction celebration at the Navaho Manor in Irvington at 8 p.m. Also to be honored are Dave Chacon, Charles Gelfman, Mickey Greco, Bernie Gualano, Augie Lio, Bernie Novelli, Jack Reno, Mickey Sammers and Chuck Wegner, a former New Jersey heavyweight boxer.

He told me I am the victim of a common Republican tactic this year. He said Democratic challengers throughout the country are being personally attacked by Republicans in the hope that they can divert voters' attention away from the economy and unemployment. Republicans "like my opponent" who supported the President's economic program are finding it difficult to defend their records in light of record high unemployment, record numbers of business failures, and the devastating cuts in education, social security, Medicare, and college loans and grants.

It is no wonder that my opponent is reluctant to debate me again this year. He has agreed to two public debates — one outside the district and one in North Plainfield — and family background. (My opponent has gone to great lengths to tell you that I'm wealthy. I wish I could mention that his financial record filed with the Clerk of the House shows that he may be worth well over a million dollars himself.)

I am very pleased with the way my campaign has been going. And I am also pleased that when you go to the polls next Tuesday at least you'll know where one of your candidates for Congress stands on the issues.

Statistics favor private inspections

I have received numerous letters from concerned constituents about my proposal to overhaul New Jersey's motor vehicle inspection system.

I would like to explain to you why I propose doing away with the present annual inspection system at state-operated centers, and replacing it with less frequent, but more thorough motor vehicle checks at state-approved private garages.

Reducing traffic accidents is a prime concern of mine. My proposal will not jeopardize the safety of the motoring public.

Numerous state and federal studies have shown there is no proof regular motor vehicle inspections save lives or reduce traffic accidents.

Statistics show the chances of you having an accident caused by a mechanical defect are about the same whether you live in a state with periodic motor vehicle inspections or not.

In fact, in many cases regular inspections can do more harm than good by giving a motorist a false sense of security. His car is safe to drive when it may not be.

Robert Krueger aids 'freeze' effort

A Rahway man, Robert Krueger, was appointed the local co-ordinator for the Nuclear Freeze campaign, it was announced by Robert Berenson, the Union County chairman of SANE.

Anyone interested in helping may telephone Mr. Krueger at 388-3656.

On Election Day, Tuesday, Nov. 2, New Jerseyans have the opportunity to vote in a nuclear freeze referendum on the following questions:

Do you support a mutual United States-Soviet Union nuclear weapons freeze and urge the government of the United States?

(1) To propose to the government of the Soviet Union both countries immediately agree to a mutually enforceable ban of all further nuclear arms race.

The U.S. and the U.S.S.R., he said, "have already signed 14 arms control agreements that have been respected by both countries. The freeze is workable. Such a treaty would do much to reduce the nuclear threat facing humanity."

Bowden picked up three yards in his one try to complete the Rahway ground game.

The Indians gained 16 yards in the air. Starting quarterback, John Coulson, was 9/2 with one interception, playing the first half. Dorsey Wilkins came in in the second half to complete the second quarter. Chris Boffa added the extra point, and Cranford led 7-0.

Cranford looked for another score in the closing seconds of the half. Again Cranford fumbled, and the Cougars recovered on the Rahway 42 yard line.

Cranford tried to march to within inches of the four-yard line. Singleton went off left tackle. Coulson fumbled in the end zone. The Indians then lined up for an extra point attempt, and faked it with a Wilkins pass that was incomplete in the end zone. Rahway had

Cougars pull away from Rahway to win

By Jim Hoagland

Cranford used a well-balanced attack to outplay Rahway and score a 10-6 homefield football victory on Oct. 23.

The Cougars dominated play throughout the afternoon. The Cougars missed a couple of scoring chances.

Rahway, 1-4 overall and 0-1 in the Watchdog Conference National Division, again struggled on offense. Fred Singleton earned 76 yards on the ground, and scored the lone Rahway touchdown on a four-yard run in the final quarter.

Donnell Powell added another 18 yards on seven carries, and Derrick Scotti for the opening touchdown.

Scotti cut across the middle on the 38-yard line at six minutes and 46 seconds into the second quarter. Chris Boffa added the extra point, and Cranford led 7-0.

Powell fell on the ball to stop the Cranford drive. The half ended with Cranford on top 7-0.

In the closing minutes of the third quarter, the Cougars again took advantage of a Rahway turnover. Mike Nizolak intercepted a Wilkins pass and returned the ball to the Rahway 19. Nine plays later, when the drive stopped on the 10 yard line, Boffa kicked a 28-yard fieldgoal. Cranford pulled away to a 10-6 lead.

Rahway took the following drive, and started its best offensive series of the afternoon. The Indians took the ball on their own 37-yard line, and marched down the field. On second down and goal from the four-yard line Singleton went off left tackle. Coulson fumbled in the end zone. The Indians then lined up for an extra point attempt, and faked it with a Wilkins pass that was incomplete in the end zone. Rahway had closed the gap 10-6.

Cranford used a strong running attack led by Angelo Lovillo, who gained 40 yards in 15 carries. Pete Brown was the leading ground gainer with 56 yards on just six attempts. Lelli finished the day with eight out of 14 completions, including one touchdown and no interceptions for 128 yards.

The Cougars will host Clark on Saturday, Oct. 30 while Rahway will travel to Roselle.

Board caucus is changed

ATTENTION RAHWAY CITIZENS

SINCE 1970 YOUR MUNICIPAL PURPOSES TAXES HAVE RISEN 233 PERCENT

This is far higher than inflation and the highest percentage increase of any city in our county. Rahway taxpayers even pay the highest taxes for municipal purposes (not schools) among all Union County communities listed in the table below in the second class category (between 20,500 and 30,500 people) according to statistics published by the county tax board.

Out of every Rahway property tax dollar, a whopping 36% goes for city expenditures. The chart below shows the percentage in other second class communities. Rahway also pays the highest for municipal purposes in our geographical area as the map shows.

The present Mayor and his council allies even tried to raise our taxes above the state CAPS limit, which would have made this year's taxes even higher.

In 1970 we were paying $44,000 less than Westfield and today we are paying about $2,609,000 more than Westfield. If you agree these taxes are too high, then fight high tax increases by voting to elect Fulcomer, Lordi, Surber, Rinaldi, and the rest of the Fulcomer Team.

2.6 Million Dollars City Council candidate Sharon Surber, left; Mayor candidate "Jim" Fulcomer, center; and Council candidate Anthony P. Lordi, right, stand next to a graph dramatizing the fact that Rahway property taxes for municipal purposes (not schools) are over 2 million dollars more than the same taxes in Westfield, a community larger in population and area than Rahway. These 1979 figures compare unfavorably with the tax facts of 1970, the year before the present mayor came to office, when Rahway's municipal purposes taxes were 44 thousand dollars less than the same taxes in Westfield.

ABC commissioner: Rooney charges wrong

The Rahway Alcoholic Beverage Control Commissioner James E. Corey, a former chairman of the board, stated today A. B. C. Commissioner Robert E. Rooney has "chosen an unwise and factually untrue course in bringing politics into the operations of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board. There is not a shred of truth to any of the charges made by Mr. Rooney, and furthermore, he has maligned the reputation not just of city officials, but of every licensee in this city and of the board itself."

Stamp show to be held in Clark

Mr. Corey issued a point-by-point refutation of Mr. Rooney's statement as follows:

1. A. B. C. Clerk Francis R. Senkowsky was not "hand-picked" by the mayor or anyone else. When the former clerk, Kelli Allen of the City Clerk's Office resigned, we sought a replacement in the City Hall. This was done because both the Tavern Owners Assn. and the A. B. C. Board strongly believe, for the convenience of the public and those who must do business with the A. B. C., the clerkship should be held by a public employee available at the City Hall during working hours. Mr. Senkowsky was the logical choice for the position after appointing him would be the operation of the A. B. C. in the City Clerk's Office, where it had been successfully located for over 20 years to Mrs. Aline Dumas in the City Clerk's Office. Mr. Senkowsky was appointed unanimously by the board.

2. As A. B. C. Clerk, Mr. Senkowsky has performed his duties with the highest degree of integrity, dedication and efficiency. Mr. Rooney has acknowledged this.

3. All the records of the A. B. C. Board are public information, and there have been no "recent revelations" about anyone's ownership of a license. This is a complete, absolute, total fabrication and falsehood designed to smear the integrity of city officials.

4. Because all the records of the A. B. C. Board are public information, no one can gain an "extraordinary competitive edge" through information maintained by the A. B. C.

"In my years on the A. B. C. Board and in my lifetime of residence in Rahway, I have never seen such political exploitation of a civic board," Mr. Corey said.

"This is a shame, and it shouldn't be allowed to happen," he concluded.

Five questions up to voters in area, state

By R. R. Faszczewski
In addition to selecting local, county and state officials and deciding local questions, Rahway and Clark voters will be asked to vote "YES" or "NO" on five state-wide questions.

The questions, in ballot order, are summarized below:

1. A non-binding referendum which will ask the voters to demonstrate their support of a nuclear weapons freeze, and direct the secretary of state to transmit the results of the voter opinion on the question to the President, the speaker of the House of Representatives and the president of the United States Senate no later than 20 days after the election.

2. Authorization of the sale of $170,000 in bonds to be used for construction and improvement of correctional facilities to alleviate present and anticipated problems of overcrowding in the state and county prisons.

3. Approval for the removal of the requirement in the 1980 Public Purpose Buildings Construction Bond Act that federal matching funds be committed prior to being given construction of nursing home facilities for disabled veterans.

4. Authorization for the sale of $85,000,000 in general-obligation bonds of the state, $45,000,000 of which will be used to finance the New Jersey Local Development Financing Fund, $30,000,000 of which will be made available to counties, municipalities and other entities for the financial assistance of projects which encourage local revitalization and development, and $10,000,000 of which will be used to create and develop urban industrial parks.

5. Authorizing the Legislature to establish the right to take possession of land under a referendum passed last year. Bernard D. Miller fills Board seat

By Joan Gerrenik
The Rahway Board of Education at its Oct. 18 meeting appointed Bernard D. Miller to the school board, filling the unexpired term of the late Mr. Miller.

Appointed Mary Ann Martino as the Adult School broker for the school year at the rate of $10 per hour.

Approved adjusting extra services compensation of Emanuel Zuber, a Rahway Senior High School central detention aide, to $1,000 for the 1982-1983 school year.

Approved a motion to repair a portion of the Rahway Junior High School parking lot as well as its catch basins. The Board secretary Anthony Rocco pointed to a possible moisture problem which he said should be attended to before the winter. The school official said estimates by the contractor indicated the total cost of the repairs would not exceed $3,000.

Approved a motion to reject funding under Project S. A. V. E. The funding which would have provided $12,258 for vocational education use. Frank Brumette, the superintendent of schools, explained the Board would have to contribute from $7,000 to $10,000 in order to gain the funds. He said he would prefer asking the Board for monies to be used for other purposes.

Mr. Miller's term will continue to April, 1983, the time for the School Board elections.

The new board member has been a Rahway resident for 25 years. He is a commissioner on the Rahway Parking Authority.

Employed as an engineering control planner at the Schering-Plough Corp., he was educated at Rutgers University and the Maynard Institute.

A 10-year veteran of the Navy, Mr. Miller is a trustee of the Union County Psychiatric Clinic and the vice president of the American Institute of Plant Engineers.

A co-founder and a member of the Rahway Junior High School Parent-Teacher Organization, he is also a member of the Rahway

Business leaders endorse Martin

Rahway business leaders, James Kennedy and Herb Gorbunoff, announced the endorsement of Mayor Martin for re-election as Rahway's mayor.

Mr. Kennedy is a founding member of the Rahway Chamber of Commerce and has a past president of that organization. Mr. Gorbunoff is the president of the Rahway Businessmen's Assn.

In making this endorsement, Mr. Kennedy said, "Normally, as local merchants, we would hesitate to endorse political candidates. However, we consider this election so crucial to the continuation of progress in the community for both merchants and residents we want everyone to know we are 100% behind Mayor Martin and his running mates for the City Council: Vincent R. Adona, Walter McLeod and James Caglan.

"One need only look around the city to see the tremendous strides which are being made under Mayor Martin's leadership," Mr. Kennedy added.

"We want to remind Rahway citizens how run-down the business district was when Mayor Martin took office. Because of the initiative and leadership shown by the Martin administration, a turnaround has been stimulated," Mr. Gorbunoff commented.

"Now there is a new enthusiasm on the part of merchants and customers alike," Mr. Gorbunoff stated. "The Victorian look of the downtown area was only made possible by the

Fulcomer platform: Time for a change

Rahway mayor candidate, James J. Fulcomer, declaring "It's time for a change," today urged the people to remember Mayor Daniel L. Martin's $2.6 million tax gap with Westfield when they go to the polls, and announced his platform for progress with economy.

"This Martin Democrat tax gap of $2.6 million more than Westfield in municipal purposes, not schools and not county taxes compares unfavorably with the last Republican city administration, when Rahway's municipal purposes taxes were $44,000 less than the same taxes in Westfield," said Mr. Fulcomer, a two-term councilman.

The candidate criticized Mayor Martin for dishonestly trying to blame his huge tax gap on firemen and policemen.

"Not counting firemen and policemen, Rahway has more people on the city payroll per square mile and per thousand residents than Westfield and than any other municipality in Union County. Most of these excess individuals are filling totally unnecessary political patronage positions appointed by the Martin Democrats that render no real service to the people," said Councilman Fulcomer.

"I shall make public all change orders during my administration, fully comply with state laws, and open the files on Mayor Martin's change orders for public inspection," said the candidate.

Block grants to be aired

There will be a public hearing on Community Development Block Grants on Monday, Nov. 8, at 9 p.m. at the Clark Municipal Building, reports Mayor Richard G. Yarusavage.

The purpose of this hearing is to receive public opinion concerning what local projects and social services should be funded under the program.

"With services down, municipal purposes taxes up much higher than other cities a regime that has too much with the people, now more than ever before is the time for a change," concluded the mayoral candidate.

JC-ettes to sponsor jewelry sale

At their September meeting the Clark Jayceettes made plans for their fall activities.

On Saturday, Nov. 13, they are planning a cake and jewelry sale outside of the Foodtown in Clark. The proceeds of this sale and others will go to local charities.

The Jayceettes recently elected the following slate of officers for 1982-1983: They are: President, Alice Muir; vice president, Carol Michaels; secretary, Cheryl Waura; and treasurer, Barbara Del Guiso.

The Clark Jayceettes is an organization for young women who are dedicated to self-improvement while involving themselves in community affairs.

Any woman between the ages of 18 to 35 years old, who is interested in attending the next meeting or in finding out more about the Jayceettes may telephone 382-1405.

The official added, "Law enforcement officers owe Adam Levin a debt of gratitude because he protected them, too. Mr. Levin investigated and prosecuted fraudulent police journals that were taking donations away from legitimate law-enforcement fund-raising publications."

He added, "Adam Levin has the physical and mental ability and the successful career that proves he can not only campaign, but also effectively represent a wide variety of citizens across over a large geographic area. He just spent five years representing the interests of the entire state," Ralph Froehlich said.

In 1980 he was the only Democrat to win a primary to survive a Republican landslide. Prior to his becoming the county sheriff, he served for almost 20 years on the Elizabeth Police Dept.

What I am certain will be a successful campaign that will allow him to represent us with the quality of presentation we must demand in these troubled economic times."

Pointing to Mr. Levin's record as the state director of Consumer Affairs, the sheriff added, "He has proven his ability to respond to the people's problems as a human being and as a fine administrator. Where else does a person get so involved with the problems of the grassroots people?"

"Adam Levin spent five years protecting the public from the more subtle forms of hoodlums and robbers," Sheriff Froehlich said. "He persecuted numerous firms that were threatening the economic security of our senior citizens with securities scams. He went after the unscrupulous home-improvement contractors who were depriving our homeowners of quality service, and he prosecuted the companies whose false and deceptive advertising would have robbed us as consumers."

The official added, "Law enforcement officers owe Adam Levin a debt of gratitude because he protected them, too. Mr. Levin investigated and prosecuted fraudulent police journals that were taking donations away from legitimate law-enforcement fund-raising publications."

He added, "Adam Levin has the physical and mental ability and the successful career that proves he can not only campaign, but also effectively represent a wide variety of citizens across over a large geographic area. He just spent five years representing the interests of the entire state," Ralph Froehlich said.

In 1980 he was the only Democrat to win a primary to survive a Republican landslide. Prior to his becoming the county sheriff, he served for almost 20 years on the Elizabeth Police Dept.

What I am certain will be a successful campaign that will allow him to represent us with the quality of presentation we must demand in these troubled economic times."

Council authorizes two employe pacts

By R. R. Faszczewski
Two contracts with the township in Clark's municipal government, both for one year, were authorized to be executed on Oct. 18 in a resolution adopted by the Township Council.

The pacts, which were between the township and Union Council No. 8 of the Civil Service Employees and the township, authorized pay increases of 8% a year for the life of the contract.

Under the accord for the township workers the increase will be 8% on every worker's base salary, where as, the increase for the township workers will be 8% of the base rate paid to all employees, and spread out over the entire year.

According to the Township Attorney Joseph J. Trane, this will mean a boost of about $1,000 a year for township workers.

The township workers will include a $12,500 pay raise, and a maximum of $7,500 a year for township workers.

Both contracts will include provisions for the so-called "Fair Share Bill," recently passed by the State Legislature, under which non-union employees in a bargaining unit would be required, if it was agreed to in negotiations, as it has been in Clark, to compensate the union with a certain percentage of their pay based on the services the union provides to them.

Mr. Trane explained the union would not be able to collect for any activities involved in promoting the union itself, only for those activities related to representing non-union workers in complaints or grievance management.

In other action on the Council.

Introduced ordinances providing for the inclusion of R.D. drainage work and for the upgrading in the title of a clerk employed in the municipal building, and setting the salary range at $14,000 to $16,500, the township Council.

That an average of 7.5 cubic yards of solid waste is generated by each household in New Jersey per year.

That based thereon, for the average tax cans per household and twice per week pickup service, a 57% additional charge amounts to approximately $4.29 per average household per year.

That every landfill and every collector shall separately set forth on its customer billings the amount charged on account of the additional charge.

ADDITIONAL "A."

"Every solid waste collection and disposal utility shall provide a complete accounting of all monies paid and collected pursuant to the Recycling Act, and the Sanitary Landfill Closure and Contingency Fund Act, on the applicable annual report beginning with the 1982 annual report due to be filed on or before March 31, 1983."

If the township residents have any further questions or complaints regarding the information provided by Councilwoman Apelian, they may get in touch with their state legislators, and make their opinions known to them, she concluded.

Bodnar seeks 'new answers'

"I have spent my entire life in Clark, and I plan on spending at least another quarter century here," is how John Bodnar, 3rd, prefaced his statements at a recent fund-raiser.

Mr. Bodnar, a candidate for the Township Council in the Fourth Ward of Clark, went on to say, "Clark has always had good schools, a good centralized location, ample space for recreation and other important advantages. These advantages are why my parents, like many of you here this evening, opted to settle in Clark and raise a family."

The candidate continued by pointing out Clark has changed in many ways during the past 25 years.

"We have grown and matured at an incredible rate," he stated, "and they call this growth progress. Many times though, I feel progress and the problems it brings along with it have outpaced our politicians."

Mr. Bodnar stressed it is "time for new answers."

"The standard answers and political rhetoric have failed us, and if local municipalities like Clark are to survive, now is the time for all of us to get into the act."

Mr. Bodnar, who is a life long resident of Clark, attended the Clark public school system. He then attended Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark, where he served as the senior class president, and was elected into the National Honor Society.

The candidate participated in soccer and lacrosse, attaining state honors in the latter.

He attended Hobart College, being graduated with degrees in history and American studies, and a minor concentration in political science.

While at Hobart, Mr. Bodnar was an active member of the Kappa Sigma International Fraternity, and served as the college's assistant director of housing and student activities.

He continued playing lacrosse while at Hobart, and was a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. National Championship team the college fielded in 1977.

The hopeful is a financial analyst employed by the William E. Ford Associates of Florham Park. He is a member of the National Assn. of Securities Dealers, and holds New Jersey and New York licenses as a life insurance underwriter.

He feels it is a "great way to keep in touch with the youth of the state, and stay in shape at the same time."

Politically, Mr. Bodnar equates city government to sound business planning. "You can't attack problems with obsolete technology or concepts. Each approach must be individual, using the latest technologies. Most often the best approach turns out to be the most economical. I do not subscribe to the theory that equals good government and programs to large sums of money unjustly spent. I prefer equating them to tangible results," he said.

Mr. Bodnar emphasized, "we must stop discussing our problems and their solutions among ourselves, and letting the answers die in a living room or at a kitchen table. We must get out and discuss them at Council meetings, where they need to be heard."

Township to buy new loader

Clark Township will shortly purchase a 1982 Case W20B front-end loader, reports Mayor Bernard G. Yarusavage.

This piece of equipment will replace an old 1963 Michigan loader which needed a new engine.

The township went out on competitive bid and eight bids were received. The township received a $3,000 trade-in on the 70-year-old Michigan loader. The trade-in received was more than the piece of equipment was worth. Bids came in substantially lower than anticipated due to the keen competition in today's equipment market, Mayor Yarusavage explained.

The front-end loader has a coupler system enabling a change of equipment which serves the dual purpose of leaf collection and snow removal.

There are two different bucket attachments on the new loader. A light bucket for leaf pickups, and the regular bucket to load sand and salt, and for bulky-item pickup and Public Works Yard maintenance, the official concluded.

Rep. Dwyer taps Sen. Bornheimer

Rep. Bernard J. Dwyer, who is running in Rahway, announced he has named Sen. James W. Bornheimer, an 18th District Democrat, as his campaign manager in his 1982 bid for reelection to Congress in New Jersey's Sixth District.

Mr. Bornheimer is a former councilman and a council president in East Brunswick, one of the six new municipalities added to the Sixth District, and Rep. Dwyer said Mr. Bornheimer's experience representing the township should be a great asset to his campaign.

The Sixth District also includes Carteret, Edison, Helmetta, Highland Park, Metuchen, Milltown, New Brunswick, Perth Amboy, Piscataway, Sayreville, South Amboy, South Plainfield, South River, Springfield, and Union.

Senior quarterback, Gene Castagna, ran for a 40-yard touchdown, passed for another, and set up a third with a long run, as he led the Crusaders to their second straight win of the season.

The Ramblers of Coach Jim Robinson, who is from Rahway, jumped off to an 8-0 lead when they marched 66 yards in seven plays that ended on a pass for 29 yards and the touchdown at four minutes and 24 seconds into the first period. The same quarterback passed for two points.

After the Ramblers fumbled a punt it was recovered on the two-yard line, and on the first play Castagna carried over his right side for the touchdowns and then he also ran for the extra point to tie up the game at 8-8, with 34 seconds left on the clock for the close of the first period.

In the second period the Crusaders scored on the fourth play of the period when Tommy Amen intercepted on the Ramblers' 39, then Castagna passed to Bob Back for a 40-yard score, and when Tom Amen kicked the point after touchdown it was Johnson 15-8.

Late in the second period Clark scored following an interception when Tom Peronella raced 10 yards into the endzone with just 26 seconds left on the clock for the half. Amen's point after touchdown gave the Crusaders a 22-8 lead going into the dressing rooms.

Bostock: Ann Conti best for surrogate

The word of office, surrogate, never meant anything to me before until I started following the Ann Conti for surrogate cartoons. To one who enjoys cartoons these have been a different variety. Not only entertaining, but so informative and in simple language I have come to a point where I fly through the daily newspaper on Wednesdays to find the next lesson in wit.

Ann Conti explained, as you know, (1) Why make a will? (2) Making special provisions in a will (3) Executor and alternate executor and (4) Probate a will. I have clipped them out, and they are taped to my refrigerator. Ann Conti has certainly demonstrated she knows the law, and is willing to share her knowledge with everyone. I will vote for Ann Conti on Election Day, Tuesday, Nov. 2. She has impressed me with her surrogate ability.

Pisano: Fulcomer never dismissed

In an eight-page political tabloid published the election of Rahway Democratic Mayor Daniel L. Martin, the major falsified claimant James J. Fulcomer, who resigned from his position as the Republican freeholder candidate's publicity writer.

That statement is totally false. Councilman Fulcomer never has been dismissed from any position of responsibility for the Republican freeholder candidates or any other governmental or Republican Party position. Moreover, speaking for the Republican freeholder candidates and the county Republican Party, mayoral candidate, Fulcomer, has been completely trusted and confidence in all of his laudable activities and our enthusiastic support for election as the mayor of Rahway.

For that Democratic falsehood alone, the present mayor of Rahway should be dismissed. Never have I heard of such a falsehood being invented against any candidate in any other city in our country. It is obvious the Democrats in Rahway should clean up their act.

Mr. Gruss supports Conti surrogate bid

An interesting fact is Mary Kanane, the former surrogate, although not a lawyer, worked in the Surrogate's Office for 30 years before being elected as surrogate. She was a career person, who served as the secretary to the surrogate, the chief clerk, the probate clerk and the deputy surrogate before being elected.

Former surrogate, Walter Ulrich, had a law degree and legal experience. The present, recently-appointed surrogate, Mr. Gruss, has neither of the above qualifications. Mr. Gruss is an experienced lawyer...Keep the office professional. The Surrogate's Office deals with legal documents. Why have a non-legal person directing the office? No $42,000 salary for a person without experience is not what I as a taxpayer consider getting my money's worth.

Fulcomer proved my point: Mrs. Rinaldi

Last week's Rahway News Record was a good example of what I've been saying about the quality of journalism in this area.

The article about the Fulcomer family was particularly disappointing. It contained several inaccuracies and omissions.

I am disappointed that the newspaper did not take the time to verify the facts before publishing the story.

The article portrayed the Fulcomer family in a negative light without providing a balanced view of the situation.

I hope that the newspaper will take steps to improve its reporting and ensure that its readers receive accurate and fair information.

The article was a disservice to the Fulcomer family and to the community as a whole.

'Vote positively,' Mrs. Rinaldi urges

The Republican Councilwoman Irene F. Rinaldi summed up her campaign with a two-word message to the voters of Rahway, "Vote positively," Mrs. Rinaldi urged.

"My deepest hope in this campaign is the people of Rahway will base their vote on who offered the best and most positive ideas to promote the well being of our community, ignoring the demanding personal attacks that have been made by some of the candidates," the councilwoman added.

"I opened my campaign with a 10-point plan on economic development aimed at attracting desirable industry and stimulating retail activity in our downtown business district. By seeking below-market rate financing opportunities available through Community Block Grant programs, attacking unemployment through the recently passed federal job training act, developing an inventory of available commercial and industrial properties and assisting local realtors in soliciting appropriate business, aiding local merchants with local promotions and improving railroad properties, our city can prosper. If re-elected I will pursue these programs vigorously," she noted.

"I have proposed a sensible solution to the 'mandated-budget-cap' dilemma that has been bedeviling municipal governments. What is needed is a 'CAP' on state-mandated programs. My plan is to meet with the state legislators to urge a 1% increase limit on what the State Legislature can require local communities to include in their budgets. I am totally opposed to increasing the 5% 'CAP' on local budgets, as some have urged, because even at this level, local budgets can double in just 14 years. I am aghast at the idea of what can become of a $20 million budget 14 years from now to operate a 4.5 square-mile city," Mrs. Rinaldi declared.

"I have urged the Council to center its attention on Rahway, not on wide-ranging national and international issues over which we have no control and far beyond the assignment we were elected to carry out. The business of Rahway's Council is Rahway," she explained.

"I have outlined the professional approach of local budgeting I believe is essential to an efficiently-run community. Although budgeting, while not a subject filled with opportunities for campaign rhetoric, is far and away the most important responsibility of the Council. Sound budget practices are the only way to assure reasonable control of tax requirements and the only way to make possible the essential services people want first from their local government. As controller of a multi-million dollar corporation, I have the training and experience to assure a professional approach to budgeting," the Republican noted.

"My campaign has adhered strictly to positive proposals. I, personally, want nothing to do with mudslinging. Unfortunately, by virtue of the fact I protested mudslinging, I was showered with insults by mudslingers disguised as Republicans," she said.

"By voting for me this election, the voters of Rahway can state their case. A vote for me will be a vote in favor of the positive, proposed brand of campaigning I stand for. It will represent a demand by the voters for an end, once and for all, to the sorry display of degrading insults that so often mar local campaigns," Mrs. Rinaldi noted.

"I pledge professionalism, hard work, progressive ideas and a business-like approach to local government as the sum and substance of my campaign," she continued.

"If Rahway's voters choose me to re-elect me, I will continue to spare no effort on their behalf. I am controlled by no one but the people who do me the honor of permitting me to serve them. My creed is simple and my promise sincere. I love Rahway, and I consider it the proudest honor of my life to have an opportunity to serve it," she concluded.

Trick or Treat to be held on Oct. 29

After consultation with school officials, parents' organizations, and the Rahway Police Dept., Mayor Daniel L. Martin has proclaimed Friday, Oct. 29, "the official day for the annual Trick or Treat."

COMMISSIONER OLIVEIRA ENDORSES FULCOMER TEAM - Rahway mayoral candidate, James J. Fulcomer, left, is endorsed for election by the Parking Commissioner Fred Oliveira of Rahway, right. "Twelve years of Mayor Daniel L. Martin's wasteful spending is enough," said Mr. Oliveira. "Rahway definitely needs a change, and the Fulcomer team on Line B is the right way to go," added the commissioner, who also urged the people to vote for Council candidates, Anthony P. Lordi and Sharon L. Surber, in order to replace the "big spenders" on Council.

MORE CORRECTIONS ON MARTIN LITERATURE

Among the total falsehoods in Rahway Mayor Martin's literature of last week, two or more should be corrected.

The mayor falsely tried to deny that our municipal purposes taxes, the taxes controlled by mayor and council, increased 233 percent since he was first elected in 1970.

The Union County Abstract of Rates published by the county tax board reported Rahway municipal purposes taxes in 1970 as $1,847,030.08. This year the same official governmental document reports Rahway municipal purposes taxes as $6,143,779.82 for 1982. As any elementary school child can calculate, that is a 233 percent increase, the highest of any incorporated city in our county. Copies of the abstracts can be obtained from the Union County Board of Taxation.

Secondly, the mayor tried to create the false impression that not all municipalities have full health services. By state law all municipalities must have full health services. The difference is that smaller municipalities generally contract for full services with larger municipalities, rather than hire a large staff when they need less to meet the full health needs of their much smaller population. Therefore, all municipalities get the same health services and pay for it.

Any mayor, like Martin, who has to lie and deceive the people about such public information should be soundly defeated.

Congressman Rinaldo can do more to help your parents

Congressman Rinaldo is using his position as Republican leader of the House Select Committee on Aging to help protect the rights and benefits of all current—and future—Social Security recipients. He knows that Social Security is not a hand-out—it's an earned repayment for services rendered to our society. It's protection for those too old or unable to work. And it's protection for a family when the breadwinner dies.

More for Medicare and Medicaid

And Congressman Rinaldo knows that Medicare and Medicaid are just as important to senior citizens as their Social Security checks. That's why he worked so hard to push legislation through Congress repealing the three-day hospitalization requirement for nursing home coverage under Medicare. That proposal was signed into law.

That's why he voted against legislation to cut over $10 billion from Medicare.

That's why he voted against $13.3 billion in cuts or increased costs to recipients under Medicare.

And that's why he voted against the $1.1 billion cut in Medicaid.

More for job opportunities

Congressman Rinaldo knows that senior citizens are often the victims of terrible prejudice in the working world. That's why he offered two amendments to expand job opportunities for older workers. Both were successful. And that's why he categorically refuses to support any legislation mandating forced retirement for elderly workers.

More for housing for the elderly

For the past ten years Congressman Rinaldo has been tirelessly fighting for the rights and needs of senior citizens. His efforts have paid off with more new housing for senior citizens in his district than in any other district in the state. And in passage of an amendment protecting senior citizens living in boarding homes.

More for all senior citizens

Often it's difficult to evaluate the work and accomplishments of any single Congressman. But in Congressman Rinaldo's case the record is clear. And it's very impressive. It's a record of solid accomplishment on behalf of senior citizens in the nation and in his district. A record of real concern and real deeds.

As Social Security has come under attack more and more, and as callous and indifferent politicians threaten to whittle away at the security our parents worked all their lives to acquire, Congressman Rinaldo has stood firm against the encroachments. Ever since his first day in Congress, a decade ago, Congressman Rinaldo has never wavered in his support for senior citizens.

But don't take our word for it. Look at what Claude Pepper, the Democratic Chairman of the House Select Committee on Aging, has to say about Congressman Rinaldo:

"I think you have done a courageous job in standing up to those who have sought further reductions in Medicare and Medicaid...Your leadership in fighting against cuts in the Social Security disability program have helped protect hundreds of thousands of poor and needy Americans."

When you go to the polls on November 2nd you can make it more than just another election day. You can give your parents—and all the parents in the country—the gift of true social security. And true peace of mind.

Show you care by voting to re-elect Congressman Rinaldo. After all, it's what your mother wants you to do.

Rinaldo
