INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM

More than 200 scientists are taking part in the project, the International Symposium on Atomic, Molecular and Solid-State theory and Quantum Biology. The annual assault on the secrets of life by the world's masters of quantum theory began Monday on Sanibel Island and continue through Jan. 24.

The symposium has been sponsored annually for more than 10 years by the University of Florida and Uppsala University in Sweden.

Its director, Dr. Per-Olov Lowdin, holds a professorship at both the University of Florida, where he heads the Quantum Theory Project, and Uppsala University. He conducts a winter institute in Florida, a summer institute in Sweden.

More than 100 scientific papers will be presented during the week at Sanibel, providing more ammunition for specialists in quantum theory--a mathematical process to probe the inner structure of matter--seeking a better understanding of life.

During the symposium the International Society of Quantum Theory will meet. The society was formed during the 1969 symposium. Dr. Low-

THIRD ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Nationally known speakers in the field of conservation will attend the Third Annual Conference of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation which opens in Sanibel today. The conference, which is open to the public, will extend through Saturday.

Notable among those who will participate are: Edward Carlson, regional director for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, whose headquarters are in Atlanta. Accompanying Mr. Carlson will be his assistant regional director, Lawrence Givens; William Ashe, of the Realty Division of the service; and other staff member, including Rudy Rudolph.

Another personage from the U. S. Department of Interior who will speak at the Conference is Roy K. Wood, regional director for the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. Several members of his staff will accompany him from Atlanta.

Representing Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton will be the head of the Department of Biology, Dr. Manley L. Boss. Included in Dr. Boss's party will be several associates: Dr. Walter R. Courtenay, Jr., Dr. Sheldon Dobkin and Dr. Robert B. Grimm.

Speakers who will represent the Florida Audubon Society are Russell Mason, the director and William Partington, assistant director.

John Barnett, regional engineer for the Southwest region on the Florida Department of Air and Water Pollution Control, will represent that agency. James Smith, from the office of Secretary of State in Tallahassee, will be present as personal representative of Nathaniel Reed. On the state level, the Florida Department of Natural Resources will be represented by Douglass Stickland, chief of the Bureau of Land Acquisition.

Speaking for the popular Conservation 70's organization will be its director, Loring Lovell.

Among the many national, state and local organizations that will send representatives to the Conference are: The Nature Conservancy and the Conservation Foundation, Washington; National Audubon Society, Florida State Board of Health, Florida Nature Conservancy, National Science for Youth Foundation, Florida Institute of Oceanography, University of Miami Institute of Marine Sciences, Florida State University, University of South Florida, Caretta Research, Lee County Mosquito Control, Lee County Schools, Everglades National Park, Collier County Conservancy, National Wildlife Federation, and many others.

The opening session will be tonight in the Sanibel Community House at 8 p.m. The title of tonight's meeting is "Endangered Wealth." The meeting will be under the direction of Roy Bazire, chairman of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation; Mario Hutton, president of the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon Society; and Mrs. Maude Myer, representing the Sanibel-Captiva Shell Club. The public is invited.

Other meetings, open to the public, will be held Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. and Friday evening at 8 p.m., in the Community House.

The final public gathering will be Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m.

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

Mrs. SUSAN KARR held a morning coffee yesterday at "Karrancho" for Coconut Avenue ladies and other friends; assisting hostesses were Mrs. Wynema Costar and Mrs. Frank Vitelli.

Mr. & Mrs. FORREST MILLER of "Woodwinds South" on Castaway Lane have been enjoying a visit from Mrs. Miller's brother and his wife, JOHN and DOROTHY PHILLIPS of St. Louis. They had never been on Sanibel before and were delighted with everything. Today Mr. Miller's brother and his wife, GORDON and LOUISE MILLER, arrive from Alexandria, Va. via Miami where Gordon has been attending a convention in his capacity as Public Relations Director for the National Automobile Dealers Association.

Dr. & Mrs. CHARLES STEYAART, who live almost at the Captiva bridge, have returned home to Lyons, N.Y., where they will stay a few weeks before they can return; they expect to make this their permanent home soon. While they are gone THAD and DOROTHY LOGAN, visitors in past winters, are living in the Steyaart house and enjoying their Sanibel living; Dorothy paints and has just put some of her work in the Artisan Shop and at The Seahorse.

Joining the other guests at Blind Pass Cottages are Mr. and Mrs. BERNARD C. GALLO and family from Downers Grove, Ill.

Casa Ybel is a busy and interesting place right now. The Winter Institute in Quantum Chemistry, Solid State Physics and Quantum Biology is in session. Approximately seventy members and their families are here and more members are expected to arrive shortly. The Winter Institute has been coming to Casa Ybel for about 10 years and will be here until Jan. 24. Prof. PER OLOV LOWDIN is in charge and is here with his family. CHRISTINA SCHWARTZ, the wife of a professor and a zoologist in her own right, found a beautiful junonia out in front, so now she proudly owns the perfect Sanibel souvenir.

Also staying at Casa Ybel are Mrs. DOROTHY BUSNELL from Chathamport, Mass., with her golden retriever dog "Bosie," and Mrs. PRISCILLA LAWRENCE from Brewster Park, Brewster, Mass. Both these ladies have been coming to the islands for several years and they plan to stay for a long season.

Mr. & Mrs. WILLIAM SUCH have returned to Sanibel from their home in Asbury Park, N.J. and will be here for the remainder of the season. Owners of Surf rider, they have other interests on the island. Mr. Such is an enthusiastic golfer and Mrs. Such is readying another display for the Shell Fair; she was a prominent winner at last year's Fair.

JOE & I AT BLIND PASS

"Joe ... today was so beautiful out in the sun! But, it's so groovy here at Blind Pass, when the evening comes like, "that's where it's at", Joe, at the end of the day. It's then you appreciate a "nice place to stay" ... Like, when you've had a "hard trip" and the "weather was so cold" Coming south, like to this island well, it breaks the "mold" Around a person. At last you can find The one way out, again, to a "right" state of mind ... Like ... what do you really enjoy most in life? Is it empty without "the show" and the "bright night lights?" Well ... when you finally stop at Blind Pass ... there is just one way out: To get to "open sea" ... you have to take the "mainland route" Like ... a man has to find inside himself the beauty of his own Great Man Like, on an island ... like Sanibel ... you can get an "inside-outside tan!" Joe ... it's kind of dark outside. It's time to come on "in!" Come on "inside," Joe. Enjoy yourself! .... And tomorrow ... we'll "get in the swim."

Letter To The Editor

To The Islander:

You are the people who have the future of Sanibel and Captiva in your hands.

Your decision on Feb. 10 will either make or break the islands. On the one hand you have The Destroyers. Those rampant throughout this land who have the cancerous drive to eat away the very last vestiges of beauty, serenity and freedom. Yes, freedom. For, as has been proved over and over again, the galling confinement alone of this kind of hypocritical "progress" kills freedom not only of movement but of the mind.

The same leeches that have already destroyed so much of America, witness their work right in your own back yard -- Fort Myers Beach -- are now putting tremendous pressures on you gain their ends. They don't care about you, except how to use you. They don't care about Sanibel and Captiva, except how to use them. To them, once this usefulness has been spent, you and the islands are a thing of the past.

On the other hand you have those of us who have no men to gain by preserving the essential worth of the islands. We're not pressuring you for our own material gains. We're not expecting any more from Sanibel and Captiva than what they have been giving to thousands and could give to thousands more.

How important it is, then, for you to look at what you have on the one hand -- money-suckers, high rise bull-dozers (in both senses of the word,) in brief, The Destroyers. On the other, those of us who simply seek the preservation of all those worthwhile things money can't buy.

As a Sanibel property owner for the past 10 years, and as one who sees the wealth of the islands not in green currency but in the green of their tropical growth, let me add my urgent appeal to those of Allen Drury and Elinore Dormer against high risers and the abdication of restrictive zoning on Sanibel and Captiva.

Look at both hands. Weigh them well. You'll have to live with them a long, long time.

/s/ Cyrus Biscardi
Roslyn Hgts., New York

To The Islander:

The following is a copy of a letter I have just sent to the County Commissioners.

When a distinguished national citizen such as Allen Drury is sufficiently stirred to write a letter to the editor of a small (but lovable) weekly newspaper, protesting what appears to be in the wind for Sanibel, it would seem that some of the rest of us should get excited, too.

I think, until I read his letter, that I had not fully realized that high-rise construction could come to Sanibel, unthinkable as the idea is. As one who has owned a home here for ten years, and who has other property on the island, I cannot conceive of a time when Sanibel would become another Atlantic City or Miami Beach. But apparently it could happen here, and not in the distant future, but soon.

Gentlemen, I fervently hope that nothing higher than an Australian pine will ever rise on Sanibel, for this island would be cruelly despoiled if rampant development were to be permitted.

When Feb. 10 arrives, let the high-rise proposition be soundly defeated! And may it never reappear as an issue on this lovely island!

/s/ Richard S. Henry
Sanibel, Fla.

To The Islander:

I was walking back from the beach last night when I overheard a man who was holding court in his car. Judging from his words, I assumed (as his companions must have) him to be an ardent conservationist and certainly the cleanest of clean people who ever decorated a beach.

He was vehement and to such an extent obscene that some form of revision is here needed. What follows is part of what he said and what I've heard many others say, laundered of course.

"(Boy,) would I like t' git my hands on the (guy) who invented those (fiddle-dee-dee) aluminum cans!"

There are lots of nature lovers on our islands who would love "t' git their hands" on the so-and-so who invented the plastic sandwich wrapper or the cigarette filter -- and how about the buzzard who thought up those blasted aluminum ring tops that seem to pave our beaches? The inventor gets the splinter, right? Wrong!

Soon, the afore-mentioned gentleman cranked up his 1969 Imperial and peeled ginerly out onto the road. But wait. Before leaving the scene entirely, two or three unidentified flying missiles were sent forth from the left front window of the car!!

So, the inventors of these "relics of the Twentieth century" are not the ones to be jabbed. I don't want to bust the inventor of the Dixie Cup in his proboscis. It's the blighter who dropped the cup I want. And, in this case, the guy who twittered the most, littered the most.

Please, help keep our islands clean.

/s/ "OM"
Donald Foscue Modrall,
Sanibel

To The Islander:

How can I register my total agreement with Elinore Dormer re high rises on Sanibel and Captiva? As a property owner on Captiva I concur completely with the sentiments expressed in a letter printed in the Islander of Jan. 1 and reiterated and enlarged upon in the Jan. 8 issue.

/s/ Mrs. Angus W. McDonald
Lexington, Ky.

PIRATE PLAYHOUSE

There's a great show at the most unique attraction on the Islands, The Pirate Playhouse. January Thaw plays again on Jan. 25. Many have read the story of this charming play for it was an actual happening of the author, Bellamy Partridge.

Mr. William Roos has packed his adaptation of the book with wit, humor and charm very important things to remember right now. Audiences have enjoyed this play so much there are some who plan to see another performance and laugh again with the splendid cast which Philip Hunter (acknowledged by now a tremendous director in every sense of the word) has brought to life in the characters of the play. There are fine and experienced talents, Elaine Patton, Reason Goodwin, Duane White, Ted Fonda nicely supported by Edith Craig, who did such a fine job in Silver Whistle. But in the long run, the Hunters are proudest of the young actors, Paymond Rhodes, Lucia Fishburne, Wally Henderson and of course a Pirate Playhouse favorite Alice Aleck who charmed audiences in "Mrs. McThing", "The Loud Red Patrick", "Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick" and now "January Thaw."

The date is Sunday, Jan. 25, Curtain 8:15, Box Office GR 2-3943.

RUTH AND PHILIP HUNTER AT CAPE CORAL WOMENS' CLUB

Ruth and Philip Hunter will entertain next Thursday at the Cape Coral Womens' Club. These actors who produce a season of plays at their Pirate Playhouse each year will present "Please Call Me Sol" for members and their guests on Thursday, Jan. 22 at the Cape Coral Yacht Club. The engagement will benefit Meals for Millions.

MEALS FOR MILLIONS (Birds, that is)

This reporter and her family drove through the Ding Darling Sanctuary around 4 p.m. on the same day as the Audubon Nature Walk, and had the amazing experience of watching hundreds of birds gorging themselves on the dead fish that were floating on the surfaces of the canals. Wood storks in great numbers, gulls, laughing and ring-billed, pelicans and vultures were stuffing themselves almost to the point of becoming ridiculous. Great wood storks were right out in the middle of the road, seemingly hardly able to walk, gulls and pelicans were flying low, pelicans barely able to take off, their great pouches full of fish, and the vultures were everywhere, attentively scavenging. None of the birds was the least afraid of the car, they just went right on dining, fish sticking out of their bills. The wood storks especially seemed absolutely gorged, and we had never seen so many so close to us that we could almost touch them. But no matter how many fish were eaten, there were as many left -- all along the canals, mostly on the right hand side, fish were floating, hundreds of small ones and further along some rather large snook. For the two people with us who had never been through the Sanctuary before it was a startling experience, and for us we hope it was one that may never be repeated.

BROILED FLORIDA FISH OR LOBSTER

In saucepan, melt one stick of butter or margarine. Add 1/4 cup lime juice, salt and pepper to taste, a pinch of garlic powder, a pinch of celery salt and 1 tsp. DRY mustard powder. Spoon mixture over cleaned fillet of fish (skin side down even if they take the skin off) or lobster tails split in half (this latter, by the way, is easily done with a pair of scissors) in broiler with rack at least 10 inches from flame or heating element. Broil until done and browned -- anywhere from 5 to 15 minutes.

SUNSET SOUTH

Have you seen the TV commercial about Sunset South presented usually about 8:25 a.m. during the TODAY Show? It is very bright and colorful and shows a splendid view of their beautiful beachfront, as well as the finished buildings. The production work was handled by Joe Breckshot of C&K Marketeers, Fort Myers.

SHELL FAIR LIVE EXHIBIT

Cold mornings and low tides - a good combination for finding shells that are better than ordinary and you may come across something live that you'd like to either donate or loan for the Sanibel Shell Fair Live Exhibit.

Ed Webb is again serving as chairman for this interesting phase of the Fair and already has tanks set up and is receiving live specimens.

Take them by Kona Kai, Ed's home and he'll take over from there. If he's not home, Kay Webb, his lovelier half, knows what to do for them.

Let them know whether it's a donated shell or whether you'd like it back after the Fair and also how you can be reached if you want it back. Sometimes specimens brought in for the tanks are too far gone to survive, and in that case it would be returned to you sooner.

Remember, the tanks are ten gallon size so cannot accommodate huge specimens of sea life such as large octopus or oversize fish.

It's fun to have a hand in and observe your own 'find' as others enjoy seeing living specimens. And you never know what exciting event may occur. One year scientists attending saw cones laying eggs for the first time that this has been observed. Several times baby sea horses have emerged from papa sea horse's pouch, minute and perfect.

NEWS FROM THE BLIND PASS AREA

Long-time family friends of Mrs. Arthur Swanson of Coconut Avenue are staying at the Jolly Roger, and visiting Mrs. Swanson often. Mr. & Mrs. Clyde E. Bowers of Nashville, Tenn. are now occupying the Henry cottage, also on Coconut Ave., for two months while Richard and Betty Henry are off on a Caribbean trip. The Henrys are now in Trinidad and Tobago, and while in Trinidad they will visit the Caroni Swamp to see the scarlet ibis. Then they will enjoy five weeks in a private home in Granada and they will also have a week's mail boat voyage through the Grenadines.

REAL ESTATE SALES

THE THIRD ANNUAL ISLANDS CONSERVATION CONFERENCE

SPONSORED BY THE SANIBEL-CAPTIVA CONSERVATION FOUNDATION

THURSDAY, JANUARY 22 at 8p.m.
FRIDAY, JANUARY 23 at 2p.m. & 8p.m.
SATURDAY, JANUARY 24 at 2p.m.
In The Sanibel Community House

PROGRAM

THURSDAY - JANUARY 22

THURSDAY at 8 p.m.: Theme is "Threatened Resources." This meeting will be sponsored cooperatively by the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon Society and the Sanibel-Captiva Shell Club. Prominent speakers, including Dr. R. Tucker Abbott, William M. Partington, Charles LeBuff, Hervey Roberts, Dr. C. Durbin Tabb and others will discuss our "ENDANGERED WEALTH." The evening will terminate with a "Photo-verse" presentation OUR ROSEATE REALM by Mario Hutton.

FRIDAY - JANUARY 23

FRIDAY at 2 p.m.: Theme is THE ISLANDS' UNIQUENESS. Prominent speakers will tell the community why it has here a national heritage "in trust." A special ceremony, honoring YOUTH, will be conducted by Charles LeBuff and William Hammond. Awards will be given.

FRIDAY at 8 p.m.: Theme is WHY OUTSIDE INTEREST? At this meeting, the community will be told by speakers, representing many organizations why off-islanders are so vitally interested in Sanibel and Captiva. Speakers will include representatives of the National Audubon, Florida Audubon, The Nature Conservancy, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Florida State University System, etc. A film and talk by John Ripley Forbes, National Science for Youth Foundation, will conclude.

SATURDAY - JANUARY 24

SATURDAY at 2 p.m.: FOUNDATION PROJECTS, or WHAT WE ISLANDERS HAVE DONE AND SHOULD DO ABOUT OUR UNIQUE NATURAL ASSETS. Report by foundation members and outside professionals on Land Acquisition, Pollution Studies, Ecological Studies, Planning, Marine Lab, Nature Center, Zoning, Caretta Expansion, etc.

Meetings Are OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

The above meetings are open, not only to members of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, but to all persons interested in conservation. If you are not a member of the Foundation, by all means plan to attend. This will be a REPORT TO THE COMMUNITY, a report that you MUST hear. We are anxious that our Foundation membership should grow, and we would like for you to attend the conference and find out, first-hand, why you should join us in this vital fight for a liveable environment.

Exclusive Living on SANIBEL

SUNSET SOUTH GARDEN APARTMENT CONDOMINIUM

The Sunset South Condominium concept is one frankly aimed at providing exclusive luxury living for a comparatively few, in deliberate contrast to the current trend of city-type, cliff-dwelling, highrise structures. These are spacious two bedroom, 2 bathroom apartments with just 4 units to a building. Our master plan of only 14 buildings will limit occupancy to a select few. 7 are already under construction. Sound clubby? It is! With private fresh water pool, cabanas, putting green, club house, etc. --- the works. You'll have the new Country Club and Golf Course on one side and the wide, sparkling white sandy beach of the Gulf of Mexico on the other.

There is still time to qualify. Price range --- $35,500 to $49,500.

Write for full descriptive brochure today.

SUNSET SOUTH BOX 131 SANIBEL, FLORIDA 33957

din is its president.

Presenting the symposium's opening address Monday was Dr. Ragnar Edenman, governor of the province of Uppsala in Sweden. A former minister of education, he discussed the international exchange of scientific information.

Symposium participants represent the major institutions of education in the United States and Canada. Many come from European and Asiatic countries such as England, France, Germany, Sweden, Finland, Austria, Israel, India and Japan.

The theories derived from quantum scientists have contributed to progress in space exploration, helped develop the transistor radio and are providing information to biologists in their efforts to solve the problems of mutations, aging and cancer.

Two recent grants awarded the University of Florida are supporting quantum theory.

One, for $9,846 from the U. S. Air Force, is to support the symposium on Sanibel Island.

The second, for $56,000, is a two-year grant from the National Science Foundation in supporting of the year-round Quantum Theory Project operated at the University of Florida under direction of Dr. Lowdin and Dr. Yngve N. Ohrn, associate professor of chemistry who came here from Sweden.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEWS

The Board of the Sanibel-Captiva Islands Chamber of Commerce has taken steps in the last few months to alleviate any chance of favoritism or criticism in its methods of advertising our different businesses at our Chamber office:

1. We have installed brochure racks, where each business can place their own brochures or cards, and this, to avoid any partiality, will be arranged alphabetically.

2. There is an advertising panel where advertising space can be acquired if wanted.

3. We have installed a table and chairs where the incoming visitor can look over the brochures, pick out the ones they are interested in, and call them free on an unlisted telephone that has been installed for this purpose, thereby making it unnecessary to consult the Secretary at the desk.

4. A committee of Floyd Snook, Dan Moore, and Wm. Snyder will consult with Mr. Newman in working out a prefactory that will be used by Mr. Newman and his assistant in advising inquiring visitors as to the motels, shops, and other attractions on the Islands.

5. We are spending more money for an assistant secretary for Mr. Newman and during the rush season she will work as many hours as necessary. Much of this office work had been done heretofore by volunteer women on the Island, but as there had been complaints that these women were partial to their own business, a ruling was passed that no one connected with a motel could help with the tremendous amount of office work our Chamber is now handling. It will probably be necessary to use some of the money that in the past has been spent for advertising to pay for the hired assistant secretary.

The Board feels sure that these steps that we have taken will meet with the approval of all members.

COLD FISH

The unusual cold weather we endured on these islands only a few days ago gave rise to an equally unusual situation involving our fish. During the weekend of Jan. 1 and 11 our canals and bayous teemed with dead and dying fish -- snook, bream and other varieties of warm-water fish were cast on the banks, lay dead in the shallows and on the bottoms.

The Dixie Beach canal, for instance, on that Saturday and Sunday, showed literally hundreds of fish of all sizes from tiny pinfish to very large snook, dead and dying, floating, stuck in mud or mangrove roots, or clearly visible on the canal bottom. By noon Sunday a steady stream of cars parked there and men, women and children pulled in the fish in whatever way they could, by boat, net or just by hand. Happy families went off with enough icy cold fish to furnish a nourishing and appetizing meal besides plenty to stow in their freezers.

There were varieties of opinions as to whether or not this fish-lifting was really proper and legal. What about the limit on snook, for instance? Certain long-time residents maintained this was in improper procedure, that the dead but perfectly refrigerated fish should be left unused, regardless of how impractical that seemed.

A visit by this reporter to the office of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife at the Lighthouse settled the question, at least for her. It is perfectly within the law to take fish under such circumstances, the legal limit does not prevail, and they may better be used to advantage than allowed to spoil in the water.

On this last point, however, the dead creatures remaining in the water do not constitute a hazard, since they very soon become nourishment for the many forms of aquatic life that constantly require sustenance. They simply and inevitably join the great cycle of life under water that begins with atoms and diatoms and progresses through minute forms of plankton to small and then large and larger marine varieties, each of which plays its own important role in the sea around us.

1 cup chopped onion
 1/2 stick margarine
 4 cups diced potato
 2 tsp. salt
 1/2 tsp. basil
 1/4 tsp. pepper
 2 cups water
 1 1/2 lbs. fresh Florida cubed fish
 1 can corn (16 oz.)
 1 tall can evaporated milk
 Lightly brown onion in margarine, add potato, salt, pepper, basil and water. Cover and simmer 15 minutes. Place diced fish on top of potato, cover and simmer 15 minutes longer or until fish flakes easily and potatoes are tender. Stir in corn and liquid, then blend in evaporated milk, cover, heat to just boiling and serve. Serves 6.

BOILED SHRIMP

Fill a large pot with about 2 inches of water. Add 1 cup vinegar, 1 half cup juice from hot cherry or banana pickles, one of the hot pickles, 4 bay leaves, salt and garlic to taste, and enough coarse ground black pepper to cover the surface of the water. Bring to boil and drop in unshelled frozen or fresh shrimp. Bring back to boil, simmer for 2 minutes. Drain and either eat or refrigerate for later use. (They taste better if you remove the shells after boiling, but before eating.)

BAKED OYSTERS

36 Fresh Florida shucked oysters
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. marjoram
 2 tbs. minced onion
 1/2 tsp. black pepper
 Shuck and drain oysters; place on deep half of shells. Sprinkle with onion, salt, pepper, and marjoram. Dot with butter. Place oysters in baking pan, and bake in hot oven 400 degrees for 10 minutes or until edges curl. Serves 6.

LIBRARY NEWS

Officers of the Sanibel Public Library for 1970, elected by the Library's Board of Trustees at its annual meeting on Jan. 14, are Robert Haynies, president; Dr. Reason A. Goodwin, vice-president; Mrs. Barbara Sur, secretary; C. P. Siegenthaler, treasurer; Mrs. Dorothy Stafford, librarian; and Mrs. Sylvia Strong, Mrs. Edith Levy and Mrs. Betty Zajicek, library aides.

The Trustees were informed that Mrs. Elise L. Fuller, who has served the Library as secretary for a number of years, had asked to be relieved this year. A resolution was adopted thanking Mrs. Fuller for the abundant and skillful assistance she has given and will continue to give the Library.

Some amendments to the Library's by-laws were discussed and adopted. Regular meetings of the Trustees will hereafter be held in January, March, May, and November, rather than at exact quarterly intervals.

PAGEANT OF LIGHT

Frankie Fontaine, popular Broadway, Night Club and Television Star, will be the headline entertainer in the 1970 edition of the Edison Pageant of Light "Glimmers."

Mr. Fontaine became well known to television viewers with his regular weekly appearances on the Jackie Gleason Show as the slobbering, stammering, joke telling Crazy Googenheim. "Crazy" always stopped the show with his beautiful singing voice as he rendered ballads from his repertoire of all time favorites.

In the two-hour long "Glimmers," Mr. Fontaine will be supported by an all-star cast of 50 people.

The all-professional "Glimmers" will be presented two times on Friday, Feb. 6, at 4:30 and 8:30 p.m. in the Fort Myers Exhibition Hall. All seats are reserved, and this year's seating provided 1,000 elevated seats for better viewing. Tickets go on sale this week at the Fort Myers Tourist Center.

CAPTIVA CIVIC ASSN TO MEET

Commissioners Daniels and P. A. Geraci will speak at the Captiva Civic Association meeting at 7:30 tomorrow night at the Captiva Community Center. High rises for the Islands will be discussed. The new slate of officers for the Association will also be elected. The public is invited.

SPANISH CLASS SCHEDULED FOR ISLANDS

Tuesday, Jan. 27, is the kick-off date for a class in Conversational Spanish on the Islands, Bill Peed, Lee County Schools Coordinator of Adult Education, has announced.

The class, which will meet at Sanibel School at 7 p.m., will stress listening and speaking abilities, with only as much grammar as is necessary for good communication. All adults are welcome, regardless of whether they are beginners or advanced students of the Spanish language.

Guiding the learning of the class will be Vince Tata. No stranger to the area, Tata is well known on the Islands. He is a master linguist and teacher, and has had many years of experience and professional preparation in the teaching of adults.

The course is opened to all persons over 18. The only charge is a $2.00 registration fee.

ART LEAGUE TO HAVE MEMBER SHOW

The Sanibel-Captiva Art League will have a member show, weather permitting, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 26, 27 and 28. The show will be, as usual, on the Exhibition Board at the Captiva Post Office, and members will be responsible for putting up their own pictures and also for taking them down.

SANIBEL COMMUNITY CHURCH

There will be an important congregational meeting of all members of the Sanibel Community Church immediately following the morning Worship Service on Sunday, Feb. 8, 1970.

The meeting will be devoted to the subject of the expansion of the present church facilities and will be kept as brief as possible.

All voting members, are especially urged to attend this meeting and all friends of the Church will be welcome.

ART LEAGUE TO REPEAT AUCTION BENEFIT

Saturday, March 14, was set as the date for the second art auction to be held by the Sanibel-Captiva Art League for the benefit of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation.

Members of the Art League, at a meeting at the home of Leon R. Levy, Chairman, made plans to follow the same format as their very successful venture in 1969.

NATURE WALK

Hervey Roberts' nature walk an annual tradition, was attended by about 35 persons who enjoyed and shared his knowledge of trees, plants and flowers and how they grow in this sub-tropical land. Mr. Roberts also knows his birds, so a walk with him is accompanied by all kinds of interesting information and observations. The walk was held on Jan. 15, at various points in the Ding Darling Sanctuary and elsewhere.
