Indict 3 in Fort Monmouth Bribery Case

NEWARK (AP) — Three men, including two former employees at Fort Monmouth, have been indicted by the federal government in an alleged bribery scheme involving a $2.4 million government contract.

The indictment was presented in U.S. District Court here yesterday. A date has not been set for the defendants to enter pleas.

The government claims the former civilian employees of the Army accepted a $1,500 bribe to influence awarding of the contract. The third defendant is a manufacturer's representative who allegedly arranged the meeting where the bribes were given.

The California manufacturer who was seeking the contract co-operated with the FBI and was commended for his citizenship by Attorney Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Named In Indictment

Named in the indictment were William J. Laverick, 49, of 1 Sunny Bank Dr., Shrewsbury, former director of the Production Engineering Department at Fort Monmouth; Harrison F. Tryon, 48, of 50 Wyckham Rd., New Shrewsbury, former chief of Fort Monmouth's Logistics Engineering Division, and Malcolm M. Schaefer, 38, of 600 Wildwood Rd., West Allenhurst, eastern representative for Consad Inc., an electronics firm in Santa Monica, Calif.

The three men were arrested by the FBI on July 21 in a Shrewsbury restaurant where the money allegedly changed hands. Laverick and Tryon subsequently were fired by the government.

They are all presently out in bail, U.S. Attorney David Satz said.

All three were charged in one count with conspiring to obtain payments for Laverick and Tryon in return for a favorable report on the qualifications of Consad for a $2.4 million contract to build radio sets.

Additional Counts

Two additional counts charged Laverick and Tryon with accepting $850 and $850, respectively, and charged Schaefer with abetting them to violate federal bribery and conflict of interest laws.

Kennedy praised the parts played by Robert S. Snoyer, owner of Consad and Charles Nicodemus, a reporter for the Chicago Daily News.

Kennedy said Nicodemus' investigative reporting brought the case to the attention of the Justice Department.

The attorney general said also that "Mr. Snoyer fulfilled the responsibilities of citizenship commendably. He cooperated courageously with the Department of Justice."

The indictment said that Schaefer told Snoyer on June 5 that a payment of $48,000 would ensure that his firm would receive the favorable report it needed for the contract, on which it bid May 29.

The contract ultimately was not awarded to Consad, and both Laverick and Tryon were fired on July 20, Justice Department officials said.

FBI Agent Present

Snoyer, pretending to go along with the plot, was accompanied by an FBI agent when he met the men in the Shadowbrook Restaurant. The agent said he saw Snoyer pass an envelope to Tryon. The arrests followed.

The maximum penalty for the defendants, if convicted, would be 10 years in prison and $20,000 fine. As government employees at the time of the offense, Laverick and Tryon also could be fined three times the amount of the bribes and barred from public office.

Say Cuba Problem Tops List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer winds up two days of White House talks today in apparent agreement with President Kennedy that a Cuba settlement must precede any new Western peace move on Berlin.

The veteran West German leader scheduled a morning meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, a luncheon address, then a final afternoon meeting with Kennedy. This conference will conclude two days of official talks which have ranged over major international issues. Adenauer returns to Bonn Friday.

Praises Kennedy

There were morning and afternoon talks at the White House Wednesday. Both American and German authorities reported their chiefs agreed that a solution of the U.S. dispute with the Soviet Union over offensive weapons in Cuba must come before any new initiative by the West on cold war issues.

At a White House lunch, Adenauer praised Kennedy's Cuban action. He said the U.S. stand was a great success for America and a failure for Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

These remarks by the 86-year-old chancellor differed in tone from what he had said in Germany just before leaving for Washington. At that time he had asked how anyone could be sure that all the Soviet missiles had been removed. The crisis, he said, was not over. He was expected to be asked about this today during a lunch at the National Press Club.

Main Topic

The Cuba question and its impact on East-West affairs was the main topic Wednesday as Kennedy and Adenauer first met alone for an hour, then joined their foreign ministers and other principal aides.

While the two agreed a Cuba solution must be a first step before arranging new negotiations on Berlin, their reasoning was not quite the same.

Kennedy has long pushed exploratory talks with the Soviets on the German problem. U.S. authorities believe a Cuban settlement might open the way for East-West negotiations on a wide range of issues. Adenauer has been wary of negotiating on Berlin on the ground that the West stands more to lose than gain.

Kennedy said in a luncheon toast to Adenauer that now is "a time of very great change in the world, both in the West and in the East. An important turning point, possibly, in the history of the relations between East and West."

Wednesday, it was reported, Kennedy and Adenauer agreed that contributions to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by the European allies should be stepped up. It was understood that the discussion dealt with NATO's European members in general, not singling out West Germany.

No Swift Solution Seen in Cuba Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has sent President Kennedy an offer to pull Soviet jet bombers out of Cuba but attached so many "ifs" that a Cuban settlement is not within sight, authoritative sources said early today.

Khrushchev's proposal, it was learned, was received several days ago and is being discussed at negotiations — presumably in New York, where U.S. and Soviet representatives have been trying to hammer out an agreement.

Exactly what conditions the Soviet premier attached to his offer were not disclosed.

But there were so many, the sources said, that they cannot foresee a swift solution to the problems that have been keeping a fire to the Cuban crisis.

Authoritative sources said the Soviet premier's proposal for withdrawing the planes came in one of several letters he and Kennedy exchanged — none of which has been made public — since their weekend letters of Oct. 27-28 drafting an agreement to end the crisis.

Kennedy has insisted that the 750-mile range bombers are in the same offensive weapons category as the Soviet missiles and must also be removed.

U.S. officials have reported that 42 of the missiles were counted on Soviet vessels steaming away from Cuba. That's the number of missiles the Soviets say they had on the island.

Officials here look upon the removal of the missiles unless some are hidden in caves as fulfillment of the most important of Khrushchev's promises to Kennedy.

In addition to the bomber issue, Khrushchev has not carried out his promise to allow U.N. inspection of the dismantling of weapons and their bases — which Castro has cried he will not permit.

The United States pressed the Soviet Union on the planes Tuesday during the New York talks. U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson politely but firmly told Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov that the issue is of great importance and that the United States looks to the Soviet Union for a response.

Attempts Rebuffed

In effect Stevenson rebuffed Soviet attempts to link to the negotiations to Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's demand for U.S. abandonment of its Guantanamo naval base.

Khrushchev's new proposal for withdrawing the planes undercut an impression the Cubans have

Hospital Plan Advanced

MIDDLETOWN — The Township Committee last night approved a minor subdivision which will provide a 21.52 acre tract of land for construction of $2½ million Riverview Hospital annex on Palmer Ave.

The hospital plans to build a 105-120 bed building on the tract.

The land is being purchased from Sylvester L. Donaruma, Cherry Tree Farm Rd.

Approval of the subdivision is contingent on Mr. Donaruma receiving a variance to have a lot with less than 500 foot frontage on Keyport-New Monmouth Rd.

450 Feet of Frontage

The hospital tract will leave Mr. Donaruma with a parcel having only 450 feet of frontage on a improved roadway.

Construction on the annex is expected to start next year.

Lawrence A. Carton, Jr., township attorney, reported that $31,158.93 had been spent on the construction of sidewalks from Orchard St. on Leonardville Rd. to the main intersection at Leonardville Rd. and Tindall Rd.

County Aid

The township has $35,000 to spend on the project. This includes a $25,000 grant from the county.

Work has been completed on a section from Orchard St. to Greene Ave. Work has started on the section from Greene Ave. to the intersection.

Cost Figures

Mr. Carton said the cost figures includes purchasing of right of ways, fees for the broker who secured them, legal and engineering fees and cost of construction.

This project is the start of a township-wide program to have sidewalks installed on all major arteries in the township.

Union Beach Okays New Regional Study

UNION BEACH — The Board of Education, in special session last night, adopted a resolution authorizing a regional high school study with Keansburg.

The Keansburg board meets tonight.

Donald Ostrander, local board president, said informal, preliminary talks indicated that Keansburg will also authorize the study.

If this is done, the project will get under way, probably toward the end of this year, or early in 1963, Mr. Ostrander reported.

He noted that such a study would be "invaluable" to both towns, even if a regional district should not materialize.

"From this type study, we can better evaluate our needs and resources and better inform the public in both towns as to our educational problems," he stated.

The last regional study in this area was conducted late in 1959. It included Keansburg, Union Beach and Keyport.

The study was dropped because Keyport wanted its high school building to be included in the regional plans, and put a $1,300,000 price tag on the structure.

Union Beach and Keansburg would not accept these terms.

At present, some 385 Union Beach students go to school at Keyport High. Keansburg's high schoolers, about 425 of them, attend at Middletown.

Union Beach wants its pupils removed from Keyport, if some other solution can be found. Keansburg has been under a state directive for several years, to remove its students from Middletown High School, because of Middletown enrollment problems.

Mr. Ostrander said a Union Beach pre-school survey must be completed before the regional study can be undertaken. This survey is now underway.

True Value Assessments Are Ordered

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — Municipal tax assessments should be computed on the basis of true property value, according to a member of the attorney general's staff.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Alan B. Handler said yesterday that present state law requires that taxes be based on 100 per cent of evaluation, rather than on a percentage of the full value.

The state treasurer's office asked the attorney general's office for a ruling on assessments.

Handler said at present only 77 of the state's 570 municipalities base property tax assessments on 100 per cent, or true evaluation of the property. The others assess on a percentage of true value.

Computed on the true property value basis, the $500 tax exemption presently granted to veterans and $800 for elderly people would not be worth as much. Handler emphasized, however, that his informal opinion was not binding on the municipalities.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes has said that legislative leaders have agreed to pass a new law within the next three weeks which, in effect, would permit tax assessors to collect taxes next year on the basis of this year's assessments.

A spokesman for the governor said this would give the legislature time to consider legislation which would change the exemptions for veterans and the elderly.

Want School 'Donations' Refunded

MIDDLETOWN — Two Oak Hill residents appeared before the Township Committee last night seeking refunds of $100 each they said they were forced to pay when they secured building permits for their homes in 1958.

They said they were asked to pay the money under terms of a policy through which the township sought voluntary contributions for schools from housing developers.

Ernest H. Hesterberg, Robin Ct., and Robert Binder, 88 Fish Hawk Dr., said they purchased lots from Jacob R. V. M. Lefferts who had a large development approved in the Oak Hill area.

ISSUE EXPLANATION

Both men explained that at that time builders were asked to "voluntary donate" $300 per lot to the township for school purposes.

They said that the building inspector required that they pay $300 each for their lots even though their homes were not constructed by the developer.

Mr. Hesterberg said he was required to pay $100 when he received his building permit.

Mr. Binder said he also paid $100 at the time he received his permit.

Both said they were never asked for the remaining $200.

Officials said there is approximately $33,000 in trust which was received from developers under this policy.

Because of the question of legality, the township ceased asking for this type of donation several years ago.

CARTON COMMENTS

Lawrence A. Carton, Jr., township attorney, told both men that he thought the township did not have to return the money.

He noted that Mr. Lefferts may have agreed to donate $300 per lot to the township when his subdivision map was approved.

He said the building inspector, as an administrative procedure, may have thought they should pay the donation because they bought their building lots from the developer.

Both Mr. Hesterberg and Mr. Binder said they did not pay the $100 "voluntarily."

Mr. Carton explained that there have been court cases involving these donations from builders.

He said the courts have ruled that under certain circumstances communities did not have the right to exact such donations as part of approval of a housing project.

VOLUNTARY DONATIONS

He said the ruling did not apply to situations where a builder voluntarily donated funds to the township.

The attorney and other officials agreed that the question boiled down to whether or not the men were required to pay the money when they received their permits.

Both Mr. Hesterberg and Mr. Binder were informed that they had the right to file a claim for the money with the township.

It was noted that the situation also involved the question of whether the developer's promise to donate money was binding on persons who bought individual home sites from him.

The question of donations from builders and the legality of them was a campaign issue this year.

Both men said this issue prompted them to seek a refund.

They said they understood the philosophy of the policy on donations but stressed that they paid the money "involuntarily."

Red Hill Rd. Plan Will Be Discussed

MIDDLETOWN — Local officials will meet soon with representatives of the New Jersey Highway Authority to discuss the proposed route of the extension from the new Garden State Parkway interchange at Red Hill Rd. to Dwight Rd.

Officials said last night that there are five possible routes that could be used in extending Dwight Rd. to the new interchange scheduled to open next month.

Mayor John T. Lawley was asked to arrange the meeting as soon as possible.

Members of the Planning Board and its planing consultant will sit in on the conference.

The township will contribute the necessary right-of-ways for the extension, the county will maintain the extension, and the Highway Authority will do the building.

Cost of the extension has been estimated at $60,000.

Still to be resolved is the question of who will stand the expense of widening, improving and maintaining other access roads to the interchange.

The township's position is that it will not assume any obligations insofar as these roads are concerned. Officials feel the county should be responsible for them.

The county, on the other hand, refuses to take over Red Hill Rd., a major access to the new interchange.

The road is both winding and narrow. It has been described as inadequate for the heavy traffic expected when the interchange opens.

It has been estimated that it will cost at least $1 million to improve all access roads to the interchange.

Walsky to Get Salary of $700

RED BANK — Lee Walsky, football coach at Red Bank High School, will receive $700 for his coaching services this year.

Mr. Walsky last night confirmed that the Board of Education had agreed to pay that salary amount.

The subject came up Monday at a board meeting when Mr. Walsky asked the board when he would learn if he was to receive $600 or $700 for his coaching services.

The coach will become vice principal of Madison Township High School Nov. 26.

Merchants Ask State To Lift Parking Ban

EATONTOWN—Borough Council last night received a petition from 16 Main St. merchants asking for a meeting with the state Highway Department to discuss some modification of the Main St. parking ban.

"The sudden change from full-time parking in front of the Main St. stores to no parking at all after Rt. 35 was widened was quite a radical transition," Councilman Edward Clark said.

He advocated that borough police make a traffic study there, and that the merchants prepare figures to show what effect the parking rule has had on their receipts.

'Prepare Facts'

"I think we should have facts prepared before we seek a meeting with highway authorities," he said.

Councilman Theodore Zebrowski pointed out that work is still going on at the northern end of Rt. 35 as it approaches Shrewsbury, and said that the full effect of the new situation cannot be accurately measured until this work is completed.

A change in exterior finish for the new borough fire house was approved by council, after hearing that a brick veneer finish may be substituted for the planned stucco finish on three sides, without exceeding the appropriation for the building.

Police Academy Grad

Councilman Clark reported that Probationary Patrolman Joseph Mazza has graduated from the New Jersey State Police Academy and is now in duty in the borough.

The police committee chairman also said that 16 applications have been received to take the examination Nov. 24 for a vacant patrolman's post on this borough's police force.

The council heard a letter of praise for the fine maintenance and excellent condition of the baseball fields at the borough playgrounds, from Vincent A. Mango of 25 Pearce Ave., an active Little League leader.

New School's Plans Nearing Completion

RUMSON — Bernard Kellenyi, architect for the $395,000 primary school to be built adjacent to Forrestdale School, told the Board of Education last night that he expects to have final plans ready to submit to the state authorities Dec. 12.

A tentative schedule, as outlined by the architect, hopefully calls for bidding in mid-January and groundbreaking Feb. 15 to March 1. The board hopes to have the school ready for occupancy next September.

Permission to install a septic system for the new biulding has been denied by the state Board of Health, which will require a sewage disposal plant. Provision for such a ruling was made when the $395,000 figure was adopted. Mr. Kellenyi explained that as a result, no "safety valve" exists for contingencies.

May Use System

The board decided to reserve decision on whether to install a $20,000 system which would serve only the new school and its future additions, if any, or a $36,000 unit which would accommodate Forrestdale School also. Authorization was made to direct the engineer to draw plans for both and bid the latter proposal as an alternate. If prices on the over-all school construction permit, that two-school system will be installed.

Mr. Kellenyi pointed out that the prices he quoted are estimates.

The Planning Committee of the board, which conducted extensive studies leading to the selection of Mr. Kellenyi as architect, was reactivated and renamed the Building Committee for purposes of conferring with the architect on details of the plans and specifications of the school as work progresses.

Bus Accident

CLIFFWOOD—Matawan Township Police Chief J. Edgar Wilkinson reported that a bus of the Marathon Bus Line, coming from the South Amboy area, collided with a station wagon about 8:30 this morning on Rt. 35 at Prospect Ave.

The chief said several persons were injured but none seriously. No other details were available at press time.

Urges Tax Collectors Use Plain Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — An author-professor is teaching the nation's tax collectors to use plain talk. Skip the fancy words in dealing with the taxpayer, he says.

When the government owes a man some money, writes Calvin D. Linton he isn't interested in hearing about claims or statutory provisions.

He's only interested in two words:

"Your refund."

Linton gives his advice in a paper-back book entitled "effective Revenue Writing 2." It goes for 70 cents a copy, and it's one of the Government Printing Office's best sellers.

Thousands of IRS employees are participating voluntarily in courses based on Linton's advanced text and a tax man's primer called "Effective Revenue Writing 1."

Language, writes Linton, "has its own ways of dressing for public appearance, at the extremes either jumping about in Bermuda shorts and sportshirt or moving with stiff-legged dignity in full evening attire."

And he warns IRS men to steer clear of "pseudoformality."

"Perhaps it is not always possible to smile about tax matters," his book says, "but it is possible to choose words in writing about such matters that do not make the wrong impression on or antagonize our readers."

At the same time, Linton warns his students not to get too cozy in addressing the taxpayer.

"I think," he writes, "we would not do well to write a taxpayer:

"'Dear Mr. Jones: We goofed! When we first gave your letter the once-over-lightly we thought you wanted a refund but now, as we get it, you just want our OK on some deductions. Here are some ideas which may help you. At least let's haul them up the flagpole and see who salutes'."

University Dean

Linton is a George Washington University dean and professor of English literature. For 14 years he has been a writing consultant to government agencies ranging from the Forest Service to the Central Intelligence Agency.

The struggle to snuggle with the taxpaying public led the income tax collectors to the importance of the written word.

IRS employees taking the writing course do so on their own time. They take examinations and get grades, too.

"We don't make them take it, and an awful lot of them take it," E. N. Montague, head of the Training Division at national IRS headquarters, said in an interview today.

Montague said that stressing good writing made sense for it is through the written word that the service communicates with the public.

For one thing, he said, good writing can cut down on the number of times letters go back and forth explaining things.

Also, he said, the service hires a lot of accountants who need to understand public relations.

"They are trained to believe two and two is four," he said. "In dealing with people, two and two is not always four, sometimes it's three and seven-eighths. It's not always black and white.

Variance Request Fee Is Suggested

EATONTOWN — A proposal to institute filing fees for all application made to the Zoning Board of Adjustment was heard last night by the Borough Council and held for study.

Harold Hardman, chairman of the zoning board, pointed out in a letter to the council that the board incurs considerable expense when it must take verbatim testimony in cases before it.

These and other board expenses, he said, could well be defrayed by charging a fee for variance applications. The amount of the fee could be set, he suggested, on a sliding scale based on the value of proposed building.

Minor Subdivision

The council at the same meeting approved a minor subdivision for the Broad St. lot on which the Twin Boro Federal Savings and Loan Association is constructing its new building. The subdivision, which was recommended by the Planning Board, will serve to straighten out the side line of the plot.

Council also approved, as recommended by the zoning board, a modification of a variance for Sunnybrook Apartments, Wyckoff Rd., to permit one additional new apartment unit, making a total of 16, and locating the new laundry room in the basement rather than on the first floor.

A request by the Henry Allen Co., Main St., to erect a sign to encourage parking in the borough parking area behind the store, was referred to the zoning board.

Chasey Buys Lot

An offer of $200 by Arthur Chasey for a small lot in Shark River Hills adjoining property he presently owns was accepted after a public auction in which no other offers were made.

The governing body passed three ordinances after public hearings in which no comment was made. One appropriated $4,000 from the capital improvement fund for construction of an all purpose play area in the borough playground.

The second appropriated funds to buy a non-carriage receipting machine for the borough tax office. Bids were received, with one bidder, the National Cash Register Co., offering two alternative proposals. The council decided to buy a machine costing $4,469.07 which can be delivered shortly, rather than one costing $4,392.79 which would be delivered in 24 weeks. It was pointed out that the difference in the cost of the two can be saved in the intervening time.

A third ordinance made White St. a no parking zone from Broad St. to its end. It also made South St. a through street at its intersection with Richardson Ave., and Pine St. a through street for its entire length.

Councilman Ralph L. Lewis was authorized to purchase a two-way radio for one of the first aid squad's ambulances for a sum not to exceed $600.

Police Coverage 24 Hours a Day

UNION BEACH — Residents here can breathe a little easier today.

Police Chief John F. Conroy reported this morning that the borough now has police protection "seven days a week, 24 hours a day."

It was revealed at a council meeting last week that since July there have been two or three times each week (for periods of about four hours in the early mornings) when residents had no police protection, except a man behind the desk at headquarters.

Mayor William F. Rodgers said Thursday he was shocked to learn about the condition and ordered it corrected with rescheduling of work hours or use of additional special policemen.

The department is short three regulars, as a result of resignations during the past several months. Local officials have blamed the resignations on low police pay.

Chief Conroy advised The Register this morning that the no-coverage condition will not recur in the future, since the department now has authorization to spend more money on use of special officers.

Other Driver Got Summons

NEW SHREWSBURY—A summons for careless driving was issued to Thomas Scofield, 10 Brown Pl., Oakhurst, after he was involved in an accident Tuesday night at Shrewsbury Ave. and Sycamore Ave.

The Scofield car struck the rear of one driven by Elmore Stanton of 88 Clinton Pl., New Shrewsbury, as it was waiting for a traffic light to change. Mr. Stanton received no summons.

Names of the drivers of the standing and moving vehicles were switched inadvertently in an account of the accident printed yesterday.

Ship Ablaze; Loaded With Dynamite

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—A Greek freighter, on fire after a violent explosion, reported today she was in "very desperate" plight in stormy seas about 360 miles northeast of Bermuda, the U. S. Coast Guard said. The first of several rescue ships was nearing the stricken ship.

The Coast Guard said the freighter, the 7,187-ton Captain George, was carrying dynamite and other explosives on deck. But the captain of the stricken ship reported he had no plans to abandon ship until absolutely necessary.

An Air Force plane that circled overhead reported that all 215 crewmen aboard the Captain George were safe. No Americans were aboard.

been giving that the bombers have already been turned over to them.

However, in the long days of haggling over the bombers, Soviet negotiators never claimed the planes were Castro's property or that the Soviet government would not remove them.

U.S. officials appear confident that in a showdown Khrushchev will make good on his commitment to withdraw offensive weapons and will order the more than two dozen jet bombers carted back to the Soviet Union.

If negotiations on Khrushchev's conditions should break down and the Soviet premier refuses to withdraw the planes, Kennedy will then have to decide on the next move.

No Deadline

Officials say the United States has not set a deadline.

A key to Soviet moves may be held by Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan who has been conferring in Havana with Castro. Mikoyan is believed to be winding up his talks now with plans to leave Havana at almost any time.

His departure is about 10 days overdue. The extension of his stay is interpreted by officials here to mean that his talks with Castro have gone badly.

To Acquire Acreage For Future School

OCEANPORT — The Board of Education last night authorized its attorney, Sidney Alpern of Long Branch, to proceed with the condemnation of a piece of Portaupeck property designated as a possible future school site.

The land is part of a tract of about 10 acres adjoining Shrewsbury and Maple Aves. which the school board seeks in its plans to deal with future school expansion needs.

John Nagel, Jr., president, said the portion to be condemned cannot be safely acquired through agreements with its owners because of its "very dubious title." The action affects 27 of 31 lots in block C-2, all of which lie in a wooded, unimproved area.

Secretary is Agent

Mr. Nagel explained that Mr. Alpern's action would lead to the appointment of a state commission to oversee the condemnation proceedings. Mrs. Evelyn Riddle, board secretary, was named the board's agent in the matter.

The board's action is the first step toward acquisition of the 10 acres. About 3½ acres are brough-owned and negotiations for the remainder of the property, Mr. Nagel said, will be initiated "in due course."

Although no building plans are pending, the land acquisition plan was developed last year with an eye on increasing enrollments and a realization that the Wolf Hill Avenue School is already as large as it should be.

Special Committee

In September, 1961, a special investigatory committee was appointed to look into the availability of school sites. The Portaupeck tract was picked when it was found that the extension of the present school grounds or the property adjoining the Community Center would be prohibitively expensive. The site chosen is in the newer part of the borough where about two thirds of the school children reside.

The Portaupeck tract was approved by the Planning Board and Earl B. Garrison, county superintendent of schools, and, in the election of last Feb. 13, by the voters.

Voters approved an appropriation of $30,000 to be raised through taxation for the land purchase and legal and engineering fees. The proposal passed by 28 votes, 142 to 116.

Cost of the over-all program has been estimated at $123,000.

The committee voted to inform the Monmouth County Softball League that the use of Kavookjian Field on Rt. 36 will be allowed only under certain restrictions.

The committee said that existing advertising signs at the field must be removed, taking of collections at games must be stopped and that all games end by 10 p.m.

Residents Complain

Residents of Monmouth Hills had complained about the league's use of the field.

Residents complained of the lights and noise coming from the games and asked the township to investigate for possible violations of the zoning ordinance.

The recreation area is used by Highlands residents.

The field was used by the softball league this past summer.

The 2d Medium Tank Battalion of the 50th Armored Division, National Guard, Red Bank, was denied permission to use a tract of land on Rt. 35 near five corners for a practice machine gun range.

The committee voted to ask the county to improve the bridge on Swimming River Rd. between Atlantic Township with this community.

Officials noted that the bridge was narrow.

To Attend Hearing

OCEANPORT — John Nagel, Jr., president of the Board of Education, said last night that the board, the Parent-Teacher Association and Borough Council will be represented at a Public Utilities Commission public hearing on the need for automatic gates at the Portaupeck Ave. railroad crossing. The hearing will be Nov. 28 at 11 a.m. in the PUC offices, 101 Commerce St., Newark.

It pays to advertise in The Register.—Advertisement.

Church Building Problems Solved

FAIR HAVEN — Zoning and building problems surrounding the construction of the Christ Methodist Church appear to have been settled.

Councilman Jesse J. McIlray said after a joint meeting of all borough officials, that the church would receive a building permit to go ahead with construction.

The new church, which represents a merger of the Rumson and Fair Haven Methodist churches, will be located on a portion of the Lovett tract, near McCarter Ave. and Ridge Rd. Groundbreaking ceremonies were held two weeks ago.

The special meeting last night was called Monday by Mr. McIlray, who said a number of minor problems had arisen concerning the location of the building on the property and the construction of the proposed church.

Last night the councilman said the over-all problems had been "resolved" and the permit would soon be issued by Thomas Carlock, building inspector.

Attending the meeting were borough councilmen, planning and zoning board members, the borough's engineer and attorney, and church representatives.

Cite Reason For Airliner Crash

NEW YORK (AP) — A flight engineer who perished with 27 others when an airliner lost three engines and had to ditch in the Atlantic last Sept. 23, is said to have caused the loss of one engine by turning a lever by mistake.

The pilot of the ill-fated aircraft testified before a Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday that he might have been able to limp into Shannon, Ireland, on two engines.

Capt. John Murray, the pilot of the Flying Tiger airline Constellation, said that the engineer, James E. Garrett Jr., 30, of Brentwood, N. Y., told him he had "goofed" after the first engine caught fire by turning a handle which shut off a valve connected to an engine that was not giving trouble. The engine overspeeded and had to be feathered, the pilot said.

Many of the 68 passengers on the plane, a charter flight from McGuire Air Force Base, N. J., to Frankfurt, Germany, were servicemen and dependents.

Police Promotions Huylar, Geiger in Line for Posts

KEYPORT — Councilman Robert J. Strang, police chairman, will recommend that police Lieutenant LeRoy Huylar be promoted to captain, and Sergeant William Geiger elevated to lieutenant.

Mr. Strang told The Register last night that action on the promotions probably will be taken at the next council meeting, Nov. 26, but that the promotions will not become effective until Jan. 1.

The openings exist at a result of the recent death of police Captain Joseph Morley.

Mr. Strang also said he will recommend that council decide on who will get the sergeant's post by conducting a Civil Service exam, and permitting all six patrolmen to take it.

"That way, no one will be subjected to the charge that politics had anything to do with it," he added.

The local force, when at full strength, consists of 11 men.

It will be brought back to full strength by the appointment of a new patrolman.

Mr. Strang said two men are eligible — Raymond Rifenburg, 29, of Broad St., and Jay Jeandron, 29, of Osborne St. — as a result of a police Civil Service exam two years ago.

Since Mr. Rifenburg is first on the list, the appointment will go to him if he requests it, and he has indicated that he will, Mr. Strang reported.

The appointment will be made Nov. 26.

Starting salary for a probationary patrolman is $4,870.

The police chairman said Mr. Rifenburg is presently employed by a local supermarket as a butcher.

Middletown Youth Center Study Set

MIDDLETOWN — The Township Committee announced last night that a committee will be formed shortly to study two possible sites for a youth center.

Officials said the committee will investigate the possibility of using either or both the Ridgewood Inn at Monmouth and Ridgewood Aves., in Leonardo, or the Brasch barn at Middletown-Lincroft Rd. and Nutswamp Rd.

The governing body sought unsuccessfully last year to have Alexander Caplan, a Short Hills builder, donate the barn to the township.

Officials said the builder wanted "too many" concessions in return for giving the building to the township.

The builder owns the land on which the barn is located.

Officials said the Ridgewood Inn has many advantages. But it was noted that there is a tavern located next to the building.

Miss Eileen Ottinger, Cooper Rd., a senior at the local high school, asked the governing body to try and secure a center for township youth.

She said she was speaking for at least 3,000 students who would like to have a youth center.

A survey of students taken last year by the local Kiwanis Club indicated that the majority wanted a center.

The club sought last year to acquire the Brasch barn.

Township Committeeman Ernest G. Kavalek, a strong supporter of a youth center since he has been on the governing body, recommended that a five-man committee be appointed to investigate both sites.

He suggested that the committee be composed of two members of the governing body, a member of the Recreation Commission, a member of the high school guidance staff, and a member of one of the local civic or service organizations in the community.

Officials said they did not know when such a committee might be formed but indicated it would be soon.

Shore High OKs Plan To Advertise

WEST LONG BRANCH —Shore Regional High School will soon get some recognition along Rt. 36.

The Board of Education last night passed a motion setting aside $373.50 for the purchase of a sign to be placed on the school's campus facing the highway.

The sign will serve the dual purpose of identifying the school to passing motorists and as an announcement for coming events, both social and sports.

The board also approved two substitute teachers, Robert Maloney, 229 Lockwood Ave., and William Esberg, 226 Perrine Ave., both of Elberon.

Hurt in Crash

RED BANK — Mrs. Lola Rock, 105 West Sunset Ave., and her daughter, Loray, 4, suffered minor injuries when their car collided yesterday with a vehicle driven by Samuel Friedland, 13 Grant Ave., Deal. New-Born Baby Delays Boro Session

EATONTOWN — A new-born baby delayed the start of last night's borough council meeting by about 30 minutes.

The infant, born yesterday was the son of Councilman and Mrs. Joseph Kellenyi, their third boy.

With Councilman Leon B. Smock and Anthony F. DeVito attending the New Jersey State League of Municipalities meeting in Atlantic City, Mr. Kellenyi's presence was needed at the meeting to make up a quorum.

Mayor Herbert E. Werner and Councilmen Edward Clark, Ralph L. Lewis and Theodore Zebrowski waited patiently for Mr. Keilenyi to drive back from Fitkin Hospital where his wife and new son are.

When he was asked for his committee report, Mr. Kellenyi reported that the baby weighs seven pounds and nine ounces, and has not yet been named.

"All the names we had prepared were girl's names," he said.

Stockholders OK Banks' Merger Plan

FREEHOLD — Stockholders of the Central Jersey Bank and Trust Co. and the Farmers National Bank of Allentown yesterday approved plans for merger of the two banks.

In July, directors of the two banks okayed the merger.

The consolidation plan now must be approved by the state commissioner of banking.

Late News Briefs

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Contracts with the National Lead Co. on which Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., contended the government "waived its right" to a multimillion dollar profit come under Senate scrutiny today.

A Special Armed Services subcommittee called witnesses representing the company and federal agencies for questioning about the complex transactions involving the purchase of nickel, cobalt and copper for defense stockpiles.

This phase of inquiry stemmed from a Senate speech in which Williams complained that stockpile officials in 1956 canceled a 1951 contract with National Lead requiring the delivery of 9.2 million pounds of nickel at a fixed price. He said the officials then signed a new contract with the firm at terms that, he stated, would have cost the taxpayers "approximately $7 million more."

HUNT FOR MURDERER

WESTPORT, Conn.—The family of Mrs. Isabel Sillan went ahead today with plans for her funeral as police and agents of the FBI searched for her murderer. Her daughter, Gail, 14, a witness to the slaying, will not be at the services tomorrow.

The girl was kidnapped and raped by the man who strangled her mother Monday in their home here. The daughter has been in a hospital since she escaped from her abductor Monday night after he had held her captive in his car all day.

Mrs. Sillan, 50, was the wife of Pierre Sillan, a fashion designer.

Police confirmed that Gail had identified the man they were hunting as a slender handyman who worked at homes in the neighborhood.

NO CHANGE SEEN

WASHINGTON — The "Ev and Charlie" show will be back on the boards in the next Congress with no change in its political format dictated by this month's election results.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said yesterday he sees no reason why he and House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana should swing out of the conservative groove they followed in weekly news conferences taped for television during the last Congress.

Halleck, who tends to be a little more conservative than Dirksen, was said by friends to be determined to continue blasting away at New Frontier proposals.

SPY PROBE

LONDON — A leading expert on Britain's security system today began an investigation of sensational rumors that a government minister planned to flee to Russia with a homosexual spy.

Prime Minister Macmillan in a startling statement to the House of Commons yesterday called for a "trial of truth" and named 63-year-old Lord Radcliffe as the head of a tribunal with sweeping powers to look into the rumors and the state of government security.

The spy alarm was heightened by Charles Ian Orr-Ewing, civil lord of the admiralty, who said in a speech that thousands of Communist secret agents are operating in Britain.

HONOR MRS. ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON — To honor the memory of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, President Kennedy has named a committee to promote interests to which she devoted her life.

The White House said yesterday the committee's attention is to be "focused particularly on the securing and protection of human rights and on improvement of living conditions among the underprivileged. It was to these matters that much of Mrs. Roosevelt's efforts were devoted."

As its chairman, Kennedy named UN Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who had been a close friend of the wartime President's widow.

Vatican Council Divided

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The question of whether to go ahead with a discussion of the place of the Bible and tradition as sources of the word of God hung over the divided Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council today.

The first day of debate on the controversial project to clarify the church's view disclosed a deep split among the council fathers.

The immediate question was whether to continue discussion of the proposed constitution on divine revelation, whether to throw it out and substitute a new version, or whether to leave the whole matter over for future popes and bishops.

The council fathers do not meet on Thursdays in St. Peter's Basicilica. But many of them met informally in their seminary quarters or hotel rooms to discuss the disputed constitution, or thesis.

The quickest way to decide their future course would be a vote tomorrow in the next session in St. Peter's. But council sources agreed that more speeches may be heard before there is any balloting on the course to take.

The question of the sources of divine revelation is one of the most sensitive before the council because it is one of the chief issues dividing the Roman and Protestant churches.

The Roman Catholic church has always taught that tradition—the "unfolding" of truths as the church studied the Apostles' nongospel teachings—and the Bible are the two sources of God's revealed word to man.

"But during the counter-reformation period of the 16th and 17th Centuries, the church laid heavy stress on tradition to counteract Protestant emphasis on the Bible alone as revealed truth," explained a priest, a biblical consultant to the council.

"Tradition was stressed so much that it became almost a separate concept. Now the church in council would put the two (scripture and tradition) back into equal focus by emphasizing that they sprang from the one single origin—God."

Roman Catholic priests, prelates active in the movement for world Christian unity are said to fear that a council document which, in effect, drags out in the open again the old question of tradition would accentuate Catholic-Protestant differences.

To Discuss Renewal Study

HIGHLANDS — At a meeting of the Planning Board last night the group announced that it will meet tonight in joint session with representatives of Borough Council, the local Urban Renewal Agency, and Urban Planning Associates, N. Y., the borough's consultant firm.

Subject of the conference will be a proposed urban renewal study of a three-block, 15-acre area along the abandoned Jersey Central Railroad right of way, south of Bay Ave., and east of Miller St., running to the Highlands bridge.

Urban Planning Associates has been given the nod to prepare a preliminary renewal program —before preparation in detail by engineers—at a fee of $1,000 to $1,500.

Planners indicated that drainage problems, in the proposed renewal area, relocation of families, development of the hill and shore sections, and a capital improvements program will be outlined at tonight's meeting by the consultant firm.

Multiple dwellings have been suggested for the redeveolpment area, which is considered "flood free."

In other business, the planners discussed zoning and its relation to the borough's master plan.

The group recently changed its meeting night from the first and fourth Thursdays to the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

Successful Investing

Get-Rich-Quick School Always Has Eager Pupils

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I invested all my savings in stocks, after reading a book by a 'successful' speculator. Now I owe $4,000 on margin and, since the system didn't work for me, I've lost practically all my money. My holdings are Brunswick, McGraw Edison, and Northrop. I'm so badly in the hole that I'm going to be asked shortly for more margin coverage. I would have to borrow on my insurance to supply this. What should I do?"

H.S.

Roger E. Spear

A) If it's any consolation to you, you're not the first person—nor will you be the last—to be deceived by the "How to Get Rich Quick" school of literature. I'm extremely sorry that you've discovered the hard way that there is no easy road to weath, least of all in the stock market.

The stocks you own are not bad issues, but they are subject to wide price variations. I advise you strongly to sell out, salvage what you can, and safeguard your one remaining asset—your life insurance.

Q) "I was left a little money when my parents passed away, but have had no experience in selecting stocks. It has been recommended to me that I buy Frito-Lay, which has better than average earnings. I would appreciate your advising me."

A.F.

A) I offer you my deepest sympathy on the loss of your parents. It is a heavy blow—as I know, for I lost mine some years ago.

I believe that Frito-Lay has considerable investment merit, and I am impressed by the fact that the company has seemed to be recession-proof in the past and should continue so in the future. Earnings have risen in each successive year since 1957 and probably gained another 10-12 per cent, to $1.25 a share in fiscal 1962.

The shares sell for 20 times expected earnings, yield about 2.3 per cent, and are a good conservative growth holding. I advise you to buy.

A Vigorous Session For Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP) — Fueled by some encouraging economic reports, the stock market resumed its upside rampage in another vigorous session yesterday.

The list was irregularly lower in early morning as it continued Tuesday's mild spell of profit-taking, but the desire to buy overcame caution and stocks moved ahead in heavy trading accompanied by lateness in the ticker tape.

The Dow Jones industrial average gained 7.37 at 630.48.

Gainers outnumbered losers by the wide margin of 887 to 217. There were a dozen new highs for the year and only one low, Globe-Union.

Volume rose to 5.09 million shares compared with 4.55 million Tuesday.

Thirteen of the 15 most active stocks were gainers and two were unchanged. Of the active gainers, three were motors, reflecting continued bullish news from the auto industry. This included record sales for Ford in early November and a boost in output for American Motors.

Brunswick was the most active stock, as it rose ½ to 18⅝ on 121,800 shares. Second was Chrysler, up 1⅞ at 66⅛ on 79,900 shares. Third was General Motors, up ⅞ at 55⅝ on 50,000 shares.

Next came Ford, up ⅜, and Lionel, unchanged at 7½.

American Motors, up 1, was the other active gainer in the auto group. Studebaker, which has laid off some help, closed unchanged at 7.

Fruehauf Trailer and Parke, Davis were each active and up 1 ¼ each.

Firestone failed to hold an early gain and closed with a loss of ¼ following its recent strength on the news of a contract to supply tires to Montgomery Ward. U. S. Rubber recouped ¼.

Du Pont gained 3⅛, Union Carbide ¾, Sears Roebuck 1¼. IBM advanced 7¾. Polaroid 2⅝. Boeing 1⅛ and Texaco 1⅛.

Work Started On Planning Sewer System

MIDDLETOWN — Township Committeeman Paul Pandolfi reported last night that work already has begun on planning and drafting of plans and specifications for the township's sanitary sewer system.

He said Charles J. Kupper, engineer, has begun work on the basis of informal approval of the township's request for a $330,000 interest-free federal loan to finance the planning of the project.

Mr. Pandolfi said that the township is awaiting final approval of the planning grant.

The cost of a sewer system to service about two-thirds of the homes in the community has been estimated at $9 million.

The planning portion of the project involves two stages.

It has been estimated that it will take two years to complete both portions of the planning phase of the project.

The committee—with only three members attending—took no action on ordinances appropriating $22,000 for business machines for the tax office and $82,000 for drainage and resurfacing of Park Ave.

State law requires that two-thirds or four members of the committee approve bonding legislation.

Mayor John T. Lawley and Committeeman Earl Moody were in Atlantic City attending the League of Municipalities Convention.

The committee did award a $5,724.70 contract to the Thomas Williams Co., Red Bank, for six air raid and fire sirens. The firm submitted the lowest of two bids received on the equipment.

The committee took under study a request by the building inspector, that the sale of Christmas trees on Rt. 35 be confined to existing business firms located on the highway.

The inspector said he had received complaints about persons who sell trees each year on vacant tracts of land.

School Plan Has No Major Opposition

HOLMDEL TOWNSHIP — It has been smooth sailing so far for the Board of Education and its proposed $1.4 million school building program.

The board reported last night it has encountered no major opposition during discussions of the program with the Planning Board and the Holmdel Taxpayers Association.

Harry D. Pitcher, board president, said that many good suggestions were made which are worth considering.

The proposed building program was also well received during a public hearing held Oct. 29. A meeting will be held with the Parent-Teacher Association Nov. 20 to discuss the program.

It calls for a new 20-room elementary school on the Cross tract, near Holmdel Village, alterations and new construction at the Holmdel Elementary School, and renovation of the Hillcrest School for use as an administration building.

A referendum on the program has been scheduled for Jan. 8.

Principal Richard M. Ford announced the eighth grades are now being tested by Red Bank High School and made note of the following dates:

Feb. 20, evening meeting for parents of eighth grade students at 8 p.m. in the elementary school.

Feb. 25 and 26, individual curriculum counselling of all eighth grades from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

May 7, orientation visit of eighth graders to the high school, 8:30 to 11 a.m.

Mr. Ford also announced that open house will be held at all township schools Dec. 4 from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Enrollment as of Oct. 31 was reported at 657 students in the elementary grades. Kindergarten had the highest enrollment with 122 students.

It was announced the school system will co-operate with Red Bank and participate in a civil defense drill on Nov. 29 at 2 p.m.

High school students will be picked up by bus, elementary bus students will be transported home and the other students will walk to their homes. Holmdel students attending St. Benedict's Catholic School will also participate in the drill.

In case of inclement weather the drill will be postponed.

Sparkes Given NJEA Associate Membership

RUMSON — Elliot W. Sparkes, president of the Board of Education, last night was presented an associate membership in the New Jersey Education Association by Robert Garin, president of the Rumson Education Association.

Mr. Garin lauded the board and its chief for its accomplishments in Rumson. A letter from Mr. Garin on behalf of the local association, complimented the board on its success at a recent referendum asking $395,000 to build a new primary school.

K Means Competition Not War, Says Pearson

WEST LONG BRANCH — Drew Pearson, author of the widely-circulated column, Washington Merry Go Round, yesterday defined the "We will bury you!" warning that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev handed the West as a "competitive, not military expression."

Mr. Pearson said this in addressing more than 400 students, faculty members and guests at a program sponsored by the Student Association's Activities Council in the auditorium of Monmouth College.

The columnist told his audience of intimate interviews he said he had with Premier Khrushchev, Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, Prime Minister Jawararlal Nehru of India, President Josip Broz Tito of Yugoslavia and other world leaders.

Mr. Pearson also advised that East and West are keeping eyes on what Communist China is doing. That is because of its fast-growing population.

Largely putting to one side the Soviet threat, the writer drew emphasis to the Chinese situation in addressing more than 400 students, faculty members and guests at Monmouth College.

A Student Lecture

He spoke at a lecture sponsored by the Student Association's Activities Council in the college auditorium.

The speaker offered the view that Russia as well as the United States is highly concerned about actions by Communist China.

This is a country that, he said, now has a population of 700 million which, in 10 years, will increase by "the number in the United States' present-day population of 180 million or more to reach about 900 million in in 1972. "This, he said, "is a country which will require land expansion."

Mr. Pearson visioned the Chinese sweeping into Malaya and Thailand in Southeast Asia, first. But he said he believed the Chinese people later would attempt to penetrate Soviet Siberia and other adjacent lands. While, now, the Chinese possess no nuclear force of known quantity or quality, he said he considered these people "intelligent and resorceful," ones to be watched.

The columnist told a number of humerous stories— including one in which Premier Khrushchev had invited him to the Soviet leader's Black Sea vacation retreat for a long, three-day interview, and, there, had suggested a swim. After the two emerged from a beach bathhouse, Mr. Pearson said he had been asked just what it was like "standing naked with the Communist leader of the world." He said his reply was: "There was no differnece."

Looking at back history, and at talks he has had with chiefs of state, Mr. Pearson said neither Mr. Khrushchev nor Mr. Kennedy want nuclear war.

'Exceptional Victory

President Kennedy was credited by him with "an exceptional victory" in getting Premier Khrushchev "to agree to withdrew the Soviet missiles from Cuba."

"This one action,' he said, "could lead the way toward a much better understanding between nations and to a long-range peace."

But, referring again to his interview with Premier Khrushchev, Mr. Pearson, said he was given to understand by the Soviet chief that Russia does and will continue "to borrow for itself the best things that capitalism represents."

He severely criticized the Kennedy Administration for the ill-fated invasion attempt at the Bay of Pigs, Cuba, but equally found fault with intelligence in the Eisenhower Administration that, he said, had led up to the building of the Berlin wall and other problems for the West. He pictured President Eisenhower as a man "some wanted to hear," former Vice President Richard M. Nixon as a man "many wouldn't trust," and President Kennedy as one "many can disagree with—but still a man of action.'

He also referred to what has been a running battle between himself and former President Truman, suggesting that, at the end, he got the better settlement in the dispute.

VETERAN COLUMNIST — Drew Pearson, author of "Washington Merry Go Round," and a close associate of world leaders is shown here as he was interviewed by Miss Dorothy Frankman, 1711 Park Ave., Lakewood, a journalism student at Monmouth College. Mr. Pearson discussed the world crisis before an audience of some 400 persons at the college yesterday.

Borough Will Vote On Charter Study

FREEHOLD — Bradley Beach voters will have a referendum on whether to create a Charter Study Commission after all.

Superior Court Judge J. Edward Knight yesterday granted an appeal by the Bradley Beach Taxpayers Association. He overruled Borough Clerk George L. Crosson, who declared last month that petitions filed with him demanding the public vote had insufficient legal signatures.

The Taxpayers Association wanted the question on the general election ballot Nov. 6, but Mr. Crosson forbid it on a basis of his findings.

Judge Knight said the question must appear on the ballot at the borough's municipal election for commissioners next May.

Just Enough

He held that there were 533 valid signatures on the petitions, or exactly 25 per cent of the registered voters, as required by law.

Originally, petitions contained 666 signatures. Borough police and other public employees, assertedly working on their own time, obtained 86 affidavits from signers declaring they wanted their names stricken from the petitions. On a basis of these, Mr. Crosson reached his decision.

Judge Knight said the clerk's calculations were wrong.

The court allowed 81 of the 86 disclaimer affidavits. He also struck four names as false signatures, 24 for duplications, and 24 as non-registered persons. But the total remaining came to 533, just enough to meet legal requirements, he said.

Opposed Vote

Mayor Eugene Lowenstein and Commissioners Albert Kirms and George Bariscello had fought the referendum move. They encouraged employees' solicitation of affidavits on a basis that employees had an interest in the local government, as well as the Taxpayers Association, and that the association allegedly had told petition signers a change of government would assure a cut in taxes.

Commissioners will be elected for four-year terms. However, if the Charter Study Commission plan is approved, members of that commission will be elected simultaneously.

If they recommend a change of government and report in time for the change to be listed on the ballot next November, a new form of government could be in operation by July of 1964.

Boy Scout Is Honored

MIDDLETOWN—Albert Woodward, 1 Hillyer La., a 14 year-old Boy Scout, was commended last night by the Township Committee for saving the life of a 10-year-old girl last month.

The youth administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to Melissa Jeremy, 29 Michael Dr., when her heart stopped after being struck by a car on Tindall Rd.

Officials said that the youth's action clearly saved the life of the girl.

The scout was applauded by those in attendence at the meeting when he was introduced.

He attended the meeting with his parents.

Merchants

A letter concerning injuries suffered by Mrs. Mildred A. Roberts in a fall which she said was caused by a sewer manhole was referred to the borough attorney.

The council instituted action to give Mrs. Blanche A. Gwynn a senior citizen's tax exemption to which she is entitled, but which, through oversight, she had not been given.

Wishes Good Luck To New Committeemen

MIDDLETOWN — Republican Township Committeeman Paul Pandolfi, defeated last week in a bid for re-election to the governing body, said last night that he wished his successful opponents well when they take office Jan. 1.

Mr. Pandolfi and Thomas S. Field were defeated by Martin V. Lawlor and Edward J. Roth, Democrats. The Democrats will control the governing body 3-2 beginning Jan. 1.

Mr. Pandolfi said he wished both men well in their endeavors on the committee. He said that he would be available if needed to serve the township in any capacity.

Mr. Roth, speaking also for Mr. Lawlor, thanked Mr. Pandolfi for his remarks.

Today's Business Mirror:

U. S. Deficits Still Rising

by SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Uncle Sam is collecting more in taxes this fiscal year than last—$4.5 billion more, in fact. But he is spending more, too—at least $6 billion more. And so he's running further into the red—the third year of steadily rising deficits.

Plans for still higher spending next year, plus a promised cut in taxes which will hold down revenues, foreshadow a continuing deficit—to make it four years in a row.

Many stock traders have interpreted this as inflationary—despite repeated denials by administration economists that any further inflation will be triggered by federal deficits under present conditions of unused industrial capacity and stubbornly high unemployment.

But one of the reasons given for the big spurt in stock prices since Soviet Premier Khrushchev said he wouldn't start a war over Cuba was the belief in Wall Street that the economy was in for a forward spurt, with big government spending as one of the bolstering factors.

Defense may well cost more. And space projects are sure to. But the jump this year in the Treasury deficit is traceable to defense spending only to a minor degree. Defense costs rose only slightly over the previous year. Spending on other programs increased more. And a soaring federal debt means higher outlays in interest payments.

The latest Treasury estimate on its deficit in the current fiscal year is $7.8 billion. In fiscal 1962 it was $6.3 billion and in fiscal 1961 the deficit was $3.9 billion. This $18 billion shortfall in three years is the main reason the federal debt has risen to more than $302 billion.

This year rising expenditure is part of the fault. But the administration's chief disappointment is that business didn't make as much profits as it had hoped—so the corporate income tax receipts are short of expectations, although total corporate profits for 1962 may well be at a record high. And personal incomes this year are at a record. But they, too, haven't gone as high as first estimated, so collections on personal income disappoint the Treasury. The total shortfall from earlier revenue expectations is $7 billion.

The administration hope is that the deficit—the government pumping more money into the economy than it is taking out—and the still promised tax cuts will help get business activity back into higher gear. Thus profits will rise—if costs don't rise too fast, also—and there will be more Treasury revenue.

And more people will be working and making more from various activities—and again the Treasury will get more money, even if the tax rates themselves are lower.

Whether it will work out that way will be widely debated.

But many stock traders have been betting that corporate business should rise—either from a government nudge to the economy, or from an eventual price inflation such as those that in the past often have followed prolonged Treasury deficits that pump more money and credit into the economy.

Deal Sisterhood Plans Program

DEAL — Miss Dorothy Hersh, 179 Deal Rd., was hostess at a board meeting of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Miriam Tuesday here in her home.

Plans were completed for the program for forthcoming combination board and general membership meeting. Slated for Dec. 11 at 12:30 p.m. in the temple, the program will include a religious game, according to the committee. Prizes are being donated by members of the sisterhood.

The Religious School classroom mothers are providing a Hanukkah party Dec. 16 in each of the classrooms. Gifts will be provided for each child.

To Fight Erosion By Stockpiling Sand

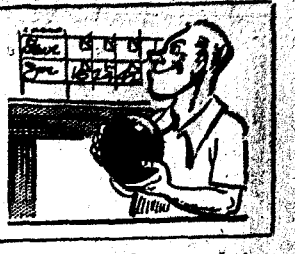

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Feeder beaches of stockpiled sand to fight erosion will be set up along the coast by the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

Francis B. Cogan, asst. chief engineer in the Bureau of Navigation, said Wednesday the sand would be piled in areas where beaches have frequent erosion problems and require replenishing of sand. He said the program is part of the plan against beach erosion developed by the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

Cogan told of the plan at a session of the New Jersey State League of Municipalities.

Splits and Misses

By PAUL A. ALBRECHT

We apologize to Stanley Savage for not being aware that he is the first one to hit the 700 class this season. Stanley accomplished this early last month in the Middletown A loop with games of 192, 247 and 268, for 707. Nice kegling, Stan.

The Overhead Door Corp. had the door slammed in its face the last night of the 1961-62 season by the Volkland's Towing Service, in the Red Bank Recreation Tuesday Night Bowling League. After 27 games this season the Overhead Door boys look like they are trying to make sure there is not a repeat. So far there are 17 games locked away, a one game bulge over Rassas Brothers. Two over Vincent's Beauty Salon and three over Red Bank Register team and the spirited Rogel's Club Metra. The defending champs are six off the pace, tied with Potter's Beauty Salon and only one up on the last place Oil Delivery team.

The Register team was late last season and also wound up coming late to the banquet. This time the boys seem intent on making a race of it. Rogel's Club Metra rolled the highest single team game, so far, with 979 and the second high team series of 2,748. The Volkland boys reverse this record with a 966 team game and a top team series of 2,768. The Overhead Door and Rassas Brothers are the only other teams to top that 2,700 mark. All eight teams have rolled at least one 900 game.

Mike Ferrigno and secretary Monte Geroni are the only ones in the 180 class, Mike with 186 and Monte at 181. Monte came through with a 654 set to lead in the three game individual race. The man to beat for the high individual game is John Mattoccia with his 243. Bill Koch is the only man in the loop hoping that someone will beat his record low game of 103. Bob Korono and Vincent DePonti may take over the average lead as they are tied with 179s.

Prown's 5 & 10 is hotter than the rest of the Riverside "800" league, having won twice as many games as they have lost. Peoples Liquor Store is one up on Pat's Pizza. The Palace Diner has one less than Pat's and one more than the Riverside Lounge. The Community Cleaners and Sanford's Body Works haven't been working full time, being three back of the Lounge and ony one up on the cellar dwelling Barkers.

The Palace Diner cooked a nice desert the night it came up with the highest team three games of 2,645. However, the Community Cleaners hushed the rest of the loop by cleaning off 1,007 pins in a single game. Here too, these two teams reverse things with the Cleaners holding second high threesome with 2,640 and the Diner boys second high game of 971.

Frank Ruscil and Kenny White are battling for the average lead with 178s. Ira Richards is next in line at 176, followed by Hank Evers with 175. Hieght West just nosed out Frank Ruscil by one pin for the high individual three game lead with a 615. Ira Richards' 247 is 10 pins better than second individual high game man Hank Evers. The boys who rolled that 1,007 for Community Cleaners include Harold Johnson, Jim Bruno, Rocky and Pete Denigtis and Ricky Mosca. Bill Anderson is also a member of this team.

Riverside Lanes and Ruscil's Furniture are one-two in the Riverside Businessmen's loop, with Riverside showing a 1½ game lead. A like number of Ruscil's is Globe Petroleum who is a half game up on Walt & Leo's Chevron. Monmouth Lumber is another length in arrears and three over the Fair Haven Barbers. Red Bank Service is one length further back and three better off than the bottom Riverside Lounge.

Riverside Lanes must have been practicing one night, the night it rolled the high threesome of 2,594. Walt & Leo's turned up the gas in at least one game this season as this is the team with the high single game of 970. Frank Ruscil was hot once this fall as he came up with a 256 and a 615. Frank Trimboli and Gene Koveleski are tied for second in the threesome category with 606s. Howard Kull has a nice lead in the average race with 183 to Fred Bruno's 178. Herman Chieffalo and Moe Shulman are next in line with 176s.

Once again Fred Bruno is running his elimination tournament. This is one in which 32 men start by being paired off. The winner of each pair then is paired with one of the other winners, and so on until there are only two men left. These two then go at each other to determine the final winner. Such a tournament was the rage a decade ago and made for top bowlers. In fact, all alleys would run at least one individual tournament each year and many bowlers would travel all over the East to enter these events. Those who did this travelling are old timers we see on TV today. It was such competition that made those men bowlers. Today it is hard to get bowlers to enter local tournaments. Why?

Two New Jersey women tied for third high average in the nation for 1961-62. Pauline DeLuca of Passaic, and Helen Steinmetz of Trenton, tied Jeanette Bopp of Milwaukee, Wis., for third high average honors. All three wound up with 196. First place was also a tie between June P. Llewellyn of Cleveland, and Prim Verger of Alameda, Calif., who wound up with 198s. More than 600 women averaged 180 or better and 189 of these had 185 or better. Forty-four averaged 190 or better. California led all states with 102 women in the 180-plus category while Los Angeles led the cities with 50.

Only 21 women in WIBC's 46-year history have maintained season averages of 200 or more. The highest average ever held by a woman is 206, and this was accomplished three times, once by Floretta McCutcheon of Pasadena, Calif., during the 1938-39 season, and twice by Philadelphia's Sylvia Wene, during the 1952-53 and 1953-54 seasons.

Insurance Is Re-issued On School Boilers

KEANSBURG — School officials have reported that liability insurance carried on the local elementary school's boilers has been re-instated.

At the Board of Education's meeting last month it was reported that the Fidelity Casualty Insurance Co., had cancelled its insurance coverage on the boilers.

Officials reported that a subsequent investigation disclosed that the boilers had been checked by insurance company investigators but that a report on the findings had not been filed with the company.

The company had previously made certain recommendations concerning the boiler and had sent investigators to the school to determine if these recommendations were carried out by the board.

The company, apparently failing to receive a report on the investigation, canceled the insurance coverage.

School officials said the company is now satisfied that the recommendations have been carried out and has reinstated coverage.

Officials also commended its insurance agent, W. A. Conroy, for obtaining limited insurance coverage pending clarification of the situation.

Beyond the Call

Since he was elected mayor of New Shrewsbury last week John E. Lemon, Jr., has rescued a borough resident from a burning house, with the aid of two Pine Brook firemen, and helped capture a night time intruder in a borough gas station, while accompanying a policeman on patrol.

These exploits indicate a devotion to the welfare of his borough even beyond the duty of a mayor-elect.

The most significant fact about these two feats, however, is that they were done during the normal course of services he has been performing for this municipality a long time.

Since he became chairman of the Borough Council's police committee, Mr. Lemon has spent one night of each week riding with a borough policeman on the lonely 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. patrol. He accompanies each member of the police force in turn, observing their work and discussing their problems and duties.

He was a charter member of the New Shrewsbury First Aid Squad and has been answering emergency calls for aid.

He was able to help save Mrs. Bertha Hemphill from the flames, and to help capture an intruder into a business establishment, because he was performing unpaid and routine duties for his borough that he has long done without fanfare and often without notice.

Even these two noteworthy services for residents of the town that has chosen him to be its mayor, however, are outshone, we think, by four earlier incidents in which he was on the spot and rendered aid.

The mayor-elect during the past five years, has delivered four babies to mothers who live in New Shrewsbury.

Allen-Scott Report:

'Ted' Wants Foreign Relations Committee Post

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

WASHINGTON—Being a young man-in-a-furious-hurry is apparently a compulsive habit with Ted Kennedy.

Having wrested a seat in the Senate at the age of 30 — with the incidental aid of his name, close relationship to the President of the United States, and his family's great wealth — Ted is now proposing to blitz the Senate as he did the Massachusetts electorate.

The fledgling Senator, who has yet to be formally inducted into office, already is busily scrambling for one of the glamor prizes of the upper chamber — a place on the August Foreign Relations Committee.

This committee is one of the most influential and socially prominent in Congress.

It has far-reaching jurisdiction over international affairs and appointments to the State Department and diplomatic service. And membership on the Foreign Relations Committee ensures a constant stream of invitations from the capital's numerous embassies to their glittering and lavish receptions, banquets and other shindigs.

Assignment to this glamor committee is much sought after. With two exceptions, all present members have been in the Senate at least 10 or more years. It is virtually unprecedented for a newly-elected senator to be named to the committee.

But apparently this is not daunting young Kennedy; nor the fact that a number of Democratic senators with seniority are after the one available vacancy.

Backstage plan of Senate Democratic leaders is to add another Democrat to the Foreign Relations Committee, giving them 12 Democrats to six Republicans. Present ratio is 11 Democrats to six Republicans. Two GOP committeemen were defeated — Senators Alexander Wiley, Wis., and Homer Capehart, Ind. There were no Democratic losses.

Among Democratic senators who have long had their eyes on this choice committee are Estes Kefauver, Tenn., Edmund Muskie, Me., Claiborne Pell, R. I., and William Proxmire, Wis.

So young Ted Kennedy has his work cut out for him blitzing a seat on this potent committee.

WHAT HE'S UP AGAINST — One inside report is that the administration is throwing its weight behind him. If that is the case, the administration could be inviting a stinging rebuff. Traditionally, the Senate has jealously resented outside meddling in its affairs.

Also, is was an open secret that Ted's harsh and heavily-financed candidacy won no cheers among Democratic senators. They frankly disapproved of it.

During Ted's razzle-dazzle campaign, he proclaimed that if elected he intended to get himself named to the "Foreign Relations Committee and the Fishing Committee." There is no "Fishing" committee. The Commerce Committee has jurisdiction over that industry.

Young Kennedys prospects of being assigned to that committee are far better than Foreign Relations.

Significantly indicative of that were telegrams Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., and Senator J. William Fulbright, Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, sent to Governor Gaylord Nelson during his successful campaign against veteran Senator Alexander Wiley, R-Wis. In these messages, Mansfield and Fulbright declared they would go to bat for Nelson to put him on the Foreign Relations Committee.

Other Promises

Immediate political purpose of these telegrams was to offset Wiley's electioneering claim that he was senior Republican member on this key committee. At the same time, the wires also publicly committed Mansfield and Fulbright to back Nelson for a place on the committee.

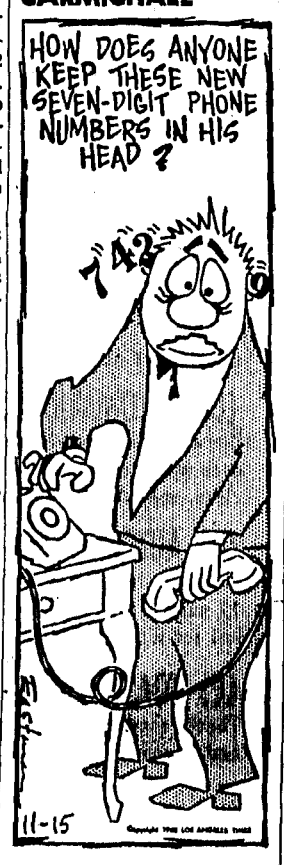

How that sits with Proxmire is conjectural. Privately, no love is lost between him and Nelson. Proxmire did little to help Nelson. Also, Nelson is more militantly liberal than Proxmire, and is rated more knowledgable about foreign affairs, particularly Latin American. He has published studies on that, which were the basis for the Mansfield-Fulbright telegrams.

Another newcomer aspiring to the Foreign Relations Committee is Maryland's Senator-elect Daniel Brewster, who has served two terms in the House. That gives him a decided edge over both Nelson and young Kennedy.

But Capital insiders are not counting the latter out — 'despite the odds against him. He has strikingly demonstrated he has a way of getting what he wants!

POLITICALS — The 1964 presidential campaign is still two years off, but Republican politicos already are viewing Senator Thomas Kuchel, Calif., as a likely running mate on a Rockefeller ticket. They are saying that Kuchel, who resoundingly won re-election while virtually all other GOP candidates were defeated, is a "natural" for a Rockefeller slate, linking the two biggest states in the country, New York and California . . . Despite the defeat of his hand-picked candidate for the Senate, Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley definitely will seek a third term next spring. While Daley's senatorial choice was licked, the entire Cook County Democratic ticket, with one exception, was swept into office last Tuesday. Most probable Republican opponent of Daley will be Benjamin Adamowski, former state's attorney and long-time Daley rival . . . Nevada's anti-administration Democratic Representative Walter Baring was re-elected, but to no cheers of the White House. In fact, privately, some administration insiders were rooting for Carlton Adair, Republican opponent of Baring, who favored more Kennedy measures than Baring. Adair campaigned for medical care for the aged and other Kennedy policies, about which Baring either was silent or against.

CARMICHAEL

PHONED WHEN STUCK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Telephone company officials say there's one Ohio housewife who particularly is happy that she has an extension phone in her kitchen.

The lady, whom they gallantly did not identify, was cleaning between her refrigerator and kitchen counter and squirmed into a narrow area to do a thorough job. She got stuck.

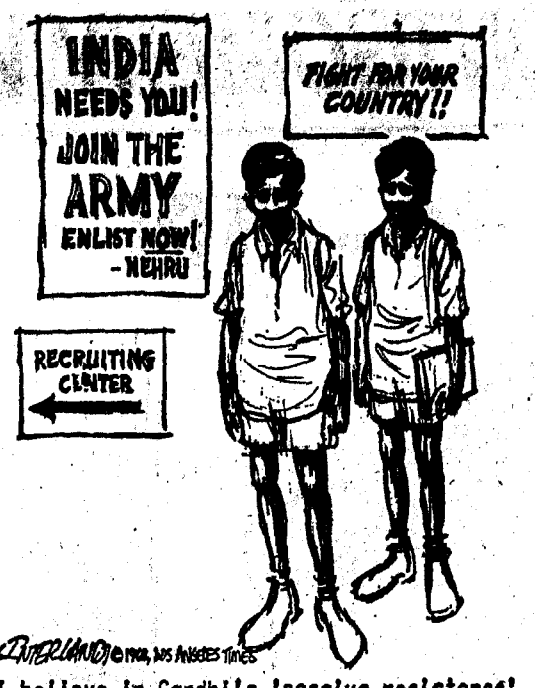

But fortunately she could just reach the telephone. She phoned police, who sent out a couple of husky officers to wrestle away the refrigerator and rescue her.

PENNY WISE

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Brad Schnee of Des Moines, spent a weekend with his grandmother, Mrs. Clema L. Junkin of Des Moines, and she put him in a taxi for the seven-mile trip home.

About halfway home, the eight-year-old told the driver he had forgotten something very important—he wouldn't say what—and had to return to his grandmother's.

So, back went the cab, the meter ticking. Brad ran into his grandmother's house on his return there—to retrieve a five-cent candy bar he had left in the refrigerator.

Your Money's Worth:

Working Wives, Sick Children

By SYLVIA PORTER

If you're a typical taxpayer in any income bracket —low to highest—you have found facts and guides in this series which will help you cut the federal income tax you'll owe on your 1962 earnings or help a member of your family or a friend save.

PORTER

Just the urgent message to you that the time to cut your 1962 tax debt to the minimum is in these closing weeks before 1963 should be of major tax-saving value to you, and this fall the opportunities for tax savings are extraordinary because of the two new tax laws on our books, significant tax rulings in 1962, the stock market crash, the outlook for broad tax reductions next year. Now here is a final column for working wives, parents of sick children, etc.

Working wives: The law permits working widows, divorcees and widowers to deduct up to $600 a year which they must pay to others to care for their dependent children under 12, so they can have time to work. Wives who work also qualify for this deduction if the combined husband-wife gross income is not more than $5,100.

Even Pay to Relatives

But what if the working woman pays her parents or some other relative to care for the child?

The Treasury has objected to this deduction under these circumstances, but now it agrees with a court decision that if the child care expenses meet all the necessary tests, the expenses are deductible — even when the money is paid to a relative.

The identical payment also counts in determining whether the wife or widow has contributed more than half of the child's support and thus is entitled to the $600 dependency credit.

This development can help many who really need to save every penny in taxes possible. If these circumstances apply to you or to a friend, check on your status at once.

Important Concession in '62

Home improvements for medical reasons: If you already have made this year or are considering making improvements to your home for medical reasons, you should be aware of an important concession made to you by the Treasury in 1962. Previously, the Treasury had agreed that your cost of installing such permanent improvements as stairway elevators, swimming pools, etc., for necessary medical reasons could qualify as deductible medical expenses if the improvements did not raise the value of your property—but this rule was interpreted in an exceedingly strict way.

For instance, if you had spent $2,000 for a medically necessary improvement to your home in 1961 which had raised the market value of your home by only $500, the Treasury said that as long as the value of your home went up, you weren't entitled to any part of the $2,000 you spent as a medical deduction.

Several courts argued the Treasury was wrong and held that the homeowner could treat as medical expense the amount of his expense above the increase in his home's value—which would have been $1,500 in the above example. The Treasury finally has agreed this is just.

Visits to Sick Children

If you already have made such improvements to your home in 1962 or do so before the end of this year, you'll be entitled to the medical expense deduction, assuming you meet the stated requirements.

Sick children: If your child is away from home for medical reasons, you can deduct as a medical expense the cost of visiting him, if the visit is necessary for the child's therapy and medical cure. But what if your visit is designed to help your child's morale as well as cure his mental and physical ailment? Can you deduct the costs of this trip as a medical expense?

The problem came up when parents in Tennessee were advised by their son's psychologist to help his morale and psychological condition by visiting him at the Arizona school which he had to attend because of his severe asthmatic condition.

The Treasury now has agreed with the court that this type of trip is a deductible medical expense for the parents. It is doubtful, though, that the Treasury would allow you a deduction for a trip this Christmas which helped only the morale of your sick child without also helping to alleviate his physical or mental ailment.

End of a series of nine on "Save On Taxes Now."

WILLIAM S. WHITE

WASHINGTON — Alike for the soft dreamers in foreign policy and for the hard cynics cloaked in a spurious self-righteousness, these are the days of a bitter November.

In President Kennedy's decision to act at last against the Soviet military lodgment in Castro Cuba, the first set, the dreamers, lost such operative influence as they had held in the conduct of American policy.

Gone before the winds of reality is their curious philosophy. This was that Soviet military penetration of this hemisphere could be handled, first, by pretending it did not exist and later by arguing that even if it did exist the only way was to try to wish the rocket emplacements out of Cuba by appeals to Cuba, to Nikita Khrushchev or to "world opinion."

And now, something more than Indian border positions is falling before the Chinese Communist invasion of India. Failing, too, is a policy of a coldly cynical alleged Indian "neutralism" as between East and West which was never in fact neutral at all. Instead, it was a means of getting the maximum out of both sides for India while endlessly proclaiming a "nonalignment" which in nearly every showdown was partial to the Soviet Union and Communist China.

Cozy Shop

For years in this way Prime Minister Nehru had run a cozy shop of unexampled national selfishness, all the while proclaiming himself a sort of secular saint of the modern world and cannily foxing old ladies of both sexes into prostrating themselves before his phony shrine as "the world's leading statesman for peace."

Even his brutal invasion some time ago of the tiny Portuguese colony of Goa did not suffice to unfrock him in the minds of his Western idolators. Nor had his earlier, and still persisting, refusal to enter any sort of fair negotiations with neighboring Pakistan over the disputed province of Kashmir.

A tireless advocate of "self-determination of peoples" — wherever other large nations' ambitions were concerned—he refused even to consider granting the Goans a vote to determine their own future, as so long he has refused such a vote to the people of Kashmir.

But what Kashmir could not do and even Goa could not do, though his action here was a naked act of aggression by the large against the small, the Chinese Communist invasion of his own country has now done. For this thrust into his own homeland, by a power whose evil candor in its lust for territory is not matched even by that of the Soviet Union, has accomplished much.

Self-Interest

It has exposed to all the world the intellectual trickery and moral squalor of a "neutralism" which was never neutral and of a voice crying "peace" to the world but concerned instead strictly and solely with Indian self-interest.

But, more importantly, the exposure is occurring within India, too. The Indian people are beginning to learn where this kind of "nonalignment" has taken them, and what it has done to their national safety. Already, Nehru has had to axe his chief associate in the old game of high hypocrisy, Krishna Menon. Already, Nehru has had to say, in public, that he, too, now wonders about his past attitudes. Already Nehru, the man who could never, never be questioned, is being questioned—at home as well as abroad.

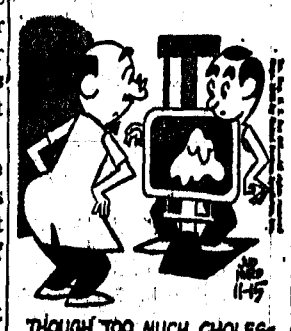

Indeed, but for the tragic victims among Indian soldiery of Nehru's ill-prepared military forces, it might be said that the Chinese Communists have done the world a favor. As of course all rational men must hope, they will never conquer India, nor would the West permit it. But they have shown to all the world the bankruptcy of Nehru's kind of "neutralism."

COUPLE MILLION HOLES

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Nearly two million wells have been drilled for oil or gas since petroleum production began in this country. The Independent Petroleum Association of America put the total as of Jan. 1, 1962, at 1,869,299 — of which 28.2 per cent were dry holes.

These Days:

The Republican Future

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The past election has come up with three Republican governors who are possible presidential candidates in 1964. It has also killed off a presidential possibility, Richard Nixon, who talked himself out of public life by an uncontrolled display of bitterness in defeat. Americans are not supposed to take their defeats too seriously.

SOKOLSKY

The three governors are Rockefeller of New York, Romney of Michigan and Scranton of Pennsylvania. About Nelson Rockefeller we know a great deal. He has been in the public eye since the Franklin D. Roosevelt Administration. He is politically keen, an able administrator but over-eager. Thus his philosophy of life or of politics is not clear except that he regards himself as a "liberal."

It grows increasingly difficult to know what a "liberal" is. President Kennedy and Nelson Rockefeller are "liberals"; so how will they contend against each other? It could only be on two grounds: 1. Rockefeller can say that he would do the thing more efficiently than Kennedy; 2. Kennedy will say that he cannot.

On Anti-Reuther Ticket

George Romney we know nothing about politically except that he was elected governor of Michigan on an anti-Walter Reuther ticket. He is a businessman. He will have about a year to show what he amounts to. Politics and business are not identical or similar operations. The businessman has greater latitude, particularly if he has a successful operation. The politician deals primarily with the control of men. He is chosen by a vote; he exists by popular goodwill.

William Scranton comes from an old Pennsylvania family after whom the city was named. He, like Romney, will have a chance for about one year to establish a record as an administrator.

I say a year, because after that he will be a candidate and will have to act like a candidate which is very different from acting like an administrator. Whether you like it or not, candidates do and say many things that represent forensic exaggerations. For instance, I do not know what Governor Rockefeller likes to eat, but surely it is not knish. Yet, he goes into parts of New York where knish and heavy garlic salami are prevalent and he eats it to show that he can mingle with all kinds of people. It makes for popularity. It establishes him as a good goy.

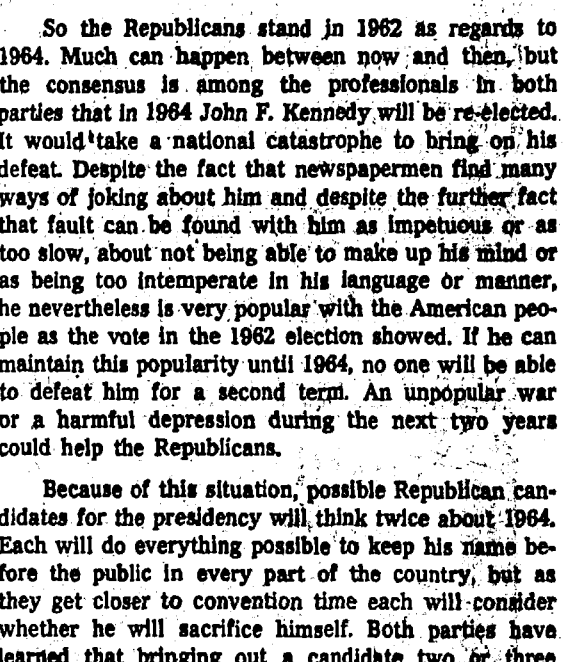

Kennedy Will Be Re-elected

In discussing candidates for 1964, we must not forget Barry Goldwater. He has built an enormous personal following, particularly in the South and the West. Certainly, Barry Goldwater will not be ignored in the 1964 Republican Convention. He may not get the presidential nomination but any candidate would be pleased to have him as a vice presidential candidate because he would be an asset.

So the Republicans stand in 1962 as regards to 1964. Much can happen between now and then, but the consensus is among the professionals in both parties that in 1964 John F. Kennedy will be re-elected. It would take a national catastrophe to bring on his defeat. Despite the fact that newspapermen find many ways of joking about him and despite the further fact that fault can be found with him as impetuous or as too slow, about not being able to make up his mind or as being too intemperate in his language or manner, he nevertheless is very popular with the American people as the vote in the 1962 election showed. If he can maintain this popularity until 1964, no one will be able to defeat him for a second term. An unpopular war or a harmful depression during the next two years could help the Republicans.

Because of this situation, possible Republican candidates for the presidency will think twice about 1964. Each will do everything possible to keep his name before the public in every part of the country, but as they get closer to convention time each will consider whether he will sacrifice himself. Both parties have learned that bringing out a candidate two or three times to be defeated is hopeless. A candidate once defeated is not likely to be acceptable on another day. In four years, the public can develop a new hero. It all depends upon how a man behaves himself in defeat, of course. Politically, the best example of a comeback in popularity is Adlai Stevenson, who twice defeated for the presidency, is making a splendid record as our representative at the United Nations.

State Sales Tax Likely

By CHRISTOPHER MINICLIER

TRENTON (AP)—It looks like New Jersey is going to get a sales tax, but it may be another year before the governor asks for it.

An informed source reports the State Tax Policy Commission next month will recomend a 3 per cent selective sales tax that would bring in additional revenues of $150 to $180 million a year.

Gov. Hughes is not bound by the commission's report, nor is the state legislature. Hughes may choose to wait until after the 1963 elections to decide whether to ask the legislature to approve such a tax.

In 1963, eleven Senate seats, including those of 7 Democratic senators, and all 60 Assembly seats will be up for election. It would be difficult for a legislator to decide whether to vote for a tax if he knew his election would be at stake only a few months later.

Hughes came into office last year, warning of the need for more money and additional sources of revenue. He seems committed to ask for some new source of revenue.

Last February, in his budget message, he said: "It is my firm conviction that in order to insure our future economic progress, more capital funds are needed to expand our increasingly inadequate highway system."

Elsewhere in the same message the governor spoke of needing more money for education, county and municipal highway projects, mental health, and a "long-range pay-as-you-go" capital construction program.

At the conclusion of his first budget message, Hughes promised to offer recommendations for additional expenditures after getting the report of the tax policy commission.

The possibility that the governor may wait awhile before asking the legislature to approve any type of new tax was suggested in recent speeches.

Twice in the last week, once in Atlantic City before the New Jersey Education Association, and again in Newark, before the State Taxpayers Association, Hughes has said:

'Prolonged Process'

"A major revision of our tax structure will be a difficult and perhaps a prolonged process.

"Thus, it would seem wise to keep your expectations is check while you work for your goals. Such changes do not happen overnight. Much will have to be done to inform the public of the choices before them," Hughes said.

The governor has already begun to inform the public.

Exactly what the Tax Policy Commission will recommend in the way of expenditures is not even known to the commission yet. The seven members are reportedly divided on several issues.

However, it is understood that the report, expected to contain some 250 pages, will recommend huge chunks of money for school aid and for county and municipal road programs.

What will be taxed is uncertain. It is understood that retail foods, drugs and medicines will be exempted, as well as some other items.

The commission reportedly decided against an income tax because it was considered less acceptable to the public and, ironically, would provide more money than is presently required for expanded state projects.

Other Sources

Other revenue sources were spurned by the commission chairman, Archibald Alexander, in a speech before the State Taxpayers Alliance.

He said additional taxes on gasoline, cigarettes, or racing would price these items out of the market, forcing people to go elsewhere or stop buying them.

He said "less orthodox means" of raising taxes, such as lotteries, off track betting, or fees for truckers on a ton-mile basis were considered impractical by most of the commission.

The report, due Dec. 1, will probably be about a week late. Final breakdowns have not been agreed upon but it is understood that a small majority of the commission favors dividing the extra $180 million this way:

—School aid, $70 million more than the $100 million presently allocated to school districts.

— For municipal roads and bridges, $25 to $30 million more than the $15.1 million now allocated annually.

—$5 million toward the Kerr-Mills medical care for the aged program.

$75 Million Left

This leaves some $75 million. The commission is still undecided what to do with all of this. Some of it may go to higher education, either for the state's eight colleges or possibly to help the community college program.

More of it may go to the State Department of Institutions. During his campaign for governor, in his budget message, and in the months since, Hughes has spoken of the need for "preventive spending" by investing more in mental health and parole programs to cut down on the need for more and bigger prisons and mental hospitals.

The State highway program is another possible recipient of revenue from the tax.

School Safe, Board Told By Firemen

OCEANPORT — Fire Chief John V. Hauser and his assistants, Edward Clayton and Ivan Voorhees, after a recent inspection of Wolf Hill Avenue School, commended the Board of Education for its steps taken to eliminate fire hazards.

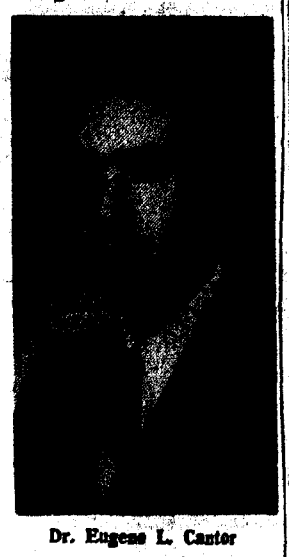

In a letter read to the board last night, the firemen cited the installation of a fire alarm system which is linked with police headquarters, and of quick-exit windows in the cafeteria.

The board also received recommendations for further steps to be taken, including ventilation to eliminate heat in a second floor stock room, the testing of fire extinguishers, the replacing of missing fire extinguishers, the removal of desks stored in an attic area, and construction of a sheetrock ceiling in a storage room under the auditorium stage.

The board immediately authorized the sheetrocking for $65 and the purchase of four fire extinguishers for not more than $75. The extinguishers will replace four that were apparently taken by vandals several months ago.

The board also authorized expenditures of $163 for bulletin boards and chair storage dollies, $370 for drapes, $249.75 for a photo copier, and $180 for two transistor radios for Civil Defense purposes.

Opens Offices

Dr. Eugene L. Cantor

RED BANK — Dr. Eugene L. Cantor, formerly associated with Dr. George M. Massell and Dr. Harvey L. Marcellus in the practice of obstetrics and gynecology, has announced the opening of his own offices at 71 East Front St., here, and on Rt. 35, Hazlet.

Dr. Cantor was graduated from Syracuse University and received his medical degree from New York Medical College. He served his internship at the University of Chicago Hospital clinics and a four-year residency in obstetrics and gynecology at Metropolitan Hospital, New York, where he is an assistant clinical instructor.

Dr. Cantor, who resides at 49 Tilton Rd., Middletown, is a junior fellow of both the American College of Surgeons and the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology. He is eligible for certification by the boards of both colleges. A Navy veteran, Dr. Cantor served as ship's surgeon for the flagship of the Mediterranean Fleet. He now serves on the staffs of Riverview Hospital, here, Monmouth Medical Center, Long Branch, and Metropolitan and Flower-Fifth Avenue hospitals, New York.

JUNGLE STRESS

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — High blood pressure, normally associated with the stress of modern living, has been found in the jungle, says Dr. Paul Dudley White, the famed Boston heart specialist.

"I suppose," Dr. White told the Tennessee Valley Medical Assembly, "that there is a great deal of stress in the jungle — with the elephant in the bush, the crocodile in the river, snakes in the trees and the worst climate in the world."

Teacher Pay Level Shows Small Gain

TRENTON (AP)— The average classroom teacher in New Jersey gets $6,308 a year, an increase of $204 over last year, the N. J. Education Association reported today.

Monmouth was in tenth position among 21 counties in pay level.

The NJEA said a typical teacher salary guide in the state provides a starting salary of $4,500 for a college graduate with a maximum of $7,250 in 13 years. It said the average teacher now has 12.7 years experience, down from 17.1 years in 1954, reflecting a greater proportion of new teachers.

The NJEA said the teacher pay scales in New Jersey leave the state in a poor competitive position for teachers. It said teachers in New York state get better pay and the average 1962 college graduate entering business or industry got $6,230 a year to start.

The NJEA figures for teachers include only classroom teachers, and do not apply to administrative posts or specialists.

The salary report said that between 1939 and 1961, New Jersey teachers' pay went up 189 per cent, compared with 276 for production workers, 288 per cent for teachers nationally, and 284 percent for all wages and salaries.

The actual salary ranges in the state ranged from Glen Ridge's high of $11,500 for a teacher with 30 years experience to a low of $3,700 for starting teachers in Jackson Township (Ocean County) and Watchung (Somerset County).

Fifteen communities pay some of their teachers more than $10,000 a year and six others have top salary scales over $10,000 but have no teachers with enough seniority yet to draw top pay.

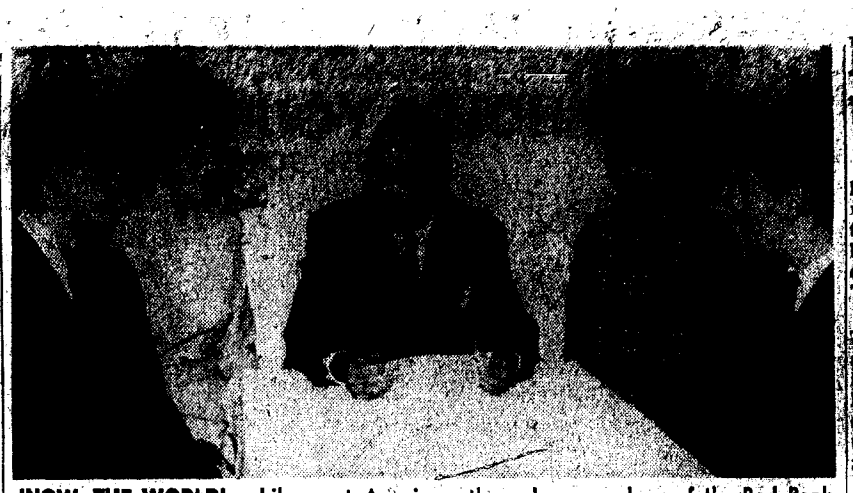

The NJEA said Hudson County had the smallest average pay increase this year, $56, dropping it from second to sixth place among the counties. Ocean had the biggest increase, $334, moving up from 13th to 11th place.

Essex had the highest average salary of $6,729 while Cumberland was lowest at $5,434.

The ranking of the other counties: Bergen $6,555; Union $6,476; Morris $6,419; Mercer $6,380; Hudson $6,372; Passaic $6,270; Somerset $6,242; Middlesex $6,145; Monmouth $6,068; Ocean $5,990; Sussex $5,975; Cape May $5,878; Salem $5,848; Camden $5,846; Burlington $5,807; Hunterdon $5,798; Warren $5,730; Gloucester $5,715; Atlantic $5,701.

The NJEA also called for passage of a bill raising the state's minimum salary schedule for teachers. It said only a few districts do not pay above the state-set minimums. It estimated the cost of the bill at $1,850,904 a year for the few districts affected.

It adds up! More and more people use The Register ads each issue because results come faster.—Advertisement.

'NOW, THE WORLD' — Like most Americans these days, members of the Red Bank Business and Professional Women and students at Red Bank High School are busy thinking about world affairs. The club women brought in students to talk the situation over at a dinner in Peterson's Restaurant last night. Here, left to right, are Randall Simmons, Shrewsbury, a sophomore, and Elizabeth Breverton, a junior, discussing a point with George Davis, Middletown, teacher of international relations at the school. On the right side of the table are Shirley Katz, Little Silver, and Howard Scher, Red Bank, both seniors.

Science Fair Project Basis Of TV Show

NEW YORK — Richard Lawn, 271 Lenox Ave., Long Branch, N. J., a winner in the Central New Jersey Science Fair, held last spring at Rutgers University, will be a guest on "The Science Age," on TV Channel 4, from 12:30 to 1 p.m. Sunday.

Richard's sophisticated project, "Photoelasticity — The Study of Stress," will be the keynote for the entire program, presented by New York University in co-operation with the WNBC-TV Public Affairs Department.

Teenage students appear on the program to demonstrate projects placed in competition at science and engineering fairs. Supplemental laboratory demonstrations are conducted by guest scientists and engineers, and the application of the student's project to industry and research is shown.

Appearing with Richard on this edition of "The Science Age" will be Dr. Gerald T. Kubo, associate professor of civil engineering, New York University College of Engineering, who will explain the extension of photoelasticity in research and development, and Warren Greenwald, supervisor of photo-stress engineering in the instruments division of the Budd Company, who will show the important application of these principals in industry.

Indict Provenzano, Trucker Under Taft-Hartley Act

NEWARK (AP) — Teamster leader Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano and the operator of a trucking concern were indicted by a federal Grand Jury yesterday on charges of violating the Taft-Hartley Act.

Provenzano, president of Teamsters Local 560, Hoboken, and an international vice president of the Teamsters Union, and Louis Kletter, president of Eastern Freight Ways, Inc. of Carlstadt, are charged in the indictment.

Kletter is charged with giving a thing of value — a house — to a representative of his employees. Provenzano is charged with accepting it.

Kletter, the indictment states, made a house at 47 Lockwood Pl., Clifton, available to Provenzano for the latter's "use and enjoyment" beginning July 12, 1956.

U. S. Attorney David M. Satz, Jr., who presented the case to the Grand Jury, said the house was bought for $28,000 with a down payment of $8,000 and $18,000 mortgage.

He said Kletter had an attorney buy the house in the attorney's name and lease it for $150 a month to Ulysse Mignerone of Verdun, Quebec, Canada. Mignerone, Satz said, is Provenzano's brother-in-law.

Satz said Kletter paid the rental to the attorney. The lease on the house was for two years, Satz said, with a renewal option.

He said Provenzano has been living in the house since 1956.

Provenzano is also president of the Joint Council 73, New Jersey Teamsters.

Thanksgiving Fare Supply Abundant, Some Prices Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The latest government report on the quantity and price of popular known foods are available this week and at reasonable prices.

Aside from seasonal fruits and vegetables which periodically disappear from markets, most foods were reported in an abundant supply throughout the country.

What isn't available fresh may be available canned or frozen. What isn't in abundant supply may be in plentiful supply. The The scarcest supply still was described as ample.

Emphasis this week will, of course, be on stocking up for Thanksgiving Day. Turkeys, needless to say, are reported in abundance.

One nationwide supermarket prices will be a bit higher than a year ago.

Turkeys of 10 pounds or less will be advertised by this chain at 45 cents a pound, 6 cents higher than last year. Between 10 and 18 pounds the prices will be 39 cents in the New York metropolitan area compared with 23 cents a year ago. Heavier birds will go for 33 cents a pound.

Other meat dishes include round roasts, chuck roasts and steaks—rib, porterhouse and sirloin. In the Southeast, pork favorites will be plentiful and attractively priced.

In at least one area, the Southwest, the price of chicken was described as continuing almost unbelievably low.

Says Nixon Caused His Own Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP) —Rep. Frank Thompson, Jr., D-N.J., said former Vice President Richard M. Nixon contributed to his own defeat in last week's election because he showed contempt for the intelligence of California voters.

Nixon was defeated in his bid for a political comeback by Gov. Edmund (Pat) Brown of California who won re-election.

In a letter to constituents, Thompson said:

"Despite the former vice president's petulant complaints about his treatment by the press, he made the major contribution to his own defeat by the contempt he showed for the intelligence of California voters."

California has many important problems, Thompson said, but internal communism is not one of them.

There was little justification for making subversion a key campaign issue, Thompson added, "and particularly for making it the basis of such attacks on Governor Brown."

"Undoubtedly these tactics won votes," Thompson said, "but in my judgment the net effect was to alienate a large number of California voters whose independence of thought enabled them to see the issue in its true perspective."

LOGICAL EXPLANATION

MIAMI (AP)—A Miami father of a teenage daughter swears this is true:

The daughter answered the telephone, talked 10 minutes and hung up.

In reply to her father's compliment on the unusually short conversation, the girl said, "Oh, that was a wrong number."

Tax Reduction Proposal Will Be Debated by Business, Civic Heads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration tosses its tax reduction idea into a big roomful of industry, labor and civic leaders today and invites a free-for-all debate on how, when and whether to cut.

But the debate is mostly behind closed doors. And Walter W. Heller, chairman of President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers, gave notice Wednesday night that Kennedy already has made his basic decision on how to jog a jaded economy.

Case For Tax Cuts

"The basic economic case for a tax cut," Heller said, "rests on clear economic principles, now well known, repeatedly demonstrated, and widely accepted.

"To remove the dual tax drag on the economy—both the drag on markets and drag on incentives—is a central concern of today's economic policy in the Kennedy administration."

He spoke before a special expanded meeting of the President's 21-man Labor-Management Advisory Committee. It was expanded by the invited participation of some 150 other executives, union chiefs, economists and public officials.

Idea Rejected

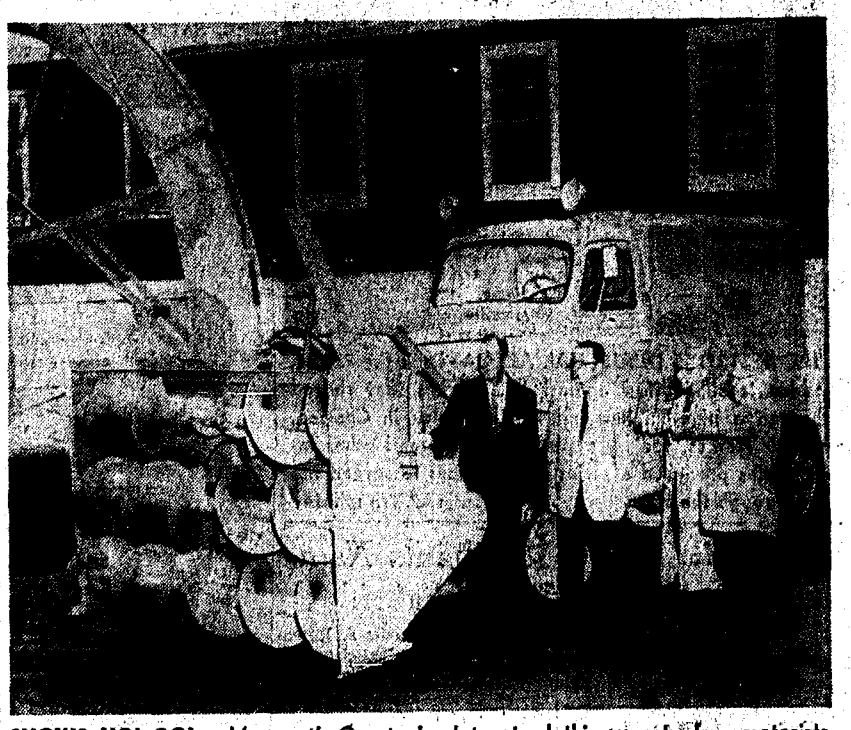

Heller rejected the idea, voiced by some members of Congress, that tax reduction has become unthinkable in view of this fiscal year's expected $7.8 billion budget deficit announced on Tuesday. Tax reduction would deepen the red ink.

The committee's speeches—Heller Wednesday night, Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon today — were open to the press. The debates in between, were not.

Heller took off from the assumption that his audience, like himself, considered the present and prospective gains of the economy intolerably slow. The business rise probably will continue during first-half 1963, he said, but without enough steam to reduce unemployment or boost profits.

Rate Reduction

Then he stated the case for income and corporate tax reduction as a stimulant. Kennedy has announced he will send the new Congress a program for general rate reduction and reform, taking effect—at least in part—on Jan. 1. A gradual reduction, over a year or two, has been hinted by officials.

SNOW? NO! GO! — Monmouth County is determined this year to free motorists from as much trouble as they have had in past years with snow. Here, right, Howard J. Preston, Marlboro, explains the advantages to be gained in use of the newly-purchased Sno-Go machine. Looking on, left to right, are Freeholder Director Joseph C. Irwin, Freeholder-elect Benjamin Danskin and Freeholder Charles I. Smith. The machine can slow down to .63 miles per hour or go as fast as 47 mph. It can toss snow at the rate of 30 tons a minute as distant as 175 feet or can fill waiting trucks.

CG Finds Wreckage; Two Aboard

NEW YORK (AP)—The Coast Guard has found wreckage it says is apparently from an overdue vessel with two men aboard, one the son of a New Jersey couple.

The wreckage that appeared to be from the 30-foot sloop, Kria, was found washed up on the beach near Napatree Point, R.I., yesterday.

The Kria has been overdue since Saturday on a 50-mile voyage from Port Judith, R.I., to Essex, Conn., where the boat was to be put in winter storage.

Aboard were the owner, Thomas Ewing IV, 33, a New York lawyer, and David R. Evans, 28, of 446 East 87th St., New York.

Evans is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Evans of 30 Farm Rd., Trenton, N. J. He attended Trenton High School and Yale University. The father is assistant district supervisor for a utility company.

The Coast Guard said the wreckage consisted of a sou'wester hat marked with Ewing's name, blue painted boat floor boards, parts of a small door, pieces of a boat cabin, and a buoyant seat cushion.

Savings Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Millions of American travelers will begin saving nearly $160 million a year on their combined travel expenses when wartime transportation taxes are wiped off the books at midnight tonight.

The 10 per cent federal tax on air fares will be replaced immediately by a 5 per cent "user charge" designed to help pay for airports, navigation aids and other government-financed facilities used by the airlines. The 10 per cent tax on the price of rail, bus and boat tickets will be eliminated completely.

These tax charges, approved by Congress last summer, will trim about $170 million from federal revenues. Cash benefits to the public will be less, however, because 24 railroads and about 50 bus lines will increase fares to offset all or part of the tax savings.

Ocean May Join Shore Regional Bd.

WEST LONG BRANCH — Peter Cooper, Shore Regional Board of Education president, explained last night that the board met recently with Ocean Township officials in what was "merely the talking stages" for the possibility of Ocean Township joining the four original communities at Shore Regional High School.

It was also pointed out that, contrary to rumor, no official contact has been made with Deal concerning the same possibility.

Thomas Gagliano, board attorney, was appointed to represent the board at a meeting in Newark Nov. 28 concerning the installation of automatic gates at railroad crossings on the school bus route.

'Retarded' School Hearing Postponed

RED BANK — The Zoning Board of Adjustment last night postponed until Nov. 29 the public hearing on an application by the Monmouth County Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children to locate its training facility at 157 Maple Ave.

The board's attorney, Samuel Carotenuto, told the dozen residents that had assembled for the hearing that a number of board members had been unable to attend the meeting.

He said only three members were present, which did not constitute the quorum needed for the zoning unit to hear the application. Thursday, Nov. 29, at 8 p.m. was the next earliest possible date when the board could meet, he declared.

The association is reportedly ready to buy the 11-room house on Maple Ave. for $23,000. Training Facilities presently are located at 23 Riverside Ave.

Previous attempts by the association to obtain variances for an expanded facility have been futile.

The association is a non-profit, privately operated social agency. John F. Monaghan is the unit's executive director.

Term Ends in 1963

MIDDLETOWN — The term of the township engineer expires on Dec. 31, 1963, and not at the end of this year as was reported in a Register news story Tuesday.

New Jersey News Briefs

By The Associated Press

JERSEY CITY — A Hoboken city ordinance requiring itinerant vendors of ice cream to be licensed has been ruled invalid. Hudson County Superior Court Judge Peter P. Artaserse made the ruling yesterday. He said that although some sections of the regulating ordinance were valid, the entire law had to be set aside because provisions concerning the licensing procedure lacked sufficient standards to guide municipal officials issuing permits.

MADISON TOWNSHIP — Evaristo Cruz, owner of the Cruz Construction Co., was fined $100 in Municipal Court Tuesday night after pleading guilty to violating a state statute that calls for employers engaged in municipal contractural work to pay employees overtime for anything over eight hours in a given day. According to Magistrate Samuel Stadkus, it was the first time the 49-year-old law has been tested. The statute deals only with state, county or municipal contracts. The complaint against Cruz was brought by the State Department of Labor.

UNION — About 50 turkeys who were pacing away their numbered days in a coop wasted no time in fleeing yesterday when they eyed a hole cut in a wire fence. About 300 other gobblers in the Haines Poultry Farm, 440 Chestnut St., perhaps having a more fatalistic turn of mind, made no effort to escape. Raymond Haines, co-owner of the farm, said after two hard-working policemen brought back most of the escapees that the hole in the fence was made by someone using a heavy pair of shears.

JERSEY CITY — Seton Hall College of Medicine announced today the appointment of Dr. Harry A. La Burt as acting chairman of the Department of Psychiatry. Dr. La Burt is senior director of the Creedmoor State Hospital, Queens Village, N.Y.

HILLSBOROUGH — Charles West of Fort Lee was fined $10 last night after being found guilty of trespassing on the farm of Mrs. Rosa Breu on Oct. 20. West said he wouldn't have trespassed but a wind shift of 90 degrees blew his parachute off course while he was taking part in a civil defense air rescue drill. He said he was supposed to land on property of Adams Air Park which adjoins the farm. Magistrate Victor Rizzolo said the fine was a "warning to parachuters in general to be sure to parachute onto land you're welcome to come onto."

PHILADELPHIA —Sebastian Barone, free in $6,618 bail on charges of ignoring 270 parking tickets in two years said yesterday that all he did was follow instructions on the back of the tickets. The instructions read: "If you desire a hearing, you may wait for receipt of a summons by mail." Barone, 39, lives in Merchantville, N.J., and Chief Magistrate Joseph J. Hersch said the instructions do not apply to out-of-state motorists. Hersch sentenced Barone to seven and a half years in prison yesterday after Barone indicated he would not pay a fine of $3,-300. The sentence, 10 days for each ticket, was the heaviest in the history of traffic court.

NEWARK — Engelhard Industries Inc. announced it has been awarded a contract in excess of $2.5 million for reclaiming the silver content of foreign coins held by the U.S. Mint. The coins have a gross weight of 110 million ounces and an estimated 55 million ounces of silver content. The refining will be done over a two year period at Engelhard's refining division here. The refinery was inspected and approved by the mint before the contract was awarded.

Gets $7,500 For Injuries In Store Fall

FREEHOLD — A Monmouth County jury here yesterday awarded an Englishtown man $7,500 for injuries he suffered when he fell in the basement of Bamberger's, Monmouth Shopping Center, Eatontown.

A jury following a trial before County Judge Elvin R. Simmill awarded the amount to Frank Iann.

The attorney for Mr. Iann, Peter Shebell, Asbury Park, stated that his client fell on a slippery floor and suffered cuts and bruises of the head, body and limbs and suffered permanent external and internal injuries.

The award was against William L. Blanchard Co., Newark, a contractor, who had applied a liquid sealer to the basement floor.

Judge Simmill granted motions dismissing similar suits against Bam-properties, Inc., and R.H. Macy Co., operators of Bamberger's, and L. Sonnerborn Sons, Inc., a Blanchard subcontractor.

Joseph Zaresky, Newark, represented the Blanchard firm at the trial.

CD to Use School

OCEANPORT — The Board of Education last night authorized the use of the Wolf Hill Avenue School by the Civil Defense organization as a shelter and granted permission for the storage of supplies there.

Wait and See Is Directors' Stand on New Group

BRIELLE — The Monmouth-Ocean County Funeral Directors Association took a "wait and see" position last night on possible effects of a group now being formed to minimize funeral costs and services.

William Posten of Atlantic Highlands, president, said the directors, meeting at the Manasquan River Golf Club, here, discussed informally a recent news release by the organization, the Memorial Association of Monmouth County, but took no definite stand.

"We want to find out more about it," he said.

The Memorial group is sponsored by several members of the First Unitarian Church of Monmouth County, Middletown.

According to Mrs. Walter Blumberg of Hazlet, secretary, it hopes to eliminate "pagan, emotionally-charged" demonstrations and unduly expensive funerals.

Cost Figures

Mrs. Blumberg said no recommended cost figures have been arrived at for Monmouth County but that in Paramus, where she said a similar organization has been successful, funeral costs have been held to between $200 and $250.

She said savings have been made by eliminating embalming, cutting out "viewings," arranging for prompt burial or cremation, and use of low cost accommodations.

Though the original trustees for the plan are all members of the one church, she said, the Memorial Association is non-sectarian and non-profit.

She conceded, however, that persons who would require a church service before burial probably would be precluded from obtaining benefits of the Memorial Association's program.

Add To Dignity

The association, she said, would encourage the conducting of memorial services at suitable times after burial or cremation. She said it is believed this would add to the dignity of the service, would reduce the emotional strain, and contribute to keeping costs down.

In time, Mrs. Blumberg said, the association hopes to list names of participating funeral directors. Whether there are any in the county now, she declined to say, referring the question to the Rev. Harold R. Dean of Middletown, pastor of the Unitarian Church. He was not available, however.

Mr. Posten said the Funeral Directors Association has no policy barring members from becoming participants in the plan. He said he knows of no member who is currently a participant.

Since publication of the initial news release, Mrs. Blumberg said, the Memorial Association has received many inquiries.

A family may enroll by paying a $5 registration fee and filling out a "preference form" indicating requirements it may have in contemplating funeral and burial arrangements.

The Memorial Association also encourages its members to provide for use of parts of the body for medical research by nationally recognized institutions.

Upon receipt of the "preference forms," the Memorial Association advises what services are available within the limits of the individual requirements, Mrs. Blumberg said.

A pamphlet explaining the program in detail, she said, is available on request to her at her home, 16 Virginia Ave., Hazlet.

Seek to Keep Museum at Monmouth

RED BANK — The Community Chamber of Commerce has again taken steps to keep the U.S. Army Signal Corps museum at its present Fort Monmouth location.

The board of directors yesterday approved a resolution which seeks to prevent the museum from being transferred to the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D.C.

The chamber interest in the proposed transfer came after Charles W. Hale, secretary treasurer of the First Wayne (Pa.) Federal Savings and Loan Association, sought the chamber's assistance in his efforts to have the museum remain at the military installation.

At a previous meeting the chamber requested Congressional representatives to investigate the proposal. The resolution adopted yesterday also will be sent to the legislators.

St. John's Church Rector Is Reassigned to N.Y.

LITTLE SILVER — Rev. Albert Allen Attenborough, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, has been appointed a chaplain of the New York Protestant Episcopal Mission Society, effective March 1.

In his new post, Father Attenborough, who holds a doctorate degree of sacred theology in pastoral psychology, will focus his attention on needs of patients and inmates of mental health institutions in Orange and Rockland Counties.

The rector said his work will be an amplification of the duties he has carried out as Episcopal chaplain at Marlboro State Hospital, a position he has held since February.

'Supportive Therapy'

There he has practiced what he termed "supportive therapy," a kind of assistance to the psychiatrist by providing moral supports to patients, in addition to offering religious counsel.

On Dec. 10 he will start a three-month training program with the Institute for Clinical Pastoral Training. The program will require him to work five days a week at the Philadelphia State Hospital, although he will remain rector of his church here.

Father Attenborough pointed out that his post is newly created under a general expansion of mission services.

The New York Mission Society which falls under the jurisdiction of the New York Diocese, operates St. Barnabas House, 304 Mulberry St., New York. The house is a temporary shelter for children between the ages of 3 and 11 who are destitute, homeless and neglected.

In addition, the society maintains chaplains in 41 prisons, hospitals and homes, and is staffed by 22 clergymen and 80 full-time lay workers plus 184 part time lay workers.

The society operates a family service department, engages in parolee casework and manages three fresh-air camps.

In March, Father Attenborough will be named a part-time chaplain of Rockland State Hospital, Orangeburg, N. Y. This assignment, too, will be of a training nature, but will be similar to his work at Marlboro.

Needs of Patients

Subsequently, however, he will seek to establish a liaison between the chaplains of institutions in Orange and Rockland Counties and the parishes and missions in the same area.

The aim of the program will be to discover the needs of patients as expressed by their chaplains and how lay people may help to meet those needs.

For instance, the rector said he might set up programs of visitations by women of particular parishes or arrange for sports competitions between the young people of a parish and the inmates of a youth institution.

The present general aims of the Mission Society are an outgrowth of relatively recent thinking which seeks to combine the usefulness of both theology and psychology, the rector said.

Here, he appears particularly qualified. The subject of his doctorate dissertation was a comparison between the theology of St. Ignatius Loyola and modern pyschological thought.

Father Attenborough holds four degrees from Temple University, Philadelphia. He received his doctorate in February, 1961. Previously he obtained a master's degree of sacred theology and bachelor degrees in sacred theology and in education.

A former rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Bridgeport, Pa., he was appointed rector of St. John's in July, 1959. He was the first full-time rector of the church.

Following his ordination in 1953 he was a curate at St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia.

When he takes up his new position next year, the 37-year-old clergyman expects to reside in Sloatsburg with his wife, Carolyn, and four children, Victoria, Alexandra, Charlotte and Andrew.

NEW APPOINTMENT — Rev. Albert A. Attenborough, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, has resigned to take up a new post with the New York Protestant Episcopal Mission Society. Here he poses in the Little Silver Church of which he became the first full time rector in 1959.

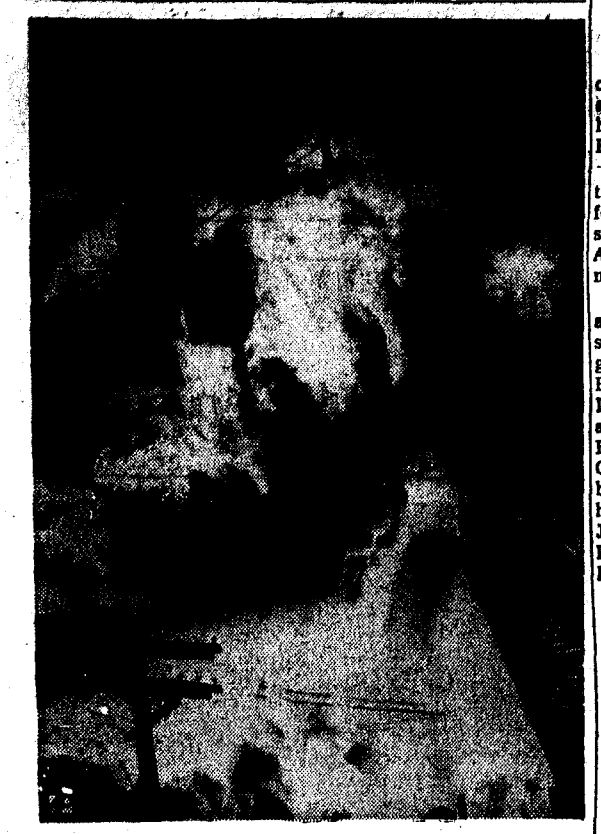

Board Enters Junk Business

RUMSON — The Board of Education temporarily entered the junk business last night in attempt to clean up its warehouse.

Board secretary George Conley exhibited wicker furniture, an ancient television set and small work benches, and also mentioned some surplus 50-gallon drums. All are available at reasonable sums.

The board also accepted the annual audit of the J. S. Teunon Co., Trenton, authorized the organization of boys' and girls' bowling teams and added four new substitutes to its list of those available. They are: Mrs. Lenore Tulis, Mrs. Patricia Stout, Mrs. Kathryn Screen and G. Whitney Azoy.

The resignation of Mrs. Mary Ann Manganello, second grade teacher, was accepted with regret, effective Jan. 25.

Junior Science Symposium Set at Monmouth College

WEST LONG BRANCH — Central and southern New Jersey high school students are doing some special homework these days to qualify for an all-expense paid junior science symposium here next year.

The homework is in the form of a paper on scientific or mathematical projects, the best of which will be selected to be delivered March 22-23, 1963, at Monmouth College and the U. S. Army Electronic Research & Development Laboratories.

High school principals will nominate, as delegates to the symposium, authors of the best papers.

Approximately 200 high school students and 50 of their teachers will be housed in a motel near the college, under the supervision of college faculty and participating teachers.

The symposium is financed by a grant from the U. S. Army Research Office through the U. S. Army Junior Science and Humanities Symposia Program, and is a joint effort of Monmouth College and the U. S. Army Electronics Research and Development Laboratory at Fort Monmouth.

Norman Field, New Shrewsbury, chairman of the executive committee of the symposium and deputy director of research at the Army Laboratory, said the goal is to promote the study of science and mathematics. The two-day event is designed to inspire good science students he said, and to keep science teachers up to date on both technical and career problems.

In addition to the papers students will present, the symposium will feature lectures by outstanding scientists, visits with scientists working in nearby governmental, academic and industrial laboratories, and career discussions with professionals in various scientific disciplines.

Mr. Field said the symposium "in no way overlaps the usual science fair program."

He said outstanding speakers of the symposium would be selected to attend a national junior science symposium at West Point, N. Y., in April. The national symposium will follow the staging of some 20 other events.

The Junior Science Symposium has been endorsed by the New Jersey Academy of Science and the New Jersey Science Teachers' Association.

The advisory council consists of J. Fred Billett, chief executive, Monmouth Council Boy Scouts; Lloyd F. Christianson, president, Electronic Associates, Inc.; Dr. Mason W. Gross, president, Rutgers University; Maj. Gen. Stuart S. Hoff, commanding general, U. S. Army Electronics Command; Col. James M. Kimbrough, Jr., commanding officer, U. S. Army Electronics Laboratory; Edward F. Kolar, general manager, Red Bank Division, Bendix Corp.; Wayne D. McMurray, editor, Asbury Park Press, Sister Mary Nicholas, president, N. J. Catholic Round Table of Science; Dale B. Otto, president, N. J. Natural Gas Co.; Dr. Frederick M. Raubinger, N.J. commissioner of education; Monmouth County Judge Elvin R. Simmill; and Dr. William G. Van Note, president, Monmouth College.

Snuffbox Still Has Many Devotees

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What is it President John Adams, Dolly Madison, Voltaire, Napoleon Bonaparte and Babe Ruth had in common?

Why, they all used snuff!

You may have thought that snuff went out with the perigree wig or the bustle. Fie on your ignorance, sir! A double fie!

The so-called "Great Age of snuff" in Europe was during the 16th and 17th centuries and was largely a privilege of the aristocracy. But snuff is now in its second great age, and has more devotees in this country than during the U.S. Revolution.

"America leads the world in snuff, and we use far more than all the rest of the people on earth put together," proudly proclaimed Gerry Gilmartin, spokesman for the Snuff Information Center.

"Our production last year was 34 million pounds with a retail value of $80 million. That can be compared with a production of only three million pounds in 1875."

6 Million Clients

Gilmartin estimates America's snuff clientele at about six million. The reason you don't notice them is that few sniff snuff in public anymore. Most simply park their snuff under their lower lip, or between cheek and gum, and let it slowly dissolve.

"Snuff precedes the discovery of America," said Gilmartin. "Indians here customarily sniffed it through an eight-inch reed called a cubit."

Explorers brought snuff back to Portugal. Jean Nicot, French ambassador to Lisbon, sent samples home to his queen, Catherine de Medici, who spread the fad through European nobility. Nicot's reward: He gave his name to nicotine.

Snuff comes in two forms—dry and finely powdered—known in the trade as "scotch—and moist, which is coarse cut.

60 Brands

There are some 60 brands, flavored with licorice, clove, cinnamon, wintergreen and other flavoring ingredients. Each manufacturer guards his secret formula as carefully as do the makers of fine whiskies or Coca-Cola.

So far no one has thought of coming up with a whisky-or cola-flavored snuff, thus combining the various markets.

Why would anyone want to take snuff? There are several reasons. You don't have to light it, filter it or puff it—and it leaves the hands free to work. Second, it is inexpensive. A weekly supply of three ounces costs about 36 cents.

Many of its fans also claim snuff helps clear their sinuses, settle their stomachs and relax their nerves. And, finally snuff doesn't start forest fires or cause explosions in chemical factories.

Most State Gas Stations Give Stamps

TRENTON (AP) — More than half of New Jersey's gasoline stations issue trading stamps, a legislative committee has been told.

An Assembly committee is considering whether there is a need for legislation to control distribution of trading stamps.

Committee chairman C. Robert Sarcone, R-Essex, said representatives of the N. J. Gasoline Retailers Association and Allied Trades Inc., and an affiliate, the N. J. Gas Retailers Association, testified yesterday that 56 per cent of all retail gasoline stations issue stamps.

The two groups claim membership of 1,600 of the state's 7,500 gasoline station operators.

Sarcone said yesterday's testimony was in support of an Assembly bill that would prohibit cash discounts or issuance of trading stamps by gasoline stations as an inducement to motorists.

He said dealers complained of operating on a narrow profit margin, about 4.7 cents on a dollar, that issuance of trading stamps cuts into the profit.

The committee, which met with stamp dealers earlier, plans to meet next with food store operators including Acme, the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, and other food chains to get their views on trading stamps. No date has been set.

Sarcone said the committee will hold public meetings in various parts of the state early next year to conclude the study.

Horizons Plan Fashion Show

HAZLET — The Horizon Club, Dakonya Community - Minded Girls, is planning its first major event, a mother-daughter fashion show for Raritan Township teenage girls and their mothers.

This was the keynote of a recent meeting held by the group. Proceeds derived from the fashion show will be used toward a scholarship fund established by the group. Details and arrangements for the show will be worked out by the organization planning board.

Chris Loparo was elected chairman of the ways and means committee. The club is currently holding a recruiting drive for all girls 16 through 17 years of age. The aims of the club are to prepare young girls for adulthood, under the supervision of Mrs. Edward Barth and Mrs. Charles Chuva.

Three new members were welcomed: Erna Durnak, Cecelia Gross, and Jackie Holds, all of Raritan Township High School.

A cosmetic demonstration was given by Mrs. Janice Miller and Lynn Perlmutter.

Teenage Drama Unit Slates Production

MIDDLETOWN — The first teenage production of the Wagon Wheel Playhouse is set to open tomorrow night.

The play, "Out of the Frying Pan", will be presented tomorrow and Saturday night only.

The director is R. W. Clarke, Hazlet.

The leading roles are being played by Laurlie Fox, Rosalia Bulvanoski, David McAneny and Robert Luhrs, all of the local high school, Janice Kerr, Red Bank High School, and Martin Gwynn of Red Bank Catholic High School.

Feature roles are being handled by Lynne Warner and Caroline Kastle of Middletown, Mike Tornperg of Red Bank Catholic, Peter Bruguiere from Red Bank, and Peter Heck and John Schine, both students of Christian Brothers Academy.

The stage manager for the production is Miss Marilyn Lawley.

While on Broadway, "Out of the Frying Pan" enjoyed wonderful success and met with critical acclaim Barbara Bell Geddes and Alfred Drake were among the stars in the cast.

Curtain time will be at 8:40 p.m. at the playhouse at Rt. 35 and Chestnut St.

Borough to Conduct Babysitting Course

RED BANK — Ralph S. Cryder, director of the parks and recreation department has announced his department will sponsor a babysitting course for girls 12 years old and over at Red Bank High School.

Beginning Monday, evening course sessions will be held each Monday for four weeks, from 7 to 8 p.m. in Room 105 at the high school. Students from all Red Bank schools are welcome and are invited to bring their parents.

"The program is a combined effort on the part of many borough departments," Mr. Cryder said. "In an effort to provide well informed, prepared babysitters in the community."

It is the first time a series of this nature has been offered to the students of this borough.

With the aid of Miss Meredith Mitchell, who has conducted similar courses in the county, talks and demonstrations by various officials and professionals have been set up and will include question and answer periods.

Miss Mitchell will open the first meeting with a talk about babysitter responsibility and etiquette, children's parties, proper use of the telephone and procedures in obtaining jobs.

Ensley White, recently appointed civil defense director will be present to explain the babysitter's role in civil defense.

On Nov. 26, Robert Cadman, deputy fire chief, will discuss fire precautions and action that should be taken by a babysitter in the event of fire. He will be joined by members of the First Aid Squad who will include general first aid instruction and other information which would be helpful to the students.

At the third meeting of the series, Dr. Robert Counts, director of the Child Psychiatric Center at Eatontown, will talk on the babysitter's relationship to the child, discipline, and various play methods. Infant care and feeding will be taught by a registered nurse.

The fourth and final class will be conducted by Deputy Police Chief, Leroy McKnight. He will advise students on safety precautions in the home. The students will be given a short quiz on the material that has been covered. All participants will receive certificates.

Diabetes Week Program Is Set By Osteopaths

"Diabetes Week" is being marked by the Monmouth County Society of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, Nov. 19-24.

Thirteen component societies of the New Jersey Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons are conducting examinations to detect diabetes throughout the state.

"With the spotlight on diabetes during this week," Dr. Alex Maron, president of the society, said, "all persons over 40 years of age are urged to take advantage of the opportunity to receive a free test for diabetes.

"Diabetes can be controlled by diet, exercise and, when necessary, by insulin. In some older and milder diabetics, recently developed oral tablets along with usual dietary restrictions seem to be effective."

Most well-controlled diabetics can live productive and happy lives, the doctor noted.

Notre Dame Club Slates Dec. 9 Event

ASBURY PARK — The University of Notre Dame Club of the Jersey Shore set final plans at the Elks Lodge here last week for its participation in Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday, Dec. 9.

The members will hear mass in a body at Holy Spirit Church, Second Ave., at 9 a.m. and then attend a Communion breakfast at the Empress Motel, Ocean Ave. The event is a family affair with wives, children, other relatives and friends of the members invited.

The mass will be celebrated by the club's chaplain, Rev. Paul J. Kane, Glendola. Arrangements for a guest speaker are being made by the Communion Breakfast committee: Joseph P. Ryan, class of '51, Belford; Charles J. Keller '54, Sea Girt; James F. Silver '54, Asbury Park, and Dr. Walter F. Judge '49, Spring Lake.

Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday is a long-time tradition among the alumni of the university. Each year, on the Sunday closest to the Catholic Church's Feast of the Immaculate Conception, all graduates are urged to get together with fellow alumni to receive Holy Communion.

In all, there are more than 200 Notre Dame alumni clubs spread throughout the world, including such locations as Rome, Hong Kong and Hawaii. The local club, made up of Monmouth and Ocean County residents, is one of the newest, having received its charter only two months ago.

In its other business last week, the club elected a board of directors consisting of six members: William Bruno '37, Asbury Park; George J. McDonnell '29, Freehold; Vincent J. McCue '30, Shrewsbury; Philip J. Munning '48, Red Bank; Thomas Gilmartin '51 Red Bank, and Mr. Silver.

George A. Bariscillo, club president, announced that the Holy Name Society of St. James Church, Red Bank, plans to sponsor a concert by the Notre Dame Glee Club in February. Mr. Bariscillo offered the club's assistance for the event, and appointed Mr. Munning and William Birmingham '55, both of Red Bank, to act as liaison between the club and the Holy Name Society.

The meeting concluded with addresses by Father Kane and John Druze, former assistant football coach and head scout at Notre Dame under Frank Leahy, and a 15-minute movie about present-day life at the university.

Contrary to folklore, the desert bighorn sheep cannot derive enough moisture from plants to survive. But the sheep can live for two weeks or longer without drinking water.

END OF TROUBLE—Capt. Dayton Wilson, Shrewsbury Township Police, is shown destroying the door of a discarded refrigerator in the municipality's disposal area. The captain had been alarmed a day earlier by finding three children playing in the vicinity of this piece of equipment. He remembered stories of how other children died in refrigerator accidents. He urges residents who discard air-tight boxes to remove the door before doing so.

Hiss Show May Cost Network An Advertiser

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A television advertiser asked today to get out of a million-dollar contract with ABC-TV.

"We are shocked at the extreme poor taste and judgment shown by the ABC network in presenting a convicted perjurer involved in the passing of United States secrets to the Communists as a critic of a former vice president of the United States," the firm said.

The telegram went from Patrick Frawley, head of the Schick Safety Razor Co., to Vincent Francis, head of ABC here.

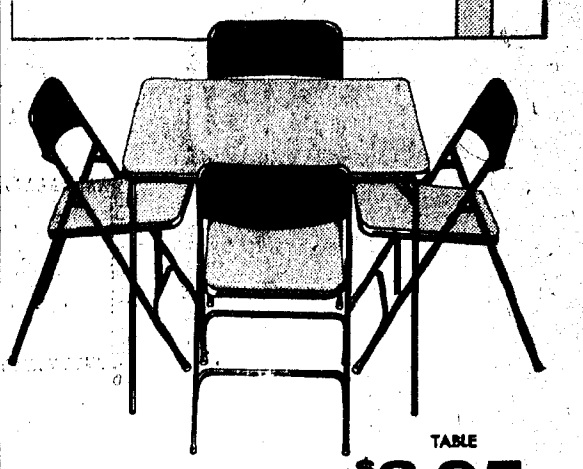

A spokesman for Frawley said Schick asked ABC to cancel an agreement for more than a million dollars worth of advertising involving partial sponsorship of the shows "Combat" and "Stony Burke."

The protest referred to an ABC program last Sunday on which Algier Hiss and others gave their opinions about Richard M. Nixon.

An acre of Antarctic sea water probably contains more animal and plant food than any other acre of water—or land—in the world.

Sponsorship Of Troop Is Approved

RUMSON — The Board of Education readily agreed last night to renew its sponsorship of Boy Scout Troop 201, which meets Wednesday nights in the Forrestdale School gymnasium.

Walter Manheim, troop leader, and Benjamin Brittingham, committee chairman, reviewed the activities and accomplishments of the troop's initial year.

They said the troop is completely self-supporting, its main source of income last year having come from the sale of electric light bulbs which netted over $300.

Sabu the Man

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It should not be a surprise that Sabu the Elephant Boy is no longer a boy.

After all, he starred in "Elephant Boy" back in 1937, when he was 11. That makes him all of 36, yet he is now playing his first really grownup role in films. He even has his first screen wife.

Sabu is working at Warner Brothers in "Rampage" with Robert Mitchum, Elsa Martinelli and Jack Hawkins. It is the Indian-born actor's return to acting after a long absence, during which he suffered a deep personal loss.

His brother, Shaik Dastigir, was killed by an 18-year-old boy he had hired in his furniture store. The youth decided to rob him, and Dastigir was shot in a scuffle.

Sabu said that he didn't feel like working after the tragedy.

"It took me a long time to get over it," he remarked. "My brother and I were very close, and the whole thing was so senseless."

He busied himself with running the furniture store, and engaged in building and operating apartment houses. Married for 14 years and father of two, he is aware of his responsibilities.

The new film is a good return for him. He plays the head tracker for a game-hunting expedition in Malaya. The company recently returned from the island of Hawaii, which doubled for the Malaya jungle.

His ambition now is to stay in the jungle—with a television series.

"I think the time is ripe for a good jungle series," he said. "There is very little on television for Walt Disney's show."

Find $20,000 Goofball Cache In Man's Room

NEWARK (AP) — Police have found a $20,000 supply of goofballs in the room of a 49-year-old porter for a pharmaceutical firm.

The man, Guido Garafone, of 26-28 West Kinney St., was arrested on a street Monday on a charge of breaking into a parking meter. He gave a fictitious address at first, police said. They determined his actual address and searched it Tuesday.

Detective Lt. Thomas Kenny of the narcotics squad said they found more than 40,000 goofballs pills and capsules, 25 pounds of amphetamine and barbiturate powder and about 30,000 empty capsules.

It was the largest haul of goofball material since the state Legislature outlawed them last summer. Kenny said the value of the cache was $20,000 on the illegal market.

Lt. Kenny said police found also 5,000 penicillin pills, 3,000 tranquilizer tablets and 5,000 miscellaneous tablets in the man's room.

Garafone admitted taking the materials, Kenny said, from the Chase Chemical Co., 280 Chestnut St., where he has worked for a year. He denied selling any goofballs, however, and claimed he was merely saving them.

The materials were in bottles and plastic bags under Garafone's bed, in a trunk, a closet and dresser drawers.

Sidney Chasman, president of Chase Chemical, told police that the company does not manufacture or stock some of the items found in Garafone's room.

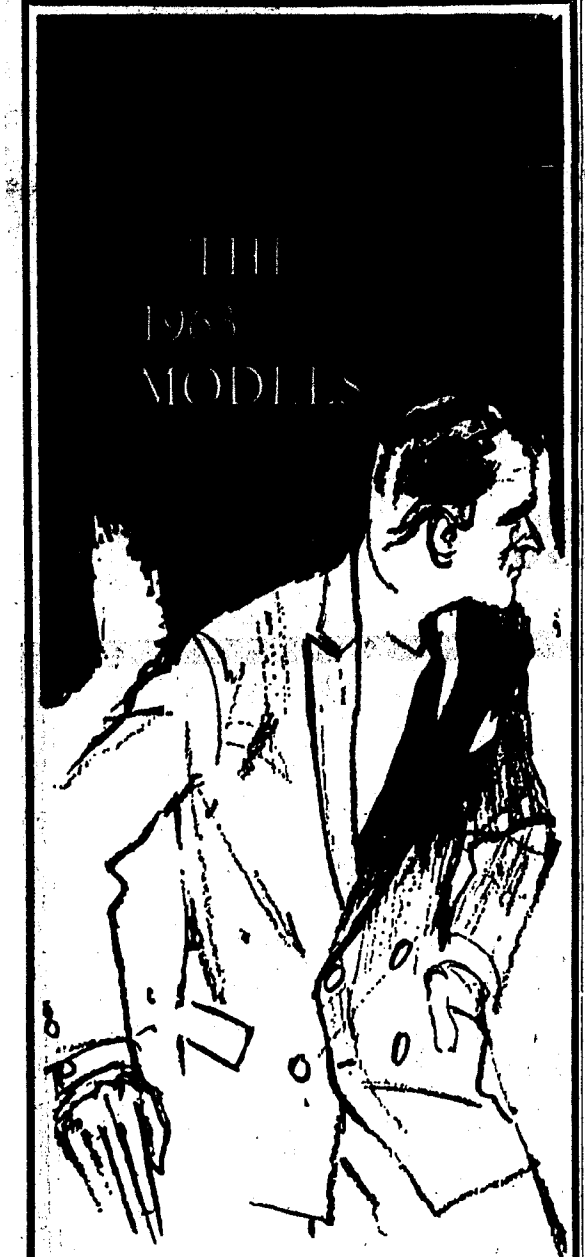

Garafone has been charged with possession of goofballs, larceny from a parking meter and possession of a counterfeit $20 bill. Police said they found the fake bill on Garafone, and six more in the back of the police car in which he rode after his arrest Monday.

Arrested with Garafone for breaking into the parking meter was Joseph N. Sassone, 48, of 78 Willard Ave., Bloomfield.

Ask Local PUC Hearing

LONG BRANCH — City Council voted Tuesday to ask for a public hearing in City Hall here rather than at Newark, when the state Public Utilities Commission decides whether to allow the New York and Long Branch Railroad to eliminate its Elberon station here as well as three other seashore stations.

A letter requesting the PUC to call a hearing in the city was authorized on the request of Norman Hansen, of Monmouth Beach, a spokesman for the Railroad Telegraphers Association. He said the group is strongly opposed to the shutdown plan.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

DESIGN FOR A FAMILY ON A BUDGET—A home which meets the requirements of the growing American family and stays within a budget, is the challenge met in Homes for Americans Plan HA263P. The entry level, comprising foyer, family room and study or bedroom is slab on grade. This ties in with the garage floor slab. Up three steps are the living room, dining room and kitchen, under which is a basement. A center bearing partition runs down the middle of the house dividing front from rear and enabling the use of light-weight lumber for structural beams. The second floor, three bedrooms and two baths, is directly over the family room, study and foyer, minimizing the foundation wall and roof area. Plan HA263P contains 1,688 square feet of living space and was designed by Samuel Paul, 89-30 161st St., Jamaica 32, N. Y.

Pear Turnover Wins Applause

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

ARE WE dreaming? Or does your tasting experience confirm ours: canned Bartlett pear halves are firmer than they used to be. And this is all to the good.

So many ways to use these pears, but none of them more delicious than giving them pastry as a partner. Bake individual pear turnovers, bake a pear pie, or try this new recipe for a delectable pear tart.

This tart is baked on a cookie sheet, its filling a luscious combination of sour cream, lemon and spices.

When we tried this recipe in our kitchen, we used the pale yellow lard-type shortening that comes in cans because it makes the sort of "short" pastry that rightfully belongs to this dessert.

PEAR TART

2 cans (1 pound each) Bartlett pear halves
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup sugar
¼ cup flour
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup commercial sour cream
Pear Tart Pastry.

Drain pear halves throughly; cut each pear half in quarters. Sprinkle grated lemon rind and lemon juice over pears. Stir together thoroughly the sugar flour, cinnamon and nutmeg; mix with quartered pear halves. Fold in sour cream. Place a Pear Tart Pastry round on a cookie sheet; turn up edge; spread pear and sour cream mixture over pastry round. Cover with the second round of pastry. Flute and seal edges. Prick top of tart to make vents for steam to escape. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 30 to 35 minutes. Top pastry will be pale; for more color brush with egg wash before baking. Cool; serve when filling has set but tart is still warm. Or refrigerate tart and reheat in oven just until warm through.

PEAR TART PASTRY

2¼ cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
¾ cup yellow lard-type shortening (chill before using)
5 to 6 tablespoon ice water

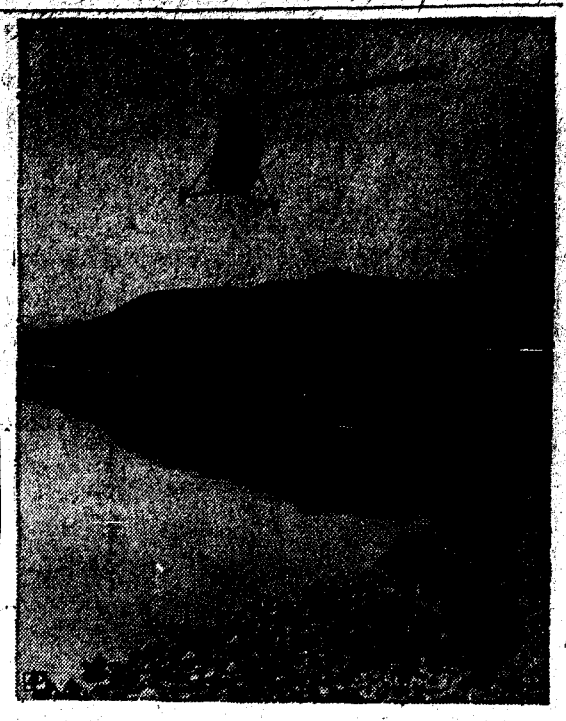

Mix flour and salt; with a pastry blender, cut in half the shortening until particles are fine; cut in remaining half of shortening until the size of peas. With a fork, gradually stir in just enough water to hold pastry together. On a prepared pastry cloth roll out one half of the dough at a time; out of each half cut a 14-inch round. Refrigerate rolled-out round while preparing filling for Pear Tart.

UNEASY FEELING—Lola Albright finds herself being shadowed by a private investigator (Lee Phillips) in "Black Curtain," suspenseful story of an amnesia victim and his mysterious ex-girl friend, on "The Alfred Hitchcock Hour" Thursday, Nov. 15 on the CBS Television Network (10:00-11:00 p.m., EST).

Gets Role Because She's Tiny, Has Accent

By CHARLES WITBECK

HOLLYWOOD — Jack Webb's True for Sunday on CBS, "Man With a Suitcase," needed a limber actress with a German accent who could fit a normal sized suitcase.

Webb could fake the idea, but he decided to try and do it right. So the call went out for a small actress. The German accent could be taught.

The call was answered by German actress Erika Peters, a tiny, very well shaped lady who has troubles getting parts in Hollywood because of her accent. She couldn't let this go by. She went out to Warner Bros., slipped into a black bathing suit with white buttons and jumped into the suitcase. Leading man Bill Berger snapped it shut and lifted the bag carrying 103 pounds of Miss Peters. Erika didn't get claustrophobia or scream and came out smiling. She got the job.

Miss Peters plays an East German girl who is smuggled out in the suitcase from behind the Berlin wall by her lover. There are a number of obstacles to keep the suspense up for 26 minutes as the girl sits in the case.

Admirably Suited

Besides her accent and her ability to crouch in a doubled-up position, Erika is admirably suited for the story. As Erika Knab she made 21 movies in Berlin, and, for a number of years, dubbed the voice of Mickey Mouse in Germany. Being a capitalistic animal, Mickey was later banned in East Berlin, but for a while he had great popularity. Erika says the East German government still owes her royalties for the cartoons, but she doesn't expect to ever collect.

How does she feel about the future of West Berlin?

"I frankly think nothing will happen to Berlin," she says. "There may be aggravations—maybe we might have to use an airlift again—but Berlin won't be bartered away."

Miss Peters came to Hollywood five years ago to become another Marlene Dietrich. The accent didn't help her any and Erika landed occasional roles as a French, Swedish or German girl. But Erika wasn't going to starve and she kept commuting between West Berlin and Hollywood, bringing in Volkswagens. Since Miss Peters didn't have a used car lot or an agency license, she was soon forced to give up the practice.

Coin Laundry Business

With her imported car money Erika jumped into the automatic coin laundry business in Los Angeles, and this began to thrive under her touch. Now Erika is moving into real estate like the big boys and is about to put up an apartment house on bustling Wilshire Blvd.

"You have to be right on the job all the time," she says. "Everyone wants my right arm."

While the actress in her is fairly prominent, business keeps her brain hopping. Last summer she took a trip around the world principally to check on import-export possibilities. "I was thinking about importing children's clothes from Hong Kong," she said, "or bringing in tie-silk from Bangkok. And you should see the sheepskin rugs in New Zealand."

Picks Others' Brains

Landing at the Fiji Island airport, Miss Peters had to wait two hours before getting transportation into town. This so disturbed her, she considered setting up a car rental agency there to clear up the problem.

Erika only likes ventures where she can promote or take a hand in decisions. "I hate investing where I can't do anything about my investment—like the stock market," she says. "I've lost money there. I'm not a friend of the market."

Where does Erika get all her business sense?

"I pick other people's brains," she said with a smile. "Yet I'd rather be known for my acting. But somehow people only want to talk to me about business."

TV Key Mailbag

By STEVEN H. SCHEUER

Question — One of my favorite new TV series is "Combat." I lik the show because it doesn't go overboard in the heroics department. It seems very real and the acting is always good. Will you print one of your short biographies about Vic Morrow. —F.D., Cohoes, N.Y.

Answer — Vic was born in New York City. He didn't think of acting as a career until he entered Florida Southern College upon his discharge from the Navy. At college, he got involved with the drama club and became interested in the theatre. After studying in New York for a couple of years, Morrow did some summer stock and went to Hollywood and the movies. His most important movie role to date was in "Blackboard Jungle." In addition to acting, Vic writes and has directed an Off-B'dway show. He is very active in the work being done in theatre in and around the Los Angeles area. TV fans have seen many of Vic's fine performances on such shows as "Bonanza," "The New Breed," "The Untouchables," "G.E. Theatre" and many more. Vic is married to the former Barbara Turner and they have a four-year-old daughter named Carrie.

Question — Wasn't there a TV series called "Noah's Ark" a few years ago? Who were the stars of this show? My sister insists one was Paul Burke who is currently on "Naked City." —M.B., Saratoga, Calif.

Answer — Your sister is right. Paul Burke and May Wynn costarred in this short-lived series.

Question — Didn't Dwayne Hickman play opposite Tuesday Weld in a movie a couple of years ago? I seem to remember seeing them in something other than the "Dobie Gillis" series. —C.V., Toledo, Ohio.

Answer — Hickman played Tuesday Weld's guitar strumming, motorcycle-riding boy friend in "Rally Round The Flag, Boys," which was based on Max Shulman's book. Shulman is also the creator of "Dobie Gillis."

Question — Is it true that William Frawley, who plays "Bub" on "My Three Sons," died sometime last year and what we are seeing are shows that were filmed before his death. Why didn't the newspapers report his passing? — Mrs. T.B., Folkston, Ga.

Answer — Because he is still alive. Frawley is an active 70 years old. He started in vaudeville. His first movie was a little thing called "Moonlight and Pretzels" (they just don't have titles like that anymore).

One of the most controversial motion pictures of the year, adapted from the Irving Wallace novel, "The Chapman Report," filmed in Technicolor, comes to Loew's Route 35 Drive-In Theater for the week starting Wednesday, November 14th.

Co-starring Shelley Winters, Jane Fonda, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Claire Bloom, Glynis Johns and Ray Danton, the story reveals the effect of a sex survey on the lives of four women in their wealthy suburban community.

On the same program is featured Audie Murphy, Joanne Dru, Gilbert Roland, Sandra Dee and Jim Backus in "The Wild and the Innocent," a tale of a wide open Western town, also filmed in Technicolor.

Students Attend Architect Program

NEWARK — Two local students were among a group of 19 who attended the "Careers in Architecture" program of the New Jersey Society of Architects and the New Jersey Chapter of the American Institute of Architects here recently.

Robert DeSantis of Long Branch High School and William Cagney of Christian Brothers Academy, Lincroft, were members of the group which spent most of a day in architects' offices and visiting job sites to view actual construction.

TV Key Previews

Tonight's top television shows as previewed and selected by TV Key's staff of experts who attend rehearsals, watch screenings, and analyze scripts in New York and Hollywood.

WIDE COUNTRY. "The Girl in the Sunshine Smile." A mildly pleasant hour which might have been a sock half hour show. Andy falls for a carnival dancer and runs into problems with Mitch about it. Added starters are Anne Helm as the dancer and Ray Walston as her father, and both do well. There are no villains in this story aside from the padding. 7:30 p.m. NBC.

PERRY MASON. "The Case of the Stand-In Sister." Usually, Perry Mason isn't involved with big mobsters, but he has a murder case on tonight with one in the background. His client, a cannery mogul, is accused of murder and Mason has to unravel the many leads. The tone is different here and series fans should like it. 8 p.m. CBS.

DR. KILDARE. "The Cobweb Chain," and The Nurses. "A Strange and Distant Place." Though these two shows are on different networks, they actually form one entry. Both involve the misadventures of an Indian (Kildare) and a Pakistani (Nurses) doctor in a U.S. hospital. Purists will prefer the latter show which stars a real Indian, but fans of method acting may find Steve Hill in the former to their liking. Neither show is any great shakes but, (as the movies like to advertise) tune in anytime between 8:30 and 9 and see a complete show. (Dr. Kildare—8:30 p.m. NBC. The Nurses—9 p.m. CBS)

LEAVE IT TO BEAVER For the youngsters. An honest, down to earth approach to a little lesson about the glamor of living away from home. Wise guy Eddie Haskell gets an apartment and tells his friends what a big time he's having, and Wally Cleaver and pal "Lumpy" begin to envy Eddie. 8:30 p.m. ABC.

ALFRED HITCHCOCK. "Black Curtain." The most intriguing, fastest Hitchcock hour so far. Richard Basehart stars as an amnesia victim who, after getting his head clouted and cleared, can't remember that he was doing those three clouded years. He meets a lovely girl (Lola Albright) who knows him well, gets shot at, and tries to find out his true story. The cast, production and the tale are all first rate. 10 p.m. CBS.

ANDY WILLIAMS. Tammy Grimes guests in an effort to bolster the show. In what sounds like a take-off of Eartha Kitt, she sings "I'm Just Wild About Harry"; broad comic Jerry Van Dyke does a bit on "hip motorcycle lovers" for a change of pace; the New Christy Minstrels sing "Railroad Bill" (and they should do more); and Williams' songs include "Do Nothing Till You Hear from Me" and "It Had to Be you." No Iowa chatter tonight. (Color). 10 p.m. NBC.

TONIGHT Johnny Carson has Carol Channing, Alan King, the comedy team of Benson and Mann, and singer Denise Lor along. Outside of Miss Lor, the comics have it. (Color). 11:15 p.m. NBC.

GIRL AND PUP HAVE 'SWELL' TIME — Eight-year old Sheila Menkins of Phoenixville, Pa., got the mumps which isn't unusual for a youngster. But then her pet Manchester pup contracted mumps also. A veterinarian said the dog had swollen neck and definite symptoms of mumps. He said it was not too common for dogs to contract mumps although it has occurred in the past. (AP Wirephoto)

DUCK HUNTER KILLED

SOUTH RIVER — A search party found the body of a duck hunter in the tidal meadows Tuesday, but couldn't recover the dead man until two dogs guarding him were brought under control. A searcher was bitten by one of the dogs as he tried to get to the body of the hunter, James Fitzke, 55. Police Chief Matthew Zaleski said Fitzke's death apparently was accidental. He said the body was found face down in the meadows at Millers Creek with a shotgun wound in the right shoulder. Fitzke's double-barreled shotgun, with one shot fired, was found in a rowboat a few feet from the body. One duck was found in the boat. Zaleski said Fitzke apparently had wounded himself and then staggered several feet, collapsed, and bled to death.

To Head CP Fund Campaign

LONG BRANCH — Joseph Putterman, Long Branch, president of the United Cerebral Palsy of Monmouth and Ocean Counties, has announced the appointment of Joe Jolop of Englishtown as chairman of the western section of Monmouth County Telethon and Fund Committee.

Mr. Jolop, formerly of Brooklyn, where he specialized in efficiency and expedition work for industries, is treasurer of the R & S Plastics Corp., Clarksburg. He also is engaged in the wholesale egg and grain business and is president of the Loyalty Financing Corp., Freehold.

After a tour of the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center here, Mr. Jolop said "I am particularly honored to be chosen chairman of the United Cerebral Palsy campaign in this area, for this is one of the most worthy causes I know. This is a challenging assignment, for we must not only provide and upgrade the standard of services for an increasing number of cerebral palsied children and adults in our community for the coming year, but we must also join in the mass assult upon cerebral palsy through research which some day will lead to ultimate prevention of this crippler.

"I am confident our objectives so vital to the cerebral palsids of this community will be accomplished."

Joe Jolop

The Cerebral Palsy School and Treatment Center, 465 Dewey St., is giving physical, occupational and speech therapy in addition to having a special education program of the Cerebral Palsy children starting with nursery and pre-kindergarten class to cerebral palsied children from Monmouth and Ocean Counties.

Rev. Joseph A. Sullivan, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony and was celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Kirby of Tyngsboro, Mass. Lt. Kirby is stationed with the Signal Corps at the U. S. Army Electronics Agency, Fort Monmouth.

Miss Anne Marie Cromey, at home, was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were the Misses Carole Ann Emery, Rumson, a cousin of the bride; and Elaine P. and Anne S. Kirby, Tyngsboro, Mass., sisters of the bridegroom.

1-5-8 Club Hears Talk

MIDDLETOWN — A plea to "restore economy to government" was voiced at a meeting of the 1-5-8 Women's Republican Club here Monday by Mrs. William Walsh, state chairman of SCANT (State Commitee Against New Taxes).

Mrs. Walsh said the committee is non-partisan and interested in one thing only: no new taxes.

"We are only interested in restoring economy to government," she said. "We do not want sales tax or income tax. They will not reduce property taxes as promised. They will simply be an additional tax."

Mrs. Walsh claimed that Gov. Meyner had added 1,000 persons to the state payroll every year he was in office and that Gov. Hughes had already requested an additional 900 though the jobs are not created as yet. "We don't need a new tax," she said, "we need to get along on what we have."

New members welcomed were Mrs. Ole Palludan, Mrs. Robert Collyer, Mrs. Thomas Brit, Mrs. Harry Leonardi and Mrs. Florence Dotola.

A Christmas donation of $50 was received from Mrs. Nelle Walker, a club member. It was voted to give $25 to Miss Kathryn Cooper at the Health Center to be used for Christmas welfare work.

Mrs. Thomas Morford, vice chairman of the Monmouth County Republican Executive Committee, spoke briefly on the recent election.

Mrs. Joseph F. Borsky

Fair Haven Resident Marries in Woodbury

WOODBURY — Miss Wanda Lou Thigpen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brown M. Thigpen, Main St., Barnsboro, was married here Nov. 4 to Joseph Francis Borsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Borsky, 120 Ridge Rd., Fair Haven, in the Pitman Methodist Church.

Rev. Robert E. Acheson, pastor, officiated. Fredrich Starke was organist. A reception and family supper followed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a family heirloom bridal gown of ivory peau de soie fashioned with a long-line bodice with a full cathedral train and draped bustle back. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a crown of pearls and sequins and she carried a cascade of red roses centered with a nosegay of miniature rose buds.

Miss Jeanne Fisher of Philadelphia, a classmate of the bride at Philadelphia Museum College of Art, was the bride's attendant. Her rust-orange ballerina-length gown had a bouffant skirt with a hem-length train. She wore a small orange feather band headpiece and carried a nosegay of yellow rosebuds.

Paul Borsky, at home, was best man for his brother. B. McMillan Thigpen, Jr., the bride's brother, was usher.

The couple sailed on the Italian liner Leonardo da Vinci for Spain. They will live in a seaport town near Tomalina on the Mediterranean and continue their art studies.

The bridegroom, an alumna of the School of Visual Arrts in New York, lived on the island of Minorca, Spain, and painted for the gallery there. He and his bride plan to spend the summer on this island. Mr. Borsky served in the U. S. Marine Corps for four years.

Eyes To The Sea

By ELEANOR MARKO

Ventura and "The Breakers"

Atlantic rollers or placid coves lure the hand and heart to record their majesty. For former Navyman Anthony Ventura it is a continuing challenge.

His one-man show opening Sunday in the Old Mill Gallery, Tinton Falls, in 18 days tell the story of a man in love with the sea and the land it touches.

Most of the material for the 18 realistic paintings in this exhibit stems from a recent painting trip along the New England seacoast.

A sensitive painter, Ventura has expanded his palette and gained dramatic power since his last one-man show in the Mill three years ago. This is his third show there since becoming a serious painter.

A resident of Neptune (where he manages the Acme Market), Ventura served two years in the Navy and began his art studies at the Academy of Arts, Newark, under Stanley Turnbull, Avery Johnson and John Howell. He then attended Pratt Institute in Brooklyn and the Art Students League in New York City, studying under Robert Brackman, Edgar Whitney and Ivan Olinsky. He also spent two summers of painting in Mexico, and in the Southwest and Northwest.

His technically skillful landscapes and seascapes are represented in many private and business collections. He has exhibited at the National Academy, the Art League of Long Island, The Gallery, East 57th St., New York City; Rahway Art Center, Art Center of the Oranges and with the New Jersey Watercolor Society, the Hunterdon County Art Center, Ocean Arts and Crafts Club and the American Artists Professional League — gathering awards along the way.

The reception for Mr. Ventura will be held Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Mill. The Mill is open to the public daily from 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; evenings from 8 to 10 p.m. and Sundays from 12 to 5:30 p.m.

HOW'S THAT AGAIN?—"I want to communicate visual beauty—because, to me, visual beauty is most meaningful." Minus mechanical gremlins, this is the full quote of Babette Bauman Edelstein, New Shrewsbury artist who was profiled here last week.

LANDSCAPES WERE WINNING favorites at the fifth annual Community Art Festival at Middletown Township last weekend.

In her second win in two weeks, Babette Edelstein received first award for oil in the professional category in the show. (She also won first in oil in the current Winter Show at Monmouth Arts Gallery.)

Helen M. Toulme, River Plaza, won first in oil, amateur class. Both the Edelstein and Toulme paintings were landscapes handled romantically but in extremely different styling. Mrs. Toulme is art chairman of the River Plaza Woman's Club.

Jeanne Chandler, Fair Haven, received first place in watercolor, and Douglas Sanderson, Little Silver, first in photography. Both were in amateur categories.

Other winners were Naomi Smith, Red Bank, second, and S. Travers Neidlinger, Leonardo, third, in professional oils.

Amateur oils: Beverly Bayreder, Eatontown, second; Joan Palmer, Middletown, third; Enid B. Cunningham, River Plaza, and Marilyn Walters, Hazlet, honorable mentions.

Amateur watercolors: Louis A. Reissner, East Keansburg, second; Pamela T. Hinchcliffe, Fair Haven, third; Lloyd W. Baskin, Little Silver, honorable mention.

Amateur Photography: Ernest C. Adams, Middletown, second; William Johnsen, Jr., New Shrewsbury, third, and Peter Engeldrum, River Plaza, and Thomas A. DeGenito, Jr., Atlantic Highlands, honorable mentions.

Peder J. Gislason, Little Silver, won third place in professional photography.

In all, 13 silver prizes were awarded by Mrs. Maureen Deakin, artistic director, and James A. Carton, recreation commissioner, for the Middletown Township Recreation Commission-sponsored show.

New Brunswick artist-teacher Valdi S. Maris and Tinton Falls artist George K. Ralph judged the works by 67 entrants. Participating groups with special exhibits were the Middletown Woman's Club, Navesink Garden Club and Lincroft Woman's Club, and William H. Potter, Middletown.

BURGOYNE DILLER, Atlantic Highlands, opens in a one-man show of his newest work tonight in Galerie Chalette, 1100 Madison Ave., New York City. The reception is at 9 p.m.

JUNIOR FEDERATION ART DAY will be observed Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the Newark Museum, sponsored by the Junior Membership Department of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs in conjunction with American Education Week and American Art Week.

Children from three to six, dressed in play clothes, will be able to explore in the arts and crafts workshops, visit the zoo and the Junior Museum. A Planetarium show is planned for children over seven. All workshops will be under the direction of the Junior Museum staff. Robert Reid will demonstrate sand sculpture and Miss Dorothy Olson, a staff member, will lecture on "Arts of Tibet."

The entire program is open to all, free of charge.

FOUR MEMBERS of the Guild of Creative Art, Shrewsbury, are represented in the 31st annual New Jersey State Exhibition in Montclair Art Museum. Monmouth Names

We know that the Metcalf family in New England was represented by Michael, a weaver and tapestry maker, son of the Rev. Leonard Metcalf; but there was of this family name a Stephen, brickmaker, who settled in New Haven, Conn.; Joseph, a freeman in Ipswich, Mass., in 1635, and a son, who early in the 18th century, was the founder of the Metcalf family in Virginia. No direct line seems to show that these gentlemen were relatives. We do know from the old town records that the above Michael migrated to America in 1637.

Now go to the line as traced by professional genealogists: No. 1 Arkyell, A.D. 1016, a noble Danish Commander, came to England with King Canute. No. 2 Arkyell, son of No. 1, Lord of Dent. No. 3 Cospatrick, son of No. 2, his date is 1069. No. 4 Delphin, son of No. 3. No. 5, William, son of No. 4. No. 6 Richard, son of No. 5. No. 7 Adam of Dent, son of No. 6, 1253; here we have almost two hundred years with but four generations so we must assume that these men were not all oldest sons. No. 7 Adam of Dent, received from his father lands including half the mountain called "Calfe" where he lived, hence the name "Medecalfe".

Adam de Medecalfe, son of No. 7, himself No. 8, was slain in single combat in 1275. Adam No. 9, Adam No. 10, Richard No. 11, Thomas No. 12, John No. 13, James No. 14, captain at the Battle of Agincourt in 1415 — here we have still more generations in much less than 200 years, so we must assume that some of these were younger sons. So the record continues, No. 15, Bryan of Beare Park, probably third son of James No. 14. The Worcester newspaper mentioned in the column of last week gives Brian Metcalf, mentioned in the "Hundred Rolls," an old document of 1465-1466. These may be one and the same. No. 16 is ommitted entirely to jump to No. 17, the Rev. Leonard Metcalfe, only to say that he was sixth in descent from the above Brian No. 15. Since Brian's father was fighting at Agincourt in 1415 we have six generations, covering 200 years with nary a link between, so again we are in a morass and must begin again, but such are the pitfalls of genealogical research.

Question No. 71: I would like a copy of the clipping from a newspaper that gives an account of the death of Jeremiah Harris who died Dec. 27, 1861, in Keyport, N.J., Raritan Township, Monmouth County at the age of 69 years. He was born in Connecticut. I would like the names of his father, mother and children as they are listed in this clipping. The family lived in Matawan on the westerly side of Matawan Creek, known as the Harris Farm in 1831. It was sold in 1857 and 1859. Henry S. Little is mentioned in some deeds of the Harris family. I would like to know who he was.

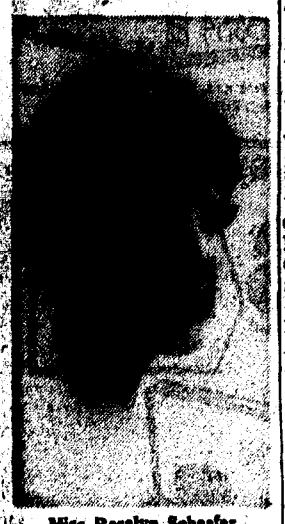

I would also like to know where the burial plot of this family is located. I would also like a copy of the newspaper notice of the partition of the real estate in regard to minors in the Harris family. It was published in the New Jersey Times of Middletown Point on Sept. 16, 1859.

I have a family tree mentioning the family homestead in Keyport, but I can't decide where it was.

W.H. Topeka, Kansas.

Inquiries and replies may be directed to the Monmouth County Historical Association, 70 Court St., Freehold, or to Mrs. Irving T. Bartlett, chairman of the genealogy subcommittee of the association, 46 Kings Hwy., Middletown.

Fort Monmouth Nurse Is Army Veteran

Family of 12 Holds 13 Degrees

Maj. Lourene F. Martin

FORT MONMOUTH — The Martins of Maryland are a remarkable family — in many degrees.

Maj. Lourene F. Martin, an Army Nurse currently stationed at Fort Monmouth's Patterson Army Hospital, is one of the household's celebrities.

She is the daughter of the late Louis and Irene Martin of Princess Anne, Md., who undoubtedly believed in the old adage, "Cheaper by the Dozen."

When they were married in 1916, Mr. and Mrs. Martin decided that they would have a dozen children and each of them should go to college.

In June 1956, Grant, the youngest child, was graduated from Maryland State Teachers College in Bowie, Md. This swelled the total of college graduates to 10 among the Martin children. With their diplomas are 13 degrees, of which three are master's. Some are still working on their Ph.D's.

Maj. Martin is the second child of this remarkable family where the motto, "There is Dignity in Work," was not merely a saying, but a functioning rule used in everyday life. Efficient and economical management of the household and its members was instilled in every child.

To this end, Maj. Martin initiated her training in 1935 at the Hampton Institute Dixie School of Nursing in Virginia. When the rising cost of living became too much, she left training and went to work for a year. Next, she attended the Princess Academy in Maryland. After another year of working and saving, she had enough to pay her tuition at the Mercy Hospital School for Nurses in Philadelphia. She was graduated in 1941 and became a school nurse in Concord, N. C.

Maj. Martin, now of Eden, Md., has had varied assignments in her 18 years as an Army nurse.

She has drawn nursing assignments at a prisoner of war camp in Arizona during World War 2, and U. S. Army Hospitals in Tokyo, Fort Huachuca, Ariz., Camp McCoy and Camp Beale, Calif., Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C., Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., Fort Jay and Staten Island, N. Y., and Percy Jones in Michigan.

At Fort Monmouth, Major Martin is head nurse of the Central Materiel Section in the Patterson Army Hospital. She arrived here a little more than a year ago after duty in Frankfurt, Germany, as head nurse of the 97th General Hospital's Contagion Ward.

Maj. Martin is currently studying voice in her leisure time. She is a member of the Monmouth Opera Guild of Asbury Park, and has sung in productions presented there in Convention Hall.

Also, when time permits, she enjoys family reunions in Princess Anne.

Kurt Graf To Appear For Club

Kurt Graf

RED BANK — Kurt Graf, Glen Rock artist, will be guest speaker Friday at 2 p.m. in the Red Bank Woman's Club, Broad St. He will demonstrate "Painting With a Razor Blade."

Mrs. Joseph E. Carroll, chairman of the art department, arranged the program, open to members and guests.

A skilled artist, Mr. Graf has developed a technique called "Color Creations." The contemporary handling of brilliant colors with a razor blade to transform a blank sheet of plastic into a dramatic picture, has made Mr. Graf a popular demonstrator. Most of his appearances have been in North Jersey.

He is lithographic artist, having received his training in Germany, where he was born. He became an American citizen in 1929. Earlier this month Mr. Graf received an award for two demonstrations he gave at the Hi-Fi Show in New York. His presentations, spiked with humor, have earned him the title of "The Victor Borge of Oil Paints."

Adam and Eve

Office Romance

DEAR ADAM AND EVE:

I am one of those married bosses who had an "office romance." My so-called Girl Friday was an older married woman who admittedly worked because she found housework boring and wanted to stir up some excitement. The fact that I was part of that excitement is my own fault. An affair of this nature will never get off the ground unless both parties are willing.

We told each other that what we had was different and not the usually cheap type thing. If we were an item of office gossips we could not be bothered. But the truth was that we had not one bit of trust in each other, and when we thought we were having a ball I felt guilty. The whole business was built on lies and deception—lies to my wife, to my children, to my associates and to myself.

The whole affair began to disintegrate. She began pushing me to get a divorce that I never intended to get. And the big joke was on me all the time, because she was dating other men while I thought I was the kingpin. What started out as a big adventure fell flat and left a very nasty taste in my mouth. My wife forgave me, but I am too much the coward to ask if she is happy because I'm afraid of the answer. Had I spent as much time in the past as I do now trying to make my wife happy I would have succeeded.

Wiser Will.

DEAR ADAM AND EVE:

About those flirty bosses: I was a typist and secretary for 20 years, and I think if girls would be a bit more formal at the office they would have an easier time—no quiet lunches with the boss, no cocktail hour, no heart-to-heart talks, no first-name relationships. It's the woman's place always to keep things on an appropriate basis.

Button Shoes.

DEAR ADAM AND EVE:

I am a single man 29 years old and want to say that I have no feelings for the females who complain about their bosses' conduct. It's what they want and what they deserve.

I've had a break-up with several girls for the one reason—because I am too nice. I mean that. I enjoy treating a lady like a lady but it seems that the American female doesn't think a man's a man unless he treats her like a dog. I am in a management position and even though I'm not married I do not flirt with the women working under me. Out of the office the girls that I have known and treated respectfully have abused me and broken up with me.

So I am now convinced that the bachelor life is for me. At least I can be happy alone, because if I have to mistreat a lady to get along with her, then I would sooner not date her at all. Women who moan all the time that all they want is a "good man" are mouthing a lot of bull. A woman wants a man to dominate her and be hard with her.

Sick of Girls.

DEAR ADAM AND EVE:

I don't have to take a survey to know whether bosses try to flirt with their secretaries. I've been a secretary for four years and in that time I've had nine jobs. I left six of those jobs because the boss kept chasing me around the desk most of the day. This kept me trim but exhausted. With my ducking and dodging experience I'd make the All-American football team. But my ninth boss was different. He was attractive and single, so I went for him. And got him!

Girl Full Time.

Cozy Corner in Troubled Europe

By LOYAL GOULD

VADUZ, Liechtenstein (AP) — There's no railroad station in this capital of the principality of Liechtenstein. International trains pass through the country but don't stop. Liechtenstein has no daily newspapers, no airports, no customs officials, no army.

With 17,125 residents, Liechtenstein is a cozy country that has survived the wars and turmoil that have swept Europe for centuries.

"Things are going topsy-turvy most everywhere else," says farmer Ferderick Ospelt, "but we hope to go on living pretty much as we have in the past without too much worry about the outside world."

The Liechtensteiners have not developed tourist attractions.

"You're welcome to come here," said farmer Gunther Vogell, "but we don't go out of our way to get you here."

Liechtenstein lies in the center of Europe. Covering 62 square miles, it stretches 17 miles north to south and about 7 miles east to west at its widest point.

Founded in 1713

The Austrian princes of Liechtenstein bought the territory from two other bankrupt noblemen and founded the state in 1713.

Switzerland and Austria are immediate neighbors.

The Swiss supply border guards, diplomatic representation abroad, and use of their currency. From the Austrians come the lion's share of the legal system plus rich pastries and meat dishes swimming in cream sauces.

Most of their German-speaking Swiss neighbors are Protestants, but the Liechtensteiners, like the Austrians, are largely Roman Catholics.

"Our heads are with the Swiss but our hearts with the Austrians," says Mrs. Joseph Rheinberger, 80, a farmer's wife.

Every village is a picture of compromise—Swiss cleanliness on the outside but an atmosphere of relaxed Austrian comfort inside.

Franz Joseph

The ruling monarch is Franz Joseph II. A shy, retiring man of 56, the prince lives in a castle atop a hill on the outskirts of Vaduz. He owns the castle and the surrounding acre or so of land, plus vineyards.

His rights are limited. Liechtenstein's 15-member Parliament, which his grandfather set up in 1921, sees to that. Aside from opening and closing Parliament, signing measures approved by Parliament and okaying the lawmakers' choice of prime minister, he grants amnesties and bestows titles on deserving subjects.

The prince controls a large share of the wine industry, which produces red and white vaduzer. Little of its is left to send abroad after Leichtenstein consumers buy theirs—at $2.50 a bottle.

Not Extravagant

The income the prince derives from industrial and farm holdings in Western Europe is substantial but not enough to let him live extravagantly.

Liechtenstein's specialty is the registration of foreign companies whose directors need not reside in this country of reasonable taxes. No list of these is ever published, discretion being part of the service offered. Government officials say 5,000-6,000 such firms are signed up here for an annual fee of $100-150 each.

"These fees help build our roads and schools and keep work going in government house," said Oswald Kaiser, a storekeeper.

Before the last war, 60 per cent of the Liechtensteiners lived from farming. Only 12 per cent do today. The others have gone to work in new metal plants and in factories making false teeth and artificial sausage skins.

Daniel Speaks In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA — Arthur F. Daniel, Fair Haven, N. J., director of the Power Sources Division of the U. S. Army Electronics Research and Development Laboratory, Fort Monmouth, N. J., explained new methods of obtaining electrical power from chemical, solar and nuclear sources at the November "Family Night" of Philadelphia's Franklin Institute.

Mr. Daniels subject was "More Power to You," and he pointed out that engineers and scientists are successfully meeting the challenge of supplying all necessary electrical power for space age communications, travel and exploration.

Mr. Daniel has had a direct hand in developing unusual electrical power sources for rockets and satellites. He emphasized that while much use was made of such exotic sources as solar and nuclear energy, great strides have also been made in the oldest of all, the chemical battery.

Asks Annual Pension Fund Appropriation

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — State Treasurer John A. Kervick has recommended that the state appropriate $3.4 to $4 million annually to the State Police pension fund "until the time it becomes actuarially sound."

Kervick made the recommendation to the State House Commission, saying it was an alternative to appropriating $40 million in a lump sum to make the fund sound. He estimated it would take about 30 years to make the fund sound on the basis of annual state payments.

He also recommended increasing contributions made by state troopers to the fund from 4 to 8 per cent of their salaries and transferring the fund from the State House Commission to the Division of Pensions in the Treasurer's Office.

Kervick said all other pension funds are administered by his office. He proposed that the pension plan be administered by a board of trustees composed of representatives of the public, state police, and state government.

In other business the commission approved an $8,000 a year pension for Col. Joseph D. Rutter, recently retired superintendent of State Police. Kervick said Rutter's request for an additional disability pension based on a heart attack which he suffered after retirement would have to be studied.

Gives October Report of Police

SHREWSBURY TOWNSHIP — Capt. Dayton Wilson, Shrewsbury Township, has announced there were 171 police actions handled during October.

There were 53 complaints investigated, 16 traffic summonses issued, 40 traffic warnings issued, four dog summonses issued, two disorderly summonses issued, four disorderly warnings issued, three juvnile arrests, 32 juvenile warnings issued, four cars impounded for township parking violations, one missing boy, found by a township employee.

One runaway boy was found sleeping in a parked car late at night, by local police. One child was reported bitten by a dog, one juvenile treated for first aid by police, one two-car accident investigated, one recovered stolen bicycle, confiscated property from juveniles on mischief night (two knives, a razar blade, one whistle, two ink markers) plus other police actions.

Capt. Wilson reported that on mischief and Halloween nights, the police were assisted by Mayor Joseph Menzzopane, Jr., police director Wilfred Mr. Rafferzeder, CD director Robert Bruno and his staff, and volunteers, which gave the township one of the lowest mischief rates in the county.

A meeting of the teen-agers was held during the month by Capt. Wilson, when bicycle safety was discussed.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

FAIR HAVEN — Col C.R. Haig, executive vice president of the Community Appeal here, said yesterday the fund drive is the collection agency for 10 social and civic organizations.

They include the Youth Center, Boy and Girl Scouts, Public Health Nursing, The Community YMCA, Salvation Army, Family and Children's Service, Mental Health Association, Muscular Dystrophy and United Cerebral Palsy.

Col. Craig said he had been assisted in the drive by Mrs. Lewis Connor, Mrs. George Goebel, Mrs. Adrian N. Longfield, and Mrs. John Martin.

He pointed out that donors may designate the amounts they care to give to each individual agency.

Field Day Set By Girl Scouts

CLIFFWOOD BEACH — The Bayshore Neighborhood Association of Girl Scouts, which consists of troops from Keansburg, West Keansburg, Union Beach, Cliffwood and Keyport, will hold a wide game and field day Saturday at Cheesequake State Park.

In the wide game, the Intermediates will follow a trail of problems. Skills tested will be first aid, lashing, compass reading, fire building, knots and the making of a bedroll. The wide game will be judged on the solutions of the problems, courtesy, team work and time.

WANTED PEOPLE TO FEEL COOL

ST. LOUIS (AP)—One hundred degree August weather meant winter was just around the corner to Victor R. Reichert. He announced a sale on snow shovels and rock salt.

"Everybody passing by was mopping his brow and complaining about the heat," Reichert explained. "I wanted to do something to make everybody feel cool."

He sold a half dozen sacks of salt. Shovels, however, didn't move so well.

Fight Over Appointment Is Postponed

LONG BRANCH — An open battle involving Mrs. Lucy Wilson, city councilwoman and city Housing Authority appointee, was averted Tuesday.

The authority's first scheduled meeting since Mrs. Wilson was named a member by split vote of the council was called off.

Mrs. Wilson, ready to attend and face the other members who are disputing the validity of her appointment, was notified of the session by the authority's office in the morning.

But, told the meeting was off because Executive Director John E. Schulz and some of the HA members were attending the annual convention of the New Jersey League of Municipalities, Mrs. Wilson decided to do likewise.

"I had planned to attend as a member of council, but I think I will register also as a member of the Housing Authority," she told a reporter.

Council, by a 4-3 vote, appointed Mrs. Wilson last month to file vacancy supposedly created by the resignation last July of Rev. Robert Linley.

The HA contended there was no valid resignation from Father Linley, former pastor of St. James Episcopal Church, and that Mrs. Wilson, therefore, had no right to be appointed.

Complicating the picture was the fact City Manager Richard J. Bowen had misplaced Father Linley's resignation when council named Mrs. Wilson. He recovered the letter last week, however.

The HA's attorney, Anthony Woolley, wrote to council yesterday that since the priest's letter of resignation was not on file before Mrs. Wilson's appointment, the appointment could not be recognized.

Mrs. Wilson, long an HA antagonist, is insisting her appointment was valid because, whether Father Linley's letter was recorded or not, the vacancy existed either by formal resignation or absence.

"I hope we don't have to battle, but I'm an appointed member and I have every intention of fulfilling my assignment," she said.

Mrs. Wilson has been in litigation with the HA for more than 10 years in various arguments over the Shrewsbury Riverfront project. She and her husband, Harry, who live in the area and operate Wilson's Boat Works, currently are disputing values set on their properties.

New Jersey Incomes Reach Record High

TRENTON (AP) — New Jerseyans are making more money than ever, according to the people who peer into the state's economic spectrum.

The state Department of Conservation and Economic Development predicts that 1962 will go down as a record year with total personal income expected to exceed $17 billion.

The total last year was $16.9 billion, compared to $16.17 billion in 1960.

Average income per person in 1961 was listed at $2,714, a $63 jump from the previous year.

New Jersey's median family income, based on 1959 earnings, was listed at $6,786, placing the state second only to Alaska in this category.

How does the state compare with the rest of the nation in earning power?

Right near the top, according to economists and statisticians, who rattle off a ream of figures in support of their claims. The statistics were tabulated by the Office of Business Economics of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Some of the conclusions, reported in the current issue of the New Jersey Economic Review:

New Jersey ranked 6th among the states last year in per capita personal income. Personal income is defined as current income received from all sources by residents of an area. It is measured before deduction of income and other direct personal taxes, but after deductions of individual contributions to social insurance programs. Per capita personal income is derived by dividing the population of a given area into the total personal income. New Jersey has a little over 6 million residents.

—Total personal income in the state increased 5 per cent last year from 1960, compared with the national increase of 4 per cent.

—New Jersey ranked within the top 10 states in all years since 1930 in income per person, from 1955 to 1961 it ranked between 4th and 7th in the nation.

—From 1950-61, New Jersey's personal income has maintained a higher annual increase than that of the nation.

Early Spurt

—Incomes grew at a faster pace in 1950-1955 than during the balance of the decade because of two 13-month recessions; the first extending from July 1957 to April 1958, the second from May 1960 to February 1961.

—During the recession periods, personal income dipped off in several categories—chiefly mining, farming and railroads.

—Personal income from farming decreased last year from $46 million to $42 million from 1960; mining dropped from $22 million to $20 million while railroad incomes increased from $830 million in 1960 to $860 million in 1961.

—General wage and salary disbursements last year totaled $12.09 billion, compared to $11.6 billion in 1960.

Secaucus Youth Among the First Guam Evacuees

SECAUCUS (AP) — "He's in good shape? Thank God!" Oscar Kunze said yesterday when the Associated Press told him his son, Airman 1/C David Kunze, 22, was among the first group of evacuees from typhoon-smashed Guam to arrive in Honolulu.

"I didn't know where he was," the father sighed in relief. "When they mentioned five or six deaths I just didn't know but I hoped for the best. This is the first word I've had since the storm and it's a relief."

Kunze said he last heard from David in a letter about two weeks ago.

"He's one of those boys who likes to have a lot of fun and he was kind of tied down out there," Kunze said. "But he had a furlough in Hong Kong not long ago and he enjoyed that. He mentioned the trip and said he had a nice time.

"And then there was the usual request — can you lend me some money?

Not Much Activity

"As for Guam, he said he enjoyed the swimming there but there's not much activity for the younger set."

Kunze said David's four-year enlistment would be up at the end of the year but he had reenlisted and would be sent to the Plattsburg (N. Y.) Air Force Base after Christmas.

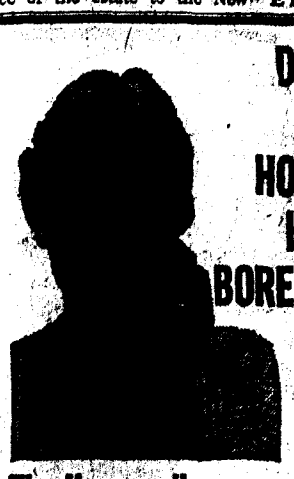

"He said he'd probably be home for Christmas before he goes to Plattsburgh," Kunze said. "We haven't seen him in almost a year. He left after Thanksgiving last year for San Francisco and then was shipped to Guam."

David graduated from Weehawken High School in June, 1959 and enlisted in the Air Force about six months later.

'A Sound Boy'

"He's a very good boy," Kunze said, "not one of those teen-age delinquents or whatever you call them. He's always been a sound boy."

I'M NOT IN THE HOSPITAL

I'm home. I'm recovering and I'm happy. My doctor suggested we rent this hospital bed—which we did, table and all, from South Jersey Surgical Supply. They delivered it and set it up for us. I'm not sure whether I like it best at mealtime or at night when it brings me relaxing, comfortable sleep. Even the children can adjust it.

We carry many items helpful during illness. We serve your doctor—we'd like to serve you...

THANKSGIVING

When the Pilgrims landed on the bleak New England shore on Dec. 21, 1620, they knelt and gave thanks to the Lord for bringing them safely to their new home.

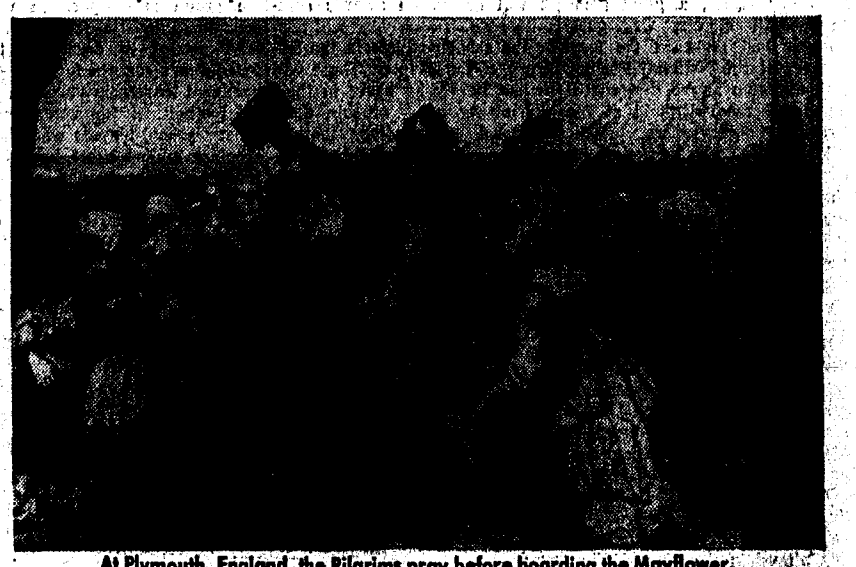

WHERE IT BEGAN. Pilgrims depart from Delftshaven, Holland, in July, 1620. They stopped at Southampton and Plymouth to take on others, boarded the Mayflower Sept. 6 for their three-and-a-half month voyage to a new home.

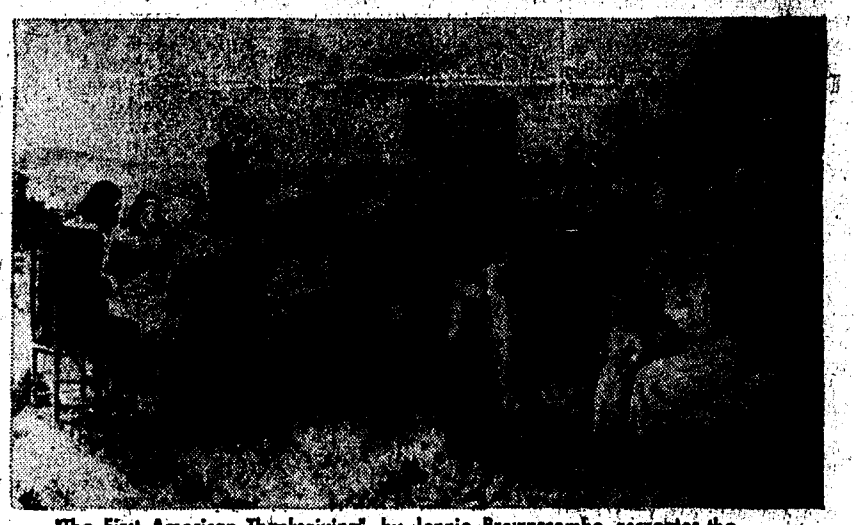

Ever since 1621, when the Pilgrim Fathers gave thanks for a good harvest, Americans have observed Thanksgiving Day—officially and unofficially.

The custom of Thanksgiving Day spread from Plymouth to other New England colonies. By 1700 it was an annual holiday in many localities. During the Revolutionary War, special days of thanks were observed for victories and escapes from danger. On Nov. 26, 1789, President George Washington issued a general proclamation for a day of thanks. By the middle of the 19th century, some states had a yearly thanksgiving holiday.

In the meantime, Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, a writer and editor, worked tirelessly to promote the idea of a national Thanksgiving day. For some 30 years, she published pleas in her journal and wrote letters to the various Presidents. In 1863, President Lincoln issued a proclamation setting aside the last Thursday of November in that year "as a day of Thanksgiving and praise to our beneficient Father."

At Plymouth, England, the Pilgrims pray before boarding the Mayflower.

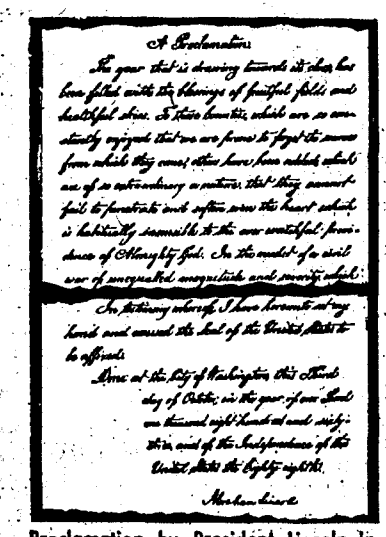

"The First American Thanksgiving", by Jennie Brownscombe, recreates the devout emotions of the Pilgrims as they give praise for their bountiful harvest.

New England hunters bring home a big catch of wild turkeys for a Thanksgiving feast in 1651.

Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale worked for 30 years to make Thanksgiving a national holiday.

A Proclamation.

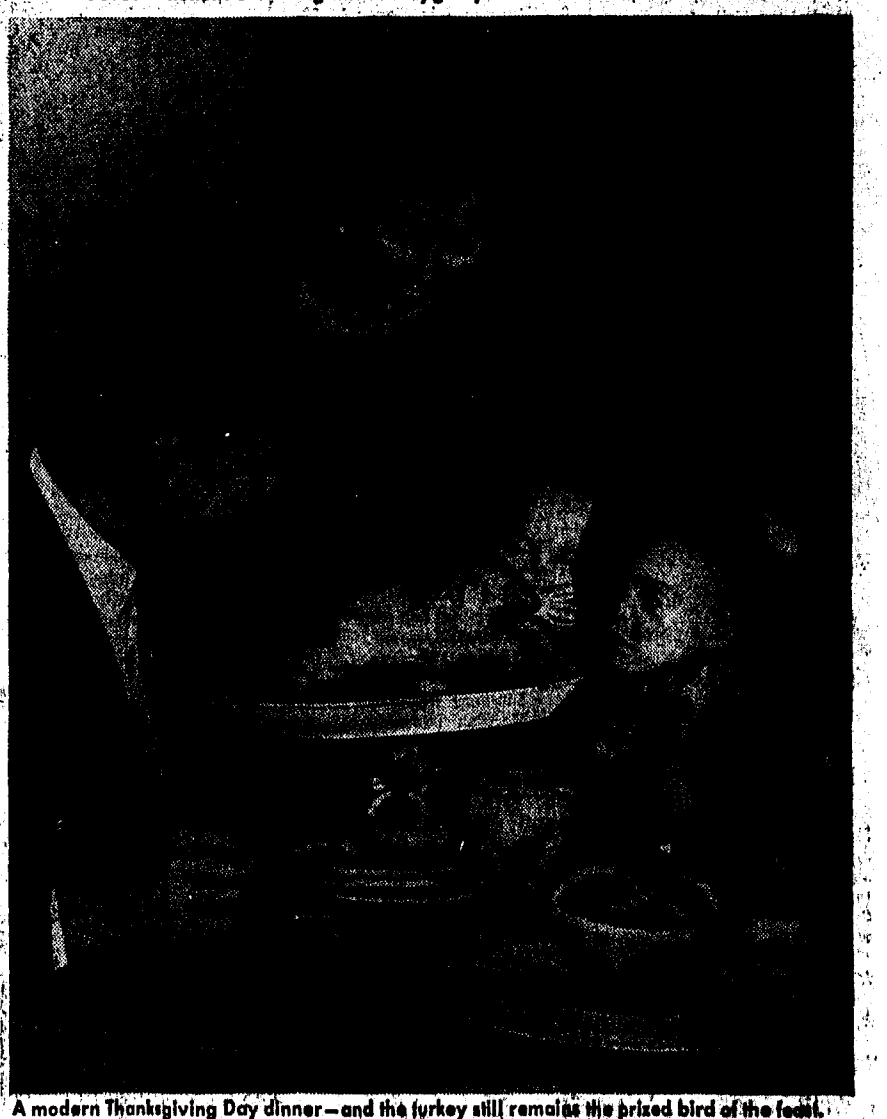

The year that is drawing towards its close has been filled with the blessings of fruitful fields and healthful skies. To these bounties, which are so constantly enjoyed that we are prone to forget the source from which they come, others have been added which are of so extraordinary a nature that they cannot fail to penetrate and soften even the heart which is habitually insensible to the overflowing goodness of Almighty God. In the midst of a civil war of unequaled magnitude and severity which

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States to be affixed.

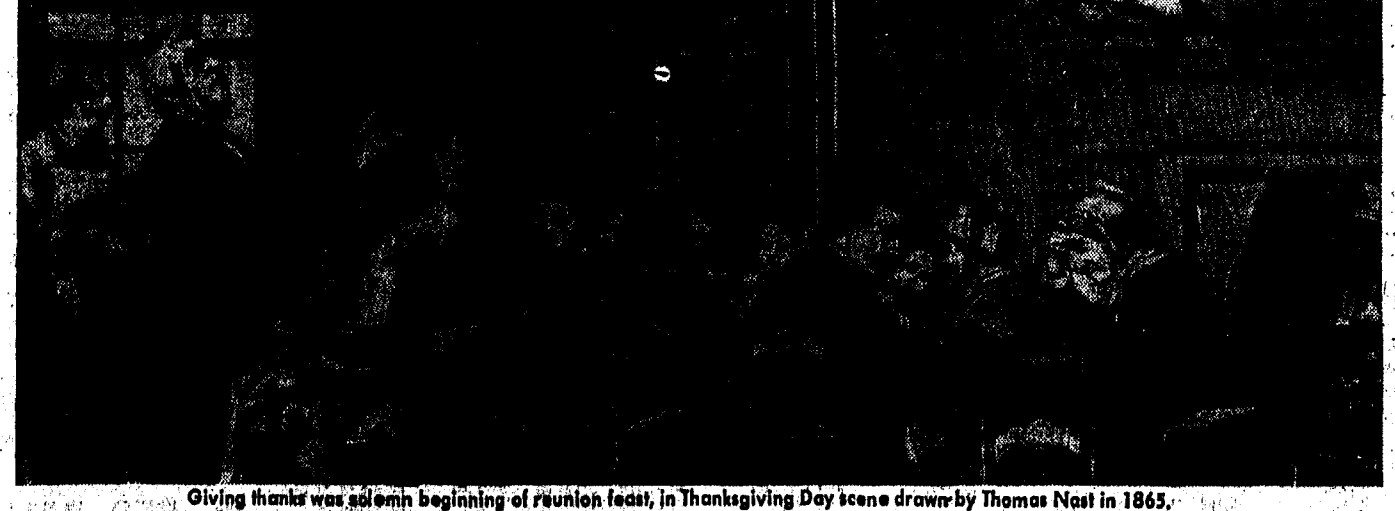

Done at the City of Washington this third day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-eighth.

Abraham Lincoln

Proclamation by President Lincoln in 1863 set aside last Thursday of November in that year as "day of Thanksgiving."

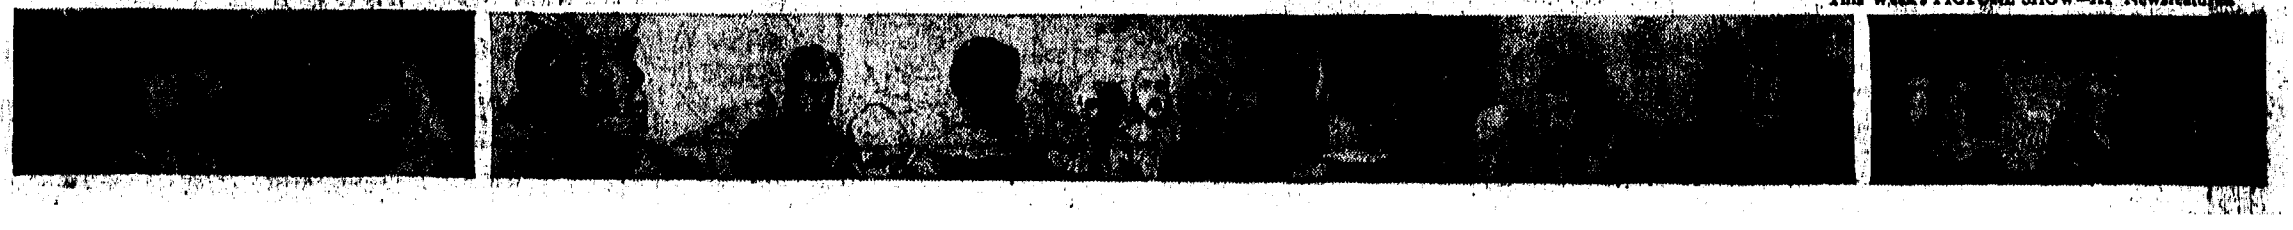

A modern Thanksgiving Day dinner—and the turkey still remains the prized bird of the feast.

Giving thanks was solemn beginning of reunion feast, in Thanksgiving Day scene drawn by Thomas Nast in 1865.

Former Philadelphia Eagles' Coach Neale Speaks to Grid Unit

EATONTOWN — A. Earle "Greasy" Neale, a great name in football circles, was guest speaker last night at the local chapter of the National Football Hall of Fame at the first annual dinner of the unit held at Old Orchard Country Club.

Mr. Neale, who spoke of his experiences in football from the time he started 47 years ago, is the man who invented the man-to-man defense in football, introduced the triple reverse and the Sutter series, and is said to be the greatest "creator" in the game.

Neale, who is 70, was dubbed "West Virginia's Greatest Athlete" when attending West Virginia back in 1912-13. While known for his football feats, he also stamped his name into major league baseball books. "Greasy" was a left fielder on the Cincinnati Reds, and was on the 1919 pennant-winning club that played in the World Series.

He coached at Marietta, West Virginia, Washington and Jefferson, Virginia, and subsequently, as backfield coach, at Yale University.

In 1941 he started his career in professional football with the Philadelphia Eagles. When taking over in 1941, the Eagles were at a low ebb. Before 1950 rolled around Philadelphia had won three sectional titles and two National Football League championships.

One of Neale's stars was Alex Wojciechowicz, who also is an officer of the local Hall of Fame un

Wojciechowicz, Wanamassa, was the first Shore resident to be enshrined in the Football Hall of Fame. He was elected in 1955 with the second group.

"Wojie" considers "Greasy" Neale the best coach he ever had.

The Monmouth-Ocean County chapter of the Hall of Fame was organized a few months ago, and this was the first dinner sponsored by the unit.

The purpose of the organization is to concern itself with the public relations of football. It will create an awards committee which each year will honor the scholar-athlete in the territory of the chapter. These will be the boys who have, in their high or secondary schools, demonstrated outstanding football ability and performance, academic application and performance, and school leadership and example.

Another important factor of the group is co-operation with educators, athletic directors and PTA groups to dramatize the foundation's concern for both educational leadership values in local football and to reward secondary school players who show scholarship and exert beneficial influence both on and off the field.

Harvey Harman, executive director of the National Football Hall of Fame, in a talk, stated, "Football is a great thing for a guy and a great thing for a person. Football helps to lick communism." Mr. Harman also explained the workings of the 89 chapters of the organization, including one in Japan.

Also speaking was Jack Mohr, national director of membership and organization.

Included among the guests were Mayor C. J. Guiney, Jr., Highlands; Frank J. Pingitore, president of the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association; Councilman Herman Black, Highlands; Coach Al Forte, Red Bank Catholic, and Coach Dick Kleva, Middletown.

Fliers, Freehold Tie for Soccer League Crown

FREEHOLD — Neptune High School's 2-0 soccer victory over Freehold Regional here Tuesday created a tie in the Shore Conference Soccer League. Both squads finished their loop play with 12-2 marks.

League president Harold Handchen, Brick Township athletic director, has recommended a playoff for the championship. Handchen will arrange the date and site after the state soccer tournament.

Gary Ward and Frank Pope were the Flier heroes in the big win over the Colonials. Ward tallied in the first period, and Pope drove in a 25-yarder in the third quarter.

The Flier win reversed an earlier 1-0 loss to the Freehold booters.

Tourney Action

Three Shore High Schools are entered in the N. J. State Interscholastic Athletic Association soccer tournament. Long Branch meets Trenton Central today at the Peddle School, Hightstown, in Group 4 play.

Another Group 4 match tomorrow pits Freehold Regional against the winner of the Linden-Cranford contest.

Neptune is in the Group 3 section and will meet Hanover Park this week.

Hockey Slated At Asbury Park Casino Saturday

ASBURY PARK — The Potomac Hockey Club returns to the Casino Ice Palace here Saturday to meet the Baltimore Clippers in another of the season's hockey matches on the Casino ice.

The Potomac skaters will be aiming to return to the winning column as they were shellacked, 16-1, by the St. Nick's Hockey Club last Saturday.

This will be the initial meeting for the Baltimore and Washington clubs this season. Last year the Potomac Club defeated Baltimore in three of five matches.

The Baltimore club is led on the offense by coach John Evans, a product of St. Michael's College, Toronto. He scored 11 goals and had seven assists last season. Goalie Bruce Nolan paces the Clippers on the defense.

Washington, with three key players out of last Saturday's lineup, is expected to be at full strength for this week's match.

Also on Saturday night's hockey program is a pee-wee match between the Washington Rangers and Delaware Valley All-Stars prior to the Washington—Baltimore match.

The first match will start at 5 p.m.

Bayshore League Has Plans For 15-17 Age Loop

MIDDLETOWN — The Bayshore Softball Conference formed plans for another summer league to fill the void in boys' 15-17 summer athletic program.

A meeting is planned for the near future to formalize the constitution, bylaws and playing schedule.

The league will be called the Fastball Division of the Bayshore Softball Conference and only Middletown Township boys are eligible.

A boy may play in the league if he is 15 years of age on or before Sept. 10 of the current season, and cannot be 17 years of age before March 1 of the current season.

Baseball rules will be followed with these exceptions:

1. The bases will be 75 feet apart.
2. The pitching distance will be 58 feet from home plate.
3. The ball will be the regulation type softball.
4. Pitching will be overhand.

Pro-Am Today At Bamm Hollow

MIDDLETOWN — The N.J. PGA Shore Golf League will hold a Pro-Am tournament at Bamm Hollow Country Club today.

No doubt this will be the final tourney of the so-called summer league because the first Jersey Shore Winter League tournament will be played Tuesday at the Asbury Park Golf and Country Club.

Ted Graygor, Asbury Park pro, and president of the Summer Golf League, said he and John Cafone, Manasquan River pro, who heads the Jersey Shore Winter League, agreed to hold a semi-official winter tournament Tuesday, and then meet afterward to plan the entire winter program.

Pro "Red" Gaeta of Bamm Hollow has been playing hot golf at the past few tournaments, and he might just be in torrid form again today on his home course.

Drysdale Named Top Pitcher

BOSTON (AP)—Speed king Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who won 25 games last season while leading the major leagues in strikeouts, was named winner today of the Cy Young award as baseball's outstanding pitcher of 1962.

The 26-year-old right-hander polled 14 of the 20 votes cast by a committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Only four pitchers received votes. All were National Leaguers, with the writers ignoring World Series star Ralph Terry of the New York Yankees.

Jack Sanford of the pennant-winning San Francisco Giants won runner-up honors with four votes. Cincinnati's Bob Purkey and Billy Ierce of the Giants each received one vote.

Ernie Davis to Start Workouts With Browns, But Won't Play

CLEVELAND (AP) — Although halfback Ernie Davis will not play for the Cleveland Browns this season, the club said yesterday he will start full-scale workouts and attend meetings with the team.

The decision to keep Davis on the sidelines came from Paul Brown, coach and general manager.

"Ernie Davis will not be activated in 1962," he said.

Art Modell, club president, was plainly disappointed. He broke the news to Davis Sunday and said the 23-year-old former Syracuse All-America took the news gracefully. Davis came down with leukemia in early June, but the deadly disease now is in a state of remission.

"Art Modell and I feel it's too late in the season for Ernie to catch up enough to play," said Brown. "However, he will now begin full-scale workouts and attend meetings with the team as part of a long-range plan aimed at giving him a better background in our system."

For the past five weeks Davis has been undergoing a personal conditioning program at League Park, where the team practices. He feels he is ready and able to play in the National Football League.

"The moment when any player is ready to play is always strictly for the coaches to decide," Modell said. "Paul and I have talked it over and are in complete agreement that a program aimed at preparing Davis' enormous talents for next year would be best for all concerned."

Modell said the Cleveland club is delighted at Davis's physical and medical progress report.

The latest report by Dr. Austin Weissberger, who has headed the team of specialists, stated:

"Ernie Davis continues to be in an excellent state of remission. His blood values remain perfectly normal. In fact, his hemoglobulin is high normal and at this time there is no trace of leukemia."

"He is in a great condition," said Dr. Victor Ippoliot, the team physician. "His weight is normal at 215 pounds and he looks and feels fine. He's completely ready for regular team workouts."

Modell termed false reports that NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle had ruled Davis could not play.

"They are unfounded and ridiculous," said Modell. "The commissioner has made no official decision on this, nor has he been asked by the Browns to make one. The decision not to activate Davis was made by the coaching staff just as it would have been with any other player."

In New York, Rozelle said: "It was an individual club decision."

Clay-Moore Meet Tonight; Silence Reigns in Camps

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Silence, a shocking development in the wake of recent bursts of verbosity, settled over the warring camps of Archie Moore and Cassius Marcellus Clay yesterday on the eve of their 12-round heavyweight struggle.

From the Clay headquarters in a hotel hard by Fifth and Broadway in downtown Los Angeles came this communique:

"This is unbelievable. But Cassius says he is through talking until after he annhilates Moore in four tomorrow night."

Bearer of these tidings was Rudolph Valentino Clay, younger brother of Cassius, the pride and possibly the amusing despair of his hometown of Louisville, Ky.

Rudy is Cassius' chief sparring partner, most adoring audience and a possible heavyweight amateur boxing hope for Uncle Sam in the 1964 Olympic games.

From Moore, the Old Man River of the ring, came a few words.

"My prediction? You'll see a great fight. I expect to win."

Archie and his large retinue from San Diego are wallowing in luxury in a hotel near International Airport. His adviser, Jack (Doc) Kearns, said selection of the place had no connection but—

"I plan to catch a plane from the airport Sunday for Sweden and line up a match for Archie with Ingemar Johansson after he beats Clay."

The betting experts continue to disagree with the Moore and Kearns philosophy. Clay in their book is still a 2-1 favorite.

The match goes on in the Sports Arena and will be shown on closed circuit theater screen in a number of cities, starting at 8 p.m., Pacific Standard Time.

Co-promoters Cal Eaton and George Parnassus expect about 15,000 spectators and a gate between $125,000 and $150,000.

Moore was guaranteed $70,000 in this, his 220th appearance in the ring, and Clay, the 20-year-old contender, $40,000 in what he firmly believes will be his 16th straight triumph as a professional.

Cassius, addicted to some wonderfully horrendous sashays into the field of poetry, has composed one that goes....."Don't block the door. Moore'll go in four."

Moore, in quiet good humor, guaranteed to aid his departure.

Yaksick Still Rutgers Total Offensive Star

NEW BRUNSWICK — There is little change in the statistical rankings of the Rutgers football players this week after Delaware almost completely halted the Scarlet attack last Saturday. Rutgers gained only 36 yards running.

All leaders held their places. Bill Thompson of this city still leads in rushing with 283 yards, even though he was restricted to eight yards in four carries. Bob Yaksick of Clairton, Pa., who is second, lost a net four yards as he was snowed under several times while attempting to pass and now has 250 yards.

Yaksick, of course, maintained his leadership in passing yardage by picking up 43 to bring his total to 372. The senior quarterback is the total offense leader with 622 yards, running and passing.

Bill Craft of Riverside added two completions and 20 yards to continue his domination in the pass receiving department. Craft has 15 catches for 252 yards. yards. Paul Strelick of Charleroi, Pa., is next with six receptions for 55 yards.

The only area in which the Scarlet improved was pass defense. Delaware tried only eight aerials, completing three. One was intercepted by Yaksick, giving him the team leadership in that category with four. The Scarlet now has allowed only 443 yards and two touchdowns in the air, an average of 63.3 yards per game.

The only individual accomplishments of note in the Delaware game weer the punting of Bob Flower of Emmaus, Pa., and the passing of sophomore Dave Stout of South River.

Flower kicked six times for 234 yards, an average of 39 yards per kick. He had one 62-yarder, a boot which traveled about 75 yards in the air. The good day raised his season's average to 34.3 per try. Stout hit four of four passes for 70 yards.

$85,000 Home Bought By Willie Mays

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Giant outfielder Willie Mays has bought a house in a fashionable San Francisco section. The home cost him $85,000—just about his yearly salary.

He is moving into the Forest Hill district, just a few blocks from the San Francisco residence of California Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Mays has been living in a penthouse apartment since his recent divorce, but decided he needed larger quarters since his father and brother are coming to live with him.

Willie's neighbors include a doctor, teacher, carpenter, dentist, businessmen, engineers and machinists—a typical cross-section of San Franciscans.

Star of the Sea led at the half, 12-9.

Andy Thomas led the losers in the scoring column with 17 points. Claude Corso was also in double figures with 13.

Florida A&M Leads Small College Poll

ASSOCIATED PRESS

FLORIDA A & M, Wittenberg and South Mississippi—the top three teams in the Associated press' small college football poll—maintained their positions for another week as only one of the top ten lost last weekend.

Pittsburgh (Kans.) State, which was 10th a week ago, absorbed a 35-0 shellacking from Omaha and promptly was replaced in the No. 10 spot by Southwest Texas State (8-1-0). The Texans walloped Howard Payne, 61-15.

The formidable, all-conquering Rattlers of Florida A & M drubbed Allen, 67-0, for its seventh victory of the year. Wittenberg (8-0-0) whipped tough Akron, 17-6, and Southern Mississippi (8-1-0) thumped Trinity (Tex.), 33-6.

Central Oklahoma State (8-0-0) was idle, but moved up from fifth to fourth in an exchange of places with Northern Illinois (8-1-0). Fresno State (6-2-0) and Southeastern Louisiana (6-1-0) also swapped berths, Fresno going up from ninth to sixth.

Northern Illinois closed out its regular season by pasting La-Crosse (Wis.), 50-7, on the passing of record thrower George Bork. Bork and Co. will play Adams (Colo.) State (8-1-0) in the Mineral Bowl at Excelsior Springs, Mo., Nov. 24.

Florida A & M received three first place votes from the national panel of eight sports writers and a total of 69 points. Wittenberg (57 points) Southern Mississippi (43), Central Oklahoma (41), Texas A&I (23), and unranked Northern South Dakota State each got a first place vote.

Downes Stripped Of British Boxing Crown

LONDON (AP) — The British Boxing Board of Control (BBBC) stripped Terry Downes of his British Middleweight Championship yesterday for failing to defend the title against John McCormack of Scotland.

The BBBC said George Aldridge and McCormack would meet for the vacant championship.

Downes, one of the world's top middleweights and a challenger for Nigerian Dick Tiger's world crown, scored a ninth round technical knockout over Phil Moyer of Portland, Ore., at Wembley Stadium last night.

A scheduled fight between Aldridge and former world champion Sugar Ray Robinson in Manchester on Nov. 26 has been called off. Robinson plans to sail for home tomorrow. He has been called home for business reasons.

Downes held a piece of the world middleweight title for nine months and neglected his British crown. He lost back the share of the world title to Paul Pender at Boston last April 7.

Pender, of Brookline, Mass., also has been defrocked for failure to defend within the six months' limit. The New York Athletic Commission, acting in concurrence with British, European, Oriental and California commissions, deprived Pender of recognition last week. Pender said he plans to take court action against the ruling soon.

Rogers Heads Asbury Park Wrestling Card

ASBURY PARK — Buddy Rogers and Dory Dixson, the Calypso Kid, headline the wrestling show scheduled for the Convention Hall here Wednesday, Nov. 28.

Promotor Roland J. Hines stated the show will be for the benefit of the Asbury Park Patrolmen's Benevolent Association.

Rogers, the world's champion, will tangle with Tony Manouso, the Greek champion, for the world title in the feature bout.

Dixson will have to stop the bull like rushes of Mikes Torres, the Mexican strong man, to post a victory in the co-featured event.

In the card's tag team match, Argentineo Appolo and Maquel Perez are pitted against the "Wrecking Crew" of the wrestling world, the Tolas Brothers.

Completing the card are Arnold Skaaland, who opposes Francois Valois, and "Irish" Tommy O'Toole, who tackles Don Whittler.

The Convention Hall or the Asbury Park police may be contacted for tickets and reservations.

The first bout will start at 8 p.m.

SURF, FIELD AND STREAM

Timely Notes on the Great Outdoors

By NELSON BENEDICT

Early returns from the uplands clearly indicate there is no over-abundance of rabbits. The No. 1 game animal is down. Even sportsmen with dogs are having their troubles. Wildlife technicians are at a loss to explain the sharp decline in what previously had been assessed as a normal rabbit population.

Conversely, bird shooting has been better than average. Western Monmouth has been the scene of good to excellent pheasant sport. The flight woodcock which dropped into nearby coverts in late October stayed on to provide superbly good gunning for those huntsmen who were willing to stray from the open fields into the alders and cat briers.

Anyone with a bird dog should have no cause for complaint insofar as quail hunting is concerned. There are quail everywhere. Even thickly-populated Middletown Township is the scene of fast bob white shooting.

Hunting pressure appears to be off, not only in Monmouth County but throughout the entire state. Patronage is down on public shooting grounds as well as on open acreage. The same trend, incidentally, is to be observed on the waterfowl marshes. Duck stamp sales will almost certainly slump again this year.

A thinning out of wildfowling ranks was anticipated because of the short season with its attendant frugal bag limits. More casual duck hunters decided it simply wasn't worth the bother.

A hard core of inveterate shotgunners is doing well on the Shrewsbury River where gathering in a limit of two puddle ducks—blacks, mallards and/or baldpates—poses no real problem for the man with an adequate rig.

What's more, bonus ducks, meaning broadbills, are using on the Shrewsbury. Mixed in with the broadies are lots of canvasbacks, a protected species. Both state and federal wardens already have announced they will enforce to the hilt the ban on canvasback hunting.

There's been an outbreak of early shooting on the river. Conservation Officer Karl Kristiansen of Little Silver recently made eight pinches for early—and late—hunting. Some poaching has also been observed on estate ponds in Rumson.

Howland Jones and Dr. Martin Quirk, both of Rumson, and Allison Stern, Scobeyville, enjoyed a sterling black duck shoot on Howard Cranmer's pond in Cedar Run the other morning. Occupants of Cranmer's open water blinds are blitzing broadbills. Larry Durkin, Middletown, recently killed his quota of bonus ducks there.

Only a handful of brant flocks are on Barnegat Bay. Occasional brant and stray Canada geese are falling before the guns situated on islands back of Barnegat Inlet. That thick growth of eelgrass in the bay signally failed to hold brant. Perversely enough, the small black geese prefer rank bay cabbage to eelgrass.

Nor has Great Bay brant shooting been anything to write home about. The birds which normally trade there are sticking close to Brigantine National Wildlife Refuge. Looks like it will take dynamite to move them!

William Bryan, Jr., of West End and several companions killed a mess of Great Bay brant plus some ducks and a lone goose. Hunting from the same blind used by Bill, this reporter subsequently bagged two brant in as many days. It was all very discouraging.

The over-all brant picture is bright, however. According to the biologists at Brigantine, the brant population is up a whopping 40 per cent in a year's time. More than 100,000 brant are living on the Refuge. Equally significant is the fact 30 per cent or more of that concentration is composed of juveniles.

One of the largest galleries ever to attend a local trial crowded onto the Metcalf farm in Middletown to observe the Special Duck Hunters' Field Trial sponsored by the Shrewsbury River Retriever Club.

First place was won by Gadget, a black Labrador owned and handled by Wes Hartman, Fair Haven. Gregory Costa's lab, Queenie, was second. The Woodbridge retriever was handled by Karl Kristiansen, Little Silver. George Coe, 3d, of Rumson handled his golden retriever, Butch, to take third place.

Top honors in the match for S.R.R.C. members went to Navesink Tinker, owned and handled by Carl Becker, Fair Haven. Tinker's brother, Fair Haven Jake, was handled by Dr. Frank S. Moran, Jr., Fair Haven, and placed second. Third dog was Bama, handled by William Patterson, Towaco.

Dr. Moran's chesapeake, Native Shore Mike, placed first in the open stake, followed by Rocky, a golden retriever owned by John Gardella, Rumson. Mary Gamwell, Rumson, placed her black labrador, Cork, first in the qualifying stake. Second in the same event was Gin, a lab owned by Barry Merideth, Rumson.

Striped bass fishing blows hot and cold. Ronnie McCarthy, Rumson, and his dad, Tom McCarthy, caught 10 schoolies at Monmouth Beach just before the shift-off into the nor'west. Jack Curran, Fair Haven, and a companion boated 15 in under the beach at Sea Bright.

There should be some choice fishing before the bass move on to winter quarters. An abundance of bait will almost certainly hold the fish for a spell in local waters.

Meanwhile, school after school of stripers are invading the undertow at Long Beach Island. Both boat and surf anglers are creaming bass there. Limit catches are presently the rule rather than the exception for boat fishermen who either jig or troll with weighted bucktails.

The cod run is improving as the weather becomes colder. Some of the Highlands and Atlantic Highlands party boats are picking up cod on Shrewsbury Rocks. Lightship Ridge is yielding heavy hauls of whiting.

Still no sign of mackerel, though. Harry Lovgren, Sea Bright commercial fisherman, has a sneaking suspicion Bostons will show up offshore after the first of next month.

AAU-NCAA 2½ Year Feud Over; Groups Working Peace Terms

NEW YORK (AP) — The AAU and NCAA, their war of words cut off before it reached the shooting stage, began exploring ways and means yesterday of implementing their day-old truce.

The two organizations, feuding for the past 2½ years over the control of amateur athletics in the United States, formed a coalition Wednesday in a last-ditch effort to sign a peace treaty.

But how much authority the coalition will have still is secret, no details have been announced because each faction must get the truce, which will assure a strong Olympic team in 1964, ratified by its membership.

Everything should be settled two weeks from today when the AAU begins its annual convention in Detroit.

There are several conclusions to be drawn from the truce which will last at least until after the Tokyo Olympics.

For one thing, the NCAA-backed United States Track and Field Federation, which had demanded equal sanctioning privileges with the AAU, will confine its activities to collegiate competition. This, in effect, is no different from the past, except that the name will be changed.

For another, the AAU will remain the sole sanctioning agent of all open competition, and will sanction all athletes for the Olympics. This also is how things have stood since before the turn of the century.

Originally, it was understood that the coalition would do the sanctioning internally while the AAU would handle international affairs.. Instead, the AAU keeps it all.

All that is known definitely. Just where the coalition comes in is vague. It could turn into a paper outfit with committees from the AAU and NCAA meeting occasionally to talk over their problems.

Where does the NCAA profit from the deal?

While it could not be confirmed, the NCAA undoubtedly got what it was after from the start — equal representation on the AAU's foreign relations committee and a spot on the executive board. The NCAA always has been outnumbered on the foreign relations committee and never has been permitted on the powerful executive committee.

The truce does not include basketball and gymnastics, the other two sports around which the feud revolves. However, officials close to both parties said agreements could be worked out along the same lines as track and field.

Hawks Lose In X-Country To Montclair

WEST LONG BRANCH — Montclair State scored a 22-37 cross country victory over Monmouth College on the five-mile campus course here yesterday. It was winless Monmouth's best showing of the season.

Bob Purcell of Montclair State was the individual winner, crossing the line in 25:37. A Montclair teammate was runner-up.

The first Hawk harrier, finishing in third position, was Rich Bogden in 26:03. Coach Art Oberg stated that Bogden's time was one minute better than his previous efforts.

Al Fure of Monmouth was fifth, with Carleton Thistle, another Hawk harrier, sixth. Thistle is a Red Bank High School graduate.

Monmouth's other two finishers were Ray Taylor, 11th, and Bob Myers, 12th. Montclair took the fourth, and seventh through 10 positions.

Cross Sells Insurance Agency

FAIR HAVEN — The Borus & MacConnell Agency, 600 River Rd., has announced its purchase of the insurance business of Charles P. Cross, 268 River Rd.

Mr. Cross, who has been in business here 43 years, said he is retiring for reasons of health and that his clients will continue to be serviced by the Borus & MacConnell Agency.

Russell M. Borus, 94 Lewis La., established the Russell M. Borus Agency in 1950. In 1956, Douglas F. MacConnell, 523 River Rd, joined the agency as insurance manager and, in 1960, became the partner of Mr. Borus. The agency then took its new name and also purchased the insurance business of George W. Curchin.

Bridge Column

It's easy to play bridge well against careless opponents; they do half of your work for you. Against careful opponents you must be more precise in your own technique.

In most bridge games East would win the first two tricks with high clubs and would then look around for something else to do. He would probably return a trump, and South would have no problems.

Against this simple defense South wins the third trick with the ace of trumps and ruffs a club with dummy's remaining trump. He then cashes the ace of spades, ruffs a spade, and draws trump. Eventually South gives up a diamond, but he can well afford to lose this trick.

Immediate Trump Return

South has more of a problem if East returns a trump at the second trick. South cannot ruff a club because there is still a club in dummy. If South leads a club, East wins and leads a second trump to kill the ruff.

South must plan to set up dummy's diamonds to dispose of a club loser since he cannot hope to ruff his third club. But declarer cannot afford to draw trumps first, for then the opponents would be able to get two additional club tricks when they won their diamond.

The solution is to give up a diamond at once. Declarer wins the second trick with dummys' jack of hearts and lets the opponents win the third trick with a diamond.

East's best defense is to cash a club and return another trump. South draws trumps and eventually cashes the king and ace of diamonds. The suit breaks normally, and South can discard a club on one of dummy's good diamonds.

As the French would put it: For a good rat you need a good cat.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold: Spades—6. Hearts—A K 10 9 8 7. Diamonds—K 6 4. Clubs—9 6 5. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart. Look for an excuse to open when you have a strong 6-card major suit. In this case you count 10 points in high cards and 2 points for the singleton. You need nothing more when you're looking for an excuse.

(Send your problems to George, c/o this newspaper.)

Dear George:

My wife is insanely jealous of my red-haired secretary and insists I fire her. Do you think it would be fair to fire a girl, who is very efficient, just because she happens to be rather attractive?

Please put your answer in your column, as I am sure it will help my wife to see the light of reason and see how unfair she is being in asking me to fire this girl, whom I have never actually given a second glance.

Type that exactly as dictated, you sweet little redheaded thing, and get up off my lap—old battleaxe is due for lunch.

Deeply Hurt

Dear Deeply Hurt:

Red-haired, yes. Attractive, yes. A lap-sitter, yes. But don't you think your secretary, even so, is a trifle too literal minded?

Dear George:

When I became interested in this certain girl I presented her with a ring, explaining it belonged to my mother, before her. We "went steady" for quite a while, but now that I'm ready to break off she won't give me the ring back. Do you think this is fair? I only have six rings like that left.

T. Y.

Dear T. Y.:

You just can't trust some people.

TV Artist Sets Program At Keyport

KEYPORT —Syd Skolsky, star of television and radio, will be the guest entertainer at the paid-up membership tea to be held by the Sisterhood of the United Hebrew Congregation in the synagogue tonight.

Miss Skolsky, who trained at the Juilliard School of Music, is a pianist, an interpreter of songs and a dramatic artist. She has toured throughout the United States and has written three books about music. She is a Columbia recording star.

The program chairman is Mrs. Stanley Cohen. She is being assisted by Mrs. Saul Sahner and Mrs. Hyman Schwartz.

Asks Support Of USO Drive

LONG BRANCH — Appealing for support for the local United Servicemen's Organization $2,500 fund campaign, Mayor Thomas L. McClintock said today servicemen more than missiles and nuclear weapons are the key to national security.

The serviceman, said the mayor, "must shoulder the burden of the world war. In many cases he is stationed far from home and must be alert and ever vigilant in the conduct of his duties. USO is an extension of home town response on a worldwide scale. It brings to our men, wherever they are, the thoughtful attention of their people back home."

President Kennedy has proclaimed this week USO Week.

YULE GIFTS SOUGHT

HAZLET — Mrs. Thomas Dillon, chairman, reports that the Cove Road Parent-Teacher Association seeks donations of items to be sold from the white elephant table at its Christmas bazar which will be held in the school Saturday, Dec. 8. Bazar volunteers also are needed, she said. Mrs. Thomas Flaherty and Mrs. Al Mazzucco, chairmen, said there now are 118 members in the organization.

House Committee Changes May Affect JFK Program

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The powerful Ways and Means Committee of the House will be getting some new members next year — and they might make or break some of President Kennedy's key programs in the untested 88th Congress.

The committee could tip the balance for or against the kind of tax cut the President will recommend, in fulfillment of his promise to submit a tax reform program including a net reduction in income taxes. It could go along with, or drastically reshape, the complex major tax reforms the Treasury is expected to propose.

If Kennedy renews his controversial proposal for health care of the aged under Social Security, the crucial vote likely will come in this committee. Health care was defeated this year by a hair-breadth margin in the Senate — but the Democrats have picked up seats there.

So, for the President, a shift in membership of Ways and Means could be a major event — if it meant a shift in sentiment.

Too Early To Tell

It is too early to tell whether this will be the case. But there is a recent example of what even a small difference could mean: The President, despite a personal plea, lost an unemployment insurance extension bill in the committee by a one-vote margin.

What is in view now, because of retirements from Congress, is the replacement of two Democratic members and one Republican, Noah M. Mason of Illinois, all of whom are among the 25-member committee's pronounced conservatives.

One of the most significant legislative-political undertakings of next January will be the filling of the two Democratic seats. They now are occupied by Rep. Burr P. Harrison of Virginia and Rep. James B. Frazier Jr. of Tennessee, neither of whom was a candidate for re-election. They are two of the four majority party members who voted against the administration on the unemployment insurance issue.

Speculation

Names are already popping up in speculation, but the lists will remain wide open until the eve of the first Democratic caucus of 1963.

Among three Southerners figuring in the speculation, two might be considered by Kennedy lieutenants as generally friendlier to administration proposals than the members being replaced. They are Rep. Ross Bass of Tennessee, who has repeatedly supported Kennedy bills, and Rep. W. Pat Jennings of Virginia, regarded as a moderate in the generally conservative delegation from the Old Dominion.

The other is a staunch conservative: Rep. Phil M. Landrum of Georgia, known outside his district mainly for coauthorship of an act regulating some union activities.

Unique Body

Ways and Means is a unique committee in a number of ways. Democratic members are elected to it by all their party colleagues in the House. They then name Democratic members of the other committees. Republicans have a separate Committee on Committees for this purpose.

Ways and Means deals with the one subject, raising of revenue, on which the Constitution gives the House initial jurisdiction. While other committees—like Appropriations—may be considered equally powerful, Ways and Means has unmatched prestige in a chamber that frequently suffers from, and earnestly reacts against feelings of inferiority to the Senate.
