— CORRECTION — Due to a typesetting error, a sentence in last week's front page story on the public hearing on the proposed incinerator to be built in Rahway was inadvertantly changed to read "the incinerator will not be regionalized." The correct sentence should have stated that "the incinerator will now be regionalized."

In response to Governor Florio's 60 percent recycling mandate, the Union County Utilities Authority has stated that the incinerator must accept garbage from other counties in order to meet its 1,440 tonper-day quota.
