-- SPECIAL NOTICE --
Lee County Zoning Board
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Name: Sanibel-Captiva Chamber of Commerce. Request for the adoption of Sign Category S-1. Hearing No. 70-5-6

SUBJECT PROPERTY: Sanibel and Captiva Islands-Lee County, Florida. Hearing will be held in the Lee County Court House at 10 a.m., Monday, May 25, 1970 by the Lee County Zoning Board. Final hearing will be held by the Board of County Commissioners on July 7, 1970 at 9:00 a.m.

IT IS URGED THAT ALL MEMBERS OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND ALL RESIDENTS OF SANIBEL AND CAPTIVA ATTEND THIS VERY IMPORTANT MEETING.

POLLUTION MEETING

Air and water pollution problems on Sanibel Island and Captiva Island and surrounding waters were discussed in a community meeting Monday, May 18 at the Sanibel Community House.

Sponsors of the meeting include the Sanibel Community Association, the Captiva Civic Association, the Sanibel-Captiva Islands Chamber of Commerce, the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Committee, the Sanibel Rocks Civic Association, the Palm Lake Association, the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon Society, the Sanibel-Captiva Shell Club and the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation.

Dr. I. H. Simmons of Sanibel acted as chairman and moderated the question and answer period following the general program.

Participants included Dr. Joseph W. Lawrence, director of the Lee County Health Department, Dr. Joseph K. Isley, Radiologist of Fort Myers, Mr. R. M. Stott, supervisor of Lee County Health Department, Sanitarians, Mr. D. L. Smith and Mr. Charles Martindale, Director of the Lee County Mosquito Control, Mr. T. Wayne Miller, Jr., Mr. Hammond, Science Consultant for Lee County Schools, Count Commissioner, Mr. Geraci and Mr. Barnett, State Air & Water Pollution representative for this area.

The mosquito district maintains the fresh water stability in Sanibel Slough, controlling the entire island center's water level. Pollution in that slough was a major topic. Other pollution points were discussed.

Dr. I. H. Simmons of Sanibel opened the meeting by reading a very interesting poem which ended with the advice to build a fence on the top of the cliff to prevent persons falling and forget the maintenance of an ambulance below.

Mr. R. M. Stott, gave a talk and showed slides explaining the cause and much of the pollution of Lee County. Dr. Joseph K. Isley explained that pollution is everyone's problem and suggested that we have an established set of rules and regulations and laws which would enforce pollution laws. Dr. Joseph W. Lawrence, who has been with the Lee County Health Dept. for 16 years, advised that the county is growing so rapidly that we must have more control and strengthen laws now in effect. Mr. Hammond told of using students participation in the study of pollution and prevention. He stated that approximately 3,500 students had participated. Their main study being our biggest asset, our mangrove swamps, as we are one of the three counties in the Northern hemisphere to produce such swamps. The generation who created the situation is not the one to have to solve it. Mr. Barnett, the State Air & Water Pollution representative for this area was happy to see so many people interested in the problem of pollution and hoped that all would support him in this work.

LOGGERHEAD TURTLES RELEASED

Over 500 young Loggerhead turtles produced under the restoration phase of the Caretta Research Project were released on Sanibel Sunday, May 17. Children from Sanibel and Captiva helped get the small Loggerheads into the Gulf of Mexico.

Some other turtles were released at Turner Beach and still more were turned loose about 10 miles out in the Gulf.

The turtles are marked and tagged so statistics can be compiled on their progress if they return to nest.

Letter To The Editor

To The Islander:

I noted with great interest and pride the cleaning up planned by the Island Improvement Committee for May 9. It is wonderful to read of citizens getting out and doing things for themselves.

Another way to help keep the Island clean and preserve the unspoiled appearance is to vigorously control all above ground utilities or even a system of underground utilities. Unfortunately, far too many of us take utility poles for granted even when they run down both sides of the street and clutter the view of open blue skies with wires. It is important that we establish standards and controls now before the privileges granted to the utilities of today become their rights and perogatives tomorrow.

Let us exert our right to clean skies.
/s/ William W. Buckley
Somerset, N.J.

To The Islander:

A copy of the following letter was sent to the Islander for publication: Dear Members of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation:

Thank you very much for providing me the use of your boat and gas for my science project. This helped me very much and improved the quality of my research.

At the State Science Fair, I received a second place in Senior High Botany and was named an alternate for the International Fair in Baltimore. This is considered runner-up for the grand prize and is one of the highest awards at the Fair.

Thank you again for all your help.
/s/ Ty Symroski

To The Islander:

We arrived on Sanibel Island five weeks ago, and love it. Our mother and almost everyone else thinks we are beautiful for we wear the handsomest fur coats, in shades of blonde mink, Russian sable, and gray and black clipped-seal sort-of. Our manners are very good and we have handsome tails and whiskers setting off our deep blue big eyes.

It should be noted also, that Mamma "Lily Pons" (so called because she can hold a "mew" for thirty seconds) is most unusual and has taken such good care of us, we will be an asset to any home for that's what we need now. Our routine will be catching mice and horrors-rats-when-we-are bigger, eating, sleeping, playing push-over and swat but most of all making you happy because you have taken us in when both our father and grandfather have run away. (Our grandmother is a wretch too.) But we are determined to be good because we will be so grateful to you.

/s/ Dootsie and Bobo (Twins),
Puddin and Sambo
P.S. We will receive callers by appointment in Pirate Alley, GR 2-3943.

LIBRARY NEWS

Mrs. Dorothy Stafford, who has served as librarian of the Sanibel Public Library for the past several years, resigned from that post on May 1 because of ill health, it is announced by the Trustees of the Library.

At the same time the Trustees announced that Mrs. W. Buel (Rhoda) Franklin of Periwinkle Park, Sanibel, will take over the duties of librarian this fall. During the summer the library's services will be maintained by the staff of library volunteer workers, who have just completed a four-week series of sessions on small library operations given by Mrs. Fayette Storm, Lee County Librarian.

The Sanibel Library will be open during the summer during the same hours as heretofore on Tuesday and Saturday mornings 10 - 12 and Thursday afternoon 2 - 4. The Wednesday evening opening has been discontinued for the summer.

BLUE CIRCLE

Mrs. Parker Mills was hostess to the Blue Circle at her beautiful home on the sea, "The Barnacle" at Captiva. The girls, Mrs. Jet, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Loomis, Mrs. Shaver and "Pin" rolled 85 bandages Monday afternoon for the Catholic Medical Mission Board who sends them to the sick and poor in far away places throughout the world.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

by Russell Kay

The following amusing verse was passed on by Ann Landers in a recent column. In the event you missed it, I too pass it on as worth repeating.

REMEMBER WHEN
Remember when hippie meant big in the hips,
And a trip involved travel in cars, planes or ships?
When pot was a vessel for cooking things in,
And hooked was what grandmothers rug may have been?
When fix was a verb that meant mend or repair,
And Be-in meant merely existing somewhere?
When neat meant well organized, tidy and clean,
And grass was a ground cover, normally green?
When groovy meant furrowed with channels and hollows,
And birds were winged creatures, like robins and swallows?
When fuzz was a substance real fluffy like lint,
And bread came from bakeries and not from the mint?
When roll meant a bun and rock was a stone,

And hang-up was something you did with a phone?
It's groovy, man, groovy, but English it's not,
Methinks that our language is going to pot.

Author Unknown.

If you have reached the age where you find our changing language confusing you can bring yourself up-to-date by questioning any teenager.

If oldsters will take the trouble of thinking back to the language of their youth they will find that they contributed their share of similar expressions that seem as ridiculous to the youngster of today as their language may seem to us.

As time marches on, these youngsters of today will soon find themselves at the age of thirty or more and I venture to say they will find the language of their teenagers as difficult to grasp, for this is a fast moving world and if you fail to keep up with it you will certainly be caught in the undertow.

When I was a youngster a hippie was a broad, a cigarette was a coffin-nail, oldsters were foggies, an attractive girl was a doll or a chick, a policeman a cop, jigger was a look-out, gasbaw a politician, water-wagon something that drunks used to climb on when they wanted to kick the habit, sap or dumb-cluck a guy who didn't know which end was up, a car was a gas-buggy, a tramp was a hobo and a singer a canary.

We had hang-ups in those days but we seldom resorted to violence. We didn't throw stones, railroad spikes, or smash windows of innocent merchants, set fires or attempt to destroy the world we lived in.

We had respect for our elders, for the law and for our parents. We understood that the world was our oyster and it was up to us to open it. We were proud of our country and respected the flag that represented it.

STUDENTS ACCEPTED

THE ISLAND GARDENER

Gardenia bud drop can be a real problem with the homeowner, according to the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association (FNGA). This problem is brought about by a number of discrepancies in the culture of the plant: quite often the plant is fertilized when it is in full bud; the plant may be iron deficient; it may have a serious infestation of root knot; there can be many of the branches encrusted with scale; fungus in the base of the bud; or heavy aphid feeding on the plant. Bud drop can also be encountered when there is an excessive amount of moisture such as heavy rains or over watering. Often a specific cause for bud drop cannot be analyzed. You will need to experiment and delete one problem from the other.

It is not unusual to have a shoot from the understock of gardenias grow up through the grafted top. The understock is Gardenia Thunbergia. The leaves are crinkled, more narrow than the grafted gardenia, and it is quite vigorous in its growth. Gardenia Thunbergias will produce blossoms, but they are single and not double like the grafted specimens. If you have enough room you can have gardenias blooming over a long period of time. Some plants are dwarf, others are extremely large. These bushes can be shaped by pruning judiciously. Prune only after the plant has blossomed. Remember, gardenias are quite often deficient in iron and manganese. These two materials should be applied at least once a year, more often on sweet soil.

If you like a sweet fragrance at night, then you will enjoy the Night Blooming Jasmine. Most of the jasmine plants growing in Florida have some fragrance, but the Night Blooming Jasmine produces a heavy scent early in the evening and by morning time there is little fragrance left. Night Blooming Jasmine is subject to a worm that feeds specifically on it. This worm can be controlled by repeated applications of sevin.

Chrysanthemums are producing some growth and whether you live in north, central, or south Florida you should begin spraying for the control of fungus on these plants. The fungus is called Septoria and it causes a browning of the leaves. If the fungus progresses from the stem of the plant onto the leaves you will have no leaves left by the blooming season. Repeated applications of zineb or maneb or Dithane M-45 will give your plants a full leaf development.

RED SNAPPER WITH OYSTER STUFFING

- 1 4 to 4 1/2 lb. red snapper, dressed
- Salt
- Salad oil
- 3/4 cup minced celery
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 8 oz. shucked oysters
- 3 cups day-old bread cubes
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1 tsp. poultry seasoning
- 1/4 tsp. pepper

About 1 1/2 hours before serving: Preheat oven to 350. Sprinkle inside and outside of fish with salt. Brush large shallow roasting pan lightly with salad oil. Brush one side of fish with oil and place oiled-side down in pan.

In medium saucepan over high heat, in 1 cup boiling water, cook celery and onion until tender; drain, reserving liquid. Into cup, drain liquid from oysters; add drained celery liquid to make 1/2 cup.

In large bowl, cup up oysters; stir in bread cubes, liquid, celery, onion and remaining ingredients. Stuff mixture into fish; skewer closed with toothpicks. Brush other side of fish with salad oil. Bake 1 hour, brushing occasionally with oil.

With 2 large pancake turners, lift fish to warm platter. To serve, remove toothpicks; cut top side of fish into squares just down to bone; serve squares with some stuffing. Lift off bones and cut lower portion of fish. Makes 8 servings.

VOX POPULI

What this country needs in this area of discontent, discord, protest and pillage are more rugged individualists. In my file I have a copy of a speech made by Senator Carlson some time ago which explains what I mean:

- "Men who are honest, sound from center to circumference, true to the heart's core."
 - "Men who are not for sale."
 - "Men who will stand for the right if the heavens totter and the earth reels."
 - "Men with consciences as steady as the needle to the poles."
 - "Men who can tell the truth and look the world right in the eye."
 - "Men who neither brag nor run."
 - "Men who neither flag nor flinch."
 - "Men who can have courage without shouting it."
 - "Men in whom the courage of everlasting life runs still, deep and strong."
 - "Men who know their message and tell it."
 - "Men who know their place and fill it."
 - "Men who know their business and attend to it."
 - "Men who will not lie, shirk, or dodge."
 - "Men who are not too lazy to work, nor too proud to be poor."
 - "Men who are willing to eat what they have earned and wear what they have paid for."
 - "Men who are not ashamed to say 'no' with emphasis and who are not ashamed to say 'I can't afford it.'"
- The tides or change and criticism have left our nation without mooring or anchors. We are being tossed about in the sea of doubt and uncertainty that is about to sink the ship of God before our very eyes.
- It is time we as individuals faced up to the facts and began to act like proud Americans, not as conformists and critics.
