

Resource recovery question tops city ballot

By R.R. Faszcowski

"Are you in favor of Rahway hosting a Union County resource recovery facility on Rte. No. 1 northbound under the following conditions? 1. That all truck routes are subject to control by the city of Rahway within the city limits; 2. Substantial tax savings for Rahway citizens; 3. Adherence to all environmental regulations; 4. That the facility and grounds maintain an attractive appearance."

This will be the major question to be answered by Rahway's 13,592 registered voters when they go to the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 5.

The question is in a form of a non-binding referendum through which the city will determine residents' feelings on the waste-to-energy plant proposed to dispose of the garbage from the county's municipalities and turn it into energy to power local industry or utilities.

In addition, city residents will be helping to elect New Jersey's next governor, two members of the General Assembly from the 20th District, which also includes Elizabeth, Linden and Carteret, and three members of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

The governor will serve for four years, the assemblymen for two and the three freeholders for three years each.

Incumbent Republican Gov. Thomas H. Kean of Livingston will be facing the Democratic nominee, Peter Shapiro of West Orange, who is Essex County executive.

The crowded Assembly race will see two Democrats, two Republicans and two independents vying for the two seats.

The only incumbent in the race is Democratic Assemblyman Thomas J. Deverin of 28 Cypress St., Carteret.

An eight-term member of the Legislature's lower house, he is presently speaker pro-tem of that body, a post he was first elected to in January, 1978, held until December, 1981 and was reelected to in January of last year.

A former mayor, councilman and president of the Board of Education in Carteret, he was chairman of the Assembly Institutions and Welfare Committee from 1972 to 1977, a member of the joint ethical standards committee from 1984 to the present, the vice chairman of the banking and finance committee from 1984 to the present, majority conference chairman from 1982 to 1983 and acting governor in April, 1979. He is a retired supervisor of personnel programs for the U.S. Metals Refining Co. of Carteret.

Running with Assemblyman Deverin on the Democratic ticket is Linden Mayor George Hudak. Elected mayor to fill the unexpired term of John Gregorio, who was convicted of tax-evasion charges, Mayor Hudak has had 20 years of political service—as a committeeman, councilman and City Council president.

He holds a masters degree in special education from Kean College of New Jersey in Union and a bachelor of arts degree from Newark State Teachers College—which is now Kean. An educator for 19 years in the Old Bridge public school system, he taught handicapped children for five years. The Army veteran served with the 18th Airborne Corps Artillery.

Mrs. Monyck ran as an independent in the special general election in 1983 to fill the vacancy created in the State Senate when Mr. Gregorio, who was also the senator in the 20th District, when convicted was forced to resign that post. She also

The Republican candidates are Alice A. Holzapfel of Elizabeth and Michael Posnock of Linden.

Mrs. Holzapfel is the former president of the Elizabeth Board of Education and was recently nominated by Gov. Kean to the state School Board. She is a trustee of the Elizabeth General Medical Center and an advisory board member of the Regional Health Planning Council for Union County and John E. Rumlis Hospital. A former member of the New Jersey Supreme Court Ethics Committee, she is a founder of the Center for Infant Development Day Care and has been active in Churchwomen—United of Elizabeth.

Mr. Posnock is an attorney with offices in Linden. The independent candidates are Elizabeth Mayor Thomas G. Dunn and Rose Monyck of Rahway.

Mayor Dunn, who was first elected to that office in 1964, was a state senator from the old 21st District from 1974 to 1978, a freeholder from 1959 to 1964, the first executive secretary to the Elizabeth Parking Authority, from 1956 to 1964, and a city councilman from Elizabeth's old Sixth Ward from 1952 to 1956.

He was a founder and charter member of Local No. 1470 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers at the Western Electric Co. in Kearny.

Educated in the Elizabeth public schools she was graduated from the High School of Commerce in New York City. She has secretarial, accounting and sales experience in a wide variety of fields.

The race for Union County freeholders has two incumbents and one newcomer on the Democratic side and one incumbent and two newcomers on the Republican side.

The freeholder with the longest tenure on the county governing body, Democrat Walter Boright of Scotch Plains, has served as both chairman and vice chairman of the freeholder board. He also served as a Kenilworth municipal councilman and a Scotch Plains-Fanwood school board member.

An administrative aide and educator in the Clark public schools, he earned his bachelor of arts degree at Newark State and his master's degree at Seton Hall University. He is presently completing studies for a second degree in public administration at the master's level.

Presently the chairman of the freeholder board, the only GOP incumbent, G. Richard DeFilippo of Hillside was elected to the freeholder board in 1982. She was unanimously elected chairwoman of that body in 1984. Prior to becoming a freeholder she was a member of the Hillside Board of Education and the township clerk. She was educated at Kean and at Rutgers University, where she was certified in "interest arbitration" and zoning and planning.

The newcomer on the Democratic side is Gerald McCann of Elizabeth. Employed as the advertising sales manager for major accounts of The New York Daily News, he is a member of the Newspaper Advertising Sales Assn., Lodge No. 1591 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Council No. 197 of the Knights of Columbus, the Greater Elizabeth Democratic Assn., and the Westminster Civic Assn.

Plainfield councilman, a former army captain, a veteran trial lawyer, a former Plainfield Economic Development Committee member and a member of the New Jersey Bar, he received his bachelor of arts degree from Rutgers University and his juris doctorate from the University of Nebraska, where he was a Roscoe Pound Scholar.

One of the two non-incumbent Republicans running for the county office, William H. Eldridge, is a former mayor of Berkeley Heights, a member of the Berkeley Heights governing body since 1980, a former New Providence Berkeley Heights Jaycee president, a former army captain, a former vice president of the Rahway Lions Club, a charter member of the Rahway Chamber of Commerce, a member of Rahway Landmarks, a former vice president of the Elizabeth Teachers Union,

Rahway Theatre officially named arts center

Resolutions announced at the Oct. 17 meeting of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders in Elizabeth. Among those read was one granting exclusive use of the name "Union County Arts Center" to Rahway Landmarks Inc., the non-profit owner of the old Rahway Theatre on Irving St., Rahway.

A plaque containing the resolution was presented to Rahway Landmarks and accepted on the corporation's behalf by Eric L. Rickes, voluntary funding coordinator for the arts center project.

"We will continue in our efforts to make the Union County Arts Center not only the best in New Jersey, but the best in the country," said Mr. Rickes on accepting the plaque.

Rahway Landmarks had been using the new name unofficially for approximately the past year. Mr. Rickes and Rahway Mayor Dan Martin appeared before the freeholders at last month's meeting to request use of the name be sanctioned by the board, thus, in effect, making it official.

Other Rahway Landmarks representatives present at the Oct. 17 meeting were Sandra Sweeney, the corporation's president; Robert Balfour, principal founder; vice-president, Alan Hurley; co-founders, Peter Polito and Paul Szabosik; trustee, Michael Hartnett; Thomas Rooney, a volunteer worker, and board members, Lynn Paego and Stan Sawyer.

Freeholder Charlotte DeFilippo remarked on an unscheduled event that took place at the Rahway Theatre on Oct. 6 following the unveiling of a memorial plaque honoring the theatre's builder. She recalled, while chatting with some people in the theatre lobby, she was aware of music coming from the auditorium.

"I suddenly realized I was hearing the dulcet tones of none other than Walter Boright."

With that, she presented a fellow freeholder, Boright with a framed photograph of him singing to the accompaniment of the theatre's antique "Wurlitzer" pipe organ. Seems he had been so impressed with the auditorium's superb acoustics he felt compelled to test them with a bit of Victor Herbert.

Restoration of the 57-year-old Rahway Theatre commenced last January with the lobby area. Its continuation awaits the start of a capital fund drive, for which a planning study is currently underway.

"YES" ON RESOURCE RECOVERY

Whenever citizens are asked to vote on important public matters, two questions come immediately to mind: 1) Has sufficient information been provided that will enable citizens to cast an enlightened vote? 2) Is the solution being proposed the best of the available alternatives?

With regard to the public question dealing with the siting of a resource recovery plant in Rahway in next Tuesday's General Election the answer to both of these questions is an emphatic "yes."

The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders and Rahway officials have employed just about every means available to educate and familiarize the people of the community with all facets of the proposal.

The memorandum of understanding recently signed by the county and the city identifies in specific terms the financial benefits that will accrue to Rahway and the county (local officials will have over several critical questions as to how the plant will be financed).

They have not only explained the technology of resource recovery and the rigid environmental controls under which the plant would operate, but they have taken four busloads of Rahway citizens to a plant in Peekskill similar to the one proposed for Rahway. Following these visits participating citizens have been almost unanimous in their approval of the facility.

The solid waste disposal problem facing Rahway and other Union County communities is now one of crisis proportions. No longer can officials and residents hope that solid waste, the materials every resident throws away everyday, will magically disappear.

Failure to site a clean, efficient waste disposal facility now could force a far less desirable solution later, one that almost surely would lead to the tripling of hauling and disposal costs. The time for action can no longer be postponed.

We congratulate the county and the city for having moved aggressively and thoughtfully toward implementation of the only reasonable solution available.

A "yes" vote by Rahway citizens on the resource recovery question next Tuesday will affirm the community's commitment to progress.

To those citizens who have raised questions—most of them well thought out—about their legitimate concerns about the facility—may you should be congratulated for your concern—but we think you should channel the energy you have exerted to continue to be "watchdogs" should the facility be built so that all those concerned continue to live up to making this facility the best and most environmentally safe it can be—for Rahway and for the rest of the county.

DATELINE: TRENTON
 A Legislative Report from Senator Don Diffrancesco

Get out and vote— Every ballot counts

On Tuesday, Nov. 5 New Jersey voters will decide who will be our state's chief executive for the next four years and what political party will control the General Assembly for the next two years.

In addition, voters will also determine the fate of several important questions dealing with our state's environment and the relationship between the executive and legislative branches of government.

What happens on Nov. 5 will have a significant impact on the quality of your life and the future of our state's wellbeing. Because the election process is so important I urge all of you to go to the polls on Nov. 5.

Unfortunately, too many state residents are more than willing to let others make decisions for them. During the last gubernatorial election in New Jersey only 350,000 more people went to the polls to elect a governor and state legislature than in the 1940 election despite a population increase of more than three million people. Now is the time to reverse the trend.

Many times we hear, "What difference does my vote make?"

The fact the 1981 gubernatorial election was only won by 1,800 votes dramatically illustrates just how important your vote can be.

In addition to determining who will hold the highest elected office in our state, voters also decide which party will take control of the Assembly. This is a major decision because the majority party has total control over what legislation is brought before the Assembly for a vote.

Finally, your vote will also count in the many important local and county races that will have direct impact on the services you will receive in your area.

Abraham Lincoln once said, "No man is good enough to govern another man, without the consent of the governed."

Chamber backs resource recovery

The Chamber of Commerce of Union County expresses its strong support for the plan being undertaken jointly by the county and Rahway to build a modern, environmentally sound resource-recovery facility on Rte. No. 1, Rahway.

Clearly, the problem of solid waste disposal has traveled the full course, from "service taken for granted" to "situation too long overlooked" to its current status as a "full-blown crisis."

Although Union County has an impressive list of features and benefits it is obvious failure to devise a method of disposing of the things we throw away can literally strangle our economy.

However, we believe Union County is fortunate in several regards: 1) It has a freeholder board which has moved aggressively to resolve the solid waste crisis; 2) Rahway we have a city which recognizes not only its ideal location as a resource-recovery site but also the significant revenue-producing and cost-saving benefits that could accrue to it; and 3) A sensible, safe, efficient technology exists with which to address the problem.

In light of these considerations we would like to urge the county and Rahway to continue working cooperative toward a realistic solution to the problem of solid waste disposal.

Councilman Toal answers Democrats

In response to the letters attacking me from my opponent's camp and from his political boss I wish first to thank my opponent in the election for admitting that he is "guilty" of holding a political patronage plan.

However, since my opponent would be in a conflict of interest if he held his patronage job I am disappointed he so far refuses to give up his political patronage of elected.

Nonetheless, the mayor's efforts to cover up his Democratic taxes by blaming the county is just plain wrong for councilmen to interfere in the bidding process. Democratic and Republican councilmen for something you admitted was "probably wrong" at the time.

It's a shameful political tactic to threaten law suits for criticism you admit was probably correct.

Martin disputes Fulcomer's claims

At this week's airing of the League of Women Voters forum for candidates for Union County freeholder one candidate distinguished himself with misinformation which cannot be left uncorrected.

To hear Rahway Councilman James Fulcomer, a Republican freeholder candidate, speak, one would get the impression he is personally responsible for all progress in our community. At the forum he had the audacity to attempt to take credit for the construction of our new City Hall, the Rahway Genetics Center and other important projects.

The truth of the matter is during his time served in Rahway Mr. Fulcomer never fails to find a way to politicize every issue that comes up in our community.

I realize he realizes now that he is a candidate for county office he cannot let his record leak out to the other voters in our county. Thus, he is trying to create an image for himself different from his record.

Although I suspect it is a compliment for Mr. Fulcomer would try to carry favor with the voters by taking credit for the achievements of this administration and city agencies, the public should not be misinformed.

Crater responds to Caruso statements

An open letter to Councilman William Caruso of Clark.

About your request for the Clark Council to call in the prosecutor's office, I thought you would never ask! What I wonder about is why you ask Council to do it for you? If you feel an investigation is warranted why wait for Council to act? Why don't you ask the prosecutor to come in yourself?

Why don't you ask how and when the bids for the emergency removal of leaves from the rear of town hall were received? Were all the members of Council kept informed of what was being done on their behalf? Was Council informed at an "open public meeting" that an "emergency" was developing about leaf removal?

So, Bill, don't stop at the prosecutor's office? As an interested citizen, I won't stop there. I am preparing requests for investigations by the prosecutor's office and by the New Jersey Division of Local Government and Finance. I think that they, too, might find bidding procedures in this case to be interesting.

Councilman Brian Toal and Second Ward Council candidate, "Dick" Burger, have questioned the lack of public accounting for expenditures at the new municipal complex. I agree with them that, too, needs investigation.

So, Bill, I thank you for agreeing with me the prosecutor should investigate things here in Clark. You just didn't go far enough!

P.S. Bill, you and the public should remember you admitted at a Council meeting you were "probably wrong" in what you did in the bidding process. Now, just before election, you are upset by an old criticism by both Democratic and Republican councilmen for something you admitted was "probably wrong" at the time.

It's a shameful political tactic to threaten law suits for criticism you admit was probably correct.

Winters: Don't let tenants fool you

Once again the tenants in Clark are trying to impinge their will upon all the citizens of Clark by attempting to re-establish rent control in the community.

This small but vociferous minority conveniently forgets rent control was repealed by mandate of the majority under the democratic electoral process. Rent control was defeated for sound and reasoned economic and social reasons. Those reasons are no less valid today.

Why should the tenants be required to meet the same "needs" test as the landlord? I am sure if such were granted and, in many cases, any relief that is granted is substantially less than that requested.

While the tenants demand the landlords "open their books," why would it not be just as reasonable a tenant be subjected to the same scrutiny of his or her financial position in order to demonstrate, as the landlord must, his or her "needs" test as the landlord? I am sure if such were the case it would be discovered many tenants are being subsidized at the expense of the landlord and the homeowner in Clark.

Tax increases are a fact of life, and while the tenants would like to blame the defeat of rent control as wholly responsible, the truth is other factors more directly affect tax increases, such as the erosion of the industrial tax base.

One prime example is the tax appeal filed by Hyatt, which resulted in a $400,000 rebate to Hyatt. In this, as well as in other tax appeals which are successful, the taxes must be made up at the expense of the individual homeowner. Restoring rent control in Clark would not eliminate tax increases, but rather would insure that the erosion of a stable tax base at the expense of the single-family homeowner.

Don't let the tenants fool you—they are only interested in how much your taxes go up—they are only interested in keeping their rents low and having the landlords and homeowners "foot the bill" thereby insulating them from the ever-rising costs we all face.

Martin: Waste plant to solve crisis, secure future

A few years ago Peckskill, N.J., was a community experiencing familiar problems to tight budgets and a limited tax base on which to rely to supply services for the town's 19,000 residents. Today Peckskill is a thriving community enjoying an economic renaissance and escalating property values, a condition many local officials attribute to having sited a modern waste-to-energy facility on a once run-down strip of land along the Hudson River, reports Rahway Mayor Daniel L. Martin.

In the opinion of Mayor Martin the prospect of similar benefits awaits the citizens of this city if plans to locate a waste-to-energy plant are approved. "The potential influx of $1.1 million per year is certainly a vital consideration that can help place Rahway in a position of economic prominence in Union County," said the mayor, "but it most certainly is not the only consideration. We have conducted exhaustive studies into such subjects as traffic impact and environmental matters to be absolutely sure this plant will bring nothing but benefit to the people of Rahway. Moreover, in examining the solid waste disposal alternatives available to us, we found failure to sited this site will not only cost the city less of control over such matters as truck traffic patterns and environmental safeguards, but will imply a possible tripling of the cost now paid to throw things away. An alternative is to mention the loss of a clean, efficient, carefully scrutinized waste-to-energy plant proposal on which Rahway voters will

Clark Dems: Continue our good work

In a press release issued today Clark Mayor George Nucera, Second Ward Democratic Councilman William Caruso and Democratic Fourth Ward Council candidate Peter M. Campana, enumerated the accomplishments of the present administration since its inauguration in January, 1985, in what the mayor called "a demonstration of solid evidence that we will encourage Clark voters to again choose Democrats on Election Day this year."

"We have proven through a long list of positive achievements that Democrats live up to campaign pledges," Caruso said. "We are putting the township back on track, the mayor declared, "in 10 months time we have moved ahead in great strides."

"Rather than placing the taxpayers' money in inactive bank accounts we have proactively invested in interest-bearing accounts and have successfully earned $75,000 to be placed in surplus for the township. By reorganizing the township we have saved $90,000 in senior salaries. We have consolidated some positions and re-negotiated salaries, thereby reducing spending towards salaries and fringe benefits. As well, we have tapped the available human resources of the community employing Clark residents as exclusively as possible," explained the three Democrats.

"They continued, "In public services we have regulated the schedule of the dump so it is open and operating at set times six days per week. We have reconstituted the township-wide clean-up week. The mayor has gone to the county and represented Clark to fight their own uncomprehending use in taxes due to use of the release of the traffic study, he has gone to Trenton three times to appeal to the state legislature for an additional exit for the Garden State Parkway on Inman Ave. With the use of existing manpower the Brewer building and the police station have been refurbished and made habitable to the community."

"Mr. Campana, the director of senior citizens' program using county grant money obtained by Mayor Nucera. At Brewer we have refurbished the gymnasium, the cafeteria, a recreation room, a meeting room and an office at no cost to the taxpayers."

"The mayor continued, "We have established a township-wide recreation

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Young backs Boright re-election

Walter Boright has served us well for three terms on the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders. As our representative in county government he has accomplished much for our township and the rest of Union County. This year alone Freeholder Walter Boright helped to identify $1.4 million in county budget cuts by eliminating unnecessary county jobs. He also pointed out another $530,000 in savings by recommending private businesses take over certain departmental functions in a more cost-efficient manner.

Thanks to Freeholder Walter Boright's leadership we are now reaching out to our young people in Union County with a revitalized program in drug and alcohol education.

Walter Boright is the "dean of the board," having more seniority than any of the other freeholders. It is apparent to me his vigilance in making important budget cuts without sacrificing services is so very rare in government that it is reason enough to re-elect him. But his record is even broader than that.

I know firsthand of his tremendous efforts in behalf of senior citizens. How he quadrupled the number of county nutrition sites. How he made more nursing homes beds available at Rumlens Hospital. How he worked for a transportation system especially designed to assist the elderly in their daily lives.

Without a doubt I am voting to re-elect Union County Freeholder Walter Boright on Nov. 5th. I'll be happy to "Go Right With Boright."

Vocational board honors Mr. Kiray

At a recent meeting the Board of Education for the Vocational Schools in the County of Union honored Leslie N. Kiray for his 25 years of service.

Mr. Kiray, director of the Scotch Plains school, began his career there in 1960 as a design drafting instructor. In 1966 the Clark resident was appointed as an administrative assistant in charge of the vocational center, which at that time had three departments, Appliance repair, machine shop and welding. In 1967 he was appointed director, in charge of all vocational center programs, and has been the only director the school has had in its present Scotch Plains location, where it moved in 1963 from Union. Presently 17 programs are offered at the school under his direction. Mr. Kiray is active in many professional organizations.

Nucera responds on Brewer School

Editor's Note: Following is a copy of a letter written by Clark Mayor George Nucera to Richard Burger, the Republican candidate for Clark Second Ward councilman, and to Republican Fourth Ward Councilman Brian Toul.

It was interesting to read in the Oct. 24 issue of the Clark Patriot your questioning the integrity of the mayor and his plans to rehabilitate the township of Clark after years of decay under the former administration regarding the refurbishing of Brewer School.

By no means did I deny information to Council on what is being done or by whom it is being done to refurbish the new municipal office.

What I said in public had it on record was when all is done there will be a dedication of the building and at the same time those businesses and industries who have taken on the responsibility to assist this township in this project, will be so honored by the township for their generosity. Also in public I said I would make known who these people are.

I have tried to follow the same practices of Mayor Bernard E. Yarusavage of an open-door policy. You and some other public officials feel the way you deal with the Mayor in grandstand play at public meetings. Never once have you ever come to me or called me to ask these questions or any other township matters.

Since January I've done a lot to clean up this township to fix our buildings and to provide better service for the taxpayers.

Mr. Toul, you've been on council since the beginning of the year - what have you done for your town?

Carl F. Young, 61 Colonial Dr. Clark

Mrs. Ogden backs aid for volunteers

An assemblywoman Maureen Ogden, whose district includes Clark, said today she will cosponsor a package of bills recommending by the Legislature this legislative task force that addresses the problem of slumping membership in volunteer fire and first aid units. Mrs. Ogden pointed out although New Jerseyans rely greatly on volunteer services, recruitment efforts are necessary. "More and more families have two wage earners and many people work out-of-town," she said. "This tends to diminish the pool of potential volunteers." The assemblywoman said she particularly favors a bill that would require services of volunteer firefighters fall under the provisions of the "Good Samaritan Act". Very few communities could afford to replace their volunteer services with paid fire departments and rescue squad services. Assemblywoman Ogden said, "Shrinking membership in these volunteer units is a very real problem and I will urge the Legislature to actively and seriously consider these measures to help assure essential public safety services remain available throughout our state."

Marsh urges 'no' on incinerator vote

Second Ward Councilman John C. Marsh of Rahway declared "We'll have to live with the garbage incinerator for a long time if we don't stop it right now," charging the Martin administration in Union County with "consistently refusing to call in the experts on pollution and double the taxes."

Councilman Marsh said he has challenged the Martin administration to debate the incinerator issue on several occasions, but the administration has consistently refused.

The councilman declared, "Last year they denied us the right to vote on this. Finally, when one Democratic Council member was absent and another abstained, we managed to get the resolution passed. And now the Martin administration has changed the question in an attempt to evoke a 'Yes' vote. At the same time the county is spending $60,000 of our money on a public relations campaign to persuade Rahway residents to accept this disaster." He added it is noteworthy, "No other town in Union County is willing to burn the county's garbage. Obviously these towns did their homework and found out what the incinerator would do to the health of their citizens and the value of their property and decided the incinerator was not for them."

The Second Ward representative said one "condition" cited in the referendum was that the incinerator must meet all environmental regulations.

"The fact is," he added "there are no regulations—there are only 'guidelines' which the state Dept. of Environmental Protection standards. What will the state Dept. of Environmental Protection do... shut it down? Where, then, would they send the 1,500 tons per day of garbage that would be coming to Rahway from the other Union County towns?"

Councilman Marsh reminded Rahway voters, "Linden turned the incinerator down 11,000 votes to 1,000," adding "I ask every Rahway voter to carefully consider what our town will be like in a few years if all of the county's garbage is burned here."

Councilman Marsh added, "Jim Fulcomer has pledged to respect the results of the referendum on resource recovery, a commitment that is very important to the people of Rahway and neighboring communities."

MARSH ENDORSES FULCOMER... Union County Freeholder candidate, James J. Fulcomer, left, is endorsed for freeholder in the Tuesday, Nov. 6, election by Rahway Second Ward Councilman John C. Marsh. Councilman Marsh said Mr. Fulcomer, a three-term Rahway councilman, has proven to be the best candidate for freeholder and deserves the support of the citizens. Councilman Marsh added, "Jim Fulcomer has pledged to respect the results of the referendum on resource recovery, a commitment that is very important to the people of Rahway and neighboring communities."

Your children will learn how to avoid the powers of darkness and how to live for Jesus," he added.

This very special program shows young people how to deal with a very real subject. In "Hallelujah Night II," Gospel Bill and the

RAHWAY CITIZENS —

“WE HAVE NOTHING TO FEAR
BUT FEAR ITSELF.”

A BENEFIT TO THE COMMUNITY - In Peekskill, New York, citizens attribute a booming economy and improved property values to their newest tax ratable - a modern resource recovery plant, pictured above. Beauty, safety, cleanliness, and lack of traffic problems are facts most often cited by Peekskill residents in describing their resource recovery facility.

With these words, our entire nation was inspired to face-up to crises and conquer them. Now citizens of Rahway and all over our state and nation face a crisis in the delivery of a vital public service - solid waste disposal.

Resource recovery is the answer. But it is something new to most of us, although it has proven itself for over four decades worldwide.

With a solar powered City Hall, a unique and caring Geriatric Center, and many other projects, the City of Rahway has earned a well-deserved reputation for bold leadership - intelligently showing others the way to the future. It is truly a community of "Pride & Progress."

Now the people of Rahway can once again show the state and the nation their leadership.

Resource recovery - it's safe, it's clean, and it will be a tax ratable paying well in excess of $1 million per year.

VOTE "YES" FOR RESOURCE RECOVERY
This Tuesday, November 5th
