OUR LETTER BOX

Editor, Rahway Record.

Almost every citizen of this city at present is debating on the question of the paid fire department, which was recently passed in council.

The act of installing the future fire department is a result of a direct political fight between the volunteer fire men and the party which passed the bill. This statement, however, is contradicted by the latter party. They state that "Rahway Must Progress and Volunteer Fire Departments are a thing of the past." If this is true, why didn't they first consult the fire men? Why didn't they show courtesy to those who have protected their homes, who for many years have risked their lives, who have never received, nor expected, a cent for services from the city? Was it right not to consult the firemen unless it was done to crush them out of existence?

If "progress" is their motto, what is the definition of the word? Progress in modern things does not mean to take away something which does its work well, which does not inflict high or taxes and to replace it by something which will take the place and give us about one fifth of the protection we are now getting. Isn't the sewage disposal plant enough for the tax payers to take care of? No! They must pay at least four points more to be protected by twenty four inexperienced men, when out of two hundred and fifty-five volunteer firemen enrolled one hundred and fifty are active experienced men. The tax payers of this city cannot stand additional expense which does not better the protection of their property.

Five or six years from now when other matters are cleaned up it is time to install a paid fire department and one which will benefit the tax payers. Rahway is not in a position to take jumps in order to obtain standing with other cities of its size.

Must the citizens of Rahway wait until another fire similar to that of the one in Cherry street, is started to find out that twenty four men under the conditions which they are required to abide by cannot and will not do the work that one hundred and fifty men did. These firemen worked with heart and soul to protect the property which was doomed that night. They stopped that fire and saved the town. Why must they be put out of existence because a certain political party does not want them.

On January 1st a new council officers office. Three fourths of those men will be willing to re-install the volunteer fire department. The tax payers request the protection they have received here-to-fore. Speak to your council men. It is up to you, the tax payers of this city, to obtain justice for your self and these firemen that have protected you.

The efforts and interest you take in the matter will soon bring results.

EDWARD S. AYERS.

Editor of the Record

To those of us who believe in Equal Suffrage, none of the objections urged against it seem logical. We think that Wm. Dean Howells put the matter in a nutshell when he said that "there are arguments against it, but no reasons." But none of the objections are more illogical than the one we still hear sometimes. "Women have all they can do to take care of their homes and their children. They have no time to vote."

Men are busy people. They have heavy responsibilities on their shoulders. The great majority of them are obliged to work hard and to work long hours. Yet they have time to vote, and time to think, talk and read politics. If women are really worked so much harder than men that they have no time for these things, they are being worked too hard and ought to have relief. But it is strange that our American men, who boast of making things easy for their women folks, should be willing to assert that these women folks have things so much harder than themselves. It does not sound consistent. And usually it is not true. Most women have as much spare time as men. If a man tells you that his wife has no time to vote, either he is telling something which is not true, or his wife is an unfortunate woman, and to be pitied. If a woman tells you that she has no time to vote, in almost every case what she really means is that she is so indifferent on the subject that she is not willing to take time for it. Out of a number of women who will tell you this, you will find that Mrs. A. consumes an hour daily in gossiping about her neighbors; that Mrs. B. finds time to go to balls and dance till 2 a. m.; that Mrs. C. takes time to go to the movies two or three times a week; that Mrs. D. spends hours on elaborate embroidery; that Mrs. E. makes fancy articles for church fairs and bakes bread and cake for church food sales; and so on.

Women are usually quick to respond to their social obligations, when they see them, but many of them are slow to see that the greatest of all social obligations is that of taking their part in securing good government for their community. Women are usually quick to respond to their religious obligations, when they see them; but they are slow to see that one of the most imperative of religious duties is that of securing justice for themselves and for all people. When they realize these obligations, they find time for them.

A Member of the Woman's Political Union.

COULD NOT SLEEP

OR DO HOUSEWORK

The Grumpy Left Mrs. Findley in Such a Weak, Nervous Condition That Her Case Was Serious.

Severy, Kan. "The Grumpy left me in a very weak, nervous, run-down condition. I was too weak to do my housework and could not sleep. I tried different medicines without benefit and finally one day read about Vinol and decided to try it. In a very short time I could see an improvement and after taking two bottles I have a good appetite and my health and strength was restored.

"I think Vinol is a grand medicine and every weak, nervous, run-down woman should take it." Mrs. Geo. Findley, Severy, Kan.

Vinol creates strength because it contains all the medicinal tissue building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh, healthy cods' livers. To this is added peptonate of iron, a most essential element for the blood, all dissolved in a delicious tonic native wine.

Vinol creates an appetite, aids digestion, makes pure healthy blood. In this natural manner it builds up the run-down, weak and nervous system, replaces weakness with strength. If Vinol fails to create strength after sickness we will return your money.

A. F. Kistner, Druggist, Rahway.

NOTE: You can get Vinol at the leading drug store in every town where this paper circulates.

With the closing of the year 1914 and the welcoming of the new year 1915, the Record desires to wish its patrons, one and all, a happy and prosperous new year. Churches will hold watch meetings this evening, various social attractions have been planned and all is in readiness for speeding the old year and extending a cordial welcome to the year 1915. ## DARE TREAT FOR THEATRE GOERS est. Between the acts a number of specialties will be introduced including Joe Kelly, the Boy Caruso, Louise Brown, singing comedienne, Pauline Beck, pianologue, the Doyle Brothers in four novel acts and Zenda, the mental wonder in the most astounding and wonderful presentation of mental telepathy in the world.

On Monday night the management are making announcement that one lady will be admitted free with each thirty cent ticket purchased before six o'clock Monday evening and patrons are advised to be in line when the advance sale opens Saturday morning at ten o'clock. Mr. Miller desires to impress upon the minds of local playgoers that this is not tabloid but a fully equipped stock company that plays the very best theatres in the larger cities and that this attraction could not have been secured for this city only owing to the fact that he and Mr. Doyle are great personal friends. If the experiment of bringing travelling attractions prove successful next week Mr. Miller promises other high class road shows in the near future. It is hoped that a capacity audience will greet the Edward Doyle Company upon their initial appearance next Monday evening.

Little Bits of New Year Verse

Touch us gently, Time!
Let us glide across the stream
Gently, as we sometimes glide
Through a quiet dream.

When time's flown, how it had
It is better never to see nor fall,
Leave the dead moments to bury
Their dead.

Come what come may,
Time and the hour runs through the roughest day. —Macbeth.

We ring the bells and raise the strain,
We hang up garments everywhere
And bid the tapers twinkle fair
And feast and frolic, and then we go
Back to the same old lives again.

Humanity happy holiday,
Health and wealth for all the year.

Work adjourned has many stays;
Long demure breed new delays. —Southwell
