SANIBEL RESIDENTS SPLIT ON MORATORIUM

In interviewing various Sanibel residents, we found that the majority of residents feel we need useable, reasonable zoning, and soon.

The following are comments given us:

Realtor - Progress and development cannot be stopped it can only be delayed. People are seeking a place in the sun and developers are giving it to them. We, naturally are selling it. Surely I would like to see Sanibel and Captiva stay the way it was but it just isn't ever going to happen. NO, I wouldn't vote for a moratorium.

Sanibel housewife and resident of 20 years - We have been shafted again by the county. It all started with the bridge; why can't they give us a building moratorium at least until they come up with a sensible, workable plan?

Resident, old timer - Guess we'll just have to secede from the state. A moratorium might help.

High school student - Leave it to "Your Generation" to ruin our beautiful island. I haven't seen any others in ages; all the wildlife I was used to seeing as a child is disappearing. I plan to move away!

Merchant - Yes, I vote for a moratorium. We do not mind competition and services are needed to meet the demand but too many of one type shop could prove disastrous.

Carpenter - Sure I need work and a building moratorium might put me out of work but I feel there is enough started to keep us busy. Most of the craftsmen are from off the island anyway.

Out of state condominium owner - It's really immaterial to me, but all of us couldn't afford gulf front property otherwise. I do feel the island has about reached saturation. I am against a moratorium.

Tourist, yearly visitor for 30 years - This is my last year. It's like an Anzio Beach Head. You are going to get a lot more people but not the big spenders. They will be looking for a more quaint, remote island like the islands once were. I would vote for a moratorium.

Restaurant owner - I naturally need business but feel a building moratorium is needed so that sensible zoning and planning can be accomplished.

Widow and long time resident - I feel the 3,000 letters were probably sent to persons who could care less about Sanibel or Captiva. We were doing fine before all the developers and "big money" out of staters came in and are running us and the Commissioners. Yes, I vote for a moratorium.

Housewife - Moratorium, Yes, I feel we need one. I have noticed one thing. Many of our merchants are buying second homes out of state and even out of the country. Doesn't that tell you something?

Veteran, retired 20 years - I have mixed emotions. It's difficult to tell persons who have purchased property they can't use it as it was zoned when they bought it, but I don't see why the Commissioners can't come up with a sensible plan. Perhaps a moratorium of 3 months would be reasonable.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Dwight R. Wilson, well known superintendent of South Seas Plantation and the current president of the Florida Golf Course Superintendents Association, attended the Florida Turf-Grass Management Conference at Pier 66 in Ft. Lauderdale on October 22, 23. He was the chairman of the general session which had about 300 members in attendance.

Mrs. Wilson accompanied her husband and did some more buying for her beautiful boutique "Arista of Captiva."

ST. MICHAEL AND ALL ANGELS' CHURCH NEWS

St. Michael and All Angels' Episcopal Church is playing host to the annual fall Deanery meeting on Tuesday, November 13. Nine churches in all will participate. Registration is at 9:30 with Holy Communion at 10. This will be followed by a coffee. At 11 a.m. the meeting will commence and at 12:30 will adjourn. A luncheon will follow at the Island Inn. About 200 women will attend.

St. Michael and All Angels' Church Thrift Shop has been doubled in size. The construction work was done by Finger Construction of Fort Myers. The Thrift Shop will be open all day Tuesdays and Thursdays from ten until four.

NOAH'S ARK (The Thrift Shop sponsored by St. Michael's Church) will open its doors for the Fall and Winter season on Tuesday, Nov. 6. It is located back of the Church and we urge you to come and browse. Being twice the size as last year, we can now accommodate more furniture, plus many household articles, clothing, jewelry, and linens.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE

The first session of duplicate bridge for the winter program will be held at the Community House this Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Please state type of business for categories. Listing is for both members and non-members.

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

RUDY DIAMOND'S son JERRY visisted with RUDY and PEGGY MALONE for a week. Peggy and Rudy have purchased a beautiful mobile home on a lot at Bayside Mobile Park, Fort Myers Beach. They are selling their home on Fitzhugh.

A gala Halloween party was held in the Sharks lounge Saturday with the prize going to FRENCHIE and his GERALDINE impersonation.

Hobgoblins and ghosts and other masked guests enjoyed a Halloween party at the home of CHRIS and LYNN COWEN.

The father of Ms. JEANNIE and JOHN KONTINOS and Mrs. MARY ALECK is recuperating nicely at Lee Memorial Hospital.

Mr. & Mrs. CHAD WAY of Cincinnati, Ohio, son of MURIEL WAY are the proud parents of a baby daughter, NICOLE. Chad grew up on Sanibel. Congratulations to you and your wife.

Mr. & Mrs. VERE WELKER were pleasantly surprised with a visit from Mrs. Welker's brother, Mr. & Mrs. GASE of Delphi, Ind.

If you are wondering what shattered the large plate glass mirror at the Island Shopping Center at the office of Priscilla Murphy, it wasn't an unhappy client! A large dog with a very hard head, which must still be aching) belonging to Dr. CURTISS of Sunset South was chasing WILLIE and SHIRLEY COMPTON'S dog, missed the door and CRASH.

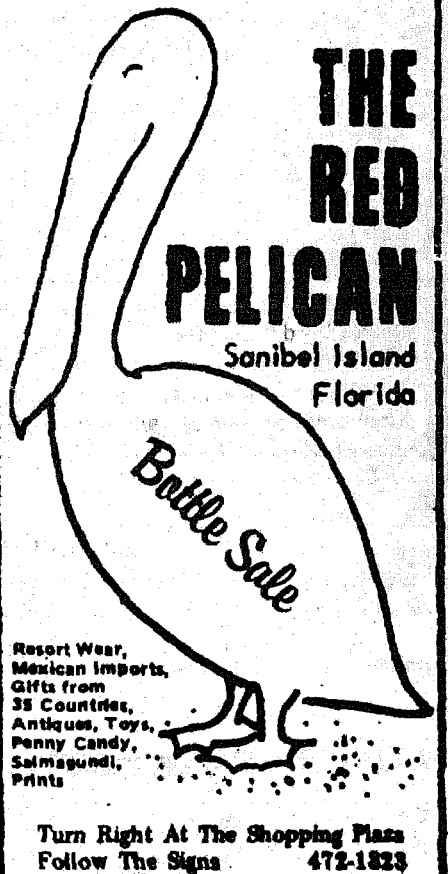

MARK FENTSTER, a 4 year old visitor from Miami, was rushed to Lee Memorial after he apparently had taken some pills. He was administered O2 and treated for shock enroute by our excellent Rescue Squad.

THE COLONY GUESTS

Out of state guests at The Colony this week include Mr. & Mrs. Carl Bigson of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mr. & Mrs. Robert G. Rost of Loveland, Ohio; the Phillip J. Frazettas of Pittsburg, Pa.; Mr. Fred E. Abbott of Florence, S.C.; the Robert V. Days of Agincourt, Ontario; Mr. & Mrs. Norman A. Metzger and Mr. & Mrs. W. E. Connolly of Morton Grove, Ill.; and Mr. & Mrs. William Gale and Mr. & Mrs. A. W. Highlands of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Florida guests are Mr. & Mrs. Raymond Posgay and family of Plantation; the Howard Wilwerding family of Jacksonville; Mr. & Mrs. Bob Clarey and family, also of Jacksonville; Miss Margaret Scott and Miss Linda Brockelbank of Lake Park; Mr. Barry Schiff and party of Pembroke Pines; Dr. & Mrs. G. SCHOOL NEWS

The children at the Sanibel School are going to have a book swap the week of November 12-16. The exact date has not yet been set by the teachers. The children will bring books in and receive tickets for them, which will enable them to select other books to take home. We hope more books will be brought in than go home because the school library is badly in need of additional books.

By advertising this fact, we hope mothers will go through all the books their children no longer read and donate them. Call 472-1727 and you will be told where to take the books or arrange to have them picked up. We are only interested in children's books up to the fifth grade level.

We here at Sanibel Elementary School have a new principal. His name is Mr. Richard Ivill. His wife's name is Mrs. Linda M. Ivill. He received his B.S. in Education at California State College in Pennsylvania. He received his M.A. in Education at the University of Pittsburgh in Pennsylvania. He taught education 4 years in Pennsylvania, and he also taught at Orangewood Elementary School for 4 years. He enjoys working with us.

Another one of our new teachers is Mrs. DeMayo. Before she came to Sanibel she taught second grade in Tanglewood School for two years. Here at Sanibel she teaches math and reading in the second grade. She also works in the ESAA reading program. ESAA is (Emergency School Aid Act). Mrs. DeMay is originally from Dayton, Ohio. She lives in Ft. Myers. Her husband is an electrician.

New Library Books

The 5th grade of Sanibel Elementary has been complaining because we have very few books. Last year the librarian Mrs. DuBois sent an order in to the County Office for Federal Funds but something happened and they didn't get ordered. This year Miss Nichols, our librarian, has made a new order for lots of books. They should be coming in two or three weeks.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO TOUR SANIBEL LIBRARY

Children of the Sanibel Elementary School will visit the Sanibel Public Library the week of November 12 in three groups to hear stories and become familiar with the new building on Palm Ridge Road.

The visits are part of the National Children's Book Week, which couldn't have come at a better time this year as far as Sanibel was concerned. The new library has just started operation and the sooner the children learn how to use it properly the better.

Mrs. Arthur Clark is chairman of the library committee working on the project; other members are Mrs. Walter Strong and Mrs. George Zajicek.

The Parents-Teachers Association is arranging to get the students to the Library for the visits, which last from 9 to 10 a.m.

The schedule follows:

Nov. 12 - Fourth and fifth graders, 31 children.

Nov. 13 - Kindergarten and first graders, 20 children.

Nov. 16 - Second and third graders, 36 children.

In one of the first uses of the Library's new conference room, Mrs. Strong will read a story to each group. Then the children will be taken on a tour of the library, and be permitted to check out books if they wish.

DEAR BOYS AND GIRLS OF SANIBEL ELEMENTARY SCHOOL:

We thank you for your letters. It is very nice to know about what goes on in your school. We are all interested because of course one day you will all be taking over our jobs.

I am wondering if any of you could tell us a little more about opening day of the Florida Legislature when each member has his desk decorated with a vase of flowers. Are we the only state which does that and how did the custom start? Thank you and good wishes.

CAPTIVA ISLAND, FLORIDA

This Week at the Sanibel Library

by Hal H. Harrison

About 10 years ago, I read a revealing book that had a great influence on my personal philosophy regarding the ceremonies and rituals that are often considered "standard procedure" after death. The book was "The American Way of Death," written by Jessica Mitford. I venture to say it changed the thinking of many people because the book became a best seller and a source of great controversy between funeral directors and their clients. The funeral industry is still smarting under the influence of that book.

Today, it has company. Jessica Mitford has now set her sights on "our great 'know-it-all' on prisons," the American Association of Wardens and Superintendents. The new book is "Kind and Usual Punishment," and, keeping the title in context with the earlier Mitford book, Time Magazine suggests that it could be sub-titled "The American Way of Injustice."

In a methodical and relentless manner, Miss Mitford attacks the American prison system. One by one she takes all the arguments in favor of prisons and crushes them with a mountain of statistics and reasons. For example, she attacks the argument that prisons keep off the streets such criminals as rapists, muggers, drug fiends and the like. She points to the fact that out of 9,000,000 crimes committed in a typical year, only 1 1/2 percent are imprisoned.

Miss Mitford deals strongly with the argument that prisons rehabilitate. Indeed, she contends that prisoners may have been better off when they were regarded as sinners than now, when they are labeled sick individuals in need of treatment. She feels that "physical degradation is replaced by psychological degradation," and she predicts that the system will get worse before it gets better.

An amazing statistic offered by Miss Mitford is that the cost of keeping a man in San Quentin could send him to Harvard. Of that total annual expense (about $5,000) Miss Mitford figures that about 5 percent is budgeted for "rehabilitation." Most of the taxpayer's money goes to security, she contends.

Naturally, the author is not proposing that prisoners be sent to Harvard, but in making such a comparison she brings home the tremendous cost to the taxpayer in maintaining prisons and their occupants.

The New York Times Book Review

New and Recommended

FICTION

AS IF BY MAGIC, by Angus Wilson. (Viking, $8.95.) Hamo and Alexandra, two delightfully comic English eccentrics, set out to test their serious ideals in the world, with chastening results.

✓DO WITH ME WHAT YOU WILL, by Joyce Carol Oates. (Vanguard, $7.95.) Another of Miss Oates's powerful excursions into the inner world of feeling, telling of the dumb, dreamy, intermittently panicked progress of Elena Ross into existential risk and sexual aggression.

SEARCHES AND SEIZURES, by Stanley Elkin. (Random House, cloth, $6.95, paper, $3.45.) Three novelettes that exfoliate an art founded on assaults against the reader's habits of association and good manners and that are both wrenchingly funny and oddly moving.

✓THEOPHILUS NORTH, by Thornton Wilder. (Cass Canfield/Harper & Row, $7.95.) A novel made up actually of closely-related short stories unified around the character of Theophilus North, a sort of habitual Good Samaritan who enters and alters the lives of others.

GENERAL

✓THE FOURTEENTH CHRONICLE, edited by Townsend Ludington. (Gambit, $12.50.) Letters and diaries of John Dos Passos covering the period when some of his best work was coming out and pouring out his zest for writers and writing, his hopes and fears for mankind.

GOODBYE, MR. CHRISTIAN, by Richard Dougherty. (Doubleday, $7.95.) McGovern's press secretary in a funny, revealing memoir that is the best effort yet on the campaign to emanate from the Senator's camp.

✓THE GO-GO YEARS, by John Brooks. (Weybright & Talley, $10.) A lively history of the stock market during the bullish sixties, full of verve, color and déjà vu and some marvelous one-liners.

IN SEARCH OF ALI MAHMOUD, by Vivian Gornick. (Saturday Review Press, $8.95.) In quest of the culture that formed her Egyptian friend, Ms. Gornick is embraced into the riotously human world of his family; her book is a rich panoply—warm, open and observant.

LETTERS OF ANTON CHEKHOV, edited by Simon Karlinsky. (Harper & Row, $17.50.) One hundred eighty-five letters presented in their entirety with restorations; the translation is immediate and idiomatic.

THE UNFINISHED QUEST OF RICHARD WRIGHT, by Michel Fabre. (Morrow, $15.) A scrupulous reinterpretation of the man and his books that challenges many traditional notions of Wright, as well as traditional ways of looking at Afro-American literature.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE ISLANDER:

This letter is addressed to the year 'round residents of Sanibel and Captiva Islands.

Home owners of Sanibel and Captiva, in the October 18 Fort Myers Press Newspaper, Section B, page 1, it was stated that they are thinking of giving us windshield stickers at the cost to us of $100.00 per year.

As a year 'round resident and taxpayer, home owner, I am against this or any other fee to us and move for a NO fee sticker for us! This bridge has collected enough money to pay for itself and ten more, at least.

My letters to the Islander have been greatly missed by many people. They have been asking me repeatedly what has happened. Why aren't there any more letters. Well, I have been ill and in the hospital with a heart condition. Every once in awhile it catches up with me, but thankfully, I am feeling a lot better now and up to writing again.

On Nov. 14, they are going to hold a hearing on the bridge toll for Sanibel residents. I plan to be there and hope many of you will be there too. But before we go, I'd like to hold a protest "march," with our cars, against a fee for us, by getting ten to fifteen cars to line up and in a very orderly fashion, pass through the toll gate refusing to pay the toll in protest for us having to pay ANY fee to get to our homes.

Remember, it is going to cost you $1.50 to go over to City Hall so you may have the "privilege" of voicing your opinion or protest at the hearing.

Do you want these fees to continue for such and all our necessities every time we cross to the mainland? If we didn't have the price of $1.50, we would be deprived of passing over the bridge and therefore deprived of our CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS to have a free voice; free speech, at a hearing that is vital to the people who are home owners and taxpayers.

My opinion is to give year round home owners FREE passage at ALL times. Let the people who work here from the mainland, and other business trucks have the quarterly sticker for a price and let the tourists continue to pay the $3.00 fee. If the bridge people want more money, they can up the tourist fee to $5.00. That should give them the revenue they want and they could turn some of it back to the island for maintenance and improvements, without crying the "blues" of high costs for such. They think nothing of taking the toll fees collected on the bridge and using it for the betterment of streets and projects in Fort Myers. Again, Sanibel is the step-child! Our tax money and bridge fees are thrown into the county "kitty," with downtown Fort Myers getting all the gravy from it, and we islanders getting just the grease spots from it, IF we are lucky! To quote in part from the Press, "The board voted in July to refinance the bridge and USE the money for several road projects including the construction of State Road 869 and a proposed loop road running from Ortiz Ave. to Gladiolus, etc." May I remind you. This is OUR money going into Fort Myers projects, not the island, which comes from our property taxes and bridge tolls.

If there are ten to fifteen, SINCERE, interested YEAR round residents that would like to take part in the protest "march," please send a post card to P. O. Box 264, Sanibel Island, 33957, giving your name and phone number, and you will be contacted to arrange a meeting date for such.

Talking doesn't seem to do any good. Maybe some action will. We might land in jail, by the way. So take this into consideration, before you volunteer.

Mrs. H. V. Braun
Sanibel Island

TO THE ISLANDER:

"Well, Commissioner, how we making out on killing the Sanibel-Captiva Plan?"

"We're still working on it."

"Yeah, I know. I thought all the real estate biggies had that thing all bottled up."

"Yeah, well. Hey, did you read in the paper where Elinore says Prissy should come right out and say whether she's for it or against it?"

"Yeah, she must be kidding!"

"Right. Everybody knows that making people believe you're on one side of the fence, while you're really on the other side is just good politics!"

"And good business, Commish."

"You said it. Those crazy preservationists have gotta learn that there's only one thing important in life --- making money and lots of it."

"Not so loud. I've been reading in the paper about 'conflict of interest'."

"Yeah, sh-h-h-h. Let's have lunch, maybe it'll help me forget about Vernon and Walter and Sanibel, and all that money we could make."

C. Burnside

Plainfield, N.J.

(P.S. Keep writing! Keep fighting! Sanibel must not be allowed to become the homogenized horror you can see around you.)

TO THE ISLANDER:

It has been learned, from a virtually unimpeachable source, that Sanibel has been under consideration as the site for the new international jet port. This information is causing concern among a number of residents.

The advantages of the location are obvious: the island is long enough to accommodate the large runway required; the level terrain would not require the movement of much earth; planes could approach and depart over water (a safety factor not available at other sites); and residents could emplane for London, Hong Kong, Athens, and New York with great convenience. Passengers could arrive and depart in automobiles, busses, and boats. Sanibel would be the only international airport approachable by boat.

Despite the obvious advantages of placing the new jet port on Sanibel, there is some local opposition. One person has mentioned the possible impairment of fishing. Jets sometimes are noisy.

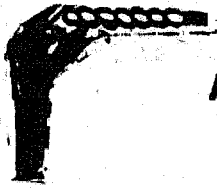

It is difficult to oppose progress. Nobody wants to impede the advance of civilization. Yet, it would be prudent for the residents of Sanibel to consider both the advantages and disadvantages of building an international jet port on the island before the project is finally adopted. Civic-minded residents should make their views of the matter known in unmistakable terms.

CHAISE LOUNGE ANYONE?

If you would like to donate a check for $25.00 or more to the cause of Pro Life, you may take home the beautiful chaise lounge used in "Blue Goose" says Ruth Hunter. "Or, if you have a small sofa to swap, you may have it, and the donation will be made in your name should you choose."

The chaise is upholstered in lovely brocade and is in excellent condition. One can remember the actors stretching out on it in that hilarious comedy at the Pirate Playhouse, "The Blue Goose." Phone 472-2121.

A Grain Of Sea Salt by betzi abram

As you know Cap'n John and I have a little sailboat called No Sweat and we've been in several races some of which have been won by a Venture sailboat just the size and shape of ours. But for some reason, we have not yet won one of these exciting events. Therefore, I decided that something should be done about this state of affairs. After much serious thought and application, I have come up with something which should be helpful to all of us in this rather depressing situation. Herewith is Abram's guaranteed cheerer-upper and guilt-banisher: The Sailor's Excuse Chart. Keep a supply of these handy on your boat and after each race that you do not win, check the proper boxes. You will then feel enormously relieved and if anyone makes the slightest dig at your sailing ability, you can whip out your check-list and put him in his place immediately.

I have a good boat. I am an excellent sailor. I did my best in every way to win this race, but it was absolutely impossible because of factors beyond my control, such as:

- I had too many (not enough) people in my crew.
- There was a hurricane in the offing.
- My wife did not wake me up in time.
- A killer whale attacked us just before the finish line.
- Somebody stole the channel markers.

- My wife lost the jib at the laundromat.
- We ran out of beer (gin, bourbon, Girl Scout cookies).
- Somebody put the mainsail on upside down. (not me!)
- The cooler sprang a leak
- All my kids decided to come for the ride at one time.
- Some of us were hung-over (or still tying one on.)
- The directions were not clear and we got lost.
- My wife left my glasses home so I couldn't read the chart.
- My outboard motor dropped off on the way to the race.
- While anchored out the night before, we rocked the boat so violently it swamped.
- Our mast was hit by lightning.
- My wife bought me the wrong size foul-weather gear and I tripped over the pant legs and fell overboard at a crucial moment.

Note to Women Libbers: The reason that some of these excuses blame the wives but none blame the husbands is that we believe any woman who's up to captaining her own boat will never need to use this list!

REZONING OF SOUTH SEAS PLANTATION

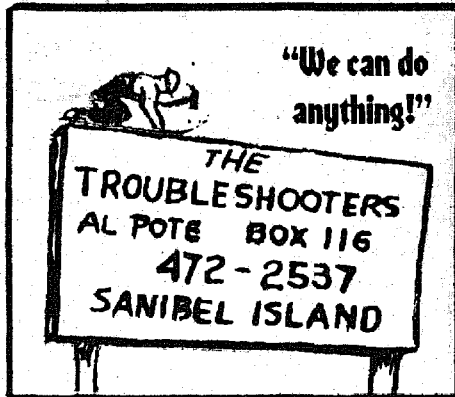

On October 23 the Lee County Zoning Board approved a revision to the existing zoning for the South Seas Plantation property on Captiva Island. The new zoning, as requested by Mariner Properties, Inc., owners of the property, allows multi-family type development on the entire property but under a special limit of 3 units per acre. This is a downzoning of approximately 75 percent from the existing zoning. Bob Taylor, president of Mariner Properties, says that "The new zoning was requested to allow continued expansion of the resort facilities and the flexibility to develop small clusters of single family beach homes and villas on the remainder of the property over a 5 to 7 year period. Such cluster development will allow presentation of all mangrove and bayou shoreline areas at South Seas."

The new zoning is at a density below the level recommended by the Sanibel-Captiva Master Plan Committee and the County Planning Staff. "The density represents a maximum limitation, not necessarily a figure which will be reached," said Taylor.

WATER ASSN. NEWS

Mr. Walter Emmons, president of the Island Water Association, Inc. advises that the new water treatment plant is operating. Start-up operations commenced early last week and by the week's end full production was achieved. The plant will undergo full testing procedure for the next three weeks at which time your Association should take over from the builders.

Mr. Emmons has made the minutes of all regular and special meetings of the Board of Directors available at the main office of the Corporation. Anyone interested will find a true and complete picture of the business and the plans under discussion for the future.

Your front yard measures over One hundred & fifty thousand square feet

Put away your slide rule. We're talking about 3½ acres. When we planned Loggerhead Cay, we wanted every home owner to enjoy the natural unspoiled beauty of this superb setting. We designed our island homes to fit, not on it, but around it. Thus, every home owner has a 3½ acre front yard. Nearly all of this lies in its original natural state. At the open end, 252 feet of unobstructed, unspoiled white sand beach and the Gulf of Mexico. (We'd need more than a slide rule to compute the number of square feet of beauty and pleasure contained there.) We started with the natural beauty that was here. All we added was a swimming pool, a putting green and some complementary natural landscaping to round off the rough edges. Whether you choose Loggerhead Cay for year around living, a second home or a vacation home, visit us soon. Or, send for our free color brochure. It'll show you why it is distinctive and different. Ding's Things

Eight national wildlife refuges are found in the State of Texas, five of them bordering on the Gulf of Mexico. One of these is Laguna Atascosa, "Redhead Capital, USA." This refuge lies in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, an area steeped in rich heritage. At the time the valley was occupied by the American Indian and was being explored by the Spanish, game was abundant. Brush and grass grew lushly over the lowlands; river channels and shallow lakes were bordered by dense woodland; millions of geese and ducks wintered there. As settlers began to infiltrate there, agriculture and cattle raising became important business. However, overgrazing soon occurred and the grasslands were lost. Later, land development companies were attracted by the rich topsoil of the area. Woodlands were cleared and wetlands were drained for crop raising. Nearly all the natural vegetation was removed and with it went the rich wildlife populations.

Yet, in 1946, the last remaining tract of natural habitat was set aside as Laguna Atascosa Refuge, a 45,150 acre oasis for valley wildlife. No geese winter anywhere else in the valley. Unusual waterfowl species nest in the resacas; shorebirds utilize mud flats; geese, deer, and sandhill cranes feed in refuge croplands. Wildlife is abundant, but even so, the habitats on the refuge do not support as many animals as they could. The lack of water limits refuge wildlife. Rainfall is usually insufficient to produce bumper crops, potholes and ponds go dry, and the resacas hold water in only a few spots. What water is available to the refuge is contaminated with agricultural chemicals which destroy plants and animals. As a result less food is produced in permanent refuge waters and fewer animals find sufficient food.

The Laguna Atascosa wildlife populations are impressive. Over 250,000 geese and ducks winter there, with 60 percent of these being redheads. This is three-fourths of the continent's redhead duck population! Thirteen other duck species can be found there also. The geese are Canadas, snows, blues, and white-fronteds.

Thirty-two threatened species frequent the refuge lands and the areas they use are being preserved to ensure their survival. Bald eagles and peregrine falcons, prairie falcons, reddish egrets, spoonbills, masked ducks, chachalacas, groove-billed anis, black hawks and many other threatened birds are on the refuge's bird list, which, by the way, is the largest in the entire Refuge System with 330 species.

Mammals and other resident wildlife include deer, javelina, rabbits, turkey, raccoon, coyotes, armadillo, rattlesnake, skunk, bobcat, mountain lions, and ocelot.

To improve refuge lands for the wildlife, more water is needed. Dikes and water control structures are in use now and will be improved, while new lakes and potholes are planned. Winter wheat, other crops, and domestic grass plantings will be continued for food, and efforts will concentrate on minimizing water and wind erosion and increasing soil fertility.

This refuge is a good spot to see and photograph wildlife at any time of the year. The staff at Laguna Atascosa offer two auto tours and are planning other interpretative facilities -- displays, trails, photo blinds, and observation towers.

HOW TO SAVE ON FOOD SUBJECT OF NEXT MEETING OF SANIBEL COMMUNITY ASSN.

The dinner meeting of the Sanibel Community Association scheduled for this Tuesday, Nov. 6 has been planned to be both entertaining, timely, profitable and fun. Two speakers, in keeping with today's inflation and high prices will talk on "How To Save On Food."

The subjects to be covered include: How to buy economically in today's market; How to prepare economical dishes; How to grow your own vegetables.

These two experts are from the Florida Cooperative Extension Service, Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences, University of Florida, our county agents. Mrs. Dorothy Classon, Extension Home Economics Agent will talk on "How to Buy Economically in Today's Market," and "How to Prepare Economical Dishes." "How to Grow Your Own Vegetables and Fruits," will be covered by Mr. Robert Curtis, County Extension Director. Mr. Curtis will talk on such things as "How to deal with Nematodes," "Problems of growing vegetables in Southern Florida," "How to get the most out of Mini-gardens," "The most profitable and productive vegetables to grow," "The Fabulous Japanese tomatoring," etc.

Patsy Simmons, who put this program together for the Community Association explains that, while Dorothy Classon's talk will be chiefly for the women, Robert Curtis will be talking to the men.

In addition to the above talks there will be an exhibit of instructions on how to prepare a Japanese Tomato Ring, how to plan a raised garden, how to layout a Mini-Garden, for those who do not have much space, and other ideas for Sanibel gardeners.

To add to the fun of this meeting on How To Save, all members of the Association are being urged to prepare and bring what they have found to be their most economical dish, and at the same time to bring their recipe for that dish. These recipes will then be collected and issued in bulletin form to members of the Association at the next meeting. Each dish will be numbered (if the person bringing the dish wishes to enter the contest); the members will then vote on which dishes should be given a prize. Since everyone can't sample each dish several prizes will be given.

"I'm sure," says Patsy Simmons, "that many of our members have found delicious ways to stretch the budget by preparing unusual dishes. Now we are asking them to prepare such a dish for this meeting to then let us have the recipe. These dishes can be ways to stretch meat (other than Hamburger Helpers), fish, chicken, vegetable, casseroles, salads, even desserts. I think it can be fun as well as helpful in these days of high prices and scarcities. We also hope some will bring recipes on how to prepare dishes from native plants, fruits and vegetables."

The "How To Save" part of the meeting, talks, etc., will be at 8 o'clock, following the regular dinner and business meeting of the Association and will be open to the public. The dinner meeting for members and their guests only starts at the usual time, 6:30. The meeting is held at the Community House on Sanibel.

UNITED WAY

Dick Ackert, president of Lee County United Way, announced that the United Way campaign cabinet had announced its complete calendar of events for this year's campaign to raise the $519,000.00 needed to support the 14 member agencies of the community fund raising organization. Ackert, John S. Lowman III, campaign chairman, and Stephen G. Zahorian jointly emphasized that the report meetings that have been scheduled are of prime importance to all workers and are open to the public. Special encouragement was put forth in a recent mailing urging all who are working in any capacity to attend.

Report meetings will be held at the Kiwanis House at Second & Woodford Streets in Fort Myers for four consecutive Thursdays at noon. The luncheons are set for October 25, November 1, November 8 and the final report meeting for November 15.

An Appreciation Dinner for the workers has been inaugurated this year and will be held Thursday evening, November 29 at the Sheraton Inn of Fort Myers. Special invitations will be sent the workers.

To date the drive has seen two successful events, according to drive chairman Lowman. The Blast-Off breakfast on October 3 marked the beginning of the stepped up campaign for payroll deduction campaigns within local industries. Next a special group of volunteers conducted a telephone drive among known contributors for three consecutive evenings. Tom Cronin, Jr., chairman of the new event has tallied almost $16,000.00 against his goal of $12,000.00.

Cape Coral, under the overall chairman of Charles Brady, was the first community to kick off its entire drive. The event was hosted at the Cape Coral Chamber of Commerce on the afternoon of Sept. 24. Early reports show their campaign is in excess of 25 percent towards attaining their goal.

Harry T. Powell of Lehigh Acres, arranged for the kick off of their campaign in two parts. Powell, chairman for the area, was assisted by Charles Methaney. The campaign among the employees was started on Sept. 28 and the business and other divisions kicked off on October 3 at the Golden Grill.

SEND SOCKS PLEASE

Each day 1500 to 2500 poor men come to Miserere House in Skid Row in Los Angeles. They come from every hamlet, village, town and city in the United States and are of all ages, races, nationalities and creeds. Many wear broken ill-fitting shoes without socks. Their feet become injured and sore.

So, would some kind souls gather new or used socks together and parcel post them to St. Vincent de Paul Society, 231 Winston St., Los Angeles, Calif. 90013, or if you will bring them to the Pirate Playhouse, Ruth Hunter says she will post them for you and the socks need not even match. One may be black, the other blue, etc., and the men will indeed be grateful.

PUNTA YBEL PLAZA NEARING COMPLETION

The shops in the quaint Plaza on Periwinkle on the Punta Ybel will soon be opening to offer you the following goods or services:

"Salon de Bellaza" Beauty Shop; owner Mary Aleck.

"Needles Eye" needle point, yarns, needlework supplies and instruction; Ann Boland owner.

"Looking Glass," bed and bath boutique, bathroom decorating service, coordinated bed and bath linens and unique accessories; Becky and Archie Cowen, owners.

"Sanibel Bait & Tackle," plus tackle and boat and motor repair; owner Bruce Chapin.

"Snack Shack II," restaurant; owner Jeanne Hopwood.

Owners of the center are Mary and Harold Clark in a family partnership with their son and daughter-in-law, Edward & Joe Ann Spilly.

The Clark family came to Sanibel 20 years ago, fell in love with the Islands and immediately set out to find a parcel of land to build a small home and business. The late Mary Cunningham, a dear friend of the family, found this lot and they purchased it from Fletcher Kneble. All through the years this bit of land with their plan saw them through Korea and Vietnam as Harold was "Army" for 23 years. They visited Sanibel with their four children every chance available.

When asked about the name, Mary states, "Look on your maps, this Lighthouse end is Punta Ybel."

THANK YOU

Remember Hurricane Agnes, the white tornado and the Snack Shack? Well, guess what? One of them is back. It didn't take long for the tornado to demolish the Snack Shack but it sure has taken me a bit of time and doing to replace it (18 months).

I used to pray for a better building but never thought it would happen the way it did. The people here were great to me; they helped every way they could. I sure do thank everyone who helped. I think if it hadn't been for all the moral support I got I would have given up long ago.

Well anyways, Snack Shack II will open soon specializing in char-broiled steaks and pizza, a variety of sandwiches, homemade chili and shrimp salad will also be on the menu. I'll be looking for you all again soon.

Jeanne

BEACH HOUSE OPENS

The Beach House, in beautiful Periwinkle Place, is now open. They specialize in delightful beach wear from coverups to hats and sandals, and of course, bathing suits. Owned by Mr. & Mrs. Fred Lang, it is managed by Bibbs and Ernie Guenther. Bibbs would be delighted to show you around. Go in and browse.

BECOMING BETTER PATIENTS

It takes at least two to cure an illness. The doctor and the patient. Seeing a doctor soon about symptoms that don't go away, like a cough or breathlessness, is one good way to help prevent long-term lung disease.

Too many people postpone seeing a doctor because they hope in vain that their symptoms will disappear. When the symptoms persist, they are embarrassed about their delay and sometimes are less than truthful with the doctor once they see him or her. Patients may also say they drink or smoke less than they do. And they may hesitate to volunteer facts that could help the doctor diagnose the illness. To help, doctors need all the pertinent information they can get.

One way to be a better patient is to organize your thoughts and the history of your illness before you see the doctor. This gets the picture clear in your own mind, and you're less likely to overlook pertinent points to tell the doctor. It also helps the doctor get to the cause of your problem sooner. And if the doctor's explanations are not clear, ask questions. Doctors don't know when you don't understand if you don't tell them.

Too many patients do not follow the doctor's instructions. Many stop taking medications once they feel better. That may not be long enough. If you have a TB infection, for example, you must take pills every day for at least a year in order not to develop TB illness. Skipping pills, failing to come back for follow-up visits, not sticking to a recommended diet, all these wipe out the good care your doctor wants to provide.

Getting better is a two-way relationship. To find out more about ways to prevent and treat lung disease, contact your association. And when troublesome symptoms arrive, see your doctor soon. It's a matter of life or breath.
