Summit couple, John Walsh, 26, killed Sunday in Morrisville crash in Morrisville. Funeral held yesterday morning at 10 a. m. at St. Teresa's church. Burial at St. Teresa's.

Former Waiter Sought in Hotel Suburban Thefts

A former waiter at the Hotel Suburban has been identified as one of the gang of robbers who twice within a month held up the hotel taking a total of $3,500 in early morning robberies. The man being sought by Summit and New York City police is James Karaisky whose last known address is 190 Brown place, the Bronx.

Pre-Campaign Gifts Up 20% From Last Year

Pacing the advance gifts of the United Campaign in Summit, 124 members of boards of directors of the agencies and the key officials of the drive have, to date, turned in $8,404, an increase of 20 per cent in the general division gifts over last year for the same group of contributors. John L. Sherwood, treasurer of the Campaign, computing the results after the Red Feather party of last week, said that additional contributions were expected from this leadership section. The agency board members and leaders of the Campaign have committed themselves to 100 per cent participation before the appeal gets under way.

SOME OF THE 18,000 books that are going on sale next Wednesday are being hoisted to the second floor shelves by members of the College Club, sponsors of the sale. Committee members are at work daily at 37 Maple street where the sale will be held sorting, storing and pricing the thousands of volumes. An special sale for children will be held at 2:30 p. m. on October 9. Above, on the staircase, are Mrs. James P. Maher, Jr., of Short Hills; Mrs. John W. Cunningham, Mrs. Webster Van Winkle and Mrs. G. Polke Swanson, all of Summit. Mrs. Louis J. Perrotti of Summit and Mrs. Wadsworth W. Mount, operate the " elevator." (Chell Frantzen.)

18,000 Volumes Given to Date For Book Sale

With less than a week before the opening of the annual College Club Book Sale, the drive for books is well under way, some 18,000 volumes having been collected and donated to the sale, which is the only money-raising event for the scholarship fund. As this figure is somewhat less than at the same time last year, Mrs. Hendrik W. Bode, soliciting committee chairman, urges everyone who has books to contribute to bring them, as soon as possible to the headquarters, 97 Maple street, (Summit) the site of last year's book sale. The sale will open on October 9 at 2:30 p. m. for children's books and on October 10 at 7 p. m. for the adult's department. The sale will continue 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily through October 18.

$26,250 Allotment Approved By Council for City Buildings

An ordinance appropriating $26,250 for improvements to the Board of Health and City Hall buildings was introduced and passed on first reading by Common Council Tuesday night. The ordinance provides for an estimated issuance of $19,000 in negotiable bonds to be known as "Municipal Improvement Bonds." The other $7,250 already is in the 1951 budget; specifically $6,250 for "police department alterations," and $1,000 down payment required by law. The proposed improvements will include construction of additions, alterations and improvements on the Health Board building at 71 Summit avenue and the City Hall at 512 Springfield avenue. The appropriation includes the estimated architect's fees, engineering and inspection costs. The ordinance further specified that the interest rate on the bonds will not exceed six percent with the exact rate being determined by Common Council. Public hearing is slated for October 16 at Council Chambers. Cameron Munkittrick reported that to date 73.43 per cent of city taxes were collected as compared to 72.64 per cent for last year. During 1951 to September 1, $1,337,995.89 were collected, which was an increase of $66,910.93 over 1950. During the month of September this year the collection amounted to $21,504.66 against $21,503.86 in 1950. The total for 1951 including September is $1,409,500.85. For the same period last year the total was $1,342,589.84. It was noted by Councilman Samuel A. Smith Jr., chairman of the public relations committee on information, that only one appeal for reduction of city tax assessment was made this year. According to Mr. Smith, the requested $800 reduction was denied at a County Board hearing on September 25. Mr. Smith said "in view of a total 1950 assessed valuation in the city of $35,619,000, this single appeal is considered by the Board of Assessors to constitute a remarkable record." City Engineer Francis A. Murray reported that fees for building permits jumped from $8,887.01 for the first nine months of 1950 to $9,482.01 for the same period this year. Council approved the promotion of probationary patrolmen Richard Chudoba and Ralph Nolting to patrolmen fourth grade with a salary of $3,560 each per year. City Clerk William Gilson read a letter signed by the acting chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, F. E. Kimble, Jr., in which Mr. Kimble acknowledged receipt of a letter from Common Council "requesting corrective measures to ameliorate conditions of the operations of aircraft over Summit."

Summit Soldier, 19, Killed in Korean Fighting

Word was received last week that Edward R. Martin, 19, of this city, had been killed in action in Korea on September 1. His mother, Mrs. Robert A. Martin of 11 Essex road, was notified of her son's death last Wednesday by a Department of Defense wire. Mr. Martin, a graduate of Summit High School, Class of 1951, enlisted in the Army in August, 1950. Although he did not enter High School for his senior year he had sufficient credits for a Legislative diploma which was accepted at graduation this June by his mother. He received his basic training at Fort Dix and trained for the medical corps at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. He arrived in Korea on February 18 of this year and was at first stationed at a military hospital at Pusan. In June he was transferred to a United Nations Replacement Center where he was given combat training and was assigned to a combat regiment. Private Martin was born June 13, 1932 at Bluefield, W. Va., and came to Summit in 1947 where he entered Junior High School. He resided at 42 Russell place. He was a member of the Lincoln YMCA. The youngest of four children, he is survived by his mother, and three brothers, Robert A. Jr., James L. and Charles C., all of New York City, and a sister, Mrs. Evelyn White of Portsmouth, Va. His father died in 1943. He is also survived by several aunts and nieces.

Official Census Tally Gives City 39 Increase for Total of 17,929

Official population figures for Summit, announced last week by the Bureau of Census, places the number of residents of this city at 17,929. This represents a growth of 1,764 persons in the last decade, the 1940 census figure being 16,165. The new 1950 figure places Summit ahead of 17,129. The official figure credits this city with 39 more residents than the "unofficial" April, 1950 count. New Providence Borough lost one and New Providence Township picked up six in the official version of the tally. Accompanying statistics also show that Summit has 5,183 occupied dwelling units. In the 16 municipalities gaining since the first totals, there was an addition of 784 names. Five towns were cut down from preliminary figures for a total of 204. Summit now ranks as the ninth largest municipality in the county, being overshadowed only by Elizabeth, Plainfield, Hillside, Union, Linden, Rahway, Cranford and Westfield. New Providence Borough's population increased from 2,374 in 1940 to 3,380 and the Township showed a count of 3,466 as compared with its 1940 tally of 2,194. Union County had a 21.3 per cent increase in the same period—from a population of 328,344 in 1940 to 398,138 in 1950. New Jersey's increase was 16.2 per cent—from 4,160,165 in 1940 to 4,835,329 in 1950. According to the 1950 census, New Jersey, one of the nation's smaller states in size, ranks eighth in population. Of all the counties in the state, only one declined in population—Hudson. The largest county is Essex, with a population of 438,776, and the smallest is Sussex, 24,423. Mostly City Folks The Census Bureau lists 86.6 per cent of the state's population as "urban," as opposed to "rural." In other words, it figures there are 4,585,207 "city folks" and 640,122 in farming areas. Incidentally, New Jersey's population is more than 26 times larger than it was when the first federal census was taken in this state in 1790. Principal deductions from preliminary totals were in Cranford, down 106 in the revision, and in Westfield, down 92. Union County's increase of approximately 21 per cent was above the State average, and this county's rise, numerically, was topped only by Bergen and Essex. Ocean County, with a 50.2 gain, had the largest increase on a percentage basis. May Get Assembly Seat The census figures released today are the "official" totals, figuring in many important uses, and expected to give this county a fifth Assembly seat by 1952. On a percentage basis, the changes from the preliminary totals released last year are slight. Complete list for all county towns is as follows: The first column shows the 1950 official figure, the second column the increase or decrease from unofficial figures of April, 1950 and the third column the 1940 population. Municipality 1950 Change 1940 (Continued on page 6)

Lambert, Griffin Get GOP Posts

William Lambert, retired member of the Summit Police Department, was appointed Republican county committeeman of the second ward, eighth district. It was announced this week by Ernest S. Hieck, chairman of the Republican City Committee. Lambert, who lives at 8 Sylvan avenue, fills the unexpired term of Le Roy Russell who moved from 204 Morris avenue to 88 Tulp street. At the same time approval was given to the appointment of Bryant W. Griffin, Summit lawyer, of 35 Ridge road, as treasurer of the committee. Mr. Griffin also fills the unexpired term of Mr. Russell, who resigned the posts when he moved from the district. Mr. Lambert is now employed in the circulation department of the Summit Herald.

Nine-Year-Old Boy Stricken With Polio

A nine-year-old Summit boy, Ross Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Chambers of 118 Ashwood avenue, was stricken with polio last week and admitted to the Sister Kenny Institute at Jersey City Medical Center last Tuesday. Early this week he was reported as "past the crisis." The boy is a member of the fifth grade at Jefferson School. He is Union County's thirtieth reported case. Auxiliary Police To Meet Tuesday

Members of the Civil Defense Auxiliary Police are requested to attend a meeting to be held at 8 p. m. October 9 at Brayton School auditorium, James S. Edwards, chairman, announced this week. Plans for further police training, including traffic duty, first aid and other police functions, will be discussed by Mr. Edwards and Chief of Police Edward K. Egan. Maxwell Lester, Jr., Summit Civil Defense chairman, will also be present to address the group. Persons who are not members of the unit but are interested in joining are invited to attend.

Summit to Join In Area Blood Donor Program

Summit will participate in the National Defense Blood program. It was announced this week by the American Red Cross, Summit Chapter. Members of the board of directors of the chapter recently approved participation in the program which is being inaugurated for Northern New Jersey. Fifty-four chapters have been invited to participate. Plainfield-North Plainfield Chapter was selected as the regional center from which mobile units will go to the chapters to collect the blood. It was announced by A. Clifford Bernard, local chapter chairman. Mr. Bernard said that it is expected that a mobile unit will visit the community for collection at scheduled intervals. The blood will only be used for the defense program. A minimum of 125 pints will be collected at each visit. Plans to implement the program are being developed now with Mrs. Walter W. Schermann as chairman.

New Providence Bus Line Seeks Fare Increase

An increase in bus rates from New Providence points to Summit has been officially requested of the Public Utility Commission by Michael DeCorso of Livingston avenue, owner of the transportation company. The application originally requested that the rate increase become effective on October 15 but the PUC deferred action and has set a hearing for October 31 at Newark. The new rates will be suspended until January 15 unless the PUC can make a decision prior to that date. The increase, if and when granted, calls for a five cent increase. Routes affected are Springfield avenue from Summit to New Providence and the Mountain avenue route from Summit to Berkeley Heights. In the Springfield avenue route the fare would be increased from 15 cents to 20 cents between Summit and Union avenue. The Mountain avenue route increase would be from 20 cents to 25 cents from Summit to the Berkeley Heights stop. The application stated that present charges are "insufficient and unreasonable." Mr. DeCorso pointed out that he has suffered from an increase in operating costs, including labor, tires, gasoline and insurance and that higher fares must be put into effect.

NOTICE TO ELECTRIC CUSTOMERS

PLANNED INTERRUPTION OF SERVICE IN EASTERN SECTION OF CITY OF SUMMIT

Electric service will be interrupted in the far eastern portion of the City of Summit on Sunday, October 7, 1951, between 9:30 A.M. and about 11:00 A.M. to permit our crews to work on service facilities.

This short, scheduled interruption is required for completion, at Springfield Substation and along the circuits leading therefrom, of construction which will increase the capacity of the distribution system supplying the far eastern section of Summit by 73%.

The area to be affected is generally that portion of the City along Hobart and Mountain avenues, and east thereof. We have endeavored to notify in advance all of our customers whose premises are located in the area of the planned interruption.

This construction is part of JCP&L's current $25 Million Expansion Program to meet the growth in electric needs of users in this and other areas served.

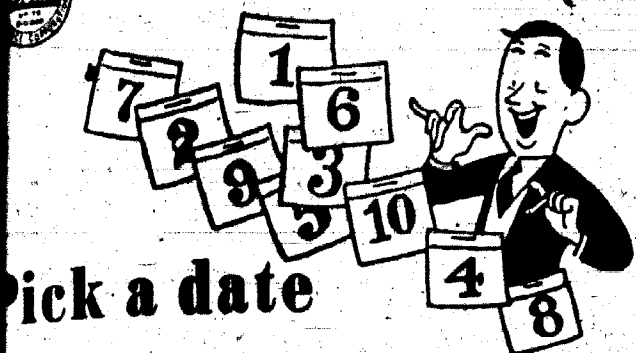

We will appreciate the patience of those affected by this necessary step to improve service to the City.

Follies Getting Wide Support, President Says

Mrs. Dean H. Travis, president of the Women's Auxiliary of Overlook Hospital, announced this week that the revue production "Follies of 1951" which is sponsoring for the benefit of the hospital's linen fund on the evenings of December 7 and 8 at the High School auditorium, is receiving excellent response from the area which the hospital serves. "With this fine support we are confident we can promise the public another good performance, and the Hospital the funds it counts upon us to produce," she stated.

Organized in 1916 by 16 women who met to sew for the hospital, the auxiliary now has a membership of over 800 women from the areas served by the hospital. Four meetings a year are held with outstanding speakers as guests. Any woman wishing to participate actively in the welfare of Overlook is eligible for membership. Auxiliary members have been responsible for providing the hospital with a whirlpool bath; decorating various rooms including the nurses' home; maintaining and staffing the gift shop and tea room; supplying volunteers for clerical work, the reception desk, blood bank, center supply, and delivery supply rooms; book cart; adult and children's gift cart; mending of linen and making of new items.

The "Follies" is the Auxiliary's sole fund-raising project for the year, the proceeds of which this year will be contributed to the hospital's linen fund. Last year's production enabled the Auxiliary to pay in full its pledge of $12,000 to the Hospital Building Fund.

Robert E. Denike, Resident 40 Years, Dies Friday

Robert E. Denike, for more than forty years a resident of Summit living in Prospect street, residing at 46 Colonial road, Short Hills, for the last six years, died in Orange Memorial Hospital on Friday last after a month's illness. He was president of Robert E. Denike Inc., electrical engineering and contracting firm of 420 Lexington avenue, New York City. Mr. Denike was born in White Plains, N. Y., son of the late Gen. Charles A. and Emma Parker Denike. He received his bachelor of science and civil engineering degrees from New York University in 1904. While at college he was manager of the football team, junior class president and a member of the track team.

Mr. Denike founded the electrical contracting firm in 1915, the firm being widely known in electrical contracting circles in New York, having had the contract for the New York University Bellevue Medical Center rehabilitation and other campus buildings. He was a trustee of the pension fund of the Joint Industrial Board of the Electrical Industry of New York, a member of the license board of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity of New York, a member of the New York Electrical Contractors Association, the University Engineering Society and Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Mr. Denike also was a member of the University Glee Club of New York, Canoe Brook Country Club for 40 years, and was a trustee and former deacon of the Central Presbyterian Church. He was chairman of the Metropolitan Inter Club of the Eastern Lawn Tennis Association. Mr. Denike was a veteran of World War I. Mr. Denike is survived by his wife, Mrs. Florence Rippe Denike; a son, Robert McCord Denike of Chatham; a daughter, Miss Margaret Dana Denike of 20 Prospect street, Summit, and two grandchildren.

Services were in the Smith & Smith (Suburban) funeral parlors, 415 Morris avenue, Springfield, on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Rev. Leonard V. Buschman, D.D., minister of the Central Presbyterian Church conducted the services. Burial was in Fair Mount Cemetery, Chatham.

Until recent times, it was a common belief that lightning hurled down thunderbolts.

A "Yes" Vote Urged

There will be three referendum questions on the General Election ballots for the Summit area this November. For the City of Summit voters only one question—that of approving or disapproving a higher fund ceiling for the County Park system needs to be voted; but for citizens of New Providence Township there will be two questions.

For voters in the entire Summit area of Union County, the matter of the Park Commission request deserves serious consideration. The Union County Park system is an outstanding one, as practically all who live here know. But it is desperately in need of additional funds for maintenance and needed improvements.

The Park Commission receives its funds from public monies, which means the pockets of the taxpayers. However, a state law sets a maximum ceiling for park maintenance appropriations. The County Freeholders have been giving the Park Commission all available money allowed under the law but since recent years it has not been enough.

The ceiling can be lifted, if voters so determine, so that the Freeholders may at their discretion legally give the Park Commission about $150,000 more in 1952 for maintenance, which is approximately one-third above the present appropriation.

Thus, a "Yes" vote on this question will permit the Park Commission to restore certain services that have had to be curtailed or eliminated and to keep the park lands and buildings at the standard of level they deserve. For example, sanitary facilities are not adequate for the number of persons using the parks; picnic sites are crowded and new ones can not be opened because of a lack of money, and a force of 19 special officers are trying to police 22 different park areas.

It should be pointed out that if the entire maximum sum of $150,000 allowed under a change of the law were granted by the Freeholders to the parks, this would only amount to a little more than 2 cents more on our present county tax rate of .764 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. The extra cost seems trifling when one considers what will be received in exchange.

Although it is a full month before the General Election, The Summit Herald strongly urges that voters fully acquaint themselves with this important matter and hopes that Summit and New Providence, both bordering the best of the park lands, vote "Yes" on this question.

Missionaries at Home

The other day, Dr. Frederick Schweitzer, president of Bloomfield College, made a startling remark—in an unusual setting—of the kind that we could do some pondering about right here in our own community.

Picture the irony of the situation: Dr. Schweitzer was addressing a large gathering of outgoing missionaries, who had gathered in his Bloomfield College for a conference on mission work. Dr. Schweitzer told this world-girdling audience... these men and women who travel thousands of miles to bring the Gospel to people of other lands.

"You are gathered here in New Jersey at a spot that happens to be the heart of the largest truly 'mission field' in the world. Within one hundred miles of Bloomfield, including the metropolitan area of New York and New Jersey, and environs live more than 26,000,000 people, the greatest concentration of human beings anywhere on the face of the earth. Half of them are churchless, men and women who are as devoid of the influence of any organized religion as the most pagan savages of middle Africa. They may consider themselves Catholics, Protestants, or Jews, yet they are not in fact and too often are not in deeds."

Suppose you apply this fifty-fifty split to our own community. The ratio is reasonably conservative; Dr. Schweitzer is not the original authority for it. Clergy of all three major faiths have lamented the fact that a full half of our population is "churchless." That division would give us about 8,000 people who are affiliated with one or another of our churches. But another 8,000 people in the category of the "churchless."

other of our churches. But another 8,000 people in the category of the "churchless."

Dr. Schweitzer, who was pastor of a church in a prosperous Philadelphia suburb until he was invited to put Bloomfield College back on its feet again, had this to say, too—

"This 'mission field' in which we live probably presents one of the most difficult challenges to organized religion. Its very conveniences, luxuries, and distractions seem to contribute to the tendency of many to stay away from church. Leaders of our churches—Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish—are not lying down on the job in this 'mission' work. Indeed, as we recognize the gallant and vital work being done by foreign missionaries, we should also take notice of the splendid work being done by our own neighborhood clergymen. But in the final reckoning, much of the 'missionary work' to recapture the churchless people on our own blocks must be done by laymen."

Where Green Is a Compliment Hartford Courant

When you call a person green you risk a black eye. When you eat fruit that is green you usually have a tummy-ache. When you say liquor is green you mean it is almost undrinkable. And when you say a friend's face looks green you imply he must be ill.

Yet green is not always that kind of an adjective. The color has a better meaning. And there are times when green is a compliment. Let us mention one such situation.

The motorist through our neighboring state to the east sees repeatedly on the highways the legend: "Keep Vermont green. After all, Vermont is noted for its Green Mountains and there is more to them than a name. Their rare and radiant beauty lies in their heads, crowned with timber; and they have therefore green tops which are the delight of the visitor. They are not all rocky, as are some similar hills. Neither have they been shaved clean by marauding lumbermen and left bare. Few of them are fire-ravaged; for somehow the foresters of Vermont seem to be able to control their conflagrations in the wooded areas.

Vermont does not object to being green. It likes it. While the color is supposed to deal with immature or hideous things, this is not the only meaning. If we say a man has lived to a green old age we intimate that his habits of life, his character and his care have combined to give him many more years than the average.

We are sure Vermont should keep green; but we mean it in the best way. We recall that it was first settled in the early years of the Eighteenth Century and that even when the American Revolution broke its population was very sparse. Its largest town were straggling villages. It was not important enough to have much part in the fighting—although its rugged mountaineers came over into New York to capture Fort Ticonderoga and to help defeat Burgoyne. Only one Revolutionary battle was fought within its boundaries—Hubbardstown. And that was unsuccessful, the British winning the contest easily.

Yet this small state refused to permit New York to swallow it, maintained for many years its independent status as a free nation, and finally succumbed to the overwhelming sentiment of the other colonies and states only after its rightful position as a constituent commonwealth was accepted.

This is the Green Mountain State. This is the state which appeals to the traveling public to "keep Vermont green." It honors the color. It puts green on a pedestal. It makes a lot of people who live elsewhere have a strange, almost inexplicable hankering for a home there, surrounded by the greenness which makes life there so lovely.

Auto Insurance

Washington (N. J.) Star

It seems to be our unfortunate experience that when something goes up everything goes up. Most recently it is the cost of automobile insurance, which already seemed high to many careful and prudent drivers.

The insurance is carried to cover the cost of fixing up cars and people who are injured in automobile accidents. Even if there were no more accidents, it would still cost more to do the fixing. Labor costs would account for much of it. Those who had to do with granting permission for the increased rates in New Jersey point out that the designs of new cars haven't helped much. Many new cars cost more than they should to repair after an accident because of styling excesses.

In thinking of higher automobile insurance rates, we must realize that most of us use our cars more than we used to. With the country living which has increased in popularity since World War II, many families are completely dependent on their cars for getting to work, shopping and jitting the children around. While mileage may not be impressive, this greater use does mean more opportunities for fender-crumpling accidents and other costs which are passed on to insurance companies.

There is no way of meeting these costs except from premiums collected from car owners.

Among the modern unsung heroes of today is the self-made man who is working his son's way through college.—Republican-Reporter, Oregon, Ill.

DEATHS

Mrs. David E. Manning

Mrs. Mary Manning died at her home in Honesdale, Pa., on Friday last after a short illness. She was 86. She was the wife of David E. Manning and had, with her husband, spent the winters in Summit for the past several years, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Margaret M. Walsh, Summit Board of Health nurse.

Mrs. Manning was born in Ciemo, Pa., but had lived in Honesdale all her life. Mr. and Mrs. Manning celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on January 15, 1950, at the home of their daughter here.

Besides her husband and Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. Manning leaves two other daughters, Mrs. Florence Siddons of 129 Summit avenue and Mrs. Ray Arthur of Carbondale, Pa.; also a grandson, Ray Arthur, Jr. of Jermy, Pa., and a great-granddaughter Dawnalee Arthur.

Services were held on Monday at the home, 268 Ridge street, Honesdale, conducted by Rev. Stanley C. Lange, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Burial was in the Bethany Cemetery, Bethany, Pa.

Miss Clara H. Porter

Miss Clara H. Porter, daughter of the late Mary Louise and John Stuart Porter, died Saturday at her home, 11 Park street, Bloomfield, after a long illness.

During her early years the family lived in Summit but later moved to Montclair. When living there she was a member of the Woman's Club of Upper Montclair and the College Woman's Club of Montclair. She was an alumna of Willson College, Chambersburg, Pa.

Miss Wilson is survived by several cousins, a niece and nephews of Summit, New York City and Albany.

Services were held in the E. P. Burroughs & Son Funeral Home, 309 Springfield avenue on Tuesday at 1:30 p.m., conducted by Rev. Harold F. Maize, assistant minister of the Central Presbyterian Church, of which church she was a member. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn.

Siren Signal Explained

Editor, Summit Herald At 4:18 this morning (Saturday), we were awakened by a siren which continued with a rising and falling blast for about three minutes. Since this signal has been widely advertised as an air-raid warning and since there is no news of anything unusual this morning, we are wondering what it signified.

If such a signal is used locally as a fire signal, the residents of Summit would disregard it if an air raid was actually experienced. We would appreciate hearing from you about this, either by letter or in the Herald.

Sincerely yours, (Mrs. I. E.) Elizabeth A. Wood 7 New England avenue Editor's Note: The siren was blown by the New Providence Borough Fire Department to signify a fire. The blasts give the box location.

Sprague Predicts Pupil Population to Double in 5 Years; Boro Growth Noted

BOROUGH—On the premise that the number of Borough school children will double in the next five years, 20 additional classrooms will be required by 1956 to maintain current educational standards. This was predicted last night by B. Sheldon Sprague, chairman of the Census Subcommittee of the Lay Committee on Education at a meeting of the Steering Committee held in Borough Hall.

The present school enrollment, he said, is 678. He pointed out that three out of every four persons now residing in the Borough moved into the community since 1945 and that seven out of every 10 children attending Lincoln School are from families who were not in the Borough prior to that year.

In the last 15 months, he said, the Borough population has increased 34 per cent bringing it to more than 4,500. He attributed the increased population to a building boom in which 366 dwelling units were constructed during 1950; and in the first seven months of this year 121 units were completed despite building restrictions. He compared these figures with those of the immediate post war years of 1946, 1947 and 1948 during which less than 40 new dwellings were erected a year.

"Because the community is rich in desirable housing sites which are yet untouched, Mr. Sprague predicted that the current rate of construction will continue for many years to come."

Noting the age distribution of adults, he said, "Of the heads of the house in the community 41 per cent are in the 25 to 35 age bracket and can be expected to have more children."

However, he added, most of the school children come from one family houses with only 10 per

Presbyterian Church School To Meet Tuesday

BOROUGH—The first quarterly meeting for the parents of children in the Presbyterian church school has been planned for Tuesday, October 9, at 8 p.m. The purpose of the conference is to develop a plan of cooperation between parents, teachers, and the church in carrying forward the Christian education of their children. A visitation team from Morris and Orange Presbyteries will be present. Three brief film strips will be shown to form the basis of discussion: (1) "Lovest Thou Me?" — for the Church as a whole; (2) "The Turning Point" — for teachers; and (3) "These Parents Promised" — for parents.

All parents and teachers, officers and members of the church are invited to this conference. Parents will have the opportunity of visiting with their children's teachers and of talking over questions with church school officers.

At the service last Sunday, Kenneth H. Bothwell, supervising principal of the Berkeley Heights School, was introduced as the new superintendent of the church school for the coming year. He said that the parents could place confidence in the school. Although the teachers are volunteers, the quality of teaching compares favorably with professional teachers. However, the support and assistance of parents is needed. The school has its three R's as well: Reading with the children from the quarterly magazines and home reading books; Religion taught in the informal relations of the home; and Respect for the value and importance of teaching Christian Faith.

He asked parents to volunteer for specific jobs in the church school, including substitute teaching and piano accompanying and spoke of the help for the work of the school through regular attendance of parents and children at the morning worship service. "I hope to see all the parents present at the church school conference on Tuesday."

Woman Narrowly Escapes Death In Fellway Fire

BOROUGH—Quick thinking on the part of neighbors and the Borough fire department probably saved a woman's life early Friday night when Mrs. Ruth Faber, 92 the Fellway, was over-come by smoke when a fire broke out in her home. The fire was the second in the Faber home within 2 months.

The blaze was discovered shortly before 7 p.m. by Edward Morrison, a neighbor residing across the street from the Faber home, who dragged his garden hose to the Faber house, broke a first floor bedroom window where the flames were concentrated, and began dousing the fire. Another neighbor, Mrs. Walter Bergman, who lives next door, put in a call to the New Providence fire department at 7 p.m. when she saw flames shooting from the window.

Smoke Fells Fireman

Firemen arrived at the fire about 7:06 p.m. and entered the house through a back door unlocked by Mr. Faber, who had just arrived home from business. Fireman John Filo was dragged out of the smoke-filled house momentarily overcome by smoke while Fire Commissioner William Sawyer and Volunteer Harry Schmitt crawled through the rooms looking for Mrs. Faber. Schmitt and Sawyer were turned back twice by the smoke but on a third try located Mrs. Faber lying face down on the bathroom floor.

She was carried outdoors where artificial respiration was applied under the direction of William D. Renner, safety director of the Schering Corp., who is also a neighbor.

In the meantime Summit firemen arrived with an inhalator after being summoned by Police Chief Harry High. Chief High later credited the efforts of Mr. Renner and the cooperation of the Summit unit with saving Mrs. Faber's life. Dr. Richard Wagner of Springfield avenue was also present, arriving before the inhalator squad.

Ambulance Fails to Arrive

Mrs. James Donley, a neighbor, stated that she called the Overlook Hospital ambulance while her husband was fighting the fire and notified the hospital of the emergency and gave explicit directions for reaching the Fellway. The call, she said, was made between 7:05 and 7:15 p.m. The hospital ambulance never arrived at the fire, the driving claiming that he was turned back by a policeman. Hospital authorities are reported to be investigating the incident.

In the absence of the Overlook ambulance, Chief High called the Township Rescue Squad by radio phone. The Rescue Unit arrived at 7:40 p.m. and took the injured woman to Overlook where it was later reported she was suffering from first degree face burns but in a satisfactory condition.

Only a month ago Mrs. Faber was rescued by two neighbors who found her in her home unconscious from smoke from a burning mattress.

Boro May Open Drive For Own Rescue Unit

BOROUGH—As an aftermath of the Fellway fire last Friday evening in which a woman narrowly escaped suffocation from smoke, the Borough may soon take action to secure its own rescue unit.

On Monday Councilman William Sawyer, acting fire chief William Spurgeon and William McNally visited the Schering Corp. plant at Union as guests of William Renner, Schering safety director, who resides at the Fellway, where they saw demonstrations of an inhalator and inspected a fresh-air type mask which allows the user to carry his own supply of oxygen at all times. Similar demonstrations are being considered for the general public of the Borough.

Fellway residents are considering a fund drive to purchase a fully-equipped ambulance and one resident is reported to have offered a $100 contribution to open the drive.

THEY'RE IN THE ARMY NOW—Summit members of September's Selective Service quota of fifty men received lunch boxes and a fond farewell from Mrs. John Blades of the Red Cross canteen service before departing for Plainfield last Tuesday where they were inducted into the Army. The local contingent included Frederick B. Gethard, Jr., David S. Moore, Henry A. Connolly, Jr., Anthony J. Gianatasio, Peter A. Hansey, John R. Jahries, Frederick J. Schneider and Joseph F. Osmulski.

Manual Training Projects Started At Columbia

BOROUGH—Projects in wood, leather, plastics and metal were started this week in the Columbia School manual training shop by boys of the upper grades.

The boys are compiling a master file of shop projects from which they may choose plans and designs for future projects. Old hobbies and magazines are being collected by the students for their reference file.

The industrial arts course is offered to boys in grades five through eight. The Columbia School shop which is conducted by David Enlee is considered by many educators to be one of the best equipped elementary school shops in the State.

Record Crowd At Country Day

BOROUGH—The fifth annual Country Day of the Presbyterian Church grossed $1,900 with net receipts estimated at $1,500, it was reported yesterday by Raymond Cobb, treasurer.

A record crowd of 2,000 attended the sales, auction and amusements with supper being served to 350 persons. Following supper, several films were shown for the children while members of the Men's Chorus entertained with glee club numbers.

Contests winners were: Bean guessing, John Banks, Jr.; cooking, contests for girls, 13 and 14; Diane Crawford, first prize, and Joyce Widman, second prize.

In the cooking contest for ages 10, 11 and 12, the first prize went to Jean Sawyer and the second to Nancy Tully. The fifth wedding anniversary prize was won by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Curtis.

United Campaign Captains to Get Briefing Tonight

BOROUGH—Area captains of the Borough United Campaign will meet tonight at 8 p.m. when President Jay Ebel will outline the general organization of the drive and the activities of each participating group.

Warren Darling, director, also will address the group. In addition, he will give each captain a campaign kit and the names of persons to be called on. These will be distributed by the captains to the workers.

In a statement made this week to the Herald, Mr. Ebel said, "The community has always exceeded its goal and we expect once again to go over the top. Last year the budget was $2,775; collections amounted to $3,120. This year we're aiming for $4,500."

In previous years, the fund drive was handled by only a few, but with the adoption of a constitution last year, the activity now is built around a central committee of representatives of each of the agencies and seven members at large.

letter; Mrs. George Sawyer, Mrs. Andrew Dotten, war services; Mrs. Carlton Fox, civic beauty; Mrs. Elmer High, horticulture; Mrs. Clifford Borden, Audubon; Mrs. William Carlin, conservation and roadside planning; Mrs. C. Dinner reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Joseph Laverty at Summit 6-6364 before October 5.

Mexico Topic Of Study for Seventh Grade

BOROUGH—Columbia School seventh graders started a social studies project on Mexico this week. The activity is a major unit in the Latin American course given to all seventh grade pupils.

Booklets describing the social, historical and cultural aspects of our southern neighbor are being prepared by the class. Requirements for the successful completion of the project booklet have been scaled to allow for the variations in the learning capacities of the group members

dent is expected to meet project "score" or requirements. Mimeographed instructions describing the various steps were given to each pupil. Lines for making puppets, rainfall and population maps were provided. Other project items include illustrations of Indian architecture, and foods, lists of Indian words and phrases, and composition about the Mexico by the Spaniards graph showing the population of present day Mexico.

Meeting on Library Agendum Set for Oct. 23

SHIP — Purchase and remodeling of Mount Carmel Hall for a public library is strongly recommended to the community being prepared by the Library Committee. Copies of the report will be available to residents within a few days so that it may be discussed at the October 23 general meeting.

Survey Findings Show Mt. Carmel As Best Choice

TOWNSHIP — An exhaustive survey of the needs, location, operating costs, furnishings and plans for a Public Library were made last spring by James E. Bryan, library consultant recommended by the State, following authorization of the Township Committee.

Mr. Bryan's report, which is printed in part below, also bears the approval of Mrs. Janet McKimley, acting head of the Bureau of Public and School Libraries of the State of New Jersey, who visited the Mount Carmel Hall site.

The need for a Township library first came before the public in 1946 and plans at that time were:

The recommendations compiled by James E. Bryan in his report and published here will be continued in the Herald next week.

formulated for the construction of a new building opposite the Township Hall. Because of high costs that plan was dropped and it was agreed to establish a library fund with the Township Committee setting aside $5,000 yearly for this purpose. The fund now stands at $25,000.

Early in 1949 the library question again arose and a suggestion was made that Mount Carmel Hall be purchased and used for a library. The committee gave tentative approval of the site and requested that the Township grant funds for a library survey and the hiring of an architect to draw preliminary plans. At the same time the Township Committee appointed a Library Committee of five residents, plus two ex-officio members as set forth by state law. The ex-officio members are required to be the chairman of the Township Committee and the school principal. Other members are:

Background, Purpose of Study
This survey was commissioned in the summer of 1950 by the Library Committee which was appointed by the Borough Council to study the library needs of the community and to recommend a program to the Township.

The purposes of this study are as follows:
A. To survey the community to ascertain the most suitable site or sites for a library.
B. To study the adaptability of Mt. Carmel Hall for library purposes, to prepare sketches on how the building would be used as a library and public meeting room space.

C. To prepare tentative costs for furnishing the same.
D. To make comparisons in the costs of adapting Mt. Carmel Hall as against the erecting of a new building to meet present and future library needs.

E. To prepare a working budget for the first year of library operation as an indication of the funds required from the Borough's current operating account to be raised from taxation.

In conjunction with the above the writer has worked with Harry Maslow, architect, who resides in the Borough, to determine the costs of remodeling the building itself and Mr. Maslow will present such costs to the Committee.

Discussion of Sites
After a thorough canvass of the community there are three sites which the writer feels can be recommended, in the following order:

- A. Adjacent to or across the street from the public school on Plainfield Avenue.
- B. As near as possible to the corner of Plainfield and Springfield Avenues.
- C. Adjacent or as near as possible to the Township Hall and railroad station in the neighborhood of Plainfield and Park Avenues.

In discussing these sites they will not be taken in the order indicated above. The corner of Springfield and Plainfield Avenues is probably more desirable from the point of view of use of adults than it is for children and young people. Adults often visit the library in conjunction with visits to stores, movies and other local business enterprises. However, attendance at stores and commercial enterprises by many residents of New Providence Township is not at this location. Much shopping is done away from New Providence, in Summit, Plainfield, Chatham and other business sections. In view of this fact and the fact that there is no immediate prospect of an increasingly used commercial and shopping center in New Providence itself, it is felt that numerically speaking more people would use a library near or adjacent to the school than they would at Springfield and Plainfield Avenues.

The site near the station and the borough hall has advantages which are more theoretical than actual. It would be convenient for those who come to the borough hall on business or who go to the station for commuting purposes to places of work. It also is but a short block from Springfield and Plainfield Avenues which is the shopping center and adequate parking is available. It should be borne in mind, however, that most people who pass this location for commuting purposes go either early in the morning or return just before dinner at night and it is unlikely that there would be much opportunity or inclination to stop at the library to select books for home reading or to do reference work in the library at those times.

The preferred site is adjacent to or across from the public school, for these reasons:
1. If there is a congregating point both for children and adults in the borough, this is that place. More residents of the borough come to or pass by this location than any other point.
2. Because of the size of the Township, the distance from home to school is great for many children, consequently many of the children are brought to school in cars by parents. Also, proximity to the school means that it is easier for children to use the library than to go to another point.
3. Adults now use the school for public meetings of various kinds, both afternoons and evenings. There are, then, many occasions when adults come to this location in addition to those when they attend school functions or stop to bring their children to and from school.
4. It is likely that the school population is the one group which will use the library most intensively.

5. Should the rapidly increasing school population, temporarily at least, preclude the use of a part of the school as the school library, the public library could to a considerable degree serve the purpose of a school library as long as this crowded condition might pertain.
6. Availability of space which could be converted to library use at Mt. Carmel Hall should be given first attention as this building, if modernized and made fire resistant, could well serve the borough as an adequate and useful library for a number of years of coming.

Recommended Plan and Cost
As indicated above, it is intended that the township give very serious consideration to the alteration of Mt. Carmel Hall for library purposes. Harry Maslow, architect and resident of the township, has drawn plans and designed an exterior for this building. As one can see quite readily from his sketches, the building proposed is very attractive and would in the estimation of the writer, not only serve a very useful purpose as a library but would also be a decided addition to the community and would solve what to the writer appears to be a problem of non-conforming use. This problem of non-conforming use, however, is not of first concern to the writer and it does not come within the purpose of the survey.

Township Name Change Will End Postmaster's Headaches
TOWNSHIP—One of the strongest supporters for changing the name of New Providence Township to Berkeley Heights, a matter that will be decided at the general election on November 6, is Postmaster Michael Nigro.

Mr. Nigro is just plain "fed up" with the confusion in his postoffice that results when Township mail finds its way first to New Providence Borough's post office and finally, days later, reaches its correct destination in the Township.

Changing the name of the community, says the Postmaster, will end this confusion and improve mail service. A specific example of this delay, he cited, was not long ago when a public bid for school supplies was sidetracked in the Borough and reached the Township school officials too late for consideration.

Little Cost Involved
When asked if the proposed name change would be costly or create any great inconveniences, Postmaster Nigro replied that to his knowledge there would be no unusual legal fees and only minor changes involving, for example, road signs and the Township identification on police cars, and Station Rescue Squad ambulance. Station changes would probably be few, as most local businesses already used "Berkeley Heights" instead of "Township of New Providence." The Board of Education, the Township Fathers, the Rescue Squad and the Civic Association are representatives of the groups that would be affected in this respect, Nigro continued, stating that new property deeds would show the proposed name, whereas deeds already in existence would stand as written.

In commenting on the background of the referendum, the Township Postmaster said the first petition circulated to obtain general reaction to the proposal was invalid as the required percentage of names included persons who had not voted in the last general election. A second petition which he stated reached approximately 75 to 80 per cent of the Township residents, was officially recognized.

Noted Artist Opens Studio In Township
TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Ruth Hutton Ancker, recently moved to Berkeley Heights from Washington, D. C., has announced the opening next week of art classes for a limited number of adults in the studio of her home at 61 Delmore avenue.

Under her maiden name of Ruth Hutton, Mrs. Ancker was one of the better-known commercial artists, her work having received wide recognition in New York, where she had her studio, and in France, where she worked frequently. Since concentrating on fine art, Mrs. Ancker has studied under the famous Oranzio Malacrelli, noted sculptor who teaches at Columbia University. Arthur Young, distinguished watercolorist, Leo Murphy, portraitist at the Cincinnati Art Academy, as well as at the Field School of the University of New Mexico Mrs. Ancker has been a member of the Art faculties of Cooper Union, New York, the University of Virginia and the University of Cincinnati.

"Portrait of Currier" by Mrs. Ancker won the award at the 1950 sculpture show in the National Museum, Washington, D. C., the first time the work of any woman has been so honored. Her sculpture as well as her paintings have been widely exhibited.

Mrs. Ancker is now accepting enrollments for classes in sculpture, ceramics and watercolor painting on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 1 to 4 p.m., commencing next Tuesday.

DAV Head Urges Check-ups by Private Doctors

Fred Thompson, commander of Chapter 30 Disabled American Veterans, yesterday urged Korean veterans, discharged from active service, to obtain complete physical examinations from their private physicians. Chapter 30 included Summit, Madison and Chatham.

"Government records are often in error," Thompson said, "and the record of a private physician may be invaluable in proving a claim for disability benefits in later years."

Urging residents to purchase U. S. defense bonds, Thompson continued, "Americans who invest in defense bonds are not only protecting their nation, but at the same time are protecting America's rehabilitation program for its wartime disabled veterans."

Benefit claims are not automatically created by the government, Thompson pointed out, but must be filed by the veterans and positively proven. The commander is available for additional advice at the chapter's headquarters, 133 North Hillside avenue, Chatham. The next meeting will be Friday at 8 p.m.

Bordens Selects Herald to Carry Big Ad Schedule

The Summit Herald has been selected by Bordens dog food department to receive a six-months advertising contract on a new, improved dog food. Contract for the 3,800 lines of advertising was presented to the Herald by Ray T. Bailey, advertising manager of Bordens Dog Food at a meeting in the Essex House, Newark, last week, attended by Bordens advertising and sales executives and Charles Emde, vice-president of the American Press Association.

Mr. Bailey and William Keaveny, merchandising manager of Bordens Dog Food outlined the advertising and promotional program and discussed phases of the merchandising operation. They explained that the paper has been selected in this area to carry the advertising campaign, largest ever for a dry dog food product, because of the outstanding record and high editorial rating.

Mr. Keaveny pointed out that Bordens has launched this ambitious advertising program to acquaint dog lovers everywhere with the new, more nutritious, all purpose dog ration, the company has developed after years of research. The new dog food has already been successfully used by dog owners all over the nation.

Has 46 Ingredients
Bordens new formula contains 46 ingredients—more than any other brand—and includes valuable nutrients from animal and vegetable sources, as well as milk and cereals. But the biggest improvement, Bailey said, is the addition of esbilac, a produce Borden originally developed in 1936 for orphan puppies. Made up of specially selected fats, carbohydrates, proteins, minerals, and vitamins, esbilac has since been fed to mother dogs from conception through whelping and nursing periods. Exclusively the fruit of Borden research, esbilac is used to fortify only Bordens Dog Food, he says.

Available in packages ranging from two to 50 pounds, Bordens' new dog food comes in two popular forms—dry meal and "chunx"—and is economical since the meal requires only the addition of water. The chunx are fed right out of the package. Bordens' nutrition scientists declare that an owner can feed an active twenty-pound dog for only nine cents per day. There is nothing wrong with feeding table scraps, Borden nutritionists explain. In fact, it's good economy to do so. But they caution that the food content of scraps varies considerably from season to season and from day to day. Therefore, they advise that owners also feed a specially prepared their dogs a well-balanced diet.

The company is selling the food on a money-back guarantee, and as a special introductory offer, is distributing at groceries coupons which are good for 15 cents toward a five-pound package.

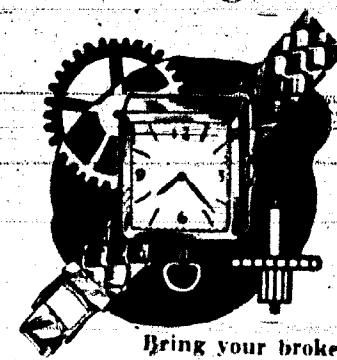

Girl Scout Family Picnic on Sunday

Girl Scouts, Brownies and prospective Brownies and their families will attend a picnic this Sunday afternoon at Seely's Pond. Families are asked to bring lunches and popicles will be served.

There will be special games for Brownies and the annual father-daughter baseball game. Mrs. LeRoy Towles is chairman of arrangements. Troop 19 and 24 will present a Scouts Own, directed by Mrs. Horace Craig.

In case of rain the picnic will be held the following Sunday, October 14.

Executives At Zurich Congress
 Dr. R. L. Mayer, head of the bacteriological division of the research Department of Ciba Pharmaceutical Products, Inc. and a resident of this city last Friday addressed some 3,000 allergy specialists assembled in Zurich, Switzerland for the six-day congress of the International Association of Allergists.
 His address, entitled "The Pharmacology of Allergic Reactions," supplemented papers on the same subject by four European colleagues, one from Paris and three from Basel, Switzerland. Thus Dr. Mayer's dissertation may be considered as a local contribution to an international pooling of information on what is regarded as one of the most important branches in the field of allergy research.

 Accompanied by Mrs. Mayer, the Ciba representative is one of two research men from that firm attending the conference. Dr. Frederick F. Yonkman of Madison, the company's director of research and chief pharmacologist, is also in Zurich.

Gets AFF Promotion

Angelo J. Faccia, of 141 Morris avenue, has been promoted to private first class and will be assigned to Chillothe Business College for Technical training in the Air Force business career field. It was announced yesterday by officials at Sampson Air Force Base. Pfc. Faccia is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Serafino Faccia.

Arthur L. Stephens

Summit Resident Ends Half Century With Prudential

Arthur L. Stephens, of this city, who rose from a $3 per-week clerk in the Prudential Insurance Co.'s home office to become director of field services for the company's ordinary agencies, retired Monday following more than 50 years of service.

More than 85 fellow employees and Prudential officials gathered at a dinner at the Marlboro Inn, Montclair, N. J., last Thursday (Sept. 27) to honor the Prudential veteran. Verbal testimonials were delivered by Sayre MacLeod, vice president in charge of the ordinary agencies department, and Charles W. Campbell, head of the Newark agency bearing his name and a long-time associate of Mr. Stephens.

Started in 1901 with Prudential since July, 1901, when he began his career in the home office as a file clerk, Mr. Stephens rose through a number of clerical positions to become manager and in 1944 was elected assistant secretary. He has held his present title since 1946.

During his half-century of service with Prudential, he was responsible for instituting many new sales programs and practices. He was one of the pioneers in "lay underwriting," a system that obviates the necessity of having company doctors pass on routine insurance applications. He also collaborated on early buying power and sales production studies and in the development of sales recruiting and training programs.

The Prudential veteran is a member of a number of professional and fraternal organizations, including Maple Lodge No. 196, F. and A. M., Maplewood. He organized and served as the first president of the Maple Craftsmen's Club.

In retirement, Mr. Stephens, whose agility and appearance belie his 65 years, expects to expand his interest in community activities and to devote considerable time to his hobbies—photography, hiking and philately.

Mr. Stephens and his wife live at 26 Locust drive. They have a daughter, Mrs. Joan S. Popke, Jr., who resides in Lansing, Mich.

Lackawanna Centennial 1851-1951

 Back in 1851, the arrival of the Spitfire was an exciting event in the lives of the people who lived along the route of the Lackawanna.
Phoebe Snow rubbed her eyes!

BACK around 1900, when the Lackawanna Railroad was winding up its first half-century, a lovely character called "Phoebe Snow" made her bow upon the scene of American folklore. In her immaculate white gown and adorned by a dainty corsage of violets, she symbolized the cleanliness of passenger travel on the Lackawanna—"the Road of Anthracite."
 Two years ago, the Lackawanna proudly put into service between New York and Buffalo, its new deluxe Diesel-powered streamliner—the PHOEBE SNOW. Aboard, on its inaugural trip, was the living lady of the part...Phoebe Snow, herself! Her eyes popped with delight as she went from one end of the train to the other. Here, indeed, was the last word in modern travel luxury.
 It's a far cry from the days of Lackawanna's first little steam engine, the Spitfire, with its old wooden bench coaches, to the comforts and conveniences of the modern PHOEBE SNOW. And it's a far cry, too, from the old-fashioned methods of handling freight to the fast, efficient and dependable service which the Lackawanna Railroad provides for today's shippers.
 We, the men and women of the Lackawanna, look back with pride to the accomplishments of the past. Now, as our railroad enters its second century, we pledge ourselves to provide even better transportation service in the years to come.

Parents' Problems

By DONALD M. MAYNARD

Adjustments

My year-old son has adjusted to the private school but I have had to adjust to public school. Friends tell me these adjustments are terrific and that he will need guidance. Should I keep him in private school?

He may even plead to be sent back to the private school. Be sympathetic and understanding, but don't yield to his plea. If, at the close of the year, he still is unhappy, assure him that you then will consider whether or not to return him to the private school.

Cutting Apron Strings

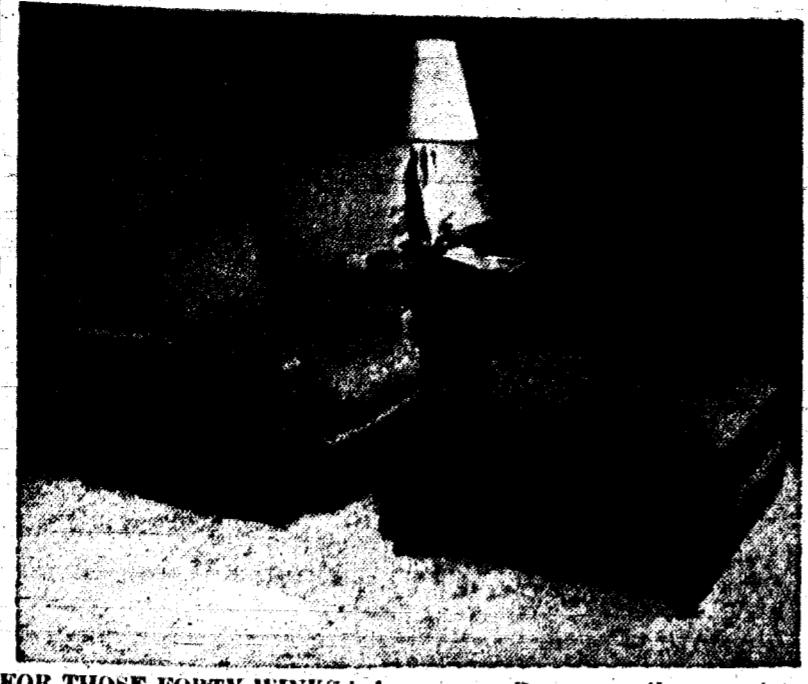

My oldest daughter is twenty-seven and the youngest is nineteen. The oldest is doing graduate work in a theological seminary... the youngest is at a great university. The ever-changing ideas of their minds, the amazing changes of their religious ideas, and their criticism of parental ideas are sources of many heartaches. Please, is there any material available that can be of help and comfort to parents of "young adults" who yet want to help them?

I wonder if your problem does not lie in the fact that, without realizing it, you have failed to cut the apron strings that have bound your daughters to you. Evidently they have decided to do the cutting themselves and since you have not as yet acquiesced to the idea that they are now grown up and have their own lives to live, you are troubled and a bit resentful.

Let me urge you, therefore, to accept the fact that you have largely fulfilled your responsibility to your daughters and that from now on they are pretty much on their own so far as their ideas and decisions are concerned. This will not be easy, I know. Neither does it mean that they will not continue to seek your judgment—at times. (Incidentally, they are much more likely to seek it if you do not offer it gratis at every opportunity.) But your clue is to treat them as adults.

A final word. Not only let your daughters think and act for themselves, but rejoice when they do so. Don't act the martyr or pout or "suffer silently" when they disagree with you. Don't argue. Tensions will be reduced and you can begin really to enjoy your daughters. Grown-up children can be fun, if we've cut the apron strings.

Does the Man in Your House Have a Favorite Chair of His Own?

FOR THOSE FORTY WINKS before supper, Pop can really appreciate this man-size chair and ottoman. Women, too, will like its clean simple lines and beautiful upholstery. The gigantic ottoman gives additional seating for television.

HERE'S ANOTHER good arrangement that makes an excellent grouping for TV (and for persons who occasionally like to rearrange furniture). Covered in a mohair and cotton dooby frieze, the pieces have been cushioned for greater comfort and will please any man who's had a tough day at the office.

Total Home Cost Can Be Cut By Proper Mortgage

The total cost of a home can be reduced considerably by paying down as much as possible and paying off the mortgage principal as fast as possible. It is pointed out by mortgage officers of lending institutions.

A total of $142 more interest is paid on each $1,000 borrowed at 4 1/2 per cent if a loan runs for 20 years instead of 15 years, for example. In the case of a $10,000 loan with a term of 20 years, total interest would amount to $3,190, whereas if the loan ran for 15 years, total interest would be $3,770.

Example of Savings
A concrete example of savings effected can be seen in this hypothetical case of the purchase of houses costing $12,500 by two different families, each of which pays $59 a month to meet the 4 1/2 per cent interest and retire the mortgage.

Family one pays down the minimum of $3,300 allowed by government credit restrictions. The $9,200 mortgage runs for 20 years and in that period, a total of $4,773 will be paid in interest.

Family two makes a down payment of $4,800 ($1,500 more than paid by family one) and the $7,700 mortgage is written for a 15-year term. At the end of that time, the $59 monthly payments will have retired the mortgage and only $2,902 paid in interest, a net saving of $1,871 over the total interest paid by family one. Not only does family two save $1,871, but will own its home free and clear five years sooner.

Pre-payments Advantageous
Even if financial circumstances do not permit a larger-than-minimum down payment, considerable savings can be effected through the years by making prepayments against the mortgage principal every time accumulated savings or a financial windfall will permit. Each dollar paid on principal reduces the total amount of interest.

Before making such pre-payments, mortgagors are advised to determine if this can be done without penalty. Many conventional mortgages (those not insured by the Federal Housing Administration) carry clauses in which penalties up to 5 per cent of the face of the mortgage are chargeable against the borrower if pre-payments are made. Loans insured by the two federal agencies permit prepayment without penalty.

Dining Room Depends On Several Factors
If a separate dining room is provided in a home, its shape and size are largely dependent on the necessary furniture and space for serving persons at the table.

At least one unbroken wall space should be provided for a sideboard and sufficient wall space elsewhere to care for extra chairs. Then, tendency has been, in small quarters, to eliminate large dining rooms in favor of dining alcoves. Often opened into the living room, they permit a varied use of the dining space, provide an effect of spaciousness and give added light and ventilation to the living area.

In many instances dining space in kitchens is appropriate, as well as dining space in living rooms.

Soap Eases Sawing
Spread your saw blade with a thin coating of soap to make it cut more easily.

CAN DO Get Your House Set for Winter

Grass-cutting, hedge-trimming and other pleasant little chores of that ilk are lost in the middle distance of this expiring year, but there are still one or two things to watch around the house.

Things like the oil burner, if your home has one. Be sure to keep the oil tank at least one-quarter full at all times, and never neglect to service a burner or stoker that is giving the slightest hint of being defective.

By this time, of course, you have installed your storm ash and storm doors, but yours might be a house that needs still additional protection. Check the doors and windows now for cold drafts. Weatherstripping, which can be purchased reasonably at your hardware store, and is easy to install, will eliminate much of the air leakage and save fuel in the bargain.

One of the normal hazards of getting through another winter is the effort called for to sit quietly in the living room during the long, cold evenings and watch the areas around the wall registers gradually turn darker as a result of the oily waste deposits from whatever heating system you have.

The dirt which is deposited on the walls in this manner is extraordinarily penetrating; generally it will go right through paint or wallpaper and fix itself into the plaster. If your walls are papered, there isn't much you can do except repaper when the time comes. If the walls are painted, however, there is at least a partial solution open to you.

Go over the soiled surface with sandpaper and then, after cleaning off the dust with a cloth dipped in turpentine, apply another coat of paint to the area. Try to brush it out at the edges where it joins the old paint as well as you can. This job won't be perfect, of course, but you may prefer it to redecorating completely at this time.

Now for preventive measures. Clean the registers and ducts so that you won't have the same trouble over again. To protect the wall still further, place a folded piece of dark mosquito netting or cheesecloth over the opening of the duct in the register. The grille will hold it in place. To prevent this cloth filter from becoming a fire hazard treat it with a chemical flame-proofing preparation which you can get at your hardware store.

Hard Work, Not Magic Changes Dark Woodwork

Some fresh cool morning when you feel particularly energetic, you may wish to start a kitchen-painting job. Questions on transforming dark dingy woodwork into a light clean looking interior have not been deterred during the recent hot weather but we suggest that the job itself wait unless it has to be done during summer vacation time. And just in case you haven't noticed the trend, natural finished woodwork for kitchens is again being featured here and there. So maybe you could clean and lighten the present finish, if it's a wood stain, with much less effort than attempting a real cover-up job.

But for you who are determined to have white or pastel enamel because you're completely weary of your old finish, we pass on some suggestions from Mrs. Doris Anderson, extension specialist. In home management on Rutgers University staff, she admits it's nothing you can toss off in an afternoon and that just thinking about it could easily make your arms ache with fatigue. But she says if your kitchen is gloomy and uninteresting because of dark stained woodwork, you need not be afraid to paint it a beautiful light color. And if you follow the correct procedures, the finished result will make the task seem worth every rub you put into it.

Sandpaper Varnish
If the surface is varnished, rub it with sandpaper so the new covering will have a good base, the New Jersey State University specialist says. Sand the surfaces with No. 2 sandpaper. But don't start painting until you have wiped the woodwork with a lintless cloth saturated in turpentine. The turpentine will remove dust and finger marks and prepare the surface for painting. Keep the turpentine cloth away from fire, as turpentine will ignite.

Apply an undercoat made by a reliable manufacturer. If the wood has been stained, you can tell at this point if it has a tendency to bleed. If the stain comes through the undercoat, wait until the undercoat is dry and then brush with a coat of thin shellac. Thin the shellac with an equal part of denatured alcohol. It may require two applications of the shellac to overcome the bleeding tendency.

When the necessary coats of shellac are dry, put on still another coat of undercoat. Then when that is dry, you can have fun applying the final finish which will make the woodwork look nicer and nicer as you go along.

Mrs. Anderson recommends enamel, which isn't so easy to apply as paint. She says it can be glossy enamel, semi-gloss interior or one which gives a finish about like an egg shell.

"To do a good job of this, flow it on," she says. Move the brush smoothly and slowly. For an extra smooth finish, add a second coat of enamel and sandpaper lightly between each coat, allowing at least two days for each coat to dry unless the instructions on the can specifically state otherwise. Then bask in the compliments of your friends.

Let Teen-Ager Help Decorate Her Own Room

It's no secret to mothers that teen-ager girls usually live in a world of their own. Smart mothers soon discover that the teen-ager's world of her own is happier and more productive when the room or her own is furnished with foresight and imagination.

An intelligently designed and decorated bedroom, in addition to making the teen-ager's life more pleasant and complete, can also help prepare her for the time when she'll have teen-agers of her own. A room that reflects her personality and is her own responsibility will help her feel that she contributes to the management and atmosphere of the home.

Here are some suggestions for achieving that end:
Let Miss Teen-Ager have a part in decorating it. Consult her when selecting paint or wallpaper. Chests, tables or chairs can be decorated with designs of her choosing, painted by her or with paper decorations pasted on and lacquered over. The room should be easy to manage, especially if the teen-ager is responsible for its maintenance. Easy to clean floor and wall materials such as clay tile will cut cleaning chores and add brightness.

There should be plenty of closet and cupboard space for orderly storage of clothing, playthings and sports equipment. Built-in seats and cabinets will allow more center space and make the room seem larger. Open shelves and counter tops are prime grime collectors. Covered with acid-resistant clay tile, they can be cleaned in a jiffy even when doused with milk, soft drinks or perfumes.

Every teen-ager reaching primping age wants a dressing table. Give yours one topped with easily-cleaned tiles she can decorate herself. Let Miss Teen-ager convert the unused radio cabinet into a storage cabinet, bookcase or record holder reflecting her own hobbies or decorating tastes. A bedroom lavatory, although not practical in every home, enables Miss Teen-ager to do all her beautifying in one spot and prevents a trail of powder and hairpins between bedroom and bath. A miniature indoor garden of flowers or plants on a moistureproof clay tile-topped window sill will create an air of gracious living.

AFTER THE RIGORS of the 5:51, Pop will welcome something like this. Created for masculine comfort, the above chair assures orthopedically correct posture. It is made in a variety of sturdy, hard wearing upholstery covers. Slight body pressure adjusts the chair to a complete horizontal position.

Personal Taste Rules Choice Of Window Drapery Fabric

To clear up a mistake frequently made, we must recognize that drapery fabrics may be woven or textured, printed or plain, solid single-colored or multicolored depending upon its particular and personal usage in a room.

Manufacturers of plain and textured fabrics are placing great emphasis on heavier, more ornate cloths and richer colors; antique satins seen both in drapery and upholstery weights; damasks—some self-toned; broadweaves; monotone tweed effects on textured cottons; jacquards with glossy satin grounds; linen-like slub effects; fallies, pebble, bark and monic fabrics for surface interest.

The woven designs have much to interest the decorative fabric-minded consumer. The newest lines still include metal ornamented fabrics; woven abstract patterns; some easily both the modern and traditional minded—plaid, stripes, geometrics and florals.

There are many influences affecting the pattern offerings—Oriental touches are seen throughout; provincials are gaining sales interest; tropical patterns for lush allover motifs; Greek motifs and themes; traditional—florals, fruits, birds—but in more stylized versions.

Failles are popular in promotional and lower-medium price range with textured cottons and cotton antique satins, leaders in the higher price ranges. Florals, despite their colorful profusion are giving way in favor of stylized versions; seersies; abstract motifs and tweedy effects.

Good Material Gives Home Durability

Purchase of a home long has been regarded as the greatest single investment the average family ever makes. Since it becomes a lifetime acquisition for most persons, modern day architects, engineers and home builders place greater stress than ever before on quality of construction and durability of the materials that go into construction.

The trend toward use of better grade materials, properly applied by skilled workers, has been further accelerated by introduction of long-term mortgage financing plans, some of which extend the amortization period for as long as 25 years. Thus, the modern home becomes an investment not only for the purchaser, but one in which mortgage holders, too, have a definite interest over a long period of years.

The inclusion of quality materials at the outset reduces the maintenance cost and preserves the value of the initial investment. Because of its resistance to rust, copper has been accepted by reliable builders as a standard requirement for flashings, gutters and downspouts for the modern home.

The slight additional cost of copper over rustable materials for this use is more than offset by the savings effected in repair expense and replacements.

Ugly Radiators May Be Hidden

Book shelves can be made to conceal ugly radiators. The shelves should be the same height as the radiators, and when possible the bookshelves should extend across an entire wall. When the radiator is at one end of the wall, a cupboard may be built at the other end for balance.

One row of books above the radiator will conceal it further. Such shelves decrease the connection of heat. Unless the heat output of the radiators without the shelves is more than sufficient to heat the room adequately, shelves should not be installed.

New Finish Gives Silver-Like Appearance

A new finish imparts a silver mirror-like finish to glass bottles, plastics and metals. It is done by a high vacuum vaporizing process. Aluminum is vaporized and plated onto any material in the tank containing objects to be coated.

Jane Kimball Becomes Bride at Church Of Ralph Thomas Hansen, Air Veteran

Miss Jane Kimball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Glenworth Kimball of 35 Locust drive, was married Saturday at 3:30 p.m. to Ralph Thomas Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben G. Hansen of Hyslop avenue, Westfield. The ceremony took place at First Baptist Church with Rev. David K. Barnwell, D.D., officiating. A reception was held at the Fort-nightly Club.

Escorted by her father, the bride had her sister, Miss Ann Kimball, as maid of honor and sole attendant. Douglas R. Hansen was his brother's best man. Ushering were another brother, Wayne G. Hansen, Donald T. Spengeman of Rego Park, L.I., Charles H. Simpson, Jr., of Westfield, and Bruce N. Brown of Elizabeth. The bride's gown of imported Chantilly lace had an illusion neckline, fitted bodice with long tight sleeves, and a bouffant skirt. A lace Juliet cap confined her nylon fingertip veil and she carried a cascade of white orchids and eucharis lilies. The maid of honor wore peacock blue tulle, made with a boat neckline, fitted bodice and very full skirt. Her Juliet cap was similar to that of the bride and she carried a cascade of flowers like the bride's bouquet.

The bride chose a black gabardine suit for the couple's plane trip to Bermuda. After October 10 they will make their home at 119A Galea drive, New Providence.

Mrs. Hansen is a graduate of Endicott Junior College, Beverly, Mass. Mr. Hansen attended Sampson College and graduated from Essex County Technical Institute. A veteran of three years in the Army Air Forces, he is employed by Sun Tool and Die Corporation at Irvington.

New Art Classes Offer Variety of Subject and Media

Three new classes in painting portraits, landscapes, life and still life in any medium for beginners as well as for advanced students and professional artists will start during the week of October 15 at the Summit Art Association's Studio at 497 Springfield avenue. On Monday evening October 15, Maurice Sievan will start a class where special emphasis will be given to color and design and creative feeling. Mr. Sievan studied at the Pratt Institute, the National Academy of Design and in Paris and also teaches at Queens College.

On Wednesday evening, October 17, Fiske Boyd starts a class where drawing and perspective as well as color and design will be stressed and individual expression encouraged. Mr. Boyd studied at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts and the Art Students League, and he is an associate member of the National Academy of Design. His woodcut, "United Nations—Modern Magic," has been chosen as this year's presentation print to the members of the Society of American Etchers. One print of this woodcut is included in an exhibition of American prints which will open soon at the American Embassy in Paris.

Thursday morning housewives are invited to join a class beginning October 18 where Mary Bayne Bugbird will teach beginners and advanced students in oil or pastel with special attention to drawing and color, shapes and complete organization and stressing the enjoyment to be found in applying oneself to painting, whether a novice or as an advanced student. Mrs. Bugbird studied at Art Students' League with George Bellows and Kenneth Hayes Miller and with Joe Jones.

A children's class will be started Saturday morning, October 13, by Lillian Bass Johnson, a graduate of the Newark School of Fine Arts, where she also has been teaching. The children are encouraged to express themselves in any medium they wish, watercolor, oil paint, pencil, pastel, crayon or clay, and papier-mache figure work. The classes consist of eight or ten two and one-half hour lessons. Further information may be had by calling Summit 6-1769.

This tea will mark the beginning of the fall activities of the Northern New Jersey Wellesley Club. Hostesses for the tea are members of the regional group of the club.

Mrs. Job Lippincott of Chatham is in charge of activities for her community. Mrs. E. W. Reeve of Summit is regional membership chairman; Mrs. Harvey E. Reed of Short Hills, acquaintanceship; Mrs. Walker, ways and means chairman; and Mrs. R. S. Nycum of Chatham is junior chairman.

Conservation Is Topic of High School Assembly

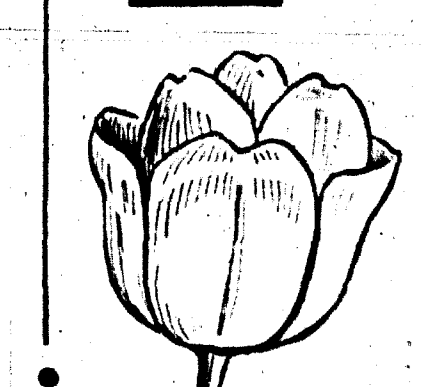

"Big Bend Adventure," a motion picture adapted to younger audiences, was shown Tuesday by Alan Cruickshank of the National Audubon Society at the regular assembly of high school and ninth grade students at the auditorium. The film and speaker were sponsored and provided by the Summit Garden Club, Mrs. Harold S. Bell, president. Arrangements were made by the conservation committee, Mrs. W. R. Tracy, chairman.

The spectacular wilderness area of Big Bend National Park, lying along the U.S.-Mexican border and the Rio Grande, was presented in color, including bird life at Brownsville where it is not unusual to make a count of 200 varieties of birds in one day. The largest bird in the country, the white pelican, was shown, as were the vermilion flycatcher, Jewick's wren, scrub jay and red-crowned and black-chinned sparrows. A rare shot of the reddish egret feeding its young was revealed.

Mr. Cruickshank made an impassioned plea for the conservation of the country's wild life, and for a stop to the senseless killing of wild creatures. Even the coyote, which is being trapped and slaughtered mercilessly, he said, will bring reprisals, as its place in keeping the balance of nature can never be replaced. It is the natural foe of pack rats and gophers and is of great value to man on that account. He warned that the duck population is too low and only wise conservation practices can keep these and many other creatures of the wilds for posterity to enjoy.

The speaker said that he spends eight months of the year in the open, as his choice of all desirable ways of life. The other four months he lectures, chiefly to present the desperate cause of conservation to audiences throughout the land. The help of nature clubs, garden groups and many other organizations is needed if the people are to keep their heritage of the national parks, he concluded.

Junior Fortnightly Plans Tea for Members and Cancer Benefit Dance

The 1951-52 season of the Junior Fortnightly Club of Summit, which is the junior membership department of the senior Fortnightly Club, will open with a membership tea to be held at 4 p.m. on Sunday at the club house. In charge of the affair will be Miss Jane Melroy, membership chairman. Assisting her will be Mrs. Richard E. Collins, social chairman, who will arrange for refreshments and decorations, and Mrs. Richard I. Garton, music chairman, who will plan the entertainment. Mrs. Nils Brandin, president of the senior club, Mrs. Carl A. Anderson, Jr., senior counselor for the juniors, Miss Anita Campagna, president of the Juniors, and Miss Pauline Matte, past-president, will pour. The major social and fund-raising event of the club year will be a semi-formal dance to be held Saturday evening, November 3 at the club house. The junior membership department of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs has pledged the cost of providing and furnishing a mobile cancer unit for educational purposes. The donation will go to the New Jersey Division of the American Cancer Society. The dance will be held for the purpose of raising money for this endeavor.

One of the chief aims of the Junior Fortnightly Club for the coming season is to increase its membership. A program attractive to new members has been planned by Mrs. Robert H. Melroy, program chairman, with the assistance of the department chairmen. Speakers for the year include Mrs. Alta Darby Hered, representative of a nationally known cosmetic firm; Miss Bernice Garrigus, American home chairman of the junior membership department of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. John A. Hall, a director of the Playhouse Association; Herbert Kamm, reporter, who will tell of his recent trip to the Near East; and Detective John Sayre, juvenile officer of the Summit Police Force.

Also planned are annual events which include a guest bridge party, a Christmas party, a workshop meeting at which time the members will prepare a Red Cross layette, a spring fashion show, an annual meeting and a banquet.

Mrs. Roland P. Beattie, 130 Mountain avenue, attended the annual fall meeting of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the USA, held last week-end in New York City.

Marilyn Straight Wed to Chemist At Central Church

Miss Marilyn Virginia Straight of 16 Dunndr drive, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Straight of Akron, O., and Anthony Bernard Conciatori of 14 Edgar street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Conciatori of Long Island City, were married Sunday afternoon at Central Presbyterian Church. The 4:30 ceremony was performed by Rev. Leonard V. Buschman, D.D., and was followed by a reception at Canary Cottage, Florham Park.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride had her sister-in-law, Mrs. Barbara Straight of Kent as her honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Miss Helen Rist Davis of Gales drive, New Providence, and the bride's cousin, Miss Mary Lynn Stringer of Kent, Mario Conti of Long Island City served as best man. Ushers were John Ferrari of Long Island City and Howard Davis of New Providence. Eugene Galanella was ring bearer. The soloist was Mrs. Jess Riley and Mrs. Nellie Gordon Blasius was at the console.

The bride's white slipper satin gown had a scalloped neckline, long sleeves and fitted bodice, the skirt gathered below the waist and terminating in a train. Her three-tiered French illusion veil was attached to a crown of orange blossoms and she carried white pompons and stephanotis with a center of orchids. The matron of honor wore an apricot gold faille off-the-shoulder gown with a stole and hoop skirt. Her headpiece was a half-Juliet cap with a plume of ostrich feathers, and she carried a heart shaped bouquet of tallman roses. The bridesmaids wore similar gowns in peacock blue and carried American Beauty roses. The bride's mother was in a purple beaded silk afternoon dress and the bridegroom's mother wore gray, also beaded. Both had orchid corsages. Beauty Hints

By Mr. Richard Master Hair Stylist, Summit, N. J. IS HOT WAVING EVER NECESSARY BETWEEN COLD WAVES?

Many salon owners feel that some kinds of hair should be given a hot wave and that a cold wave would not give good results.

Try to understand exactly what a permanent does to hair and the difference between a hot and a cold wave.

A properly produced permanent wave should soften the hair to a mild degree. The neutralizer should destroy the softening lotion. The shape and size of the finished curls will be controlled largely by the way the hair is wound.

This is the general way the hair receives its permanent whether it is performed hot, warm or cold. But there is a big difference in the effect on the hair when heat is used or not. Heat always increases the activity of a chemical, and causes more hydrolyzation of the hair, which is the type of action you do not want.

It is, of course, very possible to produce hydrolyzation even with cold wave lotions, but not nearly so likely.

If good cold wave lotions and processes are used there will be no hydrolyzation, yet it is easy to curl any kind of hair with the cold wave method, including resistant and extremely bleached hair.

A hot wave can never be quite as easy on hair as a good cold wave, so why should hot waving ever be used?

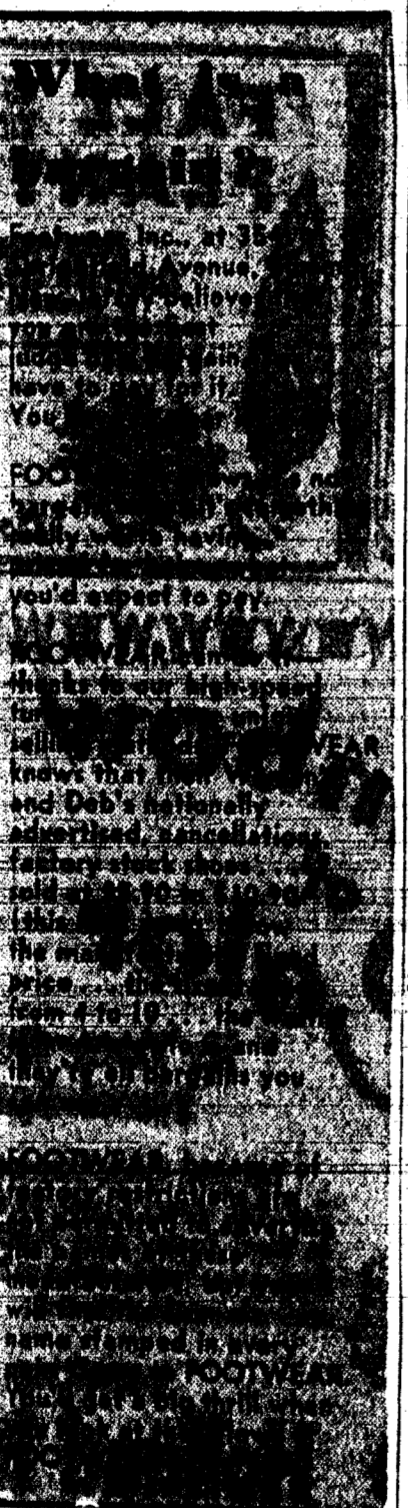

Gold waves have been given to the same model over and over again, one right after the other as fast as the last one can be removed, which requires only a matter of minutes, without any noticeable weakening of the hair. You could not do the same with hot waving.

If hair in any condition can be given a cold wave of any size without injury, what could be an excuse for hot waving? If curls are made no closer to the scalp than is done with hot waving, then cold waving will be just as fast as hot waving.

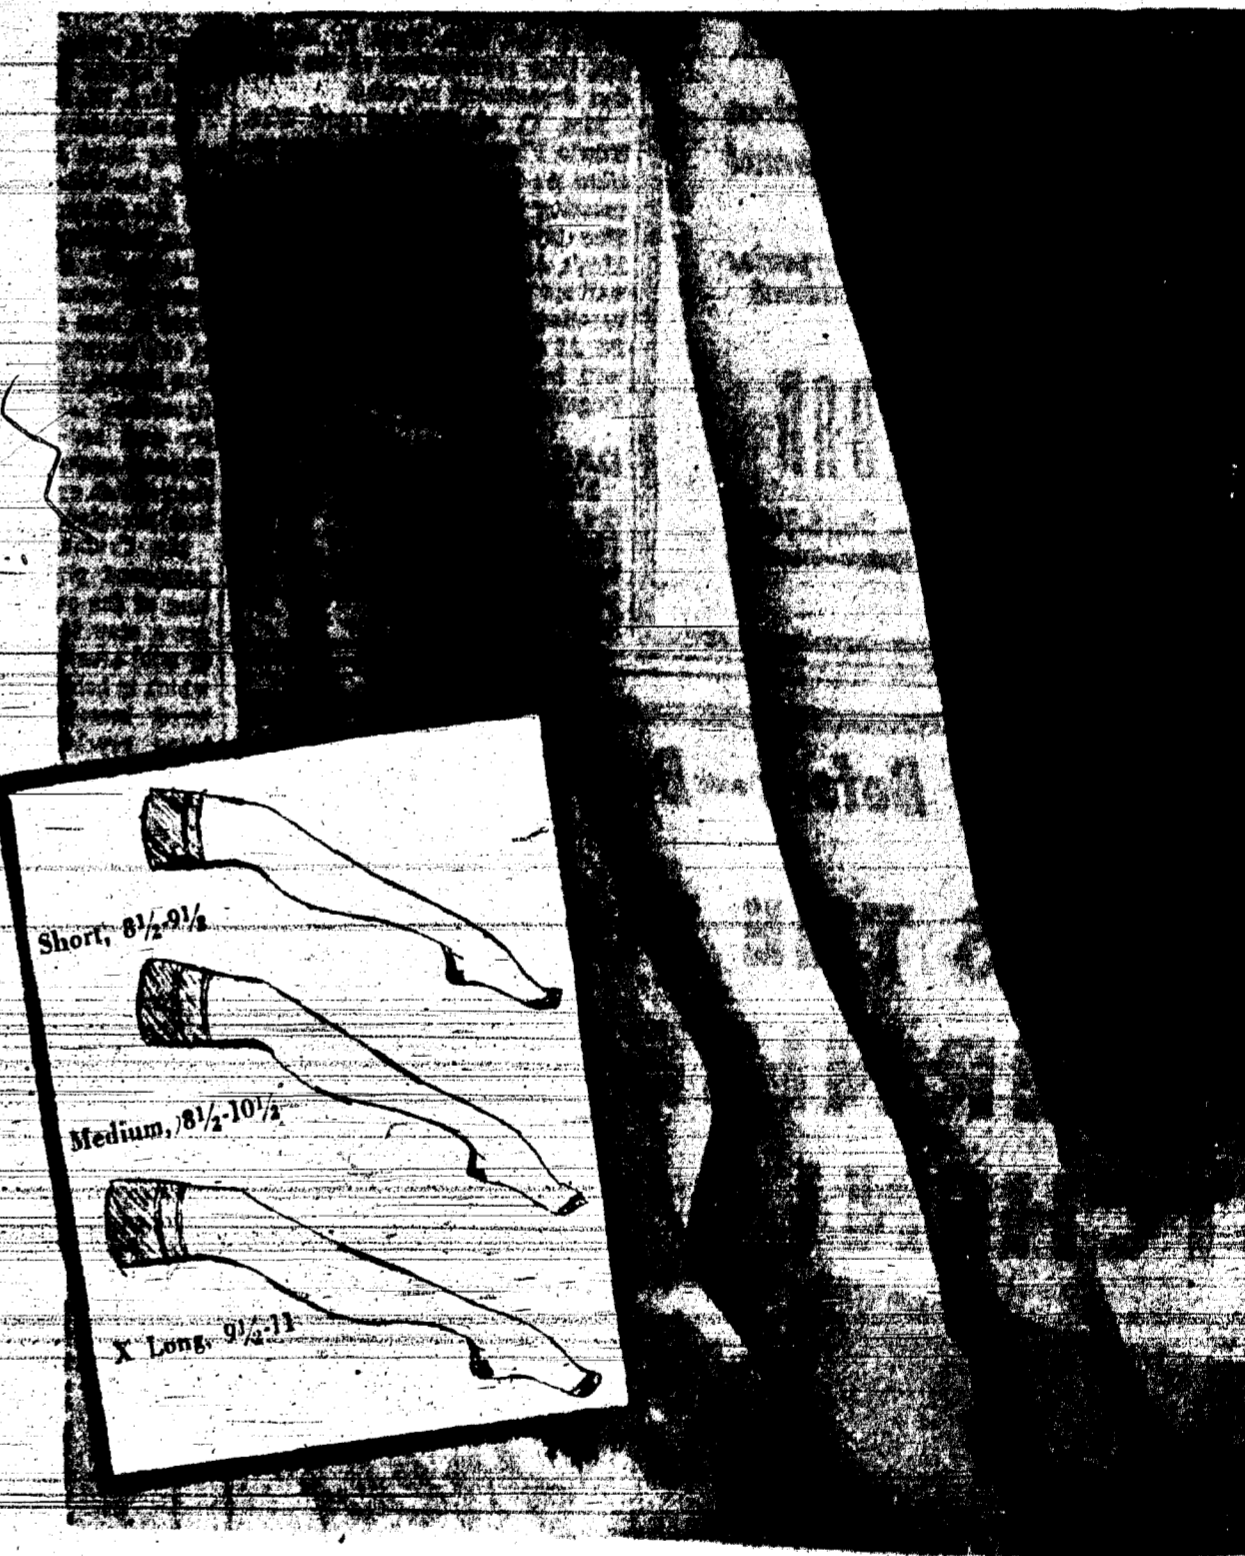

If hydrolyzed hair is what is wanted, then hot waving should be used, because the main difference between hot and cold waving is the amount of hydrolyzation of the hair.

(Hydrolyzation of hair is the conversion of good hair to a form of gelatin. This injured hair cannot be reconverted to hair.)

Father and Daughter Honored at Dinner

Miss Helen Kremer and her father, Leo Kremer, of Chatham, were honored at a dinner Sunday at the Afton Tea Room by 50 persons who were associated with them in their work for St. John's Lutheran Church. Mr. Kremer and his daughter are leaving for Florida.

Rev. W. S. Hinman, Ph.D., pastor of the church, praised Miss Kremer for her "diligent work" as a Bible school teacher, treasurer of the auxiliary and caretaker of the altar flowers. Mr. Kremer also was praised by the pastor for his service on the church council, the construction of the chancel and many other things.

The church presented the father and daughter with a silver tray and the auxiliary presented Miss Kremer with a pair of earrings.

Evelyn L. Nelson, Arnold J. Isken Married Saturday

The wedding of Miss Evelyn L. Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Nelson of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Arnold J. Isken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Isken of New York City, took place Saturday at the New Providence Methodist Church. Rev. Reece R. Hill, pastor, performed the ceremony by candlelight. A reception followed at Hotel Suburban.

Mrs. Cornelius Tanis of 11 Dogwood Lane, New Providence, was matron of honor and sole attendant for her sister, Harry Basil of Wilmington, Del., served as best man. The bride's brother, Henry Nelson of Brooklyn, and Rudolph Fiske of Hempstead, L. I., ushered. Miss Anna Woodward was the soloist and Harold L. Spicer played the organ.

The bride's white satin gown was trimmed with Alencon lace and she wore a cap of matching lace and satin to confine her fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of eucharis lilies, stephanotis and lily. The matron of honor wore apple green satin with a matching satin halo and carried a spray of gerberias. The mother of the bride was in rose colored lace and the bridegroom's mother was in black lace and chiffon. Both wore orchids.

The Couple are flying to Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, for their wedding trip. The bride wore a traveling suit of gray with white accents. They will make their home at New Castle, Del.

Mrs. Isken is a graduate of Long Island School of Nursing and the University of Kansas School of Physical Therapy. Mr. Isken, a graduate of City College of New York, attended the University of Oregon and is associated with the Howard Johnson Restaurant Chain. He served three years with the Counter Intelligence Corps.

Janet Levesque, Thomas Barber, USN, Married at Nuptial Mass Saturday

Miss Janet Aurore Levesque, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Levesque of 389 Broad street, became the bride of Thomas Joseph Barber, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barber of 9 Lewis avenue, Saturday morning at St. Teresa's Church. Rev. John A. Kelly performed the ceremony and was the celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. A reception was held at the Orchard Inn, Springfield.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin whose off-the-shoulder neckline was edged with rosepoint lace. Her long tulle veil was attached to a crown of the lace and she carried a bouquet of roses and stephanotis.

Miss Rolanda Levesque was her sister's honor attendant. Brides-

Arts and Animals Rummage Sale to Open Today

At nine o'clock this morning the doors will open on the large fund raising rummage sale given jointly by the Summit Art Association and the Animal Welfare League in two places—at 161 Springfield avenue, the vacant store next to the Strand Theatre, and at the Art Association's Studio at 497 Springfield avenue, next to the New Hampshire House restaurant.

A great variety of articles have been donated to the sale—men's, women's and children's clothing, including some fur trimmed coats in good condition; lamps, electric equipment, kitchen utensils, velvet and chintz draperies; pictures and frames in wood and in gold finish; several new large toys, fire screens and furniture, including a table and chairs hand-decorated in gold and black.

Among the items in the antique department are some examples of custard and cranberry glass and some rare china. The costume jewelry table features beads and necklaces, some in coral, bracelets and earrings in new and old designs. A wide variety of bags and gloves will be found in the accessory booth.

More aides have been chosen in the various departments. Mrs. Harry Hamilton will be assisted by Mrs. Jack Rose at the wrapping table; Mrs. George E. Watson will be in charge of women's dresses; Mrs. J. F. Zouck will be at the antique table; among those assisting will be Mrs. Paul Wianer, Mrs. Arthur Trench, Mrs. Winthrop Means, Mrs. Herbert Bugbird, Mrs. Edward Gilson, Mrs. William Phillips, Mrs. John S. Huntton, Mrs. E. C. Blaupied, Mrs. I. O. Mall and Mrs. Rachel T. Wyse.

COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SUMMIT IN THE COUNTY OF UNION, NEW JERSEY, AS FOLLOWS:
 (not less than two-thirds of all the members thereof affirmatively concurring.)

Section 1. That the City of Summit hereby authorizes the construction of additions, making alterations and improvements on the Board of Health Building located at 71 Summit Street, and City Hall, located at 512 Springfield Avenue in the City of Summit, in the County of Union, hereinafter referred to as "municipality".

Section 2. For the purpose stated in Section 1 of this ordinance there is appropriated the sum of $2,250, of which $4,250 for Police Department Alterations" is included in the 1951 budget for said purpose, and further including the sum of $1,000, down payment required by law, included in the budget of the municipality heretofore adopted and to meet said appropriations, negotiable bonds, each to be known as "Municipal Improvement Bonds" of the municipality are hereby authorized to be issued in the principal sum of $19,000, pursuant to the Local Bond Law, constituting Section 40:1-1 to 40:1-88 of the Revised Statutes of New Jersey. The said sum of $20,000, includes as part of the cost of such purpose, the sum of $2,250, as estimated to be necessary to finance all necessary architect's fees, engineering and inspection costs, in anticipation of the issuance of such negotiable notes of the municipality are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to said law.

Section 3. (a) The maximum rate of interest which any of said obligations shall bear is six per centum (6%) per annum, the exact rate to be determined by the resolution of the Common Council of said municipality, and said bonds shall be in such form and contain recitals as the Common Council may determine by resolution.

Section 4. (a) The estimated maximum amount of bonds or notes to be issued for said purpose is $19,000.

(b) The estimated maximum amount of money to be raised for said purpose from all sources is $20,000, the excess of such amount over the amount of bonds authorized in Section 2 hereof being the amount of said down payment.

Section 5. The following matters are hereby determined, declared, recited and stated:

(a) Said purpose is not a current expense and is an improvement of property which the municipality may lawfully make or acquire, no part of the cost of said purpose has been or shall be specially assessed on property specially benefited.

(b) The period of usefulness of said purpose within the limitations of Section 40:1-34 to 40:1-36 of said Law and according to the reasonable life thereof is fifteen (15) years.

(c) The supplemental debt statement required by law has been duly made and filed in the office of the Clerk of the Municipality, and a complete executed original thereof has been filed in the office of the Director of Local Government and such statement shows that the gross debt authorized in said Law is increased by $19,000, and the obligations authorized by this ordinance will be within all debt limitations prescribed and by law.

(d) The obligations of the Municipality are hereby pledged to the punctual payment of the principal and interest on said obligations, said obligations shall be direct, unlimited obligations of the Municipality and the Municipality shall be obligated to levy ad valorem taxes upon all the taxable property within the Municipality for the payment of the obligations and the interest thereon without limitation of rate or amount.

Section 7. This ordinance shall take effect twenty (20) days after the first publication thereof after final passage, as provided by law.

NOTICE

How does it feel to drive a Buick?

If you think perhaps we're hinting that it would be a good idea for you to try out a Buick - mister, you've never been so right. It does a lot of things for you and to you that will be something new in your driving experience. Take the way it feels beneath your hands on the wheel - eager and willing and anxious to please. It spurts when you want to spurt - rolls with effortless momentum when you want to cruise. When you take a curve, it snugs down to the road with sure-footed confidence. After you make a turn, the front wheels instinctively seek a straight course. This car seems to guide itself. When you come to a bumpy stretch, each separate wheel on its own coil spring steps you smoothly along on a level keel. Then there's power that surges into action at a nudge of your toe - sends your speedometer needle soaring up to any speed the law allows, in a matter of seconds. And there is also thrift - the gas-saving thrift that comes from a high-compression valve-in-head Fireball Engine found in no other car. To top all this, there is Dynaflo Drive* - that feeds power in a steady, falterless flow - lets you ride relaxed in busy traffic or on a day-long cross-country drive. We're willing to stand on the statement that no other car rides, performs or drives like a Buick. But why take our word for it? Come in - take over one of these lively lovelies - and see for yourself.

- NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:
DYNAFLOW DRIVE* • FIREBALL ENGINE
WHEEL COIL SPRINGING • DUAL VENTILATION
PUSH-BAR FOREPOINT • TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE
WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS • DREAMLINE STYLING
BODY BY FISHER
WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM.

Acme
HAS WHAT IT TAKES FOR Heavenly
Cake
WHenever YOU
Bake!

Recipe
PINEAPPLE Upside-Down CAKE

1 tablespoon Lard
Butter
1/2 cup brown sugar,
firmly packed
1 No. 2 can Ideal or
Del Monte Crushed
Pineapple, drained

1 package Gold Seal
Chiffon Cake Mix
Ideal Meringue
Cherries

Heat oven to 350° F. Melt butter in 8" x 8" x 2" pan. Sprinkle with brown sugar. Spread with pineapple. Prepare cake mix according to directions and pour over the fruit. Bake 40 to 45 minutes or until done. Remove from oven and let stand 5 minutes; loosen with spatula, invert on serving plate. Garnish with maraschino cherries. Serve slightly warm with whipped cream.
