Community Assoc. Sponsors "Know Your Candidate"

Candidates in County, State and National races invited to speak at Sanibel will visit the Community Association Hall on Thursday, Oct. 26. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. and is aimed at giving Island voters a chance to hear and see the candidates in person.

The schedule calls for the evening to begin with speeches by the six contenders for the 1st, 3rd and 5th County Commission Districts, respectively, Dick Sayers (R) vs. Ed Rich (D); Jim Sweeney (Incumbent R) vs. Marvin Mulkey (D); George Goldtrap (R) vs. Charles Flint (D). Brief talks will be presented by LaVerne C. DuBois (R) and Enid Earle (D) running for the Supervisor of Elections spot and by Sal Geraci (R) and Dick Schmidt (D) competing for Clerk of Circuit Court. 10th US Congressional District candidates Bafalis (R) and Sikes (D) will send surrogate speakers to pinch hit for them. Incumbent Lee County Sheriff Flanders "Snag" Thompson (D) and his Republican opponent Frank Wanicka will wind up the evening.

The program is expected to last about one and a half hours. The Action and Program Committees of the Community Association have set up the program as part of the Association's effort to expand its services to its membership and the Sanibel-Captiva community at large. President of the Association, C. Duane White, commented that other such events are scheduled for the winter season and will be announced at a later date.

Public Funds Mean Public Beaches

Captiva Island residents, who have seen their beachfront chewed away by Gulf waters for years, are urging the County commission to back off from an erosion prevention project.

Mrs. Max Hayford told the commission last week that she thinks a majority of island residents would oppose the $1.5 million project.

The commission tentatively approved a straw vote to decide the issue.

Mrs. Hayford, said she thought the proposal would be unacceptable to most residents because "to get state money for the project the beaches would have to be made public and most of the people on the island don't want public beaches."

The commission, along with the Captiva Erosion Prevention District had approved a $55,000 engineering study to provide a description of the project and electron control of th

Joseph Green, another Captiva resident, told the commission, "The island has been there 20,000 years, and it will be there awhile longer, let's not rush into this

Mrs. Hayford and Green urged the commission to put the question up to a vote by island residents.

The commission finally decided to hold more meetings with residents of Captiva and tentatively approved a straw vote for sometime in February.

Progress - The United Way

Sanibel's chairman Norman Chambers reports a total of $2,612 has been collected so far in this year's drive for the United Way, which supports 14 agencies: The Children's Home Society of Florida; Mental Health Assn.; Lee County Assn. for Retarded Children; Girls Scouts; Boy Scouts; Lee County Clothing Center; Community Coordinating Council; Legal Aid Society; Red Cross; Volunteer Service Bureau; Salvation Army; U.S.O.; Catholic Social Services; Y.M.C.A.

Mrs. Max Hayford, Captiva chairman of the United Way reports $718 thus far from Captiva contributors.

ISLAND INTERIORS BY BONNIE TO OPEN

The official opening of the store is October 26, however, the grand opening is going to be delayed till December 1 so that more of the Islanders will have a chance to attend as many don't arrive till after thanksgiving.

Shown above is one grouping of furniture which is on display in their new showrooms. The furniture is fully upholstered and yet features a bamboo motif which Bonnie says she bought with the Islanders in mind.

When these showrooms are complete they will be one of the most unique showrooms in this area for the client will not have to use imagination as each grouping will be shown as it would be in a home or an apartment with the proper background and completely accessorized.

In the past, Bonnie has run a decorator tip of the week, however, she now plans to run a decorator's diary which will be totally different. She urges you to watch for this in her advertisements.

ROSARY AT ST. ISABEL'S CHURCH

The Rosary is recited each Friday in October at St. Isabel's Church at 1 p.m. Friday, the 20th, the parishioners prayed for the soul of Betty McDonald and the quick recovery of Matthew McCabe and Michael Reddy.

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

LAURENCE and BETTY DARST just returned from a heavenly vacation in Costa Rica. "It's the first time we've been away since coming to Sanibel three years ago," said Betty. "Costa Rica is so green and verdant, even prettier than Hawaii. Of course it was the rainy season. The food was a delight too. But after all, there's no place like Sanibel, and we could hardly wait to get back!"

MAE SHANNON was the hostess with the mostest on Tuesday evening when BILL and DOTTI McQUADE were feted at a buffet dinner in celebration of both of their birthdays on the same day. Both Bill and Dotti claim to be 39 and holding, and all just returned from the mountains of North Carolina.

The DON CASES have gone a-lobstering off in the Keys. The succulent seafood is scarce this year, along with turtle steaks, and they are hoping to return with some for serving to the public soon.

PAT and BETTY MURPHY (he is our island Water Superintendant) just returned from a trip to Nassau on the Norwegian ship "South ward." They had a wonderful time doing all the naughty illegal things like gambling; all the things we wish we could do here. "After you pass the three mile limit, the ships open their gaming rooms, and you can play the slot machines, but you rarely ever hear of a winner. When you get to Nassau, the dock area is littered and dirty. Then there's Bay St. with all its shops and some of them are nice and some are not," said Pat. "Then there's Paradise Island where gambling is really wide open with 750 slot machines in play, roulette, Black Jack, and crap tables," he said, "but we know it's bad, but we can hardly wait to sprain a wrist pulling the arm of the one man

FRANCES HOLLINGRAKE of South Seas has gone off on a vacation. First, she will take care of business, going to see the doctor in Fort Lauderdale, and then the dentist and then flying on up to Ontario to visit with her family and friends, and particularly a new grand baby in Hamilton, where she will visit with Dr. & Mrs. H. HARGOT and Mrs. ELMER BROOK. Mrs. DWIGHT WILSON will pinch hit for her in the shop.

The RALPH WOODRINGS are proud parents of a beautiful boy born on Sunday, and weighing 8 lbs. and 11/4 Mother Ann and baby SAM BARBER, named after his grandfather, are just doing great and are home now and settling in for the season.

Mr. & Mrs. RONALD WRENN of Sanibel were presened with a darling new daughter, KIMBERLY, weighing seven lbs. 3 oz. on saturday. Mother and daughter are just doing fine, and the whole family is pretty impressed with Kimberly.

Returning to her Captiva Island home, PEG HOFSCHNEIDER of Rochester, N.Y., was joined by her sister Mrs. AGNES REIDY from Indianapolis, Ind. Peg's husband, Dr. LEO HOFSCHNEIDER, was unable to be with the ladies as his clinic in drug rehabilitation in Medina, N.Y., keeps him very busy. Dr. Hofschneider is with the New York State Addiction Control Commission.

SEGUNDA APARTMENTS

Segunda owners, Rob and Jeannie Alberts, are now home again from their all too short sojourn in Yucatan. Highlights of their trip included exploring Mayan ruins at Chichen-Itza, sampling exotic Mexican cuisine in Merida, and snorkel shelling along the celebrated reefs of Cozumel Island on the Mexican Caribbean. In their absence the Segunda was capably and genially managed by their good friend and frequent Segunda guests, Stoneburner, from Fort Lauderdale.

Segunda guests this week hail mainly from Florida. From Boca Raton come Mr. & Mrs. Leonard Almond with friends, Mr. & Mrs. George Holdsworth and Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Hardy. Their two-week-long, six-way Bolivia tournament (a kind of canasta) is now entering the final anything-goes stages. Here from Clearwater are the I. L. Nevill family who are charmed with Sanibel. and from Winter Park, come Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Mullin. Visiting from North Miami Beach are the Daniel Lees, and from North Miami, we welcome Sister Alma and her friends of Our Lady of Victory Mission.

From out of state this week are Mr. & Mrs. Ralph Meredith, returning from Louisville, and now considering island property, and the Ward Hilliers, down from Ocean City, N.J. Back from Ellicott City, Md., are long time friends of Sanibel, Mr. & Mrs. W. Roger Dickinson, joined by their friends, the F. X. Pavesichs.

Expected shortly for another of their frequent visits are the happy group from St. Pete, including the Allen Childers, the Carl Sherers and the Clifford Baldwins. Also joining us soon are Miss Edith Van Stuemer and her mother, of Arlington, Va., and Mr. & Mrs. Richard H. Barbour of Milton,

SCHOOL NEWS

First off, calling all mothers and kids to remind them that they can sleep an hour longer because on Oct. 29 at 2 a.m. everybody goes back on Standard Time and turns the clock back an hour.

Children had a real good week anyhow, as Teacher Duty Day fell on Friday, and children got to stay home. Then on Monday, on the day declared Veteran's Day by President Nixon, children had only a half day of school with an early dismissal.

Nancy Barth is the new substitute librarian at the Sanibel School, and all the children are hoping she will be there permanently. She announces a whole group of new books available to the children which sounds intriguing even to a grownup. So if you find your library book missing, check with Dad. He may be reading about UFOs from your book.

"The Fireflies" by Max Bollinger has pictures by Jini Trnka, and is most attractive in format. A reading lab book is "How Can I find Out" by Mary M. Bongiorno and Mable Gee. "The Drinking Gourd" by F. N. Monjo, and illustrations by Fred Brenner is another promising book. "If I Were Captain" by Louise Lee and Richard Floether is proving popular. Other good books are: "What Happens When you Build a House" by Arthur Shay; "Tip for Tap" by Ann Kirn; "The Girl and the Goatherd" by Evaline Ness; "Symbiosis—A Book of Unusual Friendships" by Jose Aruego; "There's Motion Everywhere" by John Travers Moore; "Investigation UFOs" by Larry Kettelkamp; "Pumpernick and Pimpernell" by Lilo Fromm; "Meigs Tower" by Joseph Yokley and "Jonah and The Lord" by George Macbeth.

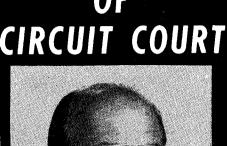

Miss Barth has been most successful in presenting these new books and creating interest in them and both Boy and Girl Scout Handbooks are new additions.

THE COLONY GUESTS

Guests enjoying The Colony are Mr. & Mrs. John B. O'Malley and family of Miami; Mr. & Mrs. Earl Miskell of Dothan, Ga.; the C. R. Fittkaus of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mr. & Mrs. D. J. Berktold and Mrs. Helen Hickman of Caracas, Venezuela; Mr. & Mrs. Harold A. Todd of Morton Grove, Ill.; Mr. & Mrs. David Fisher of Tampa, Fla.; and the John Newtons of Winter Park, Fla.

Here from Cincinnati, Ohio, are Mr. & Mrs. S. B. Falck; Dr. & Mrs. B. A. Addison of Brunswick, Ga.; the Richard Wilkinsons of Springfield, Mo.; Dr. & Mrs. T. D. Bean of Valparaiso, Ind., are in their cottage "Bimini" and in their cottage "Tangelo" are Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Murphy of Summit, N.J.

GIRL SCOUTS NEWS

THE DUNES WILL BE A-BUILDING SOON

John Kontinos and William R. Frizzell, Fort Myers architect, purchased a 333 acre tract of land named The Dunes located between Bailey Road and Dixie Beach Blvd. on the north of Periwinkle Way. Laughrey and Holtz Real Estate Brokers made the sale of the land from J. W. Conner, Jr. and P. Scott Linder of Tampa. Plans for the development of the tract call for luxury one family residences with an average of 1½ homes per acre.

The Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board sanctioned the rezoning of the land and a 30 acre tract will be left in its natural state near San Carlos Bay. Both Kontinos and Frizzell say they will do all in their power to avoid any ecological damage to the area, and large open spaces will be kept, with several fresh water lakes and a golf course, which will be designed and engineered by Ernest E. Smith of Naples. Smith designed Forest Lakes in Naples, one on Fort Myers Beach, which is being built, Seven Lakes golf course, and locally, South Seas Plantation's golf course. William Vines of Naples will prepare the land for building, with work scheduled to start in a week or so. George Causey of Fort Myers has been commissioned to do the landscaping, and Carl Johnson is the engineer. Local brokers will have charge of sales of the luxury homes.

The Sanibel-Captiva Island Girl Scout troops held their first and second meetings on Monday, Oct. 16, and Tuesday Oct. 24 at St. Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church. Twenty-four girls have joined the three troops which are lead by Judy Miller and Nolia Hunter, Brownies, grades 2 and 3; Edythe Stokes and June Holland, Juniors, grades 4 and 5; and Charlotte Shea, Cadettes, grades 6, 7 and 8.

Several mothers and interested islanders have also volunteered to help the troops by providing transportation, baby-sitting for leaders during troop meetings, and serving as activity consultants, cookie chairmen, and Troop Committee members, but more help is needed, for "in Scouting everyone helps."

The troops will be meeting every Tuesday afternoon from 4:45 to 6 p.m. at the sponsoring church, and are open to all girls between ages 7 and 13 (grades 2-8). If your daughter desires to join a troop, encourage her to meet with the girls this Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Girl Scouts trace the history of their organization back to Sir Robert Baden-Powell of England, founder of the Boy Scout movement. Four years after the Boy Scouts were organized. Juliette Gordon Low, a native of Savannah, Ga., resolved to adopt their program for the girls of the United States. By 1970, Girl Scouts had increased their numbers to 3,000,000 girls in the United States, and the program had been extended to girls of 65 countries world wide — the Girl Guides. The Scouts and Guides of all participating nations compose the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl

SANIBEL-CAPTIVA CONSERVATION FOUNDATION NEWS

Meeting of ECOSWF (Environmental Confederation of Southwest Florida), hosted by Miss Hedwig Michel at the Koreshan State Park, Estero, last week approved plans for publication of the first annual environmental inventory of Lee County and four other Southwest Florida coastal counties represented in the regional group. All material has been gathered and will be put together by Bill Hammond and his staff at the Lee County Environmental Education Project for publication by late January 1973. The meeting also approved plans for a publication to review the history of ECOSWF, established through the financial aid of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation; for a winter workshop to educate members of ECOSWF on the meaning and use of the Environmental Inventory; and by-laws to be finally ratified by delegates of member organizations this winter along with formal incorporation of the Confederation. Roy Bazire, interim secretary and co-founder of ECOSWF, presided. Following the business session, the delegates heard an address by Joel Kuperberg, executive director of the State of Florida Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund, and co-founder of ECOSWF. Mr. Kuperberg urged approval of the $240,000,000 conservation bond issue in the referendum November 7, and explained the need for these funds to help meet the problems of rapid population growth in Florida, now and in the future.

ECOSWF's Environmental Inventory project is financed by an $11,000 federal grant, administered by the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation.

Bill Hammond, director of the Lee County Environmental Education project, president of the Audubon Society of Southwest Florida and a director of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, received the Governor's Award in Conservation Education recently.

Under the sponsorship of the Florida Wildlife Federation and Sears, Roebuck and Company, the awards are presented each year at the annual convention of the Federation. Presentations were made by Governor Reubin Askew.

Another winner was a 17 year old Sarasota high school student, as Youth Conservationist, who had been a student of Mike Stuart, a member of Hammond's Environmental Education project.

Attending the 23rd annual meeting of the Nature Conservancy at Lake Mohonk, New Paltz, New York, last week was Roy Bazire, executive director of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation. Roy not only represented the Foundation but was official delegate of the Florida State Chapter. The conference included workshops on land acquisition techniques, financing and problems as well as election of officers. New chairman of the Board is Mr. Wallace C. Dayton, a winter visitor to the Islands. Re-elected as vice chairman was Dr. George R. Cooley, another regular winter guest on the Islands.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE ISLANDER:
ANOTHER SIDE OF THE TOLL CONTROVERSEY

When anyone moves to Sanibel or Captiva Islands they realize that they will have to pay a toll to cross the bridge. They also know that they will not have all the services they could have if they lived in downtown Fort Myers. They must also realize that many things they do from shopping to picking up the kids from school will be inconvenient if they live on the islands. Why are they willing to include the toll as part of their cost of living on Sanibel or Captiva? Why are they willing to put up with the other inconvenience associated with living on the islands? Very simply it is because they love the way Sanibel and Captiva are --- low population density, clean uncrowded beaches, no traffic congestion, over forty percent wildlife sanctuary. Unique! And getting more so as the masses migrate to Florida for their place in the sun.

One of the things that help keep the islands this way is the toll. The people who live here, plan to live here, or visit here are willing to pay the toll because they believe what the islands have to offer is worth the extra cost. One only has to drive to Fort Myers Beach some weekend to see what a difference the toll makes — tremendous traffic, crowded littered beaches, higher density. People that do not care about Sanibel and Captiva enough to pay $3.00 to visit!

Yes, the toll keeps some people from visiting or living on Sanibel or Captiva. So does density and building height limitations. So does acquiring more wildlife sanctuary that keeps land from being developed. Does this sound selfish? Maybe, but without these things, especially the toll, Sanibel and Captiva will eventually become like Fort Myers Beach and in the future like a small Miami Beach.

Am I being selfish --- yes, I guess I

/s/ F. R. Nichols, Jr. Sanibel Island

TO THE ISLANDER:

This is an open letter to the citizens of Sanibel and Captiva.

Many citizens of Captiva and Sanibel are talking about curbing "development," saying we need planned growth; we need less RU-3 zoning; and are actively criticizing the Board of County Commissioners for inadequate or ineffective action to protect our islands. I'm one of those talking. But as we're talking, I'm thinking "it's time to put our money where our mouths are."

Perhaps the inadequate or ineffective actions by the Commissioners are a reflection of our own ineffectiveness. Though I agree with Cy Biscardi in his letter in the 10/19/72 Islander that it appears to be obvious what we want for the islands, it's not so apparent how we should go about getting it. Very few, if any of us, have been able to rise above our individual differences of opinion long enough to hear each other out without interrupting. We get off the subject, discuss side issues and personalities, and sometimes even politics. We get angry and impatient with each other, and we fear having someone else infringe on us "doing our own thing." We all end up feeling there's nothing we can do and quietly withdraw determined "not to get involved again" and rationalize it as "It's hopeless anyway."

What we're really saying is, "It's dangerous to have a difference of opinion, or to admit we don't always like each other." Perhaps it is better to say so, then go on with the job of protecting our islands which is a common ground of agreement to start from. It's more comfortable to like those one works with, but it's not necessary. What is most necessary is listening to each other and responding to each other's ideas however they are expressed. We need to harness the energy generated by our emotions instead of tearing each other apart and wasting that energy.

In the interests of constructive action, I propose the following questions

1. Is it realistic to expect the County Commissioners to make wise zoning decisions in the absence of a county-wide master plan and the absence of a master plan for Sanibel and Captiva?

2. Is it fair to expect that the analyzation committee (appointed by the commission) can come up with a master plan in time to hold hearings on the master plan by Dec. 13, 1972?

3. Would there be merit in meeting with other citizen groups of Lee County to explore the possibility of obtaining a moratorium on all zoning changes in the County (including Sanibel and Captiva) until a master plan for Lee County has been prepared, duly publicized by public hearings, modified as a result of those hearings and officially adopted?

4. Are we serious enough about protecting our irreplaceable resources, that we should consider availing ourselves of court action if necessary to obtain a moratorium on zoning changes?

5. Much as some of us may deplore other consequences of federal or state intervention in more local issues, is it possible that this is not purely a local issue and we should be thinking about action to make the islands part of the "National Seashore?" Or should we consider something like the recently introduced Senate bill, "Nantucket Sound Islands Trust Bill" which is intended to protect Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard? Or what about a concept proposed in 1970 in an Interior Department study; so-called Island Trusts, administered by joint federal, state, and local commissions which would assume responsibility for the controlled development and preservation of islands "where traditional techniques for the protection and enhancement of island values are not practical." (See Sat. Rev. 10/21/72).

I haven't any firm conclusions yet about these questions. I am beginning to think, however, that if we spend our thought, time and energy on single zoning issues as they come up we are not going to be effective in achieving our overall objects. I'm reluctant to conclude that it is time for court actions that entail a great deal of work, time and expense, but do we have any other choice left?

NIGHT LIFE THAT REALLY PAYS

Mr. William Peed, director of the Adult Education program for the county will be on the island at St. Michael and All Angels' Church, Thursday night, October 26 at 8 p.m. This meeting and his reason for coming to Sanibel are to are to assist and direct any young adults that do not have a high school diploma to see ways that they might obtain one quite easily with either an extra course now on progress on the island or by their taking the General Education Development (G.E.D.) test, if they are over 18 years of age.

It is urged that any young person or older adult interested in this program come to the meeting at St. Michael and All Angels' Church parish house. There will be refreshments provided at the meeting. Mr. Peed has agreed to spend his time in this way — please, may the young adults spend a few moments of their time in this manner.

WILDLIFE NOTES by Griffing Bancroft

It seems certain that there are now two separate flocks of smooth-billed anis on the islands, and that these are nesting birds in the area.

And, while these rather strange members of the cuckoo family are not supposed to be overly intelligent, they seem to have been smart enough to prevent human observers from locating their nesting places.

Anis are black, grackle sized birds with heavy, parrot-like bills and a peculiar shricking cry. They are fairly common in the more tropical areas south of here, but have been recorded in various parts of southern Florida and Texas for a good many years.

However, although an occasional stray was seen before then, they apparently did not take up residence on Sanibel until 1968. From then on a small flock of six or eight birds was reported intermittently on various parts of the island, usually in the area of the Bailey sanctuary.

Like all cuckoos, Anis do not show themselves too readily but when they are seen they are almost invariably in small flocks. They have a most peculiar domestic arrangement. The flock builds a communal nest, several females lay eggs in it and then take turns at incubation.

Dr. Andrew J. Meyerriecks of the University of South Florida in a new book "Man and Birds" reports that anis have a group territorial defense. That is, the flock establishes a territory and drives away any non-members that try to encroach.

Then, as young are raised, they stay with the flock for at least a year or two. But, when the flock gets too large, it breaks up into two groups and the new one has to go and establish its own territory.

This is apparently what has happened on Sanibel. For year by year the original flock gets larger, as many as 24 birds having been reported at one time last year. Now two flocks, each about half that size, have been seen in widely separated parts of the island.

And how have they concealed their nesting places from eager human searchers all this time? Apparently only one female at a time incubates eggs and feeds young. She presumably leaves the flock and goes secretly to and from the nest in this, while the rest of the birds go on foraging about for the insects on which they feed, being careful not to get too close to the nest and thus betray its location.

For information about bird tours call MacIntosh Book Store, 472-1447.

ART FAIR AT FOUR FREEDOMS PARK

Four Freedoms Park in Cape Coral will be gay with banners and alive with activity on Sunday afternoon, November 5, when the local Art League holds its annual festival. Suzan Mickey, chairman of the fair and president of the League, says that many demonstrations will be underway; painting in oils and watercolors, for instance, making of mobiles and wooden plaques; decoupage and flow art.

Tables will offer handcrafted items individually designed and executed by league members. There will be a special table just for children's shopping. Items here will be 50 cents and under and no adults can buy. An attraction each year is the refreshment booth where hot and cold drinks and cookies and cake will be sold.

In the park building, two art shows will be held during the time of the festival, that is, from noon until 5 o'clock. A members' show is beings judged by Margaret Tepfler, well known Fort Myers artist. In the next room will be a children's show, representing work done by boys and girls of the Cape Coral Elementary and Caloosa Elementary schools. This will be judged by Gaylen Pyle, art teacher with the Lee County schools.

Admission to the festival is free and the public is invited.

MAKING TRACKS with Sandy

The subject of "pet peeves" came up at a gathering the other night and the list was long and varied. You'd be surprised at the things that irritate people, such as: "I can't stand it when the waiter brings me my coffee before my dinner"; and "When my mother-in-law gets mad, she hums — and she hums most of the time"; and, "My husband finishes all my jokes"; and so on and so forth, proving that what is one man's pet peeve is another man's meat, or something. When they got around to me, I was glad to finally get things out in the open — to clear the air — to get it off my chest: "My pet peeve is apologies; they embarrass me, they're time-wasters, they serve no purpose." And having blurted this out the laugh was on me when someone said, "I like your hair that way" and I immediately retorted, "Oh, I hate it this way and I can't do a thing with it." I was apologizing.

This inability to accept a compliment seems to be prevalent in most of us and some times we start in apologizing even before the other person has said a thing! Like the time I dropped in on a woman I hadn't seen in a long time. She ushered me into her home by saying, "Don't look under the beds!" Now the idea of looking under the beds hadn't occurred to me until that moment and it so sparked my curiosity that I did just for spite. Or the time I said to my hostess, "This cake is delicious," and she replied, "It fell." Or another time when an artist friend showed me her latest painting which I truly loved and said so. Her remark to that was, "It's the worst thing I've ever done; the sky's too blue, the tree is out of proportion and who ever heard of a green flower, ha, ha." So I said, "You're right. I'm wrong. You have a silly tree silhouetted against a terrible looking sky and a dumb green flower growing upside down." She hasn't spoken to me since.

I've made up my mind that from now on I'll simply say, "Thank you" should anyone happen to compliment me on the dress I'm wearing. It's going to be hard, though, not to say, "This old thing?"

PIER NEWS PROMISING

Herb Purdy, working with co-chairman Donald Case and Ralph Woodring on the pier project, says that in spite of the fact that the new bids for the construction of the Sanibel Island Fishing Pier were even higher than the ones the County got last April, there is still a good chance that the pier will get built.

"Of course, we need more donations from the Islanders," said Purdy, "but if the Florida State Department of Natural Resources comes through with a matching grant to the monies budgeted by the county and the citizens, I think we will be able to make it

"Both Commissioner Walter Shirey and County Administrator Lavon Wisher think it is quite possible that the State will help. Mrs. Wisher had already placed an application with the State Department."

The most recent low bid of $28,900 came from Foster Marine. This was a jump from the $27,000 bid made last Spring by Hardiway Construction but at that time, the Commission decided to delay the project since their pier budget was only $20,000.

The new pier, which will be 162 feet long, is to be built 300 feet west of the old fishing pier near the Sanibel lighthouse and has received approval from all required state and federal agencies.

"Now all that is needed is the rest of the money," said Purdy.

SEAMEN'S HOMING BEAM MAY SOON FLICKER OUT

The light in the night atop Sanibel Island, a homing beam to seamen for more than 88 years, may be darkened

The U.S. Coast Guard said it is considering shutting the lighthouse down soon unless its usefulness can be

Coast Guard Commander Robert Nielson of Miami said a report from the Fort Myers Beach station indicated that the lighthouse is no longer valuable as an aid to navigation.

Nielson said that an investigation of the light's present value, which began earlier this, month, "indicates that the facility is no longer serving its original purpose. Our investigation shows that there are not too many people using the light anymore."

Chief Dale Smith, the officer charge at the Fort Myers Beach stati said that he is convinced the facilit no longer useful as a navigational aic boats in the area.

"If boatmen tried to use lighthouse alone as a guide, they wo be in trouble. There is no exist channel over by the lighthouse," Srr said. He said the area is well eno lighted now.

The lights from Cape Coral : Fort Myers Beach plus the ligh marker buoys are good eno navigational aids to boaters right no Smith said.

There are three buoys outs Sanibel and Fort Myers Beach and more buoys through the channel to Sanibel Bridge.

"The light on marker buoy Num 2 can be seen for as far as eight m away on a clear night," Smith added.

TWO Ks STUDIO TO OPEN

A studio gallery called Two owned and operated by Mr. & Mrs. 1 W. Kuhn will be opening soon Sanibel at 1416 Periwinkle Way. Kuhn designed the building him which will also be the Kuhn's reside and it has been constructed by Ste Construction Co., with Mr. Kuhn ac also as subcontractor for the inte carpentry and painting. Both Paul Gertrud are artists, and Paul is proficient in working in silver and jewelry. "I embroider wall hans (creative stitchery) and work macrame, a little different from usual way, though. And we are working on paintings to sell in our gallery," said Gertrud.

You are invited to come by and see this new enterprise, for the Kihns have some creative artistry to show that is worth seeing. They should be open around the beginning of the season.

COMMISSIONER SHIREY ON SANIBEL Nov. 6

County Commissioner Walter Shirey will be on Sanibel the first and third Monday of each month, at the Community House at 9 a.m. and he will be here to discuss problems with residents. He will be here for his first session on Nov. 6, and if you would like to see him, it is suggested you make an appointment to see him at the Chamber

The next date of his consultations on the island will be Nov. 20.

NEEDED - A PINCH HITTER

All sympathy goes out to Thomas Mosca, (Tinker Tom, he is affectionately known as) who met with a severe accident to his right hand. This means he cannot appear in the role of "Charlie" in "The Blue Goose" at the Pirate Playhouse this season, so a pinch hitter, a young man between the ages of 18 and 35, is needed to take his place. Who would like to volunteer?

Phone the Pirate Playhouse, 472-1692 if you'd like to take a swing at being an actor --- it's fun!

STICKERS AVAILABLE

Stickers are now available to show an invalid is in the house and what room the person is in. To get these see Phil Verdung at the new Firehouse on Palm Ridge Road Monday through Friday between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

SANIBEL-CAPTIVA DEMOCRATIC CLUB

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Sanibel-Captiva Democratic Club, Vice President Roy Bazire was designated to serve as acting president until the election of officers at the regular annual meeting in April.

At the same time the Board, with regret, accepted the resignation of the outgoing president, Dr. Mordecai Haber, who is moving his practice to the mainland.

Mrs. George S. Winterbotham will continue to serve as treasurer and Mrs. Arthur Lee as secretary. Other directors are Griffing Bancroft, Norman Chambers, Mrs. Carl Jordan, Leon Levy, William MacIntosh and Parker Mills.

CAN YOU READ A COMPASS?

So you think you know how to read a compass. Few people really do. But, the knowledgeable folks that take the free Boating Course, sponsored jointly by the San Carlos Bay Power Squadron and the Sanibel Community Association, will understand. It can help you find your way to port when caught out after dark. It can get you out to your favorite off-shore fishing grounds and, even more important, get you back safely.

The Mariner's Compass is just one of many nautical subjects that will be on the agenda during the thirteen weeks of the Boating Course. It begins on Monday evening, Nov. 6 at 7:30 p.m. at the Sanibel Community Association Club House. If you have further questions, call or write Lt. Harley Brown, 794 Conch Court, Sanibel 33957. Phone 472-1395.
