Dear Islanders of Sanibel:
I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you for the wonderful time I had at Sanibel. I would especially like to thank those who made this trip possible, Mr. and Mrs. H.A. Romine, those businesses who allowed me to take a "cooks tour," to Rev. Tad for the inspiring discussion, and to all of you who were so friendly and kind. If I had to spend Christmas away from home, I couldn't have picked a better place. I hope that someday I may make another visit to your lovely island.

SHELL CLUB MEETS MONDAY

The Sanibel-Captiva Shell Club will meet at the Captiva Civic Center January 17 at 7:30 p.m. Following the business meeting "Faint Heart Never Won Blue Ribbon," a panel discussion by past ribbon winners: MARY CUNNINGHAM GRACE HORN, DOROTHY JEREMAISEN, HELEN DENNY and child panelist CAROL NIX with helpful hints on preparing your exhibit will be given. This should prove very helpful to everyone planning to enter the coming Shell Show at the Sanibel Shell Fair. Everyone interested in shells and shelling is invited to attend.

BOWLING 'EM OVER

The Monday night bowling trio rolled the B-Hive into second place with the sharp shooting of SHIRLEY WALTER, who racked up a 524 total with high scores of 199 and 179. The Rusty Lee Classic bowling team for the B-Hive resumed activity last Thursday, holding onto 3rd place with a 4-point win over the Snack Shack. High games were rolled by S. WALTER, 186; J. DUGGER, 183 and C. WALTER, 157.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

A set of plats from the office of the County Engineer is now on display at Sanibel-Captiva Real Estate office for property owners along S-867 between the bridge approach road and Tarpon Bay Road, who wish to see the relationship of their property to the C/L of the road.

Sales reported by Sanibel-Captiva Real Estate this week include the George Way house on Sunset Bay to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vitelli of Freeport, New York for $20,000 and a lot in Sanibel Center from the Bailey brothers to Joyclin Lloyd of Pensacola, Florida, for $1,500.

PRISCILLA MURPHY reports three sales this week, all on Captiva. Mr. and Mrs. CHARLES G. PATTERSON sold their home on Binder Street (the former Barham home) to Mr. and Mrs. WILLARD YOUNG of Winter Park, Florida. Mrs. JOYCE HUNT and Mrs. WINIFRED EYBER of Long Beach, Calif., sold their Gulf to Roosevelt Channel property on Captiva, with two homes, to the Northern County Investment Company of Upperville, Virginia, and Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT MACALISTER of Northboro, Mass., purchased a Gulf to Roosevelt Channel parcel with one home from Mr. and Mrs. DANIEL BURNER of Upperville, Virginia.

WHO'S WHO ON SANIBEL

Everyone knows that pork and sauerkraut eaten on the first of January brings good luck all year. (Well, not quite everyone -- some we know insist on hog jowls and black-eyed peas, or herring and pickled beets, or oyster stew, for that matter!) Anyhow, BRUNI and JAKE RUPERT made sure that their friends, ARTHUR and MOLLY ORLOFF and the RUPERTS' winter neighbors on Clam Bayou, the MARTYNS, who are from Warwick, Rhode Island, were off to a prosperous 1966 by inviting them to join their traditional New Year's Day feast.

Mrs. HANNAH W. VOSBURG and her daughters, CLARE and MARY, have been enjoying their stay in ETHEL SNYDER'S home during the holidays.

Ethel, by the way, has been dropping us enthusiastic notes during her progress across the country to Arizona, where she plans to stay for about a year. She says the scenery is delightful and the rocks are marvelous. Ethel got bitten by the rock-collecting bug this past summer in North Carolina where she discovered one could have as much fun collecting rocks as shells.

Visitor to the Snack Shack: Diamond Almquist, who must have his daily peach ice cream cone, and no other flavor will do. Diamond is a collie belonging to Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM J. ALMQUIST, here for a three month stay at Sanibel Trailer Court.

For Mr. and Mrs. WALTER WOODHAMS of Gulf Drive it was a thoroughly happy Christmas. Their entire family of three children and five grandchildren gathered from as far away as California for a long holiday visit. Twelve-year-old WALLY added to everyone's excitement on New Year's Day by finding the family's first perfect Junonia near The Rocks.

A golden olive will always create a thrill in the life of all enthusiastic shellers. Such was the case when M.G. DORTON found a beautifully colored specimen during his recent stay at the Sanibel Island Trailer Resort.

The Ladies' Guild of the Sanibel Community Church will hold their January meeting at the home of Mrs. FLOYD SNOOK on Gulf Drive. Mrs. J.P. GLASS will be co-hostess. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m., Thursday the 20th. Note paper depicting the Sanibel Community Church will be available as well as copies of Sanibel Sermons recently published by the Guild.

BIRGIT is opening her shop Saturday -- which is good news to devotees of Phelps Sportswear.

On Sanibel there's no end to meeting interesting people. You've read ADVISE AND CONSENT, of course? Alan Drury, who wrote it, is on the Island again. We can call him a Floridian, really, for he lives at least part of the time in Maitland. Alan is at the Island Inn, which he looks on as a second Florida home. The Islander can have the pleasure of announcing two of his forthcoming books, the third in his current political series, entitled CAPABLE OF HONOR, and THAT SUMMER, a non-political novel, which is expected to be in stock at MacIntosh's Book Shop about March 1. This summer Alan will be off for South Africa to observe the social, economic and political climate in preparation for a non-fiction work on that country. In his early writing career he was a newspaper correspondent; however, he much prefers his present 4- to 6-hour a day schedule as an independent writer and he finds that fiction allows him more freedom to probe into motivation and to interpret broadly. He has been coming to Sanibel for 12 years.

This would seem to be Literary Week on the Island. Your reporter leaves one literary light and promptly bumps into two more: STEPHEN and JANET GREENE. He is a former London war correspondent for the Paris News (and other leading papers) and she is a former crack reporter for the UP. They are now leading a less strenuous life as editors on the staff of Vermont Life Magazine and as book publishers (The Stephen Greene Press, Brattleboro, Vt.), but still strenuous enough to put out some 20 non-fiction books a year, mostly concentrated Americana. By choosing works within a limited subject area, a publishing house builds its own special identity.

Sometimes the Greenes recognize there would be interest in a book that hasn't yet been written, so they ask someone to author it; this is how VERSE BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD (the story of the Burma-Shave jingles) came into being. In some cases the publisher may need to help the author shape his book -- that is, help him to stay within the limits of what he has to say and say it in a way that is easy to grasp -- possibly he may even take part in the writing. This is Janet's specialty in the partnership.

On the subject of "creative writing" the Greenes had this to say, "It's a much misused term -- there is no such thing. A laundry list is creative. Good writing should create in the reader's mind a clear picture of what it intends to convey."

Stephen has long been an admirer of Max Beerbohm and a collector of his works. The Greenes' own literacy and wit must be a rare inspiration, even among publishers, to many aspiring writers.

About Sanibel (discovered through their friend, MURRAY HOYT) Stephen and Janet had some thoughts worth sharing. With a characteristic facility for finding the right word, Janet had it, after a moment's reflection: integrity. Sanibel has it; she must keep it. The world has its big cities -- Florida already has its Miami -- but there is no other Sanibel. There should be more of it! More of its lovely trees arching overhead; more of its almost rural, unhurried life. Even more, if needed, of the restrained and tasteful shop signs. Where else can you walk on a beach and say good morning to a stranger? You share the day here with other people. When you walk the beach it's not the same pathway again and again; it's a different beach every moment because of the people who share it, the anticipation of adventure and the pleasure of shelling. People who come to this island can get the most out of it by fitting themselves to Sanibel, not trying to fit Sanibel to their accustomed ways of life.

Guests of PRISCILLA MURPHY and ROY BAZIRE at a dinner and theater party for the final night of "Mrs. McThing" at the Pirate Playhouse were Mr. and Mrs. FRANK JURISCH, formerly of Minneapolis, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. NORMAN CHAMBERS of Hiers Motel, Mr. and Mrs. AL MUENCH of Periwinkle Way Trailer Park, Mr. and Mrs. KURT EICHENAUER, formerly of Mt. Baldy, California, Mr. and Mrs. JAMES F. MAGUIRE, formerly of Duluth, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Jurisch, who have taken up Florida residence, have been working for many months on a motel-golf course complex on the West Coast, about which a questionnaire was sent to many islanders, island visitors and Fort Myers business men, in December from HORWATH and HORWATH, nationwide accountants and auditors and experts in hotel-motel operations. Mr. and Mrs. Jurisch have selected Sanibel for this project. Also motel planners are the JAMES MAGUIRES, presently staying in North Fort Myers but preparing to make Sanibel their permanent home soon.

Miss MAYBELLE STAMPER, of Captiva Island, was presented a $2000 cash award at the Weatherspoon Gallery on the campus of the University of North Carolina in Greensboro, N.C. on Wednesday, Jan. 8, for her "Girl and Bird" which won first of first prizes in the Sears, Robuck competition.

The final judging of the 130 winning paintings selected during the past year from forty art festivals conducted throughout the South was made by Mr. Allen Frumpkin, an art judge of national and international repute, who maintains his own galleries in New York and Chicago.

Miss Stamper was born in Dublin, New Hampshire, and studied portraiture under George de Forest Brush, sculpture with Vm. Zorach, and lithography with Will Barnett. She received her formal art training at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, the Art Students League of New York, and the Art Academy in Cincinnati, where she later taught for seven years. In her studio on Captiva, she pulls all of her own lithograph proofs on a hand-operated press. Many are printed in color, and to some the color is added by hand.

Her lithograph "Girl and Bird" was drawn on stone, and only ten proofs made. Each print has been carried out with casein water colors by hand. Miss Stamper describes it as a poem about the possible closeness of relationship between a human being and a song-bird.

Mrs. JERE TAMBLYN of Staten Island, N.Y., has rented the guest house belonging to Mrs. J.J. GRULLEMANS for four months. Mrs. Tamblyn has spent some time each winter on Captiva for the last twenty-eight years.

Captiva is host this month to another painter of distinction, who is a guest of the JEREMIASSENS at Captiva Beach Motel. She is Madam MARIA C.J. VELING, who has a studio in Saddle River, New Jersey. A specialist in textures and colors, her work includes portraits, landscapes, flowers and still-life.

Madam Veling is of Dutch origin and training. She has had a show at the Anda Art Gallery in New York, and at the Studio 57-Galleries in Leonardo, New Jersey, as well as one-man show at the Teaneck campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University. Beside her great talent, Mme. Veling is a most charming and delightful person to know.

During Christmas week, Mr. and Mrs. H.O. VROOMAN had, as their guests from Tampa, their daughter CHERY, her husband JOHN THOMAS OSCHWALD, and her husband's mother, Mrs. INEZ OSCHWALD, whose love for the Islands grows brighter and more enduring, each passing hour.

P.T.A. MEETING

At the January meeting of the P.T.A., which is held the first Thursday of each month, Mr. Kontinos discussed the benefits Sanibel will receive from the Federal Assistance Program. The PTA's special program for the year will be the beautification of the school grounds. A $50. donation, to be used for playground equipment, was received from Mr. and Mrs. Partee.

There will be a photographic exhibit in the Community House of 43 prize-winning photographs of sports, people, animals, etc. This is the Photographic Awards Exhibit for 1965, and it may be seen on Thursday, from two o'clock until four, and Friday, during regular library hours, from ten until noon.

This is the third contest conducted by Scholastic Magazine, and sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company.

The show is indebted to Mr. and Mrs. HERVEY ROBERTS, ONITA and PAUL McCULLOCH, and Mrs. PARKER MILLS for arranging and hanging the exhibit.

LIBRARY FOOT NOTES

Does anyone subscribe to the Sunday New York Times? The Sanibel Library would be happy to have the book section when you are finished -- Thanks!

Thursday, Jan. 6, was a work day at the library. Miss ELIZABETH THALMAN, Lee County librarian spent the day helping willing workers with library problems. The volunteers were Mrs. J.P. GLASS, Miss PAULINE WILSON, Mrs. HARRY ROMINE, Mrs. CECIL HUDSON, Mrs. LEON LEVY, Miss FRANCES HEYSER and Mrs. JAMES PICKENS.

KNOW YOUR CONTRACTOR

John Kontinos of the Island Water Association, Inc. stated that the Association has not entered into any agreement, made any commitment and does not recommend any firm or individual for the connection of your present water system to that of the Association.

The Association has no objection to members using any firm or individual they wish to make their water connection. It is, however, concerned with the possibility that the area may be flooded with 'Operators' who collect deposits and sign contracts to do this work and default their obligations.

Mr. Kontinos suggests you know your contractor or if you should use someone unknown to you, to supervise the work done, materials used and to withhold payment until you are assured of proper connection.

Miss BEATRICE McKIBBIN and Miss MARGARET WILLIAMS arrived recently from Syracuse, New York, to spend the winter at the Grassic cottage on Buttonwood street (formerly Jared Allen home).

THANK YOU

We would like to thank our friends and neighbors, on and off the Islands, for their many kindnesses, help and sympathy following the recent death of Mrs. Elizabeth (Betty) Powell. /s/ H.E. Powell, Nancy Lee (Betty) Clements and families.

COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION WELL ATTENDED

Almost a hundred members and their guests attended the January meeting of the Sanibel Community Association at the Sanibel Community House. Host for the occasion were Mrs. JOHN HENDERSON, Mrs. DAN MALONE, Mr. and Mrs. G.T. MARTIN and Mr. and Mrs. TOM NIX. Following the buffet dinner, Mrs. Tom Nix, president, opened the business session.

A letter of appreciation for the $100.00 sent toward a Christmas party for the children at Sunland Training Center was read.

Appreciation was expressed to all the business people on both islands and in Fort Myers whose donations as sponsors of the brochure for the 1966 Sanibel Shell Fair have made publication possible. The brochure will soon be ready for distribution and will be most attractive with an original painting done just for the brochure by BOB KLOTZ, a Sanibel Island artist, in color a still life with seagrape, driftwood and local shells.

Shellers having difficulty identifying their shells will find the Jeanne Schwengel permanent collection in the Sanibel Community house very helpful and are invited to come in any Tuesday or Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m. Mr. Tom Nix will be on hand.

The Board of Directors of the Association voted a standard rate charge for rental of the Sanibel Community House by individuals and other organizations. This will be posted in the Community House. Use of the building and its facilities will continue to be free to churches and charitable organizations and for any meetings called for the general good of the island or islands. The charge is very nominal and is intended to go toward the regular expense of upkeep and maintenance.

ART FESTIVAL

Local artists are invited to submit paintings for the Second Annual Contemporary Southern Art Festival to be sponsored jointly by The Art Council and Sears, Roebuck & Co.. The show will be held at the Sears store in the Edison Mall Feb. 9-12. Hilton Leech will judge. Winning pictures in the various media will go on a year's tour through the South and be eligible for the $2,000 prize for Best of Show, to be judged at the Atlanta Art Museum.

Maybelle Stamper's "Girl with Bird," winning lithograph of the 1965 show, will be exhibited with the new paintings for this year's Art Festival.

PAINTINGS TO BE AWARDED

The Art Council of Southwest Florida has asked six Florida artists to contribute paintings to be awarded at a Treasure Chest of Paintings Party to winners of the Third Annual Juried Show, to be held March 12-19 at Chandler Gallery. Those contributing to the awards are Hilton Leech of Sarasota, Pat Eng and Leona Keiper Sherwood of the Fort Myers Beach Art Association, Jack Wilson of the Cape Coral Art League and Leon Levy of the Sanibel Art Association -- all familiar names to visitors at our own Sea Horse Gallery.

The recreation room at the Sanibel Island Trailer Resort was alive with activity during the holiday season. Gay laughter and best wishes rang out as friends and guests gathered for Christmas. The usual array of good food filled the gaily decorated table to capacity. The excellent cuisine was prepared in the finest style by Velna Ridge, Mabel Deverick, Anna Mansburger and guests of the Resort. The building was decorated in a theme of gold and white highlighted by a Sanibel Christmas tree adorned with ornaments made of shells and sea life. A buffet dinner to welcome the New Year was also enjoyed by all.

Those attending were -- Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Branner, Mr. and Mrs. William Alquist, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Edwards, Miss Pat Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Don Modrall, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McGinnes, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Trisler, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Steeves, Mrs. Walter Zadow and Miss Carol Zadow, who are all guests of the Resort. Other guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hooper, Mrs. Mary Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. William Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nix, Miss Carol Nix, Mrs. Rosa Bryant, Miss Scotia Bryant, Mr. Ken Bryant, Mrs. Ella Kapitza, Mrs. Ellen Morris, Mrs. Elsie Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. James Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fround.

ELNA ANDERSEN has closed her own beauty shop in Nantucket and will soon be joining MARY ALECK for the season. This will be her 9th year on the island.

DOTTI BOOKER would like to say to all the scientists' wives who drop in to see her each year that she is most gratified and pleased to be remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. THOMAS CLIFFORD have returned to their home in Owings Mill, Md., after a 10-day holiday visit with ELSIE MALONE.

WATER PIPES GOING IN

Pat Murphy brings us up to date on the Water Association -- The transporting pipe has already been brought to the Island. The footings have already been poured for the two pumping stations, the one on Dixie Beach and the one near the Telephone Co.. The latter is also planned to provide storage space and to house the main office. Land has been cleared for the pumping station on Captiva.

The ditching machine was scheduled to begin Monday, making the bed for the pipe-laying on Route 867, from Coconut Grove to the Captiva bridge. The Dunn Construction Co. will soon start to re-surface that road and the Water Association hopes to get the pipe down through all crossovers before re-surfacing begins.

The road repair work that you may have noticed in progress on various stretches of main road on Sanibel has been the County's effort to add fill and tar for better safety and longer wear.

HUNGRY? DON'T MISS AUDUBON MEETING

An illustrated talk on the native edible plants of the Islands will be given at the next meeting of the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon Society at the Sanibel Community House at 8:20 Friday evening (tomorrow). The talk, by the society's Plant Conservation Chairman, Hervey Roberts of Captiva, will include both colored slides and actual specimens of the plants discussed.

Among the curiosities will be flowers which can be fried and weeds that make good pickles. But most of the talk will be devoted to wild plants that can either be used for survival or are good to eat any time. Visitors will be welcome.

Next Sunday morning, January 16, the society will conduct the first of a series of field nature trips that will also be open to the public. The group will meet at the Bird Observation Tower on Tarpon Bay Road at 9 a.m., and, under the leadership of Mr. Roberts, will visit Sanibel spots where birds and interesting plants can be found. The trip has been made one of the events of the Florida State Audubon Society's annual convention being held in Fort Myers this week.

Charles LeBuff, society program chairman, will lead the second field trip the following Saturday, January 22. This tour, to the famous Corkscrew Sanctuary near Immokalee, will start from the Sanibel Lighthouse at 7 a.m.

The whole group of scientists who are gathered at Casa Ybel for their sixth annual symposium on Quantum Physics.

A lecture class takes a minute from the serious business at hand to smile for photographer George Konold (who took all of these pictures, by the way.)

Dr. Frank A. Momas of Colorado, Mr. William L. McDavid of Ohio, Mr. John D. Weiser of California, Mr. Don Land of New Hampshire and Dr. Alicia Batona de Gonzales of Argentina.

The Rev. TAD ALLEN had the excellent idea of asking Prof. LOWDIN to give an informal talk at Casa Ybel next Sunday (Jan. 16) on the meaning of Quantum Theory and its research applications. Islanders who would like to know more about the subject our visiting scientists are pursuing are invited to attend.

We do have a definition of the word quantum, which we are printing in the hope it might be of some help to our non-scientific readers. The word itself pertains to the concept (discovered at the turn of the century) of measuring energy as it is now thought to exist -- in little bits (quanta) or, discrete amounts. Formerly energy was measured as though it was continuous. The continuous measurement, we're told, is exemplified by turning on the stove and find the flame high or low. This new way of looking at things makes exact measurements possible instead of approximations.

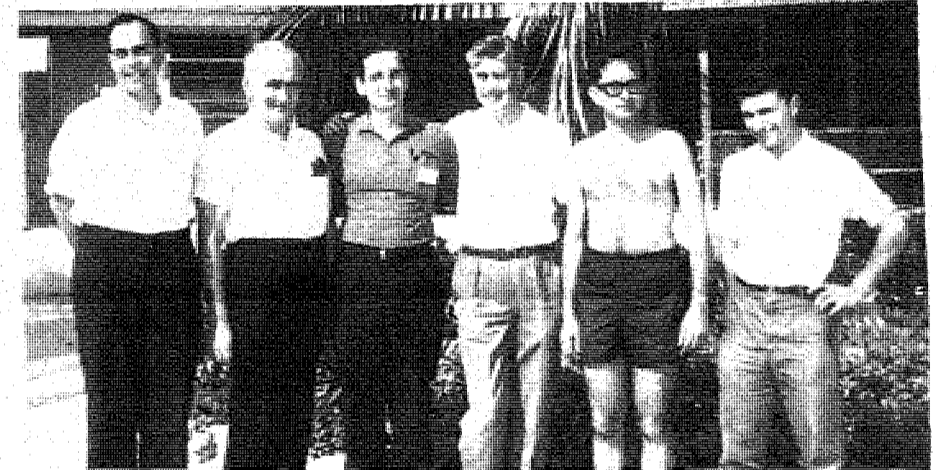

Very frankly, we still don't know what it means, so we are continuously (non-quantum?) glad that there are brilliant men who can understand such things, and that we run newspapers for a living!

Mrs. Per-Olov Lowdin, formerly a surgical operating room nurse, is now simply a wife and mother accompanying her husband, who has been directing a variety of scientific gatherings throughout the world (Nice, Geneva, and the summer counterpart of this institute, which is held each year in Lappland). The Lowdins are based six months in Gainesville where he does research and lectures on quantum theory, and six months in Sweden, as well.

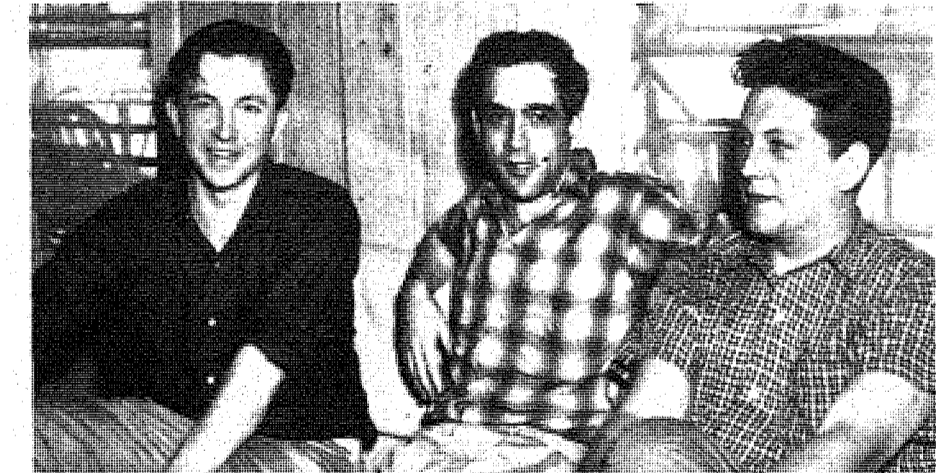

Mrs. Rubena Pauncz from Haifa, Israel, is another happy homemaker. Her friends say she is an excellent cook. With a little persuasion she agreed to share one of her favorite recipes -- a delicate tea kuchen, which she has already prepared in her kitchen at Casa Ybel. (NUT SQUARES) This visit, however, is a farewell occasion for Mrs. Pauncz because, although her scientist husband will continue visits to Sanibel, she is returning to Israel and will not be here next year.

Mrs. Lowdin then had the happy thought that Sanibel cooks might like to try Janson's Temptation, a simple to prepare smorgasbord dish usually served with an aqua vite or beer.

Mrs. Rose Money Slater, Prof. John Slater's wife, is herself noted in the field of crystallography. She is doing research in crystal structure at MIT, where her husband lectures part of the year. They both lecture at Gainesville in the remaining months.

(L-R) Dr. Vladimir Vettorl of Czechoslovakia, Dr. Edwin K. Gora of Rhode Island, Dr. O.D. Sittler of Texas A&M, Prof. Lowdin, Mr. Osvaldo Goscinski of the Univ. of Fla., and Mr. Donald Silversmith, also of the Univ. of Fla.

NUT SQUARES (recipe from Haifa, Israel by Mrs. Pauncz)

Make a dough of 2 c. flour and 1/4 lb. margarine; and a touch of baking powder if flour is not self-rising.
 Add 4 egg yolks
 3 tbs sugar
 grated peel of 1 lemon.
 Smooth this into bottom of a baking pan approximately 12 x 18 x 1/2"
 Spread thinly with a piquant jam.
 Beat 6 egg whites, add 1 c. sugar, 7 1/2 oz. ground nuts, juice and peel of 1 lemon.
 Use mixer briefly at low speed.
 Spread this as a top layer, bake 40 min. @ 250 degrees.

JANSON'S TEMPTATION (a favorite Smorgasbord recipe from Mrs. Lowdin)

In a baking dish place a layer of sliced raw potatoes, dots of butter, a layer of sliced onions, another layer of potatoes.
 Add anchovies (Try to get the less salty Swedish type), butter, cream. Bake till potatoes are done. Serve with Aqua Vite or beer.

CHILDREN'S ART SHOW

In the hope of encouraging our younger island artists, there will be a children's art show at the Sea Horse Gallery during the week of Jan. 29. Any visiting or resident school-age artist may bring his entry to the Gallery on Saturday morning, Jan. 29. All media will be accepted, but the picture must be mounted or done on mat board cut to exactly 11 x 14 inches. The artist should sign his name on the back and add his age and title for the picture. A prominent island artist will judge the show on Feb. 5 and will award a box of oil pastels to the best in each of three age categories. Entries may be picked up by their owners on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 5.
