Dazzle Dazzle Plan

Red Bank has taken a proper step in obtaining a court order temporarily restraining the State Highway Department from constructing a flyover on the south end of Broad St.

What the state proposes is to stop southbound traffic on Broad St. from continuing into Shrewsbury at this point. This would necessitate making a right turn at Wlff Pl. going west to Rt. 35, making a left turn and then going north. The logic involved in this plan is subject to some serious questions. Is Wlff Pl. capable of handling the volume of traffic which would use this street in a greater than present manner? Are there not left turns made at Shrewsbury dangerous? Won't the large scale confusion result from this planned change in the flow of traffic?

As a residential street, Wlff Pl. does not carry heavy traffic. The borough engineer has stated the road is 33 feet wide, and that the surface material would hold up under the heavier use caused by rerouting traffic.

A State Highway Department spokesman said last month that no traffic would be rerouted from Broad St. to Wlff Pl. and Wlff Pl. If this is true, motorists heading south would have to wait an unnecessary amount of time at the main northbound traffic on Rt. 35. The State Highway Department flow.

Your Money's Worth — or Ghost Towns?

To have the commentaries, Commentary: a term used by the media only after they have already attacked their subject. What panic are all the newspapers of transportation and the highways doing about the state of our old towns? It doesn't interest them. The commentaries are a way of getting around the subject. The term itself seems too hard.

As we travel, we are impressed by the beauty of the places where we go. How can we define a community? Is it the people, the land, the buildings, the streets, the churches, the forests, the farms, the towns, the cities, the country, the world, the universe, the space? Is it the people, the land, the buildings, the streets, the churches, the forests, the farms, the towns, the cities, the country, the world, the universe, the space?

Red transportation has already been started. The new trains will be able to transport 6,000 passengers and 600 tons of freight per train which will be running on the lines between Red bank and Asbury Park. This new line will open up new opportunities for travel in the area.

The new line will be constructed as part of the larger Red Bank transportation plan. The plan includes the construction of additional lines and the expansion of existing lines. The goal is to provide better transportation options for residents and visitors.

The construction of the new line is expected to be completed within the next year. The line will be inaugurated with a special event that will include speeches, music, and festivities.

Havre de Grace's world-famous cheese market has been known for its high-quality dairy products, and now the city has introduced an innovative program to support local farmers. This project aims to promote sustainable agriculture and increase awareness of locally sourced produce. The market not only provides fresh vegetables and fruit but also offers workshops on cooking with seasonal ingredients. Residents have expressed great enthusiasm for this initiative, which aligns with the city's goal of becoming a hub for sustainable living.

According to Mayor Johnson, "We're proud to support our local farmers and encourage a healthier lifestyle for our residents. This program will not only benefit our community but also contribute to the local economy."

The market is located at 123 Main Street and is open every Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.Visitors are welcome to explore the farm stands, taste fresh produce, and learn more about sustainable farming practices.

TRENTON (AP) - Work on $10 million worth of new facilities at New Jersey's six state colleges should be under way by next April, it was announced yesterday.

Charles F. Sullivan, director of purchase and property, said bids on 13 projects will be taken in January, February and March. He said contracts should be awarded about a week after the bids are received and work should start about a week after that.

"We hope to break ground in late February on the dormitory and food service addition projects at Newark State College," Sullivan added.

He gave this breakdown on the projects and their estimated cost:

- Newark State College at Union:
  - Bids on dormitory and addition to food service building in January. Estimated cost $1,125,400.

- Montclair State College:
  - Bids on $537,000 men's dormitory in January and $628,000 addition to Finely Hall in March.

- Paterson State College:
  - Bids on $175,000 worth of dormitories in February.

- Jersey City Project:
  - Bids on $1,303,800 arts and science building in February and $1,309,000 food service building and dormitory in March.

- Glassboro State College:
  - Bids totaling an estimated $2,800,540 in March on gymnasium, library, dormitories and food service building.

- Trenton State College:
  - Bids in March on a $779,100 addition to the gymnasium and a $531,000 Industrial arts building.

Sullivan said rehabilitation of the Kean Library at Newark State College for $55,444 has been completed and alteration of Montclair's physical education building and Trenton's library at a combined cost of $152,462 will be finished this month.

The colleges are being expanded with part of a $6.68 million bond issue approved by the voters in November, 1959. The projects are designed to double the 1958 capacity of the colleges by 1965.

YOUR GARDEN THIS WEEK

Woodbridge, N. J.

This week marks the beginning of the cold season, and the time to start planning for next spring's plantings.

Planting and transplanting should be done only in the milder parts of the country, and only with those plants which are hardy enough to survive the winter.

There are several gardens in the vicinity which have already been planted, and these will serve as a guide for all who are interested in starting new gardens.

Mrs. P. C. Sherrod, has had some difficulty with her aspberries, and it is said that her plants have never recovered. A newly set hydrangea: the students scored in the 94th development tests last spring.

She has a copy of Leaflet 97, published by the National Science Foundation, American, Inc., which contains the students scored in the 94th percentiles of all the applicants.

The omission of corn in actual practice of English, Latin, religion, social studies, and other subjects, is not permitted.
Participation in the testing program is voluntary on the part of the students.

The following students were awarded:

James Jones, Jane Baker, Elizabeth, Bob Jones, with Carroll Ford, Bruce Mower, William

Sonny Liston's Shadow Manager

ANOTHER COUNTERFEIT 20-CENT PIECE

Washington, D.C. - Frank Liston, against the rights of the State of Idaho, is in a Senecan of the National Convocation. A new, multi-state investigation into the activities of the boxing business has been launched.

Liston, who has been charged with racketeering in Idaho, has been under federal investigation since 1957. The investigation, which is being conducted by the Justice Department, has led to the arrest of several prominent boxing figures, including a former heavyweight champion.

The investigation has also led to the discovery of a widespread racketeering ring that has allegedly been operating in the boxing world for decades. The ring is said to have been involved in fixing fights, fixing results, and engaging in other illegal activities.

Liston denies any knowledge of the racketeering activities. However, the investigation has already led to the discovery of several pieces of evidence that link him to the ring.

The investigation is expected to continue for several months, and it is not clear how long it will take to conclude. However, the Justice Department is reportedly determined to get to the bottom of the racketeering activities.

The investigation has raised serious questions about the integrity of boxing, and it is likely to have a significant impact on the sport. Many boxing fans are calling for more action to be taken to ensure the sport's integrity.

The investigation is being conducted by a team of federal agents, who are working closely with local law enforcement agencies.

Liston has been a controversial figure in boxing, and he has been involved in several controversies over the years. He was once a top contender for the heavyweight championship, but he has been out of the ring for many years.

The investigation is expected to continue for several months, and it is not clear how long it will take to conclude. However, the Justice Department is reportedly determined to get to the bottom of the racketeering activities.

The Oakmont Aluminum League is one of the oldest in the county. And it seems to be the one that has run into the most tough luck. This time the league has been banned for the campaign season. This is the league's original home. When fire destroyed the bathhouses at Long Branch, the league moved to West Long Branch. Fire struck here also two-thirds of a year later and the league held an early banquet.

The following season the league was back in action at West Long Branch and rolled along until the fire burned out the bat houses. The league is doing well for good. For the past three seasons this league has been rolling at Spring Lake.

This season, after 33 games, the defending champions, Doug Bowman's Easterns, are in first place. Doug Bowman himself is second in the county. And it seems to be the one that has run into the most tough luck. This time the league has been banned for the campaign season. This is the league's original home. Bridge Column

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

There is such a thing as being too safe at the table. All the time the one thing that is needed to win at Bridge is to risk everything by going for the perfect play. The game is very simple, and if you analyze your plays to the point where you are sure that you will always win, you may just as well put your hands behind your back and be content to go out of the game. For usually the chances for success are always in the hands of the brave. You may not win every hand, but you will be far more likely to win in the long run if you are not afraid to take a chance.

There are those who tell you that you should always make the safe play, but this is not the case. You should always aim at making the risky play when you can. The only time you should aim at making the safe play is when you are sure that you will absolutely win.

In the game of Bridge, there are many different ways of playing. The one that is best for you is the one that is best for the situation at hand. The only way to find out what the situation is at hand is to analyze it carefully. You should always be on the lookout for the opportunity to make a risky play. You should always be prepared to take advantage of it.

In the end, the game of Bridge is a matter of taking advantage of the opportunities that present themselves. You should always be on the lookout for the opportunity to make a risky play. You should always be prepared to take advantage of it, for that is the only way to win in the long run.
