AUDUBON COMMITTEE APPOINTED

As previously announced, the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon is sponsoring a gala benefit to be held on Friday, Feb. 19 at Casa Ybel Resort. All proceeds from donations for admission and other sources will go to the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation for its program of land acquisition to establish a fresh water wildlife sanctuary on Sanibel. Mario Hutton will offer an all new "photo-verse" show entitled "Islands Inimitable."

Griffing Bancroft will be Master of Ceremonies, supervising the drawing of a number of valuable door prizes, and the sale of works donated by noted local artists. The formation of the ladies committee has been completed, and those who have graciously consented to serve are as follows: for Sanibel, Mrs. Leigh J. Bair, chairman; Miss Ruth Anderson, the mesdames Harry Borchers, Edmund Carnahan, Harold Craig, Walter Emmons, Golder McWhorter, Ingalls Simmons, and Howard Yule.

For Captiva, Mrs. Griffing Bancroft, chairman; the Mesdames J. B. Allin, Martin L. Cannon, Jr., William S. Dennis, Richard M. Elliott, H. P. Faris, Paul McCulloch, Harold Robinson, R. E. Shaver, John G. Sparks, and Mrs. George A. Thayer.

Admissions are ready for distribution, and in view of the anticipated brisk demand, it is suggested that those planning to attend, address themselves soon to any of the above committee members. The minimum donation is $3.00 per person, and any amount subscribed is tax deductible.

FINAL WORK ON SANIBEL

SIGN ORDINANCE UNDERWAY

The Lee County Commission ordered final work on a sign control ordinance for Sanibel and Captiva but returned a population density proposal back for more work until agreement can be reached.

The density ordinance, which was submitted along with the building height ordinance which passed, was postponed so that the Island Planning Board could work out a compromise with those opposing the ordinance. Clients of attorneys Arthur Knudsen, Jr. and David Springer proposed that density be controlled by limiting the area of any lot placed under a single roof to 40 percent of the land area. This would include carports, porches and other roofed areas. James Fortiner of the Fort Myers Board of Realtors originated the suggestion and further asked that building setbacks be used to further inhibit construction.

Malcolm Beattie of the Island Planning Board presented a report showing the Fortiner report to be unreasonable, explaining that a 15% coverage would allow 43 to 46 living units per acre and that in 20% land coverage, it would permit 62 units.

A comparison with motels and apartments now erected shows a reasonable limit to be 20 units per acre for a motel and 12 units per acre for apartments, maximum, said Beattie.

Chairman of the Commission Bruce J. Scott appointed Kenneth Daniels and Walter Shirey to a committee to work out an ordinance proposal for recommendation to the Board.

The sign ordinance received the usual opposition by Jamestown-Beachview Corp. Their attorney, Steve Helgemo, said the ordinance is discriminatory. Owners of the B-Hive and Shell Harbor Motel discussed changes, but were not opposed, asking to improve the ordinance.

Five changes were recommended by Michael Jackson, attorney for the Sanibel-Captiva Chamber of Commerce. The size of allowable directional signs was enlarged to 24 by 38 inches. The limit on roof signs was changed to include the sign as part of the structure and limited to the 25 foot high ordinance. An overall limit of 10 feet would apply to the sign, because of billboard limitations.

The original ordinance prohibiting illuminated roof signs was changed, and roof signs simply cannot have flashing or moving displays.

Small signs of a non-advertising nature used to show office names, business hours and other information or directions are to be limited to a foot in dimension.

A "grandfather" provision allows for old signs to continue longer than the 3 year limit for signs not complying with the new restrictions. Temporary signs are limited to six months. Old signs, such as the one on B-Hive, where a roof sign and roadside display were designed into the architecture of the building would remain. It can and will be changed when a redesign of the building is done, and a similar such sign exists at Shell Harbor Inn.

The final hearing was held for those opposing and those favoring the sign ordinance on Wednesday. There will be no more hearings held. The sign ordinance will be written and advertised and in several weeks the formal hearing will be held to either adopt the ordinance or reject it. Further announcements will be made when this is scheduled.

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

Most of the Reef guests are old friends returning for seasonal stays. Mr. & Mrs. JAMES L. McGOWAN of North Attleboro, Mass., have returned as have the HERBERT CHOICES from Hinsdale, Ill., the CHARLES FLEICHNERS of Newfield, N.J., Mr. & Mrs. TOWNSEND M. GUNN of Dover, Mass. Mr. McGOWAN has been the lucky sheller of the group, having found a Scotch bonnet and a golden olive. These days are good for shelling, and Mr. McGowan continues to hunt the elusive junonia.

The STANLEY TALBOTTs of Had-donvield, N.J. have returned to Shalimar Cottages and Mr. & Mrs. GLEN BAKER of Kansas City, Mo. are here again for an extended visit, and being welcomed by old friends and acquaintances, as are Mr. & Mrs. FRANK WILSON, JR. of Wood-bury, N.J., and Mr. & Mrs. ARTHUR CLARK of Needham, Mass.

SHELL HARBOR INN

SNOOK APARTMENTS

Prof. & Mrs. E. Butler of Princeton, N.J. have returned to the islands. Prof. Butler is a Biologist, and has found much to stir his interest on the islands. Mrs. H. Mac Namee of Decatur, Ill. found a lovely junonia on the beach brought up by the high tide. Mr. & Mrs. Sanford Otis, returning from a delightful trip to the Virgin Islands, stopped by enroute to their home in Libertyville, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. John Hassock have been the luckiest of fishermen, supplying the Snook Apts. with fresh fish, and besides, Mrs. Hassock found a golden olive. Mr. & Mrs. Burton Morley of Tuscaloosa, Ala. have returned for a short sojourn. Mrs. Fred Koopman of Little Rock, Ark. found a golden olive also, and Mr. & Mrs. Harold Olds of East Lansing, Mich., are still looking.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE REPORTS

Mr. Bill Newman of the Chamber of Commerce, with the assistance of Mrs. Roberts, Secretary, announced that 600 pieces of mail and inquiries were answered individually last month. Over 64,000 persons signed the guest book as visitors to the islands last year, and the total looks to be even bigger this year. All of the 50 states were represented, and some others were Penang Peninsula, Malaysia, Brussels, Belgium, Auke Bay, Alaska, Czechoslovakia, Austria, Latvia, So. America, Bermuda and E. Germany.

THE COLONY GUESTS

Guests enjoying the Colony are Mr. & Mrs. E. B. Rhodes of Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. & Mrs. W. Donald Rugg of Princeton, N.J.; Mrs. Joseph Strehlen and her son and daughter-in-law from Ft. Lauderdale; Mr. & Mrs. Clark Hall of St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. & Mrs. Charles G. Hohman and family of South Bend, Ind.; Mr. & Mrs. Robert J. Clendenin of Monmouth, Ill. Back again for a return visit are Mr. & Mrs. Whitney Eastman of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. & Mrs. Richard Wilkinson of Springfield, Mo.; Mr. & Mrs. F. W. Van Duyn, Jr. of West Falmouth, Mass.; Mr. & Mrs. Lawrence J. Stroh of Snyder, N.Y.; Mr. & Mrs. Bright Carper of McLean, Va.; Mr. & Mrs. J. W. Stewart of Mansfield, Ohio; Dr. & Mrs. Theodore Bean and daughter from Valparaiso, Ind.; Mr. & Mrs. B. Bowser of Johnstown, Pa.; Mr. & Mrs. Edward Burchette of Des Moines, Iowa; Mr. & Mrs. Winthrop Trowbridge of Oxford, Md.; and Mr. & Mrs. H. H. Morse of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; also Mr. & Mrs. Don Beckler of Culpepper, Va.

Mrs. Leon Berkowitz, who has been coming to The Colony for 11 years, found her first golden olive.

ISLAND INN GUESTS

Guest at the Island Inn from far and near have flocked in for the season. Pennsylvania is well represented by Mr. & Mrs. Edward Owens of Lansdowne, Mr. & Mrs. Robert Spiller and the Howard Dettweillers all from Philadelphia, Friends who traveled together are Mr. & Mrs. Gardiner Hawkins and the Stuart R. Bookers of Beaufort, S.C. Mr. & Mrs. Edward Stern of Chappaqua, N.Y. are enjoying a rest and the Claude H. Bookers of Bloomfield Hills, Mich. are seen on the beaches, along with the John H. Colburns of Wichita, Kansas, the Robert Forneys of Chestertown, Md., Mr. & Mrs. Clifford Hall of Alexandria, Va., the Robert Telfers of Bloomington, Ind. and Mr. & Mrs. Ralph Osborne of Harrison, N.Y. Mrs. Emma Hart of Maine finds the weather brisk, but nothing like at home, as Miss Totty Pepler of Toronto, Canada and Mrs. George Luxton of London, Ontario do too. Mrs. Luxton is the wife of the late Bishop of Luxton. Friends traveling and vacationing together at the Inn from Minneapolis, Minn. are the Mesdames Arthur B. Fruen, Charles O'Connor, and Gaten O'Connor.

SIFTINGS FROM SURF 'N SAND

Mr. & Mrs. John McGee of Dayton, Ohio, have been joined on the last few days of vacation by their daughter, Carole from Albany.

Dorothy and Carl Gaass of Pella, Iowa, have arrived for a month of sun and fun, leaving behind them great piles of snow and lots of cold weather.

Mrs. Dorothy Goth returned to her home in St. Pete with a lovely golden olive to add to her shell collection.

Before Tony and Barbara Smyrski returned to Poughkeepsie they planted a coconut behind their cottage at Surf 'N Sand. They hope to transplant it later to their lot at Sanibel Estates. Betty and George have promised to send them a birth announcement when it germinates.

Mr. & Mrs. Robert Ennis of Evansville, Ind., and three small children arrived Friday evening by private plane for a week on Sanibel.

A cribbage championship has been in progress for several weeks now between Mr. & Mrs. William McNamara, Bea and Irene Spillane, and Val Glass. At the present time Val is the champion by several rubbers.

GALLERY MOTEL GUESTS

Guests at the Gallery from the north, coming down to escape the bitter cold were subjected to a few northerly breezes for a day or so, but greeted the sun's return on Thursday. Some of the hardier found shells brought up by wind and wave. Mr. Everett Comfort of Haverton, Pa., found a junonia over by the Lighthouse. Mr. & Mrs. E. Cavanaugh and family came down from New Jersey and the Joseph Lerch family traveled all the way from Toronto to escape the chill winds. The R. J. Vaccarello family are from St. Paul, Minn., and the Michigan contingent is composed of the W. Wilcox family from Camden, Mr. & Mrs. O. Olson from Lake Odessa, and Mr. & Mrs. Paul Phillips of Dowagiac. Mr. & Mrs. Kenneth W. Perry are from Urbana, Ill. Ohio is well represented by the Lester F. Catt family from Coshocton, Mr. & Mrs. J. Taylor and family from Shaker Heights, and Mr. & Mrs. John W. Ague of Normandy Beach, N.J.

Letter To The Editor

THE ISLAND CHEF

To The Islander, % of Sandy:

Dear old Pete the Pelican has had a big breakfast every morning from 4 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. since the fishing pier was closed. He has ladyfish, jacks, angel fish; all he can eat. Thanks to a very dedicated nature lover and avid fisherman, Bart Stiffler of Culpeper, Virginia, who has been a winter visitor at Sanibel for the past ten years and a good friend of 'ole Pete. Could the rest of him take care of his lunch and supper?

/s/ A friend of Pete's.

To The Islander:

Please publish our sincere thanks to all of our friends on Sanibel and Captiva who contributed money and clothing to help us care for our children and start a new life after our house burned on December 26.

We will always cherish the friends we have made there and the memory of nine delightful months we lived on Captiva.

/s/ Lynne and Bob Dumouchel
Seffner, Florida

MAKING TRACKS with sandy

The members of the congregation of the Sanibel Community Church were thrilled beyond words to hear a guest soloist sing "How Great Thou Art" Sunday before last. But what only a few of them knew was that the beautiful baritone voice belonged to Leonard Stokes of radio and TV fame. Beginning in radio in 1928, Mr. Stokes sang on such programs as Showboat with Lanny Ross, The Fred Allen Show, among others and most recently "Sing Along With Mitch" with Mitch Miller. On stage he was with the Zeigfeld Follies and San Carlo Opera Co. in New York and Washington. Since 1967 he has lived in Vermont, but (happily for us), he vacations in Sanibel and the next time he sings I want to be the first to know about it so I can get a front row seat.

You don't have to enter Noah's Ark two-by-two. You can go in one-by-one, or several can go together for that matter and you are not only doing yourself a favor but you are helping the Episcopal Church. With cute Phoebe Haynie at the helm, this is a nifty-thrifty shop that sells donated articles to help a worthy cause. You can buy everything from pianos to purses -- from draperies to dollies, and each week there's something new in stock that might be just the thing you were looking for. Noah's Ark is behind the church and you won't even get your feet wet in getting to it!

FRIED FLORIDA OYSTERS

Allow one quart of large oysters for 5 servings. Drain the oysters thoroughly and dry lightly between two towels or sheets of paper toweling to remove as much moisture as possible.

Sprinkle with salt and pepper if desired; then dip into beaten egg and roll in fine cracker or bread crumbs.

Place in a frying basket in a single layer and lower into deep fat heated to 360 F. Fry until of the desired brownness; then turn out onto absorbent paper or paper toweling to drain. Serve hot with tartar sauce if desired.

GROUP SHOW AT EXHIBIT BOARD

The first group show of 1971 by artists of the Sanibel-Captiva Art League will be held February 1 and 2, Monday and Tuesday, from 9 to 3:30, at the Exhibit Board near the Captiva Post Office. Each artist is asked to bring no more than two paintings for the display.

SHOWING OF "GREEN BERETS"

On Monday, February 1, there will be a showing at the Sanibel School of the movie, "Green Berets." School pupils may attend the afternoon showing at 2:30. Adults and older children may attend the evening showing at 7:30. Proceeds are to be used toward the fifth and sixth grade trip to Cape Kennedy in the Spring. Pupils will sell popcorn and coffee or coke during intermission. The cooking class makes the popcorn. All Island residents and visitors are welcome.

NOTICE

Internal Revenue Taxpayer Service Representatives are on duty each Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. to assist taxpayers in their Federal Tax matters, Mr. Harry N. Myers, Fort Myers Taxpayer Service Manager of Internal Revenue Service announced.

He suggests that taxpayers who need information call the local office for telephone assistance or if necessary contact the office at Room 307, Federal Building, First and Jackson Streets.

CERAMICS CLASS PROPOSED

The Sanibel-Captiva Art League is looking into the possibility of sponsoring a series of lessons in ceramics. Before proceeding further with plans, it is important to have an indication of how many people are interested in joining a class where the instructor will teach coil building, ceramic sculpture and perhaps wheel throwing.

Persons living or visiting on Sanibel and Captiva who are interested in such a class are asked to call Marn Carnahan, 472-2152, promptly.

SHELL CLUB MEETING

Those who attended the Sanibel-Captiva Shell Club meeting on Jan. 20 were well rewarded for making the chilly trip to the Captiva Community Center. The feature of the evening, a shell lecture entitled "Okinawa - Mecca for Mollusks" was a fascinating series of beautiful color pictures of this island and its abundance of lovely shells, some quite rare. The script was most informative, and interspersed with a nice bit of humor.

Jean Cate had prepared a truly remarkable short lecture, illustrated in color on the lightning whelk (Busycon contrarium), showing the shell, its habitat, and its feeding and mating habits.

The next meeting will be on Feb. 17 at the Sanibel Community House, at which time the program will consist of a short illustrated discussion by Jean Cate on the angel wing (Cyrtoleura costata), a brief presentation, "Beyond Beauty" by Mario Hutton, and a talk by Peter Dance, curator of mollusks at the National Museum at Cardiff, Wales, on shell books and their makers.

AUDUBON PROGRAM TONIGHT

The Sanibel-Captiva Audubon will present a program that is undoubtedly different and certainly interesting tonight Thursday, Jan. 28 at 8 p.m. at the Sanibel Community House. Featured speaker will be Hervey Roberts, who will present a program titled "Edible Island Native Plants."

Mr. Roberts, an eminent botanist, during the years when he resided on Captiva, diligently photographed a number of plants on that island and Sanibel, all offering intriguing and little known possibilities for their use as a welcome addition to family meals. Slides of such plants and valuable practical tips on how to cook or otherwise prepare them will be offered by Mr. Roberts. As usual the show is open to the public, and all are welcome.

MRS. MARGARET L. DUGDALE EXHIBITS AT THE CAPTIVA MEMORIAL LIBRARY

Beginning Tuesday, Feb. 2, there will be an exhibit at the Captiva Memorial Library of special interest to our island visitors. This is a collection of watercolor studies by Mrs. Margaret L. Dugdale of wild and ornamental flowers, plants, and leaf sprays growing on Captiva and Sanibel.

A number of these paintings have never been shown here before.

Mrs. Dugdale, of Captiva Island and Seaford, Delaware, is a graduate of the Philadelphia College of Art and has exhibited in the Museum of Art in Baltimore, the National Museums in Philadelphia, Washington and Des Moines, and in a number of smaller galleries in Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania as well as in shows in Florida. She is a member of the Sanibel-Captiva Art League.

Mrs. Dugdale has been painting the plant life of the islands for 33 years and she tells us that it was at the suggestion of her great friend, "Ding" Darling that she became interested in the study and painting of our islands' growing things.

As the subjects of Mrs. Dugdale's watercolors are taken from nature, she excels in the soft colors of nature's own materials and in the developing of design by use of these materials.

The flower studies are only one part of Mrs. Dugdale's work as she also has done exquisite paintings of native shells and marine life and butterflies including her recently finished "Life Cycle of the Monarch Butterfly." A few of the butterfly paintings will appear in this current exhibit.

This exhibit can be viewed from Tuesday, Feb. 2 through Friday, Feb. 26 during Library hours from 9 to 12:30 on Tuesday and Friday mornings at the Captiva Memorial Library which is adjacent to the Captiva Community Center and at the end of Gore Drive, about a block from the Captiva Post Office.

The Exhibit Wall at the Library is available to Island artists who wish to show their works. For information please contact Mrs. Parker Mills at her house on Captiva which is on Gore Drive, diagonally across from the Library building.

WINNING WAYS

What with out-of-town and local "photo-verse" shows, attendance at the Florida Audubon Annual Convention in Naples, numerous other meetings and for personal reasons, Mario Hutton recently has had to cut down on the number of his deep-sea fishing trips. However, he recently managed to win one more jackpot on the Blue Heron, and on his latest outing, when his favorite boat did not sail, he switched to the Captain Anderson IV. What happened? He managed to cop the jackpot again, chalking up his 86th win during the past six years!

COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION INVITES PUBLIC TO MEETING FEBRUARY 2

The regular monthly covered dish supper meeting of the Association will be held on Tuesday, February 2. After the supper, Doctor Robert Cushman and Doctor Fred F. Burford will discuss the "Role of Cholesterol and Salt in Heart Disease."

Doctors Cushman and Burford held a similar discussion last year in the Auditorium in Fort Myers which was very favorable received.

In view of the interest in the subject the Board of Directors of the Association deemed the matter of such interest that it was decided to invite the general public as guests of the Association.

The discussion will start at 8 p.m.

SANIBEL PIER MAY GET COUNTY HELP

The Sanibel Pier, though federal property, may get help in repair and rebuilding from Lee County. Commissioner Walter Shirey asked the commission to consider reconstructing the pier, as a County engineering project, or to consider constructing a fishing catwalk on the middle bridge of the causeway. A Sanibel resident wishing to remain anonymous has volunteered to pay for reconstruction of the pier.

The commission discussed these choices with federal representatives here to evaluate Sanibel and Boca Grande structures. Mr. Shirey is to take the plan under study and advisement in a later meeting with federal authorities to determine if the County can step in and expedite the repairs to the pier.

The toll causeway has had the center lines and edge of highway marking stripes restored as of this date, due to Commissioner Shirey's efforts.

WINTER SPORTS ON SANIBEL

TAXPAYERS ASK IRS

Q) When can I expect to get my W-2?
A) Employers are required to issue W-2 statements to their employees by January 31. However, the final date is February 1 this year since Jan. 31 falls on a weekend. Many, however, issue them sooner for the convenience of those employees who are expecting a refund and want to file early.

Q) If I let IRS compute my tax and I have a refund coming, how long will it take to get it?

A) IRS can compute the tax and issue a refund within 4-5 weeks from the date the return is filed with the service center. Actually, it won't delay a refund by having IRS compute the tax since the computations are checked on all returns received.

Q) I have a partial scholarship that covers some of my college costs. Do I have to report this as income?

A) Most scholarships are not taxable and do not have to be reported. Since there are many different types of scholarships, check with the organization that gave it to you for information on its tax status. Details can be found in Publication 507, Tax Information on Scholarships and Fellowships, available free by sending a post card to your local IRS office.

ANYBODY FOR SCREENS

Ruth Hunter says she has four double stand-up screens, six by four feet, which she will sell at $25.00 each to go to poor and sick Lepers, especially to Sister M. Letizia, St. Mary's Leprosy Centre, Bhimavaram, W. G. District, India.

These screens are framed burlap, and except for their size, are very light to transport. They can be used as room dividers or for display purposes.

PARCEL SOLD

A Gulffront parcel on Sanibel Island was featured in a $175,500 purchase by Estero Enterprises Inc. which is exploring the possibility of using the property, plus some adjoining property recently purchased, as the site for a complex of apartments.

The Sanibel parcel was bought by Estero Enterprises from John M. and Clare Hallward. The parcel already is zoned for use for multiple family purposes. It is situated between Gulf Drive and the gulf.

PLAYHOUSE PERFORMERS

Robert Westerby and Marian Selby in "Busybody" are Duane and Charlotte White in real life, and audiences are delighted with their performances in this hilarious play, "Busybody" imported from England for the Islands' entertainment.

Charlotte (Mrs. White) is the former Charlotte Kinzie whose father, Captain Andrew Kinzie, owned the Kinzie Bros. Steamship Company and originated the Sanibel ferries of which all Islanders have many fond memories. She made her debut as an actress at the Pirate Playhouse in "The Great Sebastians" last season.

Duane White, of course, is remembered as the lovable villain who sang so beautifully in "Aaron Slick From Pumpkin Crick," an all time favorite at the Playhouse. He earned his college education by singing quartet work in four religious operettas. The Whites lively interest in the cultural arts makes them a valuable asset to Pirate Playhouse.

"Busybody" plays again on Jan. 31 with Roy Bazire, Don and Grace Whitehead, Judy Burner and Ruth and Phillip Hunter in the cast. Curtain 8:15, Box Office, 472-1692.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY" by Russell Kay

With the coming of each new year the seers break out with all sorts of predictions. While I find them interesting I have never taken them very seriously.

While many predictions of a general nature appear to come true when the prophet becomes specific and names localities, persons and dates that events are to occur, his batting average isn't too high.

Last year I clipped a number of items from newspapers and magazines dealing with such prophecies and I dug them from my files to see how good or bad they proved to be.

They covered everything from the end of the world to an invasion from outer space. While there were many tremors and light earthquakes in California, none were really serious and at years end our coast line on the Pacific was just about the same as it was on January 1, 1970. There were serious disasters in California such as forest fires and mud-slides but somehow the seers were so intent on their earthquake predictions they overlooked these events for the most part. One seer did predict forest fires but didn't say just where they would occur.

Some of these seers turned to their crystal balls, others went into a trance or consulted their astrological charts.

R. C. "Doc" Anderson of Rossville, Ga. is known in psychic circles as "the man who sees tomorrow." He predicted our involvement in Cambodia and the continuance of the war in Vietnam in the summer of 1969. He also foresaw the United States becoming involved in war in another Asian country, which so far at least has not occurred.

He also predicted a turbulent stock market and loss of confidence in the franchise market, along with the rise in interest rates. These can be credited as "hits." He foresaw the strike in the automobile industry and unrest in iron curtain Russian satellites. He foresaw the death of Nasser, continued unrest on our college campuses and predicted a change of leadership in Russia which gave him two out of three correct.

Mrs. Bertie Catchings of Austin, Texas, is a psychic of considerable reputation. On Dec. 22, 1969 she made 50 predictions which were published in the Austin Sunday Statesman. Among her predictions, a large percentage of which came true, were the stock market decline, prison riots, power failures and the hijacking of a plane to Arabia. She missed, however, on her prediction that there would be another moon landing in 1970.

I do not claim to be either a psychic or blessed with second-sight, but for 1971, I predict that living costs will rise, there will be more strikes and demands for higher pay. Cities will still scream for more money. The crime rate will continue to rise. There will be earthquakes, hurricanes, tidal waves, muggings, murders and hijacking. Forest fires and storms will occur, both in the U. S. and the rest of the world. Volcanoes will erupt. Pollution will continue, litterbugs will still litter and rivers will overflow their banks. Owls will hoot, dogs will bark and cats will yowl. Peace will be proclaimed where there is no peace and wars, here, there and yonder will continue.

WILDLIFE GROUPS SAY BARGE CANAL NOT DEAD ISSUE

At a summit conference of the Conservation Foundation, Wildlife Federation and National Audubon Society at the Sanibel Community Center Friday night, the groups learned that the Cross Florida Barge Canal is still not stopped completely. Twenty-five groups were represented.

Johnny Jones, state representative for the Wildlife Federation said President Nixon "is being bombarded by developers" to revive the building of the canal.

Elvis J. Stahr, president of the National Audubon Society said the President is under almost unbelievable pressure to modify and continue the building of the canal to the detriment of all environment and ecological values to the Oklawaha River, Withlacoochee, and Florida Aquifer.

Joel Kuperberg, master of ceremonies for the session and executive director for the Collier County Conservancy, said it is a shame to lose the $53 million spent on the project so far, but it would be disastrous to spend another $150 million in mostly federal funds to complete the canal.

President Nixon was advised by environmental counselors to quit the canal work. William Partington spearheaded this stoppage. Partington will now head the environmental Service Center in Orlando with private funds funneled through the Conservation Foundation and the Florida Conservation Foundation. He was executive director of the Florida Audubon in July 1969, when he took leave of absence to head the Florida Defenders of the environment in halting the barge canal.

Sidney Howe, president of the Conservation Foundation told the session that funds have been guaranteed for three years, but the source will announce this later.

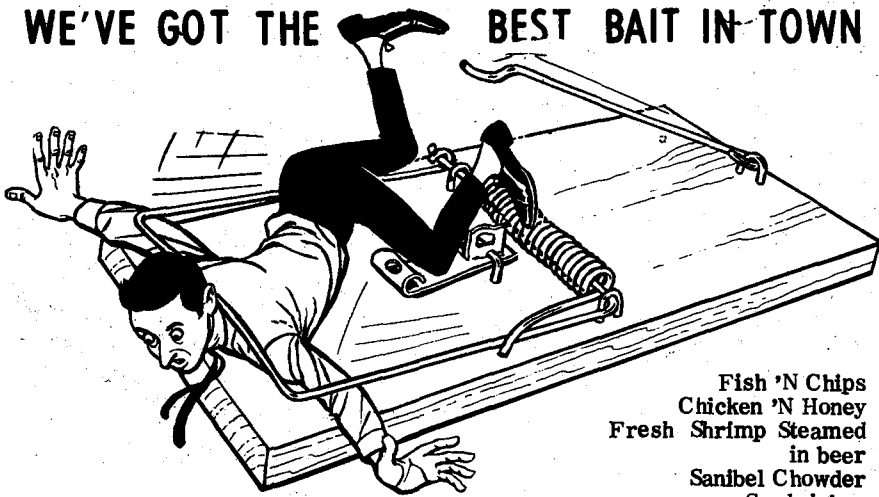

Stahr, Howe, Jones and Steve Kelly of the Nature Conservancy addressed representatives of 25 regional conservation groups, delegates to a Saturday workshop on forming a regional council in conservation. Howe outlined the need for a coordinated approach so that the regional council can communicate with the national federations.

Stahr said if ecologists had been consulted before the canal was started they would have said, "Unless you can prove it is not going to do any damage, you'd better not do it." The approach to date has been like an astronaut saying, "Man is more important than machinery," and the astronaut casting out of the space ship assorted instruments which keep the astronaut from stretching his arms.

QUANTUM PHYCISISTS LEAVE

Grave concern for the ecological outlook for the world and particularly the United States, was expressed by members of the 11th annual symposium on molecular, solid-state theory and quantum biology, ending their stay at Sanibel and Captiva. The symposium, honoring Dr. John H. Van Vleck of Harvard University and Dr. Robert S. Mulliken of Florida State University, holder of the 1966 Nobel prize in chemistry, studied research papers submitted by fellow members, top scientific minds in the free world.

The symposium was composed of scientists from Europe, Scandinavia, South America, Canada, Mexico, Israel, Japan and from universities from all over the United States. Several federal and industrial scientists were also present. The meeting of minds was partly funded by International Business Machines.

Dr. Van Vleck, professor emeritus of physics at Harvard, and pioneer in the field of solid-state physics, is also the author of many well known books and holder of many scientific awards.

Dr. Per-Olov Lowdin, director of the symposium, which culminated a six weeks institute in collaboration with Uppsala University in Sweden, said, "It is not science it is causing contamination, but the misuse of science that causes problems. Every one of us here is concerned with these environmental problems."

Dr. Lowdin is a graduate professor of chemistry, professor of quantum theory at Uppsala and head also of the quantum theory project at the University of Florida.

Quantum theory is the theory that in the giving off or taking on of energy by atoms or molecules, the process takes place step by step, and each step either takes on or gives off a unit of energy known as a quantum. Great value is attached to the Sanibel symposium by the scientists because it provides an almost unequalled opportunity for the exchange of ideas. This exchange can expedite the practical appliaction of the discoveries made in the course of pure scientific research.

"No one can tell just what may come of a meeting such as this. It is unpredictable," said Lowdin. He recalled that at Einstein's first presentation of his theory of relativity, even the best scientific minds of the time could not envision any practical application. And yet, from Einstein's research came the splitting of the atom, producing atomic power.

When the secret of structure of matter and its mutations are unlocked, there is the possibility of cancer and other dread diseases being eliminated.

More than 200 scientists attended the symposium, and various events of entertainment were planned for the accompanying wives and children of the scientists. Sanibel and Captiva hope to host the meeting again next year, as they did in 1970.

NEW CONSERVATION AREA GROUP FORMED

A new organization was formed at Sanibel over the weekend to combine the strength of conservation-oriented groups from Tampa to the Ten Thousand Islands.

The group calls itself the "Environmental Confederation of Southwest Florida," with letters "ECOSWF" converted to "EcoSwift."

Some 49 delegates worked all day Saturday on the organization.

Joel Kuperberg, executive director of Collier County Conservancy, told a combined meeting of the area groups and the directors of the National Audubon Society that the movement started as a concept last July. He and Roy Bazire, executive director of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, spearheaded it.

There is to be one delegate and one alternate from each group on the EcoSwift council. The council is to have quarterly meetings, at least one of them a full-fledged workshop.

The session determined that there will have to be a paid full-time director with a part-time paid secretary.

"We determined that it was not possible to operate as a regional organization on a volunteer basis," said Kuperberg.

The structure will be formal and open to youth groups.

Questions of boundaries and funding were left to an "Implementation committee."

On the implementation committee are Pat Gill of Tampa, Gordon Bartle of Bradenton, Edna Truchot of Sarasota, Nan Bergh of Englewood, Ann Winterbotham of Sanibel (with Bazire as alternate), Wiley Parker of Fort Myers (with Mike Lenhartz and Kem Blacker as alternates), Hedwig Michel of Estero and Kuperberg of Naples.

SEA OATS

By Eleanor Douglas Clapp

28

They were nodding toward me -- some were blond, and some were brown.
It was the soft wind that kept them swaying and bending down.
The song they sang was a song of beauty -- I hear it still.
They were full of noble grace, beckoning my arms to fill.
I could not bear to pull, or break, even one lovely stalk
While passing by their regal stance, one morning on my walk.
These were the tall and slender sea oats, born of tropic clime,
That compelled me to pause, look and admire, time after time.

THE NEW CHRISTY MINSTRELS

EDISON PAGEANT "GLIMMERS" SET

The Edison Pageant of Light "Glimmers of 1971" will be presented again this year at the Fort Myers Exhibition Hall on Thursday, Feb. 4, and Friday, Feb. 5 at 4:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Each day's show will be completely different, and anyone attending on both days will see two entirely different shows.

On Thursday, Feb. 4, "Anita Bryant," vivacious talented star of movies, television, and the stage, will open the 1971 Edison Pageant of Light in a two-hour glittering stage review.

On the same program with Miss Bryant in Fort Myers will be Chuck Bird, her musical director, George Wuese and his great theater orchestra, plus the balancing, juggling suspense-filled performance of a group called the "Marvelous Michels," and the zany British comedy of Rex Ramer and Eileen.

On the following day, Friday, Feb. 5 there will be some real foot-stomping in the second "Glimmers" presentation when the Columbia and RCA recording artists, "The New Christy Minstrels" take over the "Glimmers" stage. These brilliant, young all-American entertainers (5 fellas and 3 gals) now on a coast to coast tour of the United States are creating standing ovations for themselves with their key word, "Entertainment."

Along with the New Christy Minstrels in the second "Glimmers" show from Mexico City will come the Navarro family in a novelty act and the musical madness of the "Grimaldis."

Helen Dobbs, "Glimmers" organist will perform along with Joe Mazzola who will serve as Master of Ceremonies.

Tickets for both shows are now on sale at the Fort Myers Tourist Center. Tickets are $3.00, $2.00, and $1.25. Reserved seats are available for all performances.
