Holds Hearing On 1944 Budget, Tax Rate Stable

Common Council was holding a public hearing on the 1944 budget and tax resolution as The Herald was going to press. While it is expected that favorable action was taken, a report will be given in next week's Herald as to the outcome.

Out of a budget totaling $1,424,249.30, a decrease of $7,554.46 from 1943, required tax collections are $1,103,092.30, an increase of $19,093.42 over last year's requirements.

In submitting the budget February 3 as a legal advertisement, council made the following statement:

There are "many uncertain factors which exist because of the war conditions, including the possibility of procuring materials and equipment this year which were not available in 1943.

"Tax collections of 1943 reached a new high—94.7 per cent. A considerable amount of our surplus revenue account has been appropriated in the 1944 budget in order to give the taxpayers the benefit of their excellent payments; but funds have been retained in the revenue account to provide for the cost of replacements and repairs which cannot be made at this time due to the inability of securing the necessary supplies. It is hoped by this method that the tax rate will be stabilized.

"Due to the scarcity of new building construction and the downward adjustment of some of our older properties, our rates for 1944 are reported lower by over $200,000.

"It is well to point out that, in spite of higher costs and added remuneration to personnel, due to increased living costs and higher cost of wages in industry, the Common Council has succeeded in lowering the tax rate each year since 1939, and unless there is an increase by the County and State, we do not expect an increase in 1944."

Italian Mens Club Observes 27th Year with First Dinner

The Italian Mutual Support Club had its first dinner in an organization last Saturday night at the Neighborhood House, to celebrate its 27th birthday.

The traditional spaghetti dinner was served. The cooks were members of the club, John Incandella, Pasquale Coppolaro and Frank Barlotto. After the main part of the dinner was over the table was cleared and the dishes were washed, then the dessert was served, a large birthday cake with greetings to the club on the top.

Shore talks were given by Alessio Daluto, president of the club, by Henry B. Twombly, who has been one of its friends for years, and by Miss Elizabeth Dawson of the Neighborhood House.

The officers of the club are: Alessio Daluto, president, Frank Barlotto, treasurer, Joseph Lupino, secretary.

Next Sunday, February 27, is Red Cross Sunday. The Red Cross Service will be held in Calvary Church especially for Red Cross workers who will go out the following week on behalf of the 1944 Red Cross War Fund, but anyone is welcome to attend the service. The choir will be followed by uniformed members of the Red Cross with their flags and by the following participating clergymen: Rev. Leonard V. Buschman, Rev. W. S. Hlman, Rev. O. C. Nelson, Rev. Merrel D. Booker, Rev. W. O. Kinsolving. The address will be by Rev. Harold G. Willis of St. Mark's Church, West Orange. The service will begin at 4 o'clock.

Detective Grasso Given Send-Off By Lions Club

Detective Nicholas Grasso, who left Saturday to begin his Army training at Fort Dix, was given a send-off party Thursday night by Summit Lions Club of which he is a member and a group of friends at a send-off dinner party at the Half-Way House on Route 29.

Guest of honor was Mayor G. Harry Cullis who spoke of "the excellent work done by Detective Grasso," not only in his capacity as a detective but also as a member of the Summit Police Department. The mayor gave Detective Grasso considerable credit for the part he had played in eliminating juvenile delinquency from this city.

Among the other guests was Agent Nathaniel Pinkston of the Federal Bureau of Investigation who testified to the cooperation given him and other members of the FBI by Detective Grasso in solving various cases.

A song fete was led by Sanford E. Wellish, a past president of the club. Vice-president Charles Scheck of the Lions was in charge of arrangements. Among the Lions responding to introductions were Postmaster Daniel J. Fitzpatrick and Sanitary Inspector Walter Crann of the Board of Health.

Detective Grasso was presented with a wallet and a money belt. (Picture Elsewhere)

World Day Of Prayer Service Held Tomorrow

The World Day of Prayer will be observed tomorrow in the Calvary Church at 2 o'clock. This interdenominational gathering has been an annual custom in Summit for many years, marking the first Friday of Lent; and it is held in cooperation with the world-wide observance, which now numbers thousands of prayer-services upon this one day.

The leader of Summit's meeting will be Mrs. Charles Lewis, parish assistant of the First Baptist Church. Assisting her will be Mrs. Kenneth Stiles, Mrs. Norman Hill and Miss Maude Broadhead.

An invitation is given to all Summit residents to attend this world-wide fellowship of prayer. (In last week's Summit Herald, the date of this meeting was omitted from the notice.)

Spencer M. Maben Sells House in Ashland Road

Spencer M. Maben, realtor, 24 Beechwood road, has sold for Mrs. Annie M. Leavens her two-story brick house and garage at 125 Ashland road, to Gifford V. Leeces, now living in 20 Glen Oaks. The Leeces will take possession about April 31.

PROCLAMATION

The following proclamation has been issued by Mayor G. Harry Cullis at the opening of the Red Cross War Fund drive:

WHEREAS, the war in every part of the world is in its most critical stage requiring every ounce of human endeavor possible on the part of those on the home front; and

WHEREAS, the young men of this city are fighting and dying on far-flung battle-fronts—from Europe to the islands of the Pacific and in the Far East, both on land, on the seas and in the air; and

WHEREAS, it is not only the privilege, but the duty as well, of every American to serve the Cause of Humanity to as great an extent as possible, and in every way possible; and

WHEREAS, it is our common aim to contribute to the welfare of our sons and daughters in the armed forces, wherever they may be, even to the point of sacrifice; and

WHEREAS, we must also protect our families remaining at home in the event of any great man-made, or natural disaster, which may strike without warning; and

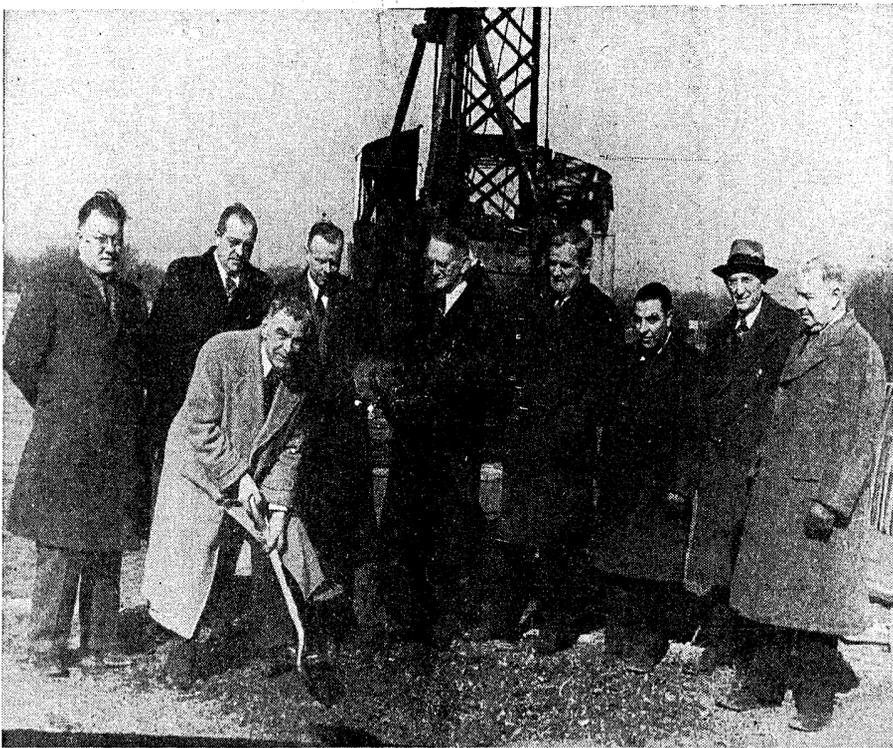

WHEREAS, the American Red Cross is serving our fighting men the world over, bringing them the comfort and cheer that we ourselves would like to give them, and at the same time is prepared here in our own community to aid us in the event of disaster;

THEREFORE, I, G. Harry Cullis, Mayor of the City of Summit, N. J., in accordance with the proclamation of the President of the United States, naming March as American Red Cross Month, do hereby and now call upon all citizens of this city to support the 1944 Red Cross War Fund, to the limit of their ability by contributing to the Red Cross; and I further urge that the citizens of this city with the knowledge that the Red Cross must carry a greater burden this year than ever before in its history, make their gifts larger to enable the Red Cross to meet every demand placed upon it.

G. HARRY CULLIS,
Mayor.

W. Vail Johnson Stricken Fatally Saturday at Home

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Burroughs Funeral Home, 309 Springfield avenue, for Wharton Vail Johnson, 43, of 3 Lorraine road, who died suddenly Saturday afternoon at home from an embolism. The services were conducted by his pastor, the Rev. Dr. Leonard V. Buschman, minister of the Central Presbyterian Church. Interment was in Rosedale Cemetery, Orange.

Among his other affiliations, Mr. Johnson was president of the Mahler Johnson Association, an organization that traces its history to the early Pilgrims. During World War I, he was a member of the Princeton Unit of the Navy. During the present conflict, Mr. Johnson not only served as an air raid warden for Summit Defense Council, but he was also active as a member of the Coast Guard Auxiliary. In this latter field, the Lorraine road man acted as an instructor in navigation.

At the Central Presbyterian Church, he was treasurer of the Men's Club. Mr. Johnson was a member of Orange Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution and of Century Lodge, F. and A. M. of Orange.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Caroline Stafford Johnson; a son, William Vail Johnson, 12; two daughters, Dorothy Ann Johnson, 12 and Carolyn Stafford Johnson, 6, and a sister, Mrs. Alfred Spindler of Maplewood. St. Teresa Players Present Musical, 'The Gingham Girl'

"The Gingham Girl", a musical comedy in three acts was presented on Thursday and Friday evenings by the St. Teresa's Players at St. Teresa's auditorium. The play was repeated on Sunday afternoon for the children of the parish and will be given for the soldiers at Millington.

The play followed a slight book which served as the basis for several musical numbers. Some of the songs were written for the play and others were popular songs of the day introduced in the scene laid in a night club.

John Mulligan, Peggy Lolatte, Bob Bunnell, Mary Donnelly and Eugene Mulligan played the leading roles with a large supporting cast.

You are probably very proud of the job the Red Cross is doing here and throughout the world. Maybe you haven't clearly in mind how the Red Cross activities are supported. Do you know who supports the Army and Navy hospitals in this country and overseas? Do you know who supports the Army and Navy Posts and Stations? Do you know how the work of Home Service is paid for or how the Prisoner of War is financed? Do you know who is behind this work?

To put it very simply, you are! If you contribute to the Red Cross you are supporting that work.

As J. W. Bancker, Chairman of the Red Cross War Fund drive for 1944 says:

"You have backed the Attack with bonds. Now 'Back Our Boys' with a generous subscription when our solicitor calls on you. Let's go over the top here at home."

A DAY OF PRAYER

Tomorrow hundreds of thousands of people will gather to pray.

At sunrise on a Pacific atoll of the Fiji Islands a group of Christian women will gather under the palm trees to pray. At sunrise in New Zealand and Australia other groups will kneel down. As the morning light filters through the broken arches and windows of Christian churches in war-torn China, patient Chinese women will speak these words of their Generalissimo: "Save us from hate, for hate lives on. Help us to live with thy forgiving love."

Tomorrow is World Day of Prayer. In India, Iran, Arabia, Syria, groups of women will be praying. From primitive lips in Africa these words will rise with the morning mists: "Saviour, owner of the broom of Grace, come and sweep out our hearts, preparing them for the entrance of Thy Word."

And as the sun sinks back into the Pacific at nightfall the closing service will be held on St. Lawrence Island off Alaska where the boots of Eskimos crunch in the cold and the snow, and their lanterns swing a path through the Arctic night toward places of worship. It was there, a year ago, that an Eskimo brought a beautiful white fox pelt valued at $75 as his offering for a world that needed prayer.

On this third day of Lent the prayers of the World Day of Prayer are prayers for one another. On World Day of Prayer the women of the world kneel together, conscious that they are all part of a common humanity.

The groups over which the sun of tomorrow will pass will be many and varied. Last year there were 60 such special services in London, 300 in Scotland. This year there will be 2,000 in Canada and 10,000 in the United States. Some will be small and some will be large—like the congregation of 1,500 which met last year in Cincinnati, with 30 ushers who were Christians and Jews, Negroes and white women, with an interracial vested choir, with psalms read in their native tongues by women of Persia, France, Africa, China, the United States and other nations.

The World Day of Prayer will be celebrated in Summit at 2 o'clock tomorrow, Friday afternoon at Calvary Church. All who wish to join in the prayers are invited and welcome. Summit people of all races and congregations will participate. While World Day of Prayer was established by women, the Day in Summit is to be celebrated in prayer by both men and women.

Coop Members Request Furniture For Clubrooms

A request for furniture for their club rooms at 14 Beechwood road has been made this week by members of the COOP, an organization which is supported and administered by its teen-age members.

Card tables, lamps, chairs and any other articles of furniture will be greatly appreciated, said a COOP spokesman. The downstairs club room is almost entirely unfurnished and the members have been unable to contribute the necessary items themselves.

Anyone wishing to make a donation of furniture is asked to call Summit 6-2932. A COOP representative will pick up the furniture at your convenience.

Mayor Cullis Starts The Work on New Auxiliary Sewer

Mayor G. Harry Cullis turned the first spadeful of earth on Monday for the $305,000, 3,000-foot supplementary sanitary sewer, which when completed will connect the present system at points east and west of Union and increase the sewerage capacity of Summit through the terminus of the new pipe line. A flood condition at Millburn which occurs periodically at Millburn will be alleviated.

The new tunnel, the result of several years' planning will cost approximately $305,000. Summit's share based on a 12.5 per cent basis, will reach around $45,000.

Ten municipalities are affected, only six of which are involved in paying for it: Summit, South Orange, Millburn, Maplewood, West Orange and Union.

Others present at the ceremony which took place at the construction site in Union were vice-chairman Clarence A. Hill, mayor of Millburn, Commissioner Percy A. Miller of Irvington, Consulting Engineer Elson T. Killam of Short Hills, Construction Engineer Harry Rafton, Milo S. Borden of Maplewood, chairman of the Township Committee, Chief Engineer Edward P. Descher and Superintendent Corey W. Sandford.

Summit Women Attend Hearings On N.J. Constitution

Four women from the Summit League of Women Voters attended the hearings on the revision of the New Jersey constitution which was authorized by a state referendum last November. They were Mrs. Richard L. Miller, president of the league, Mrs. Kenneth Baldwin, Mrs. Rupert Lewis and Mrs. Norris B. Brisco.

Surprise was expressed by them over the lack of opposition to the revision as written so far. The hearings were for the express purpose of giving the general public either as individuals or groups, a chance to submit their ideas on the proposed revision. This was done by written brief and by spoken testimony.

There were three committees, executive, judicial and legislative, each composed of thirty members and each hearing testimony in relation to that branch of the revision.

Mrs. Miller said the committees seemed most anxious to hear the ideas of the league members, probably because the league worked so hard to bring about a revision.

She spoke before the committees for easier future revision of the constitution and for leaving the substitution of paroles in the hands of institutions and agencies. Mrs. Miller spoke for the State League as well as the local organization.

Mrs. Baldwin testified for an additional paragraph allowing the state government to subsidize a housing program if such a move should ever be considered necessary.

Another recommendation made by the Summit representatives was concerning Article VII, section 2, re dedicated money. They think such money, except educational funds and trust funds, should be kept "in one pocketbook." These moneys include highway, milk, fish and game and motor vehicle funds.

All of these recommendations were in the name of the state league. Mrs. Brisco spoke on each one, concurring in the name of the local league.

"We were thrilled to think we were taking part in history in the making," said Mrs. Miller. "Our present constitution was adopted in 1844 and the importance of a change after 100 years is truly great."

Income Tax Return Help at City Hall February and March

Collector of Internal Revenue John E. Manning of the Newark District has notified the Herald and also city officials, that district deputy collectors will be at the Municipal Building on February 28 and 29 and on March 6 and 7 to aid any who may require assistance in making out returns.

As the return blank is considerably more difficult to fill in than those of former years, Collector Manning anticipates a full house on the days specified. Hours 9 to 5.

Red Cross Sunday To Mark Opening Of War Fund Drive

The 1944 Red Cross War Fund will open its drive here with Red Cross Sunday on Feb. 27. A special observance will take place at Calvary Church at 4 o'clock with members of the Red Cross attending in uniform.

The Summit quota has been set at $71,500. Of this sum, $46,500 will go to the national fund and $25,000 will be retained for local use. Included in this total is the quota for New Providence Borough and Township and for Passaic Township.

J. W. Bancker has been named chairman of the War Fund organization. The division chairmen under Mr. Bancker include: special gifts, Richard C. Pohlers; residential districts, Mrs. Clifford A. Bernard; business districts, W. Gilbert Baker; special groups, J. W. Bancker; display, Harry A. Marshall; exhibits, Mrs. Walter Olpaugh; headquarters, Mrs. F. B. Llewellyn; treasurer, Dean H. Travis; and publicity, Fred L. Palmer.

In a statement made yesterday, J. W. Bancker declared that "Approximately 90 per cent of the total will be devoted to activities directly connected with service and assistance to the armed forces. These include service in Army and Navy hospitals here and abroad, service in camps in the combat zone, emergency financial assistance to service men, prisoner of war service, home service work, blood donor service, and many others." Mr. Bancker added, "In relation to the number of men now in the armed forces, the national quota of two hundred million represents a modest sum for Red Cross service for an entire year. The American people will respond as wholeheartedly to this as they have to the needs of the Red Cross in the past."

More in Market To Divide Coal

Pressed by an increased demand for solid fuel, because many consumers who had part of their fuel laid in last fall are now requiring replenishment, coal dealers this week appealed for consumer cooperation in expediting deliveries.

Working short-handed and with trucks far from top efficiency, the dealers say it is impossible for them to guarantee the exact time of delivery. They request regular customers to notify them well in advance of the date upon which the bins will be empty. Since it is impossible for the dealers to specify the day or hour on which delivery will be made, they ask customers to make arrangements in advance, including entrance to the coal man and the matter of payment for deliveries which are on a c. o. d. basis.

"If a consumer feels there is any chance of not being at home when the coal is at the door, the office should be notified how the coal can be delivered and if payment is involved, that should be made before the receiver leaves the home," said a spokesman for the harried dealers.

"More frequently it is happening that a truck is sent to deliver coal and has to bring it back to the yard or make an extra run to some other neighborhood simply because the consumer has not arranged to receive it. This is a waste of manpower and of trucking equipment, both of which are serious factors in the present situation. Sometimes, too, the consumer who does not go on the first attempted delivery has to wait a few days, which further complicates the whole problem."

Large Bond Sale Entitles School To Sponsor Plane

Kent Place School has topped its goal of $15,000 in War Bonds in series E and G, and as a result is entitled to the sponsorship of a PT 19 Fairchild Primary Trainer.

To date (February 21) the total receipts from Series E Bond sales are $17,750 (face value), and the total receipts from Series G Bonds are $5,100.00 (face value). Together with the War Stamps sold, the total amount raised is $21,850, over $1,000 more than the original goal. Mary Elizabeth LeMay of Tempary way, president of the senior class, was chairman of the drive.

Under the Schools at War Program, Kent Place is now entitled to have the name and address of the school stamped on a PT 19 Fairchild Primary Trainer. (Every private school which raises $15,000.00 in the series is eligible.) Last year, Kent Place did another good job in the "Buy a Jeep" campaign; they have nine jeeps to their credit. In consequence, they were asked to participate in the nationwide program this year for the sale of War Bonds.

The Weather—Believe It or Not!

The Ground Hog saw his shadow on the 2d of February, and the people of Summit ordered more coal on the strength of the expected six more weeks of winter. But, except for a few days, the thermometer has stayed much nearer 30 degrees than is compatible with winter, only falling to 10 on the 10th. The temperature for the month has been only 13 degrees below the normal.

According to government figures the coldest part of the winter is normally between January 20 and February 7. The actual weather this year has not borne this out; on January 27 the temperature was 58.

At last reports Mr. Groundhog had not come out again, to face public opinion.

Our local weather man is bitterly disappointed with the weather. He wants snow and a lot of it. The shovel he has carried in his car so hopefully all winter has rusted away. He says that evergreen branches were made to look at loaded with snow, and a walk in the snow is pure fun.

*They didn't get the coal.

"In Humble Tribute" To W. Vail Johnson

The death Saturday of Wharton Vail Johnson, 43, of 3 Lorraine road, prompted the following comment by one of his neighbors, Newman C. Wade:

"It has been a privilege to know well the man for whom these lines are written. He has been called. His work is done. Neither headlines proclaimed his arrival nor most likely will they give notice of his final leaving which is probably the way he would want it, for he was always a self-effacing sort of a chap.

"Although but a youth, he was in World War I and there developed a spirit of patriotism which increased as the years rolled by.

"To him patriotism was not just a word to be tossed around over cocktail-tails or in news releases or to be used for political favors.

"Patriotism, in this man's mind, was a living thing, impersonal but real—a goal which could not be reached but one which forever beckoned on; one calling into being the highest instincts of a real American.

"Beyond the age for active military service and engaged in essential war work; nevertheless, this man gave unstintingly of his time, effort and resourcefulness to whatever cause his talents might be useful in the war effort, be they civilian defense or humanitarian objectives.

"Every drive for raising funds found him a willing and efficient worker. He served efficiently as an air raid warden and did his weekly bit in the Coast Guard Patrol.

"And, in addition, as though what he was doing was not enough, he enrolled in a course in navigation. This, is the firm belief that the knowledge might prove useful, and for its compounding effect upon the enemies of the country when they learned that he and thousands of others were preparing themselves in this manner.

"His call for a report to him comes suddenly in the midst of this, and it is not for us to reason why. This is not a verbal tribute to Vail Johnson for his virtues and deeds have already been recorded in the Book of Final Accounts.

"Our community has suffered an irreparable loss—and those who knew Vail have lost a true friend."

Breeze Corp., Inc. Reports 40% War Units Increase

Breeze Corporations, Inc., of Newark, with plants in Elizabeth, increased production of war units 40% in the year 1943, John T. Masuch, president, announced today.

Due to voluntary price reductions and refunds, Breeze's sales reflect an increase of approximately half of that percentage. Mr. Masuch, in his statement to the stockholders, estimated that the voluntary refunds and reductions were "in excess of $3,000,000." He credited the voluntary reductions to "increased volume of production and efficiency."

Breeze and its subsidiaries shipped $45,288,029 worth of war equipment last year. The 1943 business was a record for the corporation.

The corporation paid $150 per share dividends during the year 1943 and has declared a dividend of 40¢ per share payable March 10 to stockholders of record as of March 1, 1944.

The corporation added $2,193,553 to its earned surplus. Provisions for the 1943 Federal Income Tax will be $7,113,000, and profit, after taxes and prior to renegotiation, was $2,610,000.

Regarding renegotiation, Mr. Masuch said:

"While 'excess' profits cannot be condoned, we feel that the Renegotiation Act is discriminatory. Published reports of various companies subject to renegotiation show a wide difference in the various rates of net profits allowed. We believe that a fair return based on the quantity of goods produced should be allowed, that efficiency should be rewarded, and that companies such as ours should be permitted to set up reserves to take care of reconversion expenses, termination pay, cancellation losses and other costs which we are certain to incur in the postwar period.

"Of the eventual peacetime future, as conditions allow, we plan for the readjustment that we will face. We can say with confidence that Breeze ideas and aptitudes if allowed freedom from restrictive legislation and regulations can greatly advance the corporation's industrial position while adding its share to a better American life for all."

Handy Pancakes Vary Themselves To Suit Occasion

We all know from experience how handy and convenient it is to have one recipe that we can change by adding something of this or something of that—and presto—it's something else. This we have found true in the past with, for example, certain roll recipes. We can have plain ones, or a large assortment—all with one recipe. And it's so convenient because we can work so much quicker with a familiar recipe.

The same thing is true with these Handy Pancakes—in their original form we can serve them any time, but preferably for breakfast—but just a slight change here and there, and we have a luncheon or dinner dish—another change and we have dessert.

Handy Pancakes

- 1 cup sifted flour
- 2½ teaspoons double acting baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1½ cups milk
- 1 cup bran flakes
- 3 tablespoons melted shortening.
- Maple flavored syrup or honey

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar and sift again. Combine egg and milk; add gradually to flour, heating only until smooth. Slightly crush flakes and add. Add shortening. Bake on hot greased griddle. Serve with maple flavored syrup or honey. Makes about 12 cakes.

Meat Rollers: Spread well-seasoned meat mixture on each pancake, roll carefully. Serve with medium white sauce flavored with mustard or sauteed onions. A good meat mixture may be made of 1½ cups ground cooked meat and 2 teaspoons horseradish mixed with ½ cup medium white sauce and seasonings.

Cranberry Rollers: Grate a little orange rind into the pancake batter. When baked, spread each cake to edge with thick cranberry sauce, roll up lightly. Sprinkle with powdered sugar. Serve with honey, thinned with a little orange juice.

Apple Pancake Dessert: Make double size pancakes, allowing generous 1/3 cup batter for each. Stack in pile, spreading thick sweetened apple sauce between cakes. Sprinkle top with brown sugar, or cinnamon and sugar, or serve with maple flavored syrup. Cut in pie shaped wedges to serve. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Pretty Women on the Way

Editor, The Summit Herald:
Dear Sir—I am writing to inform you that I would like to have my address changed again. I know you must be getting tired of it but blame it on Hitler.

Am now located on the coast about two miles from the ocean. It is comparatively warm down here, with flowers blooming and grass green.

While coming out here I had the opportunity of picking oranges and lemons off the trees and to see snow on top of the San Bernardino mountains, and with the sun going down it made a pretty setting far beyond description.

I guess California has everything—it seems so to me anyway—as I have seen in my travels, even pretty women; I found that out on the trip to Hollywood.

Lately I have been getting two papers from you, one addressed Camp Barkley, Tex., and the other Los Angeles, Calif.

Thanks a lot and maybe I'll be seeing you soon on a furlough.

Sincerely,
CLIFFORD LODERICK.

Separated From Paper

Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.
Editor, The Summit Herald:

Dear Sir—There has been another change of plans and I now find myself at the above address.

After graduating from A.S.T.P. in early December I was assigned to the 97th Division and then, more specifically, Cannon Company of the 386th Infantry Regiment. It was at Mt. Livingston, I presume, meeting as the 97th, was on maneuvers in cold, wet and muddy Louisiana. As this is the first address that wasn't either in a bayou or in scrub pines, your most welcomed newspaper and I have been separated since I left the hallowed halls of Harvard.

SGT. McDONALD.

Spring-Clean the Library

Editor, The Summit Herald:

Dear Sir—Whenever I have occasion to use the Summit Library, and that is quite often, I am more than a little annoyed at the fact that to find what I want is simple in terms of the card catalogue but that when I go to track it down in the stacks I am forced to search through the millions of horrible examples of the worst writing of the Edwardian era to find my particular choice.

I cannot see that there is any reason to have on the shelves so many of those badly bound, poorly written and mercifully no longer read novels which were not good when they were first printed and which time has not in any way improved.

To my way of thinking, it would be very much better to clean out the fiction shelves and leave there only those books which have an interest for normal readers and remove those specimens which cannot possibly be of interest to anyone but an octogenarian trying to recapture a lost youth in the saccharine sweetness of the Charlotte Yonge School of female writers.

Someone may perhaps answer that it is not the place of one person to say what others interests may be but I have formal certitude in saying that the library would be a much better place if the biography were moved down where it would be available to the average reader who will read what is near to hand rather than walk upstairs to get a book which would be more to his taste and if the collection on religion and the law were moved up from their locked room in the cellar to take the place of those books which are less timely and which are no longer to the taste of the average reader.

It is not a question of discarding any books; merely of rearranging them so that those which have the greatest interest are the most easily available.

One further suggestion. There are some books, not many, on the shelves there which I think would be better in a collection marked "For Adults Only." This is no censorship but rather a device to protect children from their own folly. There is no need, either, to name these books here and thus call attention to them but I think that to follow here the example of many other libraries and put such volumes where they must be requested by the would-be reader is not too much in the Nice Nelly tradition.

One volume that I thought standard equipment for every library is missing, I note. Taylor's "Toxicology" . . . beloved of the murder mystery fan is not in the library. Neither is there any book on medicine or related topics . . . again standard, I should think, equipment.

I do not know whether or not others will share my opinions but I trust that this will not go unnoticed, at least. There is need of good libraries and Summit should have one.

Yours truly,
PRO BONO PUBLICO.

A Nice Gesture

February 18, 1944
Editor, The Summit Herald:

Dear Sir: I would like to express my thanks to you for the nice way my son's (Sgt. William Lee Jr.) picture appeared in the current issue of the paper. Inasmuch as it was a group picture, my son and his crew of their bomber, and the rest of the boys are from out of the State, I think it was a very nice gesture on your part to publish the whole picture.

I can't tell you with how much pleasure my son looks forward to receiving The Herald, and now that he is overseas it will mean so much more to him. It is one of the most important links between him and the home town.

Again let me thank you sincerely, and wish The Summit Herald lots of luck in its new home.

Very truly yours,

OPA Suspends Delicatessen Owner For Twenty Days

Mark P. Zachariadis, owner of the Elite Delicatessen, 355 Springfield avenue, appeared yesterday in Newark before OPA Commissioner John O'Rourke to answer charges brought by OPA investigators that he had sold and offered to sell meats and processed foods above ceiling prices.

Zachariadis, who appeared before the Summit Price Panel in November, to answer charges of selling eggs at over-ceiling prices, was suspended from the sale of meats, for ten days, beginning March 15 and from the sale of processed foods for ten days beginning March 26.

The complaint was brought by OPA investigators who purchased bacon and ham from Mrs. Zachariadis on February 9 and received quotations on the prices of other commodities. Mr. Zachariadis was not in the store at that time.

Boiled skinned ham was sold at the rate of $1.00 per pound; the ceiling price being 80 cents. Sliced bacon was sold at the rate of 44 cents per pound. The ceiling price on this item is 42 cents.

Aid to Veterans, Address Topic At H. S. Assembly

Dr. Gordon A. Eadie of the Eastern Aircraft Division of General Motors described to the High School assembly on Friday morning what is being done by his company to aid the 400 veterans of the present war who are now employed at the company's plant at Linden. The gist of his address was that the work lies principally in the psychological and psychiatric fields.

Dr. Eadie, an alumnus of the High School and of Princeton and Johns Hopkins Universities, spoke under the sponsorship of the High School's social studies department.

Following the assembly, Dr. Eadie was given a luncheon in the Bannell House by Director of Secondary Education A. J. Bartholomew and a group of the High School instruction staff.

Junior High School Speeds Production for Red Cross

Modern production methods are now being applied to production work by the members of the Junior Red Cross at the Junior high school. Four hundred students under the direction of a committee of seventeen classroom representatives work on the projects during the last period of every Friday morning.

In the last month, 150 utility bags, 100 mitts, 100 booties, and several checker boards, scrap books and ash trays have been turned out and sent to hospitals, camps and service lounges.

As for women taking men's places on the production line, at the Junior high school the boys are responsible for basting stitches and machine sewing. All reports received to date state that they're proud of their jobs.

Canned and bottled fruits should be stored in a cool dry place.

By borrowing for their seasonal requirements many concerns are able to transact a larger volume of profitable business than would otherwise be possible. In other cases scarce merchandise may be acquired for cash at a lower price. Money may be saved by taking advantage of discounts on purchases.

If the amount of money needed is greater than the company's unsecured borrowing capacity, specialized forms of credit may be employed, such as:

Jr. Achievement To Honor Its Founder in April

According to an announcement made today by Charles Dallas Reach of 18 DeBary place, state chairman of Junior Achievement of New Jersey, the State organization will honor the founder of the national movement, Horace A. Moses, during the month of April. Many different events are being planned by the 49 different Junior Achievement companies throughout the State to pay honor to Moses, head of the Strathmore Paper Co., who founded the Junior Achievement, together with the late Theodore N. Vail, in 1919.

On March 3 presidents of the various Junior Achievement companies throughout the state will meet at dinner in Newark to make plans for a state-wide celebration during the Horace A. Moses month. According to Mr. Reach, a committee has been appointed to work out the details of a special fellowship plan for Junior Achievement members to be set up as a permanent plan in honor of the national founder. Under this plan, young people who measure up to certain standard of J. A.'s educational program will be eligible for fellowships which will assist them in furthering their education or setting up their own businesses.

Junior Achievement is a national program for older youth that started in New Jersey in the spring of 1942. It is an organization founded to teach youth the principles and purposes of the American system of free enterprise, by letting them participate in it through the medium of miniature corporations in which boys and girls themselves serve as stockholders, officers, directors and employees. It is a non-profit organization.

Kidney Stew With Dumplings Good—and Filling

One pound of kidneys, when prepared as a stew are good enough in themselves to make a person want to eat on and on and then eat some more—but since we are being conservative of points—we want that pound of kidneys to serve everyone else too—so we serve dumplings with it. Now a good dumpling is something else that can't be resisted, and the combination of the stew with the dumplings, um um—good! And very filling.

Kidney Stew
1 pound beef, veal, lamb or pork kidneys
2 tablespoons fat
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups water
1/3 cup minced onions
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Wash kidneys thoroughly. Split in halves lengthwise and remove fat and tubes. Soak in cold salted water ½ to 2 hours; rinse, drain and dry thoroughly. If kidneys are old or large, cover with cold water, bring slowly to a boil, drain and dry thoroughly. Cut kidneys in 1/4 inch slices.

Saute kidney slices in fat 3 minutes. Add flour and cook 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Add water, onions, and seasonings, and bring to simmering point. Add dumplings, cover and simmer 15 minutes. Serve immediately. Serves 5 to 6.

Cereal Dumplings
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon fat
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 egg, well beaten
2 ½ cups bran flakes
1 tablespoon minced onion
Scald milk and add fat. Remove from fire. Add salt, pepper and egg, mixing well. Crush and add flakes, then onion; mix thoroughly. Shape into 1-inch balls. Drop into simmering stew, cover and simmer 15 minutes. Make 15 dumplings.

PIKE'S PEAK

If you ever climbed Pike's Peak in Colorado, you will recall that after passing the Half Way House, the fir and pine trees are smaller and scraggly and soon you come to the timber line about 12,000 feet above sea level. Beyond this point, there are no more trees. At the high altitude the air is so cold and lean in oxygen that it isn't conducive to plant growth.

During the past few years, millions of specially selected young men who are in training for aerial warfare have spent considerable time at elevations higher than Pike's Peak (14,100 feet).

Recently a Captain who is a ground instructor in the Air Force, related an experience in a flight into the stratosphere. As he and the pilot soared higher and higher, he felt as happy as a lark. The higher they flew, the greater his pleasure. As they approached 20,000 feet elevation, the pilot motioned to him to put on his oxygen helmet and then he realized for the first time how near death he had been through oxygen starvation. The human organism lacks any device or signal to indicate that death is approaching through a deficiency of oxygen or through freezing to death.

As the invisible line between life and death is approached, there is actually a pleasing sensation.

Here is the reason why some people get pleasure from smoking. The smoke is a powerful deoxidizer and its poisonous ingredients have the property of depriving the nerve cells of oxygen causing the same oxygen starvation as high altitude.

Just as people with a weak heart topple over if they climb mountains, so more and more people are dying of heart failure due to the increasing use of cigarettes and tobacco. The first thing a wise and experienced physician will do for heart patients is to stop their use of coffee and tobacco. Intelligent people are quick to comprehend the folly of playing hide and seek with death and appreciate fresh clean air, with the maximum of oxygen and free from poisons.

What you do in overcoming the use of any tea, coffee, chocolate, colas, tobacco, liquor or drugs for which you may have acquired a habit, will be noticed by others who will admire your fortitude and self-control. When they note your good health, your clear mind and will power, they will gladly follow your example.

Remember that the apparent pleasure obtained from oxygen starvation is like a mirage. You can never reach the object of your affection and if you go far enough, you will find as thousands of others are finding that you have been the victim of a delusion and a snare.

It is very encouraging to note how many are turning around and finding a better way of life that produces assets instead of liabilities.

Thomas R. Jones Forsées Education Through Pictures

Thomas Roy Jones of 130 Hobart avenue, predicted visual education through the use of moving pictures and television in the schools of the future. Mr. Jones, who is president of American Type Founders Inc., of Elizabeth, and New Jersey chairman of the Committee for Economic Development represented industry on a panel discussion before the American Association of School Administrators at the Hotel Pennsylvania yesterday (Feb. 23).

"In planning for postwar, we must not forget the field of education. You educators may have to develop new methods of teaching to meet the demands of these postwar generations. Your planning should start now, just as industry is planning now," Mr. Jones said.

"I can vision the schools of the future employing the movies and television with centralized talent—with professional scriptwriters—with experienced producers and directors, bringing interest, drama and romance into mathematics, chemistry and languages. How could your finest school books and your finest teachers compete with Gary Cooper in the history of the founding of the country and the writing of our Constitution?"

Mr. Jones, who explained that the Committee for Economic Development was concerned with postwar employment and postwar business improvement, asked his listeners if they didn't think business could contribute something to education by helping educators study entirely new methods.

"It appears to me," he explained, "that the highly efficient vehicles of radio, motion pictures and comic strips could be utilized effectively to put across the many useful and beautiful lessons in literature, history, music and even science.

"Why isn't this influence on the juvenile mind applied in the right way? Why must these powerful and enjoyable educational forces be competitors of our school teachers? Fundamentals of curriculum, as well as proper diet and better living, could be carried home to influence the parents.

"I believe the American Association of Teachers' College is studying such a program. We of industry look to the schools to help us in our long term production and employment problems."

Mr. Jones added that the Committee for Economic Development was just a group of business men and economists, headed by Paul Hoffman of Studebaker, to get people back-to-work in private business as soon as the war is over. He explained that it is "industry's plea for postwar employment."

Ray E. Cheney, superintendent of schools of Elizabeth was chairman of the panel.

SMALL WONDER THEY'RE FLATLY FLATTERING! These baby flat-tops play up to a piled-high "pomp" or a brushed back hair-do. To be sure, they're tiny but their charm's enormous. True, their crowns are no higher than your head but, this Spring, the smartest hats don't need height to send male hearts into tailspins. If you doubt their impact, put that midget sailor to the test perched smack on top of your pompadour; check up on his pulse when you wear that ha'penny pillbox; throw him off guard with that angelic half-hat with the impish "horns" or look disarmingly candid in the level-eyed baby beret. See what we mean by "flatly flattering" in our 3rd floor Millinery Salon.

HAPPENNY PILLBOX in checked rayon surah or white pique. 12.50. Matching bag, 15.00.

MIDGET SAILORS in shiny cellophane straw with a dainty fluted brim to fan out over your pompadour. Red, black, navy, brown. 18.50.

EASTER AND THE PASSION

Six thousand years ago in Eden there was blood-letting by the first-born, of his brother—anger and jealousy the cause. A hundred or more years later there was blood-letting again—this time there being no inking of the cause.

The terrible Lamech's song,
Adah and Zillah, hear this voice of mine,
wives of Lamech, hearken to this speech of mine:
I slay a man for wounds of mine,
and a young man for bruises of mine.
If Cain takes vengeance sevenfold,
Lamech will truly seven and seventy fold!

with its cruel lack of pity and brutal boastfulness comes from primitive civilization, but it has echoed down the corridor of Time, rising and falling, rising and falling, like the tides of the ocean.

Four thousand years later there was hope that the coming of the Christ Child—the Prince of Peace—whose atonement for the world's sin through death upon the cross we are about to observe—would right all wrongs and man be enabled to live in peace one with the other, which would put an end to wars and blood-letting.

So far the teachings of Christ and His disciples have failed to accomplish what so many have prayed for so long and so fervently. The war to end all wars was a failure. The hatreds of generations, revenge, jealousies, and greed for power, position and material things blinded those who sat at the peace table, preventing the establishment of a just and lasting peace.

Lamech's wild, vengeful cry would seem to have reached its highest crescendo in this, the greatest of all wars, and if those who negotiate the peace at its conclusion do not follow Christian principles there will be another war which may be the ruin of man.

Let us hope and pray that the year 1944 will be the happiest man has known since Time began—with the war over, service men home and a peace that is worthy of man's highest ideals established.

NORMAN S. GARIS.

How Door of Hope Remained Open Topic of Address

The Presbyterian Women's Society heard Miss Edna Johnston, of the "Door of Hope" school in Shanghai, tell how the school survived the impact of war for many months.

Miss Johnston said that the school had been supported by funds from interested friends in Canada and the United States. When the war came the funds in the banks were frozen. They could get nothing from the government and nothing from the country.

There were 500 children in the school and no money.

When their hopes were at the lowest, the Chinese people themselves came to the rescue. Women would come and say they had 400 dollars laid aside for their burial, but thought the school needed it more and could have it. Others came with small amounts which had been saved for personal needs. Men brought fruit and vegetables in wheel-barrow, and the school never went hungry. "God took care of us," said Miss Johnston.

In regard to the Japanese, she said that she did not wish to add to the hate toward them; that many Japanese Christians helped them on their journey home. Those returning on the "Gripsholm" gave signed statements of their experiences to Washington and were on their way to tell the story of their trip until given leave by the government.

Miss Inez Green, home on furlough for some time from the school gave a history of its growth, and of the rescue work that it has done.

There are some wounds
no drugs can heal!

WHEN a man is hit in battle, he gets the best of care. No effort, no expense is spared to save our wounded boys:

But there are some wounds no drugs can heal . . . the wounds that come from loneliness, from being far from home . . . the wounds that come from worry . . . the wound of missing you until his heart breaks and he feels he can't go on.

There are no drugs for wounds like these—no drugs except a mother's touch. And that is where the Red Cross—your Red Cross comes in.

For the Red Cross is still the Greatest Mother in the World. All over this earth —wherever our fighting men go—the Red Cross is with them. Its Clubmobiles stand at desert crossroads. Its rest homes will be found on every front from London to Calcutta. Wherever humanly possible, its packages reach the prisoners of war in far-off camps . . . get through the barbed wire straight from your hearts . . . with fine American food, cigarettes and tobacco.

When you say "Thank God for the Red Cross" remember this . . . it is your Red Cross . . . your bandages and your blood.

Yes, and your money too!

Giving to the Red Cross has always been a great proud habit of thirty million American families . . . proud that they could give . . . proud of Red Cross that made the giving worthwhile.

Of course, you have given generously before. Of course, you will give again.

But this year, when the need is greater than ever before . . . when it's your own sons we serve . . . this year dig deep and be glad. For wherever he is

The RED CROSS is at his side and the Red Cross is YOU!

Calcium Necessary in Family Meals; Milk Chief Source

How many calcium supplying foods are on your daily menu list, asks Mary W. Armstrong, Union County Home Demonstration agent. This mineral is a food likely to be short where family meals are otherwise completely adequate. The practice of making good use of foods that are valuable nutritionally is good conservation quite as much as the avoidance of waste. Ninety-nine percent of the calcium in the body is used in building and repair of bones and teeth. The small remnant, one percent, does special jobs in the blood and nerves for the body's health and efficiency.

Milk is, of course, a chief source of calcium, and since 1934 increased milk consumption has meant a greater calcium supply. Now in wartime with fluid milk supplies somewhat limited there are still three ways to provide the calcium needed for health: First, waste no milk; second, use powdered milk, canned milk, and other milk products to supplement the fluid milk supply; third, serve calcium-rich greens.

While garden greens are not quite as rich a calcium "mine" as milk and milk products, they are a good source. Garden planners and food shoppers should note that green cabbage, green lettuce, mustard and turnip greens, broccoli, collards, and kale are high on the list of foods furnishing calcium. Head lettuce and head cabbage are not good sources, and neither are spinach, chard and a few other greens because their calcium content cannot be utilized in the body.

Remember, too, the miscellaneous food sources of calcium. These include soybeans, eggs and molasses. Soybeans, representing one of the valuable foods which people are learning to use; and molasses, an old-time food friend which needs reinstating, can be used successfully in combination. The following recipe which contains both, also uses milk and whole wheat flour, thus offering in one dish protein, carbohydrate, minerals, and vitamins. The name, "Brush," in the title comes from the family who passed the recipe on.

Brush Brown Bread
 1 c. soy bean flour
 2 c. whole wheat flour
 2 t. baking powder
 1 t. baking soda
 Mix these dry ingredients thoroughly in large bowl, or sift if using strong and not too fine a sifter.
 1 c. sorghum or New Orleans molasses
 1 c. whole milk
 Stir the mixed liquid into the mixed dry ingredients. Pour batter into a greased loaf pan. Bake in 325 degree oven for 50 minutes.

What To Do When To Do It How To Do It

Home shampooing of rugs is seldom satisfactory because shampoo preparation is usually not completely removed. Soiled floor coverings should be cleaned by a reliable cleaner, according to the method he recommended. Since with daily cleaning this job is not needed oftener than at 2-year intervals, the cost should not be considered high. Burns in rugs must be re-woven.

For special "scent" seasonings, choose from paprika, allspice, thyme, sage, mace, marjoram, savory, basil, celery salt, nutmeg, green pepper, curry powder, and caraway seed, minced parsley, vinegar, or lemon juice. Do not use too many different flavors at once. Experiment with a few favorites.

Curtains stretchers are convenient for drying straight cotton net or lace curtains. Do not use them for rayon curtains. If a curtain stretcher is used, measure the size of the curtains before washing and set the stretcher accordingly. Put curtain on stretcher while it is still wet. First, pin each corner, then center of each side, and so on around curtain. Stretch taut, but avoid overstretching any one part.

If a chair is too low, or a stool too high, for convenient kitchen work—or if baby has outgrown his high chair but is still too small for a regular chair—get four rubber-tipped doorstops and apply them carefully to the legs of an ordinary chair. You get two extra inches of height. The additions can be removed when you want a normal chair again.

Sticking drawers and sticking cabinet doors are caused by swelling of the wood due to excess humidity. Do not try to force them open or you will surely spoil the furniture. Wait until dry weather permits opening, then rub surfaces that have stuck with hard soap, paraffin or stick lubricant. If trouble occurs again, the edges that stick must be sandedpapered or planed down.

Fossil Hunting For Fun, Topic At Nature Club

"Many people have asked me 'What is a fossil?' thinking of some venerable piece of humanity as being one. They do not realize that the meaning has been reversed," began Bruno Wittkuhn in his talk to the Nature Club last week.

"Some people know what fossils are because they are interested in science and nature, while others believe that fossils are completely dead and without interest to living people," he continued. "I shall attempt to prove to you that fossils are not a dry subject."

When one goes back to the time when no traces of man can be found in the geologic layers, one is embarked indefinitely on the investigation of the history of the earth as such and of the history of life as it has developed and grown up on the planet. The remains now found are scattered through hundreds of geologic layers of different ages, made up of many types of rock, clay, sands and shale.

The age of specimens is incalculable in Mr. Wittkuhn's opinion. Fifty million or five hundred million years are equally unprovable.

Nature has been extremely prodigal in the creation of an infinite variety of life forms, each one having its own way of surviving. Some of these forms like the clams and their relatives, have survived until today, while others are completely extinct. Throughout the ages such life forms are dominant for a period, then disappear, never to show again, not even in a similar form of development in later ages.

Some of the greatest mysteries are connected with these forms of life. Many people try to construct, out of fossil remains, proof for the theory of evolution. They point for instance to the nautilus and its relative, the ammonite, the simple forms of which appear very early in the history of the earth; through a time interval of millions of years the straight shell curved and then rolled itself up into a tight spiral, which finally became "over-bred" and degenerated into open spirals with little physical strength and finally disappeared.

The man who believes that life forms were created by divine power, has only to ask the evolutionist to show him how the first life form was created. This is the great mystery. Suddenly in some geologic layers there shows up a highly complex animal which was not there before, and which cannot be traced back. Where did this form come from?

The private collector of fossils who pursues his hobby near his home, very often supplies science with enormously valuable clues which otherwise would never come to light. Many private collections are of great scientific interest and have been referred to by geologists as the main means of obtaining material for scientific studies. These collections should really be made available to universities and museums where all interested could use them.

One can collect fossils any time, any place, in quarries, clay pits, or places where roads have been cut through a hill, or any exposed rock if the formation is young enough to have traces of life in it.

It is true that fossils are dead material, but the mind can make them live again. The petrified leaf of a tree or its fruit, the bone or tooth of an animal, or fossilized coral, all tell us something of the life of that distant day, if one will study them.

If one wants a hobby which is a collection of beautiful things, fossils can satisfy this desire also, Mr. Wittkuhn went on. Nature is extremely generous in the production of beautiful forms and has done it all through the ages. Some of the fossils that have been found are of such rare beauty in color and form that an artist could not surpass them.

The recognition of fossils and their place in geology gives to this hobby a definite scientific meaning, and starts one on a long journey full of surprises and joys, he concluded.

Several collections of fossils, including Mr. Wittkuhn's and Elmore Furth's, were then shown. James B. Hawley presided. Mr. Wittkuhn was introduced by Mr. Furth, vice-president of the club.

Many Frenchmen have not been able to fight due to lack of equipment; some were even sent into battle without shoes. But the French and Americans are fighting side by side in perfect teamwork.

Whole Wheat Griddle Cakes

For some reason, Sunday morning breakfast just seems to be different from any other breakfast in the week. Most housewives serve a larger breakfast, and one definitely "better"—that is, things that appeal to the family more. Such a breakfast combination is this of whole wheat griddle cakes with sausages.

WHOLE WHEAT GRIDDLE CAKES

- 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 3 teaspoons baking powder
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 2 cups whole wheat flour
 - 1/3 cup shortening
 - 2 cups milk
 - 2 eggs, well beaten
- Sift together white flour, salt, baking powder, and sugar, and sift again. Add whole wheat flour. Cut in shortening until mixture is as fine as meal. Combine milk and eggs and pour over dry ingredients. Drop from a tablespoon on lightly greased griddle, turning when top becomes bubbly. Makes 18 griddle cakes. Divide recipe in half for 2 persons.

JUNIOR CHEFS MAKE SHOWING PREPARING TAFFY

Since most men are so wholeheartedly interested in cooking and so proud of their abilities as "amateur chefs" it is only fair to the future "chefs" to give them an early start.

Junior amateur chefs are easy to train and make a fine showing when their first attempts run along the lines of this really good

Chocolate Molasses Taffy

1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/3 cup corn syrup
2/3 cup water
1 cup molasses
2 tablespoons butter
4 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 tablespoon vanilla

Combine sugar, corn syrup, water, molasses, salt, and butter. Place over low flame and stir constantly until mixture boils. Continue boiling until a small amount of syrup becomes brittle in cold water (290° F.) stirring frequently to prevent scorching. Pour on greased platter or marble slab. Pour chocolate over candy. As candy cools on edges, fold edges toward center with spatula; add vanilla and continue folding until candy is cool enough to handle. Pull until cold. Stretch out in long rope and cut with scissors in pieces of desired size. Makes 5 dozen 1-inch pieces.—Sidney Snow.

Over 20 Groups Of Volunteers Help Workrooms

Only part of the sewing and knitting for the Refugee Relief Workrooms is actually done in the workrooms on Maple street. Over 20 groups, not only in Summit, but also out of town, have given their time to work at home. Some prefer to concentrate on one particular type of garment at a time. For example, the Presbyterian group is now working largely with warm bathrobes.

Almost every church in Summit contributes regularly through organized sewing groups that meet either weekly or monthly. Workers call for materials at the Workrooms and take them home.

There are also three or four groups up the Hudson, in places such as Milton and Marlboro, which contribute regularly.

In Short Hills a group meets weekly at the home of Mrs. Victor Armstrong. In Summit, another group meets at the home of Mrs. Kettner Gadebusch. Mrs. I. H. Woolson takes work to D.A.R. contributors in New York. The "Wednesday Group" and the "1940 Group" work largely on blankets and throws. Fair Oaks Sanatorium and the "Druid Hill Group" have also done their share.

One of the most faithful groups, organized and directed by Mrs. F. H. Fuller, has met every Thursday to make maternity dresses for Navy Relief at the special sewing room at the Workrooms. They use the sewing machines available there which any volunteer workers may use who do not have the equipment at home.

Thus, through the co-operation and hard work of scattered individuals and groups, the Refugee Relief Workrooms have been able to send out substantial shipments of clothes and blankets.

Nazi Battle Flag Sells War Bonds

A Nazi battle flag, captured in Italy and sent home as a souvenir by Pfc. Charles Buchane to his mother, Mrs. C. De Bruen, 11 Park avenue, was put on display at noon February 17 in the U. S. Hammered Piston Ring Co. plant at Stirling.

Instant indignation brought a ready response in cash sales of war bonds to help black out the Nazi emblem. The bonds as issued at the Stirling post office by Flore Romeo were pinned to the enemy's flag. By 4 o'clock, eleven extra $25.00 war bonds had been paid for and pinned to the flag—to block out the Nazi swastika. It will require 150 of the new size bonds to cover the flag completely. Buying extra bonds for cash between 12:30 noon and 4 o'clock were Elizabeth Samer of Basking Ridge, Paul Stoll of Hanover, Margaret Bolton of Morris Plains, and Joe Harmon, of Stirling, and Anna Brown, of Summit.

Wave of Disease Always Follows War Says Dr. Drescher

"A wave of disease always follows a war," said Dr. E. C. Drescher of the Portnightly Club last week. "The most effective means of combating this wave is to have an informed public," he continued. When Dr. Drescher was first out of medical school, an older doctor told him that the reason malaria was almost non-existent in this country, after its long prevalence as "shaking ague" was not because the doctors cured it, but because the public were informed of the causes of the disease and had eradicated it. The same is true of typhoid, smallpox, and to a great degree, of tuberculosis. The people must face the facts and do something about them. Today the community is confronted by another group of diseases, called the social diseases. The men who are taught to kill are not inclined to exercise great restraint in their personal lives, and the public must face a future of more license in this regard. Whether the outcome will be tragedy or a constructive program will depend absolutely on the willingness of communities to face the facts realistically or not. If we do not educate our young people to safeguard themselves we are going to be the most decadent civilized people on the face of the earth. The army figures tell the story. The men are fighting because they were drafted. They are not interested in making sacrifices for the future nor in taking on responsibilities. They are all for their impulses, went on Dr. Drescher. He said that there is no royal road to the accomplishment of the objective of eliminating venereal diseases. This is a problem we have to work on all together. The doctors can only suggest. They can promise nothing in the way of results. They can help and advise, but the answer lies in the future. Dr. Drescher said that films can be borrowed from the government for responsible groups from communities to review and to choose from for high school audiences. One of the many questions asked of Dr. Drescher was "How long will it take to stamp out venereal disease?" He answered that this question was hitting him below the belt. "That he is not sure that sex education of the young will do the job."

Says Women Have Equal Chance with Men in Radio

Helen Misko of Newark, glass analyst in the RCA radio tube factory in Harrison, thinks women and men have an equal chance to get ahead in radio—an observation based on her six years of experience in building radio tubes. Miss Misko started out as a machine operator when she first came to RCA, and progressed rapidly to her present position.

Protests Early Rising

Shortly after 8 o'clock on one of the coldest and darkest morning of the month, the Red Cross station wagon, en route from North Summit to the Roosevelt School with its daily load of day nursery children, stopped to pick up two more at a corner on Springfield avenue. One of the young students was howling apace and even the prospect of a ride was no consolation. His complaint: "That lazy sun," he sobbed, "he can stay in bed and I beat him up every morning."

Large percentage of the employees at the Harrison plant of RCA are women—largely because the work is light and requires careful hands which most women have. Production now is highly important to allied invasion, Miss Misko points out, and will continue to be important after the war. Many RCA workers are putting their earnings aside for new homes or for home necessities that will be available after the war. More women and girls are needed (full or part-time) at the RCA Harrison plant to make vital radio tubes. You can apply at the RCA employment office, Sussex and Fifth Streets, Harrison, weekdays between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Retired Lawyer Speaks on Work Of Defense Counsel

A brief talk on George Washington by Arthur Truslow opened the holiday meeting of the Old Guard on Tuesday. Samuel J. McDonald of Maplewood, the chief speaker, was introduced by Arthur Wright. Mr. McDonald, a retired lawyer, told in detail the story of his successful defense, 47 years ago, of two American sailors in Honolulu, charged first with the murder of a Jap but later with felonious assault when the victim recovered. The speaker, for many years a public prosecutor in Newark, spoke also on the human side of the defense counsel. Guests from Summit, New Providence, Chatham, Basking Ridge, Short Hills and Maplewood were present at the meeting. Letters were read from Fred Starkey of East Orange and from Ed Stearns of Arizona. Roy Baker distributed the revised roster. The day's visitors were Charles Gelin and L. T. Coykendall. At the birthday meeting on Feb. 29, Fred Mort, Summit executive official, will discuss municipal problems.

NEW PROVIDENCE Borough

Council Invites Citizens' Views On Master Plan

BOROUGH—At its March 20 meeting in Borough Hall, the Borough Council is anxious to have a large attendance of local citizens who will be willing to express their viewpoints on the Borough's Master Plan.

The Master Plan is based upon a series of studies started in 1933 by the Planning Board and other borough officials. These studies are continuing today with Mayor John W. Oakwood devoting considerable time and study to the work. The plan takes into consideration "territory immediately adjacent to the borough," and "the mutual and common interests, and the influences of each upon the other, both as to existing conditions and the best possible planning for the future."

The intention of this plan is "to supply a logical course of development, and make coordination and cooperation possible and attractive, and the principle that the planning and building of any area within the borough are largely the concern of each and every inhabitant within its bounds."

A large scale map of the Master Plan is adopted in 1940 hangs in the council chambers at Borough Hall. Citizens are urged before March 20 to visit Borough Hall and familiarize themselves with this plan. The map was drawn by William J. Kauffman, of the borough, civil engineer.

The matter of the Master Plan arose when Councilman Ellsworth Hansell raised the question of the borough's making some arrangement for numbering streets according to a definite plan. At this point, Councilman A. G. Harms, until recently a member of the Planning Board, brought up the question of council's taking some definite action toward approving the Master Plan. Councilman Frederick A. Lorertz demurred at any action Monday night because he hadn't as yet familiarized himself with the plan.

This shows an increase of $548.29 over last year's levy for taxes. Total appropriations for this year are $159,605.48 which include an item of $6,910.48 for a fire truck, an increase of $852.96.

Arthur Manser, whose hardware store is located at 431 Springfield avenue, is celebrating the start of his 37th year in business in Summit. He came here January 23, 1908, purchasing the business formerly conducted by Joseph York, Jr.

Previous to coming here Mr. Manser had lived in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. where he was in the manufacturing line, and in 1894 he went with Warren Jordan in the hardware business, remaining with him for five years. His first place of residence in Summit was at 31 Shady-side avenue. In 1917 he purchased his present home at 74 Mountain avenue. Seven years later—1924—he bought the building where he has since been located, so he has conducted his business from the same place ever since he has been in Summit. It might be mentioned that three of Mr. Manser's employees have been with him for a total of 66 years: Richard Realf, 33 years; William Realf, 21 years; Miss Margaret Drummond, 12 years.

Mr. Manser does not believe in frequent labor turnover. Mr. Manser has been active in other ways than in business. He is a member of Calvary Episcopal Church. While in Peelskill he sang in the choir of St. Peter's Church for 25 years. He joined Cortland Lodge No. 6, I.O.O.F., in which he was active; he is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and was president of its forerunner, the Summit Business Men's Association in 1926, following the late John W. Clift in office; he is a charter member of the Rotary Club, organized in 1922, and one of its past presidents; he twice was a representative to Rotary International, attending the convention in Vienna in 1931 and its session in San Francisco in 1938. Mr. Manser is also a past president of the North Jersey Hardware Association.

Mr. Manser has one daughter, Miss Ruth B. Manser, at home. She is a teacher of speech at New York University School of Education.

Dr. E. R. Allen Presides at Chemical Society Meeting

Dr. E. R. Allen of 15 Crest Acres court presided at the February 14 meeting of the North Jersey section of the American Chemical Society at the Winfield Scott Hotel, Elizabeth.

Dr. Robert W. Cairns spoke before the general meeting, talking as his topic "The Properties of Explosives." Dr. Cairns is director of the experiment station of the Hercules Powder Company, Wilmington, Del.

He said that in many respects explosives resemble fuels as both contain large amounts of stored energy which can easily be converted into useful work. A pound of an explosive only contains about one-fifth as much energy as a pound of coal but its effectiveness depends on the fact that it releases all its energy in a few milliseconds of a second. Because of the violent effects of an explosion it is difficult to study the exact nature of what happens, but Dr. Cairns has developed high speed cameras which photograph rapidly enough to study explosions in detail.

Traditions in wartime as seen by an Oldtimer

HE'S BEEN a telephone man for nearly thirty years. Time and again he's been called out to rebuild lines wrecked by wind storms, blizzards and floods—tackling the job with one thought uppermost: "Get those lines back—fast!"

Today his part in the effort to meet the wartime needs for telephone service is the testing of telephone cables, to keep them free from trouble. The men at his test bureau are responsible for over 40,000 lines which carry many thousands of calls every day.

"All through our business—and it must be the same in others"—he says, "the traditions of the job and the organization are laid right on the line when the going is tough. At such times something makes you say to yourself, 'Bill, you've got to come through!'—and somehow you do.

"It's the same with the girls at the switchboards when more calls pour in than they can handle with the equipment they've got. The old tradition, 'Get the Message Through!', helps them keep trying their hardest.

"Yes, sir!—traditions are solid rocks of support when the chips are down. It's one big reason why I know this country ours will keep its sleeves rolled up and the job there—win this war."

NEW JERSEY BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

NEW PROVIDENCE Township

Couple Defends Farm in Family Since 1740

TOWNSHIP—It's not a matter of money, the old man said quietly. "We just don't want to lose our home. Drakes have lived in this place since 1740 and we want to keep it as the home to which our grandsons will return when this war is over."

Arlington M. Drake has lived all his 77 years on the 37-acre farm his forefathers settled two centuries ago. The land has been his life and that of his children. But now Union County Park commissioners want it and have started condemnation proceedings.

Mr. Drake seemed dazed by the county's action.

"We make a living here with our farming and hogs," he said Tuesday, "and we've always kept the place in good shape. We only want to keep on doing so."

To "round out its holdings," the park commission has sought the property for three years, always meeting a stern refusal from its owner. The county's efforts lagged until last fall when the house—the century-old Drake family home—burned to the ground.

"The ashes weren't cold," Mr. Drake declared, "before representatives of the commission were here and told me that they didn't want the house rebuilt—that the county was ready to take over."

Since then the farmer has shared a trim little house on the land with son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fayette Drake, and their two children. A daughter, Mrs. Henry W. Poole and her husband also live on the farm. They have two sons in the army.

W. Richmond Tracy, of Summit, park commission secretary and engineer, contends condemnation action was launched to prevent any part of the property from falling into other hands and to bar replacement of the old homestead. So a hearing is scheduled March 3 before Judge Frank L. Cleary in Elizabeth.

"The county," Mr. Tracy said, "feels it has first call to the property and merely is acting to protect interests of the park system."

It might be possible for the Drakes to continue to occupy the farm.

But Arlington Drake is afraid of losing the family plot.

"The park commission doesn't need our farm," he said. "There are other tracts inside their area to which they don't have title, and we don't think we ought to be put off. After all it's home."

Now the Township Committee isn't happy about the action of the park commission. The committee is of the opinion that the commission has already taken "enough property" out of the tractables. While the township contemplates no action at law, it is writing a letter to the park commission expressing its displeasure.

Red Cross Plans War Fund Drive; Committee Named

TOWNSHIP—The New Providence Township unit of the American Red Cross met Monday night in the municipal building and completed plans for the Red Cross War Fund Drive to be conducted here during March. At the same time a committee organization was established for the drive. No goal was announced.

Anton C. Swenson was named chairman for the drive, while Mrs. G. Clinton Fogwell was named vice-chairman. Other committee members included Phillip Heyman, Herman Rubin, Mr. and Mrs. William Dixon, John Lager, Mrs. George May, Miss Nell Getchell, Miss Grace Moore, Clifford Shaffer, Mrs. Arthur Werner, Mrs. Fred Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Salverson, Lawrence Proesch, Leslie Sawyer, Ted Kibergren, W. A. Ingrain, Donald Bartow, Salvatore DeDuca, Charles Becker, Daniel Patterson, Edward Buckow and Mrs. Xavier Masterson.

Few Coal Problems

TOWNSHIP—Chairman of the Township Committee, George W. Robbins, Jr., who with Chief of Police Dominick Russo is acting as the township's coal committee, reports very little work has been given the committee. Chief Russo, who is the investigator for the committee has had only a few requests for his services.

Hold Hearing On 1944 Budget; Expect Adoption

TOWNSHIP—As The Herald was going to press last night, the Township Committee was holding a public hearing on its 1944 tax and appropriations' budget, passage of which was expected. Confirmation of last night's action will be found in next week's Herald.

A tax rate of $3.60 for 1944 is estimated based upon valuations of $3,273,300. This rate may vary slightly when local school, Regional High School, State and County taxes are finally apportioned.

The budget of appropriations for local purposes totals $63,830 as compared to $65,700 in 1943. Local district school taxes for 1944 show an increase of $10,621.71 over 1943 while the Regional High School tax for 1944 is $13,900 compared to $7,287.06 in 1943 or an increase of $6,612.94. County and State School taxes have been estimated at $17,800 and $7,070 respectively and are based on valuations of $2,475,300 after giving consideration to an $898,000 of adjustments in valuations.

Current tax collections for 1943 were 71.8 per cent compared to 47.1 per cent in 1942. The amount appropriated from surplus revenue is $19,300. Miscellaneous revenues are estimated at $31,800 or a decrease of $15,500 in the amount of revenue anticipated for 1943.

ABC Commissioner To Hear Charges Against Tavern

TOWNSHIP—Edith DeBisco and Michael Amodeo trading as the Sulphur Spring Tavern, Springfield avenue and Riverside drive, Berkeley Heights, have been served notice by Commissioner Alfred E. Driscoll of the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, that he will hold a hearing on a charge preferred against Mr. Amodeo at 10 a. m. on March 7 at 1060 Broad street, Newark.

The charge is that "From July 1, 1943, and prior thereto, and until December 15, 1943, you Michael Amodeo, exercised the rights and privileges of the successive plenary retail consumption licenses then being held by Anthony DeBisco for premises on Springfield avenue and Riverside drive, New Providence Township, in violation of R.S. 331-26."

The hearing will give the defendant an opportunity to be heard and to show cause why the license issued July 1, 1943, by the New Providence Township Committee to Anthony DeBisco and extended by the committee on December 29 last to Mrs. DeBisco, administratrix of the estate of Mr. DeBisco and transferred by the committee to Mrs. DeBisco and Mr. Amodeo as partners on February 2, should not be suspended or revoked.

County Official Denies Fuel Short At Bonnie Burn

TOWNSHIP—Not only has Bonnie Burn Sanatorium, New Providence Township, enough coal to last it through the season, but it has reassigned two carloads to the County Courthouse in Elizabeth, according to a statement made last week by Roy E. Carey, newly-named county superintendent of public works.

In another reply to a report that the sanatorium was facing a coal shortage, Robert H. Hamilton of the Plainfield Lumber and Supply Co., said the company had more than fulfilled its contract for coal to Bonnie Burn, and they have sufficient coal on hand to carry them through the balance of this heating season.

Public Library Over-crowded Says Miss Hill

"The Summit Public Library is the only public library on the Lackawanna that doesn't have a separate children's department," said Miss Emilie Hill, librarian, to The Summit Herald.

"The children of Summit are privileged in all other ways being well-fed, well-clad and well-housed."

"But when they go to the library, they are squeezed into one small room, and every book added squeezes them a little more. We now have three book stacks hanging out into their one room, and we have a choice of buying more books or throwing some away. Which is more important, more new books or elbow room?" she asked.

"Nothing has been added to the library building since it was built in 1911. They it was a splendid size for the population of the city, which was less than half that of today."

"Then we had room for everybody. The basement was an auditorium. All kinds of activity went on in the other rooms."

"The town grew. The library bought more books. Gradually all the activity rooms have had to be taken over for purely library purposes, especially for storage. Recently we have had to turn away groups of Girl Scouts, the Nature Club, an economics class. We don't even have a room for children to hear stories told."

"The climax came last month when we entertained the children's librarians of Northern New Jersey. We were in the embarrassing position of having to ask the YWCA to lend us a room for the meeting."

"Raymond C. Lindquist, secretary of the New Jersey Library Commission, who spoke to us at that meeting wrote us the following:

"If you can only get your new children's room, you will be able to improve your service so much. You are surely crammed full. Your library must enjoy great goodwill in Summit, and any improvements will be immediately of benefit to the people."

"Since the High School curriculum demands so much more research work, that age needs a separate room, and this leaves the smallest room we have for the use of the adult reader. All groups are crowded."

Naphtha and benzine, likewise good cleaning agents, are also combustible and explosive, and should be avoided. Merely storing these in the home is a hazard at any time. If used, stay in the open air and shun fire.

This year, when you cannot be near your sons, you will give generously and be glad that the Red Cross—your Red Cross—is still the greatest mother in the world.

This year, when the need is greater than ever before—this year you will want to

EVERY year you have given to the Red Cross . . . willingly and with a free heart. You helped us help millions of people . . . when the floods struck . . . when the earthquakes came . . . when famine devastated some far-off land. the victors, each getting 10 points. Slip Brenn with 9 points was also a factor on the attack.

Defeat By Chatham Ends Season For Summit Cagers

Summit High School's basketball team closed its most disastrous season on record, losing a one-sided game Friday night to Chatham High School on the latter's court, 46-18. In fact, Chatham has been the nemesis of Summit all season. Summit won at least one of its scheduled games with every opponent except Chatham.

Tim Sayre, lanky Chatham forward, scored enough points himself to defeat Summit, making 7 field goals and 3 foul shots for 19 points, a point more than the whole Summit team.

As has been the case all season for Summit, the only comfort derived by Coach Elwood C. Cornog was in the 29-26 victory scored by his javees over the Chatham javees. It was the eleventh win for the local javees.

Conference Title To Be Decided In Feb. 26 Game

The Suburban Conference basketball championship will be decided Saturday afternoon in a game to be played at Immaculate Conception High School, Montclair. The contestants will be Millburn High School, winners of the Southern Division of the conference, and Glen Ridge High School, winners of the Northern Division of the conference. These plans were announced yesterday by Coach Elwood C. Cornog of Summit High School, secretary of the conference.

Cornog plans to take his basketball squad to see the title game. Summit finished in the cellar of the Southern Division, contrasted to its lofty position of a year ago when the title was bagged at the expense of Glen Ridge in a play-off game at Madison.

As an added attraction to this year's title match, there will be a preliminary game starting at 2 p. m. between Madison and Caldwell High Schools, the runners-up in the Southern and Northern Divisions of the conference.

Farrell Tells Of "My Greatest Thrill in Sports"

"My greatest thrill in sports," declares Johnny Farrell of Baltusrol, former golf champion, "wasn't the last putt of eight feet against Bobby Jones in winning the National open championship. That was a thrill, but my most exciting round of golf was by the La Corca, Fla., $15,000 open tourney at Miami Beach. At the end of the third round Gene Sarazen was leading with 209, Bobby Cruickshank was second with 201 and I was third with 211. Bobby started off the last round earlier than Gene and I followed from the first tee 10 minutes after Sarazen.

"When I reached the first green a fan rushed over to tell me that Cruickshank had a 4 for 30 on the first nine. Gene also got the report and went out of the running with a 7 on the second hole. I did some thinking, deciding that if I couldn't get first prize of $5,000 I'd try hard for second money. Right there I got hot and, believe it or not, I went out every shot count in covering the hole in 30 to tie Bobby's out nine. As I was going down the 10th fairway, Cruickshank was finishing his round with 66. I had to do 35 to tie or 34 to win. Par on the back nine was 36 with a real par 5 hole—one of those greens too far to reach in two shots. I made every shot count in covering the hole in 33 for a 93 and a tournament total of 274. I won the $5,000 and $1,000 golf plate, and that was the biggest thrill of my career because the pressure was on with every move. Golf has given me great happiness and wonderful friends. I'm happy that I started as a caddy and had the opportunity to learn the game."

A SPECIAL MESSAGE TO 4,287,860 RED CROSS BLOOD DONORS

You've given your blood— can you refuse your money?

YOU have given more than money— you who have given the blood from your heart.

You have earned the right to sit back now . . . to let other people carry the load. But wait a minute. Have you?

Could you rest content if lack of funds prevented one single pint of that blood from reaching its goal, from saving a life?

Could you sleep easy if but one American boy—your own son, perhaps—should lack some comfort the Red Cross might have given him?

Would your conscience be clear if some prisoner of war failed to receive his weekly Red Cross food carton . . . his real American cigarettes or tobacco?

You know the answer . . . Of course you do! There can be only one answer!

Yes, you have a right to be proud, you of the blood-donor army.

But just because you are that kind of person—you won't rest on your oars now.

GIVE TO THE RED CROSS

This month the Red Cross must ask the people of America for funds to enable it to carry on its great work another year.

This year, the need is greater than ever before. This year we serve eleven million American fighting men all over the world—your own sons and friends and sweethearts. You will want to give more . . . to give freely to your own Red Cross . . . to your own sons in the service of their country.

So dig deep—deeper than ever before. Dig deep and be glad that you can. For wherever he is

The RED CROSS is at his side and the Red Cross is YOU!

TO: All Citizens who purchased bonds and all workers in the "Fourth War Loan Drive."

FROM: The War Finance Committee—Summit Area.

SUBJECT: Results of the campaign and our appreciation of your efforts.

At the start of the "Fourth War Loan Drive," the committee for the Summit Area was asked to raise $2,000,000. We accepted this quota cheerfully and set a goal of $2,250,000. Our record for previous campaigns was $2,340,000. During the "Fourth War Loan Drive," 6,610 individuals and corporations subscribed to a record breaking total of $2,600,000.

This patriotic out-pouring of private and corporate funds is indicative of the fighting spirit of this community. It also shows in a very tangible way, that those on the home front stand ready at all times to give their whole hearted support to our men and women in the Armed Services.

To all those who made this record possible by their purchases of bonds, and to all who cooperated so generously in sponsoring advertising and serving on committees, and particularly to those hard working men and women who made the house-to-house canvass, we extend our sincere thanks.

Alex C. Campbell Again Candidate For Sheriff

Under-Sheriff Alex C. Campbell, pledged to a continuation of the efficiency, promptness, and courtesy of recent years of the office told the Scotch Plains Republican Club Monday night that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff.

Campbell's candidacy had been expected, but the announcement to his home town club touched off a demonstration in which party workers from all sections of the county participated. Nominating petitions for the primary election, May 16, are in circulation.

"The people of Union county know of my experience," said Campbell. "They know that I regard the occupant of a public office as a servant of the people. In the years in which I have been in the sheriff's office every voter has had opportunity to observe my conduct, to decide whether I am the type needed in public positions of trust. If the people accept my candidacy, and elect me sheriff of Union county, I shall continue the efficiency, the prompt service, and the courtesy apparent in the office in recent years."

When he was appointed under-sheriff for the first time, 1935, Campbell sold the electrical contracting and hardware business that he had established in Park avenue, Scotch Plains, and devoted all his time to the new job. Three years later he was elected sheriff. Since 1941 he has been under-sheriff.

Prior to venturing into county politics, Campbell had been elected to the Scotch Plains township committee for two successive three-year terms and had been its chairman for two years. Although born in Brooklyn, he lived in Elizabeth as a child and then in Plainfield and was educated in the Plainfield schools. He was enrolled in K Company, Second New Jersey Infantry, which became F Company, 113th Infantry, 29th Division, during the First World War. For more than a year he served as a sergeant in France.

He lives at 317 Union avenue, Scotch Plains, with his wife, Rose, Frances Albert Campbell, and their son, Anthony, a high school senior already in the army air force reserve.

Appeal Made For Men to Join State Guard Unit

An appeal to men and youths living in this area to enlist in the New Jersey State Guard was made last week by Capt. Allan S. Higbie of the 11th Infantry. Capt. Higbie's statement explaining the need for such an organization stressed the point that valuable pre-induction training might thus be gained by those liable to service in the armed forces.

The New Jersey State Guard is a replacement of the old National Guard which was assimilated by the Federal forces at the start of the present war. The State Guard has picked up where the old Guard left off. Besides being an organization ready for emergency call by the Governor—which is its first and major duty—it is also fulfilling another service in making available a source of pre-military training to our youth before induction.

Since the Guard's beginnings in 1941 some of the older men, because of high pressure war production, longer hours and shift work, have found themselves unable to attend all drills regularly. The present age limit of the State Guard is 17 to 55 years. Most of the youth of today are awaiting that eighteenth anniversary which will enable them to be accepted by the armed forces of the United States. The minimum age limit of 17 allows the Guard to perform a duty for our armed forces which was not anticipated originally. In our State today it is unnecessary for anyone to face induction into the Federal forces totally unfamiliar with either Army or Navy life. It is believed that no mother or father desires to face the prospect of a son entering the service unprepared.

The training program for the Guard is furnished by both the State and Federal Government, and the Guard is annually inspected by Federal officers. Instruction gained in close, order drill, manual of arms, handling of small arm weapons and the value of squad maneuverability as practiced in the AUS is of value to those who expect to enter the service. Federal Army officers are said to be grateful when they find, among a group of inductees, some three or four men who have served at least a portion of a year in the State Guard.

Enlistment in the State Guard is for a period of one year, unless the enlistee is inducted into the Army or Navy before the expiration of this period. All uniforms, equipment and training are free to the recruit. The Guardsman's obligation is his allegiance to the Governor and the State of New Jersey, which of necessity requires his attendance at all drills. Drills are one evening a week, and through the spring, summer and fall months there are also regular maneuvers out-of-doors.

Company D of the 6th Battalion draws most of its personnel from Summit, Hillside, Union, Springfield, Millburn and Maplewood. Drills are every Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Elizabeth Armory in Magnolia avenue and recruits may be examined at this time or on Wednesday evenings.

Mail Now Open To Southern Italy Home Service News

The announcement was made on February 15 that limited mail service to Southern Italy had been resumed. People who have been unable to communicate with families or friends there, may now do so.

This service is between the United States and Sicily, Sardinia and the ten Italian provinces occupied by the United Nations forces, namely Bari, Brindise, Catanzaro, Cosenza, Lecce, Matera, Potenza, Reggio, Calabria, Salerno and Taranto.

Post cards and personal letters, not weighing more than two ounces, may be sent. The postage rates are the same as those prevailing before the service was discontinued, and all mail will be censored.

No registered or insured mail, money orders, air mail or parcel post will be accepted. Checks, drafts, securities or currency are also prohibited. It is possible, however, to send to Sicily remits for living expenses and it is hoped in the near future this last mentioned service will be extended to Southern Italy.

The Red Cross Home Service will be very glad to supply additional information about this service and to assist persons desiring to communicate with friends and relatives in these areas.

The office is located at 49 Union Place.
