ME PLAN THAT CRUISE NOW

Planning a cruise is one of those games usually played while bumper-to-bumper on the ex-on the 5:20 commuter special. For most, it's primarily a winter and spring diversion, but the winners aren't known until that cruise becomes, hopefully, a pleasant memory.

The key to a successful cruise is, in a word, planning. Whether it be a day-long run around the lake or a year-long run around the world, a little advance thought and common sense given to the what-where-why-how of the cruise is the best insurance available for trouble-free fun on the water.

First, recommends Green Keltner, Johnson Dealer at San Carlos Marina, be certain your boating rig is shipshape. Have the motor checked out by a reputable service expert and make sure the boat meets Coast Guard safety standards.

Don't forget to stock a few key extra parts (spark plugs, prop and the like,) and make sure you have plenty of line and anchors onboard.

There is much else to consider, though, besides the boat. Where are you going? What will the waters be like? What about the weather?

After you select your route, get nautical charts of the waterways you'll be cruising. Don't rely on roadmaps, which often fail to note such boating considerations as dams and water depths. (But some oil companies offer maps specifically designed for the cruising boatman. These are excellent.)

Work out a leisurely, flexible cruise schedule. You aren't out to set any endurance records, so don't be overly ambitious.

If you happen on some good fishing or an exceptionally beautiful area (and you will,) you may want to stay around there an extra day or two. On the other hand, if you encounter a dull stretch of water, you'll probably want to open the throttle a bit and speed on to the next pleasant area.

There isn't an abundance of restaurants and hotels along many of our nation's waterways, so don't plan on finding the same travelers' accommodations that are available along a highway. Even if your itinerary includes overnight stays in shoreside motels, bring along some basic camping gear just in case.

Experienced boatmen always bring along extra fuel, drinking water and food on extended voyages; and they make sure someone left behind knows where they're going and how long they'll be gone.

And if you're a beginner planning an extended voyage, a short weekend-long cruise will give a pretty accurate idea of what's involved.

Cruising by boat is outdoors family fun at its best. All that's needed for an unforgettable vacation is a good boat and motor, a good boat and motor, a little camping skill -- and just a touch of the adventurer's spirit.

Mr. & Mrs. DAVID ROUGH-HEAD of Mitchell's Castaways recently had their daughter, Mrs. JOEL W. JOHNSON, staying with them. Mrs. Johnson's home is in Kendall Mills, N.Y.

THE COLONY GUESTS

The Colony guest list includes: Mr. & Mrs. Crosby Swanson, Jr. and family of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mr. & Mrs. W. B. Van Wagner, Arlington, Va., Mr. & Mrs. Hugo Schimmel, Williston, Ohio and Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Nater, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE EDISON PLAYERS

The Edison Players opening production, "Three Men On A Horse," will be presented as dinner theater at the Sheraton Motor Inn in Ft. Myers on October 10 and 11. The buffet dinner will be served at 6:30 with the show beginning at 8:30 p.m. The John Cecil Holm and George Abbott comedy will also be presented at a Sunday matinee on October 12 at 2:30 p.m.

Tickets and reservations can be made at the Sheraton Motor Inn in Ft. Myers beginning Wednesday October 1.

FLORIDA STATE FAIR

Regardless of what the fashion magazines are dictating for the coming season, HATS ARE IN at the 1970 Florida State Fair and now is the time to start your creation for the millinery division of the sewing competition, a feature of Women's World.

Open to adult and youth exhibitors, over $200 in prize money will be awarded in the nine classes of competition including felt, fabric, straw, fun and sun, hand crocheted and knitted hats.

Entry rules for millinery require the article to be entirely the handiwork of the contestant with no ready-made forms or bases.

Millinery is just one of the seven divisions and 46 classes in the Women's World sewing contest to be held and exhibited at the Florida State Fair, Feb. 3 - 14. All entries must be received by the fair no later than Jan. 13. Additional information may be obtained by writing Florida State Fair, P. O. Box 1231, Tampa, 33601.

SOMEWHERE
GENERATION GAP!!!

Dear Goldie,

I have a very nice next door neighbor and I enjoy her early morning coffee breaks with me but she has a three year old boy who is a spoiled brat. She brings him over every morning and it doesn't take this monster 15 minutes to mess up my house. The child doesn't mind and ignores his mother. It is impossible for her not to notice the damage this Dennis the Menace does but she keeps bringing him over. Should I tell her to stop the visits or tie this brat to a chair?

/s/ Losing Patience

Dear Losing Patience,

Neither, go over and have coffee at her house.

Dear Goldie,

My husband wants me to take birth control pills. He said we can't afford children and doesn't want to take the chance of my getting pregnant. I'm not against the pill. My problem is the examination you have to go through to get them. I'm very shy and have never been to a doctor for any more than a blood test. Is there anyway I can get around this embarrassing predicament.

/s/ Shy Bride

Dear Shy Bride,

No, not unless your planning a family in which case you'll have to see the doctor anyway.

Dear Goldie,

My best friend is interested in my fiance. She has been a close friend of mine for years and I like her very much, but recently I've noticed she has a strong attraction to my fiance and doesn't try to hide it. My fiance has no interest in her, in fact he thinks it's funny; I don't. Should I cross off this friendship or try to ignore this flirtation?

/s/ Wondering

Dear Wondering,

Just as it takes two to tango it takes two to flirt. But men being men and women being women I'd concentrate on your fiance even if it means giving up your best friend.

Have a problem? Write Goldie, % The Islander, P.O. Box 2827, Fort Myers Beach.
