FOR A CLEAN ISLAND ENVIRONMENT

Nine community organizations on Sanibel and Captiva Islands sponsored a public meeting on the islands' environment, Monday, May 11, 8 p.m., at the Sanibel Community House.

Called at the request of the Lee County Health Department, the meeting dealt with "Air and Water Pollution of the Island Environment."

Participating in the program were Dr. Joseph W. Lawrence, director, Lee County Health Department; Dr. Joseph K. Isley; Mr. D. L. Smith, Mr. R. M. Stocck, Mr. Charles Tartindale, all sanitary experts of the Lee County Health Department; and Mr. T. Wayne Miller, Jr., director, Lee County Mosquito Control.

Colonel I. H. Simmons of Sanibel chaired the meeting and moderated a question and answer period which followed.

Commissioner P. A. Geraci, and all other members of the Board of County Commissioners, were invited to attend.

Sponsoring organizations include the Sanibel Community Assn., the Captiva Civic Assn., the Sanibel-Captiva Islands Chamber of Commerce, the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Committee, the Sanibel Rocks Civic Assn., The Palm Lake Assn., the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon Society, the Sanibel-Captiva Shell Club, and the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation.

The purpose of the meeting was to inform the island community of air and water pollution problems on the islands. The Lee County Health Department views this as a first step in a program of prevention aimed at maintaining a clean environment on the islands.

CONSERVANCY PRESIDENT VISITS SANIBEL

Mr. Thomas W. Richards, President, The Nature Conservancy, Washington, D.C., made a special trip to Florida the weekend of May 1 - 3 to attend the Ninth Annual Convention of the Florida Chapter, The Nature Conservancy.

This was Mr. Richards' first visit to Sanibel and Captiva Islands, although the Nature Conservancy has assisted in the land acquisition programs of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation and of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries & Wildlife, U.S. Department of the Interior, in land acquisitions to complete the J. N. "Ding" Darling National Wildlife Refuge.

As with so many others who visit our beautiful islands, Mr. Richards was deeply impressed with the natural resources we are seeking to preserve. He was taken by canoe through the Albert Warren Akers Sanctuary by Ed Konrad, not only to see this first land to which the Nature Conservancy took title on Sanibel (a gift of Admiral and Mrs. Konrad) but to explore part of the beautiful inner fresh-water world of the island. Mr. Richards also visited the Darling Refuge, where the customary special display was put on by island birds for visiting dignitaries; and other areas in which the Nature Conservancy has interest. During his stay here, Mr. Richards was the guest of Mr. & Mrs. George Winterbotham.

The Florida Conservancy convention meetings were held in the rear banquet room of the Golden Sands Restaurant, starting Friday evening, May 2. Following the dinner, Roy E. Bazire, Chairman of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation which hosted the event, welcomed the officers and members of the state-wide group and spoke of their early assistance to, and continued interest in, the J. N. "Ding" Darling National Wildlife Refuge. Mario Hutton, president of the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon Society concluded the evening with a showing of his photo-verse, "Our Roseate Realm -- A World Worth Saving."

Charles E. LeBuff, Jr., Biological Technician, Sanibel office of the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries & Wildlife, and Director of Caretta Research, Friday morning showed his film of the work last summer by the Caretta team on "Saving the Loggerhead." That afternoon officers and directors of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation outlined the major projects of the Foundation. The evening banquet was MC'd by Griffing Bancroft, of the local Foundation's Board of Directors. Featured speaker was Mr. Richards who described some of the varied land acquisition programs of The Nature Conservancy, including one or two not yet publicly announced. He reported total purchases for the first quarter of 1970 of about 41,000 acres, more than in all of 1969. Sunday morning the visitors were taken on field trips by Mr. Bancroft and Mr. Hutton, and afforded an opportunity to see the Caretta Research Station on Tarpon Bay. Attendance totalled about 50 persons.

During business sessions of the convention, Mrs. Joseph Niswonger was re-elected president of the Florida Chapter, The Nature Conservancy, and Roy Bazire was elected third vice-president. Resolutions of thanks were approved by the convention to the host organization and to Mr. & Mrs. Roy Webb of Golden Sands Restaurant for the excellent provisions for the meetings, and for two dinners and a luncheon acclaimed by delegates as the best they've enjoyed.

THANK YOU ART LEAGUERS

Thanks to the Sanibel-Captiva Art League, and especially to Dr. & Mrs. H. R. Craig, from the Board of Directors of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation for the fantastic results of the drawing for the portfolio of prints by Richard E. Younger.

The more than $1,300 realized from this effort, plus the more than $3,000 made at the Art Auction Benefit in March represent substantial additions to the Foundation's income. This is a bigboost toward total financial needs of approximately $60,000.

VOTES NO LONGER COUNT

Votes in the American Heritage Society National Award program will no longer count, the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation has learned. Cut-off date was April 27.

The Board of Directors of the local Foundation wishes to thank all those who voted for us in this program. Only twelve local conservation groups throughout the country were selected for awards -- top one is $25,000 for the group receiving the largest number of votes. Every organization will receive at least $1,000. Winners are to be announced in the August Issue of "American Heritage."

WATERCOLORSON DISPLAY

A series of watercolors by Richard Hartmann will be on display at Galloway's Interiors in Fort Myers starting May 18 for one week.

The feeling of Sanibel and Captiva Islands are beautifully captured in the eight paintings, featuring a variety of settings.

This is the first time Mr. Hartmann's work has been shown in such scale and the public is invited to stop by between 9:00 and 5:00 Monday through Friday.

PRINT SALE SUCCESSFUL

The Sanibel-Captiva Art League, whose president is Leon Levy, organized and conducted the sale of the Younger prints for the Conservation Foundation. Chairman Roy Bazire announced that the sale of the eight prints of the Vanishing Species of Birds that Richard Evans Younger gave to the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation increased their treasury to the tune of $1,373.

According to Mario Hutton, a Foundation director, the winner was a resident of St. Pete.

NOMINATED FOR AWARD

Joe Hague, President of the Cape Coral Jaycees, announced that his club had nominated Joseph P. D'Alessandro, State Attorney for the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, for the State Jaycee convention in Tallahassee in May. This nomination was strongly endorsed by the Fort Myers, Charlotte, Lehigh Acres, Naples and Bonita Springs Jaycees clubs. It has also received the endorsement of several judicial and law enforcement individuals in this circuit.

Mr. Hague stated that the Cape Coral Jaycees had nominated Mr. D'Alessandro because of his outstanding civic record and because of his accomplishments in his position as State Attorney.

Mr. D'Alessandro's resume' also showed that he was listed in the 1967 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America, and had received the Outstanding Citizen award by the American-Italian Club in 1969. In 1967, Mr. D'Alessandro received the Fort Myers Outstanding Jaycee of the Year award.

The Outstanding American award is the highest award presented by the State Jaycees.

DIVISION OF HEALTH REPORTS

Sleeping pills, tranquilizers and other internal medicines accounted for a significant number of poisonings in Florida last year, according to the Division of Health.

These medicines were listed as the causes of 4,588 of the 7,602 poisonings reported to the health agency. This was nearly double the 2,494 cases involving internal medicines reported in 1968. Poisonings from turpentine rose from four in the previous year to 35 in 1969; cosmetic poisonings increased from 38 to 75 cases.

The total number of poisonings seen in 111 hospitals (including 33 poison control centers) increased by nearly 1,200 cases -- from 6,455 in 1968 to 7,612 in 1969. Of the 1969 total, 2,343 persons required hospitalization.

Approximately 3,410 children four years of age and under were the victims of poisonings. The two year olds were the largest single age group with 1,236 cases. A young child is frequently the victim of poisoning because he cannot read the label; he doesn't understand the dangers of drinking or eating unknown substances; he is naturally curious; he frequently swallows anything he can get into his mouth; and he frequently associates what he eats with candy or something he likes.

Parents can prevent poisonings in their home by keeping medicines out of the reach of children; by putting bleaches and other household cleaning materials in locked cabinets or where children cannot get them; by disposing of or destroying old medicine bottles and not allowing children to play with them; and by placing poison for rodents so that children and pets cannot find it.

Public health nurses from county health departments made over 3,000 visits to poisoned patients to assure that safety precautions are taken to prevent future poisonings, and that the patients do not become repeat victims. Many patients were referred to physicians and mental health clinics for follow-up treatment or consultation.

FHP OUTLINES SPEED LIMITS FOR TRAILERS

The Florida Highway Patrol today outlined the speed limits for motorists headed for warm weather outings with their camping and boat trailers.

Colonel Reid Clifton, director of the Patrol said, "The speed limit of a vehicle towing a trailer is determined by several factors. Weight, length, and type of trailer and the type of highway must be considered in determining the legal speed limit for your vehicle and trailer."

Vehicles towing a non-cabin boat less than 16 feet in length on highways outside cities must abide by a 60 mph limit in the daytime and 55 mph at night. On Interstate Highways the same vehicle may travel at 65 mph in the daytime and 60 at night and must maintain a 40 mph minimum speed said Clifton.

Vehicles towing a house trailer, a boat over 16 feet in length or cabin-type boats, a trailer over 3000 pounds and vehicles towing another vehicle on highways outside cities must abide by a 50 mph speed limit in the daytime and 45 mph at night. Clifton said the same combination of vehicles may travel at 65 mph in the daytime and 60 mph at night on the Interstate Highways. They too must maintain the 40 mph minimum speed on Interstates.

Clifton concluded by saying, "Speed limits are established for the common safety of all drivers. Know the speed limit of the vehicle you are driving and abide by it for safer highways."

Letter To The Editor

To The Islander:

The following letter from Vietnam was sent to the Islander for publication: Dear Mrs. Hunter:

The recent withdrawal of some American forces in the area of Dak-To north of Kontum struck fear and anguish in the hearts of those living in villages without adequate protection.

The Vietcong immediately claimed victory and "invited" the villagers to cooperate with them. They received no help. Not one person was won over. In retaliation, a centre for 10,000 refugees at Kon-Horing was attacked. South Vietnamese forces counter-attacked but 65 refugees died that night -- mainly women and children. The centre still survives and will eventually recover from that horrible night.

Our missionaries in Kon-Horing did not leave their posts. Father Leoni was badly wounded. For 13 long hours he suffered agony from a severe arm wound and was near death when he reached the hospital. He refused to return to France and between treatments has continued to share the life of his people.

None of the nuns of St. Vincent de Paul faltered either. They shared Father Leon's decision to remain. Their infirmary is full of sick and wounded. Daughters of Charity they are indeed; it is not just a beautiful name.

Kon-Horing is not an isolated case, but please do not worry unduly about us. We can still work even under such conditions. Every day the Gospel is being taught, and because of the steadfast support of so many courageous people and the determination of the South Vietnamese to maintain their independence, I am encouraged to set up further hospitals and primary schools so desperately needed.

While we have friends like you, Mrs. Hunter, I am confident the financial help we need will be forthcoming and, God willing, we shall go from strength to strength.

/s/ Sincerely yours in Christ,
Paul L. Seitz, Bishop of Kontum.

GIGSTAD-STEPHENSON WED

Marriage rites for Miss Constance Gigstad and Richard Stephenson were performed by the Rev. Thomas A. Madden Wednesday, May 6 before altar arrangements of white flowers and candles at St. Michael's Episcopal Church on Sanibel Island.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Harvey Gigstad of Bay Drive on Sanibel. Mr. Stephenson's parents were the late Capt. and Mrs. Charles Stephenson of Boston, Mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full-length sleeveless gown of white silk linen designed with a cowl neckline and fitted bodice. The softly pleated skirt formed a chapel-length train. Her headpiece was of fresh rosebuds and babies breath, which also formed here nosegay bouquet.

Mrs. Jack Moore of Columbus, Ga., matron of honor, selected a sleeveless coral chiffon gown with cowl neckline. Her floral headpiece and bouquet matched her gown.

Best man was David Clark of Auckland, New Zealand. Ushers were David Boyd and Karl Hanisch, both of Fort Myers Beach.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. Assisting with the hospitalities were Mr. & Mrs. George Reitzel of Sterling, Ill., and Mr. & Mrs. Southwick.

The bride graduated from Northern Illinois University in DeKalb, and formerly taught at Fort Myers Beach Elementary School. Prior to her marriage, she was an actuarial assistant for Towers, Perrin, Forster and Crosby in Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Stephenson is a graduate of Boston Classical School and is a sea captain and commercial pilot currently captaining a new experimental vessel for Ocean Technology, Inc.

The couple will live on Bradford Extension in Provincetown, Mass.

OPERATION TURTLE EGGS

Charles LeBuff of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service announced recently that patrol operations have begun on the island beaches and will continue until the sea turtle season ends sometime in August. Island residents, including motel operators, are asked to use as little lighting along the beach as possible, especially bright spotlights directed out toward the Gulf. These lights tend to frighten nesting loggerhead turtles and also disorient hatchling sea turtles. In 1969 Islanders responded very well to this request and it was valuable in assisting these reptiles in suitable nesting site availability.

LeBuff also announced that the loggerhead turtles now being cared for by the Caretta Research Team of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation will be released at the Sanibel Lighthouse at 1 o'clock on May 17. The actual releasing of the 10 month old turtles will be done by Sanibel-Captiva children, of elementary age or less. Children must notify Mrs. Remus, 472-5621, between now and May 17 and from 6 to 8 p.m., if they want to participate. Parents must provide transportation to and from the Lighthouse. Children should wear swimsuits.

Other releases will take place on Turner Beach, and also about ten miles out in the Gulf of Mexico. The young turtles have been marked in two ways -- all have had a section of shell removed to identify the year of production and in addition a small plastic spaghetti tag has been applied to each turtle. This should be an interesting afternoon. The general public is invited.

ISLAND GARDENER

May is the beginning month of summertime activity according to the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association (FNGA). A well-landscaped outdoor living area is conducive to outdoor activity. Well-cared-for shade trees and shrubs will give a maximum of privacy. For these trees and shrubs to do their best they should be well watered and well fertilized. Should the showers fail to come, watering of trees and shrubs is necessary at least once a week. Bananas and papayas are now growing luxuriantly. These plants require monthly feeding for good production of fruit. They, too, should be well watered. Bananas particularly are heavy feeding plants. They also like a heavy mulch around their trunks. An application of a high nitrogen fertilizer such as ammonium nitrate or ammonium sulfate will be beneficial. If you have access to cow manure or chicken manure, this too is ideal for fertilizing these plants.

Papayas are subject to several problems. A mottled leaf of yellow and green on these plants will indicate a virus. The leaf may also be strap shaped or ridged. There is no control for this virus. Dig the plant up and set out a new one. Papayas are subject to root now, and if you set out plants treat the soil with nemagon a week or so ahead of time. The fruit of papayas are subject to attack by papaya fruit worm. This can be prevented by placing a piece of plastic or paper between the fruit where it touches each other. Should you encounter caterpillars on your papayas, use a spray of sevin. Poinsettias have produced some new growth at this time and you will need to be aware of the need for pinching back new growth to make the plant branch. Like other plants, it is advisable to fertilize after pruning or pinching.

Those gladiolus that you enjoyed so much earlier have probably matured their bulbs now. Dig them, dust them with sevin and zineb, and store them in your garage.

It is a good time to plant moon vines, morning glories, and other summer flowers. Zinnias, tithonias, marigolds, and wishbone flowers are all producing myriads of color in the hot summer months. Watch these plants for red spider and chewing insects. For the control of red spider use kelthane. The chewing insects can be controlled by using sevin. Pinch zinnias after they are 4 - 5 inches tall to produce a maximum amount of stems and blossoms.

held Sunday by C-L Development Corp.

Ralph Clark, head of the development firm and a general contractor said an invitation is being extended to everyone in Southwest Florida who would like a luxury island condominium apartment as a permanent home, weekend retreat or retirement home. Apartment prices have been set to start at $15,950 for a one-bedroom, one-bath unit.

Captain's Walk, when completed, will have a total of 48 units in six buildings, the same as C-L Development's River Garden Condominium complex on East Riverside Drive in Fort Myers.

River Garden was started about five years ago with one building going up each year. Architect Joseph Blacker designed the complex for Clark.

The Sanibel complex is located on Periwinkle Way at S. Yachtsman Drive. The property has canal frontage with a fishing dock for use by residents.

Included in the Captain's Walk sale package is wall to wall carpeting, central air conditioning, with reverse cycle and individual controls, built-in kitchen with range, refrigerator and disposal, city-type water and centralized sanitary facilities.

FISH AU GRATIN

- 1-1/2 lb. flounder fillets
- 1/2 lemon
- 1 can (10-1/2 oz) condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1 tbsp. cream sherry
- 6 servings seasoned instant mashed potato
- 1 tbsp. fine dry bread crumbs
- 1 tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese
- Chopped parsley

Rinse fish fillets quickly under running cold water. Drain on paper towels and arrange fillets, slightly overlapping, in buttered shallow baking dish (not glass) and squeeze lemon juice on top (direct from lemon, removing seeds, if any) and sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Cover tightly with foil and bake in moderate oven (350) 20 minutes, or until fish is opaque and flakes easily with fork. Carefully drain off all liquid, holding with spatula. Mix fish liquid with soup and sherry until smooth. Pour over fish and spoon or flute mashed potato around edge. Sprinkle entire surface with mixture of bread crumbs and cheese. (At this point dish may be cooled and refrigerated until 3/4 hour before broiling.) Broil 7" from heat 10 minutes, or until top is well browned and dish is bubbling hot. Sprinkle with parsley. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SHRIMP A LA KING

- 7 oz. shelled shrimp
- 1 3-oz. can sliced mushrooms, drained (about 1/2 cup)
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 4 tbsp. butter or margarine
- 2 tbsp. all-purpose flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- Several dashes white pepper
- 2 cups milk
- 1 tbsp. lemon juice
- 6 to 8 toast cups

Cook shrimp; drain. In medium saucepan, cook mushrooms and green pepper in butter or margarine till tender. Blend in flour, salt, and pepper. Add milk all at once. Cook and stir till thickened and bubbly. Stir in shrimp and lemon juice. Pour into 1 quart casserole; cool. Cover tightly and freeze. When ready to serve, bake frozen casserole, covered, in 375 oven for 50 to 60 minutes or till heated through. Stir occasionally while heating. Serve in toast cups. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

A group of Naples investors purchased a portion of Sanibel Island's beach from Mr. & Mrs. Samuel G. Jacobs of Minneapolis, Minn. The parcel extends along the beach for 400 feet and inland about 600 feet. The parcel was sold to William H. Toohey, trustee for the investors. There are about five acres in the parcel and it is zoned residential 3 which permits multiple family housing facilities, hotel or motel resorts.

Mr. & Mrs. Jacobs bought the property more than five years ago. They are in business in Minneapolis but have made plans to retire on Sanibel.

The new owners have not announced plans for the property. The property may be held for a while and then resold or they may consider some type of development.
