YVETTE REMUS RESIGNS AS SANIBEL LIBRARIAN

Mrs. Yvette Remus, for the last two years librarian at the Sanibel Public Library, has resigned. The Executive Committee of the Library at the regular meeting last week agreed with regret to accept the resignation.

As librarian, Mrs. Remus, an unpaid volunteer, supervised and directed the activities of 18 other volunteer library workers, maintained liaison with Mr. John Goodell, Lee County Librarian, and handled all the myriad technical details of operating the library. During her two-year tenure Mrs. Remus instituted many new procedures and practices which have enabled the library to better perform its prime function of serving the people of Sanibel.

Mrs. Remus brought to the Sanibel Public Library a wealth of knowledge gained from years of library experience and was most helpful in passing her knowledge along to the library's volunteer staff. Included in her experience was her work in Army libraries in this country and overseas.

The executive committee and the officers of the Sanibel Public Library have extended Mrs. Remus a vote of thanks for the excellent job she has done, and are happy to announce that she has agreed to continue to serve the library as a volunteer worker.

Efforts now are being made to find a qualified person to take Mrs. Remus' place as Sanibel librarian.

THANK YOU KKP 5247

Mr. & Mrs. Jay Heck of Daytona Beach had quite an interesting experience last week. They were on their way to visit friends, Mr. & Mrs. Clifton Way who are staying at Hurricane House, and had never been to Sanibel before. While not being "exactly lost," they were confused as to how to get to the bridge from Fort Myers. Mr. Heck stopped at the Edison Mall to do some shopping and when he returned to his car he found his wife on their citizens band radio talking to someone. The other person, KKP 5247, directed them down US41 to the College Parkway to McGregor Blvd., and then out to the causeway and then to the Islands.

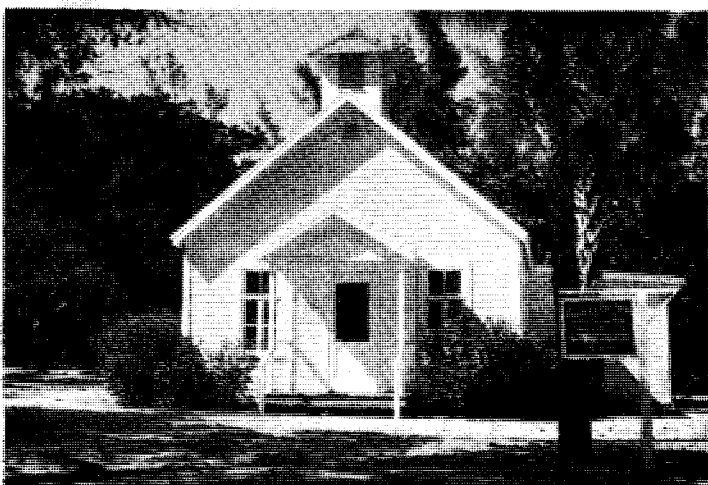

The other radio, as yet unidentified, then signed off after telling them to have "a good time and come back soon." And that is just what the Hecks and their 11 year old daughter, Kathy, plan to do. Mr. Heck told us, "someone nice took a lot of time to help us find our way, I just wish that we knew who he was."

 Samuel F. Trull of West Hartford, Conn. from Robert C. Hoerle of West Palm Beach, Fla., Lot 11, Block B, The Rocks.

Another sale reported on the Islands this week was property in Sanibel Estates from Anthony N. Konstant to Sanibel Land, Inc., for $44,000.

GLEN A RHODES

The Islands were saddened and shocked to learn of the death of Glen Allen Rhodes Sunday, June 16. Glen, taking a patient to Lee Memorial Hospital in the rescue truck, was stricken by a heart attack when he stopped the truck to check a possible flat tire. His son, Raymond stayed in the truck with the patient and Glen was found by attendants of the Harvey Ambulance he had called when he stopped.

Services were held yesterday, June 19, at the Chapel of the Harvey Funeral Home in Fort Myers with the Rev. Arthur Sims of the Sanibel First Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in the Barrancas National Cemetery in Pensacola.

Glen, 46, is survived by his wife, Eula, and three sons, Jack W. Toole of Sarasota, John B. Toole, Jr. of Oneco and Raymond, three brothers, a sister and two grandchildren.

TWO OF THE MANY FACETS OF OUR WONDERFUL ISLANDS

SPRING FLOWERING SHRUBS FOR COLOR MAGIC

Gardens in Florida need not be monotonous, according to President Richard G. Johnson of Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association. There are so many varieties of hardy and tropical plants that thrive in our Florida climate that color is available all seasons with a little planning.

Oleanders used to be considered a leggy, unattractive shrub when it became old-but no longer. Now Oleanders are trimmed to grow into formal trees and are doing yeoman duty as small trees for patios, in parking areas, and in avenues along walks. Oleanders come in white, pink, red and yellow-cream, and the trees are most spectacular in bloom. Gardeners have found that if you clip off old blooms, feed the plants and water them, you will get repeat flowers!

Crepe Myrtle has become another small tree...and it, too, can be trimmed into tree form. When old flowers are removed and the tree is fed and watered, you get repeat bloom there..and the Crepe Myrtle Hybrids are about as near lilacs as Floridians can grow!

Other summer flowering shrubs include Tibouchina, with the royal purple flowers; Gardenias and Tabernaemontanas, both with beautiful white flowers; Duranta, with lavender flowers and bright yellow berries; Ixora, now in red, yellow and orange, as well as white, that blooms all summer long; Jasmines come in many varieties, and produce yellow or white blossoms in abundance most of the summer months. Certainly no Floridian could have a garden without Hibiscus in variety...and how many varieties there are now has not been determined. Hemerocallis--commonly called Daylilies---used to be yellow or orange. Now they are available in pastels and jewel tones from neat white to almost black..with pinks, rose, lavender, purple, and many unusual shades.

If you are moving to a new area..or have already moved..you will want to note the plants that seem to be doing well in the area in which you live. Just because your lilacs were the best in the county back home does not help here..you have to grow plants that thrive under the soil and climatic conditions. You should discuss this with your local FNGA discuss this with your local FNGA nurseryman..he can recommend how you can plant your grounds so you will have color all year by selecting for the planting some summer blooming, some fall flowering and some winter blooming varieties, as well as those that "bloom in the spring!" Check your county agent ..he has bulletins from the Department of Agriculture and Agricultural Extension Service that will prove most helpful.

TAXPAYERS ASK IRS

Q- I planted some flowering shrubs around my house this spring. Can I treat this landscaping cost as a capital investment for tax purposes?

A- Yes, expenditures for landscaping can be added to the cost of your property. However, this would not include normal maintenance and care of the shrubs and lawn.

Q- My daughter opened her first bank account and was asked for her social security number. How can she get one; she's only 13?

A- A person can obtain a social security number regardless of age by filling out Form SS-5 available at local Social Security or IRS offices. Banks and other savings institutions are required by law to identify annual interest payments of $10 or more by the social security number of the recipient.

Q- I filed my return in April. What could be holding up my refund?

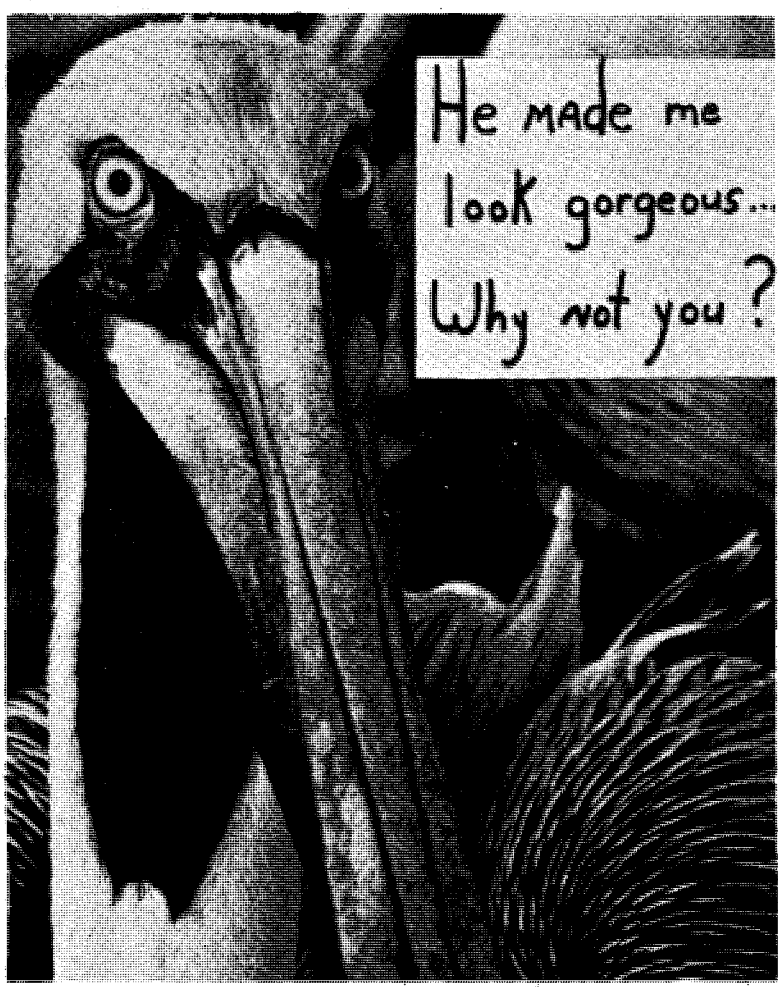

A- Many refunds are delayed beyond the usual 5 to 6 week processing period because the returns were incomplete or contained errors. Missing or inaccurate Social Security numbers, missing signatures, missing W-2 statements and other required supporting documents were common causes for delays.
