ISLAND WATER ASSOCIATION

The Island Water Association met Sept. 12 to discuss ways to iron out difficulties between them and the Greater Pine Island Water Association. Mr. Francis Bailey said, "The Island Water Association has paid their bill to the Greater Pine Island Water Association and has even paid an overcharge they have received, but we have a legal and moral obligation to the people of Sanibel and Captiva to pay for our own water use, and we have fulfilled this obligation, we believe. Any other charges over and above water we have actually used, cannot be assumed."

The two boards will meet to have a hearing before the Public Service Commission at 1 p.m., Oct. 1, at the County Commissioner's office in Fort Myers. The hearing will be to interpret and read the contract between the two water companies.

SANIBEL BRIDGE REPAIRS

Fenders on the Sanibel Bridge, which are wooden timbers structured to protect the bridge itself in case it is bumped by boats, are to be repaired as a result of a crash Aug. 26 when a barge going through the bridge damaged 24 timbers in the structure. Lee County Attorney Frank Pavese is receiving claims in order to obtain costs of damages by the barge. River Construction Company is the contractor making the survey to replace the timber. This company has already replaced crushed timbers from a collision last winter that damaged the bridge.

Going over to the Islands, at the toll plaza, they report a brisk business so far for the month of September. "Commercial, as well as private passenger car traffic is terrific so far for the month," said the toll taker.

But a few of the businesses are closed. The owners are enjoying a brief vacation respite, much needed by now.

A graceful great white heron decorated the mail box area, like a white statue, of MacIntosh's Book Store. This is a lovely time of the year. A lowly, grasslike fern has suddenly blossomed into an airy, delicate sort of babies breath, and all the old standbys have taken on new glamor. The periwinkles are particularly large and lush in profuse bloom, and all the yellow daisy type flowers which look like tiny black eyed susans, too. The Joe Pieweed, ugly name for a pretty flower, are in dusky pink blossom, and lovely white star flowers too. Soon the green bunches of sea grapes will ripen in purple masses for all the birds to feast on.

Newcomers to the charms of the Islands are the attractive couple Mr. & Mrs. ROD HAPPEL of Philadelphia, and new owners of the Caribe Adventure Motel. They visited the islands so often, they finally succumbed to their love affair with them and moved here. The coming weeks will be busy ones as they settle in, and do a little remodeling and generally prepare for the Fall season.

Charming honeymoon couple are Mr. & Mrs. JOSEPH SWETER, JR. of Plainfield, N.J. at the Surf Rider. Mr. & Mrs. STEPHEN DEPPE, Champaign, Ill. are here for the first time too, and thoroughly enjoying it. Mr. & Mrs. TED BERG, Western Springs, Ill. are enjoying the sun and surf at the Surf Rider also.

Busy FRANCIS and ADELAIDE BAILEY were able to eke out a tiny bit of vacation time over Labor Day for a short trip and change of scene. They left the store in the capable hands of faithful employees. GRACE ELLEN RHODES, Bailey's former secretary, returned to Fort Worth, Texas, to live with her very recently widowed sister-in-law, EUNICE RHODES. She will be missed here.

Mr. & Mrs. B. V. WRIGHT, JR. of New York are at the Shalimar for a week, and Mr. & Mrs. JAMES P. NELSON, JR. too of Orlando. Mrs. Nelson is MARY ELDREDGE'S daughter, and Mrs. Wright is EDSON ELDREDGE'S sister, all corporate members of the Shalimar firm. Mrs. Eldredge has an absorbing hobby in making lovely hooked rugs, wall hangings and tapestries, many depicting her New England background, gracing the walls of their quarters.

At the Shell Harbor Inn, guests were most fortunate in their outstanding shell finds this week. Mrs. GEORGE BON FLEUR of Daytona Beach found a perfect Junonia and son, BRUCE BON FLEUR, JR. found a perfect large tulip, six inches long. Friend NELSON BUCKWALD, shelling with the Bon Fleurs, found a true tulip too and a very rare and beautiful lemon pectin.

Another newcomer is Mr. ARTHUR LEROY BAYNUM, associated with the MUENCHES at the Periwinkle Trailer Park. Mr. Baynum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. ELMER F. BAYNUM, and two nieces, LESLIE and CANDY McNAMARA from Hialeah spent the weekend at the Periwinkle helping Mr. Baynum get settled and enjoying the lovely green waters. Mr. & Mrs. ALBERT MUENCH and family, incidentally, have moved to their beautiful new home on Murex Dr.

Sailing Thursday from Port Everglades on the T. S. Hamburg, are ARTHUR and MOLLY ORLOFF, of the B-Hive. They will be gone for a month or so on a cruise of the beautiful blue Mediterranean and they will visit Italian ports of Catania and Genoa, Casablanca in North Africa, Funchal in the Madeira Islands, Istanbul, Turkey, Piraeus, the Port of Athens, Greece, and the islands of Malta and St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands. They had planned a different itinerary, but due to the cholera scare are taking no chances and changed their plans for one of pure enjoyment. They had planned to include some of the Russian satellite countries.

The B-Hive is left in the capable hands of ARTHUR ANDREWS. Often the bon mots that appear on the bulletin board afford a chuckle to the shopper on the routinely daily trip to the store. This week's quip is: "Have your picture taken free. Rob a bank." Also a large sign advertises: Snow shovels, a real buy, $3.75. In the store is a half price table marked "Real Florida Lemons." We particularly liked the slender lion bank (there is some hope of really filling him with coins) and also the picture placard on a chain you wear. These were borrowed straight from the French, and a clever person could even substitute the picture of his or her beloved.

Other goodies in the store are the fresh star fruit (Carambola) in season now, and don't overlook the yummy fresh chocolates; some are for diet conscious people even.

DON and GRACE WHITEHEAD have just returned from two months in Europe. They revisited many places they had seen when Mr. Whitehead was with the French Embassy in Paris. They bought a Volkswagen in Germany and toured many scenic spots: the Basque country in the Pyrenees, the Lake country in the northern part of Europe, Normandy and Brittany and the Mediterranean. They spent ten lovely days on the Riviera, and Mrs. Whitehead said the climate is much like here, but of course not as hot.

They also went to Switzerland and to London revisiting old friends and scenes. They enjoyed the opera in London, where it rained most of the time, but the weather everywhere else was just perfect. "In fact, the good food, fine wines, and fine friends made the trip a delight and worthy of a return visit. We had the Guide Michelin -- a book of gourmet places to eat, and we gained a few pounds," remarked Mrs. Whitehead. "But we love Sanibel, and it is home, and there is no place like it," she sighed. But they will long remember the historic chateau and all the other memorable scenes.

Mr. & Mrs. TOM McINTOSH have really been visited! Their son DAVID and wife BARBARA and the four children were here for a nice visit before the two older children had to go back to school in Springfield, Pa. JANE ANN 10 and KENNY 6, enjoyed the beach, shelling and all the friends they made, but SANDRA 3, practically turned into a mermaid, living in the water. Baby KAREN even liked the water. They hated to go home, but maybe they can come again for Christmas vacation.

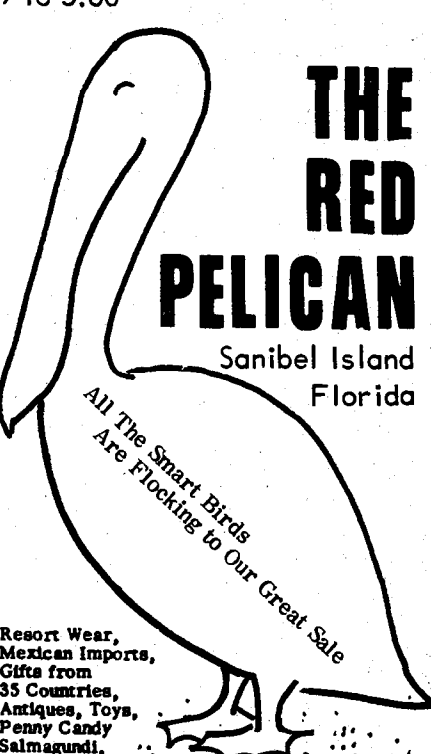

The HOLTZMANS, owners of the Shell Harbor Inn, have Mr. & Mrs. SKIP PURDY, JR. visiting. PAM is the Holtzmans daughter, and son-in-law Skip is on a few days leave from his military duties, and enjoying boating and the beach before his imminent return.

Enjoying a visit at The Colony are the following guests: Mr. & Mrs. Elmer Gottschalk of Toledo, Ohio; Mr. Joseph Eibel and family, Mr. & Mrs. E. K. Moss of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. John Scharer of Staten Island, N.Y.; Mr. & Mrs. Philip Callahan of Manchester, Mo.; Mr. & Mrs. Robert J. Stout of Floral Park, N.Y.; and Mr. & Mrs. S. M. Heustis from Grosse Pointe, Mich.

DENISE STEVENS, daughter of ROBERT STEVENS of Gulf Drive, has just entered Stetson College in her freshman year, and son CHARLES is home between semesters from the U. of Florida at Gainesville where he is majoring in Architectural Design.

Mr. & Mrs. FLOYD SNOOK of Snook Apts. have just returned from their unbelievable trip via camper to Alaska and British Columbia. They left Sanibel June 1st and enjoyed the trip immensely. The roads were in good condition and they had a very nice tour, "but the weather was a bit cool for us Florida crackers, and it is good to be back home," said Mrs. Snook.

THE ISLAND CHEF

SHRIMP WHEELS

- 1 4-1/2 oz. can (about 1 cup) shrimp, drained and mashed
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
- 2 Tbsp. chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives
- 2 Tbsp. chili sauce
- 1 Tbsp. finely chopped celery
- 1 package refrigerated crescent rolls (8 rolls)

In bowl, combine all ingredients except rolls. Unroll dough and separate crescents into 4 rectangles. (Do not separate to form triangles.) Spread about 1/4 cup shrimp mixture on each rectangle. Starting at short end, roll up, jelly roll fashion. Cut each roll into 10 slices. Place, cut side down, on greased baking sheet. Bake in 375 oven for 10 to 12 minutes or till golden brown. Serve hot. Makes 40.

PORK AND SHRIMP

- 1/2 lb. raw medium shrimp, shelled
- 2 Tbsp. peanut or soy oil
- 1/2 lb. ground lean pork
- 1/3 cup finely chopped scallions, with green tops
- 2 cups thinly sliced fresh mushrooms
- 1 cup rich chicken stock
- 1 Tbsp. or more Japanese soy sauce

Cut the shrimp into lengthwise halves, and rise well. Using a wok or large shallow skillet, heat the oil and stir-fry the ground pork until it is lightly browned. Add the shrimp halves and the scallions, and continue to stir-fry for about 2 minutes. Stir in the mushrooms, then blend in the chicken stock and soy sauce to taste. Simmer for 1 or 2 minutes more. Mix gently, and cook the mixture over high heat for just one minute or less. Serve immediately. Serves 4.

THE ISLAND GARDENER

If you are a gardener, now is an excellent time to begin preparing your fall and winter garden and planting areas according to the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association (FNGA.) The soil should be spaded deeply, 8 to 10 inches, organic material added, any necessary lime applied, and if needed sterilization of the soil. Soil sterilization is almost a necessity in Florida. This is particularly true if you have been growing plants that are susceptible to the water moles or damping off fungus. Two of the materials available from most garden supply stores and nurseries are Vapam and Vorlex. These materials are applied directly to the soil and watered in afterwards. The materials will kill nematodes, insects, diseases, and some weed seeds.

Amaryllis are growing rapidly at this time and it would be advisable to give them a light feeding of a mixed fertilizer high in potassium and phosphorous. In addition to this you may need to apply some dolomite if the soil is too acid. Most of the amaryllis family require a slightly acid soil, the pH of 6.5 to 7.0.

Many of you have returned from vacation to find your roses overgrown and void of leaves. Black spot has taken its toll. The tall growth is not producing any flowers so you need to take steps to rejuvenate your bushes. It would be advisable to prune back the leggy growth, fertilize, and spray your plants. The FNGA suggests that you use a rose fertilizer prepared especially for roses. These fertilizers contain all of the trace elements which are necessary for good rose growth. For the spray use a combination of fungicide and insecticide. You may wish to check with your local FNGA member or garden supply store for materials to use.

New buds on your recently pruned roses will give you flowers in about 5 to 6 weeks. Should you have intentions of enlarging your rose bed now would be a good time to prepare it.

Many of the northern retirees long for sweet peas. Few of them grow this attractive winter annual, but according to the FNGA these flowers can be produced if you prepare the bed now. Dig a trench approximately two feet wide and 18 inches deep. Fill this with organic compost with some fertilizer and dolomite. Let it remain so until a month from now for planting.

DEATH OF THE EVERGLADES

The Florida Everglades and ecology are dying rapidly, having been used and abused for 70 some years, five scientists disclose. A report was prepared by the scientists at the request of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control, and the team was composed of two federal ecologists, Dr. Charles M. Loveless of Denver and Robert L. Downing of Blacksburg, Va., Dr. James M. Lane of the American Museum of Natural History, and Arthur Marshall and Dr. George M. Cornwell, both of the University of Florida.

In their report, the scientists stated that the Everglades should be preserved as its supply of stored water is an absolute necessity to all of South Florida. Its vegetation creates oxygen, and purifies the air, but the water, which is the life blood of the Everglades, is received only after agriculture and urban users have been supplied with all the water needed by them, and this leaves less and less water for natural ecological purposes. There are 1.3 million acres of swamp in the area.

They concurred with an earlier report of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers that South Florida's water supply will be inadequate by 1976.

They asked for a limit of population growth in the Everglades and called for the appointment of a coordinating committee composed of federal, state and regional officers to try to preserve the Everglades. The building of canals that permits drainage and run off of valuable waters is also killing the Everglades.

AMERICAN LEGION POST

123 THANKS ALL

The Sanibel-Captiva American Legion Post 123 publicly extends thanks to all Island merchants and individuals who made donations or otherwise contributed to the Post Labor Day Fish Fry.

Legionnaire Herb Purdy of Segunda pronounced the annual American Legion fish fry a success. "We made a little money to take care of the many patriotic and welfare programs promoted by the American Legion," he said.

PIONEER FAMILIES OF THE ISLANDS

by elinore dormer

Mrs. Pearl Stokes' father was Arleigh Hunter from Plant City who homesteaded on Sanibel in 1907. While here, he had met and married Arthur Gibson's sister, Linnie Maude, who had come with her family, via sailboat, from the Tampa Bay area just seven years before. When Pearl married Jake Stokes, she brought still another old Florida family into the fold. Jake's people were descended from Spanish Grandees who had fled political pressures more than 100 years ago to settle in the Tampa area and raise cattle. Also in Jake's background was other noble blood -- that of a prominent Indian chief involved in the early history of the city of Tallahassee.

Mr. Clarence Rutland moved to Sanibel in 1896 when he was five years old. His family was from Lake County and when his parents lost their crops in the Big Freeze, they decided to move further south. Later, his mother was widowed and she married Henry Shanahan. The families combined numbered 13 children! Clarence often helped his stepfather at the lighthouse and also was its keeper at one time. He vividly recalls when the light was fueled with kerosene and the frequent trips up and down its narrow 127 steps with five gallon cans. It was a haven during hurricanes and one child, Genevieve Cooper, was actually born there! My fondest memory of "Uncle Clarence," however, was his kindness to children. He had a large field of tomatoes across from our school, now the Pirate Playhouse. We were invited to help ourselves to the ripe ones, but don't step on the green ones, please!

Miss Pauline Wilson represents the Dunlop family which homesteaded on Sanibel in 1889. When her Uncle Charles was a boy, he worked at The Sisters Hotel for the princely sum of $1.00 a day. Occasionally he picked up a little more getting fiddler crabs for the tourists, the most famous of whom was Mr. Thomas A. Edison who happened to be fishing at Dixie Dock. His most memorable job, however, was that of night watchman. He kept an eye on the cable that was being laid across the southeast corner of Sanibel, there to go under water to Punta Rassa. It was by way of this cable that the world was to hear of the sinking of the battleship, Maine, in 1898.

The Rev. George S. Fitzhugh was an Episcopal minister who arrived on the Islands before the turn of the century. He was a very erudite man and much in demand because of the fine sermons he delivered. Frequently, he conducted services in Mrs. Barnes' church, Church of the Four Gospels, first on Sanibel, or went by sailboat to Punta Gorda to serve parishioners there. He, his wife and her sister all had homesteads here. Our present residents, Mrs. Maggie Fitzhugh and Mary, came much later. They, in fact, arrived on the ferry "Best" on her "maiden voyage" in 1928.

Belton Johnson came to Sanibel in 1901 to join his father, James H. Johnson who had come in 1898 to farm. The family lived where the Coconut Grove Restaurant is today and Mr. Johnson helped to build the Tarpon Bay Packing house, a picturesque large building at the end of a long pier which was an island landmark. It became a store in 1921 and not until the 1950's was the last remnant of it carried away by a storm. Belton, himself, served in the U. S. Navy during World War I, then returned to Sanibel to devote himself to boats. Always an excellent fishing guide, he worked for a time exclusively for "Ding" Darling and Miss Alice O'Brien and it was then he moved to Captiva. One evening in 1963, he observed a bedraggled little group in a sailboat just off his beach. As it turned out, it was Cuban refugees, lost, hungry and sorely in need of the help they promptly received. The story had a happy ending when they were eventually reunited with friends in Miami.

Hello Folks:

The Beach Bulletin and the Islander are improving with every issue. Congratulations to Duff and Virginia Brown. I enjoy Carlene Kelly's columns and Judy Hendrie's current events reports. In fact, I enjoy the whole thing. How about sending in your yearly subscription and help them all keep up the good work. Send a Christmas subscription to those near and dear to you. It is really a bargain and will help us help you.

Travelling on our highways, nowadays, is no bargain even though things have vastly improved. When the automobile first started to become universally popular many of the small -- I was about to say "Hick Communities" -- forgive me -- communities decided to capitalize on the situation and to exploit it. Speed limits of 20 mph, 15 mph and in some cases even 10 mph were adopted. Speed traps were set up. Usually, the deputies were stationed at the roadside in a location where they were not likely to be noticed. They took the license numbers and the make of the cars that came by and telephoned or telegraphed or otherwise signaled to the constable who was stationed a mile or so down the road together with the time the car passed. Almost everyone who had a car that would really run was arrested. (Reminds you of radar and mechanical traps being used today.) The judges worked on fees, the constables worked on fees, and the deputies got their cut. I don't think there was much, if anything, left for the municipality. Too many years went by before Legislatures wised up and put a stop to this.

They are starting to put the motorist on the rack again, however. One example is radar and mechanical speed traps. For another thing, the New York Court of Appeals has ruled that speed may be proven by the arresting officer's testimony of speed based on his observation and otherwise uncorroborated. This is a new and radical departure from the few safeguards a motorist has painfully acquired over the years. It's a nasty piece of business, even though the court has qualified the ruling by holding the speed violation in such event must be substantial and not minimal. If widely followed it may have one good end -- the Legislatures will put a stop to it.

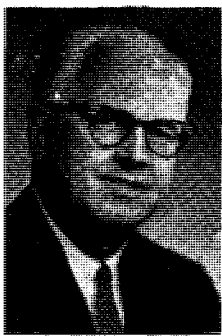

I had occasion to drive the Pennsylvania Turnpike recently. There were sections where repairs or improvements were being carried on. On these sections speed was mostly reduced to 45 mph, which is reasonable enough.

The thing I didn't like were big signs which shouted -- "YOU! SLOW DOWN." Crawling along at between twenty and thirty miles per hour in a long line of traffic I wondered what had happened to common courtesy. Also, I saw no signs stating that I way paying $5.70 in tolls for the privilege of using the highway, in a country where all the highways should be "Freeways." Or, that I was paying approximately one cent per mile in gas taxes, or, between $5 and $6 for a ten hour day.

On other roads I see signs about "your highway taxes at work." Please, powers that be, get them working a little harder and hurry up with some first class North-South highways in Georgia and South Carolina.

Motorists, stop being so meek -- demand a few changes.

With love,
Matt Tanza.

THE OLD SWIMMING HOLE: An elderly uncle of mine visited Florida this winter. When he returned, I asked him if he went swimming in the ocean. "No," he replied, "My swimmin' suit had been layin' in a trunk for a long spell, and the moths had eaten holes in the knees and the elbows."

EGGS-IT: Three unmarried sisters couldn't find suitable boy friends, and their life was boring. One evening they discussed their problem, and they decided to start a poultry farm. They counted their money and decided to go ahead with this project. They drove down to a chicken farmer and told him of their plan. They told the farmer they wanted to start with 100 hens and 100 roosters. The poultry farmer, laughed, and corrected them, saying "I'll sell you 100 hens but you'll need only 10 roosters." "No, no," the girls joined in unison, "we want 100 hens and 100 roosters -- we know what it is to be lonesome!"

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Be friendly with the folks you know. If it weren't for them, you'd be a total stranger.

MIXED UP: A man knows what he wants when he wants it. A woman knows what she doesn't want when she gets it.

IN BUSINESS FOR YOURSELF: There are two reasons why some people don't mind their own business. One is that they haven't got any business and the other is that they haven't got any mind.

Violent exercise after 40 is especially harmful if you do it with a knife and fork.

ADULT EDUCATION CLASSES AT SANIBEL

Art and Conversational Spanish classes for adults will resume on Sanibel this week, Lee County Coordinator of Adult Education, Bill Peed announced last week.

Conversational Spanish, taught by Vince Tata, will meet at Sanibel Elementary on Monday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9:30. This class was well attended last year, with 22 residents enrolled.

Al Schmelz will resume his art classes also on Thursday evening at the school. Always a favorite with residents and visitors to the Island, this course features optional Saturday sketching sessions.

Registration fee for each course is $2.00.

A.R.T.

Of interest to all theatre buffs will be the Actor's Repertory Theatre (A.R.T.) a new group now in rehearsal for their first production which will be Tennessee Williams' "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" to be presented October 9 and 10 as dinner theatre at the Sheraton Inn in Fort Myers.

Directed by John Wyatt, the cast is headed by Linda Wyatt as Maggie the Cat, Dave Kirkpatrick as Brick, Bob DuMouchel as Big Daddy and Jane Czech as Big Mama. In supporting roles are Lynne DuMouchel, Clark Bell, Don Thyer, George Brinkworth and six children, four of them DuMouchels, Suzi, Missy, Leslie and Jeff.

The DuMouchels, residents of Captiva, are new in theatre in this area but come with credits from their former home in the Tampa area. Bob had the lead in "Death of a Salesman" for U. of Tampa, singing lead in "Paint Your Wagon" for USF and he, as well as Lynne appeared in many shows for the Village Players of Brandon. George Brinkworth of the Beach has played with the Hunters at the Pirate Playhouse for the past five seasons.

Tickets are available at the Sheraton Inn, Fort Myers, Wyatt Interiors in Cape Coral and from all cast members.

ARTISTS INVITED TO DESIGN 1972 CHRISTMAS SEAL

Local artists are invited to enter nationwide competition for the design of the 1972 Christmas Seal, according to Leo F. Thomas, Chairman of the TB and RD Association of Southwest Florida.

A $1,000 cash award will be given the artist whose design is chosen to spearhead the annual drive against emphysema, tuberculosis, other respiratory diseases, and air pollution, Thomas said. The design itself will appear on the Christmas Seals mailed to millions of U. S. homes during the 1972 holiday season. It also will appear on posters, billboards and TV screens.

Production schedules require that the Christmas Seal design be selected two years in advance of issue. The 1970 Seal, created by L. Gerald Snyder of California, goes in the mail this Fall. The 1971 Christmas Seal, now in production, was designed by James J. Clarke, also of California.

Contest deadline is October 1, 1970. Rules and information are available from the TB and RD Association at 3643 Palm Beach Blvd. in Fort Myers or at 3400 South Tamiami Trail, Sarasota. Phone 694-2121 (Fort Myers) or 955-4318 (Sarasota.)

IN LOVING MEMORY OF PEACHES BOOTH III

Peaches Booth III, a lifetime resident of Captiva Island, Florida was born May 10, 1961, Tiger, Georgia and died September 9, 1970.

Survivors include Mr. & Mrs. Ray Booth, Miss Karen Booth, Mrs. Cathy Booth Temblay and Cat Booth.

She served with loyalty and devotion both her family and her postal patrons during her nine years of Civil Service duty. She will be missed by all. May she find her cream in heaven.

In lieu of bones, contributions can be sent to the Chapel-By-The-Sea Tribute Fund.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY
 by Russell Kay

Fed up with senseless vandalism and general delinquency on the part of youngsters, the community of Madison Heights, Mich., passed a city ordinance making the parents legally responsible for loss or damage caused by their children.

The law applies to any parent of a juvenile offender brought before the court for a second time within a period of one year.

Police and school officials found the law most effective in stopping wanton vandalism and juvenile crime in the community. It worked so well in fact, that the number of such offenses dropped 50%.

Youngsters, whose parents had failed to curb their infringement of property rights or hold them responsible for such senseless acts as vandalizing school property, smashing street lights, throwing rocks at passing cars or committing other unlawful acts, didn't relish the idea of being required to appear in municipal court to answer such charges. They began to apply old fashioned methods of punishing offending offspring.

A survey of the parents of the community indicated that they felt the law was a good thing. Some even termed it a blessing, since it caused them to concern themselves with where their children were, who they were associating with and what they were doing.

Some admitted that they had been altogether too lenient. The law provided a leverage in dealing with wayward kids. Law abiding citizens who have observed their responsibility in seeing to it that their children behaved properly breathed a sigh of relief.

Much of our difficulty in the matter of juvenile delinquency today can be traced directly to the failure of parents to assume their responsibility. Children need and want parental guidance. If mother and father don't care, why should they?

The hardened criminal of tomorrow is the undisciplined child of today. If more communities would follow the lead of Madison Heights I am sure they would find their towns better places in which to live.

Millions of dollars worth of private and public property is destroyed by vandalism in this country every year, most of it by youngsters who think it is fun to destroy somebody's mail box, slash somebody's tires, break into a school house, deface blackboards with four-letter words, throw supplies about and raise hell generally.

Aside from the personal loss to wronged individuals, the taxpayers must pay for such damage through higher taxes.

Making excuses for delinquents on the grounds that they are just kids, don't really mean any harm or were led astray is nonsense. Properly trained, disciplined and guided at home they would not indulge in such practices. It is right and fitting that parents should be lawfully responsible for their acts, required to pay for such damage or serve jail terms.

Allowing youngsters to "do their thing" may be alright but we should make sure that the "Thing" they do is the right thing.

CARIBE ADVENTURE MOTEL SOLD

The Caribe Adventure Resort Motel on Sanibel was purchased last week in a $285,000 transaction by Mr. & Mrs. Roderick G. Happel, former residents of Philadelphia, Pa., from John F. Wright who built the facility. Sanibel Realtor Priscilla Murphy handled the negotiations.

The purchase of the motel was the result of an extensive two-year search for a business venture which would enable the Happels to move to a warm climate and away from the pollution of a large northern metropolitan area.

Mr. Happel formerly was assistant to the regional medical director in Philadelphia, and Mrs. Happel was a physician. She plans to apply later for a Florida license which will enable her to practice medicine here. The Happels have been spending their vacations at Sanibel for the past five years.

The Caribe Adventure was started about 8 years ago when Wright built two cottages on the 200 x 500-foot parcel. About six years ago he added a 12-unit motel building and in 1967 a 14-unit building. In 1968 the resorts' pool and patio area were added.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Priscilla Murphy, Realtor, reports the following sales:

Mr. John Wright, sale of the Caribe Adventure on Sanibel, to Mr. & Mrs. Roderick O. Happel of Philadelphia, Pa. Jamestown-Beachview, Inc. to Mr. Norman E. Miller of Crownsville, Md., sale of lot in Tahiti Shores, Sanibel Island, Florida.
