BOB and PEGGY PARCELLS have returned home from their month's vacation, and an 8300 mile automobile trip to Vancouver, B.C., and the entire west coast and Mexico, which took them through 20 states. They visited their parents and children in California and Mississippi, as well as Peggy's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. JAMES J. WATSON of Birkenfeld, Oregon. They had Labor Day weekend in Biloxi, Miss., with Major and Mrs. BERT JENKS, RICK and DEBBIE. Mrs. Jenks is their daughter. This is the Parcels third round trip to the west, each trip being a different route, and when they arrived home this time they felt as if they really had "seen America first", as well as our two neighbors to the North and South. (Canada and Mexico), and they were very happy to return to the Islands.

Guests at the Gallery are Mr. & Mrs. BUDDY LEWIS of Miami. Mr. Lewis is the orchestra leader at Key Biscayne Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis are spending two weeks at the Gallery on their second visit to the Island.

Mr. & Mrs. JOHN L. MORGAN of Hollandale are here for their third visit and are spending a long and lazy month at the Gallery.

Mr. & Mrs. JOSEPH J. KARWICK of Denham Springs, La., have been told many good things about Sanibel by their relatives so they finally decided to find out for themselves. They are spending their first week on the Island at the Gallery and really seem to be enjoying themselves. The relatives were right!

Another couple spending their first week at the Gallery are Mr. and Mrs. B. REED of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Henderson House Publishing

Route 1 Box 598 Sanibel Island, Florida 33957

September 19, 1968

Dear Sanibel and Captiva Islanders,

We have recently established the Henderson House Publishing Company (Not Incorporated) here on Sanibel Island.

Our speciality is custom printing for the Island. We have a photo-offset press, process camera, completely equipped photographic darkroom, letterpress, both hot type and cold type composition, art and layout facilities, large paper cutting equipment, over 100 styles and sizes of type, headlining equipment, commercial padding and stapling equipment, and a large selection of paper and supplies. This investment in material and equipment should allow most all of your printing to be accomplished on the Island and will ensure a quality product delivered within your schedule requirements.

In addition to custom printing, we produce a line of stationery and greeting cards which we wholesale and retail. The stationery and greeting cards have an "Island" and Florida flavor as well as standard themes. We offer personalized stationery with 24-hour service.

As a convenience for our customers, we have a small stock of office supplies which we retail at "mainland" prices. We will increase this stock as we determine your needs.

Our facility is located in front of Nave Plumbing on Perriwinkle Way. We pickup and deliver on Sanibel and Captiva but would welcome a visit by you to our shop. We are open from 9:00 am to 6:00 pm Monday through Saturday.

We would very much appreciate the opportunity of discussing your printing requirements with you. If we can be of service, please contact me at GR 2-4672.

Sincerely Yours,

W.R. (Wally) Henderson

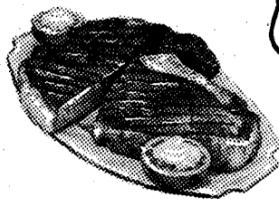

P.S. My family and I are new but permanent residents of Sanibel. We hope to contribute through community service to these wonderful and charming Islands.

FLOWERS THAT GROW IN THE SHADE--AND LIKE IT!

Occasionally you hear someone complain because they have a shady spot where nothing will grow--and this is certainly not true, because among our shrubs and plants there are many which love shade. The secret of using the right plants is to secure the advice of the man who knows plants and their preferences--your local FNGA Nurseryman--according to President Richard C. Johnson of Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association.

First of all your nurseryman will check the location and determine just how shaded it really is. If it is truly a dense shade, and it can not be lightened by trimming, demossing and removing some branches from the overhanging trees, then he will probably help you create a woodland scene.

A small pool, bordered with moisture and shade loving plant, can make a real beauty spot of what was considered a problem area. There are many plants that do well in the shade. For example, most Azaleas prefer shaded locations, particularly the pastel shades. Some of the native plants including violets, lilies, hollies, Dogwood, redbud, etc. love shaded locations. Some of our shrubs include Viburnum suspensum, Hamelia, Gardenias, Serissa, Coffea, Beloperone, Solandra, Clerodendron, Calli-carpa, Trachelospermum, Ardisia, Ivy, Tetrapanax, Aralia, Feljoa, Ilex Crenata and Cornuta, Ilex Vomitoria, Ilex Dahoon, Malpighia, Murraya, Triphasia, etc.

There are also perennials and annuals which may be used in shaded areas, along with bulbs, to make your garden in the shade as beautiful as you want it to be. There are not too many grasses that like shaded areas, but for ground coverings you can use Ophiopogon or Ivy, and vary it with pebbles, stepping stones, etc. In dense shade you might use a mulch of pine straw or of a shredded bark instead of grass.

Your garden in the shade can be as beautiful and colorful as you like. However, like any other garden, it is going to take some special planning, and the use of plants suitable for the location. Too many gardeners purchase plants because they like them in the nursery, or have seen them growing somewhere effectively--and a plant in the wrong place definitely never achieves the beauty it would have had if been planted in the location preferred. Plants, like people, have preferences. If you are not a horticulturist, be sure to consult someone who knows--- your FNGA nurseryman!
