Geriatrics center naming heats up Council session

By R.R. Faszczewski

City Council Monday became embroiled in controversy over a resolution, proposed by First Ward Democratic Councilman Jerry L. Coleman, which would have memorialized Dr. Clarence T. Hill of Rahway, who died on March 30, 1984, and would have requested the Rahway Geriatrics Center board of trustees to incorporate Dr. Hill's name in the official name of the center.

The dispute surfaced when Walter Schaffhauser of 985 Hamilton St. requested the resolution be taken off the consent agenda so it could be fully discussed.

Mr. Schaffhauser, whose late father had headed the Rahway Housing Authority, although he agreed the Governing Body should commend Dr. Hill, said those who fought government bureaucracy for so long to make the center a reality should be remembered by having their names attached to the building.

However, John Robertson, the president of the Rahway Chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, commended the councilmen for considering recommending the center include Dr. Hill's name because of the doctor's dedication to helping people.

Dr. Hill had a medical practice in the city from 1935 to 1973 and served as secretary of the Rahway Redevelopment Agency, a physician for the Rahway public schools and as physician at the New Jersey State Prison in Avenel.

Although Second Ward Republican Councilman

John C. Marsh agreed the geriatrics center does a fantastic job, he said Rahway has had far more outstanding citizens to honor before Dr. Hill, such as the late Sen. Clifford P. Case.

Councilman Marsh added the fact the name Rahway is on the name of the center puts Rahway first in geriatrics care and the center should be permanently named for the city.

Third Ward Democratic Councilman Max Sheld agreed with Councilman Marsh Rahway has world-renowned individuals who have been deserving of such an honor such as scientist, Carl Sagan; Milton Friedman, the economist, and Sen. Case.

However, he said even if those names were brought up for the center he would oppose them because the name Rahway associates the city with something positive.

The Third Ward representative added just last week Gov. Thomas Kean signed legislation which will change the name of Rahway Prison, which is in Avenel, and other state institutions so they will not give negative images of the places where they are located and Rahway should not follow this by taking away something which gives it a positive image.

Pointing out the re-naming of the geriatrics center had been discussed over a year ago, Mayor Daniel L. Martin said it had always been his policy to put the name Rahway on all city buildings and not name them after individuals.

Expressing his surprise that none of his colleagues or the administration had brought up objections to incorporating Dr. Hill's name in the center at the Council pre-meeting conference, Councilman Coleman said many people who hadn't done anything had buildings named after them and it was about time Afro-

Americans got the recognition they deserved.

Councilman Marsh, saying he had questioned the Coleman resolution strongly at the conference session, pointed out the Schaffhauser Apartments, named for the late Mr. Schaffhauser, were not owned by the city as Councilman Coleman had pointed out, but by the housing authority.

Councilman-at-Large James J. Fulcomer introduced an amendment, which he said was a compromise, to name a section or hall in the center after Dr. Hill.

However, Democratic Councilman-at-Large Vincent Addona said the Governing Body should meet the issue head on and vote it up or down on its merits.

He added the Fulcomer amendment would be an act of tokenism, and called for separating the Coleman resolution into two — one memorializing Dr. Hill and the other asking for the incorporation of the doctor's name into that of the geriatrics center.

This way, according to Councilman Addona, the Governing Body members could honor Dr. Hill and still express their support or opposition to the name change.

Reiterating the fact his resolution did not seek to change the name of the center but to incorporate Dr. Hill's name with that of Rahway, Councilman Coleman said voting any amendment to his resolution would defeat its purpose and deny residents of his ward a voice in the naming of a building in their ward.

The co-sponsor of the original Coleman resolution, Fourth Ward Democratic Councilman Harvey Williams, was angered by comments from some councilmen the Governing Body had no right to get involved in affairs outside its jurisdiction.

He pointed out the Council had expressed its feelings on county, state and national issues and couldn't see why this was different.

When the vote on the split resolutions, one memorializing Dr. Hill and the other asking for the name change came up, Councilman Coleman said he would vote against the memorialization because of the shenanigans which had gone on at Monday's session, not because of the memorialization.

Both Councilmen Cadigan and Sheld said they were wholeheartedly in favor of memorializing Dr. Hill but were against having the Council get involved in naming buildings.

On the memorialization of Dr. Hill eight of the councilmen voted for it and Councilman Coleman voted against it, but on the request to change the name of the center Councilmen Cadigan, Fulcomer, Marsh, Wagenhoffer and Sheld voted against it.

Although Councilman McLeod responded to residents' calls for a public apology from the Council as a whole to Mrs. Hill by saying only individual apologies were called for, both Councilmen Coleman and Williams said they would make personal apologies and supported a public apology from the Council as a whole.

Councilman McLeod named Councilman Addona to chair a committee on a policy for memorializing individuals in the city, with Councilmen Fulcomer and Marsh to sit on the committee along with Mr. Hartnett.

State pothole toll said to be light

The pothole season is now underway in New Jersey and will continue for at least two months, but there is some good news to report. The department of transportation predicts motorists will see fewer potholes on the state highway system in 1985 than they have experienced in previous years.

The most important factor in making this prediction, according to John F. Dunn, chief of the New Jersey Dept. of Transportation Bureau of Maintenance, was the resurfacing effort during 1985 when approximately 450,000 tons of bituminous concrete was placed on deteriorated highways to create new riding surfaces for 350 lane miles.

Most of this work was funded by Gov. Thomas Kean's Transportation Trust Fund, reports Mr. Dunn.

Mr. Dunn believes the pothole problem will further be reduced in 1986 with the continuation of the trust fund stable funding program for the highway resurfacing portion of the trust fund.

Another reason to predict a mild pothole season, according to the transportation chief, is the fact New Jersey really did not experience a freeze until after the first of the year. The existing structural integrity of the roadway surface, coupled with water, temperature (freezing and thawing) and traffic volumes are major factors that contribute to the severity of the pothole problem.

The department of transportation would welcome a telephone call from motorists if they spot a pothole on the state highway system. Potholes on local and county roads should be reported to the appropriate authority and NOT to the department of transportation.

Potholes on state highways may be reported from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on weekdays by telephoning the following number in Union County: 648-2550.

Rahway captures sectional crown

By Ray Hoagland

The Rahway Indians captured the 1985 North Jersey, Section No. 2, Group No. 2 basketball championship with a 67-to-57 win over the Parsippany Redskins at Union High School on March 8.

The Indians, coached by Tom Lewis, outscored their rivals in the second half by 32 to 24 after leading at the half 35 to 33.

In the final period Coach Lewis' team picked up the lead after the Redskins had switched from a 1-3-1 zone defense to a collapsing zone with the forwards converging on the Indians' senior center, Fred Morton. When he handled the ball Rahway countered with accurate shooting and board control. The Indians out-rebounded the Redskins 35 to 21 to gain control midway through the period.

Rahway's pointmakers were Stan Smith 25, Rahim Muhammed 22, Mike McKenna 11, Jeff Baker three and Morton six.

Rahway had the edge 27 to 25 from the floor. The Indians hit 13 of 19 and the losers were 7 of 11.

Rahway has a 21-7 record, while Parsippany closed at 17-8.

What do 30,000 daffodils have in common with cancer control? It's easy when you understand what a Daffodil Festival is.

The big days are March 18 to 23. That's when Mother Nature will be helping the American Cancer Society's Cancer Control Unit by providing thousands of beautiful golden daffodils.

A force of volunteers will bring the first spring flower, the flower of hope, to cancer patients and their families.

Japan returns for Maguires

Editor's Note: Following is the ninth in a series of articles on the journey of former Assemblyman and Mr. William Maguire of Clark from San Francisco to the Far East.

Leaving Pusan for a return stop at Kobe, Japan we were once more invited up to the bridge by the captain. He had sandwiches sent up for our lunch so we would not miss any of the sights going out of the harbor.

The captain wanted us to observe our entrance to the Inland Sea, which at one point was no more than 50 yards wide. It was breathtaking and hairy as small fishing craft kept cutting across our bow, completely ignoring the warning blazes of the pilot in control at the time. It was on this leg of our journey that we sailed past the new smokeship steel mill mentioned earlier.

Our stop at Yokohama was another in-and-out stop. We took advantage of our short stay as we have done on other trips. We boarded a local bus and rode to the end of the line, Hanchuan restaurant in Yokohama, Japan. The nine-course meal cost about $16 in United States dollars.

ON THE MENU: Dors and Bl Maguire and their ignites are shown having dinner at the famous Hanchuan restaurant in Yokohama, Japan. The nine-course meal cost about $16 in United States dollars.

One girl wanted to be a airline hostess and the other was majoring in Japanese. We bought cookies and small gifts for the girls and then paid their way back on the bus. We had to force them to take the bus fare (all 400 from us). They were two delightful young ladies.

That evening we learned we had time to go ashore for dinner. One of our fellow passengers had read an article in a Los Angeles paper recommending this famous restaurant in Yokohama. The Heimincho. It was like a scene out of Hollywood. We were greeted by beautiful girls and then shown to our private dining room—doors and all. We had nine-course meal of Goshonky knows what, but it was delicious.

One of the things that we had was seaweed. Dors said it was like chewing on elastic bands. The main course was a whole fish that had been seasoned and baked in a clay pot that had to be cracked open to get the fish out. It was tender and succulent and as crisp as could be. Even the bones could be eaten!

More than 700 Washington, Rock Girl Scout Council girls, including those from Clark, were camping on a special council-sponsored event. They didn't camp out. They camped in, sleeping on the floor and science exhibits at the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia.

The trip, a cooperative effort between Franklin Institute and the Washington Rock Council, gave girls a chance to learn about science while having a good time. Normally the museum is closed on Fridays and Saturdays at 5 p.m., but for the camp-in events of Girl Scouts aged nine to 11 years enjoyed the museum in the special "night" sign.

Since the Franklin Institute is designed for youngsters there are no "Don't Touch" signs. Girl Scouts could attend workshops at exhibits and have plenty of time to browse. Walking through the ventricles of a giant heart, riding a locomotive and designing an airplane were all part of the fun.

"Campies" were unique. Some Girl Scouts curled up in sleeping bags under the wings of a Wright Brothers biplane in the Earth Gallery, the Hall of Illusions, and exhibits throughout the museum, reports a spokeswoman.

The following members attended the annual state meeting at Present Day Club in Princeton on March 5, Mrs. Cleland, Mrs. Carl B. Lantz, Mrs. Markley, Mrs. Milton E. Terry, Mrs. Florence S. Whittead, Mrs. George B. Young and Mrs. Arthur J. Zambuto.

Mrs. Young, the president of Lady Elizabeth Clark Chapter, gave the eulogy for Mrs. Edwin W. Wohlstetne during the memorial service for the deceased members.

Mrs. Cleland, the chairwoman of the state nominating committee, gave the committee's report. Mrs. Terry will continue as state registrar and Peggy Jean Wohlstetne will become organizing state secretary.

Mrs. Wohlstetne's exhibit comparing homes and way of life with the present day was on display. This had been done and shown during Colonial

The best part's the fun. GIRL SCOUT WEEK 1985.

ON THE MENU: Dors and Bl Maguire and their ignites are shown having dinner at the famous Hanchuan restaurant in Yokohama, Japan. The nine-course meal cost about $16 in United States dollars.

One girl wanted to be a airline hostess and the other was majoring in Japanese. We bought cookies and small gifts for the girls and then paid their way back on the bus. We had to force them to take the bus fare (all 400 from us). They were two delightful young ladies.

That evening we learned we had time to go ashore for dinner. One of our fellow passengers had read an article in a Los Angeles paper recommending this famous restaurant in Yokohama. The Heimincho. It was like a scene out of Hollywood. We were greeted by beautiful girls and then shown to our private dining room—doors and all. We had nine-course meal of Goshonky knows what, but it was delicious.

One of the things that we had was seaweed. Dors said it was like chewing on elastic bands. The main course was a whole fish that had been seasoned and baked in a clay pot that had to be cracked open to get the fish out. It was tender and succulent and as crisp as could be. Even the bones could be eaten!

More than 700 Washington, Rock Girl Scout Council girls, including those from Clark, were camping on a special council-sponsored event. They didn't camp out. They camped in, sleeping on the floor and science exhibits at the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia.

The trip, a cooperative effort between Franklin Institute and the Washington Rock Council, gave girls a chance to learn about science while having a good time. Normally the museum is closed on Fridays and Saturdays at 5 p.m., but for the camp-in events of Girl Scouts aged nine to 11 years enjoyed the museum in the special "night" sign.

Since the Franklin Institute is designed for youngsters there are no "Don't Touch" signs. Girl Scouts could attend workshops at exhibits and have plenty of time to browse. Walking through the ventricles of a giant heart, riding a locomotive and designing an airplane were all part of the fun.

"Campies" were unique. Some Girl Scouts curled up in sleeping bags under the wings of a Wright Brothers biplane in the Earth Gallery, the Hall of Illusions, and exhibits throughout the museum, reports a spokeswoman.

'Chef Combo' maps good eating recipe

Children aged four to eight and their parents may attend a special program at Rahway Hospital featuring 'Chef Combo,' the special food friend puppet. The chef will be at the hospital on Tuesday, March 26 at 4 p.m., accompanied by his good friend, Joanne Chacona, a registered dietitian, nutritionist and a clinical dietitian at Rahway Hospital.

According to Mrs. Chacona, "Food, and the attitudes, values and behaviors related to food, play a basic part in everyone's life. Early nutrition education programs can make an important and lasting contribution to a young child's life."

'Chef Combo' will talk to the children about eating and preparing food or working with kitchen tools. He'll also talk about being careful of what you eat.

'Chef Combo' is appearing at Rahway Hospital as part of the observance of National Nutrition Month.

Girl Scouts learn value of dollar

A Girl Scout troop is for growing up. It's a place to learn and practice skills and eventually gain a whole lot of self confidence. The Girl Scout Cookie Sale is an important part of the process and teaches one of life's great lessons.

Each girl prints out all the money you have and every dollar is a representation of work-years or someone's hard-earned money. When we buy something we are exchanging a part of our work year's paycheck for what we need.

Learning to count money is a skill that is not taught in school. But as they grow up it begins to dawn on them the value of the result of work.

Children learn quickly if they want to go camping or buy something in front of the library or buy supplies for their troop. Selling cookies is the best way to earn money for all their projects.

When you support our girls can continue to go places through Girl Scouting and to learn the rewards of hard work.

Mrs. Twardy raps school staff size

I pointed out in my last letter following in my father Jack Twardy's footsteps, I also intend to express my opinion about the performance of the Clark school of fiscal management. The reader will observe, also, that my father's opinion will be based upon carefully collected facts.

I believe all the starting facts that come to light during my investigation of the Clark Board of Education's handling of the school staff size. The school system is the most conspicuous.

Having gone over the Clark school system, I have found that the school staff size is the most conspicuous.

When I was in elementary school there were 3,000 students in the school system. At that time there were two speech teachers and two remedial reading teachers who serviced these five schools and that was the extent of special teachers.

Now, with only 1,000 students and three buildings, I am sure the readers (taxpayers) will agonize over the present-day list of extra teachers, especially when an average salary of $30,000 can be attached to each of these positions.

Let me add and weep: Four (4) learning resource room teachers, three (3) preventive/medical/skills teachers, three (3) perceptually-impaired class teachers, two (2) guidance counselors, two (2) learning-disability teacher consultants, and one each of the following: home-school coordinator, psychologist, director of special services, compensatory education teacher, Title No. 1 teacher, family living teacher, teacher of the gifted and pre-school handicapped teacher.

My father told me whenever he called a Clark school official to inquire about this ridiculous escalation in jobs the work force positions were "mandated" by the state. He said, "I later spoke to a high official from the state Department of Education in Trenton about the matter and was told that the state does not require local school districts to create any positions."

He then said, "Why would a board of education create positions when it could not be more prudent with the taxpayers' money?"

The only conclusion I could come to after gathering the facts was many of the above positions were established for the sole purpose of creating employment opportunities for relatives and friends of Board members and other school officials.

To conclude this letter I will again remind the reader I will continue my commentary about the Clark Board of Education each week until the Board and budget election on Thursday, April 2.

Also, again, in the light of the facts I have and will disclose, I find it impossible to be able to support the incumbent Board members, Mr. Dudek and Mr. Fitzpatrick.

Band Boosters bank contributors

Senior High School Band Boosters wish to thank each and every merchant and friend who has contributed to the success of our Chinese Auction.

Donald G. Enot, president.

Education unit head: Mrs. Twardy

Judy Twardy's letter of March 7 states she wishes to continue a tradition of informing the public, a service initiated by her late father. If Mrs. Twardy is sincere in her statement she might begin by getting her facts straight.

Her husband the local school budget eats up most of the tax dollars paid by the citizens of Clark is incorrect. FACT: In 1984 approximately one-third of every tax dollar (14 cents) was spent on local elementary education. It was also stated 16 maintenance staff members are responsible for the care of five (5) buildings year round.

I am sure your readers will recognize the difference between fact and fiction, truth and innuendo and open criticism as opposed to thinly veiled character assassination.

It is my sincere hope Mrs. Twardy's promised information on the strange behavior of Mr. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Dudek will be accurate and not taken out of context. It would be a shame to blacken the reputations of two men who have devoted many years of service to the citizens and children of Clark.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK MARCH 10-16

SCOUTING'S FUN Members of Brownie Troop No. 21, 1278 and 1002 of the Clark-Winfield Girl Scouts participate in a program of songs and games presented by Chuck E. Cheese at Valley Road School in Clark on Feb. 15.

The Best Part's (Still) the Fun

The popular image of a typical Girl Scout of just a generation ago would bear only a slight resemblance to the Girl Scout of 1985. Today's Girl Scouts are mastering computer technology, learning about the environment and the ecological balance, exploring the universe by telescope and getting on-the-job training through Girl Scouting's career education program.

It's a full, rich life for Girl Scouts in the 1980's. But girls will still be girls. So, in all those exciting ventures the accent is still on plain old, girlzies FUN!

In fact, the theme for Girl Scout Week this year — March 10-16 — is "The Best Part's (Still) the Fun." It reminds us that, in Girl Scouting, "fun" is still number one! It's the lure that continues to bring millions of girls into Girl Scouting's worlds of new discoveries, expanded personal horizons, community service and happy friendships.

During Girl Scout Week, we're reminded, too, that Girl Scouting's value centered program is still helping girls grow up to be happy, strong, contributing citizens. That's why this special week a time for all citizens, in communities across the U.S.A., to salute the Girl Scouts for the enrichment they add to girls' lives — and for never forgetting that "The Best Part's (Still) the Fun."

Happy birthday, Girl Scouts, and best wishes for another 75 years of growth and progress.

Girl Scouts show colors this week

As part of our state-wide celebration of Girl Scout Week all New Jersey Girl Scouts and their leaders will be wearing green bows on their mallores or front doors to show, "A Girl Scout Lives Here!"

In each community throughout New Jersey green ribbons and special "surprise package" posters will let those in a community know Girl Scouts are there learning, doing, growing, and, of course, having fun!

Classes offer English for free

Do you need to learn to speak, read or write English?

If so, Rahway's English as a Second Language classes in the Adult Basic Education Program can help you, reports Beverly Backmann, the coordinator.

The adult school offers three different classes in English as a Second Language since the program began, nearly 20 years ago. Her classes, like those in the evenings, are small, allowing for as much individual attention as possible, added the coordinator.

Classes are absolutely free to all interested adults, regardless of where they live. To register, come during class hours to either the library, for day classes, or the Junior High School, for evening classes. Continuous registration allows you to start your classes when you are ready. For further information, please telephone 382-1361.

Mrs. Ramona Jurado, a certified English teacher, joined the teaching staff in January, 1985. She enjoys working with the beginning level students, teaching them the communication skills necessary for daily life.

Vocabulary development, grammar, pronunciation, usage and expressions are an integral part of Mrs. Jurado's lessons in conversational English.

Mrs. Cynthia Bloom, also a teacher certified in English, conducts her classes on an intermediate level. Mrs. Bloom's students further develop their pronunciation and conversation.

City youth learn basics of soccer

The Rahway Youth Soccer Assn. and the Rahway Recreation Dept. held a soccer clinic, conducted by Thomas Woodrow Jr. at the Rahway Young Men's Christian Assn.

Mr. Woodrow, a licensed coach, assisted by Rich Pakowski, Tim Gallagher, Kevin Sherwood, and Joe Woodrow, broke the group of children that attended down into smaller groups so everyone would have a chance to work with a soccer ball.

The clinic, which lasted about an hour and a half, taught the basic skills of trapping, shooting and dribbling the ball. Drills were set up to run so the correct method could be observed. At the end of the clinic a smaller indoor game was played to put these skills in to motion. The group could then see how each would apply.

The association meets every second Wednesday at the Claude H. Reed Recreation and Cultural Center at Seminary Ave. and Irving St., Rahway at 7:30 p.m. An upcoming event to be held will be a talk on sports medicine.

Those interested in the soccer program may attend the meetings. For more information please telephone 382-7914 or 382-5613 after 5 p.m.

Indians lasso Mustangs 56-45

Rahway's Indians defeated Montville 56-45 at Madison High School in the sectional state basketball tournament.

The Indians tied up the game at 2-2 early in the first period on a set from the corner by Stan Smith, then Coach Tom Lewis' team ran off the next eight points and was on top 16-11 at the end of the first period. It was 29-23 at the half with Rahway still on top. It was 39-22 at the start of the final period.

The Mustangs scored the first six points and cut the margin to one point with six minutes and 31 seconds to go in the period. Here Coach Lewis took a timeout and sent his Indians out on the floor to score the next seven points. Raheem Muhammad, Mike Kenna and Fred Morton scored three times for a 46-38 lead with three minutes and 57 seconds left. The teams exchanged baskets and, with the Indians on top 48-41, Rahway scored the next six points to insure its 20th win of the season and a spot in the semifinals at Union on March 8.

Couch Lewis said, "Jeff Baker did a great job defensively for us. He did a lot of damage by cutting off the tap, making them start their offense about 22 feet away. Their whole offense was too slow."

The league is divided into two divisions. The divisions play their first round games on Sunday evening and conclude with an all-star game, playoffs and a World Series. Individual players are also needed.

The Progress broke a 26-game losing streak which started in 1983 when it defeated Bad Company 62-42. The winners were led by John Alexander with 26, John Gonnell 11 and Mark Blake 10. The Bad Company was topped by John O'Connor with 18.

Play-off bound T&A Engineers led all the way to post an 86-56 win over the Revlon team. Larry Olek with 14 led the winners.

In a game of teams in the playoffs the Y's Guys won over the T&A 86-69. Four members of T&A were in double figures. They were Peter Lacore 14, Bob Banks 23, Tony Rubino 12 and Jim LaCorte 10. Scott Todd had 18 and Lee Black 14 for the Y's Guys.

Towne Tavern rolled to a 57-48 win over the Chemicals. Bob Johnson led Towne with 26 and Tom Colanin had 18. Paul Bowles with 22 and Ken

He noted with this system you can expect when you buy a certain wine it will taste the same as the previous purchase. The Kiwanis Club of Rahway meets on Wednesday at 12:15 p.m. at the Columbian Club in Rahway.

AIDING MISS LIBERTY. ... A. Wade Likins, Franklin School of Rahway principal, places his donation in the container located outside his office. ## Kumpf students reach for stars

Students in Mrs. Kathy Sadlack's Gifted and Talented Program at the Carl H. Kumpf School in Clark went on an excursion to the Hayden Planetarium in New York City on Feb. 28.

The students were accompanied by Mrs. Sadlack, Mrs. Mary Foster, guidance counselor, and Walter Boright, administrative aide. They experienced a program entitled "Star Quest" narrated by Star Trek's Leonard Nimoy.

The presentation traced space travel from the earliest rockets to the projected planetary outposts and future flights to the stars. This journey through time and space enabled Kumpf students to envision future life on the final frontier.

Students participated in this program to further their investigatory research about life in the year 2,000, reports Mrs. Sadlack.
