WILDLIFE LAND PURCHASE

The Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation today purchase of 185 acres of land for wildlife preservation and Sanibel.

The total of first payments of $37,000 was advanced to the Foundation by Nature Conservancy, Inc. of Washington, D.C. Total cost will be in the neighborhood of $117,000 which the Foundation plans to raise from its members and other contributors.

The land purchased consists of two parcels. One, of 163 acres, is in the Sanibel Slough area fronting on Rabbit Road to the west and the state highway on the north. It was purchased from Finger Corporation of Louisville, Ky., and Gene L. Green, trustee, of Venice, Fla.

The other consists of 22 acres near the north end of Sanibel with 1,000 feet on Pine Island Sound and 900 feet on Wulfurt Road. This is the site of a projected marine biological laboratory which will be manned by teachers and students from Florida Atlantic University.

The acreage in the slough area is the site of a projected Nature Center. Plans for these and other projects will be formulated during a three day conservation conference which the Foundation is sponsoring on Jan. 23, 24 and 25.

AARON SLICK FROM PUNKIN CRICK

Aaron Slick From Punkin Crick opens Saturday night Jan. 4 at The Pirate Playhouse. This rural comedy which first opened in 1900 Life Magazine says has been the most produced play in the history of the American Theater. Alan Yound made a successful movie of Aaron.

Aaron Slick is a period piece and affords the audience an evening of hokum, corn and "Hamming-it-up" provided by a villain, a poor widow, a pinkerton man, an ingenue, a tomboy, a lady in red, and of course, our hero. Portraying these roles will be Duane White, Ruth Hunter, Gene Karr, Susan Holtz, Alice Aleck, Helene Sparkes, and Philip Hunter, who also directs in high fashion.

This version of Aaron Slick will have its own special songs composed by Philip Hunter and Sanibel Island's own Ruth Ross, who will be at Pirate Playhouse's hammond organ to play for Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick Jan. 4. Curtain 8:15 - Box office GR 2-3953 and GR 2-3943.

Tickets at $4.50 per person are on sale at the Chamber booth. Mr. Griffing Bancroft, noted news analyst, will be the speaker.

Griffing Bancroft, who is doing a weekly commentary for the new Fort Myers Television station, WBBH Channel 20, was for twenty years a Washington correspondent covering government and politics there and around the country for International News Service, the Chicago Sun, and for the last ten years as a radio and TV news analyst and commentator for the Columbia Broadcasting System.

During World War II, on leave of absence, Mr. Bancroft served overseas, heading the news operation in the Mediterranean theater for the Psychological Warfare Department. For this he received the Medal of Freedom, the highest award given civilians by the War Department.
