FRIDAY NOVEMBER 15, 1935

To be defeated for office by one vote is sufficient grounds for the defeated candidate to believe that in a recount there may be a possible chance that the count will result in his favor. Hence Theodore Landenberg, Republican candidate for member of Common Council in the Fifth ward, who in the recent election, was defeated by David H. Tremblay, for reelection, has set in motion the machinery necessary for the recounting of the ballots, and November 17, has been decided upon when the County Board of Elections will convene at the Court House in Elizabeth and recount the ballots.

As the Fifth Ward was the only district where a Democrat won out over a Republican, and then only by the small margin of one vote, Republicans and Democrats alike will await with some impatience the result. While it is no reflection on the Election Board to have their ballots recounted, there are some, perhaps who think that the tally will not come out just as it was originally recorded. Some are of the opinion that Mr. Tremblay will be the winner, while others believe that Mr. Landenberg will be the victor.

Through the medium of a card party to be held in Bauer's Hall, Irving street, Tuesday afternoon, November 17, the members of the Rahway Civic Club will endeavor to raise funds and add their quota toward relieving the Belgians from the plight in which they find themselves, as a result of the war now raging in Europe. Small or large, as the financial results of the efforts of the Civic Club may be, if we consider the will for the deed, the act is a most commendable one, and will no doubt receive hearty support. There is nothing that appeals more to Americans as individuals or as a nation, than humanity in distress, and that Rahway is thoroughly American will no doubt be proven when the ladies figure their receipts after the afternoon of pleasure, plans for which are now being perfected.

Taking an optimistic view of general business conditions throughout the country, manufacturers and those at the head of big enterprises, see in the near future a revival of trade conditions, which to them appear to be very promising. We could all endure a little more business than has existed in the past few months. To the man out of work, anything that sounds like a revival, is music to him. Let us hope that before many weeks the wheels of all industries will be humming the tunes which mean steady work for all who want it. More work means more money; more money means prosperity, health, contentment, happiness.

The new high power are lights in the business section of the city, and on some of the more prominent thoroughfares are a decided improvement over what we have been accustomed to. The change, in fact, is very agreeable, so far as it has been extended. What a magnificent sight it would be if the whole city could be lighted with arc lights.

Governor-elect Whitman, of New York State, it is said, gets at least 2,000 letters every day telling him how to run things when he gets to Albany. Who couldn't be governor of a great state when every thing is planned for him and going made so easy?

OBITUARY

Richard Hayes Kirkman, 8 Oliver street, died Wednesday after a short illness. Deceased is survived by a widow and one brother, Mr. Kirkman who was slightly crippled by an ailment, was a native of England, and had been a resident of Rahway for twenty years. He held a respectable position in the New York post office and had served as chief clerk in the railway mail service. The funeral will be held from his late home Saturday at 2:30 p. m., Rev. J. Edgar Washburn, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiating. Interment will be in the final plot Rahway cemetery.

Alfred Stanley Holder, aged 59 years, died Thursday at the home of his wife, Mrs. Charles Post, 111 Main street, after a lingering illness of pulmonary disease. He recently returned from the Bonnie Burn Sanatorium where he had been for treatment. He was popular with all who knew him, and his untimely death causes sincere sorrow to many. Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2:00 p. m. from his late home, Rev. Mr. Graham will officiate.

Mrs. Caroline Pratt, widow of the late Charles E. Pratt, died Thursday morning at the family home, 100 Irving street, after an illness of several weeks. Deceased was a life long resident of this city. In former years she took an active part in social and religious affairs. A large circle of friends mourn her death. She is survived by four sons, Charles, Joseph and Walter, of this city, and William of California. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 10:30 from the house Rev. Charles L. Cooper, D. D., former rector of St. Paul's church, now of Glen Ridge, will officiate. The remains will be placed in the Corey vault, Hazelwood cemetery.

HUB-MARK RUBBERS

FOR MY LADY'S FEET

Dr. Walter Raleigh, famous shoe doctor, says the wet earth that the Queen might step on, is his daily slipper.

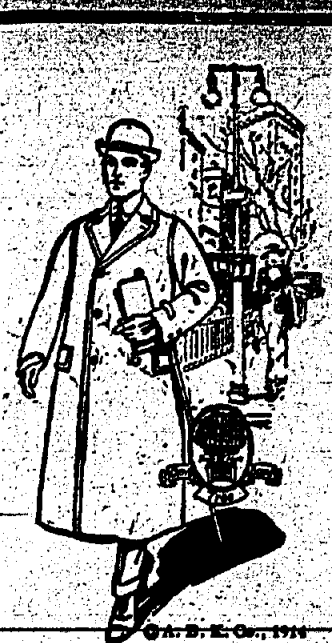

For the past thirty years the manufacturers of Hub-Mark rubber footwear have been the winners of the land even more effectively. A courtier's cloak for a carpet is good as far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough. Hub-Mark rubbers have done such excellent service for years that it is common talk, "why couldn't you go in Hub-Mark rubbers for men, women, boys or girls are attended both in quality of material and excellence of construction.

The first cost of Hub-Mark rubbers is no more than that of other good quality goods and they wear many times longer. They are out and then say "Hub-Mark" to the storeman when you buy rubbers.

These rubbers are manufactured by Hub-Mark Rubber Shoe Company, Malden, Mass.

ESTABLISHED 1884

TONIGHT, the four real historical masterpieces of Washington, D. C., "The Empire State" will be the feature attraction. This historical production was conceived, written, produced and played by Francis Ford and Grace Curran, who, with a large supporting cast, have given to the amusement loving public one of the most interesting of all photo plays. In addition to this the two real features "The Dorells and the Mins" and the comedy "The Boat's" will be shown.

An act that has been in constant rehearsal at the Empire the entire week and which gives all evidence of being the biggest comedy sensation in vaudeville today, will be produced for the first time on any stage at the big Saturday vaudeville show to Monday. The act is known as "The Noyes Student" and carries a car load of surprising and amusing material. The entire stage at the Empire has been utilized in accommodating the production which promises to leave all others behind in the line of laugh producing acts.

"The Noyes Student" will positively show to-morrow, matinee and night in addition to four other big vaudeville acts and first run photo plays.

On Monday the tenth episode of "The Gray Horse" with Calo Madeline and James Larkins will headline a big seven reel program of interesting comedies and dramas.

Bill Cullen's wonderful literary masterpiece "The Christian" will be the attraction at the Empire next Tuesday matinee and night. This wonderfully acted photo play production is advertised as the best ever seen in vaudeville. The production is the most interesting and perfectly photographed photo plays before the public to-day. The superb acting of Miss Roth-Story and Mr. Williams, who take the part in the play is nothing less than wonderful, and all who are acquainted with both of these stars past endeavors to please the public, are surely convinced that their acting in the story of love and duty will be the most to the hearts of men and women in a way never to be forgotten.

Provide a Telephone for Their Protection

WHEN you leave home on business, or on a vacation, it is a comfort to know there is a telephone at home for the protection of your family.

A telephone means security for the home during your absence. It helps dull moments by making possible pleasant little chats with friends or neighbors.

It allows you, too, to keep in touch with your home, from almost any place.

Why not have the ALL-TIME PROTECTION of a telephone in your home?

NEW YORK TELEPHONE CO.

HUMAN SOLDIER.

The Reason Blood From a Cut Cuts and Plugs the Wound.

Why is it that the boy who cuts his finger with a jackknife making a well, never worries about the blood? As a matter of fact, he may not be. As the medical profession calls it, "hemostasis," a condition, things by no means rare and one which every surgeon who undertakes to do even the most minor operation must learn himself about. The blooder or hemophilic, as the doctor calls him, is always in immediate danger of just this kind of accident because his blood is lacking in the clotting principle known as fibrinogen.

This principle is a gift from good Mother Nature, or a kind Providence, if you choose, and exists for no other purpose than the saving of human life. When a wound deep enough to figure a "vital" artery is made through the skin, the blood pours out in considerable quantity, but in a few minutes the current lessens and a coagulating mass begins to appear. This means that the fibrin is catching the blood corpuscles and holding them fast like fish caught in a net. The solidified clot thus formed is the soldier which a plumber fuses upon a leaking pipe.

The blood is not a perfect mechanism, for if fibrinogen is coming from a fair sized artery the blood will spurt out in jets and not in a steady stream. Then comes the blood coagulum, bringing the materials necessary for reconstruction of the "blood pipe," and in a few days new tissue, permitted by fine fibrillar blood vessels, which can be seen only by a high power microscope, begins to form. In a relatively short time only a thin scar remains.—New York Street.

Blended.

Blended. (Continued) The creator of the "Blended" series, one said that he wrote his first book at the age of six. It appears to have been a story of adventure of the most exciting kind. "There was a man in it and a tiger," said Arthur. "I forgot which of the two was the hero of the story, but it didn't matter which because about the time the tiger met the man they became blended into one!"

THE TROLLEY CAR.

How the Electric Current Moves It Along the Rails.

ITS MOTORS AND MECHANISMS.

An Explanation of Their Workings and the Method by Which the Mysterious Force is Conducted From the Overhead Wire to the Running Gear.

Of all the things that interest people who daily ride upon the electric street cars of our cities, and a good many millions more than twelve millions of individuals paid a fare on the electric street cars of our cities last year—only a few understand what hush the cars along the rails.

It is so easy to ask to understand the steam railroad system. A steam engine, mounted on wheels, is hitched to a train of cars. The steam engine is the power, and the cars are the load. The electric street car is a different thing. When the engine is started the wheels turn and the train moves.

But the electric street car is quite another thing and vastly harder to understand. In a variety of ways the electric street car is a mystery to the people who ride upon it. It is driven by electric power which is generated in some mysterious manner on the trolley wires.

Let us take a car apart, figuratively speaking, and see just how it is made. Beneath the ordinary street car you will find two to four powerful electric motors mounted directly on the sides of the car trucks.

These motors differ somewhat from ordinary electric motors. They are smaller, but they operate exactly the same as the electric motor which drives an office fan, the sewing machine or the vacuum cleaner in the home. These motors are very powerful and are almost completely hidden from sight in the trucks beneath the car.

The electrical energy for driving the street car is sent out over the trolley wires. The electrical power is generated, or made, in the central power house, or it may be transmitted from some nearby water power development where the energy of the falling water is changed into electricity. The trolley wire is suspended above the street from poles and guy wires.

The electricity is kept on the trolley wire by automatic trolley poles, which are mounted on the car. These poles are made of porcelain, over which the current cannot travel. The electrical current flows easily and smoothly along the trolley wire, like water in a pipe, although it cannot be seen. Whenever the operator of the car wishes to start the car, he moves the electrical power flows and it is always ready to drive a trolley car.

Each trolley car is provided with a trolley wheel at the end of the pole which runs along the under side of the trolley wire. The electrical power from the trolley wire flows through this wheel and down the trolley pole to a heavily insulated cable concealed in the car. This cable carries the electricity to the "controller" in front of the car.

The controller is the iron box which stands in front of the motorman. At the top of this box are two levers. The smaller lever is used to turn on and off the current supply and the larger is used to control the current or to "feed" it to the motors beneath the car. The current starts the motors, which in turn cause the wheels of the car to revolve, the car starts and the motorman turns the controller handle, further, feeding the motors more current, and the car picks up to its regular running speed.

The electrical current flows to the car over the trolley wire. After it flows through the car, via the collector, through the controller, resistance, and the motors, it flows out of the car through the front wheels and back to the power house along the steel rails, thus completing the circuit.—Electrical News.

QUINN-BODEN EMPLOYEES

HOLD A DANCE
Employees of Quinn-Boden Company and their friends participated in an unusually successful dance last evening in Bauer's hall. Nearly one hundred persons were present and a fine program was carried out. The music was furnished by the Pastime Orchestra and was excellent. Much credit for the success of the even goes to Lloyd Madden and William Ader who had exclusive charge of the arrangement for the "hop."

give the matter immediate attention.

FUNERAL OF MRS. A. P. MAY

The funeral services of Mrs. Alvin
P. May, were held yesterday afternoon from her late residence in Elm ave-nu and were attended by a large number of sorrowing friends. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr.
Johnson, pastor of the 2nd Presbyterian Church of which the deceased had long been an active member. Many beautiful floral tributes, attested to the high regard in which she was held. The body was placed in the receiving vault, Hazelwood cemetery.
The bearers were: John A. Covert, H.
G. Ward, G. H. Waters, Luther W.
Mundy, Peter Tillman and Thomas J.
Baker.

formerly occupied by Hall's hardware store will be opened on Saturday next as a first class shoe store—the slogan adopted by Mr. Levinson, the proprietor, is—"A Rahway Store for Rahway People." Attention is called to the advertisement of this new store in another column. A special feature of the business will be repair work.
