YOU ASKED FOR IT

The residents of Sanibel and Captiva are determined to secure approval on certain zoning restrictions for the island. In the event they do not receive satisfaction, there are growing threats of reprisals, including the possibility of secession from the Union.

"After all," one resident commented, "England is an island and it has its independence. Why shouldn't we?"

However, the secession plans are being formulated in utmost secrecy. Usually voluble sources have proved most uncommunicative. But all of the evidence points to a seething unrest that could lead to a revolt.

On a recent visit to Bailey's General Store, we overheard a lady asking for the Minute Maid -- clearly a Florida euphemism for Minute-man. Although we have found no hard evidence that arms are being cached on the island, we have heard enough to convince us that there is an ample supply of shells. There is even public discussion of circulating a petition to island residents, presumably to determine if it is not high time to rise up.

There are already growing indications of nationalism on both Sanibel and Captiva. Signs are appearing with the injunction to "Keep our Island Clean" -- no doubt a subtle jibe at the main-landers and certain to fur-

BRIDGE DELAY

The delay in the completion of the bridge on Periwinkle Way near Causeway Road is beginning to cause considerable concern among residents of Sanibel. There seems to be less interest on Captiva, where they are said to have their own problems.

There has even been some speculation that the delay is caused by a deliberate slow-down inspired by the Miami Chamber of Commerce or other hostile elements, but in the opinion of this column such speculation is unwarranted. We even doubt that the delay is deliberate because after repeated visits to the construction site, we couldn't find a soul deliberating.

Informed circles in Key Biscayne, the nation's weekend capital, also report that President Nixon has not been involved directly in the bridge construction. But one skeptic pointed out that the same denial was issued by the White House during the Green Beret case. This veteran President-watcher speculated that Nixon was annoyed because the bridge was not dedicated to him.

"After all, this V-P-W pointed out, "Hoover has his dam, Pulaski has a skyway, and Lincoln has a tunnel. Why shouldn't Nixon have a little bridge on Sanibel?" His story sounded pretty good, but it was hard to believe that the President of the United States would sabotage our bridge.

On a return visit to the construction site we thought we saw someone actually working on the bridge. But it turned out to be a pelican fishing in the canal. Since there isn't any water in the canal, because there isn't a bridge for it to go under, the pelican didn't seem to be making much progress either.

We decided to check with a construction expert. He waved a finger in our face and said: "Rome was not built in a day." We wanted to reply that this little Sanibel bridge was not exactly the Ponte Vecchio, but then we remembered that that bridge is in Florence rather than Rome. So we were left speechless.

But that led us to wonder how long it would have taken a few good Roman workmen to complete a bridge. We found that the first Roman bridge of record was built in 621 B.C. across the Tiber in less time than it now takes to just get approval from the zoning board. And that old wooden bridge lasted 900 years! A few years later, about 219 B.C. the Romans built one out of hewn stone at Martorell, and it is still in good shape. But after Rome fell it appears that bridge building sort of went to pot. They just didn't build them like they used to and took longer doing it. We found, for example, that it took about fourteen years just to build the Brooklyn bridge.

All of this research led us to the conclusion that our little Sanibel bridge is coming along just fine. After all, Rome was not built in a day! And why not -- Nixon Bridge? In the meantime: "Don't cross the bridge till you come to it, is a proverb old, and of excellent wit."

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

A welcome face lifting for the Golden Shell Apartments is going on, says Gene Baggotte who has purchased them from Peter Lippman. Jean Hopwood, resident manager, is most enthusiastic and says it will be just lovely when completed.

TOM HOLTZ, son of MARTY and MARY HOLTZ of Sanibel, enlisted into the U.S. Navy following his graduation from Cypress Lake High School this last spring. He worked for the Fish & Wildlife Service and drove the Mosquito Control fog truck on Captiva during the summer and then toured the Northeastern states. Tom was called to active duty on Oct. 16, reporting for basic training at Orlando. His sister, SUSAN, who graduated from Bishop Verot High School in the spring, had worked at Island Inn and the Coconut Grove during the summer. She has entered her freshman year at Andrew College in Cuthbert, Ga. Both Tom and Suzi are expected home for Christmas.

Mr. CHAS SEGAR, JR. of St. Louis, Mo., found a wendle-trap; Mr. & Mrs. WM GLASSNER of Akron, Ohio found three Junonias and Mrs. Glassner found a hairy Triton.

Friends of little STACY WAY will be happy to know that she survived a serious tonsilectomy at Mound Park Childrens Hospital in St. Petersburg, last Friday. Her mother has returned home but Stacy is still at the home of Mrs. CAROL WATSON, her aunt, to be near her doctor. Grandmother, Mrs. T. M. WILES is doing "private" nursing for a few days. I'm sure Stacy would love to receive some cards; they do help so much. Send them home here.

The Government Pier has been covered with wall to wall people or standing room only lately with fisherman (and Ladies) really doing quite well for themselves; oh, the beautiful fish they've been catching! You never saw lovelier redfish. Quote "Merow-o-o-ah" says Midnight, of course that's only a cat's idea of our scalley friends.

Mr. & Mrs. EUGENE WARD, Cortland, Ohio are back for a two month stay on Sanibel. This is their 10th year to vacation here.

Mr. & Mrs. W. A. FOX of London, Ontario, Canada are spending their first week on Sanibel and have fallen in love with our Island.

NIGHT ON SANIBEL

In the stillness the wind whispers and soothes the troubled mind. One looks in raptured enchantment as the soft light of the moon dances across the waters of the folling Gulf. Then as silent sleuths, dark clouds, obliterate the feast of sparkling light and a stealthy silence covers the Islands. The whisper turns to a while, then a roar, the palm trees bend, the shrubbery sways and cringes before an avalanche of pounding rain. Swiftly, without care for man or beast, the onslaught of torrential rain sweeps across the Island and is gone as quickly as it came. The glimmer of serene silence is here again and the moon pours out its rays of celestial light upon all concerned. The storm is hardly remembered. Would that our wordly troubles could be so easily erased!

ARRESTED IN MIAMI

Mrs. Marilyn J. Royalty, also known as Marilyn Knowles, age 35, and J. C. (Jake) Littlejohn, 37, accused of attempting to kill Walter Royalty of Captiva (not Sanibel) last weekend has been apprehended in Miami, Fla. and returned to Lee County, says investigator Frank Chapoton.

The two were accused of stabbing Royalty and fleeing with $1,500, cameras, TV and some food, Mr. Royalty says that's the way it happened.

Royalty, Littlejohn and Knowles are not managers of Tween Waters Motel, merely employees. Mr. Jeff Morse is the agent for the owners of the Motel, Mrs. Clark is the manager.

The Royalty's and Littlejohn were drinking at the Motel last Saturday and got into a serious argument over a false marriage. Royalty went to bed and was awakened about 4 a.m. when he was hit in the back with a blunt instrument and he saw the woman and the man standing nearby discussing the advisability of killing him. Then they struck him again and he lost consciousness. When he awoke he found he had been stabbed with an ice pick. The culprits fled.

GOODWILL GOLD

There's gold in them thar closets, pardners -- soft Goodwill gold, that is.

Your tired outmoded garments are purest golden fleece to the handicapped men and women at Goodwill Rehabilitation Centers, more precious to them than all the ballast the Good Uncle hordes in his Ft. Knox dig.

Now that seasons are changingly rich vein of soft Goodwill gold running down your clothes racks and through the bureau drawers. Does last fall's finery look as lustrous as when you stowed it away six months ago? Will this summer's souvenirs look more like relics when you shake out the moth crystals next May?

Goodwill has the tonic for weary wardrobes. They've perfected a process to reclaim your cast-offs and put them to work. Clothing is collected, repaired or reconditioned, and then sold through Goodwill stores. Proceeds pay the wages of handicapped tax burdens into tax payers.

But the real magic that changes unwanted clothing into something golden is what happens when a disabled person first discovers his abilities and learns to use them.

Goodwill stakes a larger claim than just jobs for the handicapped. Rehabilitation services encompass counseling, personal adjustment, vocational training and job placement. Last year alone, 1,500 persons in 29 west and central Florida counties were served.

That's why Goodwill urges some earnest prospecting in those closets, followed by a gold rush to the yellow and blue collection box nearest you.

DIVISION OF HEALTH NEWS

That old refrigerator you put to one side when you bought that new model may be a death trap for some unsuspecting child, according to the Division of Health (formerly the State Board of Health).

Two children -- a five-year-old boy in Polk County and a three year old girl in Lake County -- have already died this year in refrigerators and ice boxes. 14 other children have perished in this manner since 1961 -- the year the health agency started keeping this type of statistical records.

Exploration and concealment are normal activities for children two to five years of age, according to the Division of Health. It is a part of their growing pattern. An empty refrigerator appeals to children as a "good hiding place," "playhouse," and excellent "jail" because it is difficult to escape from.

If a child becomes trapped in one and is not released within 10 to 15 minutes he faces almost certain death. The old-fashioned appliance with the mechanical-type, latch lock is the most dangerous type.

Many communities have local laws requiring that the doors of abandoned refrigerators be removed and that the appliances be disposed of in a safe manner. Manufacturers also cooperate with safety councils and public health programs by urging the purchasers of new refrigerators to properly dispose of old ones.

If you plan to abandon, discard, or junk a refrigerator, the Division of Health urges that the appliance be carted away or destroyed. It recommends removal of the doors, or that the door be fastened so that it cannot be opened.

YOU ASKED FOR IT

ther inflame passions on both sides of the Bay. It is reported that several residents of Captiva have protested to the publishers of Webster's Geographical Dictionary because New York City and Sanibel are included, but Captiva is not. These might appear to be innocent enough manifestations in themselves, but they are the stuff from which revolutions are bred. Consider how the entire course of history might have been changed had Marie Antoinette not said "Let them eat cake!"

(THE CHURCH CORNER)

The Sanibel Baptist Church proudly announces the arrival of Reverend Jack and Mrs. Otis from Graceville, Fla. Rev. Otis will take up his duties as pastor of the church and will be on hand for weddings, funerals, and sick calls with a listening heart for all concerned.

The Otis' have just completed their course at Baptist Bible Institute. They are not new to Sanibel, but have been coming here for years. Rev. Otis had a church in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., then he took over a Mission, brought it up to a full church and we are sure it is God's will that he will do the same here.

The Baptist Church has Sunday school at 10 a.m., Church at 11 a.m., Evening Service at 7:30 and Wednesday prayer meeting at 7:30 p.m. All members ask that the Islanders welcome Rev. and Mrs. Otis to the Island by attending one of their services and shake their hand. The Steering Committee, under the able direction of Chairman Bob Stevens, Mr. & Mrs. Belton Johnson, Mr. & Mrs. Henry Rhodes and Eula Rhodes are to be congratulated on their selection of a pastor. Thought for the day -- prayer is the most powerful force in the world.

The St. Isabel Mission of Sanibel and Captiva announces their fall schedule.

Holy Mass Sunday 7:30 and 11:30 a.m. Confession before the Mass. Sick call anytime. Father J. Normand Hardy, Pastor, MO 4-6754, Father Lucuis MO 4-9857, Father Beauregard, MO 4-8972.

Now that Father Lucuis Hellstern is with us for good we are ready to go back to work.

We are going to try a tentative schedule for the weekday Masses. If enough people come to weekday Mass, we shall continue to have the following schedule, otherwise we shall have to review it. Monday, Father Lucius is at the Church of the Ascension, so there will be no Mass at the Mission.

Tuesday 8:30 a.m., Wednesday 8:00 p.m., Thursday 8:30 a.m., Saturday 8:30 a.m. On Friday we intend to resume our saying Mass in the homes. We shall start with those families who have people who cannot come to church therefore if you wish Father to come, please write your name and address on a sheet of paper and drop it with your offertory collection. When we have visited the sick we shall be glad to oblige the other parishioners. If you wish to have your friends and neighbors, they are welcome, however a group of more than 10 to 12 is generally not very practical.

One very important thing to remember is that we cannot say Mass in the bedroom of any sick person. After the mass there could be a discussion group organized where you can ask Father questions concerning the Church or the Faith.

C.C.D. We all realize that the religious education of our children is of the greatest importance. We fail them and let them down seriously if we are remiss in our duty. Starting next Sunday, we ask that all the children who are to participate in these classes come to church at 10:15 a.m. so that Father may teach them for a half-hour, then they can rest 15 minutes while Father hears confessions and prepared for the 11:30 Mass.

So now we shall have four programs underway: Weekday Mass -- C.C.D. -- Home Masses -- Discussion Groups.

Last Sunday's Offertory collection amount to $93.31; last year on the same Sunday: $90.

The Community Church is located on Periwinkle Way with Dr. H. E. Sheely, Pastor, Sunday school is at 9:30 and morning service is at 11 a.m.

St. Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church is located on Periwinkle Way. The Rev. T. A. Madden is Pastor and their morning service is at 7:30 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. Sunday School is also at 9:30 a.m.

Episcopal Church, at Manor House in Captiva with Rev. T. R. Madden holds services at 7:30 a.m.

Do support the Church of your faith by attending each Sunday; it is so important in this world today.

PIRATE PLAYHOUSE

Pirate Playhouse opens its sixth season on Sunday, Dec. 21.

Director Philip Hunter has been rehearsing a fine group of players who will present a repertoire of three productions. Casts are made up of old favorites and will introduce some fine new talent as well.

The Hunters, Ruth and Philip are very proud of the innovations they have made in the Pirate Playhouse executed by Ed Legel, contractor. These are designed to add additional comfort for the audience and actors.

New dimensions give the playing area greater scope for wide artistic effect.

ADVENTURE IN BUYING

A trip recently taken by Paul and Irene Adams, owners of the Seven Seas Shop, took them through the Midwest, East and Canada searching through little towns and large cities looking for the unusual in selected gifts, home accessories and clothing for their unusual store.

They report a very successful trip in buying for the coming season, having found many "one of a kind" gifts and home accessories as well as items for their Ladies & Men's Apparel Shop.

They also attended the Gift Show in Atlanta and the Men's and Ladies' Apparel Shows at the Miami International Merchandise Mart.

Stopping in Illinois, they visited with their three children, their ten grandchildren (bragging a little) and numerous friends.

Each year, after traveling thousands of miles, they say it is always a pleasure to return home to a tropical paradise like Sanibel Island, to get away from the rush and push in the "outside world." The many people they had the pleasure to talk with all agree that Sanibel and Captiva are "out of this world" for a quiet retreat from the bustle and hustle of everyday life. All who had visited the Islands were impressed with their beauty and tranquility.

NEWCOMERS CORNER

John and Grace Shepard from New Jersey are building a new home on Gulf Drive. John was in the advertising business before retirement. They visited the Islands for many years, bought their lot quite a while before John's retirement. Their son, Jack, is Assistant Editor of Look Magazine. He is also an author, has a book coming out very early in 1970. Jack finished the last chapter while visiting here along with his wife and two children recently.

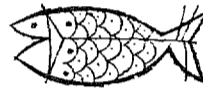

Good friends of John and Grace are Fred and Louise Louis from Louisville, Ky. They too are building a home on Gulf Drive. John M. Kenedy from Colts

Neck, N.J. is now building a lovely Japanese contemporary home, "The Fair Winds," in Tahitian Shores. John was in the publishing business for a number of years and after disposing of his business decided to find the most tranquil and peaceful place in the U.S.A., so, of course he chose these lovely Islands. He formerly owned and raced the beautiful schooner, "Golden Hind."

Louis (Lou) and Angie Koering from Vero Beach, Fla. have a lovely home they built on Tulipa. They fell in love with Sanibel 5 years ago and bought a lot then. Lou was with F.A.A. for 35 years. He was in Meteorological Service in various places. He also set up the Meteorology unit in Ft. Knox, Ky. Angie is originally from Louisville, Ky. They have no children but a lovely dog, Yoga.

Lou would like someday to settle down and do some writing. His cousin, Ursula Koering, a recent visitor here, writes for Jack & Jill, also Golden Books and recently did some fine childrens receipts. Other visitors in the Koering home were their friends, Mr. & Mrs. Arthur Davis from Ranchers; Mrs. Davis was an executive with the government printing office and Mr. & Mrs. John Littman from Vero Beach; Mr. Littman's hobby is raising orchids.

SORRY, WE GOOFED!

In our rush last week to get to the printer, we did not stop to verify all the facts in our front page story, "Deeds Done Most Foul."

We would like to point out now that Lou Secary is a regular deputy sheriff, not a special one. Also, Walter Royalty was not the manager of the motel -- only an employee. Our third error was in stating that the deputies came across the get-a-way car and helped them obtain gas. The only help given was by a private citizen who asked the deputies where the wanted persons could get some gas. Our apologies to all concerned.

P.S. Littlejohn and Mrs. (?) Royalty were apprehended in Miami and have been returned to Lee County, we think.
