$$ Needed For Pier

Ralph Woodring, chairman of the Fishing Pier project for the Chamber of Commerce, reports that revised specifications have been sent to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Regional office in Atlanta, Ga., and returned by them with their sanction and approval. And now the County Commissioners have received them also, and hopefully will have the building of the new pier out for bids this week.

The pier is to be built for approximately $20,000, $10,000 of which is to be subscribed by the islands. Anyone wishing to donate any sum of money to this cause or to pledge a sum will be welcomed with open arms by Mr. Don Case, Harbor House Restaurant, Ralph Woodring of the Bait Box, or the Chamber of Commerce.

Ecology Kids

Some Island children have been dying to do their bit for ecology. So Mrs. Arthur Perry has escorted them on a tour of the islands in her station wagon (with a goodly supply of Kool Aid) while they walked toting large plastic bags and filling them with bottles, cans and other refuse strewn by thoughtless people, who are anything but ecology minded. The Perry children, Artie, Jr., Bill, Steve, Michael and toddler Rae Ann spearheaded the operation with able assistance from John Rushworth, Jr.

So far, on their first trek, they picked up four huge bags of refuse on the road from Bailey's to Island Inn, and since then have picked up another five oversize bags of rubbish on the road from Bailey's to the Standard Station. This week they tackled Bowman's Beach, collecting another astonishing amount of debris, and they plan to cover the whole of Periwinkle Road, from one end to the other in their contribution to ecology, and on foot again. These children deserve a great big hand. If you see them on the road with their bags of waste, it would not be amiss to offer them some goodies. Mrs. Perry has them load the bags in the station wagon and then she takes them to the dump. What a summer project! And in all this heat too!

Don't Panic --- They're Testing

Phil Verdung, captain of the Sanibel Fire Department wants all the Islanders to know that the screams of the sirens every Tuesday morning around 11 a.m. do not mean fires; the sirens are undergoing regular tests just to see that all is okay with them.

CO-ED CAMPING IN YOUTH CONSERVATION

This year, boys and girls will be able to attend the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission's Youth
 Conservation Camps. The camps are for children age 8 to 14, and either one or two week camping experiences are offered in August.

Dr. O. E. Frye thought this program would be of real interest to parents not wishing their children to attend separate camps at different times. The two camp areas are located near Ocala and west of Palm Beach. The children attending learn about ecology and environment while enjoying Florida's special outdoor activities, such as swimming, canoeing, fishing, camping, etc. More information may be obtained from Tallahassee or Mr.
 Charles Le Buff on Sanibel.

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

Miss DIANE GUESS was honored at a buffet dinner and cocktail party at PRISCILLA MURPHY'S home on Tuesday, Aug. 1. Miss Guess is leaving the office of Priscilla Murphy Realty, Inc. to do a little traveling. Unwittingly, Priscilla gave this party on her own birthday, so the staff also honored her with a birthday cake and a gift. We think she's 39! A very good time was had by all.

RUTH and WOODY ANDERSON drove up to Orlando Friday to see son CALVIN HYER graduate to Apprentice Seaman from the Naval Training Center, and two prouder parents you will never see. Calvin will go to Pensacola and board the U.S.S. Lexington. This was the largest graduating class so far, and many a mother and father had a lump in their throat. Two other sons are in the services too; one in the Army and one in the Air Force.

BUDDY MURPHY of Captiva has just returned from a visit to the Boston area. He got to see his sisters, brothers, aunts and uncles in a regular round-robin family reunion, and said it wasn't as cold as one might expect. So, welcome home, Buddy!

The islands are fairly jumping with ceramicists. Mr. & Mrs. L. REED, ceramicists of no mean stature, were on the islands this week, sightseeing and visiting old friends of some 16 years, the ROBERT DUGGERS of Sanibel. They were all friends in St. Louis.

And probably one of the most famous ceramicists in the U.S. is traveling incognito on the islands. She is SUE STEPHENS who wrote an article in January's issue of "Arts and Crafts" about Sanibel's shells. Also, she has a prize winning plate she painted pictured in the magazine.

And speaking of shells, you collectors who have rounded up more shells than you can take home, the Community Association will be happy to receive any contributions for this year's Shell Fair. Just leave them on the doorstep of the Sanibel Community House.

The ATLANTIC FLYWAY GROUP, many of whom were biologists and members of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service held their annual convention last week at Island Inn. And many brought their families with them who combined business with pleasure and enjoyed the swimming, fishing and gentle life of the islands.

They met in symposium and discussed such weighty problems as the probable number of migratory ducks and other waterfowl that will be in the area this winter. It is a well known fact that the birds follow a pattern, paralleling rivers, known as the flyway, but of late ribbons of interstate highways have often confused the birds into thinking them to be rivers, and so one may see a pair or group huddling by a roadway in completely unfamiliar territory. We believe we saw two such bewildered roseate spoonbills last March on College Parkway huddling in a ditch near MacGregor Blvd. But we hope they found their way to the Ding Darling Sanctuary where so many are seen at the present time.

The AL MUENCHES and son MARK just returned from a Fort Lauderdale vacation where they tied up their boat at Pier 66. Sounds very busy, but the pier is located in a very quiet spot, near the golf course, and the family spent 1½ months enjoying the sights of Fort Lauderdale and cruising in the Atlantic. All but MISSY MUENCH, who stayed on her beloved Sanibel and had a ball with her friends here. Missy was chosen by Cypress Lake High School to have her biography appear in Merit's Who's Who among High School students, and the book will be published this fall. Only a few are chosen, and scholarship is only one of the criteria used in judging the teenagers. Missy will be a senior this year, and Mark will be in the sophomore class.

SEGUNDA GUESTS

Some wild games of water polo and shuffleboard should be in store this week as we welcome the eight members of the David Cozine family, returning again from Miami; the eleven members of the Irwin Teml party from Berwyn, Ill., and the families of Mr. & Mrs. Arthur Toman of Boca Raton, Mr. & Mrs. Ted Herbert of Tampa, and Mr. & Mrs. Thomas Nation of Owensboro, Ky.

Also with us this week are returning friends, Mr. & Mrs. Henry Pamer of Parma Heights, Ohio; the family of Mr. & Mrs. Robert Rohmann of Satellite Beach, Fla.; and Mr. & Mrs. E. W. Johnson of Pompano Beach. Down from Hagerstown, Md., come Mrs. Shirley Yumlu, her parents and her three children, and from St. Petersburg, Mrs. N. G. Monson and her two sisters.

Other guests of the week include Mrs. Eve Tillman of Piscataway, N.J., the Donald Thomas family of Wildwood, Fla., and Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Rodrique of Manchester, Conn.

THE COLONY GUESTS

Among the guests at The Colony from Florida are: Mr. & Mrs. Philip Kiernan and family from Hollywood; the D. McClintock family of Fort Lauderdale; from Tarpon Springs, the Kimball Spahr family; Mr. & Mrs. Ron Hodges of Fort Lauderdale; Mr. & Mrs. J. J. Simms and family from Sarasota; and the Cecil Taylor family, the R. G. Horan family, the Arturo Weiss family, and Mr. & Mrs. William Thompson, all from Miami.

Out of state guests include Mr. & Mrs. Jack P. Wilson and family from Clemson, S.C.; the Donald Guineys from Kettering, Ohio; Mr. & Mrs. Aaron D. Leitzman and family from Cleveland Heights, Ohio; the Andrew N. Foster, Jr. family from Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. & Mrs. R. L. Gilbert from Lindale, Ga.; the E. O. List family from Dayton, Ohio; Mr. & Mrs. Albert Pastori from Bloomfield Hills, Mich.; the Randall E. Moyle family of Webster Groves, Mo.; from Merchantville, N.J., is Mr. Norman Miller, Jr.; Mr. & Mrs. Sam Pallone and family from Little Rock, Ark.; the E. M. Kimbriel family from Meridian, Miss.; Ms. Grace Ann Powell also from Webster Groves, Mo.; the Ralph L. Bleich family from Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich.; Dr. & Mrs. John E. Grady and family from Lombard, Ill.; and Mr. & Mrs. Jolyon T. Frames and family from Baltimore, Md.

BLIND PASS COTTAGES

Guests at Blind Pass Cottages have been enjoying the perfect swimming, boating and fishing and shelling weather. Mrs. Phyllis Rossiter and family are here for the month of August from Dayton, Ohio. The Jim Bunche family are here from Sebring and from Michoud, are the Don L. Coole family. Mr. & Mrs. C. W. Kellogg drove down from Sarasota for some fun on the beach and islands. Prof. & Mrs. N. K. Ovesen are here on a return visit. Prof. Ovesen is an Exchange Professor at Gainesville, from Denmark, and it has been a real pleasure knowing this interesting family, but soon they must return to Denmark, but we hope they will somehow manage to return again to the islands they love.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE ISLANDER:

After reading real estate transfers and news of Fort Myers News-Press we shudder!

For the past ten years, my husband and I have searched most carefully for our Florida home. Last winter on Sanibel our utopian dream was resolved. We purchased a channel lot in Sanibel Isles.

The natural beauty and charm of Sanibel is threatened. The Islands must be preserved. The east coast is cement and neon signs. The central and northwest commercial and money-mad promoters.

There is a quaintness and peace about Sanibel which we did not see in any other area in Florida.

Frankly, we hesitate to build. Are the developers winning over the preservationists? What zoning laws are there that permit so many condominiums? Are they as stringent as they should be?

If progress of promoters becomes more evident, our utopian dream is over. There must be others who feel as we do. May we hear some reassuring news.

/s/ Mrs. R. Johnson
Kalamazoo, Mich.

TO THE ISLANDER:

On July 30, on Sanibel Island while enroute home our car stalled. I walked a short distance to the nearest gasoline station where there was only one attendant on duty making it difficult for him to leave the station to help me.

However, there was a member of the Sanibel Rescue Squad at the station. He at once offered his services and drove me back to the car. He was able to correct the trouble and soon had my wife and me on our way.

He would accept no more than a thank you for what otherwise would have cost many dollars and much inconvenience. It is invaluable people who are willing to volunteer their services.

Many, many thanks to the Sanibel Rescue Squad.

/s/ John M. Coulton
Dunedin, Florida

TO THE ISLANDER:

The News Press failed to report that the July 26 Commissioners meeting was probably the most improperly conducted public hearing ever. Chairman Daniels held the gavel but was not really in charge --- the attorney for the developers was --- a man Mr. Shirey called Art. The Commissioners heard mostly each other, in a caucus insisted upon by Mr. Shirey who remarked that since he had received "more than a hundred letters from experts and everybody," he already knew what people thought. For about 1½ hours they worked over quickie plan No. 3 after which they heard the proponents of the Adley Plan, by then a carcass picked clean.

The room was packed with at least 300 people, about 250 of whom strongly favored the public-funded Adley Plan, a low rise, low density approach to safeguard Lee County's beaches. Despite this and the recommendations of environmental and planning experts, our elected officials seemed more concerned with satisfying the developers. As his last act of public service, Mr. Scott urged haste in granting building permits in order that construction might proceed on projects to be built on the Gulf beaches to the damaging density of 30 units per acre.

Obviously, we need more, not less, help from Tallahassee and must find ways to get it. Also, I would point out that financial backers cannot put a candidate in office, only the voters can. In my opinion, Commissioners Scott and Sweeney, running for the U. S. House of Representatives and the County Commission, respectively, far over-reach themselves. I recommend a write-in vote - for dogcatcher.

MAKING TRACKS with Sandy

If you are hungering for some good music you have a chance, one again, to see and hear two fine musicians, Jesse (Jack) Bokhardt and Jack Wilson at the Sanibel Community Church August 13. These two exceptionally talented young men, having appeared here for the first time last year, are brought back by popular demand to present a unique church service of sacred music with song and organ. Both are from the First Presbyterian Church in Orlando; Mr. Bokhardt, the organist, and Mrs. Wilson the Minister of Music. Each is accomplished in his field and together they form a marvelous team. Their "Sermon in Song" is their own idea and one which churches everywhere should hear.

Jack Bokhardt began studying organ at the age of 13 through the Extension Service of Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla. He graduated from Rollins with a degree in musicology and subsequently became the organist in Orlando, where he has remained for 15 years. He will perform solo numbers at the newly-enlarged Sanibel Church as well as accompany Mr. Wilson.

Jack Wilson graduated from Tulane University where he received his Masters Degree in music. He has been a choir director in several churches throughout the country, finally coming to Orlando two years ago to direct a choir of 70 voices. He possesses a beautiful baritone voice and is a gifted artist.

The two Jacks are here with their wives and children for ten days enjoying the peace and quiet of the islands and sharing with us their inspiring music. WE are the fortunate ones!

WHALE KILLING BAN

Conservationists won a victory in the Senate when it voted to place a 15 year ban on the killing and importing of whales, sea otter, dolphins, and other sea mammals. The bill was approved by 88 to 2 vote, and sponsors say it is a middle course between conservationists and commercial interests, who fear a permanent ban would hurt the fishing industry and other occupations, particularly in Alaska and the Pacific Northwest.

As passed, the bill will give the Secretary of Commerce authority to issue permits for scientific and commercial fishing purposes, and exempts Alaska's Eskimos. The tuna industry is also exempt from the first two years of the 15 year moratorium, so that tuna fishermen can find a way to catch tuna without endangering the porpoises.

SAHARA DUST BLOWS ON FLORIDA

Dust particles blowing more than 5,000 miles from Africa's Sahara Desert are blamed for the dreary skies two days last week. Meteorologists say an easterly wind blows the dust across the Atlantic, and the haze has occurred in Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee.

NOTICE

The Sanibel Fire and Rescue Squad is losing its youngest member, Jeff Woodring, for a tour of duty in the Air Force. We wish him well and hurry home! He left August 3.

MUSICAL WORSHIP SERVICE WILL BE HELD AT SANIBEL

Musical worship services will be held at the Sanibel Community Church August 13 when baritone John Wilson, minister of music at the First Presbyterian Church in Orlando, accompanied by organist John Bokhardt, also of Orlando, will conduct two different "Sermons in Songs" at the 11 a.m. services.

"Contemporary Songs in Worship" based on Christian music produced by each generation through the ages is one of the sermons. "Songs About Jesus" is the second sermon.

The Sanibel Community Church, an inter-denominational congregation, is open to all faiths.

Recent additions to the church building on Periwinkle Way have substantially enlarged its capacity and visitors can be accommodated easily.

SANIBEL-CAPTIVA CONSERVATION FOUNDATION

Attending the summer conference of the Florida Chapter of the Nature Conservancy at Mowey-in-the-Mills August 11 through 13 are Mr. & Mrs. Willis Combs and Mr. Roy Bazire.

Mr. Combs is featured on the Saturday night banquet program telling some "Tall Tales."

The next meeting of the state conservation organization will be held on Sanibel, November 17 through 19 at Island Inn. The Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation will host the affair.

CONSERVATION FOUNDATION NEWS

An environmental inventory of Southwest Florida will be completed and disseminated throughout the area under terms of an $11,000 federal grant to be administered by the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation through the Environmental Confederation of Southwest Florida (ECOSWF).

The Sanibel group was chosen since it provided funds over the last two years for the organization of ECOSWF, a coalition of almost 50 environmentally concerned groups in Lee, Collier, Charlotte, Manatee and Sarasota counties. The regional effort was first proposed by Roy Bazire, executive director of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation and Joel Kuperberg, then executive director of the Collier County Conservancy and now executive director of Florida's Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund.

Funds from the pioneering grant which will be a national pilot project, will be used to develop an environmental index for the five southwest counties; to train leaders in the area and other regions in the State in the compilation and use of the index; to document the proceedings of the January conference held by ECOSWF at Edison Junior College which first proposed an Environmental Index for the area; and to make publication of the Index an annual tool as a basic aid in long-range planning. The grant was made by the U. S. Office of Environmental Education.

HURRICANE MEETING GREAT SUCCESS

Over 200 attended the Sanibel Community Association meeting Tuesday night, August 1, to hear Colonel Turon discuss hurricanes.

Col. I. J. Turon, head of Civil Defense for Lee Defense started his talk by reviewing the hurricanes that have hit this area over the past 100 years.

The first storm on record was in 1873; the center hit Punta Gorda with a tide of 14 feet.

The next storm was 1910. It came up from the Keys and the center hit Marco Island. The tide was 9 feet.

In 1921 the Islands were hit again with another 9 foot tide; the center of that storm hit just above Tampa.

In 1926 a storm crossed the state from Miami with the center hitting around Marco Islands and there was a 14 foot tide. 1944 brought another 9 foot tide and this one hit around Sarasota.

In all of the above storms not only were the Islands of Sanibel and Captiva covered, but Cape Coral, Fort Myers Beach, and parts of Fort Myers itself.

For contrast "Donna" which hit the Island in 1960 brought with it a tide of just 4 to 5 feet.

To show the intensity and strength of hurricanes and the damage they can cause the Colonel showed a movie of Camille and the destruction it caused. This in itself was a warning to the people present, in case of a hurricane to please leave the Islands.

The Colonel ended his talk by reviewing a specially prepared list of "What to do Prior To, and the Day the Storm Warning is Given."

At this same meeting the Association paid special tribute to all of the Volunteer Firemen on Sanibel and their wives for the fine work they are doing and their devotion to duty. As a token of the Association's appreciation, which was a complete surprise to the firemen, Duane White, president of the Association, presented Alan Nave, Fire Chief with a check for $200 dollars with which the men could get jump suits and all weather gear.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Priscilla Murphy Realty, Inc. reports the following sales:
From Sanibel Properties to Mr. & Mrs. O'Conner of Minnesota, a lot in The Rocks.
From Dallas Townsend to Mr. & Mrs. Edwin S. Underhill of New York, a lot in Anchors Aweigh.

BEACH-BAY-BAYOU

Aboard the charter skiff, Wet Pants, with Capt. Dick Frieman, Mr. & Mrs. James Smith of Tahiti Drive, their son and grandson, Greg, dredged for sealife. Miniatures were their best finds.

It was the third trip for Mr. & Mrs. Ellis Brown of St. Louis, and their children, Lisa, Peter, Maggie, Emily, and John. Mr. & Mrs. J. M. Henson, Jr. and children, Marc, Gwen, Laura, and Lisa, from Atlanta, also explored in fine weather.

MISS CIMATO FETED

A linen and personal shower was given honoring Miss Anna Cimato on Sunday evening. Miss Cimato will marry Samuel James Stovall of Waycross, Ga., on Aug. 26. Hostess for the party was Mrs. Donald Bissell, and co-hostesses were Mrs. Elaine Humphries and Mrs. Timothy Squires. The shower was given on the pool patio of the Bissell home on Captiva. Table decorations featured straw balls with pink and green streamers, and the table was overlaid with a white linen table cloth.

CORRECTION

In the August 3 issue of the Islander we wish to correct the story on the Planning Workshop at Edison Junior College, July 24-28. Tuition for Roy Bazire, Don Molloy and Ben Pratt was paid by the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board, not the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation.

BAKED PAPAYA

Papayas are truly a tropical fruit, often referred to as the melon which grows on a tree, and they know no season, being "in" all the time in our climate. Most people are used to eating the ripe fruit as is or with a squeeze of lime or lemon over it, but there are other ways of using them. Mixed with fruit cocktail, they are a delicious and exotic addition to it, and the green fruit can be cooked, seasoned and eaten as a good substitute for squash. Also, the green fruit can be used as any other fruit used for preserves, and it is delicious with a little preserved ginger and sugar or a handful of raisins. Wrap meat in leaves for a tenderizer. Here is a recipe from the Virgin Isles, where the fruit is a staple of the diet:

- 1 large papaya (5 to 6 lbs.)
- 1 lb. hamburger
- 2 cups rice (cooked)
- 1 tsp. garlic, finely minced
- 1 cup onions, minced
- 1 small can of tomatoes or 3 small diced tomatoes
- ½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 2 green peppers diced
- ½ cup hot chili peppers or ¼ tsp. red pepper
- 3 tsp. salt
- Pepper to taste
- 2 cups stock

Cut papaya lengthwise, scoop out and leave shell ½ inch thick. Dice pulp. Saute onions, peppers, garlic and tomatoes in a skillet, add chopped meat and chili peppers or pepper, plus the rice and cook all for 5 minutes. Then add chicken or beef stock and simmer five more minutes. Add diced papaya and stuff in shell, topped with Parmesan cheese. Bake 15 minutes at 350.

MYSTERY CAKE

Cake mix comes in mighty handy for dessert. If you do not use cake mix, almost any pound cake recipe will replace the pound cake mix. Then put a handful of raisins and nuts in before baking, and to be real fancy, a few maraschino cherries.

After the cake is baked and still hot, mix and pour over the hot cake the following: 1 cup orange juice mixed with 2/3 cup of powdered sugar and flavored with one ounce of good bourbon. Allow to cool before using and serve with your best china cup of coffee.
