The Islands' first Bicentennial

Here follows the schedule of events, activities, and gatherings planned for the historic Fourth of July weekend on the Islands, a three day festival in the spirit of the Bicentennial which was heralded as "the biggest celebration in the history of Sanibel."

All of the events are being sponsored by the City of Sanibel's Bicentennial Committee, headed by Bobbi Schumacher and Anne Marsh, and are sanctioned by the American Revolutionary Bicentennial Administration in Washington, D.C.

Conceived in the spirit of Heritage, Horizon, and Festival, the three celebration categories authorized by the Bicentennial Administration, the festivities planned for the Island enabled Sanibel to be designated an official Bicentennial Community in May of this year.

Friday, July 2: The weekend activities will open with a Teen Dance at the Sanibel Community House sponsored by the Santiva Teen Club, featuring the music of the Cypress Lake Band, "guaranteed Sound." The band will perform from 8:30 p.m. until midnight for the low, low price of $2 a ticket, which includes refreshments. John Bretzke and Laurie Kearns are heading up the dance committee.

Saturday, July 3: The first formal parade in the history of the Islands will begin at 10:30 a.m. at the Bank of the Islands and will proceed up Periwinkle Way to Tarpon Bay Road under the supervision of the Sanibel police force. An alternate route for transportation to the west end of the Island will be via Casa Ybel Road and West Gulf Drive.

The parade will be reviewed from the Sanibel Community House by early Island residents, city dignitaries, and their families, who will later be hosted by Elinore Dormer, Charlotte White, Anne Marsh and Jean Haff at a reception to be held in their honor. Mayor Porter Goss has announced that every participant in the parade will be handed a Bicentennial silver dollar as they pass the reviewing stand to commemorate their role in the Island's first historic parade. Uncle Clarence Rutland has been chosen as grand marshall of the parade. County commission L.H. (Bob) Whan will also be on hand.

The procession will be led by Mark Kylo, Sanibel's newest United States citizen, who will carry the American flag at the head of his fellow Boy Scouts from Troop 88. As of the Islander's deadline, more than 50 local organizations, businesses, and individuals had registered to march in the parade, among them three bands. Keith Trowbridge, of Sanibel Beach Club and Casa Ybel Resort, has arranged for the 75-member Royal Lancers Drum and Bugle Corps of Cape Coral and the Shriners Band to appear in the parade and at the Family Picnic later in the day, while thanks to R & B Liquors, Huxter's Market, Sanibel Realty and Aquatronics, the Chuck Jones Banjo Band will also march in the parade and will perform in Huxter's Plaza from 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. following the parade.

Other participants in the parade will include the Sanibel Fire Department, the Sanibel Police Department, the Captiva Fire Department, the Sanibel Elementary School, the Children's Center of the Islands, the Sanibel Post Office, the Kiwanis Club, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Sons of the American Revolution, Island Cub Scout and Brownie Troups, Caretta Research, the Sanibel-Captiva Power Squadron, the Sanibel-Captiva Shell Club, the Marvin Post Family and Welker children, the Periwinkle Trailer Park, the Island Shopping Center, Bailey's General Store, Huxter's Plaza, the Heart of the Island Shopping Center, Sanibel Marina,

SUNDAY, JULY 4

The flag, in full color, appears on the back page of the Islander — with no printing on the inside.

Francis Bailey, of Bailey's General Store, who sponsored the page, and we hope that all will join our salute to the American Flag by displaying it in your own window during America's only Bicentennial!

Police report

'Twas a fairly calm week, as weeks go at the Sanibel Police Department---a private alarm decided to go off twice in one night, the second occurrence prompting the owner to turn it off till he got in touch with the alarm people, and that other alarm only went off eleven times this past week, mostly triggered by telephones ringing.

Three citations were issued for speeding, three for other moving violations and one warning for faulty equipment, five calls for various assistance of one sort or another were answered and taken care of, the help of the EMTs (Emergency Medical Technicians) and-or the ambulance was requested four times, four "suspected" B&E's turned out to be false alarms after investigation; one wallet, one tire, one ring and one fishing pole were found and either returned to owners or brought in to the SPD; 1 set of keys, one dog, one duffle bag, three children and one husband were all reported lost (we're glad to be able to report that all the children plus the husband were reunited with their loved ones) and that was about all the classifiable calls.

A prowler was reported in the area in the wee, wee hours of the morning; area checked on foot, all secure.

A car was reported "missing"---a later phone call assured SPD that it wasn't missing after all, a workman had picked it up on orders of spouse.

Chamber survey

Recently, the Islands's Chamber of Commerce sent out a questionnaire asking what the members thought about the use (or possible mis-use) of causeway bridge ticket books by "mainland" motels and other establishments. 240 members were polled, 87 replied.

Of the 87 replies, 69 felt that "this type of short day tripper takes up space that would be used to better advantage economically," and 18 saw no reason to change the present system.

In the replies, a number of people suggested windshield stickers (payable by the month or quarter or what have you) would be better and more fair than the ticket books, although at least one member questioned the implied "unfair" use of ticket books by pointing out that Island motels frequently lent Island guests books so they could visit attractions in town or pick up relatives at the airport, and another suggested that "The day trippers are potential week trippers..." so that it might be wise to let them keep coming.

Personally, while we (The ISLANDER) would find it a great personal advantage to have windshield stickers, we're not all convinced that this would be the fairest method for most of the Islands's residents and guests (not to speak of the workers).

Perhaps some method of combining the two - - - windshield stickers for daily to multi-daily causeway users PLUS ticket books good for, say, three months, (rather than the present two) with the book price remaining at 50 cents a ticket or perhaps being raised to $1.00 for each trip. This would give a break to those who have to use the causeway frequently; those who use it fairly often (say one to three times a week) would still save, and the day trippers or "once a year over the bridgers" would still pay the $3.

Of course, we still like the idea, though it will probably get us shot, of absolutely NO cost for residents or Island workers, and a flat $15 a vehicle for anyone else.

Burning costs $1...

Fire Department Chief Allen Nave announced yesterday that there will be a processing fee of $1.00 charged for all special burning permits issued by the Fire Department. To obtain such a permit, one must apply in person at the Fire Department office on Palm Ridge Road.

Special show at Casa Ybel

J.H. (Pete) Carmichael, an award winning free lance photographer and photo-journalist, will be presenting (ABSOLUTELY free of charge) two 45 minutes slide shows at Lowdin Hall on Sunday, July 4, at 4:30 and 7 p.m.

Some of his works will also be on display in a one man show all weekend at Casa Ybel. The slides shows, to which you are urged to come, will take a beautiful look at the flora and fauna of Sanibel.

Carmichael has won prizes in Life Magazine, Popular Photography and the Natural History Magazine.

Aero Club forming

Banks Prevatt is attempting to form an Aero Club for the purpose of getting together assorted Island flying machine buffs, and also to gather some ideas (and hopefully, some help) in what, if anything, can be done to improve the Casa Ybel airstrip. If you're in any way interested, an organizational meeting is planned for Wednesday (tomorrow) June 30, at 7:30 p.m. at Casa Ybel. For any more information, call Banks at 472-4192 or 3448.

Letters to the editor:

Members of the Board;

It is with deep concern and regret that I find it necessary to submit my resignation as the Chairman of the Directors of the Committee of the Islands. I was honored when asked to serve the City of Sanibel in this capacity. I felt great things could be accomplished for the betterment of the people and help preserve our lovely Island for all to enjoy. I appreciate the confidence people who put me in this position had in me, and feel I should explain my action for their benefit.

I cannot in good faith have my name associated with the decision in regards to the advertisement that was approved to be entered in the Island Reporter Newspaper regarding a blanket approval of the Land Use Plan by the Committee of the Islands. I have spent most of my life in the military service fighting 3 wars to protect human rights, so I can't endorse a plan that blandly take these rights away. I thought when I accepted the nomination as one of the directors I was representing all the people on the Islands and not just the IGM (I Got Mine) group. I am surprised this group thought I would be a tool of theirs and not think and speak my beliefs.

I am for proper planning and saving our Island from overgrowth. I strongly believe there should be flexibility in a plan and I don't believe the proposed plan has this at this time. It might have been the intent to get the big developers, but I feel it is just as damaging to the small lot owners and individual home owners who bought in good faith and love our Island. I oppose the fact that this Board has taken the position to support the Land Use Plan "as is" without consulting its entire membership. This is too important an issue for five individuals to project their personal views when representing almost 500 people. I am also disappointed this Board seems to be controlled by the will of a few of the general members who belong to IGM instead of representing all the people of the Islands.

There is a drive on the Island to collect money for the law suits the City is anticipating. As I stated in today's meeting, possibly with some flexibility in the plan, a collection of money to reimburse those individuals that have been financially damaged by the plan would be a more desirable approach. The end result being a happier and less divided Island. I for one would prefer to pay taxes and donate to save our Island by reimbursing the people hurt by the plan, than pay for law suits that the city is subject to lose. -- And for the record I'll repeat a possible solution. My recommendation would be for the City Council to have each individual case reviewed to determine what the actual dollar investment is and then bend the plan if possible to allow some return while maintaining our Island in its natural state. Should the owner end up short, then I would further recommend he be reimbursed the difference in his capital investment and capital returns. In other words - no profit. I sincerely believe this could be worked out and numerous, if not all, law suits stopped. This would unite the Island people, keep our Island a special place and in the long run would require less taxes from property owners.

Even the Bible instructs us not to covet our neighbor's property!

Very truly yours
-s-Edwin O. Reed
Colonel USMC (retired)

A copy of the following letter to the Sanibel Chamber of Commerce was submitted to The ISLANDER:

This is to express our appreciation for the sincere concern and assistance shown by Officer Don Case.

We were spending a few days on the Islands when our car broke down. Being a foreign car we were concerned about its repair on the Island. Officer Case twice "rescued" us when we were stranded and also helped us find a garage. Our car was towed in, repaired and delivered to our motel in a minimal amount of time and the charge was very reasonable.

Officer Case sets an excellent example of your lovely Sanibel Island. His warm hospitality, sense of humor and sincere interest extends itself to everyone he comes in contact with.

Our first stay on the Island turned out to be an extremely pleasant one. We are planning to visit Sanibel Island frequently and our stays on the Island will be even more carefree knowing you have someone like Officer Case on your police staff.

-s-Mr. and Mrs. A. Bacallado
Fort Lauderdale, Florida

To The ISLANDER:

Dear Ms. Brown:

On behalf of President Ford, I would like to thank you for sending the copy of the Sanibel-Captiva Islander containing the synopsis of the Magna Carta.

The President has been extremely pleased with the manner in which the American media has been responding to the spirit of the Bicentennial.

I have enclosed the President's Bicentennial message which is sent to you and your staff along with his very best wishes for a happy and memorable Bicentennial year.

Sincerely,
Milton E. Mitler
Deputy Special Assistant

A tired Fred Bosselman listened . . . and listened . . . said a few choice words . . . and listened some more (as did we all) during last week's plan workshops . . .

When legal holidays fall on Mondays, exalted though they may be, such as this week's Bicentennial celebration (which is legal only because when the 4th of July is on a Sunday, one celebrates it by not working on the 5th, making ye ed happy--if only briefly--since the fifth is her birthday, and she's been complaining for years that everyone's celebrating on the wrong day)--but, this wrecks complete havoc with our printing schedule, as well as your and our deadlines.

Unfortunately, therefore, the July 6 edition of the ISLANDER will be printed on July 2, so all the pretty pictures of the Island's Bicentennial celebration will not appear until the July 13 edition--(but every cloud has a silver lining--at least Christmas is on a Saturday).

That also means that no copy can be accepted for the July 6 edition after Thursday, July 1. Anything received in the office after July 1 probably won't be looked at till July 7, since it won't be able to appear before July 13, anyway.

For further confusion, the July 6 issue will be distributed basically on the 6th, although some may sneak out on the 5th--all of which adds up to making this Wednesday night our regular Thursday night, and Thursday night, Sunday night. If you think YOU'RE confused, imagine how we must feel. And do.

See you at the parade?

In your opinion. . .

How do you plan to celebrate the Fourth this year?

Hilde Benton, Indianapolis, Indiana: "With all my family, helping my daughter and son-in-law pack to go to Europe."

Don Todd, North Fort Myers: "I'll probably spend the day at home with the kids and blow off firecrackers and sparklers."

Leroy Mouton and Mike, Houma, Louisiana: "I'll be back in New Orleans by then. We'll have a little family outing and a barbecue of some sort."

Gary Giese, Milwaukee, Wisconsin: "Probably with the family at the fair in Milwaukee."

Maxine Michl, Sanibel: "I plan to go to some of the activities here on the Island and try to avoid a sunburn."

Sue Barber, Sanibel: "Actually, I'm going to work on the Fourth, so my plans are pretty dull."

Summer reading starts

Twenty-seven Island youngsters showed up at the Sanibel Library last Wednesday morning for the first in a series of summer story hours to be offered by the library in the weeks ahead.

Under the direction of children's librarian Ruth Clark, the story hour will be offered from 10:00 a.m. until 11:00 a.m. every Wednesday from now until July 30. The theme of this year's series is

"Happy Birthday, U.S.A. 1776-1976."

During the weekly story hour, the 4 to 7 year old age group will be entertained by Sylvia Strong, while Carolyn Beebe will read to the older children. Betty Zajicek will be assisting in the program.

A new feature in this summer's series will be two special programs given by guest speakers from the Islands. On June 30, Elinor Dormer will entertain the children with "Tales of Early Sanibel," while on July 14, Elise Fuller will treat her young listeners to an account of a real "Hurricane Adventure."

As there is no charge for the story hour program, no Island youngsters should be allowed to miss out on this wonderful learning and entertaining experience.

Sayers announces for Commission

"Constituents from all over Lee County have urged me to serve another term on the Board of County Commissioners to make certain the major programs and plans I have started are fully implemented and to continue the fiscally conservative policies that have saved taxpayers money, reduced taxes and still provided the necessary services for our citizens.

"Therefore, I am announcing today that I will again be a candidate for the District One seat I won in November, 1972.

"When I campaigned before, I pledged to work hard to plan and carry out a major road program in the County and a massive plan to 'bring parks to where the people are'—two things previous boards had not adequately prepared for—and at the same time to hold the line on taxes.

"I have done these things and more. The $35 million roads program I presented to the Commission on April 17, 1974, is under way. I want to see it through. Further, Highway 41 now is nearly all four-laned in Lee County—thanks to our leadership and the $4.3 million we loaned the State of Florida to get it done.

"I personally negotiated the plans for the new Hancock Bridge Parkway, saving the County over $200,000 by donations from landowners and developers in the area. Now, 10,000 cars a day traverse the four-lane road.

"A long-overdue parks program I presented to the Commission on Dec. 3, 1975, is already well under way. It includes development of parks and capital improvements in every area of the County. It involves the donation of 30 acres of choice land on Cypress Lake Drive I personally sought and negotiated, saving nearly $750,000; a savings of $110,000 on the purchase of beach land at Bonita Beach at my suggestion; a savings of $36,000 on a donation of land I negotiated for the North Fort Myers Library; a contribution of 20 acres of land in Lehigh Acres; a community contribution of $160,000 in Boca Grande, and the utilization of other parks lands that cost the county nothing.

"Meanwhile, in the first two years on the Board I was instrumental in cutting the county tax millage from 9.864 mills (almost the maximum) to 5.818 mills. It rose to 6.143 mills the last budget year, and I voted against it.

"Still, we were able to increase our law enforcement funds, make our ambulance system one of the best in the nation, build a new airport terminal, build a new major health department building, build a new wing on Shady Rest Home, launch a major drainage project, install 1,000 new Votomatic election units (the first in Florida), begin building bike-hike paths, and numerous other services and projects.

"I was the leader in beginning a program to correct the enormous deficiencies in the County's water system, acquire a new division director for it, a new utilities director and new consultants—and then fashion a new long-range water management program and a county-wide wastewater plan.

"I want to make certain that the water management program, now one of the finest in the state, is properly implemented to assure us of an adequate supply of potable water for the future and to guarantee that the wastewater system will become a reality.

"We have made tremendous strides during my first term. I want to assure that we have the leadership, the courage, the responsibility, the problem-solving ability and the experience to continue to produce the accomplishments this fast-growing area will demand."

Your astrological week

especially cast for the Islands

by Madam Dorinda (phone: 481-3051)

Aries: You are due for some surprising changes regarding security. Be patient and cautious for displays of temperament or excessive independence could be costly. Good time for making purchases.

Taurus: The behind the scene realities are inharmonious, so it is best to postpone action unless you can be thoroughly objective. The stars favor congenial company.

Gemini: The things that worked in the past may no longer be applicable to work or career prospects. This is a good time for renewing old acquaintances, and if in doubt go formal.

Cancer: Try to avoid trouble over shared assets. The new people in your life may have some far-out ideas but they are not meant for you. Play for time if you don't have the right answers.

Leo: You will be susceptible to sudden twists or changes regarding your future direction. Minimize the temperamental or impractical reactions. Attempts to get your way will add fuel to the fire.

Virgo: Welcome chances to display your talents or to be involved in social occasions. This is a good time for all partnership endeavors, especially where finances are concerned.

Libra: Don't meddle in the arrangements of others. You can profit from swift insights regarding necessary tasks. Be careful in traffic. You will profit by enlisting the cooperation of an experienced person.

Scorpio: Be careful with flamables. Attend to home-related financial affairs. Good news is due from a close friend. If you're unattached, you can find excitement in an odd alliance.

Sagittarius: Advice of a confidential nature can be very helpful in negotiating for a raise. Guests are likely to visit the family. Be wary of overspending or doing favors for the wrong person.

Capricorn: Good time for decorative or constructive enterprise. Past delays or hindrances will resolve, but money related emotional friction can threaten a love tie.

Aquarius: Touchiness of others will give way later to a more cooperative attitude. Hold your temper or you will regret it. Clandestine affairs have an embarrassment potential.

Pisces: Counteract a lack of balance between your aims and your financial resources. Benefit coming related to your career ambitions. A journey or visit may be made for an unusual reason.

Softball Highlights

In softball action last weekend, the Sanibel Fire Department beat the Sanibel Police Department by a score of 16 to 2 on Saturday, with Oscar Gavin becoming the first Island softballer to hit a home run over the new fence which was installed last week. The fence is 275 feet from home plate.

Another unfortunate accident befell the Police Department team during their practice session following the game on Saturday when Bob Pershing fell and broke his shoulder, from which he is currently recovering at Lee Memorial Hospital. It'sd been ill luck for the Police Department squad all the way around of late, with Avery Dougherty, having broken his kneecap only the week before. Take heart, fellas, the wheel of fortune must swing for everyone.

We the People of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

This is the last page in our year long Bicentennial series, and ends, fittingly enough, with the Bill of Rights, the first ten (actually the 3rd through the 12th, but most people don't like to remember that) amendments to the Constitution—the amendments which make our Country's Constitution the unique instrument that it is.

We also very proudly reproduce, not only for ourselves, but for all those who have helped with these pages all year long, a commendation to the Sanibel Captiva ISLANDER from Gerald R. Ford, President of the United States.

AMENDMENT I

Religious establishment prohibited. Freedom of speech, of the press, and right to petition.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press, or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

AMENDMENT II

Right to keep and bear arms. A well-regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms, shall not be infringed.

AMENDMENT III

Conditions for quarters for soldiers. No soldier shall in time of peace be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

AMENDMENT IV

Right of search and seizure regulated. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

AMENDMENT V

Provisions concerning prosecution. Trial and punishment—private property not to be taken for public use without compensation.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law, nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.

AMENDMENT VI

Right to speedy trial, witnesses, etc. In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witness against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

AMENDMENT VII

Right of trial by jury. In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise reexamined in any court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

AMENDMENT VIII

Excessive bail or fines and cruel punishment prohibited. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

AMENDMENT IX

Rule of construction of constitution. The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

AMENDMENT X

Rights of States under Constitution. The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

Congress of THE United States begun and held at the City of New York, one thousand seven hundred and eighty nine.

WASHINGTON
June 16, 1976

We now mark the beginning of our Third Century as an Independent Nation as well as the 200th Anniversary of the American Revolution. For two centuries our Nation has grown, changed and flourished. A diverse people, drawn from all corners of the earth, have joined together to fulfill the promise of democracy.

America's Bicentennial is rich in history and in the promise and potential of the years that lie ahead. It is about the traditions, our past, our achievements, our form of government, our freedoms, our commitment to a better and our continuing opportunity to join with each of us citizens in honoring the past and preparing for the future together across the Nation. Thus, in communities and fellow nationalities, and joining together as races, ground and strengthen our traditions, back- ground and personal freedom.

As we lay the cornerstone of America's Third Century, I commend the editor and staff of THE SANIBEL-CAPTIVA ISLANDER on their Bicentennial issues. Efforts such as this are helping to make our great national celebration a memorable and meaningful one for all.

Hurricane?????

The Community Association Hurricane Meeting is being programed to answer the following questions, according to John Shepherd, program director.

Q: What is it like to go through a real hurricane?

A: "We plan to show a film taken during one of the worst storms to hit the Gulf Coast. You'll see trees, posts, wires being blown down. Cars moved along the streets. Debris sailing through the air. Boats being tossed about like match sticks. Seawalls undermined and crumbled and the actual destruction of a condominium. In addition, we are hoping to have a group of old time residents who went through Donna, the hurricane of 1944 and one person who survived the storm of 1910 to answer questions."

Q: How many hurricanes have actually hit Sanibel?

A: "Six, and we plan to show their paths, where they hit, the severity of the storm in terms of wind velocity, volume of rain, and the height of the tide."

Q: If we have a seven foot tide or a ten foot tide, how will Sanibel be effected?

A: "Ten feet, I'm told, will cover all of Sanibel. The road in front of your house is 5 to 5½ feet above mean high tide so you can figure where a ten foot tide will come in your house. Sanibel is not the only area effected with such tides — we'll show you how it will effect the rest of Lee County, and remember, some hurricanes have brought higher than ten foot tides. Also you have a back and forth motion with strong waves that has its effects."

Q: We are told that we will have 12 hours of daylight time notice before the storm hits—Is that the outer perimeter or the center of the storm?

A: "Good question. I don't know; we'll have to ask Mr. Benson to answer that."

Q: Why has Fort Myers High been selected as the public shelter to which we are to go—what's wrong with Cypress Lake or Edison Community College or some grade school closer?

A: "We've asked Mr. Hall of the Red Cross to explain their criterion for selecting shelters. You'll get his answer on the 6th. (Ed. Note—also Cypress Lake is only six feet above sea level.)"

Q: Why was the designated evacuation route selected over a much shorter route to Fort Myers High?

A: "We plan to have Col. Turon head of Lee County Defense here to answer that one."

Q: How can you determine a safe shelter if you are selecting one on your own such as a motel or hotel in Fort Myers?

A: "The construction of the building. Is it on piling to bed rock? Its height, distance from the shore or bay or river, etc. I'm sure someone will be able to answer that question the night of our meeting."

Q: What happens if the bridge gets stuck. The causeway flooded or eroded. Or highway 887 beyond the bridge is covered with water and unusable?

A: "Our own preparedness group have a plan to meet that situation."

Q: I understand there is a new system of notification of officers or hurricane wardens being set up so that all can be notified more quickly? Where does that stand?

A: "Right. Capt. John Butler has a group working on that now and an announcement should be made on the 6th. If a storm hits before the old notification officers will be ready to act. Incidentally, the Community Association is working on this now and need volunteers in each of our subdivisions. If you want to help call Carol Davenport, the Association's permanent secretary and leave your name and one of the officers will contact you."

Q: "These are some of the questions," states Dick Wilson president of the Association, "that are being raised and a reason for having this meeting. John, I understand arranging for six of the top officials on Civil Defense in Ft Myers to come here that night and answer these questions officially."

"That's true," said Shepherd, "we hope to produce the brass including our own committee of some 15 people who have been working on this plan for over a year."

"In addition to these speakers we hope to have exhibit 1) What to take with you when you leave. 2) Diagram tracking charts of the storms that have hit this area. organization chart of our own Emergency Prepare Evacuation and Relief Team headed up by Police Chief J. Butler. 4) A list of the new notification officers and any other information the public should have and I understand from Dick Wilson the Association is considering making this permanent exhibit and to keep it in the community building during the hurricane season in order that people can come and see it anytime."

"Also," added Wilson, "since the building is open each from 10 to 12 — people are invited in to see these exhibits. also will have printed information on "What to do... etc. and should be able to answer questions."

"Before we close this interview, I'd like to emphasize again that while this meeting is being planned along with Community Association regular dinner meeting, that main program which is scheduled to start at 8 p.m. is open to the public and we hope to see a large turnout which include the people of Captiva as well. We are presenting this meeting as a special service to the community at large at the request of the City of Sanibel."

Hurricane coming July 6

"That's true," said John Shepherd, program chairman for the coming special hurricane meeting to be put on by the Sanibel Community Association Tuesday evening, July 6 at 8 p.m.

"Anyone who has not been through a hurricane will live through one that night because we are going to show a 15-minute movie that shows the wind, the rain, the tide that occurs when a hurricane hits. It's frightening to see trees blown over, cars pushed around, big boats tossed about, sea worn away and thrown up against buildings, even a condominium destroyed.

"In addition to the film, we are preparing to tell people the storms that have hit this area since the turn of the century and to answer such questions as:

"What is to be Sanibel's designated shelter? And why?"

"What route are we to take to get there?"

"What are we supposed to take with us?"

"How much advance warning will we have and how will we be told?"

"Will we know the severity of the storm? The expected tide? Velocity of the wind? Any rain and the amount that will precede the storm?"

"What happens to those who can't make it and don't get off the Island?"

"What happens to our car, pets, boat, home etc? How can we protect them?"

"We have attempted to anticipate what people will want to know and have invited six top people from Fort Myers responsible for our safety plus our own preparedness and evacuation committee under Police Chief John Butler to attend this meeting and answer questions for us," Shepherd continued.

"While the dinner meeting at 6:30 is for members and their guests only, the Special Hurricane meeting at 8 p.m. is open to the public and we hope a large crowd will turn out to learn how to protect themselves, their family and property against these destructive storms. One of these years one is going to hit, and we must be prepared! We just hope it isn't this year!"

The Comprehensive Land Use Plan (CLUP) for the City of Sanibel weathered close scrutiny last week from the city council, city consulting attorneys, city planners and interested citizens of the Island, but not without enduring drastic revisions of certain key elements. The plan was the subject of an intensive page by page review during the council's week-long workshop sessions, which commenced at City Hall last Monday and continued virtually non-stop up until yesterday afternoon.

The week began with the council giving consideration to the economic assumptions of the plan, in which the council was aided by

or history really Does repeat itself!

For some odd reason, the July 4th issues of the first two years we pulled from the back files of the ISLANDER ACTUALLY FELL ON July 4. The 1962 issue headlined the Lee County Chamber of Commerce holding a special meeting (nine carloads of Fort Myers officials arrived on a special ferry) with the Sanibel Captiva Chamber of Commerce at Casa Ybel, with the County Chamber acting as hosts.

"Twas a rather rare meeting, in that it was all for fun (and to introduce a few people here and there) and didn't have any speeches. Gee!

The other page one story that week was the installation of the new officers of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary.

Bette Park and Betty Puff had just bought the B-Hive (formerly the Suva Trader) which they planned to run during the winter and spend the summers in Indiana, when the shop would be managed by Charlotte Harris and Donna Fredrikson.

National Geographic Magazine had sent two gentlemen, Treat Davidson and Laymond Hardy, to photograph and record the local lives of alligators (of all things) on Sanibel. They not only thought Sanibel was great, but also found that the "alligators are nicer here."

Construction on the new Inter County Telephone building was going "nicely, despite the bugs flying around." (The entire issue was loaded with buggy remarks, so it must have been a very good year for skeeters.) Joe Wightman had just returned home from "cousin hopping" and a visit to the Seattle World's Fair, and Charles LeBuff was worried about the nests of black necked stilts, whose building efforts were being washed away by the heavy summer rains, interfering with their regular nesting season. There was an editor's note at the end of the story (which had gone into detail about how one nest was "artificially" raised for safety's sake) which asked if LeBuff had gotten a permit from the Planning and Zoning Board for the construction, or had it been considered in the right of a "special variance"? Things really weren't all that different, right?

The July 4, 1968 ISLANDER wished all a happy fourth, and admonished all not to forget the Legion fish fry. The Sanibel Captiva Sharks Softball Team was holding a holiday benefit dance at Casa Ybel for the Sanibel Athletic Field, at which one could dance to the live music of the Tommy Mason Trio, get beverages and have a good time -- for $1.50 a ticket.

Native ferns and red hibiscus decorated the installation of the Legion and Auxiliary officers again, with 8th District President Fran O'Callaghan installing Isabel Kirkpatrick, Marge Woodring, Priscilla Murphy, Goldie Nave, Mary Purdy, Mary Nix and Blanche Pflough.

Nicodemus Van LeverBell celebrated his birthday again -- certainly the social highlight of the dog world. Scotty's Pub was advertising fish 'n' chip dinners -- all you can put away -- for $2. Gulf front lots were available on Upper Captiva and-or Cayo Coasta for $7,500. Clyde Mason and his band were playing Saturday nights at South Seas, and fryers were 29 cents a lb., coffee, 39

Wallace, Roberts, McHarg and Todd (WMRT) economic consultant, Dr. James C. Nicholas. Nicholas told the council that the down-zoning of specific parcels on the Island would not affect the overall viability of the plan's economic assumptions, although he urged the council to undertake a study of the city's economic base during both peak and lean tourist months to ascertain to what extent the Island's economy is based on the tourist dollar. Nicholas also urged the city fathers to do a comparative study of Sanibel land values with the property values of nearby tourist communities, in order to understand the Island's unique economic character. The discussions with Dr. Nicholas led to the Economic Assumptions element of the plan (Section 1.3) being redrafted by the planners and attorneys later in the week.

Also redrafted during the course of last week's workshop sessions were the sections of the CLUP dealing with Housing, Sewage Treatment, Water Supply, Hurricane Evacuation, and Traffic Circulation.

The Traffic Circulation element in the proposed CLUP had to be discarded outright last week due to the fact that "the computations of traffic volumes on which these planning studies were based contained a basic arithmetical error that pervaded some of the calculations and rendered them invalid," according to city officials. WMRT has been retained to work with the city planning commission on the revision of the circulation studies, at an additional cost to the city of $6,000. WNRT's Bill Roberts vowed that the revised circulation element would be ready for adoption into the plan by the scheduled July 13th deadline.

The city's planning commission held a special meeting last Thursday night to officially receive and review the revisions of the above mentioned elements recommended by the council.

The commercial zone designations, building setback requirements for the bay side of the Island, density allocations for the east end of Sanibel, and open space designations all came up for review and revision late in the week. Among other actions, the council decided to eliminate all open space designations from the CLUP's density allocation map, with the exception of those publicly-owned lands included in the J.N. ("Ding") Darling National Wildlife Refuge. Other parcels that had been designated open space in the proposed CLUP will be given the density allocations of contiguous land in the same ecological zone.

As of the ISLANDER deadline last week, the city council was still aiming for adoption of the CLUP by July 13, despite the vocal opposition posed by the Sanibel-Captiva Motel-Hotel Association and the Concerned Property Owners of Sanibel.

In order to comply with a new state law governing the noticing of land use planning decision-making processes, the council has scheduled two evening public hearings on the plan for the weeks ahead. The first of these is to be held at Casa Ybel Resort on Gulf Drive, beginning at 5:01 p.m. tonight, June 29.

The second will be held at an as yet unannounced location on the evening of July 13th, at which time the council plans to take final action on the CLUP and its supporting ordinances. The two meetings will be the last opportunity for the public to voice their concerns on the plan before it becomes law.

Furthermore, the council is meeting this morning at Casa Ybel Resort in a continuation of an earlier public hearing on the plan, and to give second readings of an adoption and supporting ordinance required to enact the plan. The council also meet this afternoon at Casa Ybel Resort in a regular bi-monthly session to consider a variety of ordinances, resolutions, and even a respite case. Among the items to be considered this afternoon is the controversial ordinance regulating the sale of alcoholic beverages on the Island.

The ISLANDER strongly urges all interested citizens to attend these very important public meetings and make their thoughts known to the city council, who thus far been responsive to the concerns of Island residents.

At this point in time, the ISLANDER can only commend the city fathers and their employees for the inordinate amount of time, work, and money they have lavished upon the most historic document in the history of Sanibel.

Mrs. Harold Crumb of Lexington Mass., was visiting her sister, Edie Mugridge, and the Charles Hollands, the Al Muenches and the Tom Walshes all enjoyed a boating vacation off Marathon.

Lee County had been just declared a disaster area (cause of Agnes), the Art Moreys found a golden olive, Tom Schnable was advertising ladybugs for sale (the idea being they'd eat your aphids) for $6 a quart, the Sanibel Captiva Conservation foundation had over 1,600 members and was asking for more, the County Commissioners deferred a $25,000 request for a Captiva Erosion Study, to be matched by $30,000 from Captiva residents until the County decided whether it could legally supply the Island with any money, Sundial was advertising Beach and Tennis Condos for $30,700, with the suggestion "if you don't use it, rent it!" and Jonathan Livingston Seagull topped MacIntosh Bookshop's best seller list in fiction, while "The Boys of Summer" was tops in general, with "I'm OK, You're OK" a close second.

The July 6, 1972, ISLANDER headlined "No action on dredging cases," as Sanibel Properties, Inc., which had been cited by the Florida Dept. of Pollution for causing salt water intrusion, completed dredge and fill work in the Rocks East without any action being taken by the Department.

Maude and Harvey Meyer were back at their Captiva home clearing up the debris from the backlash of Hurricane Agnes, which "behaved like a tidal wave...and caused more damage on Captiva than Hurricane Donna 12 years before." That was the hurricane which brought the tornado which touched down in Town Square and demolished the entire row of shops.

Ice skating winner visits

This interesting young man is Toller Cranston, a recent guest at Castaways who wouldn't let us put anything in about him while he was still here, since he wanted anonymity during his stay here. Mr. Cranston, who is known to practically all fans as "Toller" won a Bronze Medal in the Olympics in ice skating. The graph is from the cover of a book about written by Elva Oglanby, which he himself illustrated. Speaking of Castaways—June, Betty and the staff are desolate with Bill Roger's departure. Bill's been sort of chief waiter, bottle washer and man about the place for over a year, but will be flying to London on July 14 where he'll board one of the Triton Line Italian steamships for an exciting new job! Best wishes, Bill!

The return from Alaska (PART II)

by Ruth Hunter

Rolling along in Arizona watching the tops of mountains against the sky which sometimes looked like faces, we stopped along the Pioneer Trail. A riderless horse in black metal stood atop a stone column and this bore a plaque to say:

"In memory of Tom Mix whose spirit left his body on this spot and whose characterization and portrayals in life served to better fix memories of the old West in the minds of living men."

The head of the black horse dropped down in a very sad way. Ironwood trees, saguara, palo verde trees, catclaw, ocotillo bush, jumping cactus and bareel cactus grew all along the road and I saw a little grave with a small white cross on this the Pioneer Trail. Each state has a particular flower of its own and I was musing on Arizona's lovely lavender ones.

We were near our destination for a few days, Little Hunter, the home of Philip's sisters at Apache Junction. At Little Hunter you can get a different view from every window of Superstition Mountain where the old Dutchman was lost hunting for gold. Some folks think there is still gold up there but few nowadays try to find it.

"Would you like to visit a Pet Cemetery?" Winnie asked, (Philip's little sister). And then Mildred, (Philip's big sister) said, "Maybe they'd like to visit the hermit!" Whereupon we decided we could do both on that Apache Junction afternoon. The hermit didn't live too far from Rawhide and Phoenix, so far as miles go, but environment, we stepped into another world!

His house seemed to be an open ramshackle shed and little birds were perched on the edge of tin cans filled with water and he had a beard that reached to heck and gone. But my, he was happy and chatted away while he carved things out of the wood from trees surrounding his oasis. The hermit's life concentrated on the feathered friends around him while the owner of the Pet Cemetery fixed his mind on canines, dead ones, that is.

Philip and his sisters wouldn't go in the cemetery gate but I did and was greeted by a barking dog followed by his owner who would have kept me there all day if I hadn't told him I was pressed for time. I couldn't stand too much of it. Graves with headstones, letters from owners of pets who had died, "We thank you for your consideration in our time of bereavement. You will never know what a comfort it is to know that little Fido is safe in the grave you so carefully prepared for him.", etc. etc.

"Now I will show you the caskets" said Mr. Pet Cemetery. There were all sizes, beautifully carved-out-of-wood ones and all lined in satin with lace around the pillows. "Look at this" he said, and I gazed on the snapshot of a German Shepherd, dead of course, with his head on a soft downy white head rest. "You notice," he went on, "we never squeeze animals in"; he showed me more pictures of dead dogs in caskets. "And if you would like a graveside ceremony when you bury your dog, we can arrange that, but first we go to the Chapel for this"...he then pointed to a cement building with a Cross on the top. I couldn't take any more.

"My dog isn't dead" I said, "Do you bury birds?" And with that he handed me a price sheet:

Dig buried with ceremony,—$
Dog buried with large casket,—$
Dog buried with headstone marker,—$

"They don't squeeze the dogs into their caskets" I told Philip and the girls as I got back into the car to recuperate. The Mesa Tribune took our picture and had a story. It is always news that we are STILL acting having now "trod the boards" (wherever that expression came from) for fifty years.

After we told Win and Mildred goodbye to Superstition Mountain it started to rain as we stood to view the Lavender Pit at Bixbie, and to read the explaining sign:

"This open pit mine is named for Harrison M. Lavender who as Vice President of Phelps Dodge, his dynamic leadership, his comprehensive knowledge of all parts of mining will continue to be an inspiration to his fellow engineers."

There was every color of the rainbow in the great opening but oddly enough, the predominant color was lavender. Lucky for us, the first hotel we came to was the Gadson at Douglas, Arizona. I stepped in the lobby and then rushed outside to tell Philip, "We will have to stay here, no matter how much it costs, it is that beautiful!" And so it was, like the famous Peabody at Memphis, a long curved marble staircase, a lobby half a block wide with balconies and mosaics and carved railings. I could go on and on, the Gadson is so attractive. It was built I guess when Arizona was swimming in gold and copper and silver.

The owner herself, was at the desk to greet us and arranged a conference right away with newspaper people, and bigwigs in Douglas because there's a wondrous Grand Theater there and Douglastonians want it restored. We met Mrs. Martha Martin from France and her pet newspaper columnist whom she called "Cricket." I liked what the Hotel had done for Mrs. Martin, took down three walls and made her a gorgeous suite...from where she reigned as chief adviser for anything cultural in Douglas, Arizona. Martha arranged a delightful breakfast for us with Cricket and other newspaper people and photographers. The pictures turned out very well of me, I like them best when the printer starts fading the ink.

"I don't think the Government is going to give them $150,000 to restore that Grand Theater" said Philip. "No", I agreed, "for the roof is falling in!"

CLUP being fined honed

In the midst of the final review, refinement, and editing process, which the city's proposed Comprehensive Land Use Plan is still undergoing in an attempt to make it "battle ready" by the slated July 13th adoption date, the Sanibel Planning Commission heard two lingering respite cases yesterday morning under the provision of city ordinance 7-1.

Voting unanimously on both cases, the commission recommended to the city council that the two petitions for relief be denied, upholding their previous decisions in both cases.

Both requests for relief from the respite came from developers of condominium projects of Gulf Drive.

In the first hearing of the day, the commission denied the request of Dan Royal Jr., owner and trustee of the Break-Away Condominium project on Gulf Drive, for relieve to build 59 dwelling units, two tennis courts, a swimming pool, the extension of Gulf Drive to the property, the extension of water lines to the edge of the property, and the construction of a sewage, water, and road system on the 10.8 acre site. The denial came on the grounds of the density allocation for the site, with only 21 units permitted on the parcel under the provision of the CLUP as currently proposed. There was also some question as to whether or not the city would accept the right of way for the proposed extension of Gulf Drive, which the developer had previously decided to Lee County.

Johnson requested permission to build 39 dwelling units on two acres of beachfront property, while the city planners calculated that only ten units would be permissible in conformance with the proposed CLUP.

The commission also objected to Johnson's plans to build 15 of the proposed units seaward of the coastal setback line (D.N.R.) mandated by the CLUP.

Johnson opined that the CLUP's density allocation for this parcel was "too punitive" and claimed that the denial of his request would result in personal bankruptcy for him. Planning commission chairman Duane White informed him that the city council was still considering how they would handle transition cases such as the Kings Crown project, urging him to wait until the adoption of the plan before proceeding.

Later in the morning, the commission discussed the supportive ordinances to the CLUP, and gave further consideration to the development intensity mat contained in the plan.

The second request for relief from the respite, that of Robert L. Johnson and his son Steve Johnson, president and vice president of the Latham Corporation, to complete Phase 1 of the Kings Crown Condominium project on West Gulf Drive, was also denied on the grounds of density.

Troutman denied (so far)

On the morning of Monday, June 21, the Lee County Board of Commissioners voted to deny Robert Troutman's proposed 26,500 unit Estuaries development for the second time in three years.

The decision to deny the massive condominium project proposed for the north shore of Estero Bay came only moments after commissioner Dick Sayers had moved for approval of Troutman's application, subject to a 17-point plan. The motion to approve was defeated by a vote of three to two, the same identical margin which only a few minutes later would deny Troutman his dream of building a condominium city of 73,000 people. Commissioners Sayers and George Goldtrap cast the dissenting votes on commissioner James Sweeney's motion to deny the proposal.

The denial carried a suggestion from the commission that Troutman redraft his mater-plan to include only single-family and duplex housing (rather than the five condominium villages contained in the original plan), a density of two units per acre, the payment of voluntary impact fees to the county for necessary services, the elimination of three marinas and the controversial interceptor waterway (all requiring dredge and fill), and phased development of the overall concept. The commission also decided that Troutman's proposal should be resubmitted to the Southwest Florida Regional Planning Council, which has already voted thirteen to one to deny the project.

Troutman's attorney, Wade Hopping, asked the commission to reconsider their decision to deny multi-family zoning for the site and to adjust their two unit per acre density figure, as well as objecting to their elimination of the marinas. Commissioner Betty Bowen stood fast on her objection to the marinas, basing her objection on the fact that the construction of the marinas would require the dredging of eleven acres of bay bottom in Hurricane Bay. Approximately 91 per cent of Troutman's site is classified as wetlands. Commissioner Goldtrap opined that the denial of the project was based on "fear of the unknown" rather than upon logic.

Developer Troutman now plans to appeal the commission's decision to the Florida Cabinet, sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission.

A later development which came to light at the commission's regular meeting on June 23 could delay the final decision on the development until mid-July. At that meeting, county attorney Jim Humphrey presented the commission with a draft development order in which Troutman agreed to a 30-day extension of the final approval. In the development order are contained conditions which Troutman must meet to obtain the commission's approval. Upon completion of the order, it must be reviewed by both the Southwest Florida Regional Planning Council and the State Division of Planning.

Cayo Costa sale closer

On June 21, the proposed state purchase of 894 acres of land on the northern end of Cayo Costa and southern end of North Captiva islands cleared the state's Interagency Advisory Committee, bringing the $8,580,515 acquisition package one step closer to completion. Final approval by the state Cabinet is expected on July 20. The two sister islands, located just north of Captiva Island, are reputed to be the last undisturbed major barrier islands in Florida.

The acquisition proposal, made possible by the state's $200 million Environmentally Endangered Lands program, includes property owned by 99 persons, amounting to some 21,500 feet of beachfront. The land is appraised at between 8.7 and 8.9 million dollars.

The largest tract to be purchased, a 255-acre parcel owned by Addison B. Miller and a land holding group represented by attorney John Sheppard, will cost the state $2.8 million. Another 130-acre tract owned by the North Captiva Company is selling for $1 million.

State officials plan to attempt to purchase the remaining portions of Cayo Costa at an undisclosed date in the future.

Bill Conklin, Chip Conklin, Charles Groshen (Bill's father-in-law) and Pati Conklin, all of Orangeburg, South Carolina, who frequently visit at Castaways, are proud of their catch of snook, trout, whiting and angel fish.

New Lutheran Church forming here

Word reached us last week of a new Lutheran Church being organized on the Islands by Pastor Judson Westgate, with services to be held starting in the fall of this year. To be called "The Shepherd of the Islands," the church is being sponsored by The Lutheran Church in America.

At the present time, Pastor Westgate is conducting a door-to-door survey of the community in search of interested families. With approximately one fourth of Island residents contacted to date, Pastor Westgate already has 21 firm commitments, which he considers more than sufficient to go ahead with his plans.

When the survey is completed, an interest meeting will be held and preparations made for the inauguration of worship services in temporary facilities.

While no exact timetable has been announced, Pastor Westgate expects the interest meetings to get underway in September, with the initiation of services expected to follow in October. A charter opening is slated within approximately eight months thereafter, while Pastor Westgate is anticipating a formal organization of the church in the late spring of 1977. A permanent location for the church will be sought eventually.

Pastor Westgate is a native of Wisconsin, having previously lived in Rhinelander, Green Bay and Milwaukee. He attended the University of Washington in Seattle and Carthage College in Illinois, and is a graduate of the Northwestern Lutheran Theological Seminary of Minneapolis, Minnesota. Before moving to Florida, Pastor Westgate served two parishes in Pennsylvania, at Girard and Greensburg. For the past twelve years he was pastor of the Ascension Lutheran Church in Boynton-Delray Beaches, Florida.

Pastor Westgate, his wife, Gloria, and son, David will live temporarily at 315 Palm Lake Drive until their home is completed in the Lake Murex subdivision. Pastor Westgate first came to the Islands this past April.

Interested parties are urged to call 472-2135 for further information about the new church and for personal consultations.

Tides courtesy of Priscilla Murphy, Realtor, Inc.

Conversion table: The above tides are for the lighthouse point of Sanibel only. To convert for Redfish Pass (north tip of Captiva), add 55 minutes to the time shown for every hi tide, and subtract two (2) minutes for every low tide. (NO, we don't know why, but it works. Instructions following are even less sense-sical but, as we stated, they do work.)

For Captiva Island, Gulf side, subtract 30 minutes from each high tide, and subtract 1 hour and 16 minutes for each low tide.

For Captiva Island, Pine Island Sound (bay) side, add 1 hour and four (4) minutes for each high tide, and add 52 minutes for each low tide.

In between these points on gulf or bay --- guesstimate --- and have good fishing and - or shelling.

Say "Chow" and smile!

Pat and Pat Lovetro . . . Barb and Dick Azzolina plus pizza!

Ciao, meaning both hello and goodbye in Italy, means good food on Sanibel and Captiva. Ciao (pronounced chow) the Islands' first Italian delicatessen is open and operating from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Saturday in Tahitian Gardens on Periwinkle Way.

American and Italian flags mark the source of the tantalizing aroma of true Italian cooking. Pizza, whole or by the slice, lasagna and Italian olive salad are prepared on location daily for take out. Many Islanders have already discovered this delightful change from the fried chicken or hamburger lunch routine. Homemade spaghetti sauce is also available and resident cooking whiz, Barbara Azzolina, is planning on preparing genuine Italian pastries, to be available in the near future.

Ciao offers a tempting selection of sausage, cold cuts, and cheeses for those who enjoy preparing their own sandwiches or for entertaining. Proprietors Pat Lovetro and Dick Azzolina will happily slice or grate cheese and cold cuts to your satisfaction.

Ciao is also your local source for a variety of pasta, spices and seasoning, pickled peppers, tomato paste and all the other good things that make Italian cooking such a treat. It is expected that a selection of fine wines will soon be available enabling you to make that special meal a complete success.

The deli is the pride and joy of four of the area's friendliest new residents. The idea of the deli was conceived when Dick and Barb Azzolina arrived on Sanibel to visit Pat and Patricia Lovetro, who had moved to the Island last year. Dick and Barb brought with them a "CARE package" of Italian and deli foodstuffs and while the two families enjoyed the goodies the concept of a true Italian delicatessen on Sanibel was considered. Pat and Patricia persuaded the Azzolinas to move to the Islands and Ciao delicatessen soon became a reality.

Stop by the deli sometime in the busy weeks ahead and treat yourself or your family to some fine eating. Or call 472-4003 ahead of time for "ready to eat" take out orders. Either way, when food is on your mind, say Ciao, and smile.

Michael Baptized

At 11:00 a.m. on June 13, Father Gerard Beauregard of St. Isabel's Catholic Church baptized young Michael Ezekiah Krepin, one of the newest residents of the Islands. The baby was born on May 25th to Robert and Catherine Krepin of Jamaica Drive on Sanibel. The christening, which was performed at St. Isabel's, was attended by the Mr. and Mrs. Romie Burns, their children Laurie and Danny, and the baby's grandparents.

Young Michael's godparents were his brother and sister, David and Katie Krepin.

Ballfield improved

Good news for area sports enthusiasts! Al Blank, Charles Miller and the rest of the community spirited gentlemen of Sanibel's American Legion Post donated their time and equipment last week to expand Sanibel's softball field.

The ballfield, at the Sanibel School, now boasts a regulation 275-foot trip to the outfield fence. Al and Charles cleared out the Brazilian pepper trees and graded the land permitting the cool Gulf breeze onto the field and somewhat alleviating the no-see-um problem in the outfield.

Dick Muench, utilizing funds from the Sanibel-Captiva Youth Fund, arranged for the entire outfield to be fenced in. The fence should be a relief to many area outfielders who have spent time in the outfield wilderness seeking out homerun balls off the bat of Oscar Gavin. Softball teams, men's, women's and teenagers, are practicing or playing challenge games almost every evening now so why not get out to the ballpark sometime and enjoy Sanibel's own version of the national pastime.

Casa Ybel Resort, Sanibel Beach Club, Periwinkle Place Shopping Center, Tuttle's Shell Shop, the Get Together Shop, Photo Sanibel, the Pirate Playhouse, Island Garage and Gifts, Smitty's Exxon, Sanibel Tune-up, Elsie Malone Shells, Aquatronics Marine, Electric Sanibel, Wooster TV, Orloff Travel, the B-Hive, the Westward Shop, Tiffany Parlor, the Tahitian Garden Shopping Center, Island Apothecary, the Island Reporter, and the ISLANDER.

All participants in the parade have been asked to assemble in the parking lot of the Bank of the Islands at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday for judging.

Refreshments along the parade route will be sold officially by members of the Santiva Teen Club and the Children's Center of the Islands, the proceeds to benefit both organizations and to help defray parade costs. All others wishing to vend their wares on Saturday must obtain a permit from the Sanibel Police Department. Members of the Sanibel-Captiva Lions Club will also be selling souvenir flags, as well as assisting police to control the crowds during the parade. All sanctioned vendors will wear official parade badges.

The parade has been arranged by Anne Cimato, Bicentennial Festival parade chairman, and committee members Mary and Marty Holtz, Ann DeRose, Evelyn Umland, Mary Kraemer, and Marty Swats, all of whom will appear in the parade.

Following the parade, there will be a Family Picnic held at the Dunes Country Club beginning at 1:00 p.m. Families are urged to bring their own picnic lunches, although the Periwinkle Place Merchants Association will be selling hot dogs at the Bicentennial price of ten cents each, and the Bank of the Islands will be offering beer and soft drinks for five cents.

Music will be provided at the picnic by Keith Trowbridge, and John Kontinos has donated the use of his golf, tennis, croquet and badminton facilities, among other diversions, for the enjoyment of the assembled revelers. The Santiva Teen Club will sponsor a homemade box lunch auction, to be conducted by auctioneer Duane White, while the Children's Center of the Islands will provide a food table with delicacies for sale to benefit the Center. Chairmen for the Family Picnic are Lyn Miller and Dianne DeRose.

Saturday evening, there will be music and dancing at the newly-restored Casa Ybel Resort on Gulf Drive, starting at 9:00 p.m. The admission charge of $5 per couple to the dance will include a donation to the city's Historic Site Preservation Committee, enabling them to restore and preserve early Island landmarks. Female dancers must wear long dresses, and gentlemen should sport jackets. A cash bar will be provided. Tickets to the dance are currently on sale at the Bank of the Islands.

Sunday, July 4: A sunrise Bicentennial worship service on the Causeway will open with Mayor Goss extending greetings to all Island residents and visitors at dawn. Following the Mayor's greeting, Al Hartley, a Sanibel resident known primarily for his "Archie" comic strip and spiritual devotion, will be the main speaker for the service. Vincent Cannemela, a professional opera singer, will perform thereafter, as will a group of 20 male vocalists from the Sanibel-Captiva Lions Club led by LeeRoy Friday and accompanied by Frank Donato. Their performance will feature Friday's solo, "The House I Live In...That's America to Me." Wilbur Shannon is the coordinator for the sunrise service.

The Sanibel Legion traditional Fourth of July Fish Fry will be held at the American Legion Hall beginning at noon on Sunday. The price of the feast will be $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children, with the proceeds supporting Legion scholarships and helping to defray festival expenses, according to Legion commander Charles Miller.

At 2:00 p.m. on the Fourth, Island motorists are invited to blow their horns and join the general hubbub of church bells and police sirens, which will sound to commemorate the time of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

At 4:30 and 7:00 p.m. on Sunday, award winning photographer Peter Carmichael will give two color-slide presentations and lectures on "the flora and fauna of Sanibel" at Lowdin Hall in the Casa Ybel Resort on Gulf Drive. The presentations will be free to the public.

The climax of the festivities will come at nightfall on Sunday evening in yet another first for the Islands—the Bicentennial fireworks display over the Sanibel Causeway. Jim Hermes, chairman of the Bicentennial Festival weekend, will mastermind the fireworks display with the assistance of Mayor Goss and Lions Club president Myton Ireland. The Lions Club donated the fireworks for the display.

So, there you have it—a Fourth which may prove to be as memorable as that historic day 200 years ago.

From the ISLANDER, a safe and happy Independence Day to all Islanders and their guests, and whatever you do, don't miss the fun!

Call came in that a small alligator was on their property and they wanted it removed. Couldn't find either alligator expert and Wildlife said they couldn't pick it up. Officer was then dispatched to pick up alligator, which had since been caught and placed in a container, and took alligator, container and all, to wildlife person who will release same in the Sanctuary.

A "Concerned Citizen" called in to report "campers," who turned out to be members of an environmental protection agency.

Call came in that two men were "pounding on his door" and caller was fearful that they would attempt to enter domicile. After speaking to the SPD, but before officer's arrival, men stopped pounding and tried to enter through a window. Attempt foiled, and pounders GOA.

Business person called in to report that refrigerator on premises had "sparked and then emitted smoke." Fire unit dispatched, arrived on scene in four minutes and had taken care of whole deal seven minutes later.

Complaint came in that person was driving a motorcycle without wearing a helmet. GOA. (For any of you visitors. Florida state law requires motorcycle riders to wear a helmet, with visor, goggles or glasses and have the headlight on at all times.)

One of the two pounders in the report three paragraphs up came back and started pounding again, evidently in an attempt to speak to person in house. Since person had no desire to exchange words or anything else with pounder, officer advised pounder to leave, which he did.

Un-nice fracas over an owed pay check ended up with argument terminated by punching person in (more or less) control of check in face; officer asked all to calm down; punchee informed officer x-rays would be taken before decision would be made to press charges, and other person informed paycheck would be mailed.

Call came in that two turtles had "beached," (laid eggs) and that some young people were digging eggs up. Investigation showed it was a "false crawl," in that neither turtle deposited any eggs anywhere on or in beach.

Call came in that "large group of persons" were having a picnic on private property, and they could not have had permission to do so, as owners were away and caller was in charge of property during their absence, and certainly had not told anyone the property could be used as a picnic area. Upon officer's arrival, people were packing up to go; later check showed they had.

Bracelet was reported stolen via long distance call.

A disabled boat was reported stolen; evidently wasn't, had just been left on vacant lot until repairs could be made.

Call came in that there was a possibility that a neighbor's home had been the scene of an attempted B & E and that caller had heard what she thought was someone trying to enter her garage twice in one night and it would be nice of SPD to patrol area more often. Neighbor's house had broken window, but intact screen.

Report came in of car "running toll plaza"---which translates as car going through without paying. Investigation disclosed that driver had offered ticket not attached to book, which was refused by toll taker. Officer escorted driver back to booth, where a ticket attached to a book was offered and accepted by toller, who threatened driver with arrest if same thing occurred again.

Two right hub caps reported stolen.

A "Suspicious vehicle" was reported---turned out to be an older make car driven by an apparently on-the-up-and-up salesman of bed-spreads, blankets and suits.

Call came in that "a lot of people were watching someone messing around with an eight foot alligator" and that the person "messing around" seemed to be actually riding the alligator. Turned out to be conservation people tagging Marshall. (Marshall's the BIG alligator who isn't dead.)

Person called and said he was requested by his boss to find out if a certain road were indeed private and not open to public, and would call next time trespassers appeared. Did so; officer advised people to move on, asked original caller to have property properly posted, and requested that city hall inform SPD as to who actually owns the road.

Call came in about a noisy motorcycle being driven up and down by a person who looked too young to drive. It was and he was, being only 12.

According to Florida state law a 5 h.p. or less motorcycle may be driven during daylight hours by someone who had to be at least 15, and in possession of a Florida learner's or beginner's license. 16 year olds may drive day or night, if they have a Florida license.

By the way, speaking of Florida law, when you windshield wipers go on because of rain (even in daylight), one is also supposed to put one's car lights on (and NOT the parking lights) and while you're at it, please try to make sure your headlights are on LOW beam, not high?? Thank you.

Abandoned bike reported. Owners found and stated they would pick up.

Call came in that "campers" were settling in for the night "just up the road." Turned out to be visitors of some motel guests, who will be moving on upon completion of visit. They did.
