Council okays signing inter-local agreement

The Sanibel City Council held a special meeting early last Tuesday morning to authorize Mayor Porter Goss to sign an interlocal agreement between the Lee County government and the county's three municipalities for the formation of a new Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) for the greater Lee County area.

Following a directive from the Federal Highway Administration and the Urban Mass Transit Administration, the MPO is to be a policy making body in matters of transportation planning, with its membership appointed by the governors of the individual states. In Florida, the Lee County MPO will be one of 15 such urban transit planning bodies to be established under the new regulations.

In effect, the new Lee County MPO will replace the old planning advisory committee to the Board of County Commissioners, which was comprised of private citizens and which was empowered to hand down only recommendations rather than firm policy decisions.

Governor Rubin Askew originally appointed nine members to the Lee County MPO early this past September, but failed to include a representative of the City of Sanibel on the new board. Thus, city indignation was aroused and the Governor was forced to expand his list of appointments.

One of the primary stipulations in the council's approval of the interlocal agreement last Tuesday was that at least one city representative be appointed to the MPO. The council further suggested that Mayor Goss should request the appointment of two city representatives to the new planning board, while moving emphatically to accept no less than one.

Hence, the revised membership of the MPO as proposed by the city council will include two Cape Coral city councilmen, two Fort Myers city councilmen, the five Lee County Commissioners, one member of the Lee County School Board, and either one or two representatives of the City of Sanibel.

The interlocal agreement will take effect upon its adoption by all of the participating governmental bodies, and subject to the Sanibel council's request for a clarification of the duties to be performed by both the State Department of Transportation and the local MPO under the new arrangement.

The interlocal agreement was approved by a 3 to 1 vote of the Sanibel council last Tuesday, with Councilman Charles LeBuff absent and Councilman Duane White dissenting.

CPOOS elects tonight

The Concerned Property Owners of Sanibel (CPOOS) will meet this evening at 7:30 in the Sanibel Community House. The election of officers is on the agenda, and all members are urged to attend.

Dodi Booth takes 1st in Captiva art show

Last week marked the first juried art show ever to be held on Captiva, as the Captiva Civic Association and the Sanibel-Captiva Art League co-sponsored what they hoped will come to be known as the first in an annual series of juried shows of the work of Island artists.

With Elizabeth Friedmann and other members of the Art League serving as organizers, the show opened last Tuesday night for a private viewing at the Civic Association's regular monthly meeting. After being opened to the public the following day, the show ran through this past Sunday at the Captiva Community Center and featured the first showing of the needle point rug, which will be raffled off and won at the ABC sale in February. The rug was designed and created by the women of the association.

Eight of the show's competing artists were found to be deserving of awards by judges Jean Dean and Elizabeth Niven of the Fort Myers Beach Art League.

First prize in the show went to Dodi Booth for her painting, "Highland," while Dorothy Robinson carried off the second prize honors with her "Impression of a Young Girl."

An artistic rendering of "Bowman's Beach" earned Mary Stolz a third prize in the competition, while honorable mentions went to Onieta McCulloch for her "Abstract in Blue," to Freda Iurka for a painting entitled "Cat Nap," to Jane Bancroft for her "Yellow Fields," to Helene Sparkes for her "Old Ferry Landing at Bailey's," and to Mary Huldrum for an odd work of art she calls "2".

Among those who contributed to the design of this year's needlepoint rug were Marie Kalman, Cynthia Conant, Mary Stolz, Catherine Hockstader, Roberta Johnston, Helen Allin, Julie Stonehill, Dorothy Robinson, Wilson Smith and Helene Sparkes, while the actual work on the rug was performed by Hellen Allin, Jean Angle, Elizabeth Rogers, Jean Sutfin, Elizabeth Friedmann, Martha Sudler, Jane Morgan, Virginia Loomis, Julie Stonehill, Frances Bowers, Janet Lynch, Jane Stegeman, Katherine Howland, Cristine Holland, Marion Cannon and Cynthia Conant.

The beautiful handcrafted needlepoint rug, unveiled for the first time, which will be won by some lucky person in February.

A ten foot wide house???

The meeting last Monday in MacKenzie Hall became a rather difficult situation for the seven-member Sanibel Planning Commission when a group of residents from the Tradewinds subdivision turned out to protest one of the provisions of the city's comprehensive land use plan (CLUP).

The issue at stake was whether or not to let Donald J. Anderson build a single-family home on a Gulf-front lot (oddly shaped) located to the south of a small section of Gulf Drive which connects the two streets in the subdivision at their southern end.

In his petition for a specific amendment to the CLUP, Anderson explained that if he were to abide by both the front yard setback and the coastal construction setback line contained in the plan he would end up with a house ten feet wide. His request was for a waiver of the coastal setback line, which falls deep into his property.

His plea for a variance had previously been denied by the city council this past April 20, under the respite procedures accompanying the citywide building moratorium which was in effect prior to the CLUP's adoption in late July. As there are four other lot holders in similar straits in the same immediate area, the council suggested that they jointly purchase two vacant lots directly across the street from their property in order to have Gulf Drive moved at their expense, which would, in turn, give them adequate space to build on their Gulfside property.

The group investigated the council's idea shortly thereafter but found it to be infeasible for them because of the cost of the undertaking, which they reckoned to be in the vicinity of $70,000.

Many of the other homeowners in the subdivision were fearful lest the city deny the five unlucky lot owners the right to build, which, they contended, might lower the value of those lots enough to let the city move in and buy them up for a public beach access parking facility, an eventuality which could mean some annoyance to the subdivision residents, they claimed.

Thus, they turned out en masse last Monday to argue in behalf of Anderson's right to build.

"I think it's prima facie evidence in this case that I've had the patience of Job," Anderson told the commission last Monday. "After four years of waiting, I would like to build."

The commission, however, felt it was not in their power to grant him a variance from one of the city's most cherished development standards, even though they agreed that the city should do everything in its power to work out a cooperative solution to the problem.

Finding the proposed amendment to be in non-compliance with the CLUP, the commission was forced to pass a motion recommending that the request be denied. The motion to deny passed by a vote of 6 to 1, with Commissioner LeeRoy Friday dissenting.

The matter will now be passed back to the city council, for them to decide the issue at a public hearing scheduled for December 21.

Earlier in the meeting, the commission voted unanimously to approve the issuance of a development permit to the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation for them to construct their oft-discussed Conservation Center on the Foundation's Nature Trail property located in the Island's central wetlands area south of Sanibel-Captiva Road.

According to Foundation Director Dick Workman, the Conservation Center will consist of two buildings connected by elevated walkways, with a total floor space of approximately 3,500 square feet.

Building "A" in the complex will house the group's research and educational programs, including a guest area with nature exhibits, experimental laboratories, preparation rooms, and the like, while Building "B" will contain the Foundation's administrative offices and executive library.

The Foundation plans to proceed with construction on the site as soon as possible, said Workman, and will kick off a fund-raising project for the Center at their annual meeting on December 6.

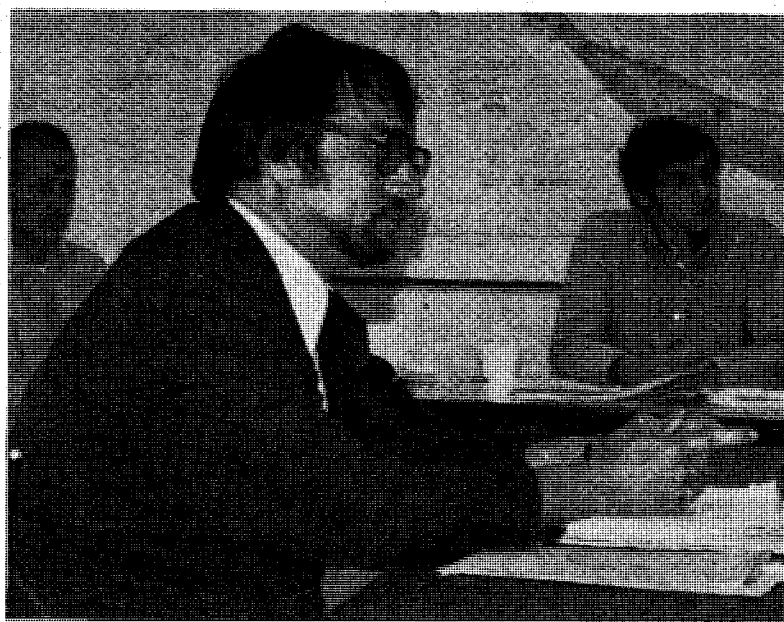

The administrative branch of the Foundation is still working out of temporary quarters in the Sanibel Lighthouse under a special permit from J.N. (Ding) Darling Wildlife officials.

In other action last week, the commission voted to approve the issuance of development permits to the following, after finding the proposed construction in each case to be in full compliance with the CLUP:

—to John Kontinos for the construction of a concrete weir in the Dunes subdivision at the Island's east end. The weir had already been installed two months ago, but Kontinos was unaware that a permit was needed for the work.

—to Robert R. Holoopeter for the development of a shopping and office complex on a 1-acre parcel of land lying south of Periwinkle and directly to the east of the Bank of the Islands. According to Holoopeter, work will commence within the next few weeks on the new shopping center, which will include five shops and three offices, although tenants for the new complex have yet to be announced.

—to the Hugger-Kennedy Corporation for the construction of a 14-unit cottage colony on a 4.54-acre tract of land lying south of the route for the city's proposed extension of Middle Gulf Drive. The commission's approval was subject to the developer's installing a cul-de-sac of 80 feet in diameter at the terminus of the private driveway providing ingress to the property.

Mike Zoss, Sanibel: I'd like to see a happier world; a world that could get along together without wars and starvation."

Scott Howerin, Fort Lauderdale: "That's a big decision. Well, I'd probably legalize 'non-victimless crimes,' such as smoking pot, which really isn't a drug. But I wouldn't legalize things like heroin, because that's bad."

Georgie Gebauer, Sanibel and Plantation: "The economic structure, in our country in particular. I think welfare should be modified; people should have to work for what they get. ## Opening night at Pirate Playhouse

The 1976-77 season at the Pirate Playhouse opens on Wednesday, December 22, at 8:15 p.m. The play will be "Pagan In The Parlor," a rib-tickling farce by Franklin Lacey. This will be the thirteenth season at the Playhouse, since it opened originally in March of 1965 to a standing room only audience. And that's been the trademark of the Playhouse ever since, "full houses".

The other productions to be seen this season will be "Goodnight, Mrs. Puffin" and "Laff That Off." These comedies will be presented in repertory style, with each play being seen repeatedly throughout the season at three week intervals.

The Hunters, Ruth and Philip, the producers, who also appear personally in each of the plays, say, "Thank you" to the wonderful people who make up their audiences for their enthusiastic and loyal support.

Tickets for all three productions are now on sale at the box office for Islanders, and by mail for others, by writing to 1903 Periwinkle Way, Sanibel. A complete schedule of the play dates and times will appear in The ISLANDER on December 21.

Holiday House at Edison home

The Edison Estate will be transformed into a "Garden of Light" December 8 and 9 when the Fort Myers Woman's Community Club presents their annual Christmas gift to the community—"Holiday House."

Handmade, traditional decorations will be used throughout the winter residence of the late Thomas Alva Edison, at 2341 McGregor Blvd., Fort Myers. The botanical garden surrounding the home will become a wonderland during the night hours through the use of thousands of twinkle lights entwined in the trees and lighted pathways enhanced by pots of blooming plants.

A gazebo has been constructed for the occasion to follow a tradition of Mrs. Edison to have local High School bands play for her garden parties. Bands from several schools will entertain during selected hours.

The purpose of "Holiday House" is for the enjoyment of the public and to offer ideas for decorating. There will be a charge of 75 cents to cover restrictions governing the Edison Estate by the Florida Attractions Association. The Community Club realizes no profit from the event.

Visiting hours will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday, December 8 and Thursday, December 9.

Foundation dinner sold out

Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation Director Dick Workman announced recently that tickets were all sold out for the Foundation's annual dinner meeting, to be held this year on December 6 at the Lowdin Hall banquet facility in the Casa Ybel Resort on Gulf Drive.

"There's just no more seating available for the banquet," said Workman last week, "although we do plan to make additional chairs available for the business meeting which follows on a first come, first serve basis."

The Foundation's annual dinner and social hour is slated to begin at 5:30 p.m. on the 6th, a Monday, with the business meeting to follow at 8:00 p.m.

The 10th annual meeting of the Foundation will feature an awards presentation and a keynote address by Nathaniel (Nat) Reed, Assistant Secretary of the U.S. Department of the Interior for Fish, Wildlife and Parks, a position he has held since May of 1971.

A man who began his career 16 years ago as the manager of a family real estate and hotel business in the Jupiter Island area of Florida, Reed has since made his mark nationally as a vigorous defender of the environment.

Among Reed's responsibilities with the Department of the Interior is the job of overseeing the nation's wildlife refuges, including Sanibel's 4700-acre J.N. (Ding) Darling National Wildlife Refuge.

In selecting Reed to address the meeting, the Foundation's board of directors wanted to do "something special" to commemorate the 10th anniversary of the influential conservation organization.

"I can't think of a more qualified person to address our 10th annual meeting than Nat Reed," said Foundation President Dewitt Jones. "As Assistant Secretary of Interior for Fish, Wildlife and Parks, he is well aware of the challenges to the environment and will bring to our members an important new dimension to help us with our local problems."

Reed is described as an "amateur botanist, ichthyologist, biologist and an ardent fisherman and hunter."

Among those who will be receiving the Foundation's certificate of merit awards at the annual meeting are State Representative Frank Mann for his part in the recent state purchase of portions of Upper Captiva and Cayo Costa Islands, Wayne Miller for his research in biological mosquito control, Charles LeBuff for the ongoing conservation work of Caretta Research, Congressman Skip Bafalis for his introduction of a bill designating the Darling Refuge as a National Wilderness area, the Sanibel-Captiva Chamber of Commerce for the creative landscaping of their office building on Causeway Road, the Sanibel-Captiva Kiwanis Club for their Island beach cleanup, the Sanibel-Captiva Lions Club for their Island road cleanup, the Island Water Association for their efforts to educate Islanders in water conservation, the Island Inn for initiating the first beach restoration program on the Islands, and the Island Reporter for their environmental reporting. Workman announced last week.

Those who missed getting tickets for the dinner but who plan to attend the Foundation's 8:00 p.m. business meeting are urged to show up a little bit early if they wish to be seated, according to Workman.

League of Women voters may form here

A group of Sanibel and Captiva women met on Friday, Nov. 19, at the Sanibel Community House to hear Mardi Carter, president of the Fort Myers League of Women Voters. The meeting was held to explore the possibility of starting a League chapter here on the Islands.

Ms. Carter stressed that while the League is a political organization, it is non-partisan, and its main function is to promote voter service and introduce candidates to the voting public.

A major duty of every league is to promote active participation of all citizens. The new group, if it decides to form, will first determine if the local efforts will be directed toward discussion or function as a special interest unit.

Zee Butler, councilman and vice mayor of Sanibel, addressed the group, stressing one of the Island's problems, the lack of low and middle income housing.

In other League action around the county, the Lee County League is having a "Silent Auction" and general meeting, along with a Christmas luncheon, Dec. 7 at 11:30 a.m. at the Sheraton Inn on South 41.

Representatives of Lee County will give a program on "Legislative Priorities." For more information and/or reservations, please call 997-4148.

Obits —

Jerome J. Wimmer

Jerome J. Wimmer of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and Sanibel Island, died on Sunday, November 21, 1976 during a hunting trip in Northern Wisconsin.

Wimmer, one of Wisconsin's leading home builders and community developers, arrived for the first time on Sanibel Island in 1971. He built Loggerhead Cay Condominium and was vice president and principal shareholder in Casuarina Corporation, developers of Sanibel Beach Club on Nerita Street.

A graduate of Marquette University, Wimmer was past President of the prestigious Metropolitan Builders Association of Greater Milwaukee. He was 49 at his death and is survived by his wife, Mary and five children, Mark, Thomas, John, Mary and Meagan.

Services were held at Skubal Slattery Funeral home in West Allis, Wisconsin and at St. Mary's Queen of Heaven Church.

William F. Schwartz

William F. Schwartz, 55, of Doraville, Georgia, died suddenly of a heart attack while visiting on Sanibel Island Friday morning, Nov. 26. Schwartz, who had had a medical history of heart attacks, was found dead in the Ding Darling Sanctuary around noon on Friday by Don Hansen of Miami, who notified the Sanibel Police Department. Identification was made by SPD Officer Don Case.

Schwartz is survived by his wife, Edith, of Doraville, and a daughter, Deborah Schwartz, also of Doraville.

Funeral arrangements had not been made at press time.

Nationwide Realty suit against city dismissed

Circuit Judge James Adams last week granted the City of Sanibel's motion to dismiss the suit for declaratory and injunctive relief filed against the city in late September by the Nationwide Realty Corporation.

In their suit, the Nationwide Realty group contended that the city's comprehensive land use plan (CLUP) was too prohibitive with respect to the lot sizes in their Sanibel Bayous subdivision, located to the north of Sanibel-Captiva Road at the Island's west end.

As the subdivision was originally approved by Lee County in 1971, the developers were seeking a court finding as to the nature of their posture under the city's CLUP, according to City Attorney Neal Bowen.

In his dismissal of the suit last week, Judge Adams allowed the plaintiffs ten days in which to file an amended pleading which could possibly reopen the case. Bowen told the ISLANDER.

The revised pleading would of necessity have to allege such facts to show that the developers had exhausted all possible remedies open to them under the CLUP before resorting to legal action, said Bowen. The group has never appeared before the city to request approval of the development, Bowen added.

Attorney Edward Ryan of the Chicago law firm Ross, Hardies, Babcock and Okeefe was admitted by Judge Adams to assist Bowen in presenting the city's defense in the case.

Special notice:

Dear Friends and Fellow Legionnaires:

As most of you probably know, we have been rennovating the American Legion Club and have not been holding our Bingo-Murex meetings on a regular basis. However, we have resumed our fun and games as of November 17th and you are all invited to attend.

We have also been kicking around the idea of having a dinner night between 6 and 8 p.m. prior to Murex. This, we feel, would be helpful to those who don't have the opportunity to rush home from work, prepare dinner, and then attend our games. If the response is favorable, then by golly we'll do it.

Let us have your opinion the next time you come to the club. After all, you're helping us help the community.

Thanks, and we'll see you on Wednesdays at 8:30 p.m.

If you drop up to The ISLANDER office, take a look at our pride and joy -- this paper nautilus (in its handsome case designed by Thomas Clifford). It was found in 240 fathoms of Gulf water in spring of this year and was self-collected. Tides courtesy of Priscilla Murphy, Realtor, Inc.

Conversion table: The above tides are for the lighthouse point of Sanibel only. To convert for Redfish Pass (north tip of Captiva), add 55 minutes to the time shown for every hi tide, and subtract two (2) minutes for every low tide. (NO, we don't know why, but it works. Instructions following are even less sense-sical but as we stated, they do work.)
 For Captiva Island, Gulf side, subtract 30 minutes from each high tide, and subtract 1 hour and 16 minutes for each low tide.
 For Captiva Island, Pine Island Sound (bay) side, add 1 hour and four (4) minutes for each high tide, and add 52 minutes for each low tide.
 In between these points on gulf or bay - guesstimate - and have good fishing and - or shelling.

Boat Inspections Offered

The Sanibel-Captiva Power Squadron, in cooperation with the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, will be conducting free courtesy inspections for Island power boat owners December 3 and December 4.

The inspections will be held by appointment at Commander Harley Brown's dock at 794 Conk Court in the Shell Harbour subdivision. Inspections for boats too large to clear the bridge spanning the mail Shell Harbour canal, will be held at the Sanibel Marina.

The inspection will take about 20 minutes to complete, and will insure the boat owner that all required safety equipment aboard the boat is in good working order. The inspectors will also offer informed advice and tips on equipment which, while not legally required, would contribute to the safety of the boat and occupants.

There are no penalties or records kept of failure to pass the inspection. "The inspections are entirely for the boatman's benefit," said Commander Brown.

To make an appointment for an inspection, phone Lt. Harry Goodwin, Sanibel-Captiva Power Squadron Safety Officer, at 472-2704 now through December 2. To make an appointment for an inspection after December 2nd, call Commander Brown.

Inspections will be scheduled from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Friday, December 3, and from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Saturday, December 4. Commander Brown's dock is just beyond the Periwinkle Way bridge over the canal.

An official 1977 Coast Guard decal will be placed on each boat which passes the inspection. The decal is recognized by all marine authorities as evidence that the boat is properly equipped.

Shell Club meets

The Sanibel Captiva Shell Club held its first meeting of the 1976-77 season on Wednesday, Nov. 17, when 74 people gathered to hear Corinna Edwards (Lt. Col. U.S.A.F. Ret.) give an interesting and informative talk about her procedure and adventures in collecting shells on the scallop dump.

Club president Ann Joffe announced that shell club members will be collecting, cleaning and donating specimen shells for the famous shell table which is raffled off each year at the annual Shell Fair.

Members were given the first edition of the "Shell Club News" and then enjoyed refreshments and conversation.

Captiva merger committee

At the Captiva Civic Association's general monthly meeting last Tuesday, Association President Sam Conant announced the names of the association members he has selected to serve on a committee which will undertake an impartial study of possible advantages and disadvantages which might be expected of a proposed merger of unincorporated Captiva with the City of Sanibel.

Edward Lowry was appointed by Conant to head up the new committee, which will also include Marty Holtz, Dewitt Jones, Charles Stevens and Barbara Trimble.

The newly-appointed group will be charged with the task of investigating all of the possibilities open to Captivans for a joint governmental venture with the neighboring City of Sanibel. The results of their study are intended to educate Captiva's electorate, who will be faced with a choice on the issue at the time of a referendum vote proposed for no later than April 1, 1977.

In order for such a merger to take place, however, the City of Sanibel would have to annex Captiva by an ordinance approved by a majority of the voters of both Islands.

The Association's Board of Directors has already set aside $1,500 to finance the merger study, which was initiated late last week as the new committee began preparing a letter of interest in the proposal to be mailed to all residents of Captiva. According to President Conant, the interest surveys were to have been mailed last Friday.

The Association members were also treated to the unveiling of the Island's first juried art show last Tuesday, as well as the customary business of the regular monthly social meeting.

The art show, which was sponsored by the Association in conjunction with the Sanibel-Captiva Art League, was held last week at the Captiva Community Center.

The first of January will end another chapter in the annals of military history when a newly passed public law terminating the existing G.I. Bill becomes effective.

"The G.I. Bill will be terminated as of January 1 of next year, marking the end of the Vietnam Era version of the bill," commented Rich Hudgens, of the St. Petersburg Veterans Administration office. "There were two prior versions which followed World War II and the Korean conflict."

The end of the current G.I.

Bill benefits will effect the young people who are planning to enlist in the Armed Forces after December 31. The Marine Corps recently announced that persons desiring to obtain the full G.I. Bill assistance but are unable to go on active duty before the deadline date may use the delayed entry program to enable them to receive their full G.I. Bill educational benefits.

The Marine Corps' delayed entry program will allow a person to join prior to December 31 and go on active duty in June, July or August.

"The Marine Corps believes everyone should have the opportunity to further their education," remarked Major C.R. Casey, commanding officer of the Marine Corps Recruiting Service in Florida. "We have several educational assistance programs available within the Marine Corps but we want this year's high school seniors who desire the full G.I. Bill benefits to complete high school and still be eligible."

"Services" is our middle name

Bob Buntrock, President of ESI

"It was my theory that if I went to the condominium owners' associations and arranged to provide maintenance services and other necessary services that eventually, if we serviced them efficiently, we would be considered for rental management, maintenance and possibly sales contracts."

"Now, every realtor has a rental program of sorts, so why do so many people list their condos and homes for rental with us and why do so many people rent from us? The answer is organization and service. We are just beginning where most realtors stop."

The full name, of course, is Executive Services Incorporated, a model of success in the dynamic field of property management. In a miraculously short time Executive Services, Inc., commonly referred to as simply ESI, has become an established institution in the highly competitive world of real estate.

Founder and president of ESI, Bob Buntrock, appeared on Sanibel Island in 1972 as part of a Milwaukee development firm involved in the management and sales of the Loggerhead Cay condominium. "I'll admit," reveals Bob, "without any actual sales experience and entering into a new and unfamiliar section of the country, I was a little scared."

The fear proved to be unfounded as Buntrock proceeded to sell over 100 units at Loggerhead in 156 days. Then in 1973, faced with a sagging economy, the Milwaukee developers sold out and Buntrock was faced with a decision.

"I decided to stay on Sanibel," Buntrock recalls. "I sold real estate for a year and studied for my broker's license. I carefully studied Sanibel's needs and slowly but surely ESI shaped up in my mind. I passed my broker's test, received my license and after failing to interest any developed real estate firms in my idea, I incorporated Executive Services."

And with an honest approach and just plain hard work, Bob Buntrock went on in 1974 to lay the foundation for ESI, a firm which tallied over 14 million dollars in sales and rentals during its first fiscal year and now employs over 35 people.

Jack Purdy, General Manager of ESI

"Essentially we provide two services in one. We provide services for the owner and the renter. For the apartment or homewoner, most of the services are of the maintenance, repair and cleaning variety. We inspect all rentals periodically. We are attentive to every detail to help the owner protect his property investment.

"Services for the renter are more personal in nature. A shopping service that stocks the refrigerator before the guest arrives... airport pickup... car rental... flower and wine delivery for special occasions... baby sitting... even letting the renter in when he has locked himself out."

"Services" from page 16

Initially, the ESI operation was humble indeed, as Bob and Betty Moseley worked from a room in Bob's home. Buntrock's basic theory for ESI soon proved correct, the contracts came in, and the business moved to more comfortable quarters at 455 Periwinkle Way.

"It wasn't comfortable for long," Bob recalls. "we increased our business and our staff and soon had to take over the office next to us. Even with that we are presently overcrowded and I just recently purchased a building on Periwinkle Way in the Tarpon Bay Road area to house our sales staff."

Betty Moseley is now the Rental Manager. Bud Brillhart spearheads the sales staff and amiable Jack Purdy, who joined the operation early in its development, serves as the General Manager of ESI. Combined with the enterprising Mr. Buntrock these people have formed the nucleus of a phenomenal success story.

ESI, and the many people who make it what it is, have become active members of the Island community as well. Of particular note are the Eskimos, a ladies' softball team sponsored by Executive Services, who provided many exciting moments this past summer as they proved to be a serious contender in the No See-Um Softball League.

So whether it be business or community affairs, the folks at Executive Services, Inc. strive to live up to that middle name, "Services."

As Bob puts it, "We truly do try to perform every service you would expect to receive from any of the better, large resort hotels. I'm proud of what our people at ESI have accomplished in such a short time."

And well he should be. Such phenomenal growth in such a short time indicates Buntrock did his homework well and is responsive to the needs of vacation renters.

But what does the future hold for ESI? Buntrock already has expansion plans in this area. He feels that his firm is the only one

Bud Brillhart, ESI Director of Sales

"Our sales effort started modestly but our sales associates worked hard and soon we had five condominium sales exclusives on the Island and had to increase our number of sales associates. We sold out Sanpebble and High Dunes and expect to sell out Loggerhead Cay, King's Crown and Island Beach Club this season. We have compiled a sales record of over $10,000,000 this past year and we expect to do even better in the coming year."

specializing in multi-project condominium sales, management, rentals and service. With the large number of condominiums in Florida alone, Buntrock envisions expansion opportunities as unlimited.

"We might start ESI branches or franchise ESI operations. It's open at this time," states Bob.

Betty Moseley, ESI Rental Manager

"Our rental reservation section functions just like the main desk of any large resort hotel. Reservations are made for each rental, confirmed and posted on our reservation board. All special requests, special services, etcetera are recorded and scheduled to be completed or performed for the guests' arrival. All incoming guests are required to check in at the main desk. The processing requirements are simple procedures and conducted in an easy, friendly manner to start the guest on his vacation with a minimum of paperwork and confusion."

If you happen to be going north

A showcase for antiques as a pre-holiday event at the Stephen Foster Center in White Springs, Florida, Dec. 4-5 will feature dealers from Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Tallahassee, Jasper, Live Oak and Dade City, according to Center Director Al Head.

"All will set up their displays in the auditorium of the administration building," Head pointed out, "and many visitors can become shoppers as they browse through the attractive exhibits at the show-sale. Hours will be 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday."

To compliment the display of antiques, Head noted that the exhibit areas at the Center will be accented by seasonal decorations and the carillon concerts will ring out Christmas selections to add to the yule-tide atmosphere.

The museum building and the carillon tower auditorium are showplaces for historical musical instruments and handsome period furniture. The singing of Abner Jay in Nelly Bly's Kitchen will contribute to the diversified weekend.

In addition to the continuous activities at the Center, visitors will enjoy a special treat during this first weekend in December, with programs by the famous Kentucky folk artist Jean Ritchie at 2 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday. A segment of her performances will be devoted to oldtime Christmas songs, in keeping with the long tradition of having a special Yule-tide music program at the Foster Center each year.

There will be no charge for the special events other than the regular gate fee for admittance to Florida's folk arts, crafts and performing arts center on the Suwannee River.

F.M. Symphony to perform "Requiem"

On Friday, December 10, the Fort Myers Symphony Orchestra and Chorus, under the direction of Arlo Deibler, will perform Verdi's "Requiem" at the Fort Myers Exhibition Hall beginning promptly at 8:00 p.m.

Giuseppe Verdi had been approached by a professor at the Milan Conservatory, who was greatly impressed by his "Liberia me" and who asked Verdi to write a complete Requiem. At the time, Verdi refused stating there were too many already!

However, in 1894, several years later, a beloved friend, poet and patriot, Alessandro Manzoni, died. Verdi, seeking a way to honor the memory of this great Italian and friend, finally found his inspiration and stimuli to write the requiem, which is now world famous.

It took Verdi a year to write and on the first anniversary of Manzoni's death he directed the World Premier of this requiem at the San Marco Church in Milan. It was acclaimed all over Europe as a sensation. Verdi then went on tour to conduct the requiem, in his words, "as a tribute of respectful affection, the expression of my sorrow," at the death of his friend.

Verdi expresses grief, awe, terrors of death and judgment as well as hope and aspiring love in his requiem.

Guest artists for the performance include Jerald Reynolds, lyric baritone, of California. Reynolds received his Master of Music Degree from the University of Oregon. In 1965, after performing as a member of the Armed Forces in the United States and in Germany Reynolds received a Fulbright enabling Reynolds to study in Austria where he performed leading operatic roles. In 1966 he received an appointment to the University of South Florida where he performs, teaches and acts as director and opera coordinator of the Music Department.

Orin Linder, tenor, has a Master's Degree in Voice and Choral from the University of Iowa. During his tour of military service, he was soloist with the Saigon (Vietnam) Choral Society, and appeared in musical comedy and operetta with the Quad-City Music Guild in Illinois. He is now a music teacher in the public schools, and is presently doing post-graduate work at U.S.F. in Tampa.

Barbara Leete-Silver, soprano, began her singing career while at Hartt College of Music, University of Hartford, Conn. Performing on the flute, she has toured Puerto Rico as a guest soloist with the Trinity College Concert Choir. The young artist made her debut with the Palm Beach Civic Opera Company in "Madam Butterfly," was proclaimed "Best Voice in Palm Beach County" in 1975 and awarded a scholarship for furthering her studies. She is a member of the Fort Myers Symphony Orchestra where she is continuing her instrumental performance on the flute.

Mary Ann Henke, Mezzo-soprano, is originally from New York where she was a member of the Brooklyn Lyric Opera and soprano soloist at the Church of the Good Shepherd. She has given concerts in Port Charlotte, Fort Myers, Cape Coral and Sanibel Island. She was soprano soloist at the First United Methodist Church in Fort Myers, a member of the Pro-Art Ensemble and a scholarship student at Edison Community College. Presently she is studying at U.S.F. in Tampa.

Tickets for this performance may be purchased at the Symphony Office at 2122 Johnson Street, telephone 334-3256, or any branch office of First Federal of Fort Myers. Adult tickets, $5.00, student tickets, $2.50.

police reports

Turkeys may prove out to have a strange affect on Island atmosphere, since Thanksgiving week had an extraordinary number of assistance calls (13) and an even higher alarm rate, with one ringing its chimes 17 times, another six and a variety of others, four times, for a grand total of 27!

The ambulance and/or E.M.T.'s were required to answer calls six times, two "dark house" checks were intensified when open doors were spied where no open doors had been a couple of hours before and two kids were lost, while one wallet was found.

A call came in that a specific breed of dog had run up to her child on the beach and bitten the child's finger hard enough to break the skin. Caller was unable to take child to the doctor, and was unable to identify dog further. Two dogs of same breed later stopped by SPD; had not been in area where biting took place for a number of days.

A complainant stated that a neighbor was hauling sand away from beach, possibly into house. Hauler was informed that it is not lawful to haul sand in quantity. Hauler said sorry, was unaware of law and would cease and desist.

Caller complained that cars were using nearby road as a beach access illegally. SPD checked; no cars in area.

A husky, nearly inaudible voice called the SPD and intimated that something big would happen if SPD officers went to a specific street address on Sanibel. SPD dispatched; found three vehicles in named area; no one acting in any unusual or suspicious manner.

A complainant stated that a "high speed vehicle" had hit his mailbox at midnight, leaving behind a piece of car molding at the scene of the crime. An unknown vehicle had indeed struck the mailbox, leaving the above described souvenir behind.

Caller stated he had left two boxes of golf balls and one filled cash box in his locked car overnight. None were there in the morning. Car may have been opened with wire found in area. Investigation continuing.

A complaint came in about an out of state car on the beach. Car turned out to not be on beach, but on grassy private property.

A call came in reporting a woman in a ditch. She was. Seems she and her husband had been riding motorized bikes, when lady turned her head to see how close her husband was, resulting in her bike leaving the road and taking her into the aforesaid ditch. After being treated for cuts on her face by the E.M.T.'s, she was released in the care of her spouse.

Unknown citizen reported that a van was on fire on the San-Cap Road. It was. Fire was extinguished as soon as van was located by fire units.

Resident of duplex complained about noisiness of occupant(s) of other half of duplex. Occupants talked to by the SPD; promised to keep the noise down and said they'd apologize to neighbor.

Complainant reported a case of vandalism, in that convertible car top was slashed to no apparent advantage to anyone, since car was still there and there wasn't anything in the car to steal.

Three units and one helicopter were dispatched to look for a five year old boy, who had been lost on the beach about five hours when first complaint was phoned in to the SPD. Boy found by fire unit one hour and one minute after call. Other units and helicopter called off search.

An anonymous citizen reported that a bicycle was on the causeway. Toll booth notified.

Well intentioned employees reported a lot of debris on the causeway. Debris cleaned up by someone.

Boat overturned. Fireboat conked out; sailboat going to rescue. Sailboat unable to rescue. Coast Guard arrived, righted boat and fished up unhurt occupants. Everything 10-4.

Visitor reported loss of over $1,000 worth of traveler's checks.

Call came in about an "annoying cat" who was hanging around a rental complex and bothering the guests, even going so far as to attempt to bite a child. Requested SPD help in removing cat from premises. When officer arrived, complainant had decided to find a home for the cat.

Call came in that a vehicle was "fooling around" on the causeway, and that occupants were either going to jump off the bridge or throw something into the water. Vehicle and occupants GOA in unknown direction.

Complainant stated that two people were fishing on private property where they shouldn't be. SPD officer arrived and found two people castnetting from seawall. Suggested they move to unprivate and less crowded property.

Call came in that about a dozen young people were hanging around smoking something. Turned out to be tax paid cigarettes. Group went home.

Call came in that necklace and a wall hanging had been removed from residence during daytime hours.

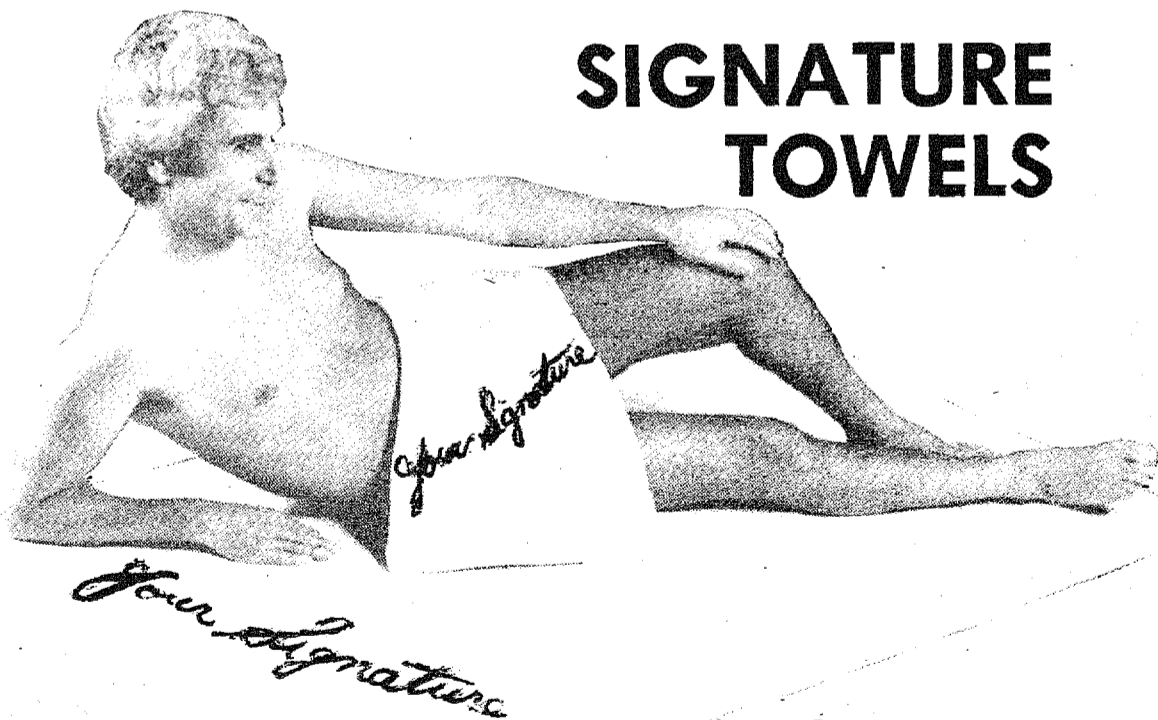

A citizen reported smelling smoke and seeing sparks on a roof. SPD officer and fire trucks dispatched. Sparks coming from fireplace. No action needed.

Call came in that caller had a parakeet in custody, and stated that parakeet must be a pet, since it is very tame.

Call came in to report dogs on the loose. Caller dispatched. Large dog GOA, small dog escaped.

Soft drink machines broken into and relieved of contents both canned and cash.
