Both Pilots Rescued After Air Strike

Two U.S. Jets Shot Down in Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers have been smashing at Communist supply and reinforcement lines running through Laos for at least a month, government sources said today.

Wednesday's strike — which cost the United States two Air Force jets — bore down on Route 7, key segment of a road and trail network feeding both the Red Pathet Lao in Central Laos and the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

American authorities refused to say anything publicly beyond the terse announcement that an F100 Supersabre and an F105 Thunderchief were shot down in Central Laos by ground fire.

Defense Department spokesman Arthur Sylvester declined to discuss the type of a mission the two jets were flying.

Later it was reported that the pilot of the F105, Capt. Albert C. Vollmer of Denton, Kan., and Henrietta, N.Y., had been rescued. And early today the Pentagon announced that the F100 pilot, Capt. Charles L. Ferguson of Clovis, N.M., and Parma, Idaho, had been "successfully recovered and was all right." At first Ferguson was reported missing.

4 Planes Downed

Four Navy and Air Force jets were shot down over Laos prior to Wednesday's losses. Each was either conducting photo reconnaissance or escorting planes taking pictures of Red supply roads and trails.

For weeks, the Communist Chinese and North Vietnamese have been claiming that U.S. air and sea forces have been raiding Communist territory.

The U.S. government evidently is not ready to acknowledge that its war planes are in combat outside the borders of South Viet Nam.

The degree of escalation of the war still is rather low.

The issue of whether it will be stepped up further — possibly to strike at production and supply centers, rail lines and military bases inside Viet Nam — is in doubt.

So far, sources said, the air strikes against supply lines leading from North Viet Nam through Laos have been conducted chiefly by American planes, with some activity by Laotian-piloted aircraft. The South Vietnamese air force has not yet taken part in these operations, the sources said.

There was no word here on what downed the F100 and F105. But it is known that there are radar-directed 37mm antiaircraft guns in Laos, probably manned by North Vietnamese troops.

Talk about escalating the war reached a pitch by the time U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor came here in late November from Saigon to confer with President Johnson, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Taylor was reported to have proposed escalating the war in a bid to choke off North Vietnamese support for the Communist insurgents in South Viet Nam.

The raids on the supply routes through Laos apparently began about the time he returned to Viet Nam in early December.

Among other things, the North Vietnamese and the Red Chinese have complained of shelling of North Vietnamese towns from the sea.

U.S. sources claimed American vessels are not doing the shelling, but it was indicated that elements of the U.S. 7th Fleet are screening the South Vietnamese gunboats believed involved.

At the time of Taylor's visit here, the Joint Chiefs of staff—top officers of the Army, Air Force and Marines—were united in favoring some move to punish the North Vietnamese and demonstrate to them the high price of supporting the insurgency in both South Viet Nam and Laos.

The chiefs still are united in this viewpoint, but there is some difference of opinion on the timing and conditions for such moves beyond what is already being done.

3 County GOP Legislators Promoting State Sales Tax

By WILLIAM HENDERSON

TRENTON — Monmouth County's three GOP legislators are expected to launch a strong drive next week for early passage of a modified, broad based sales tax.

Sen. Richard R. Stout, West Allenhurst; and Assemblymen Alfred N. Beadleston, Rumson, and Irving E. Keith, Bradley Beach, are reported to favor a three per cent sales tax.

The other Monmouth assemblyman, Democrat Patrick J. McGann, Jr., Lincroft, is backing Gov. Hughes' performance for an income tax. But Hughes says he would go for a sales tax as a last resort.

Sen. Stout told this newspaper last night that "a certain segment of the state population cannot continue to carry the heavy costs of education through taxation on their properties.

"The costs must be spread out on a broad basis. A broad based sales tax appears to be the logical answer to the problems of the home owner and the financial woes of the state as a whole."

The senator also declared many Monmouth County farmers have left the area and others will follow because of the high real estate taxes and the struggle to maintain the land.

"Our dirt farmers are in bad shape," the senator said. "Many of them have bought cheaper land in central Pennsylvania, Ohio and in Virginia."

The senator also stated some owners of horse farms in the county have sold their land and moved to Maryland and other states.

"Revenue from a statewide sales tax would ease the tax payments for these people, especially the fruit and vegetable farmers," he said, continuing.

"I can only say the plight of the farmer in this county is deplorable. He needs financial help."

In a further discussion about home owners the senator remarked in his interview with The Register: "The funds from a sales tax would certainly benefit those persons living in places like Middletown, Matawan and Raritan Townships where the rates have mounted, steadily."

Asked if he thought a three per cent sales tax was too high the senator answered: "New York City has a four per cent sales tax."

The city across the Hudson started its tax program years ago with a 1½ per cent sales tax and it was increased slowly to the present ratio.

This was done mainly because the yearly tax rap on property owners finally neared the saturation point.

When city employees received pay raises the sales tax went up to pay for the salary hikes.

The senator can't see an income tax at all. "We already have an income tax — a federal one and what can be broader than that?" he asked.

"And New York, to name one, has a state income tax to boot," the senator said.

"I don't think the people of New Jersey want another income tax," the senator declared.

Mr. Stout also explained his feelings about President Johnson's $1.66 billion "tots-through-teens" education program now before Congress. The bill is destined to aid families in low income brackets.

"That legislation will help families living in the larger cities but I'm not sure how it will help school children in residential areas."

The state Tax Commission says that broad based sales tax would bring at least $180 million a year to the almost depleted state treasury.

Genovese Is President Of Red Bank Chamber

Mr. Genovese, partner in the Genovese Brothers beverage firm here, was elected president at the chamber's annual meeting in the Old Union House.

Also elected were M. Harold Kelly, general manager of The Register, first vice president; John Crowell, Jr., vice president of Boynton and Boynton insurance firm, second vice president; and Alfred C. Gopel, senior vice president of the First Merchants National Bank, treasurer.

Succeeds Grause

Mr. Genovese succeeds Joseph T. Grause. Mr. Grause's last act as president was to appoint Mr. Gopel a director to fill the vacancy of the former treasurer, Douglas J. Schotte, who was with the First Merchants. Mr. Schotte resigned his director's seat when he was named a vice president of the new Eatontown National Bank.

Also yesterday, the chamber announced six directors elected recently by the general membership. William A. Magee, J. Beverly Anderson, Richard H. Hamill and Mr. Crowell were re-elected for another three years. Barry Sherwood, proprietor of a Broad St. sporting goods store, and realtor Kenneth L. Walker, Jr., were elected to their first terms.

Mr. Genovese's first act was to entertain a motion to amend the chamber bylaws increasing the board of directors.

Vogel Selected

Formerly the board consisted of 18 elected members—six to be elected each year for three-year terms—and three one-year members appointed annually by the president. Irwin Vogel, president of the affiliated Retail Trade Board, was automatically the 22d member.

Mr. Genovese observed that it was often difficult to find sufficient candidates to run for the board of directors under the former bylaws which required that six men be elected from a field of 12. He also noted that representatives from the larger industrial and utility concerns were not getting elected because their names were not well known among chamber members.

Smale Is Named Building Inspector

HOLMDEL — Walter A. Smale was reappointed building inspector by a 4-1 vote of the Township Committee last night.

The lone dissenting vote was cast by Committeeman Edwin Liebenow who said he was basing his opinion on Mr. Smale's record.

Reappointments

The governing body unanimously approved these reappointments:

Lawrence A. Carton, Jr., township attorney; Daniel S. Ely, township clerk; Harry S. Cowles, welfare director; Otis R. Seaman, township engineer; and Joseph J. Seaman, auditor; and Dr. Michael Christofaro, township physician.

All these posts are for one year.

William J. Duncan was unanimously re-appointed to a six-year term on the Planning Board.

Norman Schantz was reappointed to a three-year term on the Zoning Board of Adjustment by a 4-1 vote. Mr. Liebenow voted against the appointment but gave no reason.

Mayor Alfred C. Poole said the committee thought Mr. Smith was more qualified for the job. However, he said the committee found nothing wrong with Mr. Levin's work.

The committee will meet on the third Monday of each month. The next meeting is Feb. 15.

These working committees were established by Mayor Poole:

Finance—Mr. Poole, Mr. Liebenow and Committeeman James H. Ackerson; health—Mr. Liebenow, Commiteeman Harry D. Pitcher and Mr. Maneri; library—Mr. Maneri and Mr. Liebenow; roads—Mr. Pitcher and Mr Ackerson; buildings and grounds—Mr. Liebenow and Mr. Ackersonson; recreation—Mr. Pitcher and Mr. Ackerson; and police—the entire governing body.

Mr. Carton was authorized to draft and ordinance establishing an industrial development commission. The agency would work to help attract more industry to the community.

Strathmore Civic Unit Termed a 'Voting Bloc'

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — "A civic association has to be political because we are a voting bloc—how can you be a Democrat and not be in democracy?"

The remarks were made during a discussion of "Fox and Squirrels," an article that appeared in a recent issue of Strathmore Observer—the association's newspaper.

Mrs. Norman Brenner, association secretary, asked: "How can you be a civic association without being political?"

See Nothing Wrong

Of the 30-odd people attending the meeting, consensus is that there is nothing wrong with the association or the Observer taking the stand that they did.

Last year, when the Charter Study Commission was in session, the association offered the opinion that this body was political.

There were no objections voiced then about the association's being of a political nature.

Philip Seidenberg, 89 Warren Dr., said that "Mayor Henry E. Traphagen is not in question but actions of the appointed Utilities Authority are."

"It is not a question of him (Mayor Traphagen) getting the job, but how he got it," said Mr. Seidenberg.

Asks Declaration

Hans Froehlich, Ayrmont La., said the executive committee should set up a program of declaration of aims and principles of the association.

He said he does not want to

Welfare, Anti-Poverty Plan Told

"It" is a bold but constructive idea to employ federal anti-poverty funds here to encourage, train and give jobs to poor but able, talented and willing welfare clients, their children and other unfortunates.

Approval was given yesterday by the welfare board which directed that Mr. Wells' plans be submitted in application form to the Office of Economic Opportunity.

The ambitious two-year plan, if accepted as proposed would cost $676,250 in its first year and probably more in the second.

No county money would be involved since the principal activity would be among welfare beneficiaries. The county part of the usual anti-poverty program formula would be offset by allocating federal and state moneys already coming in for these cases.

Qualified Instructors

Once in motion, the plan would include:

Establishment ol a Youth Corps of upper teenage, employable youngsters who, like magazine salesmen, would infiltrate welfare client ranks to seek and orient interested adults for special training and employment.

Those who were willing, and who were accepted, would be schooled by qualified instructors in local area fields where job opportunities exist. These would involve relatively unskilled areas and would be in line with recommendations of special volunteer committees of businessmen in the particular job field.

A large number of those enrolled would become full and part time domestic helpers and specialized home assistants.

Many in the Home Aide Corps, as the domestic help group would be known, would be assigned as aides in the homes of aged, infirm and handicapped who, for lack of help, would have to close their houses, enter boarding homes, nursing homes and hospitals.

Home Aide Corps

Those persons who might be helped by the Home Aide Corps, who can afford to pay a full or partial wage would be billed. Otherwise the cost would be absorbed.

"The thought," said Mr. Wells, "is to make life more livable for those who would otherwise have to close up shop and die, and to provide opportunities for useful work for those who are drawing welfare moneys anyway."

Another School for Holmdel?

HOLMDEL — Tell-tale signs of need for another school flashed last night with workmen still putting finishing touches to recently-opened Village School.

Board of Education president John J. Landers may have thrown the first switch with the statement that space in the old Village School may have to be used for a special class in September.

His remark was only one of several indications that plans for Village School may not have encompassed more than immediate needs of this continuously growing community.

Earlier, W. Donald Walling, director of a Rutgers University school survey being conducted here, indicated in a letter to the board that earlier projections of student enrollment may have been too conservative.

Mr. Walling originally had predicted a new home occupancy rate of 100 for the years 1963 through 1967.

In 1963, only 58 families had moved into new houses. Last year, however, the figure jumped to 111, and housing construction throughout the community is booming. Indications point to a much greater number of occupancies this year and for years to come.

A third expression of growth problems was seen last night when the board approved immediate advertising for an additional bus route to serve the district.

Richard M. Ford, schools superintendent, requested the move because, he said, "enrollment at Village School is increasing each week."

He reported that two buses already were carrying more than the legal limit of 58 children and others were nearing the capacity mark.

He added that an additional route probably will be needed before this school year ends, because of projected enrollment increases.

The proposed 1965-66 budget, to be aired tonight at a public hearing in Village School, provides for four new buses to be purchased by the board. Speculation already has begun that the figure may have to be increased to at least five, and possibly six before the budget is submitted to voters Tuesday, Feb. 9.

Approve Purchases

Still another sign of growing pains was shown by the overexpenditure in the current budget for textbooks and teachers' supplies. Additional purchases in

Two-Part County College Plan Seen

By CHARLES A. JOHNSTON

FREEHOLD — The Monmouth County "College Study" committee, after a year of effort, is leaning towards recommending a broad two-part program to improve both liberal arts and vocational education opportunities.

An outline of a plan, which will be firmed up in early spring, was discussed last night at a joint meeting of the committee and trustees of Monmouth College, West Long Branch. A private institution, Monmouth College, would have an integral part in the program.

All who attended the session at the American Hotel were close-mouthed.

But these facts were established:

Additional higher educational and skill training opportunities and facilities are urgently needed in the county.

Monmouth College is able to expand and handle all foreseeable demands for liberal arts subjects, and is eligible for state financial assistance similar to that offered to counties for independent public institutions.

The county vocational high school program should and can be extended to include two years of higher degree training for high school graduates.

The complex program, if ultimately approved by the Board of Freeholders, trustees of Monmouth College, and the state Department of Education, would involve little or no construction by the county itself.

No county-owned college campus will be built, at least in the immediate future.

Additions at the Monmouth College campus in West Long Branch are already scheduled and, as a result of taking part in a public program, might be accelerated.

The county recently acquired title to the former Nike missile base, Chapel Hill, Middletown Township, with the idea that it would eventually house post-high school vocational programs.

The site once had been sought by Middletown Township school officials for vocational purposes but was released to county interests when it was deemed impractical for township use though highly desirable in a regional or county setup.

Except for small programs, the county Vocational Board of Education which controls the Chapel Hill property, has not yet made any commitments for its operation.

Earl B. Garrison, county superintendent of schools, and secretary of the vocational board, is chairman of the study committee. He presided at last night's meeting.

Others who were present included Freeholder Director Joseph C. Irwin, Superior Court Judge Elvin R. Simmill, chairman of the board of Monmouth College, and Dr. William G. Van Note, college president.

Birth Control Information To Be Made Available

FREEHOLD — The Monmouth County Welfare Board adopted by unanimous vote yesterday a policy of guidance for its caseworkers in the area of birth control.

Under discussion for more than six months, the policy simply directs that caseworkers may give information to clients who want it and firms up a standing practice that the board will pay for medical advice and for medications, devices, and treatments which may be prescribed.

Part of the language of an original draft which had been recommended by welfare Director Robert T. Wells was deleted in executive session at the request of Freeholder Marcus Daly and Dr. James W. Parker, both board members.

Church View

Mr. Daly, a Catholic, had held up adoption of a policy earlier to get the official views of the Catholic Church and also to narrow the possibilities of having welfare personnel promote birth control theories.

Dr. Parker, who is a member of the state Board of Education, was chairman of a special committee of the board which had studied the problem.

The final draft, which the board revised, came about following a meeting earlier this week in which Dr. Robert MacKenzie, a leader in organized family planning efforts, participated.

Mr. Wells said he will hold a staff meeting soon to announce the policy and will instruct workers to read into it a strict prohibition against imposing any personal thoughts on clients.

The keynote to it all, he said, will have to be the judgment of the caseworker in the degree of interest the client may have.

Actually, he added, the policy won't be hard to enforce.

"Unless the client wants to take a pill or use a device," he said, "she isn't going to do it."

Landslide

VANCOUVER, B. C. — The Mounted Police said early today that a landslide had demolished two duplex houses in the coastal lumber town of Ocean Falls, B. C., 300 miles northwest of Vancouver.

There were no immediate reports of casualties.

Radio reports told of torrential rains and heavy snow runoffs due to high temperatures. But it was believed there was no apparent danger of a new slide in the area, at the end of a street called Burma Rd.

10-Year Delay Is Seen In Air Pollution Plan

TRENTON (AP) — Even if New Jersey's legislature gives quick approval to a package of proposals making air pollution control devices on cars mandatory, it would be 10 years before the state begins to bring the problem under control, a commission on pollution was told Wednesday.

Richard A. Sullivan, chairman of the State Air Pollution Control Commission's Motor Vehicle Committee, said if the legislature enacts the proposals within the next few months then the Control Commission could begin drafting up a code setting standards for the devices.

He estimated it would take about a year to promulgate a code and then a one-year wait would be required before it went into effect to allow car dealers time to comply with its provisions.

With this timetable, he said, it would be 1973 before 50 per cent of the cars on New Jersey's roads have the devices and it would be about 1975 before there are less than one million cars registered in the state that don't have them.

There are current estimates that about 3.3 million cars will be registered in the state by the mid-1970s.

Sullivan, William A. Munroe, the state's Air Sanitation chief, and Louis A. Winkelman, chairman of the Air Pollution Control Commission, testified before a Commission on Motor Vehicle Pollution headed by State Sen. Richard R. Stout, R-Monmouth. The Control Commission is an agency of the State Health Department.

Stout's commission, established by the legislature, is attempting to determine the role vehicles play in the entire pollution problem.

Wednesday's hearing, Stout said, was to determine what others are doing in the fight against motor vehicle pollution so there will be no duplication of effort.

'Misunderstanding' Cited On Superintendent's Pay

HIGHLANDS — Henry Hudson Regional Board of Education's president, George J. Lahey, said yesterday "there must be some misunderstanding" regarding the board's decision not to raise the school superintendent's salary in the 1965-66 school year.

Harold C. Schaible, superintendent, has announced that he is looking for another job because the regional board had not included a raise for him in the proposed new school budget.

There will be a public hearing of the budget Wednesday night.

The superintendent indicated that the school board had not earmarked funds in the proposed budget for a pay increase, despite a verbal agreement when he was hired in February, 1962, that a 5 to 6 per cent hike would be considered, if an evaluation of his work warranted it.

Work Evaluated

Mr. Lahey said yesterday that he "offhand, could not remember a verbal agreement by the board specifying raise percentages, but only that Mr. Schaible's work would be evaluated and pay increases granted accordingly."

The board president added that last year the board gave the superintendent a raise, "with the understanding that his salary would be reviewed every two years."

"We also told him that the top salary for this district would be $15,000," said Mr. Lahey.

Mr. Schaible now earns $13,500 a year. He has received two $500 raises and a $500 bonus since he was hired. Under his present contract, which expires in June, he was placed under tenure.

Mr. Schaible noted that the new budget includes raises for teachers — based on a proposed teachers' salary guide calling for $200 pay hikes — but not for the superintendent.

The superintendent said he would not object to remaining on his present salary, if the teachers had not been awarded pay increases or if verbal promises had not been made by the bard.

He noted that only teachers have a salary guide in the school.

In his annual report to the board, Mr. Schaible recommended all employees be put on a guide.

To date, the board has not taken any action on the recommendation, the superintendent said.

That is because, Mr. Wells said, such a program must be headed by specially qualified people and salaries to be offered must be commensurate.

The organization would be headed by Mr. Wells who proposes a $3,000 additional salary for his own efforts. His present salary is $12,000.

A project deputy director would be employed at $13,000 and five supervisors in different areas, at $10,000 each. There would be 12 specialized caseworkers, home economists, and vocational counselors, a job developer, and a psychologist, at $8,000 each, and other staff members.

The county program would come under two separate titles in the anti-poverty program. It would not conflict with another plan in the education area already initiated by a special committee headed by Freeholder Director Joseph C. Irwin and Mrs. Joseph Schofel.

In its Youth Center, "Operation Bold" would immediately employ 25 youngsters at $1.50 an hour for 25 hours a week.

After training, it would expect to have 50 "home corps" aides at work for 20 hours a week for at least 20 weeks, and 300 others in varied jobs at least at $40 a week for 26 weeks.

Gas Line Leak Routs Families

MARLBORO TOWNSHIP — Four families were evacuated from their homes at the intersection of Rts. 520 and 9 last night while a crew from the New Jersey Natural Gas Company repaired a portion of a six inch main which a company spokesman said apparently had been damaged some time ago by heavy construction equipment during road repair work.

The families, evacuated about 10 o'clock by the Colts Neck State Police, were able to return home about midnight, the company spokesman said.

The leak was discovered when families in the area complained of a gas odor.

with women who have repeatedly borne illegitimate children, the policy is to be known as one for "Family Planning." Many of the families involved are fatherless.

Board statistics show that 45 per cent of its funds for dependent children are for mothers who have one or more illegitimate children.

The policy says:

"In response to interest expressed by public assistance recipients and community groups, the board establishes the following policy in relationship to family planning.

"The Monmouth County Welfare Board recognizes that there are various individual approaches to the problem of family planning. The board wishes to make available to recipients of public assistance desiring such service appropriate referral information regarding family planning. Public assistance recipients eligible for such referral service are those women who have experienced one or more pregnancies. Such referral information may be provided by personnel of the board to such recipients consistent with the ethics and wishes of the individual assistance recipient.

"Referral for the purposes of receiving family planning information will be made by the personnel of the board to a physician qualified to deal with this problem.

"Any cost incurred in the use of such referral service recommended by the physician to an eligible recipient will be met by the Monmouth County Welfare Board within the framework of its standard medical service program.

"Such an active program for the families who are our responsibility may check the rising costs of our work and should ease some of their burdens."

Deleted were these additional observations:

That the policy was made "in recognition of the fact that a high birth rate and low economic status often go hand in hand."

That "most important (birth control) will help to prevent the misery of children born with constitutional inadequacy and environment hazard.

see the association "die for lack of activities and programs," and that "it is only fighting for the interests of Strathmore and the township."

Deed Restrictions

Also under discussion was investigation by the deed restrictions committee. This group is preparing a survey to be sent to all Strathmore residents to assist them in deciding whether or not certain deed restrictions should be maintained—and then made part of the township zoning ordinance.

The committee also is to determine if the association should become involved at all in this matter.

Herbert Parker, president, said that for individuals to become involved in his neighbors' violations of deed restrictions would become financially prohibitive.

Levitt and Sons early last year sent out registered letters to those in violation of deed restrictions threatening them with law suits. Some abated violations but others did not. Nothing further has been done by Levitt.

A report is to be presented to members at the next meeting on the question.

A discussion then was held on the proposed school budget between Edward Scullion, secretary of the Board of Education, and Herbert Fader and Roy Mathews, board candidates.

Marlboro Board Using $20,000 From Surplus to Aid Taxpayers

MARLBORO — Leo J. Scully, Sr., president of the Board of Education, announced last night that $20,000 from operating capital would be used to reduce the amount of money needed from taxpayers for the coming school year.

The 1965-66 school budget was adopted in the amount of $569,061.

The local tax levy for current expense is reduced from $419,845 to $399,845 because of the $20,000 appropriation balance applied as a source of revenue in the current expense account.

The total of all accounts to be raised by taxation is $458,712, an increase of $88,270.30 over this year's figure of $370,441.70.

'A Sincere Effort'

President Scully remarked:

"The $20,000 taken from operating capital to reduce the cost to the taxpayers is a sincere effort of the board to be cognizant of the tax problem."

It was announced that 99 per cent of the pupils are transported as a matter of safety to prevent children from walking on Rts. 520 and 79.

Superintendent Russell R. Wright explained that state aid for transportation was not received when pupils living within two miles of the school used the buses.

Out of MLF Force

WASHINGTON — Turkey has pulled out of the proposed multilateral nuclear fleet, knocking another pin out from under the already wobbly project.

The notification was given Washington Wednesday, but officials say they are not surprised. The State Department has been aware of Turkey's lack of enthusiasm for about two months.

Turkey borders Russia, and officials speculated that Moscow's stiff opposition to MLF might have had something to do with the decision.

John Dressler, Rt. 9, asked why there was an increase of 25 per cent in transportation costs alone. He also questioned an increase cost of $105 per pupil for transportation, instruction salaries, administrative salaries and fixed charges.

Mr. Wright explained that the board was budgeting 18 months in advance, anticipating next year's enrollment at 1,176. He continued:

"We receive State aid based on the figure at Sept. 30 of each year for that year. This is based on the average daily enrollment. That means the average number of pupils who come to school each day. We expect that number to be 1,100."

John Narzowich, Buckley Rd., who was a member of the Board of Education in 1963, discussed the board's purchase of school buses:

"In the past I have broached to the Board of Education that it consider purchasing its own buses to reduce costs. I would like to bring to your notice the fact that the purchase of school buses by the township would mean a return of 75 per cent by the state of both the purchase price and operating expenses."

He then asked, how much "state aid have we lost?"

'Not at Point'

Mr. Scully replied that "as you well know, we have had experts from Trenton here to discuss the problem of purchasing buses. They tell us we have not yet reached the point of purchasing buses."

"Marlboro Township has reached that point," contradicted Mr. Narzowich. "I don't see how you can say it is not economical for you to operate your own buses. The state would reimburse 75 per cent of all costs."

Mr. Scully concluded by saying that "backed by experts, this board has decided it is not wise for us to buy buses at this time."

Lawrence Youngman, Lloyd Rd., a candidate for election to the board, questioned the figures on enrollment per grade.

Mr. Wright noted that the board has received verbal commitment on seven classrooms: two in the Morganville fire house, two in the Robertsville fire house, and three at the Private Instruction Institute on Lloyd Rd. Approval is needed from Earl Garrison, county superintendent of schools.

About this, Mr. Youngman said that "the children don't get the full spirit of school in a fire house."

'Done for Best'

"This," said Mr. Scully, "is done for the best of the children. Where we can secure exclusive use of the rooms we do so. In order to avoid double sessions we sometimes have working arrangements with the firemen for use of the rooms."

Mr. Dressler said that the board "owes it to the citizens of this township to provide the best facilities. If developers are given the right to build their homes, they will give you a new school of 10 classrooms by this fall."

Mr. Dressler referred to the offer by U. S. Home and Development Corp. to donate classrooms to the township, based on the number of houses built.

Questions Asked

This week's issue of "The Alarm," published by "the Committee to save Marlboro," asks three questions — if builders would "consider building a school" in advance of its development houses, to help ease present critical classroom shortage; if municipal officials would meet with builders, and investigate this proposal, and how the builders' offer would "affect the school budget."

"The Alarm" uses Mr. Dressler's own address as a return address.

After board member Joseph Vota asked that the budget be studied "line by line," Mr. Dressler called that method "a shell game."

"Not if the budget is balanced," claimed Mr. Vota.

Mr. Scully tried to restore order, only to hear from Mr. Dressler his view that "it is extremely important to reduce this budget to per pupil expenses."

George T. Saathoff, Marlboro Rd., commented, "The reason the price has gone up is that class size has been reduced from 30 to 24 pupils."

'Classes Under 30'

"We try to keep our classes under 30," replied Mr. Wright.

Mr. Narzowich said he could not "see the need for seven additional classes and seven additional teachers . . . any surplus you have should be applied to this year's budget."

In conclusion, board president Scully said:

"We need this budget. We need you to approve it. It is an absolutely conservative budget with no frills. Have faith in us. We have all the facts and all the figures. I urge you to go out and help us sell the referendum. We need this for your children. Please vote 'yes' for the budget."

Ippolito Candidate For Council Post

LONG BRANCH — Former Long Branch High School football coach A. V. (Army) Ippolito is a candidate for City Council.

The one-time state and nationally known high school and college athlete, who is a teacher in the high school, announced today he will seek one of three councilmen-at-large seats in May.

A. V. Ippolito

Only former Councilman Vincent G. Ronca, who represented the sixth ward from 1961 to 1963, had thrown his hat in the ring earlier. The deadline for filing is March 2. Neither incumbent Walter George nor Edgar N. Dinkelspiel has disclosed his plans.

One councilman-at-large place is now vacant due to the resignation last month of Thomas L. McClintock. By split vote the remaining eight members have decided to leave the seat unfilled until election.

1933 Grad

Mr. Ippolito was graduated from the high school in 1933, serving as president of his senior class and winning all state honors for football and track, and winning four letters for athletics.

At Temple University, where he earned a bachelor's degree in business administration, he won all-American mention as a football player. His coach was the late Glenn "Pop" Warner.

He has completed graduate work at Temple, Seton Hall, and Rutgers, and Newark State College. He holds the equivalent of a doctorate in education.

After four years as football coach at Thomas Jefferson High School, Elizabeth, and St. Rose's, Belmar, Mr. Ippolito started a 22-year stretch as coach at Long Branch in 1941.

His grid teams won six state and Shore Conference championships. He was a track coach for seven years and directed one team to a state title.

Spanish Department

He is a senior member of the school's Spanish department, having helped introduce the language subject here in 1943.

He occasionally serves as a Spanish interpreter in the county courts, managed the city USO beach for 10 years, and has been an active supporter of the USO, Boy Scouts, YMCA, and since 1963 has been city beach director.

He belongs to Star of the Sea Catholic Church, is a former president of the parish Holy Name Society, and belongs to the Long Branch Council, Knights of Columbus, the Long Branch Education Association, the New Jersey Teachers Association, and the state Education Association.

The candidate is the father of two sons, Michael, a graduate of Princeton University and the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, and Robert, a graduate of Monmouth College. The older son is affiliated with Mobile Oil Co. and the younger is employed by the government at Washington.

Stiffer Penalties Ready For Steady Traffic Violators

Miss June Strelecki, director of the State Division of Motor Vehicles, announced the new penalties Wednesday. She said the new point penalties were based on a scientific analysis of major accident causes.

Atty. Gen. Arthur J. Sills proposed stricter penalties at a meeting last week after New Jersey's 1964 traffic death toll reached its highest total in 27 years.

Under the point system, a motorist is called before a suspension hearing if he accumulates 12 points within a three year span. Violations in other states are counted as if they occurred in New Jersey.

Racing on the highway goes from 3 to 6 points.

Speeding under 60 miles an hour but at least 20 miles over a legal speed limit goes from 4 points to 6 points.

Passing on a curve or hill, passing a stopped school bus or following too closely were raised from three points each to five points.

Other moving violations remain at three points.

Miss Strelecki said any motorist who gets his license back after a point-system suspension will be on probation for a year. Any traffic offense within 6 months will bring an automatic 3-month suspension; an offense 6 to 9 months after restoration will result in a 2-month suspension; and an offense 9 to 12 months after restoration will bring a one-month suspension, without a hearing.

Another feature of the new rules is an added penalty for speeders nabbed under the state's 60-70 program. Under the program, drivers caught going 60 miles an hour or more (60 on roads where the speed limit is 50) get an automatic 30-day suspension for a first offense.

The 60-70 program results in suspension of about 25,000 licenses a year. About 10,000 a year run afoul of the point system.

Miss Strelecki adopted a proposal by Sills to impose a four-point penalty on the 60-70 violators. Previously, the speeding suspension was not accompanied by a penalty under the point system.

Miss Strelecki said she is working on stiffer penalties yet for drivers caught going more than 70 miles an hour and will announce them in a few days, along with an expanded driver improvement clinic program.

Navy Truck Car Collide; 2 Injured

HOWELL TOWNSHIP — The rear vehicle of a Navy convoy, trying to catch up to the pack, was hit broadside and tipped over on Colts Neck Rd. yesterday.

The Navy pick-up truck was being driven by Marine Corp. Michael Reynolds of Earle Ammunition Depot. State Police said it was struck while crossing Rt. 33.

The station wagon that hit the truck was being driven by Wallace Pierce of Freehold.

Both drivers were admitted in fair condition with cuts and possible internal injuries at Fitkin Hospital, Neptune.

Colts Neck Democrats Cite Needs

COLTS NECK—Township Democrats contend primary current local needs are to attract quality, non-residential ratables, better planning for impending growth, and expansion of the township committee from three to five members.

30 Pct. Jump

"Our taxes are scheduled to jump almost 30 per cent this year," said Mr. Multer, adding:

Colts Neck is growing much faster than was projected in our 1961 master plan, and the school population is also growing faster than planned. Meanwhile, our largest industry, a clean, desirable electronics firm, is being forced to move out of town because the town fathers insist we do not want such ratables."

The Democrats base their tax forecast on the announced 50 per cent rise in the local school tax, and the expected 18.5 per cent rise in the Freehold Regional tax rate.

"We should remind voters that we've predicted this tax boost since 1960, and have been ridiculed by the town's Republican machine which claims to have Colts Neck's growth under control," Mr. Porter said.

"It took only simple arithmetic to foresee this jump, and our town's government should not have concealed this fact from the public," he added.

Mr. Illmensee said that "this town's beauty derives largely from its large, well-kept farms which separate our housing clusters. "Rising taxes will accelerate sale of these farms for housing development. The are all zoned residential."

Adding to this, Stephen Zwolinski said:

"Well planned industrial buildings, with ample green buffer zones around them, will provide more visual open space than our present one-acre zoning. Look at the Bendix plant in Holmdel or the Bell Labs.

"Even if an industrial zone remains vacant, it will still save us tax money, because today most new homes cost more in school expense than they return in tax revenue."

Trade Board Has $1,000 In the Bank

RED BANK — Irwin Vogel, president of the Retail Trade Board, an affiliate of the Community Chamber of Commerce, had good news for the chamber directors yesterday.

He told the annual directors' meeting that for the first time in its history the Trade Board was operating in the black. All bills are paid and the board has about $1,000 in the bank, he said.

The board operates on a budget of about $13,000 per year, all of which is spent on such retail business promotions as Christmas lighting and holiday sales events. The board is not subsidized.

Mr. Vogel said the current financial success is largely due to the recent drive to raise extra funds for Christmas lighting, the most expensive board project. Both the board and the general membership of the chamber came through with the needed funds, he said.

Individual Teaching Plan Is Endorsed

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—The Board of Education endorsed a two-pronged plan presented by Superintendent George H. Wuesthoff to provide each child with every educational opportunity.

This would be done by establishing an individualized teaching effort for those children that need more attention than they are now getting, and by expanding the extra-curricular activities of the school.

In the individualized teaching program, Mr. Wuesthoff envisions certain teachers adopting and working with four or five after school hours for a total of three to five hours per week.

Some at Home

Some of this instruction actually would take place in the student's home—to develop co-operation in the home, and to motivate the child to want to learn and succeed.

Mr. Wuesthoff said that the cost of the program would be between $500 and $1,000, primarily for salaries for the additional instruction.

The board directed the superintendent to prepare a report which would include a dollar estimate and a detailed plan for a pilot program.

Club Program

As the second part of the overall plan to enrich the students' educational activity, Mr Wuesthoff proposed the establishment of a club program for the fifth and sixth graders and an intramural program for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

The club program would be held during regular school hours and would envision a variety of areas.

The intramural program would be held after school for both boys and girls. Details of the program will be presented at the next board meeting.

The board approved the club program and Mr. Wuesthoff said it will be instituted in February.

Remedial Team

With regard to the individualized teaching program, Mr. Wuesthoff said that this will be the forerunner of a remedial instruction team presently being formed by the Atlantic Highlands, Highlands and Henry Hudson Regional Boards of Education.

The team composed of a psychologist, sociologist, doctor and remedial reading instructor, will be available to the three schools for providing aid to "disadvantaged children."

Mr. Wuesthoff said, "The remedial instruction team is an excellent proposal." However, he said, it may not become active for a year or more.

He asked the board to begin the individualized program as soon as possible because, "We have the children for such a short time; they can not come back to make up for what they have missed or we have failed to give them."

The Superintendent pointed out that the program would fit into the activity of the remedial instruction team.

Names Staff For Election

OCEANPORT — The Board of Education last night named officials for the coming school election.

Mrs. Evelyn Riddle, board secretary, was named to open the annual district meeting and also to convene the board's reorganization meeting at the school Feb. 15.

Mrs. Mary Callahan was selected as chairman of the election board and Mrs. Laura Brenn was named secretary. Tellers are Mrs. Ella Africano and Mrs. Elizabeth Datemasch. Alternates are Mrs. Carolyn Hoffman and Mrs. Mary Ann Baxter.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

RED BANK—Charles Behr, 59, of the Homestead Inn, First Ave., Atlantic Highlands, will receive a hearing in Municipal Court Jan. 26 on a charge of assault.

Police said he was arrested yesterday for assaulting Mrs. Gladys Doran, 282 Bridge Ave., behind her home. Mrs. Doran filed the complaint.

Behr is under $200 bail pending the hearing.

Radar Designer Fined On Speeding Charge

EATONTOWN—Harry B. Nankervis, 39, of 195 Leslie La., Middletown, who described himself last night in Municipal Court as "the designer of speed radar" equipment and "a traffic speed expert," failed to impress Magistrate William S. Throckmorton.

Mr. Nankervis pleaded innocent to charges brought by State Police of speeding 55 miles an hour in a 45-mph zone in his 1965 Triumph sports car.

Testifying in his own behalf, he stated that he testifies as a speed expert throughout the country, and maintained that his car's speedometer "is probably more accurate than the stock speedometers in police cars."

He added that his speedometer was calibrated by radar the day of the alleged offense, and claimed he was going only 40 miles an hour.

Not Convinced

Magistrate Throckmorton was not convinced. After hearing testimony that the state trooper's speedometer was checked and found accurate before and after the summons was issued, he found the speed expert guilty and fined him $10.

Cruz Montanez, 25, of RD 2, Jackson Township, pleaded guilty to being an unlicensed driver. He was also fined $10.

Fined $5 was Richard J. Sullivan, 18, of 8 Victor Ave., West Long Branch. Mr. Sullivan pleaded guilty last week to having no registration in his possession. He was ordered to produce the missing registration certificate in court last night.

To Protest Persecution Of Jews

NEWARK (AP) — More than 20 Jewish and non-Jewish organizations will meet tonight to protest persecution of Jews in the Soviet Union.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes has proclaimed today in New Jersey as a day of protest against anti-Semitism.

In the proclamation, Gov. Hughes urged New Jersey residents to protest the plight of three million Jews in the Soviet Union who he said were "threatened with religious, cultural and economic annihilation."

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., meanwhile, has issued a statement in Washington that he will join in a Senate resolution condemning persecution of Jews in Russia.

The senator said Wednesday he would join with Sens. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., and Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., in proposing that the Senate re-emphasize its opposition to the treatment of Jews.

Sen. Case said he hoped the Senate resolution would "serve as a spur to the Johnson administration to take a strong and firm stand in every forum and at every opportunity in behalf of free exercise of religion by Jews and all others within the Soviet borders."

Deputy Clerk

John P. Wadington

HOLMDEL — John P. Wadington, Parkway Pl., was appointed deputy township clerk by the Township Committee last night.

Mr. Wadington will serve under Daniel S. Ely, township clerk.

An executive with the National Lead Co., Sayreville, Mr. Wadington is a graduate of Northwestern University with a degree in chemistry.

He is president of the Hazlet Fire Co., and is a trustee and vice president of the local Republican Club.

Mr. Wadington has been active in civic and political affairs and is a member of numerous professional societies.

He is married and has three children.

Mr. Wadington's salary has not as yet been set by the Township Committee.

both categories were approved last night, and Mr. Ford said there undoubtedly will be continued needs to be met before the term is completed.

Village School opened in September with an enrollment of 412. As of Dec. 23, the figure had climbed to 441 and has risen since.

Mr. Landers' statement on use of Old Village School for classroom space next year may be the first step toward another building program. A $9 million increase in ratables for 1965—which puts the new figure at more than $65 million—and a possible decrease in taxes this year may help voters accept the new program, when initiated.

Rehabilitation Unit Meets

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — The Matawan Chapter of the Organization for Rehabilitation through Training met Tuesday at the Strathmore Elementary School.

Mrs. Arnold Rudley was program vice president. The guest speaker was Mrs. Seymour Piltch. Mrs. Piltch is the author of the "Guild Cookbook," compiled to benefit a children's school in Union. Mrs. Piltch is teaching a gourmet cooking course. Samples of her hors d'oeuvres were served.

Next Wednesday at 8 p.m., there will be a card party, with refreshments and prizes. It will be held in the meeting room in Rex Diner, Rt. 35, Keyport. Proceeds will be used by ORT for the Earning Power Improvement Courses Program.

Burned by Blast

LONG BRANCH — Donato Mancini, 59, of 490 Sairs Ave., is reported in fair condition in Monmouth Medical Center where he was admitted at 12:05 this morning with second and third degree burns of the face. Hospital authorities said Mr. Mancini was injured when a can he was attempting to open exploded.

Hire Student To Work In The Library

RUMSON — The Board of Education last night agreed to hire Linda McCue, a Rumson-Fair Haven Regional High School student, to assist in the library from Monday, Feb. 1, until the end of the school year.

Miss McCue will receive $1 per hour and work from 1 to 4 p.m.

The board also authorized installation of a sprinkler system in the wood shop by Pen-Ray Sprinkler Co., Linden, at a cost of $830.

Genovese

The new president's proposal was to limit the necessary field of candidates to nine, and to increase the board by three, allowing the president to make three more annual appointments from among the representatives of such firms as Lily Tulip and Bell Laboratories.

The directors adopted the measure, but Mr. Genovese deferred his industrial appointments until next month. For his other three annual appointments he named Charles J. Werber, Robert D. Viscount and Walter Mickens.

Other Directors

Besides the six newly elected directors, the three newly appointed directors and Mr. Vogel, the board now consists of Chester Apy, Philip Bowers, Edward Conway, Thomas DeFelice, Sr., C. Donald English, Hubert Farrow, Mr. Genovese, Mr. Grause, Mr. Kelly, Robert Matthews, Louis Vaiti and Mr. Gopel.

Mr. Genovese said he would also name his committees next month, but he named one chairman yesterday. Mr. Apy called for closer scrutiny by the chamber of Red Bank zoning and its effect on the tax rate, and the president named him chairman of a committee to study the situation.

Mr. Genovese presented Mr. Grause with a plaque and the thanks of the chamber, and indicated in his initial address that he would expect vigorous action by the chamber this year.

He named Peter Jones, an ex-officio member who regularly attends board meetings, as an honorary director, and praised Mr. Vaiti for carrying on chamber work on the westside.

Himself a West Red Bank businessman, Mr. Genovese said no one could call the chamber one-sided any more, now that it has a Westside president.

Viet Attack

SAIGON, Viet Nam — An attack by 1,200 Vietnamese soldiers on a Viet Cong concentration 140 miles southwest of Saigon today resulted in 11 Communists killed and 12 taken prisoner.

Helicopters flew the Vietnamese into the Soc Trang area for an assault on an estimated 800 Communist guerrillas. But reports from the scene said the Viet Cong did not stand and fight. They were said to be fleeing.

School Board Contest Shaped in Fair Haven

FAIR HAVEN — There are five candidates for four openings on the Board of Education here. Two are newcomers and three seek re-election.

Last-minute entrants into the race were Mrs. Glen Van Wagenen, 85 Fair Haven Rd. and John A. Flood, Jr., 39 Gillespie Ave.

Robert V. Strahan, 30 Spruce Dr. who was appointed in July to fill the vacated seat of John L. Kelsey, will run for the unexpired portion of that term.

Robert D. Haven, 110 Hillcrest Rd., appointed in October to replace Philip H. Roy who resigned, will run for a full three-year term.

George H. Morgan has not filed for re-election.

Mrs. VanWagenen and her family moved to Fair Haven in 1962 from Warrensville, Ohio, where she served on the Parent-Teacher Association's board of directors and was its chairman of adult education.

Holds Degree

She is a graduate of Millburn High School and holds a bachelor of arts degree in English from Cornell University.

She is a member of the local League of Women Voters, served on the fund-raising committee for the public library and was active in the Citizens' Committee for Education in campaigns for the success for referenda authorizing new construction at Rumson-Fair Haven Regional High School and the local elementary schools. She has served as a Sunday School teacher at the Episcopal Church of the Holy Communion and is active in Girl Scout work.

Mr. and Mrs. VanWagenen have four children, one a freshman at the high school and three in the elementary schools.

Magistrate In Area

Mr. Flood, an attorney with offices at 125 Fair Haven Rd., is magistrate of Union Beach. A graduate of St. Peter's College, Jersey City and St. John's Law School, Brooklyn, he served as assistant counsel to Gov. Robert B. Meyner and state deputy attorney general. During four years in the Air Force, he served in the Far East and South Pacific areas.

Mr. and Mrs. Flood have three young children, the oldest of which attends kindergarten at the Youth Center.

Mr. Strahan, a graduate of Millburn High School and Yale University, is manager of the eastern division of Thiele-Engledahl, manufacturers of printers' ink. The Strahans have two preschool children.

Mr. Haven is assistant vice president of First Chicago International Banking Corporation, New York. A past treasurer of the P.T.A., he is an elder at Presbyterian Church, Rumson and is a teacher and superintendent of the junior department in its Christian Education Program.

War Veteran

A graduate of William College, he spent two years in China with the Army. The Havens have one daughter attending Willow Street School and another in kindergarten at the Youth Center.

Mrs. Sullivan holds a bachelor's degree in education from Wayne University, Detroit. Her area of concentration was special education for handicapped and retarded children.

Mrs. Sullivan is home-school co-ordinator for the Red Bank school system. Formerly, she was employed by the State Department of Education and public schools in Westfield and Wyandotte, Mich. The Sullivans have a nine-year old daughter.

Will Seek Permit For Repair Work

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — John R. Clark, Rumson, has agreed out of court to seek a building permit for repairs to a one-family dwelling he owns at the intersection of Prospect, Mount, and Highland Aves.

Mr. Clark had instituted a suit against the borough compelling issuance of a building permit to repair a chimney on the building, damaged by fire last year.

He based it on his intention to continue using the dwelling for apartment rental in a zone which does not permit apartments.

Borough Attorney Henry J. Saling, said that Mr. Clark had to go before the Zoning Board of Adjustment to secure a building permit, since the house is considered a non-conforming use.

When the Zoning Board recommended that the building inspector not issue a permit, Mr. Clark filed a suit.

The case was scheduled for a hearing yesterday in Superior Court.

Francis X. Moore, First Ave. was attorney for Mr. Clark. The borough was represented by Mr. Saling.

Dog License Fees to Rise

EATONTOWN—Borough Council last night instructed its attorney, Henry J. Saling, to draw up an amendment to the dog ordinance, increasing dog license fees from $2.25 to $2.50.

Council went on to discuss other things, but Councilman Joseph A. Kellenyi was obviously thinking very hard.

When a lull in the proceeding occurred a few moments later, he broke his thoughtful silence.

With perfect seriousness he addressed the other council members:

"Getting back to this dog license thing — has Council considered the case of old dogs living on fixed incomes?"

Budget Talk Slated Tonight

WEST LONG BRANCH — The Shore Regional Board of Education tonight will air its 1965-66 school budget in the school at 8 p.m. The budget totals $854,295 and reflects an increase of $52,524 over the current school budget.

The school educates high school students from here, Sea Bright, Oceanport and Monmouth Beach.

Rumson Board Adopts Budget For Schools

RUMSON—After a public hearing — which no one attended — the Board of Education last night adopted a proposed budget that will ask $46,579 more from local taxpayers than last year.

Grand total of all accounts came to $614,515, or $43,386 more than it was for 1964-65.

Board members, in a closed session, decided upon raises for the superintendent, Francis E. Hockey, (from $13,500 to $14,500), board secretary George Conley (from $7,000 to $7,500) and William McCann, the principal (from $10,000 to $10,750).

The current expense portion of the budget totals $541,833, an increase of $41,254 attributable chiefly to teachers' salaries advanced according to the adopted scale.

The capital outlay item is $8,150 — an increase of $3,650 — with $4,500 designated for equipment for instruction and $3,000 for a second outdoor basketball court and playground equipment.

Debt service, over which the board has no control, will add up to $64,174, as against last year's $86,000.

The total amount to be raised by local taxation is $548,377, compared with $501,798 for the current school year.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "About two years ago, I decided to buy a life-insurance stock portfolio for growth. Subsequently I bought Travelers Insurance, Connecticut General Life, Franklin Life and American Heritage Life. These stocks have proved disappointing to me. Would you advise me to hold?"

T. S.

A) My answer to your question depends entirely on your patience quotient.

Life insurance stocks should never be bought for relatively short term investment profits. They are an ideal growth purchase for the investor who is prepared to hold for a period of five to ten years—accepting a low yield—in the expectation of receiving large stock dividends or splits which increase the amount of his holdings and generally lead to upward price swings.

If you are willing and able to hold for a considerably longer period than two years, I advise you to do so. Otherwise, I would switch to good industrials.

Q) "I have $10,000 to invest and can get 6 per cent on a first mortgage that is absolutely safe. The yield on good stocks with growth potentials are much less than this. Would you advise me to take the higher interest rate on mortgages or invest in stocks? I would appreciate your help in this matter."

R. W.

A) I would like very much to help you. My reply, however, rests on your age, your financial circumstances, and your need of income.

If you are approaching retirement and income is important to you, I would take the mortgage—remembering always that the latter is usually a frozen asset and that you must have other reserves in a savings institution to meet contingencies.

If you are young and on the way up—with a reasonable income from business or other sources—I should unhesitatingly recommend strong growth stocks. These, unlike your mortgage, can increase your capital substantially as the economy grows.

Recruiting Station Open In Freehold

FREEHOLD — T/Sgt. Clyde W. Pierce, Air Force Recuiter, at Red Bank, has announced the opening of an Air Force Recruiting Substation in the lobby of the county Hall of Records, east entrance, Main St., here. Sgt. Pierce will man this station on Tuesday and Thursdays from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Due to the increase of enlistments in this area, and the distance to the Red Bank office, Sgt. Pierce decided a substation was warranted and would be more convenient for the people of Freehold and surrounding communities.

The sergeant invited everyone to come in and obtain the facts on the opportunities in the U.S. Air Force.

Prices, Trades Go Up On The Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market yesterday moved higher once again under strong leadership by drugs and airlines. Trading was heavy.

Volume was 6.1 million shares compared with 5.41 million Tuesday and was the largest since the Dec. 31 year-end session when 6.53 million shares changed hands.

It was the seventh straight session in which more stocks advanced than declined, but on two of those sessions the gains on average were very slight.

Market analysts professed themselves pleased with the action of the 1965 market thus far, recalling that 1965 trading began with a sharp loss on Jan. 4 and there was considerable doubt concerning the immediate trend.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which was up as much as 2.20 in late afternoon, closed with a net gain of .96 at 886.85.

Selected key stocks throughout the list also made some sharp gains, bolstering the averages, but a number of other market wheelhorses performed badly. For example, General Motors lost ¾, U.S. Steel ⅜, American Telephone ⅛, Jersey Standard ⅛ and Anaconda ½.

In the list of 1,375 issues traded, however, gainers outnumbered losers by the emphatic margin of 706 to 416. New highs for 1964-'65 totaled 109 and new lows 6.

The measure of enthusiasm for the favored issues was reflected by the fact that of the 15 most active stocks, 13 rose, with GM the only loser and Parke, Davis closing unchanged after its recent sharp climb along with other drug stocks.

Sperry Rand was recommended by a brokerage house and was the most active stock, rising ⅝ to 14½ on 84,400 shares.

Second most active was Chrysler, up 1⅝ at 61⅞. Chrysler reported that its dealers sold 40 per cent more cars in early January than they did in the like period a year ago.

In third place was the volume leader of the airlines, Pan American, which gained ⅜ at 30⅛. Among others in the group, Western gained 1 and TWA 1⅛ while American, United and Delta rose ¾ each.

Eastern, fifth most active stock, spurted 2½ to 47½, as Wall Street estimated that 1965 profits could amount to $6 a share compared with a deficit in 1964.

G. D. Searle, most active of the drugs, advanced 1½. Pfizer, breaking through its previous high, advanced 2⅛ to 53¾. American Home Products gained 1¼, Schering ¾ and Merck ¼.

Prices generally were higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.77 million shares compared with 1.67 million Tuesday.

R. V. Westerlind Named VP of Construction Co.

LONG BRANCH — James R. Snyder, president of Alkon Industries, Inc., which has its main offices here, has announced the appointment of Rudolf V. Westerlind of Atlantic Highlands as vice president in charge of business development of the King Construction Company, a subsidiary of Alkon. Mr. Westerlind, formerly a vice president of the Security National Bank of Long Island, completed 20 years' service with that organization. He assumed his new post here Jan. 1.

Mr. Snyder said, "The steady expansion of King Construction Co. will be greatly aided by the association of Mr. Westerlind with our organization. His financial background will also be of great service to the organizations and individuals served by King Construction in the building field."

Rudolf V. Westerlind

Mr. Westerlind served several years with the Bank of America, and for 13 years with the Manufacturers Trust Co., before joining the Security National Bank of Long Island.

During his banking career, he graduated from the American Institute of Banking, and also took banking and business courses at the Alexander Hamilton Institute and at Adelphi and Hofstra Colleges.

"Why is BLUE SHIELD called The Doctor's Plan?"

Blue Shield is called "The Doctor's Plan" not in the sense that doctors own it . . . but because the medical profession created and sponsors Blue Shield, because Participating Doctors accept the responsibility of helping patients meet their medical care costs, and because through Blue Shield, organized medicine makes available the finest care at the least possible cost.

Of all the organizations providing medical care cost protection, Blue Shield alone is officially endorsed, nationwide, by the medical profession.

For complete health care protection, you also should have BLUE CROSS coverage for hospital bills.

This is the pledge upon which New Jersey Blue Shield was founded. It's as true today as it was in 1942:

THE BLUE SHIELD PLEDGE

"To make available to every man, woman and child in New Jersey adequate personal and sympathetic medical care . . . at the lowest cost compatible with efficient service."

Mrs. Higgins Wins Praise In New Post

But Tuesday she received a big ovation as women jammed the Assembly chambers in record numbers to pay her tribute.

Monmouth County was well represented. Among those making the trip to Trenton were National GOP committeewoman, Mrs. Katherine K. Neuberger, Middletown; Mrs. Richard R. Stout, West Allenhurst, wife of the senator; Mrs. Ann Flynn, Deal, president of the Federation of Republican Women; Mrs. Ann Morford, chairman of the county Board of Elections; Mrs. Alice Maxwell, Middletown; Mrs. A. L. Diano, New Shrewsbury and others.

"I think Mrs. Higgins is an excellent legislator, and I know she will do a fine job as assembly speaker," Mrs. Neuberger told The Register.

"She is living proof more women should become active in politics. They should learn as committeewomen and make the steady climb to public offices," Mrs. Neuberger said.

Mrs. Flynn and Mrs. Maxwell expressed their satisfaction by saying: "Women like Mrs. Higgins should make us proud to be Republicans. It shows what party loyalty and hard work can do for a member."

Mrs. Higgins replaced Assemblyman Alfred N. Beadleston, Rumson, as speaker.

FAVOR INTEGRATION

NEW YORK — A nationwide poll of 7,000 American Protestants showed today that a large majority of them support racial integration in church and also in residential communities.

But 52 per cent of those polled said they would respect the objections of neighbors by not selling their homes to a person of another race.

The poll, described as the first national survey of its kind, was taken by the Christian Herald magazine, an interdenominational Protestant monthly.

It distributed ballots with four questions for its 455,000 readers across the country and received replies from 7,000.

HACKENSACK — Justin R. Toomey, New Jersey representative for Inter-County Title Guaranty and Mortgage Company, has announced the addition of Philip Comora of Elberon to the title company's staff. Mr. Comora will serve as a representative in Monmouth, Bergen, Passaic, and Essex Counties.

Mr. Comora formerly was vice president and general manager of a large building concern constructing 4,000 homes in South Jersey. Before entering the real estate field, he was president of the Philco Textile Corporation, and a vice president of a utility corporation. He is a past president of the New Jersey Tenement House Commission.

His interest in politics led to his appointment as secretary to the treasurer of New Jersey.

Problems Cited In Merger of Toll Roads

TRENTON (AP)—A joint Legislative committee reported Tuesday that insurmountable legal problems make it impossible to merge operation of the New Jersey Turnpike and Garden State Parkway.

However, the committee said it might be possible to place administration of the two roads under the State Highway Department. It suggested that the committees' life be extended to study this possibility.

At a public hearing last summer, expert witnesses testified unanimously that bond issues for the two toll roads would have to be refinanced, greatly increasing interest costs.

The committee headed by Sen. Richard R. Stout, R-Monmouth, said, "outright consolidation of the operation of the two roads appears to face insurmountable obstacles at this time."

Bayshore Transportation Unit

The Matawan Township Transportation Committee, under the leadership of Harold Painkin, and Charles M. Pike, director of the Monmouth County Planning Board, are to be commended for efforts to get a Bayshore Mass Transportation Committee formed.

An initial discussion meeting was held last week in Matawan Township Hall. In attendance were representatives from nearly every Bayshore municipality. Also sitting in to offer assistance were officials of the Municipal Public Service Co-ordinating Committee, which includes Red Bank, Middletown, New Shrewsbury, Shrewsbury, Oceanport, Rumson, Little Silver and Fair Haven.

Mr. Pike, who works with all such groups in the county, offered his services to try to set up a working committee.

It will not be an easy task. It will require co-operation among officials and citizens throughout the Bayshore. There are already a number of local committees throughout the area, but because of the nature of the commuter problem—the rail problem in particular—their success has been limited.

There is no doubt that joint action is required, if any dent is to be made on the railroads and the state legislatures in New Jersey and New York. If formation of this committee is successful, it may be that it could join hands with the Municipal Public Service Co-ordinating Committee. Such action might lead eventually to a working countywide committee.

Among the questions to be studied:

Establishment of one or more "park-and-ride" terminals. Such a facility has been proposed for the Matawan-Hazlet area, but plans have never got off the ground.

The spending of state tax dollars on railroads as well as on highways.

What to do about the deteriorating railroad stations now in existence.

Modernization of railroad rolling stock.

Elimination of grade crossings or modernization of such crossings with installation of safety devices.

At the recent meeting, state Assemblyman Patrick J. McGann, Jr., Middletown, on grounds that the state builds highways, proposed that it take over railroad beds and tracks and maintain the rights-of-way while private enterprise continues to operate the railroads.

On the face of it, the proposal might seem to be a way out of the present morass—but it might also be a first step toward complete government takeover, a prospect which demands that other solutions be sought out.

Behind the Political Scene:

Long Branch — On The Road Back

By WILLIAM HENDERSON

If the city of Long Branch is regaining a share of the glory days it once knew, the loyal residents should receive the credit.

They are the ones who stood fast despite the unbelievable wave of bad publicity which almost engulfed the city the past few years.

Henderson

Political squabbles, gambling raids, numerous arson cases, a grand jury presentment and changes in government were enough to discourage the average voter. Some persons even switched their shopping habits from local stores to the big shopping centers.

But patience and fortitude paid off. Once again it is a task to find an empty store on Broadway. Business is almost humming and a boom in apartment house projects is on.

This is the same city which, three years ago, suffered a high rate of unemployment and needed federal assistance.

Of course, Long Branch will never again reach the peak it held when Presidents Grant, Garfield, Arthur and Wilson visited there, as did sport and stage stars.

On Way Back

But the city is on the way back, a far cry from the days not too long ago when outsiders harshly termed it a "ghost town."

Politicians and officials played a decisive role in giving Long Branch a boost. Long range planning by former commissioners and some present councilmen has established a parking system considered one of the best in the county or state.

Empty lots around the city were purchased and turned into auto havens. The easy parking facilities revived shopping bees.

The beachfront is still undergoing improvements with the aid of federal funds. Yes, Long Branch is out of the rut, thanks to the residents who spoke their minds, backed up with that very powerful weapon — a voting franchise.

CONGENIALITY, surprisingly enough, is the byword when Middletown Republicans and Democrats hold their meetings to work out redistricting of voting areas. Seven or more election districts may be added to the township's present twenty-three and the number of committeemen increased from 46 to 60. Speaking up at the private sessions are Republicans Joseph Azzolina, Middletown GOP chairman; Mrs. Anna Morford and Al Speck, Lincroft. For the Democrats are Bill Himelman, Middletown Democratic chairman; Assemblyman Patrick McGann, Jr., Lincroft and Jerry Judge.

STATE HOUSE. The legislators who munched on ham sandwiches and sipped Coke during part of Gov. Hughes' speech last Tuesday could have displayed better manners, several of their colleagues admit. Can you picture the governor biting into a roast beef on rye while delivering his message?

SUDDEN closing again of the Berkeley-Carteret Hotel, Asbury Park, still one of the shore's most modern hotels, shocked many customers. Only the bar is open weekends. City officials are said to have offered substantial tax rebates to the Atlantic City owners of the hostelry to keep it open. The lights may go on again in a few weeks.

STRANGE as it seems, the word is out that young Mayor John E. Lemon of New Shrewsbury may have to wait a few years before getting a chance to run on the GOP county ticket. True, the mayor won re-election last year by only a slim margin but what other Republican candidates did win?

GUESSING game is on over the identity of the well-known woman in the county who has confided to close friends she would like the Republican nomination for Congress in the Third District next year. Incidentally, many party members hope Freeholder Marcus Daly takes another stab at the congressional seat now held by Democrat James J. Howard, Wall Township.

SOMEONE interested enough, should sit down and have a fatherly chat with 18-year-old Bob Martin, West Long Branch, new president of the Monmouth County Teenage Republican Club. "He's getting in the hair of several senior members of the GOP county committee," one leader told this reporter. Young Martin is a personable boy but should learn more about politics before stirring up feuds with other clubs. Still, the Republicans must go through a revitalizing process.

OFFER to find a spot on Telegraph Hill, off the Garden State Parkway, for the Monmouth County Museum has been made to the members by Dr. Louis Tonti, executive director of the N. J. Highway Authority.

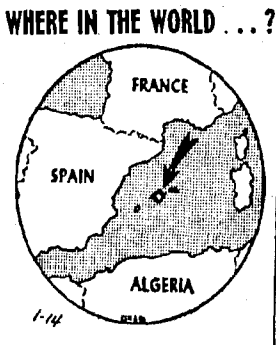

We know Tonti made the suggestion because our source heard it at one of those hush-hush meetings.

SHAKEUP in the GOP party from the national to the local level is in the making. In the county, J. Russell Woolley, of course will continue to guide the Republicans but a new face may be seen before long in one of the top spots on the executive committee.

POTPOURRI—As the member of the Bridge Committee, Democratic Freeholder Eugene J. Bedell's first task should be to see what progress is being made on the building of the new Pleasure Bay span over the Shrewsbury River between Oceanport and Long Branch. The freeholders

"I'm Not Feeling So Good Myself"

Your Money's Worth:

'Trading Up' at All-Time High

By SYLVIA PORTER

You're now "trading up" your purchases of goods, Mr. and Mrs. America, at a pace and on a scale never before approached even in this most affluent of nations in all world history.

You're buying higher-priced items ranging from autos to zircons. You're increasingly quality conscious, decreasingly price conscious. Your trading up is mirrored in your mounting interest in high-style imports, in your rising willingness to replace a still usable item with a new, improved version, in your unmistakable rejection of cheap, stripped-down models.

PORTER

Trading up is among the most remarkable aspects of today's remarkable consumption-service economy, and its whys and implications cry out for analysis.

An obvious force, of course, is that you have more money to spend than ever before. This is the fundamental. Millions today are earning the highest pay checks and profits of their lives, and after-tax incomes have been fattened by 1964's tax cuts.

A second obvious force is that you have confidence that today's prosperity will be maintained. Every survey of consumers indicates widespread faith in continued good times.

A third obvious factor is that you have reached the extraordinary point where you're devoting less than half of each spending dollar to the basic necessities of food, clothing and shelter and you have more than half left to spend as you wish on higher quality goods, services, luxuries and semi-luxuries.

A fourth but not so obvious force is the enormous improvement in your taste and sense of quality. "Mass media are educating everyone to style and taste," says a spokesman for the National Retail Merchants Association. "Once it took a long time for a style to catch hold outside the big cities. Now it crosses the country immediately."

Also not so obvious a reason is that your travel at home and abroad has made you a much more sophisticated customer. Unprecedented millions are now visiting foreign countries, developing new appreciation of values and desires for imported goods.

A final not so obvious factor is that the U.S. businessman is trading you up by offering you the broadest choice ever of new and perceptibly improved products. Never have you been wooed as you are being wooed today with so many different things, in so many different designs and colors and in such attractive packages.

I see the trading up clearly in my own household and the facts abundantly back up what I see.

—A full 80 per cent of the nation's merchants "report a noticeable trend among their customers to trade up," says the National Retail Merchants Association's executive vice president J. Gordon Dakins. The merchants also disclose they intend to trade up departments virtually across-the-board in 1965 and to expand their offerings of imported goods, particularly in the fashion sector.

—While prices in department stores have risen only 5 per cent since 1958 and transactions have climbed only 6 per cent, sales have risen 18 per cent. Customers are spending more per item.

—In dresses, this is especially marked. The average sales check is up 13½ per cent, but prices are up only 4 per cent.

It implies better earnings for manufacturers and retailers, for profit margins are usually bigger on more expensive items and on imported goods. It flashes another twist in the retailing revolution—with discount houses putting increased emphasis on quality, less on price. It certainly signals higher quality middle-class homes.

P. S. In this week's "New Yorker," there's a cartoon showing two men looking at a stream in which are floating an empty box of cigars, an empty can of caviar and empty bottles of cognac and champagne.

The captain says, "It's pollution all right, but it's pollution of rather a high order." Trading up!!

Inside Washington

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is uneasily in the middle of a dynamite loaded wrangle between consumer and business forces over the make-up of the 12-member Consumers' Advisory Council.

Cause of this explosive backstage hassle is Johnson's insistence on naming businessmen to the council—which the late President Kennedy established in 1962 for the express purpose of giving consumers a "voice in government at the White House level."

Consumer organizations and their champions in Congress are up in arms over the President's unpublicized intention, and are threatening a public row.

The issue arose when the President cold-shouldered a list of recommendations for new appointments to the council submitted by Mrs. Esther Peterson, his special adviser on consumer affairs. The terms of the 12 original members have expired, and Mrs. Peterson proposed that most of them be renamed.

Instead, the President returned her list with a note that he wanted "business representation on the council."

Called Her In

Then to make sure Mrs. Peterson got the point, he called her in and frankly stated that a number of businessmen who had supported him last year felt that business should have a place on this important consumer agency.

"I see nothing wrong with that," said Johnson. "It seems fair and proper to me."

Mrs. Peterson pointed out that no consumer representatives are on the Business Advisory Council, which functions closely with the Commerce Department. Briskly brushing that aside, the President reiterated his insistence that businessmen be included on the Consumers' Council.

This emphatic edict was quickly relayed by Mrs. Peterson to congressional consumer leaders — foremost among them Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., vice chairman of the Joint Economic Committee; Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., head of the anti-monopoly subcommittee, and Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., member of the House Commerce Committee.

They hit the ceiling, bluntly served notice on Johnson that the Consumers' Council be kept as originally set up—or else!

The Consumers' Council would remain unchanged, but "consulting committees," with businessmen as members, would be created as adjuncts of the council.

Neither side has yet accepted this plan. Both are studying it.

Meanwhile, consumer forces are closely eying what stand is taken—if any—by Vice President-elect Hubert Humphrey and Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn. Until his recent appointment to Humphrey's seat, Mondale, as state attorney general, was a member of the Consumers' Council.

Leading consumer organizations — among them the Co-operative League of the USA, California Consumers' Council, and Consumers' Union — are pressing Humphrey and Mondale to back Mrs. Peterson. No less vigorously, advertising interests, who have been warring with her, are urging them to keep hands off.

So far, that's exactly what they have been doing. How long they can keep it up remains to be seen.

Committee Split

These Days:

Another Log Jam Breaks

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Cuba's Che Guevara is still calling for subversion in Chile, but it begins to look as if that country were going to solve its problems without making any desperate turn to Castroism.

CHAMBERLAIN

The biggest obstacle that the new Chilean Christian Democratic government of President Eduardo Frei has had to surmount can be summed up in one word: copper. The local mines that produce this metal, which accounts for at least two-thirds of Chile's foreign exchange, have been nominally owned by great foreign companies such as Anaconda and Kennecott. Paralyzed for years by the threats of expropriation and nationalization of their properties, the Anaconda and Kennecott companies had done practically nothing to expand their Chilean production. The Braden property belonging to Kennecott in Chile is one of the richest sources of copper in the world, but with a local tax rate running to some 85 per cent of profits Kennecott had actually diverted investment funds that might have gone to Chile into a renovation of western U.S. mines that are much poorer in the quality of their ore.

Now, suddenly, the logjam is broken: Anaconda, Cerro, and Kennecott have all worked out patterns that give Chile equal—and even better—partnership in the mines, yet which avoid the shattering impact on productivity which would have followed expropriation and nationalization. The Chilean parliament has still to ratify the deals, and the local Communists are yelling bloody murder to stop them. But it looks as though everything will be set before summer. Chile will be getting considerably more out of its mines than the cheap copper ashtrays that have always been as plenteous as paper cups in its hotel rooms.

Each side, in the negotiations leading up to the new agreements, has given up a big token of false pride to get the realities of more profit for everybody concerned. Kennecott, for instance, has agreed to transfer the business of its Braden subsidiary to a new Chilean corporation, the Sociedad Minera El Teniente, S. A. The Chilean government gets a 51 per cent interest in this new corporation, with Kennecott retaining 49 per cent. But Kennecott is not making a free gift of its stockholders' property to Chile. The company is to get 80 million dollars for the surrendered 51 per cent. But the Chileans will be able to fund the payment out of their share of the copper profits quite easily, for Kennecott has agreed to expand Braden production from 180,000 tons a year to 280,000 tons. It will take five years to complete the expansion. Meanwhile the total tax rate on Kennecott's Chilean earnings will be 44 per cent—or about half of what it is at present.

This is far more than a mere "business" story, for it points up the calming influence that President Johnson's Latin American policy co-ordinator, Thomas Mann, has had on the course of recent U.S.-Latino relations. Thomas Mann works behind the scenes, with no desire to massage his own ego. He has gotten tremendous results everywhere he has had the opportunity to work. He was an adviser to the Eisenhower government at the time of the Guatemalan takeover by the Communists—and it wasn't very long before the Communists were ousted from the control of the Guatemalan government. He was ambassador to Mexico—and Mexico is today the only Latin American country that can sell its bonds abroad. He let it be known that the U.S. would look with complaisance on the overthrow of the Leftist Goulart regime in Brazil—and the ouster of Goulart came off on the Brazilians' own schedule. He worked out the "new canal" approach that did so much to defuse the Panama crisis. Thomas Mann did not do any of the negotiating that led to the ending of the copper impasse in Chile, but Frank Millikan, the president of Kennecott, kept him informed of the progress of the deal at all stages. The tacit assurance of Mann's good will certainly had much to do with the decision of the new Eduardo Frei government to give up the fetish of total expropriation of the mines.

Thomas Mann hasn't been able to solve the problem of Cuba, but as thousands of U.S. citizens continue to by-pass Havana to spend winter vacation money in Jamaica, the Virgin Islands, Barbados, and the Bahamas, more and more Cubans must be thinking that Castro is tops as an economic idiot. If Cuba had only chosen the route of Mexico, Brazil, and Chile, it might have been rolling in prosperity today without giving a single hostage to "colonialism." Given a little support from the State Department, Thomas Mann would surely be able to bring this home to the Cubans.

If Dean Rusk has any retirement plans, Thomas Mann is one of two obvious choices to succeed him as Secretary of State. The other choice is Dean Acheson, who has learned much since Korea.

"I don't want to sound pessimistic, but do you think people are ready for a Great Society?"

Eye 'Sewer' System For Air Pollutants

TRENTON (AP) — Would a plan to suck industrial gases and exhaust fumes underground into a sewerage system work in New Jersey?

Health officials aren't certain, but they believe it's the kind of "way-out" thinking that might be needed in the next decade to cope with pollution.

The plan is being considered in West Germany's heavily industrial Ruhr basin, where pollution is severe.

"What we're doing now might not be adequate 15 or 20 years from now," said William A. Munroe, chief of New Jersey's air sanitation program.

What New Jersey is doing at present is attempting to reduce air pollution in such conventional ways as banning open burning and specifying the shade of smoke that can be emitted from stacks. Those who violate the state air pollution code are subject to fines. The state is also doing extensive research, taking air samples and attempting to set standards on what constitutes clean air.

May Get Worse

But the situation might get worse before it gets better. There are estimates that New Jersey's population will swell from about 6 million to almost 9 million from 1960 to 1980 and there will be 750,000 more cars on the road by then. New Jersey already has more registered vehicles per square mile than any other state — 359. This compares with a national average of 23 vehicles per square mile.

Dr. Otto Koehler, a West German scientist who helped devise the Ruhr plan, contends that waste gas fumes, whatever their origin, are waste matter just as sewage is.

Reverse Process

The plan would reverse the current procedure of using stacks and chimneys to siphon off industrial fumes. Automotive exhaust fumes would be sucked underground at traffic intersections. Fumes would be flushed through the sewage system and passed through underground conduits to a central filtering plant. There, carbon monoxide gases would be converted into liquid or gaseous carbon dioxide, or dry ice.

No price tag was put on the plan. Sewage pipes would have to be adopted for the purpose and they would have to be built where none exist. But Dr. Koehler thinks it's worth a try rather than using approaches he contends would be used in a primitive society.

13 Wills are Filed

FREEHOLD — These 13 wills were filed for probate yesterday in the office of the Monmouth County surrogate:

GEORGE HERBERT LIONEL EARP-THOMAS, 84 Branch Ave., Red Bank, who died Nov. 17, left his estate to his wife, Mary Louise Earp-Thomas.

Dr. Earp-Thomas was born in Napier, New Zealand, and was a graduate of Toronto University and Trinity College in Canada. He was a medical doctor in the field of research, and owned Earp Laboratories, Inc., here for the last 2½ years.

Dr. Earp-Thomas had been engaged in medical research for many years in High Bridge and retired in 1958.

This will was dated April 26, 1946.

JENNIE F. DARBY, Long Branch, who died Dec. 24, left stock in American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Gulf Oil Corporation to her son, Andrew J. Darby. Stock from Consolidated Edison Company and General Motors Corporation went to her son, William J. Darby. The remainder of the estate was left to her son, Andrew J. Darby and William J. Darby to be shared equally. The will was dated May 16, 1961.

JOHN JOSEPH EMERSON, Middletown, who died Dec. 30, left his estate to his children to be divided equally: Rose Hengartner, John Joseph Emerson, Jr., and Alice Patrizio. The will was dated July 27, 1964.

WILBUR FREELAND, Rumson, who died Dec. 3, left his estate to hs wife, Freda M. Freeland. The will was dated July 3, 1942.

EMILY E. HEINTZ, Middletown, who died Dec. 29, left her estate to her son, William A. Heintz. The will was dated Nov. 4, 1959.

SILVIO MASTRIA, Red Bank, who died Dec. 8, left his estate to his wife, Frances Mastria. The will was dated May 16, 1960.

AGNES M. MEAGHER, Long Branch, who died Dec. 13, left her estate first to her brother, Edward J. Meagher, and then to her niece, Margaret Jane Meagher. The will was dated Oct. 9, 1957.

DAVID RILEY, Marlboro, who died Nov. 27, left his estate to his wife, Celeste Riley. The will was dated July 14, 1958.

FRED DANIEL STONE, Rumson, who died Dec. 9, left his government bonds and property in the Borough of Rumson to his niece, Catherine Theresa McGrory. The remainder of the property was left to his wife, Winifred McGrory Stone. The will was dated Aug. 30, 1954.

MAZEPHIA M. WAITT, Long Branch, who died Dec. 1, left the estate to her son, Frank M. Waitt. The will was dated Jan. 25, 1962.

HARRY L. WHITE, Oakhurst, who died Dec. 22, left $400 to the West Long Branch Cemetery Trust, Inc.; $200 for the care of the burial plot of his father, and $200 for the care of the graves of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Woolley, parents of his late wife. The remainder of the estate was left to his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White. The will was dated March 13, 1959.

Elect Charles Schulz Fire Company Chief

MONMOUTH BEACH—Charles G. Schulz was elected chief of the Monmouth Beach Fire Company at a recent meeting of the group in the fire house, Beach Rd.

Also elected were Lawrence DeMarco, first assistant chief; John Powers, second assistant chief; Emmet Boyle, foreman; Donald V. Ritz, first assistant foreman; John Schulz, second assistant foreman; William H. Flaherty, president; Robert Kleiberg, vice president; Morgan Wooley, secretary, and Everett Leissler, treasurer.

This group of high-placed government officials was set up to work closely with the Consumers' Council.

Favoring businessmen on the council are John P. Lewis, member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, and Dr. Richard Holton, assistant commerce secretary for economic affairs. Opposing are Paul Rand Dixon, head of the Federal Trade Commission, and Assistant Labor Secretary Daniel P. Moynihan.

Rev. Robert McEwen, chairman of the Massachusetts Consumers' Council, proposed for appointment to the national council by Speaker McCormack, D-Mass., hinted at this backstage storm in a recent address to the Consumers' Protection Conference in Dallas, Tex.

"Voices are being raised suggesting that the President's Consumers' Council needs businessmen," said McEwen. "I must warn that only disillusionment and frustration will follow any ill-advised attempt to remake the consumer voice into just another voice of business . . . Business interests have no proper place on the Consumers' Council."

ANOTHER TEST — Also being closely eyed by consumer forces is what the President does about Federal Power Commission Chairman Joseph Swidler.

Appointed by Kennedy, Swidler's term expires in June. He is strongly favored by consumer groups, and they are watching to see what Johnson does about him. Reason for their concern is hints from White House insiders that Swidler is slated to be replaced.

Significantly, these intimations are accompanied by pointed references to a statement made by the President at a White House meeting with business leaders last month.

"We will not harass you nor persecute you," Johnson told them. "We want to help you in every way we can."

Carefully not consulting the White House, Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., chairman of the anti-monopoly subcommittee, is quietly setting in motion a wide-ranging probe of the ownership of pharmaceutical concerns and drug stores by doctors and groups of doctors.

Also planned by Hart is renewal of his investigation of the "high cost of dying," with special attention paid to manufacturers of caskets and funeral embalmments.

Veteran Pilot Gives Tips On Safe Winter Flying

By BOB BRAMLEY

HOLMDEL — It was 45 years ago—in 1919—that two British World War I pilots, Capt. John Alcock and Lt. Arthur Whitten Brown, flew a Vickers-Vimy bomber equipped with two 350-horsepower Rolls Royce engines 1,900 miles from Newfoundland to Ireland.

During his first non-stop trans-Atlantic flight, Lt. Brown spent a good deal of time on the wing of the open-cockpit biplane, clearing ice from the carburetor intakes of the two engines.

"This is an illustration of lack of facilities and preparation," James S. Harris, charter service chief of Shore Air Service, Inc., Colts Neck airport, told more than 100 members of Bell Telephone's Holmdel Flying Club and their guests Friday in the Bell Laboratories auditorium.

Forced Landing

"Nowadays," the chief pilot went on, "proper preparation for flying will lead to hours of enjoyment—especially in the winter."

Winter brings snow and ice in place of the blue sky and sunshine of summer, Mr. Harris said. Nevertheless, winter flying is not only possible, but safe and pleasant if you "prepare to fly—but within limitations," he added.

"We may laugh at the weatherman when he goofs; his mistakes are always advertised," Mr. Harris observed. "But he's 78 per cent correct in his forecasts—not a bad record."

Especially significant in winter are reports on cloud cover, visible moisture (fog), and the freezing level, the veteran pilot, who has flown more than 7,700 hours commercially, pointed out.

"Let's take a hypothetical pilot," he continued. "He picks a nice day with a nice blue sky and about three inches of snow on the ground. He's going from here to New Bedford, Mass. to visit his Aunt Martha.

Snow Is Deeper

"He takes off fat and happy and arrives in New Bedford. Landing there, of course he can't see the depth of snow on the airport from the air.

"He sets the ship down in the 12 or 15 inches of snow that covers all of New England and noses over—winds up hanging from his seat-belt in an upside-down airplane.

"This is lack of preparation," Mr. Harris explained. The pilot could have found out the depth of snow in New England before he took off simply by asking the weatherman.

"Or let's say he didn't land. Maybe he saw a snowplow at work on a road and realized the snow was too deep to land," the charter pilot hypothesized.

"He decides to do the smart thing—he turns back south toward where the snow isn't so deep. But he forgot one thing: that beautiful tailwind that got him up to see Aunt Martha so fast is now a headwind.

"Our pilot finds himself in a stiff headwind facing a two-hour trip back home with only an hour's worth of gas.

"Now he's in a real dilemma . . . Don't laugh; it's done every day," Mr. Harris warned. "The Federal Aviation Authority reported three accidents last week lack of preparation."

Winter also does strange things — all resulting from similar to the airplane itself. Mr. Harris pointed out—things that can be remedied only by proper preflight preparation.

"The best investment you can make is a 10 or 12-foot hose that will fit over the exhaust pipe of your car," the pilot told club members.

Frost on airplane wings destroys lift, he explained. The hose is used to melt it off before takeoff.

Moisture also freezes in the pitot tube which operates the airplane's airspeed indicator, Mr. Harris went on. Since pilots refer to the airspeed indicator for vital knowledge during flight, an indicator that doesn't indicate can be very unhandy.

The exhaust pipe hose thaws out the pitot tube—a tube used in measuring pressure—very nicely.

"Don't be like Johnny Haphazard," Mr. Harris warned. "He didn't have a hose, so he used his cigarette lighter to thaw out the pitot tube. Unfortunately the pitot tube was located right under one of the main fuel tanks in the wing . . ."

Odd Things Happen

Other odd things can happen because of frozen brakes, the charter pilot went on. When the airplane has been sitting in winter weather for several days, the brakes can freeze solid.

"You sit there pouring the coal on, and the bird won't move," Mr. Harris explained. 'Or maybe it does move, finally, and you take off. The brakes then freeze again in the air, and when you land, you find the tires blow out because the wheels don't turn. This can be expensive—and besides, you'll find that most airports are always out of stock of your size tires . . . Use the exhaust pipe hose."

Dealing with the carburetor ice which plagued Alcock and Brown can be heart-shaking, but it must be done, the veteran pilot emphasized.

This ice forms in the carburetor intake which supplies air to the engine. When conditions are just right, the ice forms unbelievably fast. Acting just like a very efficient choke on an auto engine, it will stall the aircraft engine in flight if allowed to accumulate.

For this reason, all airplanes have a carburetor heat control which warms the intake and melts the ice.

"The danger is that the novice pilot fails to realize that ice has formed," Mr. Harris explained. "He notices his engine revolutions have slowed down slightly, but he doesn't think of ice; he thinks the throttle has slipped. He shoves it forward, and the revs pick up.

"The cycle repeats itself. Pretty soon he has the throttle jammed to the firewall, but the engine is still losing revolutions.

"'Aha! Carburetor ice!' he says, as the light finally dawns. He pulls the carburetor heat control full on—and nearly has heart failure as the engine coughs, spits, backfires and falters trying to swallow the flood of melted ice."

Panicky, the novice thinks this must be wrong and turns the carburetor heat off again. The engine smooths out—until the ice re-forms and chokes it off again, Mr. Harris went on.

"When you use the carburetor heat, leave it on until all the ice is melted," he stressed. "It's only frightening the first time it happens."

Mr. Harris was introduced by Eric V. Madsen of New Shrewsbury, president of the Holmdel Flying Club.

The club, which has 75 members, is sponsored by the Bell Telephone Co. Activities are based on Colts Neck airport.

"ASTRO-GUIDE" By Ceean

For Friday, January 15

Present—For You and Yours . . . Those who live at some distance have been in your thoughts so much recently that you aren't surprised when they turn up on your doorstep. Go all-out to make them feel at home even if some inconvenience is caused to family members. Career outlook is especially good.

Past . . . The more education one has, the more likely he is to participate in politics. About nine out of 10 college graduates in this country voted in the 1956 presidential election, while only about half of those who failed to complete elementary school voted.

Future . . . The only crew member of the first U.S. satellite to keep a living passenger in orbit for a month will be a pig-tailed macaque monkey, who will make the trip late this year or early in 1966.

The Day Under Your Sign

ARIES (Born March 21 to April 19)
It may be difficult, but necessary, to break old ties if you would grow and develop.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)
A spiritual friendship brings a feeling of peace you haven't had for some time.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)
Don't make any particular effort to alter the course of events.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)
Respond to the call of romance. The stars back you up in the love department.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)
Refrain from social activity that takes too big a bite out of your budget.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Think less of yourself and more of others and your life will be happier.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Show your true self. You will win esteem of one whom you are trying to impress.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)

Farm Wages Reports Due

ASBURY PARK — Farm operators are reminded that they must file reports of wages paid to farm workers in 1964 together with payment of social security taxes by Jan. 31.

Benjamin Sandberg, district manager of social security in Asbury Park, stated today that any employer who paid $150 or more in cash wages to a farm employee or had a farm hand working for him on 20 or more days for cash pay during 1964 on a time basis, rather than on a piece-rate basis, is required to pay the taxes and make these reports.

The taxes and Internal Revenue Form 943 must be sent to the district director of internal revenue by Jan. 31 of each year.

Mr. Sandberg advises that the return must show the employee's correct name, social security account number, and the wages paid during 1964. This information is required to properly credit the employee's social security account.

Cash wages which are paid to members of a farm labor crew must also be reported by the employer. Mr. Sandberg stated that generally the crew leader is the employer, unless the farmer and the crew leader have a written agreement that shows that the crew leader is the farmer's employee.

State Sales Tax Measure Reintroduced

TRENTON (AP) —A bill proposing a 3 per cent state sales tax was reintroduced at the opening session of the 1965 New Jersey Legislature Tuesday by State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., R-Warren, who has sponsored the bill for the past two years.

Dumont, joined by as many as five other senators at times, also reintroduced half a dozen other measures based on recommendations of the State Tax Policy Commission. Dumont is chairman of the commission.

Among the other measures: bills increasing state aid to local schools by about $90 million a year; a bill repealing the local property tax on business inventories; measures providing $30 million a year for state aid for local road construction and $25 million extra for operation and construction of state colleges.

The tax policy commission estimated a 3 per cent sales tax would produce $165 to $180 million two years ago. However, Dumont's measure exempts more articles than the commission's original proposal.

Cash Awards To Engineer Total $1,020

FORT MONMOUTH — Cash awards totaling $1,020 have been won by Mervin B. Pickover, 39 Richmond Ter., Fairview, Middletown, an engineer with the U.S. Army Electronics Command, for design and development work on a satellite tape recorder.

Initially given $300 as a cash award for the development in 1962, Mr. Pickover has received an additional $720 as a result of government savings of $73,685 from the use of his recorder. Mr. Pickover is with the Communications Department of the U.S. Army Electronics Laboratories, a major directorate of the command.

His development uses a unique motor speed control, eliminating the need for a mechanical governor on the recorder. The technique has been picked up by industry when applicable.

Another award in the Communications Department was an Outstanding Performance Certificate and a quality step increase for Richard E. Loiselle, 178 Castlewall Ave., Elberon, for his contribution toward the successful internal development of a new communication system, Monocycle Position Modulation (MPM).

Also in the Communications Department was a citation and a quality step increase for John F. Faughnan, 318 Prospect Ave., Shark River Hills, for his contributions to the preparation of an instruction book and information bulletins on internal development of an FM radio central.

Accuse Attache

WARSAW, Poland — The Polish government has accused the U. S. Air attache in Warsaw, Col. George F. Carrey Jr., of photographing an air base and ordered him to leave the country within two weeks.

Diplomatic sources said U. S. Ambassador John M. Cabot was called to the Foreign Ministry Monday and told that Carey has been declared "persona non grata" (unwelcome) as a result of an incident and scuffle with the police Jan. 4 near an air base at Bydgoszcz, in central Poland.

College Asks Its Neighbors For Meeting

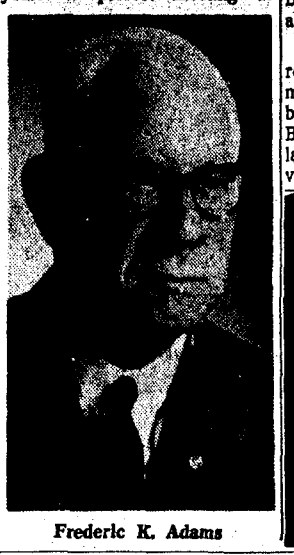

WEST LONG BRANCH — Monmouth College has invited residents of its home town to a special meeting Tuesday evening, Feb. 2, to discuss the college's growth and the local problems which might have been created by them, and to learn about the college's operating policies and future plans.

The meeting, which will include a question and answer session conducted by representatives of the school's administration and faculty, will be held at 8 o'clock in the Pollak Auditorium in the main building.

Dr. William G. Van Note, college president, has sent letters to all registered voters here inviting them to the meeting. College officials said the meeting is being restricted to residents of this borough because of limited facilities.

Rotary Club Cites Adams

RED BANK — Frederic K. Adams has been honored by the Red Bank Rotary Club for 42 years of perfect meeting attendance.

Frederic K. Adams

Mr. Adams, owner of the Adams Memorial Home, 310 Broad St., received a 42-year pin at a recent meeting.

In maintaining his 100 per cent record, Mr. Adams attended meetings not only in Red Bank, but in such places as London, Berlin, Cardiff, Wales, Switzerland and Germany. During a visit several years ago to Heidelberg, Germany to see his daughter and son-in-law, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Dale H. Shick who were stationed there with the Army, Mr. Adams attended Heidelberg Rotary Club meetings so regularly that he received a regular member's badge.

Retired Officers' Group to Hear Col. Kennedy

Col. Cary A. Kennedy, Jr.

FORT MONMOUTH — Col. Cary A. Kennedy, Jr., deputy commander of the U.S. Army Terminal Command, Atlantic, will be the speaker at the January dinner meeting of the Central New Jersey Chapter, Retired Officers Association in Gibbs Hall tonight.

Prior to his current assignment, Col. Kennedy spent two years in the Office of the Army Attache, at Tel Aviv, Israel. He will relate his experiences in Israel in his talk.

Col. Kennedy took part in World War II campaigns in Central Europe, Northern France and the Rhineland, and in the latter part of the war served at the Port of Antwerp.

All active duty, retired and former commissioned officers of the uniformed services are eligible for membership in the chapter, which now has several hundred members. The chapter's president is Maj. Gen. W. Preston Corderman, Little Silver, who also is president of the National Association for Retired Officers.

Col. Allan G. Spits, USA (ret), New Shrewsbury, secretary, is in charge of dinner reservations.

Roberston Heads Turner Firm

WALL TOWNSHIP — Stuart S. Robertson, Red Bank, has taken over as president of Turner Builders Supply, Inc., Rt. 35 here. Mrs. Robertson was named vice president and treasurer, and Alexander Zadorozny, Little Silver, is secretary and manager.

The business was organized in 1945 by the late Arthur C. Turner, Sea Girt, and by Mr. Robertson. Building products featured at the yard include brick, building stone and lumber.

TRAIL-BLAZING FREMONTS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The great-grandson of John C. Fremont, "The Pathfinder of the West" who carried passages to the Northwest Territory a century ago, blazes his trails in the sky.

He is Maj. John C. Fremont IV, chief of tactical training for the 317th Troop Carrier Wing at Lockbourne Air Force Base here. His duties as pilot of a huge C130 Hercules transport plane have taken him on routes never dreamed of by his famous ancestor, who also was Republican presidential candidate in 1856.

Second MAF Series To Open February 15

RED BANK — The Monmouth Arts Foundation will open its second annual theater series here Feb. 15 with a production of "Luther," winner of the New York Drama Critics' Award and the Tony Award as "Best Play of 1963-1964."

The series of three plays also will include the Broadway comedy hit, "Never Too Late," scheduled for Thursday, March 11, and "Oliver," a musical, in April.

A subscription membership drive for the series will open Jan. 25 and continue through that week and the first week of February. Tickets, by subscription sale only, will be available at the series headquarters, 101 Monmouth St., next door to the Carlton Theater, in a range of three prices, according to choice of seats. All seats will be reserved.

The three productions will be presented in the Carlton Theater, all at 8:30 p.m.

"Luther," writen by playwright John Osborne, England's original "angry young man," stars Alan Bergmann as Martin Luther. The young actor played the role of the knight in the Broadway production of the Osborn play, and was promoted to the lead role in this touring production.

"Never Too Late," which tells the tale of a 60-year-old husband who discovers he is about to become a father again, stars Lyle Talbot and Penny Singleton. The comedy opened in New York in 1962 and "provoked a gale of laughs," according to Robert Coleman of the New York Mirror. John McClain of the Journal-American called it "a mad, mad, mad show. . .it left us in a state of dazed satisfaction."

"Oliver," a musical adaptation of Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist," was authored by Lionel Bart and stars veteran funnyman Jules Munshin as Fagin. The show ran four years in London and on Broadway for two seasons.

Dr. Bertram Feinswog, New Shrewsbury, is chairman of the MAF theater series. Dr. David Woodward, Little Silver, is assistant chairman.

Vets to Receive Immunization Cards

NEWARK — All persons receiving Veterans Administration payments during 1965, including the 4.6 million to whom GI insurance dividend checks will be mailed early in January, will also receive a special U.S. Public Health Service card stressing the importance of family disease protection through immunization, P. M. Nugent, manager of the VA Regional office here, announced today.

The VA is co-operating with the Public Health Service to place the cards with as many families as possible.

The yellow fold card contains a brief message and four detachable individual immunization record cards for the entry of D.T.P. (diphtheria, whooping cough and lockjaw), polio, smallpox and measles inoculations.

The person receiving the card is urged to "see your doctor or health department for your own schedule of immunizations," and to maintain the cards for each member of the family.

The VA is not administering any of the suggested immunizations or boosters, Mr. Nugent added.

In addition to the 4.6 million cards to be mailed with GI insurance dividend checks from the Philadelphia disbursing office of the U.S. Treasury Department during January, another 500,000 will be mailed from Philadelphia with monthly insurance payments going to beneficiaries.

BIGGEST TAX IS SALES

CHICAGO (AP) — Sales tax still is the biggest tax levy for most states.

According to the Commerce Clearing House, sales tax accounted for one-fourth of the total 50 state tax take of $24.2 billion in the fiscal year ending June 1964.

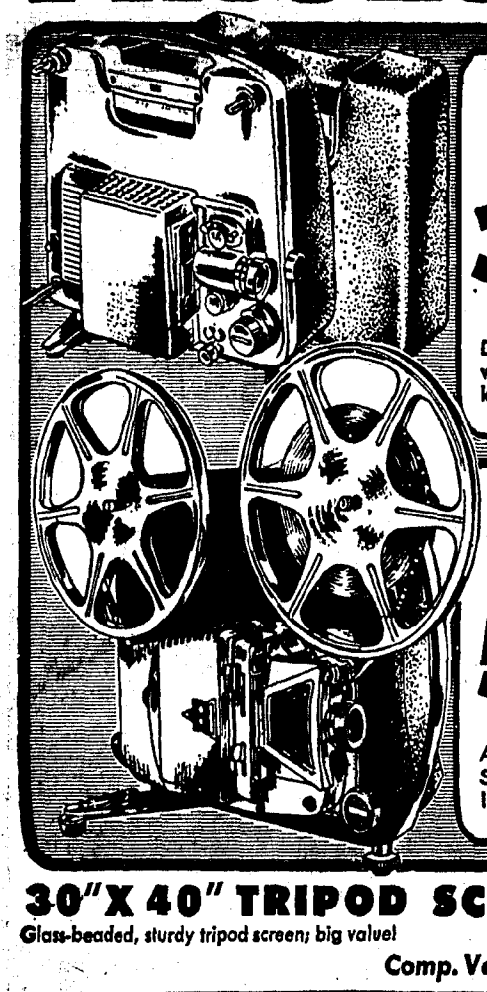

Sales taxes produced the most revenue for 30 states. Income taxes proved the best revenue source in 13 states. Gasoline taxes led in six states. Severence tax, a tax on severing natural resources from the ground, was at the top in Louisiana.

California, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Illinois and Ohio collected most of their revenue from sales taxes. New York relied most on its income tax. Texas depended on its gasoline tax for most of its revenue.

Carlton Bills Stage Show For Children

RED BANK — A double-header stage show for children, featuring the popular plays "Cinderella" and "Pinocchio," will be presented at the Carlton Theater here Saturday at 2 p.m.

Diane O'Neill, star of stage, movies and television, will play the Cinderella role. Pinocchio will be played by Evelyn Tracy, who has had a distinguished stage career. The show is a presentation of Wizard Productions of New York.

The show will feature many special effects. The audience will see Pinocchio's nose grow before their eyes, and will see him go into the belly of a whale to light a fire to rescue his father. With the help of the audience, the fairy godmother will transform a pumpkin into a beautiful coach, and Cinderella's raiment will change from ragged dress into a ball gown. At the end of the play, the audience is invited to the wedding of Cinderella and her prince.

CHILDREN'S STAGE SHOW—Scene above is from "Cinderella," one of two fairy tales to be presented live on stage of the Carlton Theater, Red Bank, Saturday, at 2 p.m. "Pinocchio" will be the other play on the program.

Language Curriculum Is Revised

MIDDLETOWN — Curriculum revision in the department of foreign languages is under way in the local high school as members of the department investigate and evaluate the new materials in language.

According to Miss Becky Stracener, department head, the audiolingual approach stresses the development of communication skills wherein the learning process is close to that experienced by children.

Since such a program requires a longer sequence of study, the recommendation will most likely be made that language study be introduced in the seventh grade, thus enabling all foreign language students to undertake six years of language study.

Miss Stracener indicated that members of the department are studying all of the methods involved in the teaching of language today.

"During the year," she said, "we shall hear language consultants from Holt, Rinehart and Winston, McGraw Hill, Harcourt, Brace and World, and the Encyclopedia Britannica."

Last October staff members visited local schools with language laboratories to investigate the use of laboratory facilities which employ modern recording devices, booths, tapes, etc., for teaching language skills as compared to the more conventional classroom approach employing traditional methods of instruction.

"Our present feeling," commented Miss Stracener, "is that the language laboratory, properly used, is an effective tool in the audio-lingual program as it multiplies each student's chance for guided practice in hearing and speaking."

At present, high school students are able to choose from five foreign languages, Latin, French, Russian, German and Spanish.

While language studies are offered only in grades nine through 12, adoption of the junior-senior high school program will enable the administration to set up a coordinated program of language study which will eventually begin in the seventh grade and provide local students with the opportunity to pursue a six-year sequence of language study.

WAFFLE IRON PILLOWS

SHELTON, Conn. (AP) — The old familiar waffle iron has left the kitchen and has been put to use for the bedroom.

It is now making latex pillows considered to be "the newest idea in pillows in 20 years." The waffle iron that has been put to use here at the B.F. Goodrich Sponge Products plant is the same as the kitchen model, only larger and with pointed spikes, instead of blunt ones.

Batter, in this case latex, is placed in the mold with a hose, not a spoon, the lid is closed, and it is them frozen at 25 degrees below zero, and cooked at 250 degrees. The result "tastes terrible," but, according to foreman Henry Faulkner, using the waffle iron technique allows molding a one-piece pillow containing thousands of holes through which air can circulate and which eliminates surface tension, so the pillow "won't fight back."

RICH FOUGHT, TOO

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Charges that men with money averted service, leaving the less fortunate to fight the Civil War, do not appear to stand up under checking, a Marietta College professor says in "Civil War History."

Dr. Eugene C. Murdock says his study of 30 New York districts showed that, in many "rich" districts a smaller percentage of men paid the $300 to avoid duty than in many "poor" districts.

LONG WAY FROM ELKO

Don Lewis, manager of the Ruby Valley Wildlife Refuge in Elko County, was notified that a pintail duck he banded four years ago had been shot in Eastern Russia.

The letter from A. Vinokurov, chief of the bird ringing center in Moscow, added the duck was shot in May of 1962.

Lewis said he had no idea why it took the Soviet authorities two years to notify him of the shooting.

Bar Mitzvah

Bruce Korf

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — Last Saturday morning, Temple Beth Ahm celebrated the Bar Mitzvah of Bruce Korf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Korf, 11 Donna Pl. Rabbi Morris L. Rubinstein officiated as Bruce chanted from the Haftorah, in the all purpose room of the Strathmore Elementary School.

Robert Weinstein, president, presented Bruce an english translation of The Holly Scriptures. Mrs. Leonard Green, Sisterhood president, presented him a copy of the Sabbath prayer book.

A reception for 130 guests was held at home after the Bar Mitzvah. Among the guests were his sister, Michele Sue; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Katz, paternal grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Korf, maternal grandparents; Mrs. Pauline Wollman, maternal great grandmother; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Korf and children, Gene and Gary; Mr. and Mrs. Avlin Hyans and children, Neal, Howard and Terry; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Unger and children, Susan and Elyce, and Mr. and Mrs. George Singer.

GAVE AWAY HIS RAILROAD

CLEVELAND (AP) — The retirement of Malcolm C. Smith from railroading is complete. The former vice president and general counsel for the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad Co. has donated his $10,000 model railroad collection — including 40 locomotives, 200 cars and a full mile of tracks, sceneries and operating devices — to the Boys Club of Cleveland.

Smith explained that retirement plans for himself and his wife mean winters in the Caribbean and summers in a New York apartment, making it almost impossible to take along the train collection.

TODAY'S BUSINESS MIRROR:

Price, Inventory Hikes Watched

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — More business firms are testing price increases in the market place. More concerns are piling up stocks of materials and at a faster pace.

These two moves, which in the past often have gone together, are making some of the professional economy watchers nervous. They fear that price boosts and inventory building together might be early warning signs of either inflation or boom and bust, or both.

But in each case — price increases and stockpiling — there are particular circumstances to mitigate the danger, or at least to explain their appearance just now.

Inventories are growing at the fastest rate in a year. But sales have been rising swiftly, too. So the total accumulation in the stockrooms may count for less, at the current rate of turnover, than it did in earlier months before the stock building got going strong.

Price Rises

Price rises of late, especially in primary materials and industrial products, often can be charged either to rising costs of production, or even more to tightening of supplies. World production may have slid because of labor strife or other reasons at a time that demand was increasing due to general prosperity among industrial nations. If the rule of supply and demand is to apply, prices tend to rise in such a situation.

But the Federal Reserve Bank of New York expresses concern that both consumer and industrial wholesale prices rose in November, and perhaps again in December. And it sees the increases announced by the steel industry late in December as adding "to the recently emerging climate in which businessmen seem to be less reluctant to probe markets to determine whether price increases can be made to stick."

Inventory Trends

Some other economists are keeping a close eye on inventory trends. The Commerce Department's latest figures show a sharp gain in November in all sectors, factory, wholesale and retail.

Combined the stocks stood at $108 billion, a gain of $680 million in a month. But combined sales also rose 2 per cent in the month to $73.5 billion. This brought the inventories down to 1.47 months' supply, compared with 1.53 month's supply in the like 1963 month. The ratio leaves the picture looking far from dangerous.

Some of the November gain is attributed to stockpiling of steel by users who fear they might be pinched this spring if current labor negotiations hit a snag and lead either to a strike or to much higher prices.

MRS. FREIBOTT RE-ELECTED

PORT MONMOUTH — Mrs. Fred Freibott was re-elected president of the Women's Republican Club Jan. 5 at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Olga Eastmond. Others elected were Mrs. Eastmond, vice president; Mrs. Robert Drake, secretary; Mrs. Paul Ludlow, treasurer; Mrs. Frieda Winkleman, financial secretary; Mrs. Eleanor Courter, social chairman, and Mrs. Howard ReCorr, good and welfare chairmen. Mrs. ReCorr will be hostess at the social meeting to be held Jan. 19. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Lou Marshall and Mrs. Robert Drake. Hostesses at the next meeting will be Mrs. Eve Partrick, Mrs. Charles Sylvernal, Mrs. Irving Syndwoldt and Mrs. Lou Marshall.

Heart Fund Chairmen Are Named

EATONTOWN — Dr. Barry Grabelle, Eatontown, chairman of the 1965 Heart Fund Campaign, has announced the following chairmen in the local areas.

They are: Atlantic Highlands, Mrs. Olaf Isaksen; Eatontown, Mrs. Helen Sauerwein; Elberon, Roy Sager; Fair Haven, Mrs. W. Kelby Warden; Little Silver, Mrs. Edward Betz; Long Branch, Mrs. L. Carchia Madison; Middletown, Mrs. Samuel Schnitzer; Oceanport, Mrs. Perry Meyerson; Rumson, Mrs. R. A. Badenhop; Sea Bright, Mrs. Cecil Layton, and Shrewsbury, Mrs. Al Youmens.

The National Heart Fund Drive takes place in February. Persons interested in working in their local areas may contact the Monmouth County Heart Association, Third Ave., Long Branch.

Re-elect Officers At Belmar-Wall

BELMAR — There were no changes in naming directors and officers of the Belmar-Wall National Bank at its stockholders and reorganization meetings here Tuesday, except the addition of three assistant cashiers.

Renamed directors of the banking firm are Leon T. Abbott, Anthony J. Giunco, Vernon H. King, Harry J. Lewis, E. F. Lyman, Jr., Merle Simpson and Calvin F. Woolley.

Officers renamed are E. Donald Sterner, honorary director; Mr. Lewis, president; Mr. Woolley, executive vice president; Mr. Lyman, vice president, and Mr. Simpson, assistant vice president and cashier. Mrs. Leona M. Crosson, Mrs. Grace Pearce and Richard K. Sherman were renamed assistant cashiers.

LWV Opens Study Of Human Resources

NEW SHREWSBURY — A two-year study of the "Conservation of Human Resources" was opened Tuesday by the Red Bank Chapter of the League of Women Voters.

The Economic Opportunity Act —known as the Anti-Poverty Bill —was the basis for this month's meetings, and members of a study group led by Miss Elisabeth A. Kelley, Red Bank, reviewed the background of the act, presented an outline of the legislation, and led the discussion that followed.

The morning session was held at the home of Mrs. Bernard Schwartz, New Shrewsbury; the evening group at the home of Mrs. Warren Sawyer in Little Silver.

Miss Kelley began by reviewing the economics of society and stressing the rapidity with which increases will be made in ability to produce goods in the next five years.

"We are experiencing a triple revolution," she said, "in cybernation, weaponry, and civil rights."

She pointed out that a period of such rapid change will require many adjustments in our thinking, one of which must be the discarding of the old fallacy that the poor will always be with us.

"The poverty that affects one fifth of our nation," said Miss Kelley, "can now be eliminated, because we know how to produce."

Nature of Problems

A description of the nature of and problems peculiar to poverty was presented by Mrs. Donald Kuhlman, Shrewsbury, which was followed by a summary of the Economic Opportunity Act by Mrs. Franklin Nash, Rumson; Mrs. Bernard Gurman, New Shrewsbury, and Mrs. Robert Fishman, Fair Haven.

Mrs. Nash described the youth program, explaining the differences between the "job corps," a voluntary program that furnishes young men with personal counseling and teaching of the three R's, as well as job training; the "work training program," which consists of local projects and is administered by the Department of Labor; and the "work study program," which is under the jurisdiction of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and aimed at the very low income groups for whom college is out of the question.

"Success will depend, in large part, on how well it can be co-ordinated," commented Mrs. Nash, explaining that almost every department in the federal government was involved in the act. This part of the program is expected to reach 400,000 young people in the first year alone.

Mrs. Gurman and Mrs. Fishman explained some of the other programs under the act, through which local action groups can seek assistance, and which provide special assistance to families, small businesses and small farmers. Miss Kelley described the "volunteers for America," a domestic "peace corps" established by the act.

Miss Kelley summarized the discussion:

"The whole emphasis of this act is rehabilitation . . . to destroy the causes, not to alleviate the conditions of poverty."

She urged that league members become sufficiently well-informed as the first step. The National League is working on the problem currently, and a consensus will be reached in 1966.

Sea Bright Bank Re-elects Slate

Directors continuing in their posts are William T. Sandlass, Victor W. Emery, William R. Fowler, E. A. Gardella, Sr., Stanley G. Ivins and Robert S. Lockwood.

Mr. Sandlass was re-elected president, Mr. Gardella again was named senior vice president, and Mr. Lockwood is executive vice president and cashier.

Mrs. Eleanor F. Lindsay is assistant vice president and Miss Jane V. N. Conger, assistant cashier.

Australian Boys Like Our Schools

MIDDLETOWN — Students at the Lincroft School have been intrigued by the visit of two brothers from Australia who are visiting the school.

The brothers, John and Raymond Connor, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Kenneth West in Long Branch.

Mrs. Janet Kennedy, a neighbor of the boys' aunt and a teacher in the Lincroft School, offered to transport the visitors to her school to give them a taste of education in America.

John, who is 13, is a high school student in Sidney, Australia, and, Raymond, age 10, is in the fifth grade. Both boys are on vacation, because their schools are closed in December and January.

The two visitors from "Down Under" like American schools, both agreeing that "your schools are better than ours."

While they like the United States, the weather is too cold for them. Weather in Sidney seldom drops lower than 60 degrees.

Not only is it too cold in the states, but both brothers feel that we are "too crowded" here.

The boys, who have been here since Dec. 5, have been fascinated by the snow they have seen. Except in high and remote mountain areas in Australia, there is none there.

What particularly appeals to them, however, are the numerous squirrels they see each morning as Mrs. Kennedy drives them to and from school. There are no squirrels in Australia and these are the first the boys have ever seen.

EDUCATED SEA MONSTERS

NEW YORK (AP) — Monsters are prowling the seas off U.S. shores in growing numbers. As described in Steelways magazine, published by American Iron and Steel Institute, many of these steel monsters — called drilling barges by oil men — have learned a variety of tricks since their introduction some years ago.

One type with steel legs as tall as a 30-story building can wade to work, another is built so it can stand in 175 feet of water and drill. Another was drilling off the California coast in 350 feet of water recently. These oil rigs are part of a worldwide fleet of 160, most of which are operating off Louisiana, Texas, California and Alaska.

The oil industry is spending well over $100 million for new, mobile barges. Some of the units contain up to 8,000 tons of steel, cost as much as $7.5 million to build and up to $15,000 a day to operate.

Mr. Walsky's topic was "Job Placement for the Mentally Retarded."

The women of Hadassah heard him say, "If we can make the retarded feel useful in a community and help them to become able to perform with some success, we are doing a good job. The retarded can fill many voids in the employment world, even if it is only doing repetitive type work.

"A good work experience program will help them prepare for the future. Retardation should not be a word used to label people, it should be used to help those who need an opportunity. Success is something they all too rarely achieve. We can help them gain the measure of respect they deserve in the community. There is hope and help will bring success to the hopeful."

Mr. Walsky set up the special education work experience program at Red Bank High School. Since then, he has helped other areas adopt the system. He is currently helping to develop a similar program in the Middlesex area.

News Correspondent Class Hears Local

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP —Mrs. Herbert Shore, a local news correspondent for The Register, recently appeared before her daughter, Susan's second grade class at the request of the teacher, Mrs. Mildred Mueller.

Mrs. Mueller plans to invite parents of other students to explain their occupations and duties to the children.

Mrs. Shore explained that she receives her articles through various channels including the telephone and personal contact with various clubs, civic organizations, churches, synagogues and other societies in the area.

Purse Snatching Charged on Youth

RED BANK — A local teenager was sent to county juvenile shelter Tuesday, charged by police with a Friday purse snatching.

Theophus Webster, 17, of 18 West Westside Ave., grabbed the purse from the arms of Mrs. Ruth Bettenhauser, 159 Branch Ave., in the Acme parking lot, Broad St., according to the police report.

After a weekend investigation by Detective Lt. George Clayton, Jr. and Detective Sgt. Robert Scott, the youth was arrested.

Police said the youth dropped the woman's wallet from the purse while running from the scene. The report said he threw the purse into a vacant lot but it has not yet been recovered.

POOR MAN'S PHILOSOPHER

Only Memory Can Keep You Young

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Only memories can keep you young.

Your face may get as wrinkled as a contour map of the Rocky Mountains. Age may snow white hairs on you. Time may slow you from a hop, skip and a jump to a tired crawl.

But all that is only on the outside. Inside you, the serene eye of memory enables you to look back and see yourself at any age you choose to be. At your own wish you can be a child again, an adolescent, a young lover, a warrior for your country, a young man on his first job.

The past never dies, because all of us spend at least part of every day of our lives reliving it.

Your own past may be longer than you'd care to brag about if you can remember when—

Bearing Gifts

The neighbors always brought food to your house when someone in it was ill or had died.

Fatty Arbuckle, the 350-pound comedian, was making $5,000 a week in Hollywood before scandal clouded his name and fame.

A juvenile delinquent was a boy under 17 who went behind the barn and smoked cigarettes made of dry cornsilk rolled in paper torn from a mail order catalog.

A father felt kind of crestfallen if his wife gave birth to a baby weighing less than eight pounds. The bigger the baby, the healthier it was supposed to be.

Everybody was expected to run away from home at least once before he got out of high school.

The Hobo

Few folks were afraid of a hobo if he knocked on the back door and asked for something to eat. But he usually had to chop some kindling or beat a rug before he got fed.

The $2 bill was common.

You knew a widow was through with mourning and looking for a new husband when she started using henna on her hair.

A radical was anyone who announced openly that he believed in the theory of evolution.

No woman felt her role in this world was complete unless she fainted in public at least once in her lifetime.

Library Commission Meets Monday Night

UNION BEACH — The next meeting of the Union Beach Memorial Library Commission will be held in the library Monday at 8 p.m. Any interested person is invited to attend.

The budget for the year was read and discussed at a recent meeting, and a report was presented by the building and grounds committee that stated there are numerous repairs needed. Outside help will be required for some of the larger repairs.

Sure.

You might find another car as new as the Delta 88.

Power plant is new. Super Rocket V-8 is the biggest in Olds history: 425-cubic-inches big, up to 370-horses strong.

Transmission is new, too. Turbo Hydra-Matic, available on any Delta 88, provides up to 40% more torque from a standing start, superlative performance at all speeds.

New styling. New engine. New transmission. This year, only Delta 88 lets you have all three, all new. Other cars have a lot of catching up to do.

First in the State

Nursing Home Pioneers in Retraining

By JACQUELINE ALBAN

HOLMDEL — There is a crying need for trained nurses' aides to tend more than 8,000 nursing home patients in the state.

Under the farsighted leadership of Mrs. Consula Cuchural, director, a unique job retraining program — the first in the state — is being offered to 14 Monmouth County women — grandmothers, middle-aged, teenagers, Negro, white, and of various creeds.

Tomorrow, they will be awarded certificates for completion of an intensive six-week course here under the federal Manpower Retraining Act established by the Kennedy administration.

Fill Jobs

Purpose of the Retraining Act is to fill jobs that go begging from the ranks of the unemployed — unskilled workers and skilled workers who can't find jobs for which they were originally trained.

Holmdel Nursing Home's pilot program has been approved by the Licensed Nursing Homes Association of New Jersey, the state Department of Education, the Monmouth County Vocational School, and the New Jersey Department of Labor and Education and its Unemployment Division.

Leonard Coyle, executive director of the Licensed Nursing Homes Association, told The Register "All eyes are on Holmdel's program.

"If it proves successful, the association will push for the establishment of other units throughout the state," he stated.

A Lack

Not including licensed practical nurses, there are a minimum of 3,000 trained nurses' aides in New Jersey, he noted, and according to state law, each one is supposed to spend 2½ hours out of every 24 on one patient.

"As you can readily see, it just can't be done with the current lack of trained help," said Mrs. Cuchural.

It was Mrs. Cuchural who thought of pioneering a training program for nursing home aides when she learned that other areas, such as mental health, had instituted programs under the federal Manpower Retraining Act.

She brought her idea to the attention of the Nursing Homes Association, which in turn, negotiated with officials of the federal agency and the state Department of Labor and Education to sponsor a pilot program here.

'Outmoded'

Former methods of training nurses' aides in nursing homes are "outmodeded ,outdated, and a hangover from the Florence Nightingale Days," according to Mrs. Cuchural.

"That method should be retained to a degree, as a way of orienting new people," she said.

The pilot program is geared not only to raise the standards of the nursing home, but also the caliber of nurses' aides and their wage scale, since the three go hand in hand, she stated.

The students taking the course here were recruited by the Asbury Park Employment Service office. Some are former beauticians, waitresses, masseuses, and others are recent high school graduates.

Subsistance

A student who is head of the household, or has a husband who has less than 20 hours of work a week, receives $40 a week subsistence, plus transportation, while attending the training course. The transportation reimbursement is for those who take more than an hour to get to the nursing home, or spend more than $1.

The course is instructed by Mrs. Harold Erichson, a licensed practical nurse employed at the home here for the past eight years. For five days a week, from 9:40 to 4 p.m., a total of six hours, students receive training in basic nursing skills.

In the morning, they work with the home's 41 patients, and in the afternoon, they receive classroom instruction, supplemented by once-a-week training in patient rehabilitation by Mrs. Cleora Brown, rehabilitation nursing consultant of the Division of Constructive Health, state Board of Health.

In addition to utilizing a text prepared by the American Nursing Home Association, films dealing with various phases of patient care, including accident prevention, and what to do in case of fire, are shown to students. Visiting clergymen and doctors from state hospitals stress the spiritual and emotional needs of nursing home patients and offer advice on ways of fulfilling some of these.

Not a course for the unemployed person who is looking for an easy way to "kill six weeks and get paid doing it," the training program is geared to offer as much knowledge on the subject of nursing home care as possible in the time allotted, said Mrs. Cuchural.

"We're tremendously pleased with this first group of students," she added, "They've shown enthusiasm and a sincere desire to learn a new skill."

After tomorrow's "graduation" of the first 14 students, the nursing home will conduct two more six-week training courses, the next one scheduled to start Monday.

"We have faith in this program, and we're hoping it will snowball," remarked Mrs. Cuchural.

At Marlboro

A Year of Innovations

Dr. Nenno said dismantling of 1,000 beds, discharge of more than 700 patients and clearance of all basements to provide living areas were the most outstanding accomplishments of 1964, although the admission rate remains at 2,000 a year, Dr. Nenno said Marlboro continues to have the lowest readmission rate in the state.

He reported that 80 per cent of admissions are given intensive treatment and then returned to the community within 90 days for continued treatment in after-care centers. Geriatric patients comprise the remaining 20 percent. The three after-care centers serving Marlboro Hospital are in Red Bank, for Monmouth County Patients; Elizabeth, for Union County, and Roosevelt Hospital for Middlesex County.

The shortage of personnel continues, accourding to Dr. Nenno, and is expected to increase as more industry moves into the area.

The director also described a "highly successful" experimental program in which 12 and 20 girls from the Tyrell Foundation at the Arthur Brisbane Child Treatment Center, Farmingdale, are brought to the hospital daily to help with geriatric women patients.

Another first for the year was a World Fair trip for patients, the first time patients have been permitted to leave the state for an outing. Trips to beaches and shopping centers were made possible by the donation of three minibusses to the hospital, enabling small groups to make trips off the grounds.

Dr. Nenno also reported that the Vanity and Esquire shops, which supply clothing for patients returning to community life, have been moved into the activities center in Building 8 where more rooms are available for sorting, storage and display.

Auxiliary to Hold Chinese Auction

RARITAN TOWNSHIP — A Chinese auction will be featured at the monthly meeting of the Auxiliary of the Bayshore Community Hospital in the Union Avenue School Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. Members are requested to bring new or "almost-new" items for the auction.

The auxiliary's first dessert-card party will be held at the CobbleStones Restaurant, Rt. 35, Friday, Jan. 29 at 8 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the auxiliary or by contacting Mrs. Francis Beaulieu, 10 Stanford Dr.

To Audition For Chorale

SHREWSBURY — Robert Paterson, president of the board of governors of the Shrewsbury Chorale, has announced the auditions for new members will be held Monday. Principle requisites for chorale membership are ability to read music and previous choral experience.

The chorale, an inter-faith, interracial organization, rehearses each Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Christ Methodist Church, Fair Haven, and annually presents a fall and a spring concert, as well as additional special concerts.

For an audition appointment and additional information, contact Mrs. Paul Durkin, 16 Lake Blvd., Matawan.

Announce Engagements

Miss Gloria Taylor

Miss Jean Marie Blair

EAST KEANSBURG — Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor, 112 Cedar Ave., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gloria Taylor, to John J. Flynn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Flynn, 35 Port Monmouth Rd., Keansburg.

A September wedding is planned.

Both Miss Taylor and Mr. Flynn are graduates of Middletown Township High School. He is employed at Russell Oldsmobile & Cadillac Company, Red Bank.

OAKHURST — Rev. Dr. John D. Blair, 103 Monmouth Rd., announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Jean Marie Blair, to Almon Gillette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillette of Towands, Pa.

Miss Blair, daughter also of the late Mrs. Gladys Blair, is an alumna of Paulsboro High School and Pierce College, Philadelphia. She is an assistant supervisor in the editorial department at Fort Monmouth.

Mr. Gillette is a graduate of Towanda High School and Pennsylvania College where he received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering. He is employed as an electronics engineer, also at Fort Monmouth.

PTA Plans Film Program

NEW SHREWSBURY — A family afternoon at the movies is being planned by Tinton Falls Parent-Teacher Association for Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Tinton Falls School auditorium.

"The Flute and the Arrow" will be the feature part of Saturday's program. A full-length color film which ran commercially, it tells the story of the Muria tribe of central India.

Also on the program are "Around the World in 18 Minutes," a cartoon animation of "Around the World in 80 Days," and "Submerged Glory," a UNESCO film of the campaign to preserve Egyptian monuments of the Upper Nile.

These films have been arranged for by Mrs. Robert Reed, international relations chairman. Similar programs are planned for February and March.

On Campus

Area Students Win Academic Honors

The Hun School of Princeton has commenced its first week of the second term. Dr. Paul R. Chesebro, headmaster, announces that among the 42 boys named to the Honor Roll for the first term is Joseph K. Hemphill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Hemphill, 87 Rumson Rd., Rumson.

Miss Marcia Toland of Red Bank, a senior at Solebury School, New Hope, Pa., has been named to the honor roll by headmaster William P. Orrick. She is the daughter of author John Toland and dance director Dorothy Toland.

Richard Nicoletti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Nicoletti, 8 West Front St., Red Bank; Stephen Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Reynolds, 52 Cloverdale Cir., New Shrewsbury, and Stephen Gallop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel G. Gallop, 125 Winding Way, Little Silver, returned to classes Jan. 4 at Kemper Military School and College, Boonville, Mo.

John G. Merrill, son of Mrs. Jeanne G. Merrill, 67 Woodbine Ave., Little Silver, and a member of the junior class at Darrow School, New Lebanon, N.Y., has attained an honor roll average this past fall semester.

Miss Susan Elaine Mugridge, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Stanley E. Mugridge, 7 Heights Ter., Little Silver, recently was honored with an appointment to the newly-formed Student Court of Eastern Baptist College, St. Davids, Pa. She received this appointment as a result of her academic standing and past activities on other judicial organizations of the college.

Thomas C. Handy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Handy, 61 Hance Rd., Fair Haven, was named to the Mount Hermon School Honor Roll at East Northfield, Mass., for the fall term in recognition of his high scholastic standing. He was among 138 boys to be cited at the 605-student independent secondary school where he is a member of the senior class.

Robert I. Kaplan of Freehold, a student at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, participated in the study program for senior architectural students. Using Long Island's Suffolk County as its location, teams of four students developed a "Master Plan" to absorb the predicted million new residents and accommodate them in new towns instead of formless subdivisions. Part of the project was to build a model town to illustrate what the future holds.

Robert A. Gordon, Class of 1966 at Williston Academy, Easthampton, Mass., is on the second honors list of the academic honor roll. He is the son of Mrs. Frances Gordon, 43 DeNormandie Rd., Fair Haven.

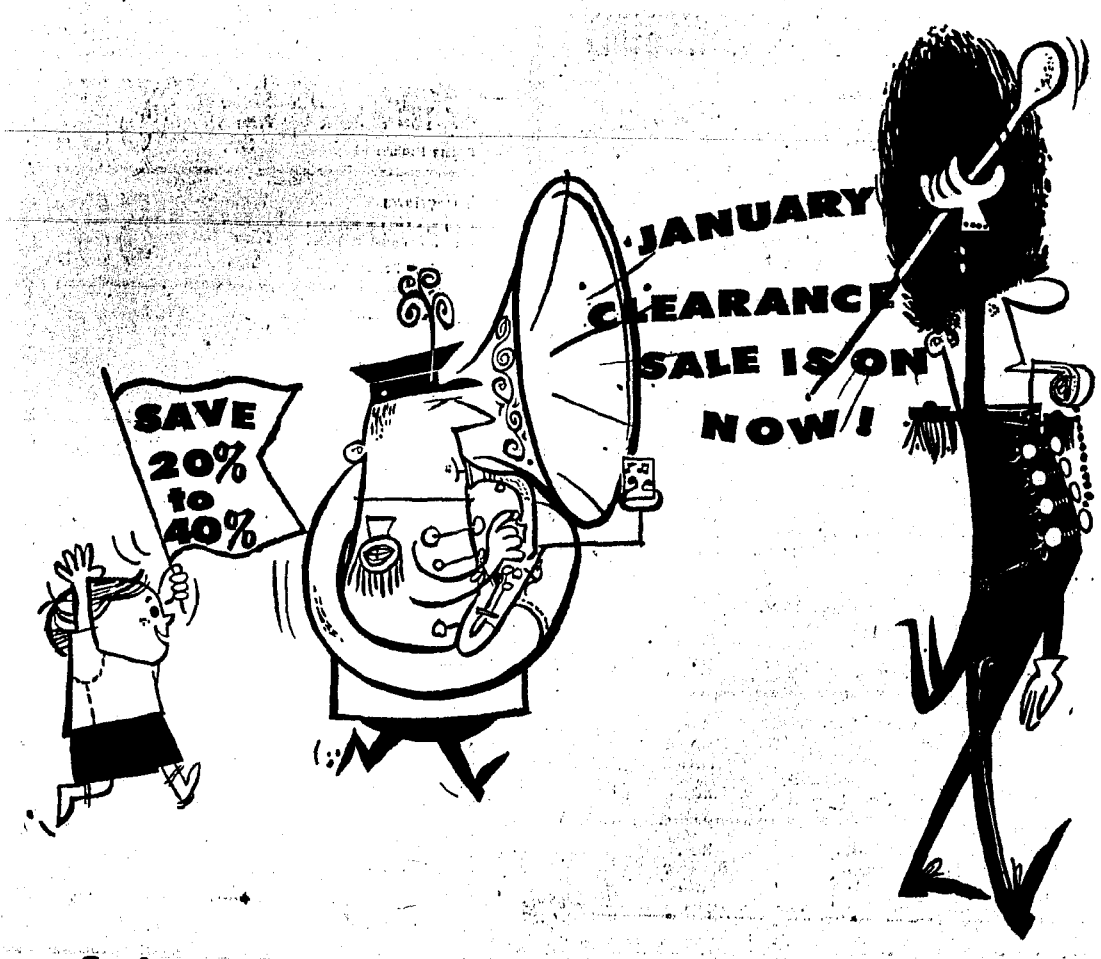

Miss Susan Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Patterson, 512 Riverdale Ave., New Shrewsbury, has been notified of her acceptance to Green Mountain College in Vermont where she will pursue a course of study in retailing. She is a senior at Monmouth Regional High School, New Shrewsbury.

Among the 145 students at Indiana Institute of Technology, Fort Wayne, named to the dean's list in recognition of high academic achievement during the fall quarter is Robert J. Kochanski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kochanski, 7 Elmwood Pl., Leonardo.

SPRING SESSION

FEBRUARY 1 - MAY 27

READING, ENGLISH, STUDY SKILLS

Saturday morning or weekday evenings. This course is offered at all levels from 7th grade through college, with students grouped according to ability. It helps students to read with speed and comprehension, to write grammatically and logically, to spell accurately, and to increase vocabulary. This course is popular with serious students who want to improve school grades and to prepare for college boards or other exams. We have classes to meet the needs of the fastest students.

READING for children in grades 1-6

Two 1½ hour meetings a week after school. This course emphasizes phonics and sight vocabulary, paragraph comprehension, phase reading. The children meet in small groups according to reading ability.

MATHEMATICS

Courses at all levels from basic arithmetic through advanced algebra and analytics. All courses are planned to develop a logical approach to problem-solving and to develop facility in applying mathematical processes accurately.

A Look At Newark

By ELEANOR MARKO

A total of $1,150 in purchase awards went to five artists in the Ninth Annual Exhibition of Contemporary New Jersey Art staged by Bamberger's New Jersey in its Newark store. It opened last week and will continue through Jan. 29.

The jury reviewed more than 500 works submitted and chose to hang 127 paintings, graphics and placed three pieces of sculpture.

But don't look for any Monmouth County artists.

There are none in this show to which the store reports "artists from the entire state of New Jersey were invited."

Not even a reject is from the shore area.

A check of four local centers which in previous years have always received advanced notice of this annual event, including the first show by David L. Yunich who was then president of Bam's, indicates no prospectuses have been seen around, nor at this desk.

How do you figure this out for an exhibition that has prided itself on its "statewide" scope?

Many of those in the awards circle, as well as those represented in the show are well-known in the shore area. Some have returned here time after time.

Serving on the jury of selection were William H. Gerdts, curator of painting and sculpture for the Newark Museum; Michael Lenson, art critic for the Newark Evening News, and Homer Hill, one of the state's leading illustrators. They selected five works for inclusion in Bamberger's permanent collection of contemporary New Jersey art. Awards paid were pre-determined by the price the artist had placed on his particular work.

Purchase award winners were Hans Weingaertner of Belleville for a watercolor, "Saturday Afternoon Quiet;" Michael Meriucci, Newark, collage; Richard C. Straley, Maplewood, a six-foot figurative oil; Harold W. Taylor, Jr., East Orange; dry point sketch, and Laura Robbins, Glen Ridge, for a small print made from a collage of ordinary window screening.

Since Bam's is a household word here in Monmouth as well as the five other centers in which the store is located; and since this is to be publicized as a statewide show in which the best is presumably being shown of contemporary art in New Jersey — why not ask that they spill out of the northern net and release some invitations once again to the shore area next year. It's bad enough to be rejected in a show, but when it's at invitation level, then the word "statewide" is a misnomer.

STEPHEN BAGNELL of Wall Township is showing a collection of his large figurative paintings — among them his new works in yellow spectrum, at The Raven, 1300 Ocean Ave., Sea Bright. Steve is one of the few painters who has the Bamberger's one-man show spotlight to his credit list of former exhibitions. There will be a reception for him Sunday at 4 p.m. There also will be an interlude of harpsichord music by Feliz Molzer.

ROSE OSBORNE of Eatontown will open in a one-man show Sunday in the Old Mill Gallery, Sycamore Ave., Tinton Falls. The reception for the artist marking her first exhibition, will be held from 3 to 6 p.m.

Born in Union City and a resident here since 1948 after a move from Tennessee, Mrs. Osborne has developed a rich palette in her diversity of subjects — including the Old Mill where she received her basic training.

Director Geza DeVegh terms the artist "a consistant craftsman with a fine sense of balance and design." She incorporates a palette knife and brush technique.

The exhibition will be open daily from 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Sundays 1 to 5:30 p.m., through Jan. 31.

GRACE GILKESON of Little Silver, will demonstrate her fused glass technique at Monmouth Art Gallery's next Coffee Hour Thursday, Jan. 21 at 9:30 a.m. in the clubhouse of the Junior Service League of Monmouth, 10 Center St., Rumson. Until the time arrives she'll be breaking up — discarded glass, that is — in preparation for the designing of free forms which are gaining attention as collectors' items.

A graduate of William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., Mrs. Gilkeson is a trained occupational therapist. Right now it's trained on her own hobby since she does have three children, a husband and a house to fill her time.

LAJOS MARKOS is among 21 artists represented in the "First Realist Invitational" opening Wednesday in the Fitzgerald Gallery at 718 Madison Ave., New York City. The black tie opening reception will be Tuesday evening.

Markos, who now has a studio in New York City, began to attract attention to his outstanding portraiture in the Perth Amboy and Matawan area some 10 years ago. An academecian trained abroad, Mr. Markos had a one-man show in those early years at the Old Mill Gallery in Tinton Falls. His portraits became popular in the Washington government circles among other cities including New York. Many artists in the shore area were taught by Markos, including Lexcy Staer of Matawan, whose work still reflects his direction.

The Fitzgerald Gallery is one of the relatively few in the United States that sponsors the works of contemporary realist artists. Now in a new location after four years downtown, the gallery will continue this new show through Feb. 13. It is open five days a week — Tuesday through Saturday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

STATEWIDE EXHIBITION — Monmouth College Festival of Fine Arts Exhibition will take place April 25 through May 15.

All New Jersey artists interested in entering must have entry cards and work due March 21. Write Harold H. Alexander, chairman, and associate professor of art at the West Long Branch campus.

Media will be oil, watercolor and sculpture. Steinbach Company, Asbury Park and Red Bank, will sponsor the cash awards.

Want to serve an old-fashioned main course that is as delicious today as it was years ago when it was first served? Offer your family and friends fried chicken fritters, crisp bacon. Serve maple syrup with the fritters if you like.

Monmouth Arts Foundation Names 20 Merit Scholars

RED BANK — Fourteen high school artists and six young musicians have been named for the 1964 Merit Scholarship Awards of Monmouth Arts Foundation. The 20 winners, all students at high schools in Monmouth County, were chosen from a record number of 76 applicants.

Winners in the field of art are Barbara Harrison and Sandra Wall, Little Silver; Dorothea C. McGay, Eatontown, and Carol Shirley, Eatontown; Gale Westee, New Shrewsbury; Edmund Stafford, Long Branch; Lynn O. Thompson and Boris Vischnevsky, Freehold; Naran Andreer, Farmingdale; Eugene Emmons, Neptune; Elizabeth Flynn, Deal; Charlotte MacGillis, Englishtown; Kathleen Mitchell, Oakhurst, and Mark A. Stamaty, Elberon.

Winning artists, each of whom submitted six works, were chosen by Paul Lehr, Locust; and Barry Martin and Mrs. Roberta Carter Clark, both of Rumson. Judging was on the basis of originality, technique, artistic ability and potential.

Applicants for music awards presented 15-minute recitals before the judges: Gilman Collier, Oakhurst, in whose studio the auditions took place; Robert Lehrfeld, Oakhurst; Marx Kayne, Shark River; Alphonso Tomaino, Red Bank; John Schoening, Tinton Falls, and Carl Bannwart and Guerin Olivola, Middletown. The judges made their choices on the basis of artistic ability, stage presence, technique, suitability of selection and potential.

The Merit Scholarships are honorary, but recipients of the awards who need financial assistance to continue their studies may apply to the foundation for financial grants. Grants are awarded according to need and dependent on the extent of available funds, which come from voluntary contributions. Gifts may be made to the Scholarship Committee, Monmouth Arts Foundation, P. O. Box 453, Red Bank.

Certificates of merit will be presented to the winners by their high schools at graduation. The foundation also plans to sponsor a combined art show and recital by scholarship recipients in the spring.

Chorus Begins Rehearsals

MIDDLETOWN — The Community Chorus will begin rehearsals for its spring choral concert Monday at 8 p.m. in the Bayshore Community Church, Rt. 36, East Keansburg. The concert, scheduled for May, will include a selection of folk songs, early music, hymns and popular selections. Marvin Fichter is director.

CalderShow Extended To Jan. 31

NEW YORK — Thomas M. Messer, director of The Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum, announced that in view of the unprecedented response to its current Alexander Calder exhibition, the exhibit, which was scheduled to close will be extended to Jan. 31. The exhibition has attracted more visitors than any other in the museum's history, including the recent Van Gogh exhibit.

Consisting of 361 objects selected from every phase of Calder's long career, the exhibition is the largest assemblage ever presented of the work of a living American artist.

The Gustav Klimt and Egon Schiele exhibition and the William Baziotes Memorial Exhibition, which follow the Calder show at the Guggenheim, will both open to the public Feb. 5. These two exhibitions will run concurrently, the former through March 21 and the latter through April 18.

Courses Offered

LONG BRANCH — Courses in painting—oil and watercolor—and ceramics are offered at the Long Branch Community Adult School under the direction of William Godoski, an alumnus of Carnegie Institute of Technology. Art instructor at the high school and adult school for many years, Mr. Godoski will teach the primaries of learning to see beauty and recording it. Ceramics will include the making of vases, figurines and ashtrays.

Registrations are being accepted at the school today. Further information may be received on additional registration dates Jan. 18 and 21 between 7 and 9 p.m. at Long Branch High School. Registration also may be made by mail.

Weingaertner Opens Today in Museum Show

NEWARK — "Hans Weingaertner, Artist and Teacher," an exhibition arranged as a tribute to one of New Jersey's leading painters and a dedicated teacher of art, opens today in the Community Gallery of the Newark Museum, 49 Washington St. Including more than a dozen works by Mr. Weingaertner and several by his students, the exhibition will continue through Feb. 7.

Born in Draiburg, Bavaria, Weingaertner studied at the Royal Academy (now the National Academy) in Munich. Upon arrival in the United States in 1922, he worked as a designer for John Kliegl, manufacturer of the famous "Klieg-lights." He began exhibiting his paintings in New York City in 1929 and has since been represented in most of the major exhibitions in this country, including a one-man show at the Brooklyn Museum in 1932 and exhibitions at the Carnegie Institute, Art Institute of Chicago, Corcoran Gallery, National Academy of Design, Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts and the Whitney Museum of American Art. In New Jersey, he has exhibited frequently at the Montclair Art Museum, the Newark Museum and the State Museum in Trenton. Besides being represented in many private collections here and abroad, Mr. Weingaertner has works in the permanent collections of the National Academy in Munich, the Newark Museum, Rutgers University and current Bamberger's Exhibition of Contemporary New Jersey Art. Mr. Weingaertner, formerly of Lyndhurst, is a resident of Belleville.

Mr. Weingaertner's painting is precise and realistic, with occasional Cubist overtones. His work retains the emotional intensity of the Expressionist movement, a powerful art influence in the Germany of his youth. However, Weingaertner had made an early about-face from the distortions of the Expressionists and turned to the "New Objectivity" of artists like Otto Dix. His work is noted for a vigorous style, often starkly dramatic, almost religious in feeling. He employs a wide variety of subject matter, including figures, animals and landscapes.

Hans Weingaertner has taught painting and drawing at the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Art for the past 19 years. During that the time he has gained a reputation as an inspiring teacher who has helped to guide the beginning careers of many leading New Jersey artists. A representative selection of works by some of his former students will be included in the exhibition. Among them are Manuel Ayaso, Newark; John Brzostoski, River Plaza; Leo Dee, Maplewood; Roger Flyn, East Orange; Edwin Havas, Parsippany; Marcia Marx, Millburn, and Geronimo Russell, Summit.

Mr. Brzostoski, art teacher at Red Bank High School, well-known for his abstracts and expert in the field of Asian art, is showing an oil "Maha Mudra" (Great Symbol—Buddhism).

MAJOR EXHIBITIONS

NEW YORK — Two major drawing exhibitions opening Tuesday and continuing through Feb. 21 at the Gallery of Modern Art, including the Huntington Hartford Collection, Columbus Cir., will be the "Major 19th and 20th Century Drawings" of historic interest, and the Drawing Society New York Regional Exhibition.

Mangan Balks on Eatontown Trailer Park Issue

EATONTOWN — Newly elected Councilman Bruce J. Mangan made his presence felt in two matters before Borough Council last night.

When the license renewal application for Woodlawn Trailer Park, Rt. 35, came up, Mr Mangan insisted on knowing whether conditions under which the park's 1964 license was issued have been fulfilled.

The trailer park operated without a license until Nov. 18, because of a number of ordinance violations reportedly in existence on the property.

On that date, Borough Council granted a license, acting on the report if Councilman Leon B. Smock, Jr., Joseph A. Kellenyi, and Edward O. Clark that low electrical voltage, low water pressure, and insufficient spacing between trailers had been corrected.

The license was issued on condition that the park obtain a street lighting contract within "a reasonable time," and supply council a plot plan of the park layout by Jan. I.

Neither condition has been fulfilled, it developed last night.

In answer to Mr. Mangan's query, Councilman Clark said the park is "in process" of complying with the conditions.

"The water pressure, the electrical voltage, and the spacing are okay," Mr. Kellenyi added.

"Well, they've had 10 weeks to comply with the conditions," Mr. Mangan pointed out. "I think council should hold off issuing the license till they are met."

Councilmen agreed unanimously.

But Mr. Mangan was not through. "I think it would do no harm to have the committee (Councilmen Smock, Clark, and Kellenyi) make another inspection before the license is issued," he insisted.

The committee will inspect the park and report at the next council meeting.

Still not satisfied, Mr. Mangan went on, "I think these trailer parks should be told that all of them will be inspected before renewal licenses are issued."

The committee will inspect all trailer parks in the borough before licenses are renewed.

Mr. Mangan, lone council Democrat, was heard again when a request from the newly-organized Eatontown National Bank to erect a sign came up.

The bank wishes to erect a sign on the northeast corner of the intersection of the Garden State Parkway spur and Wyckoff Rd., directing motorists to its branch opposite Bamberger's in the Monmouth Shopping Center.

The sign would be in an area where such signs are prohibited by the sign ordinance.

A special use permit has been requested by bank officials. The sign would be temporary; it would come down when the bank's main office at Wyckoff Rd. and Rt. 35 is completed.

"How can we do it?" Mr. Mangan asked Borough Attorney Henry J. Saling. "Wasn't there a case in all the newspapers recently where a court decided such a permit is illegal?"

"We've done it before," remarked Councilman Smock. "I don't see what makes it illegal all of a sudden."

Mr. Saling would give no opinion off the cuff. "I'll have to study the ordinances," he said.

"I suggest that it be given to the attorney for study—especially in view of the controversy over signs in the borough last summer," Mr. Mangan commented.

On motion of Councilman Theodore Zebrowski, the matter was tabled pending study by Mr. Saling.

FOR GREEN ACRES — State and Raritan Township officials are preparing final documents for acquisition, by the township, of the 34-acre Straniero tract off Middle Rd., at a cost of $105,000. Green Acres state aid will pay $52,500 and federal aid another $21,000 leaving $31,500 as the municipal share. Here, Warren J. Roggeman, left, acting chairman of the township's Recreation Commission, goes over maps with Howard J. Wolf, center, Green Acres director for the state Department of Conservation and Economic Development, and Raritan Township Attorney Philip J. Blanda, Jr in Mr. Blanda's office. The commission intends to spend about $10,000 this year developing the tract for recreational purposes.

Problem Will Receive Thorough Study

Eatontown Council Delays Apartments Moratorium

EATONTOWN — Action was deferred last night on a moratorium on garden apartment construction requested of Borough Council by the Planning Board.

The matter was laid over until council has time to consider it thoroughly.

The Planning Board, which approved Monday a 376-unit project proposed by Sixteenth National Corp. of Newark, resolved to recommend the moratorium, allowing no additional construction until zoning ordinance provisions have been studied.

The planners wish to tighten requirements in the R-4 (multiple dwelling) and R-5 (garden apartment) zones. They feel garden apartment construction may have got out of hand in the borough, since all but 600 of about 2,100 garden apartment units contemplated by the master plan have been built or approved.

Stiffer requirements might include approval of building sketches—the planners now approve only site locations—and limitations on the number of apartment units which may be built at any designated time.

Construction might also be made contingent on rental of units already erected, the Planning Board feels.

In their recommendation, the planners pointed out a loophole in present regulations applying to the R-4 multiple dwelling zone.

Present regulations permit construction of six apartment units per acre. At least one developer has interpreted this rule to allow construction of an 18-unit garden apartment in one building on a three-acre plot.

They pointed out to council that if such a developer comes back later for a variance to build additional units on the unused portion of his land, his arguments will be hard to refute.

Also laid over for consideration in detail by council was the Planning Board's recommendations for the M-1 industrial zone, drawn up with the aid of Herbert H. Smith Associates of Trenton, borough master planners.

Planners feel the present requirements for 5-acre minimum lot sizes and 20,000-square-foot buildings should be changed. They suggest dropping the lot size minimum to four acres and permitting development of industrial parks on 20-acre plots as integrated projects.

The point, the planners said, is to gain flexibility.

Thus far, attempts to attract industry to Eatontown have been notably successful.

Introduced and adopted on first reading was an ordinance creating the post of borough administrative assistant.

The position will pay $6,000 yearly. The administrative assistant will hold office until Dec. 31 of the year of his appointment.

His job will be co-ordination between Borough Council and other arms of the municipal government, plus liaison and co-operation with neighboring municipalities.

George A. Morgan of 19 Elizabeth Pkwy., approved by council Dec. 23, will take office as borough administrative assistant Feb. 1, the day set for public hearing and final adoption of the ordinance.

Shrewsbury Sunday School Variance Remains Stalled

SHREWSBURY — Attorneys agreed to submit memoranda to settle one point of law, but that's as far as Rev. John Deegan's Sunday School construction plans got before the Board of Adjustment last night.

The board granted another one-month adjournment in the hearing of the variance request. The pastor of First Assembly of God Church, Sycamore Ave., will be back before the board Feb. 10 to try again.

The church wants to build a 27 by 47-foot wing, and won site plan approval from the Planning Board last April.

Applied In May

In May, Rev. Deegan applied for a variance to be allowed to build the wing in a residential zone, and in July the variance was denied by a three-man quorum of the Board of Adjustment.

The case was reopened in August, before a full board, and it was because a full board was not present last night that another adjournment was granted. James Hughes was absent because of illness.

In September the board did not have a quorum, in October the hearing was started, and in November and December adjournments were granted because Rev. Deegan was ill.

Board members last night expressed the hope that all interested parties will be fit in February.

Before the next meeting, William R. Blair, Jr., attorney for the objectors, will submit a memo supporting his motion for dismissal. He cited a statute that says a variance application shall be considered denied if a decision is not handed down within 90 days of the start of the proceedings.

HOSPITAL FUND DONATION—The New Jersey Bell Telephone Information and Toll Operators have donated $221.66 to the Greater Freehold Area Hospital, Inc. The operators raised the money from the sale of coffee and doughnuts throughout the year. H. M. Seeley, telephone local commercial manager and member of the board of trustees of the hospiltal, is shown receiving the money from Mrs. Lavina Davis, left, and Miss Barbara O'Kane.

To Sponsor Resolution

NEWARK (AP) —Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., said Wednesday that he will join in sponsoring a senate resolution condemning persecution of Jews in the Soviet Union.

Consider Television To Watch Prisoners

MIDDLETOWN—Mayor Ernest G. Kavalek, police committee chairman, is considering the possibility of having closed circuit television installed in the cell block of the new police headquarters.

The mayor said the layout of the new police headquarters is such that the cell block is at the far end of a hall — a considerable distance from the main police desk.

Mr. Kavalek said that in wake over the weekend tragedy in Highlands where an Air Force man died of burns suffered in a fire in a cell block, it might be wise to look into some system of keeping closer watch on prisoners.

Mr. Kavalek said he did not know at this point if a closed circuit system would be practical or economically feasible but that it should be investigated.

Capt. Raymond T. Walling, detective division chief, said it was his understanding when construction was started that closed circuit TV was being considered for the cell block.

The captain said he was strongly in favor of installing such a system.

Hearing Set On Trenton Road Plan

TRENTON (AP) — The State Highway Department today scheduled a public hearing for Feb. 16 to outline its plan for a major East-West road from Trenton to Asbury Park.

The hearing, to be held at the Monmouth Grange Hall in Howell Township, will center on a proposal to widen existing Route 33 to four lanes from Hightstown to the Asbury Park area, a distance of 18 miles.

The proposed widening is part of a plan which also provides for linking Trenton with the New Jersey Turnpike near Hightstown, a distance of 12 miles.

The Trenton to Hightstown section would be a toll road while the 18 mile stretch from Hightstown to Asbury Park would be toll-free. The toll portion of the plan is subject to approval by the New Jersey Turnpike Authority, which would pay for construction.

The cost of widening existing Route 33 would be shared by the state and federal governments.

The hearing is scheduled for 10:30 a.m.

Freehold Man Will Be Cited

TRENTON (AP) — The New Jersey Poultry Industry's distinguished service awards will be presented Jan. 28 to the president of the Poultry Association and a State Agriculture official.

Secretary of Agriculture Phillip Alampi said the awards would be given to Robert Herman of Freehold, president of the New Jersey State Poultry Association, and A. C. Schlott of Milford, manager of the New Jersey Poultry Products Council of the State Agriculture Department.

They will be given the "Golden Egg" awards at a New Jersey Farmers Week dinner.

School Budget Hearing Slated

FAIR HAVEN — Public hearing on the $664,665 school budget for 1965-66 proposed by the Board of Education will be held Thursday, Jan. 21, at 8 p.m. at the Willow Street School auditorium.

Members of the board will explain the proposal which will be voted upon by the public Feb. 9. Questions will be invited.

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold a candidates' night and budget discussion Feb. 1, providing an opportunity for voters to meet and question board aspirants.

KIWANIS CITATION—Kiwanis District Governor Fred M. King, left, presents a distinguished service award to Roland Pierson, chairman of the committee that organized the new New Shrewsbury Kiwanis Club. The presentation was made this week at a meeting of the Red Bank Kiwanis, which sponsored the new unit.

Keansburg Planners Await Renewal Report

KEANSBURG — The Local Planning Agency (LPA) expects to receive a proposal in about a week from Denholtz and Deutsch, Iselin, for development of the Grandview urban renewal area.

C. Bernard Blum, executive director, said representatives of the firm have indicated they are willing to propose construction of a motel and restaurant along with multi-family housing units for the area.

The firm's original offer only dealt with apartment units which disappointed members of the LPA.

Mr. Blum said that once a detailed proposal is received, the LPA will then confer with company representatives.

He also reported that he had received a financial statement on the firm from the National State Bank, Newark.

Mr. Blum said that the firm now has assets of more than $1 million.

Blum said Denholtz and Deutsch has retained Roche and Roche, Clifton, architects, to design facilities it proposed to build on property included in the urban renewal program.

The LPA expects to receive bids in about three weeks for demolition of 41 remaining structures in the 17 acre area, he said.

Paris Elected Club Leader

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — Strathmore Democrats last night elected Marvin Paris club president.

Serving with him through 1965 will be Stanley Spiegel, first vice president; Robert Shapiro, second vice president; Alvin Margulies, treasurer; David Schwartz, corresponding secretary, and Walter Gehricke, recording secretary.

Club members put finishing touches to plans for the Democratic victory dinner Jan. 30 in St. Bernadette's Church Hall.

Stanley W. Dublin, out-going club president, said more than 600 local Democrats will attend the dinner.

School Budget Is Questioned At Highlands

HIGHLANDS — The Board of Education last night unanimously adopted its $171,635 budget for the 1965-66 school year following a public hearing.

The spending schedule, if approved by voters, will represent an increase of $20,905 over the current year and will require $113,425 to be raised by taxation, an increase of $38,694.

Edward J. Petrasek, 36 Bayside Dr., one of the dozen residents attending the hearing, told board members that the budget increase coupled with that of Henry Hudson Regional School, would bring the local tax rate to $4.08 per hundred dollars assessed evaluation. He later said this figure was estimated by Mayor Cornelius J. Guiney, Jr. at a meeting of the governing body.

William Mercier, member of the board of assessors, told the board its spending schedule hike represents a $1,000,000 increase in ratables, adding that the borough is expected to actually realize ratable increases of about $225,000 this year.

Although Board auditor Herbert A. Caruso did not comment on estimated tax rate increases, Mr. Mercier said he estimates the rate will increase "to over $4" from the present $3.71 per hundred dollars assessed evaluation.

Following questions from the public — the majority submitted by Mr. Petrasek and Mr. Mercier — board members acknowledged that instructional salaries, up $16,000 from the current year, are the major factor in the budget hike.

Because of what board members called "competition from other schools," they plan an across-the-board salary increase of $450 above the state minimum salary guide, now in effect here.

Members also cited the $5,000 salary share the board anticipates paying in the proposed joint remedial reading instruction program with Atlantic Highlands grade school and Henry Hudson Regional.

In another comment on teachers' salaries and the board's competitive position, members said they did not receive "a single application from a bona fide teacher last year."

Mr. Caruso referred to the preparation of the 1965-66 budget as "not too complicated." He said it is based on actual needs for operation of the school.

The auditor pointed out that the decision to use only $30,000 from its surplus (as opposed to $45,000 for the current year) was made by the board on his recommendation.

He said the surplus account has become "depleted" from withdrawal of funds over the past two years. Board members have previously indicated that the proposed $30,000 withdrawal may leave the district with less than $20,000 in the surplus account.

Board members said the estimated cost-per-pupil of education here under the proposed spending schedule will be $427, claiming this to be less than both Atlantic Highlands and Henry Hudson Regional.

In other business, the board appointed George C. Ellis, 103 Water Witch Ave., to fill the remaining one-year term left open by the recent resignation of board president Samuel Silberblatt. Stewart D. King, formerly vice president, is now president of the board.

Recreation Plan Sought

TRENTON (AP) — The State Conservation Department said Wednesday it has applied for federal funds to develop a master plan for outdoor recreation.

Conservation Commissioner Robert A. Roe said New Jersey has asked for $180,000 in federal funds for the undertaking. The state would supply an additional $90,000, mostly by using present personnel to conduct the study, he said.

When New Jersey's master plan is completed, the state will be eligible for up to $3 million in grants over a three-year period for the acquisition and development of parks under the Federal Land and Water Conservation Act, Roe said.

Danskin to Address Young Republican Club

WEST DEAL—Freeholder Benjamin H. Danskin will address the January meeting of the Monmouth County Young Republican Club, as announced by George Hespe, club president. The meeting will be held at the Admiral's Table, Rt. 35, Monday, Jan. 18, at 8:30 p.m. Mr. Danskin will give an analysis of problems and opportunities facing Monmouth County.

RETIRES—Mrs. Mary F. Herbert of 369 Beecroft Pl., Oakhurst, who is retiring after 23 yeas of federal service receives a Certificate of Appreciation from Brig. gen. J. Wilson Johnston, commanding general of the U.S. Army Satellite Communications (SATCOM) Agency at Fort Monmouth.

Mrs. Herbert Retires at Fort

FORT MONMOUTH —In a recent ceremony here, Mrs. Mary F. Herbert, wife of Woodrow Herbert of 369 Beecroft Pl., Oakhurst, received a Certificate of Appreciation from Brig Gen. J. Wilson Johnston, commanding general of the U.S. Army Satellite Communications (SATCOM) Agency upon her retirement after 23 years of federal service because of a physical disability.

She joined the SATCOM Agency shortly after it was organized in 1960 as the U.S. Army ADVENT Management Agency and has been employed as a travel clerk in administrative services office. In 1962 she received a Sustained Superior Performance Award for her outstanding work.

Her certificate stated, "Mrs. Herbert's unusual ability to evaluate travel requirements for agency personnel; her expert knowledge of travel regulations and her quick and accurate accomplishment of tasks set her apart and far above the average in the field of travel. Her untiring devotion to duty, initiative and her splendid spirit of co-operation contributed much to the travel operation of the agency."

Lochslea Club Elects

Also elected and installed at the meeting were Robert Meyer, vice president; Mrs. Pat Manzo, recording secretary; Mrs. Peter Koelsch, corresponding secretary, and J. Donald Miller, treasurer.

Donald Day, retiring president, reviewed the accomplishments of the club during the past year. Mr. Day will represent the club at this week's Board of Education meeting and express views of the club regarding the cost of the additional buses to transport children within the two-mile limit to the schools.

The club sees the cost figure in the school budget as excessive. It feels an estimate of $30,000 is more realistic.

Plans for the coming year were outlined by the new president. The club will continue to sponsor the Easter egg hunt in Lochslea Heights, its annual dinner dance; a float for a parade; water activites at Lake Lefferts, Fourth of July and Labor Day picnics and a Halloween parade for the area children.

State to Get 30 Troopers

TRENTON (AP) — Thirty-four new state police troopers will be sworn in Friday by Major David B. Kelly, acting state police superintendent.

The new troopers have completed a 12-week training course at the state police academy at Sea Girt. They will be assigned to units for two months and then return to the academy for two additional weeks of training before they are permanently assigned.

Also graduating with the class will be six motor vehicle inspectors, who will be assigned to the motor vehicle division.

Write to George!

(Write to George and for a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped and fragrantly scented envelope.)

Dear George:

My son has a very young and beautiful teacher in one of his classes and he is very much smitten with her. He is 17 and at an impressionable age and I am wondering if this will have any effect on his education.

Concerned

Dear Concerned:

Oh, without a doubt. I still remember a little brunette I used to have for a teacher when I was a senior. She had quite an effect on my education. If it hadn't been for her, the entire year would have been frittered away learning Ancient History.

Dear George:

We have an argument going. If a stamp collector is a philatelist, what do you call a man who collects postmarks?

B. N.

Dear B. N.:

John R. Wumbly. Actually, I call him "Fatso," but of course I've know him for years.

Dear George:

Advice columnists must be terribly egotistical. What makes you think you can solve the involved and complicated problems of total strangers?

How do you and the other advice columnists justify this in your own minds?

Just Curious

Dear Just Curious:

I don't know how the others justify it, but they seem to me to do a pretty good job—I write them with my problems all the time. Just last week I was told to get more hobbies, go on bird walks and not allow anybody to kiss me on a first date.

As for me, I don't worry about justifying it. I figure if anybody is confused enough to write to me in the first place, they have no way to go but up.

Dear George:

What do you think of a fellow who calls a girl "honey" even though he hardly knows her?

Insulted

Dear Insulted:

Kiwanis Chairmen Are Named

EATONTOWN — Committee heads for the year were appointed by president George Macomber at a recent meeting of the Kiwanis Club of New Shrewsbury.

Named were: youth service, Arthur Kiger; boy and girl activities, Jonni Falk; Key Club, Norman Wruble; vocational guidance, Hy Newman.

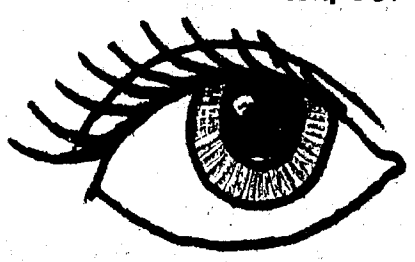

Agriculture and conservation, Philip Pica and J. Reid Harrison; intercommunity relations, John W. Van Brunt; public and business, Carl Quaglia; support of churches and spiritual, Rev. John Collins.

Kiwanis education and attendance, Mr. Curdt; membership development, Herbert Green; new club building, Mr. Van Brunt; programs and music, Charles Steen; public relations, Jonni Falk and Charles Cluna, and reception, Frank Megan.

Again Ask Board To Bus Pupils

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—Mrs. Vivian Poli, Ocean Blvd., appeared before the Board of Education last night as a representative of a group of mothers to again request that the board provide transportation for their children.

Mrs. Poli presented the board with a letter from the Monmouth County superintendent of schools, Earl B. Garrison which stated that it was up to the municipality to provide a means for protecting children enroute to a school.

At the present time, Mrs. Poli said, there are 46 children riding the privately-financed bus from the Ocean Blvd. area.

The cost of the bus is $40 per week, she continued, and it takes about eight hours a week to collect the $1 per pupil charge from the parents.

Mrs. Poli claimed that two parents are dropping out and, if any more do this, the per-child cost will have to increase.

"This," she said, "probably will cause other parents to drop out."

George H. Wuesthoff, the superintendent of schools, said that he had received confirmation from Mr. Garrison's office that the municipality would not receive state aid for busing the children since they are within two miles of the school.

He said that if the board did provide transportation within the borough it would be required to transport parochial school children along the route.

The board also would have to provide transportation for students from other areas of the municipality, he added.

The cost of busing, Mr. Wuesthoff estimated, would probably run close to $10,000. The board can not appropriate that amount at this time, he contended.

Various members of the board expressed the view that they definitely are concerned with the childrens' safety. However, they said that they also are concerned with the number and cost of the buses required.

The board decided to arrange for a joint meeting with the parents and Borough Council to see if something could be done to provide a safe passage for the children coming down from the hill.

Mrs. Poli then said: "If a cheaper way could be found, either by a traffic light or crossing guard, we would be glad to accept it."

In other business the board appointed Emanuel Orlick to the substitute teacher list and approved the purchase and installation of an electric kiln.

The board announced that the budget hearing has been set for Wednesday, Jan. 27 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Clark Promoted To Cadet Captain

A. Thomas Clark

NEW BRUNSWICK — A. Thomas Clark son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Clark of 71 Borden St., Shrewsbury, has been promoted to cadet captain and will be training officer in Rutgers Ranger Force, an elite ROTC company at Rutgers University. The force, patterned after the U.S. Army Rangers and guerrilla warfare combat units, stresses physical fitness and leadership.

A senior and business administration major, Clark is captain of the Rutgers cheerleaders, a preceptor, a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity and president of the Booster Club. He plans a career in business after serving in the Army.

Strathmore Club Dinner Planned

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — The Strathmore Bath and Tennis Club will hold its first winter dinner-dance Sunday, Feb. 21, at the Step Inn, Sayreville. Reservations have been limited to 300 persons and no reservations will be accepted after Feb. 7.

The cocktail hour will be 7 to 8 p.m. and dinner from 8 to 9 o'clock. A roast beef dinner will be served. There will be music by the John Mosko band until 1 a.m., with a midnight buffet.

SPOT HEAT ON THE FARM

They can be used about the farmstead and for pump protection, insurance against water pipe freezing, for the comfort of animals and workers, for easier starting of the car, truck or tractor through the use of headbolt heaters and any similar type services.

Infra-red heat lamps give a sense of comfort to the operator. Hung in the milking parlor or over the work bench they provide necessary heat without the expense of warming the room.

Heating cable or tape can be used to wrap water pipes, to melt snow on walks, sidewalks, driveways and to warm the floor for animal brooders.

Centerville School Sold For $45,000

That was the word last night as Centerville School purchase by Brinks Investment Corp., 303 Carr Ave., Keansburg, was approved by the Board of Education.

The board unanimously approved the $45,000 bid made last Wednesday after Dr. Philip Rabin moved to have the offer held over for further study.

Contracts to low bidders on renovation of the Hillcrest School were approved with unanimous votes.

Sarbo, Inc., Middletown, was awarded a contract for heating, air conditioning and plumbing at a cost of $8,350.

Electrical work will be performed by A. H. Electric Co., Port Monmouth, at a cost of $3,975.

Contracts call for all work to be completed by May 15.

The building, when completed, will house all administrative offices of the school board.

No definite plans have been made for use of Old Village School which presently serves as board headquarters.

John J. Landers, board president, said there may be necessity to move one special class into the building in September. (See related story Page One.)

Board Secretary George S. Kinkade, in requesting 1963 surplus funds be transferred to 1964's budget, said that the board possibly will end the year with a surplus in current funds of less than $20,000. At present, the 1963 net surplus is $29,656.

He reported receipt of $28,796, as a second installment of this year's state aid funds.

Mr. Landers said the gymnasium floor in Village School should be ready for use by Feb. 1. The new floor has been completed but will require several coats of polish and must then remain unused for 10 days, he said. The board voted to reinvest $200,000 in unused building funds for a 35-day period.

Mr. Landers announced that the Village School Parent-Teachers' Association will hold a public meeting to present school board candidates Monday night. The Indian Hill PTA will conduct a similar meeting Tuesday night.

He set Monday, Feb. 15 as the date for organization of the new board following Feb. 9 elections in which five members will be selected.

A Home on the Road Back

NEWARK (AP) — Fourteen former drug addicts, burglars, muggers and other ex-convicts live here together in a somewhat dilapidated house in the city's South Ward.

A once fashionable town estate, the building is now the Robert Bruce House for parolees from the state reformatories at Bordentown and Annandale and the State Home for Boys at Jamesburg.

Residents stay here for a maximum of four months. Their mission — to prepare themselves for the difficult journey back into the ranks of society.

Here they live as a single family, tending to the chores of housekeeping. Trained psychologists are on hand to help them, but most of the counselling comes from the parolees themselves in group therapy sessions that range far into the night.

Job Finding

Help also is offered in finding jobs.

Founded in 1962 under a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health, the Robert Bruce House is an extension of the state reformatories' rehabilitation program.

The grant, providing $60,000 a year, expires in June, but an application has been made for a renewal.

Since it opened, 102 ex-convicts have gone through the home. Of these, 38 per cent have returned to crime, compared with a national average of 65 per cent among convicts discharged directly from prisons, according to Anthony Salerno, resident director of the project.

"I am learning responsibility here," says Joaquin, a 23-year-old drug addict who picked up the habit at the age of 15. "I have been in downtown Newark knowing where I can get dope. But I resist the temptation. And I have a job, too."

Learns Respect

Another resident adds, "I never had respect for people. Here, living with this group, I have learned respect for others."

Salerno and his aides help the residents find jobs while they are undergoing rehabilitation. But opposition to hiring ex-convicts keeps many inmates idled. Those who are employed, however, contribute to the up-keep of the home.

The house is comfortably furnished. Three men share a bedroom and there is a large living room with a television set, a record player and magazines.

It's in the living room that the group therapy sessions are conducted two nights each week. They are led by one of the senior residents with a mimimum of direction.

"In these sessions we can talk to each other freely. We all suffered. We have similar problems and we know what it's like."

Emancipation Talk Slated For NAACP

RED BANK — E.B. Sarreals, Middletown, a management engineer assigned to the general staff at Fort Monmouth, will speak on "Emancipation — A Social Process!" at the meeting of the Red Bank Area Branch, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The meeting will be held in A.M.E. Zion Church, Shrewsbury Ave. and Bergen Pl.

Mr. Sarreals, who has a doctorate in sociology from the University of Mexico, was professor of sociology at Georgia State College and at Morris Brown College, Atlanta, before coming to Fort Monmouth.

The meeting scheduled by the branch's tutorial program for last Sunday and postponed because of the snow storm will be held Sunday, Jan. 31, at a place still to be announced. Eli Seifman, director of student teaching at the State University of New York, Stony Brook, L.I., will discuss "Reading," and will demonstrate specific techniques leading to reading improvement.

Mayor Lists Seven Points Of Program

MATAWAN — A seven-point program for the coming year was outlined for the Matawan Borough Republican Club by Mayor Edward E. Hyrne at a meeting in the Hook and Ladder Fire House, Broad St.

His program includes:

1. A 24-hour local radio dispatcher to provide instant communication with all borough services, police, first aid, fire and borough trucks.
2. Improvements to the borough water system (decisive action must be taken to eliminate the complaints of citizens, the mayor said.)
3. Improvements to the sewage disposal plant to reduce odor.
4. Implementation of the master planners' recommendations that will be forthcoming during the year.
5. Preparation of a long-range capital program.
6. Revision and updating of borough ordinances.
7. Acquisition of lakefront land for recreation purposes.

All of this must be accomplished with the tax rate in mind, he said.

Mayor Hyrne urged all citizens to attend as many council meetings as possible and to make their opinions known. He hopes to induce the proper kind of industry to locate in the borough to provide long-term benefit to the town, he said.

The mayor said he will continue to seek a building program that will not overwhelm the schools and other services, and to provide services that will properly grow with the town.

Stevenson M. Enterline, new president of the club, presented the two new Republican councilmen. Frank Ferrano, chairman of health, sanitation, education, welfare and recreation committee, said "I don't plan on taking my responsibilities lightly. I am going in with great enthusiasm, and expect to be extremeley busy learning the new job." He asked the help of borough citizens in developing the recreation program.

Howard Henderson, chairman of streets and roads committee, stated "I will exert my effort toward setting up a long-range street program. Those streets without pavement will be considered first without forgetting maintenance. This will be followed by the repaving of those streets in the worst condition. Proper drainage and curbing will be put in wherever required."

Tickets were distributed for the Victory Kick-Off dinner dance to be held Saturday, March 6, at 7:30 p.m. in Buttonwood Manor. The new councilmen will be honored and announcement will be made of candidates for the coming year. Tickets may be obtained from Larry Bucco, Fred Formon, Mrs. James Duffy or Goodwyn Goodhart.

Mr. Enterline announced his standing committee chairmen for the year. Mrs. Fred Dietrich will be membership chairman; Fred Formon, fund-raising; Mrs. William Quinn, Jr., publicity; Mrs. Michael Hickey, refreshments; Mrs. Daniel Rinear, sickness and distress. Mrs. Rinear will also serve as representative to the Monmouth County Federation of Republican Women.

Louis Dombroski

MIDDLETOWN — Louis Dombroski, 60 Monroe Ave., Shrewsbury, has joined the staff of Sal, Jr's, men's hair styling shop at 335 Rt. 35, Sal Izzo, Jr., the proprietor, has announced.

Mr. Dombroski is a graduate of the Atlas Barber School of New York City.

Way Is Cleared For Connor Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has cleared the way to vote Friday on President Johnson's nomination of John T. Connor to be the new secretary of commerce.

The 50-year-old lawyer-industrialist pledged at a Senate Commerce Committee hearing yesterday that he would "lean over backward" to avoid any conflict of interest between his work in the cabinet and his substantial business investments.

Minutes later, the committee approved the nomination without a dissenting voice or vote, sending it to the Senate where it is scheduled for a vote Friday. There was no sign of opposition from outside the committee.

Special Math Plan Started In Township

Under the leadership of Harold Cohn, chairman of the math department, selected students are conducting after - school classes for classmates who need extra help in their mathematics courses.

The teacher - student, drawn from the membership of the Math Honor Society, volunteers his services to conduct a regular class - length session following school hours for any students who wish to obtain special help.

Each student conducting a class is supervised by a teacher who remains with the students, but does not interfere with teaching procedures unless a need arises.

According to Mr. Cohn, "the object of these student-led classes is to cover the complete math course in review, stressing those areas where students feel they need additional work."

He pointed out that the project afforded a two-fold experience, "giving help to those who most needed it while, at the same time, it afforded students invaluable experience in teaching in a real classroom situation."

Classes are being held in Algebra I, Plane Geometry, Algebra II, and Trigonometry.

To date, student response has been enthusiastic and classes have been filled to the allotted 30.

Student teachers participating in the program are Robert Horvath, Janet Koenig, Jack Romansky, Gloria Kerstein, Marilyn Lawley, John Stryker, and Richard Wetzel.

Mr. Cohn indicated that other volunteer students would be used as the program developed.

Two Weeks Remain For Aliens to Report

NEWARK — The United States Immigration and Naturalization Service reminded all aliens in New Jersey today that only two weeks remain in which non-citizens must file their annual address reports as required by law.

Dominick F. Rinaldi, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Newark, pointed out that address report forms are available at all post offices for the convenience of non-citizens required to report their addresses.

Mr. Rinaldi urges all aliens to report their addresses before the end of January, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious penalties.

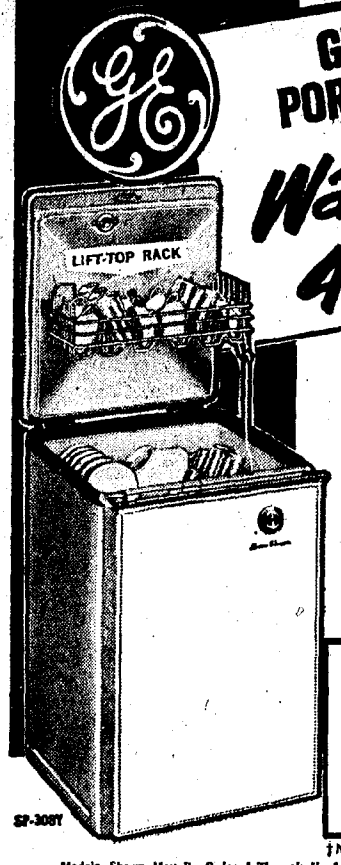

HELPFUL HINTS FOR FLYERS

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A collection of 1924 Air Service cadet training manuals has been donated to the special collections branch of the Air Force Academy by Ross O. Hayes of Milwaukee.

The manuals had belonged to his brother, the late Maj. Lawrence A. Hayes, a member of the class of 1924-'25 at Brooks Field in Texas.

Nursing Scholarship Is Memorial to Girl

RED BANK — A memorial student nurse scholarship fund has been started in the name of the late Catherine Mayer of Keansburg, a graduate last year of Red Bank Catholic High School.

Mrs. Laura Gorman of 312 River Rd. told the Register yesterday the fund will provide an estimated $3,000 scholarship for a girl who passes required examinations at St. Mary's School of Nursing, Passaic, but who is unable to bear the expense of the studies.

Mrs. Gorman said Miss Mayer, who was her sister, was a student nurse at the school. She succumbed to injuries suffered in a motor vehicle accident Christmas Eve on Rt. 35, Middletown.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome S. Mayer of 159 Seabreeze Way, Keansburg, the victim's parents, started the fund, according to Mrs. Gorman, and other members of the family have contributed. Mrs. Gorman said her parents considered her sister's love for the nursing profession and the school she attended and the idea for a memorial scholarship fund was born.

Mr. Mayer is a Long Branch District Court constable.

Contributions to the Catherine Mayer Scholarship Fund should be directed to Sister Catherine Maria, St. Mary's School of Nursing, 211 Pennington Ave., Passaic, Mrs. Gorman said.

The new 1965 Cadillac has already proven itself the most talked-about, best-liked Cadillac of all time. You owe yourself a journey at the wheel of this great new motor car.

What is it about this excitingly new Cadillac that has earned the car such immediate and overwhelming acceptance? Many people tell us it is Cadillac's great new over-all styling. Others suggest that it is the striking beauty of its wide front end. Still others are high in their praise of Cadillac's thoughtfully planned interiors—with greater spaciousness and a wider choice of superbly tailored fabrics. And finally, there are those who declare no car can match this new Cadillac for smoothness and quietness of operation. As soon as you drive this finest of Cadillacs, you find that Cadillac's entirely new frame and its beautifully poised suspension make motoring restful and relaxing as never before. Wouldn't it be wise to visit your authorized dealer? He's totally prepared to tell you what makes this luxury motor car the greatest of them all.

Bridge Column

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The old records say that the trouble started when Abel traded a spade for two of Cain's clubs, and the older historians assumed that this referred to a gardener's tool and a hunter's weapons. Actually, it was a bridge quarrel, and this column is scooping the whole world by bringing you the original hand.

Abel won the first trick with the ace of hearts, drew two rounds of trumps with the king and ace, and ruffed a low heart. He got back to dummy with the king of diamonds and ruffed another low heart.

The king of hearts did not fall, and Abel was tempted to draw the last trump and enter dummy with the ace of diamonds to lead a club. This would lead to the loss of two club tricks, and one of history's earliest slams would have been defeated.

Just in time, Abel saw a better line of play. He did not draw the last trump. Instead, he led a diamond to dummy's ace and ruffed out the king of hearts. This set up dummy's last heart, but used up declarer's last trump. The only trumps left were dummy's three and East's nine.

Abel then proceeded to cash his diamonds. When declarer led the queen of diamonds and discarded a club from dummy, Cain had a problem with the East hand. If Cain ruffed with the nine of spades, declarer would win the club return and cash the jack of diamonds to discard the last club from dummy. And then dummy would take the last two tricks with the last trump and the last heart.

Cain decided not to ruff the queen of jack of diamonds, but it did him no good. Abel discarded two clubs from dummy, cashed the ace of clubs, and ruffed a club in dummy. Twelve tricks were in, and Cain could get only his last card—the high spade.

"Ha ha!" Abel laughed. "You thought you were going to get two clubs, but all you got was one spade."

Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe

Find out what 350 hp feels like

in America's favorite intermediate size car

Next time you're feeling low, come on in and plunk yourself down in the bucket seat of a Chevelle Malibu Super Sport. Flick the ignition—bring that special-order 350-hp power plant to life. Then go find a road and try not to smile.

We think it's the greatest pep pill since weekends—and that goes for the other Chevelle V8's too. The 195-hp. And the 250- and 300-hp jobs we can order for you.

And of course if power doesn't sell you right off, maybe Chevelle's short turning radius and overall handling ease will. Or its Full Coil suspension ride. Or its Super Sport all-vinyl interior with wall-to-wall carpeting. Or its huge trunk.

Or maybe it's just plain old value. We've got a showroom full of comparison materials that prove Chevelle to be a better buy (and we'd be only too proud to show them to you). Just ask us.

But whatever it is that you think might make a Chevelle loyalist out of you, you'll never really know until you get into one—and see how hard it is to get out again.

White Sale and Slip-Cover Sale now in Progress

Splits and Misses

By PAUL A. ALBRECHT

The tournament season is here. Last week the Monmouth County Bowling Association held its winter meeting and the application blanks for the annual Master's County and State Tournaments were distributed. We are constantly receiving notices of tournaments. One very worthwhile is the Retarded Children's tournament run in conjunction with regular league bowling. This will be conducted the week of Jan. 30-Feb. 5. Men will be at the alleys to handle things. This is called "Beat Your Average Contest for Retarded Children." It is a fine cause and you could be the state or national winner.

The County Masters tournament is being run early this season —Saturday and Sun. Feb. 20-21 — closing date for entries is Friday, Feb. 19. Anyone can enter. The first match will be three games across six alleys with the top half rolling another three-game block to determine the top 15 men. A 16th man will be added at this point—this man to be the 1963-64 Master. From here on there will be two games of head-to-head with the loser dropping to the losers bracket. As soon as a man loses two games he is out. You can, under this system, have a bad game or two yet wind up winning, as you may be rolling that game against a man who is having more trouble than you are, that is, if you have trouble. This tournament will be on the same lanes as the annual county tournament—Red Bank Recreation.

The 23rd Annual Monmouth County Association tournament starts Saturday, May 8th and runs through Sunday, May 16th. This is the third year that this has been done and it seems to have the bowler's sanction as almost everyone requests their regular bowling night and gets that time. However, it is best to send in your application as soon as possible, just to make sure. The first place team prize can go to four figures if there are enough entries, and there is no reason why there shouldn't be. Remember the State Tournament will be in Monmouth County in 1966, so get in the habit of rolling in tournaments now.

The State Tournament will be held on week-ends, starting April 24 and running through May 23d. This means that two of these weekends will conflict with the county tournament, so remember this when you make out your application for the two tourneys. The state events will be run in two separate establishments—the team at Butler Bowl in Butler, Rt. 23, and the singles and doubles events at Hanover Lanes, Hanover, Rt. 10. Here, it is most important that your entries be sent in early as everyone will be requesting Saturday and Sunday. Closing date is March 20.

A new tournament, for Explorer Scouts only has been started, to be called, "I Beat Dick Weber." This is under the "Sports That Last a Lifetime" program for Explorer Scouts and includes awards for excellence in bowling, golf, swimming and physical fitness. Funds for the program were derived from the AMF Monorail's "Eightieth Penny Fund" at the New York World's Fair, created when the company decided to round out the Monorail fare from 79 to 80 cents, setting aside the extra penny for a fund for worthy causes. AMF has allocated $30,000 to underwrite the Explorer program.

Bowling in Chicago recently, with 16-year-old Raymond Cambell, Explorer national bowling champion of Provo, Utah, multi-champion Dick Weber rolled a pace-setting 662 series to kick-off this national sports and physical fitness program, "Sports That Last a Lifetime." Weber rolled games of 220, 247 and 195. Representing more than 315,000 Explorer Scouts, Cambell rolled games of 221 and 179 after a 142 opener.

This gives Explorers something to shoot at during the coming year. If they equal or surpass the Weber series—taking into account an 80 per cent handicap after establishing an average based on a trio of three-game sessions in competition—they will get an "I Beat Dick Weber" medallion. Those who try and don't make it will still get an "I Played Dick Weber" medal.

The Brothers almost made the 3,000 mark recently in the Monday Night Businessmen's League at Middletown Lanes. The first game did not indicate what was to come as the boys stopped at 948. The second game, however, was more like it—1012. Now throughly warmed up, the last game went into the records as 1038. This left the team just two pins shy of 3000. This was truly a team effort with captain Bill Figaro showing the way with 246, 202, 630; Ben Costa 208, 236 — 622; Vic DePonte 203, 222 — 608 and Art Gorvey 225, 204 — 604. This is great shooting anywhere. Tom Harrington shot a 224 — 618 for Red Bank Electric and Joe Maxon 234 — 579 for Dahmers.

Kahle & McFarland Insurance is not running away with the Airport Plaza commercial loop as it did last season. Before last week's action, Donato Construction was tied for the lead with Kahle & McFarland and these two faced each other. Donato tripped in all three and is now in third with Shore Point Esso the second place team.

The big guns this night, however, were on two other teams. Ed Ledja, rolling for Houde Glass, had games of 207, 211 and 245 for 663. Jerry Russomanno kegles for Airport Plaza Lanes and came up with 223, 222, 198 — 643.

For the first time in history a European champion will compete in the American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament next May 22-26, in St. Paul, Minn. He is Tauno Nieminen of Finland, winner of the Gillette International Bowling Championships completed Nov. 23, in Milan, Italy.

This star averaged 210 for 28 games to beat out competitors from 13 other nations, winning the finals from Fritz Blum of Germany. Nieminen, 47-year-old Helsinki restaurant manager, is recognized among the foremost amateur bowlers in the world. He began bowling in his teens, but took the game seriously only after World War II. He has been a member of the Finnish national team, which won just about every major title in Europe in the last eight years, and holds the European F.I.Q. all-events and double titles. His average last year in all leagues and tournaments — some 600 games — was 209. He says his most frustrating experience has been failing to roll a 300 game. He has seven 299s and one 298.

Shore Gains Tie for 2d By Belting Keyport, 62-37

WEST LONG BRANCH—Shore Regional moved into a tie for second place in the B Northern Division of the Shore Conference by clubbing Keyport, 62-37, here last night.

The victory was the fifth in six loop games for the Blue Devils, who share second place with Henry Hudson Regional and trail unbeaten Manasquan (5-0). The Blue Devils are 8-2 over-all.

Shore Regional opened up with a 15-10 margin in the opening quarter, boosted it to 25-13 at halftime via a 10-3 bulge in the second quarter and finished off the Red Raiders with a 15-11 third quarter edge.

Three starting players from the two teams were missing. Greg Semenza and Bill Geiger failed to see action for Keyport while Fred Kampf didn't play for Shore.

In scoring 19 points, Berger regained the individual scoring lead in the area. He moved up to 200 points, passing Steve Cutillo (189) of Neptune, Bill Horlacher (188) of Red Bank and Neptune's Fred Warren (187).

Keyport, which is 1-8 over-all and 0-6 in league play, gets a chance to post its first loop win tomorrow night when it plays Southern Freehold Regional, which has lost all seven of its games, including five league encounters. Shore is idle tomorrow before playing Southern Freehold next Tuesday.

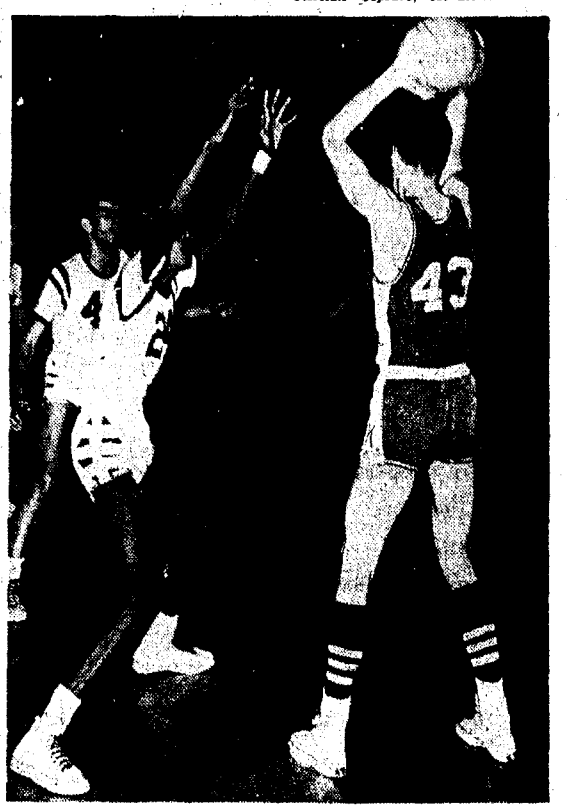

Shore's jayvees won their second game by routing the Keyport reserves, 77-49, in last night's preliminary game. Steve Woolley (14) and Eric Hjembo (10) topped the Shore jayvees in the scoring column.

Northern Division Bowling

Long Branch (13-2) Holds Lead; Lions, Buccos Two Games Back

RED BANK — Middletown Township High's defending Northern Division champions moved into a tie with Red Bank for second place in Shore Conference Bowling League action yesterday.

Middletown won all three games from Keyport while Red Bank won two of three from Henry Hudson Regional. The Lions and Buccaneers now share second with 11-4 records, two games off the pace set by league-leading Long Branch (13-2), which took all three games from Rumson-Fair Haven Regional.

In yesterday's final match, Matawan Regional (8-7) moved into undisputed possession of fourth place in the eight-team league winning over Raritan Township, 2-1. Trailing the top four teams are Henry Hudson (6-9), Rumson-Fair Haven and Raritan, both 5-10, and hapless Keyport, which has won only one of 15 games.

Tough Time For Lions

Middletown had a tough time disposing of cellar-dweller Keyport. After the Lions won the opening game by a whopping 147 pins, they won the second by only two pins, 824-822, and the third by 28 pins, 842-814. Kevin Harrington paced the winners with a 529 series. For Keyport, Larry Carhart fired a 554 that included a 230 middle game.

Red Bank needed the highest team series of the afternoon, 2,599, to win two of three from Henry Hudson, which had Charles Kinney roll a 647 series on games of 202, 245 and 200. Kinney's series is the league high for the season and his 245 game ranks second.

Henry Hudson won the opening game by 11 pins, 840-829, before Red Bank came back with a 933, high for the day, in the second for a 48-pin victory margin. The Buccaneers had an easy time in the third game, 837-750. Red Bank was paced by Bob Schumann, who had a 579 series, including a 226 middle game.

Branchers Roll

Long Branch had no trouble holding the first position, winning a trio from Rumson-Fair Haven. Ken Dennison's 520, that came on games of 176, 141 and 203, led the winning Branchers. Jim Farley, who started out with a 222 game, topped the Bulldogs with a 554.

Matawan lost the first game to Raritan by 13 pins, 779-766, but rebounded to win the second and third games easily. A 520 by Bob Testino paced the Huskies while Raritan didn't have a man over 500.

Wrestling

Indians Beat Middletown, 26-16

Toms River's wrestlers extended their four-year winning streak to 47 consecutive duel meets last night when they downed Middletown Township, 26-16.

The Indians have now notched six straight wins this campaign while this was Middletown's initial loss after three victories.

Toms River compiled 19 points in the light classes and then withstood a late surge by the Lions, who captured three out of the last four bouts and earned a draw in the one they didn't win. Bob Paladino (156), Dave Anderson (177) and heavyweight John Furiato all posted decisions while Tom Thill battled to a draw. They earned 11 points for the Lions. Middletown's JV team won, 28-14, to end the Toms River reserves' 50-match win streak.

3-Pin Win

Central Regional and Rumson-Fair Haven Regional broke even on matches won, but Central posted three pins to take a 26-17 decision.

No Bulldog wrestler was able to gain a pin. Chris Murphy (105) and Carl Isbrandtsen (114) gained decision wins to put Rumson-F.H. into an early lead, but the losers couldn't stand prosperity.

Southern Freehold Regional won 10 of the 12 bouts to easily down Red Bank, 46-8. The only winners for the Buccos were Mark Shicoff (135) and Al Griffin (177).

In another match, Shore Regional posted a 36-18 verdict over Point Pleasant Boro. Bob Spitz (140), Reed Swoppe (147) and heavyweight Art Travlos were among the seven Shore grabblers to post pins.

Bowie Bettor $49,309.80 Richer on Disqualifications

BOWIE, Md. — Two disqualifications, one that gave a rank outsider victory over the odds-on-favorite, made on bettor $49,309.80 richer at Bowie Race Track yesterday.

When One Coat, a 3-5 shot, wound up a neck in front of 80-1 Will Dance in the seventh and final race of the twin double, holders of 46 $2 tickets stood to collect $1,071.80 each. Only one $2 ticket was alive on the combination that included Will Dance.

Holders of the 46 tickets rushed toward the cashiers, then stopped in their tracks for over the public address system came:

"Hold all tickets. A foul has been lodged by jockey John Block, rider of Will Dance, who finished second, against the winner, One Coat, ridden by Daniel French."

After deliberating some eight minutes, the stewards decided in favor of Block and the holder of the one winning twin ticket. Pictures showed that One Coat lugged in against Will Dance as they passed the eighth pole. Will Dance paid $176.40 to win.

The unknown holder of the winning twin ticket also was kept alive by a disqualification in the sixth race when Fleet Boss, favorite at $5.40 for $2, was moved into the No. 1 spot ahead of Deroulade, the second choice.

The winning bettor, who had not presented his ticket by the time the final race had been run, started his big payoff by selecting Day For Peace, $13.80, in the fourth, and Class President, $20.40, in the fifth.

It was the first time in the history of the twin double, in which a bettor is asked to pick winners of four selected races, had been won by a double disqualification.

The record twin payoff was $172,726.80 at Rosevelt Raceway last Sept. 10. Bowie's previous high was $33,794 in 1963.

Falcon Gymnasts Rip Cherry Hill

NEW SHREWSBURY — Monmouth Regional's gymnastic team posted its second victory of the season against one loss when it swamped Cherry Hill, 73-23, last night.

Phil Miller again paced the Falcons as he took top honors on the parallel bars and the high bar, worth 12 points.

Monmouth scored shutouts in three events, taking the first three spots on the side horse, high bar and long horse.

Tinton Falls Five Is 4-0 on Season

NEW SHREWSBURY — The Tinton Falls grammar school basketball team defeated Fair Haven, 41-26, Tuesday to remain undefeated after four games.

CBA's Varsity, Freshmen Defeated in Track Meets

LINCROFT — Woodbridge High tallied 35 points to down shorthanded Christian Brothers Academy (31) and Central Regional (16) in a triangular indoor track meet here yesterday.

Woodbridge had three individual winners as did Christian Brothers, which took the first three places in the shot put.

The other winners in the seven-event meet held at CBA's converted horse track was Ed Shattuck of Central, who raced to a track record of 4:47.9 in the 1,-800-yard (six-lap) run.

Woodbridge had Dave Jackson and Don Markulin tie for first in the 60-yard dash, :06.7; Markulin won the 60-yard high hurdles, :07.7, and Ron Elsey tied with Central's George Berg in the 300-yard dash, :34.9.

Kelly, Hinck, Due Win

Winners for CBA included Dave Kelly in the 600-yard run, 1:21.9; Tom Hinck in the 900-yard run, 2:11.5, and George Due in the shot put, 48 feet, 11 inches.

CBA was without the services of its mile relay team, which ran at Roselle Catholic High yesterday in an attempt to qualify for the Millrose meet in Madison Square Garden. The relay quartet of Don Rowe, Paul Stach, Dick Wight and Greg DuBois tied with St. Benedict's for the third and final qualifying position with a 3:39.8 clocking. The two teams will meet next Tuesday at Roselle in a run-off.

The first team teams were Seton Hall (3:32) and St. Aloysius of Jersey City (3:36).

Also missing from CBA's lineup yesterday were distance aces John Eager, who is still bothered by a foot injury, and Tim Sheehan, who has been working out only a few days.

Roselle Catholic Wins

ROSELLE — Roselle Catholic High's freshman track squad handed Christian Brothers Academy's yearlings their second straight dual meet defeat, 34-25, here yesterday.

Pat McDonough was the lone victor for the Colts from Lincroft, racing to a 4:59 clocking in the mile run.

McDonough later joined with Charles Casagrande, Tom Sagui and Harold Young to win the mile relay event in 4:06.2. The same quartet captured the one-mile sprint medley relay championship in the N. J. Catholic Track Conference championships last Saturday.

Casagrande was also second in the 880-yard run on a 2:20.5 clocking. Young ran second in the 440-yard dash in 1:01.

TOURNAMENT WIN—Monmouth College's basketball team won two games to cop the first Castleton State (Vermont) Christmas Basketball Festival. The tourney was sponsored by the Castleton State College Athletic Department and Rutland, Vt., Chamber of Commerce for the benefit of the Vermont Tuberculosis Association. Dr. William G. Van Note, second from right, president of Monmouth College, accepts the tourney trophy from Tommy Farrel of Roselle, team captain. Others, left to right, are Pete Andrews, Matawan, who was voted outstanding player on his 28 points scored and 41 rebounds performance, Paul Kobbs, Roselle Park, who scored 21 markers in the Hawks' opening win and Coach Bill Boylan. Andrews and Kobb also were named to the tournament's All-Star squad.

Californians, Pennsylvanians Top Schoolboy All-America

NEW YORK (AP) — Players from 42 states, topped by Pennsylvania and California, make up the 95-man All-America high school football team selected yesterday by Scholastic Magazines, the national educational publications.

Pennsylvania and California each have seven representatives on the big squad, followed by Texas and Ohio with five each and Illinois, Massachusetts and New York with four each..

Two New Jerseyians were named to the squad. Giant tackle Dave Johnson of Montclair, a 252-pounder, is one of 14 tackles named to the squad who weigh 245 or more. The other Garden State standout selected was high scoring halfback Pete Jilleba of Madison.

Only two schools managed to get more than one player on the team. Everett, Mass., High School has Pat Hughes, a 220-pound center, and Jerry Grasso, a 178-pound back. Salensanium High of Wilmington, Del., is represented by Joe Freebery, a 205-pound guard, and Bill Bartholomew, a 208-pound back.

The quarterback list includes four whose passes gained more than a mile during the 1964 season and one, Neil Waddington of Belmond, Iowa, who had a fantastic completion record of 67 per cent.

Another player singled out for special mention was Dave Bradley, a 6-foot-4, 215-pound end from Chief Logan High School, Lewistown, Pa. He blocked seven punts, recovered nine fumbles, scored two safeties and caught five touchdown passes.

Casper Favorite In San Diego Open

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Pro golfers tee off for the money today in the San Diego Open on a course that those who know label as unbelievably good.

Bill Casper, a favorite in the $39,500 event, took a practice round on the Stardust Country Club course Tuesday and said:

Casper, who is second to Arnold Palmer as the top tournament money winner of all time, finished third in the Los Angeles Open last weekend, a performance that makes him a strong choice to walk off with San Diego's top money.

Even with the condition of the course, Casper wouldn't predict that the 268 course record held by Mike Souchak will be broken.

"But if the weather stays nice, there will be lots of under-par rounds. It's unbelievable how good the course is," he said.

"The greens are beautiful," he said. "But I won't predict what it will take to win it."

Other pros out to practice Tuesday included Don January, Doug Ford, Jack Fleck, Tommy Jacobs, Stan Leonard, Julius Boros, Dutch Harrison and George Bayer.

With the exception of Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Ken Venturi and Palmer, most of the tour's big names will be competing in the 72-hole tournament.

Paul Harney, winner of the Los Angeles Open, will not take part, but Gene Littler, Tony Lema, Dow Finsterwald, Souchak, Al Geiberger, Jackie Cupit, Mason Rudolph are among the other stars entered.

Good weather is predicted for the tournament, which runs through Sunday.

Senators Sign Frank Howard, Former Dodger

"The trouble is that when you're as big as I am," the 6-foot-7, 250-pound outfielder told newsmen Tuesday after signing his 1965 Senators contract, "they expect you to hit the ball out of the park every time. It isn't that easy."

The American League's perennial also-rans sympathize with Frank. They'll settle for less — something like every other time will do — after sending Claude Osteen, their best pitcher, to the Los Angeles Dodgers in the seven-player deal that brought the 28-year-old slugger to Washington.

Howard said he's delighted to be in Washington and the Senators, who also traded away Chuck Hinton, their best hitter, appear equally pleased. They reportedly will pay the slugger $35,000 — the same salary he got from the Dodgers before failing to hit his weight for them a year ago.

He batted .226, but still hit 24 homers and delivered 69 runs. His top year was 1962, when he hit .296, with 31 home runs and 119 RBI.

While Howard was autographing his first AL contract, two National League clubs also signed key players. Catcher John Roseboro agreed to terms with the Dodgers and the Milwaukee Braves signed shortstop Denis Menke.

Hawks Halted By Bloomfield

ASBURY PARK — Bloomfield College moved into sole possession of first place in the Central Atlantic College Basketball Conference Tuesday when it edged Monmouth College, 81-76, at the Convention Hall to snap the Hawks' six-game winning streak.

Bloomfield holds the number one spot in the conference with a 3-1 record, and before last night's game, was tied for first with Monmouth and King's College (N.Y.). King's is now second at 2-1 while the West Long Branch team is third with a 2-2 conference record. The Hawks are 10-3 overall and Bloomfield is 5-6.

Monmouth held a 36-30 bulge at the intermission and maintained that advantage in the opening minutes of the second half, 46-40, but then the roof fell in on the Hawks. During the next four minutes, Bloomfield outscored the home team, 14-2, to take a 54-48, lead with 12 minutes left in the game. Paul Jones and George Wuschnig sparked this surge, with six and four points, respectively. The biggest margin Bloomfield enjoyed after this was 14 points, 67-53, when Bob Byers tossed in a bucket at 7:20.

Johnson Plan—to Aid Parochial Schools

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, like President Kennedy, has supported the separation - of-church-and - state tradition, but this week in his education program he proposed giving parochial schools some federal aid.

But he did this because of a rising tide of help to education in Congress, and did it in such a way that he may run into less storm than Roman Catholic Kennedy, who opposed such aid to Catholic schools.

Nothing he has done so far as president better shows Johnson's special technique of trying to cool off possible antagonists in order to make some progress, even if it isn't all he might like to have.

Kennedy made dismal progress in his first two years in trying to get Congress to approve a general aid to education bill, with particular emphasis on help for public grade and high schools.

Congress had never passed a law providing such general aid. In 1961 and 1962 Kennedy emphasized he was not asking aid for parochial schools. Both times he said he considered such aid unconstitutional.

And both times he ran into opposition from the Catholic hierarchy which thought such aid should be given.

Passage of Kennedy's program would be the "eventual end of our parochial schools because we cannot compete with the federal government's support and subsidy of the public schools only." He said the program also would put an additional burden on Catholic taxpayers who got no benefit from it.

The opposition to aid for Catholic schools was equally determined. Under this combined pressure Congress did practically nothing for two years. The dam began to break in 1963.

Once more Kennedy proposed no help to church schools. Once more there was Catholic opposition. But by now Congress had begun to yield under a third pressure: Rising educational needs.

In 1963 it passed such a number of important measures that Johnson, after Kennedy's death late in the year, said the Congress of 1963 would be known as the education Congress.

Nevertheless, not even that Congress touched the sizzling question of general aid for public grade and high schools, where the religious issue was most intense. And in 1964 Congress ducked this one again.

But the measures passed last year under Johnson's prodding were unprecedented in scope and number. Still, Johnson, like Congress, stayed away from the church-state issue as much as he could.

During the 1964 presidential campaign, Johnson was asked by Dr. E. S. James, editor of the Baptist Standard, for his views on federal aid to education, particularly to parochial schools.

Johnson affirmed his support of the "American tradition of separation of church and state. . .expressed in the First Amendment." And he closed his answer with this:

"Therefore, I would oppose any federal program — including assistance to schools — which does not strictly conform to this constitutional requirement."

Then last Tuesday, Johnson proposed the biggest-ever aid to education program, with accent on children of the poor.

It would provide modest sums to be spent on buying non-religious textbooks for private and parochial school students and some for educational centers to be shared by public and church schools.

But before he ever sent this program to Congress, Johnson's aides had contacted Catholics and those on the other side of the church- state issue.

It was learned more of the Catholic clergy are for the program than oppose it. Catholic members of Congress divide the same way. Some of the opponents are still opposed, some not so opposed.

Optimism Is Guarded On Immigration Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sponsors of legislation recommended by President Johnson to revamp the nation's immigration law expressed guarded optimism today about making a breakthrough in the obstacle-ridden field.

Johnson's key proposal was to do away with an immigration quota system based on the national origins of the U.S. population in 1920. The system favors immigrants from Northern and Western Europe over those from other parts of the world.

In a special message Wednesday he urged Congress to abolish this system over a five-year period and allow admission of immigrants on the basis of needed work skills, family relationships and priority of registration.

Johnson's predecessors — John F. Kennedy, Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman — tried without success to persuade Congress to eliminate or to overhaul the national-origins quota system.

A House Judiciary subcommittee headed by Rep. Michael A. Feighan, D-Ohio, held hearings near the end of last year's session but took no action. Feighan is an outspoken foe of the legislation.

However, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, said he is optimistic about getting the measure before the House for a vote this year.

Two-District Election Plan Is Studied

OCEANPORT — The Board of Education last night agreed it may consider providing two school election districts here in the future.

The subject was brought before the board by Albert C. Weigel, former board member and candidate for the coming school election. Mr. Weigel called for voting machines for the convenience of voters and two election districts.

Board President John Nagel, Jr. said the board will consider the items for future elections. He said, however, that Mr. Weigel's mention of the large voter turnout during last year's special referendum regarding the construction of a new school in Portaupeck has little bearing on annual school elections.

Study Planned

Mr. Nagel said the referendum brought out many more voters than does the normal school election. He said the board will carefully watch the coming election for indications of increased voter activity and implement the suggestions, should the situation warrant it.

The board's vice president, Glen R. Whichello, noted that on completion of the planned new Portaupeck school, an ideal location for a possible second school voting district will be created.

If adopted, the plan would provide voting districts in both Oceanport and Portaupeck, at each of the school sites, he said.

To Take Bids On Rt. 9 Construction

TRENTON (AP)—Bids will be taken Feb. 4 on a contract for dualizing a 2-mile stretch of Route 9 in Freehold, the State Highway Department announced today.

The road will be widened from one to two lanes in each direction from Schank Road North to the Freehold traffic circle and Englishtown Road.

The project is the final phase of a $4.4 million program for dualizing Route 9 from Route 18, South to Monmouth County Route 524 at Adelphia.

Beach Erosion To Be Discussed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Engineers will conduct a hearing Feb. 18 at Cape May, N.J., in their study of beach erosion and navigation along the New Jersey coast.

Beach erosion and navigation problems from Stone Harbor on the Atlantic Ocean to the Delaware Bay entrance of the Cape May Canal will be aired at the hearing.

The hearing is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Cape May's City Hall auditorium.

Today's Top TV Programs

Nothing special tonight, just some mildly interesting entries for fans of the Munsters, Perry Mason, My Three Sons, The Defenders, Suspense Theatre and the Jimmy Dean Show. In addition to late-night conversations on Tonight and Les Crane, Channel 13's Music in Close-up series offers a change of pace.

7:30-8 (2)—The Munsters. Boys will enjoy watching Herman Munster on a basketball court tonight. The story finds Herman at school to help his niece only to be mistaken for a prize athlete. It's all very silly, but it's done in a cheerful manner which is the key to the show's popularity.

8-9 (2)—Perry Mason. "The Case of the Thermal Thief." Barry Sullivan subs for lawyer Mason (Raymond Burr) to defend an attractive lady, and he gets some help from a number of familiar faces in the cast. Betty Ackerman of the "Ben Casey" series turns up as a wealthy suspect, and Kathie Browne, the busiest free lance actress in town, plays her enemy. The plot is so-so, but the faces count.

8:30-9 (7)—My Three Sons. First episode for William Demarest playing housekeeper to the Douglas family from now on. Demarest is cast as Bub's brother, a hearty, talkative soul who seems to fit. All in all a good start, but it's not so easy to forget Bill Frawley's Bub.

9-10 (13)—Lincoln Center Presents: Music in Close-up. The feature of the hour is Brahms Clarinet Quintet in B. Minor, performed by the Kroll Quartet and clarinetist Stanley Drucker, of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

10-11 (2)—The Defenders. "Eyewitness." When the eyewitnesses who did nothing to prevent an unprovoked street murder by hoodlums-on-a-kick are put on the witness stand, tonight's entry begins to come alive. When it deals with its delinquent murderers, however, David Karps's play is saved from being completely contrived only by young Robert Walker's taut and passionate performance.

10-11 (4)—Suspense Theatre. "In Darkness Waiting." First of a two-parter starring Barbara Rush and Hugh O'Brian, about a UN reporter and a detective who are checking on a murder. The tale itself, involving talk of an upcoming assassination, is less absorbing than watching lovely Barbara Rush trying to make the most of her material. (Color).

10-11 (7)—Jimmy Dean. Jimmy changes pace tonight when stylist Jane Morgan pays a visit, but there's Eddy Arnold and Roy Clark for all you country-western fans.

11:30-1 (4) — Tonight. Artie Shaw, Allan Sherman and Phyllis Newman join Johnny Carson for an evening of chitchat and song. (Color).

TV Key Mailbag

By STEVEN H. SCHEUER

Question — Orson Bean is one of my favorite comedians and I am very pleased to see that he appears on the "Les Crane Show" from time to time. He is so very quck witted and I like to see him on a show like Crane's where he can put this talent to use. I would like to write the producers of the Crane Show a letter thanking them for having Bean on so often. Where can I address such a letter?—R. S., New Haven, Conn.

Answer — You may address your complimentary remarks to the Les Crane Show, in care of ABC-TV, 7 West 66th Street, New York, N. Y.

Question — Is it true that Ann-Margret is one of the nation's biggest box-office attractions, even bigger than Elizabeth Taylor and Doris Day? My girl friend said she read this in the paper, but I can't say I believe her. —D. L., Red Bank, N. J.

Answer — According to the recent Motion Picture Exhibitors Poll, Ann-Margret placed number eight among the top 10. Number one was Doris Day, a position she has maintained for a few years now. Number 11 was Elizabeth Taylor, but you'll have to recall Miss Taylor didn't have any new films released during 1964.

Question — Who played the boy who wanted to run away from the orphanage in an episode of "The Fugitive?" This story was very good and I think the relationship between Kimble and the boy was beautifully played. My whole family was crying at the end, including my husband. —Mrs. R. N., Hammond, Ind.

Answer — Young actor Donald Losby played the role in the "Fugitive" tear-jerker titled "Cry, Uncle." Losby has appeared on other TV series this season and has proven to be a good little actor. Incidentally, Ronny Howard, who is a regular on "The Andy Griffith Show," also appeared in this "Fugitive" drama in a supporting role.

Question — Who were the stars of the movie "The Mystery of Edwin Drood" which was on TV? I didn't see any of the credits. —C. A., Memphis, Tenn.

(For an answer to your question about any TV program or actor, write to Steven H. Scheuer, TV Key Mailbag, in care of this paper.)

Boating Course

LEONARDO — Preparations were made to hold two courses in small boat handling by members of Flotilla 23, U.S. Coast Guard Auxillary, Jan. 9 at the home of Harry E. Rogers, Locust.

An eight-lesson course will begin Tuesday, Jan. 19, in Indian Hill School, Hazlet, and in the Middletown Township High School beginning Monday, Feb. 1.

Classes are open to the public. Information may be obtained from Joseph Bell, supervisor, or Ben R. Morris, commander.

Church Sets Three Concerts This Month

RED BANK — The ministry of music and fine arts of the First Methodist Church will present three January concerts of sacred music featuring vocal and instrumental soloists.

The three programs, for the benefit of the organ improvement fund, will take place on Sundays, Jan. 17, 24 and 31, all at 4 p.m.

The first concert on Sunday will feature Barbara Adams, soprano; Elizabeth Kohl, soprano; William Shoppell, bass; Donald Curry, organist; and Herbert Burtis, organist and harpsichordist.

Mr. Shoppell, who is the director of the Monmouth Civic Chorus, bass soloist at the First Methodist Church of Asbury Park, and a music teacher in the Asbury Park schools, will sing the cantata for bass voice: "Ich Habe Genug," by Bach. Mr. Shoppell recently conducted the Monmouth Civic Chorus presentation of Handel's "Messiah" in the Rumson-Fair Haven Regional High School auditorium.

Barbara Adams will join Mr. Shoppell in a duet cantata by Bach, "Tritt auf die Glaubensbahn." She is soprano soloist at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Atonement, Manasquan, and was a soprano soloist in the "Messiah" in Rumson.

Mrs. Kohl is a soprano soloist at the Red Bank Methodist Church of Red Bank where she was last heard in Verdi's Manzoni Requiem. She will sing the Mozart motet, "Exsultate, Jubilate" which closes with the famous "Alleluia." Mrs. Kohl will be heard later this season in the Bach St. Matthew Passion, to be presented April 4 and 11 at the First Methodist Church here.

Mr. Curry is an organ student of Herbert Burtis and will play compositions by Bach, Schumann and Langlais.

The cantatas will be accompanied by Herbert Burtis at the organ and harpsichord. Mr. Burtis, after performing in the three local recitals, will begin a 14 recital series encompassing the complete organ works of J. S. Bach, at Columbia University, New York City beginning Monday evening, Feb. 8 and ending Monday evening, May 17.

Mr. Burtis also will be heard at St. Thomas Church, New York City, on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 7, and will appear in two Carnegie Recital Hall concerts: Sunday evening, Feb. 21 with Solbjorg Lieng, mezzo-soprano, and Tuesday afternoon, March 16, with Gertrude Neidlinger, concert comedienne.

On future Sundays the ministry of music and fine arts will present Mildred Stout, soprano; Jayne Crews, soprano; Robert Spencer, tenor; Eleanor Benoist, organist, and on Jan. 31, Mr. Burtis, organist, playing the final in his local series of Bach recitals.

Participating dancers will be, Barbara Blanchard, Debbie Fansler, Eveln Richmond, Cheryl Bloodgood, Ronnie Liberwitz, Susan Sher, Marjorie Jabbins and Roberta Soffel, Middletown; Nora Schwartz, Gale Singer, Caren Ides, Audrey Soldstein, Stephanie Weeks, Stephie Rindner, Beverly Miller and Jo Ellen Ruda, New Shrewsbury; Donna Fountain and Mary Lou Loux, Eatontown; Sheri Szeles, Randy Stevens and Marilyn Krieger, Oakhurst; Jane Reiter, Elberon; Lucille Marks, Farmingdale; Sari Ziment, Lincroft; Jan Pressman, Little Silver; Susan and Marybelle MacGregory, Colts Neck, and Julie and Patty Meyer, Allenhurst.

ETHICAL CULTURE SPEAKER

ASBURY PARK — William T. Rogers, Jr., leader in the American Ethical Union, will speak at the Asbury Park Library Friday evening at 8:30. His topic "A Need for Values," will be opened with words of Walt Whitman.

Mr. Rogers attended Wilberforce College and Connecticut and Columbia Universities before joining with the Ethical Culture Movement. He has been active in the NAACP, the Long Island Council for Integrated Housing, and the New York Fair Housing Committee.

The Ethical Culture Fellowship of Monmouth County, with headquarters in Wanamassa, operates a Sunday school that teaches children of members and non-members the meaning of an ethical life.

Dinner Theater To Open Season

MATAWAN—The Magnolia Inn Dinner Theater will open its new season tomorrow with the play, "The Typists and the Tiger."

The production stars Sandra Gayle and Vic Torrisi, and is produced and directed by Ray Kiem. This is the eighth production presented by the dinner theater. The next attraction will be "Under the Yum Yum Tree."

'The Crucible' To Be Presented At Workshop

LONG BRANCH—"The Crucible," by Arthur Miller, will be the next production of the Center Drama Worshop of the Long Branch Jewish Community Center.

The play, to be directed by John Glennon of New York City, has a cast of 19.

Tryouts will be held Sunday, Jan. 31, and Monday, Feb. 1, at 7 p.m. in the Community Center at Second and Bath Aves.

Name JFK Unit Committee Heads

KEYPORT—The Board of Trustees of the John F. Kennedy Benevolent Association has unanimously confirmed its president, Larry Turk's, appointment of nine committee chairmen, and some 59 committee members for 1965.

By thus completing its administrative organization, which consists of the members of the John F. Kennedy Centennial Lodge, Knights of Pythias, it has positioned itself for a full year's program in furtherance of its dual objectives of promoting community welfare projects and providing membership benefits.

Committee chairmen appointed are Irwin Berliner, life insurance; Ben Dworkis, bingo; Alan Grobow, membership benefits; Lawrence Lerner, fund raising; Mort Levine, publicity; Arthur Levy, financial advisory; Herman Soloway, legal advisory; Peter Sylvia, fraternal health service, and Donald Teres, community benefits.

Mr. Turk said he chose men who represented a cross section of the association's membership, and who had demonstrated the organizational talent and willingness to serve.

2.00 TRITLE'S Original Glycerine and Rosewater Cream or Lotion

Your Choice 1.39 Plus Tax

Tritle's Original Solidified Glycerine and Rosewater is more effective than the mixture great grandmother used. Greaseless, too. It transforms aging lined skin into a fresh feeling, more youthful looking complexion. Soothes and smooths rough hands almost instantly. There is also a new cream lotion that's greaseless, too.
