NO FATALITIES IN PLANE FLIP

Four young men were slightly injured Saturday afternoon when their private plane ground looped on attempting to take off from a Sanibel road.

Deputy Sheriff Dave Wooster said the pilot of the plane was Selemo (Sam) Albert, 29, of Miami. His passengers were Norman Levinsky, 26, of Pompano Beach; Gilbert English, 26, of Miami; and Phillip Birmelin, 25, of Hialeah.

The Sanibel air strip was covered with water and Albert asked for permission to take off from the paved portion of Gulf Drive on Casa Ybel property next to the unusable runway. Permission was granted and Wooster sealed off Gulf Drive at the appointed time.

Albert's attempted take-off was downwind, Wooster said."He clipped a stop sign with his right wing and veered off into some woods. He mushed down about 300 feet from the road."

All the injured were treated and released at Lee Memorial Hospital. The plane, a Cessna 172, was destroyed.

NATURE

CONSERVANCY CONVENTION

The Ninth Annual Convention of the Florida Chapter of The Nature Conservancy will be held at Sanibel Island on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 1, 2 and 3, with the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation as host for the event. All meetings and meals will be held in the banquet room of the Golden Sands Restaurant, Periwinkle Way. Highlight of the conventions will be an address by Thomas Richards provident of Highlight of the conventions will be an address by Thomas Richards, president of The Nature Conservancy, who will fly to Sanibel from national headquarters in Washington to speak to delegates and guests at a banquet Saturday night. "Private Action for Land Conservation" is the title of Mr. Richard's address. Toastmaster for the banquet will be Griffing Bancroft, a director in the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation.

Roy E. Bazire, chairman of the board of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, and Mrs. George Winterbotham, vice-chairman, are serving jointly as chairmen for the Florida Chapter's convention.

The meeting gets underway with registration tomorrow afternoon at 5 p.m. This will be followed by a 6:00 o'clock dinner. Mario Hutton, president of the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon Society, will present the entertainment for the evening when he gives his photo-verse lecture, "Our Roseate Realm ... A World Worth Saving," Mr. Bazire will welcome members of the Chapter to the Islands. The Board of Trustees of the Florida Nature Conservancy will meet at 8 p.m.

At 10 a.m. Saturday morning, Charles E. LeBuff, Jr., biological technician for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and Director of Caretta Research Project for the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation will present his excellent color film, "Saving the Loggerhead," at 1 p.m. Saturday, the conservation group will hold its annual business meeting and election of officers.

business meeting and election of officers. At 2 p.m. on Saturday, members of the board of directors of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation will describe the five major conservation projects of the Foundation which won national recognition through the American Heritage Award.

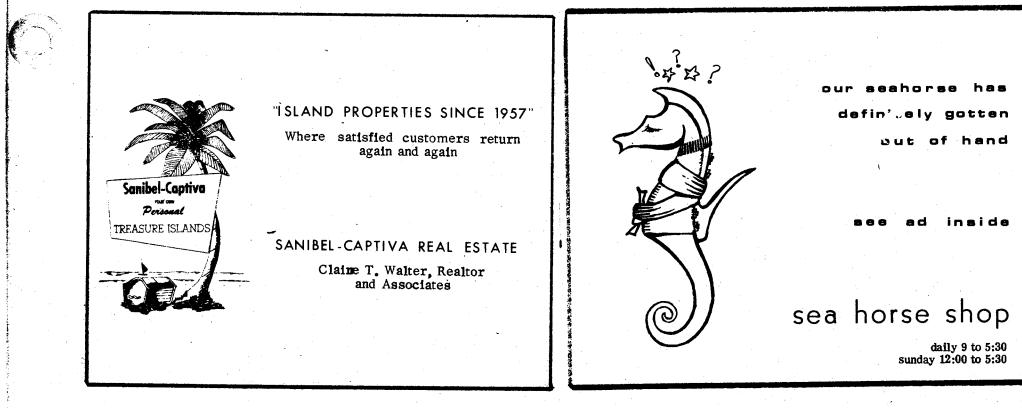

Foundation which won national recognition through the American Heritage Award, Following a social hour at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, the banquet will get underway at 7:30 p.m. It is not open to the public due principally to the very limited space available.

Sunday morning at 8 a.m., two bird tours of the Islands will be conducted by Griffing Bancroft and Hal H. Harrison. Mario Hutton will lead a third group interested in wildlife photography. These tours are open only to members of the Florida Chapter of the Nature Conservancy.

Open house at the Caretta Research Station for the loggerhead turtle project on Tarpon Bay will be conducted at 11 a.m. Mr. LeBuff will be host. (Caretta is the scientific name for the loggerhead turtle.)

Guests will be free Sunday afternoon to enjoy the Islands as they wish.

In 1971, the Florida Chapter of the Nature Conservancy will be entertained in Naples at its annual convention. The Collier County Conservancy will be host.

ISLAND GARDENER

Many northern folks want clover in their lawns according to the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association (FNGA). But clover is considered a weed in Florida. It will die out in the hot, summer months, and if permitted to grow during the winter months it only smothers out your permanent lawn.

Winter weeds that have been growing luxuriantly will soon begin to wane. Don't waste a lot of chemicals on these weeds. They are more difficult to kill as they approach maturity. If you have lost plants during the past winter and are thinking of hardy ornamentals, don't go overboard. Select a basic planting that will give you the tropical effect. Have a definite plan in mind when you purchase plants. Select plants that will give you texture of leaves, color, and blossoms. If these are well arranged you will have an outstanding picture created around your home.

Gladiolus will now be in bloom in many localities and one of the most difficult pests to control on gladiolus is the thrip. Thrips are a chewing or rasping insect. They may mottle the flowers, cause streaks in the leaves, or in the early stages of bud production cause distortion. Thrips can be controlled by malathion or diazinon. Repeated applications of these materials may be necnessary at intervals of two or three weeks.

Gardenias are a spring flowering shrub, at least some varieties are. After they have produced their first set of blossoms there may be a need for prun-ing of the long stems which produced the flowers. If shearing or pruning is ac-complished shortly after blossoming of the plant, a second flush of blossoms may appear.

Gardenia bushes quite often show an iron or manganiese deficiency. On occasion both of these appear on the plant and may be confused. To be sure that you apply both of these materials. Don't overdo it.

Keep your plants in bounds by pruning says the FNGA. Don't be afraid of pruning shears. After all, plants will grow as rapidly as you force them and retain the shape you make them.

SPRING CHECK OF STORED TRAILERS URGED

As warm weather and signs of spring call Floridians to outdoor recreational activities the Florida Highway Patrol reminds drivers to give boat and camper trailers a close inspection after the winter's rest.

Patrol Commander Colonel Reid Clifton said, "Special attention should be given to campers and boat trailers that have been stored during the past winter. All equipment should be inspected to see that safety items are functioning properly."

Clifton asked motorists to check tires for wear and proper inflation, Safety chains of sufficient strength to keep a trailer connected in the event of an accidental breakage of the hitch are required by law. All turn signals, stop and taillights should be checked for proper functioning said Clifton. The Patrol Commander urged motorists to be familiar with the speed limits for vehicles towing trailers and reminded that the weight, length and type of trailer dictates the speed limit.

Douglas M. Midgley, Public Defendor, Twentieth Judicial Circuit sent the following letter to the Islander for publication:

"After consulting with the members of my staff, and others who are in a position to objectively evaluate my performance in office, I enthusiastically announce my candidacy for election to the office of Public Defender, Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Consistent with my responsibility to the people of our five county community comprising this Judicial Circuit, I have represented those falling within the jurisdiction of my office in a legally capable and digaified manner.

"To date, in addition to the formal organization of the office, with the assistance of my staff I have brought to the individual defendant my concern for the preservation of his rights, and have established a working relationship with the local and area law enforcement agencies and with the office of the State Attorney.

"In the ten months since my appointment as Public Defender in July, 1969, we have vigorously and I believe successfully, represented several hundred persons accused of the commission of a crime. I am therefore asking for the opportunity to continue my work for the people in this capacity."

Douglas M. Midgley is 30 years old, married to the former Marilyn T. Beasley of Fort Myers Beach, Florida and has two children; a son, Scott Douglas, age 4 and a daughter, Diana Lynne, age 9 months and resides at 3961 LaPalma Street, Fort Myers, Fla.

Received BA Degree, University of Florida, 1962; Juris Doctor Degree, December, 1964; admitted to practice law in Florida, June, 1965.

Professional memberships: Florida Bar Association, American Bar Association, Lee County Bar Association, National Asso. of Defense Lawyers in Criminal Cases, Academy of Florida Trial Lawyers, and other similar organizations,

Mr. Midgley is active in community and church affairs and is presently Public Defender of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit by appointment of Governor Claude R. Kirk on July 2, 1969.

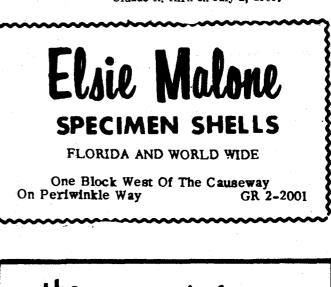

FLORIDA ECONOMY EXPANDING FASTER THAN WHOLE NATION'S

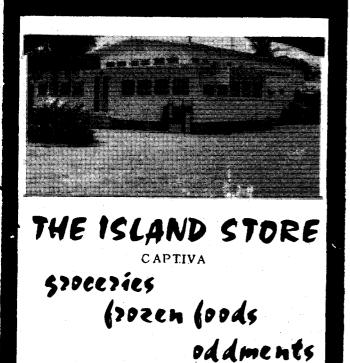

Florida economy is expanding both in quantity and quality at a faster rate than the nation's giving the state a larger proportion of National totals according to Ronald S. Spencer, Jr., Executive Vice President of the State Chamber of Commerce. "Seven comparable gauges of Florida's and Nation's economy were selected as representative in measuring the state's relative economic weight, both in quantity and quality," he said. These gauges are noted in the state Chambers weekly business review as personal income, retail sales, population, employment, bank assets, life insurance and electric power production, Personal income of Floridians made up 1.59 per cent of the entire national total in 1950; 2.44% in 1960 and 2.97% in 1969. Retail sales in Florida, relatively strong because of the tourist business, accounted for 2% of the national total in 1950; 3.08% in 1960 and 3.61%last year.

Florida's population and employment increases followed the same upward , trend and by 1969 accounted for 3.12%of the Nation's population and 2.96% of employed. wage-earners smaller proportion of employment than of population is an indication of the many retirees living in the state. Florida looms large in the production of electricity and accounted for 3.29% of the national total production of utility and industrial electricity up from 1.44% in 1950. Life insurance in force in Florida moved from 1.43% in 1950 to 2.72% of national in 1969. Bank assets stood at 1.12% in 1950 and had increased to 2.54%last year.

RESEARCH ON ROUTE 1-75

Congressman William C. Cramer of St. Petersburg did some research on Route I-75 extension between Miami and Tampa, Congressman Cramer as a member of the House Public Works Committee said that even if Congress coughs up some $718 million Florida would have to come up with $71.8 million to meet their share of the bill. Florida only has $105 million a year for total maintenance and construction of all primary roads in the state, and the primary source of the money comes from gasoline taxes.

Work on I-10 in North Florida still goes on, and work continues on I-95 on the East Coast. This has been going on for 14 years and the end is no where in sight, and so no one knows when anything relieving traffic on U.S. 41 can be considered. So rather than hold out falso hopes for I-75 anytime in the foreseeable future we must push for four laning of the old Tamiami Trail. Work goes on apace in Collier County, why not in Lee County? Secretary of Transportation, Ed Mueller, new in his $33,000 a year job, we hope is going to give us some answers from Tallahassee.

DELOZIER TALKS OF BEACH EROSION

Engineer F. James DeLozier spoke to the Southwest Florida Conservation Clearinghouse on Thursday morning, complimenting Miss Hedwig Michels in her efforts to establish erosion checks above the water mark. Miss Michels told the clearinghouse at the Lee County Mosquito Control District offices that the Beach studies have gone 'nce the early 1940's by the Koreshan Unity's efforts on Fort Myers Beach to es-OP h erosion checks by planting low, tight-rooted plants to protect the soil during hurricanes and also structures near them. If a tree, such as an Australian pine, is allowed to grow tall instead of being topped in an umbrella shape, it will fall and uproot in a high wind ripping the soil open to the rain, wind and waves, tilting structures above the roots and crushing structures below the tree. Experiments in many different kind of planting, even of fruit trees down to the water line are being done, and the planting must be protected from vandals.

"Many people have misinterpreted what she is trying to do," said DeLozier. "The sand shelf along the coast is constantly changing with wind, weather and tides, but soil control inland is controlling the sweep of sand down rivers and creeks to the Gulf of Mexico. The pipeline of sand has natural breaks and interruptions. The extreme deepening of these passes and inlets by many creates a barrier, sweeping the sand out to sea with the current. A groin may stabilize the beach for a time but in time the sand moves on and erodes. Added to this is a change in sea level, and even an inch rise causes higher tides along the coastline. The Gulf of Mexico is rising. Florida and other resort areas are making very serious efforts to stop the erosion, but so far none has lly succeeded," said DeLozier. "And the greatest barrier to real progress is exise and the fact that only a small area can be controlled,"

The problem of preserving the natural scenic beauty of the Whiskey Creek area was discussed by George Meskimen, a resident of the area. It seems the developers have agreed to make every effort to incorporate and occasional mangrove island and a natural appearing seawall system.

Directors of the Fort Myers-Lee County Chamber of Commerce were shown a preview of the local resorter promotion film, "The Lemon Sun" on April 16. Local scenes are recorded in refreshing color and beauty, and the film will take 14 1/2 minutes television viewing, according to Mgr. Don Bottorf.

The advertising committee has authorized the purchase of 15 prints of the film; one for the Fort Myers Public Library, one for Lee Memorial Hospital, three for the Chamber of Commerce and ten for distribution throughout the U. S. The film was produced by Charles Fuller Productions of Tampa and emphasizes the lovely beauty of local color scenes.

Wilburn Leonhardt, advertising committee chairman reported a new sports and ctivities page in the Fort Myers-Lee County brochure will feature color photos of e Kansas City Royals in training here.

Bob Bruce, chairman of the promotion committee, said the Sun-Coach tour will tour the eastern seaboard states in August and September, including Niagara Falls and the New England states. Fort Myers Day will be Sept. 12 in Kansas City, Ka. and Kansas City, Mo. will host Fort Myers on Sept. 11.

SEA TROUT IN FOIL

2 lbs. Florida sea trout

Salt and white pepper 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted 1 medium onion, thinly sliced 2 bay leaves, crushed

1/2 cup chili sauce

Cut fish in 6 portions and drain on paper towels. Arrange each portion in center of 11" square of heavy-duty foil and sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Add remaining ingredients, dividing equally. Bring foil up over fish and seal lengthwise edges together with double fold. Seal ends in same way, turning up so that juices will not run out during cooking. Arrange packages in shallow pan and bake in hot oven (400F) 25 minutes, or until fish is opaque and flakes easily with fork. Serve in foil packages. Good with rice or parsley potatoes. Makes 6 servings.
