ELECT PRESIDENT BY DIRECT VOTE

High School Literary Societies Debates Decide For Popular Election

According to the arguments presented by the boys' literary societies of the Rahway High School on Friday afternoon the electoral college should be abolished and the President elected by a direct vote. This decision was reached by the Old Hickory and Section B of the Webster Society, while in Section A of Webster the weight of argument was even.

In the girls' literary societies there were debates on the topic that the school day should be lengthened to eight hours and home study eliminated. In three of the four sections of the two societies the decision was strongly in favor of the plan and in only one society did the argument prevail against the plan. Besides the debates in each society there were essays, readings, talks and recitations, which are appended.

Old Hickory Society—DANIEL, "Resolved, that the Electoral College Should Be Abolished and the President Elected by a Direct Vote of the People," affirmative, Bruce Opik; Israel Nadel; negative, Arthur Brown, Alfred Merrill; judges, Fred Cora, Leslie Stuart, Newell Chase; decision in favor of affirmative three points to one; talk, "Life in the Keweenaw Mountains," Stewart Tverill; reading, "Doctrine of Service and Publicity," Herbert Schwartz; essay, "Our International Unconsciousness," Carlton Jones; declamation, "Patrick Henry's Speech before the Virginia Burgesses," Howard Nordmeyer; critic, John Miller.

Webster Society, Section A—Debate, "Resolved, that the Electoral College Should Be Abolished and the President Elected by a Direct Vote of the People," affirmative, Elmer Brown; negative, Carl Schwartz, Richard Halosa; judges, Harold Borden, Albert Harmed, Harvey Wheeler; decision a tie one point for each side; essay, "The History of the Railway Train," Harrison Chase; reading, "Death-dealing Machines of War," Clifford Dunphy; recitation, "Hand on a Shoulder," Lipman Dechat; talk, "Shaka," Howard Powers; critic, Fred Bauer.

Webster Society, Section B—Debate, "Resolved, that the Electoral College Should Be Abolished and the President Elected by a Direct Vote of the People," affirmative, George Cowie, Elmer Chamberlain; negative, John Deiscol, William Schuler; judges, James Gillespie, Maurice Bruckhausen, Harry Isenberg; decision unanimously in favor of the affirmative; essay, "Government Ownership of Railroads," John Moesman; recitation, "Hand on a Shoulder," Harry Kennedy; talk, "School Spirit," Frank Bergen; critic, Robert Brown.

Hypathian Society, Section A—Debate, "Resolved, that the School Day Should Be Lengthened to Eight Hours thus Eliminating Home Study," affirmative, Miss Grace Lawrence, Miss Charlotte Alston; negative leader, Miss Ruth Richards, Miss Emily Gaskill; judges, the Misses Virginia Parsons, Irene Ludlum, Edith Davis; decision in favor of affirmative three points to two; talk, "The Red Cross Society," Miss Ada Ryder; recitation, selection from Rudyard Kipling, Miss Hope Berry; essay, "The Detective Classes," Miss Marion Bartlett; reading, selection from the "Pickwick Papers," Miss Sarah Vogel; critic, Miss Florence Frew, of the faculty.

Hypathian Society, Section B—Debate, "Resolved, that the School Day Should Be Lengthened to Eight Hours thus Eliminating Home Study," affirmative, Miss Winifred Stuart, Miss Hilda Olson; negative, Miss Grace Moore, Miss Edith Jackson; judges, the Misses Marie Schneider, Helen Mills and H. Jackson; decision unanimously in favor of affirmative; recitation, "Honeysuckle's Tragedy," Miss Adele Jones; essay, "The Difference Between Character and Reputation," Miss Marion Bergen; talk, "Hawaii," Miss Mildred Kelly; recitation, "My Financial Career," Miss Rose Zeddel; critic, Miss Ruth Jacobowitz.

ALFRED BROOKS WINS LETTER

Providence, R. I., Dec. 11.—R. A. Ward and W. M. deVittalis, of Newark, and Andrew F. Willhouse, of Rutherford, and Alfred C. Brooks, of Rahway, were the New Jersey boys among the eighteen Brown football players awarded letters by the Athletic Association and at a complimentary dinner held recently presented with gold footballs as mementos of the successful season which Brown enjoyed. The valuable souvenirs were the gift of F. M. Maynard, of New York City, president of the General Fire Extinguisher Co. and an enthusiastic Brown supporter.

DeVittalis and Brooks are freshmen at Brown and are of the very few freshmen who have received this signal honor. DeVittalis has recently been elected president of his class and Brooks a vice-president.

Ray Ward is completing his senior year at Brown and Hillhouse is a sophomore. Ward was prevented from playing in many of the important games through illness, but was recognized as a member of the regular eleven and by a unanimous vote of the athletic board was awarded the insignia. Hillhouse's punting was a feature of many of the Brown games.

Elmer G. Armstrong, of Rahway, another Jersey boy on the Brown squad, awarded letters by the Athletic Association and at a complimentary dinner held recently presented with gold footballs in recognition of their services.

Brown should have a wonderfully strong eleven next year, for of the squad of sixty first and second string players only five are lost by graduation this spring. Ward is among the number who graduate.

DRUM CORPS ELECTION

The American File and Drum Corps at its meeting on Thursday evening elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Leader, Horace D. Sheppard; first assistant, Frank Walker; second assistant, Walter L. Wilson; financial secretary, Charles Crowell; treasurer, George D. Wilson; recording secretary and business agent, Walter L. Wilson. Four new members qualified in playing and will now be allowed to parade with the corps. Plans are being made by the corps for their seventh annual ball.

The Ash Can Tells the Story

There's no need of your spending so much money for coal and having to put on many shovels. Install a Boynton Square Pot Boiler and you'll have much unnecessary expense and work.

Here's the reason: Square Pot Boilers burn less coal and give more heat. This is made possible by the square form that eliminates all waste of heat and coal. It gives so much heat from a small amount of coal as a round boiler gives from a large amount. And asbestos facing to the square corners like they do to round corners.

Fire always "just right" — enough heat in the radiators to keep the house warm without the inside on the coldest day.

Ask your dealer to explain the Square Pot Boiler idea. He can also show you Boynton Furnace and New-Furnace. See how they work. See how they save you money.

 Empire Theatre Attracting Thousands Daily with Play in Philadelphia
 If ever there was a picture that could be called a galloping romance of the race track, then its sporting blood that was shown at the Empire Theatre playing the stellar role. The last time this clever woman appeared in Rahway was in a picture called "The Girl of Men," and it was a very clever picture indeed. But when you compare it with today's picture, you are simply wasting valuable time, for we believe that the picture of today is superior from any point that you care to review it from. There is something to "Sporting Blood" that takes a hold of you and if not careful, will bring you back to the dear old Getzenberg days, and who is there that cares to forget those days, or the sweet memories that are to be associated with them. "Sporting Blood" is a right and is worth your while.
 Even though you did not care for this particular picture, you can fall back on "The Grip of Evil" and this serial you surely cannot deny. It's the thirteenth chapter today and as there is but one more to be shown, it is quite natural to believe that today's episode would be interesting.
 Tomorrow we shall be entertained by clever little Hazel Dawn, in a picture called "Tinder Cove," incidentally, Owen Moore who supports her in this play, is Mary Pickford's husband. This gives us a chance to get a line on this young man's acting. We are informed that he is good, but we'll see for ourselves.
 Thursday another Rahway favorite, Carlys Blackwell, will be seen at the Empire in what the management declares to be a unique picture, from the fact that it is a drama, a love drama, mark you, bubbling over with comedy.
 Friday will signalize the return of a favorite with every one, Dustin Farnum, who was last seen in a picture called "The Girl of Men." This time he comes to us in a play that has met with the approval of two hundred people, and seen by possibly a million people. We refer to "Davy Crockett" the play that made this expression "The sure you're right, then go ahead" popular.
 All of the pictures announced in this column seem to be interesting and each, with the necessary punch to make it interesting. While we are on the subject of pictures it may be gratifying to learn that Pearl White comes to the Empire in the greatest serial that ever has been written, called "Pearl of the Army." If the Empire is not abreast of the picture theatres in either Elizabeth or Newark in showing the best pictures, will some one tell us why not.

RED CROSS SEAL FIGURES
 $25,000,000 Holiday Sealers Already Distributed in United States
 Few people have any conception of the magnitude of the Red Cross Christmas Seal Campaign. However, a few figures that will show what a gigantic movement this is. Already $25,000,000 seals have been ordered and practically that entire number distributed to agents in every state and territory of the Union from Alaska to the Canal Zone, from Porto Rico to Hawaii, and even in the far-off Philippines. Advertising circulars, posters, cards, etc., to the number of several million, have also been distributed. Not less than 1,000,000 personal letters asking people to buy seals have been sent out. It is estimated that the army of workers, nearly all of whom are volunteers, engaged in selling the seals numbers well over 500,000. The advertising and publicity devoted to the campaign amounts to several hundred thousand dollars. Every effort is being put forth to sell 100,000,000 seals, or only one for every man, woman and child in the United States. This will mean $1,000,000 for the anti-tuberculosis campaign in the United States. Over 1,500 anti-tuberculosis associations of the country derive their support from Red Cross Seals. If the good work is to go on, you must help.

THE CHRISTIAN TOMORROW
 This Fine Film Feature and Other Big Shows at Lyric
 Lyric Theatre has today another chapter of "The Christian" with Billy Burke, and is more pleasing every week, also an American drama "The Forgotten Prayer" and a comedy.
 Wednesday, Vitagraph presents Earl Williams and Edith Storey in Hall Cain's "The Christian." The story shows that when a spiritual-minded, God-fearing man in whom the heart rules supreme tries to save the soul of an impetuous girl there comes a clash. He enters the pulpit and the wife turns to the stage. "The Christian" is built upon the fundamental teachings of all religions.
 Two matinees, 2 and 5:30, evening 7:30. "The Christian" do not miss seeing "The Christian."
 Thursday, "The Girl from Frisco" appears and other good features.
 Friday, there will be presented "The Christian" the spiritual play in which the heart rules supreme and the wife turns to the stage. "The Christian" is built upon the fundamental teachings of all religions.
 Saturday, "A Lady of the League" with Helen Holmes and an extra attraction, Keystone comedy, "The Submarine Pirates" one of the best Keystone made.
 Coming soon the sequel to "The Diamond from the Sky."

RAHWAY WINS FIRST MATCH
 High School Students "Outbow" Outboard Club of V.M.C.A.
 In the first of a series of bowling matches with Rahway high school, the Rahway boys on Friday afternoon made a clean sweep of the match against Westfield on the local V.M.C.A. arena and took all three games by extended margins. In the final game only did the visitors give the Rahwayians a battle and in that the locals led by thirty-seven pins. The home team hit their best mark in the first game. Albert Harrod had the best average of the match with 167, while Captain Jones and Louis King were tied for second place with 155.3 average. Mossman trailed closely with an average of 152. Corbett had the best average for the visitors with 133.1. His high mark of 227 was the best of the match. The best marks by the Rahway team were 189 by Jones, 177 by King and 173 by Harrod and Mossman. The scores:

LASTING RESULTS DEMANDED

Sweeping inquiries and boycotts of unscrupulous proportions, embargoes and other remedies for the high cost of living are being advocated on every hand and out of the chaos of suggestions there may come some definite action that will ultimately benefit the consumer, but no help worth while of any permanency will be likely unless the root of the matter is abolished. Embargoes and boycotts while they might be effective in a small way do not get at the cause of all the difficulty and unless the embargo or boycott is raised there is nothing to prevent the gradual return of the old undesirable conditions.

Announcement by the Department of Justice at Washington that Federal Grand Jurors will make thorough investigations at large centers like New York, Detroit, Kansas City, St. Louis, Minneapolis and Cleveland should be very gratifying to the general public and much will depend upon how thorough these investigations are made as to whether the people as a whole will be benefited. The investigations must be followed by penalties for any found guilty of unnecessarily boosting food prices or taking undue advantage of the great foreign demand for American products. These penalties must be inflicted on the offenders no matter how exalted their position in life if the government is to have a wholesome effect and tend to hold in check such tendencies when the opportunity again presents itself.

Not only should penalties be inflicted for present offenses but adequate laws should be passed that will make it possible for the government to nip in the bud any whole sale boosting of prices as the public have been forced to endure in the past year.

The American people as a whole can aid greatly in the reduction of the high cost of living by checking the habit of wastefulness. The foreign countries now at war are learning some valuable lessons in economy of all commodities which can be used to great advantage in times of peace. This country should not be obliged to wait for some great calamity to teach it the value of economy in living. We should put by the transmutations in the mode of living now taking place by force of necessity in the European nations. Wastefulness if intelligently checked would result in the reduction of the demand and thereby produce a lower level of prices.

Still another way of making an effective fight against the steadily increasing cost of living is for the consumer and labor is organized and the power of each becomes of its organization is often manifested most forcibly in the affairs of the nation. There are too many of them fresh in the minds of the people at the present time. The consumer must organize to meet capital and labor on even ground if the now overpowering odds are to be wiped out and questions of domestic economy settled justly for the consumer. The consumers organized would be able to command legislation. They would have an influence and power that no producer or set of producers could overlook with impunity.

No doubt the consumer of one product is the maker of another and a few losses of this kind would probably offset the higher prices he pays as a consumer, but in this respect there is no gain. What is gained in one way is paid out in the other. With consumers properly organized and an intelligent study made of which part of the cost of production of a certain commodity it would not seem to appear when a producer is charging more for his product than is justified by the cost of production and a fair profit. Steps could be taken to prosecute the offender and a few losses of this kind would probably offset the higher prices he pays as a consumer, but in this respect there is no gain.

WILL ALL BE SATISFIED?

From present indications there will be a serious problem for the Republicans in January 1 to distribute the New Year gifts.

gifts hitherto among the many applicants who are awaiting the distribution of the New Year gifts. Although no cases have been held yet by the majority of the courts it is evident that there is need of such a gathering in harmony and machine-like production on New Year's Day.

Whether the Republicans will turn out the Democrats who now hold some of the positions and have filled them efficiently and with general satisfaction is a matter of conjecture. Some claim that the Democrats usually remove all Republicans holding office when they get the opportunity and argue that the Republicans should reciprocate by taking similar action.

This argument does not hold good if governmental efficiency is to be the aim of the majority. All of the efficiency is not monopolized by one political party and efficient service is supposed to be the aim of every public servant. When one of this type is found he should be continued in office regardless of party affiliations.

There seems to be no dearth of candidates for the various offices to be filled. For city clerk two names have been mentioned besides the present incumbent, Charles H. Lambert, Democrat. The two heard of most frequently are Peter Tillman, one of the best known Republicans of the city and another Ulrich, a bright and promising young attorney. For police judge there seems to be even greater rivalry. This position, now filled by Henry W. Steiner, a lawyer, Democrat and one of the best police judges in the history of the city. The Republican aspirants are former Judge John W. Buckley, Attorney O. H. Day and Attorney Charles Corbis.

There are also several names heard in connection with the position of street commissioner, now held by George Gesele who is also being suggested for reappointment. Some of the other names heard are John Taylor, of the Milton section, and Charles Deuling, of the same locality. Friends are said to be trying to persuade James E. Tomba, who formerly filled the position with credit, to again become a candidate, but Mr. Tomba is understood to have given his friends little encouragement. George A.

WHY DAMAGE DIAMONDS?

Without reference to whether the skating rink project at Riverdale Park will be a profitable or practical venture it seems from the start already made that the plan might have been begun differently from what the work already done would indicate. For a width of about six feet in the very center of the field the ground has been dug up and an embankment made in order to hold the water that is to form the skating pond. The ground dug up is practically all within the confines of the baseball diamond, the embankment running from the home plate down the first and third base lines and through the center of the outfield. Why this particular part of the spacious field should have been dug up and an embankment made is not clear and it would be interesting to know the reason for this. It is a question that is passing many who have noticed the building of the project.

Last season the management of the baseball club spent about $100 for having the diamond tiled in and rolled frequently in order to make it as hard and level as possible. Now that the ground has been dug up and if thrown back in place again in the spring will make a wide strip completely around the diamond that will be soft and uneven and not in harmony with the rest of the field. If this plan is to be carried out each fall there would seem to be little use of reason for the baseball club to lay out any money in order to have a suitable baseball diamond. All of this difficulty would have been avoided had the lower end of the field been used.

CIVIC ACTIVITY

Members of the Newark Municipal Chamber of Commerce are planning to hold a public hearing on the subject of a small city plan for the city of Newark. The plan is to be presented by the Municipal Chamber of Commerce, a municipality of about 15,000 inhabitants. Newark has a better chamber of commerce with a progressive and wide awake secretary. The activity of the chamber of Commerce has been recently held an industrial position and efficiency show, which drew over 50,000 people to the town. There was a large exhibition, including a great variety of industrial exhibits and there was a parade, in which thousands marched and carrying over a hundred floats representing various industries of the city. Addresses were delivered by Governor Mills and ex-Governor Cook of Ohio and by Byron T. Howell, the former ambassador to France. Efforts for this exhibition not only spread knowledge of a municipality abroad, but reveal to the home town the efforts small cities become great.

BYRON T. HOWELL, SECRETARY, MUNICIPAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Efforts such as these are a help to the city and a help to the people. It is a good enterprise. Changed world conditions have brought us such a chance as we never had before, and it is our opportunity to make good.

Foreign Trade Offers a Splendid Opportunity to Small Manufacturers
By E. M. HERR, Head of Westinghouse Company

THE small manufacturer has an excellent chance and his participation is essential to the extension of American business abroad, and one of the things that is going to make it possible for him to claim that share is the opening abroad of American branch banks. THESE BANKS WILL SUPPLY HIM WITH DEFINITE CREDIT INFORMATION AND HELP HIM LOOK AFTER HIS CREDITS AS NO OTHER AGENCY COULD.

One point that should have close consideration by the small manufacturer is the adoption of efficiency methods that will enable him to compete with foreign producers. We can only contend with them by giving prices and values that are equal or better.

EFFICIENCY SHOULD BE THE WATCHWORD WITH EVERY BUSINESS MAN AND PARTICULARLY THOSE WHO HOPE TO WIN A FOREIGN CLIENTELE.

The man with a reasonable amount of capital who wishes to extend his business by foreign expansion has every justification for believing it to be a good enterprise. Changed world conditions have brought us such a chance as we never had before, and it is our opportunity to make good.

Plethora of Gold Has a Tendency to Depreciate Its Buying Power
By W. F. H. KOELSCH, President of the New York Credit Men's Association

THE influx of gold from Europe has served to cheapen commodities in this country, and that has a bearing on high prices.

Too much gold in any country has a tendency to depreciate its buying power. Every business man knows that. And this is one of the times when NATIONAL PROSPERITY, FOUNDED LARGELY UPON FOREIGN REQUIREMENTS, IS MAKING THE SHOP PINCH AT HOME.

That creates another problem for the credit man. If prices continue upward and gold's purchasing power downward, then what? The danger of excessive buying becomes only the stronger and imposes a new burden upon merchant, manufacturer and consumer. Some large converters of raw products have shortened credits recently by a spot cash basis. The change of policy affected thousands of small merchants in New York city. The first thought that occurred to a considerable number of them was to borrow money of their bankers and stock up on these products. In other words, they hypothecated definite assets for something they hoped to gain, with the additional purpose of protecting themselves against an expected further increase. How many could afford it?

SUCH SIGNS AS THESE INDICATE TO THE CAREFUL BUSINESS MAN THAT THIS IS A TIME OF CHANGE AND CONSIDERABLE UNCERTAINTY. TO THE CREDIT MAN I WOULD SAY JUST ONE THING: WATCH YOUR STEPS.

Quality of America Has Been Shown by Supreme Test of Civilization
By SHANE LESLIE, Public Relations Staff

COUNT TOLSTOY told me six years ago, when he was straggling to the grave, that patriotism was the sin denounced in the gospels. Now I am beginning to see what he meant. Only a patriotism of defense is defensible. THERE IS A JUSTICE HIGHER THAN VICTORY AND A MORAL ISSUE OUTWEIGHING ALL BOUNDARIES.

AGED HUNTSMAN FACES DEATH IN DENSE FORESTS

Chicago Broker Is Unharmed After Being Lost Five Days in Woods.

TELLS STORY OF DEATH FIGHT

Harris Jackson Retains Trying Experience While Wandering in the Woods of Northern Minnesota—Specter With Scythe Smiles at Him From Bushes.

Chicago—A game old huntsman, Harris Jackson, returned to Chicago the other day after a five-day and five-night wandering in the dense forests of northern Minnesota and an exhaustion overcame him and he fell upon the snow-covered ground in a remote spot. He was found by a party of hunters and taken to a nearby cabin where he was cared for. Mr. Jackson reached home unharmed and is now recovering from his ordeal. He says he was lost in the woods on the night of December 7, 1918, and was found by a party of hunters on the morning of December 12, 1918.

Harris Jackson.

When he jumped from the train at the Northwestern station Mr. Jackson was greeted by a little party of friends and business associates. Among them were Mrs. E. C. More, Mrs. Jackson, and several other friends. They were all glad to see him and to hear his story of the hunt.

If these people had expected to welcome some a hunter who had been lost in the woods for five days, they would have been disappointed. Mr. Jackson was in no way worse than when he left home. He was in good health and spirits. He says he was not afraid of the woods, but he was tired and hungry. He had no food or shelter.

"I'm here, all right," was the reply, accompanied by a broad grin and a twinkle of the eyes. "I've got my gun, my traps, and my traps are full." Mr. Jackson was in good luck. He had found a cache of food and shelter in the woods. He was able to survive for five days.

Remarable Story of the Fall and Rise of Germany's Most Popular General—Kaiser Forced to Recall Him.

New York—A woolen merchant of this city has just returned from a tour of Germany, Austria and Holland, and to a party of his friends who had luncheon with him he said that what impressed him most in Germany was the tremendous popularity of Field Marshal von Hindenburg. He said he had seen the general in a hotel here, and that he was very well liked. He said that the general was very popular among the people and that he was very well respected.

The story of von Hindenburg's fall and rise is a remarkable one. He was once the most powerful man in Germany, but he was forced to retire in 1911. He was then recalled to power in 1918, and he played a key role in the fall of the Kaiser and the rise of the Weimar Republic.

Mr. Jackson was found by a party of hunters on the morning of December 12, 1918. They were all glad to see him and to hear his story of the hunt. He was in good health and spirits. He says he was not afraid of the woods, but he was tired and hungry. He had no food or shelter.

GETS $50 A WEEK WASHING

Pennsylvania Girl Gave Up Cleaning to Take up More Business—Form of Washing Living.

Novato, Pa.—Cleaning her portion of the household is the washing of clothes. Mrs. Georgeanna Cuthbert is making $50 a week, and she handles only five washes to do it, according to her testimony in the equity action in which she is defendant and Mrs. Marie Lison, her neighbor, plaintiff.

None of the clothing I handle is washed in the laundry, Mrs. Lison says. She has a laundry in the rear of her lot in Ardmore, Pa. Mrs. Lison says that a laundry there would be undesirable, unhealthy and in violation of building restrictions. She would be unprofitable, she said, and there would be no dirt, no noise, no smell, and, in fact, no reason why this women should not be permitted to proceed with the laundry, which is to be a small one.

SHE HAD PLENTY TO WEAR

Aged Woman of Mount Holly, N. J., Was in Need of Every-Thing Else.

Mount Holly, N. J.—Rarely is it revealed that a woman, with an apparent desire to be anything more than ordinary in her tastes, had accumulated so much wearing apparel as was found to belong to Mrs. Eliza McHenry, an aged woman of this place, when it was decided this week that someone would have to take charge of her affairs.

GERMANS HAVE CASH FOR ART

High Prices Paid for Oil Paintings at Auction Sale in New York.

Berlin—Rich Germans still have money for other purposes than buying food, as is evident from an auction sale of oil paintings just held here. A collection of 144 pictures, which belonged to the late Privy Councillor Hugo Schmal of Dresden, brought a total of $285,000.

GIRLS TO LURE MEN TO ARMY

Recruiting Office in San Francisco Will Pay $1 for Each Person Obtained.

San Francisco, Cal.—The United States army authorities here have advertised for women to aid in securing recruits for the army. The advertisement, inserted by Lieut. Col. John H. Gardner, retired, who is in charge of the recruiting station here, called for "attractive, intelligent and industrious" girls for the United States army.

GOES 3,000 MILES TO WED

Washington Girl Journeys into the West of Alaska to Meet Her Husband.

Seattle, Wash.—Not the call of the North but the more potent call of the little blind god is taking Mrs. J. H. Kline, a blue-eyed daughter of Aberdeen, on a 3,000-mile journey into the heart of Alaska.

When she was married several years ago, in the southwestern Washington town, she was led to the altar by C. H. Kline, one of the prominent young civil engineers of the staff of the U. S. engineering commission.

Mr. Jackson was found by a party of hunters on the morning of December 12, 1918. They were all glad to see him and to hear his story of the hunt. He was in good health and spirits. He says he was not afraid of the woods, but he was tired and hungry. He had no food or shelter.

"LOOK AT HER PICK-UP"

"And it's just as much the gasoline as the carburetor. Any mechanic can set a carburetor right—but she'll only stay right as long as the gas stays right. Every time you switch the gas, somebody has to switch the carburetor."

To get rid of carburetor trouble, insist on Standard Motor Gasoline. It's pure. It's clean. It's powerful—and always the same, wherever you get it.

Standard Motor Gasoline is a highly refined product, every drop powerful, and every drop alike. It means flying starts, quick pick-ups, and maximum power generation.

Standard Motor Gasoline, sold wherever the sign is displayed, keeps cars on the road and out of the shops.

ARMY IS READY FOR THE WINTER

Perkins' Men Build 'V' Camps in Camps of Positive Experience.

HEATED CITIES DISAPPEAR

Soldiers Make Preparations for Living in Warmth and Comfort During the Winter Months—Perkins' Plan a Task.

Field Headquarters Positive Experience, Madison—Preparations for living in warmth and comfort during the winter months are in full swing in all the camps of the positive experience, from the border to St. Louis.

The heated cities of the winter months are disappearing and in their stead are being built up in all the camps. Already the offices of division headquarters have been transferred from big tents to a long row of double cottages.

Whole regiments are already living in heated tents. For weeks the services of men in all branches of the service have been making tents, heating stoves, and other things.

Winter clothing has not yet been issued to the troops, except overcoats. However, each heavy overcoat and winter uniform with American soldiers in cold weather. In a short time the 10,000 men of General Pershing's army will be completely fitted out for the winter months.

Big shipments of Sibley stoves are being sent to the front. They will be of great use in the houses occupied by men and officers.

This camp is situated on an elevation of about 5,000 feet, and the St. Louis mountain is nearly a thousand feet higher. No snow has fallen yet, but the nights are becoming cold.

First Winter in Field. A number of the regiments in Madison, Infantry and cavalry alike, are spending the first winter in the field in many years.

In most cases Mexican workmen are being employed by the officers to build their dwellings. Homes for the officers are being built by the troops themselves. Material such as redwood, corrugated sheet and tarpaper for roofs and glass for windows is purchased at the quartermaster's depot here.

No provision has been made yet for sheltering the thousands of horses and mules which have been brought to the front. Unlike most of his officers, General Pershing prefers a tent as a dwelling place, whether it be summer or winter. He has said there will be a "bangalore" built for him this winter.

PREPAREDNESS BEFORE CONGRESS

Public Sentiment Must Make itself Felt If Results Are To Be Secured

Washington, Dec. 15.—Now that Congress has adjourned, the public sentiment must make itself felt if results are to be secured. The House has passed the bill for the Army and Navy appropriations for 1917, but the Senate has not yet acted upon it. The bill provides for an increase in the Army and Navy, and for the improvement of the military and naval equipment. The public sentiment must be made known to the Congress, and this can be done by the use of the press and the public meetings.
