"Firewalker"

the wily hellraiser named Max Donigan, Norris does in the hospital. Two unlucky adventurers, Max Donigan (Norris) and Leo Porter (Lou Gossett) are broke in the fictional Latin American county named San Miguel but are fortunately hired by a rich and beautiful heroine named Patricia Goodwin (Melody Anderson). Their mission is to find a priceless cache of Aztec gold which is hidden deep in the Goodwin (Melody Anderson). Their mission is to find a Mexican jungle, Sound familiar? It should. The difference between "Firewalker" and the previously mentioned films is that this one is a simple rush job which is incredibly inconsistent with the evenatch (eleverly named Cyclops!) and the mysterious (or careless) way that the patch changes eyes from one reel into the next! The film is directed in a most sloppy way by the once capable J. Lee Thompson. In the past, he has been at the helm for such excellent action and suspense films such as "The Guns of Navarone" and "Cape Fear". Recently, though, he has directed crummy remakes such as "King Solomon's Mines" and even crummier sequels "Death Wish 3". Unfortunately, he fares no better with "Firewalker". With direction this bad, the actors did not have a chance. Past Oscar winner Lou Gossett ("An Officer and a Gentleman") plays Max's best buddy, Leo. The role is one dimensional and perfunctory. Will Sampson plays the duo's Indian friend, Tall Eagle who, among other things, is a great fan of "I Love Lucy". "Firewalker" will be agreeable only to dichard Chuck Norris fans. His tongue in cheek delivery is refreshing but not enough to compensate for the shoddiness of this pic

KIWANIS HEARS BROWN ... Bill Hoblitzell, left, a member of the Kiwanis Club of Rahway is shown with Robert Brown, principal of Rahway High School. At a recent weekly meeting of the club, Brown gave a report on the progress of renovations being made at the high school. He reported that much of the outside work, the auditorium. locker rooms, cafeteria and some older classrooms have been done making a dramatic change in the appearance of the school. He also told about the ACE (Alternative Center for Education) program that aims to keep potential drop-outs in school. ACE is held at the intermediate school with six classrooms on the third floor. There is a maxmum of 40 students enrolled with a staff of six allowing for a closer teacher-student atmosphere. The time of attendance is flexible with classes in the morning and a work. country in 1922. After several years of intense study, a lot of college graduates finally learn something. They're not qualified for the job they want. Fact is, many graduates never find a career in their field of study. All their time spent in study. Not enough time in the field. That's why there's a nationwide program for college students called Cooperative Education. It allows students to alternate studies at the college of their choice with paid, practical work experience in the career of their choice. To participate in Co-op Education you don't need to fit into any particular socio-economic group. You don't need to be a straight "A" student either. All you really need to be, is smart enough to leave school.

> Go-on Education You earn a future when you earn a degree.

participate in the 1986-87 Suburban Cablevision single elimination academic tournament. All four are members of Rahway High School's National Honor Society and Student Government Association. Rahway High School will face Montclair High School on Suburban Cablevision TV-3 on Monday, December 1 at 6 p.m., and in a repeat telecast on Sunday, December 7, at 1 p.m. Seen in photo, sitting, left to right, are Bruce Howells, Leslie Anderson and Pryia Roy, Rahway High School's TV-3 Challenge Feam members. Standing, left to right, are William M. Roesch, Challenge Team Ad and Michael Garcia, team alterntate and scorekeeper.

HOSPITAL VOLUNTEERS RAISE MONEY FOR SCHOLARSHIP FUND ... Audrey Grimaldi (left) and Pat McLaughlin, Rahway Hospital Volunteer Department employees, unpack a bountiful crop of pumpkins for a hospital fundraising event. The pumpkins were donated by Diane Carlucci of the Magic Fountain in Linden. The hospital's Junior Volunteers raised almost $300 for their scholarship fund through the sale of pumpkins.
