SCUBA DIVING CLASSES

Starting November 30, the fourth course in Basic Scuba Diving will be offered on the Islands. The classroom lessons will begin at 8:00 p.m. in the Real Eel sporting goods store, located in the Sanibel Center Building on Periwinkle Way. The P.A.D.I. certified course will be taught by Lester G. Stocklausner, certified instructor, and his assistant, Skip Purdy, proprietor of the Real Eel.

There are eight students enrolled in the course at this time. As the maximum capacity is twelve students, there is still a chance for those who are interested to take advantage of this excellent opportunity. The cost is $60. for thirty hours of instruction. Aside from fins, snorkel, and mask, all the necessary equipment will be provided at no extra charge. It is worth mentioning that the highlight of the course comes when the whole class is taken down to the Keys for the open dive training. See you there!

PTA RECEIVES REWARD

President Cynthia Herman called the Sanibel P.T.A. to order at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 19. The membership was proud and delighted to receive an award certificate from the State P.T.A. Council. The award was for a local unit achievement, the project was the outdoor classroom and environmental center. This is the second award granted to Sanibel P.T.A. in less than six months. At the State Conference held in the spring, the Sanibel unit was recipient of an award for an intensive self-study project.

Gaylen Pyle, itinerant art teacher, displayed crayon rubbings, dimensional line drawings, and pottery made by the students.

The next meeting will be held on December 18. Mrs. Dorothy Norris, itinerant music teacher will present a colorful panoramic Christmas Program. Students in Grade K through 5 will participate in the program.

Meet Your City Council Candidates

by Richard Arthurs

AL MUENCH

Al Muench was born in Syracuse, New York. He married in 1939-- a union which produced five children in the succeeding years. Before moving to the Island in 1964, Mr. Muench was in the lumber business and worked as a building inspector for the town of Manlius, New York.

Immediately upon moving to Sanibel, Mr. Muench built the Periwinkle Trailer Park, of which he is the owner at this very date. According to Mr. Muench, "With the magic name of Sanibel, the park became an instant success." At the present time, the park is managed by his sons, Gerald and Richard, leaving him free 365 days out of the year--days he hopes to put to good use serving the people of Sanibel.

A past president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Muench is currently a member of Sanibel Tomorrow, the Community Association, the Chamber of Commerce, the Action Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board.

When asked his reasons for running for city council, Mr. Muench said: "There are now twelve Muenches on the Island, six more in the United States Air Force, whose home base is Sanibel, and that's eighteen good reasons to make the quality of life better on Sanibel. We can't go too far this way or too far that way-- we've got to have an even balance. You've got to compromise and cooperate."

Mr. Muench qualified for candidacy on November 6.

H. STANLEY JOHNSON

H. Stanley Johnson was born in St. Paul, Minnesota in 1921. When he was ten years old, his family moved to Winnetka, Illinois, where he resided off an on until moving to Sanibel. For the better part of his working life, Mr. Johnson has been in the printing and bookbinding business. An air force Veteran, he was a four-engine flight instructor while in the service.

Mr. Johnson first visited the Islands in 1968. In 1971 he built a house on Sanibel and decided to move his business down here from Winnetka about a year and a half ago. He has been the owner and manager of Learning Laboratories, Inc., for the past eight years. The firm is presently stationed near the airport in Fort Myers.

Mr. Johnson is married and has three children: a boy of twenty-five years, a boy of twenty-three years, and a daughter twenty-one years old who is in college at the present time.

Mr. Johnson is on the Vestry of the Episcopal Church and on the Board of Directors of the Community Association.

In reference to his candidacy, Mr. Johnson stated: "We all moved here for a pretty good reason. I first came to Florida when I was four or five years old. Later, we came to Longbow Key outside of Sarasota and there were two or three hundred residents there at the time. Today it looks like the New York skyline. Not a stitch of foliage to be found. I wouldn't like to see that happen here. But I'm not for blowing up the Causeway Bridge either. There's got to be a happy median and I think planning is the key."

JAMES O. EVANS WITHDRAWS

Early last week, James O. Evans, owner of Surf Realty on Sanibel-Captiva Road, withdrew from the race for city council of Sanibel.

POST OFFICE REMINDERS

Thanks to everyone for the splendid cooperation you have given us during the past year. Once again the Christmas season is here and indications are that this one will be the largest ever. With the prospect of a volume of mail greater than ever before, we request that you mail as early as possible, early in the month - early in the week - early in the day.

As in the past, postal regulations require that, during the month of December, all greeting cards and letter mail placed in rural boxes have the postage affixed. Also, please remember that this year there is a new regulation that requires that cards without postage affixed be returned to sender.

Labels for "Local" and "Out of Town" bundles of mail are available at the post office or from carriers, if needed. We urge you to use them as they will help to speed delivery.

Christmas greeting cards require a minimum of 10 cents. As most cards will weigh under 1 ounce, they should be sealed to be treated as first class mail. Cards weighing between 1 and 2 ounces should be marked third class unless additional stamps are attached. Third class will either be forwarded or returned to sender if undeliverable at first address. Customers are reminded to be sure that sufficient postage is on foreign mail. If in doubt, please contact the post office for rates.

In order to avoid delays in the movement of your mail, it is most important that you use zip codes. All parcel post must have zip codes and return addresses. Please check your parcels for zip codes before getting in line at post office windows. A directory is available at the lobby desk for your convenience. Be sure parcels are well wrapped and proper cushioning used. We suggest that you enclose an extra address label and a list of contents inside of the package.

Remember to be sure that your return addresses (house number and street for rural route customers or P.O. box number for lock box customers). We have observed that many correspondents use the return address to update their address lists.

The following deadlines are suggested in order to insure delivery before Christmas:

- 10. Parcels for distant states - Dec.
- 15. Greeting cards for distant states - Dec.
- 15. Parcels for local and nearby areas - Dec.
- 17. Greeting cards for nearby areas - Dec.
- 19. Greeting cards for local - Dec.
- 20. Air greeting and parcels to Alaska & Hawaii - Dec.
- 31. Air mail parcels and letters within U.S. (except Alaska and Hawaii) - Dec.

Again, thanks for your cooperation during the past year and a Merry Christmas To All.

Wanderin This Way . . .

From Aleta, CA, come FRANK and BETTY HAHN and their children, KATRINA and STEPHANIE. They are living in orlando temporarily and will return to California as soon as possible. They are campers who say that Sanibel is the most beautiful place in Florida but, "They should stop building."

EDWARD and ROSALIE STORR from Montreal are guests of JOAN ADAMS who also comes from Montreal and has a winter home on Sanibel. This is the Storrs first time in a place like this and it is even better than they expected.

MERRILL REESE, MORRIS, NANCY NEWKON and PATRICIA COLEMAN are all from Miami. They enjoy the peace and quiet here.

"It's nice to find a place still unspoiled," say MARY LOU and BILL CORR and their daughter ALLISON from Ft. Lauderdale. They have lived in Florida for a year. They really like Sanibel.

Camping together are friends, MICHAEL FARR, BOB PORTER and JOE YURKO from Lakeland.

"This here island is the best we've been to - cleanest water - cleanest beach - white powdery sand." So say MARIE and CLARENCE GOELLNER from North Olmstead, OH.

DORIS and ROBBIE ANDERSON from Miami are camping in Periwinkle Park. They tell us, "This is the most delightful spot we've been to; nicest campground. We're coming back."

The University of Miami Biology Club comes to Sanibel on an annual trip. RALPH ARWOOD is the president. Our informant knew only first names of the members. They are MARK, JIM, NANCY, LAURA, LISA, RACHAEL, JOE, PAGE and DOT. All of them are camping in Periwinkle Park for the weekend. Although they were disappointed in finding big buildings right on the beach, but were glad to see that the area around the Ding Darling Sanctuary is not built up.

Staying at Sundial are friends, LINDA HESSELROTH and TERRY BENSON from Minneapolis, MN. They have been staying in New Smyrna for months and they feel relieved to be on Sanibel where cars are not allowed on the beach as they are there.

ALLEN and BETTY HOFF from Midlothian, IL, would like to retire on Sanibel some day. They are camping here with their children, STEVEN, SUSAN, and SHERRY.

Happy to be back and meeting old friends are HAROLD and EVELYN JEFFERS and her sister, De ETTA NIELSEN and her husband, GROVER. They are from Lakeview, MI, and are camping in Periwinkle Park for the winter. They like to be close to nature and beauty and quiet.

Camping together are ALBERT and MARGUERITE TREAT from Yakima, WA, and E. M. and LUCILLE NUTTALLS from Midwest, WY. The Treats came to Sanibel three years ago and have been dreaming of coming back.

JOHN WHITMAN and his wife MARJORIE are from Covington, OH. They have been to Sanibel before but it's the first time they've camped. They enjoy it very much.

Campers TOM and EILEEN MANIS are relaxing in Periwinkle Park for one week. They are particularly interested in shells. They are from Willamina, OH.

For many years TRUE and SEABORN WHATLEY and FANNIE and CRAWFORD DAVIS from Rome, GA, have been camping here.

"There's lots to see," say BESSIE and HAROLD SHOEMAKER from Lancaster, OH.

Hobbyist JACOB BURDUE and his wife, ROXIE from Wichita, KA, are camping in Periwinkle Park and have brought the collections along. They are shells, rocks, barbed wire, date nails.

DAVID McALLISTER came to Periwinkle Park years ago when it was being bulldozed. He's been here 10 or 12 times. He told us that he is an avid camper and has traveled 30 to 40 thousand miles a year. He says Periwinkle is one of his favorite spots.

BILL and GINGER VONEIFF are glad to be back on Sanibel for the winter. They are from Fresh Meadows, L.I., NY.

HOWARD and GLADYS DURNAL from Glen Ellyn, IL, are back in Periwinkle Park for the winter.

JEANETTE and GLEN PROOS from Frichland, MI, find San Diego delightful and the park especially so.

JOHN CORWIN and his uncle, DAVE CORWIN, are traveling together.

COOKIE and HARRY LILLEY are living in a travel trailer in the Park. They say it is beautiful.

Mr. ALBERT CASE KELLEY of Somerset, PA, found a 2 1/4" golden olive on the beach near the Hurrigan House.

NORMA and OLLIE LINDZY from Hollywood, FL, are strongly disappointed in Sanibel after having come here for 6 1/2 years. They won't even bother trying to get to the beaches. They say they are too hard to get to - that it's difficult to park. They tell us, "The same thing is happening in Key West. Sanibel is getting like the Miami Beach, Hollandale area. On the other hand we love Periwinkle Park. It has expanded without ruining the beauty."

CLYDE and MARY ARMSTRONG and family, KEN and DOROTHY BRYSON and their daughter, BEV, from Deerfield Beach, FL, have come here three times in the last four months. They say, "That shows we like it."

JEROME and FRANCES ZUVICH from Parsippany, NJ, are camping with their daughters CATHY, JANET, DEBBIE, LINDA and REGINA. They prefer the west coast of Florida to the east coast.

ST. PETER LUTHERAN CHURCH L.C.W. CHRISTMAS MEETING

The L. C. W. of St. Peter Lutheran Church will hold their Christmas meeting and luncheon on Wednesday, December 4 at the church, on Estero Blvd.

The ladies are asked to bring a fifty cent gift to exchange.

The business meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. At 10:00 a.m. the charming and interesting Mrs. Lula Hathaway will speak on Christmas in other lands. After which luncheon will be served.

Guests are cordially welcome.

MARVELOUS DISCOVERY DEPARTMENT

Have you ever been bothered (possibly to the point of frantic frustration) by racoons who like to treat your garbage cans as a local Burger King?

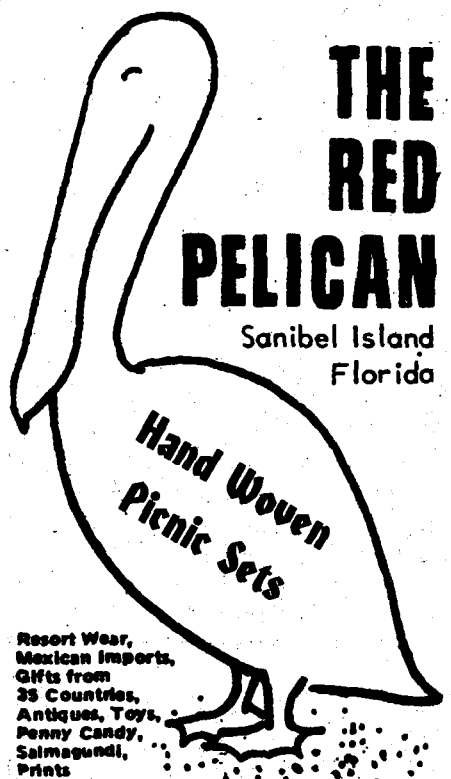

We have found out a way to keep racoons FOREVER from coming near your trash again. No tricky little wooden platforms, no springs with clips (which the pesky little critters seem to take as a personal challenge) or stuff like that.

Nope. The solution is plain, old, CHEAP ammonia, which costs a mere 19 cents per bottle.

You sprinkle a little in the bottom of the can, put on the cover and pour ammonia around the edges of the top. Racoons don't like the smell any more than you do - as a matter of fact, they probably like it less. One pint bottle is good for three or four applications - WE'VE BEEN USING THIS METHOD NOW FOR SIX WEEKS WITH COMPLETE SUCCESS.

What is even more amazing is that it works despite the fact that one (and possibly two) member of our establishment sneak old bread out onto the patio occasionally for that cute mama and her two little baby racoons.

TO APPEAR IN CELEBRITY SERIES

JOAN FONTAINE

AUDITIONS TO BE HELD

The Fort Myers Symphony Orchestra and Opera Association will hold auditions at the Symphony Office at 2122 Johnson Street, Fort Myers, on Saturday, December 28, 1974 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. for young artists who would like the opportunity to appear with the full symphony orchestra at the Young Artists Concert next May.

These auditions are open to students up to the age of 24 whose official residence is in Lee, Collier or Hendry counties. Only those students who were chosen to appear with the orchestra last season are not eligible to appear this season. Auditions are held during the Christmas vacation so that students who are away at college will have the opportunity to participate.

Application forms may be obtained by writing the Symphome office at Post Office Box 1534 or by calling 334-3256. Students will be asked to perform one movement of a concerto or selections (for vocal students) that can be accompanied by the full orchestra. Works to be performed with the orchestra must be memorized for the Young Artists Concert and it is preferred the auditions be from memory, but this is not essential.

Three or four students will be chosen by a panel of judges to perform with the full Symphony Orchestra at the Young Artists Concert on Friday, May 16, 1975 and each of the students will receive a $50 scholarship.

LAKWOOD ART SHOW

Put us on your calendar for a unique family outing. Over 100 artists, from Naples to Fort Myers and points north, exhibiting more than 600 pieces of art work at Lakewood First Annual Invitational Art Show. Outdoors on the Lakewood Property-Rutenberg Homes, U.S. 41 South, Naples, on Sunday, November 24, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. There will be free entry, but artist can win one of three $100. first prizes with the best of show winning $250. For more information contact Eileen Marcus Hume Smith Mickelberry, 1000 Brickell Ave., Miami, Fl. 33131.

BRIDGE WINNERS

The Duplicate Bridge winners of Friday, Nov. 22, were: 1st place, Helen and Joe Winterrowd, 2nd, Don Brown and Charles Wilson, 3rd, John Morrison and Jim Sanderson, 4th, Marian and Corbin Kohn.

Oscar winner Joan Fontaine, whose outstanding movie career has now been augmented by lecture and stage appearances, will be here on December 10 to appear in the Celebrity Series at the Fort Myers Exhibition Hall.

The unusual program, "The Romance of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning- Their Letters and Poems," will also feature noted stage, screen, recording and television star, Alexander Scourby.

For those who have grown to love the letters and poems of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning, the reading of their works by these two sensitive artists will be an experience not to be forgotten. The two poets wrote her famous "Sonnets from the Portugese," during this time, presenting them to her husband only after the couple had arrived in Italy to make their home.

These two poets, she six years older than he, met and loved under almost insurmountable circumstances. How they persevered in their love and need for each other is gleaned through these letters and poems which have been arranged in dramatic chronology by Miss Fontaine, weaving a story of patience, faith and belief in eternal love.

An exciting organ concert by Exhibition Hall organist, Helen Dobbs, will precede the program and an exhibit by two local artists will be shown in the Patio. There will be no intermission during the ninety minute program, following which Miss Fontaine will sign autographs for the audience.

ASTROLOGICAL HINTS by Madam Dorinda From THE ZODIAC

ARIES: This is a poor time for you to schedule any unnecessary traveling. Put inspiration and imagination into creative constructive activities and it will lead to new sources of financial gain.

TAURUS: Good time to get that dental work done you have been contemplating. Leave it alone if it is not your job in the first place. Don't loan possessions or money to friends especially if they are involved in tricky financial maneuvering.

GEMINI: Listen to others ideas and views or you will find others very uncooperative. You are likely to be footing the bills on the social side. Look sharp, and while waiting for a friend you will be able to utilize the time in other worthwhile ways.

CANCER: Cultivate influential people who can help you with investments. A romantic attachment is likely to be of help in this. Be sensible about work or it will have adverse effects on your health. Push to get it done your way.

LEO: Be careful with appliances, weapons or tools this week. Emotional problems involving loved ones can cause you difficulty now. Expect the unexpected where occupational income is concerned now. Social life is going to be stepped up for you.

VIRGO: Be firm and decisive in any meetings and/or conferences. Look at real estate that interests you now. You are likely to be in the spotlight in a public way. Domestic problems are likely with your spouse.

LIBRA: You can achieve financial favors or gain this week especially connected with education or religion. Messages are likely to be mixed up from neighbors or relatives. Stay home instead of going off half prepared. Difficulties with in-laws are possible.

SCORPIO: Keep confidential matters to yourself, and hold your temper for best results. Crazy drinks or strange foods could cause stomach upsets. Don't take for granted anything connected to your finances.

SAGITTARIUS: Good time to make your appearance and immediate environment more attractive. Take someone with you on that buying spree.

Avoid thinking in a negative way and you can patch up old quarrels. Hot discussions are not recommended.

CAPRICORN: Yield the right of way and keep an eye on the young ones. You will meet new people but be careful in forming associations that waste your time, and that you don't enjoy. See that people employed by you are doing it right.

AQUARIUS: Don't take that romantic interest too seriously. Don't be too pushy in putting your plans in front of interested parties. Good week for hobbies or other leisure time activity. Patience will be required with your family.

PISCES: Don't be overoptimistic in confiding in treacherous people. Good time to keep the promises you've made and attend to letter writing, especially connected to work or business. Beware of drugs. Stay loose and be willing to change your plans.

DISTRICT FORESTER LONG INFORMS GARDEN COUNCIL

Urban forestry is a new field geared primarily to helping make a quality urban environment in which people can work and live, according to District Forester Michael Long, who spoke at the Fort Myers-Lee County Garden Council meeting Nov. 15 at the 1st Federal Savings and Loan auditorium on Pondella Road.

Long thanked the garden council for its support in retaining Lee County's urban forestry program.

(The program is partly state-funded and Lee is one of a limited number of Florida counties approved for the program.)

He said the county's urban forester will advise home owners, developers, and commercial enterprises on types of trees to plant and the maintenance program required; will work with civic bodies on tree protection and landscape ordinances; on the development of recreational sites, and with environmental education in the schools.

Long noted that a research program currently underway is studying the possible use of the common "punk" tree as a source of wood for furniture and gun stocks.

Insect and disease diagnosis and control is another facet of the urban forester's work, Long said.

"if you have a tree that appears to be dying, call us. Don't wait until your tree is dead. Maybe we can help you save it," he said.

According to Long, the pine bark beetle is widespread in the area at the present, but it can be controlled if appropriate measures are taken soon enough.

During the business meeting following Long's talk, Mrs. E. H. Harrington, council president, announced that Gulf Federal Savings and Loan had underwritten the expense of printing the schedules for the upcoming area flower show to be held March 19 and 20 at the Fort Myers Exhibition Hall. They were distributed to delegates at the meeting.

The Frangipani Garden Club was approved for council membership; a committee was authorized to meet with newly-elected county commissioner, Bob Whan, to discuss the maintenance of the council's College Parkway beautification project; a recommendation for the council board of directors opposing the establishment of overnight or longer campsites anywhere on the Fort Myers Beach-Bonita Causway was unanimously approved.

It was announced that council member clubs would participate in the Southwest Florida Fair in January and provide hostesses for the garden club section of the fair, and that Lehigh Acres Transplants are sponsoring a flower arranging demonstration at Lehigh Auditorium Nov. 26, at a cost of $1.

Delegates were reminded of the council-sponsored flower arranging demonstration by Bob Thomas, director of the American Guild of Flower Arrangers, who will appear at the Hall of Flags at the Lee County Chamber of Commerce complex on January 6. The demonstration on creative flower arranging is open to the public. Tickets are $2. and can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Richard Shaughnessy, council ways and means chairman.

Mrs. Fritz Salmar, council flowering tree chairman, discussed the African Tulip tree and distributed seeds.

She also suggested that garden club members see the pink kapok tree now blooming at the Lee County Courthouse.

The feasibility of chartering a bus to the Florida State Flower Show in West Palm Beach, April 12, will be discussed at the next council meeting, January 17.

It was also noted that January 18 is Florida Arbor Day and suggested that each member plan an observance of the day.

WINDOW DISPLAY ON THE BIBLE BY CHRISTIAN SCIENCE READING ROOM

During National Bible Week (November 24-30) the Christian Science Reading Room at 1523 Hendry Street, Fort Myers, will feature a special window display on the Bible.

Featured as part of the display is the November 23 issue of the Christian Science Sentinel, which includes seven articles on making the Bible pertinent to daily living. One of them, "The Unsealed Bible and World Affairs," points to ways that students of the Bible can help to establish a higher sense of government for nations and the world-government by Principle.

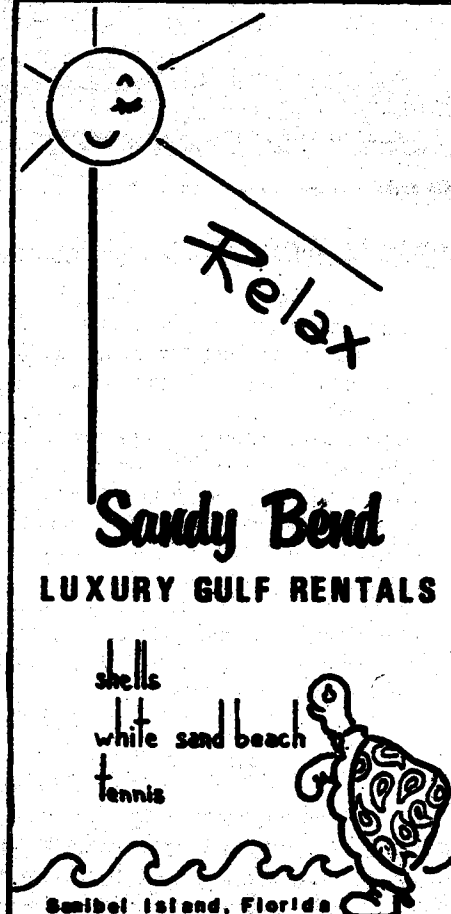

The window display also will feature books available for research and supplemental study of the Bible.

Thomas M. Biggar, Jr., Reading Room librarian, said the members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, McGregor Blvd. and First St. welcome anyone wishing to browse or study to visit the Reading Room.

A Different Sort of Journey

 By Ruth Hunter

Homeward bound on the S.S. Universe Campus. Getting back on a ship which has been your home for quite awhile, you feel like a baby chick with Mother Hen, safe and cozy! Not long after we sailed out of Hong Kong, the weather kicked up and the sun went in. This was a great time for the ship's library which was quite extensive being from Chapman College. And it's a treat to dig up long ago information such as the career of the illustrious Clare Boothe Luce. And I never knew that Theodore Dreiser's brother was a famous song writer. He called Dreiser "Thee".

After a long walk around the deck there was fresh hot popcorn to eat, while you looked out at the black ocean to see the ship's lights catching the waves. Several journeys before our's a young man was leaning against the rail, lost his balance, and fell into the ocean. The girl he was with threw him a lifesaver and ran to the bridge to yell to the Captain "Man overboard!" The flare on his life ring came on strong and so the ship was able to find him several miles back. What a lucky guy but I think he took some other girl to the prom when he got back.

There were some new passengers to meet who had boarded the ship at Hong Kong. I liked one old couple who called each other "dear" and "honey". That was the one thing that stood out in this voyage, the deep concern wives and husbands had for each other, whether they were newlyweds or married for decades.

Our first port was Kaoshing in Taiwan. Here Chinese children have little triicycles with a back seat so that a little boy of three takes care of his sister age two. Kaoshing's big hotel is the Kingdom. All the girls are dressed in beautiful red brocade and so are the bell hops. There's fountains and gardens but one would surely find it uneasy to enjoy this luxury when people only a block away are so poor. I saw one young woman trying her best to untangle a huge pile of what seemed to me a worthless lot of twisted wire. In Kaoshing you can buy the most marvelous feather dusters. I wonder how they make them for there are no birds in sight except chickens running in and out of little stores.

Back on our ship, I read all about Sun Yat Sun and the revolution in China and the next night Philip and I put on a performance of the Reluctant Debutante. We had David Sloan as our narrator, a retired Royal Air Force Colonel. The Dean of the College, Leroy Lewan, and his assistant, Robert Partridge were curtain-pullers for our act. We were well rewarded with much enthusiasm for our performance, which made us very happy.

The harbor in Guam (our next port) was beautiful, long and rocky. The bow of a big ship was lying on the shore with turbulent waves crashing over it. Passengers had conjured up some nice stories about a long ago shipwreck as it looked so picturesque. But we found out a big ship being towed had broken loose the day before our arrival and broke up in three pieces. The wreck made for some good pictures and the Coast Guard was frantically figuring how the big hunks of ship could be taken away for Guam is a busy harbor. At Guam's Cathedral we attended a wedding - a most unusual one, the bride was from Philadelphia and her groom was a native of the Island of Polar. His dress shirt with his formal attire was bright blue which matched the gowns of the three bridesmaids and a contrast to his long brown hair. The small ring bearer (his brother of five years) wore a tiny blue dress shirt too, and the pillow with the ring was bright blue velvet. As the bride walked down the aisle, I saw her father put his hand out to straighten her long veil. It was quite touching for it seemed a little like a farewell. Everyone and his uncle came to the reception and I was introduced to breadfruit. It is delicious and I wish we could grow them on Sanibel. I was glad to leave Guam, for try as I might I could not put out of my mind the sad happenings there during the war - an old landing barge was in sight as we pulled away for Hawaii. We were lucky to celebrate our 49th wedding anniversary aboard the S.S. Universe Campus. There was a party and a speech by Captain Loui-John-Shaw, champagne and a cake so big we could give every passenger aboard, a generous size piece. The maitre de made sure ours had big pink roses on it.

Aboard the S. S. Universe Campus - Orient Overseas, on their 49th wedding anniversary, the captain salutes the Hunters of the Pirate Playhouse.

That Cap'n John is a sly fox but I know what he's up to! The other day he said to me, "I know a good subject for you to write about; 'How to Keep Your Husband From Buying ANOTHER boat.'"

As soon as I saw the innocent gleam in his eye, I knew that what he was actually doing was not being helpful...he was just feeling out the "opposition" so that when he read my column he'd know just how to get around me. But I'm going to fool him.

I admit the challenge did appeal to me and I spent some time thinking about the problem. One thing I learned from raising a few children is never threaten anything that's going to be more of a punishment for you than for them. For instance if you very self-righteously declare that if your husband buys that boat against your wishes you'll NEVER set foot on it - he's just quite likely to take those two blondes in the hot pink bikinis out with him and be glad you're not going.

Also men are very clever. We women are clever too, but sometimes men are clever and DIRTY, so be very careful your schemes don't backfire. It is possible of course, that you could say sweetly, "Well, dear, fair is fair and if you're going to buy another $1800 boat, I think I should have a new mink stole," and get away with it...but on the other hand he may agree and come home with the boat and the mink stole, only for you to find out that he remortgaged the house and sold your Toyota.

If you're the soft, clinging vine type - especially if you have baby-blue eyes and a faint whiff of magnolia in your chemistry you can just look at him in astonishment, opening your eyes wide and letting them fill slowly with tears (don't cry angrily, however, because then your nose turns purple and you get big blotches on your cheeks - which tends to make your spouse distinctly unsympathetic.) As the soft tears roll slowly down your cheeks, part your lips with a little gasp of pain and moan "Oh, baby, how could you?!", never taking your eyes off his. If you also arrange to be wearing something clinging and /or see-through, you can often distract him long enough to forget what he was thinking about in the first place. The trouble with this technique is that after 15 or 20 years it doesn't work too well, because you've probably both forgotten what it was you used to do anyway.

You'll notice I have not mentioned anything like appealing to his sense of logic or economics. First of all boat lovers are not logical (what lover is?) and especially not when confronted with economics. Everytime I hear those famous words "I've found this perfect steal! Just $300 and I'll fix it up and get $700 easy..." I know that pile of old-boat-bones in our backyard is going to get bigger - and that some day we're going to bet rich in the wholesale rustybelt business.

Then there's that tired old gambit of "If you really loved me you wouldn't t..." but that's not only so corny I'd be ashamed to pull it, but if he DOES love you enough not to buy another boat, then every time he sees a boat go by, he'll hate you. And who needs that. It's bad enough having the Palestinian guerrillas against us without being terrorized in your own home.

Possibly you could bribe him with a new toy but the only kind of toy that might bribe Cap'n John is a boat, so that brings us back where we started.

Under the circumstances, I have decided to do what I was going to do all along. Now maybe you'll want to do it differently, but I'm going to light a sexy candle, take off my clothes and hop into bed. And when he climbs in beside me, I'm going to throw my arms around his neck, blow in his ear and whisper very low and confidentially, "Honey, what are we going to name our new boat?"

The Real Eel Presents

BY Skip Purdy

REAL TIPS

The tourists are beginning to arrive, and from all reports, the people doing the best are the bait catchers. In spite of this, people are coming in to report their catches, and in the canals there have been redfish taken on shrimp. There are sporadic reports of snook, reds and trout along the causway. There again, shrimp is the bait they are taking.

At the end of Dixie Beach Blvd., good sheepshead and a few snook and reds are being taken, all on shrimp. The trout are biting well along the power lines, but they are running very small. Blues and mackerel are just beginning to be caught off shore, trolling with #3 spoons on the center span of the causway and at Blind Pass there are a lot of big flounders being caught. This is the first time in several years that we have run into this.

Mr. & Mrs. Ledbetter came in to report some good snook and reds on jumbo shrimp off the causway. They were fishing with Mrs. & Mrs. Fred Fergus also from Tennessee. The trout from Pine Island Sound were caught by Joe Petrie from Cincinnati and Walter Gordon from New York. These were hooked on small to medium sized shrimp.

Even if you can't catch any fish, it is an interesting experience to go up to the Blind Pass bridge to watch the mullet school, on the incoming tide, you can almost walk on them.

BILL FREY A WELL QUALIFIED CANDIDATE

BILL FREY'S QUALIFICATIONS CAN BE OF HELP TO SANIBEL IN SOLVING OUR PROBLEMS OF GETTING STARTED

SOME OF SANIBEL'S PROBLEMS IN GETTING STARTED

- 1) ESTABLISH A NEW ADMINISTRATION, AND SELECT A CITY MANAGER
- 2) ESTABLISH CAPITAL BUDGETS - City Manager proposes budgets for Council evaluation and action
- 3) ESTABLISH COMPREHENSIVE LAND USE PLANNING AND ZONING ORDINANCES
- 4) PRESERVE THE SANIBEL WAY OF LIFE AND OUR UNIQUE NATURAL BEAUTY

BILL FREY'S QUALIFICATIONS CAN HELP

- 1) BILL FREY HOLDS A PH.D. IN ADMINISTRATION AND ECONOMICS. He has taught in areas of management, personnel, and administrative sciences. He is Past President of the Eastern Academy of Management and has done consulting
- 2) BILL FREY IS CO-AUTHOR OF A WIDELY USED BOOK DEALING WITH CAPITAL BUDGETING
- 3) BILL FREY HAS SERVED AS CHAIRMAN OF THE ZONING BOARD in a town of comparable size. During that tenure he was active in the development of a comprehensive master planning and zoning ordinance.
- 4) BILL FREY IS A SANIBEL RESIDENT WHO IS HERE BECAUSE OF SANIBEL'S BEAUTY. Bill is a family man, the father of three, age 40 and an avid camper and fisherman. He will work to preserve that legacy.

SANIBEL-CAPTIVA POWER SQUADRON TO CONDUCT BOATING COURSES

The Sanibel-Captiva Division of the San Carlos Bay Power Squadron is busy making plans for the coming year and are currently conducting two boating courses: Seamanship and Advanced Piloting.

The Seamanship class is under the direction of Commander Harley E. Brown and Lt. Robert B. Vardal. The class meets each Monday at 1930 hours (7:30 p.m.) in the Community Building. Eighteen have enrolled.

The Advanced Piloting Class has an enrollment of five (5) and is being taught by Lt. Commander John B. Salemi. The class meets each Tuesday in the Community Building at 1000 hours (10 a.m.), except the first Tuesday of each month when they gather at 9000 hours.

The Boating Course will get underway early in January. This public course of free instruction in basic boating is designed to be of value to the general boating public; outboarders, sportsman, cruiser, or sailing enthusiasts. The novice and more experienced boater alike should find much interest and benefit in the course. If you own or operate a boat, the life you save may be your own or that of a loved one. It is not necessary to own a boat to enroll in this course.

The executive committee of the Sanibel-Captiva Squadron met for the first time at the home of Commander Harley E. Brown on Thursday, Nov. 14 at 1930 hours. The purpose of the executive committee meetings is planning the activities of the squadron. The following were in attendance:

Commander Harley E. Brown, Squadron Commander; Lt. Commander, John B. Salemi, Executive Officer and Educational Officer; Lt. Commander, Frank F. Parsons, Administrative officer; Lt. Commander, Howard H. Hoffman, Secretary; Chairman Lt. Leigh J. Bair, Advanced Grades; Chairman Lt. Edward D. Swanson, Elective Courses.

Lt. Commander William Allen, District 22 Educational Officer, advised the group concerning future plans of the Squadron. Lt. C. Nicely Hanner, Asst. Public Relations Officer of the San Carlos Bay Squadron was also present.

Future meetings of the Sanibel-Captiva executive committee will be held the first Monday of each month at 1000 hours at the home of Commander Brown.

A meeting of all Power Squadron members from Sanibel-Captiva will be announced in the near future.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THANKSGIVING SERVICE

"I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with Thanksgiving."

This passage from Psalm 113 in the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon to be read at Thanksgiving services next week at Churches of Christ, Scientist.

The 11 o'clock public service at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Fort Myers, McGregor Blvd. and First St., will include reading of the Thanksgiving Proclamation of the President of the United States, Gerald R. Ford and a Lesson-Sermon on Thanksgiving. No collection is to be taken.

Douglas M. Midgley, First Reader, and Maria Louise Kronquist, Second Reader, will conduct the worship service, which also features testimonies of gratitude.

Dorothy Hedden, soloist, accompanied by Dolphine White, organist, will sing The Psalm of Praise by McFeeder.

Citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include this statement: "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth."

Your Council Candidates

JACK THOMAS

Although born in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Jack Thomas has lived in Miami for most of his life. After moving to Sanibel three years ago, he worked for a couple of years as a full-time fishing guide at South Seas Plantations. Mr. Thomas is still a fishing guide on a part-time basis, but his major business concern is Jack Thomas, Inc., in downtown Fort Myers, where he is a real estate broker and appraiser.

Mr. Thomas is married and the father of two young children.

At the present time, Mr. Thomas is on the Board of Directors of the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board, on the Advisory Committee of the Sanibel-Elementary School P.T.A., a member of the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation, a member of the Community Association, a member of the Izaak Walton League of America, and a member of both the local and the national Audubon Society.

According to Mr. Thomas: "Sanibel is the only accessible barrier island in South Florida which is relatively undeveloped. And for that reason it affords a unique atmosphere and quality of living. I feel that the first city council must act quickly and decisively to maintain this atmosphere. And we must do this without creating an economic crisis. I feel qualified to implement such a plan because of my experience and because of my real interest in the Island and the individuals that live here."

Mr. Thomas qualified on November 19.

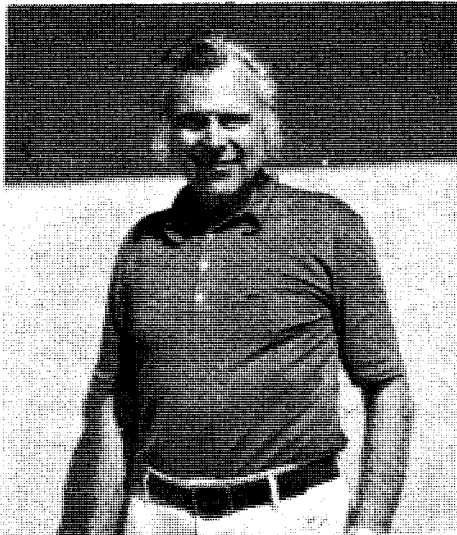

Zee Butler

Mrs. Zee Butler has been a resident of Sanibel for ten years now, but it has only been in the past two years or so that she has stepped into the spotlight in civic affairs.

Born in southern Illinois, Mrs. Butler moved down here from Montclair, New Jersey in February of 1964. In the summer of 1965 she built a house on Sanibel. During the years from 1966 to 1970 she was co-manager of "Dotti-6f Sanibel" dress shop.

Mrs. Butler is a member of the Audubon Society, the Conservation Foundation, the Community Association, the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board, and she served as secretary of the Home Rule Study group until its recent dissolution. During this service she journeyed to Tallahassee for committee hearings on a number of occasions. As chairman of Sanibel Tomorrow she was active in writing the city's charter and was a hard working advocate of incorporation.

At present, Mrs. Butler is the

JIM ROBESON

Jim Robeson was born and raised in the New York City metropolitan area. Before moving to Sanibel in 1970, he was in the textile business. A married man with four children, Mr. Robeson owns and operates Three Star Groceries located at the intersection of Palm Ridge and Tarpon Bay Roads.

Since moving to the Islands, Mr. Robeson has served as president of the Sanibel Rocks Civic Association, secretary of Sanibel Tomorrow (a position he resigned last Monday), and as a founder and original member of the Home Rule Study Group, as well as chairman of that group's Personnel Committee. He is presently vice-president and a director of the Island Water Association, Inc., a member of Sanibel Tomorrow, the Chamber of Commerce, the Conservation Foundation, the Community Association, and the Sanibel-Captiva Planning Board.

With respect to his candidacy for city council, Mr. Robeson stated: "I'm a candidate because I've worked hard to get Sanibel incorporated so that we would have a more responsive government. I feel that I can reflect the wishes of the people in a common sense fashion. We now have sixteen candidates for the council. I believe that now even those who voted against incorporation will unite to seek the best possible government."

Mr. Robeson successfully completed the qualification process on November 15.

executive director of the Ft. Myers Symphony Orchestra, a member of the Board of Directors of the Association of Urban and Community Orchestras, and a member of the executive committee of the Association of Florida Orchestras. In this capacity, she is responsible for writing grant proposals for the local symphony on both the state and local levels. Furthermore, she served on two speaker panels at the American Symphony Orchestra League National Conference in Memphis.

Her previous political experience has been as vice president of the League of Women Voters in Montclair, New Jersey, and as a member of the State Board of the Education Division of the New Jersey League of Women Voters.

A widow, Mrs. Butler resides at Loggerhead Cay Condominium. Her daughter, Zee Seigler, is presently attending Columbia College in Columbia, Mississippi. She also has two sons who are married and live in Connecticut.

According to Mrs. Butler: "The main reason we wanted to incorporate was to get a handle on the growth problem of Sanibel. Stopping growth is illegal and not right morally, but I do think that we need planned growth on the Island. We have a unique island with a very delicate eco-system. If we let the environment then we're destroying the thing that draws people to the Island. I would like to make a plea for unity on the island. Now that the decision has been made, we must all work together to elect a capable, responsible council."

Mrs. Butler qualified for candidacy for city council on November 11.

- ✓ 3 FLAIN SPEAKING, by Merle Miller. (Berkley, $1.95.) Ol' Harry Truman gives 'em hell in this spikey oral biography.
- ✓ 4 THE WILDEST HEART, by Rosemary Rogers. (Avon, $1.75.) "Thunderous emotion," "breathtaking romance," "spanning three continents"—i.e., the usual schmalz.
- ✓ 5 THE SALAMANDER, by Morris West. (Pocket, $1.75.) Neo-fascist conspiracy played out against colorful Italian background; strictly entertainment.
- ✓ 6 SYBIL, by Flora Rheta Schreiber. (Warner, $1.95.) A popularly told psychoanalytic case history of a woman whose hysteria led her to assume 16 identities.
- ✓ 7 THE SECRET LIFE OF PLANTS, by Peter Tompkins and Christopher Bird. (Avon, $1.95.) Occult horticulture purporting to show that plants are sentient beings.
- ✓ 8 COME NINEVEH, COME TYRE, by Allen Drury. (Avon, $1.75.) More melodramatic goings-on in D.C.—this time with a feeble-minded populist President and a pacifist cabal.
- ✓ 9 POSTERN OF FATE, by Agatha Christie. (Bantam, $1.50.) Not one of Dame Agatha's better efforts.
- ✓ 10 FEAR OF FLYING, by Erica Jong. (NAL, $1.95.) A funny, sexy romp among the psychiatrists featuring a heroine who is all id.

Trade Paperbacks

- ✓ 1 THE JOY OF SEX, by Alex Comfort. (Simon & Schuster/Fireside, $4.95.) Techniques for a liberated sex life.
- ✓ 2 THE GULAG ARCHIPELAGO, by Aleksandr I. Solzhenitsyn. (Harper & Row, $1.95.) A tremendous indictment of the Soviet secret prison system.
- ✓ 3 TEDDY BARE, by Zad Rust. (Western Islands, $2.) Scathing, right-wing exegesis of Chappaquiddick.
- ✓ 4 BORN TO WIN, by Muriel James and Dorothy Jongeward. (Addison-Wesley, $4.95.) Applied transactional analysis to turn around born losers.
- 5 WHOLE EARTH EPILOGUE. (Penguin, $4.) A sequel to the "Whole Earth Catalogue" compiled by the original whole-earthmen. on order
- 6 WHY AM I AFRAID TO TELL YOU WHO I AM, by J. J. Powell. (Argus Communications, Niles, Ill. 60648, $1.95.) Insights on self-awareness, personal growth and interpersonal communication. on order
- 7 BREAKFAST OF CHAMPIONS, by Kurt Vonnegut Jr. (Delta, $2.65.) The sadly funny saga of a Pontiac salesman who goes bananas when he discovers everybody else is a machine. on order
- 8 LIBERATION OF THE PLANET EARTH, by Hal Lindsey. (Zondervan, $2.95.) Religious guide to overcoming self-centeredness, loneliness, alienation and frustration.
- 9 PUBLIC WORKS, edited by Walter Szykitka. (Links, $10.) A compilation of practical tips on first aid, child care, parenthood, etc. etc. gleaned from governmental pamphlets.
- ✓ 10 NOTES TO MYSELF, by Hugh Prather. (Real People Press, Box F, Moab, Utah 84532, $2.) Poetic and philosophical musings.

Mass market paperbacks are sold on newsstands, in supermarkets and variety stores, as well as in bookstores. Trade paperbacks are sold, for the most part, in bookstores. These analyses of last month's best sellers are based on reports from more than 450 bookstores throughout the United States.

Great Expectations

The following uncommonly large print orders have been announced for this month by mass-market publishers:

- ✓ BETTY CROCKER'S COOKBOOK. (Bantam $1.95.) One of the most popular of kitchen companions, available in paper covers for the first time. 625,000 copies.
- ✓ BURR, by Gore Vidal. (Bantam, $1.95.) Aaron, that old villain, is rehabilitated and the heroic founding fathers are reduced to human dimensions in this clever historical novel. 750,000 copies.
- ✓ IN ONE ERA AND OUT THE OTHER, by Sam Levenson. (Pocket, $1.50.) A veteran stand-up comedian ransacks his grab bag of one-liners, arranging them into the semblance of an autobiography. 650,000 copies.
- ✓ THE NEW ORLEANS KNOCKOUT, by Don Pendleton. (Pinnacle, $1.75.) "The Executioner," most successful of men's action story heroes, continues his bloody non-stop, one-man war against the mob; 20th in the series. 300,000 copies.
- ✓ THEOPHILUS NORTH, by Thornton Wilder. (Avon, $1.75.) An ingratiating account of the ways in which a retired teacher helps friends solve their problems in prewar Newport, R. I. 650,000 copies.

M. WILLIAM FREY

At forty years of age, M. William Frey is the father of three school-age boys. His wife is a family economist. The Freys moved to the Island from Massachusetts a year and a half ago.

A highly learned man, Mr. Frey holds a number of degrees, among them a Ph. D. in Administration and Economics, from Penn State University, a B. S. from Penn State, and an M. A. from the University of Connecticut. He has taught Administration and Management at Penn State for seven years and at the University of Massachusetts for three years. While residing in College Township, Pennsylvania, Mr. Frey served as chairman of two zoning boards, during which time he was instrumental in the development and adoption of zoning ordinances.

Mr. Frey's forte is city planning and management. He has authored a book on finance which describes the capital budgeting process in detail and has edited a number of books dealing with management and administration. Mr. Frey is a past president of the Eastern Academy of Management and is currently on the Board of the National Academy of Management.

The owner of Sanibel Homes, Mr. Frey is a state certified class-A contractor who specializes in single family homes. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club, the Community Church, and the Sanibel-Captiva Chamber of Commerce. He cites camping and fishing as his favorite hobbies and claims to have camped in almost every National Park in the continental United States.

Said Mr. Frey: "My biggest concern about the future of Sanibel is that planning should be done with esthetic goals in mind. These esthetic goals form the basis of more tangible and traditional planning concepts. A second major point of concern for me as one interested in administration is that we don't proliferate government tasks within our city which could be better done by a cooperative arrangement with other governing bodies. I'm afraid we're going to regulate ourselves into a higher tax structure and end up doing things that we wouldn't necessarily need to do by ourselves. We have to seek a desirable balance between control and economy."

Mr. Frey qualified as a candidate for city council on November 19.

CHARLES LEBUFF

Charles LeBuff first visited Sanibel in 1952 and established permanent residency on the Island in December

MARVIN POST

Marvin Post became the last man to qualify for city council candidacy by a matter of minutes on Tuesday, November 19. He barely made the noon deadline because he was forced to wait in his car until a good Samaritan passed by and helped him into the Lee County Courthouse. Mr. Post was involved in a roofing accident some weeks ago, but as of last weekend he seemed to be recuperating quite nicely, albeit slowly, in the comfort of his own home. Mr. Post, his wife, and their three sons reside in the Sanibel Gardens development on Sanibel Boulevard.

A native of the Chicago area, Mr. Post served in the Army and has since worked as a general contractor and as a tavern keeper. Selling seems to have been his specialty -- he has sold real estate, used cars and vacuum cleaners in his lifetime. Currently, he is engaged in building a restaurant on Tarpon Bay Road, near the intersection of Palm Ridge Road. Mr. Post came to the Islands a year or so ago from Hazelcrest, Illinois, a Chicago suburb.

Mr. Post is the treasurer of the Sanibel-Captiva American Legion at the of 1958. Before moving here, he was with the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries studying the red tide in the Gulf of Naples. He has been with the United States Fish and Wildlife Service ever since moving to Sanibel. In his capacity as biological technician at the J. N. "Ding" Darling National Wildlife Preserve, Mr. LeBuff has had a great deal of experience in the areas of law enforcement, natural environmental management, budgetary processes, and has acquired a full awareness of the outdoor recreational qualities of the Island.

Mr. LeBuff, his wife, their sixteen-year-old daughter, Leslie, and their thirteen-year-old son, Chuck, have lived at the lighthouse throughout their residency on Sanibel.

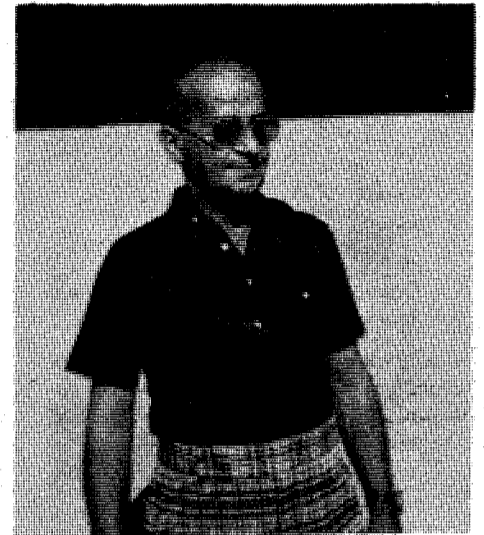

At various times during the past sixteen years, Mr. LeBuff has served as president of the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon Society, as a member of the Board of Directors of the SANIBEL-Captiva Conservation Foundation, and as a scoutmaster on Sanibel for two years. He has also worked very closely with the Community Association and has helped with the Shell Fair on a number of occasions. Furthermore, he was a regular contributor to the ISLANDER for many years.

He is currently president and project director of Caretta Research, a member of the Lee County Environmental Advisory Committee, and a member of the Florida Academy of Sciences.

When asked for his opinion on the future of Sanibel, Mr. LeBuff answered, "I am a true environmentalist. That's my profession. In the sixteen years that I've been here, the Island has changed a great deal-- mostly in the wrong direction. That's why we voted to incorporate Sanibel and that's why Sanibel is a city today. And the main reason behind it, I think, is concern for the environment. That's my platform: Environmental Concern. I'm also aware that the Island business community is built around the environmental treasures that Sanibel has. They should work to support environmental conservation. Their future depends on it. I think that intelligent planning is the key to saving this Island."

present time.

Marvin Post is above all else a determined man. Take the difficulties he had to surmount simply to make the qualification deadline for example. When asked his reasons for running, Mr. Post stated: "I voted 'No' on incorporation. I don't know if the other three hundred and some voters who voted against incorporation had any representation. If not, then I want to give it to them. Since we are incorporated, my being on the council might make the pill a little less bitter to swallow. I represent the working man on Sanibel. Of course I realize that there are some big men on Sanibel who haven't forgotten their beginnings, and I hope that some of them get elected to the council."

BOB POTTS

Originally from Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, Bob Potts happily admits that he has always been in business for himself. Thirty-two years of marriage have yielded him three children, two boys and a girl, all of which are now married and two of which presently reside on Sanibel.

During World War II Mr. Potts spent three years with General Patton in Germany and took part in the fighting at the Battle of the Bulge.

Before moving to Sanibel seven years ago, Mr. Potts was in the realty and insurance business. Since establishing residence on Sanibel, he has been associated with Ross Mayer in Ross Mayer Realty, Inc., and the Knudsen Company of Fort Myers Beach. He is presently the owner of Huxter's Grocery, R & B Liquors, and Sanibel Realty.

A member of the American Legion for thirty years, Mr. Potts is past president of the Lehigh Valley Council of the United States Navy League, a past zone chairman of Lions International, a former boy scout commissioner, and a former director of the Sanibel-Captiva Chamber of Commerce. He has also been in charge of a number of Lion-sponsored cleanup committees in recent years. At the present time, Mr. Potts is a member of Lodge #413 of the Free and Accepted Masons, a member of the Sanibel Community Association's Board of Directors, and a member of the Sanibel-Captiva Lions Club Board of Directors.

Said Mr. Potts: "I feel that my civic pride dictates that I should give of my time and experience to help form the city of Sanibel in a proper manner and to maintain its Island atmosphere and uniqueness in Southwest Florida. I moved here by choice seven years ago and I liked what I saw. I would try to keep it that way as much as possible. In the event that I'm elected, my office will be open to any citizen of Sanibel from nine to five daily."

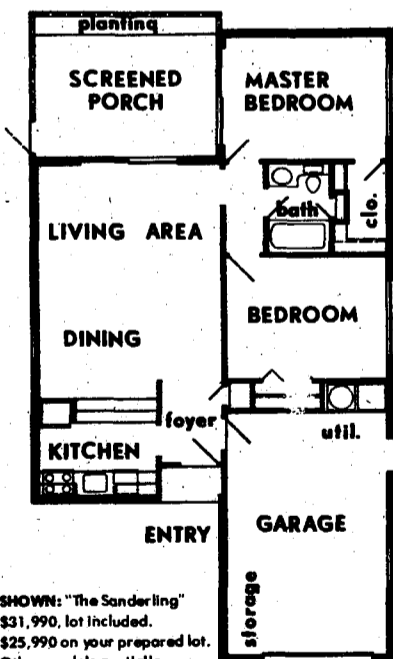

Mr. Potts qualified on November 15.

MOSS MARINA ALCORT DEALER

Moss Marina is the only Alcorn dealer for Fort Myers Beach and Sanibel. They have the Sunbird - 16' Day Sailor. The Alcorn sailboat is for family fun or spirited racing. It is an easy to handle rig, yet exciting to sail, and a real challenge.

Moss Marina also has the Ericson sailing yachts, for the young and young-in-spirit. Top quality boats all the way. All fittings are marine quality carefully selected for superior performance. The Ericson is one of the finest performing boats in its class.

Moss Marina also has a new line of Cobia and Mako, 18', 21', 17' and 22' in stock now.

The following boats are chartered out of Moss Marina: "Miss Claudia" with Capt. Claude Robinson; "Salty Dog" with Capt. Stan Ollis; and "Neva-R" with Capt. Gibby Gibbon. LET'S ALL GO FISHING!

A MATTER OF INTEREST

All outstanding Series E and H Savings Bonds are still earning interest, regardless of their age. Savings Bonds now on sale enjoy a 10-year extension privilege beyond initial maturity -- 5 years for E Bonds, 10 years for H Bonds. Older E and H Bonds have had their "lives" prolonged by one or more 10-year extensions. And U. S. Savings Notes -- Freedom Shares -- have been granted a 10-year extension beyond their initial 4 1/2-year maturity.

Certain series of Savings Bonds have been removed from sale, however, and are no longer earning interest. They are -- Series A-D, which were issued from March 1935 through April 1941, final issues of which stopped drawing interest on April 1, 1951; Series F and G, issued from May 1941 through April 1952, final issues of which ceased earning interest on April 1, 1964, and Series J and K, which were issued from May 1952 through April 1957, final issues of which stopped drawing interest on April 1, 1969.

While most of these obsolete Bonds have been redeemed, Americans still hold some $31 million worth, on which they are no longer earning interest. The withdrawn series should be redeemed. The proceeds, of course, may be reinvested in Series E and H Bonds, which now yield 6 percent, compounded semi-annually, when held to maturity of 5 years for E Bonds, 10 years for H Bonds.

ARTISAN SHOP AND NUTMEG UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

The Artisan Shop and the Nutmeg Restaurant on Gulf Drive have recently come under new management. On October 1, the twin businesses were purchased by David and Susan Smith of Rochester, New York, with the financial backing of a group of gentlemen from Rochester Realty. The Smiths wish to offer their special thanks to their mentor, Mr. Lloyd Wright, also of Rochester, and a seasonal visitor to the Islands. Both shops reopened at the end of October.

Susan will be in charge of the Artisan Shop while David will manage the Nutmeg primarily. Presently, the Nutmeg is open for dinner only, but the Smiths are hopeful of offering a luncheon menu in the near future. The Artisan Shop is open from nine to five daily, except for Thursdays and an occasional Sunday, which will be devoted to much-needed relaxation.

The Smiths warmly invite the public to investigate both establishments -- the sooner the better.

The Wanderin' Wonderer

by Richard Arthur

What are you especially thankful for this Thanksgiving?

Ernest J. Bailey & Stephen, Canada: "I guess my greatest thanksgiving is that I know God loves me."

I'm also thankful for the wonderful weather, this beautiful Island, and my marvelous grandchildren."

Bob Duggers, Sanibel: "I'm thankful to live on Sanibel Island. I started coming down here twenty years ago and just loved it. We worked real hard and finally moved down about three years ago. I'm thankful to be out of the snow and cold."

Susan Clukies, Sanibel: "Being out of school. You know you got me on a really bumper day."

Howard Levine, Atlantic City, N.J. "Just being able to be someplace where the major topic of conversation ISN'T, 'I can't wait until summer.'"

Mrs. E. O. Reed, Sanibel: "A wonderful healthy family. To me, that's pretty important."

Rosalind Wegryn, Sanibel: "To be able to be living on Sanibel. And to have the pleasure of having most of my family with me."
