SANIBEL COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING

The Sanibel Community Association held its annual business meeting April second to elect officers and three new Board of Directors for the coming year. The meeting was held following the usual fine covered dish supper and in spite of a power failure that kept the building in darkness for an hour. In the true spirit of the Sanibel Community a "sing" was started until the lights were restored and the evening was off to a most harmonious beginning.

To assure a quorum of voting members in attendance a roll call was taken before the various Committees gave their reports. All Committees reported a successful year for the financial and esthetic activities of the recent Shell Fair. A standing ovation was given Mr. Gerald Martin for the outstanding job he has done in the past two years he served as president. Special gratitude was expressed to those who donated their time to the completion of the new addition to the Community House and especially to Gerald Martin, Floyd Pflough and Tom Nix.

The newly elected officers were: president, Mr. Francis Bailey; vice president, Mr. Dan Moore; secretary, Mr. Robert Dormer; treasurer, Mr. Robert Aycock. Newly elected Board of Directors were: Mr. Wallace Cousins, Dr. Curtis R. House, and Mr. Albert Walthers. The Board Members still serving are: Mr. Marty Holtz, Mr. Gerald Martin, Mr. Wm. Newman and Mr. Howard Schriener.

BOOK ON THE EVERGLADES

The Florida Everglades have represented many things to many people for 2,000 years---home, food, livelihood, highway, refuge, fortress, convivial companionship, blessed solitude, startling beauty, sudden death, swift rebirth.

There is something of all of this in "Man in the Everglades," by Charlton W. Tebeau (University of Miami Press, Coral Gables, Fla.)

First there were the Calusa and Tequesta Indians, then the Seminoles and white settlers. The earliest Indians built the mounds, dug canals and plied the water routes. Later inhabitants built their dwellings on the mounds and cultivated their gardens there.

Spanish soldiery and missionaries, plunderers and martyrs, moonshiners and farmers, fugitives from justice and bird hunters---and periodic hurricanes---all left their mark on the Everglades.

Dr. Tebeau, chairman of the history department at the University of Miami and historian extraordinary of Florida, has been tireless in running down the track of man in the Everglades. The present volume is a completely revised edition of Dr. Tebeau's earlier book, "They Lived in the Park." Its value is enhanced tremendously by a profusion of illustrations, most of them unique.

The reader is indebted to the professional historian who came along to rescue from oblivion the fragile strand of Florida history while there were still available some of those who knew the colorful personalities who helped to shape that part of Florida now occupied by Everglades National Park.

Among the stories he tells are those of Ed Watson, the bad man of Chatham Bend on the Florida west coast and one-time associate of Belle Starr, the western outlaw; Arthur Leslie Darwin of Possum Key, in 1967 the last private resident on Everglades National Park lands, who claims he is a fifth-generation descendant of the naturalist Charles Darwin; and John Gomez of Panther or Gomez Key, who was said to have served with Napoleon Bonaparte and to have been a cabin boy for the pirate Gasparilla and a slaver and blockade runner in the Civil War.

Dr. Tebeau opens his book with a portrait of the Everglades; the second chapter is devoted to the Indian population; third, the period of exploration and removal of the Indians from the park region. The next four chapters are given over to specific sections of the park, and the last chapter tells of the birth of the idea and the development of the area as a national park.

Dr. Tebeau is the author of "Florida's Last Frontier," "Chololoskee Bay Country" and (with Ruby Leach Carson) "Florida from Indian Trails to Space Age." He is currently working on a definitive history of Florida.

For further information on "Man in the Everglades" by Charlton W. Tebeau, write to Coral Gables, Florida, University of Miami Press. There are 192 pages with illustrations. The cloth bound book is $4.95 and the paper bound is $2.95.

GARDENING NEWS

If you are a gardener on a budget, yet want a garden gay with color, April is an important month. In April we plant the annuals and perennials which keep our gardens colorful all summer and into the fall! With a few packages of seed, a love for plants, and a few dollars expended for seed and fertilizers and sprays, you can enjoy surroundings that are utterly beautiful!

Summer flowering annuals were never so lovely as they will be this year, according to the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association. There are new varieties that are most intriguing and unusual. For example, in Zinnias there is the big hybrid cactus flowering variety known as "Wild Cherry," along with many other varieties of Zinnias ranging from the tiny "Thumbalina" to the Giants that tower tall with flowers of six to eight inches across! Other interesting summer annuals include Marigolds, Tithonia, Gloriosa Daisies, Torenia, Gaillardia, Portulaca, Verbena, and others. Matter of fact, Salvia is another beautiful annual for summer plantings. These all are available in marvelous colors.

Annuals may be used in window boxes, hanging baskets, porch or wall boxes, in urns or tubs, for edging, mixed borders and terrace plantings. If you would like some annual planting suggestions that will be most helpful, send 25¢ in coin and a self addressed, large stamped envelope to FNGA, P. O. Box 4, Leesburg. You will receive a book, ACCENT ON ANNUALS, and a list showing when annuals should be planted in Florida for best results.

DRAWING SATURDAY FOR
"OCTOBER FOREST" OIL

Tickets for the drawing to determine the new owner of the oil painting, "October Forest" will have to be in before library closing time on Saturday, April 20. The drawing for the benefit of the Sanibel Public Library is for an original and colorful painting by Leon Levy. Tickets have been on sale at most Sanibel shops for the last month, and the painting has been on display at various locations on the Islands. Delivery is guaranteed to the winner from among the donors.

A new sign on Periwinkle Way in front of the library shows library hours. For the information of tourists and others not acquainted with the library, it is open for business on Tuesdays and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to noon, and from 2 to 4 p.m. on Thursdays.

Of several recently donated books, those of particular interest include "Intern," by Doctor X, a diary of a young doctor during his first year of hospital training.

"Great True Spy Stories," edited by Allen Dulles, former director of the CIA, is a collection of true spy adventures from Greek antiquity to the Cold War.

"Black Market Medicine," by Margaret Kreig, reveals the mass market traffic in bogus and bootleg pharmaceuticals throughout the United States and abroad.

"Thomas Becket," by Richard Winston, is a biography of one of the most colorful men of the Middle Ages from his birth in 1118 to his murder in 1170.

SANIBEL-CAPTIVA ART LEAGUE

There will be another showing of films by Elliot O'Hara, the eminent American watercolorist, on Friday, April 19, at the Captiva Community Center at 8 p.m. The Sanibel-Captiva Art League is sponsoring the movies and invites all interested artists to attend.

The three films, which are narrated by Mr. O'Hara and which demonstrate his painting techniques, will be "Painting Abstracts," "Painting Clouds," and "Painting Reflections of Water."

The previous showing of Mr. O'Hara's films, earlier in March, was attended by both artists and non-artists from the Islands and also by a group from Cape Coral, and a general invitation to all area artists has been extended by the League. There is no charge, but a free-will offering, to help defray the expense of renting the films will be accepted.

ARE YOU LONELY?

There is no reason to be lonely on Friday night on Sanibel. Game Night is still going strong and even though we will miss some of our faithful visitors who head back up North about this time of year we still hold the doors open to any visitors on the Island who enjoy an evening around the Game Table. Don't be left out of all the fun. Come on down to the Community House Friday nights at 8:00 p.m. and see where the action is.

BEACH SHRINE CLUB, UD

The Fort Myers Beach Shrine Club, U.D., got off to an auspicious start last Friday, April 5, in St. Raphael's Parish Hall when the Charter was presented by Illustrious Potentate L.C. Bob Whan, of Araba Temple, Fort Myers. In addition to Recorder W. W. Watson and Captain of the Guard John Warren, of Araba Temple, 23 other Nobles were present at the organizational meeting. Officers of the Club elected at the meeting were: President, James Midgley; vice president, Earl Ungericht; secretary, Rudy Wilkerson; treasurer, Charles Hansen. Other Nobles elected to the Board of Directors were John Liss, Lou Meyer and George Turner. The President appointed Wm. H. Smith as Scribe.

Any Nobles living in the area and who are interested in participating in the Club activities, may obtain information by calling any of the above named officers, all of whom reside on the Beach.

All Club functions will be under the aegis of Araba Temple.
