

The Railway Record

J. H. MARPLE, Publisher
WALTER P. MARPLE, Business Manager
W. C. WOODWARD, Editor
This Newspaper was Founded and is Maintained Upon the Principle of a Youngster who didn't know any better because of his tender age killed his mother. That family, and especially that boy's life, will carry this blight to the grave.

FRIDAY GOOD MORNING SEPT. 13, 1935

Tuesday's Primary

Next Tuesday's primary election is vitally important to the future welfare of Rahway. On that day, we will nominate the men who will represent us on the city governing body next year, a year which will determine to a large extent whether the city is to continue coming out of the depths of economic despair or mark time because we don't tame the right men to guide us to a higher plane.

The Record is making no effort to induce voters to support certain local candidates. There are contests in only three wards this year, and these are the most important. To aid voters in knowing their candidates, we have gone to considerable trouble and expense today to publish much about the majority of our local candidates.

We urge voters to make themselves acquainted with their candidates and vote for those they think are the most qualified. The question of party and friendship should not concern the voters next Tuesday. We want men of training and experience.

There are a number of good candidates this year. Their calibre exceeds the list which was submitted last year, most of them. There are also the usual number of candidates who are not qualified to run the affairs of a $21,000,000 corporation. We think the voters will eliminate these Tuesday by throwing their support to the most qualified candidates.

Rahway voters in the past have erred in considering political party instead of the qualifications of candidates. But times are changing. Let's change them even more this year by supporting the men who are most qualified by training and experience to run our affairs for us.

If we do, we will be helping ourselves by aiding our city to take a step forward. We voters know which candidates will give us the best service. Let's get out and support them Tuesday.

Support Brooks Tuesday

Rahway voters, regardless of political affiliation, will be protecting the best interests of the city if they support Alfred C. Brooks in his efforts to again get the Republican nomination to the Board of Freeholders.

Anyone who has followed the progress of the city knows that during his term on the county governing body, "Johnnie" Brooks has done his best to aid his native city. He has consistently supported, with the aid of his colleague from Rahway, Freeholder Clifford B. Gehring, any project which would aid the city.

As a member of the Board, he has been able to have the county take over Scott avenue and Milton avenue, two streets which have cost the city much to maintain and were both in deplorable condition. Brooks has been the only man to obtain action on these streets despite efforts others have been making for years.

It is important that Rahway maintain its representation on the Board of Freeholders. Thus, it behooves Democrats as well as Republicans to support Brooks. Rahway's vote for the Freeholder candidate Tuesday should be based on politics, not on party. Brooks is concerned. A vote for him is not a vote for a Republican—it is a vote for a man who will continue to give good service to Rahway if Rahway voters give him a chance.

Firearms Laws

The tragic death of a Rahway mother in an accidental shooting last weekend emphasizes the fact that present state and national regulations covering the use of firearms are entirely inadequate.

Practically every state has a different set of laws governing firearms and the majority of these laws are extremely lax. In New York, it is illegal to have firearms in the home while in New Jersey, there is no law covering this practice.

In this state, one needs a permit to carry a shooting piece but there is no restriction preventing persons from having a gun in the home or business place.

While the practice of having a gun in the home gives many persons a feeling of added security, it is doubtful if the risk involved is worth this extra protection. Persons with young children around the home or business place are inviting danger by leaving a revolver in a place where a youngster can reach it.

Even with grown-ups being the sole occupants of homes with revolvers tucked away in the bureau drawer many times trouble is invited. A person with an uncontrollable temper will shoot a gun at another person in a rage and then regret his act later. If a gun had not been kept in the house, this act would be impossible.

Children today, probably more than those of any other period, are surrounded with an environment which creates in them a desire to shoot a gun at an early age. Some of our atrocious radio programs and movies excite this desire in them. Greedy manufacturers, with an eye on profits rather than the public welfare, sell toy guns at low prices and are responsible for distributing them among a majority of our children. Walk along a Rahway street any day and watch children playing and you will usually see them in games where the "shooting" of toy guns plays an important part.

Parents and law makers are to blame for the accidental killings, especially the local one where a youngster who didn't know any better because of his tender age killed his mother. That family, and especially that boy's life, will carry this blight to the grave.

The time for immediate action is long since past and the situation is growing worse. It would seem with our large number of lawmakers, all with a burning desire to author a law, that we would have an end to accidental shootings.

Make it mandatory for every person who owns a gun to demonstrate common sense and a knowledge of firearms before allowing him to possess one. Put an end to radio and movie programs which feature gun play and taboo toy guns from the market. In other words, make it extremely difficult for persons to own guns, toy or genuine, and accidental shootings will at least decrease in number.

And with these accidental shootings will also decrease the number of crimes which have been caused by the easy access which we give unqualified persons in the possession of firearms.

We urge voters to make themselves acquainted with their candidates and vote for those they think are the most qualified.

The question of party and friendship should not concern the voters next Tuesday. We want men of training and experience.

There are a number of good candidates this year. Their calibre exceeds the list which was submitted last year, most of them. There are also the usual number of candidates who are not qualified to run the affairs of a $21,000,000 corporation. We think the voters will eliminate these Tuesday by throwing their support to the most qualified candidates.

Rahway voters in the past have erred in considering political party instead of the qualifications of candidates. But times are changing. Let's change them even more this year by supporting the men who are most qualified by training and experience to run our affairs for us.

If we do, we will be helping ourselves by aiding our city to take a step forward. We voters know which candidates will give us the best service. Let's get out and support them Tuesday.

Anyone who has followed the progress of the city knows that during his term on the county governing body, "Johnnie" Brooks has done his best to aid his native city. He has consistently supported, with the aid of his colleague from Rahway, Freeholder Clifford B. Gehring, any project which would aid the city.

As a member of the Board, he has been able to have the county take over Scott avenue and Milton avenue, two streets which have cost the city much to maintain and were both in deplorable condition. Brooks has been the only man to obtain action on these streets despite efforts others have been making for years.

It is important that Rahway maintain its representation on the Board of Freeholders. Thus, it behooves Democrats as well as Republicans to support Brooks. Rahway's vote for the Freeholder candidate Tuesday should be based on politics, not on party. Brooks is concerned. A vote for him is not a vote for a Republican—it is a vote for a man who will continue to give good service to Rahway if Rahway voters give him a chance.

Even with grown-ups being the sole occupants of homes with revolvers tucked away in the bureau drawer many times trouble is invited. A person with an uncontrollable temper will shoot a gun at another person in a rage and then regret his act later. If a gun had not been kept in the house, this act would be impossible.

Children today, probably more than those of any other period, are surrounded with an environment which creates in them a desire to shoot a gun at an early age. Some of our atrocious radio programs and movies excite this desire in them. Greedy manufacturers, with an eye on profits rather than the public welfare, sell toy guns at low prices and are responsible for distributing them among a majority of our children. Walk along a Rahway street any day and watch children playing and you will usually see them in games where the "shooting" of toy guns plays an important part.

Parents and law makers are to blame for the accidental killings, especially the local one where a youngster who didn't know any better because of his tender age killed his mother. That family, and especially that boy's life, will carry this blight to the grave.

The time for immediate action is long since past and the situation is growing worse. It would seem with our large number of lawmakers, all with a burning desire to author a law, that we would have an end to accidental shootings.

Make it mandatory for every person who owns a gun to demonstrate common sense and a knowledge of firearms before allowing him to possess one. Put an end to radio and movie programs which feature gun play and taboo toy guns from the market. In other words, make it extremely difficult for persons to own guns, toy or genuine, and accidental shootings will at least decrease in number.

And with these accidental shootings will also decrease the number of crimes which have been caused by the easy access which we give unqualified persons in the possession of firearms.

We urge voters to make themselves acquainted with their candidates and vote for those they think are the most qualified.

The question of party and friendship should not concern the voters next Tuesday. We want men of training and experience.

There are a number of good candidates this year. Their calibre exceeds the list which was submitted last year, most of them. There are also the usual number of candidates who are not qualified to run the affairs of a $21,000,000 corporation. We think the voters will eliminate these Tuesday by throwing their support to the most qualified candidates.

Rahway voters in the past have erred in considering political party instead of the qualifications of candidates. But times are changing. Let's change them even more this year by supporting the men who are most qualified by training and experience to run our affairs for us.

If we do, we will be helping ourselves by aiding our city to take a step forward. We voters know which candidates will give us the best service. Let's get out and support them Tuesday.

Anyone who has followed the progress of the city knows that during his term on the county governing body, "Johnnie" Brooks has done his best to aid his native city. He has consistently supported, with the aid of his colleague from Rahway, Freeholder Clifford B. Gehring, any project which would aid the city.

As a member of the Board, he has been able to have the county take over Scott avenue and Milton avenue, two streets which have cost the city much to maintain and were both in deplorable condition. Brooks has been the only man to obtain action on these streets despite efforts others have been making for years.

It is important that Rahway maintain its representation on the Board of Freeholders. Thus, it behooves Democrats as well as Republicans to support Brooks. Rahway's vote for the Freeholder candidate Tuesday should be based on politics, not on party. Brooks is concerned. A vote for him is not a vote for a Republican—it is a vote for a man who will continue to give good service to Rahway if Rahway voters give him a chance.

Even with grown-ups being the sole occupants of homes with revolvers tucked away in the bureau drawer many times trouble is invited. A person with an uncontrollable temper will shoot a gun at another person in a rage and then regret his act later. If a gun had not been kept in the house, this act would be impossible.

Children today, probably more than those of any other period, are surrounded with an environment which creates in them a desire to shoot a gun at an early age. Some of our atrocious radio programs and movies excite this desire in them. Greedy manufacturers, with an eye on profits rather than the public welfare, sell toy guns at low prices and are responsible for distributing them among a majority of our children. Walk along a Rahway street any day and watch children playing and you will usually see them in games where the "shooting" of toy guns plays an important part.

Parents and law makers are to blame for the accidental killings, especially the local one where a youngster who didn't know any better because of his tender age killed his mother. That family, and especially that boy's life, will carry this blight to the grave.

The time for immediate action is long since past and the situation is growing worse. It would seem with our large number of lawmakers, all with a burning desire to author a law, that we would have an end to accidental shootings.

Make it mandatory for every person who owns a gun to demonstrate common sense and a knowledge of firearms before allowing him to possess one. Put an end to radio and movie programs which feature gun play and taboo toy guns from the market. In other words, make it extremely difficult for persons to own guns, toy or genuine, and accidental shootings will at least decrease in number.

And with these accidental shootings will also decrease the number of crimes which have been caused by the easy access which we give unqualified persons in the possession of firearms.

We urge voters to make themselves acquainted with their candidates and vote for those they think are the most qualified.

The question of party and friendship should not concern the voters next Tuesday. We want men of training and experience.

There are a number of good candidates this year. Their calibre exceeds the list which was submitted last year, most of them. There are also the usual number of candidates who are not qualified to run the affairs of a $21,000,000 corporation. We think the voters will eliminate these Tuesday by throwing their support to the most qualified candidates.

Rahway voters in the past have erred in considering political party instead of the qualifications of candidates. But times are changing. Let's change them even more this year by supporting the men who are most qualified by training and experience to run our affairs for us.

If we do, we will be helping ourselves by aiding our city to take a step forward. We voters know which candidates will give us the best service. Let's get out and support them Tuesday.

Anyone who has followed the progress of the city knows that during his term on the county governing body, "Johnnie" Brooks has done his best to aid his native city. He has consistently supported, with the aid of his colleague from Rahway, Freeholder Clifford B. Gehring, any project which would aid the city.

As a member of the Board, he has been able to have the county take over Scott avenue and Milton avenue, two streets which have cost the city much to maintain and were both in deplorable condition. Brooks has been the only man to obtain action on these streets despite efforts others have been making for years.

It is important that Rahway maintain its representation on the Board of Freeholders. Thus, it behooves Democrats as well as Republicans to support Brooks. Rahway's vote for the Freeholder candidate Tuesday should be based on politics, not on party. Brooks is concerned. A vote for him is not a vote for a Republican—it is a vote for a man who will continue to give good service to Rahway if Rahway voters give him a chance.

Even with grown-ups being the sole occupants of homes with revolvers tucked away in the bureau drawer many times trouble is invited. A person with an uncontrollable temper will shoot a gun at another person in a rage and then regret his act later. If a gun had not been kept in the house, this act would be impossible.

Children today, probably more than those of any other period, are surrounded with an environment which creates in them a desire to shoot a gun at an early age. Some of our atrocious radio programs and movies excite this desire in them. Greedy manufacturers, with an eye on profits rather than the public welfare, sell toy guns at low prices and are responsible for distributing them among a majority of our children. Walk along a Rahway street any day and watch children playing and you will usually see them in games where the "shooting" of toy guns plays an important part.

Parents and law makers are to blame for the accidental killings, especially the local one where a youngster who didn't know any better because of his tender age killed his mother. That family, and especially that boy's life, will carry this blight to the grave.

The time for immediate action is long since past and the situation is growing worse. It would seem with our large number of lawmakers, all with a burning desire to author a law, that we would have an end to accidental shootings.

Make it mandatory for every person who owns a gun to demonstrate common sense and a knowledge of firearms before allowing him to possess one. Put an end to radio and movie programs which feature gun play and taboo toy guns from the market. In other words, make it extremely difficult for persons to own guns, toy or genuine, and accidental shootings will at least decrease in number.

And with these accidental shootings will also decrease the number of crimes which have been caused by the easy access which we give unqualified persons in the possession of firearms.

We urge voters to make themselves acquainted with their candidates and vote for those they think are the most qualified.

The question of party and friendship should not concern the voters next Tuesday. We want men of training and experience.

There are a number of good candidates this year. Their calibre exceeds the list which was submitted last year, most of them. There are also the usual number of candidates who are not qualified to run the affairs of a $21,000,000 corporation. We think the voters will eliminate these Tuesday by throwing their support to the most qualified candidates.

Rahway voters in the past have erred in considering political party instead of the qualifications of candidates. But times are changing. Let's change them even more this year by supporting the men who are most qualified by training and experience to run our affairs for us.

If we do, we will be helping ourselves by aiding our city to take a step forward. We voters know which candidates will give us the best service. Let's get out and support them Tuesday.

Anyone who has followed the progress of the city knows that during his term on the county governing body, "Johnnie" Brooks has done his best to aid his native city. He has consistently supported, with the aid of his colleague from Rahway, Freeholder Clifford B. Gehring, any project which would aid the city.

As a member of the Board, he has been able to have the county take over Scott avenue and Milton avenue, two streets which have cost the city much to maintain and were both in deplorable condition. Brooks has been the only man to obtain action on these streets despite efforts others have been making for years.

It is important that Rahway maintain its representation on the Board of Freeholders. Thus, it behooves Democrats as well as Republicans to support Brooks. Rahway's vote for the Freeholder candidate Tuesday should be based on politics, not on party. Brooks is concerned. A vote for him is not a vote for a Republican—it is a vote for a man who will continue to give good service to Rahway if Rahway voters give him a chance.

Even with grown-ups being the sole occupants of homes with revolvers tucked away in the bureau drawer many times trouble is invited. A person with an uncontrollable temper will shoot a gun at another person in a rage and then regret his act later. If a gun had not been kept in the house, this act would be impossible.

Children today, probably more than those of any other period, are surrounded with an environment which creates in them a desire to shoot a gun at an early age. Some of our atrocious radio programs and movies excite this desire in them. Greedy manufacturers, with an eye on profits rather than the public welfare, sell toy guns at low prices and are responsible for distributing them among a majority of our children. Walk along a Rahway street any day and watch children playing and you will usually see them in games where the "shooting" of toy guns plays an important part.

Parents and law makers are to blame for the accidental killings, especially the local one where a youngster who didn't know any better because of his tender age killed his mother. That family, and especially that boy's life, will carry this blight to the grave.

The time for immediate action is long since past and the situation is growing worse. It would seem with our large number of lawmakers, all with a burning desire to author a law, that we would have an end to accidental shootings.

Make it mandatory for every person who owns a gun to demonstrate common sense and a knowledge of firearms before allowing him to possess one. Put an end to radio and movie programs which feature gun play and taboo toy guns from the market. In other words, make it extremely difficult for persons to own guns, toy or genuine, and accidental shootings will at least decrease in number.

And with these accidental shootings will also decrease the number of crimes which have been caused by the easy access which we give unqualified persons in the possession of firearms.

We urge voters to make themselves acquainted with their candidates and vote for those they think are the most qualified.

The question of party and friendship should not concern the voters next Tuesday. We want men of training and experience.

There are a number of good candidates this year. Their calibre exceeds the list which was submitted last year, most of them. There are also the usual number of candidates who are not qualified to run the affairs of a $21,000,000 corporation. We think the voters will eliminate these Tuesday by throwing their support to the most qualified candidates.

Rahway voters in the past have erred in considering political party instead of the qualifications of candidates. But times are changing. Let's change them even more this year by supporting the men who are most qualified by training and experience to run our affairs for us.

If we do, we will be helping ourselves by aiding our city to take a step forward. We voters know which candidates will give us the best service. Let's get out and support them Tuesday.

Anyone who has followed the progress of the city knows that during his term on the county governing body, "Johnnie" Brooks has done his best to aid his native city. He has consistently supported, with the aid of his colleague from Rahway, Freeholder Clifford B. Gehring, any project which would aid the city.

As a member of the Board, he has been able to have the county take over Scott avenue and Milton avenue, two streets which have cost the city much to maintain and were both in deplorable condition. Brooks has been the only man to obtain action on these streets despite efforts others have been making for years.

It is important that Rahway maintain its representation on the Board of Freeholders. Thus, it behooves Democrats as well as Republicans to support Brooks. Rahway's vote for the Freeholder candidate Tuesday should be based on politics, not on party. Brooks is concerned. A vote for him is not a vote for a Republican—it is a vote for a man who will continue to give good service to Rahway if Rahway voters give him a chance.

Even with grown-ups being the sole occupants of homes with revolvers tucked away in the bureau drawer many times trouble is invited. A person with an uncontrollable temper will shoot a gun at another person in a rage and then regret his act later. If a gun had not been kept in the house, this act would be impossible.

Children today, probably more than those of any other period, are surrounded with an environment which creates in them a desire to shoot a gun at an early age. Some of our atrocious radio programs and movies excite this desire in them. Greedy manufacturers, with an eye on profits rather than the public welfare, sell toy guns at low prices and are responsible for distributing them among a majority of our children. Walk along a Rahway street any day and watch children playing and you will usually see them in games where the "shooting" of toy guns plays an important part.

Parents and law makers are to blame for the accidental killings, especially the local one where a youngster who didn't know any better because of his tender age killed his mother. That family, and especially that boy's life, will carry this blight to the grave.

The time for immediate action is long since past and the situation is growing worse. It would seem with our large number of lawmakers, all with a burning desire to author a law, that we would have an end to accidental shootings.

Make it mandatory for every person who owns a gun to demonstrate common sense and a knowledge of firearms before allowing him to possess one. Put an end to radio and movie programs which feature gun play and taboo toy guns from the market. In other words, make it extremely difficult for persons to own guns, toy or genuine, and accidental shootings will at least decrease in number.

And with these accidental shootings will also decrease the number of crimes which have been caused by the easy access which we give unqualified persons in the possession of firearms.

The New Models Are Here But How About Ours?

At the polls in the actual primary election next Tuesday.

that they discarded the G. O. P. elephant for the Democratic donkey. In fact, huge Republican losses in past years indicate that the trend is toward the donkey.

One of the first jobs the new sheriff, be he Dick Harrigan, Lee Rigby or Art Lee, will probably have to do is to straighten out that John Crempa mess up in Scotch Plains. Crempa for two years has succeeded in fighting with the corporation since 1927, when he refused to take an offer of $800 for use of his property in construction of a high tension power system. Crempa is demanding $100,000 damages. Crempa's method has been to short circuit the lines by throwing wires across them, it was declared. Collins has been under strict orders to Crump to bodily harm in seizing him, hence the difficulties. Crempa has armed himself and defied any of the sheriff's representatives to get him. In June a group of imported deputies, dressed like surveyors, nearly abducted Crempa, but they were set upon by a group of women who, with their sticks with such effect the invaders beat a hasty retreat.

With the appointment of Emil L. Mosier of 708 West Court street, Rome, N. Y., as boss of workmen and the official approval of Orrin A. Griffin, physical director, filling the personnel at the Y. M. C. A., the Board of Directors of the "Y" met last night and made plans for the most extensive fall and winter programs in the history of the association.

just between you and me by ding Continued From Page One

Eddie's dreams aren't nightmares, either. Remember last year how he smothered out things in Elizabeth, his adopted home town? If you recall, Eddie and the boys sat up until the early morning hours just before the final petition filing day and when they went to bed, they left a feeling of harmony over the ticket. The result was that the Democrats were the winners in Elizabeth. Then too last year the Democrats out heavily into the Republican majority in the county. In fact, so great were the Republican losses that Senator Loizeaux and some of his supporters got to thinking that perhaps Republicanism needed a little pepping up in bution county. So they named their own candidates and pulled away from the Collins faction and the present hot contest resulted.

We aren't a political observer, so we can't predict the outcome. We hardly think Union county will go Democratic but we think that the thought Linden would swing over from the G. O. P. side of the ballot until the late Jim Furber left Rahway and went down to the neighboring city and laid the foundation for what is now a great Democratic machine headed by young Lew Wiesensky, one of the smartest young lawyers in these parts. They still howl their heads in Linden when they mention Furber's name. Rahway may not have appreciated him but he is almost a saint in Linden. Look over the list of Linden officials and you will learn that the majority of them were formerly Republicans. But Furber had such a grip on the boys down there ship is in view. Yet, it is obvious that we are overlooking the problem until we are confronted with a lack of water.

Steps must be taken now to avert any crisis in the years to come. The problem of securing an adequate future water supply is of particular importance in the northern section of New Jersey, where unless suitable steps are soon taken to improve present facilities a shortage will present itself as soon as the industry becomes more active with the long awaited return to economic normalcy.

Indeed, the last three years, I have made a detailed study of the state's water supply problem and have introduced several water supply bills in the legislature which would have provided for a centralized water authority. I did not receive much support for these measures, however, as I thought it advisable to first allow ample time for their study in all sections of the state.

Governor Hoffman shared my opinion that this legislation should be moved into effect in every part of the state had been definitely known that the measures are exactly what is needed to provide an adequate future water supply of water. This does not mean, however, that we can afford to delay this matter for an indefinite period. It demands immediate but careful consideration.

This very fact that the water problem does not present an immediate crisis makes the situation more serious and it is natural for our officials and citizens to become aroused over matters of this sort until actual harm is in view. Yet, it is obvious that we are overlooking the problem until we are confronted with a lack of water.

Steps must be taken now to avert any crisis in the years to come. The problem of securing an adequate future water supply is of particular importance in the northern section of New Jersey, where unless suitable steps are soon taken to improve present facilities a shortage will present itself as soon as the industry becomes more active with the long awaited return to economic normalcy.

Indeed, the last three years, I have made a detailed study of the state's water supply problem and have introduced several water supply bills in the legislature which would have provided for a centralized water authority. I did not receive much support for these measures, however, as I thought it advisable to first allow ample time for their study in all sections of the state.

Governor Hoffman shared my opinion that this legislation should be moved into effect in every part of the state had been definitely known that the measures are exactly what is needed to provide an adequate future water supply of water. This does not mean, however, that we can afford to delay this matter for an indefinite period. It demands immediate but careful consideration.

This very fact that the water problem does not present an immediate crisis makes the situation more serious and it is natural for our officials and citizens to become aroused over matters of this sort until actual harm is in view. Yet, it is obvious that we are overlooking the problem until we are confronted with a lack of water.

Steps must be taken now to avert any crisis in the years to come. The problem of securing an adequate future water supply is of particular importance in the northern section of New Jersey, where unless suitable steps are soon taken to improve present facilities a shortage will present itself as soon as the industry becomes more active with the long awaited return to economic normalcy.

Indeed, the last three years, I have made a detailed study of the state's water supply problem and have introduced several water supply bills in the legislature which would have provided for a centralized water authority. I did not receive much support for these measures, however, as I thought it advisable to first allow ample time for their study in all sections of the state.

Governor Hoffman shared my opinion that this legislation should be moved into effect in every part of the state had been definitely known that the measures are exactly what is needed to provide an adequate future water supply of water. This does not mean, however, that we can afford to delay this matter for an indefinite period. It demands immediate but careful consideration.

This very fact that the water problem does not present an immediate crisis makes the situation more serious and it is natural for our officials and citizens to become aroused over matters of this sort until actual harm is in view. Yet, it is obvious that we are overlooking the problem until we are confronted with a lack of water.

Steps must be taken now to avert any crisis in the years to come. The problem of securing an adequate future water supply is of particular importance in the northern section of New Jersey, where unless suitable steps are soon taken to improve present facilities a shortage will present itself as soon as the industry becomes more active with the long awaited return to economic normalcy.

Indeed, the last three years, I have made a detailed study of the state's water supply problem and have introduced several water supply bills in the legislature which would have provided for a centralized water authority. I did not receive much support for these measures, however, as I thought it advisable to first allow ample time for their study in all sections of the state.

Governor Hoffman shared my opinion that this legislation should be moved into effect in every part of the state had been definitely known that the measures are exactly what is needed to provide an adequate future water supply of water. This does not mean, however, that we can afford to delay this matter for an indefinite period. It demands immediate but careful consideration.

This very fact that the water problem does not present an immediate crisis makes the situation more serious and it is natural for our officials and citizens to become aroused over matters of this sort until actual harm is in view. Yet, it is obvious that we are overlooking the problem until we are confronted with a lack of water.

Steps must be taken now to avert any crisis in the years to come. The problem of securing an adequate future water supply is of particular importance in the northern section of New Jersey, where unless suitable steps are soon taken to improve present facilities a shortage will present itself as soon as the industry becomes more active with the long awaited return to economic normalcy.

Indeed, the last three years, I have made a detailed study of the state's water supply problem and have introduced several water supply bills in the legislature which would have provided for a centralized water authority. I did not receive much support for these measures, however, as I thought it advisable to first allow ample time for their study in all sections of the state.

Governor Hoffman shared my opinion that this legislation should be moved into effect in every part of the state had been definitely known that the measures are exactly what is needed to provide an adequate future water supply of water. This does not mean, however, that we can afford to delay this matter for an indefinite period. It demands immediate but careful consideration.

This very fact that the water problem does not present an immediate crisis makes the situation more

BOLD RECREATION BOWLING LEAD

Barbers Smash High Single And High Series Marks In Heavy Night Of Pin Pounding; Elks Are Beaten

Sweeping three games from the Milton Tailors, the DiRenzo-Barbers remained the only unbeaten team in the Recreation A league Monday night as the second week of bowling brought out some heavy roll-series record for the brief season by rolling 1056 in a single game and compiling a series total of 2996.

John Lucas, DiRenzo ace, smashed the high single game mark set up by Ernie Elmhorn of the Elks a week ago by turning in a score of 263, just two pins ahead of Elmhorn's mark.

The Scors continued their winning ways by sweeping three from

Scors 2532
R. Hmielecki	235	156	200
Schafer	175	175	164
DiRenzo	175	175	176
Powers	185	182	214
E. Elmhorn	175	204	194
Totals	992	922	927

exception of the veteran Bob Henderson whose 1933 form was handicapped by injuries and who did play some nice ball this season. Even the old reliable Cliff Sargent fell away off in his hitting.

_____

[illegible]

_____

_____

Figure 1. A schematic diagram of the experimental setup. The subject is seated in a chair, viewing a video screen. The screen displays a target (a small circle) and a starting point (a larger circle). The subject's hand is positioned at the starting point. The distance between the starting point and the target is labeled as  $d$ . The subject is instructed to move their hand from the starting point to the target. The video screen is connected to a computer system that records the hand's position and movement time.

The Railway Record

J. N. MARPLE, Publisher
J. N. MARPLE, Editor
This Newspaper was Founded and is Maintained Upon the Principles of Truth, Justice and Fairness to All. It is the Only Newspaper in the City, and Upon the Basis of a Progressive Editorial Policy.

WEDNESDAY GOOD MORNING SEPTEMBER 18, 1935

Pedestrianism Is No Joke

The National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters points out that of the 36,000 fatalities resulting from automobile accidents last year, 16,000 were pedestrians.

Two elements of this situation are important. One is the statistical truth that by far the greater number of pedestrians involved in accidents are doing things which they should not do. The other is that a pedestrian may be in the right, but that doesn't make the difference between which he will always be until collision-proof armor is invented.

Ironically the pedestrian has become standard material for the jokester and cartoonist just as the hen-pecked husband or the taxpayer. No doubt we shall have a new version of the old wisecrack, "One of the pedestrians, not the chicken, who crosses the road to get to the other side."

The premise of many jokes, that the pedestrian is a persecuted animal, does not hold water. The pedestrian is safe from any automobile if he observes a few commands.

Cross only at intersections. Cross with the traffic signal whenever there is one. Keep children off the street. On highways walk to the left facing oncoming traffic. Avoid walking from behind parked cars. Look!

the scrapbook

History of Railway From Newspaper Files

Wednesday, September 18, 1935

Railway 65 Years Ago

From The National Democrat—September 13, 1870.

A special meeting of the Undine Boat club was called on Wednesday evening to take suitable action on the death of their late president, Mr. Thomas E. Garson, Jr.

On motion of Mr. Mahrbacker, Messrs. White, Chamberlain and Miller, were appointed a committee to draft resolutions of condolence and sympathy with the family of their late member.

The following gentlemen were appointed "guard of honor" to attend constantly at the house of their late fellow member until after the funeral: Messrs. T. S. Cozens, T. W. White, G. E. Walker, J. Mahrbacker, A. E. Miller, C. B. Squiers, Frank Jones, E. M. Squiers.

Railway 25 Years Ago

From The Railway News-Herald—September 14, 1910.

A meeting to organize a branch of the S. P. C. A. was held Wednesday afternoon at the Milton avenue home of Mrs. I. P. Wooten.

Present, and some gentlemen, including Rev. Dr. C. L. Cooder, who was appointed chairman of the meeting with H. S. Barnes, secretary, Dr. A. F. Mount, who was afterward nominated for president by Mrs. G. C. Ainsworth, but declined accepting the office.

Mr. Paul Birdge, W. H. King, of Summit, president of the Union County Society, R. S. Hohl, treasurer, of Summit, and Rev. R. Pilkington, of Union, England.

Railway 15 Years Ago

From The Railway News-Herald—September 14, 1915.

Indications are good for a strong football eleven to represent Railway High school in the fall.

The new material showing particularly well are Hall, Gaydos, Kay, Cramer, Albertson. It is now probable that Reitemeyer will fill the fullback position. Meier is certain to be one of the halfbacks, while Mundy, guard, Lutz, end, and Casaleggi, tackle. Howard is making a strong bid for an end position.

Railway 5 Years Ago

From The Railway News-Herald—September 14, 1920.

Patrolman Henry J. Miller, 26 Union street, was re-elected president without opposition, of the State Patrolman's Benevolent Association at the annual convention of the P. B. A. at Wildwood yesterday. This is the second term for the popular local police officer which attests of his popularity in the ranks. Harry Gourey, of Paterson defeated Dennis Byrne, of New Brunswick, for president. Byrne was seeking re-election.

just between you and me

Continued from Page Six

The resignation of Silvers focuses our attention on the fact that Railway has had some high type men and women on its Board of Education and at the present time the calibre of the citizens on the Board is well above the average. This raises the question, "Why is it that the qualifications of Board of Education members so greatly exceeds the qualifications of our average Common Council members?"

Going back into the city's history, one finds that there have been numerous members of the city governing body who did not belong to a body charged with the affairs of running a big corporation. In short, there have been too much politics in the choice of members of Common Council and not enough efforts made to induce persons of high intelligence and adequate qualifications to serve on the governing body.

Paradoxically, the official elected to serve as mayor has usually made efforts to get the best suited persons to sit on the Board of Education. In fact, if our city fathers had sometimes taken as much pains to get the right men to fill our city offices as they did in getting the best citizens to serve on the Board of Education, our affairs would have many times been run in a more efficient manner. Administering the affairs of a city and the Board of Education are different in that finances are the chief concern of Common Council but the welfare of the men and women of tomorrow is the chief concern of the school board. Both boards spend public funds and we who pay the taxes think it's just as important to efficiently administer Council affairs as it is to efficiently handle educational affairs.

In the future, we'd be better off if we insisted that our members of Common Council be just as able to administer our affairs as have been our members of the Board of Education. The day when it was true that a dog could get the support of a member of a certain political party if the dog was of the same political faith as the voter should be past. Better qualified candidates are being nominated but there is still room for improvement. Things will be much better when it will no longer be possible for men with little qualifications as some of those who got votes yesterday to run for public office.

Programs Of Nominees

Charles Reed Favon
New Accounting System
CHARLES E. REED, Republican candidate for Common Council, First Ward, "One of the chief reasons for running in this campaign is to devote my efforts toward making a complete change in the accounting system of city offices which are badly antiquated and to further the efforts which were put forth during the last two or three years to improve Railway's financial position."

New Industries, Homes Are Needed, Says Wieser
JOHN W. WIESER, Republican candidate for Common Council, First Ward, "I elected '35 to advocate the stimulation of existing city industries and the creation of new civic organizations of non-political nature for the extension of new home neighborhoods and the year around activity toward making present home neighborhoods more attractive, cleaner and safer and, at the same time, possible through tax concessions, make a concerted effort toward bringing new industries to Railway."

Livingston Favors Opportunities For Industries
JOHN P. LIVINGSTON, Democrat, Council, Third Ward, "I favor including industries to be located in Railway in certain restricted areas by offering the same opportunities to certain individuals and the neighboring municipalities. I also favor proper economy in government which does not interfere with the efficiency of the same."

Dixons Urges Program To Reduce Indebtedness
ALFRED C. DIXON, Republican candidate for Common Council, Fourth Ward, "The business and welfare of the city first, politics afterward, regardless of which party may enjoy the majority in the Council. That will guide me as a representative of my ward if I am elected."

Welfare Of City First, Says Strakele
A. E. STRAKELE, Republican candidate for Common Council, Fourth Ward, "The business and welfare of the city first, politics afterward, regardless of which party may enjoy the majority in the Council. That will guide me as a representative of my ward if I am elected."

First Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Second Ward.
JOHN P. LIVINGSTON

Third Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Fourth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Fifth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Sixth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Seventh Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Eighth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Ninth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Tenth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Eleventh Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Twelfth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Thirteenth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Fourteenth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Fifteenth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

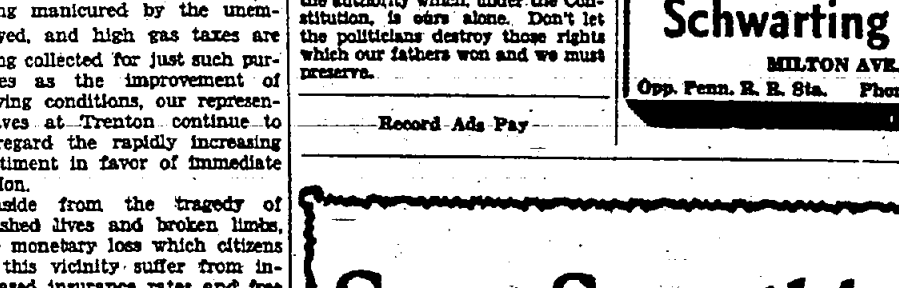

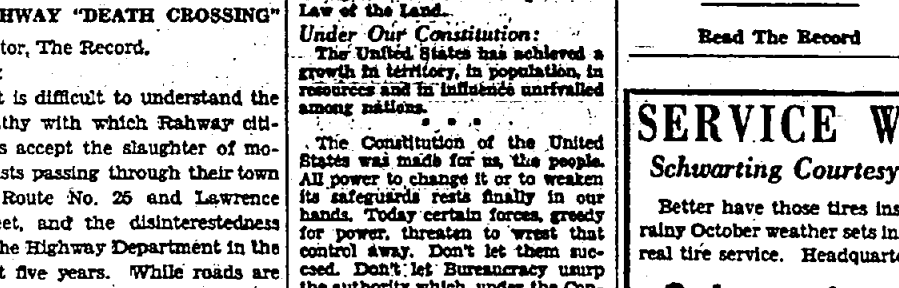

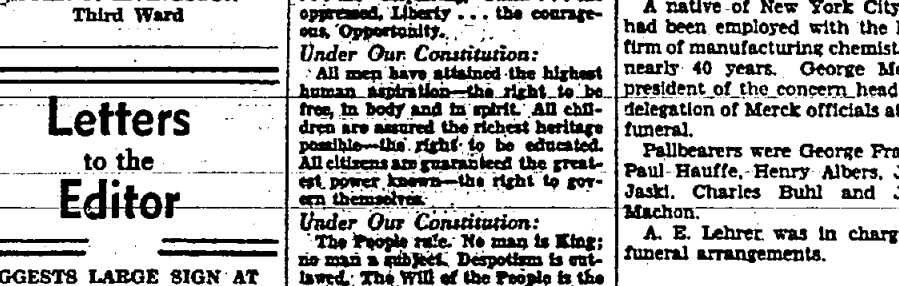

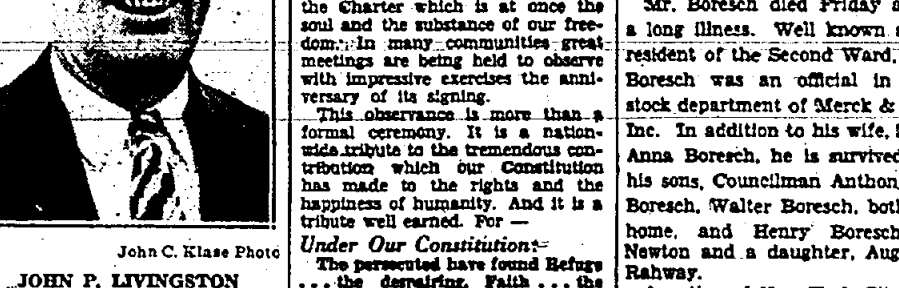

Sixteenth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Seventeenth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

Eighteenth Ward.
JOHN W. WIESER

By PERCY CROSBY

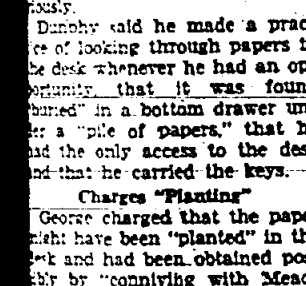

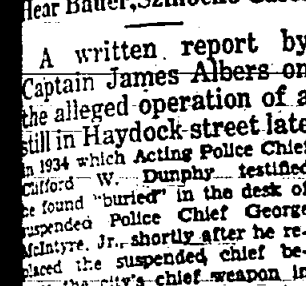

Back o' the Flats

this that by joy ah

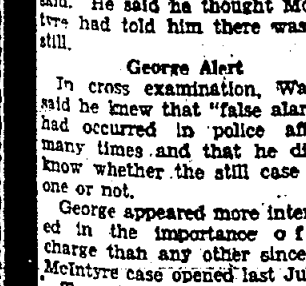

Chief Reveals He Located It In Drawer Used By Police Head

Unfiled Police Report On Operation Of Alleged Still Confronts McIntyre

Chief Reveals He Located It In Drawer Used By Police Head

The Railway Record

VOL. 112, NO. 2704

RAILWAY, N. J., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1935

PRICE THREE CENTS

THE PAST IS GONE WE FACE TO-DAY

Dismiss 37 McIntyre Charges

Committees To Organize Here Monday Night

Democrats Must Name Winner In First Ward; G.O.P. To Pick Leader

Fifteen New Members Begin Terms Tomorrow

Resignation Of Gettings Looms Vital

Date Upon Which He Quits To Determine Selection Of Successor

Voters To Choose If He Quits Before October 7

The resignation of Council President Martin F. Gettings from Common Council because he is ineligible to hold municipal office due to his recent appointment as postmaster will have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

Gettings was named to his postmaster position August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Gettings has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for Gettings' delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Secondly, if Gettings does not resign before the general election, his successor for the remainder of the term will be named by the Board of Postmasters.

The resignation of Councilman Robert A. D'Ambrascio, who was named to his position as postmaster, will also have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

D'Ambrascio was named to his position as postmaster August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

D'Ambrascio has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for D'Ambrascio's delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Secondly, if D'Ambrascio does not resign before the general election, his successor for the remainder of the term will be named by the Board of Postmasters.

The resignation of Councilman Robert A. D'Ambrascio, who was named to his position as postmaster, will also have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

D'Ambrascio was named to his position as postmaster August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

D'Ambrascio has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for D'Ambrascio's delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Secondly, if D'Ambrascio does not resign before the general election, his successor for the remainder of the term will be named by the Board of Postmasters.

The resignation of Councilman Robert A. D'Ambrascio, who was named to his position as postmaster, will also have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

D'Ambrascio was named to his position as postmaster August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

D'Ambrascio has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for D'Ambrascio's delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Secondly, if D'Ambrascio does not resign before the general election, his successor for the remainder of the term will be named by the Board of Postmasters.

The resignation of Councilman Robert A. D'Ambrascio, who was named to his position as postmaster, will also have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

D'Ambrascio was named to his position as postmaster August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

D'Ambrascio has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for D'Ambrascio's delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Secondly, if D'Ambrascio does not resign before the general election, his successor for the remainder of the term will be named by the Board of Postmasters.

The resignation of Councilman Robert A. D'Ambrascio, who was named to his position as postmaster, will also have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

D'Ambrascio was named to his position as postmaster August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

D'Ambrascio has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for D'Ambrascio's delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Secondly, if D'Ambrascio does not resign before the general election, his successor for the remainder of the term will be named by the Board of Postmasters.

The resignation of Councilman Robert A. D'Ambrascio, who was named to his position as postmaster, will also have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

D'Ambrascio was named to his position as postmaster August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

D'Ambrascio has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for D'Ambrascio's delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Secondly, if D'Ambrascio does not resign before the general election, his successor for the remainder of the term will be named by the Board of Postmasters.

The resignation of Councilman Robert A. D'Ambrascio, who was named to his position as postmaster, will also have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

D'Ambrascio was named to his position as postmaster August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

D'Ambrascio has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for D'Ambrascio's delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Secondly, if D'Ambrascio does not resign before the general election, his successor for the remainder of the term will be named by the Board of Postmasters.

The resignation of Councilman Robert A. D'Ambrascio, who was named to his position as postmaster, will also have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

D'Ambrascio was named to his position as postmaster August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

D'Ambrascio has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for D'Ambrascio's delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Secondly, if D'Ambrascio does not resign before the general election, his successor for the remainder of the term will be named by the Board of Postmasters.

The resignation of Councilman Robert A. D'Ambrascio, who was named to his position as postmaster, will also have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

D'Ambrascio was named to his position as postmaster August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

D'Ambrascio has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for D'Ambrascio's delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Secondly, if D'Ambrascio does not resign before the general election, his successor for the remainder of the term will be named by the Board of Postmasters.

The resignation of Councilman Robert A. D'Ambrascio, who was named to his position as postmaster, will also have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

D'Ambrascio was named to his position as postmaster August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

D'Ambrascio has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for D'Ambrascio's delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Secondly, if D'Ambrascio does not resign before the general election, his successor for the remainder of the term will be named by the Board of Postmasters.

The resignation of Councilman Robert A. D'Ambrascio, who was named to his position as postmaster, will also have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

D'Ambrascio was named to his position as postmaster August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

D'Ambrascio has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for D'Ambrascio's delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

Secondly, if D'Ambrascio does not resign before the general election, his successor for the remainder of the term will be named by the Board of Postmasters.

The resignation of Councilman Robert A. D'Ambrascio, who was named to his position as postmaster, will also have an important bearing on the city's November 5 election.

D'Ambrascio was named to his position as postmaster August 26 but does not have to resign his Council position until his commission is received. The commission will not be received until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.

D'Ambrascio has indicated that he will not run for re-election to the Council.

Two reasons are apparent for D'Ambrascio's delay. First, he cannot run for re-election to the Council until his resignation is accepted by the Board of Postmasters.