1971 SANIBEL SHELL FAIR

The Sanibel Community House is the scene of much activity as the 1971 Sanibel Shell Fair shapes up for opening March 4 through March 6. The show will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. Special hours have been set up for both the press and amateur photographers. Press reporters and photographers will be welcomed from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m., Thursday, March 4, opening day. Friday, March 5, for amateur photographers whose cameras will serve as passes for early admittance, 9 a.m. to 10 a.m.

The permanent shell exhibits in the Community House have been refurbished by Eugenia Wright, Helene Eker and Harriet Howe with an assist in excellent carpentering by Paul Howe and John Kennedy. Florida's official state shell, the horse conch (Pleuroloca gigantea) will be used extensively in decorating for the 1971 show. Tom Nix, house chairman, has made markers for each category using mounted plywood cut-outs of horse conchs with the category number on as well as the name of each category.

Exhibit chairman, Mary Nix made an outline drawing of a horse conch and sent it along with the order for ribbon awards and this was reproduced in gold on all the ribbons.

FESTIVAL A SUCCESS

The Strawberry Festival was a smashing success again this year, and even greater than in years past, according to Chairman Dotti McQuade. "Even the weather cooperated," she said. Thirty-five tables were invitingly covered in white as a foil for the lovely flower arrangements donated by the Corner Shop, and later given as door prizes to lucky winners.

All the door prizes were lovely, and the beautiful models who came down the steps through a heart-shaped entrance way from the church were especially graceful in showing the lovely clothing from local shops. Over $700.00 was received for the Episcopal Church in donations for the year's charities. Shops having clothing on display were: Dotti, The Open Gate, Seahorse, Bailey's Store, Nancy Lou's, Friday's House of Treasures, Red Ilican and of course, the Corner Shop.

AUDUBON BENEFIT

The Gala Benefit to be held tomorrow night, Friday, February 19, at Casa Ybel by the Audubon Society will feature an all new program of Mario Hutton's "photo-verse" compositions, under the general title "Islands Inimitable." Included in the first half will be eight features covering a wide range of subjects in the field of wildlife, the scenic beauty of our islands, and also a humorous look at some of their peculiarities. To be seen will be 'Another Day' and 'My Rhapsody in Blue,' both conveying timely conservation messages, 'Great Blue' and 'Snowy,' that can be defined portraits of two of Florida's favorite birds. Also, a visual idyl called 'Halo,' and 'The Nightingale,' a nostalgic nocturne. Shown will be a feature of special interest to fishermen, about which a reviewer recently wrote: "Harbor Queen is a wonderfully drawn portrait almost in journalistic vein of the voyage of three men on a commercial fishing boat. This was an August trip on which our photographer-poet worked as both, but also as a crew member. There are fourteen minutes of exciting slides and commentary here, of boat, crew, fish and fishing know-how and equipment, of birds and sky, and the wild beauty of the Gulf of Mexico. Something for everyone is here, pictures and verse combined with the finesse of a natural story-teller. Don't miss it."

The second part of the show will constitute a definite departure from Mr. Hutton's usual subjects. It is titled 'Soul of Six Island Homes,' and this is what Julie Miller has written about it: "Five beautiful dwellings, as diverse as their owners may be, are shown in graphic detail, with sympathy and charm; and the program ends with superb shots of Ding Darling's Captiva 'Fish House,' and a truly lovely poem in dedication to the man whose name is enshrined in the hearts of us all. These homes are not presented, for example, as the House of the Month, or What the Well-Dressed House Will Wear, in some national magazines. Rather, Mr. Hutton affirms the physical personality, the special aura of the residence, inside and out. In each he expresses his own impression of its particular and unique individuality. To those of us who may never see these homes this series will be a peculiar treasure, one to anticipate eagerly."

Griffing Bancroft will preside over the proceedings, that will include announcement of the names of those purchasing a number of paintings and other works donated by distinguished artists, and the drawing of valuable door prizes offered by local merchants. In addition to the artists whose names were published last week, the following have donated beautiful works: Opal Combs, Willis Combs, and Sarita Van Vleck.

Reservations, consisting of a donation of at least $3.00 per person, have been so numerous, that not many admissions may be available at this time. Any admissions not secured in advance will be offered tomorrow night at Casa Ybel Resort, where the benefit starts at 8 p.m. All contributions are tax deductible.

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

Miss CATHERINE WOOLLEY, author of over 70 children's books is visiting Sanibel at the home of Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE C. TENNEY in Water Shad-ows. This is her first visit to the island. Several of Miss Woolley's books are in the Sanibel Library, both under her name as well as under her pseudonym, Jane Thayer.

Mitchell's Castaways DAVE ROUGH-
HOUSE, manager of the Castaways, has just returned from a flying trip to Buffalo, N.Y., where the Swiftwater Squadron of the U. S. Power Squadron, held a party in his honor, at the Parkview Inn at Niagara Falls, N.Y. At a large gathering of friends he received his 25th merit mark, a plaque and a lapel pin for his longevity in service. He was joined by his children, PETER ROUGHHOUSE and wife and daughter, Mrs. J. W. JOHNSON and her husband. "Everything was just great, but the temperature was 4 degrees, and I could hardly wait to get back to the islands," said Dave.

Mrs. MIRIAM HALPIN of Tom's River, N.J., now staying at the Caribe Adventure, has had fantastic luck shelling. She displayed a real gem in a pale green jingle shell complete with hinge intact and also a scotch bonnet. Mrs. Halpin was following directions for cleaning whelks and other live shells, reading from a hilarious chapter from Mr. MURRAY HOYT's book, "Jewels From the Ocean Deep." Mr. Hoyt, who is presently a guest at the High Tide Cottages, had autographed her book.

Many have been fortunate in these rough seas and times of extremely high and low tides. It is an ill-wind that blows nobody good, and shellers will testify to this. PEGGY WILLIAMS of Cleveland, Ohio, and guest at the Whitecaps, lucked on a Junonia on this, her first trip to the islands. Mr. JOSEPH LERCH, who has been searching for three years, finally found his junonia on the beach near the Gallery Motel, and Mrs. MARY BROWN of Bolivar, Tenn., found hers after seven years of shelling on the islands. Mr. RAY BIDWELL of Andover, Conn., and a guest at the Gallery found a junonia, too, and Mrs. CURTIN at the Gallery found a rare pink angel wing and a Scotch bonnet.

Other guests at the Gallery still hoping they will find some of the treasures from the deep are: Mr. and Mrs. LEONARD VINSON of Glen Rock, N.Y.; Mr. & Mrs. ALBERT FERROW, Wyck-off, N.J.; the JOHN SNYDERS from Hinsdale, Ill., the R. MacVANES of Nashua, N.H., the T. McGARRYS of New York; Mr. & Mrs. JOHN KRABER, Defiance, Ohio, the STEVE POTTERS of Worthington, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. J. MILLIKEN of Indianapolis, Ind.

SEGUNDA APARTMENTS

Mr. & Mrs. Herb Purdy, Sr., owners of Segunda, announce a new baby. She is silver beige color and just a ball of fur and sure to steal your heart, and is their new baby poodle.

SHELL HARBOR INN

Guests at Shell Harbor Inn have found the weather brisk and just right for shelling and a brisk walk. Seen on the beach were Mr. & Mrs. Archer Sachs of Columbus, Ohio, the Donald Morkans of Minneapolis, Minn., Mr. & Mrs. Lowell Sneyd, Arlington, Ill., the Milton Ramms of Pallatine, Ill., Mr. & Mrs. C. A. Pawlowski of Harrisburg, Pa. Two old friends traveling together for their winter vacations are Dr. & Mrs. Leonard Aquilino and Dr. & Mrs. P. Marciano of Syracuse, N.Y. Other guests are Mr. & Mrs. Karl Kauffman of Columbus, Ohio, the Kenneth Hennings of Chicago, Ill., Mr. & Mrs. Fred Hassenplug are return visitors from Camp Hill, Pa., and the Robert Foederers of Indianapolis, Ind.

ISLAND INN GUESTS

Island Inn guests again hail from near and far, and some were seen at the Strawberry Festival. Some even journeyed into Fort Myers to watch the Pageant of Light. Seen here and there and around were Mrs. Uni Grannis and her dear friend from Lake Forest, Ill., Justice & Mrs. Orrin E. Judd of New York City, Mrs. R. T. Willcox and her friend, Mrs. Polly Ferguson from Ft. Lauderdale, Mr. & Mrs. R. Faggioli of New Canaan, Conn., the Richard Whitneys of Beaufort, S.C., Mrs. F. Hunter Hackett and daughter, Mrs. Blackhurst and Mrs. Bruch, all of Cleveland, Ohio, the Rodman Wards of Wilmington, Del., Mr. & Mrs. L. B. Webster of Princeton, N.J., Mrs. W. H. Bovey and Mrs. Truam Garden, friend enjoying a vacation together from Wayzata, Minn.

Other Island Inn guests are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tuck, West Bridgewater, Mass., Mrs. Thomas P. Harney, Westchester, Pa., Mr. & Mrs. Lyman B. Whitaker, Indianapolis, Ind., Mrs. C. V. Henry, Lebanon, Pa., the Howard Babcocks of Buffalo, N.Y., Mrs. Ralph D. Booth and granddaughter from Durham, N.H., and the E. P. Clarksons of Toronto, Canada, were seen on the beach and the John Pangmans of Sarasota too, and Mr. & Mrs. J. Glannigan of Lake Wales. More guests are Mr. Dudley S. Ingraham of Litchfield, Conn., Mr. & Mrs. R. Kuhl of Philadelphia, Pa., the Crawford Greenwatts of Wilmington, Del., Mr. & Mrs. D. Cruikshank and grandson from Avon Park, the Barton R. Gebharts of Winnetka, Ill., and friends Miss Pauline Pease and Mrs. Alexander Hatfield of Rosemont, Pa., and Mrs. William B. Hetzel of Weekapaugh, R.I.

NEW CAMERA CLUB

A meeting to organize a Camera Club for the Sanibel-Captiva Islands will be held in the Sanibel Community building on Tuesday evening, February 23, at 8 p.m. Anyone interested in any type of photography is urged to attend.

LEGAL GALLERY TO OPEN

Mr. & Mrs. Edward Legel announce the opening of their new Periwinkle Way Art Gallery on Wednesday, Feb. 17, and they will be displaying art works donated for the Audubon benefit. The new room is called the Blue Room and will be available for one-man shows, and in addition, to anyone wishing to display their paintings for sale. There will be an additional room to the Blue Room, and the public is invited to come and inspect the offerings.

Letter To The Editor

To The Islander:

We came to Sanibel on Feb. 1 expecting to stay only two days to see the island and enjoy the beaches. We left on the third day to visit other places of interest but our short stay here had spoiled us, and we returned to Sanibel.

Our hosts at the West Wind Inn have been most hospitable and friendly, as have others with whom we have come in contact; but today something happened that disillusioned me, and I fear that this lovely isle is a "tourist-trap" after all.

Several days ago I purchased a garment at the local store, which, according to the tag, was washable either by hand or by machine. The first time I washed it (by hand) the colors ran to the extent that the garment is unusable.

When I called it to the attention of the store personnel, I was informed that the proprietor does not stand behind what he sells, but if I wished, I could leave the garment there and talk to the sales representative next time he called there. Since I am a visiting tourist, this was a rather stupid and useless suggestion, and I am stuck with the inferior merchandise.

The monetary loss does not bother me as much as does the manner in which the incident was handled. I am quite sure that if I were a resident here I would not have been treated so shabbily.

If the proprietor believes that his merchandise is so inferior he cannot stand behind it, he should display a sign to that effect and let the buyer beware!

/s/ Mrs. Richard Berg
Sunfield, Mich.

To The Islander:

One day, not too long ago, as I drove out of my home, the Sanibel Rescue Squad was taking care of and evacuating a mother, a baby and three other children injured when their car overturned. Later that same day, I passed the Rescue Squad transporting an injured boy to the hospital.

These two cases, and I don't know how many more that day, utilized volunteers to save life and relieve suffering. These volunteers were men who must leave their income producing activities to be "Good Samaritans" and aid those in serious trouble.

Who are these volunteers? Six dedicated men, only one of whom is under 45 and some of whom have their own physical problems. Six men who work for a living to support families which means loss of income when on a call.

These men need your help. What happens to you and your family, if help is needed and this small group of devoted men are away or too sick to answer?

Should not you volunteer to help others so that others will help you when you need it?

/s/ Ingalls H. Simmons, M.D.

MAKING TRACKS with Sandy

It was just a perfect day for a Fashion Show. The sun was bright and warm, the sky blue, the birds were singing and the carillon was ringing out The Blue Danube Waltz. The tables were filling up fast with happy, interested guests who had purchased tickets for the annual style show given by the Episcopal Church on the church grounds called a "Strawberry Festival." The models representing each dress shop on Sanibel were, as always, charming and stunningly attired as they made their appearance through a giant Valentine heart and promenaded through the audience. But the models weren't the only ones who were well dressed at this gala affair; I noticed several others who should also be mentioned: Wilb Snyder, for instance, in a handsome beige cashmere sweater and matching pants, skillfully maneuvering a tray of coffee cups through the crowd at intermission; Bill Sur, in colorful cotton sport shirt and slacks, directing traffic; Father Madden and Father Hubbs in basic black; Bob Haynie conservatively attired in blue shirt and dark blue pants, adroitly directing traffic also. Seated among the guests were Dr. Simmons in casual attire; just right for a warm afternoon, Ben Hartman looking smart as usual in tones of grey, and Ellis Bryant in a dark shirt and light pants. One gentleman, especially, was most elegant in a white shirt with red stripes, but he got away before I could ask him his name. So the men deserve a hand, too, because all too often they are merely in the background or working like mad and receiving little or no recognition. Thank you boys, and see you next year?

SANIBEL-CAPTIVA PLANNING BOARD MEETING

The Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board, Inc., will hold its first annual meeting, March 1, at 8 p.m., at the Sanibel Community House. A report will be made of last year's activities and the present situation regarding population density and other island problems and issues.

Also there will be an election of officers and a new board of directors. Members and prospective members are urged to attend.

SANIBEL-CAPTIVA CONSERVATION FOUNDATION

The Board of Directors of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation thanks most warmly the Board of County Commissioners of Lee County for their approval on Wednesday, Feb. 10, of the Foundation's request that an application be filed for $281,000 of land and water Conservation Funds, through the Florida Division of Recreation and Parks and the U. S. Dept. of the Interior's Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. This is to match an equivalent amount which has been donated through National Audubon Society, the Nature Conservancy and the Alice M. O'Brien Foundation. All monies will be applied to land acquisition for the Sanibel Fresh Water Wetlands Recreational Refuge, to supplement and protect the J. H. "Ding" Darling National Wildlife Refuge.

The Commissioners' approval was given with enthusiasm and thanks to the Foundation for its effort on behalf of the people of Lee County. Park Director Park Pigott also gave hearty endorsement to the project.

Quick action by the Commissioners made it possible for the Foundation's Executive Director, Roy Bazire, to fly to Tallahassee on Thursday and present the application to officials of the Division of Recreation and Parks, Florida Department of Natural Resources. Fortunately, a meeting to review all applications and okay those to be included in this fiscal year, was scheduled for the following day. We have not yet had word from Tallahassee, but Roy says, "We appear to have as good friends in Mr. Landrum (Director of the Division) and Mr. Froemke (Administrator, Grants section), as we do in Atlanta and Washington, and approval of the Sanibel project is probable."

After about 30 days "in process" in Tallahassee, the application goes to Atlanta, and then to D.C. Final action should be known sometime in May. However, The Nature Conservancy has funds on hand to permit immediate firm negotiations for lands to be included.

Sanibel businessmen for Conservation, a group which made possible the transfer to Florida from Kentucky, of a large houseboat donated to the Florida Institute of Oceanography through the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation and one of its members, met Friday, Feb. 12, with Dr. Robert E. Smith, Director of the Institute. The luncheon meeting at the Golden Sands was to learn of progress made on converting the boat to a floating marine lab to undertake an estuarine research program for the entire west coast of Florida.

Dr. Smith has obtained support of a number of large Florida industries, the Florida Air & Water Pollution Control and other public and private organizations to operate the vessel at an approximate cost of $40,000 a year for a minimum three year program, and to outfit the vessel with about $50,000 of highly sophisticated equipment. The boat is now being readied for service and Dr. Smith hopes to have it in local waters this spring or early summer for its trial run.

Seven Florida state universities are cooperating on the project, and will provide the faculty and students necessary to carry out the research program. This is one phase of a Gulf-wide research effort to build data banks that will help to maintain the quality of our water environment; estuarine, continental shelf, and deep Gulf.

The offer of the boat as a gift was made to the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation last October. By Dec. 10, Dr. Smith had obtained tentative pledges which satisfied him that he could justify taking title to the boat for the Board of Regents. But, he lacked the $2,400 hard cash to move the vessel from Kentucky to Florida. A last minute appeal obtained the funds from a group of Sanibel businessmen.

THE ISLAND GARDENER

Before you know it, you'll be using your power mower several times a week says the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association (FNGA), and you should check now to be sure it is in good working condition and that the blade is sharp. If you aren't in the habit of raking your grass clippings or catching them in a grass catcher, you should make provisions now to do so. If clippings accumulate on the lawn you will get a thatch build-up and diseases and pests will be difficult to control.

Annual flowering plants should be almost full-grown and producing an abundance of flowers at this time of year. But annuals, like other plants, need fertilizer in order to produce a maximum amount of blossoms. It is now time to fertilize these annuals with either a dry or soluble fertilizer. Do not use an all-organic fertilizer for your annuals, as the soil is still hard and the organic material will not be broken down to release fertilizer for these plants. You should also pay close attention for any disease or insects that are attacking your annuals. Sometimes an early outbreak of worms may give you holes in the leaves. These worms can be controlled with sevin.

ABC SALE

More news about the annual ABC Sale (Attic, Basement and Closet) of the Captiva Civic Association to be held on Thursday, Feb. 25, from 10 to 12:30.

There will be a Bake Table, including jellies, cookies, cakes and bread. The chairman, Mrs. E. L. Severinghaus and co-chairman, Mrs. Henry Fisher request donations to this table be brought early Thursday morning. They will be assisted by Mrs. Raymond Hoffman, Mrs. F. F. Miller, Mrs. Bernice Suttle and Mrs. Helen Holcombe.

The Books Table is in charge of Mrs. Gladys Plume and Mrs. Willard Schultz.

The Clothing Department will be staffed by Mrs. Samuel Anderson, Mrs. Robert Adams and Mrs. Jane Bunting.

A special feature will be the area having plants, flowers and dish garden arrangements. Mrs. Henry Holladay will be assisted on this committee by Mrs. Paul Shepherdson, Mrs. Charles Jett, and Mrs. Evard Matthiessen.

In charge of miscellaneous articles will be: Mrs. Mary Pevear, Mrs. R. E. Shaver, Mrs. George Thayer, Mrs. Charles Paschall, Mrs. Don Seymour, Mrs. A. E. Swanson, Mrs. Max Hayford, Mrs. Harold Robinson, Mrs. Beach Clow, Mrs. Clyde Dougherty, Mrs. Henry Collins, Mrs. W. B. Ellis and Miss Mildred Onstine.

DON WHITEHEAD

DON AND GRACE AND BUSYBODY

From Labor Attache in the American Embassy in Paris to a London detective constable is quite a jump, but Don Whitehead makes the leap seem as simple as crossing the street with the green light in his role of Constable Goddard in "Busybody" at the Pirate Playhouse. And when Ruth Hunter, as the Busybody says of him, "Isn't he cultured," you'll have to agree with her.

Grace, who was an Army nurse when she and Don met at sea on the old S. S. Algonquin, on the other hand is just her own vivacious self in the role of Vickie Reynolds, the typist in "Busybody." Come and see for yourselves at the next performance which will be on Saturday, February 20, at 8:15.

Others in the excellent cast of "Busybody" are Duane White, Judy Burner, Roy Bazire, Charlotte White, Philip Hunter, who has directed this hilarious "who-dunnit," and of course Ruth Hunter as the Busybody herself.

SANIBEL SCHOOL NEEDS GEOGRAPHICS

The Sanibel School has put out an SOS to help complete its library of National Geographic magazines, which are used in various study classes. Those issues they are in need of are: 1970, December; 1968, June, July and November; 1961, January; 1960, January; 1950, February, June, July and August; all months of 1955 and 1954.

The School is busy gathering material for the student memory book, a new project which will comprise pictures and other memorabilia, making a living history of the Sanibel School.

The fifth and sixth grades are sponsoring a car wash at the Enco Station on Feb. 20. The children are working toward their Cape Kennedy trip in the early spring, and this is another project to add to their funds. They hope to raise enough money for a bus load of the pupils to be able to make the trip and tour the Space Center.

THE COLONY GUESTS

The Colony is pleased to have Dr. & Mrs. H. A. Hasselblad of Goteborg, Sweden and Mr. & Mrs. R. F. Siewer of Maitland, Fla., as guests relaxing after attending the exciting "blast-off" of Apollo 14. Dr. Hasselblad's cameras are used by the astronauts for the pictures taken on the moon. Mrs. Hasselblad has a unique charm bracelet, having a charm the size of a half-dollar that one of the astronauts (Buz Alden) took to the moon and brought back (also went through quarantine) for her, and another charm with the likeness (1/10 of size) of the Hasselblad camera used on the moon. Dr. Hasselblad and party are enjoying the natural beauty of the islands and especially "Ding" Darling Sanctuary with the many beautiful birds and alligator families. He hopes to be able to record the different sounds at nightfall on sound track. When Dr. & Mrs. Hasselblad leave The Colony they will travel to Houston, Texas, where they will be shown the pictures taken on the moon with their cameras. Ralph and Trudy Sanders are back at The Colony for the second time this season, enjoying the good golfing weather. Ralph Sanders is the Golf Professional at Battleground Country Club in Tenent, N.J.

Other guests are the Colony include Mr. & Mrs. Charles F. Moore of Dover, Mass.; Mr. & Mrs. Wentworth B. Chapman, Yarmouth Port, Mass.; Mr. & Mrs. James Perry Wilson, Boston, Mass.; Mr. & Mrs. Charles G. Frey of Norwood, N.J.; and other New Jerseyites, Mr. & H. E. Shelton of Little Silver; Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Murphy from Summit; and Mr. & Mrs. J. N. Diemon of Somerset. From New York come Gregor Neff of Dobbs Ferry; Miss D. E. Brewer of New York City; Mr. & Mrs. Harold O'Brien of Glenmont, and Mr. & Mrs. William E. Standeven from East Aurora. Also Mr. & Mrs. W. J. Bruninga of Peoria, Ill.; Dr. & Mrs. Joseph Belsley of Peoria, Ill.; Mr. & Mrs. Charles E. Acker of Wallingford, Pa.; Mr. & Mrs. Vincent Muti of Yardley, Pa.; Dr. & Mrs. L. B.

CHARGED TO YOUTH

David Paul Hanchar, 17, of Captiva Island was charged with possession of LSD Thursday.

Hanchar was arrested at his apartment at the Tween-Waters Inn, Captiva at 12:10 after investigators entered his room with a search warrant.

Investigator Ed Jones declined to say how much of the drug was in Hanchar's possession but said it was soaked in paper.

A preliminary test was made on the drug and a final test will be made by the state.

THINGS TO SEE AND DO

Now that the annual Edison Pageant of Light is over, after its art and flower shows, gopher Derby and Edison birthday party, climaxed by the Saturday night Parade of Light, there are other things to see and do in and around the county. The Swamp Cabbage Festival is scheduled to be held in Labelle, about 20 miles east of Fort Myers in Hendry County, but before that, the Shrimp Festival is scheduled at Fort Myers Beach, with its Saturday parade on Feb. 27, and crowing of a queen, shell exhibits, and other features.

The schedule of events starts with a Community Organizations Project dinner dance on Feb. 20. Then the shell exhibits start after church on Sunday, Feb. 21 at Moss Marina and continue through the week. On Feb. 22, the Festival Bowling Tournament is held. Wednesday, the 24th a ceramic display, and various sales and crafts display with sidewalk show are scheduled. Thursday the Strolling Flower show is added to the above attractions, and the day ends with the shrimp dinner at the American Legion Post #274. Friday, is the last night of these famed dinners with Bingo scheduled at the Shrine Club. Saturday is the day of the Festival Parade, sponsored by the Lions, and followed by the Beauty Pageant at the County Park with all day events at the Park. Sunday climaxes the activities with famed shrimp rolls served at the park, and the Blessing of the Fleet.

CAPTIVA by Ruth Thumm

It is the island called Captiva
Just north of Sanibel
To which folks come a-wandering
To stare at sea and search for shells.
If you are sad and weary
In this world's faster pace
Come walk by sea and search the sky
The frown will leave your face.
The sandpipers running on the shore
The pelicans flying in single file
The stooping shellers on the beach
All seem to smile, "stay awhile."
Come join the porpoise in the waves
Skip through the surf and try to fly
Ask the friendly fisher of his catch
Gaze as the golden sunset dies.
All too soon the magic days are gone
Captiva, we must leave
But our hearts are filled to brim
And we can live again to give.

NOTICE

Dr. H. OTHEMAN SMITH, who has been absent for the past two weeks, will return as guest preacher at Chapel by the Sea on Captiva Island this Sunday, Feb. 21. His sermon will be "Frustrations That Keep us From Living."

TIN CAN SHELLERS

by Eleanor Douglas Clapp

Mabel! Ain't this one purty?
Sorta purplish kinda like.
Oh my! This one is squirty--
Look! It's got a long spike--
What supposin' it could be?
Did you ever! What a shell!
Dearie, dearie, and oh me,
It sure has an awful smell.
See jelly fish over there--
Those orange, red, and black ones
That are stinkin' up the air?
Mabel, there's just tons and tons.
Oh golly, my hip snapped again,
But I'll make it to the car--
I feel like an old, wet hen,
Nose stopped up, it's my catarrh.
Well, we sure had one swell time,
Let's pack a lunch and come back
Someday to that pile of slime,
And see what's there--bring your sack!

FREDERICK RICH

Frederick J. Rich, a winter visitor to Sanibel from Bronxville, New York, died Saturday.

He is survived by his widow Mrs. Jane Rich of Bronxville, N.Y.; a son John Christopher Rich of White Plains, N.Y.; a brother, Phillip T. Rich of Midland, Mich.; sisters, Mrs. William F. Chesley, Charlotte Hall, Maryland; and Mrs. Guy L. Shipps of Michigan.

Memorial service was held Wednesday in the Fred H. McGrath Sons Funeral Home at Bronxville, N.Y. Leo W. Englehardt had charge of arrangements here.

MEETING NATURE HALF-WAY

An Audubon outdoor event that in past years has been rated as one of the most successful will be presented today, Thursday, February 18. Mario F. Hutton, president, will conduct a tour for the benefit of those interested in nature photography. In language understandable to beginners and experts alike, he will offer practical advice and suggestions on wildlife and scenic picture taking.

"Meeting Nature Halfway" is the title of this informal presentation, that will start at 2 p.m. at the entrance of the Ding Darling Wildlife Sanctuary on State Road 867. There is no charge, and all are cordially invited.

MASS SPECTROSCOPY STUDY

Thirty four top chemists from around the nation and research scientists have been meeting on Sanibel at Casa Ybel for the past week to discuss newest findings in the study of various sources of radiant energy through spectroscopic examination and evaluation.

Many large companies have scientists interested and working on these studies, such as General Electric, Westinghouse, etc., with a view to practical applications in industry. The group has not sought publicity and have not made a public report on their findings. The symposium ended last weekend with some of the visitors spending some leisure time at the Edison Pageant of Light, and visiting other points of interest in the area.

SHOW ENTRY DEADLINE

Saturday, February 20, from 12 to 4 p.m., is the receiving date for entries in the Art Council of Southwest Florida Ninth Annual Juried Exhibition. Work must be delivered to Building C, 2nd floor, at Edison Junior College. Entry fee is $2.00 per painting with a maximum of four paintings per artist. Dr. Robert Carson of the University of Florida in Gainesville will judge the show. Awards for Best of Show, first, second, and third place, along with honorable mentions, will be given.

OUR ISLAND by Alice Kylo

Between the bay of San Carlos and the Gulf of Mexico,
 Lies a tropical island by the name of Sanibel,
 Where the sea winds whisper,
 Through the tall pine trees.
 The palm leaves rustle, with each sea blown breeze,
 The blue surf rolls in, gems from the ocean deep.
 The falcon calls out to welcome the sun,
 The sea birds answer and the day has begun.
 Bright blooms brighten each wayside drive,
 And the ocean air makes you feel very much alive.
 In the days of yore when buccaneers roamed,
 On this beautiful island, they made their home,
 The sunlight sparkled on the rippling sea,
 And the spell of the island calls out to me.
 If the waves could but answer, what stories they tell,
 Of the proud ships who sailed here.
 And the brave men who fell.
 The gold of the plunder, still rests here
 Somewhere, but the pirates who hid it have long ago died,
 And with them the secret of where it does lie.
 So we dream of the treasure we never will find,
 As we gather the seashells washed in by the tide.

SANIBEL BRIDGE FENDER SAFEGUARDS

The Lee County Board of Commissioners, in their regular Wednesday meeting, approved the expenditure of $6,750.00 for repairs and revamping of the bridge, by putting in some concrete and rock seawall and breakwaters, as suggested by the County Engineer M. M. Cornwell, to prevent barges from bumping the fenders and causing extensive damage as was done several times last year.

River Construction Co. of Fort Myers was the apparent low bidder, and others submitting bids were Langford Inc. of West Palm Beach, $9,250., Jones Contracting Co. of North Fort Myers, $12,500., and Little River Marine Construction Co. of Miami, $28,980. River Construction has had equipment in the area placing piling and repairing the fenders. It is hoped the new design will aid in guiding barges into the channel, and prevent tides and cross currents from interfering with their passage.

CONSERVATION FUNDS APPROVED

The County Commission, in Wednesday's action, approved the expenditure of $281,000. of Conservation monies, acting as agent for the National Audubon Society and the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, in matching funds with the U. S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. The cooperative venture will eventually lead to the creation of a fresh water wetland and recreation area along the Sanibel River of 1,200 to 1,500 acres of a preserve on the island.

Conservation groups have been providing the land, purchased from individual owners, or donated by them, as their share of the matching funds, and now have 150 acres owned by the National Audubon group. Lee County will receive title to the entire project on completion of paper work, and will lease it back to the federal recreation project at $1.00 a year for 99 years.

Roy Bazire, executive director of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, and Erard Matthiesen, member of the board of directors of the National Audubon Foundation, appeared before the board of County Commissioners to explain the project, which will become a park and recreation area for use by all.

CORNELL CLUB OF SOUTHWEST FLORIDA

Steven Muller, vice president for public affairs, Cornell University, will be the guest speaker at a buffet supper to be held by the Cornell Club of Southwest Florida at the Sheraton Inn, Fort Myers, on Sunday evening, Feb. 21. His subject will be "Cornell Today."

Muller is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations; the Institute for Strategic Studies; the American Political Science Association; the Commission on International Education and the Policy and Planning Committee of the American Council on Education; and the American Association of Rhodes Scholars. He has served as consultant to the Office of International Security Affairs in the Dept. of Defense, the United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency; and to the Assistant Secretary for Education in the Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare. Before assuming his present position in charge of public relations, alumni affairs and development at Cornell, Muller was director of the University's Center for International Studies.

Chairman of the supper meeting on Feb. 21 is Frederic C. Wood of Sanibel, trustee emeritus of Cornell University.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Fred D. Classon and James S. Fortiner of Fort Myers; Dr. Francis Ford, Philip C. Morse, Jr. and Thad L. Collum of Naples; Arthur W. Wilson of Fort Myers Beach. The reception for Dr. Muller will begin at 5:30 p.m., supper at 6:30 p.m.

Reservations for Cornell alumni and their spouses can be made through Mr. Wood or the manager's office, Sheraton Inn.

MANAGEMENT APPOINTMENT

Wood & Tower, Inc., consultants in construction cost management and facilities planning of Princeton, N.J., announced the executive appointment of Frederic C. Wood, formerly president, as chairman of the board. Mr. Wood is a winter resident of Sanibel.

The corporation has served building owners and the construction industry since 1950 as cost control advisors and construction planning and management consultants. It is known as an innovator in the development of advanced management services, utilizing computer techniques and value engineering principles for budget estimates, cost control monitoring and design programming.

SEBRING SHAPES UP BATTLE

A confrontation between three of the world's important sports car manufacturers is shaping up for the 21st annual 12 HOURS OF SEBRING, March 20, 1971. With two events of the 1971 World Manufacturers Championship series now run, Porsche have an 18 point lead to Ferraris 10, with Italy's Alfa Romeo tied for third with Corvette and 4 points. The next event in the 12 race series will be Sebring, only a few weeks away.

Ferrari will introduce its 3-liter 312PB Sports Car at Sebring for Mario Andretti and Jacky Ickx. Supporting the factory effort, but out for overall wins will be no less than 4 other Ferraris, led by the Kirk White owned, Roger Penske-prepared Sunoco Ferrari for Mark Donohue and David Hobbs. Several other Ferraris will be fielded by private, though factory prepared cars.

Porsche will field a formidable defense of its 1970 championship title with the excellent John Wyer, who visited Fort Myers Beach recently, team of Gulf-Porsche 917K's for Daytona winners, Pedro Rodriguez, and Jackie Oliver and teammates Jo Siffert and Derek Bell. Another strong Porsche effort will be Martini International team of Vic Elford, Gijs Van Lennep, Rudi Lins and Helmut Marko, also in the 917's.

Alfa, which elected to miss Daytona and fell to third in the points race, is bringing its all new Type 33 speedsters for Rolf Stommellen, Giovanni Galli, Andrea DeAdamich, Henri Pescarolo, Toine Hezemans and Emerson Fittipaldi.

For tickets to the SEBRING 12 HOURS and the INVER HOUSE TROPHY for Super Vee, write ARCF Advance Sales, P.O. Box 719, Sebring, 33870. Phone: (813) 385-7354.

LICENSE NEEDED

Cane pole anglers must purchase a fishing license at a cost of $3.00 this year, and there are some areas of fresh water fishing on Sanibel, on the Sanibel River, for instance, where it is necessary to have the license. Licenses can be purchased at either Bailey's Store or the B-Hive. Residents under the age of 15 and over the age of 65 do not have to purchase a license. It used to be legal for cane pole anglers to fish without a license, but now they too are required to purchase the same fresh water fishing license as the rod and reel fisherman.
