AUDUBON ANNUAL OUTING

The first annual outing of the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon Society was held on April 6 aboard the Blue Heron II, out of Fort Myers Beach. A capacity attendance of 49 members and their friends enjoyed a full day of leisurely cruising and fishing in the Gulf of Mexico under ideal weather conditions.

All participants, ranging in age from 7 year old Al Kobitz to 82 year young Uncle Clarence Rutland, contributed to the congenial, relaxed and friendliest atmosphere that made the gathering a most successful occasion, that it is hoped will become a welcome tradition in future years.

Although the fishing was not as excellent as the previous day, several anglers managed to haul in a fair number of medium sized red grouper, plus a sprinkling of lane snapper and grunts. One of the highlights of the day was the announcement by President Mario Hutton that the Chapter's board has unanimously decided that the local chapter, already a life member of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, will make a further contribution of one thousand dollars to the current fund raising campaign of the Foundation. The fund will also benefit from a generous share of the 45 dollar daily jackpot, contributed by its winner Mr. Roderick Jones of Lighthouse Way. All told, a most rewarding memory for all attending!

SANIBEL-CAPTIVA CONSERVATION

FOUNDATION NEWS

Action by the State of Florida to obtain $400,000 in federal funds from the Land and Water Conservation program of the U. S. Dept. of the Interior for acquisition of lands to be included in the Sanibel Fresh Water Wetlands project is expected this month, Mr. Ney Landrum, Director of the Division of Recreation and Parks has reported to the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation.

This will match land gifts in that amount by The Nature Conservancy, National Audubon Society and the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation. The local foundation is in the midst of a fund raising campaign to obtain $300,000 to purchase lands that will complete the $400,000 share of the private conservation coalition for the first phase of the project.

It will also provide $100,000 to $200,000, depending upon the success of the campaign, towards the proposed $800,000 second phase of the federal-state-private conservation project. The cooperative effort is a pace-setter, first of its kind in Florida, and believed to be a first in the nation. Initial application was filed Feb. 1971, but its provision for County participation with lease arrangement to the private conservation groups was ruled illegal by federal attorneys. Then followed a long exploration for an acceptable new method, not settled until early this year.

Two challenge gifts of $50,000 and $10,000 have been met by the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation in its fund raising campaign to obtain a total of $300,000 for land acquisition for the Sanibel Fresh Water Wetlands project.

The $50,000 pledge gift to The Nature Conservancy required the local organization to match it dollar for dollar. The entire amount, raised locally from more than 300 donors, has been sent to the Arlington, Va., main office of The Nature Conservancy, and the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation has just been advised the $50,000 pledge is being transferred by the donor. This will provide the first major uncommitted funds actually available to spend for new land acquisition. Negotiations have already been initiated for the purchase of additional tracts in the interior of Sanibel.

The $10,000 pledge gift was made contingent upon the Foundation raising at least $20,000 in gifts of $5,000 or more from private individuals. Five $5,000 pledges have been made, assuring the Foundation of another $35,000 in land acquisition funds.

By April 1, two-thirds of the way in the February through April campaign, the Foundation had achieved two-thirds of its objectives in funds raised and new memberships signed up. Mrs. Leigh Bair is chairman of the membership drive. Mrs. George Winterbotham for Sanibel and Mr. Erard Matthiessen and Mrs. Martin L. Cannon for Captiva are in charge of the Special Gifts Division. Final report will be made in May.

Two small parcels of land located between Fulgur Street and the Gulf of Mexico on Sanibel Island have been in a $630,000 transaction completed here last week.

In the transaction, Investment Dynamics Inc., which is owned by a beachfront which was developed into commercial lots a few years ago by Jamestown-Beachview Inc. and sold to investment groups. The two parcels are

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

Fairly new residents on the islands, after some years of intimate acquaintance with same, are Mr. & Mrs. C. WILMER HEERY, who have completed and moved into their lovely new home in Tahiti Shores. Visiting them are son and daughter-in-law, Mr. & Mrs. GEORGE HEERY and boys, NEAL and GEORGE. All was going along well with the boys on their Easter vacation until George, Jr. popped out with chicken pox! Neal has already been that road and so doesn't have to worry. But George is getting so well, he is hard to keep down. "He'll probably get well in time to go back to school when we get back," said Neal disgustedly.

Mrs. LOUISE SCHWARTZ, former island resident and now living in Valois, N.Y., has returned with some of that island sand in her shoes and is visiting friends here and there. Last week, she visited with LEE FRADY, much to Lee's delight!

Other new island residents are ROLAND and MARY RADFORD, who bought the Funk Cottages, Gulf Breeze. Mr. Radford has been a Miami fireman for some 16 years, but was persuaded to give up the frantic life in Miami and retire to Sanibel. Three daughters, ROLINDA, CONCETTA and MARY JANE complete the family group.

Mr. & Mrs. HAROLD De CAMP of Dayton, Ohio, report that the Easter bunny came to them at the Jolly Roger, complete with baskets of eggs for sons, BILL, BRAD and BRIAN, and a happy time was had by all, since they were afraid the bunny would not know they were here instead of at home.

PATRICK DORMER entertained his friends from school at their annual Sanibel outing on Friday. Thirty-one children and ten teachers and aides from the Riverside School for Retarded Children gathered to picnic and swim at his home on San Carlos Bay. These children represented roughly the kindergarten and first grade levels and although some of them cannot walk without help and others cannot speak, all joined in joyously and a good time was had by all.

Mr. & Mrs. DONALD WHITE and family of Williamsville, N.Y., have been vacationing at Castaways. Mrs. White's sister and husband, Mr. & Mrs. BARRY WOOD, with their family and also from Williamsville, N.Y., are here too. Friend of both of these couples, Mr. & Mrs. LOMBARD, also from Williamsville, joined the group. All three couples have made reservations for the coming year. They can't understand how short the days are here as there is so much to do and every day something new -- fishing, shelling, crabbing, boat riding -- a wonderful island!

Hi-Tide guests, WM. D. WILSON and CRAIG PESUIT, with their sons, had a grand day aboard the charter Skiff Wet Pants last week before the blow. Capt. DICK FRIEMAN dredged in the bay and Gulf (they fished both, too) and LaCosta provided the perfect spot for a picnic lunch.

THAYER-DROWNE WED

Mrs. George A. Thayer of Dorchester, N.H., and Norwich, Vermont, and Mr. George P. Drowne of Norwich, Vermont and Agunquit, Maine, were married on April 12, 1972. Dr. Arthur Kinsolving conducted the service at the Chapel by the Sea.

A reception followed at the Captiva Community Center. Mr. & Mrs. Peter P. Drowne and their children of Belmont, California, are here for their parent's wedding.

SANIBEL-CAPTIVA SHELL CLUB

The Sanibel-Captiva Shell Club will hold the final meeting of the 1971-72 season at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, April 19, at the Captiva Community Center.

The program of the evening will be a Shellecure entitled "What is a Fossil?" by Doctors Emily and Harold Vokes.

Almost a complete course in paleontology for the layman, this program explains and illustrates many facets of the study of fossils of all kinds. Florida fossil shells are shown, along with hand hints on collecting fossils everywhere.

This is an easy-to-understand program, excellent for the beginning fossil collector.

COVERED DISH DINNER

New members of the Sanibel Community Church will be honored at a covered dish dinner on April 20 at 6:30 p.m. at the Sanibel Community House. Members of the Ladies Guild will provide the food, each member being asked to bring one vegetable and a salad or dessert.

Thirty-six new members have joined the church during the past year. All members and friends of the church are most cordially invited to come and welcome the newest members. During the evening the new officers of the Guild will be installed in a short ceremony.

Dr. & Mrs. R. W. Pollack and son Bill and daughter Barbara of Midland, Mich., have been enjoying themselves on the beach and in the pool. Dr. Pollack's aunt, Mrs. Violet Knowles, came down for Bill's 11th birthday which was celebrated with candles and ice cream.

Mr. & Mrs. Charles V. Owens and children from Elkhart, Ind., are here for a vacation, and they were joined by Mrs. Owens' parents, Mr. & Mrs. Lloyd Kreighbaum of New Port Richey. Also in the party is French foreign student Miss Catherine Royer from Paris and Miss Cheryl Van Camp, and these attractive girls have created quite a furor on the beach with the local youths, who have admired them from afar. Dr. & Mrs. Josh Jensen of St. Louis, Mo., and daughter are here too, and they brought their house guest, Miss Laura Deck from Indianapolis. Mr. & Mrs. William C. Hurst and family are here from Indianapolis to enjoy the warm weather and keep wishing they could take some back with them.

From Benton Harbor, Mich., are Mr. & Mrs. John H. Platts and three lovely daughters, Pollu, Pam and Missy, who have been rating glances from girl watchers on the beach.

Mr. & Mrs. William Patterson, who have been on the island since January, took a trip to Bimini before their return home to Farmington, Mich.

Other Michigan visitors are Mr. & Mrs. Thomas Johnson and children of Kalamazoo, and the William Paces from Saginaw.

Return visitors from Bound Brook, N.J., are Dr. & Mrs. Marion Zatz and children. Guests from Illinois are Mr. & Mrs. Anthony Tesla and daughter of Lombard, who are here on a return visit. Mr. & Mrs. Tom Flanagan and daughter Donna are here on a return trip from Park Ridge, and from Batavia are Mr. & Mrs. John J. Lescovic and children who have been enjoying the pool, beach and sun. Mr. & Mrs. Alex Andros and children are here for some rest from Glen Ellen. Dr. & Mrs. R. Hoover and children are enjoying the beach too. They hail from Freeport, Ill. There are many children on the islands who will be having to return to school this week, as many northern states have enjoyed a long Easter vacation, but the children will have to make up this time by attending school until almost the end of June.

Among this group are the Jorgenson children whose parents are Mr. & Mrs. Christian L. Jorgenson of Northbrook, Ill., and the children of Mr. & Mrs. K. Wilder of Barrington, Ill.

Guests have been lucky shellers too. Mr. Jimmy Catto of Port Credit, Ont., found a perfect 3 1/2 inch junonia on Captiva beach, and his daughter Joanne found an unusually large and beautiful lady's ear with brown markings. The young Cattos were accompanied home by Jimmy's parents, the James Catto seniors, who have been here for some time.

Mr. & Mrs. Denslow Dade of White Plains, N.Y., must give up the leisurely beach life to return to the north, too. Mr. & Mrs. Fred Herbolzheimer, Jr. of Appleton, Wis., are here for a return visit. Fred will rest while wife Phyllis shells.

Mr. & Mrs. R. Flindall are here for some rest and relaxation, all the way from Kimpton, Ont., Canada. Mrs. Cornelius C. Winslow of Rochester, N.Y., and her friend, Mrs. Lyman K. Stuart of Newark, N.Y., are enjoying shelling too. From Weston, Mass., are the Mike Zebs. Visiting the William Pattersons are Mr. & Mrs. Wesley Coon of Bellair Beach, Fla. The Misses L. Diesing and D. Burn are here from Chestnut Hill, Mass., and the Earl Granges and baby are here from Palos Park, Ill.

Mr. & Mrs. C. S. Fielding from Wiggsville, N.Y., are here for some rest and sunshine as are Mr. & Mrs. Joseph A. Cutcliff of Hyde Park, Mass.

WILDLIFE NOTES by griffing bancroft

This is a story of two little hawks and two girls. The hawks, so far, are nameless. The girls are Shirley Walter and Jessie Dugger who run the store called Fur Feathers and Scales but who seem to spend most of their time exercising their gift of caring for wildlife in distress.

It started this week when, on a bird tour, we went to look at the young hawks. I had been watching them almost every day. Their parents, our resident red-shouldered hawks, had started incubating eggs on Feb. 1.

There is a 28-day incubation period, so the babies now were five weeks old, more than half grown and clearly visible from the ground in their nest high in an Australian pine.

But this morning they were not visible. When we arrived both parents were circling the tree, screaming as they flew. The nest appeared partly blown away, the babies no where in sight.

What had happened? We could only guess. It must have just happened, with the parents still around screaming their distress. There had been no storm, but an airplane had been circling about in the area. We could only conclude it had passed low over the tree and caused the havoc.

Under the tree we found the babies, unhurt and defiant. They lunged at us and screamed. The parents screamed back. The babies could not survive on the ground, what with our population of raccoons, feral house cats and other predators.

There wasn't enough of the nest left to put them in even if we could have made the climb. So we took them to Shirley and Jessie.

They were received with love and tender care. Shirley started cutting up little pieces of meat and with a toothpick shoving them down the young throats. Jessie fixed comfortable quarters.

We looked around this animal hospital. There was a huge great blue heron that I had brought in a few days earlier so weak he was unable to stand. Now he was running about.

There were two pelicans whose wings were healing, a beautiful full grown hawk from Mexico, a little screech owl huddled in a box and other patients all awaiting health and liberation.

As for our baby hawks, they are strong and active and no longer have to be fed by force. Says Jessie, "They are eating like pigs."

COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION MEETS

The Sanibel Community Association at its annual business meeting held at the Community House on Thursday evening received full reports from the Shell Fair Committees. Priscilla Murphy, exhibits chairman, reported there were 142 exhibits entered in competition, and she said that the new category listings had proved very popular both with exhibitors and judges.

The shell table committee was reported by co-chairman Sylvia Strong, in the absence of chairman, Bob Vartdal. She said that ticket sales on the shell table surpassed all previous sales in other years.

Thanks to organizational work four months prior to the actual Shell Fair, Freda Iurka reported that the Driftwood Shop more than doubled the record of all previous sales.

The Food Booth activities were reported by Harry Borchers who noted that this activity had record sales also.

Marshall Tobagi reported on parking and traffic handling. The first day of the Fair, over 1600 cars were parked, necessitating closure of the parking lot five times to await more spaces. Mr. Tobagi was congratulated on his successful handling of the difficult job.

The House and Grounds Committee report was given by Chairman Paul Mamet, who noted the extensive repairs to the Community House which had to be made in the water system, electrical and sanitation departments, plus the installation of a new public address system.

The program committee chairman, John Shepherd, turned in a very impressive summary of program activities, which showed an increasingly active attendance of the Camera Club, Garden Club, and the Power Squadron.

After the committee reports, the meeting proceeded to the election of officers. Duane White was elected president for the coming year. Other officers elected were: vice president, Paul Mamet; secretary, Freda Iurka; treasurer, Daniel Moore; and new directors, John Shepherd, Sylvia Strong, and Alice MacKenzie were named.

New president, Duane White, announced that the organizational meeting of the new Board of Directors will be held April 17 at the Community House, 7:30 p.m.

Two committee chairmen were announced. Mr. Porter Goss will chair the Island Action Committee, and John Reynolds will chair the Community Activities Committee. "New fresh programs are in the offering for the coming year and will be announced beforehand," said President White.

MARJORY STONEMAN DOUGLAS TALK

Appearing under the auspices of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, on April 3, Marjory Stoneman Douglas, founder and president of the "Friends of the Everglades," spoke at the Sanibel Community House on "The Everglades, South Florida's Future." Mrs. Douglas covered in depth all aspects of a subject that is vital for the survival of the real Florida.

Fascinated by her realistic approach and penetrating analysis of the problems involved, after a brief introduction by Mario Hutton, the audience responded warmly to the speaker's appeal for cooperation, the unerring accuracy of her judgements, and her inimitable sense of humor. Many of those present joined the growing ranks of the Friends of the Everglades, pledging their support to a cause deeply affecting all of us.

BEACHVIEW COTTAGE GUESTS

A warm welcome is being extended to Mr. & Mrs. Gerald Dowdy and family at Beachview. They hail from Birmingham, Mich., and are enjoying a spring vacation. From Elder Mountain, Tenn., are Bic and Mary Bickerstaff who have returned to their winter love, the islands. Mr. & Mrs. John Plouff and six darling children are here from Marionette, Wis., and are proof of the fact that good things often come in numbers, for their children are so well behaved. First time visitors to the island are Mr. & Mrs. Jack Owen of Rocky Hill, N.C., Mr. & Mrs. D. E. Henshaw and their children are here from Dayton, Ohio, and the children are enjoying the freedom of the beach. Dorothy Harris is a lady who really knows how to relax and enjoy island living and she has been teaching her son and daughter-in-law how to unwind too, and they are anticipating an early spring in Pennsylvania before their return, but know there will be a few cold days before the real thing comes along.

As we go to press we learn that Marion Hutton has managed to sandwich the fishing outing between two of his customary jackpot wins. He had won one a few days before the event. Then, only 48 hours after the Audubon trip, he escorted on the Blue Heron seven overflow friends, who had been unable to obtain tickets for Thursday, and -- you guessed it -- Mario caught the $40.00 prize! Asked why he had missed on the big day, he answered, perhaps with tongue in cheek, "That would have been very inconsiderate. However, on Saturday, how could I let one of the many strangers on the boat get away with it?"

Bill Hattfield of Oak Park, Mich., and George Eldred of Rose Island, Mich., hooked into these snook fishing North Captiva, using pin fish for bait.

GULF BREEZE COTTAGES

New owners, Roland and Mary Radford, had their 77 year old aunt, Angeline Oricko, visiting from Bethlehem, Pa., for over a week. She loved the beautiful soft sand tickling her toes.

The Bruce and Norma Taylor clan drove two car loads from Endicott, N.Y. Peter and Ann Azuka of Massapequa, N.Y., along with Grace and Art Goehring of Indiana, Pa., helped keep the 5 o'clock happy hour "happy."

Mr. & Mrs. H. M. Robertson of Troy, Ind., B/Gen. William A. Matheny and wife of Satellite Beach, Fla., plus the cousins from Sun City Center, planned their vacation here for togetherness. Mr. Nine and sister, Mrs. Douglas Borden of Grosse Pointe, Mich., had family unity with their sun fun.
