COUNCIL ADDS TO COUNTY RATE

stated: "The Merchants and Traders Realty Company, one story frame bungalow in Lambert street; Mrs. Edw. Stoddard, one and a half story bungalow in Hazel Place; Mrs. C. E. Egan, one and a half story frame bungalow in Hazel Place; Mrs. Chas. Minchard, alterations to frame building at Maple avenue; Mrs. Mary O. Duhon, one and a half story frame bungalow in Fulton street, between Hazelwood avenue and Commerce street; Fred C. Squire, concrete and iron frame greenhouse in St. George avenue; Frank Trumbull, a two story frame dwelling in Harrison street."

Councilman Quinn introduced a resolution, which was ultimately carried, that the tax rate be 2.12 on each $100 valuation for this year. Some hot debate occurred over this resolution, and a question was raised whether the whole matter should not be carried over to a meeting later in the week. A vote to settle the question there and then, however, prevailed, 4 to 3. Councilman Gage said he failed to see why the council should raise the tax when the county board had not raised it. "If the county board has set the tax at 2.12," he said, "I don't see why we should set it at 2.16."

There followed some debate over uncollectable taxes, and councilman Stoddard stated that he was quite in accord with councilman Gage on the matter. While perhaps not absolutely correct, he said, the additional tax would give the city some money to fall back upon. He was inclined to favor taxing the question over until later in the week. "It will be in the papers and published," he said, "and we don't have ample time to think it over. The citizens also should have a chance to object to the tax."

City Treasurer Sullivan stated that the present rate of 2.12 would give the city approximately $371 less than it would receive, and that a rate of 2.16 would take care of it. "There were always a number of reductions on appeals also, and the city had always appropriated too little to care for the necessary outlay. The present rate was eight points lower than last year's rate," he said.

In reply to a question by councilman Gage, Mr. Sullivan said that the three points added would mean about $1300 in addition to the revenue. Mr. Gage wanted the people to have a chance to speak on the question.

The vote went through to raise the rate, all present voting for it except councilman Gage, who voted no.

By unanimous vote, the council determined to borrow $10000 from the Rahway National Bank for permanent improvements in Irving street and Milton avenue. The mayor and city treasurer were authorized to make a note for this amount, at 6 per cent interest, to be repaid in 10 years.

"This was taken on an ordinance, introduced by councilman Laidlaw for the vacation of streets which are to be paved by and at the expense of the property owners and Company. This was merely technical."

A communication from the Board of Health relative to cleaning up the banks of Rahway river was received and filed. This unhappy communication seems to be without a home. It originated with the Board of Trade, which body asked the council a few months ago to take steps to clean up the river banks. The council decided that the proper place for the letter was the Board of Health, and there it was sent. The Board of Health

CLOSE CAMPAIGN WITH BIG RALLY

Stuebel-Wright Hold Big Open-Air Meeting Saturday Night On Main Street

OTHER CANDIDATES SPEAK

The strenuous campaign of Messrs. Wm. Torrence Stuebel and W. H. Wright was ended with a grand rally Saturday night in this city at an open-air meeting held at Main and Lewis streets. The crowd was one of the largest seen at any out door meeting for years, and both candidates received a most cordial greeting.

Sheriff W. H. Wright, who was introduced by Harry Simmons, president of the Republican Club, said in part: "My term is short but I have made improvements in the jail. I decided I'd try to make those poor devils' place better if I could and surround them with what will make them better men. I put confidence into them. There was never a holiday but I gave them a good meal as I had myself. I have given all the elements I could in my power. As to grand and polit juries, I have nothing to regret. During the campaign there were times when I looked dull and times when I looked bright, but Mr. Stuebel and I have done nothing we're sorry for. We all know 'Bill' Stuebel, and we know he made good in this town and we know he'll make good if elected."

Mr. Stuebel said in part: "I want to say 'I vote' about Mr. Wright the other night when the automobile turned over and we were thrown out. Mr. Wright took no thought of himself, but his first question was 'how are the boys?' He thought of the other man first. The sheriff's office began administering in the light of twentieth century advancement."

"We are what we are, not because we are Republicans or Democrats or Socialists, but because we're Americans. There may be governing in a monarchy, but when we have a government such as we have, there must be education. Those who cannot learn by upon party success are the few today. We now realize that party success is exactly in relation to party success. I am in favor of the primacy. Before, the men chosen for office were men's tools. Now you go up to the polls and vote for whom you please."

"We've conducted a clean campaign. I've elected, I don't need to tell you I'll give you a square deal. My door was never locked to the man who needed help, and not only the poor and the weak, but the rich men have come to me. I recognize every rich, poor, gentle and Jew, black and white. I challenge any man to show where I ever did a single act that was not for the people of this city, as I conceive their benefit to be. I pledge you this: that in this office I will hold all life sacred in my eye. I will give you 365 days of service, and every bit of my ability shall be at your service."

He gave a rousing address to the crowd and then he went to Washington for your interest and the interest of the Fifth Congressional District.

For Marchant Martin

He spoke on the great opportunity to the establishment of a merchant marine and stated that he would stand for anything that made for the advancement of the country. He expressed himself as in favor of a ship building program, and he said that he would be glad to see the shipyard in the open market.

John H. Case of Plainfield, candidate for sheriff, said he believed in the "clean" campaign and he would not "contend" the "clean" campaign for Mr. Wright.

Dr. N. P. Wilson of Westfield, candidate for coroner, said he believed in the "clean" campaign and he would not "contend" the "clean" campaign for Mr. Wright.

Dr. B. Warner spoke briefly, and then John Case spoke of the education system, which he wanted kept where it is. "We want our children get education so that they will

ST. PAUL'S GUILD ENTERTAINMENT AND MEETING

Under the auspices of the Guild of St. Paul's Church an interesting and attractive entertainment was presented last evening at the "Pavilion House." Prior to the start of the program a business meeting was held at which time reports were heard from the various organizations and plans for the proposed fair were partially discussed.

Reports were heard from "Charles Hoffman of the Industrial Chapter; J. E. Clark Melick of the Church Workers; Mrs. Harry Simmons of the City's Friendly; E. J. Bishop of the Order Chapter; Miss Marion Turelson of the Girls Club; James Biggers of the Boy Scouts and Rev. H. A. L. Sadler of the Sunday school. All of the reports were favorable and showed accomplishment.

The feature of the entertainment was the musical sketch by "Percy Miller." In this comedy "Percy Miller" was the "vocal" part, while George Schaeffer, who was introduced by Harry Simmons, president of the Guild, was the "comic" part. The sketch was a well-acted and well-timed affair, and the audience was greatly amused by the witticisms of the two men.

The other members of the trio, Leonard Mantle, also shared in making the sketch a success. Miss Minnie Stout accompanied on the piano for the musical parts. Chester L. Buckley coached the artists in the comedy. "Sociological and vocal" and piano solos composed the remainder of the program, and each was given with an equal degree of interest. The remainder of the program included: "Two Little Kittens" by "Percy Miller" and "The Battle Flag at Bismarck" by "Percy Miller" and "The Battle Flag at Bismarck" by "Percy Miller."

J. W. SALING MAKES PLEA FOR PURCHASE OF AUTO ENGINE

Editor Record—I have information from a reliable source in this city about the loss of its latest and most modern fighting apparatus. Franklin Hose Co. No. 2 was the first of the Rahway fire companies to own and operate an auto apparatus. All the other companies in this city are using apparatus, which while not by any means out of date, but owing to the delay in securing them when an alarm is sounded the men are very seriously handicapped.

With all our "quaint old buildings," defective chimney-floors, fire-traps, unsafe structures stored full of combustible material, we have not yet beyond the control of our firemen. For this we give thanks to God and "our fire men." Men volunteers—who give such efficient service when dependent upon appliances that are not up to the required standard of efficiency, and certainly deserve all that we can give them; our praise and our moral and financial support. Two or three years ago the above named company tried to secure an auto apparatus. The price for the entire equipment as quoted by the most prominent manufacturers was as follows $4,200.00, $4,500.00, $4,700.00. The company's funds were not sufficient, but "get" was what was most required and there was an abundance of that. Quietly, patiently and persistently the members worked and finally, when the call came, Franklin Hose Co. No. 2 was able to respond. The engine, which was purchased for $4,200.00, was delivered in the city and was ready for use. The engine was delivered in the city and was ready for use. TRADE BOARD HOLDS SESSION

Opening Meeting Starts Well With Fair Attendance of Members—Reports Received

Owing to the approach of the primary election and to the observance of the Hebrew New Year, all urgent matters and affairs of routine were brought up on Monday night at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trade. Several communications which had been looked over by the executive committee were presented. The board took favorable action on the invitation of the Perth Amboy Board of Trade to attend a reception today extended by the Atlantic Deep-sea Trawling Association, which was a new in-convention and is making close personal inspection of the New Jersey waterways. The members of the convention are aboard a yacht, and are today at Perth Amboy, where Governor Fielder will meet with them. The convention held a committee meeting yesterday, at which Hon. Edward S. Savage presented the needs of the city.

The delegates from the Rahway Board of Trade will include T. H. Roberts, M. F. Quinn, Richard Cross, William H. Ciolek and Secretary Elliott.

Mr. Ciolek was heard on the subject of the fire in the city. The fire in the city was destroyed by gas, which leaked from the service pipes and main, and impregnated the soil. The secretary was instructed to make an investigation, and to communicate with the common council in regard to the matter.

F. W. Langstroth, chairman of the executive committee of the board, called attention to the disorganized condition of the city's waterworks, adjacent to the Rahway hotel. Mr. Roberts suggested that the council be reminded of this, and be asked to put it into repair, and also place a lamp on the top of same.

Question of pollution of Rahway river by the dumping, indiscriminately, of rubbish of all kinds. This, the board agreed, and already been ordered to the extent of the board's power. As to the moving pictures of Rahway, planned by the board in conjunction with a film concern, president Arthur H. Wendell suggested a committee, as all advertisers now so exactly in accord in the matter. The board also discussed tentative plans for a big banquet, to be held on water date to be chosen later this fall. The new pavilion presented to the Board of Trade by Robert Hornum, was used the first time last night by president Arthur H. Wendell.

POLICE NEWS

Charles Anson, of 218 E. Millon avenue, was arrested before Judge J. H. Hild, Friday evening on the charge of assault and battery on the complaint of Miss Josephine Mintel, of 62 Harrison street.

Anson was taken into custody by Officer Garlick and was found guilty of the charge. His case was held over for the Grand Jury. The bonds of $100 were furnished by W. H. Hedman, of 104 Main street.

A truncheon case was before Judge Ribbett on Monday morning when on the complaint of the school authorities John Lucas was arraigned for failing to send his daughter, Carrie to school. Lucas claimed that a neighbor told him that he was not compelled to send his daughter to school unless he cared to do so. His remarks in court yesterday morning regarding the conversation with his neighbor in reference to the school, created much laughter.

He was fined $5 dollars and told that he must send his daughter to school, which he promised to do.

Soren Kood, a contractor of Chrome was arraigned before Judge Ribbett on Sunday morning on the charge of Intoxication. Kood was charged with complaint against him for exceeding the speed limit. Kood was going down St. George's avenue in his automobile at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour, when he was stopped by the police. Kood was fined $100 and told that he must send his daughter to school, which he promised to do.

Charles was taken into custody by Officer Garlick and was found guilty of the charge. His case was held over for the Grand Jury. The bonds of $100 were furnished by W. H. Hedman, of 104 Main street.

CITIZENS B. & L. NOW ORGANIZED

The first meeting of the Citizens Building and Loan Association, of this city, was held on Thursday evening in the city hall, when the officers and members of the association were elected. The officers were chosen as follows: President, Henry Lamphear; Vice-president, James McCallum; Secretary, James Ryan; Treasurer, William W. Lamphear; J. C. Wilcox, William E. Ludlum, Fred C. Helms, Clifford Gehring and Arthur Shaffer; Auditors, Alfred J. Chapin, William Harrington and Lawrence Fox; Solicitor, Charles J. Bunker.

The association has started with a membership of seventy-one representing $33 shares of stock. It was decided to hold monthly meetings, the next meeting will be held in the office of Charles Stamler, in the Post Office Building. The association will be ready to receive applications for loans at the next meeting—October 15.

It was better fitted to take public office when they come to it," he said.

Joseph H. Neill of Elizabeth, candidate for sheriff, said he believed in the "clean" campaign and he would not "contend" the "clean" campaign for Mr. Wright.

Dr. N. P. Wilson of Westfield, candidate for coroner, said he believed in the "clean" campaign and he would not "contend" the "clean" campaign for Mr. Wright.

Dr. B. Warner spoke briefly, and then John Case spoke of the education system, which he wanted kept where it is. "We want our children get education so that they will

COUNTY REGISTER SMITH

County Register Smith has sent a personal letter to the nearly 4,000 electors on his petition, expressing his appreciation for their endorsement and soliciting their further support at the polls to make their endorsement of electivity. He is a candidate on the Republican ticket to succeed, Honorable T. H. Wendell.

The letter says: "It has been a pleasure, as well as a duty, during the years that I have held the office to conduct it on the basis of honesty and for the sole purpose of securing every vote for the electors. I am now in the position of being a candidate for the office of County Register, and I am soliciting your support at the polls to make their endorsement of electivity. He is a candidate on the Republican ticket to succeed, Honorable T. H. Wendell.

CHARITY SHOULD BEGIN AT HOME.
Just now, in this country, many who are philanthropically inclined are working upon the question of the people for the part of Santa Claus for the unfortunate of Europe, who, through the ravages of war will experience anything but a merry yuletide unless plans now being formulated here in America are carried to a successful issue. The cause is most commendable. People will contribute liberally. Many a heart will be gladdened, and many a yule-log will seem to burn the brighter because of the generosity of a nation composed of people who are ready, if necessary, to make sacrifices for the happiness of those in distress.

There is another side, however, to this picture which should not be lost sight of. Staggering heart-rending and destructive as has been the war in Europe, its effects have also been felt here to a degree that it has thrown out of employment hundreds and thousands of men, many of whom have held their positions for years. The bond of families, good citizens, experts in their lines. Men who never before have been out of work. Unless there is a revival of the present business depression, how will these citizens of the United States fare. How will their families celebrate and enjoy the coming Christmas season.

Every city, town and hamlet in the country has its quota of unemployed. Rahway, usually, happy, contented, prosperous, in common with other places, has, in this respect, felt the effects of the war. And at present, as there is no relief in sight, let us not lose sight of the fact, that commendable as is the joy of giving, charity should begin at home.

THE EMPIRE THEATRE
If the management of the Empire Theatre, Irving street, continued to entertain the people of Rahway, with the same high class talent as that presented at the Saturday performances there is every assurance that the popular playhouse will be well patronized during the coming winter months. The shows given Saturday afternoon and evening were of an excellent character. There was a good, hearty laugh in every act. And the applause at the conclusion of each number on the program should be evidence for the managers of the Empire that their efforts to please were greatly appreciated.

Proceeding the entertainment Saturday evening, it was announced from the stage just what the play for the week would be, and as each one has a National reputation, it is safe to predict that the Empire will be a very popular source of amusement, from now on. On Saturday evening the theatre was crowded.

In another column of this issue of the department, and any money paid for the Record John W. Sallie has a consideration relating to the purchase of the auto fire engine, now in possession of Franklin Hose Company, No. 2, which should interest every citizen of Rahway. And it is no doubt voices the sentiments of a majority.

Since council has refused to purchase of $2,500 necessary for the purchase of this modern fire-fighting apparatus, Franklin Hose company is in danger of losing the machine, and as it can be purchased upon the most liberal terms, it would seem like a sacrifice to let it go.

The volunteer fire department of this city has, time and time again, proven its efficiency. At any and all hours of the day or night, it responds to the alarm and promptly responds when called to duty. Most of the apparatus now in possession of the fire companies is owned by them. And the cost to the city for the maintenance of its fire department is the annual appropriation of $300 or a total of about $2,500. In comparison to the protection derived from a fire department, conferred by everyone to be as efficient as Rahway has been, consideration for several has paid and is paying very little money for the return it receives from come.

OUR LETTER BOX
Editor Record:—
The trial of Coffey vs Pangborn was heard last week. Edward Coffey was suing his aunt, Sarah Jane Pangborn, to have his name taken off the police records. The case was not decided. Judge David said he thought it was a case of malice more than anything else.
I cannot understand how witnesses testify so under oath and how foreigners who cannot speak English can give evidence, and don't see how anyone can get fair play swearing to lies. And I should like to know why the witnesses on one side were all called while all the witnesses on the other side were not on the stand. The witnesses that were called on one side could not possibly know anything about the case, while the witnesses that were not called could have testified truly, as they know all about the supposed trouble.
Respectfully,
KERON B. COFFEY.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
Sub-editors of the Rahway Post-Work, the monthly school paper were elected last week as follows:

Studied insult.
"I wish," said the waiter who had been serving the man with the gruff face and the very looking glass, "I could think of some way to get even with that fellow. He complained about everything I put on the table and growled about every more I made."
"What did he say about that?"
"A dollar and ninety cents."
"And how much money did he hand you?"
"A two dollar bill."
"It's easy. Have it in two weeks when you return his change."—Chicago Herald.

Legend of a Lake.
Averest is the lake in the neighborhood of Naples where the waters are so unwholesome that birds never fly near to banks. In ancient times it was thought to be the entrance to hades and where Ulysses descended to the lower regions.

STATE FOREST BOARD TO SHOW TREE CARE
Best Manner of Keeping Wood Lots to Be Pointed Out in Trenton Fair Exhibit.

No exhibit at Trenton Interstate Fair will have more prominent value than that to be arranged by the New Jersey state forest commission. This will show the manner in which wood lots should be kept to get the greatest value from them. It is referring to the display to be made at the Trenton Exposition from Sept. 28 to Oct. 2 State Forester Franklin Smith said.

"Last year the state forest commission undertook to show at Trenton something of the importance of New Jersey's forest resources by an exhibit that was partly set up outdoors and partly indoors in a tent.

"The interest developed justified an effort to make forestry a feature of the succeeding year. On a large plot near the machinery field will be arranged an exhibit intended to demonstrate from year to year the more important features of forestry in the state.

"The chief effort of present and for a long time to come will center around the suppression of forest fires. Until they shall be suppressed there can be no forestry. That they can be suppressed is proved by what has been accomplished in the past. In developed agricultural sections the fire is much less prevalent than they were. The state's effort is to make farms everywhere absolutely safe from fire.

"The close relation between forestry and farming will be strongly emphasized and opportunity given to the farmer to own wood lots and to learn how to manage it. The value of timber as one of the crops of a well managed farm is being recognized. Unlike other produce, wood has no particular harvest time, but can be held without loss until it is convenient to market it.

"Forest planting is of less importance in New Jersey than in many states, yet the exhibit will show how to do it and what to plant.

"Public and individual interest in shade trees will be stimulated by illustrations and by information in pictorial and printed form.

"This exhibit has for its sole object the benefit of the people of the state. No one expects to make money out of it and there will be nothing to sell. On the other hand, there will be for everyone to give information and advice." Trees in the grounds of the Fair grounds will also be marked, and Mr. Gaskill and his assistant, J. O. Hester, will point out by concrete examples just how the limbs should be cut, those that should be removed and to which they should be removed. They will gladly answer any questions asked of them.

Japanese Child-Jugglers.
Among the itinerant street entertainers in London are a number of tiny Japanese children, usually boys. They make their way into boats and peddle house wares, saloons and refreshments, and producing a host of other things. They are very small, they seldom depart without carrying a bundle of copperware, to which they resort if the demand is made for a little change of change. It is difficult to guess the age of these children, but some of them are engaged in this business appear to be more than twenty years old.

Formal Opening and Exhibition of Authoritative Autumn Millinery Beginning Monday September 21st
In an enlarged, handsome and improved salon, flooded with daylight, our formal Autumn opening display of Distinctive Millinery will be a style review, interesting and resplendent, as it will be beautiful.
For here will be gathered, with painstaking care and authoritative selection, all—and only—those hats which in every line reflect the best in correct style for Autumn and Winter wearing.
It will be noted that the wide range of styling, also, a delightful variety of choice of shape and size, and yet to be still safely within the correct. While the small hat, in new novel shapes, still holds its own with its Parisian air, the new distinctly novel will be the large picture hat, hitherto with delight by many because of its permitting the freest expression of one's individuality.
The always correct and drowsy black hat will be well represented in new forms, side by side with the gorgeous plumage hat, resplendent in new and beautiful colorings. Unusual blending of the new colorless shades, the soft, dainty colorings of olivehick, the new begonia pink, poppin blues, pink, lavender, sage green, and the many lined soft plumed ostrich, fancy moulted, with many interesting, metallic treatments and new effects in flowers and novelties.

Stammered to Himself.
To those who stutter or stammer let me suggest my personal story. At about fourteen I was attacked by a bad habit of stammering and couldn't stammer a remark without it. The other boys laughed at me, and I began to feel very much embarrassed. But the absurdity of the situation appealed to me. "Why couldn't I say 'No'?" I thought. "I'll try it." I was carrying out a plan to start a "No" day. And after a few days of deliberate speech, with the stammer done in silence, I was delivered entirely from the habit. London Standard.
