Time may soon run out on $2 penalty for parking illegally at city's meters

By R.R. Faszcewski

Time may soon expire on those who park illegally in Rahway thanks to three ordinances introduced by City Council on Sept. 12.

The three measures would raise the fines on several types of illegal parking - the first would set a penalty of $5 for illegal parking in an off-street lot provided the offender pleads guilty and pays the fine before the scheduled court appearance; the second would set a penalty of $5 for illegal parking at on-street parking meters, with the same provisions for pleading guilty as the above measure; and the third would set a $10 fine for on-street parking violations such as parking in a bus stop, too close to a stop sign or in front of a fire hydrant.

According to Council attorney, Louis Rainone, the new laws would update a system which has caused ordinances originally adopted as long ago as 1951.

However, Second Ward Councilman John Marsh protested the increased fines, saying they would hurt downtown business more than it is being hurt now by the fact more and more shoppers are choosing the malls in which to make their purchases instead of coming to downtown Rahway.

Councilman Marsh added the city should be trying to remove the meters instead of increasing the penalties for parking overtime.

He urged the city to put more restrictions on commuter parking because Rahway's shopper parking spaces are being taken by commuters during the working day.

Third Ward Councilman Max Sheld responded the revenue from the meters had been pledged by the city several years ago in a trust agreement to pay off the bonds of the Rahway Parking Authority. Therefore the meters could not be removed until the bonds were paid off.

Councilman Sheld added it costs the city $1.67 at present to process a $2 summons, which means the city loses money on every $2 ticket issued.

The Second Ward representative pointed out the bonds were to be paid off by the money collected in the meters, not by the fines.

He added the authority had recently hired new employees and claimed it was "in the black," and the maximum cost for processing a ticket was only 35 cents.

Fifth Ward Councilman Walter Pitts told Mr. Marsh the authority had to lay off two employees it had recently hired.

Another councilman, Lawrence Bodine of the First Ward, disputed Councilman Marsh's contention stores would be vacated if the fines were raised.

Councilman Bodine said he has business in Cranford and Roselle Park, both of which have parking meters and both of which have healthy business districts.

He added the main problem in Rahway was not that the meters were in the city but that commuters were taking up the shoppers' spaces.

Councilman Marsh then called for the separation of business and commuter parking from shopper parking.

Citing a study from the Rahway Businessmen's Assn., Sixth Ward Councilman James J. Fulcomer said the $5 fine for meters was shown to be the maximum which should be allowed.

He added commuters found it pays to park in Rahway even if it is done illegally because the low $2 fine is cheaper than paying parking fees in Newark or New York.

The Sixth Ward councilman said the $5 levy would still make Rahway's fines the lowest in the county.

Several councilmen disputed the Second Ward representative's contention other municipalities in the county allow free shopper parking.

When the votes on the introductions of the three ordinances came only Councilman Marsh opposed the measures.

The public hearings and possible final adoptions of the measures, as well as an ordinance which would raise the compensations for members of the Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority to $30 per meeting up to 20 meetings per year, with the chairman receiving $2,000 per year in lieu of meeting compensation, will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 11, at 8 p.m.

Because of a hearing scheduled on Wednesday, Oct. 5, on an appeal to the Governing Body of a Board of Adjustment decision to disapprove a variance which would have allowed Rahway Hospital to permit parking on land it owns on Kaminski Dr., Council President Harvey Williams refused to allow former Councilman-at-Large Wilson Beauregard to speak on the history of the property.

Although Mr. Beauregard protested the decision, Mr. Rainone explained the council members, who must sit in on the appeal as if they were judges, could not allow themselves to base their decisions on any facts except those in the Board of Adjustment transcript.

He did say, however, comments on the appeal might be allowed at the actual appeal hearing.

Although George Wagenhoffer, who lives at 733 Kaminski Dr., did not speak on the hospital problem per se, he did tell the councilmen the Rahway Citizens to Preserve Residential Zoning had written to the governor, the New Jersey attorney general and state department of health, among other officials for help with their problems because they felt Rahway officials were not doing enough to aid them.

Asked by Councilman Marsh to report on the status of a committee he set up to explore solutions to Rahway Hospital's parking problems, Mayor Daniel L. Martin announced the preliminary draft of the report had been sent out for corrections and the committee members had all agreed the report would not be made public until all their signatures had been obtained.

The mayor added this might not be done until after the appeal hearing because the two councilmen on the committee did not want to be accused of being influenced in the appeal decision by the report.

Although he admitted Kaminski Dr. was mentioned in the report he would not say to what extent, even though he reported the report would have no direct effect on the Kaminski Dr. parking proposal.

The mayor did say, however, Green Field had been eliminated from consideration by the committee when the hospital had withdrawn its plans to use the county-owned park for parking and that much of the congestion caused by construction around the hospital had been relieved because those attending soccer games were allowed to park in the Rahway Junior High School parking lot.

In formal presentations made prior to the official business Ed McLean, the Scoutmaster for Rahway Troop No. 47 of the Boy Scouts; Assistant Scoutmaster John Harrigan, and Scouts Mike Danko and Steve Banasiak presented the mayor and Council with a plaque and crest from the London Borough of Sutton Surrey, England, where the troop spent several weeks this summer.

The mayor also presented a congratulatory resolution to the Rahway Recreations Intra-County Baseball Team for winning the league championship.

The mayor praised the team and Coaches Bill Roesch and John Bodnar for bringing pride to Rahway and building character among young men and thanked Councilman Bodine for sponsoring the team.

City tax decrease only one in county

Based on final tax rates certified by the Union County Board of Taxation Rahway is the only municipality in the county to experience a tax decrease in 1983, reports Mayor Daniel L. Martin.

The rate survey does not include Summit, Berkeley Heights or Fanwood because those communities implemented total tax revaluations in 1983, according to Mayor Martin.

"Needless to say," the mayor stated, "we are extremely pleased by these figures. To be the only municipality in the county with a tax decrease is certainly something we are proud of."

Tax rate changes in Union County in 1983 ranged from increases of 27% in Winfield Park, 12% in Roselle Park, and 8.4% in Union to the decrease of 1% in Rahway. The mean average increase for county municipalities was 5.8%.

The complete list of municipalities with their tax rate changes is as follows: Winfield Park, up 27%; Roselle Park, up 12%; Union, up 8.4%; Scotch Plains, up 8%; Clark, up 7%; Garwood, up 6.5%; Springfield, up 6.3%; Linden, up 6.1%; Kenilworth, up 5.8%; Westfield, up 5.5%; Roselle, up 5.5%; Cranford, up 5.4%; Mountainside, up 4.4%; Elizabeth, up 4.3%; Plainfield, up 4%; New Providence, up 3%; Hillside, up 2.4%; and Rahway, down 1%.

Junior Women ready to take your blood

The General Federation of Women's Clubs Rahway Area Junior Women's Club, in cooperation with the North Jersey Blood Center, will conduct a blood drive on Tuesday, Oct. 4, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Clark Volunteer Rescue Squad building on Rutland Rd., Clark.

The North Jersey Blood Center was established in 1947, the first such community blood bank in New Jersey. In 1981 the center distributed over 100,000 units of blood and components to hospitals for heart and elective surgery, for emergency treatment and for patients with chronic blood disorders, such as hemophilia, leukemia and Cooley's Anemia.

The center also pioneered the development of a frozen blood laboratory and storage depot for the state, enabling red cells to be stored indefinitely in liquid nitrogen freezers. Computerized records further enhance the accessibility of these bloods, many of which are difficult to cross match and extremely rare, reports a spokeswoman.

Donors are eligible between ages 17 and 66, although 17 year olds must have a written consent from a parent or guardian. The entire procedure, from mini-physical to post-donation check, takes under an hour. The actual donation takes about 10 minutes, during which you are resting comfortably. Giving blood doesn't hurt and the small volume taken will be replenished very quickly, the spokeswoman added. Donors will have a one-year "bank account" with the North Jersey Blood Center. If they, their spouse or any other member of their immediate family need blood for a one-year period after the day they donate, it will be available as much as they need. The blood can help a child with leukemia, a young woman about to undergo open-heart surgery or a father who depends on a kidney dialysis machine for life. It can mean the life-and-death difference to a teenager in a car wreck, she pointed out.

To participate in the drive or for additional information, please telephone 382-2471.

$2.2 million job plan okayed

The Private Industry Council of Union County met recently at the Merck and Co. headquarters in Rahway to approve the $2.2 million dollar 1984 Jobs Training Plan and select William S. McKinley, the community relations manager for the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. as the chairman pro tem.

The opening session was welcomed by Frecholder Gerald B. Green, the county liaison to the council. Frecholder Green explained, "The Job Training Partnership Act replaces the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). Unlike CETA, which placed participants in the public sector, the new act will find unsubsidized employment in the private sector," the frecholder said.

The 29-member council will oversee the expenditure of funds made available under the Jobs Training Partnership Act.

The major order of business of the meeting was the approval of the job-training plan which structures the allocation of the one-year $2.2 million grant that provides employment and training services.

County Manager Arthur J. Grisi noted the plan serves as "an agreement between the Private Industry Council and Union County that allows the county to act as administrator of the act's funds."

Following approval of the plan by the council, Frecholder Chairman Frank Lehr signed the document for the Board of Chosen Freeholders and Chairman McKinley signed for the council.

Frecholder Lehr said, "The plan has a great deal of flexibility that enables the development of customized training programs to provide workers specifically trained to meet the needs of the county's private sector."

The plan makes the funds available to train youth, unskilled adults and others who face barriers to employment in the private sector. The grant will be effective on Saturday, Oct. 1, to Saturday, June 30, 1984.

County college reshuffles administration

A revised administrative organization highlighted by the establishment of three major divisions each headed by a dean has been adopted for Union County College, effective immediately. It was announced today by Dr. Saul Orkin, the president.

In addition, the dean of auxiliary academic services, formerly titled special services and dean of administrative and continuing education, and the dean of administrative and academic data services will report directly to the president along with the four vice presidents.

"Since the establishment of Union County College on Aug. 17, 1982 the college has been functioning under an interim table of organization," Dr. Orkin said. "Our purpose was to obtain a year of actual operating experience before making more permanent administrative adjustments."

The new table of organization was adopted following discussions with the Faculty Transitional Executive Committee and with staff personnel, the college president reported.

The three academic administrative units will be: Business, Engineering, Careers and Technology, which will be headed during 1983-1984 by Prof. Bohdan Lukaszewski in an acting capacity; Arts and Sciences, which is vacant, and Nursing, Allied Health and Human Services, headed by Dr. Theodore Austin.

Primarily the new administrative organization provides for a new Division of Nursing, Allied Health and Human Services and a redistribution of the departments reporting to the other two academic divisions, Dr. Orkin said.

Bravo to the proposed changes in education made by the government.
Knowing what the system has been like it is doubtful anyone would disagree with such improvements. There is a dilemma, however, which will befall the taxpayer. Over the years the taxpayer has been used and abused by the taxpayer, helped create the existing mediocrity in both urban and suburban schools and undermined the once present security of the teaching profession.
Any more increases in school budgets and the taxpayer is in deep trouble.
Not having the benefit of the fine print in the proposed education program will be necessary to react to what is available via the news media.
The proposed changes will work:
-If our schools devote themselves totally to education. Our public schools were never meant to be glorified country clubs nor day nurseries.
-If given today's class sizes, much of the remedial and compensatory education should be disposed of with the exception of that for the special education children and students with severe learning problems. A well-qualified teacher should be able to CATCH UP WITH THE PROBLEMS AS THEY ARISE as a part of the daily teaching routine, but which are presently relegated to remedial classes.
-If teachers who prove unsatisfactory are removed from the cost of education. The taxpayers can't afford it and the children have paid the price for too long.
-If all unnecessary employees are removed from the rolls. Schools should not have to have such things as their own bus system. When a problem arises with a student medically or emotionally that requires attention the parents should be notified and it should be the parents' responsibility to remedy the situation. If the parent cannot, for economic reasons, then this should be handled through the Dept. of Health and Human Services. The taxpayer has spent hundreds of millions of dollars to support this department, so duplication of services should be eliminated.
-If non-academic programs such as family life and the arts are presently being taught in the New Brunswick schools about the benefits of the nuclear fission are eliminated from the curricula. Programs that are plainly political or social engineering should consistently be kept out of the public schools. Money used on these could surely be more wisely used for competent teachers.
-If the schools stop worrying about whether what they set up will interfere with the working parent, then they can get about the only job they are paid to do: EDUCATE! It should be incumbent upon the parent to handle his own personal problems. Should the parents need assistance then they should be handled by people who deal with social problems as their profession—not in the schools. The schools have to care about hundreds of problems—the parent just has to worry about his own.
-If, and this is probably the most important, a standard of behavior for children in schools is set and it should be upheld by the parents. Teachers should not have to be policemen nor should they have to take any juvenile 'guff'. On the other side of the coin the schools should give 100% support of manners and morals' taught in the home! THE TIME FOR MUTUAL RESPECT between teacher and parent/taxpayers is NOW! EACH MUST LISTEN TO THE OTHER!
-If schools are set up to be efficient with only those employees and administrators needed to do the job, then perhaps the taxpayer stands a chance. If education is streamlined and freed of waste, there seems to be every reason to believe we can pay the competent teacher a reasonable salary and still have a smaller school budget.

Meanwhile, we should also consider barring Soviet ships from our ports. We should cease helping the Soviets, and they can keep their Baltic darters and cultural delegations home. We do not want them in the United States.

While waiting for other governments to take action against the Soviet Union, we must use the power of their own moral outrage to show Americans will not silently accept such acts of brutality. The Soviets ignore their own people because they control them. But they do not control the lives or the consciences of the rest of the world, and their protest will haunt the Soviet rulers.

Americans who feel exhausted by the continuing struggle between the Soviet Union and the United States must not lose courage. The United States must never grow too tired to defend freedom and to preserve the peace. As Americans, we have a special obligation to preserve, protect and defend freedom for ourselves and for future generations of Americans.

Punish the Soviets for inhuman crimes

Why did the Soviets shoot down an unarmed Korean Airlines jet killing 267 passengers, and then lie about it to the entire world? Why would the Soviets commit cold blooded murder and brazenly turn around and blame it on the United States?

We find it impossible to understand the Soviet motives for the Korean Airline massacre because it is in violation of our sense of values and respect for the truth.

Are you ready for night fire?

Here's how to prepare for night fire in your home...here's how to live.

Night fire preparation begins with one simple, vitally important bit of knowledge: Smoke kills. The biggest group of fire fatalities were killed by inhaling smoke and superheated toxic gases—not by direct contact with flame.

In today's homes, snugly insulated and furnished with all manner of synthetic materials, smoke is more toxic than ever before. Because smoke is hot, it rises, spreading along the ceiling and climbing ceilings over stairways.

All these survival tips are designed to protect you if fire strikes while it sleeps it will know in time...and know what to do.

THAT'S NO GUPPY - John A. LaGuardia, Jr. of Colonia displays the 12-foot blue marlin he caught on Sept. 4, his 30th birthday, at the Texas Tower. The fish, which weighs about 450 pounds, took an hour and 10 minutes to bring in. The boat, a 50-foot Hatteras out of Sea Bright, the "Karen H," is owned and operated by Karen and Gregory Harquail. LaGuardia brought in the catch with an 80-pound Fenwick rod and 12/0 Penn reel.

FISHING Facts & Fancies

Choosing The Right Line You may think you have the perfect excuse for when that fish gets away during your next fishing outing -- "the line broke." With all due respect to the fish, it's up to you to keep your line in A-1 condition -- and that means knowing when to replace it.

In general, the lighter the line, the more often it needs replacement. Line in the four to eight pound test range should be changed daily when under heavy use. 17 to 20 pound test line needs to be changed only after eight or ten fishing trips. The key is to inspect it regularly.

Albert Smith, who was Rutgers' leading ground gainer and a starting tailback as a freshman last season, was not particularly happy about the game, despite the fact he finished as the Scarlet Knights' leading rusher with 58 yards on nine carries. He has been demoted to second team tailback behind Dwayne Hooper and did not get to carry the ball nearly as much as he wanted to. Of his total for the game, 44 yards came in the final minute of play on what was the longest run from scrimmage as a collegian.

"I've got to learn to play where and when they want to play, he said shaking his head in a disgruntled manner. "They see something that I don't."

Crusaders smooth Roughriders 15-0

By Ray Hoagland
Clark's Arthur L. Johnson Regional Crusaders opened their 1983 football season with a 17-0 win over the Roughriders of West High School of Newark.

The game, played before a very small crowd of 200, saw a score late in the second period when Tom Haskell recovered a Roughrider fumble on West Side's 34-yard line.

Then a pass from Clark quarterback, Charlie Whitman, to Frank Di Lollo brought the Crusaders in for a touchdown on the 17-yard line.

Clark's next game will be at Hillsdale on Saturday, Oct. 1.

Edward Woods cut to his right and then ran back into the center of the Roughriders' line and raced for a first down on the 13-yard line with seven minutes and 24 seconds left in the period.

Then Frank Di Lollo drove from the 13-yard line for the touchdown with six minutes and 47 seconds left.

Griffin kicked the extra point for a five-point day.

The final touchdown of the game was scored after a fumble, Tom Brockick, in a miscalculation, put the ball on the 17-yard marker.

The West Side defense stiffened and Glen Griffin kicked a 36-yard field goal with two minutes and 11 seconds left in the period.

The teams parted up and down the field in the second period when Tom Haskell recovered a Roughrider fumble on West Side's 34-yard line.
