Meet your city council candidates

Annual meeting of Conservation Foundation to be Nov. 30

Schedule of the annual meeting of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, Inc., to be held November 30, 1974 is as follows:

4 p.m.: Captiva Community Association building. Business meeting, election of new Board of Directors, presentation of awards. The 1974 annual meeting of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, Inc. will begin at 4 p.m. at the Captiva Community Association building with reports on the activities of 1974 and a financial statement. An election of new directors will be followed by a presentation of awards.

5 p.m.: Social hour at the Captiva Community Association building. The business meeting will adjourn for a social hour at the same location. The guest speaker for the evening, the internationally respected author and advocate of animal protection, Cleveland Amory, will attend the social hour to meet Foundation members.

8 p.m.: Sanibel Community Association building. An evening with Cleveland Amory followed by coffee and the opportunity to have Mr. Amory inscribe a copy of "Mankind?" The evening program will begin at 8 p.m. at the Sanibel Community Association building. The public is invited to attend this program and the coffee hour which will follow.

Community Assoc. sponsors political rally

The Sanibel Community Association is planning a big political rally for Tuesday night, November 26 at the Community House for 8 p.m.

All registered voters are urged to come and meet their candidates face to face. Every candidate who has filed to run for City of Sanibel Commissioner has been invited to attend and all have accepted. Each candidate has been given a list of questions to be answered and three minutes in which to do so. No questions will be allowed from the floor during the meeting. However, all candidates will remain after the formal meeting to meet individually with anyone who would like to ask specific questions.

"We are doing this as a public service," states Dr. John Willard, president of the Community Association. "We realize there are a lot of new voters on the Island and a lot of these candidates are new and now that we have decided for Home Rule we need to get acquainted on a first name basis with those who will be running our Island. That's why the directors of the Association held a special meeting after last Tuesday's dinner meeting and decided to do it. We have asked John Shepherd to organize it and act as moderator."

Special arrangements have been made to handle the parking as a very large crowd is expected. Tuesday, Nov. 26, 8 p.m. at the Community House.

In this and next week's issues of the ISLANDER, we are presenting all (or at least as many as we can get hold of) candidates who are running for city council in the Dec. 3 election.

Many moons ago, 'way before incorporation was even a gleam in anyone's eye, we told Francis Bailey that if he ever ran for mayor, we'd support him. Outside of that original statement, the ISLANDER is presenting all candidates without prejudice. We're not doing any endorsing, since we figure that's up to you to do with your votes.

working man on Sanibel.

Mr. Tracey graduated from Edison Community College with an A.A. While enrolled there, he served as President and Vice-President of Circle K, freshman and sophomore Senator in the Student Senate, Inner Club Council Chairman, and he is listed in 'Who's Who of American Junior Colleges.'

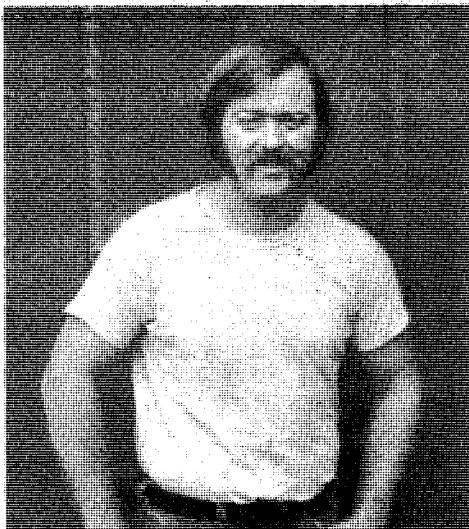

After receiving his A.A., Mr. Tracey attended Stetson University in Deland, Florida, from which he graduated last year with a B.A. in History and Political Science.

Mr. Tracey is a member of the Kiwanis Club of South Fort Myers.

He will be part-owner and manager of the New Sanibel Trailer Park, which, barring complications, should open by next fall. At the present time, Mr. Tracey is night watchman and construction office manager of the New Trailer Park, where he resides.

When asked about his motives for running for city council, Mr. Tracey stated: "It's common knowledge that I was against incorporation because of the red tape involved. I'm completely behind planning and zoning; don't get me wrong. I'd just like to see the people have more of a say in terms of repealing taxes and ordinances. I'd like to see the council and the people in general have more control of their city manager. The way it's set up in the charter, they can't. We voted for home-rule - I want to see home-rule run by home-people."

Mr. Tracey qualified for candidacy on November 15.

Gordon Tracey

Gordon Tracey is a young man of twenty-five years who was raised and who has lived his entire life on Sanibel. A very outspoken young man, Mr. Tracey purports to represent youth and the

Letters To The Editor

TO THE ISLANDER:

"Thank you" seems like a trite phrase, but there is no other way in which I can express my appreciation for your support, your vote, and your faith in me as your State Representative.

I promise to strive to continue to live up to the trust that you have placed in me, and I guarantee that I will continue to be your conservative and fiscally aware voice in Tallahassee.

As Southwest Florida continues its rapid growth, so we shall continue to grow, carefully, resourcefully, with God's help, prepared to face our future.

With my sincere appreciation,
/s/ Paul Nuckolls

TO THE ISLANDER:

I wish to thank the Community Association for bringing up the need for a cemetery on Sanibel Island at the Association's supper on Tuesday last.

Since the call is out for unity on every side, wouldn't it be great for the Island churches (and/or a group of organizations) to unite for such a project?

Cape Coral has a cemetery and so does Fort Myers. Now that we are Lee County's third city, shouldn't we on Sanibel have one too?

/s/ Ruth Hunter

Wanderin This Way...

J. H. and MYRA SWANN and their daughter, TERRY KOONS and her son, JASON, are from Huntington Beach, CA. They have had lots of rain on their trip. They say it is lovely here - better than any place they've stopped.

"It is beautiful here," say CHET and LAURA RICHARDS from Alma, MI.

From Philo, OH, come CLARENCE and CLEONE TROUT. They told us, "This is our 4th winter here in a trailer. We think there is no place like Sanibel."

VINCENT and PAT HELMER and their son, BOB are from Indianapolis, IN. They enjoy Sanibel and have done lots of fishing. In couple of days they caught 8 fish; flounder, red snapper, trout and lady fish.

JOHN and ANN SWANSON from Avon Lake, OH, would love to live here forever.

Retired this year are JIM and KAY THOMAS from Mogadore, OH. They came to spend the winter in a trailer in Periwinkle Park. They like the climate and the area and are happy to hear there is a golf course.

JUNNAR and MURIEL DAHLEN and WALTER and LEADA DAVIDSON are staying at the By the Sea Motel. They stopped by Periwinkle Park and told us, "We used to stay here. We just had to come back to see the MUENCHS. To us this is home."

TOM DISTLER and his wife, GAIRE and BILL and LORRAINE PONTRELLO from Bellaire Bluffs, FL, spent a peaceful quiet night on the island.

ARTHUR and JUNE PARKINSON from Ft. Lauderdale live on a boat and they cruise in the Bahamas. Now they also have a motor home and they came "land yachting" to Sanibel.

BETTY and BOB LOVE and his mother, ETHEL LOVE come from Flint, MI. They are campers. Bob said, "This is a nice place to stay. I could see how a guy could come down here to retire. It's quiet. Hope we don't go back to snow."

From Miami come MARTIN and DOROTHY SCHROTH and REWA. They have been to Sanibel many times and love it.

Also from Miami come STEVE and CAROLYN HEBEL. They said, "It's beautiful. Reminds us of the Keys before they were developed."

Five years ago EDITH and RAY ESTES from Boynton Beach walked the length of the beach from Tarpon Bay Rd. to the Lighthouse. They commented, "Sanibel is changing. It shows progress but we liked it the other way."

LIZ and JIM VOGLER and their mother EDITH VOGLER and four children, JAMIE, DIANE, J.J., and JOHNNY from Lantan, FL, said they were here to get away from it all.

Fifteen years ago MARGARET and BOB MEDLIN from Raleigh, NC, came on the ferry to Sanibel. They brought their five children and had to find a place large enough for all of them, so they stayed at the Hurricane House. They found a great many shells. "Now," they say, "Sanibel has changed - has lots of buildings. We liked it better before."

OLYMPIA and ROBERT ULREY and their children, BOBBY JR., LORI, CHRIS and BURKE are here for the third time. They dearly love the place.

BASIL OSMIN, who lives about 2 miles from the South Seas Plantation in Captiva, paid us a visit. He enjoys walking and exploring the Islands.

"We highly recommend bicycle paths," say HENRY G. and LAVERNE PEARSON from Miami. They told us that they liked Sanibel best when they came by ferry - that it is getting over populated and with inferior architecture on the beaches." They added, "Periwinkle Park has retained more of its appeal than the rest of the islands."

DAVE and DOTTY KILE, son and daughter-in-law of MERLE and BILL ROSSMAN, who live on Sanibel, brought their 12 month old daughter, VICKIE, for a visit. They come from Cleveland, OH. They feel that Sanibel is different now, growing too fast. But they like it as much as they ever did.

CHRIS and BEA BOGAN from Merrillville, IN, are here for the third time. They enjoy beaching, bicycling and going to church on Sanibel.

EMILY and LESTER LORING come all the way from San Clemente, CA. They are camping with their daughter, PAMELA and her husband, TOD JOHNSON and their daughter, KATRINA from Miami. They are on Sanibel for the second time. The Johnsons come here twice a year.

This is a pretty place to live to get away from the big city," said SALLY and ERNEST LOWRY from Miramar, FL. They are here with their sons, DAVID, DOUGLAS and MICHAEL.

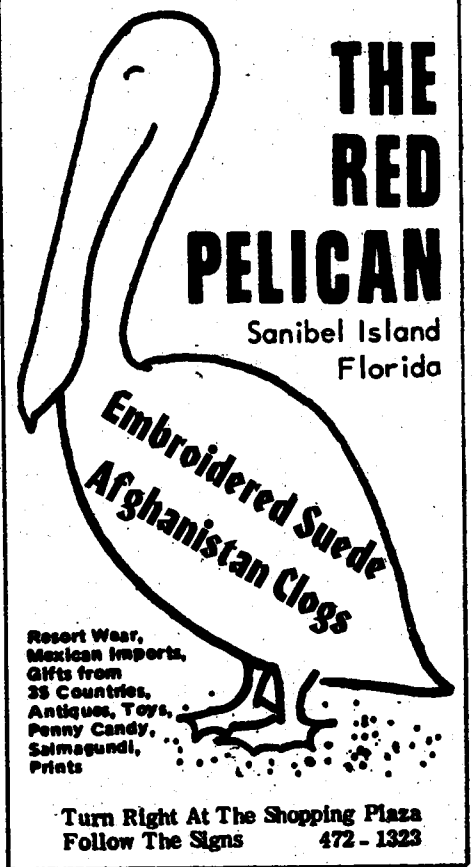

On Sanibel for the first time are BILL and CAROL THROCKMORTON and their children, LAURA and GARY. They are from Plantation, FL.

Friends of JAMES and ELIZABETH PETNIC of Hampstead, MD, suggested they come to Periwinkle Park. They did and found the foliage beautiful.

CHARLES and MILDRED HOCKENBERRY from Shinnston, WV, are camping for the winter near her sister and brother-in-law MARNIE and NITE HANNER who spend the winter in their mobile home here.

HAROLD and KYDA PRICKETT Jr. from New Vienna, OH, are on Sanibel for the second time. They enjoy Sanibel but, "What we don't like this time is they're building so many buildings."

CAPE PLAYERS KEEP 'EM LAUGHING

by Sheri Smock

The climax of 'See How They Run,' as performed by the Cape Players, was evidenced by the audience's laughter. The play is a very complicated comedy with all sorts of misunderstandings - several people hiding in the closet, a man in his skivvies chasing a Russian spy through the house, three men each saying he's Penelope's husband, and a Bishop (Penelope's uncle) coming to visit amidst this confusion.

Betty McCharen, who plays Ida, the maid, is positively dynamic. Even her quickest glance and gesture are in character. She's a cross between the wit of Carol Burnett and the housekeeper of Maude.

Nancy Murin, from the first lines, is such a righteous (yet hinting of gossip) citizen that you really become aggravated with her. She smacks of old-maid "auntishness." Although, as Miss Skillon, she's never had anything to drink before that night, as a novice drunk, she has probably the most convincing and comic drunk act I've seen since Dean Martin.

In the role of Penelope, Penny Blom made her debut. This must be why she spoke her lines so mechanically, devoid of any expression. A person viewing this can't get lost in what's going on onstage, as one's constantly reminded that it's just a play. Perhaps with more experience she'll be able to have some personality come across.

A parody of Sherlock Holmes was played by Hal Stott. Of course his tone portrayed this, but more important to this part were his movements. He slowly, decisively stepped up and leaned into his witnesses while asking his questions (in the same manner) when trying to establish the identity of the Russian.

Most actors were in character throughout the play. Excluding Miss Blom, it was a professional performance. It's too late for you to see "See How They Run," as it ran last weekend, but I would urge you to see the Cape Players in 'Hello, Dolly,' in January. You'll see some outstanding performances.

NEW SANIBEL TRAILER PARK

In the weeks to come, operations will be progressing more rapidly on the new Sanibel Trailer Park. The park stretches from Dunlop Road to the back of the Martin property on Pine Ridge Road and is bounded by the Ding Darling Wildlife Preserve on the back side. The entrance road is off of Dunlop Road, across Periwinkle Way from the Gasparilla Restaurant.

The 22.8 acre tract of land is to be divided into 95 units with each having a 2500 square foot lot. The building architecture will be designed to give the impression of a Polynesian or tropical island setting. Aside from the four-acre lake for swimming and boating, the new Sanibel Trailer Park will feature full recreational facilities such as a heated swimming pool and a recreation room complete with ping pong tables and other diversissements.

The proposed trailer park passed the County Zoning Board with a four-to-one recommendation this past August. At the October meeting of the County Commissioners, the project was once again approved by a vote of four-to-one. The final plan approval is still pending. This requires that building permits, drainage permits, and the like be submitted en toto for perusal and final approval. The mechanical drawings of sewer systems and other technical fine points are being handled by Howell F. Davis and Associates, engineers.

Co-owners Velna Ridge and Gordon Tracey are hopeful that the new Sanibel Trailer Park can be open for operations by the fall of 1975. Mr. Tracey plans to manage the park himself.

BRIDGE GAME TO BENEFIT AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

The Seven Lakes Duplicate Bridge Club will sponsor a charity bridge game for the benefit of the American Cancer Society on Friday, Nov. 29 at 8 p.m. This event will be held in cooperation with the American Contract Bridge League which is arranging 400 such games throughout North America on this date. As a result, a total of more than 25,000 bridge players will be competing simultaneously using identical hands.

Seven Lakes invites all area duplicate players to help fight cancer both in the duplicate event and in the novice game. An added incentive will be the awarding of a large number of Green Stamps to the winners. Pick a partner and plan to attend. Refreshments will be served.

POSTAL SERVICE REITERATES UNPAID DELIVERY POLICY

Postmaster Paul Adams today reminded customers that effective Sunday, November 17, the U. S. Postal Service intends to discontinue delivering mail on which there is no postage.

Postmaster Adams said the new policy was instituted because of the high costs being incurred by the Postal Service in its attempt to deliver such mail. Officials estimate that such costs total approximately $18 million annually.

In announcing the new policy last month, Postmaster General E. T. Klassen said, "It is unfair to burden the vast majority of mailers with costs created by the few who mail without prepayment of postage."

After November 17, letters mailed without postage will be returned to sender if there is a return address, or to the dead letter office, instead of being delivered to the address as postage due mail as has been the custom. Postal officials will attempt to find the sender of unpaid mail and return it for a slight fee, if there is no return address.

"Naturally we realize that someone could inadvertently forget to put a stamp on a letter or that a stamp could come off prior to cancellation, so we urge mailers to be sure to include a correct return address on their mail," Postmaster Adams said.

A Grain Of Sea Salt by betzi abram

When my last newsletter came from the Caloosahatchie Marching and Chowder Society came the other day, I had a vision. I suddenly saw Fort Myers Beach world-famous - the Newport of Southwest Florida. How fantastic, I thought, what names I will be able to drop! Warran Casazza, Lou Tilley, Gloria and Nancy Bogan, Rafael Lorie, the Goodacres, Fred White and many more. I will rub my fingernails on my sweatshirt where the lapel should be, look coyly skyward and say, "I knew them when CMCS was barely started and there were only 6 or 8 boats in a race. Hot Damm."

Actually, never mind the name dropping. The fun thing is that CMCS is such a fantastic sailing club. Its members are so involved, its officers so dedicated to enlarging the opportunities and the satisfactions. They not only have racing under NAYRU rules with CMCS handicapping, but they offer the smaller boats a chance to compete under other handicapping systems such as M.O.R.C. Now they have added another trophy in the Windjammer class.

The handicaps for this class will be established by a rather simple and free measurement factor and will not affect the regular CMCS handicap rating. Performance ratings will not be a factor for Windjammer handicaps which will be established by LOA, LWL and three sail measurements which can be made on your lawn with a tape measure. If you have a production boat, the manufacturers LOA and LWL are acceptable --- and there are no restrictions as to boat length.

For an additional fee of about $1.00, you indicate your choice of competing for the Windjammer trophy when you send in your CMCS race entry form. You will, in effect, then be sailing two races in one as it is not possible to enter the Windjammer class only. An added bonus is that you CAN win in both classes.

If you have questions or need measurement forms, you can write to me care of this paper, P. O. Box 2867, Fort Myers Beach, FL 33931.

Dues for this super outfit are only $15 a year (because of strong anti-inflation sentiments in the group). For new members there is also a $5 initiation fee and $10 for the burgee which brings it to $30 for the first year. And it's a bargain.

If you like to sail, it doesn't matter whether you know how or even if you have a boat; they will welcome you and you will get even more than you put in. There are opportunities to crew on other people's boats. (I got my start sailing with Drex and Zona Moore, bless their hearts.

You'll pick up a lot of sailing know-how just from listening at the meetings; you'll meet some fascinating people and - unless I miss my guess - you'll be owning your own boat before you know it, if you have to make it yourself out of a cracker box. Besides, all those sailors have an instinct for sniffing out decent boats for sale and can give you a few steers in the right direction.

In parting, I would say to all you dear friends up there in the snow, that yesterday the butter melted in my galley, (forgot to put it in the cooler), the sky is beneficent blue with fat little white clouds; a playful breeze is beckoning across green ripples in the water, and several hundred sailors can't be wrong. Fort Myers Beach is the place to be.

"PAPA NUI" Now Charters out of Moss Marina

Sailing on an ocean racing catamaran is no longer a monopoly of visitors to Waikiki Beach in Honolulu. The Ocean Racing Catamaran,

"Papa Nui" designed by Hawaiian born Naval Architect, Rudy Choy, and built by Huskins Boat Works for Capt. Al Stresen-Reuter is now "Day Sailing" and Chartering out of Moss Marina at Fort Myers Beach, Florida.

WHAT IS THE UNITED STATES POWER SQUADRON?

Founded in 1914, the United States Power Squadron is a non-profit, non-military organization dedicated to education in the field of boating.

Article II of their constitution states, "The objects of the United States Power Squadrons shall be to establish a high standard of skill in the handling and navigation of yachts; to encourage the study of the science of navigation and small boat handling; to cooperate with the agencies of the United States government charged with the enforcement of the laws and regulations relating to navigation and to stimulate interest in activities which tend to the up-building of our Army, Navy, Coast Guard, and Merchant Marine."

Membership in the United States Power Squadrons is not limited to boat owners.

Visitors to the west coast of Florida will be able to go for a Day Sail aboard this beautiful "Cat", or for those with more time, a week or two weeks charter to the Keys, the Tortugas, or just "Gunkholing" down the West Coast.

Crewed by Peri Taylor, and Al Stresen-Reuter, both Licensed Operators, the Papa Nui is docked at Moss Marina and sailing on a daily schedule. Day Sails are in the Gulf in good sailing weather, or in the Sound as an alternate.

Many visitors have expressed an interest in "looking over" the Papa Nui. For these friends and potential customers, Capt. Peri has a "Coffee and Cookie" hour from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. every morning aboard the Papa Nui. (A small fee is charged to cover these costs). It will give our visitors an opportunity to see at close quarters one of the world's fastest sailboats.

Meet your candidates (from page 1)

Francis Bailey

Francis Bailey, co-owner and manager of Bailey's General Store, has lived on Sanibel all his life. The elected Commissioner of the Lee County Mosquito Control Board at present, Mr. Bailey is the only candidate for city council to hold an elected post.

Mr. Bailey also serves the community in his capacity as Board member of both the Sanibel-Captiva and Ft. Myers-Lee County Chambers of Commerce, Board member of the Sanibel Community Association (of which he is also past president), member of the Conservation Foundation, and member of the Audubon Society.

In the past, Mr. Bailey has served as a Cub Scout and Boy Scout leader, as Director of Lee Memorial Hospital, as Director of the Lee County Electric Cooperative, and has contributed to the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board.

When asked his reasons for running, Mr. Bailey replied: "I wouldn't be running if I didn't want to see this island a success. I'm for planned growth, but that doesn't mean I'm for stifling commerce."

Vernon MacKenzie

Vernon G. MacKenzie has lived on Sanibel for five and a half years. Mr. MacKenzie is the Assistant Surgeon General (Retired) of the United States Public Health Service. He has an engineering degree from M.I.T. and a certificate in Advanced Management from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Mr. MacKenzie has worked for more than forty years in planning, carrying out, and directing environmental control programs. After twelve years of engineering research and design in the fields of water pollution control and other sanitary works in Chicago and Detroit, he joined the Public Health Service in 1939. During World War II he was assigned as liaison officer and consultant to the War Production Board on materials allocations for health and sanitation purposes. He also supervised a program to assess and provide national needs for sanitary engineering services and facilities in support of the war effort.

Post-war, Mr. MacKenzie was assigned to the American Mission for Aid to Greece with responsibilities for planning and conducting post-war rehabilitation of health services in Greece.

From 1948 to 1954, he served as

Officer in Charge of the Sanitary Engineering Center in Cincinnati, Ohio, the major national laboratory and center for field studies in environmental programs pertaining to health. Mr. MacKenzie spent the last fifteen years of his federal service in Washington, where he served successively as Chief of Environmental Health Research, Developer and Director of the National Air Pollution Control Program, Deputy Director of the Bureau of Disease Prevention and Environmental Control, and Deputy Administrator of the Consumer Protection and Environmental Control Service.

Mr. MacKenzie also served on various interdepartmental committees and boards, was chief of a scientific exchange mission to the U.S.S.R. in 1962, and served on international committees for development of cooperative environmental research with Germany and Japan. He was a consultant to the World Health Organization from 1960 to 1973.

Since coming to Sanibel, Mr. MacKenzie has been active in the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board, of which he has served as president for the past three years. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Lung Association of S.W. Florida and has worked in the formation of the Ecological Confederation of S.W. Florida. He is also a member of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, the National Audubon Society, the Nature Conservancy, and the Wildlife Federation.

With respect to his candidacy and his hopes for the Island, Mr. MacKenzie said: "The Islanders have spoken overwhelmingly in the referendum vote for the need to control their own destiny. Members of the new city council will have heavy responsibilities to provide a land-use plan for the Island and to implement it, as well as to gradually improve the municipal services necessary to keep the Island a good place to live."

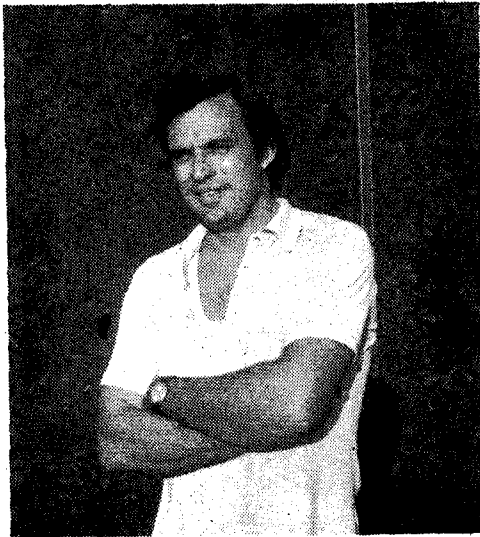

Mrs. Claire T. Walter

Mrs. Claire T. Walter, owner and manager of Sanibel-Captiva Real Estate, first came to Sanibel and purchased property in 1957. Mrs. Walters was born and educated in New Hampshire where she was elected to membership of the National Honor Society and served on the Zoning Board of Littleton, New Hampshire. She first entered the real estate field in 1961 and became a Realtor in 1964. At the present time, she is a member of two Realtor boards, Fort Myers and Fort Myers Beach.

Mrs. Walter is a qualified residential appraiser, in accordance with the 1968 Principles and Techniques of Residential Appraising as set forth by the Society of Real Estate Appraisers. She is also on the Board of Trustees of "The Professional Society of Real Estate Associates," a member of the Florida Realtor's Association, and a member of the National Association of Real Estate Brokers.

Locally, Mrs. Walter's civic duties include membership on the Board of Directors of the Sanibel-Captiva Chamber of Commerce (of which she is currently the secretary), membership to the Ft. Myers-Lee County Chamber of Commerce, Board membership to the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Found-

Porter Goss

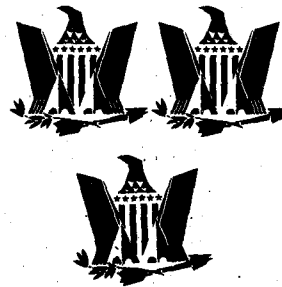

Porter Goss, a resident of the Island since early 1971, has been active in community affairs both on Sanibel and elsewhere in Lee County. He was born in Waterbury, Connecticut in 1938. A magna cum laude graduate of Yale University, Mr. Goss is an Army veteran with ten years experience in the area of international politics on the federal level.

In terms of commercial interests, Mr. Goss was at one time part-owner of Island Boat Rentals. He is presently a co-owner of the Casa Turquesa Cottages. In keeping with his business ventures, Mr. Goss is active in the Chamber of Commerce and has served on the Chamber's Action Committee.

Other duties Mr. Goss performs in the community include memberships in the Sanibel Causeway Refinancing Committee, the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, the advisory committee of Sanibel Tomorrow, director of the Sanibel Community Association, director of the Children's Center of the Islands, and chairman of the Community Association's Island Improvement Committee. Mr. Goss is also president of the Board of Canterbury School in Fort Myers. Finally, he did much to help organize the Lee County Commissioners' tour of the Islands in 1973.

Mr. Goss has great faith in the future of Sanibel. When asked for a statement concerning his candidacy, Mr. Goss said: "I've got great hopes for the community of Sanibel. I've got four children to raise here. I'VE GOT SOME Island business interests that I'd like to see prosper. I and my family are thoroughly committed to Sanibel's future as a unique place to live and work. I have been a strong advocate of home-rule from the beginning because it seems to be the only practical way to accomplish my hopes for the Island."

Mr. Goss received his qualification on November 12.

ation, Board membership and officer of Fur Feathers and Scales (collector's prints), Board membership and officer of CROW (Care and Rehabilitation of Wildlife), membership to the National Historical Society, membership to the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon Society, membership to the National Audubon Society, and membership to the National Wildlife Federation. Mrs. Walter is also past treasurer of the Community Association.

Mrs. Walter has been a strong supporter of wildlife conservation and rational growth of the Islands. In her position as a Realtor and member of the community of Sanibel for the past 15 years, she has advocated the type of growth that will retain the fragile ecological balance of the Island and will maintain the unique quality of life which draws people to Sanibel.

Mrs. Walter qualified for candidacy on November 12.

C. Duane White

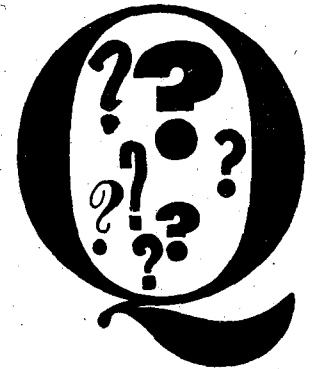

Before moving to Sanibel in 1969, C. Duane White was the Director of National Accounts for the Richardson Corporation of Rochester, New York. Before holding that position, Mr. White tried his hand at teaching and the ministry, among other things.

Since moving to the Island Mr. White has been active in many community organizations, not the least of which is the Sanibel Chamber of Commerce. He has served on the Board of Directors of the Community Association since 1970, holding the presidency of that organization from 1971 to 1973. In the years 1971 and 1972 he was president of the Lions Club. For the past three years he has served as chairman of the Board of Directors of the Community Church. At the present time, Mr. White is the first vice president of the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board and a member of the Board of Directors of the Sanibel Library.

Mr. White and his wife, the former Charlotte Kinzie of the Sanibel Kinzie family, owners and operators of the old Sanibel ferry for many years, own and manage the Casa Blanca Apartments on Periwinkle Way at the present time.

With respect to the upcoming election, Mr. White said: "The wide margin of victory for incorporation is evidence of the determination of the citizens of Sanibel to direct the destiny of the Island. It now remains for them to complete the task by electing a capable, responsible city council composed of men and women who know the Island and are familiar with the many problems facing it. I am confident that the electorate of this Island will choose wisely from among the slate of candidates and will take care that a well-balanced council, representative of all aspects of the Island, will be chosen to do the work before it."

Mr. White qualified on November 14.

TWO MORE JOIN SALES FORCE

Sanibel-Captiva Real Estate has recently increased its sales force by two with the addition of Joan Thompson and Peggy Ready.

Before their association with Sanibel-Captiva Real Estate, both had served as Army officers where Joan's field was Security and Intelligence and Peggy's dual specialties were Personnel Management and Command.

After years of extensive travel, their desire to become involved with a community drew them to Sanibel as the ideal location. Joan, whose travels with the Army included a year in Hawaii, also saw much of this country as a member of the famous 14th Women's Army Corp Band and with a free lance combo. Peggy's background includes working with the American Red Cross in Korea, France, Morocco and, while in the Army, a year in Vietnam where she activated and commanded a WAC unit.

Is the inflation situation in the U.S. going to affect your Christmas shopping this year?

Mrs. Bert Jenks - Sanibel

"It certainly is. Our family is going back to the old fashioned style of Christmas. We're going to make our gifts this year and try to get more of the family together in the true Christmas spirit."

Stephany Mack - Sanibel

"Yes. I have eleven kids in my family and we've limited it to just the kids. We have to rule out the relatives. I hope it's better next year. Really."

Roosevelt Preston - Sanibel

"Yea, a heck of a lot. It's bad, I know that. We need to change things. I don't know what people are going to do or how we're going to live. It's really hurting us."

Donald Case - Sanibel

"Yes, I suppose it will. But not just for monetary reasons, I don't feel that people should spend so much money for things. Let's put Christmas back the way it used to be."

Thelma Preston - Sanibel

"Yes. The gifts I buy will be less expensive. The quality will be less."

Beatrice Mair - Washington, D.C.

"Not too much because I'm going to make many things myself. I do a lot of knitting. I've made fourteen sweaters this year already."

Kent Amoth - Lake Geneva, WI.

"Yea, it sure is. It's going to be one gift per person and not very expensive at that."
