Leap year brings gasoline increase

by pat harmel

Thanks to leap year and a booming tourist season area gas stations may manage to squeeze by the month of February without exhausting their precious allocations of gasoline.

The State Energy Office has announced that an extra 152,000 gallons of gasoline will be distributed to dealers in Lee, Charlotte and Collier counties this month, bringing to 440,000 the number of gallons released in the Lee county area in February from the Florida counties reserve pool.

The increased allocation amounts to about two percent more gasoline than the county would normally receive. Federal law mandates that five percent of a state's total monthly gasoline allotment be set aside in a reserve pool, which is then later doled out where deemed necessary toward the end of the month.

Although Sanibel spokesmen have met with Representatives Frank Mann and Skip Bafalis, local energy officials, and an administrative aid to Senator Chiles to request extra allocations for the Islands, it is uncertain how much of Lee County's extra gasoline will actually be delivered here. Assistant City Manager Gary Price said yesterday he had not been informed as to how the determination for local allocation would be made.

Island service stations have been plagued with gas lines for the last few weeks and most have been limiting hours of operation to mornings only in order to conserve their monthly allocations.

Brrrrrr!

The island temperatures were so chilly this week that even this black swan took refuge in his "down jacket" to keep warm!

Just for the health of it!

A lonely jogger takes long, sweeping strides along the water's edge, gliding past early morning beach strollers and leaving waffled footsteps as his Nike shoes meet the wet sand.

Beads of sweat form on the runner's forehead and upper lip and glisten in the morning sun. Breathing becomes slightly more labored with each step. The runner's intense concentration is seemingly undisturbed by the seagulls flapping and scurrying out of his path or the shellers nonchalantly collecting treasures along the long, uninterrupted sand track.

Another runner nearing from the opposite direction catches the first's attention for a moment. Both nod and smile as they cross paths and continue on their course.

Jogging continues to grow in popularity as men and women of all ages take up the sport under the encouragement of physicians, psychologists and other joggers. The sport has been said to cure chronic headaches, lower blood pressure, strengthen muscles, lower pulse and improve the stroke volume of the heart.

Shrimp Festival begins Friday

The next full moon signals the arrival of the 22nd Annual Shrimp Festival celebration, kicking off with the Fort Myers Beach Woman's Club Country Fair, Friday, Feb. 22 and finishing with the Lion's raffle for a 1980 Ford Mustang, Sunday, March 2.

In addition to the parade, shrimp queen pageant and blessing of the fleet, this year's festivities include a children's carnival featuring live elephants and rides, a play titled "Deadwood Dick" presented by the Beach Players, the Lions Club Las Vegas Night and shrimp-boat tours.

A hobby show, shell exhibit and strolling flower show will be intermixed with more physical activities such as a shrimp run, tennis tournaments and sailing races throughout the week.

Food plenty will be available during the week with specialties such as bratwurst and beer, crabcake dinners, seafood platters served at the county park, sausage sandwiches served at the foot of the new bridge, pancake breakfasts, baked goods and peanuts.

Men enjoy the show but it's the women who stop the models to ask questions and take a closer look.

Ellen, young, tall, and thin walks into the room wearing a red bathing suit and cover-up. A man stops her for a photograph. An older woman jokingly asks her, "Can you guarantee that I will look like that in the suit?"

Ellen is a model in Jeanette Daniels' Thursday afternoon fashion show at Sundial. The fashion show has been a standard attraction at Sundial between Thanksgiving and Easter for the past four years.

Originally begun as a swimsuit and beachwear show held at one of the smaller pools, the show was moved indoors with a different theme the next year after the new restaurant was completed.

Bathing suits are still shown, but the fashions are now more oriented toward daytime and evening wear. The relaxed manner of the show hasn't changed though. This type of fashion show is called "tea room modeling." The models, of varying ages, walk among the customers describing their wardrobes.

The clothes change every week, and, not surprisingly, there are some customers who have become regular viewers.

Descriptions of jewelry plus the fabric, style, price and designer of the clothes all need to be memorized. Model Joyce Turney will change outfits seven or eight times during the lunch.

In order to show viewers her shoes Ellen Moon finds that it's easier to take them off.

Helen Butze, a Captiva resident, had modeled before in runway shows at charity functions in Boston, but she finds tea room modeling more enjoyable.

Jogging

Running" writes the most important single indicator of overall health is cardiovascular endurance, which running develops. "Running uses large thigh and leg muscles in rhythmic fashion at a personally controlled weight. This is a requirement for safely developing maximum cardiopulmonary function," writes the author.

"Running helps your entire body feel better — not just your legs and lungs. When you run regularly you feel lithe, springy and energetic. You have a sense of power obtainable from few other sources. Furthermore, an easy run of a few miles can cure minor indispositions — a headache, an upset stomach a hangover. Once, when a friend told me he wasn't feeling well, I asked him whether he was going to see a doctor. 'Running is my doctor,' he replied," writes author Jim Fixx.

The specific physical benefits of jogging are considerable. The nerves become more efficient at transmitting impulses and activate more muscle fibers, according to Fixx. Muscles become stronger enabling faster and stronger contractions. The adjacent arteries sprout new branches and the capillaries become more dense.

Blood clotting ability is enhanced through jogging also, according to Fixx. It has been proven that certain lipids, such as cholesterol and triglycerides associated with heart disease become less concentrated.

A continued running program helps the heart become a more efficient organ. The heart muscle fibers lengthen, allowing chambers to enlarge and pump more blood with each contraction. The exercise also produces lower blood pressure during the resting phase.

The lungs are also affected by jogging. As exercise begins, the lungs' blood vessels dilate, expanding the area through which oxygen passes into the bloodstream. If running is continued, the breathing muscles become stronger and more efficient, Fixx writes.

It has also been shown the specific indicators of aging, which are a maximum heart rate, oxygen processing ability and pumping power of hearts, did not increase in middle aged men on a ten-year jogging program. A California ophthalmologist believes jogging reduces incidents of upper respiratory infections, Fixx writes.

In addition to the physical benefits of running, a California psychiatrist claims success in using jogging as a treatment for depression, drug addiction and schizophrenia.

Fixx maintains running also indirectly helps prevent cancer because runners rarely smoke. Taking all physical and emotional benefits into account, the facts that jogging is possible almost anywhere with practically no equipment and costs almost nothing, makes the sport all that more appealing.

However, some medical professionals believe running is dangerous, in fact, almost deadly.

"There is no evidence that coronary arteries can be protected against vigorous exertion," states Dr. Meyer Friedman, a cardiologist at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco, in an article in U.S. News and World Report. "People are actually risking their lives by jogging. Jogging is doing exactly what high blood pressure does. It asks the heart to beat more vigorously."

Fixx agrees there are some problems associated with jogging, though it's nothing the proper equipment and procedure can't overcome. Some people encounter problems with their feet and legs because they don't wear high quality jogging shoes. It is also important warm up and cool off gradually. Many people don't take the time to unwind gradually and develop abnormal cardiac conditions. Someone who is not accustomed to jogging should start out walking and work up slowly.

Other problems people encounter when beginning a jogging program include attempting too much too soon on a hard surface without performing necessary stretching exercises beforehand.

Library update

Sanibel's Public Library made "great strides during the past year," members were told at the twenty-third annual meeting held in the library conference room Wednesday, April 12. Both book collection and membership reached new peaks and a record number of people used the library in 1979. Here are some of the things members were told:

Frances Scholefield reported that "1979 was a very good year for the Sanibel Public Library." Operating receipts exceeded operating expenses by $13,084 and memorial funds are available to finance new projects.

Membership Chairman Patsy Simmons announced that total membership is now 808 with 54 members having joined the library since October.

Harriet Howe, co-librarian, stated that the 1,096 new books purchased in 1979 at a cost of more than $13,000 had brought the library's collection to 13,138 volumes. Many of the new books went into the memorial reference room which is rated as one of the best in the area. She reported that the library now has 86 volunteers, 13 of whom are new trainees. During the past year 20,533 people visited the library and took out more than 38,000 books. The conference room was used by a total of 2,200 people for meetings.

The ninth annual Arts and Crafts Fair held during the first week in February netted $6,035 for the library building fund, setting a new record according to Barbara and Howard Hulsman, co-chairmen of the event. The fair set new peaks for both attendance and sales. Evelyn and Mike Klein will direct the 1981 fair.

A committee, headed by library vice president George Tenney, is working with the City of Sanibel on a contract whereby the municipality takes over library services for Sanibel residents rather than Lee County. Under the old arrangement

by George Tenney

(which dates back to 1968) the Sanibel Library has received only token sums of the total tax money collected from Sanibel Residents for Library services. The present library building and grounds came entirely from gifts and other private funds.

Five members of the board of directors were re-elected for a three-year term. They are Freda Iurka, Edie Levy, Mary Ronk, Frances Scholefield and James Worthy. Robert Haynie was re-elected president, as were vice presidents Arthur Clark and George Tenney and Secretary Jean Bair. Howard Hulsman was elected treasurer to succeed Frances Scholefield, who had resigned.

Weymouth show coming to The Photographers' Gallery

An exhibit of photographs by Sanibel photographer Fleur Weymouth will open Sunday, February 24 at The Photographers' Gallery, Inc. The public is invited to meet the photographer during the preview from 5 - 7 p.m. the day of the opening.

The black and white and color exhibition combines old and new works, including portraits, environmental abstracts from the Islands and New England and some prints from the photographer's recent stint as photojournalist with the Island Reporter newspaper.

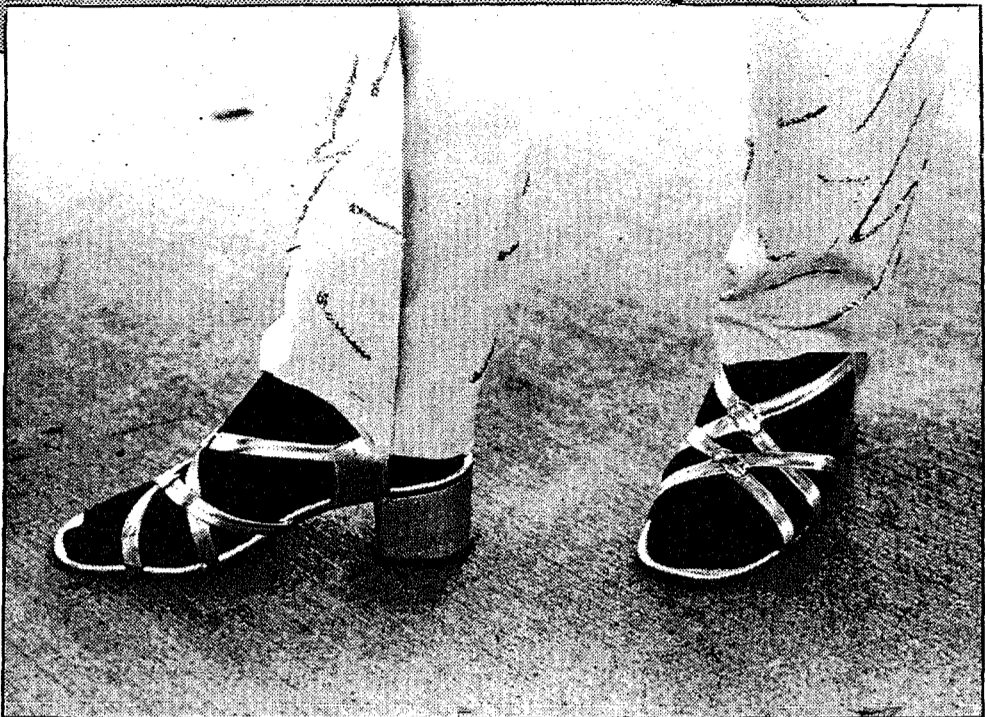

An Island resident for several years, the native New Englander began her artistic career as a painter and taught art, primarily to children, in both New York City and New England. Her photographs have been exhibited in New York City, Cambridge and Cape Cod. The Photographers' Gallery hosted her first one-woman retrospective show last year.

An art activist, Weymouth last year organized an Island "ditch dig" to protest a proposed $100 annual tax on Sanibel artists. She helped found Barrier Islands Group for the Arts (BIG Arts) and is a founding director of The Photographers' Gallery.

Weymouth is currently working on a book of photographs, as well as color post cards of Sanibel and Captiva. Some of her work will be included in a book about contact sheets to be published this year by Lustrum Press. In March she will be offering photographic field trips, sponsored by The Photographers' Gallery.

Weymouth's show will continue through March 22 at the gallery, located at 1554 Periwinkle Way. Hours are from 10 a.m. till 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 7 - 9 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday.

ARTS and ARTISTS

"Linoleum," a Robert Rauschenberg contemporary art film, and another film featuring his paintings, sculptures, and theatrical works will be shown Thursday, February 21, at the Edison Community College Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Public is invited.

The Barrier Island Group (BIG) for the Arts will be featuring "Spellbound," a 1945 black and white film directed by Alfred Hitchcock and produced by David O. Selznick on Sunday, February 24, at the Community Association Building. Show time is 7:30 p.m. Admission is $2 in advance, $2.50 at the door, and $1.50 for children under 12.

"Spellbound" is based on a novel by Francis Beeding with photography by George Barnes and screenplay by Ben Hecht. Music is by Miklos Rosza with a film dream sequence designed by Salvador Dali. The stars are Ingrid Bergman, Rhonda Fleming, Leo G. Carroll, Michael Chekhov.

The enormous success of "Spellbound" continues for four major reasons: its use of psychoanalysis in a romantic melodrama; its imaginative staging of a dream sequence by Salvador Dali; its musical score; and Hitchcock's genius for maintaining suspense despite the sentimental involvement of his major characters. Audiences are much more inured today to the complexities of dementia praecox than they were in 1945, and yet the forthright presentation of the hero's aberrations are so entertainingly presented that whatever naiveties exist in the script are easily ignored.

In an era of glamour figures, Ingrid Bergman could be accepted as a doctor in an insane asylum, and Gregory Peck co-starred as the quirky pseudopsychiatrist haunted by guilty dreams. In fact, "Spellbound" is enormous fun, crammed with veiled hints in the dialogue about madness, and the masterful photography (George Barnes) is replete with images of gleaming knives, the glint of a razor, and the terrifying symbolisms to be found in parallel lines. If anything, one might be slightly disappointed when the reasons for Peck's behaviour turn out to be less horrific than expected. It must be remembered, too, that public interest ran high during the 1940's regarding the behaviour of asylum inmates, for the tragic plight of war-shocked veterans was very much in the news. Bergman and Peck were formidable enough as a romantic team to bring convincing grandeur and sympathy to their characters and their first embrace made screen history, literally opening doors into the spectator's subconscious.

Miklos Rosza's lush musical score was additionally historic, utilizing the eerie sound of a theremin, an electronically-controlled instrument, created by a Dr. Hoffman.

The Schoolhouse Gallery will be featuring an exhibit of original paintings by David Baker, Gael, Robert Eric Moore, Carl G. Nelson, Michael Palmer and Mac Squires from February 25 through March 15.

Mrs. Squires, a former fashion artist, works in acrylics and has exhibited one woman shows in over 30 states. David Baker, noted for his innovative work with watercolors, has received rave reviews from both American Artist Magazine and The Christian Science Monitor.

Robert Eric Moore has won numerous awards for his watercolor work and has exhibited in galleries throughout the East. Gael (Gabriel Hyppolite), a native of France, has exhibited in Cannes, Nice, Antibes and New York galleries.

Carl Nelson, a native of Sweden, is listed in Who's Who In American Art and has exhibited in such prestigious galleries as The Cambridge School of Design, Carnegie International and the Chicago Art Institute.

Michael Palmer's work in acrylics and ink have also been widely exhibited in galleries around the country including the Anita Gordon Gallery in Miami and the Hobe Sound Galleries in Hobe Sound, Florida.

The Schoolhouse Gallery is located on Tarpon Bay Road and is open 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. daily except Sundays.

"M'Liss" (My Western Miss), based upon Bret Harte's novel of the same name, will be presented again this weekend (Saturday, February 23 and Sunday, February 24) at the Pirate Playhouse, the Islands' unique arena theatre now almost halfway through its sixteenth season.

At this time the Hunters and the entire cast want to say a big "Thank You" to Terri Weinberg for the tremendous job she did of stepping into the role of Clara Hunting with only 48 hours notice at the preceding two performances to pinch hit for Judy Kennedy who was laid low with bronchial pneumonia. Judy is expected back this weekend so audiences will have the opportunity to hear again the excellent rendition of her song, "It's No Go."

Others in the cast are Jeannie McLaughlin, Alan Pote, Robin Pickens, Allen Mainard, Jean Culpepper, John Wilcox, Jack Roemer and of course the Hunters, Ruth and Phillip.

Curtain time: 8:15 p.m. Box office - 472-2121.

On Sunday afternoon, February 24, at 3 p.m., a concert of Japanese music featuring three artists from Florida State University will be presented by the Fort Myers Music Teachers Association in the auditorium of Edison Community College.

Miss Yoko Sato and Miss Mieko Suzuki are from the Tokyo University of the Arts, and are Artists-in-Residence in the School of Music at the Florida State University where they teach and perform on the Japanese koto and shamisen. They will be assisted by Dr. Dale A. Olsen, associate professor of ethnomusicology and shakuhachi artist. The concert, open to the public, will feature representative classical compositions for the koto (a 13-string zither instrument introduced into Japan from China about 700 A.D.), the shamisen (a three-string lute or banjo type instrument of Chinese origin), and the shakuhachi (an end-blown bamboo flute), ranging from the 17th to the 20th centuries.

This is a rare opportunity to see and hear these unusual instruments. The musicians will perform in costume. Although there is no specific admission charge, donations will be accepted and will be most appreciated. The presentation is an effort on the part of District X, Florida State Music Teachers Association, to raise moneys for the state scholarship fund. Particularly, underwriting is needed to assist students to participate in state and national competitions.

The two Artists-in-Residence will be returning to Japan at the end of the semester. Dr. Dale A. Olsen, who will be narrating, received his BA and MA degrees in musicology from the University of Minnesota and his PhD in ethnomusicology from the University of California, Los Angeles. While he was a Peace Corps volunteer in Chile, he served as principal flutist in the Chilean Philharmonic for two years. He has been with the FSU School of Music since 1973.

If transportation to the concert is desired, phone one of the following: Mary Marino, 936-6375; Marge Battle, 542-3511, or Betty Turon, 995-4277. For further information, contact Helen Bobvjerg-Niedung at 542-1993, Chairman of the event.

Collograph exhibit at Art Fac Gallery

An exhibit of the work of artist-printmaker Norma Witmer Line will be held at the Art Fac Sanibel Gallery from February 15 to March 1.

Ms. Line moved to Miami in the summer of 1977 and is a frequent visitor to Sanibel.

She has received many awards for her work in both the Philadelphia and Miami areas. Presently, her work is displayed in galleries in Barnegat Light and Stone Harbor, New Jersey, Nags Head, North Carolina, Saint Simon's Island, Georgia, Miami, Minneapolis and Spokane.

Sandollars, starfish, wontletraps and chambered nautilus' are all captured in Ms. Line's medium - the collograph. A collograph (or collagraph) is a print made from using an etching press. Various materials are substituted for the zinc plate used in conventional etchings. "Collograph" literally means "collage print." An embossing is achieved by printing textures without inking. A fairly contemporary technique, collography is fast becoming a popular, versatile art medium.

Craft Guild to hold Fair

Periwinkle Place Shopping Center will again be the site of the Southwest Florida Craft Guild's annual Sanibel fair on Saturday, February 23. Over 35 of the area's finest craftsmen will demonstrate and sell their ware from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Among the participants will be George Elmendorf of Bonita Springs who, as a young man built great wooden sailing ships in New England, and who, now in retirement, builds fine period doll furniture which he will have for sale. Bill Ives, a master metalsmith, makes handwrought copper bowls and weathervanes in the form of graceful birds and leaping dolphins. An outstanding woodcarver, Grace "Danish" McGurl will offer her lifelike birds and Clarence and Riki

Hartley will show their beautiful stained glass and batik creations. The splendid macrame handbags of Kris Samsury will be available and Margaret and Dr. Frank Tranter will demonstrate the spinning of wool on the great wheel along with the knotting of macrame belts. Evelyn and Mike Klein of Sanibel will show their weaving and pottery, and other exhibitors will present their handcrafted items including faceted gems, jewelry, stone sculpture and many more.

All of the craftsmen have had their work approved by the Guild's Standards Committee before being eligible to participate in the fair. The purpose of the Guild is to promote the highest standards of craftsmanship, and all the participants will be happy to answer questions about their work.

QUESTION: My savings account of $10,000 earned just over $650 in interest last year. I did not withdraw any of the interest nor did I have the bank enter the $650 in my savings account passbook. Do I have to pay tax on the interest?

ANSWER: Yes. The fact that interest is not actually removed from the savings account or entered in a passbook will not render the interest nontaxable. The doctrine of "constructive receipt" requires that both cash and accrual basis taxpayers report any income credited or made available without restriction during the year. Interest is considered constructively received as it is earned, not when withdrawn or entered in a passbook.

Spirit of Foolishness celebrated its grand opening by staging a media event. Shirley Booregaard, the shop's owner had Patricia Peck model bathing suits and other clothes from the store. A local radio personality conducted a remote advertising campaign, and a round trip plane ticket to New York was given away. The shop is located on the end of Captiva.

"Spirit of Foolishness," an exciting and decidedly different women's boutique on Captiva, held (a mild verb for the hubbub which actually occurred!) their grand opening Saturday, February 9.

Shirley and Cindy Booregaard, the owners and idea-makers behind the boutique, offer an approach to shopping that includes having fun while browsing through their beautiful one of a kind fashions.

Shirley and her anonymous cohort (Gretchen), have designed a complete line of sportswear for the Island woman - appropriate for Sanibel, Key West or anything in between! Customers can also have an original piece of art work designed just for them on a French cut T-shirt or chemise. Jewelry at Spirit of Foolishness is available in 14 and 18 carat Italian gold, Mexican turquoise, and silver. Bathing suits are available (of course!), but so are roller skates, white Icelandic sheep body rugs, beer and wine.

Jeff Hough of Captiva won the grand prize in the opening day drawing - a round trip ticket to the Big Apple, courtesy of TWA.

Spirit of Foolishness is located on Captiva across from the entrance to South Seas Plantation. Hours are 10 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. seven days a week.

Permits

Eight building permits for construction valued at $42,044.37 were issued by the City of Sanibel during the week ending February 15. Permits were issued to:

Nutmeg Village Condominium for construction of a potting shed at 2777 Gulf Drive by Ray Martorelli for $400.

City of Sanibel Public Works Department for an addition to a radio tower by the City of Sanibel and Goff Communications for $781.60.

Mr. & Mrs. Peter Smith for an addition to a porch and deck at 1147 Buttonwood by the owners for $1,000.

Bentley Courtney for an addition to a house in Chateau sur Mer by Don Heirs for $8,250.

Steve Walters for a pool enclosure at 1524 Wilton Circle by Jones Industries, Inc. for $3,522.77.

Robert Walters for a driveway at 9406 Beverly Lane by Sal Bruno for $1,500.

Bayshore Homes, Inc., for a new single family residence at 726 Pyrua Avenue by Robert A. Horvak for $24,090.

E.A. Mattheson for a spa at 4619 Rue Bayou by Riverbend Homes for $2,500.

Sundial appointment

William Garrote, Manager of the Island Club at Sundial Beach & Tennis Resort, announces the appointment of Alex Stamm to the position of Executive Chef. The appointment is effective immediately.

TOP OF THE LINE AT POINTE SANTO

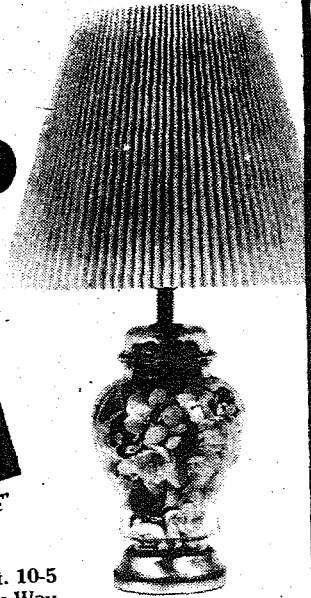

Pointe Santo de Sanibel may be Sanibel's most architecturally unique and beautiful complex. It features a series of Spanish motif buildings, heavily interspersed with landscaping in an open horseshoe shape facing the Gulf beach. In the center, is a large lagoon with its own island (connected by wooden walkways) containing the heated pool and clubhouse. This apartment is a direct Gulf-front, ground floor, three bedroom, two bath unit, on the corner of the building. As a result, it has a spectacular gulf view from all rooms. This is truly one of the very finest apartments available on the islands — a real gem! Completely furnished at $239,500.

The Green Thumb...

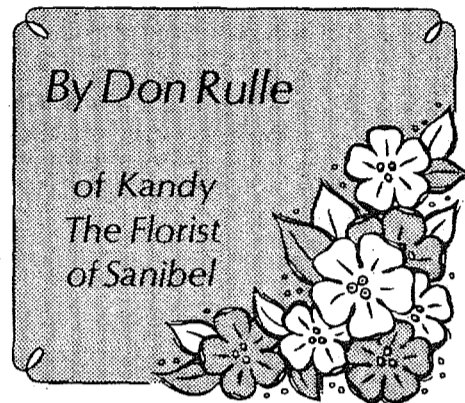

The Chinese Evergreen

Do you ever notice the plant decorations when you walk through a major department store? Chances are, if you did, you would notice the many different species of the Chinese Evergreen. Why this plant more than any other? That's the topic of this week's article.

The Chinese Evergreen is one of the most abused plants by the public. Not intentionally of course, but just through misunderstanding. Why? Because they withstand severe neglect and still look terrific. Sounds like your kind of plant, right? It truly is the Jack Dempsey of plants but still needs a little care.

Lighting variation is the major factor in the use of Chinese Evergreens in various stores and restaurants. They withstand everything from deep shade to bright indirect sunlight. They do best however, in normal room light, around 400 foot candles is ideal. Note: A foot candle is a measurement of light which is calibrated by the light a single candle gives off in a one foot area. The ideal temperature would be somewhere around the 70's during the day and 60's at night. Try and keep the soil uniformly moist but never wet. The Chinese Evergreen will do better dry than wet. If the choice came down to between the two, you would do best to let it dry somewhat between waterings. As for feedings, an every two month's schedule would be best. However, if you are keeping your Chinese Evergreens in very low light situations, it would be my recommendation to let feedings go to perhaps twice a year. Once in the early spring, the other in mid summer. This is due to the lower metabolic rate of the plant's system due to the low light environment they are living in.

The disease factor of the Chinese Evergreen is remarkably good. They suffer very little from insects and pests in the home. However, a common disease that will sometimes plague the Chinese Evergreen, is bacterial leaf spot. This disease looks like a dark brown spot on the leaf with a yellow ring around the spot. The remedy is to keep the foliage dry and improve the air circulation around the plant. If the infected leaf is in very bad condition remove it from the plant.

There are many different species of the Chinese Evergreen and many different variations in leaf pattern. The Chinese Evergreen will send up flower spikes much like the spathiphyllum (Peace Lily) or the Anthirium. Look for these flowers in the early summer. Actually the flower is very tiny and is located in the spadix of the plant. If you ever have any question, please feel free to call me at 472-3125.

Happy growing!

Public hearing on Beach density March 12

A public hearing will be held March 12 to discuss a proposal by the Lee County Zoning department to lower the density of Fort Myers Beach to equal that of other unincorporated areas of Lee County.

The county is proposing to repeal the present ordinance which limits the number of units per acre to 30 for motel and hotel rooms or efficiency apartments and to 25 living units of one or more bedrooms per acre of land for all gulf front property. The area between Estero Boulevard and the bay, and all of San Carlos Island presently have a density limit of 20 units per acre for motel or hotel rooms or apartments and 15 living units having one or more bedrooms per acre of land.

The Beach's density is considerably higher than other similar gulf front areas of Lee County. Sanibel Island's density limits range from five units per acre along the gulf in the eastern half of the island down to 1.5 units per acre in the western half, according to the city's planning department. Some areas go as low as one unit per 33 acres.

The proposed ordinance would be in compliance with the Lee County Comprehensive Plan which was adopted by the county commission in August of 1978.

INTERVAL OWNERSHIP — it's the most vacation for our money.

True — we work hard to earn our vacations and we want the most for our money. Inflation is making resort rentals just too expensive for a family — and we simply can't afford the year-round ownership and maintenance of a vacation home.

So we're here at Plantation Beach Club where interval ownership gives our family the assurance that we can enjoy leisurely vacations each year, in comfort and luxury, — all at a one-time cost that's easy to afford.

We love the islands — it's a great place for June and me to relax and there's so much for the kids to do. Our vacation villa is right on the beach, fully furnished, complete with linens, all the kitchen utensils, magazines, — you name it. We've got two private bedrooms, two bathrooms and a screened porch, so there's plenty of room for the kids.

With barbecues and a full kitchen, we fix breakfast, lunch, snacks and dinners — and save enough money to treat the whole family to nice restaurants once in a while.

There's also an exchange program — so we can change our vacation times and visit other resorts, all without paying rent. We believe Interval Ownership provides the most vacation for our money.

Roy Davis

Age: 46

Height: 6'

Roots: Long Island

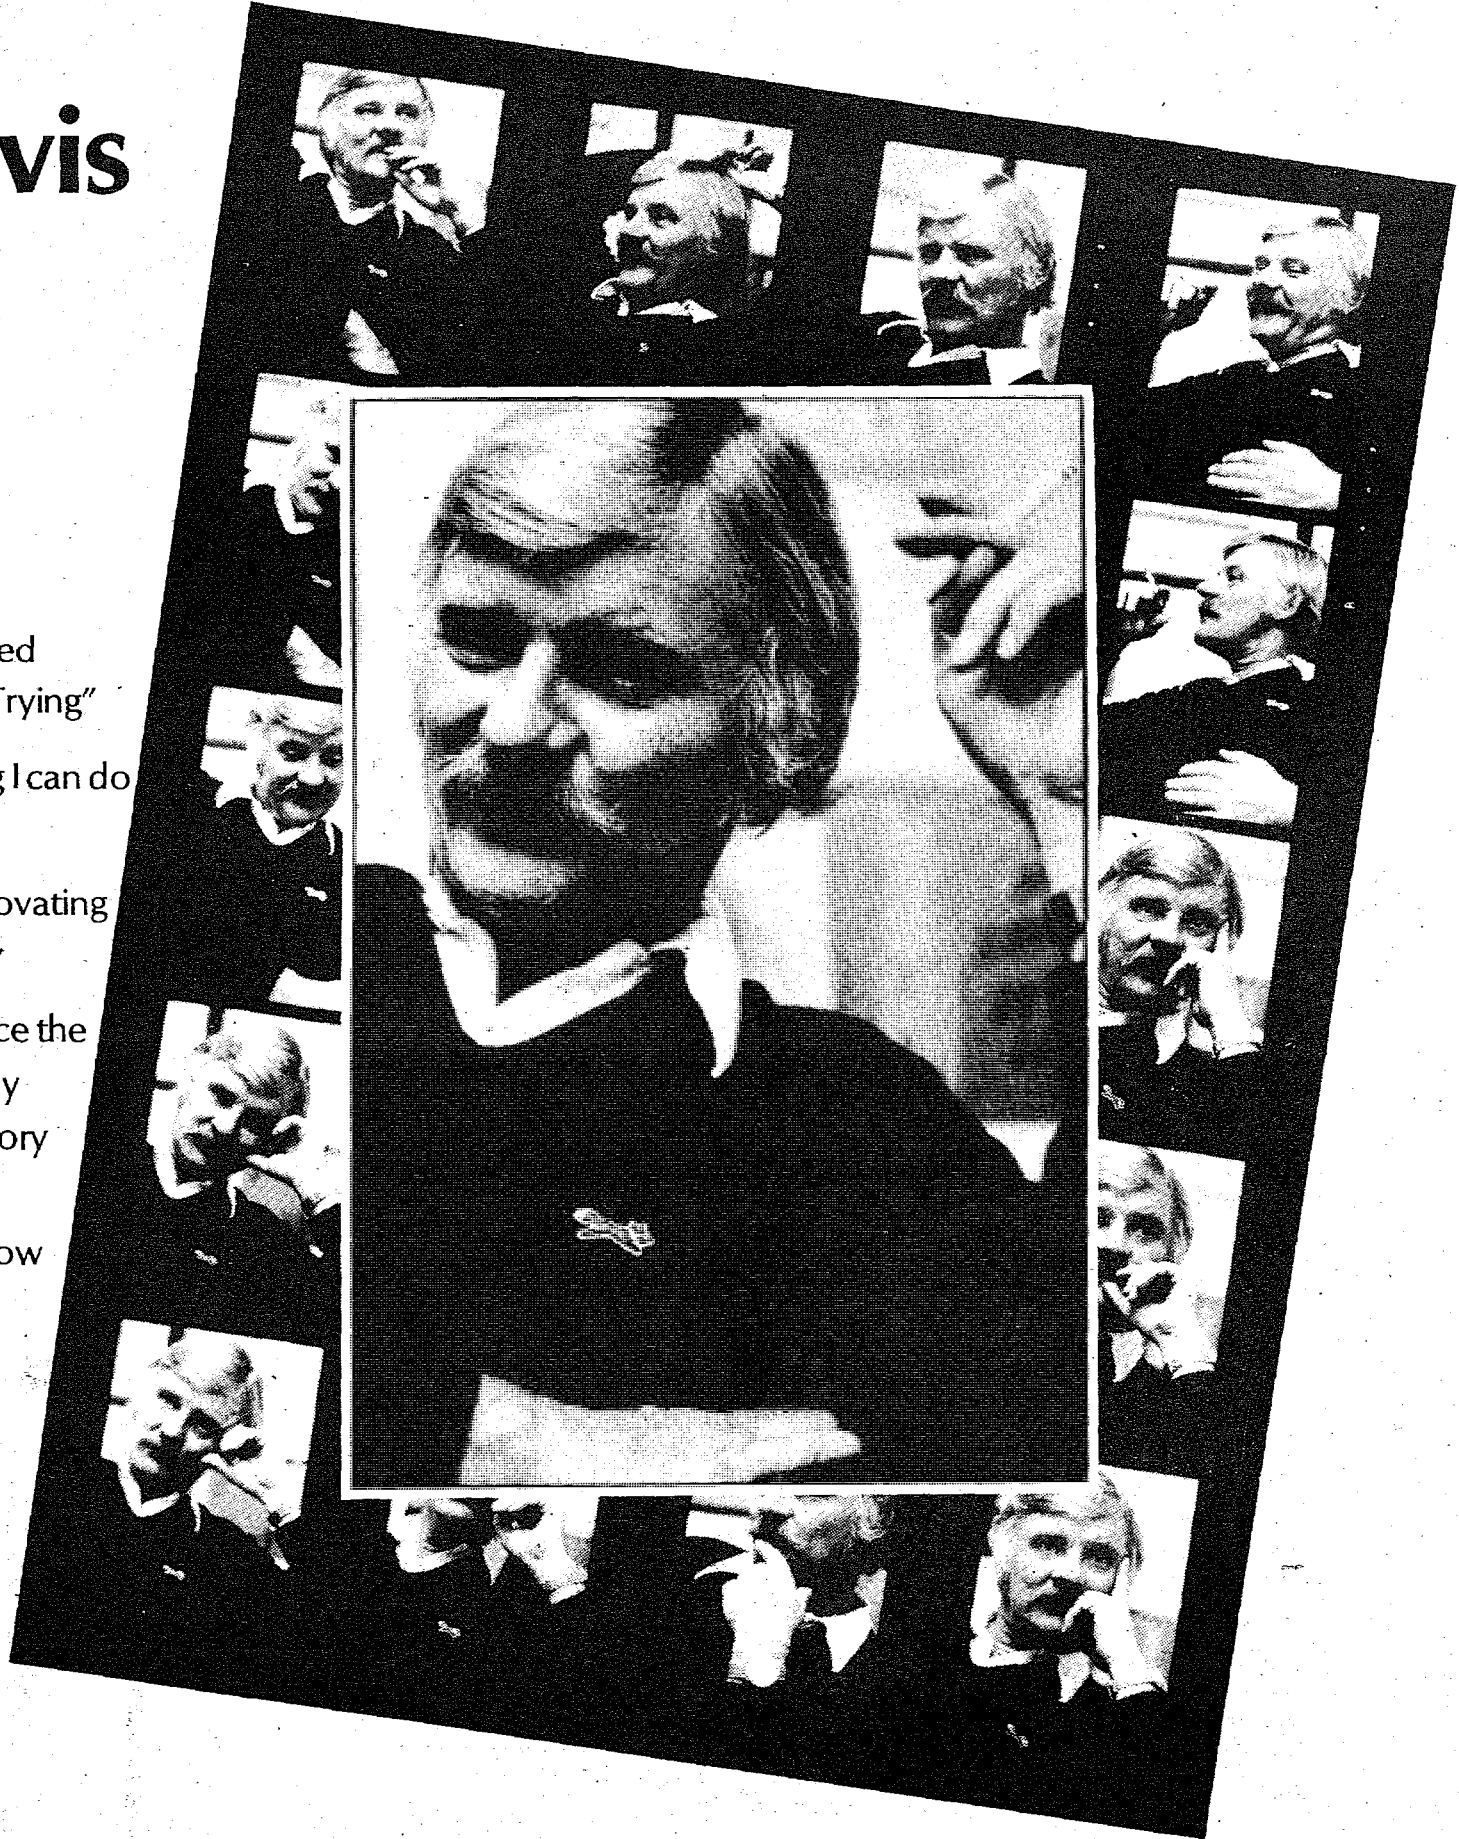

Last Book Read: "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying"

Mentor: "My father - everything I can do he could do better."

Pleasures: "Woodworking, renovating old buildings, music, plants."

Wish: "To continue to experience the success that I'm having in my business and to see my theory on health prove true."

Words of Wisdom: "Shutter now or shudder later!"

Asking someone what they would like to read about themselves in the newspaper is always a risky business - their answer usually falls into one of two categories: boring or scandalous. But not Roy Davis. His favorite headline would read "ROY DAVIS HAS BEEN CLONED." And his rather novel response rolls off the tip of his tongue as though he's been waiting a long time for someone to ask him that very question.

A lot of things, in fact, roll quite glibly off the tip of Roy Davis' tongue. It was not his somber demeanor as a student that won the intrafraternity fundraising joke-athon back at Florida Southern. And it's not his serious side that appeals to the promoters pushing a "Night With Roy Davis" act for Scotty's Pub. ("An Evening With Roy Davis? Not if I can help it!" says Roy Davis.)

"If I have a reputation," he says, adding, "and I have quite a few! - my reputation as a story teller is probably the biggest. I enjoy making people smile."

Roy, in fact, smiles an awful lot himself. But his is a sense of humor cultivated the hard way. "I had a heart attack several years back and I attribute a lot of my attitude to that," he says, and then cracks, "I told the doctor I was too young to have a heart attack but he wouldn't take it back!" And then the serious Roy Davis, "The heart attack made me grow up. I had a lot of time to think and re-group. I spent the first half of my life doing a lot of things and probably didn't do any of them well. I decided that in the second half of my life I would do one thing at a time."

It sounds good in theory but it's obvious that Roy has just too much energy to be as "laid back" as he professes to be. Running his Hurricane Protection business keeps him on the go in three counties. He's as active as time permits in the Island chapter of the Lions Club, he's learning to play golf, he plays all kinds of musical instruments - drums, harmonica, guitar, piano, and bass to name a few - but, in typical Roy Davis fashion, prefers to play medleys over concertos. Tasting each of Life's Tidbits rather than stuff himself with the Life Main Course.

Roy came to Sanibel some 10 years ago "in search of utopia just like everybody else," and found it "a good place to regress." He opened the Weeds and Things florist shop (in college he studied landscape design) and later opened Hurricane Protection. Despite his love of plants he found himself forced to give up the flower shop because of the increasing demands on his time from working two businesses. The Hurricane Protection slogan, "Shutter now or shudder later," is a Davis original and has inspired mail from as far away as Wisconsin.

Despite the easy smile and fast jokes it's obvious that Roy is a multifaceted man with a deep concern for the Islands and their future survival. ("No one writes Sanibel Island anymore - they just write Sanibel.") He is concerned about his business and his customers. ("We've built our reputation on service not advertising.") And he's concerned about living a long and useful life - but not enough to give up smoking and partying and staying up all night long with friends. "There's some fantastic people on Sanibel and I really enjoy my life here," he says. "If I fall down dead tomorrow at least I'll be smiling."

Sanibel Community Church honors Chaplin

Phylis Juhle was soloist on "Come, Gentle Spirit, Come."

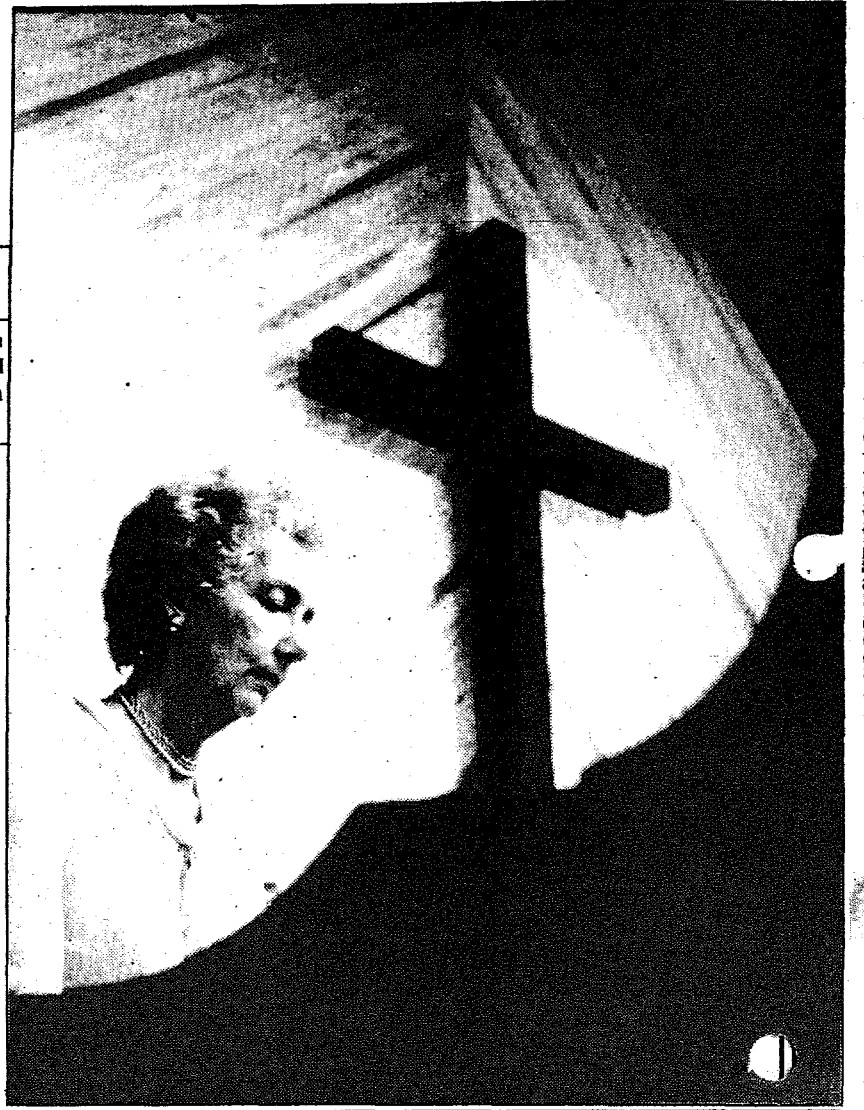

A standing, room only congregation packed the Sanibel Community Church to hear the music of Marion Wood Chaplin last Sunday night. The Chancel and Covenant Choirs of the Church sang many of Chaplin's compositions before the Sanibel resident performed four songs herself.

Nationally acclaimed composer Marion Wood Chaplin performed a piano and organ duet, "Meditation," with Jean Culpepper.

What's new for you

by Mildred C. Chamberlin

What was the value of shrimp caught in the United States in 1977? How many pounds of tuna fish were caught in 1977? How many commercial fishermen were employed in New England, in the Gulf States, in the Pacific Coast States? In which area were there the greatest number of fishing vessels?

What are the normal daily high and low temperatures in February in Miami? The highest and lowest temperatures on record in March in Miami? The latest data of a freeze in Jacksonville? What is the average wind speed in March in Duluth, in Chicago, in Miami?

In the income field, what was the per capita personal income in 1965 and in 1975? How many persons had gross estates of $60,000 to $99,999? $100,000 to $499,999? Over $1,000,000? Of what assets were three estates composed, i.e., real estate, stocks, bonds, cash, etc.? Compare the figures over the years of 1953, 1958, 1962, 1969, 1972.

The answers to all of these questions can be found in the "Statistical Abstract of the United States," issued annually by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census. The Sanibel Public Library has recently acquired the 99th edition containing statistics for the most recent period available up to mid-September 1978.

A multitude of subjects are covered under the broad headings of Population, Vital Statistics, Health and Nutrition, Education, Geography and Environment, Social Insurance and Welfare Services, Labor Force, Employment and Earnings, Prices, Elections, Energy, Science, Agriculture, and many, many, more.

The sources of all these statistics are given below each table. Preceding each section is an introduction which includes a guide to other sources of information, both governmental and private.

In the appendix is a detailed "Guide to Sources of Statistics." This includes all the government sources with many references to related subjects. For instance, under "Business," further information can be found under Economic Indexes, Investments, Manufacturers, Retail and Wholesale Trade, Scientific Resources, and Service Establishments. There are eleven government bureaus such as the Board of Governors of Federal Reserve System, Bureau of Census, Federal Trade Commission, Internal Revenue Service, and Small Business Administration. In addition are the following private sources: The Conference Board, Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., Fortune (Time, Inc.) and National Bureau of Economic Research.

Most of the statistics are for the United States only. Many tables break down the figures into regions and individual states and some into metropolitan areas and selected cities.

Many tables compare the figures over a period of a year, thereby presenting trends. For instance, the number of marriages and divorces are given every five years from 1950 to 1970, then 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, 1976, and 1977. Preceding the general text is a section called "Recent Trends." It covers the period from 1960 to 1977 for all the major subjects.

Every effort has been made to make this 1,057-page book easy to use. Right in the front is a small booklet entitled, "U.S.A. Statistics in Brief" which is a condensed supplement. In the Preface, general information is given and changes from the preceding edition noted. New tables are listed. The Table of Contents is quite detailed. A map of the U.S. showing all the census divisions is on the inside front cover; on the inside back cover is a list of other Statistical Abstract Supplements giving brief descriptions, dates and prices.

"A Guide to Tabular Presentation" explains in detail the abbreviations used, the headnotes, the footnotes, the meaning of such terms as average, median, index numbers, etc. For frequent use of the "Abstract" these explanations prove very helpful.

A most detailed index in the back completes the tools to make this "Statistical Abstract" very easy to use.

This useful book can be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. It can also be consulted in the Reference Department of the Sanibel Public Library from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. every day except Sunday, and Wednesday evenings from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Islander Angling

High winds, rain, and cold spells have once again driven the fish into hiding.

Some enterprising fishing developer should come up with an interval ownership plan for our finned friends. That way there would always be some fish swimming around during their week - no matter how bad the weather.

Not all anglers have come up with empty hooks despite the weather. There are still some trout around the Causeway, in Tarpon Bay and off of Captiva.

The pier is yielding sheephead and flounder and snook and sheephead are being caught in the canals. A few reds have also been reported in Tarpon Bay.

Cheer up - unless last week was your week - the fishing is bound to get better.

Canada Candidly...

I have always been proud to be a Canadian but never more than in recent weeks. The gratitude of the American people in the wake of the diplomatic coup in Iran has been overwhelming. Maybe Canada is finally coming into her own.

For years, we have had a national inferiority complex fostered by our close ties to the Old World and to the new one south of us. If it were "better" it was British; if it were "bigger" it was American. Not until the economic slide in England and the Watergate scandal in the U.S. did Canadians feel that we weren't so bad as a nation after all. As a military power, we can't cut the mustard but our diplomatic corps has always been second to none and the proof is in the safe return of six Americans without bloodshed.

A French Canadian journalist on LaPresse in Montreal has been sitting on this story since December 10. He was asked not to breathe a word and it speaks well for his fortitude and integrity that he didn't break the story until a leak came out of Washington. I see no way this event could have been kept secret once the Americans were home and in circulation again. It has had the positive effect of showing the U.S. and the world that we are more than just passive allies. I feel the U.S. needed to know that they are not alone in this crisis and to quote an old cliché—actions speak louder than words.

Ken Taylor, our ambassador deserves all the kudos coming to him but I believe Flora MacDonald orchestrated the whole situation. With her expertise in Ottawa and Taylor's cool head in Iran, the operation had every chance of success. When told that this country had been condemned by the Iranian government, Miss MacDonald retorted, "We did not design our foreign policy to suit Iran."

Some questions still intrigue me. Can the Iranians count? They must have known how many Americans were in one embassy and how many Canadians in the other. How did Taylor explain six extra members of his staff? Well, I suppose the answers to all these questions will come out in due time. We are the first country in American history to be publicly commended by the U.S. House of Representatives.

So, hoist the flag down there fellow Canadians and raise your glass in a toast to your country for a job well done.

County will crack down on blinking, portable signs

Owners of illegal roadside signs have about one more week before the county begins cracking down, the county Director of Code Enforcement, Dick McDole, said Monday.

McDole said the top priority of his office will be eliminating blinking lights and portable signs. According to the sign ordinance passed by the county commission Jan. 23, no blinking lights are permitted on any type of sign. Additionally, portable signs are permissible under only two circumstances: at the site of a new business, for a maximum of 60 days; or at any other location, for a maximum of 30 days, with a 60-day interval between displays. In either case, a permit must be obtained from the county code enforcement office.

"We should be getting our forms for sign permits within the next two weeks," McDole said. Since many business people are not familiar with the new ordinance, McDole said he will put a large public notice in the paper explaining what is legal and what is not. "After that," he continued, "We'll begin citing violators. If they don't comply with the ordinance within seven days, we'll remove the sign."

Representatives of the Sanibel-Captiva Lions Club attended a regional meeting of Lions at Bartow on the weekend of February 9-10. They were informed of the present status of area and state projects and heard Lions International Director William Thames discuss current happenings of Lions all over the world.

Director Thames, an official of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. of Jackson, Mississippi, spoke of the constant changes taking place in our world and noted that they represented a challenge to all people to keep abreast of these changes and assist in working out solutions. He pointed out that many of the problems of the world and of organizations are the result of apathy of citizens and members of those organizations. The challenges of the eighties will be there and whatever happens will be the result of our response to those challenges.

The Leader Dog program of furnishing guide dogs to the blind has been very active during the past year. In 1979 they furnished dogs to 284 students and they expect to furnish 340 during the coming year. Student training period is four weeks at the training school and headquarters in Michigan. Four Florida blind persons received guides during the past year. There is no charge to the student for the dog or the training period as Lions Clubs sponsor the student and sponsor the installation.

The Florida Lions Aid to the Blind and Sightless (FLABS) now operates the Millard Conklin Center for the Multihandicapped Blind. This center now has under its care 12 students who have some other handicap in addition to blindness. This facility at Daytona Beach is adjacent to the Florida State School for the Blind and is totally supported by donation from Lions Clubs in Florida.

There were 42 Lions Clubs represented by 291 Lions and guests. The Sanibel-Captiva members participated in a golf match on Saturday morning and the low gross score won a trophy and golf bag for Donn Daus, a guest of the club. Those attending were Dee Amon, Art Corace, Bruce Chapin, Don Cooperrider, Bill Hatcher, Jim Hermes, Roy Davis, Joe Feeney, Bob Dormer, Fritz Myers, Bob Potts, Larry Van Til with Al Duncan and Donn Daus as guests of the Sanibel-Captiva Lions Club.

Captiva ABC Sale this Saturday

Contributions are still pouring in for Captiva's annual big ABC (Attic, Basement, Closet) sale this Saturday, February 23 at the Captiva Community Center.

Volunteers are busily sorting, labeling, and pricing the boxes and armloads of items donated or made by Island residents.

The ropes will be down at 8:30 a.m., but experienced ABC shoppers usually arrive early for coffee and doughnuts and to browse through items on display outside the building that will be auctioned off at 12 o'clock. Tickets for a raffle may be purchased during the sale preceding the auction for the goods and services given by Captiva merchants. Specialties donated by some Sanibel merchants will be sold at a separate booth at bargain prices.

Clothing, baked goods, antiques, appliances, books, Island shells, plants and jewelry also will be offered at the sale.

Some of the more unusual items will be displayed in a huge tent and from a recently built storage shed behind the center. These offerings include two oriental prayer rugs, a pair of bedspreads hand-made in the late 1800's, little shadow boxes filled with miniature furnishings made of shells, irons, and old "ice cream" chairs. There is also a shuffle board set with instructions retrieved from the grounds of the Island's first inn, the Captiva Lodge, built in 1910 and destroyed by fire in 1948.

A 17-foot Glaspar Airfloat boat and trailer are among the more glamorous items to feature the auction. There will also be a "silent," or "Chinese" auction where individuals may write down the price they want to pay for various items. The highest bidder will get the article.

Proceeds from the sale will benefit the Captiva Civic Association and the Captiva Memorial Library. Last year the event raised almost $9,000.

Income from past ABC sales have enabled the Civic Association to air-condition the library and meeting hall, paint the inside and outside of the center, spend $4,000 on new books for the library, build a ramp for the handicapped, and erect a storage shed that is now crammed with items for Saturday's sale.

The Right Side of the Law

CAMPING

Camping on the beach is prohibited and while everyone enjoys a beach fire, you'll have to get a permit to have one on a Sanibel public beach. The Fire Department on Palm Ridge Road will supply you with a fire permit for $1.00. In addition, you'll be required to make a $25.00 deposit, returnable the day after your beach party when the beach has been inspected for litter or debris. Make sure you clean the area thoroughly or you'll be out $25.00! Condo owners or managers may submit a letter to the Fire Department, acknowledging that they will assume responsibility for clean up after a fire in front of their buildings. The $25 deposit will be waived in those circumstances.

GATORS

Feeding alligators anywhere within the Sanibel city limits is not only illegal (violators of the law are subject to a fine of up to $500, or up to 60 days in jail, or both.), but can be extremely dangerous. Alligators can run 45 m.p.h., so if you're close enough to feed an alligator, he's close enough to feed on you. An alligator fed for fun loses his natural fear of humans and becomes a potential threat to children and pets.

FISHING

While no license is required for salt water fishing, fishing in fresh water ponds or the Sanibel River requires a Florida fishing license, available at Bailey's General Store on Periwinkle Way. The fee is $3.75.

Minimum legal lengths

Blue Fish	10 in.
Flounder	11 in.
Grouper	12 in.
Mackerel	12 in.
Mullet	12 in.
Pompano	10 in.
Red Fish	12 in.
Snook	18 in.
Trout	12 in.

SHELLING

The City of Sanibel Resolution limiting the taking of shells to 2 live shells per person per species is one to be scrupulously obeyed. As a matter of fact, in order to preserve Sanibel's beautiful shelling beaches, most collectors refuse to take ANY live shells whatsoever.

SPEED LIMITS

The varying speed limits as one comes across the causeway may seem almost schizophrenic, but there is a very good reason for them. The stress and strain of traffic over the years has weakened the bridge supports (not to the point where there is any danger, fortunately) so in an effort to preserve the existing structure, the speed limits have been imposed.

They are to be taken seriously, for they are rigidly enforced by radar on a 24-hour a day basis by the Lee County Sheriff's Department. Observe them, please.

DOGGY DO'S... & DONT'S

If you're visiting Sanibel with the family Fido in tow, all the better. All family members can enjoy Southwest Florida sun and surf. The Chamber of Commerce can tell you what accommodations are available for families with pets. REMEMBER - wherever you are - CLEAN UP AFTER YOUR PET! The friendly reminder - "Leave nothing on the beach but footprints" - applies to dogs, too. There's no leash law on Sanibel, but of course an excitable or unruly animal is better off when controlled with a leash.

BICYCLE RULES

If you're not used to a lot of bicycle traffic, watch out for it on Sanibel. The extensive network of bike paths on the island is clearly marked along the edge of the road. Observe caution when driving near the bike path. A state law and a city ordinance combine to PROHIBIT PARKING OR DRIVING ON THE BIKE PATH. MOPEDS ARE NOT PERMITTED ON THE BIKEPATHS.

Planning on spending some time on a bike to enjoy the island sun and sights? Make sure your vehicle is equipped with a bike flag, horn, good brakes and a light for night riding. Under Florida law, bicycle riders have the same rights and responsibilities as motor vehicle drivers. DRIVE SAFELY.

Shopping

Sanibel is a veritable shopper's paradise. Tasteful boutiques and casual island shops join forces to present visitors with everything - and anything - a vacation shopper could hope for.

At the Lighthouse (Eastern) end of the island, Punta Ybel Plaza and The Sea Horse Shops are right across the street from each other, providing a variety of products that can cure your sweet tooth or tickle your shell finder's fancy. Need a good haircut or coiffure? You can get it in either of these shopping centers. Most businesses open at 10 am and close at 5:30. This holds true for many island stores, although during the winter season, some are open evenings.

Tall Australian pines shade Periwinkle Way as the shopper travels west along this main thoroughfare. This stretch of road is truly a shopper's paradise! It's all here...the fast and not-so-fast eating spots, casual and elegant boutiques, hand-wrought jewelry, craft designs, shell shops and balms for health product fanatics.

Watch to your right and left as you drive or cycle along. Photographic supplies, bait and tackle, deli foods, fresh seafood and baked goods, knick-knacks and what-nots can all be found along the drive to the intersection of Periwinkle Way and Tarpon Bay Road. Along the way, shopping centers such as the Heart of the Islands, Periwinkle Place and Tahitian Garden offer a variety of island delights.

At the intersection, the Island Shopping Center features the Island's only supermarket, dry cleaners and movie house.

A left on Tarpon Bay Road takes the visitor past Sanibel's original schoolhouse, which now holds original island water colors and woodcuts. Then on to West Gulf Drive and westward to an interesting little artisan's shop and gallery.

At the intersection of Periwinkle Way and Tarpon Bay Road, you may choose instead to turn right and follow the signs to the Tarpon Bay Marina, where you will find a cluster of quaint shops overlooking the back bay. Some antiques, what-nots and clever clothes can be found here, as well as a great seafood sandwich and soft drinks.

The spectacular ride to Captiva, with its lush foliage and enchanting view of the Gulf, is well worth a day's outing. Talented artists display their works in one roadside shop, while other feature some nifty gifts for Grandma to take home to little hands as a pleasant nodge-podge of remembrances from these barrier islands.

Whether for shopping, or merely browsing, island shops offer a surprising variety - from one-of-a-kind collectibles for the discerning shopper to post cards for the simple souvenir hunter and of course, for all, shells. Shell jewelry, shell lamps, just plain shells... the most beautiful shells in the world from the most beautiful shelling beaches in the world.

Gun Collectors' Show

The Lee County Gun Collectors have scheduled their 1980 Gun Show for February 22, 23 and 24 with future showings for October 31 and November 1 & 2. The Gun Show will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall located on the corner of Route 41 and Park Meadow Drive (two miles south of the airport) in Ft. Myers.

The showings will be as follows:
Friday - 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. (Dealer Set-up)
Saturday - 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. (Public)
Sunday - 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. (Public)
Public admission is $1.

Needlepoint rug tickets

Tickets are still available for the raffle of the 1980 Captiva Needlepoint Rug. The rug, a product of many hours work by Captiva artisans, will be awarded to a lucky winner at a March 25 drawing. It can be viewed at the Bank of the Islands. The proceeds will benefit the Captiva Community Center and Library.

The rug features shell designs worked in muted shades of brown, beige and white on a beige background and is accompanied by a companion director's chair.

The rug goes "on tour" at the end of this month to Naples and Marco Island. On Sanibel tickets may be purchased at the Bank of the Islands, Friday's, Jeanette Danie'l, Needle's Eye and Showcase of Shells.

On Captiva, they are available at the Captiva Memorial Library, Tree House Ship, Island Store and South seas Gift Shop.

Audubon

"Wings of the Wild" is the title of the color film to be shown at the Sanibel-Captiva Audubon Society on Thursday, February 21, 1980. The meeting will be held at the Sanibel Community Center at 8 p.m.

Alvah W. Sanborn, one of the National Audubon Society speakers, will narrate the film. Sanborn is the retired director of Pleasant Valley Wildlife Sanctuary of the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

Sections of the new film were selected to be used in the National Geographic film and the television special on birds. There are many interesting sequences including shots of swallow tail kites, golden eagle, and skimmers.

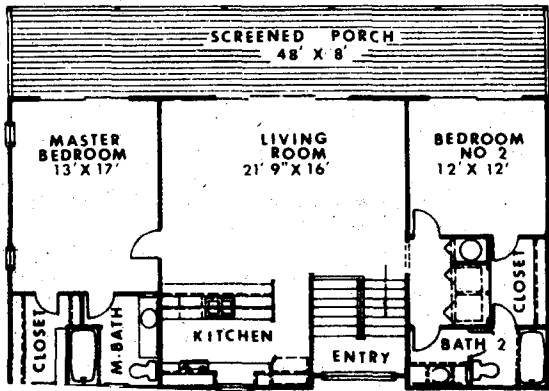

Sections showing hummingbirds in flight, taken in slow motion, are unusual. Drumming with wings is shown with photos of ruffed grouse, and prairie chicken.

There are photo visits to the Everglades and to Baxter Park in Maine. Highlight of the film could be the scenes of the peregrine falcon, an endangered species.

Many of Sanborn's still photos have won awards, and been published; his finest work, however, is 16mm. color motion picture film. "Wings of the Wild" is evidence not only of his technical skill, but also of his ability to present his material in an informative and entertaining manner.
