STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL

The Sanibel Stawberry Festival will be attracting many visitors this year, as in past years. It will be tomorrow at St. Michael's and All Angels Episcopal Church on Periwinkle Way. Sanibel shops who will be participating in the style show are: Dotti, The Open Gate, Seahorse, Bailey's Store, Nancy Lou's, Friday's House of Treasures, and the Red Pelican. These shops are so unique, you might wish to visit them later to see their offerings. Models include Miriam Chapman, Peggy Hartman, Adelaide Bailey, and Helen Friday, who will display costume jewelry.

The Festival, which features all kinds of fresh strawberry delights such as strawberry shortcake, the luscious ice cream and fresh berries with cream; for those ladies watching their calories, omit the cream. There are some lovely door prizes donated by the many shops on the islands, and the $3.00 donation is tax exempt, as this is the major money-making project for the Church for this year's many charitable causes.

Mrs. George C. Tenney is ticket chairman, but most of the shops are selling the tickets too.

Several groups from Fort Myers Beach plan to attend, by coming in one car or more together, which has become a reciprocal thing, as some from Sanibel attended the last showing on Sunday night of "Third Best Sport," theatre in the round, featuring the Duane Whites.

LIBRARY DRIVE

Facing a rapidly expanding use of its facilities, the Sanibel Public Library is making a drive for funds to make possible the larger quarters and more generous parking space that are going to have to be provided in the very near future. A letter explaining the need and the classes of memberships that are being solicited went out a few weeks ago. Mr. C. P. Siegenthaler, Library treasurer, reports that the memberships, and checks, are coming in at a gratifying rate, but that meeting the need will require all the help that can be had from those who have not yet mailed in their checks.

The Library is manned entirely by unpaid volunteers. Enough of these trained and dedicated workers are available so that the Library is now open on five days a week (Tuesday and Wednesday, 10 to 12; Thursday, 2 to 4; Friday and Saturday, 10 to 12.) As a member of the Lee County Library system, the Library receives an allocation of support from the county, but it is earmarked for specific purposes and by no means covers the need for money.

That is why the Library, in anticipation of the time when expansion is imperative, has created a new set of membership classes, all fees from which are deposited in its Building and Improvement Savings Account and will be used only towards that purpose. The classes for the calendar year 1971 are: Friend of the Library, $5; Patron, $25;

The classes for the calendar year 1971 are: Friend of the Library, $5; Patron, $25; Sustaining Member, $100. A Life Membership is available at $1,000, which may be paid in a lump sum or be spread out in four annual installments of $250 each. All membership fees are deductible on the Federal Income Tax return.

The Sanibel Public Library's mail address is P. O. Box 8, Sanibel, Fla., 33957.

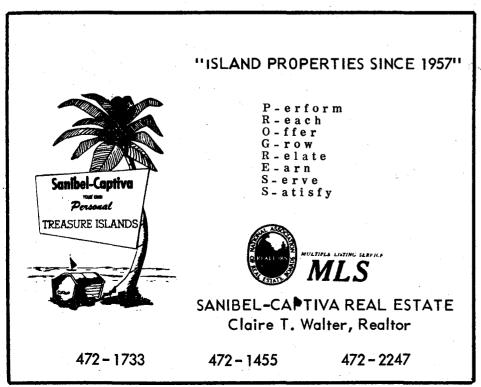

AUDUBON BENEFIT

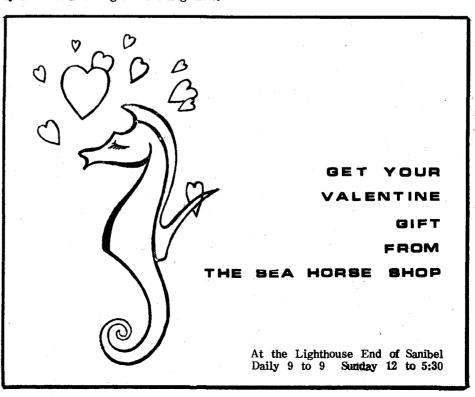

Odds are that as this appears in print very few, if any admissions will be still available for the Gala Benefit that the Audubon Society is sponsoring on Friday, February 19 at the Casa Ybel Auditorium. The demand has been so active that most of the ladies serving on the Sanibel and Captiva Committees already have not only filled, but surpassed by far their assigned quota. This wonderful response assures that the event will be a sellout, exceeding all hopes for a substantial addition to the Conservation Foundation funds earmarked for the establishment of a Sanibel Fresh Water Sanctuary.

It can now be announced that further sizeable contributions should accrue as a result of the generous donations by noted local artists of valuable works, the sale of which will also increase the total amount going to the Foundation. So that those interested in seeing and bidding on these artistic creations may examine them in advance, they will be exhibited from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Monday, the 15th and Tuesday, the 16th at the Art League Stand near the Post Office on Captiva. Again from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., all works donated will be exhibited on Sanibel on Wednesday, the 17th and Thursday, the 18th on the occasion of the opening of the new Periwinkle Way Art Gallery operated by Mr. & Mrs. Edward Legel, who have most graciously offered their showroom for this purpose. Then, on the evening of the benefit, all the works of art will be awarded to the person who will have offered in writing the highest bid for each.

As of this date, we can give the following list of donors, stressing that it is only partial, as it is expected that additional offerings will be received from other distinguished artists before February 19: Hugo Asbach, Jane Bancroft, Marion Cannon, Marn Carnahan, Marion Chapman, Margaret Dugdale, Ann Dugan, Marion Faris, Mada Harrison, Leon Levy, Oneita McCulloch, Dorothy Robinson, John Sallemi, Wilb Snyder, Helene Sparks and Ann Winterbotham.

In the next issue, that will precede by one day the Gala Benefit, readers will find a full description of the new 'photo-verse' program to be presented by Mario Hutton under the title 'Islands Inimitable' a program that promises to be long remembered by all those attending this exciting show.

WHO'S WHO

AND WHY

GRADY EDMONSON of Tarpon Bay Marina is home from the hospital and doing nicely, thank you, after recent surgery, and he is back on the job. He reports that spotted sea trout up to four pounds, and small redfish are biting in Tarpon Bay on live shrimp below popping corks.

IRENE and ANTHONY ADAMS of Kearny, New Jersey are spending two months in their new home in Sanibel. Mrs. Adam's mother, Mrs. MARY KUL-KOSKY and sister, Mrs. ELEANOR DALE, both of Kearney, are spending several weeks with them.

Latest champions in the cribbage contest at Sand 'N Surf are Mae and Bill McNamara, Just arriving for their first visit here are Mr. & Mrs. SELVEN ANDERSON and children from Glastonbury, Conn.; also from there are VERNON and MARION MENDALLS and daughter, CAROL. Marian is the sister of GEORGE ZAJICEK, so they're really having a family reunion as the senior Zajiceks are already here. Newcomers are the LOUIS FILIONS of Newmarket, N.H., here for the month.

Back in town is Mrs. PHYLLIS ALLEN and her daughter Mrs. ELMA ANNOTTE, and for the first time, Mrs. Allen's granddaughter, Miss PHYLLIS ANNOTTE. Friends would like to welcome them all from Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. JOSEPH McMURTRY of 408 Anchor Drive, Sanibel, found a beautiful Junonia on Monday, the 8th, shelling in front of the Surfrider Motel.

SNOOK APTS.

Mrs. John Hassock of Danbury, Conn., has joined the ranks of happy shellers by finding a golden olive, and the Edwin Olsons of Amityville, N.Y., have been enjoying renewing friendship and exchanging news with the Irelands, owners of the Snook Apts. Mrs. Dorothy Lucek and her mother from Cambria Hgts., N.J., have been enjoying walking on the beach as have Dr. & Mrs. Pierce Jensen of Oskaloosa, La., and the William Amidons of Sparta, Mich.

BEACHVIEW COTTAGES

Mrs. Henry Cook of St. Louis, Mo., is being welcomed back to the islands by her many friends. Several guests at Beachview have had birthdays and been extended happy returns of the day. They are: Mrs. Martha Davidson of Cheverley, Md., Mrs. Beatrice Kneen of Washington, Conn., and Prof. Jim Wilson of Ohio. All are over 21 and may even be a perennial 29. Mr. & Mrs. John Burnett have returned from Hamilton, Ohio, happily escaping some very cold weather. Mrs. Davidson's brother and wife Mr. & Mrs. William Rundquist of Elmira, Minn., are being shown around the islands as new visitors.

SEGUNDA APARTMENTS

Guests at Segunda found shelling a real thrill. Miss Marylyn Youngblood, granddaughter of Mr. & Mrs. Eugene Horan, visiting her grandparents here, found a lion's paw and a four inch cowrie. Other guests are the Walter Greens of Janesville, Wisc., Mr. & Mrs. Ernest Tillson of Bedford, Mass., the Francis Bollingers of Marietta, Ohio, and Mr. & Mrs. William Ellis of Atlanta, Ga. Mr. & Mrs. Frank Post of Coral Springs have returned and in their shelling expeditions found a golden olive, lovely brilliantly colored sea fans and a lion's paw, too.

SHELL HARBOR INN

Mr. & Mrs. Ray Hamm have returned again for another visit to their favorite island and Shell Harbor. Old friends, Mr. Arthur Hale and Ray Herding of Minneapolis, Minn., have picked up where they left off in telling new and old tales. Mr. Hale is from Summit, N.J., Dr. P. L. Retlew from Reading, Pa., and he has been enjoying an interlude of escape from unusually cold weather. Other old friends enjoying a reunion are Mrs. A. D. Crenshaw of Clinton, Tenn., and Mrs. A. Hamilton. Dr. F. Foster and children are enjoying the beach. Others here from northern climes are Mr. & Mrs. J. R. Hartnett of Newtown, Pa., Mr. & Mrs. C. J. Mason from Toronto, Ont., Mr. & Mrs. Robert Klock of Williamson, N.Y., Mr. & Mrs. T. S. Sullivan of Clemsford, Mass., and the Alvin Cozzinis of Neglow, Wisc.

MITCHELL'S CASTAWAYS

Return guests for the season of many years at the Derwin Gossards and grandson Steve of Ridgeway, Ohio. Each year the Gossards bring one of their lucky grandchildren with them for a mid-winter vacation and this year, Steve was the lucky one. Mr. & Mrs. Robert Gilbert of Conneaut, Ohio, reported the weather a cold -7 degrees when they left home, Mr. & Mrs. Morris Marx of Golden's Bridge, N.Y., reported a minus reading too. The Saul Levins of New York City are enjoying the sun and warmth, and even the Robert Weavers of Tryon report that the weather has been very cold in North Carolina, but the cold days are interspersed with some nice days too.

THE WHITE CAPS NEWS

Guests at the Whitecaps, who are enjoying the sun, fishing, and shelling, and just plain resting and relaxing are Charlie and Loulie Barham, Carl and Margaret Spiedel and Elsie Lindsay, all of Charlottesville, Va.; Sam, Chuck and Betty DeWalt of Millersburg, Ohio; Deale and Tony Denson of Lake Zurich, Ill.; and Peggy and Susie Williams of Cleveland, Ohio.

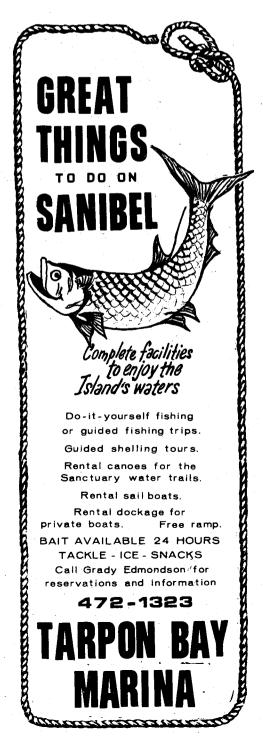

Éric and Gracie Ball of Woods Hole, Mass., and Fred and Annetta Boese of Stirling, Ill., are enjoying the warm weather. Tom and Mary Bowers, Whitecaps managers and guests, Joe and Jessie Woods enjoyed immensely the Community Club meeting and supper last Tuesday evening. The food was plentiful and delicious and the talks by Drs. Cushman and Herber brought favorable comments from all.

ISLAND INN GUESTS

Guests at the Island Inn include many lucky shellers nd happy fishermen, and they come from varied colder climes: Mr. & Mrs. A. W. Clapp of St. Paul, Minn., who are staying at the Jolly Roger but enjoying dining at the Inn, Mr. & Mrs. James K. Crimmins of New York City, Mrs. William Ward of St. Paul, Minn., Mrs. Robert Fulton, New York City, Mrs. Laurence Hirsch, Greenwich, Conn., Mr. Stewart Porter, Media, Pa., the Bernard Jones of Excelsior, Minn., Mr. & Mrs. Leslie Scraf and sons from Tampa, the Stanley Browns of Leesburg, Va., Mr. & Mrs. Scott Glore, Jr. and Mr. & Mrs. Scott Glore III of Danville, Ky., Mrs. Ray Poppleton, Columbus, Ohio, Judge & Mrs. Maurice Cabill of Pittsburgh, Pa., Rev. & Mrs. David Luxton of London, Ont., the Paul Franklins of Gaffney, S.C., Mr. and Mrs. Herbert George of Chatham, Mass., the P. A. Slades of New Milford, Conn., Mr. & Mrs. Elliott A. Hussey, Mount Holly, N.J., Mr. & Mrs. William Lerch, Park Ridge, Il., Justice & Mrs. Orin E. Judd of New York City, the EdwardF. Beattys of Weschester, Pa., Mr. & Mrs. Brenton Dickson of Western, Mass., and the Edward Mendenhalls and Mrs. James Plymire, old and dear friends from Chestertown, Mass.

MAKING TRACKS with Sandy

This is what I hear from a lot of visitors who come to Sanibel and Captiva: "Oh boy! This is the place! I'm going to go home, sell the house and move here. Then I'm going to become a beachcomber or lie in the sun all day and forget about mowing lawns, worrying about crab grass and shoveling snow. I'm going to buy me a boat and get back to nature. No more buying fish -- I'll catch it and save money on food." So our hero goes back north, or east, or west, sells the dear old homestead, says goodbye to friends he's known for years and settles down in his new house on the beach. Act II, a year later. He answers the phone, "Fishing? Oh, uh, sorry I can't go. Think I'll sell the boat. Gotta go to a committee meeting on 'How to keep bugs out of palm trees.' They elected me chairman -- ha, ha. Then I have to water the shrubs and scrub the mildew off the screens. And next week we're gonna have a house full of company and we'll have to get ready for them. Tell the guys back home this is a great place to live, but (sigh) you don't have time for a vacation."

The Community covered dish suppers remind me of the days when we used to go to potluck suppers at the church back home. And they're just as much fun now as they were then. This is a tradition that I hope never dies out in a world too busy for old fashioned fellowship. For one thing, I love to eat, and I can't wait to taste Mrs. Brown's light-as-a-feather angel cake, or Mrs. Hunter's delicious avocado salad, or Mrs. Marshall's baked beans, Mrs. Friday's creamy scalloped potatoes, Mrs. White's meat loaf with mushroom sauce, Mrs. Culpepper's lasagne and Mrs. Jones' secret recipe for bread pudding. All of this, plus friendly people, a good meeting and program and I go home happy in the thought that the stranger across the table laughed at my jokes! What more could anyone want?

Hello Folks:

In 1935 I was elected a Justice of the Peace in New York. At that time the Justices of the Peace had jurisdiction of most misdemeanors, the traffic cases and some civil jurisdiction. They sat as a Court of Special Sessions in hearing criminal charges and conducting the traffic court. They were also Committing Magistrates in the case of felonies and indictable misdemeanors.

I held my first court in February of 1936. My first case involved an automobile theft. A young married fellow had stolen an automobile belonging to the Police Commissioner. At the hearing the following facts were brought out.

The theft took place on a cold, snowy evening. All the highways were snow covered and heaps of snow were piled up on the sidewalks in front of the stores and business places.

The Commissioner was returning home from work and stopped in for a paper at one of the local stationery stores. He was just about able to get his car parked at the snow piled curb. He left his keys in the ignition and got out of the car on the road-side and decided to have some coffee while getting the paper.

In the meanwhile the officer on duty in the vicinity was relieved and his replacement took over. As the relieving officer paced the sidewalk in front of the stores he noticed a young fellow having great difficulty getting his car out from the curb.

He went over and gave him a hand, helped him clear the snow out from under the wheels, held up what little traffic there was and got a couple of fellows to push the car while the driver got out from the curb. The car finally made the road and quickly disappeared.

When the Commissioner came out of the store with his paper his car had disappeared. He summoned the patrolman on duty and explained that his car had disappeared and that he wanted to be taken to headquarters in the squad car.

"John," he said, "I left the car right there and I haven't been gone long,"

"Was it a blue sedan?" John asked. "Yes," was the reply. The red-faced John then had to admit that he had helped the thief get away with the boss's car.

Well, an alarm was sent out and about four hours later the car and the thief were picked up in the Bronx and returned to the local police.

It turned out that the thief was the father of several children and had a clean record. He had taken the Commissioner's car because his own had broken down. He intended to get home in it and then abandon it. Under the circumstance I had no choice but to hold him for the action of the Grand Jury. At least one of the New York City papers covered the story. I think the headline was "Police Officer helps thief steal Commissioner's car." The Grand Jury refused to indict. I think the humor of the situation had a lot to do with it. They also felt that the time the defendant spent in jail awaiting a hearing was punishment enough under the circumstances and that he had learned a lesson that would last him the rest of his life. They had an "out" and I am glad they took it. It was with great reluctance that I held him in the first place.

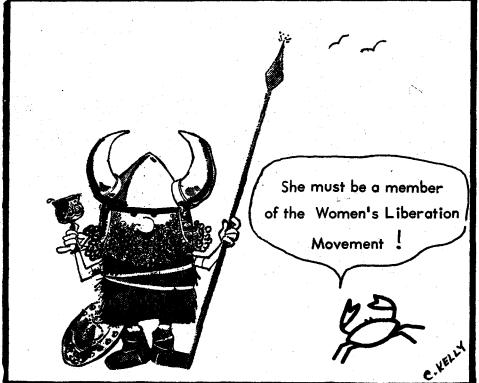

The greatest problem often facing a judge in a criminal proceeding is when to temper justice with mercy. The tendency is either to go too far or not far enough depending on the temperment of the Court. A good judge invariably and instinctively does the fair thing. Thank God for the good ones.

With love, Matt Tanza.

FISH SAN CARLOS

4 cups water 1 cup yellow corn meal

1 tsp. salt

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese

1/4 tsp. pepper
2 - 10 oz. pkgs. frozen chopped spinach
1 tsp. oregano

1/2 tsp. salt

1 Tbsp. lime or lemon juice 1-1/2 lbs. Whiting fillets or Kingfish steaks

Flour

2 Tbsp. snipped parsley

1/2 cup Chablis or other dry white wine 1/2 cup canned tomato puree

Bring 3 cups of the water to boiling. Combine remaining cup of cold water, corn meal, and 1 teaspoon salt; stir into the boiling water. Cook and stir till thick. Cover and cook over low heat 10 minutes longer. Remove from heat and stir in butter, parmesan, and pepper, stirring till butter melts. Cook spinach according to package directions. Add oregano, the 1/2 teaspoon salt, and lime or lemon juice. Dredge fish in flour and saute in 2 tablespoons butter till golden brown. Spread cooked corn meal mixture in shallow baking dish; top with cooked spinach. Arrange fish on spinach and sprinkle with parsley. Stir wine and tomato puree into pan drippings and spoon over fish. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

THE ISLAND GARDENER

Tomato plants that have not been frozen by the severe colds of the past will be subject to early spring leaf miner, according to the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association (FNGA), In order to control leaf miner, you should spray your plants weekly with an application of diazinon. Fungicidal materials are compatible with diazinon as well as are the materials that control worms. One of the best materials for worms is sevin. When you apply any insecticide or fungicide to an edible crop, always read the directions carefully and observe the time you must wait after spraying before eating the crop.

New tomato plants can be set this month. They may need protection from late spring frosts. Plants set out and well cared for will produce an early crop of tomatoes before the hot summer months.

February is the month to prune back your roses. Excessive small stems, wild canes, and diseased canes should be removed at this time of year. If you are an enthusiastic rose grower, you will know that the rose is just before active growth for the spring. After pruning, according to the FNGA, you can expect flowers to be formed in 5 to 7 weeks. Don't forget to feed your rose bushes after you have pruned them.

Many palms show a severe manganese deficiency at this time of year. Symptoms appear in the bud area or in the new fronds as "frizzle top." These fronds remain small, distorted, or poor color, and often will die. The tree will have a flat-top appearance. An application of manganese sulfate is effective in correcting this problem. The amount applied will depend on the tree, but generally a half pound for a small tree and six pounds for a large tree is adequate.

Gardenia buds will be forming this month, and the FNGA suggests that you keep your plants well watered. A light application of fertilizer can be applied, but too much fertilizer applied when a plant is in bloom will cause excessive with new growth appearing on most plants, there will be an increase in insects, especially aphids -- and this means more spraying! Malathion is a good control of aphids on most plants. If you notice new leaves curling, you'd better get out the old spray can and spray for aphids. One of the most useful sprayers for homeowners is the compressed air tank sprayer. These come with capacities of one to five gallons for homeory mozzle and long wand, this sprayer should give you excellent spray coverage.

SHELL CLUB MEETING

The Sanibel-Captiva Shell Club will hold its third meeting of the season at the Sanibel Community House on Feb. 17 at 8 p.m.

The open the program, Mario Hutton will offer the premiere of his first "photo-verse" composition on shells. It is entitled "Beyond Beauty," and carries a strong and moving plea against the indiscriminate collection of live shells. It is illustrated with a number of beautiful color slides of a dozen of Sanibel's loveliest shells, photographed by Mr. Hutton, courtesy of Elsie Malone.

Following Mr. Hutton's presentation, Jean Cate will give an illustrated talk on the angel wing (Cyrtopleura costata).

The main feature of the evening will be a talk by Peter Dance on "Shell Books and Their Makers." It is a point of interest that Mr. Dance, who will be the guest of Jean and Crawford Cate while in this country, is the Curator of Mollusks at the National Museum in Cardiff, Wales. During the course of his six-weeks visit, he will be judging several shell shows including Miami, Broward, Naples, St. Petersburg, Sanibel and Southwest Florida Conchological Club.

The Shell Club is indeed fortunate in having so distinguished a speaker and a record attendance is anticipated. Visitors are cordially invited.

SANIBEL SHELL FAIR

Scientific judges for the 1971 Sanibel Shell Fair are S. Peter Dance and Dr. Donald R. Moore.

This will be the first time Mr. Dance has served as a judge for the Sanibel Show. He is Curator of Mollusks for the National Museum of Wales, Cardiff. He first began studying mollusca in 1950. He is also author of books and many articles in this, his chosen field. His book, Shell Collecting, an illustrated mistory, was published in 1966. Another book, Rare Shells, was published in 1969. Particularly notable articles are his report on the Linnaean shell collection in 1967, conchology of the Cook voyages and his article on the French conchologist J. R. Bourguignat and the 'nouvelle ecole' published in 1970. At present he is making a study of non-marine mollusks and molluscs at high altitudes. While here, Mr. Dance is the guest of Crawford and Jeanne Cate at their Sanibel home.

Dr. Moore, who is well known to Islanders, is looking forward to renewing his acquaintance with Mr. Dance whom he has known for many years. Dr. Moore is marine biologist with the University of Miami. He is a native Floridian and has spent most of his life in his home state except for time spent in Pacific duty with the Marine Corps during World War II and Shell Oil Company's Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Mississippi. He has served in the capacity of scientific judge not only for the Sanibel show many times but also for many of the other annual shell shows throughout the state. He is a member of many scientific organizations including the American Malacological Union, Paleontelogical Research Institution and the Marine Biological Association of the United Kingdom.

SANIBEL-CAPTIVA ART LEAGUE

ISLANDER.

Mr. Leon Levy will give a demonstration in the use of Japanese ink and water color at 9:30 Tuesday morning, February 16, at the Captiva Community Center. He will bring a selection of his own work to help illustrate this technique.

This is part of the instruction in Mrs. Helene Sparkes regular Tuesday morning watercolor class. The Sanibel-Captiva Art League sponsors this class, and invites anyone interested to attend this demonstration as their guest.

PRISCILLA MURPHY ACQUIRES NEW PAINTINGS

Priscilla Murphy has just acquired two more paintings to add to her growing collection. The first is a lovely Florida scene of palms and shore by A. C. Legg of Binghamton, New York. Mr. Legg has had several one man shows at Galleries in the New York area. He spends his winters here on Sanibel and some of his paintings may be seen and purchased at the "Shell Net."

The second painting, from Cape Coral Art Show, is an acrylic called "Linda" by Margaret Tepfer who won the $100.00 purchase prize. Both of these paintings are at Priscilla Murphy's main office for everyone to admire.

Mr. Legg has two pictures hanging in the American Embassy in Luxenburg.

FISHING NEWS

Capt. Gordon Bradley of the charter boat Angel Wing out of Tarpon Bay Marina, Sanibel, reports spotted seatrout are real plentiful in Tarpon Bay, and they are a good size.

Mr. Ennis and son, Johnathon of Illinois and a Mar. Mills of Wisconsin fished with Capt. Bradley for half a day. They caught 41 trout to 5 1/2 lbs., and released a lot of small ones.

I-75 IS RE-ROUTED TO SAVE EAGLE FAMILY

A family of bald eagles, the national bird, which is rapidly facing extinction, is causing the Dept. of Transportation to realign the path of Interstate 75 through Manatee

"The number of eagles in the nation is on the decline. Florida is unique in that outside of Alaska, it is the only state where the eagle breeds in any number," Transportation Secretary Ed Mueller said. The eagle nest is on the Talley Ranch near the Manatee River at Bradenton.

The re-routing of I-75 will take about 1/2 further from the nest than the original plan, and will call for about a mile more of highway, as it will cross the river at a wider point. The additional cost incurred has not been estimated, but it will require a larger bridge, thus entailing more expense. If construction came closer than 1/2 mile of the nest, the big birds would abandon the eggs, according to the Transportation Agency and the Audubon Society, who are working on the problem together.

The Audubon Society reports there are some 250 bald eagles in Florida, with only 125 active nests throughout the state. Hunters, D.D.T. pollution and encroaching civilization are killing them, they say,

CHAMBER RECEIVES LETTER FROM SHIREY

The Audubon Society presents one of the season's most awaited programs tonight, Thursday, February 11, at 8 p.m., in the Sanibel Community House.

Guest speaker will be Karen Eastman, who, with her husband Whitney, is recognized January meeting with him. Mr. Shirey wrote that the fishing catwalk on the causeway as one of the world's most distinguished bird experts. Title of her talk is "Galapago: was under consideration, and some preliminary drawings, sketches and estimates were

The Sanibel Causeway road has been cleaned and relined as requested. The Federal Fishing Pier has been inspected and found to be entirely inadequate and will be demolished and a new pier built, slightly to the north of the present pier site. Due to the drawing up of new plans, it will be approximately three months before completion, and at a cost of $10,000 at federal expense. The pier will be 200 feet long to accommodate the growing use.

In talks with the County Engineer, and following traffic studies, the speed limit on Gulf Drive was determined at 45 m.p.h., but may need further review and study. The County Park at Turner Beach and wayside park by the Mosquito Control building will be cleaned and refurbished.

Mr. Shirey requested maps for the placing of signs from the Chamber of Commerce showing where they should be placed.

The culvert on Tarpon Bay Way by Bailey's Store was discussed with Mr. Boggess, who is in the process of making a study on the Sanibel River and will discuss his find-

PORTRAITS OF TROPICAL BIRDS

Livingston Publishing Company, Wynnewood, Pa., announces the publication of "Portraits of Tropical Birds," by John S. Dunning of Burlington, Conn., and Fort Myers Beach, Fla.

Mr. Dunning, a Field Collaborator of the Cornell Laboratory of Ornithology, set himself the goal of photographing as many of the birds of the American tropics as time and effort allowed, and to do so under conditions as near to their natural habitats as humanly and technically possible. In "Portraits of Tropical Birds," the rare birds of the American tropics have been captured on film by a masterful photographer and an ornithologist of exception skill and patience. Many of the birds depicted have never been photographed before; others, near the brink of extinction, may never be photographed again.

Mr. Dunning has devoted most of his time in the last few years to tracking his subjects in the lowland jungles and mountain ranges of Central and South America. He has to any vessels not equipped with proper lighting for either Inland or International Rules recently returned to his Fort Myers Beach home from trips to Brazil and Columbia. governing running lights.

U. S. COAST GUARD AUXILIARY NEWS RELEASE

The controversial subject of stern lights on small craft has finally been settled. The majority of small craft, 16 ft. to 24 ft., come factory-equipped with a 32-point stern light attached to a 3 foot pole. Since most boats in this area operate under the Inland Waterway Rules, this type of lighting has been declared unsafe by the U. S. Coast Guard Commandant. It is his opinion this particular type of light cannot be seen by other crafts when either at anchor or running. The light must be visible at all times, which is almost impossible when the top is in the "up" position. The ruling is that the light must clear the engine, passengers and all obstructions, as well as when the top is raised. If the craft has no top whatsoever, this stern light still must clear all obstructions.

The remedies for this situation are: Install a longer pole, if possible. Or, clip a flashlight on the windshield, or, install a 2-bulb windshield light.

A second ruling is that any shield, fixed or hinged, on the 32-point mast light converting it to a 20-point running light is illegal.

In accordance with these rulings, no U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Courtesy Examiner shall affix a decal to any craft not conforming thereto. The Coast Guard Auxiliary conducts periodic public or private courtesy examinations of small craft, their purpose being to make these boats safe and the operators thereof cognizant of any possible danger to himself, his passengers or his craft. If the boat passes the examination, a decal is affixed to the craft by the examiner, denoting conformity. Should the Coast Guard make a physical check of crafts in the local waters and stop or board your craft and find it in non-conformity, they are vested with authority to take positive action.

Herafter, all U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliaries in District 7 will not issue any decals

BILL NEUMAN RESIGNS

Bill Neuman, who has been a familiar and faithful figure for almost ten years at the Chamber of Commerce booth, is resigning from his post for health reasons. He states, "I want to take this opportunity to advise all of the members of the Chamber of Commerce and my friends that I will terminate my association with th Sanibel-Captiva Chamber of Commerce as executive secretary because of reasons of health as of Feb. 15, 1971."

SUSAN STAFF ORD WINS ART SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Susan Stafford of Tarpon Springs and Sanibel won one of two adult scholarships offered in the All Florida Fiesta of Art sponsored by the Lehigh Acres Fine Arts League. Susan's winning entry was an intricate pen and ink painting titled "Bird of Avernus," Susan is 18, has travelled extensively in Europe, attending school there, and is looking forward to a career in art.

Big winner in the week-long show was Monty Hey of Fort Myers Beach with his dear little watercolor, "Sunset in the Reeds" which took "Best of Show" and an award of $150. The show ends tomorrow at the Lehigh Acres Auditorium.

CAPE CORAL JAYCEE POWERBOAT RACES

The second annual Cape Coral Jaycee Powerboat Races has already drawn 35 drivers from Florida with a total of over 100 drivers and 200 boats expected to be registered from all over the south by Friday. Test runs will begin on Friday afternoon and continue Saturday morning until race time which is scheduled for noon. Twenty-two races will be run each day (Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 13 and 14) from noon until 5 p.m. The site of these power boat races is Lake Kennedy on Cape Coral where a one mile course has been laid out. The drivers last year complimented the Jaycees for having one of the best racing sites in the nation.

The North Bay Power Boat Association, affiliated with the American Power Boat Association, is furnishing the Cape Coral Jaycees with the technical assistance and officials needed for this sanctioned race. Racing fans will again be treated to speeds of close to 100 m.p.h. reached last year by the D and F Hydro Alkies. Since Lake Kennedy is protected by 8 foot banks the waters remain calm even on windy days therefore allowing the drivers to open up their boats. Many well known drivers and racing families have entered the races.

The races this coming Saturday and Sunday are the first races in the Florida Grapefruit circuit and the drivers are competing for points for the national championship. Three 1970 United States National overall point winners such as Buddy Smith from Miami, Norm Langston from Bolling Green, Fla., and Harry Pinner from West Palm Beach, have entered.

Admission for the races is $1.00 per adult with children under 12 admitted

Directional signs will be placed in Cape Coral and on Pine Island Road to direct the fans to Lake Kennedy which is located 5 blocks off Pine Island Road on Santa Barbara Blvd. on Cape Coral.
