WORKHORSES PRODUCING THE 1969 SANIBEL SHELL FAIR FOLDER

S. C. A. SPARKS NEW IDEAS

The Sanibel Community Association held their first Board meeting last week to plan the agenda of activities for the coming year. New officers and Board members are: Francis Bailey, Pres., Dan Moore, Vice pres., Robert Dormer, Sec., Robert Aycock, Treas.; Board Members: Gerald T. Martin, Marty Holtz, Wm. Newman, Howard Schriener, Wallace Cousins, Dr. Curtis House, and Albert Walthers. Shell Fair business took priority in order to launch the biggest and best Fair ever. Gerald T. Martin, Chairman of the Brochure and Shell Table Committee reports that an entirely new shell table designed by Howard Schriener is already underway and is again being made by Charles LeBuff, Sr. of Naples. Specimen shells are being contributed by the Island Shops and individual collectors. Besides the new shell table, the Board approved a new idea this year of offering a chance to win any of three prizes for one ticket donation. A large Juno's volute (Scaphella junonia Shaw) under a glass domed bell for second prize and a Johnstones volute (Scaphella junonia Johnstoneae Clench) under a similar glass dome for a third prize.

A team of three able craftsmen started work last March to get pictures and stories for this years Brochure. They are Howard Schriener, creative Director; Jean Culpepper, copywriter; and Ewd. Lucas, photographer and owner of Thomsett Studio in Naples. Merchants on both Islands have been alerted of the importance of getting their copy in to meet the July 15th deadline for advertising in the Brochure.

Because the Community House is not air-conditioned the general monthly covered dish supper meetings have been suspended until Fall. Announcement will be made thru this paper when the meetings will be resumed. In the meantime any Community matters can be reported to anyone of the new Officers or Board Members who will be "on Island" thru the summer and will be keeping the wheels moving toward a big year for the Community in 1969.

FISH FRY HAS RECORD TURNOUT

Since the phones were out of service (off Islanders couldn't call anyone on the Islands) on our last deadline day, we weren't able to get this information last week. But here 'tis.

The American Legion July 4 fish fry given by Sanibel Captiva American Legion Post #123 was a greater success than any other one ever given. Not only were the fried mullet, hush puppies and cole slaw (as well as assorted beverages) absolutely delicious, they were all sold out by 4:30 in the afternoon...and about 600 persons braved the uncertain weather to share the feast.

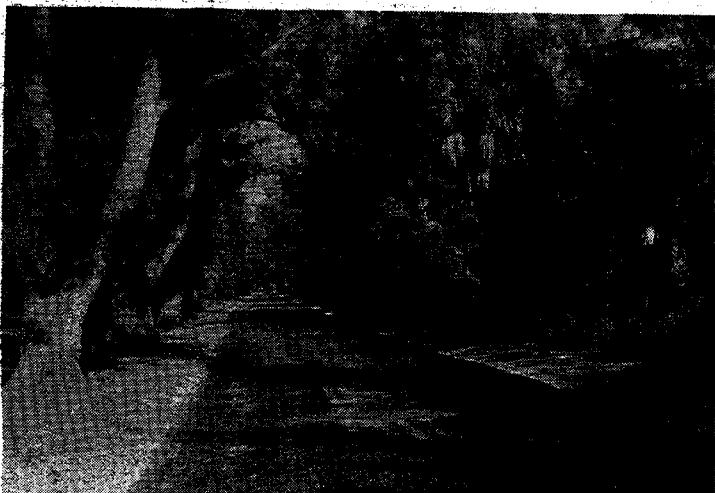

The Legion home is being remodeled...a complete kitchen with facilities for preparing full suppers, etc., is being donated by the Auxiliary. The funds are coming from the proceeds of selling a shell picture donated by the late Mary Cunningham of Captiva. The kitchen will be completed in about a month, and the work on it is being done by members of the Legion.

MRS. NELLIE BREWSTER

Mrs. Nellie Brewster, widow of the late James Brewster, and beloved mother of William Krangel, Florence Miller, Jean Morris and Dorothy, Norman and Frederick Brewster, died July 14 in Brooklyn, New York.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the John J. Healey Funeral Home in Brooklyn, and burial took place yesterday in Cypress Hills Cemetery.

The Brewsters owned a home on Woodring Point on Sanibel Island for a number of years and spent a good portion of each year on the islands until Mr. Brewster's death about two and a half years ago. Mrs. Brewster had made one trip here since that time.

The Brewsters are well remembered and will be missed by their many Island friends.

WEATHER REPORT

For those of you who are living off Island, the weather continues warm and wet. It has even been known to rain all day, which is fairly unusual for this time of the year.

Last Sunday's Miami Herald said that Miami forecasters predicted a wetter year than any other on history...if another drop doesn't fall till October sometime, Miami will still be ahead of their yearly average on rainfall. And we're not far behind.

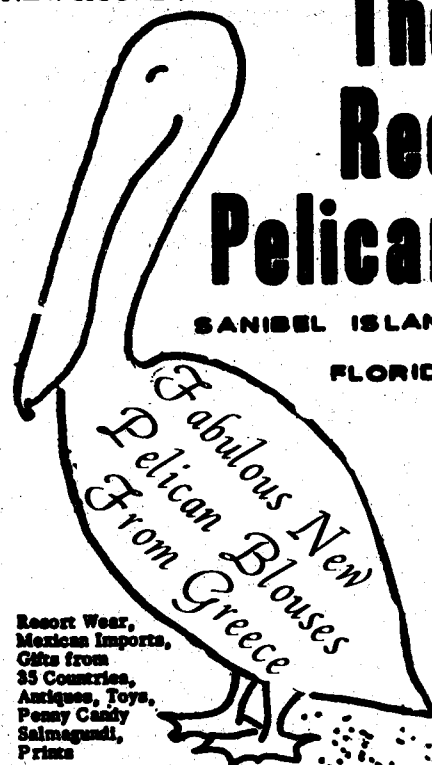

Roads flood and then get dry for a little while. Everything so far looks very nice and green...tropically lush, as we recall reading somewhere.

Only trouble is (besides a slight influx of critters)...the last rainy season we remember like this was in 1960. Guess its time to start checking the sawgrass in the Everglades and the blueness of the Seminoles' toenails and how many coconuts growing on the southwest side of the coconut palms to see if we're due for a....well, ah, hmm, shall we say tropical storm? Anyone for chipping in for a Tiki to keep 'em away?

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Sanibel Captiva Real Estate reports the recent sale of 200 feet of gulf frontage on Gulf Drive to John P. Glass of Essington, Pa., from V. Veenschoten and Edwin Nick.

Another sale reported this week is by Priscilla Murphy, Realtor, from Josephy and Peter Knight of Indian Rocks, Fla., to Richard W. Steves of Bethany, Ohio. The property sold is lot 21, Block 4, in Sanibel Shores, Unit 1.

HAYNIE APPOINTED TO ZONING

Robert C. Haynie was appointed member-at-large on the Lee County Zoning Board by P. A. Geraci to fill the vacancy created by Andy Melody, who resigned from the board because of sickness.

VACATION OF EASEMENT GRANTED

(No it isn't going anywhere, it's just a legal phrase.) The Mark McClintocks of Tradewinds were granted a vacation of a utility easement by the County Commissioners when releases were presented to the Commission from the Island Water Association, Lee County Electric Cooperative and the United Telephone Company.

The McClintocks plan to build a house on the easement, which is between the two lots.

Mr. & Mrs. BUEL FRANKLIN of Sanibel arrived in Seward, Alaska today on their Alaskan tour with the Airstream Wally Byam Caravan.

Mayor R. W. Kirkpatrick of Seward proclaimed July 10 and 11 as Wally Byam Caravan Days in honor of the visit.

While in Seward, they will enjoy a visit to the newly opened Alaska Scallop processing facility which packages the scallops as they are brought into port by the Alaska Scallop Fleet. Side trips to the Seward Museum and Library are also planned. On Thursday, July 11, the caravaners will attend a Sourdough breakfast hosted by the Seward Chamber of Commerce.

H. A. VROOMAN's grandson, MICHAEL ROMERO and a friend of Mike's, DAVID FITZ of West Palm Beach, are visiting on Captiva Island.

The BURNER family, father DAN and sons DAN and PETER, were visiting on Captiva Island last week. They plan to make their home here shortly.

ISLAND INN

Happy guests at Island Inn these days include Mr. & Mrs. Merningstar, of Sidney, Ohio, and Mr. & Mrs. Walter M. Mills of Austraell, Ga. Mrs. W. DEWEY and Mrs. Hayes and six of their children are also visiting Mrs. Sam Bailey and her children (Mrs. Bailey is here for the summer months) at the Inn.

Dr. Jacques Piccard and his family are staying at Island Inn on Sanibel. It's a combination business and pleasure stay...Dr. Piccard designed the U.S.A.'s newest research submarine. It's a Grumman PX-15 and will be christened "Ben Franklin" at West Palm Beach in a launching ceremony late in August.

The submarine will do research in the Gulf Stream...sound, biology, temperature, currents and how much salt is in the water, as well as investigate a layer of plankton which sometimes confuses skippers of ships as well as the navigation machines...on a 1,500 mile journey underwater from southern Florida to Cape Cod.

Jerry Way (left) took Lee Limbert, Steve Reynolds, Jr., and Steve Reynolds, Sr. (not shown) fishing last week, and the men hauled in 16 snook and a 23 lb. trout! The two Reynolds and Limbert are staying at South Seas Plantation and live in Delray Beach.

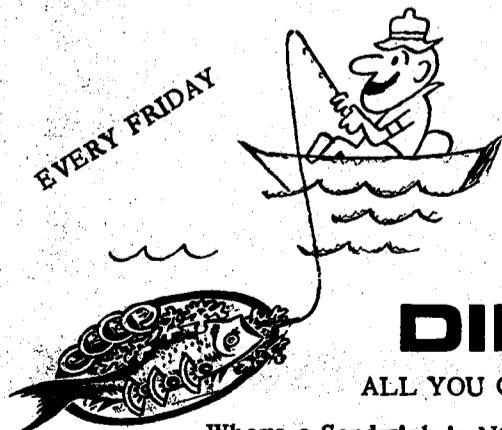

Fishing seems to be good this week (or else everyone got around to taking pictures) as Jeff and Virginia Solomons and Jim Lewis will gladly attest. They're all staying at Castaways on Sanibel and went fishing with Charlie Rosse of Captiva last week; as you can see they caught a lot of nice snook to take home to Plantation, Florida.
