TRAVEL TIP

From the Hunters

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

The ALECK family, MARY, ALICE DEENA andMARY ANNE, along with Mary's sister, JEANNIE KONTINOS and IRENE ESPINOSA spent the weekend in Cocoa and Cocoa Beach. Mary, etal, went over to familiarize themselves with the area and to look over Brevard Community College where Alice and Irene will be starting classes next Monday. Everyone loved the area, the school, etc., and a good time was had by all in spite of the fact that they ran into a maid's boycott at the Ramada Inn where they were staying. Mary says they all pitched in and cleaned out their own apartmentwith linens and aids brought to them by the Life Guard. (Yes, he was handsome.)

PHYLLIS and AL MARIN of Miami Shores have traveled to many of the Caribbean Islands and lived for two years in Bermuda. Now they say, quote "No more long distance traveling for us, we have found a real PARADISE two and one half hours from home, Sanibel Island, Florida." They stayed at the Song of the Sea. This was their fifth time and they love it more and more each time.

SHIRLEY and WILLIE COMPTON of Thetan Crafts have been summering at Bar Harbour, Maine. They haven't seen much of the sun as it has been foggy and overcase most of the time. They sorely miss Sanibel. In their absence HOLLY and JOHN DICKERSON have been minding the shop. John can make you custom tables and does anything with wood that you might need.

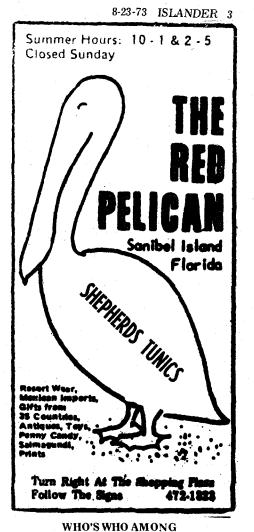

Mr. & Mrs. BRYCE McNAMARA have been vacationing this summer touring Mexico and returning by the way of California. Bryce, our Island Metal Sculpturer, has been observing Mexican arts along the way. His lamps were featured in the new Pate Steak house in Fort Myers. Daughter, WELCOME, is awaiting grandparents coming for the winter. Dr. & Mrs. McNAMARA plan to build their home this year. They have just completed their summer place on the Cape where they remodeled a charming old schoolhouse into even more charming home filled with primitive antiques from New England.

Mrs. MABLE LIBBY of 1319 Tahati Drive, mother of Col. Libby, had a bad fall and was rushed to the Lee Memorial Hospital by the faithful Sanibel Rescue Squad. Mrs. Libby was to have celebrated her 90th birday this past week. Perhaps she will be consoled to know our prayers are with her.

AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Deena Nikki Aleck, a senior at Cypress Lake High School, was just notified that she is to be featured in the Seventh Annual Edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1972-73. (This is the largest student award publication in the nation.) Students from over 18,000 public, private and parochial high schools throughout the country are recognized for their leadership in academics, athletics, activities or community service in the book. Less than 2 percent of the junior and senior class students nationwide are awarded this recognition.

Deena is the daughter of Mary Aleck of Sanibel. In addition to having her biography published in the book, Deena will also compete for one of ten $1,000 scholarship awards funded by the publishers and will be invited to participate in the firm's annual "Survey of High Achievers" later in the academic year. She is planning a career in Medicine.

Sanibel Island

For those who have not completed their vacation plans, I can't think of a more exciting place to visit this summer than the rugged coast of Oregon, for thanks to the artistry of nature and the farsightedness of government, it is an unbroken, unspoiled and unbelievably beautiful seascape that extends the full distance between the boundaries of Washington and California.

These 400 miles of shoreline are a coastal paradise matched no where else in the United States and by few spots in the world. This is so because Oregon has decreed that all the beaches shall be open and accessible to the public without fee or restriction. Hence along very little of the seashore does private property come even close to the beaches. On or near the ocean are 43 state parks and the road runs almost within surf's spray reach of the Pacific for long stretches. (One spot I will never forget is Cape Foulweather.)

It is great to see so many enjoying what should be everyone's right, an opportunity to view the surf, breathe the sea air and think of how great and good is the Lord.

ISLAND WATER ASSN. THANKS ALL

The Island Water Association would like to thank all users of water for every effort to conserve water made to help us during the day last week when new valves were installed and we had to do without our principal source of water, Pine Island. Work went smoothly and was completed in record time. The Water Company seeks your cooperation in conserving water because Pine Island is not meeting our daily needs at present and our reserves are minimal.

The new water treatment plant is nearing completion and the dedication ceremony is scheduled for September 8, 1973. Please keep this date open. Further details will be in next week's issue of this paper. Captiva for their many kindnesses during our recent Sanibel shelling event. (Miss) Elisabeth R. Ethal Executive Director

TO THE ISLANDER:

At a recent Lee County Commission meeting there was a discussion on making an appropriation to a private, non-profit organization for what was generally conceded to be a "worthy cause." One Commissioner demurred on the grounds that to do so would most certainly provoke a flood of requests from similar groups.

While the reasoning of that Commissioner is sound, it does not strike me as being the entire answer to the everincreasing demands on the public's dollars. It does seem that Commission Chairman Goldtrap has come much closer to the answer when he justified his veto of a similar grant by stating, "I voted against giving of public funds to a private, non-profit corporation for the exclusive use by a few people."

This problem, as well as the matter of increasing exemptions from property taxes, should be resolved by a similarly clear policy statement by the entire Commission. There should be strict guidelines established to prevent favoritism and lobbying pressures from continuing as the criteria. A list of all such requests for subsidies from private organizations should be published in the local press by the Commission each year at the start of budget hearings. This device would give us the true "Sunshine" that has been the recent preoccupation of our public servants.

The current to-do by the private Chamber of Commerce because their request for a $51,000 grant was pared to $15,000, as an example, seems incongruous. Such private groups are traditionally organized and dedicated to furthering the financial interests of their membership. Those interests may not coincide with those of the general public. An excellent example of such clash of interests in the proposed expenditure by the Chamber for highway billboards touting Fort Myers Beach, Edison Home. Terry Park, Sanibel-Captiva, etc. Such use of public funds, as well as private funds, is directly contrary to the public policies and laws that frown on the proliferation of highway advertising. Wouldn't it seem more appropriate for the Commission to make the rules on such grants before dispensing them?

With the hovering threat of increased realty taxes, despite the greatly broadened base created by the building boom, it behooves the Commission to act immediately on establishing needed guidelines. Guidelines are needed to plug the leaks from the public treasury through grants, and further broaden the tax base by eliminating undue tax exemptions. Is this too much of a challenge, Commissioners?

Paul A. Howe Sanibel, Fla.

TO THE ISLANDER:

We have spent many lovely fall and winter vacations on Captiva and do feel so at home there. We do enjoy the Islander, but was wondering if the scenic photos could have the location named on the pictures. So many look familiar but can't be sure if they are pictures of certain spots. We wonder if the photographer would be willing to identify the scenes and areas. Please try. Thanks. 1 Mr. & Mrs. M. J. Morton

(Ed. note: It is a good suggestion, but since our free lance photographers rarely supply us with location information, we frequently don't know ourselves.)

TO THE ISLANDER:

NO WAKE!

For the benefit of those who can't or won't read the sign on both sides of bridge located on Lindgren Canal, maybe someone can explain the message of "No Wake." It, in simple terms, means to "slow down" the full length of the canal in ALL areas of this waterway.

Courtesy on the water is fully as important as it is on the highway.

The seawalls and the boats at the private docks simply cannot withstand the continual rocking and the pounding incurred by rough water created from boats traveling who "drag race" and speed on the canal.

TO THE ISLANDER:

The following letter was sent to the Islander for publication:

It is not my nature to strike back --nor do I intend to make it a habit. However, certain recent statements, made public through the Fort Myers News-Press make it necessary that I respond.

The statements to which I elude are some of those which have appeared in the Mailbag column of the Editorial Section. I understand that this column claims exemption from responsibility by refusing to research the signatures presented. We in this country seem to be proud of our right to "free speech," even at the price of total abolition of responsibility.

With regard to a recent letter entitled, "Good Ole George," I am offering some observations. Let me deal with the assumption that George is against everything. Look at the record. I have voted NO on Commission matters only a fraction of a percent of the time. But that is not the issue. What matters is not how many times a man votes no --- but why he votes no. I vote no on every issue that I feel is detrimental to the health, safety and welfare of the citizens of this county. Every Commissioner on the Board does the same thing. He would be a poor leader if he did not. I also vote no on every issue that holds any semblance of Socialism. I'm finding this to be a much more difficult matter than I ever imagined.

I am appalled at the number of citizens and organizations that are assuming their right to be dependent on the government. The terms "federal money," "grant," and "matching funds" are used as if the government manufactured money. Then in the same breath we cry about high taxes and inflation. You don't need to be an economist to see the connection. This particular letter to the Mailbag, for ample, noted that the county had 'donated'' certain money to her organization. Get that --- donated. Let me say to you that taxation is not donation --and I don't assume the authority to "donate" any taxpayers' money to anyone. The letter further stated that I rescinded the donation. A one-day's lesson in county government would teach the writer that no one Commissioner has any right to rescind any Board action. In this particular case, I voted against the giving of public funds to a private nonprofit corporation, for the exclusive use by a few people. I voted that same way all three times the matter has been discussed, as has one other Commissioner. On none of these occasions did my vote make the difference. If this writer wants to blame someone, I would suggest that she go to the individual whose inconsistent voting has made this whole matter so ridiculous. Whether or not the organization does good for senior citizens is not the question. I have no doubt that it does. The question is, is it constitutional for taxpayers to pay for it, and the answer to that, in my opinion, is Now to this matter of trips and an expense account. First of all, no Commissioner, including myself, has gone anywhere without the express permission of the entire Board. No Commissioner has an expense account to use as he sees fit. Exact amounts are specified even for his breakfast, and his mode of travel is based on that which is deemed less expensive. I would venture to say that every trip costs each Commissioner money out of his own pocket, in spite of the fact that his mission is to conduct county business or improve the quality of his own county service. Remember also that every trip takes that Commissioner away from his business, his wife, and his children. I'm not complaining. I wanted this office and the people saw fit to give it to me, but anyone who thinks it's a money-grabbing picnic is simply uninformed. By the way, I voted against a 100 per cent increase in the Commissioner's local travel allowance.

Additionally, I urge citizens to look deeper into a man's vote than what some pencil-happy critic might think it means. How foolish for example, to say that I'm against senior citizens. Anyone who knows me can testify to the contrary. One of the joys of my work in the church is seeing the faith and determination of so many who have grown old serving the Lord. I constantly brag about the unbelievable vitality of the seniors in this community who are here to live, to serve in what can be the best years of their lives. But I am against anything that makes senior citizens dependent on big brother government --- and so is any senior citizen who has pride and dignity in self-reliance.

Two weeks ago I climbed 6,500 feet to the top of Mt. LaConte in the Great Smokey Mt. National Park, My companion on the entire trip was a dear friend who is 83 years old. His selfdiscipline and determination are a joy to behold and to suggest to him the need for government help to exist would be a first class insult. His example is worth studying.

With regard to mass transit, of course, I'm not opposed to it. I use it constantly, airplanes, roads, buses, and trains. But I am opposed to the Socialist plan of making the taxpayer finance it. Over and over in my campaign I told voters that I would not favor government subsidizing what free enterprise had found unprofitable. Public transit is a prime example. If buses are so needed and so profitable, why isn't someone operating them? A recent •area bus service just went out of business for lack of customers, another is for sale, and the city's bus operates only because it is government supported. Major cities all across America have realized the folly of this scheme and just in the last few days another large city was crying its woes over losses in the bus business. Now, do the taxpayers of this county really want me to vote to spend their money on something that is already proven unprofitable --- or would they rather I voted no and lowered their taxes.

The same principal holds true with regard to baby sitting for small children. This is not a question of whether or not I favor helping the unfortunate, of course, I do. But this is a job for friends, neighbors, family, the church, NOT a Socialist government. All over town there are women who would be willing to earn money as baby sitters, but why should they if they can draw welfare while Uncle Sam, or in this case Uncle Lee, will care for the children. The very best judgement of government is poor, compared to the time proven wisdom of free citizens, and I as one such citizen don't want government in the baby sitting business.

There is no such thing as a free service from government, you and I, the taxpayer, foot all the bills. The reasoning that each should pay what he can and let the rich, through taxes, make up the difference is Socialism --- 100 percent. There are countries in the world that already operate this way. I say let those who want to live under that system move there and not try to force that plan on the rest of us who prefer a free democratic society. By the way, the countries that have that kind of government must build walls around them to keep the people at home and some risk their lives to escape.

Finally, I sought this office because I wanted to fight to save my independence as an American. I believe those who feel as do I, will continue to fight no matter how great the odds. The other, whom I still believe are in the minority, will have but to vote the other way and continue the verbal campaign of deceiving people into thinking that they can get something for nothing. It happens that I still agree with Patrick Henry, and as Mark Twain once said it doesn't take much courage to "rise above the crowd and vote with majority."

George A. Goldtrap, Jr. Chairman Board of County Commissioners

By the time you read this, "The Making of the President 1972" by Theodore H. White may be on the best seller list. It not, it will be there quickly, for no historic document was ever more timely than this traditional report by Pulitizer Prize winning author White. Since this is the fourth book, published at four year intervals by Mr. White, presenting factual, exciting accounts of presidential races, it is quite by accident that it should have been published in the limelight of sensational publicity engendered by Watergate. No author of history ever got a better break for his efforts. And to keep Sanibel readers abreast of the times, the book is available at the library.

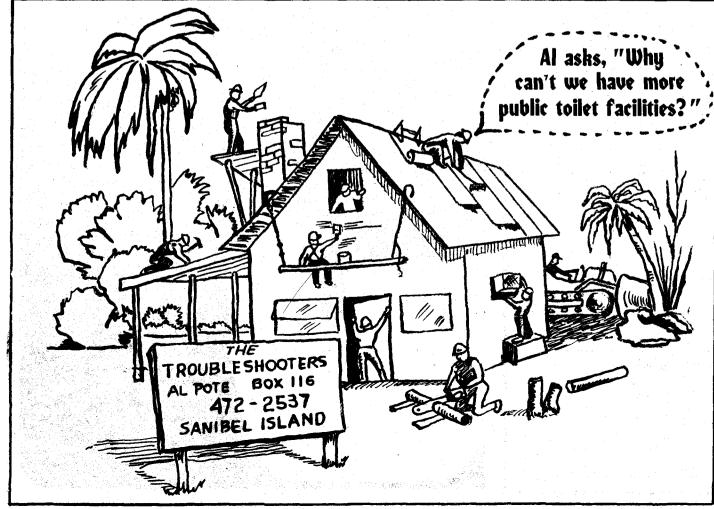

Watergate, of course, gets its due attention in White's book, but it by no means dominates the text. There is much more to be told about the Nixon-McGovern campaign than the climatic scandal which, by the very nature of its events and personalities, has changed the face of the campaign. If the publishers had wished to follow the 1972 campaign to its ultimate conclusion, they would have had to present White's book in loose-leaf, ring-binder form, with allowance for supplements to be added by the reader as day-by-day disclosures pour forth.

No, this book is cut from the whole cloth, beginning with the president's 1972 trip to Peking which opened the political year and climaxing with the landslide, the overwhelming mandate for a second Nixon term. White accompanied the president to Peking. He flew from San Clemente to the White House with the President on Election Day and here the author adds to our knowledge of events with his astute revelation of facts.

The Democratic campaign is presented and explored, both in the primary and in the election, with the same meticulous analysis as White accords the Republican race. The two Miami conventions are recreated with a presentation of all historic facts as well as the author's thoughts on the events as they happened.

As a sidelight to the book, you may be interested to know that Watergate played havoc with the writing and publishing schedule of "The Making of the President 1972." Last spring, when everything was proceeding smoothly and final chapters were being polished, Watergate suddenly exploded. This, of course, cast new light on the events of the 1972 campaign; and it completely disrupted everyone concerned, not only the author and publisher, but also the Literary Guild who had chosen the book as its September selection. The hectic days in this phase of Teddy White's life might make a book in itself.

We have only one of White's other three books on the presidency, the first one which won for him the Pulitizer Prize, "The Making of the President 1960." If any friend of the library would like to make a worthwhile contribution (tax exempt) to our basic books, we would be very happy to accept the missing volumes, "The Making of the President 1964." And "The Making of the President 1968." Do I hear an offer?

UNITED STATES COAST GUAR D

PUBLIC NOTICE

The State of Florida, Dept. of Transportation, Tallahassee, Florida has submitted a request to amend the special drawbridge regulations controlling the operation of the Matlacha Pass drawbridge, State Road 78 to Little Pine Island and Big Carlos Pass drawbridge, State Road S-865 to Estero Island in Lee County, Florida.

The request was submitted based on the infrequency of early morning draw openings.

Present regulations:

File 3044: 117.245 (i) (2a) Big Carlos Pass, Florida. State of Florida Highway Bridge - Estero Island Causeway, State Road S-865, Lee County. The draw need not be opened for passage of vessels between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m., daily.

File 2391: 117.245 (i) (2b) Matlacha Pass, Florida. State of Florida Highway Bridge - State Road 78, Lee County. The draw need not be opened for passage of vessels between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m., daily. Proposed regulations:

117.245 (i) (2a) Big Carlos Pass, Florida. The draw need not be opened for pass age of vessels between 7 p.m. and 8 a.m., daily.

117.245 (i) (2b) Matlacha Pass, Florida. The draw need not be opened for pass age of vessels from 7 p.m. to 8 a.m., daily.

The Big Carlos Pass drawspan in a closed position provides a vertical clearance of 23.0 feet above mean high water.

The Matlacha Pass drawspan in a closed position provides a vertical clearance of 9.0 feet above mean high water.

Any comments on this proposal from interested parties should be submitted in writing to the Commander (oan), Seventh Coast Guard District, 51 S. W. First Ave., Miami, Florida, 33130 to arrive not later than Sept. 11, 1973.

The determination as to whether the proposed regulations will be approved must rest primarily upon their effect on navigation, however, other pertinent factors will be accepted, will be made a part of the record and will be considered in determining whether or not it would be in the best public interest to grant approval.

It is requested that the provisions of the proposed regulations be brought to the attention of any person known by you to have an interest in this matter and who may not have received a copy of this notice.

A Grain Of Sea Salt by betzi abram

In fact, says Al Stresen-Reuter, her owner, once after a race a lady came aboard, look around carefully and then asked him, "Does it fly?" He never could tell whether she was serious or not. Judging from the races it's won and the speed it reaches undersail, it certainly flies in one sense. Coming here from Biloxi, Miss., last December, they ran into a norther with winds of 35-40 knots. They made 220 miles in 24 hours that first day with only a reefed mainsail. When you consider that the Papa Nui has a big Genoa of 1,128 square feet and a Spinnaker of 2,930 square feet, you know its top speed must be impressive!

Of course, any boat is dependent upon the skill of captain and crew. Al learned to sail in the Great Lakes area when he was about 8 and has been polishing his know-how ever since. When he was 19 he sailed around the world on an 80' ketch with a Gloucester fisherman as Sailing Master, the owner as Skipper and Navigator, a Chinese cook and four other young men as crew. In 1966 he won the Transpacific Multi-hull Race to Hawaii on "The Glass Slipper," a 49' Catamaran designed by Rudi Choy, the designer of Papa Nui.

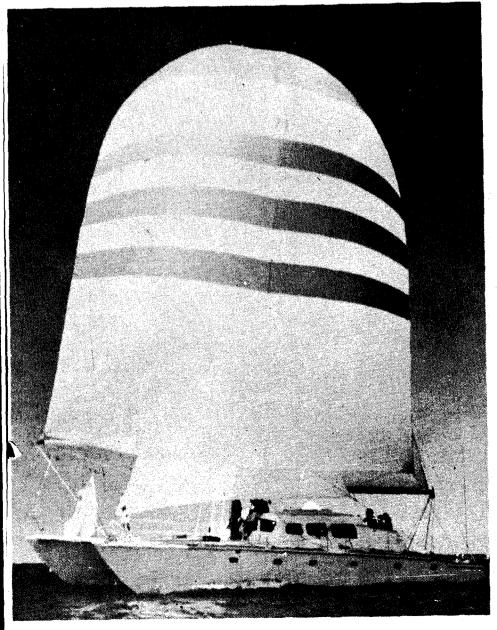

Although it takes a crew of 12 for overnight racing, and 6 or 7 for a daytime race, the Papa Nui is easily handled by two persons who just want to cruise about and take life easy on the water. When I was invited aboard there was only two sailors besides Al aboard. One was Peri Taylor, a golden embodiment of fresh air, high spirits and sturdy ability and the other was Fid, an agreeable soul who looked remarkably like a Labrador Retriever with huge trusting eyes and gently wagging tail. The name Fid is highly suitable for a nautical dog as it is a pointed wooden pin used for parting the strands on a rope and not an abbreviation of Fido. The young lady seemed also very aptly named, as a peri is a creature of extraordinary beauty and grace according to Persian mythology. Peri learned to sail in St. Croix, Puerto Rico, where she earned her motorboat operator's license to carry six passengers on a boat of 15 tons or 65 feet. She worked there for a number of years chartering and taking people on scuba diving trips. She also has her advanced divers certificate.

Right now she and Al are busy sprucing up the Papa Nui with fresh paint, non-skid treatment for the decks, engine overhaul and other finishing touches, after which they intend to try their hand at day charters in the Caribbean. Fid is only about 11 months old and although very well trained, as yet supplies only moral support.

I still can't decide which is more impressive: To stand down on the ground and look up at the towering graceful lines of this huge sailboat, so beautifully designed and so stable that two persons can handle it, or to sit in the luxurious "salon" with its handsome woodwork, comfortable furniture and tinted acrylic plexiglass windows which cut down the heat without impeding the outward view.

One thing I've no doubt about, however. If the word ever goes out that the Papa Nui needs a bigger crew, I'll be standing at the head of the line with my toothbrush and my bathing suit tied up in a red kerchief and my Chapman's under my arm.

The Papa Nui under full sail. The 54' cat is owned by Al Stresen-Reuter and is currently undergoing repairs at the Beach.

ATTENTION PHILCO TV OWNERS

Philco-Ford Corporation is asking Florida owners of its portable 18" diagonal color television sets to contact the Philco Regional Consumer Affairs Office to arrange for inspection and repair if necessary of high voltage anode caps and leads.

Environmental and humidity conditions along the Florida coast may cause the components in question to deteriorate sufficiently to cause a relatively high-energy electrical discharge which could in turn cause damage to other components and potentially could cause smoke or fire in the set. No such instances have been reported in Philco television sets in consumer homes.

The condition is believed to occur only along the coast where a combination of salt, dust and extreme heat and humidity exists.

Inspection and any necessary adjustments can be performed in a matter of minuted and will be undertaken at no cost to the consumer.

Owners of Philco portable 18" sets are urged to call 1-800-241-8625 (toll free) to determine if their sets are involved and to locate the closest Philco service agent in their area. Consumers hould know their model number printed on the back of each set, before call the Philco-Ford office.
