City voters to decide on Tuesday on $5.9 million High School renovation

By R. R. Faszczewski
City voters will decide on Tuesday whether to authorize a $5,990,000 bond issue for the renovation of Rahway High School.

According to Board of Education Secretary Anthony Rocco, the two largest areas of monetary expenditures in the proposed renovation plan are the replacement of the school's heating system and the re-ramping of the Physical Education Dept.

The estimated cost of the heating-system replacement, converting the present steam-heat system to hot water heat generated by combination gas and oil burners, is $1,400,000.

It has been predicted by the architectural firm which drew up the plans for the renovation of the new system, which would have three new hot-water boilers installed with the combination burners, would save 15 to 20% in fuel costs. The physical education renovations would include updating of the shower system and locker rooms at the high school.

The architectural firm, Finne and Kim of Elizabeth, in a report completed in Jan., 1982, gave its findings based on its examination of the high school site, building facade, roofing, masonry, windows, exits and doors, corridors, classrooms, painting, heating and ventilation system, plumbing and electrical system.

According to a Board statement on the report, Finne and Kim concluded all these facilities were in various states of disrepair and in urgent need of immediate attention.

Board spokesmen have said erratic operation of the heating system has caused room temperatures to vary from 40 to 85 degrees.

This fluctuating heating condition, according to the spokesmen, is caused by corroded steam lines, obsolete classroom unit ventilators and constant failure of the converted coal-fired boilers, originally installed when the building was constructed in 1939.

In addition to the conversion of the system, the heating renovations would also include unit ventilators, piping and temperature controls.

Approximately 20% of the total estimated renovation budget is earmarked for improvements to the physical education area, including the extension of the gymnasium itself, which would nearly double the size of the present gymnasium.

At the present time, according to the spokesmen, the gymnasium is used by seven teachers who also have access to a large all-purpose room called the auxiliary gymnasium. Doubling the gymnasium space would provide for four teaching stations in place of the current two stations.

They added the proposed enlargement of the gymnasium would enable girls' and boys' teams to practice simultaneously. Staggered practice schedules now force students to leave the building at late hours, it was noted.

New plans for seating would increase the spectators' capacity from approximately 670 to 1,350. Also, separate lavatory facilities and water fountains would be provided for spectators.

School spokesmen have estimated the increased capacity would generate increased revenue, resulting from regularly-scheduled contests as well as from other athletic tournaments and events.

Better than 20% of the proposed funding would be applied to classrooms and other instructional areas. Planned improvements include fume hoods and emergency shower drains to be installed in the science laboratories, an exhaust system for the welding and foundry areas, the replacement of lighting fixtures in classrooms, emergency cut-off switches where machines are used for instruction, repairs to floors and walls and updating of the home economics rooms.

In addition to the redesign of one classroom as a center for the computer education program, there would be an overhaul of the auditorium, provisions for the handicapped, new lavatory fixtures, reconditioning of lockers, window replacement, lowering of ceilings, replacement of fire doors, painting, installation of new electrical panels, wiring and switches and re-pointing of exterior brickwork.

Those opposed to the approval of the bond issue as it is presently constituted contend the most necessary improvements, including those relating to the actual efficiency of the physical plant and the areas necessary to bring the school up to standard, rather than the cosmetic improvements, should be done first, with less urgent needs to possibly be addressed in bond issues in later years.

They contend with the economy in a stagnant condition and the tax burden at a high rate residents cannot afford the improvements all at once.

There are approximately 13,000 registered voters in Rahway.

If you plan to vote on Tuesday, it is good to know in which polling district you should be casting your ballot.

The list of polling places follows.

If you have any questions, please telephone Board Secretary Rocco, at 388-8500. The polls will be open from 2 to 9 p.m.

Taxpayer group: Reject referendum

The Rahway Board of Education is asking the taxpayers and voters of Rahway to give it the authority to borrow and spend $5,990,000 on the senior high school building. The sum of $5,990,000 sounds quite a bit less than $6,000,000 but it is only $10,000 short of being $6,000,000, according to Alonzo W. Lawrence, the president of the Rahway Taxpayers Assn.

"What does the Board of Education propose to do with that large sum of money? One expenditure proposed is $1,560,000 to change the present steam heating system over to hot water heat, and upgrade the present ventilating system. This proposed changeover does not include three new boilers at a cost of $90,000. If the present boilers are in as bad shape as is claimed, three new boilers can be installed for a total sum of $90,000 without spending the additional $1,560,000 to convert from steam heat to hot water heat," Mr. Lawrence added.

Another proposed expenditure is to renovate the present gymnasium at a cost of $313,000, and construct an addition to the present gymnasium at a cost of $890,000 for a total of $1,203,000.

The brochure printed and distributed by the Rahway Board of Education states a crisis exists with the physical condition of the senior high school building, and, therefore, there is justification to borrow and spend the proposed $5,990,000. Can the Board of Education claim the proposed expenditure of $1,203,000 for the present gymnasium renovation and the construction of an addition to the present gym is a crisis situation?, he asked.

Another proposed expenditure that certainly cannot be classified as a program to overcome a crisis, is to install all new seats in the first floor and balcony of the auditorium at a cost of $114,000 and $140,000 to update the auditorium such as to install new stage lighting, stage curtain, carpeting and curtains. The balance of the $5,990,000 is to be spent on noncritical items such as painting, decorating and renovating the original senior high school building and the senior high school addition, according to the taxpayer group spokesman.

The only item in the whole proposed $5,990,000 expenditure that can be considered essential and emergent is the pointing up of the exterior brick work of the senior high school building, and replacing flashing where needed. The most important maintenance of any building is in the roofs and exterior walls, he explained.

The Board of Education proposes millions of dollars worth of interior renovating and decorating, when they claim moisture is striking through the exterior walls due to poor joints in the brick work. If this be so then common sense should dictate the course the Board of Education should take. First, do that which is essential, correct the water condition. The architects' estimate for this work is $107,000. Let a full year go by, subjecting the exterior walls to the elements of the four seasons to make sure the wet wall condition has been corrected before attempting any interior work, Mr. Lawrence suggested.

The Board of Education should break down the referendum into several categories so the voters of Rahway could have the choice of voting separately on items they, in their opinion, deem necessary and urgent at this time. The Board should not present the "question" to the voters as a single-package deal, thereby attempting to force the taxpayers to vote for the costly nonessential work in order to have the essential work done to the high school building. The Board of Education is not being fair to the taxpayers by adopting the all-or-nothing course, he declared.

The bonds for paying for the nearly $5,000,000 new City Hall have not yet been sold, but will soon have to be permanently funded. To add another debt of $5,990,000 plus interest could put our tax base out of kilter, the spokesman said.

"The Rahway Taxpayers Assn. will always be willing to endorse a program for proper maintenance to any public building, but cannot endorse the Board of

Library to present film show

The Rahway Public Library will present a film show for boys and girls in grades three to six on Thursday, Feb. 24, from 3:15 to 4:10 p.m. "Louis James Hates School" and "White Mane," the story of a boy and his horse, will be shown.

Accessibility for the handicapped will be provided if the library is notified by Tuesday, Feb. 22.

The library will be closed on Monday, Feb. 21, in celebration of Washington's Birthday, it was announced.

Education's present ambitious, non-critical program entailing an expenditure of such magnitude," Mr. Lawrence continued.

"The Rahway Taxpayers Assn. advises the voters to reject the $5,990,000 Referendum by voting "NO" at the polls on Tuesday, Feb. 22. Remember, you must take the time to go to your polling place, and vote "NO" he cautioned.

Insist upon the Board of Education holding another referendum that would ask the voters to approve an expenditure covering only essential and urgent work to the Rahway High School building, Mr. Lawrence concluded.

County children 'printed'

Union County achieved another "first" recently when youngsters at St. Elizabeth's School in Linden were fingerprinted for a program designed to help authorities locate and identify missing children.

The entire nation watched as some 480 youngsters waited patiently on line to make history by dipping their fingers into the ink and onto fingerprint cards, reports a county spokesman.

Entitled "Fingerprints on File" (FOF), the program will be used as a model for similar efforts around the state and the country. The program was the brainchild of Charles Harris, a Union County sheriff's officer who operated the department's Missing Persons Bureau. Mr. Harris brought his idea to undersheriff John Troiano and Sheriff Ralph Froelich, who helped bring the program to fruition.

Ironically, Mr. Harris' nine-year-old son, William Harris, a third grader at the school, was the first child to be fingerprinted as television cameras whirred and news photographers fell over each other to take the historic shot.

It is estimated some 100,000 children vanished each year in the United States, and some 25,000 to 100,000 are "stolen" by divorced or separated parents. While many of these children are found or return home on their own, many others remain on the lists of missing children. Hopes are the FOF program will bring more children home.

With permission of the youngster's parents or guardians and in cooperation with school authorities, members of the sheriff's Identification Bureau, the child is fingerprinted, and the card is then turned over to the parents for their safe keeping.

Parents can have the card filed by school officials if they so desire. Should a child disappear, a parent would bring the card to authorities, who would use the information in attempting to locate the child. None of the information on FOF cards can be used by police to investigate a crime.

Sheriff Froelich is now attempting to widen the FOF program to eventually include all of the 40,000-plus school children currently registered in Union County.

Otlowski to probe lost health aid

The chairman of the Assembly Corrections, Health and Human Services Committee, Democratic Assemblyman George J. Otlowski, announced today the committee will hold a hearing on what can be done to alleviate the problem of lost health benefits because of unemployment.

According to federal figures, approximately 7.4 million laid-off workers have lost their health benefits. Counting dependents, 10.7 million people were without health insurance in December. Figures on the number of unemployed in New Jersey who have lost their health benefits are not known, according to Assemblyman Otlowski, but 3,500 people are running out of money.

Unemployment benefits each week in the state. The assemblyman said, "It takes a week's unemployment benefits to purchase medical coverage each month."

The legislator called this "a very serious problem, a problem which the Reagan Administration has failed to address, and the state has done nothing on its part to alleviate."

He added his committee will attempt to determine the number of unemployed without health benefits, and what can be done to provide them with essential health coverage.

The date and place of the hearing will be announced shortly.

College moves courses

Union County College will offer 10 credit courses at three off-campus locations during the spring semester, it was announced today by Dr. Leonard T. Krasman, the vice president for academic affairs.

The spring semester at the college started on Jan. 17, and all off-campus course offerings began that week.

Five courses will be offered at New Providence High School, including "The Principles of Accounting II," "An Introduction to Contemporary Business," "The Psychology of Personality," and "Elementary Algebra."

Two of those courses, "The Principles of Accounting" and "An Introduction to Contemporary Business" will also be offered at Elizabeth High School in the spring.

The courses offered at New Providence and Elizabeth High Schools are all three-credit courses which will be conducted once a week in the evening for three hours.

Five courses are being offered at the Elizabeth Urban Educational Center at

Letters to the Editor

Legislators told: Hands off tax cut
 You can hear the drums along the Potomac! The smoke signals are in the air! Over these many months since Congress passed the three tax cuts the birds of prey have been circling over the last and most effective of these reductions. Poles tell us, they say, the taxpayers are in agreement with them. That the decision is in some time is foolish. Done enough for Congress to afford to vote themselves a $9,000 a year-plus raise? They wouldn't use our tax cut to pay for their raises, would they? Try asking one of our noble legislators about the third tax cut. You'll probably be told you don't want it anyway because it's so small! "You mean you think we should have larger tax cuts," you might ask your representative. "Of course not! That would mean we wouldn't have enough money to fund all of those marvelous programs that have done so much for humanity." It seems Congress gives and Congress taketh away. Our liberal legislators care not how they spend our hard-earned dollars. In spite of how much the words liberal and conservative are used these days it might be high time we stop to think about just how liberal liberal is!

Budget trims waste, creates new jobs
 Gov. Thomas Kean's 1984 state budget offers a realistic, responsible approach to funding state services in these difficult times by fiscal austerity with job creation initiatives. The budget is balanced without the need for new taxes or the use of fiscal gimmicks. Of the 20 departments in state government, 14 would have funding frozen at present levels, and three departments would receive less money than this year. I am confident the heads of these departments will be able to meet the challenge this budget poses for them, and will reduce costs without jeopardizing necessary state services. While we are in the midst of a great technological revolution, millions of previously productive American workers need to be educated for the transition to a new world of work in the 1980's. Supplies of energy and other natural resources are strained. Investment in new plants and equipment is down, and business analysts see no long-term future for our basic industries. Before America can succeed in revitalizing and renewing its industrial base, it needs to know where it is going. It seems clear we need a new institutional mechanism to insure our crisis-to-crisis industrial policy evolves more rationally, long-term paths. One idea I am supporting in Congress is the creation of a National Industrial Development Board composed of representatives of business, industry and labor and major organizations representing minorities, small business, environmentalists and consumers. Members of the commission would be nominated by House and Senate leaders from both parties and appointed to six-year terms by the President. The board would have a small staff of experts to undertake studies of the board would look further down the road towards long-term economic expansion. The recent study of the Japanese machine-tool industry proved long-range planning and investment, rather than trade barriers and government subsidies, are chiefly responsible for Japan's growth into the world's second-ranking economic power, despite serious deficiencies in energy and raw materials. The key concern of the Japanese government in helping its industry compete in the world market is to promote its own interests without gauging the effects of industrial production in other areas of the economy. A modernized steel industry, for instance, could not survive without a robust domestic automobile industry. New Jersey and other Northeast and Midwest states, burdened with old industrial plants, are learning a hard lesson from this recession. Many industries, such as at the Singer Co. in Elizabeth and Western Electric in Kearny, are permanently shutting down these old plants. But there is no

Sen. Bradley urges Kuwait drilling ban

Democratic Sen. Bill Bradley of New Jersey, on Feb. 16, urged Interior Secretary James Watt to reverse a preliminary decision, and deny the Kuwait government permission to explore for oil and minerals on federally owned lands. Sen. Bradley pressed Secretary Watt to make his final position known during a Senate Energy Committee hearing. The secretary declined, but said he would make up his mind on the issue within the next 30 to 40 days. The Kuwait Oil Co., partially owned by the government of Kuwait, purchased the Santa Fe Corp. and then, in mid-1981, asked the Interior Dept. if it could own and develop leases on federal lands that were awarded previously to Santa Fe. The lands involved are in the western United States. Under provisions of the 1920 Mineral Lands Leasing Act, the citizens of other countries are forbidden access to federal mineral leases unless their na-

WAVING THEIR FLAG.—Union County Freeholder Walter E. Boright, center, announced the creation of a Special Advisory Committee of Ukrainian Independence. As part of the festivities, a Ukrainian cultural display is featured in the rotunda of the Union County Courthouse in Elizabeth. All county residents may come and view the exhibit without charge. Myron Prokowsky, left, of the Ukrainian Congress, presents the Ukrainian flag to Freeholder Boright. Mrs. Lilian Rybak illustrates a hand-woven Ukrainian Gantebra and a hand-woven tapestry.

Police training to emphasize elderly

When the Union County Police Basic Training Academy opens its 47th session tomorrow it will be responding in a new way to a new need: training police recruits to better relate to the county's elderly population. Based on recent police data as well as a survey by national industrial policy that raises real hope that we can reverse the trend. This translates into recurring cycles of unemployment and regional stagnation. It also means a sustained decline in productivity that will lower standards of living. While we are in the midst of a great technological revolution, millions of previously productive American workers need to be educated for the transition to a new world of work in the 1980's. Supplies of energy and other natural resources are strained. Investment in new plants and equipment is down, and business analysts see no long-term future for our basic industries. Juvenile board seats Mrs. Apelian

Sworn in by Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court Judge Steven J. Berick to be the Clark Township Juvenile Conference Board.

Keen offers courses in health care
 The Center for Continuing Professional Education at Keon College of New Jersey in Union is offering courses in a series, "New Skills for Health Care Professionals." The center can be reached by telephoning 527-2208.

The courses are: "Effective Teaching in a Clinical Setting," "Audiovisual Techniques for Health Professionals," and "Interviewing the Defensive Patient." "Effective Teaching in a Clinical Setting" will meet on eight Mondays starting March 7. Registration will close Feb. 28.

"Audiovisual Techniques for Health Professionals" will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Thursday, March 31. Registration will close on Thursday, March 24.

"Interviewing the Defensive Patient" will meet from 5 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, April 5. Registration will close Tuesday, March 29.

Mrs. Virginia Apelian of Clark, the swearing-in ceremony took place at Judge Berick's chambers on Jan. 28. The judge also presented Mrs. Apelian with a certificate for the services Mrs. Apelian will be rendering to this committee through the Juvenile Conference Committee of Union County. Mrs. Apelian's term will expire Dec. 1986.

The purpose of this board is to assist in helping young people who have evidenced early signs of minor antisocial behavior by providing an alternative to formal court processing reports Mrs. Apelian said.

"This is a highly essential service to the community, and I am happy to serve in this capacity to its youth and its families," she stated. "All matters that will come before this Board shall be held in strict confidence and under no circumstances made public."

This committee basically serves as an arm of the court in hearing and deciding such matters involving alleged juvenile offenders especially referred to it by the court system. The committee will also supervise and follow up compliance with its recommendations, and keep the court advised, she concluded.

American Legion honors four chaplains

The Department of New Jersey American Legion's Annual "For God and Country Memorial Service" was held at the Second Baptist Church at 378 E. Milton Ave., Rahway, on Sunday, Feb. 6. Following the organ prelude and Processional to "Glory Glory Hallelujah," the colors were advanced by the American Legion color guard.

The music was provided by the Pledge of Allegiance and the national anthem and the recitation of the preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion, were led by James H. Hall, the alternate national executive committee member. The invocation was given by The Rev. Norman H. Thomas, the chaplain of the Chapel of the Four Chaplains, respectively.

The commander of the Department of New Jersey, William H. Neasey; Mrs. William H. Neasey, the department Auxiliary president, and Mrs. Herbert Dwyer, the national executive committee woman, extended greetings from the national and department bodies.

A commemorative address was delivered by Mr. Kahn, after which "This is Your Land" and "God Bless America" were sung by the assembly, comprised of 307 persons.

Present were representatives from Atlantic, Bergen, Camden, Cape May, Cumberland, Essex, Gloucester, Hudson, Hummelton, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris, Ocean, Passaic, Salem, Somerset, Sussex, Union and Warren Counties, Post and Auxiliaries.

Union County Commander, Anthony Pollari and county president, Jeanne Fuge, were present with their staff of officers.

Department vice commander, Charlie Brane, also a member of Post No. 499, Wilmer Toy, the commander, and president, Edith Perkins, with their staff of officers and the members were the hosts from Post No. 499.

Here's where lottery money really goes

When the lottery was approved by the voters 14 years ago, a minimum of 10% of gross lottery sales was constitutionally dedicated for aid to education and institutions. Since its inception, however, about 43.1% of the proceeds—nearly $1.5 billion through 1981, has been spent for this purpose. The lottery prize fund accounts for about 49% of the proceeds and, through 1981, nearly $1.3 billion has been distributed to winners. Commissioners plan to let...

Mr. Novak named to AARP Board

At the Feb. 10 meeting of the American Assn. of Retired Persons, Rahway Chapter No. 607, president, Bernadette Acciario, announced the appointment of Sylvester Novak to the Board of Trustees, in acknowledgment of his constant cooperation and volunteerism. Members were reminded that the Thursday, Feb. 24, catered luncheon will have a Hawaiian theme and all those who have Hawaiian shirts or gowns may wear them, or any bright and cheerful clothing. The meeting will begin at 12:30 o'clock, and lunch will be about 1:30 p.m. Details for the two-day Mystic Seaport trip will be finalized at the next meeting. Plans are also in the works for a trip to North Hill Lodge in Vermont from Monday to Friday, Aug. 29 to Sept. 2. Members were urged to write their senators and United States representatives about the proposed changes to the Social Security Act, in acknowledgment of their recommendation. The AARP folder on the subject has some alternate suggestions, it was announced. The March meeting, which usually would be on Thursday, March 10, will be postponed to Thursday, March 17, because of the Washington trip. Meetings are usually the second and fourth Thursday of the month at the Rahway Senior Citizen Center at 1306 Esplanade Ave., Rahway, at 12:30 p.m.

Men's Club sets 'Voice of Israel'

A film featuring the greatest cantorial voices of the first half of this century will be presented on Sunday, Feb. 20, at 9:30 a.m. at a Men's Club breakfast program at Temple Beth Or in Clark. Entitled "The Voice of Israel," the 1931 movie stars Josef Rosenblatt, Mordecai Hershan, David Roitman, Zeidel Rovner, Lelebe Waldman and others who stirred Jewish audiences in the "golden years" of cantorial voices before World War II reports a club spokesman. The one-hour film considered one of a kind—the only documentation of sacred Hebrew music presented by these cantorial masters. Produced by Judea Films, the pictorialization will also feature choral Cantor Shaye Engelhardt and the Meyer Machtenberg Choir. Cantor Herbert Zaiman of Temple Beth Or will introduce the film. Admission is free.

City schools play host to 'Olympics of Mind'

The Rahway school district will host the Division No. 2 League Tournament of the Olympics of the Mind today. Ten schools will field 22 teams, which will compete for representation in the regional tournament. The competition, which will be comprised of five events, will begin at 3:15 p.m. in the Rahway Junior High School building on Kline Pl., Rahway. The Olympics of the Mind is a creative program which fosters the use of imaginative and unique thought in problem solving. The teams will compete in two types of problem solving, long term and short term. The long-term problem is mechanical and either verbal or non-verbal in nature. The short-term problem stresses fluency and flexibility in thinking. The schools and coaches who will be participants in the tournament are: The Academy of St. Aloysius, Jersey City; Sister Margaret James, Capericus School, Jersey City; Gene DeCosta; Derrifield School, Mount Pleasant; Pamela Gray; Edison Junior High School, Westfield; Judy Dropp; F.M. Gaudin School, Springfield; Mary Oerghes; Grace Wilday Middle School, Roselle; Leda Diamond; Locust Middle School, Roselle; Fran Gold; Rahway Junior High School, Rahway; Edmund Daly; Roosevelt Junior High School, Judy Dropp; and Salt Brook School, New Providence. The tournament will consist of one short-term problem and four long-term problems. The four long-term events will be: "Humor from Homer," a humorous interpretation of the "Odyssey," and three events involving locomotion, power, stress and weight. Contestants will be judged upon the creativity, speed and style with which they solve the problems. The teams which place first and second in total score for each event will advance to the regional tournament to be held in March. Rahway Junior High School will enter two teams. The members are Anson Boari, Michele Derime,

Board adopts $12.9 million tentative tab

By R. N. Faszczecki A total 1983-1984 tentative gross school budget of $12,989,952 was adopted on Feb. 10 by the Rahway Board of Education. Of the total, $12,594,327 would go toward current expenses, $151,800 toward capital outlay and $243,825 toward debt service. The amounts to be raised by taxes in the tentative tab, which still can be worked before the budget is finally adopted, are: $7,997,794 for current expense, $609,500 for capital outlay, and $180,538 for debt service for a total tax of $8,247,832. Mr. Matusaitis said he also thought the Board would like to see a 10% increase in the amount of money it provides for transportation. Mr. Rocco told Mr. Matusaitis any changes in the amount allocated for transportation would force the school body to change its transportation policy. Although the finally adopted budget is due at the office of the Union County Superintendent of Schools by Saturday, March 26, at the latest, Mr. Rocco suggested the public hearing and possible final adoption be set for Monday, March 14, at a special meeting of the board. It would be similar to applying the aid to surplus for 1982-1983, and if not used would return it to the taxpayers, he added. Despite the restoration of the 1982-1983 aid funds, Mr. Rocco noted the state had cut aid Rahway had anticipated for 1983-1984 in several years. For example, equalization aid would be $172,000 less than expected, transportation aid would be cut by $28,816 and categorical aid would be cut at around $39,351. $31,001 of it from the state and $8,350 from the aid the Board had anticipated for 1983-1984. Mr. Rocco explained it is possible that the entire 1982-1983 surplus might be used for the beginning of the 1983-1984 school year.

Gordon Harris heads hospital board

The president and treasurer of Marks Harris Lady Fair in Rahway, Gordon Harris, was elected chairman of the Hospital Board of Governors for 1983. Also elected were Anthony V. Caruso, first vice chairman; Lucille Q. Saylor, second vice chairman; Stanley Abraham, treasurer; and Nelson L. Taylor, Jr., assistant treasurer. ## YM-YWHA to feature art exhibition

Sixty-five artists have been selected to display their paintings and sculpture in the 24th Annual Invitational Art Exhibition and Sale of the Eastern Union County Young Men's Young Women's Hebrew Assn. at the "Y" buildings on Green La., Union, on Sunday, Feb. 20, to Sunday, March 6. Mrs. Deborah Cooper of Hillside, the chairman of the event, today announced the exhibitors were chosen by a panel of recognized authorities in the visual arts field, and will show approximately 260 works of merit. In addition, she said, the show will offer museum-quality crafts for the first time in its long history. Many of the artists have works in permanent exhibitions at museums and have exhibited at outstanding art centers. Ms. Cooper noted, "Among them are painters, George McNeil and Janet Fish, and sculptors, James Rosati and Kenneth Greenleaf, all of whom have been working in permanent collections at the Whitney Museum. Mr. McNeil's abstract expressionist paintings also hang in the Museum of Modern Art, the one of the founders of the 'SCHOOL MENUS' WEEK OF FEB. 21. 'Arthur L. "Astronomy-Nature of the Universe" will be offered for the 16th consecutive year at Union County College, it was announced by Dennis Madaj director of the Division of Continuing Education. The eight-session astronomy course for adults will be taught by the members of the Amateur Astronomers, Inc., which operates the Sperry Observatory jointly with the college. The classes will meet on Mondays from 8 to 9 p.m., beginning on Feb. 28. "The Nature of the Universe" is designed to acquaint the novice with the universe, motions and physical characteristics of the planets, comets, meteors and stars, the current cosmological theories and man's exploration of space, Mr. Madaj said. Additional information and how to register for the astronomy course may be obtained by telephoning 276-2600, extension 206 of 238. Mr. Reginato's works are included in the collection of former Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg, the Hirschhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Museum of Fine Arts in Houston, Chase Manhattan Bank and Arnold & Porter, the Washington law firm. He was the winner of the Allen Center National Sculpture Competition for large-scale sculpture for a downtown Houston building complex and a recipient of the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Fellowship. The ongoing sculpture exhibit has been made possible in part by a grant from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts. Mr. Reginato's work will be on display to tomorrow. Renee Drell, program director may be telephoned at 289-8112 for further information.

Sculpture display at YM-YWHA

Peter Reginato, whose sculptures are currently on display on the front lawn of the Eastern Union County Young Men's Young Women's Hebrew Assn. on Green La., Union, has been referred to as "among those younger sculptors carrying on the tradition of sculpture making in the higher regions," reports a "Y" spokesman. Recent works can be viewed. The four metal abstract sculptures are four and six feet high. They were executed within the last year. Pamela Jablons in her article, "Collecting With a Tradition," in the Aug. 1982 edition of "Divisions" calls Peter Reginato an upcoming sculptor who in the last year has been creating significant works, the spokesman added. Mr. Reginato's works are included in the collection of former Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg, the Hirschhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Museum of Fine Arts in Houston, Chase Manhattan Bank and Arnold & Porter, the Washington law firm. # County College asks $4,300,000

A capital request for 1983-1984 of $4,300,000 was adopted last month by the Board of Trustees of Union County College at a meeting at the Cranford campus.

The request will now go to the Board of School Education, which has the responsibility to certify an amount necessary for capital improvements to the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

The college requested $1,250,000 for replacement projects, including computer systems for Scotch Plains and Cranford, $550,000 for conversion of the existing student union space in Cranford and $1,500,000 for the conversion of existing student union space in Scotch Plains.

The college's president, Dr. Saul Orkin, reported the chancellor of higher education on July 15, 1982, directed each community college to prepare and submit a long-range facilities master plan, and the college hired the firm of Architects and Planning Associates of New Brunswick, to develop a proposed capital-improvement plan.

Dr. Orkin said that study identified a number of critical capital needs for the college.

He added the projects are contingent upon obtaining matching funds from the state.

The major new construction would be a greatly expanded cafeteria and food services facility at the Cranford campus, Dr. Orkin noted. He pointed out the present cafeteria was designed for 1,000 students, and the college now has more than 5,000 students using the Cranford campus.

In other business, the board appointed six full-time instructors for the spring semester: John M. Barstow, Jr., electromechanical technology; Robert J. Christie, business; Joseph Draback, computer science; Maureen Greenbaum, business and computer science; Ruth Henderson, secretarial science, and Ruth Klein, computer science.

The board approved a resolution to accept the resignation of Prof. Kenneth Hanselein of the Engineering-Physics Dept. to assist him in completing his work at a doctorate at Teachers College at Columbia University in New York City.

The college body accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Ruth Schuldenfrei of the Humanities Dept., effective on Tuesday, March 1, 1983. Mrs. Schuldenfrei was an instructor at the Scotch Plains campus for 13 years.

The board also accepted the resignation of Anthony Bakasser as the director of the GED/CEP Test Center in Elizabeth, effective on Jan. 21 of this year.

Included in the courses are one hour on health and nutrition and one hour on exercise and fun.

The total cost is $10 (book included).

The agent, who has a bachelor of science degree in home economics and is an assistant professor at Rutgers University-Camden, will personally instruct the class.

To register, or for further information, please telephone the 4-H Office at 233-9566.

A resolution was adopted expressing "appreciation to the late Mrs. James Clancy for his services as a trustee from Aug. 17, 1981, to Dec. 31, 1982, and for his sage advice and counsel during the college's transition to a public entity."

Mr. Clancy, a Westfield resident, retired at the end of 1982 as the Union County superintendent of schools.

The board approved a vocational education grant of $754 for development projects, which will be carried out by the New Jersey Consortium on the Community College.

Westinghouse unions rap plant closing

Trenton in Nov., 1982, and that in Jersey City in 1981.

They pointed out also Westinghouse had recently sold the lamp plant in Coral Springs, Fla., which makes the same electronic relays and instruments which are produced here.

"It is a fact," he pointed out, "the Newark plant was a moneymaker for Westinghouse, yet it decided to move to the Sunbelt in order to take advantage of a non-union atmosphere and the low wage scale paid in the Deep South."

The union officers said this closing comes on the heels of the Newark facility after it was opened 88 years ago by George Westinghouse himself, was caused by the company's decision five years ago to open a plant in Coral Springs, Fla., which makes the same electronic relays and instruments which are produced here.

"It is a fact," he pointed out, "the Newark plant was a moneymaker for Westinghouse, yet it decided to move to the Sunbelt in order to take advantage of a non-union atmosphere and the low wage scale paid in the Deep South."

The union officers said this closing comes on the heels of the Newark facility after it was opened 88 years ago by George Westinghouse himself, was caused by the company's decision five years ago to open a plant in Coral Springs, Fla., which makes the same electronic relays and instruments which are produced here.

They said in recent weeks the union and local management had been involved in exploring the possibility of bringing government work into the plant for the purpose of augmenting production, keeping employment stable and lowering overhead costs.

The union aides explained they had contacted Congressional officials who were ready, willing and able to assist the union and the company in getting defense work into the plant.

They said as an "impacted area" Newark Westinghouse would get preferential treatment in contract bids which might have been made possible by the continuation of production and employment.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Cole stated the pending shut-down of the Westinghouse plant, the announced phase out of Western Electric in Kearny and the continuing phased-in and closings of plants in New Jersey proved once again the need for plant closing legislation.

They added the labor movement is pressing the New Jersey Legislature for passage of A-1171, which would require pre-notification of any plant closing by one year and intervention by a state commission, which would be empowered to discuss with management the problems at the plant and the assistance which the state could render to make possible the continuation of the facility in New Jersey.

wrestle an outstanding wrestler and win. He now has the belief in himself that everyone else had in him. "I like two painters, both Ramos and Ramos have their own style. Ramos is strong and explosive, and likes to upper-body moves. Ramos is fluid and taller, and combines leg locks with muscle moves. Both are artists, but Ramos is also an artist in the classroom. When Ramos started wrestling in the Rahway Recreation Dept.'s program in the eighth grade he already had been drawing religiously for eight years. "That's my thing," said Ramos. "I started when I was four. I don't know how it happened. I just picked up a pencil, and started. "Petyo is very talented," Coach Dick Lorenzen said. "He sketched the design for the medals for our recreation department for the season on Feb. 2 in Cranford's Anthony Cerrato. They tied 7-7. Cerrato scored the first takedown with four seconds remaining in the first period. In the second period the two exchanged reversals. In the third period Ramos reversed then used a half Nelson for two nearfall points, and took a 6-4 lead. Cerrato reversed at one minute and five seconds, and Ramos slipped out for a one-point escape. With seven seconds remaining, the referee called Ramos for backing up to deadlock the scores several. After the dual meet, which lasted 45 minutes, Ramos and Cerrato talked as if they were old friends. They discussed records and previous opponents, and each admitted how tough the other was. The tie, though, was more important to Cerrato, who is a junior. "Anthony had a cross to bear in Ramos," said Cranford Coach Chuck Ferrara. "No one believes he can

RAY'S ROUND

By Ray Hoagland

The girls basketball team of Clark's Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School made top seed in the North Jersey, Section No. 2, Group No. 2, New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Assn. Tournament. Clark was placed first, followed by the following schools: Pennacook, Clifford Scott, Warren Hills, Dover, Berkeley Heights, Caldwell, Newark West Side, Boonton, Mendham, Newark Central, Butler, Orange, West Orange and Hillside.

In the North Jersey, Section No. 2, Group No. 3, section the first-place seed went to Newark Shabazz, followed by Milburn, then Rahway, followed by West Morris, Newark Vailsburg, Jefferson, Randolph, Hanover, Phillipsburg, Summit, Linden and Parsippany.

Rahway's top wrestler, Peter Ramos, had a 25-1 record last season, and won the District No. 12 and Region No. 3 titles in the 108-pound division. The two-time defending district champion had a 57-21 career record. As of last week he was 110-1 at 115 pounds. "We're having our problems as a team," Ramos admitted. "We don't have good support, because everyone has switched to basketball. But I'm not really

The Union Catholic Misties defeated a strong Rahway Girls Basketball Team 54-45 in a National Division contest of the Watchung Conference at Rahway on Feb. 8. Coach Ken May's girls had an early lead, 16-9, and increased it behind the hot shooting of Teresa James and Karlene Osborne, who tallied 10 and eight first-half points, respectively, to give Rahway the lead at the half-way mark 31-19. The Indians reached 14 points before Allison McCarthy started the Misties on their way. She scored six points in a 10-point streak, and the Union Catholic team tied the game at 37-37 at the start of the final period. Kim Hunter paced the Misties with 15, and Allison McCarthy finished with 13. Jeanine Bellinger led the Rahway side with 16, and Teresa James had 12. The Hillside girls defeated Mother Seton Regional High School of Clark, 56-49 as a trio of Hillside players accumulated 49 points to lead the Comets to their 10th win in 19 games.

Golden Gloves to return

The fifth week of the New Jersey Golden Gloves will begin tomorrow night at the Elizabeth-Carteret Hotel at 1155 E. Jersey St., Elizabeth, with 20 matches and some quarter-finals events in both open and novice divisions. Denise Sadavary led the Setters with 19 points. Tickets may be purchased at the door or at the Elizabeth Elks Club by telephoning 353-3577. In a girls basketball game the Johnson Regional Crusaders defeated the Rouelle High School Rams 41-34 in a conference game. Chris Cwieka provided the spark for the Crusaders by scoring 20 points, six of them in the first period. She was the only Crusader to hit double figures. Clark is now 14-2, while the Rams are 5-10. The David Brearley Regional High School Bears of Kenilworth handed the Clark wrestlers their eighth loss of the season, 51-14. Ken Rabin and Frank Caldwell battled to a hard-fought draw, 12-12. Ken Sarnecki pinned Lou D'Alderto in one minute and 32 seconds. Haskell was a winner in one minute and 22 seconds over Kenilworth's Lou Pasarella.

Olympic meet to be Feb. 27

The Vitalis/United States Olympic Invitational Track Meet has been changed to Sunday, Feb. 27, in the Bryne Meadows Arena in East Rutherford. Rahway High School has been entered in the New Jersey Public High Schools 400-Meter Relay. The Indians hold the meet record of three minutes and 26.5 seconds, set Jan. 16, 1982. Other schools in the event are Asbury Park, Montclair, West Side of Newark, Shabazz of Newark, Willingboro and Kennedy of Willingboro. The meet was postponed from last Saturday night because of the storm.

CYRC asks for umpires

The Citizens Youth Recreation Committee of Rahway is in need of adults to umpire boys' baseball and girls' softball games this coming season. The committee has over 400 children in the program, which is open to children residing in Rahway between the ages of seven and 14. The season is from April to June, and adult umpires will greatly enhance the credibility of the program, reports a spokesman. Any one interested may telephone Mike Guenther, 382-4974. A nominal fee will be paid for umpiring.

Basketball wins popularity contest

Football was played by more people, but basketball was the most popular scholastic sport in boys' and girls' competition for 1981-1982 season, according to a survey of the National High School Sports Federation. Boys basketball was played by 17,922 schools, followed by football, 14,843; outdoor track and field, 14,405; and baseball, 14,001. Cross country, golf, wrestling, tennis, soccer and swimming rounded out the top 10. Football had 927,666 participants, followed by basketball, 538,070; track and field, 477,650; and baseball, 415,353. Wrestling, cross country, soccer, tennis, golf and swimming rounded out the boys' top 10 in participation. Girls' basketball was played by 17,089 schools and 415,381 players, well ahead of track and field and volleyball, second and third in both categories. Tennis, fast-pitch softball, cross country, swimming, golf, gymnastics and field hockey completed the top 10 in schools and softball, tennis, cross country, swimming, field hockey, gymnastics and golf completed the top 10 in participation. All members may attend. A professional caller will be on hand, and instructions will be provided. Tickets will be $7.50 per person, and will include beer, mixer, ice, snacks, coffee and cake. Participants may bring their own food and bottles. Please telephone Nancy Mendez at 392-3405 for further information.

CYRC to sponsor square dance

The Citizens Youth Recreation Committee will hold a square dance on Saturday, March 19, at 4 p.m. in the American Legion Hall at 581 Maple Ave., Rahway.

HAVY, 38, PITTSBURGH, 35
Navy played its toughest opponent in the fourth season (5-0). As Pittsburgh played Navy even though it was undefeated, Navy proved and Brian Cannon provided most of Pittsburgh's offense. However, Chris Lindquist and Scott Anger pulled in 26 points for Navy. Randy Steps played first game after an ankle injury, and provided some spark for Navy.

GEORGETOWN, 20, NOTRE DAME
Georgetown held off Notre Dame for a late clutch game. Mark Duane turned in an outstanding performance with four and a half rebounds and six blocks.

scoring for the Buckeyes. This was the first loss for Ohio State, and both teams won sport a 3-1 win/loss record.

U. C. L. A., 33, Rutgers, 20
U. C. L. A. took an early lead with the ball handling skills of James Slack and a 22-point effort by Angelo Fiorenza. The defense was controlled by Louis Van Bergen with Jimmie Chern giving a strong effort with 18 points. Michael Wayne and Jeff Jadro closed the game in the fourth quarter with three points each.

GEORGETOWN, 42, AIR FORCE, 22
In the fifth-and-sixth grade Division Georgetown out-paired Air Force. Cozzi led scorers with 18 points. Michael Wayne scored eight points, with Crowell and Lipkin each chipping in seven points. Air Force Clement was the high scorer with six points. Jeff Jadro with four points and Tom Baratus with two points.

DAYTON, 18, DUKE, 10
The Dayton Flyers were led by a solid two-way performance by Harry Muller with four points, five rebounds and two steals. Other offensive standouts for the Flyers were Korona with two points and two rebounds and two for two from the foul line for eight points.

NOTRE DAME, 18, ARMY, 8
Notre Dame beat Army in a well-played defensive battle. Notre Dame's defense was led by Mike Schmitt and Greg Schubert. Army received good performances from Brian Carroll and Joseph Ciaccio with two points each.

CLASSIC CARS...Ray Harris, right, a member of the Kiwanis Club of Rahway, is shown with Joseph Perricone of Cook Street Limited of New Brunswick. At a recent meeting of the club, Mr. Perricone explained how automobiles become classics and the amount of restoration that must be done for one to be recognized nationally. He said it takes many years for classic cars to appreciate in value. The Rahway Kiwanis Club meets on Wednesdays at 12:15 p.m. at the Columbian Club in Rahway.

John Galatt in 'Who's Who'

A Rahway scholar, John Galatt, is featured in the 16th Annual Edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students." Students are selected by high school principals and guidance counselors, national youth groups, churches or the company which publishes the volume based upon their performance in scholarship-award contests or extra-curricular activities.

Clark forms committee for seniors

Clark Mayor Bernard G. Yarusavage has formed a Senior Citizens Action Committee. The first priority of this committee will be to issue cards for discounts in the local businesses. The township store owners were enthusiastic in welcoming support for Clark senior citizens, report Mayor Yarusavage.

College displays Berlind works

Paintings and paper-works by artist, Robert Berlind, noted for his "Light Spill Series," will be on display in the Tomasulo Art Gallery at Union County College's Cranford campus to Monday, Feb. 28.

The Berlind exhibit, the fourth art show sponsored by the Fine Arts Dept. of the college will be on display to the public, free of charge, Monday to Saturday, 1 to 4 p.m. and Monday to Thursday, 6 to 9 p.m.

The Tomasulo Art Gallery is located in the MacKay Library on the college's Cranford campus at 1033 Springfield Ave., across from Nomahegan Park.

In the near future, seniors 62 and over will be notified of the procedure for obtaining identification cards. Any businesses that have not been contacted, and want to support this program may telephone Ralph Whittle or Mrs. Ruth Whittle, president of the Clark Senior Citizens Club at 276-5706 or Peter Campana at 388-4323.

RIZZO WINS AT MEADOWLANDS...Robbie Rizzo of Scotch Plains, the grandson of Louis R. Rizzo, Sr. of Rahway, took first honors in the nine-to-twelve-year-old age category of the National Basketball Assn./Pepsi Hot-Shot Area Finals on Jan. 9 at the Meadowlands Arena. After falling behind in the first round, he moved up in the second, and was in third place going into the final round, where he had his best round and pulled ahead of other contestants. Rizzo, who is sponsored by the Scotch Plains Recreation Commission, will now represent the New Jersey Nets in the Regional Finals, to be held in Philadelphia at the Spectrum on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 19 and 20.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY...Louis W. Brunner, an assistant manager for New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. in Roselle, recently marked 35 years' service with the company. Mr. Brunner, who lives on James Ave., Clark, is a member of the Newark Council, H.G. McCully Upstate Chapter, Telephone Pioneers of America. He is a member of the Osceola Presbyterian Church in Clark.

Cancer Society seeks aides to stop smokers

The Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society is looking for ex-smokers interested in volunteering their time to run quit-smoking classes in area businesses, adult schools and community centers.

For more information and training dates, please telephone 354-7373 or 232-0641.
