$3.9 million high school revamp in hands of voters

Rahway's approximately 14,500 registered voters will decide on Tuesday whether or not the Board of Educa-tion should bond tural renovations at the city's 44-year-old high school. A bi-partisan committee of city and school officials found, in a report published in last week's Rahway News-Record, "major renovations to a renovation of Rahway High structurally-sound facility." School must be undertaken immediately. Professional evaluation indicates the each, were defeated by building is structurally voters in February and sound and renovation is April, 1983 and a revised completely feasible. The committee recommends major emphasis be placed on the repair of the exterior and the replacement of the heating system." As far as maintenance goes, it was noted by the committee, "a maintenance program has been in effect for the past five years, but it was too little, too late to preclude the need for a major capital improvement from developing." The major proposed areas of improvement are: Mechanical the heating and ventilating system; building exterior-masonry repair and réplacement of windows; interior building improvements for the handicapped, electrical, lighting and plastering; auditoriumlighting, doors, seating and curtains, and locker room facilities for boys and girls. New construction was not recommended by the joint committee for three state requirements for a new high school; second, the length of time which develop a site, obtain state figures, using mid-1985 cost

The speakers, left to right, are: Rahway business administrator, Joseph Hartnett; Superintendent of Schools Frank Brunette and Board of Education secretary. Anthony Rocco. The three speakers explained how the joint commission of the City Council and the Board of Education analyzed the essential renovations and mechanical replacements at Rahway High School. The referendum for the bond issue of $3.9 million will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 19. It was noted in September, 1985 the last payment on debt service will be made and there will not be any appreciable tax increase to carry the bond issue over its 15-year payback. The Kiwanis Club of Rahway meets on Wednesdays at 12:15 p.m. at the Columbian Club in Rahway

ALL ENDS WELL ... Victoria Ndagi, from the Nupe tribe in Nigeria, has reason to smile. After delicate open heart surgery at the New York University Medical Center she will }we`l⇔ve our children now be able to lead a normal life. Born a "blue baby" - one in whom the wall between ntricles of the heart is not closed at birth - Victoria and her father traveled to the medical center for surgery to correct the otherwise fatal heart defect. The father and child rested at the Sudan Interior Mission in Cedar Grove, where they celebrated Victoria's seventh birthday on Oct. 14, 1984. As soon as she is stronger Victoria and her father will travel back to their home in Nigeria, where for the first time she will be strong enough to run and play with the other children. enough to run and play with the other children. ## Fire chief thanks Rahway Savings

Editor's Note: Following is a copy of a letter sent to Thomas Grahill, the president of The Rahway Savings Institution, by Rahway Fire Chief James T. Heller

I would like to take this opportunity to personally thank you and the board of managers for the generous donation of $5,500 This donation will allow the fire department to purchase additional equipment that will increase the efficiency of the department, thereby providing improved service The purchase of a VHS allows us to video tape training sessions and fire ground operations for review. The purchase of a microcomputer will satisfy our internal needs in the areas of station management, reports, accounting, evolutions and pre-attack planning. Our external needs include government reports and forms, education, training and info-retrieval. With the adoption of the New Jersey Right to Know Law we are required to list occupancies which use any of e 2,000 hazardous substances the state has identified. The state has adopted the New Jersey State Fire Safety Act and it will begin implementing this act on Monday, Feb. 18. This act defines life hazard uses and sets annual fees and the frequency of inspections. Needless to say, your generous gift was timely and greatly appreciated and will help us accomplish all of the
