MILK STATION PLAN FAVORED BY CITIZENS

Commissioner's Report Is Given Backing At Open Forum

HOPE TO OFFER GRADE "A" AT LOW PRICE

Vote of Thanks Extended To Special Committee

Unanimous approval of the steps taken by the recently appointed Milk Commission to obtain cheaper milk for the city was given Tuesday night by the citizens, about sixty in number, present at the Open Forum meeting after the report of the commission's findings had been read. A rising vote of thanks was given the commission in addition to a vote of approval for the continuation of the commission's work as stated in the report.

The report was a most detailed one and showed conclusively that the commission had labored strenuously and earnestly to perfect the same. After considering several possible ways to obtain purer and cheaper milk the report advocated the establishment of a public milk station, the commission, comprised Chairman Ernest J. Butell, Vice-Chairman Mrs. L. M. Hampton, Treasurer, Mrs. I. W. Thorn and Secretary, Louis F. Budenz.

City Commissioner Frank L. Foulks read over the report. Mayor Furber made some remarks on the milk problem as did Mrs. I. W. Thorn and others. L. F. Budenz read the commission's report.

Mayor Furber explained his proposition to see that every child of high school age be obliged to leave school for financial reasons or because of need in the home for assistance in the household, should be given an opportunity to get high school education through aid provided in some manner from the public funds, and asked that the citizens think out a possible solution.

GIVE SCHOOLBOYS Y. M. C. A. PRIVILEGES

The next four or five Saturday mornings will be very busy ones around the Y. M. C. A. Physical Department when the annual visitation by school boys again occupy time in the gym and swimming pool in a most informal program to begin tomorrow morning with the Lincoln School. On the following Saturday, September 23, the Columbian School will make its visit and the Washington and the new Franklin on October 7. The plan, as last year, is to have all the boys ten years old and over of each school come to the building at 10 o'clock. They will take off their street shoes and go into the gym for games and stunts, and at 11 o'clock all get in the swimming pool. All boys are invited whether they are members or not. Boys who are members from other schools go in each Saturday if they so desire.

Last season each school turned out one hundred per cent, and it is expected that Lincoln, tomorrow morning, will start off the program in fine shape. Physical Director Taylor and Boys' Secretary Fairweather will welcome the boys and have a program all outlined for them. Parents and teachers are welcome to come and look on the gym program. The school principals have been notified and will encourage their boys to come.

FIREMEN WIN PARADE HONOR

Local Contingent Gets Award For Best Appearance in Line at Red Bank

In Competition With Firemen's Organizations From All Parts of the State the Rahway Delegation of Ex-Chiefs and Exempt Firemen Yesterday Won the Distinction of Being Awarded First Prize for the Finest Appearance of Any Delegation in the Big Parade Held in Connection With the Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration of the Red Bank Fire Department, Engine No. 2, with Captain Mohr and J. R. Stevens in Charge, and the Old-Time Pumping Engine of the Exempts were Taken, Representing the Old and the New Methods. Accompanying the Apparatus was One of the Largest Contingents of Firemen that the City has Ever Sent to an Out-of-Town Celebration, Numbering 200 Strong. Previous to Departing for Red Bank the Firemen met at Fire Headquarters in Milton Avenue and held a short parade through the center of the city, starting at the Exempts' headquarters in East Milton Avenue, proceeding to Irving Street, to Cherry Street, to Main Street to Soldiers' Monument and thence down Irving Street to Cherry, to Firemen's monument and railroad station. The Ex-Chiefs were accompanied by the American Fire and Drum Corps of this city, while the Exempts were led by Brogan's Band of Elizabeth.

A handsome combination mahogany desk and table was presented to the local winners. Fire Chief Anton J. Zirwes and Assistant Mintel and O'Donnell led the Rahway firemen.

PLAN SMOKER That the United Association will hold a big smoker at the Lyric Theater, Main Street, early in October was the decision made Tuesday night. The committee in charge consists of Clement L. Walker, Peter C. Voorhees and Harry Perrin. It is expected that there will be boxing exhibitions and various entertainment features. An outing for Sunday-October 1, at Seidler's Beach, was arranged and the committee in charge includes Harry Perrin, William and Fred Herman.

With every man on the payroll doing his duty to the city and the more giving all the city is entitled to would go a long way toward building a bigger and better Rahway," continued the Mayor. He laid particular stress on little things. A valuable and timely suggestion which is likely to have action was made by Commissioner Foulks with regard to the establishment of a safety patrol system among the school children. The ever increasing auto traffic was named as a reason why a patrol should be organized to safeguard against possible accidents. He stated that the system was operated successfully in Newark, Paterson, Elizabeth, Trenton, the Roselles, Perth Amboy and numerous other cities in the state, and added that information on methods of organization and the conduct of system would be turned over to the Board of Education and the police so that they could co-operate in carrying out the plan. Mr. Foulks said he would secure a lecturer and some moving pictures on the system without cost. Another plan to make traffic more easily handled and to decrease the likelihood of accident was recommended by Mr. Foulks for streets where permanent pavements exist. This consisted of painting white lines on pavements to indicate the routes of pedestrian traffic and to prevent "jay walking" which is responsible for many accidents.

In a scathing denunciation the Mayor took to task those who have sought to evade or interfere with the provisions of the sidewalk ordinance. "No matter how meritorious a project is there will probably always be some to oppose it," he said, "and anyone who stands in the way of walk improvements is far from public opinion. He said anyone who opposed the plan ought to be ashamed to appear in public and emphasized the value to the individual property owner and to the city in general by having first-class sidewalks. Mr. Furber offered a resolution providing for the payment of a suitable fee by owner, lessee or agent of any property where water was being used in construction work at not less than $5 for water and the person to pay for the installation of meter which payee became the property of the owner.

Efforts to settle fire department conditions will be made after the firemen's election in October, declared Mayor Furber. A meeting of the citizens, firemen and City Commissioners will be held and the matter discussed thoroughly. The question of motorizing the uptown hook and ladder truck will go over until then. Information as to how fire departments are being conducted in other cities the size of Rahway is being obtained, the Mayor said.

Further included the statement that an expert chemist had been engaged to inspect the plant of the Mangum Mfg. Co., Seminary Avenue, to ascertain what is being made there and what effect it has on the surrounding. Numerous complaints have been made by residents in vicinity of the plant about the alleged nuisance it creates by certain dusts and noises, said to emanate from the factory. Mayor Furber urged the residents not to be impatient, as it requires time to satisfactorily settle a matter of that nature. If an agreement can be made with the company he thought it would be better to quickly settle than attempting to force the company by legal measures.

Mayor Furber stated that bills received after Monday night will not be collected after September 15.

MAYOR SEEKS CITY WORKERS' CO-OPERATION

Would Have Several Departments Compete In Building Up Administration

COMMISSIONER FOULKSHAS SAFETY PATROL PLAN

Likening the various departments of the city administration to a big corporation, which he said could only succeed when all the individual workers co-operated for the common good, Mayor James B. Furber asked the group of about fifty city employees present at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners Wednesday night to inaugurate such a spirit in the conduct of the city's business.

The plea of the Mayor was made after he had explained the purpose of calling all the city employees to be present at the meeting. Letters had been sent out to every employee earlier in the week and there had been much guesswork as to what the summons meant. Conjectures were varied and no doubt great relief was felt by many when the purpose was announced. Some looked for a general shake-up. All employees could not be present, as some were on duty at the time.

In part Mr. Furber said: "The difference between failure and success of the administration depends on the way the employees enter into the spirit of the administration or hold back." He asked that each make suggestions as they could not fail to see about the city that could be improved. He said a rivalry might be started in making most recommendations, and suggested the six departments, including schools, fire, police, street, water and offices should perfect their own departments and pick flaws. If a person did not want to come out openly and make recommendations he said he saw no harm in an anonymous communication on something worth while.

The managers present at the meeting were: Arthur R. Wendell, Fred C. Squier, Harold M. Seales, George C. Olfert, H. H. Jardine, Fred C. Hyer, William H. Weldon, Orlando H. Dey and Walter Freeman.

Barnett, of Rahway Aerie, No. 1563, Fraternal Order of Eagles, was honored at the meeting Tuesday night when he was presented with a handsome watch and chain, suitably inscribed, in appreciation of his services to Rahway Aerie during his term as president. F. V. Dobbins made the presentation on behalf of the members, and Mr. Barnett responded in words of thanks and appreciation for the remembrance.

Popular Young Banker Made President of Rahway Savings Institution

A Special Meeting of the Board of Managers of the Rahway Savings Institution, was held Wednesday morning, at which resolutions of regret at the death of Willett H. C. Coles, president of the Institution, were adopted, and tribute paid to his high character and efficient services to the institution. The resolutions were ordered engrossed and copies sent to his widow and son, Fred W. Coles.

Mr. Freeman tendered his resignation as secretary, and was elected president and treasurer. The office of secretary will be filled later, Judge O. H. Mrs. Charles E. Corbin, wife of the City Attorney, and Brainerd Lindsay, last night captured the Mixed Doubles tennis title at the Ilderan Club after a strenuous battle, which went to the full length of three sets, with Miss Helen Gibbons and Carlton Jones. It was the first of the five contests for club honors to be decided.

All of the other contests are well advanced; all being up to or beyond the semi-finals. The Ilderan courts have this week been a veritable beehive of activity. Some superb tennis has been enjoyed and for the most part the favorites have come through.

To win last night, Mrs. Corbin and Lindsay were forced to play the games of their lives to overcome the dangerous lead captured by their opponent in the first set which they dropped, 3-6. They were equal to the task before them, however, and came through in the next two sets to win each at 6-4.

HONOR MEMORY OF CHURCHMAN

First Presbyterians Pass Fitting Resolutions On Mr. Coles' Death

Fitting resolutions on the death of Willett H. C. Coles were passed Wednesday night at a meeting of the session of the First Presbyterian Church as follows: At a meeting of the Session of the First Presbyterian Church of Rahway, N. J., on September 13, 1922, the following resolutions were adopted and ordered in the minutes and a copy sent to the widow and son of Mr. Coles: Whereas, Our Heavenly Father saw fit to remove from our earthly fellowship our revered and beloved Elder, Mr. Willett H. C. Coles, on September 10th, 1922; Be it therefore Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved widow and son, assuring them of our earnest prayers for their strength and comfort in the loss of a faithful husband and father and devoted companion, and believing always in the mercy and tenderness of God, we do commend his soul to His Fatherly care. Resolved, That while feeling the loss to the Session and our Church is irreparable, we remember with deep gratitude to God (Continued on Page Seven)

The Mayor's questionnaire to the Legion which was contained in a communication read to Rahway Post No. 5, following the commission meeting two weeks ago, is appended for use in comparing the Mayor's questions and the Legion's answers. He said: "The Mayor is ready to apologize for anything he may have said or published which is not true, but he proposes that his apology shall be effective after the Legion has explained about its attempts to curb free speech and after it answers a few questions such as: "How many of you present here were in actual service 'over seas' and how many of you present volunteered before the Selective Draft was proposed? "How many were swivel chair officers? "How many present understand Socialism and will explain what there is objectionable in the doctrine of universal brotherhood as taught by the Socialist Creed, and the doctrine that all those things cooperatively used of life's necessities should be cooperatively owned and democratically managed? "How the Legion expects this to be a free country if its members are to set themselves up in secret sessions as censors of public men whose doctrines they cannot or will not understand? "How many and what are the projects discussed by the Legion that have to do with the public welfare other than the welfare of its own members? "I should like to know before my apology becomes effective, if any officers of the Legion has approached Mr. Ramsey and offered to assist him in his fight for re-instatement on the 'free force' and also if the Legion, without regard to the welfare of the City, and purely for the inspiring movement against the Mayor, has threatened and proposes to back a movement to return the old Councilmanic form of municipal government. "Answers to these questions would be very interesting to the voters. "The Mayor's ideas and plans in his public life are open to the public—will the Legion open up its plans with equal frankness and allow the public to view its interior workings? "I am sure the public will be delighted to know the inspiring motives behind the various activities of the Legion so that it may more generously support the worthy ones like, for instance, the Soldiers' Bonus." The Legion's reply is given below in full: (Continued on Page Three)

PLAN MILK DEPOTS

The report reads: To the Honorable Commissioners and Citizens of Rahway:

"Do we people of Rahway want cheaper and better milk?" This is the question which the City Milk Commission proposes for discussion this evening. It is a question which appears absurd at first thought. But when we get into a consideration of the ways in which lower priced milk can be obtained, we find that it depends largely upon ourselves—whether we really want a lower price and what effort we will make to obtain it.

Pure and cheap milk is as necessary for a community as good and cheaper water, gas or electricity. Affecting the lives of little children, as it does, it is in many ways even more important. Governor Alfred Smith a few years ago, in a message to the New York Legislature, declared milk "a public utility." Dr. George B. Mangold, the foremost authority on child welfare in this country, also says: "The milk problem is constantly becoming a more important one, there is a larger number ever before and the danger to their health is constantly increasing." As Grade A milk is the only grade of milk that should be fed to children, it is the duty of every community to see that this grade can be easily secured at a reasonable figure.

Your Commission has made a thorough canvass of the various ways by which this desired condition can be brought about in this city. These possible methods are: 1. Legislation; 2. Co-operative Creameries and Delivery; 3. More efficient and economical methods of handling on the part of the present dealers and farmers; 4. Municipal milk stations.

These respective methods we have found offered the following advantages and disadvantages, so far as the reduction of price is concerned:

1. Legislation: is impracticable in so far as helping on our immediate problem. It means going to the State Legislature at Trenton, waiting a great deal of time for framing legislation and attempting to get it enacted into law, and finding when the legislation has been passed that you cannot constitutionally secure adequate price regulation. Also, if you could do so, the changing condition of the market make this hopelessly impossible. This was very well tested out during the World War, when several states created commissions for milk price regulation. The most notable of these commissions was the so-called Tri-State Commission, initiated by our neighboring state of Pennsylvania, mainly to protect the people of Philadelphia from extortion. The only power that these commissions ever had was one of publicity and persuasion—which helped a bit during the pressure of war time, but would prove absolutely inadequate at the present time. We therefore cannot look for any relief from this source.

2. Co-operative dairies and creameries have been very successful of late, in Minneapolis, for example, as a result of the milk drivers' strike, the union drivers and the consumers joined hands in establishing the Franklin Co-operative Creamery several years ago. The plan under which this creamery and all other co-operative enterprises operate is not to cut prices immediately but to charge about the standard price, and to return the difference in dividends to the consumers who buy the milk or any other product. The Franklin Creamery for the year just closed returned to buyers of milk under this system, $50,000 in dividends. It is grown to be the largest milk distributing agency in the northwest. Its success has encouraged other cities—Cleveland, conspicuously—to build up like co-operative plants. Cooperation deserves a great deal of credit, and this commission asks that we be allowed to obtain further information in regard to the conditions necessary to its success. For the present, however, it will not get us what we should want immediately—a cut right now in the price of best grade milk. A long campaign of education and publicity would first be needed. We are also inclined to believe that it succeeds best in communities which have a strongly organized group deeply interested in putting the enterprise across, such as a large local trade union, and that it should be linked up with other co-operative enterprises, such as savings banks, etc., thus making certain of a wide group of folks used to buying things co-operatively. These disadvantages put cooperation out of consideration, at least for some time to come.

3. More efficient and economical methods on the part of present dealers and of farmers who might become direct distributors—will bring results undoubtedly. As an example, at least three or four retail milk wagons pass the houses of each one of us each day. Expenses could certainly be cut, if some arrangement were arrived at between the various dealers whereby this duplication of routes could be done away with. Better still, some joint method of transporting milk into Rahway might be devised, particularly by farmers living within a reasonable distance. The method of cutting costs for farmers by purchasing utensils, etc., is not new—and neither is the idea of a jointly owned truck, which could cut out the cost of individual wagons. Many other economical improvements can undoubtedly be made; but this commission, of course, has no power to compel dealers and distributors to take these steps. The only way in which we can bring this about, and reduce wastes and inefficiencies, is by making the dealers adopt these economies, through our competing with them and putting a lower priced commodity in the market. You can be sure that they will then find means to economize in many ways.

4. This brings us to the only practical method that your commission has found for solving our immediate problem—the establishment of Municipal Milk Stations. These stations will not only be able to sell milk at a cheaper price, it will also induce the dealers to come down. Already, as a result of our campaign—through the mere announcement of the possible establishment of these stations—we have seen certain dealers at 15c to 14c a quart. Better than that, it will also mean that people with children will be able to get the better standard milk at a price below what Grade B milk has been selling for; and in this way, will assure better milk in substituting this higher grade for Grade B in a number of instances. Through Municipal Milk Stations, the city of Rochester, New York, was able a number of years ago to drive out Grade C milk altogether—quite a feat in a city of that size. The commission realizes that it must, in order to help Rahway particularly by farmers living within a rea-

BAMBERGER'S BASEMENT, which opened for business on September 13th, is one of the largest, and, according to many expert department store executives who have gone over the plans, one of the best laid out basement stores in the country.

Its Purpose

For years we have realized the need in Newark for a store within a store—where full regular lines of low-priced, but reliable, merchandise would be found and where the usual type of Bamberger service would prevail.

Only the lack of adequate floor space prevented our opening such a store long ago. Now that we have come into possession of much larger quarters, a basement store of the type we have pictured is ready to bid you welcome. Not only does Bamberger's Basement provide the kind of store that many thousands of people were waiting for, but it also relieves our upstairs departments of certain price lines, enabling us to develop these departments in scope and efficiency to a point hitherto impossible.

Its Policies

Bamberger's Basement handles only dependable merchandise. The prices are low, but not at the sacrifice of quality. Each department is complete in itself.

The same policy of liberality prevails in the Basement that always has prevailed and always will prevail upstairs—the same generous return privilege—the same cheerful selling service—the same "homey" atmosphere. In short, the Basement is the same old reliable Bamberger store, except that it is all on one floor.

It will pay you many times over to shop at this new popular-priced store. It is "One of America's Greatest Downstairs Stores."

LEGION DEMANDS ACTION IN ANSWER TO FURBER

Rayway, N. J.
September 11, 1922.
Mr. James B. Furber,
Mayor of the City of Rayway,
Dear Sir:

The American Legion is an organization composed of citizens of the United States of America. The members of Rayway Post No. 5, being citizens of Rayway, do not need appointment by any other authority than their citizenship to criticize the remarks, either by an official or private individual, when such remarks reflect on the men who did military service for their country.

The American Legion was organized to honor the men who died serving their country and to perpetuate the comradeships formed during the time most of our young men and many older men were serving under the flag.

We read in your open communication to Rayway Post No. 5 that you do not exactly understand the nature of the demands made upon you. The remarks addressed to you were very plain and concise in their meaning and cannot be misunderstood by anyone hearing or reading them. We quote from the remarks as follows: "We have come here tonight with the belief that an apology is due from you for the remarks in a letter written by you to the Rayway Record in reference to Memorial Day services and for other remarks made by you at subsequent date in which you have appeared to have slurred our comrades of the last war and other wars gone by, and we ask you tonight to make that apology."

Under the date of August 21, 1922, you addressed a communication to the Commander of Rayway Post No. 5, as follows:

"Samuel R. Morton, Esq.,
"Commander American Legion,
"Rayway, N. J."
"My dear Morton:
"After due deliberation I have decided that I will offer public apology to your organization and its members at the next meeting of the City Commissioners on Wednesday night. If you will invite them to be present I will appreciate it."
"Sincerely yours,
"J. B. Furber."

In which statement are you sincere?

We also question your sincerity in the statement contained in your letter of May 31st, that you have no lack of regard for the memory of those who sacrificed their lives for their country—when you follow that statement immediately with the remarks that you conceive the sacrifice may have been caused by a false idea of patriotism.

Could we have had an army of 4,000,000 men if the cause in which they went forth to war was inspired by a false idea of patriotism?

Was it a false idea of patriotism that inspired thousands, yes, tens of thousands of Mothers and Fathers to offer their all to the service of their country and for the cause of humanity?

Could it have been a false idea of patriotism that caused the citizens of our beloved country—high and low, rich and poor to pour out their hard-earned dollars in loans to the government and in gifts to succor the starving people of Europe?

You make certain charges of abuse by the American Legion in different parts of the Capitalistic press are to be believed. If the actual facts were known it would probably be found that such action was taken as a last resort, when remarks were made detrimental and humiliating to the Constitution of the United States, the principles of Americanism and those things held sacred by all red blooded and 100% Americans.

The American Legion is composed of men who have pledged themselves to foster and perpetuate a 100% Americanism, and your remarks that the supreme sacrifice made by our Soldiers and Sailors may have been made because of a false idea of patriotism cannot but be condemned by our organization as lacking the spirit of Americanism.

As to your statement regarding a delegation from the Newark Branch of our organization coming to Rayway and attempting to prevent a citizens' meeting for candidates for Commissionerships, and failing in that coming again with the avowed intention of breaking up the meeting, was this statement made with due regard for the truth, or was it injected for the purpose of creating a feeling of prejudice against the American Legion?

We know of no delegation from the Newark branch of our organization coming to Rayway for the purposes as stated by you.

You know the full facts in connection with this matter, and justice why ask in all fairness and justice why you fail to mention names, and place your criticism where it belongs?

With reference to the statistics you ask for, you have deliberately injected into this controversy, subjects entirely foreign to the question in a very evident attempt to slur and discredit the ex-service men.

The American Legion recognizes no distinction between men who were drafted and those who volunteered, nor between foreign or domestic service, but if you desire to make such discrimination the facts you have asked for may be obtained from the War Department at Washington.

Your attention is directed to the fact that no officer of the Legion nor any of its members have approached Chief Ramsey and offered to assist him in his fight for reinstatement as head of the Police Force.

With reference to the balance of the subject matter of the paragraph referred to above, are you trying again to create a feeling against the Legion by inferring that the membership of the Legion would attempt to upset the present form of City government to spite yourself?

You are apparently the recipient of much information that is false and malicious in its intent. The Legion and the public in general would be very much interested to know the source of your information.

You ask if the Legion will open up its plans and allow the public to view its interior workings. The Legion is a private organization similar in character to a Fraternal order. You are a member of several, and we do not believe you would ask them, much less expect them, to divulge their inner workings to the public.

It cannot be reasonably expected that a man who openly professes such a lack of sympathy with the policies of this government during the past five years would understand the motives of the Legion in its active support of the Soldiers' Bonus and other legislation affecting the ex-service man. But your sarcasm is unworthy and uncalled for and further indicates to us your insincerity, trying to evade the issue in hand by sarcastic comments.

At the close of your communication you state as follows:
"I shall continue to do all in my power to direct the attention of the people to existing evils in the organization of society and to the possible methods of reforming or abolishing these evils among the least of which is by no means the prevention of political control by secret orders of any kind."

There can be no doubt in the mind of the public, as there is no doubt in ours, as to just what you mean. The Legion herewith challenges you to lay any information showing that the American Legion has in any way attempted political control in Rayway, or any other place. Again by inference you are trying

DUAL-TONE
THE KING OF PHONOGRAPHS

The DUAL-TONE is the Phonograph, in its final and ultimate form--the ideal toward which all have been striving, for the last two decades.

LISTENING to the DUAL-TONE, you will find yourself swayed by master artists, as though they were with you, playing upon your emotion, with their own genius and personalities.

RESULTS have been achieved. The true tones of the Piano, the Violin, the Female Voice in its upper register--the most "difficult" tones--are reproduced, without the metallic accompaniment of old-style methods.

EVERY home should be equipped with a good Phonograph. It furnishes pleasure for the entire family, and it creates an atmosphere of entertainment and relaxation which can never be secured by the wild chase for excitement.

VISIT the RADIOLA MUSIC SHOP. Investigate this wonderful instrument. One must hear it to believe it is possible to obtain such natural reproduction.

IN YOUR HOME, you may have a demonstration of the DUAL-TONE without obligation. Phone Rahway 111-W, if you cannot call in person, and we will gladly loan a DUAL-TONE for a test.

There is one way of escape for the rent-payer, and only one, and that is to get a home of his own and pay rent to himself.

THINK IT OVER!

At Milton Lake Manor you can buy a home site on, or adjacent to the Lake

SUGHRUE'S DANCING SCHOOL
Sughrue's Dancing School, in the Proctor Theater Building, Elizabeth, will hold its twenty-second annual opening next Tuesday evening, September 19. This will interest many Rahway people, as hundreds of our best dancers have been trained at this school. The fact of Mr. and Mrs. Sughrue having taught dancing continuously at the same address for twenty-two years, is in itself a certificate of their ability and integrity; always co-operating with civic and welfare societies in the suppression of freakish, immoral dances and manners, they have earned for themselves a reputation which is frequently commended by press and public.

Always ready to adopt new dances of merit and keeping abreast of the times in all ballroom innovations, from year to year, this dancing school remains popular, liberally patronized by an appreciative public.

It is predicted there will be many changes in ballroom dances the coming season, all dances will be more of a gliding nature eliminating the hopping, dipping and all movements of a tiresome nature; a number of easy steps will be added to the fox-trot, the tango will be much danced this season, also the waltz will be greatly in vogue with a few new features which will add to its attractiveness and pleasure in dancing.

Extensive arrangements are being made for an auspicious opening when the management will be pleased to renew old friendships, as well as welcome new, after which the school will be open at all times, prepared to teach the latest as well as all the standard dances.

Making 20 Years of Racing Serve Car Owners Today

IN the early days of automobile contests, Barney Oldfield—out to win every race—studied tires. His consistent success led other drivers to ask for tires constructed to his specifications.

Twenty years of road and track victories—with a steady and increasing demand for tires as he built them—convinced Barney Oldfield that these speed tests pointed the way to a better tire for everyday use.

The enthusiastic reception of Oldfield Cords by the public proved he was right. Scores of the most prominent dealers in the country—and many thousands of car owners, experienced in the use of tires—bear witness by their decided preference that Oldfield is doing a bigger and better job of tire making.

manently, have much more data than has at present. This data has been written for, but of course, could not be secured in toto during the short time that the commission has been in existence. We want to find out, for example: a. What is the cost of milk, over a wide territory, to Jersey dealers? The percentage of the different grades of milk coming into Rahway, a necessary item in order to learn about the purity of our local milk; c. The number of dealers, their methods of handling, and the range of prices of each; d. The methods used by state and local authorities to assure pure milk—and the effect of these precautions on prices; e. Detailed information on the methods used by other cities. The facts on these points, already can be obtained, will be given publicity later, so that the people and the commission will have a complete picture of the local situation for present and future use.

The big point, however, in our opinion is not how much or by what means we are being gouged, but how we are going to cut prices for ourselves. All the investigating in the world won't do any good unless we know how to proceed in our own defense. That was why the commission immediately took up the question of what to do to get results. The whole work of the commission is based on the idea that the people outside proceed in a business-like manner to do things for themselves. There is no animosity toward the present dealers, and we think it would be foolish and futile to express such. They are in business and must get out of it all they can. But by the same token, we must take effective steps to save costs for ourselves.

The milk stations in Rochester were located in the firehouses. We have considered the possibility of placing our stations there or in the schools. But we find that the public places are not well enough located to secure the best results, at least in the beginning. Also, we can obtain marked advantages—such as care of the milk, being attention to customers, etc.—if we place the stations in stores, well located in different parts of the city. We have made tentative arrangements with a dairyman, to secure at least 170 quarts per day in the beginning. Through further arrangements with these local stores—the Van Dyck store, for example—we can sell Grade A milk at 12c per quart. At this, we will be paying the producer in the beginning a comparatively high price. But the commission felt that it is justified in doing this because we secure ourselves of the very best quality. The farm from which we can obtain this milk is conducted on a scientific and efficient basis. Pictures of the place, which we plan to run in the newspapers, will show that it follows out the methods recommended by agricultural colleges and other like agencies. We want to make this a better milk proposition as well as one lowering costs. In fact, we regard the former as the more necessary and desirable condition if there is a choice between the two. We are pretty well assured of other sources of supply, should we need them in addition to this one producer with whom a start can be made.

The milk must be sold in bulk, not in the bottle and must be called for at the stations. It is here that the best of our desire to reduce prices comes up. Will the people of Rahway walk to these stations, conveniently located, to obtain their milk? Do they do this now in great measure in regard to other things that they need—in patronizing the chain stores, for example. We think that they ought to be willing to do it in this case, because the city is comparatively small and no distance that might be between their homes and the stations would be very great. They would also be helping the better milk movement, for the reasons given, and for the additional reason that the commission plans to use these stations as centers of information on pure milk for children, etc. We were surprised to find how inadequate our own knowledge was on this subject. This is not a charitable affair, as we have pointed out in previous publicity, but a business matter. No charity for the milkman should prevent us from cutting costs for ourselves through patronizing stations, the chief purpose of which is not profit making but service. If you decide that you want to put this thing through and will co-operate to the fullest in making it succeed, the commission is prepared to go ahead and perfect its plan immediately. We want your full and frank opinion. What do you think of the idea? What will you do—and this is most important—to make it go? The commission invites your answer on these points.

WINTER THEATER, NEWARK
With a rabble of stage outfits embracing a spectacular scene called "The Land of the Fire Gods" and a picturesque glimpse of top-of-the-turvy Greenwich Village with its old assortment of teal or near Bohemians, "Keep Smiling," James E. Cooper's ambitious burlesque at Miner's Empire Theater, Newark, next week, commencing Sunday, matinee, September 17, is a pleasing novelty and one well worth a visit. There are nine scenes in the show, as well as as many changes of costumes, and 17 musical numbers. Although here are laughs and comedy, situations they are of more wholesome variety and succeed through genuine rather than the use of the double meaning. No funnier or cleaner show has been presented in this city this season. A splendid cast headed by Harry Kay, George Slocum, Barry Melton, Mercedes La Fay, Lillian Rockley, Emily Deyer, Florotte and the Three Jolly Bachelors; there is also a youthful and attractive chorus.

CLAIMS WORRY NECESSARY FOR WORLD BETTERMENT

Just when whole books were being written to teach us the ease of unconcern, just when "Why Worry" clubs were being started in the interests of a soulless serenity, an anonymous writer in the Outlook, commenting on the feverish anxiety of Cellini over the casting of his bronzes, remarked with disconcerting acidity: "The artist, who does not worry had better instantly spur himself to worry over that fact, for worry is a fundamental intellectual asset."

It is more. It is the condition upon which rests primarily the betterment of an imperfect world. Suppose Lincoln had refused to worry over slavery in the United States. Suppose he had clung to the bright, sunny, sentimental point of view which found expression in negro melodies and pithy of "My Old Kentucky Home," with care-free darkies dancing under spreading elms. There was warrant in plenty for these amiable representations, observes a writer in the Independent. They came nearer the truth than did Mrs. Stowe's lurid romance. But when great moral issues are at stake, no one has a right to spare himself a searching analysis, with all the discomfort it involves. Had Lincoln been a conscientiously complacent member of a "Why Worry" club, the history of the past sixty years might have had a different telling.

Worry has been scientifically defined as "the restless consciousness of all occurrences which we accept under protest." It seems a fairly good definition because it embraces the profoundly stimulating discontent of Henry Adams, and the fretfulness of Thomas Carlyle. Carlyle has always been held up as an awful example of discomposure. He is the card which the "Why Worry?" doctrinaires lay oftenest on the table. The lack of intellectual discipline, which is evidence in all he wrote, corresponds with the lack of temperamental discipline which is evidence in all he did. Instead of storing up nervous energy in his brain cells, which is what scientists tell us to do, he liberated his nervous energy to the extent that like Maccauley's information—it swamped everybody within reach.

A harsh and disquieting personality; but we could hold another Carlyle if the fates would send us anything so big. His incessant worrying of the conditions under which he did his work. When his books were in press he fumed and frothed as madly as did Cellini when his bronzes were in the mold, but, once free of the printer's hands, he bothered about them no more. The public might take or leave. His part in the program was over.

Our ancestors did some tough worrying over the salvation of their souls. It wasn't a soothing process, but it strengthened their moral fiber, and disposed them to balance their accounts. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle now says our souls are safe, and perhaps Sir Arthur knows, though he is a bit vague as to how he found it out. A good deal of worry, like a good deal of endeavor, is necessarily wasted. This is what the Vifzer points out so eloquently to the "Slick King of Bohemia," and the Sick King, with less eloquence and more reason, keeps on saying that he is aware of trouble when he sees it. Permanent freedom from worry involves not seeing. It also involves not thinking and not feeling. We lose a moral mainspring as well as a fundamental intellectual asset, but we can be well content without either.

MAKING PROFITS ON REAL ESTATE

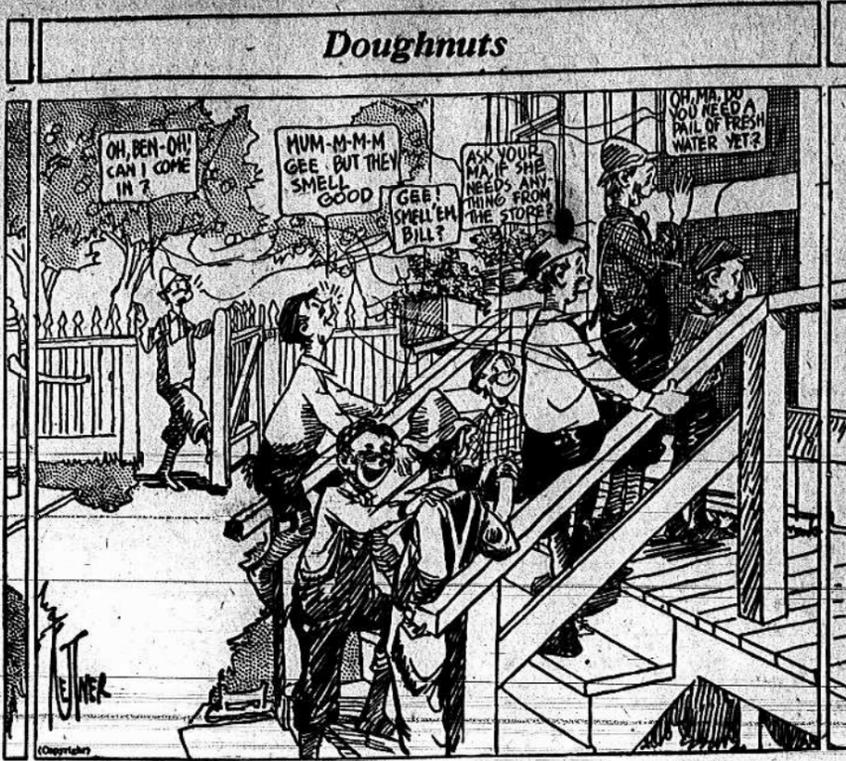

The movement to induce people to make an effort to own their own homes, should now show them how they can often turn a handsome profit by buying real estate. Many houses are sold much below their true value because they have been allowed to lapse into an unattractive condition. They may be substantially built, but the lack of superficial repairs and paint makes them look unprepossessing.

An enterprising and industrious owner can make money on places of that character, and there are chances of that kind in Rahway. If one is skilled with tools, he can make many repairs for himself. Improvements of the lawn and setting out shrubs, trees and flowers will transform a once shabby looking home, and make it a nest of beauty.

The result of such an effort is commonly to induce the neighbors to clean up and improve their property. Thus streets once disorderly and unclean for begin to take on new style and spirit. Purchasers like to move into such a location, and real estate wners find that values have enhanced without much money being spent. If sales are made, the gains are usually much greater than if the money invested had been on interest.

In most towns there are enterprising men who have turned a handsome profit by buying such places that sold at low prices because of their unattractive condition. Then they tuned them up by repairs and decoration, persuaded their neighbors to join in the development, and lifted the location to a better level on which property could be sold at a good profit.

But people who make such improvements usually become so attached to the home thus developed, into which they have put their labor of love, that the possession of the place means more than any dollars they could turn on such a deal. The existence of this spirit of development is a blessing to

AMERICA'S GREATEST INDUSTRY

The greatest industry of this country is about starting up, to run for nine or ten months. It is one in which there are no strikes. It depends upon child labor, but its finished product is good citizenship. That industry is the American school.

The American people, whose motto sometimes seems to be "Let George do it," have a way of turning over the whole responsibility for this great idealistic and practical enterprise, to teachers and school boards. They kick vehemently if the children are not well educated, yet they never ask if the success of this undertaking does not depend in large part on home co-operation.

Teachers and school boards who have to contend with parental interference, find that their plant turns out only an indifferent product. The success of school operation can be greatly promoted, and the children can be prepared for more useful and successful futures, if the homes of Rahway will co-operate with school management in these two ways:

- 1. Urge your children to make their school work their first interest. Do not allow too much of party going, late hours, and other distractions. 2. Back up school discipline. When the pupils complain they are not fairly treated, hear the teacher's side before forming an opinion.

C. D. OF A. ACTIVE

Initial steps were taken Tuesday night by Court Victory, No. 449 Catholic Daughters of America, for starting a gym class at an early date. A committee will be named and other details will be arranged later. A fund send-off was given to Miss Emma Keenan, a member of Court Victory, who has gone to Caldwell to prepare for entrance to the Sisterhood of St. Domitick. A committee to select a suitable token of appreciation was appointed, consisting of the Misses Katherine O'Connor, Margaret Egan and Alma Callaghan. It was decided to resume the monthly social sessions of Court Victory on Tuesday, September 26. The committee in charge for that date consists of Mrs. A. G. Bader, Mrs. I. R. Silverberg, Mrs. W. P. Phillip, Miss Margaret Ryan, Miss Regina McMahon, Miss Margaret Kinnealy and Miss Florence McCue.

MAYOR SEEKS CO-OPERATION

be paid until the following week hereafter. An anonymous letter had been received, the Mayor said, concerning a certain person who had done some construction work and who had not taken out a building permit while the writer of the letter had taken out a permit. Mayor Farber said the matter had been investigated and he had found that Building Inspector Tillman had followed the provisions of the ordinance and that if the complainant had taken out a permit when it was not necessary it was up to him and not the city. The party complained of did not need a permit, he reported.

"If any citizen has any complaints to make I am ready to receive them at any time and they will get proper attention as soon as possible," said Commissioner Simmons in reporting for his department. He said that some citizens were in the habit of getting annoyed when they didn't get their desires immediately, and made all sorts of threats. He issued a warning that this gains them nothing and added that all possible was being done with as much dispatch as possible.

Commissioner Simmons reported Westfield avenue had been closed, consideration given to the placing of cinders in Linden avenue and Whitler street, but action would have to be taken by the entire body if at all, remedying of sewer overflow at Scott avenue and North Oliver street, that Kline place conditions would be remedied before cold weather, and that Reeve street opening had been under Works Both Ways. "He proposed to me last night, mother. What shall I do?" "But, my dear daughter, you've only known him three weeks." "I know that, mother, but on the other hand, if I delay in accepting him, he might get out some things about me he won't like, too," Indianapolis News.

Among the communications received was one from Mrs. L. M. Hampton, of 64 Jaques avenue, suggesting that owing to the distance some children now have to go to reach the new Franklin School efforts should be made to have the motor buses carry them for half fare. This was referred to the committee of the whole.

From the Pennsylvania Railroad a letter was received relative to emptying coal cars as quickly as possible in order to aid transportation of coal. The State Highway Department asked that no more permits be granted for gasoline or oil tanks along the State highway. Mr. Simmons remarked that none had been granted except where an auto could go in and drive around the tank.

E. H. Higgins asked for street light between Pierpont street and St. George avenue on Lake avenue. This was referred to Commissioner Simmons. Similar action was taken with water extension request of Charles C. Brunt, who said he asked for extension six months ago in Jefferson avenue but as yet nothing had been done.

Edward S. Savage asked that the city follow its custom of remitting building permit charge for St. Paul's parish house, a policy which has been in effect regarding churches, charitable institutions, etc. It was the sentiment of the commissioners that the request be granted. A resolution to that effect will probably be adopted at next meeting. Mr. Savage, who is chairman of Bard of Appeals under the zoning ordinance, asked for suggestions in redrafting the ordinance. Mayor Farber said the recent petition of the citizens had practically made the amendment lately passed null and void and that a new one is being drafted.

Ordinances were adopted on final reading for laying of sewers in Ruthersford street, 200 feet northerly from East Milton avenue, and Pierpont street, 300 feet southwesterly between Maple and Hazelwood avenues.

Two resolutions were offered by Commissioner Foulke, one providing for payment of $1,750 on school bond account and $1,750 on shade tree note. Commissioner Simmons offered resolutions providing for sewerage bids on September 27 on sewers mentioned above, and also for installation of an electric light in Central avenue and Charlotte place.

The nomination of William Keyes for assistant chief engineer in the fire department was received from the Independence truck company. Bacteriologist Waldo S. Coulter reported on the condition of city water from July 30 to August 26. The report said there had been no high turbidity and that the color was normal at all times. It has been safe for domestic use from the standpoint of disease as indicated by the B-coli test.

MICKIE'S RANTINGS

MICKIE SAYS

IF I WUZ RUNNIN' A GARAGE, TO ADVERTISE 'N GIT BUZZ OFF OVER-HAUL JOBS TO LAST ME ALL WINTER, INSTEAD OF HAVIN' THEM COME IN NEXT SPRING WHEN I'D BE BIZZIER THAN A ONE-LEGGED TIGHTY ROPE WALKER!

Seems more like "brutely art" for me than anything else. When two guys stand face to face and soak each other for all they are worth, one or the other and maybe both sore does get hurt—suffers pain. This not only affects their physical qualities, but their tempers, and makes them feel downright ugly toward each other. 'Tain't good for their dispositions. As human beings has 'nough animal in us without poundin' more in.

To my mind the art of self-defense is a doggone good thing to know, but when it is put on exhibition to the extent that the exhibitors are damaged mentally, morally and physically, just for the purpose of amusing a certain coterie of "sports," and add a few shekels to the treasury of an organization, think it is entirely out of its proper place.

Since we readin' the list of "questions and quizzes" so garrulously thrown at the ex-service men, at the time they all pilgrimaged down to the place where the chief executive preaches the doctrine of universal brotherhood and some other kinds of hoods from his own swivel chair, I have been puzzlin' me upper story mechanism just what the learned official meant by "amor patriae" in his quiz end. I don't seem ter be able to find anything which looks just like that in the purpose of "sports," and as a result of my fruitless search, I have about come to the conclusion that it do not belong in this country.

"Amor patriae," accordin' ter the Hon. Mayor's statement, "has different faces." Now if I only knewed just what that amor patriae meant I would know how many faces it had. I heard it said, it was darned unhandy ter be poor, and I can now and here say it's darn exasperatin' ter be ignorant. Don't see why the Hon. Mayor uses such words for when he gets ready ter make a noise. Might know us "Amor patriae," "Good Queen Bess, and Anon of Bloody Mary." "Spurious articles," "poets and hymns of praise," "reprehension of vice," "condemnation of evil," "universal brotherhood," "Socialist Creed"—Lord, what a conglomeration of different dictionaries he translated and transplanted for this one particular occasion and purpose—simply ter camouflage the whole darn outfit of the main difference (twixt the ex-service boys and the Hon. Mayor. Don't ring true 'till ter me.

I've specially noticed that since the Hon. Mayor decided he would rather be a big toad in a little puddle than a gosh dang mite in a big puddle, politically, he has been harpin' on that combination, "universal brotherhood" stuff. Accordin' ter me own dispectin' of this here beautiful sanctimonious-like twin put together of words, it means peace in the family, the community, the state, the country, the world. Yet all the time since his conversion the Hon. Mayor has been quarrelin', snappin', bitin' like at all quarters, who dare think above a whisper, which does not just meet with his own ideas. Seems like kinder funny brotherhood; don't fit in at all, harmonious-like.

Then again the Hon. Mayor seems ter be possessed with the idea he's the only bird in the nest which knows anything. I've about concluded that when he was a little boy, runnin' around chasin' butterflies he was the subject matter of a great big bee which gave him an awful sting under his hat. Amor patriae!

"Respected brands are sometimes placed upon spurious articles," the Hon. Mayor so said. Wonder does he know that from experience, or did he get that also from a book? Me own big book of reference gives the explanation that "spurious is not genuine; counterfeit; false." The Hon. Mayor would have all us fellers ter believe everything he thinks or does is purely honest, straight out and out. Course, if we don't think too loud we can refuse ter permit it to percolate, but then, we do not entertain the image of Good Queen Bess. Amor patriae!

Gosh! I got ter stop writin' this heavy stuff. I'm gettin' a respected brand of headache. Amor patriae!

Me sympathies go out to me old friend, the "Grandstand Hound" in his latest trouble. Surely the "way of the transgressor is hard."

Mister Louis F. Budenz, welcome to our city. The Hon. Mayor has the keys, or I would certainly hand them over to you without future hesitatin'. A man with a record like yer hands out for public perusal in our home town paper of Tuesdays comout, is surely a valuable asset ter any home town community. In extendin' me felicitations, I have but one request, ter wit: Will yer please send me a copy of yer non-prostituted paper? Since readin' yer beautiful story I have tried ter buy a copy of yer periodical at several newsstands in Newark, but they say they never heard of it. Please address it care of the Rahway Record. Thanks, MICKIE.

JAS. MCCOLLUM
Cherry and Irving Street, Rahway, N. J.

(Written Entirely By Meself)

See by the newspaper report of a recent public meeting of the three law administrators' officials a resolution was spread upon the pages of Mator; Fred Williams' big book that it be considered a contraction attack be made upon the sidewalks 'butlin' the vehicular path down Cherry street. As I understand the idea is ter take two feet from each side of the human beings' walk and give it over to the vehicular drivers. Done for the purpose of safety in preventin' collisions of autos, etc., in the roadway.

But, just wanted ter ask the wise ones at the city hall have they taken into consideration the possibility of what's likely to happen particularly on Saturday nights, after they have narrowed up the sidewalks. Going ter tell ye gentlemen, right here and now, that when these home town mothers get going with their one-cylinder baby carriages in opposite directions, and stop ter compare babies and indulge in some choice bit of town scandal or coal famine possibilities, there's surely going ter be some collisions. Make a mental picture if you can of two females coming in opposite directions, each pushing their fond offspring in their respective family bus, arriving side along side they shut down the brakes and start a mutual admirin' society, each one on the outside direction of the cars, facin each other, and stoopin' over ter admire the other woman's darling well, the result is about twelve feet of the footpath is blocked, and us poor relatives of Adam are compelled ter go into the street ter get by, and take chances of gettin' hit by some reckless blokes rummin' autos. Sure do fear if the idea is passed to completion the remedy for the trouble will be worse than the disease.

I was never accused in my life of havin an original idea, but I'm going ter offer two right this minute, and I guarantee with all the security of Mister Jan Vanlierwerden's safety boxes, that if they are adopted by the law administratin' body that they will prevent accidents, ter wit:

Idea No. 1—Make the sidewalk traffic a one-way program.

Idea No. 2—Have a curfew law, keepin' the women and their family carriages off of the sidewalk Saturday nights.

Please omit flowers.

Since my last comout in Friday's paper I have received the two following communications, ter wit:

"September 9th.

"Mickie:—

"Some d— f— one Saturday night tried to turn his car around in Cherry street when both sides were lined with autos of people who left them there to go to the movies, and that started all the trouble. How much better it would have been if Mr. Bill 'Motor' Vehicule Commissioner had not granted him a license.

"Yours.

"CAR OWNER—

Does seem strange and unreasonable-like that such mutton heads are granted a license. Think every feller who applies for license ter drive a car should be put under observation for a period of time. The guy you refer to is nearly as bad as that feller short time ago, who lighted a match ter see whether he had any gas in his tank. No brains!

"September 11th.

"Mickie:—

"There is an ordinance in town prohibiting the display of goods on sidewalks, but the Mayor says you can ignore the ordinance if you pay fifty cents per square foot rental. Maybe Dr. Randolph will be compelled to pay fifty cents per foot for his stoop. Main street, at Dr. Randolph's, has one person passing, as to twenty persons passing on Cherry street, and yet the Mayor wants to cut down Cherry street sidewalks and make Main street walks wider.

"Sincerely yours,

"BEWILDERED."

That stoop referred to is a hard nut ter crack. Don't believe the Hon. Mayor will ever collect rental for the space it occupies. It's a second rock of Gibraltar. The Hon. Mayor is not the only feller ter hit it. Some years ago a guy run into it with a snow-blow, but I guess outside makin' Mister Doctor Randolph little bit sore, no damage was done. But don't lose any sleep over it, the Hon. Mayor has it under observation for future action. As ter ignorin' the ordinance—well, that's not the first thing he ever ignored.

Think the gent who selected the flag for the pole in front of the high school building must have been fog-eyed. The flag should be several sizes larger ter harmonize with the mast. Now reminds you of a fat guy 'arin' a small size hat.

I sure do regret ter see how our home town paper is "playin' up" what it terms boxing shows, held by the ex-service boys on Winkler's Thirty Acres. Never could get in sympathy with this kind of pastime. I know it is termed the "manly art," etc., but I can't just connect it up that way.

BOBBY WITHERIDGE IS A REAL COMER

Local Bantam, Who Will Star On Vets Boxing Card Monday, Has Fine Record

Perennially scrappers are pushed to the fore by enterprising managers and press agents and are placed before the boxing public as sure world-beaters, certain champs and unbeatable wizards of the squared circle—all because said boxer may have won a tilt or two from some unknowns, but once in a while a real good battler comes down the pike by way of long strenuous campaign in which the best obtainable opposition has been downed. And when such a man does put in an appearance a royal welcome is certain to be his.

Which leads to the object of this article. For months Manager "Mickey" Moran has been grooming young Bobby Witheridge, of this city, for bigger things in the ring. Without any surplus publicity to the youngster's efforts Moran has brought him on over every hill of opposition encountered. First it was prelims of minor nature but as Bobby my reason of his two-fisted winning punches put to rout the opposition as it came up in these less attractive scraps promoters in Jersey City and Long Branch have realized his worth and given to Witheridge pretty regularly.

Followers of the game youngster believe that Witheridge is ready for big bouts and that his outlook for the bantam crown is good, and the promoters of the Disabled Veterans show to be held at "Winkler's Thirty Acres" next Monday night, September 18, decided to give the Rahway lad his start as a headliner right here in his home town.

Accordingly Bobby has been matched with Midget Ritchie, a real fighter from Newark, with a splendid record behind him and a good future ahead. The scrap will be the star attraction of an all-star card, and local fight fans can well show their appreciation of the Veterans' efforts to give them the best and also what they want, by turning out in droves Monday night.

If boxing is to be a success in this city local fans must get in the lines past the box office. Clamor has been raised for the past two months for the management to put Witheridge on and the opportunity is now presented. A record turnout should be the result.

A well-balanced card will support the main bout. In the semi-final Frankie Ward, of Elizabeth, will take on Joey Russell, of Newark, in a bang-up match for six rounds or less. Both of these lads have good records and from past experiences there will be action from start to finish in this scrap.

One of the redeeming features of the last Vets' card was the showing of Young Hobby, the local colored fighter, and because of his fine showing the dusky lad will be on the program Monday night. This time Smiling Willie Wallace, of Elizabeth, will furnish the opposition to Hobby. The colored boy hopes to send Wallace the way of Battling Kuntle, Perth Amboy, who took the count in Hobby's last scrap after taking one of the worst beatings ever given a man in the local ring.

One other local boxer of promising future to be booked for this show is Young Lester Applebaum, who will meet Young Beaver, of Betsytown. Lester has appeared before local fans three times before and has given the best kind of an account of himself on each occasion. His style is improving.

Although not a local scrapper Young Cobby has appeared here before and is well liked for two big reasons—his gameness and his ability to handle his mitts. The boy has long passed the novice stage and no doubt Battling McKenna, of Newark, will think he has been playing with T. N. T. before he gets out of the ring Monday night. All in all, it will be some show if past performances are any indication whatsoever.

For any pain, burn, scald or bruises, apply Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil—the household remedy. Two sizes 30c and 60c at all drug stores—Adv.

POLITICAL NEWS

SILZER PLATFORM PLEDGES OUTLINED

There was issued recently from the New Brunswick headquarters—of Judge George S. Silzer, Democratic candidate for governor, a pamphlet in which the candidate outlines his platform under the caption of "George S. Silzer Pledges Himself." These pledges are:

To appoint no unfit person to public office.

To abolish unnecessary offices and commissions.

To meet the just needs of all who rendered service in the World war.

To more adequately protect men, women and children employed in factories, and to give them proper compensation for injuries.

To make faddists pay the cost of their experiments out of their own pockets.

To make all who spend public money feel the restraining influence of responsibility to the taxpayers.

To maintain the direct primary and give women voters the rights to which they are morally and legally entitled.

To promote the best interests of the industries of New Jersey and the general prosperity of the state.

To develop the budget system in city, county and state, and reorganize the state government on a business basis.

WILL START SERIES FOR COUNTY HONORS

Locals and Caseys Will Kick In Big Diamond Contests. Opener Tomorrow

Rahway vs. Elizabeth Caseys, for the County Championship is the dish which has been prepared for local baseball fans through the progressive efforts of Manager John Duff, and the initial combat will take place tomorrow afternoon at Riverside Park. Having captured the honors in the full-fledged county loop during the first half and repeating during the second half in the curtailed circuit, still so-called a county league, the Caseys are all by themselves with no outfit to oppose them in a post-season series within the league itself. Inasmuch as they had eliminated the Ports and Roselle Park from consideration for such a series by winning over those outfits in the league race, and the Stars disbanded and Rahway has constantly demonstrated its superiority over the Pearls, Linden and Garwood, so Johnny O'Leary and Company motored over to Rahway Tuesday night and held confab with Manager Duff, with the result that the County Championship series is on.

Without a doubt a more popular series could not have been arranged in this county for the intense rivalry that has existed between the two teams on the diamond this season is well known and is a worthy rivalry because both teams have put up stellar exhibitions throughout. The Caseys have the best of the argument thus far in the number of games captured but the results have been so close that the slightest twist in the trend of things would have thrown the advantage the other way on several occasions. The nines will be about evenly matched.

It was decided at the conference between the two managements to play a series of three games, the third to be played if needed. The first tilt will be tomorrow, as aforesaid, and will take place on Riverside Park. The second battle will be fought out on the Casey grounds Sunday, October 1, and the last tilt if neither outfit can capture the first two battles will be arranged at a later date, likely on neutral grounds. In addition to coveting the county honors the local aggregation will be out there tomorrow to secure sweet revenge on the Elizabeth Champs for past defeats. Old Reliable Eddie Durand will take the mound, Manager Duff stated today, and he will have the usual Saturday star combination behind him.

The pitching for the Caseys will no doubt be done by Jimmy Dooley and if so there will be a great battle or twirling wits fought by those two heavy moundsmen, Durand and Dooley. Both pitchers are known to have considerably more with their headpieces than with their arms and to book them on opposing nines assure a great duel in the box. Sunday's attraction for local fans who make it their business to follow the R. B. A. wherever the blue goes, will be at Perth Amboy with the Pacers of that place as opponents. Rain broke up the contest scheduled three weeks ago with the Ambrosians but the weatherman has promised a clear sky for Sunday. The battle is sure to be one of the best of the season. Wilroy Schultz will twirl.

One way to relieve habitual constipation is to take regularly a mild laxative. Doan's Regulets are recommended for this purpose. 30c a box at all drug stores.—Adv.

Important Matters Brought to Public Attention by Interested Readers

September 12, 1922.

Editor, Rahway Record, Rahway, N. J.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Of course there are comparatively few people who are interested enough to have patience enough to read through "Mickie's Rantings," but even those few, and however simple-minded they may be, ought to be set straight on municipal affairs. Prejudiced statements twisted in their presentation can do considerable harm and that is my only excuse for continuing to reply to Mickie's attacks.

This correspondent, who occupies so much of your space, evidently never heard the expression "one should not look a gift horse in the mouth." The present Mayor tried to make it as convenient as possible for the public by establishing regular office hours at the City Hall. The other City officials whose whole time is paid for and given to City business also have their regular office hours. The Mayor was under no obligation to do this, the others were. How does it happen that Mickie fails to note the absence of friends Tillman and Wright on their vacations. The Mayor was absent from the office during his established office hours several times recently because he was out of the City, but not on a single occasion when he was in the City. Mickie's criticism just under the circumstances? Did he make any attempt to learn the cause?

Now about the municipal bulletin board: the material was bought, cut and paid for four years ago. The electric fixtures were bought and paid for four years ago. They were both bared either by neglect or willfulness by the previous Commissioners because the project was not one of their own and they were apparently in office for no other purpose than to kill everything proposed by the writer as a Commissioner at that time, and with no intent to do anything constructive themselves.

The resolution for the erection of the bulletin board was carried unanimously by the Commissioners and then, after spending the money for materials it was thrown in the discard. Possibly Mickie can explain why this was done and possibly he can make his explanation amusing as well, although his style of humor has been pronounced by many as exceedingly crude.

Very truly yours,
JAMES B. FURBER.

READ THE RECORD.

Clark Township and Vicinity

The Township political pot nearly boiled over last week. At least, John O'Keefe nearly fell out of the pot when he read Friday's Record. He blames a certain individual also for inspiring the jibe at his campaign.
He is wrong there, but frankly we must continue to regard John as harmless in a political or other context, pinocchio included.

John O'Keefe says he has assurances that the Swedish-Americans are with him to a man. What strange bed-fellows politics make—a scion of the house of O'Keefe in alliance with his hereditary foes, the Norsemen!

The flirtations of Charles Brewer with the G. O. P. is raising the choler of Dame Democracy. Rightly so, Charles, one sweetheart suffices for any man other than a Turk, and no man can serve two parties any better than he can serve two masters.

It was expected that J. B. McDonnell would be a candidate in the primaries for the Township Committee.
We cannot understand his non-appearance. Every newcomer here in recent years has tried out his political wings.
Perhaps Mac was forewarned by the fate of the Boulevard Twins.
—And this reminds us that these same Twins have not broken into the news columns in weeks. If they do not watch out, our other famous twins, Adam and Eve (Budrics) will be elected to office ahead of them.
And while on the subject of twins be it known that now we have a third pair. On Saturday Mill Row had its first view of the Twin Kops, Matt and Jeff. Till then we were unaware that Bud Fisher's originals were in our midst.

Mr. Deter, operator of the Clark Rahway bus line, is issuing school tickets at a greatly reduced figure from the normal rate. Already this has proved a great convenience Strange, is it not, that the very people who not long since characterized Mr. Deter as an "unknown jitneur," regularly avail themselves of his bus service? So far from being unknown, Mr. Deter is known to a hundred of us poor commuters as the man who saves us thirty cents per head per week.

Commissioner Simmons of our neighbor village of Rahway is certainly a Job's comforter. For months he has promised to improve the condition of Hamilton street and the mud hollow connecting it with Westfield avenue. A little better balance between performance and promise would be appreciated very much by those of his friends condemned to use the highways in question.

Residents of Mill Row and Valley Road were greatly perturbed last Saturday night when a mysterious silver ran slowly up and down the latter thoroughfare. The recent appearance of hoodlums and bootleggers from Woodbridge led people to think that these gentry had returned.
Constable Humiston investigated and found that the car had brought thither two special officers to patrol that section! Ye gods and silver pilots, that is on such unnecessary details that the taxpayers' money is being expended. The residents of Valley Road and Mill Row are as peaceful and law-abiding as any others of our community. Like most of us they have never injured anyone but themselves—a right, not a privilege, we all claim, as we do the right to live undisturbed and unwatched by foreign-born janitors masquerading as gunshoe sleuths.

School Board Meeting
The Board of Education met at the local school on Tuesday evening. The question of enforcing the attendance laws came in for discussion. It was decided to draw up a formal notice to be sent to parents warning them of the penalties. The Valley Road residents petitioned the Board for a bus service for the children of that section. The Board, lacking the necessary funds, voted to borrow $2,500 for this and other purposes and set a date early next month for the citizenry to signify their approval or otherwise of this loan.

Mr. Holland was empowered to confer with Mr. Deter, omnibus operator, regarding the purchase of tickets at reduced fare for those children who welled along the bus route or near thereto.

The question of renting additional space to take care of the over-crowding caused Mr. Andren to voice his disapproval of the plan outlined.
Members of the Board are elated at the fact that the registration is only 207, thus negating the prophets of evil who last Spring predicted a registration of 250 and wanted to build a four-room brick school for, as it now proves, eighteen children.

To feel strong, have good appetite and digestion, sleep soundly and enjoy life, use Burdock Blood Bitters, the family system tonic. Price, $1.25.—

CHILDREN'S HOUR
Boys and Girls! How would you like to take a trip on "The Magic Carpet"? Do you remember? You can make a wish and immediately you are flying through the air and can visit any country you please.
Come to the Library Saturday morning at ten o'clock and we will start on a journey round the world to visit some of the children in other lands.
