DENSITY CONTROLS

Some confusion has resulted as a result of the article in the Fort Myers News-Press regarding the action of the Board of County Commissioners on Feb. 17 regarding density control on the islands of Sanibel and Captiva.

A subcommittee of the Board, consisting of Mr. Kenneth Daniels and Mr. Walter Shirey has held two meetings with interested parties on this subject. The Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board had submitted facts and figures on controls, and on densities now in use in the islands and elsewhere. Mr. Arthur Knudsen, representing the owners of the Captains Walk Condominiums, had submitted a request for control figures substantially higher than those recommended by the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board.

At the February 17 meeting, the subcommittee of Messrs. Daniels and Shirey, recommended to the full Board the acceptance of the figures proposed by Mr. Knudsen.

The Board of Commissioners then instructed the County Attorney to prepare an ordinance containing those figures for consideration by the full Board at a date yet to be announced. This consideration will be in the form of a preliminary hearing on the Artistic judges for the 1971 Sanibel Shell Fair are all ladies well known for their artistic ability and creativeness.

SANIBEL SHELL FAIR

Mrs. John M. Vanarsdell has for many years been an island resident. She and husband, Van, long ago succumbed to the beauty of Sanibel and theirs was the first home to be built in the 'Rocks.' They spend their summers up on the Canadian border where they own a small island and have their summer home. Lois has taken ribbons and trophies, not only on her artistic shell work, but in the scientific field as well.

Mrs. Clarence Horn (Grace), is also a collector of blue ribbons in both artistic and scientific shell work and is an accomplished artist with pallet and brush, as well. She spends her winters at her Sanibel home and summers at her home in Illinois.

Dotty Stearns calls Sanibel her home year round. She fell in love with the island on winter visits, built a lovely home on the Gulf and soon was loath to leave for her summer home on Long Island in New York. She has turned her garage into a studio where she does beautiful things with shells as well as catching the loveliness of our islands on canvas. It didn't take long for her family to share her affection for Sanibel and come also to make their homes.

We just couldn't have a Shell Fair if we didn't have Marshall Tabacchi to take over the problem of handling the traffic. He and his committee will again this year be on hand to direct you to a parking space. He always provides a special, close unloading area for those unable to walk more than a limited distance and for those confined to wheelchairs. Please make your needs known to the gentlemen who will be helping you find space and who will direct you.

Of special interest to Fair goers will be an exhibit by Neil Hepler of Deerfield

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

Mr. & Mrs. EDWARD E. PHILLIPS of Greenwich, Conn., are visitors to By-The-Sea and are thoroughly enjoying the change of climate. This winter has been particularly cold in Connecticut.

HERB PURDY of Segunda Apts., with his cousins, BUD and LOUISKETCHAM, who are visiting from Amityville, N.Y., caught a nice batch of sea trout, and all enjoyed an old fashioned fish fry.

JANE SEMANS VISITING THE REEF

We had a most delightful luncheon visit with Jane Semans at her Reef apartment Thursday. Jane is famous for her "Krazy Mixed-up Salt" and we called on her to interview her about her exciting career in culinary science which started when she was age 60. Mrs. Semans cleverly steered the conversation to what turned out to be an interview of us and our life, one of our favorite subjects of conversation, of course.

We thoroughly enjoyed the visit, as she served a delightful lunch using her Krazy Mixed-up Salt in everything from the spinach souffle to tongue and tomatoes. Hoping she had a success story of being the only millionaire woman cook we know, we asked her about this. Mrs. Semans assured us she is not a millionaire, though her success in salt sales has been phenomenal. In fact, she has been called upon so often to tell her story and demonstrate uses of the salt, that she has had to curtail her appearances and limit them to a few charity causes she sponsors.

One of the most delicious tidbits was what she did with a sort of Melba toast seasoned with the Krazy Mixed-up salt. My husband, Bob, who pinched-hit for us on the paper route while we lunched, tasted one of the tidbits, and finished them all on the way home, remarking how good they were.

Her salt, herb-spiced in a delectable blend, can now be purchased almost anywhere, and we believe will make almost anybody a gourmet cook, automatically.

SHELL HARBOR INN

Mr. & Mrs. Sid Davis of Toledo, Ohio, have been busy renewing old friendships and visiting friends on Captiva. Mr. & Mrs. Leonard Brecker of Louisville, Ky., are enjoying island life, and Dr. & Mrs. Gordon Dale of Ontario, Canada are here to rest and join the Canadian contingency, many of whom have been making a regular trek to Florida in the winter. Other northern visitors to Shell Harbor are: Mr. & Mrs. Melvin Candelet of Attleborough, Mass., the Albert Stutkes of Haddonfield, N.J., Mr. & Mrs. Ivor Mills of Media, Pa., and the Murrell Holloways of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Old friends, Mr. & Mrs. H. L. Karr and the John A. Sletters of Medina, Minn., traveled together for their winter vacation. Mr. & Mrs. Richard M. Cook from Norfolk, Va., were here for the opening of Shell Harbor two years ago and are being welcomed back for a return visit.

Still hunting for a Junonia are the C. Pawlowskis of Harrisburg, Pa., the William Tuttle of Sparta, N.J., the H. Haines of Kendallville, Ind., and the Sam J. March family from Norristown, Pa. And still looking for and catching the big ones are Mr. & Mrs. James S. Luckett of Oakville, Ont., Canada, Mr. & Mrs. J. R. Hartnett of Newtown, Pa., the M. Oppers of Torontot, Canada, Mr. & Mrs. Brent Ruppel of Milwaukee, Wis., and the Ralph Goulds of Hobart, N.Y.

THE COLONY GUESTS

Guests at the Colony are Mr. & Mrs. John Cooper and party of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. & Mrs. V. E. Furman of Chicago, Ill., Mr. & Mrs. F. E. Everist of Greenville, Del., Mr. & Mrs. Joseph E. Ryan of Attleboro, Mass., Dr. & Mrs. William K. Nowill and party from Elmira, N.Y., Dr. & Mrs. Roland S. Cron of Presque Isle, Wisc., Mr. & Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain of Concord, Mass., Mr. & Mrs. William Roth and party of Holland, N.Y., Mr. & Mrs. Dale Fisher and daughter of Oak Ridge, Tenn., Mr. & Mrs. John Nolan and Mr. & Mrs. A. J. Sorge of Defiance, Ohio, Dr. & Mrs. George C. Flanagan of Chicago, Ill., Mr. & Mrs. J. M. Neal and party of Prairie Village, Kan., and Mr. & Mrs. H. N. Oggenfuss of Chesapeake City, Md.

THE SURFRIDER

Among the guests at the Surfrider this week are Mr. & Mrs. Edward Krestan, Jr. of Oak Forest, Ill., who really enjoy our lovely beach and the marvelous shelling.

Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Cannon of Galesburg, Ill., who also took advantage of our beautiful sun and weather, had a very successful fishing trip catching sheepsheads of various size.

Other guest include Mr. & Mrs. Philip Dorian of Asbury Park, N.J.; Mr. Dorian was lucky enough to find a beautiful junonia as was Mrs. Wm. Such, Jr. who also found a very handsome one.

Dr. & Mrs. Rosenthal of New York really love the change of weather from their home town. Other guests basking in the sun are Mr. & Mrs. Robert Cushman of New York; Mr. & Mrs. Menett of Miami; and Mr. & Mrs. James Mollenaur of Somerville, N.J.

Mr. & Mrs. Raymond Moore and daughter of Bellmore, New York are enjoying shelling and fishing.

Here for Valentine's Day were Mr. & Mrs. Tom McDermott, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. & Mrs. Louis Larson and children of Jamestown, N.Y.; Mr. & Mrs. Charles Wood from Williston, Vt., Mr. & Mrs. John Gillespie, Canfield, Ohio; Mr. & Mrs. John Campbell of Delaware, Dr. & Mrs. S. Jacobsen of Brooklyn, N.Y.; Mr. & Mrs. Walter Ken, Elmhurst, N.Y.; and Mr. & Mrs. D. R. Johnson of Wyckoff, N.J.

Mr. & Mrs. Goldman of Ft. Lauderdale are enjoying the pool and shelling and Mr. & Mrs. Richard Hougen from Berea, Ky., are soaking up some sun and getting plenty of rest and relaxation.

Mr. & Mrs. George Scheetz and family from Fort Washington, Pa., are here for R&R as are Mr. & Mrs. Louis Green of Bricktown, N.J., and Mr. & Mrs. Ireland of Toronto, Canada.

Mr. & Mrs. Abbot Byfield are here for an extended stay to do some shelling and get plenty of rest.

Dr. & Mrs. James Jensen from Stillwater, Minn., are really soaking up the sun before having to return to the snowy north and Mrs. Lillian Morrill is here with us for her winter stay and is doing some beautiful shelling and getting a lovely tan.

Sanibel does have its calling card! Mr. & Mrs. H. Welles Steane of Booth Bay Harbor, Maine, decided against going to Hawaii to prolong their stay here at the Surfrider. They are having lots of luck shelling and have really collected a lot of nice specimens. They are both really getting the sun; we think they must have some Seminole in them.

Mrs. Morton Atkinson and granddaughter from Philadelphia are enjoying the quiet and the marvelous shelling. Also doing well in that department are Mr. & Mrs. John Myers of Collingswood, N.J.; Mr. & Mrs. R. Wentworth of Wells, Maine; Mr. & Mrs. Ward, Decatur, Ill.; and Mr. & Mrs. John Shields of Cincinnati.

Dr. & Mrs. Long of Alexandria, Va., say they have found the ideal place to rest and enjoy the sun. We have three fine couples from Quebec; Mr. & Mrs. Laurent Maltas, Mr. & Mrs. Fernand Gaudreault, and Mr. & Mrs. Jay Perron who are all amazed at the quietness and tranquility of the islands.

Mr. & Mrs. Stephen Harrison from Short Hills, N.J., are enthralled with the sunshine and shells.

TARPON BAY MARINA

Letter To The Editor

To The Islander:

The population density ordinance recently recommended for Sanibel and Captiva by Commissioners Shirey and Daniels is completely unacceptable. Based on figures submitted by attorneys representing the developers of Captain's Walk, Jamestown-Beachview and a handful of mostly off-island property owners, this ordinance, if enacted, could result in a city of 100,000 people on our islands which is many times the density of our most populous state, Rhode Island. Where, then our "special scenic area?"

Please write your objections to the Chairman, Lee County Board of Commissioners, Bruce Scott, at the Lee County Bldg., in Fort Myers, with copies to Commissioners Shirey, Daniels, Sweeney and Hudson. If they are going to pave us over, let's at least go down screaming bloody murder, because that's what it is.

/s/ Elinore Dormer

To The Islander:

A copy of the following letter was sent to the Islander for publication:
Mrs. Dorothy Park
99 Maple Avenue
Hamburg, New York
Dear Mrs. Park:

This is to gratefully acknowledge receipt of a very generous contribution from the residents of the Tradewinds subdivision here on Sanibel Island to the Sanibel Rescue Squad in memory of your late husband, Mr. Ford Park. The members of the Squad and the entire department join in this expression of sincere gratitude. We assure you that the funds shall be used for the procurement of special equipment over and above that normally provided by the tax district. This shall be appropriately noted in our records.

AUDUBON BENEFIT SUCCESS

The Audubon Benefit held Friday evening, Feb. 19, at Casa Ybel was a complete sellout and Mario Hutton and his photo-verses was played with aplomb to a full house. Mr. Hutton displayed his usual charm in his verse descriptions of accompanying slides in gorgeous color, and his six beautiful homes captured the charm and beauty embodied in these island dwellings as expressed by him in his detailed showing of them. Griffing Bancroft, past master at presiding over such occasions, was in his usual suave form.

Over 400 admissions were reported, and the sale of paintings was gratifying, and others were made happy by receiving a number of door prizes donated by local merchants. A more detailed report of the gala event will follow next week.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEWS

Mr. Tom Hutsell has been named as assistant to Mrs. O. E. Roberts at the Chamber of Commerce office at the entry to Sanibel. Mr. Hutsell, originally from Kansas City, Mo., has been a visitor to the islands for 20 years, and last year, he and Mrs. Hutsell purchased a lovely home in Shell Harbor and came down to retire. Mr. Hutsell had been affiliated with Western Auto Supply Co. for 25 years as Director of Training before his retirement. "You just can't retire. I would never be happy just doing nothing," said Hutsell. Mrs. Hutsell is busy with household chores and is also an avid sheller and found a lovely junonia the other day, her first in all these years of shelling. Mrs. Roberts is delighted to have such an industrious helper. Her son and daughter-in-law have been visiting the Roberts'. Mrs. John Roberts found a nice scotch bonnet while shelling in the Tarpon Bay area to take back north with her.

The Chamber has some very nice brochures to offer visitors and some interesting reading for some of us old timers too.

LOCAL GROUP PLANS

TOUR TO SOUTHERN SPAIN

Area residents and visitors whose travels have included Portugal and Spain in 1967, Greece, Rome, London in 1968, Yugoslavia, 1969 and Germany and Austria in 1970, will again visit Spain this Fall.

Bill MacIntosh, organizer of the tours, who travels with the group as tour conductor, announces the itinerary as follows:

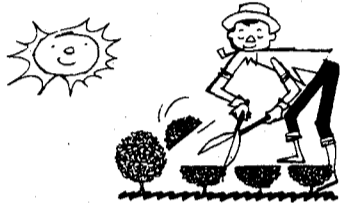

Depart New York for Madrid via TWA on Sept. 8. Several days will be spent in Madrid and will include a full day side trip to Toledo.

From Madrid the group will journey south by private motor coach to Cordoba, Sevilla, Granada, Alicante, Valencia, Barcelona, Palma de Mallorca

"We are not trying to see too much," Mr. MacIntosh explained, "which is possibly the principal reason these tours have been so successful."

Three nights will be spent in Madrid, in Barcelona and in Palma, and two nights in each of the other places mentioned.

The total length of the tour is 22 days. Cape Coral Travel will again be in charge of the airline reservations and ticketing.

THE ISLAND GARDENER

When azaleas begin to bloom, be on the lookout for one of the most devastating pathogens around that infects the flowers. For if not controlled, your beautiful azalea blossoms will be one slick, slimey mess according to the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association (FNGA). The problem is known as petal blight. Little seeds or spores fall on the petals of your azaleas and begin to produce a wet, water soaked azalea. You can prevent this blight by spraying with zineb once a week during the blooming season. Keep the blossoms thoroughly covered to prevent infection.

With spring approaching, plans begin to break dormancy and push out new growth to aphids. Aphids are small insects that can be easily transported by wind, ants, and other insects. They have a sucking mouth part which is inserted into the young, tender leaves. As the aphid feeds, the new growth is distorted, curled, and usually unsightly. The aphid can cause extensive damage to plants because of its feeding and creating a leaf that does not produce food for the plant. Aphids multiply rapidly but can be controlled by repeated applications of malathion at weekly intervals.

THE ISLAND CHEF

SEAFOOD STEW

1/2 clove garlic, chopped
Pinch red pepper
1/2 onion, chopped
2 Tbsp. olive oil
1 cup water
1/8 squid, skinned, cleaned and cut in small pieces (optional)
1/4 cup dry white wine
1 tsp. tomato paste
1/4 tsp. salt
1/8 lb. (2 oz.) shelled, deveined raw shrimp, chopped
1/4 lb. redfish
1/8 lb. (2 oz.) scallops, cut in small pieces
1/8 lb. (2 oz.) grouper, cut in small pieces

In medium saucepan, saute the garlic, red pepper and onions in olive oil until the onions are delicately colored. Add water and bring to a boil. Add the squid, cover, and cook over a low flame for 30 minutes (or until the squid is tender.) Add the wine and bring to boil. Boil for 15 minutes. Add the tomato paste and salt and cook for 5 minutes. Add the shrimp, the redfish, the scallops and the grouper; cook 15 minutes longer.

MAKING TRACKS with Sandy

Friday is one day of the week when I really wrestle with my conscience. I wrestle with it because I'm supposed to cut down on sweets and this is the day Jack (Island Bakery Jack) bakes those simply divine chocolate eclairs! So all the way there and all the way home the old conscience fights a losing battle and I tell myself that NEXT WEEK I won't buy any -- but next week never comes. As I close my eyes and bite into the chocolate covered crispy exterior and the smooth custardy interior I know this must be heaven on earth, and give Mr. Conscience a final left to the jaw! Jack is very clever; on other days, too, he opens the bright, shiny red front door of the bakery and lets the marvelous oven fragrances draw you in like a magnate and your dessert problems are at an end. Homemade breads, too, and jellies, all so delicious, I can hardly stand to even write about them. So I'm on my way again to say to Doris at the counter, "I'll take this, and this, and that, and those!"

One day not long ago, I drove over to the Sanibel Marina, as I often do, to watch boats come and go because I'm a lover of boats and this is the way I get my kicks. On this special day I hit the jackpot. Believe it or not, there tied to the dock was a white sleek and shining yacht. I suppose it was small as yachts go but it was just right for me, thank you, as it doesn't take much to please me. She was just snooty enough to make all the other boats around want to hide behind palm trees for she was strictly upper-crust and social register. If you stand and ooh and aah long enough, someone on board is bound to invite you in for a tour, which is what happened to me, and I was fascinated in seeing how the other third lives. On my way out the Captain said, "Want to buy her?" and without hesitation I gave an answer that even Bennet Cerf would have envied. I said, "No thanks, I'm just window shopping."

SANIBEL PROJECT ZONING APPROVED

Zoning for development of more than 100 acres into homesites, apartment buildings, motels and businesses which would support a community of 5,000 persons on Sanibel Island was approved by the County Zoning Board Monday.

The plan, which drew Islanders' protests, passed on a 3 to 2 vote. It still has to be approved before the County Commission which will consider zoning March 6.

The petition was presented for Enrich Trost by George O. Kluttz, a Fort Myers attorney. It would cover land extending from the Gulf to the property line behind Bailey's General Store and east of Tarpon Bay Road to the Casa Ybel Airfield.

Board members Don Thyer and Henry Gladden voting against the zoning and Mrs. Laura Hall, A. T. Kidd and Larry Webb voting for it.

William R. Vines, a Naples consultant hired by Trost to plan the development, said the northern portion of the proposed development would be subdivided into single family homesites and sold to prospective residents. The northern portion lies on the north shore of the Sanibel Slough and would contain about 65 lots arranged along courts with an access Road to Tarpon Bay Road.

The slough is a natural watershed area that extends for several miles across the center portion of the island providing a natural fresh water storage basin.

Vine's plan calls for a pedestrian bridge to a small island in the center of the slough which would remain in its natural state, and on to the southern shore of the slough where the apartment complexes would be built.

Vine's said the number of people in the complex would be determined by the amount of land available for building after dredging work was completed to provide a water storage area in the slough that would keep the water table at 30 inches above mean high tide.

Malcolm Beattie of the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Commission, said he learned from a recent discussion with Trost that the development could have as many as 5,000 residents.

"This is a beautiful plan and layout and would be fine for some other area," Beattie said indicating a large site plan Vines was showing. "But it would be a terrible thing for Sanibel Island."

Beattie showed charts he had prepared showing the amount of auto traffic Sanibel roads can now adequately handle and the impact on the highway network if all the island's multiple family areas were developed. He suggested Trost's petition for additional RU-3 zoning be denied and the development be put in one of the other areas on the island already zoned for such development.

There are about 450 acres zoned for apartments on the island that have not been developed.

Besides inadequate roads, Beattie said the island's water system and sewage disposal system was not adequate to handle such a large development.

"Are you aware that 5,000 people could actually drink the water system dry," he asked. He said Sanibel's present population of permanent residents is now about 1,100 with about 3,500 winter residents.

As an alternate development plan, Beattie showed a development of strictly single family homesites.

PUBLIC SERVICE APPRIVES WATER BILL

The Florida Public Service Commission approved a $14,248 water bill which Pine Island Water Association said was owed it by the Island Water Association for water furnished from 1965 through 1969, to Sanibel and Captiva. Island Water Association attorney, Emmet Anderson, has filed objection to the service Commission decision, but the Pine Island Water Association voted Tuesday to accept the commission examiner's recommendation for payment of the debt in full.

Newton Herrington, Pine Island water board chairman, said he learned only Wednesday that Sanibel and Captiva planned to pay the money only if it would be deposited in an escrow account to update the Pine Island water equipment for improvement of the service to the islands.

Herrington said, "If they repay every penny due on back bills, we will be glad to talk about putting additional money in escrow." Pine Island Association Vice President Frank Clay said, "We lose money on every gallon of water supplied Sanibel and Captiva. At 40 cents per 1,000 gallons, they are not beginning to help pay for depreciation on our system." The Pine Island water system valued at more than $1 million is amortized over a 40 year period. Loan payments are approximately $55,000 per year. Pine Island water officials admit that they did not study the Sanibel water contract too carefully when it was drawn up in 1965, and that they underestimated the share Sanibel and Captiva should be paying to make it an equitable agreement.

Now Clay claims that Sanibel and Captiva want to reduce future rates in addition to holding up payment on back bills.

The Island Water Association says it is losing money on the water service. Islanders are charged $11 for the first 7,000 gallons which Pine Island sells them for $6.

The Public Service Commission report recommends an investigation into the water rates charged by both associations to determine how much would be equitable to both companies and give Pine Island a fair return from Sanibel and Captiva.

PTA BAKE SALE

The Sanibel Elementary School PTA will hold its annual bake sale March 27, 9 to 6, in front of Bailey's General Store in conjunction with a flea market.

Everyone is invited to participate by exhibiting their fleas whether they be old things or new things, so reserve your table space now. The proceeds of the table rental will go to the school PTA.

All those interested exhibitors should call Mrs. C. Daniels, 472-1617, between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Beginning Tuesday, March 2, the Captiva Memorial Library will present another exhibit which it feels will be of special interest to the Island visitors. This will be a group of drawings and watercolors of birds seen on Captiva and Sanibel by Sarita Van Vleck.

Miss Van Vleck developed a keen interest in wildlife while engaged in archaeological field work on the Mississippi flood plain in southern Illinois.

Shortly after graduating from Vassar she joined the staff of the American Museum of Natural History in New York City, where for three years, she coordinated efforts between the Department of Exhibition and Graphic Arts and the Bird Department. During this time she participated in all phases of the work; research, design, art and label-writing.

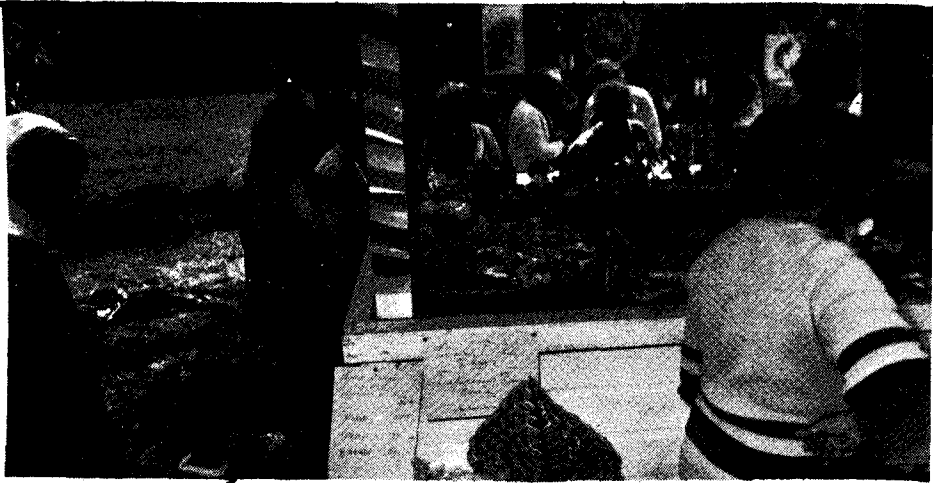

Miss Van Vleck was herpetologist to the 1958 Yale Expedition when it went on a three-month collecting expedition to Haiti. Convinced that killing was not for her she turned instead to the Arts and upon returning to this country she wrote "Growing Wings," a layman's guide to the annual cycle of bird life. Illustrated by her delightful drawings, the book is based on her research and her own personal observations. She says that the drawings on exhibition were done from life while the book was in progress, each taking about ten seconds to complete.

Miss Van Vleck has a great interest in and concern about our country's ecology. After publishing "Growing Wings," she was engaged as ecology consultant to a city planner and is currently very active in the work of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation.

She is a resident of Captiva and now seeks to combine her writing, drawing, painting and photography in man's endless study of his basic nature.

This exhibit can be viewed from Tuesday, March 2 through Tuesday, March 30 during Library hours at the Captiva Memorial Library, 9 to 12:30, Tuesdays and Fridays.

The Exhibit Wall at the Library is available to Island artists who wish to show their works. For information please contact Mrs. Parker Mills at her home, "The Barnacle," which is located on Gore Drive diagonally across from the Library building.

Through error, a notice appeared in last week's Sanibel-Captiva Islander, advising that a meeting of another organization would be held at the Sanibel Community House on the night of March 1. Repeat -- this was an error -- no other organization is ever allowed use of the building during Sanibel Shell Fair Week.

ordinance, at which the public and the Planning Board will be able to present their views on the subject.

Whatever action is taken by the full Board at that time, there will then be a future hearing, after public advertising, on the ordinance resulting from the preliminary hearing.

The Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board has spent a great deal of time and study on this matter, and it will vigorously oppose the use of the figures recommended by the subcommittee.

The annual meeting of the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board has been postponed from March 1 to March 8. It will be held in the Community Building in Sanibel at 8 p.m. on March 8. All interested parties are urged to attend.

SHOW AT FINE ART INTERNATIONAL

Maria C. J. Veling, Dutch artist in the highest tradition of the old Dutch masters, considered by many the modern Vermeer is now proud to be an American and America proud of having her. Fine Arts International considers it a great privilege to represent exclusively this truly great artist. Perhaps the best way to justify the pride is by way of some brief quotations from enthusiastic newspaper and magazine articles and by highly respected art critics published in the American and foreign press.

The New York Times... "Academic elegance characterizes the works of Maria Veling."

The Journal... "Maria Veling transfers the vibrant hues of flowers to canvas with a subtle interplay of tones which are exquisite. Her figure studies show the muscle and bone structure of the academic portrait rather than the shapeless sopiness of the average modernist."

Herald Tribune... "Maria Veling's Spring Flowers is a still life of incredibly beautiful detail."

Park East... "Maria Veling exhibits her meticulously rendered still life like the old masters of the Dutch school of genre painting especially Vermeer. Mrs. Veling is incredibly skillful in catching the tactile and visual. The delicacy and precision of the artist's craftsmanship only enhances her well-composed, contemplative paintings and demonstrates that a loving and careful eye perceives much more than the surface of things."

France-Amerique... "L'amour des textures est evident chez elle: un chape, un tapis d'Orient servent de fond decoratif a des arrangements floraux qui ont ete concus autant pour la variete de leur coloris que pour leurs effets de composition."

Pictures on Exhibit Magazine... "Maria J. Veling, educated in Holland, paints textures of cloth, metal and blossoms with loving devotion to tactile reality and a high order of academic precision without static immobility."

Maria Veling's debut in the U.S.A. made headlines in "De Telegraaf" of Feb. 24, 1961, Amerstam's widely read newspaper and "Music and Arts" magazine contained a number of feature articles about Maria Veling's outstanding works. Here is an interesting quotation:

"Madame Maria C. J. Veling, a painter of European origin and training is a bright addition to the American art scene. Traditions that are centuries old and art marked in the works of the Dutch Masters, sparkle anew in modern subject matter under Madame's capable brushes. Her flower compositions combined with antique Dutch potteries, iron and brass are of breathtaking beauty. Madame's paintings are a joy to the garden club members showing a full range of varieties of jonquils, daffs, narcissi, as well as bursts of tulps and textures and depths of painted favorites. Her works include academic studies, superb, almost stupendous draftmanship of an academic training such as Americans rarely see, much less are forced to learn by contemporary study, in the arts of drawing and painting in all mediums."

Mrs. Veling, called a specialist in textures and color, many times called the modern "Vermeer," her works include portraits, flowers, landscapes and still lifes while a new field of beauty opened up to her in her new permanent Florida home: Florida shells, fans, corals, driftwood and tropical flowers.

ISLAND INN

The John P. Stedmans of Lumberton, N.C., are enjoying strolling and sunning on the beach. Mr. & Mrs. W. T. Porter of Louisville, Ky., has joined his brother and wife, the Howard Porters for a reunion here. Mr. C. Vincent Henry of Lebanon, Pa., too is enjoying a little winter vacation. Mr. & Mrs. Robert Harger of Westfield, N.J., joined Mrs. William B. Kelly of Akron, Ohio. Mrs. Harger is Mrs. Kelly's favorite niece.

Also enjoying the Gulf air are Dr. & Mrs. Harte Crow of Philadelphia, Pa., the Hamilton C. Smiths of Seacliff, N.Y., the Robert A. Greillings of Centerport, Long Island, N.Y., and Mrs. John E. Alexander of St. Paul, Minn. Dr. & Mrs. David Williams are enjoying a much needed rest from Dr. William's Springfield, Mass., practice. Mr. & Mrs. Thomas N. Vincent of Briarcliff Manor, N.Y., brought their two children who are delighted with the beach and ready to fall back into summer delights there.

Mr. & Mrs. Howard Ives of Cincinnati, Ohio, and the Power Clancys of Cincinnati too have been seen on the beach, trying to gather a little sunshine to take back with them in the form of a tan. The C. E. Masons of Sarasota came down for a bit of quiet on the island. Other visitors from cold northern climates are: Mr. & Mrs. Marshall H. Montgomery of New Caanan, Conn., the Charles Macatees of Huntington, L.I., N.Y., Mr. & Mrs. John de Laitre of Washington, D.C., and Mr. & Mrs. George A. McLaughlin of Minneapolis, Minn.

Mrs. L. B. Webster and her long-time friend, Mrs. Rathbone of Princeton, N.J., traveled together to enjoy a little summer in winter weather, and so did old friends, Mr. J. Lantz and Mrs. R. Agee from Lincoln, Neb. Col. & Mrs. M. T. Bibbitt of New Haven, Conn., brought Mrs. Le Grand Cannon, Jr. along for enjoyable company too.

Miss A. Tuesdell and Miss Van Dusen of Minneapolis make a charming twosome on the beach, and from not so far away, are the L. Shutz of Tampa and the D. J. Richardsons of Norcross, Ga.

JAMES ROSS MAYER

James Ross Mayer, 55, died Saturday evening. He was real estate broker-owner of Ross Mayer Real Estate on Sanibel. He had lived in the area for the past 12 years. He was active in real estate and was a member of the Fort Myers Board of Realtors, Beach Board of Realtors, member of the Lions Club, Sanibel and the Sanibel Chamber of Commerce.

Surviving besides his widow, Mrs. Catherine Mayer are three daughters, Mrs. E. Allin Pickford, Jr., of Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Allen Hall of Fort Myers and Mrs. Alan Pariapiano of North Palm Beach; son, James Joseph Mayer of Fort Myers; brother, Sherwin Mayer of Fort Myers; three sisters, Mrs. K. T. Guyer of Erie, Pa., Mrs. L. E. Symroski of Sanibel and Mrs. Robert Dormer of Sanibel.

SANIBEL-CAPTIVA SHELL CLUB

The third meeting of the Sanibel-Captiva Shell Club got off to a good start on Feb. 17 when Mario Hutton gave the premiere presentation of his photoverse, "Beyond Beauty" as an opener, or should we say "appetizer!" This was a brief but beautiful and moving plea against the indiscriminate collection of live shells.

Jean Cate gave one of her inimitable illustrated talks, this one a most informative discussion of the Angel Wing, from the description of the shell and the animal, to instructions for digging and cleaning.

The feature speaker of the evening, Peter Dance of the National Museum in Cardiff, Wales, presented a very interesting history of shell books and the men who have compiled them, from the earliest 18th century book to those of the present time. Mr. Dance, who is in this country for a six week's visit is the guest of Jean and Crawford Cate, and will be judging the Sanibel Shell Fair in March.

The next meeting of the Shell Club will be held at the Captiva Community Center on March 17, and another interesting and informative program has been planned.

SCHOOL NEWS

Miss Catherine Wooley, author of some 70 children's books, writing under the pseudonym of Jane Thayer, spoke to the children at the Sanibel Elementary School on Friday at 1:30.

She gave an amusing talk on the various books she has authored, and Miss Wooley, who loves children and understands them, had an enthusiastic audience.

At the PTA meeting held at the school last week, it was decided to hold a Bake Sale and Flea Market toward the end of March to enrich the fund for various projects. Donations and contributions will be gladly accepted for the baked goodies.

The Flea Market will be on a concession basis, and persons having goods to sell at the market are asked to call the school for space reservations. The space will be sold and allotted on a first come, first serve basis.

The fifth and sixth grades are continuing their cookie and candy sale, as soon as a new shipment arrives. They were so successful, they sold out the first order. Proceeds from these sales go toward their planned trip to the Cape Kennedy Space Center in late April or May. If you have a sweet tooth, and who doesn't, contact one of these children, as the goodies they sell are very good and well worth the investment, and help a happy cause.

Sanibel Island on the Gulf is not for everyone. Happily.

The ultimate in serene island living is found on Sanibel Island... in a SUNSET SOUTH CONDOMINIUM. Each garden apartment (only 4 to a building) offers over 2,000 square feet of living space plus Gulf-view loggia. Priced from $44,500 with private garage and hobby room.

Enjoy the unparalleled beauty of Sanibel, right on the fabulous Gulf of Mexico. Only 14 buildings limits occupancy to a select few: Club house, heated pool, and your own magnificent beach. An adjoining Golf Course is now being built.

APPLE OF HIS EYE

A tender love story, a very human tale with lots of laughs and a relaxed atmosphere that will take you back to the days when life was much simpler and a great deal of fun; that is "Apple Of His Eye" which will be seen on Saturday night, February 27, at the Pirate Playhouse. Hosts for the evening will be Robin and Gene Karr, both of whom have appeared in Pirate Playhouse productions in past seasons.

The cast for "Apple Of His Eye" includes Ted Fonda, Elaine Patton, Reason Goodwin, Jo Neff, Bill Bates, Yvonne Nave, Duane White, Karen Kemle and Ruth and Philip Hunter.

Curtain is at 8:15. Box office phone, 472-1692.

THE REEF

The Reef is again full of guests from all over the U.S. Returning guests include, Mr. & Mrs. Fran Jurcic, Gary, Ind.; Frank has landed his first 8 lb. snook; Mr. & Mrs. Richard Steinman, Mequon, Wis., and Lynn has found a lion's paw; Mr. & Mrs. Donald Rath of York, Maine; Mr. & Mrs. G. C. Finneran of Hinsdale, Ill.; Miss Emily and Mrs. Emma Kroog, New York City; the Fred Bensemans, Riverside, Ill.; the J. W. Pagnuccos of Cincinnati, Ohio, and the C. A. W. Horr from Alexandria Bay, N.Y. are among the newcomers.

FORT MYERS BEACH

SHRIMP FESTIVAL ENDS

The last days of the Fort Myers Beach Shrimp Festival Gala will be ending on Sunday. On Thursday, (today), there is a strolling flower show in the Bigelow Shopping Center starting at 10 a.m. A ceramic display and rummage sale will be in swing at the Shrine Club, a Shell Club exhibit at the Moss Marina, Arts and Crafts Exhibit at the Woman's Club on Sterling Street, and Shrimp dinners at the American Legion.

Friday, the Shell Exhibit and the Legion dinners will be in progress again.

Saturday, there will be a cake sale along with the ceramic display at the Shrine Club and at 10 a.m., the Festival parade begins.

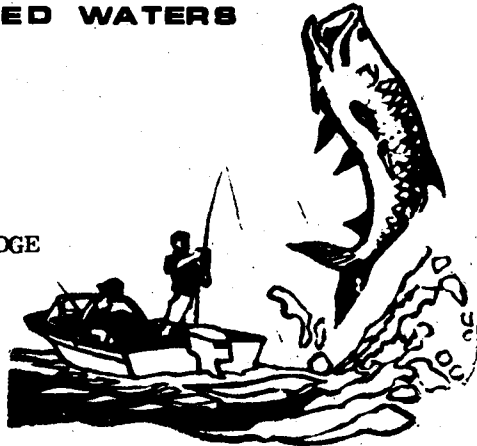

At 3:30 on Sunday afternoon, the colorful and traditional Blessing of the Shrimp Fleet takes place at the County Park, but prior to that a sale of delicious shrimp rolls for lunch will be featured. Then later a barbecue rib dinner is offered at the VFW home. If you plan to attend any of these worthwhile events, allow yourself plenty of time and patience, due to the traffic problems involved.

RICHARD FRIDAY NAMED FOR WHO'S WHO

Richard Friday, son-in-law of the Herbert Purdys of Segunda, and student at Edison Junior College, was named for the 1971 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges." Selection is made on the basis of scholarship, citizenship, participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities. Fifteen others were named from Edison Junior College also. Richard lives at Segunda with his wife and baby.

SNOOK APARTMENTS

Mrs. Charles Williams of Annapolis, Md., found a lovely golden olive in an early morning stroll on the beach. Mrs. Bernice Bantle has brought with her on her return visit to the Islands her three sisters from Glastonbury, Conn., and is introducing them to shelling and all the other island activities. Mrs. Hugh Mc Namee, another avid sheller, found two nutmegs. Mr. & Mrs. Carroll Goodell of Kenne, N.H., left very cold and snowy weather for their annual winter visit here, and the H. Trumbors of York, Pa., find the southern clime better to their liking this time of year and hope spring cannot be far behind on their return next month.

BUSYBODY

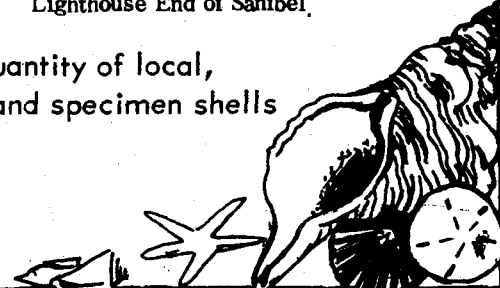

"Busybody," which will be presented at the Pirate Playhouse on Sunday, Feb. 28 at 8:15 is a hilarious comedy mystery. It was a big hit in London, England where it was first performed at the Duke of York's Theatre on the 9th of December, 1964.

Ruth and Philip Hunter, producers of the Pirate Playhouse, are proud of the outstanding cast they have assembled for "Busybody," which in addition to themselves, includes Charlotte White, Grace Whitehead, and Judy Burner, as well as Roy Bazire, Don Whitehead and Duane White.

If you want laughs and thrills you'll find them aplenty in "Busybody," Sunday, February 28, Curtain, 8:15. Box office, phone 472-1692.

AUDUBON PROGRAM

Miss Dorcas Brigham, noted botanist of Mount Dora, who taught horticulture at Smith College for 24 years, spoke on "Wild Flowers of Florida" at the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon Society meeting on Thursday night at the Sanibel Community House. Miss Dorcas, who spent several years after a rewarding teaching career, spiritually, that is, managed successfully a plant nursery. Her program held special appeal for all interested in preserving Florida's wild plants and flowers. As usual, the program was open to the public, and a goodly group of both members of the Audubon and visitors attended.

SHELL FAIR ART EXHIBIT

Sanibel and Captiva artists are invited to exhibit paintings during the Shell Fair at the Sanibel Community House on March 4, 5 and 6. Because of limited space only two works can be accepted from each artist. No entry fee will be charged, but each exhibitor is expected to donate a small picture for the clothes line sale. These pictures will be sold for $10 each. Proceeds from this sale, and 15% commission for other work sold will be donated to the Community Association. Paintings will be taken in at night and all reasonable care will be given the entries but the Sanibel Community Association cannot assume any responsibility for loss or damage to any work submitted. All work should be delivered to the Community House, ready to hang, on Wednesday, March 3 between the hours of 2 p.m. and 4 p.m., and picked up at 3 p.m. on Saturday, March 6.

BOBBY VERNON

Fans who remember popular Bobby Vernon's appearances at the Golden Sands Restaurant will be interested in hearing about his current engagement. Mr. Vernon is appearing at Walker's Cay Club in the Bahamas. The resort is owned and operated by New York Industrialist Robert H. Abplanalp, who also has a private estate on nearby Grand Cay. Among weekend guests at Grand Cay were President Nixon, Secretary of State

William P. Rogers and Bebe Rebozo. While Mr. Nixon remained behind on Grand Cay to work on his State of the World message, Secretary Rogers and Mr. Rebozo joined Abplanalp for a brief visit to the Walker's Cay Club. Entertainment for the casual evening was provided, of course, by versatile singer-guitarist Vernon, who received an excellent reception from the entire audience, including the dignitaries.
