

Boy Spared Jail Term on Drug Charge

A 16-year old local boy was given a suspended sentence to Anandale Reformatory by Judge V. William DiBuono last week at Elizabeth on a complaint of possessing barbiturates.

Before sentence was pronounced, the boy told the court that he started to drink alcoholic beverages when nine years old. Because of what the court termed his frank testimony, it was decided not to send him away.

The youth told the court that he took as many as five pep pills or "goof balls" at one time, each costing 50 cents. He said he purchased the pills from other youths in other communities.

Police have been aware of the traffic and use of goof balls among a group of local youths, chiefly in the 15 to 18-year-old bracket for some time, and for the last several weeks have been conducting an investigation. Police believe about thirty youths are involved in the goof ball ring.

"Goof balls" are usually barbiturates, most commonly tumol, meconal and nembul, and although they are classified as depressants, when taken with beer or liquor, tend to produce exhilaration. Cough syrups containing a high content of codeine can produce the same results.

The cough syrups are readily obtainable at any drug store without a prescription. The "goof balls," however, require a prescription.

Parents usually can spot the use of the drug because when it is taken in quantity and with alcohol, it produces an effect similar to intoxication.

Families Query Red Cross About Quake Victims

The emotional shockwave of last Friday's Alaskan earthquake was felt as far away as Summit, it was learned on Tuesday.

The Summit Area Chapter of the American Red Cross reported on Tuesday that the local unit had received no less than 25 requests from local residents asking for information about family and friends known to live in the disaster area. Col. Ray Tarr, executive director of the local Red Cross Chapter said local anxiety centered about 10 servicemen who are currently stationed with the armed forces in Alaska, and about 15 others who are relatives and friends of area residents.

Col. Tarr said he didn't know how many of the inquiries had been answered to date since replies from Alaska would be channeled directly to those seeking information.

One local woman was concerned about her brother and his four children who were Anchorage residents, while another area resident sought information about her son and daughter-in-law who live at Soinard, a town also hit hard by the quake. Another inquired about a brother while several sought information about friends known to live either at Anchorage or nearby.

The husband of a former Summit woman, Elmer Rasmuson of Anchorage, Alaska, and president of the National Bank of Alaska, survived last Friday's earthquake but lost his home.

According to reports this week in the New York Times, Mr. Rasmuson is busily engaged as a member of a rehabilitation and reconstruction commission to expedite financial assistance.

Mr. Rasmuson's brother-in-law, Robert B. Atwood, publisher of the Anchorage Daily Times, also lost his home.

Mr. Rasmuson was married to the former Lile Bernard, daughter of Mrs. A. Clifford Bernard of 174 Summit avenue and the late Mr. Bernard. He was a frequent visitor in Summit and his two daughters both attended Kent Place School. One graduated last year and the other in 1962.

Last year Mr. Rasmuson contributed funds to Christ Church for the renovation and remodeling of a church room which has been renamed Lile Hall in memory of his former wife.

Ticket Threat Made Without Herald Consent

A notice appearing on courtesy parking tickets now being affixed to cars which states that "names and addresses of those who receive five or more warning tickets during a calendar month will be printed in the local newspaper" has been made without the permission or the knowledge of The Summit Herald.

A few weeks ago the Herald was asked by the Chamber of Commerce to print such lists and refused to do so because the warning ticket program has no legal status and offenders are not subject to police enforcement. Publication of names therefore would be a violation of privacy.

Despite the fact that the Chamber was notified of this decision by the Herald, that organization proceeded to print the name publication warning on its courtesy tickets.

The Herald will not print such names, either as news or paid advertising.

Vatican Council To Be Discussed At Athenaeum

A Catholic-Protestant discussion on the impact of the Vatican Council on the world will be presented at the final meeting of Athenaeum for this season next Thursday, April 9, at 8:15 p.m. at the senior high school.

The discussion will be made by Rev. Henry P. VanDusen, D.D., president emeritus and Lamont professor of Christian theology at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, and Rev. George B. Ford, for 16 years counselor to Catholic students at Columbia University and for 23 years pastor of Corpus Christi Church adjacent to the Columbia campus, and now retired.

Dr. VanDusen is a graduate of Princeton, Edinburgh University and holds honorary degrees from Amherst, NYU, Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, Colgate, Bates and many other colleges. He is the author of numerous books and articles on religion and has traveled extensively throughout the world.

Father Ford studied at Fordham University and Dunwoody Seminary and spent five years in the army during which he helped establish the first peace-time school for Army chaplains.

He retired from the ministry in 1958 but his present activities include American vice president of Council for Religion and International Affairs vice president of Greater New York Council for Foreign Students, and directorships of Freedom House, Group Health Insurance Plan, Association of Middle Income Housing and Morningstar Heights, Inc., a central agency coordinating the social and area betterment of 14 institutions in the Columbia region of New York City.

Summit Man Write-in Foe Of Shanley

A 41-year-old Summit insurance executive who resents the "closed door" aspect of the GOP primary election for U.S. Senator this week announced that he is a write-in candidate to oppose Bernard M. Shanley in the April 21 balloting.

He is Thomas R. Kolarich, of 33 Wade Drive, sales manager for a national insurance company located at East Orange and a graduate of Hobart College.

A World War 2 Navy veteran, Kolarich said he is making his first bid for political office because he feels New Jersey's Republicans have been given no choice in the selection of a candidate for U. S. Senate.

"A small group of so-called Republican leaders chose a candidate who might go to the polls unchallenged if I did not decide to enter the contest," Kolarich said. "I feel the Republican voters of New Jersey deserve the opportunity to review the candidates, to demand to know what each thinks and what he plans to do. An election without a contest is no election. I plan to make our primary election a real one."

Shanley, a Newark lawyer and a former White House staff aide in the Eisenhower administration for a brief period, is unopposed on the ballot. He was designated as the GOP choice last month at a caucus of party leaders.

Kolarich said the New Hampshire primary election where Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge scored a smashing victory with write-in votes "shows that our voters are mature and interested enough to write in the name of a candidate if they believe in him."

Youth Receives Indefinite Term For Car Assault

Kenneth J. Manley, 19, former resident of Summit and New Providence, was sentenced last Wednesday to an indeterminate term in the New Jersey Reformatory for Males for repeatedly running over an 18-year-old Springfield girl with her own car in the playground of Lincoln school.

Manley, convicted of atrocious assault and battery March 4 by a Union County Court jury, was sentenced by Union County Judge Chester A. Weidenburner, who called the facts of the case "extremely unpleasant."

Judge Weidenburner, who gave Manley credit for 239 days he already has served in the county jail, said the July 30 assault on Miss Lynne Sellinger of Springfield, was "extremely vicious and persistent."

"That the victim didn't die is a blessing — something of good fortune for you. You're fortunate you're not standing here charged with a homicide," the judge told Manley, whose last address was 308 E. 91st St., New York City.

Judge Weidenburner, noting that Manley had a long juvenile record, warned him he can resign himself to spending the rest of his life in jail or "terminating it at the hands of the law" if he fails to take advantage of counseling he will receive at the reformatory.

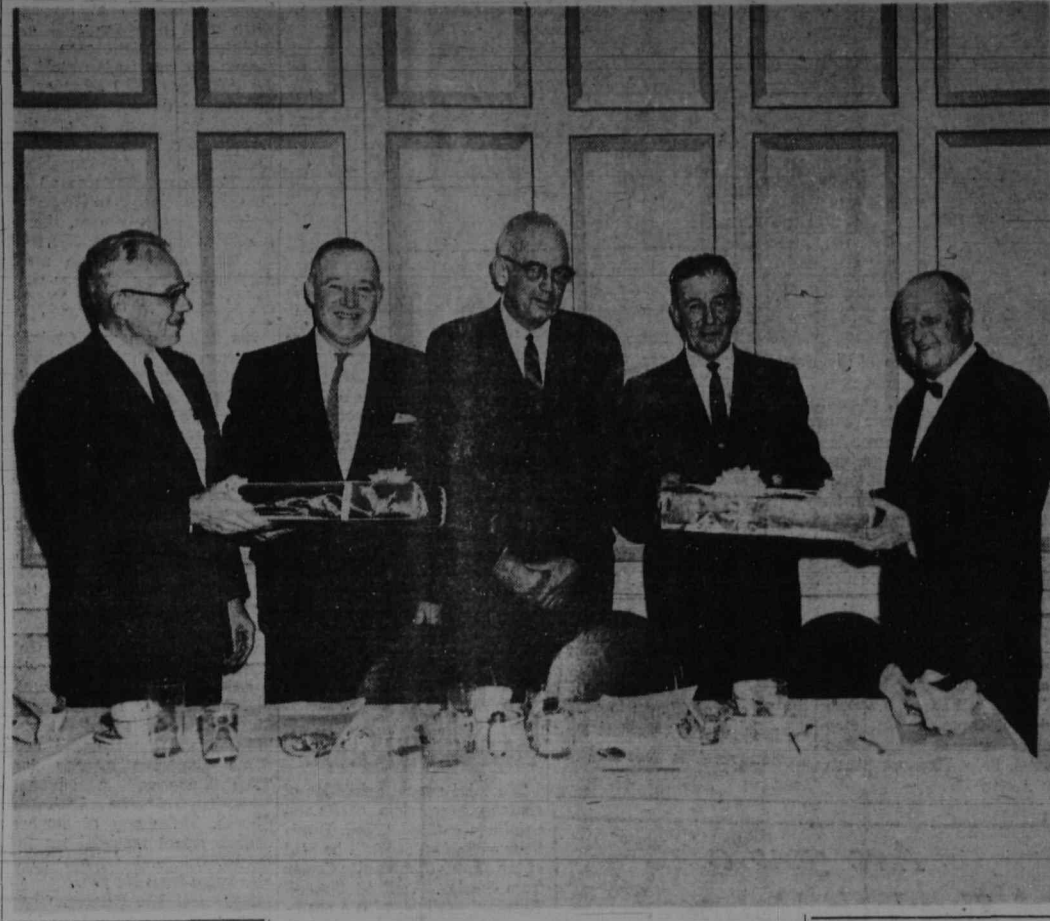

During the trial, Miss Sellinger testified that Manley, who was a passenger in her car, seized the car keys and turned off the engine as she was making a turn in the playground area of the Lincoln School.

She said she then argued with Manley and that he dragged her from the vehicle, hit her in the face and knocked her to the ground.

Miss Sellinger said Manley choked her and told her he intended to kill her. She then lost consciousness, she said.

Garvick Ridings, whose property adjoined the school yard, saw a car driving back and forth over a "white object" and called police, who discovered Miss Sellinger lying near a wheel of her car. She had suffered fractures of the spine and pelvis as well as serious cuts and bruises of the face and body.

Asst. Prosecutor S. David Levy represented the state during the sentencing. J. Roger Conant of Elizabeth appeared for Manley.

Caution Urged As Brush Fire Season Arrives

Bitter memories of last spring, when the city was plagued with a record number of brush fires, were resurrected this week when the Fire Department urged local residents to use extreme caution this year in burning outdoor refuse and debris.

According to Chief Charles Eakley, the Fire Department answered over 200 brush fire calls during April and May of last year. This year, although the season is still quite young, 15 calls have already been received, and with warmer weather approaching, that number is expected to be doubled very shortly.

Although last year's string of brush fires created little damage, the danger of a blaze spreading to a house or garage is all too real, Chief Eakley said. Brush fires so far this year have caused no damage.

With the outdoor season coming up shortly and gardens and yards scheduled for a general cleanup of winter debris, the danger of fire damage increases sharply at this time of year, Chief Eakley said.

He urged gardeners to use extreme caution when burning debris by not building a fire too close to the house or garage. Burning should never take place on a windy day, and a fire should never be left unattended.

The Chief pointed out that a permit must be obtained from Fire Headquarters before any outdoor debris is burned. He urged, if possible, that such refuse be burned in a confined container so that the possibility of the fire spreading is reduced.

Fires can be controlled by not burning too much at one time. In this way, the flames will be kept to a minimum height and the danger of the fire becoming out of control is lessened. Too many times, Chief Eakley said, a property owner will rake up a huge mound of leaves, twigs and other flammable material and put a match to it only to find that controlling the flames becomes a major problem. Controlling such a fire is difficult and the danger of it spreading to the house or garage, where gasoline or other explosives are stored, increases.

Fires should not be built in the street or on a lawn since extreme heat can damage grass. Fire should be started well away from the house or garage and on bare soil.

PAL Sets Date for Annual Fishing Party

The ninth annual PAL fishing party for local boys and girls will be held this year on Saturday and Sunday, May 16 and 17 at Vanderpool Pond.

The pond will be stocked with trout for the event, which will also include refreshments of hot dogs and soda pop for the youthful participants.

Trayford are former chiefs of the Auxiliary Police, while Mr. Lester is currently chairman of the city's CD council. (Wolfin Photo)

Run on Local Banks for Kennedy Coins Reported

A critical shortage of funds is being experienced by all local banks, it was learned this week. However, the shortage is restricted only to the newly-minted Kennedy half dollars.

The new coins, which are replacing the Franklin series half-dollars, arrived here last week in extremely limited quantities and are being rationed to a clamoring group of customers whose number far exceeds the amount of the new coins available for distribution.

Summit Trust Co. received 8,000 of the Kennedy coins and has only 400 or 500 left to dole out at no more than two to a customer. Summit Trust made 1,000 of its hoard available to its branch office at New Providence for customers in that community.

At National State Bank of Elizabeth's Summit office a supply of 300 coins remain and are being given out at one to a customer and Union County Trust Company's local office is distributing its supply of 2,000 coins by two to a customer.

All banks report that they have been informed that when the supplies run out no additional coins will be made available for some time since the Treasury has discontinued production for the time being.

The banks also state that the demand is steady, taking place all day long and every day during the week. Many customers try to return for a double or triple ration and some make the rounds of all banks hoping to collect at each institution.

Why people are scrambling for the new Kennedy half-dollars puzzles not only the banks but also coin experts. Other than fog sentimental reasons, the new coins have no more than face value.

As a local coin collector and coin expert said, "they'll be a dime dozen for very soon 90 million will be placed into circulation."

The coin to watch, the expert advised, is the discontinued Franklin series half-dollars, which the Kennedy coins replaced. Already complete sets of the Franklin coins are costing $165 to $200 per set.

The Franklin series was first minted in 1948 and continued until 1962. From 1948 to 1955 the Franklin coins were turned out by three mints, Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco and thus up to 1955 the coins bear either 'S' for San Francisco mint, 'D' for Denver, or are unmarked as are all coins issued by the Philadelphia mint.

Council Meets Tuesday

Common Council will hold its first public meeting in April on Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in City Hall.

Three Hurt in Two Weekend Car Accidents

The city's car accident toll continued to rise this week when three persons were injured in two mishaps on Saturday.

Shortly before 1 a.m. on Saturday morning two young women were injured in an accident on the Morris and Essex Turnpike near River road. Rita Doene Souto, 20, of Dushore, Pa., driver of the car, suffered head injuries while a passenger in the automobile, Lynda Joyce Brieffield, also 20, of Arlington, Va., was cut about the hands and mouth. Both were given first aid treatment at the scene.

Miss Souto told police that she was attempting to read high-way signs when she lost control of the car and crashed into a utility pole. The front end of the car was heavily damaged. At the time of the accident Miss Souto was driving west on the turnpike. Investigating was Patrolman Marvin Wrisley.

Late Saturday afternoon, Victoria Van DeVeer, 18, of Chatham, suffered knee and head injuries when the car in which she was a passenger was in collision with another at Morris and Lafayette avenues. Driver of the car in which she was a passenger was identified as Robert M. Ulrich of Chatham. Police said (Continued on Page 10)

Plans Underway For Round Two Of Sabin Doses

Preparations for Round Two on April 12 of the three-section Sabin oral polio vaccine campaign moved into high gear this week.

While the vaccines and other needed supplies were readied for shipment to the 52 schools to be used as temporary clinics, the mass distribution of registration forms began.

These forms will be distributed through schools, supermarkets and mailed direct to homes. Many newspapers print the forms as a public service for their readers.

Dr. Robert S. Milligan, head of Summit's S.O.S. campaign, emphasized that the April 12 feeding "is not a booster."

"There are three types of polio," he said. "Each type is combatted by a different vaccine. That is why every one should take all three feedings. The third will be held on May 24."

"Our office has received a number of inquiries by persons who missed the first feeding. They want to know if they should take the second and third."

"Our answer is 'Yes,' definitely. Go ahead and take the scheduled second and third feedings. You can then catch up with the Type I feeding in the fall through your physician."

13,387 Given Dose
A total of 13,387 residents so far have received the first of the three Sabin doses. On the first Sabin Sunday, March 1, 10,133 were given the vaccine and an additional 3,252 received it the following Sunday, a "make-up day" held especially for those unable to attend on March 1. This is roughly about 50 per cent of the city's population.

Fund Drive Gifts Climb To $53,100

The fourth annual Combined Spring Drive topped the $53,000 mark this week and is now within $23,000 of its $76,000 goal, it was announced this week.

According to John N. May, Jr., drive chairman, the campaign to aid the three participating agencies has now reached $53,100. New donations during the week totalled $10,445.

At this time last year total donations were at $51,000 and in 1962, at the $60,287 mark.

As of Tuesday, the Red Cross had received $25,975; Visiting Nurses Association $17,657, and Mental Health Association, $9,467.

Mr. May pointed out that although the month-long drive officially ended on Tuesday, the campaign will continue until "each and every local resident" has been contacted. He said "every human effort" is being made to blanket the entire city.

At present there are still some areas in the city that have not been solicited as yet, and volunteers are being sought to launch a general mop-up drive.

Contributions to date have been about the same as last year, according to Mr. May, with some slight increases noted in advanced gifts.

Mr. May urged all volunteers to contact their workers within the next day or so in an effort to bring the campaign to a close as soon as possible.

Of the $76,000 sought, the Red Cross is seeking $39,700, Visiting Nurses Association, $24,300, and the Mental Health Association, $12,000.

Residents who wish to submit their checks before being contacted may do so by mailing their donations to 695 Springfield avenue. Checks should be made payable to the "Combined Spring Fund Drive."

Open Housing Group Focuses On Heights

The Open Housing Committee of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights, a group dedicated to the elimination of discriminatory practices in the sale and lease of private housing, will meet on Wednesday, April 8, at 8 p.m., at Hamilton Terrace School, Mountain Avenue, Berkeley Heights.

The highlight of the meeting will be a "self-evaluation" workshop in which workshop groups of approximately 8 people each will discuss the aims, methods and problems of integrated housing in the Berkeley Heights area.

Some of the subjects will be "Is the Open Housing Committee Moving Too Slowly, and If So, What Catalysts Are Needed?" "What Can You Personally Do to Improve the Open Housing Committee?" and "What Are the Problems of the Open Housing Committee in Our Community?" Discussions will be led by members and officers of the committee, who are currently active in finding homes that are available on a non-discriminatory basis, and in effecting harmonious living among peoples of all ethnic, racial and religious backgrounds.

Residents of Berkeley Heights, as well as residents of all neighboring communities, are cordially invited to attend. Coffee and refreshments will be served.

The April 8 meeting will be the first one to be held on a Wednesday evening and the first one to be held in Berkeley Heights. Past meetings have been on the second Tuesday of each month, in Summit or New Providence.

The car was covered by the owners October 12 in Newark.

Reporter Turned Cleric Answers St. John's Call

A newspaperman turned cleric is the new vice-pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church. Rev. Richard L. Peterman came to Summit in January after a month-long tour of India to fill the pulpit left vacant by the retirement earlier this year of Rev. Willis Hinman, D.D., who had been minister of the church since 1929.

Mr. Peterman, who will serve the parish as its vice-pastor until a successor to Dr. Hinman is called, entered the ministry via the newspaper business. Prior to his entry into a theological seminary—at an age when most men are well established in their chosen profession—he was on the staff of the Pottstown (Pa.) Mercury.

Currently director of the interpretation program of the Board of World Missions of the Lutheran Church in America, Mr. Peterman travels to all of the mission fields gathering material for feature stories, films, filmstrips and lectures. His trip to India took him into most sections of that country as well as to Europe and the Middle East.

His first parish was Christ's Lutheran Church in the heart of Bucks County, Pa. An incident from his experience in that parish was the subject of a "Crossroads" television program on ABC. Mr. Peterman ultimately left the parish to accept a call to become the secretary for stewardship of the Illinois Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, and assisted that synod in doubling its contributions to the world-wide work of the church.

During his stay in Chicago he was a writer of a series of newspaper advertisements, published nation-wide, dealing with the doctrines of the Lutheran Church. He also edited a book, "Money and the Church" and wrote numerous articles for "The Lutheran," a national magazine of the Lutheran Church. Three sets of Sunday church school material for intermediates and seniors have also come from his pen.

Since 1961 Mr. Peterman has been associated with the Lutheran Church's national office in New York City, first as an associate director for stewardship and currently as a staff member of the Board of World Missions.

He has appeared on NBC's television program "Frontiers of Faith," and currently writes for various national publications and lectures across the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterman currently make their home at Madison. They are the parents of three children, Richard, their oldest, a sophomore at Drew University, Rebecca, a junior at Madison High School, and

Reporter Turned Cleric Answers St. John's Call

A newspaperman turned cleric is the new vice-pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church. Rev. Richard L. Peterman came to Summit in January after a month-long tour of India to fill the pulpit left vacant by the retirement earlier this year of Rev. Willis Hinman, D.D., who had been minister of the church since 1929.

Mr. Peterman, who will serve the parish as its vice-pastor until a successor to Dr. Hinman is called, entered the ministry via the newspaper business. Prior to his entry into a theological seminary—at an age when most men are well established in their chosen profession—he was on the staff of the Pottstown (Pa.) Mercury.

Currently director of the interpretation program of the Board of World Missions of the Lutheran Church in America, Mr. Peterman travels to all of the mission fields gathering material for feature stories, films, filmstrips and lectures. His trip to India took him into most sections of that country as well as to Europe and the Middle East.

His first parish was Christ's Lutheran Church in the heart of Bucks County, Pa. An incident from his experience in that parish was the subject of a "Crossroads" television program on ABC. Mr. Peterman ultimately left the parish to accept a call to become the secretary for stewardship of the Illinois Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, and assisted that synod in doubling its contributions to the world-wide work of the church.

During his stay in Chicago he was a writer of a series of newspaper advertisements, published nation-wide, dealing with the doctrines of the Lutheran Church. He also edited a book, "Money and the Church" and wrote numerous articles for "The Lutheran," a national magazine of the Lutheran Church. Three sets of Sunday church school material for intermediates and seniors have also come from his pen.

FORD'S CHANGED! WHY DON'T YOU CHANGE TO FORD?

You'll have total performance at your fingertips when you take charge of a "Big Change" Ford! You'll find out—fast—about the balance, strength, acceleration, precision control and road-clinging suspension, that open competition has bred into the '64s from Ford! Want proof of the quality in this year's Ford? Then take a test drive!

FORDS HAVE CHANGED. Ask any of the thousands of motorists who have recently changed over to Ford. They'll give you some mighty good reasons why you should, too!

FORDS HAVE CHANGED IN RIDE. This is one of the biggest changes. It's the one of the easiest to recognize, too. You can feel it. There's more than just new smoothness; almost any car maker can achieve that! It's the extra strength that's designed into the suspension... and... the extra steel that's built into the frame... and... the extra quiet that's built into the body that make Ford's ride so solid, so nearly silent, you'll think you're driving a car that costs thousands more (there's over 300 pounds more road-hugging weight in Ford than in its nearest competitor).

FORDS HAVE CHANGED IN POWER. There are five engines including V-8's up to 425 hp... four transmissions including a fully synchronized 3-speed manual transmission as standard equipment... and a twin-range Cruise-O-Matic with three automatic forward speeds, optional! Take your test drive today, at your Ford Dealer's. Try a total performance Ford.

FORDS HAVE CHANGED IN LOOKS. And you don't have to look twice to see the changes. It's not a bit of chrome here. Or a dab or a doodad there, like so many other cars. Fords for '64 have had the full treatment. They look

Women Voters To Study Area Planning Body

A new approach to regional planning heads the League of Women voter's agenda for its April neighborhood unit meetings. The League believes regional planning should be comprehensive and long-range and should provide a pattern for orderly development, redevelopment and renewal. It should encourage cooperation of municipalities and counties within a region in planning. It should formulate development programs and budgets.

A broad regional planning board which would include Summit, Berkeley Heights and New Providence has been suggested. The League units will discuss three basic problems: On what basis should a regional planning board be organized? What should be the powers and duties of a regional planning board? Who should provide the operating expenses for a regional planning board? Background material for the discussion will be found in the April issue of Harper's magazine.

Neighborhood unit meetings will be held on Monday, April 5, at 12 noon at the home of Mrs. J. J. Kaplon, 105 New England Avenue, Apt. G-2, with Mrs. Robert Teel, discussion leader; Wednesday, April 8, 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. E. Hawley Haig, 18 Edgemont Avenue, with Mrs. Ralph Ball, discussion leader; Wednesday, April 8, 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Arthur Boehm, 20 Clearview Drive, with Mrs. Saunders Jamison, discussion leader; Thursday, April 9, 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. John Stockbridge, 16 Manor Hill Road, with Mrs. J. S. Russell, discussion leader. The resources committee for these meetings includes Mrs. J. P. Ziegler, chairman, Mrs. S. Bronstein, Mrs. W. Isenberg, Mrs. E. W. Koffman, Mrs. J. S. Russell, Mrs. R. Seidler, Mrs. J. Plaut.

The evening group will hold a special unit meeting on taxes on Monday, April 13, 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Donald Mitchell, Jr. 112 Ashland Road, with Mrs. A. T. English, discussion leader.

Title 40 will be the subject of discussion by the special unit meeting to be held on Thursday, April 16, 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. E. K. Gadebusch, 46 Ox Bow Lane. The resource committee includes, Mrs. W. G. Kleinfelder, Mrs. W. C. Lenz, Mrs. G. E. Long, and Mrs. Carl V. Carambio.

Six Area Men Will Attend Pru Meeting

Jesse D. Allen, Kenneth E. Adriance and C. Dudley Parker of Berkeley Heights and Warren L. Darling, Bernard C. Lewis and C. George Pryor of Summit, will attend the Prudential Insurance Co.'s regional business conference at Hollywood Beach, Fla., April 15 to 18.

Allen and Darling are division managers and Adriance, Lewis, Parker and Pryor are special agents for the company's Newark agency.

Immediately following the service, there will be a reception in the parish house in honor of Bishop Stark and the confirmands. Arrangements are in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. Leonard E. Best.

New Jersey's role as a leader in the manufacture of pharmaceutical supplies.

Mrs. Breitenfeld was also aided in preparing for the national contest by local merchants who presented her with items for her wardrobe. These included Nee Dell, Brooks of Summit, Jeannette Shop, Merle Norman Beauty Salon and Tepper's at-the-Mall.

The Summit Trust Co. is currently displaying a photograph of Mrs. Breitenfeld.

100 YEARS LATER...

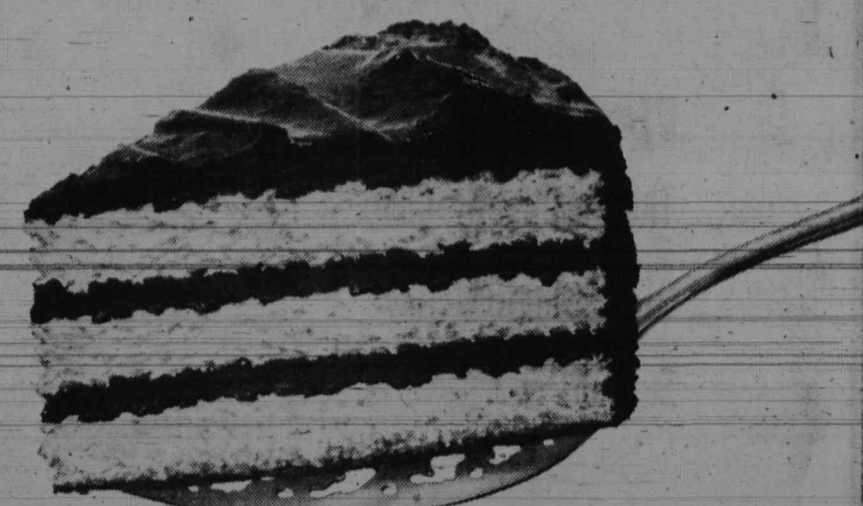

AND THE MOVE IS STILL TOWARDS REGAN BROS.

This year New Jersey celebrates its 300th anniversary, and it serves to remind us that we are in our second century of service in the moving industry. The state has grown big in many ways. And so has the little drayage firm that first opened for business in 1862—now Regan Bros. Inc. with facilities in New York as well as Montclair. Important in our long tradition of service has been a continuing program of modernization. The dray horses pulling the wagon loads are part of a past. Today our electronically-equipped semi-trailers are capable of moving household goods as well as delicate industrial products and displays across the state or across the nation with time-table reliability. We're proud of our past. Proud to have served families and firms during 100 of the state's 300 years of growth—proud to have grown into worldwide Allied Van Lines' No. 1 agency in New Jersey which is proof enough that today, 100 years later, the move is still towards Regan Bros.

was baked without a flame.

It's every bit as perfect as the one baked before it and the one before that and the one before that and the one before that and the one before that.

The baking heat in a flameless electric oven is tightly sealed in with insulation on all four sides, top and bottom. It hardly varies at all one way or the other. That's why electric baking is so exact. It cooks rings around the rest. Buy with assurance from the dealer who displays this seal.

New Regional School to Be Named Brearley

Berkeley Heights — The new regional high school in Kenilworth will be named David Brearley Regional High School, for the delegate to the Federal Convention of 1787.

A lawyer, Mr. Brearley was so outspoken in his sentiments at the beginning of the American revolution that he was arrested for high treason and rescued by a mob of citizens. During the American revolution, he was appointed lieutenant-colonel of the Fourth New Jersey, November 28th, 1776 and of the First New Jersey, January 1, 1777. He resigned August 4, 1779, serving after the war as colonel of the militia.

He was a member of the New Jersey Constitutional Convention, and on June 10th, 1779 was elected chief justice of the State Supreme Court.

The case—Holmes vs. Walton—was argued at Trenton before Chief Justice Brearley, Nov. 11, 1779. In the development of the right to overturn a legislative enactment by judicial decision, the opinion by Judge Brearley has been regarded as especially noteworthy. "No doubt remains that Brearley met the question of constitutionality squarely and on Sept. 7, 1780, announced the principle of judicial guardianship of the organic law against attempted or inadvertent encroachment by the ordinary law." From the 7th of September, 1780, this function of the judiciary, this principle of judicial power over unconstitutional legislation, has held sway. It was approved by the legislature; and reference to it was made by Gouverneur Morris in an address to the Pennsylvania Assembly in 1775.

New Providence Library Bigger and Better

New Providence — The giant step forward in 1963 for the Memorial Public Library was the transition from a part-time to a full-time operation.

The addition of a children's librarian made a total of three full-time members of the staff.

The number of hours the library was open was increased from 32 to 35 hours per week.

The operating budget was increased by $12,300 and the building fund by $10,000.

An architect, Emil Schmidlin, for either a new library building or an addition to the present building was selected after intensive interviewing. A former resident of New Providence, Mr. Schmidlin designed the present library building.

The decision to build an addition on the present site was unanimously reached after several months of discussion by the library trustees with Library Consultant Kenneth McPerson, the public, the Borough Council, Planning Board, and representatives of the Board of Education and the Recreation Commission.

A study of the book collection and services of the library was made by the state Public and school Libraries Bureau at the request of the library trustees.

A detailed analysis was presented to the board and action was initiated to improve the Memorial Library.

Registration at the library jumped from 5011 in 1962 to 5848 in 1963; adults, 3175 and children 2673.

Circulation for 1962 was 66,881 in 1962 and 72,283 in 1963; adult, 28,771 in 1962 and 38,019

GREAT RACE BETWEEN PEYTONA & FASHION, FOR $25,000!!!

NEW JERSEY TRICENTENARY TALES

QUEEN OF THE TURF

By John T. Cunningham

Bonnets o' Blue stood by with mixed pride and jealousy as grooms admired the little mare that she had just foaled at William Gibbons' farm in Madison in the spring of 1837. The baby was a beauty, the kind to be expected in a mating of Bonnets o' Blue and the great English horse Trustee, owned by the Morven stables in Princeton.

to a rematch on May 20, 1842, at the Union Course on Long Island.

More than 70,000 people jammed themselves into the Union Course that October 28. They sat atop coaches, perched in trees, overflowed the grandstand and stood crushed against one another in the infield. Boston seemed his old "invincible" self as he took an early lead and led comfortably at the end of three miles. Suddenly Fashion began her bid, passing the stallion on the backstretch. She romped home well in front, setting a new world record of 7 minutes, 32 1/2 seconds. The second heat an hour later made Fashion look even better: she won by 60 yards.

Racing enthusiasts of those days frequented the Camden and Philadelphia Race Course, opened in 1836 by five "sporting gentlemen from Virginia." Gibbons entered Fashion in the spring races in 1838 and the Madison mare fascinated the crowds with her graceful manners — and with her speed in the stretch, which any racing fan always consider far more vital than beauty.

By 1841, Fashion's followers called her the "Queen of the American Turf" in tribute to her unbroken string of victories on tracks throughout the East. Pressure built up steadily for a match between Fashion and Boston, the "invincible" who still rates as one of the world's great all-time stallions.

Boston outclassed all American horses of his day, losing only once between 1838 and the fall of 1841. Thus, when "The Napoleon of the Turf" met "The Queen" at Camden on October 28, 1841, only her most devoted admirers risked money on the mare.

Fashion broke rapidly from the post, led her rival at the end of the first mile and astonished the racing world by leaving Boston 240 yards to the rear at the end of the four-mile race. Dismissing Fashion's victory as "a stroke of luck," the gamblers of Boston quickly agreed proving the breed. Every available space in and around the one-mile course was occupied long before the race. Followers of both Peytona and Fashion matched boasts and backed their beliefs with money. Ladies, it was said, "entered into the betting with as much zeal and spirit as their escorts."

The two mares broke evenly from the post, but at the end of the mile the roaring throng saw Fashion pull well to the front. She increased her lead steadily while the appreciative crowd in the wooden grandstand stamped their feet. Then, as the New Jersey mare headed safely into the home stretch, the center of the grandstand collapsed with a sickening crash.

No one was killed and most of the injured forgot their hurts: lapsed grandstand didn't stop Fashion had won! A mere colt the racing, of course; an hour later the two mares raced in another four-mile race. This time Fashion won as she pleased.

"North" had beaten "South," or at least Fashion had defeated Peytona (Fashion's backers easily forgot the two losses at the Union Course). The Madison mare ruled as the unquestionable best in America, and racing historians say that no racing mare in America has ever been Fashion's equal.

Fashion's owners decided that the time had come for the little mare to begin producing descendants. The "Queen" mothered a distinguished racing family; of course, although none of them ever matched the fame and charm of "The Queen of the American Turf." She had glory enough for any family.

Peril in Local Primary

Although to date there has been little fanfare in the local Republican primary, it should be pointed out that contests in both wards do exist and the vote in the April 21 election is as vital as in any of the more heated contests of the past.

There are contests in both Wards 1 and 2 for Council seats. In both cases incumbents are being challenged. In Ward 1, Councilman Edward C. Holmes, seeking the nomination for a second term, is being opposed by Edwin S. Votey, a political unknown. In Ward 2, Councilman Ernest M. May is seeking the nomination for his first full term and is being challenged by Eugene Daly, a perennial office seeker.

Because of the general apathy on the local level it is quite possible that both incumbents could lose their seats because of an inability to muster a majority of votes. One of the prime perils of a dull primary is that quite often a handful of voters can score an upset.

The Herald feels that it is important for residents of Summit to keep Mr. Holmes and Mr. May in office and not to change the complexion of the present Council at this time. To do this, however, voters who share our feelings must cast their ballots in the Republican Primary election on Tuesday, April 21.

The Scramble for Coins

The present "run on the banks" caused by purchasers of the new Kennedy half dollars is something that has coin collectors somewhat baffled. Considering the fact that 90 million of the coins will be minted this year, one wonders why they are in such demand.

The answer lies mainly in the fact that most people want them as a souvenir of the late President and also because they are a novelty. But another reason for their attractiveness to the public is the hope of being able to score a financial coup.

Coin collecting has reached new heights in popularity. Even banks and insurance companies are investing in both old and new coins with the expectations that their collections will show a 10 per cent increase in value annually. Demand for coins is so great it has been estimated that an individual who had purchased one uncirculated roll of pennies and one of nickels of each mint variety each Christmas since 1953 would have spent $76 and now would have coins worth $1,086.50.

With coin collecting so popular small wonder the government is showing concern over a shortage of coins. Instead of going in one pocket and out the other, coins frequently are retained to give the would-be collector an opportunity to check and see if he has struck a collectors' bonanza.

A local collector has tipped us off that instead of scrambling for the new Kennedy half dollars, which will be with us for some time, there is more potential value in the last of the Franklin series half-dollars now discontinued.

The Indispensable Barber

Barbers on the whole are an indispensable lot since they play an important role in helping to maintain the sartorial graces. A person with an abundant crop of hair, to be an accepted member of society as we know it in Summit, for example, must frequent a barber periodically or run the risk of being the butt of jokes, snide remarks and rude laughter. We therefore depend upon barbers to spare us this humiliation by paying him periodic visits.

Currently, men's hair styles run the gamut from the teenage "butch," to the fashionable Madison avenue cut that could be described as a semi-crew preferred by the young executive on the way up, to the "straight back," usually seen on older, maturing men. Of course, there are variations on all and the adept barber can usually turn out an excellent job within the confines of proper fashion.

However, since we have come to lean so heavily on barbers and their talents, it comes as a blow that in order to maintain their important services, patrons in the near future may be expected to pay more.

Now, it is not that we begrudge a barber his due or deny him the right to earn a living wage. Actually, our complaint is not against the impending price increase, but rather against the principle involved. And that is, in order to remain in step with fashion, we will now have to dig deeper into our pockets.

Why, for example, do most men get a haircut at least once every two weeks? It's the dictates of fashion that demand such frequent visits. Why doesn't someone of rugged individualism who flaunts custom and fashion begin a new fad such as permitting the hair to grow below the nape of the neck? What's wrong with the old Buster Brown, and what could anyone have against Beatle bangs? Why is shaggy frowned upon? Supposing it was fashionable to permit the hair to grow down over the ears thus eliminating the need for earmuffs on cold winter days. Better still, what's wrong with men using wigs as women do? Toupees are an accepted part of attire for bald men, why not something of the sort for those with healthy tresses?

Perhaps if the Beatles were brought back for further exposure in this country, their particular hair styles might begin to catch on. But then again, the price of listening to our shaggy overseas cousins is far greater than what the barbers seek.

A Secret Weapon?

From the cloistered ivy-clad towers of New Haven comes word that executives are in crying need of pampering and coddling. Dr. Robert Turfboer, clinical psychiatrist at Yale's medical school, contends we do too little for the man who does so much. We have an obligation, he says, to protect the top-level brain on which our economy so heavily depends.

Such men, he explains, should have not only private secretaries, but personal barbers, air-conditioned limousines, and first-class travel accommodations.

"Executive comforts are not luxuries," Dr. Turfboer maintains. "They are legitimate symbols of responsibilities and brain power. They are tension-saving devices that get better mileage out of an executive."

Undemocratic? Not a bit, the Yale psychiatrist says. "Democracy," he claims, "means the same opportunity for people but it does not signify that everyone has to be equalized... the best man wins and deserves the reward. The danger in denying tokens of prestige is that excellence could be suppressed."

Dr. Turfboer's thoughts about the carpet-on-the-floor are supported by Dr. Ludwig O. Lederer, medical director for American Airlines, who considers that first-class travel is a necessity for the business man. He notes that many executives do paper work in flight and thinks they do more work aloft in a few hours than they can in a week in the office.

Oddly enough, American Airlines advertising has picked up the good doctor's theme and is stressing that executives should have the best in accommodations and are entitled to the extra comforts and quiet, as well as the extra hip and leg room, that a first-class seat brings. "A man can not think 'poor' on his way to a client and then think like a vice president when he gets there," a recent ad states.

And Dr. Turfboer drives home the argument by saying: "People need symbols in proportion to their status. Even the street-sweeper likes a new broom."

This is a secret weapon that could be used by President Johnson on his war on poverty. Sen. Barry Goldwater has indicated that he thinks the poor are poor because they think poor, so why not take a handful of poor, fly them about the country in American Airlines first-class accommodations, and see if they acquire an affluency usually associated with executives. If everyone starts thinking like a vice president then there will be no poverty.

Support Nurses' Home
 Editor, Summit Herald:
 I have been in and out of a good many hospitals in my nearly thirty years in the ministry, and every time I go into Overlook Hospital I am proud to serve in a community which supports such a superior institution. It is second to none I have ever known.

The key to this is not just in its fine buildings, but in the quality of its personnel. Any one conversant at all with present-day conditions knows that a major problem in maintaining such an institution is getting and keeping trained personnel. There are hospitals so located that people find it unpleasant to work in them. A non-profit organization cannot offer wages to compensate for such things.

It seems to me that Overlook has come up with an intelligent and sensible plan to make it attractive for highly trained personnel to want to come to work in Overlook. How the proposed plan could possibly harm Summit or work a hardship on a group of Summit's citizens I find it hard to understand.

I do feel that the ability to attract and house and hold nurses so indispensable to Overlook's continued expansion and operation is imperative. I trust that Summit officials will be wise enough to make this possible, for I am sure the fears of those in opposition will prove to be groundless.

Will Fight Hotel Zone Bid

Editor, Summit Herald:
 Once again the Suburban Hotel System, Inc. is appealing to the Zoning Board of Adjustment for zoning variances to continue its program of commercial expansion invading the quiet residential neighborhood of lower Blackburn Road, Tulip Street, Locust Drive and Brook Court. When the Suburban Hotel System purchased the hotel in the 1940's they understood that it was to operate as a residential hotel and property owners in the neighborhood such as my husband and I, purchased our homes with the same understanding. However, to quote Harry A. Taylor, jr., executive vice president of the Suburban Hotel System who remarked to my husband several months ago, "The hotel has been operating as a commercial hotel for ten years." This of course, would be in violation of present zoning.

Last fall, against the protest of more than 175 neighbors, Common Council repealed an ordinance and granted a zoning variance giving the hotel the right to install a stand-up bar in the Hunt Club room. A month or so later a second variance was granted allowing the hotel to build a motor-inh addition closer to the lot line of their newly acquired A-6 zoned property (formerly owned by the Meehans) than zoning ordinances permit. At that time neighbors attending the public hearing were assured that attractive gardens would be planted in the vacant lot area extending from Larned Brook to the Tulip Street - Locust Drive corner of the block in which the hotel is located.

Now we are notified that the hotel wishes a variance in the A-6 zoning of the above mentioned vacant lot in order to build an access road onto Locust Drive and a parking lot for 90 automobiles which would bring the total hotel parking facilities to 222. They further request variances in the zoning of the two A-6 residential properties recently purchased from the Meehans and the Keditises immediately west of Larned Brook on the north side of Locust Drive. Currently one of these properties is being used at least in part to house hotel employees who rent rooms therein (a violation of present zoning!) Will the next request be for a change in zoning from A-6 to multi-family to legalize the hotel's use of these homes as rooming houses (Continued on Page 9) for its employees? This would be in distinct violation of the character of the neighborhood.

 The manner in which the hotel has presented its requests is calculated and insidious - the well-known foot-in-the-door technique. Had the hotel announced openly and honestly last fall all of its proposed plans so that the neighbors, Common Council and the citizens of Summit at large could have evaluated the proposition of whether or not a motel was desirable in the heart of one of its residential areas, it seems likely that the hotel's plans might not have been approved. Instead, having achieved one part of their total goal they continue to reveal their step by step overall plan and only now has it become clearly evident that a large commercial motor inn occupying as much of the entire block as they can acquire, is their aim.

 Last fall, Mr. Moss, lawyer for the hotel, kept Common Council and the neighbors (who had gathered at the public hearing) waiting until after midnight before the opposition could be heard. We now learn that on April 6 the Zoning Board of Adjustment will have an extremely heavy schedule - four important and controversial propositions for one evening (viz. 2 variance applications regarding the nursing home for Overlook Hospital, parking for Fair Oaks Hospital, and the Suburban Hotel expansion.) One foresees the need for a doggedly determined opposition to sit until the early hours of the following morning waiting a chance to be heard, fully cognizant that a regular working day lies ahead.

We assure Messrs. Taylor, Stone and Morss, however, that my husband and I, as well as some of our neighbors will be present to urge the Zoning Board of Adjustment to deny the Hotel's application for variances in the conviction that further expansion and commercialization of the Hotel is not in the best interests of either the property owners in the immediate area or of the people of Summit as a whole.

A petition - signed by property owners from Tulip Street, Locust Drive, Blackburn Road and Brook Court, states:

- 1. Increase commercial traffic providing increased potential traffic hazards for the children of the area;
- 2. Produce noise and commotion which result from the transient character of a motor inn - motel such as that proposed and now being constructed by the Suburban Hotel, which noise and commotion are not consistent with the quiet residential neighborhood being invaded.
- 3. Reduce property values for homeowners in the entire area, particularly those on Locust Drive, Blackburn Road and Tulip Street, as well as Brook Court and Prospect Ave.

Granting of these variances would, in our opinion not be in the interest of the people of Summit as a whole, as it:

- 1. Sets a precedent for commercial invasion of established residential neighborhoods;
- 2. Favors commercial interests as opposed to those of private individuals and property owners where the two are in conflict;
- 3. Will result in a lowering of the value of property in the neighborhood of the block in which the hotel is expanding thereby decreasing tax rates.

In conclusion, perhaps a prediction would not be amiss. When the question of the stand up bar arose the so-called compromise which allowed the hotel all of its requests proved to be moving an entrance driveway about fifty feet and construction of a fence (which has been landscaped with evergreens as promised - but only on the hotel side!) Will we now be offered another so-called compromise involving elimination of the proposed access road opening onto Locust Drive providing we will agree to a change from A-6 to multi-family zoning for the major portion of the north side of Locust Drive? Obviously this would mean that we would still have a motel, lowered property values, and the same increased transient population and traffic - and the hotel would be much better off with only one entrance and one exit to staff and police.

One is not quite sure whether it is worth while to make the democratic effort of protest since once again the hotel has prejudged the decision of the Zoning Board and the Common Council and is already bulldozing the vacant lot and proceeding with plans as though they had in fact, been already approved.

Mrs. George E. Wakerlin, 15 Blackburn Road.

Give Bad with Good
 Editor, Summit Herald
 As many of your readers probably know, a model United Nations was set up at Drew University a short time ago and one is planned in Monmouth College in early April. The ostensible purpose is to acquaint students from all over the state who attend with the functioning of that organization. Unfortunately, however, the holding of the model UN is in the eyes of the students and the public a full endorsement of the international body.

There are many in our government as well as outside of it who feel that on the basis of its record the UN is inimical to the interests of the United States, and seriously question its value as a world body.

One serious indictment is the double standard of behavior of both the UN and many of its member nations. A few examples are: Intervention in Suez but not Hungary, intervention in internal affairs (such as in the Congo) which is prohibited by the UN charter and failure to condemn aggression (such as India's attack on Goa) which is required by the Charter; condemnation of western colonialism while condoning Communist imperialism.

Another danger is the drift of power into the hands of the so-called "neutral nations" who have neither adequate leadership experience nor the financial resources to meet this obligation. The U.S. ends up paying the bills only to be outvoted by large numbers of small nations on issues which are vital to the well being of our country.

These and many other things have given a good many people misgivings about the UN. Senator Dodd gave a speech before Congress entitled "Is the UN Worth Saving?" Both Senator Fulbright and former President Hoover have called for an alternative to the UN in the form of a "Concert of Free Nations."

We feel sure that the above colleges, dedicated to academic freedom, believe in presenting both sides of such issues. We therefore feel that in the interest of both the public and the students, an adequate presentation covering the shortcomings and dangers of the UN should be given at an appropriate time.

Surely, any one of us who might be a patient at Overlook would expect fine nursing care. Replies to Mrs. Dwyer
Editor, Summit Herald:
It is not my intention to prolong the salary discussion with Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer nor to engage in political bickering.
To put the record straight, Frank M. Pecca said: "Mrs. Dwyer made her position clear on the salary bill and we tried to get her to change her position."
Mrs. Dwyer is to be admired for the position she has taken but one must admit it did hurt the postal employees. The integrity of the whole Congress is at stake as it has failed to live up to commitments written into the salary classification act of 1960 with the comparability features for all government employees.
It is a known fact that the dilly-dallying tactics of Congress have long annoyed the public.

The actions of some members of Congress on the floor of the House are deplorable, to say the least.
Mrs. Dwyer's esteemed colleague, Sen. Clifford P. Case, has long been making a lone and futile effort to bring archaic congressional rules of procedure up to date.
The action of the Senate in the civil bill consideration is an outstanding example of why the rules of Congress should be changed. The postal employees have long been behind in this fight for comparable salaries.
It took Congress 25 years to enact the first pay raise legislation above the $2,100 limit while the cost of living sky-rocketed and employees in private industry were allowed to strike and receive much better wages.
Since Mrs. Dwyer has also criticized Congress and when one speaks of Congress as a whole unit it is difficult to separate some members from the whole.
Also to put the record straight, a rule was asked of the House rules committee no less than six times before and after the death of our beloved president, John F. Kennedy before the House actually acted on this salary increase bill.
The bill was not an overnight sensation. Extensive hearings have been held by the Post Office and Civil Service committee of the House and qualified witnesses were held. It was released by the rules committee by more than a substantial margin.
It is a fact that all members of the House are up for reelection this year and their actions in voting against the pay bill put the integrity of Congress right on the line, even though Mrs. Dwyer stated that she was against her own salary increase as well.
Now with the Civil Rights bill bogging down the Senate, reelections imminent, national conventions coming soon, what can the post employees look to? What actions have been taken to pass a salary increase bill since March 11, 1964? What is Congress waiting for?

The eyes of the world are upon the Congress and at times what they see creates a bad image of this great country of ours.
Now is the time for forthright constructive action by the Congress. If we can not take care of our own employees, how can we go before the world and ask them to raise their own standards?

at Port Richardson near Anchorage, said on Tuesday that he did not know if the local Red Cross Chapter would be asked to make an appeal for clothing, food or money to help the earthquake victims. He said the local unit has tried without success to contact Red Cross field directors in the stricken area to see if help from local chapters is needed at this time. If a directive from national Red Cross headquarters is received by local chapters to make an appeal, it is likely it will come sometime this week since the stricken areas will have by then sized up the situation and will know what is needed, he said.

chief reasons he entered the contest is to make the primary election "the important element of our government that it represents."
The late President Kennedy, Kolarich pointed out, gained his foothold on the Presidency by entering the primary elections around the country. Former President Eisenhower has advocated widening the field of candidates to give the voters a choice.
"I would like to point out," said Kolarich, "that President Eisenhower has said that the Republican party must be a party of principle. One of those principles is the right of Republicans to weigh the potential worth of candidates. A primary election is the place in which the party must weigh the candidates."
"In going about New Jersey," said Kolarich, "I found Republicans uneasy about the manner in which the so-called organization candidate was selected. There was not enough choice, not enough consideration given. The thing was cut and dried. Sincere Republicans were appalled."
"I expect to win," Kolarich declared confidently.

According to police, the accident occurred when Mr. Fusco, driving north on Morris was attempting to turn into Lafayette and was temporarily halted to permit traffic to pass when he was allegedly struck from behind by the Ulrich car. Inquiries by the Red Cross here were made by telephone directly to Alaskan chapter. For the first couple of days, direct contact with the quake areas was difficult since communications were at a minimum and only priority calls from official government agencies were being accepted. By Monday, however, communications were slowly being restored and direct contact was possible in almost every case.

change will generally turn up Liberties rather than Franklins.
This is because the Franklin series has become a collectors' item and rarely turns up as compared with the Liberty coin. It still is much easier to put together a complete set of Franklin series than Liberties despite the frequency of the Liberty series.
Liberty halves now available are generally in poor condition, being quite worn and having dates hard to decipher, thus making them of little value. To have any value to a collector a Liberty half must be in excellent condition.

What Makes a Graduate?

What makes a graduate? Who decides who will graduate from Summit High School and what is the basis used to determine who will get a diploma in June? First of all, hard work on the part of the student is the most important ingredient. Secondly, the student works toward amassing a certain amount of points, and together, they spell graduation.

In Summit, the magic number of points is 80, and in order to be graduated a student must acquire a minimum of 20 each year while in school.

A point is earned for each class period of work requiring outside preparation in each class which is held for one full academic year.

Of the total 80 points, 20 must be earned in English, including courses one through four, and ten points must be earned in American History — five in American History 1, and five in the second course.

Physical education must be part of each student's program during his entire school program. Under such regulation, each student must be scheduled at least 150 minutes in physical education and related health subjects. In the tenth grade, pupils have three gymnasium periods each week for the entire year in addition to two periods of health education for one-half year.

In eleventh grade, there are also three gymnasium periods and in the past, two periods of classroom instruction in driver education have been required of all pupils for one half year. During the twelfth grade, students engage in three periods of gymnasium work and one period of first aid.

Past local regulations have required successful completion of physical education, health education, driver education theory and first aid for graduation.

Recent action by the Board of Education has dropped classroom instruction in driver education as a requirement for graduation from high school, and the board is currently studying the course itself to determine whether the expense is justifiable. In addition, students are required to earn 80 points for graduation, with 20 earned in grade nine, since Summit High School is a three-year school and there is no formal graduation from Junior High. Students must satisfactorily complete four years of English to earn a total of 20 points in that subject from grades nine through 12.

Under State Board of Education regulations students are required to earn not less than 76 points in order to be graduated, but the local Board of Education must set the actual number. The requirement of 150 minutes per week of physical education and related health subjects is also mandated by the State Board; while requirements in driver education theory and English were mandated by the local board.

(This is the first in a series of articles that will provide a "closeup" of news in Summit. Future articles will deal with the "goof ball" problem in Summit, how parents would deal with unruly school children, how the Police Department feels about tightening up of laws dealing with possession of firearms as well as other stories aimed at providing what journalists term "news in depth.")

State Job Office To Interview Here

A representative of the Newark Industrial office of the State Employment Service will be at City Hall here on April 14 from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. to interview applicants for possible jobs in the Summit Area.

The plan to recruit workers from the Summit Area was made because of the increased trend by industry of relocation in suburban areas, a state spokesman said.

Both men and women will be interviewed and may register for any jobs available. There is no charge for the service.

Mrs. Roland P. Beattie will be guest speaker at the YWCA's Wednesday morning Kaffeeklatsch program on April 8, from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. "Christian Women around the World," with special emphasis on the work of the YWAs in Africa, will be the subject of heart talk, which will be accompanied by color slides.

Kennedy in Washington to discuss aspects of the nation's civil rights problems in which women's organizations play a special role. Last year she was a delegate to the World Council meeting in Nyborg, Strand, Denmark, and visited YWAs in Africa before returning home.

The Kaffeeklatsch program will begin at 10 a.m., with a half hour of coffee and sociability. Baby sitting for infants 18 months and over and dance and rhythm classes for three to five-year olds will be available to mothers attending the program.

Votey Urges Study of Projects

"An acre of performance is worth a whole world of promises." "This is the keynote idea of my candidacy," said Edwin S. Votey of 105 Canoe Brook Parkway, Republican candidate in the Ward 1 primary contest for the council seat currently held by fellow-Republican Edward C. Holmes of 141 Beechwood road.

During a recent question-and-answer period with Ward 1 voters, Votey identified six programs needing future council consideration and action. He cited these as: 1-new firehouse addition; 2-new incinerator plant; 3-playground expansion; 4-school additions; 5-acquisition of railroad property; 6-Chestnut Street bridge.

"We must plan just where we want to go on these projects, then hang realistic dollar signs on each of them," Votey said. City council must review the items actually needed.

"It will require the awareness, interest, and intelligent examination of all responsible Summit council members to insure efficient long-run planning as well as effective short-run spending," emphasized Votey. "The six projects-must be objectively tied in with every citizen's willingness to pay as well as his ability to pay for such capital improvements. Such plans must be carefully considered, then assigned a strict priority tag," said Votey. "These are but a few of the problems and issues soon to confront Council members. Answers must be found that will be both practical and fiscally responsible," added Votey.

Kiwanis Hear Talk On Wage and Labor
"Employment and the Minimum Wage" was the topic of a talk by William B. Pond, Summit Trust investment officer, when he addressed a meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Tuesday at the Hotel Suburban. Mr. Pond discussed the theory of fair wage for services rendered in today's market.

A study in depth of the philosophic and ethical truths that lie under the face of the Bible will be the subject of a series to be offered at Temple Sinai, Robert R. Max, president has announced. Rabbi Morrison D. Bial will present four evening sessions, on April 2, 9, 23 and 30, which are open to the public. Rabbi Bial has been commissioned by Behrman House, the publishers, to write a book in conjunction with Dr. Solomon Simon, an internationally known scholar and author, on the thoughts that lie under the surface of the Bible and are unknown to most students of Scripture. The book is to be published next year. Rabbi Bial is also instructor in Bible at the School of Education of the Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion. About 25 scrap wood "racers" will be entered and two trophies each will be awarded for the best-looking cars and the fastest. Fathers and sons have worked together building the racing cars out of scrap wood and materials found around the house. Safety specifications were set but design left largely to the imaginations of the fourth graders. The derby was invented by Howard Merrick, Y youth secretary, and the younger boys committee of the YMCA, and should not be confused with the national soap box derby held for older boys. Madison Avenue will be roped off for two hours on Saturday afternoon to give the boys time for trial runs before the race. Summit Auxiliary Police, the First Aid Squad, and residents of Madison Avenue are cooperating in the Y project. The public is invited to see the race. In case of rain, the derby will be held Saturday, April 11.

Crewel embroidery is for beginners and for those who would like to learn new stitches. Students will transfer designs and make a sampler, using a variety of stitches. Materials for the 6-lesson course may be obtained in class. The instructor is Miss Martha Conlon, an experienced teacher of crewel work at the YWCA and at the Montclair, East Orange and Madison adult schools. She is a member of various historical societies. The five-session class in flower arranging will offer instruction in the selection and conditioning of flowers and foliage. Design, color, the use of containers, spring arrangements and decorations, will be covered. Unique arrangements for tables and mantles will be demonstrated. Mrs. David P. Barry, a nationally accredited, life member flower show judge, is the instructor. She has taught flower arrangement at the YWCA, at Maplewood-South Orange and Millburn adult schools, as well as in many garden club groups. Since the size of the class is

Summit Baseballers Open Season Today

Summit — Madison High School's Dodgers are the pre-season choice to take the Suburban Conference baseball championship away from Verona High, but Coach Howie Anderson of Summit High School is not about to concede anything to anyone.

Summit already has captured the conference football and basketball championships this school year and will be bidding for a clean sweep of the conference's three big titles.

With two veteran pitchers, three returning infielders, and a regular outfielder from last year on hand, Anderson has solid grounds for being as he puts it: "Very optimistic."

The only fly in the ointment for Anderson's Hilltoppers has been a lack of outdoor practice. The new playing field behind the school has not been playable thus far and this has limited the Hilltoppers' efforts to get in shape for this afternoon's opener at West Orange High School.

Fortunately, if the weatherman cooperates, Summit will have three games under its belt before embarking on its conference schedule. After this afternoon's contest, Summit will play host to West Orange Mountain High next Monday afternoon and to Governor Livingston Regional High of Berkeley Heights next Wednesday.

Two top-notch pitchers, Jeff Cain and Tom Shuman, are responsible for a good share of Anderson's optimism. Cain was the Hilltoppers' top moundsman last season and figures to be the No. 1 man again. Jeff also will play in the outfield when he's not pitching.

Returning infield veterans are Fran Scalessa, second base; Mike Bloomstein, shortstop, and Bill McGrath, third base. Jim Royer and Bob Adams are battling for the first base post.

The catching will be handled by Bob Smith or John Morton. The veteran outfielder is Bob Surdi. In the fight to play alongside him are three boys up from the Jayvees, Dick McIntyre, Dan Boehm and Ken Harris.

PAL Dinner Slated April 11

New Providence — William Kirchner, legal counsel to Governor Richard J. Hughes, will be the featured speaker at the New Providence PAL's 14th annual Award Dinner which has been set for 7 p.m., April 11, at New Providence High School.

The dinner will honor outstanding participants in the PAL and recreation programs. One hundred trophies, medals and awards will be presented to teams, coaches and outstanding players.

Tickets for the dinner are $1 per person and will be available at the door.

Mr. Kirchner, who lives at 29 Pine Court, is a former football and track star at the University of Notre Dame. During World War II he served with the Marines in the Pacific Theatre of Operations.

More than 4,000 borough children participated in PAL programs during the past year. The PAL sponsors several teams in the Junior Baseball League, which the PAL organized.

New Providence High Nine Boasts Balance

New Providence — The New Providence High baseball team will undergo its first test of the season tomorrow when the Pioneers take on Roselle Park High in a home contest.

The team is looking to make a comeback after last year's dismal 5-12 performance and the boys would like to get a couple of victories under the belt before taking on the usual tough Suburban Conference competition. The Pioneers feel that a first division conference finish is well within reach.

Coach Paul Miller considers this year's squad to be about the best balanced the school has ever fielded. Included on the roster are seven returning lettermen and a number of promising juniors.

The infield is in capable hands with Mike Yendrick, a slick fielder, at third base; flashy Rick Severson at shortstop; reliable Ted Garrison at second base, and at first base Bill Poznanski, a junior who has looked real good during practice. Back-up men are long-ball hitters Keith Heinz and George Gehling.

The outfield is literally bursting with talent. The frontliners shape up as slugger Rich Hake in right field; speedy Jim Guerrero in center field, and converted first baseman Gary Rice in left. Ready to step in, however, are Ron Cook, Joe Smith and Bill Royland. Both Hake and Rice are two-year veterans, while Cook is a proven .300 hitter.

The catching department also is well stocked. Mike Rubino is a tremendous stickman, while Bob Snead is a defensive master. Returnee Rich Andrassy is a fine all-round performer.

Coach Miller's greatest confidence lies with his youthful but experienced pitching staff. This group of boys was nothing short of sensational during the closing weeks of last season.

The ace of the mound corps is sophomore righthander George Mea, who compiled an excellent 32 record and 1.17 ERA as a freshman. Filling out the staff are relief artist, Jeff Elefante, constantly improving

Injuries to Pitchers Hit Regional Hopes

Berkeley Heights — When a team loses only one regular from the previous season, the coach normally would be looking forward to the new season with considerable optimism.

Such is not the case, however, with Coach Russ Huncher as he drills his Governor Livingston Regional High School baseball team for tomorrow's opening game with Clark Regional in Clark. The Highlanders will play at Summit next Wednesday.

The lone regular of the Highlanders lost through graduation was Lynn Nesbitt, its all-State third baseman who represented most of the team's batting punch last season.

That's bad enough as Huncher tries to rally his team from last season's dismal 4-15 record, the worst record in his coaching career, but the likable coach also is faced with the loss of his No. 1 pitcher and another hurler through football injuries.

George Bubrick, who figured as the No. 1 moundsman has undergone an operation for knee injuries suffered last fall. He probably will miss the entire season. Doug Goodell, who figured to see considerable mound duty, still is recuperating from an elbow fracture suffered in football and is a question mark. Adding to Huncher's woes is a weak-hitting outfield and a team that lacks overall batting punch. The Highlander coach expects to improve on last year's record but isn't too sure just how much.

The top hurlers are Fred Keimel, a sophomore, who won two of the four games the Highlanders won last season, and Bob Heuer, a senior southpaw who throws bullets but has hampered last season by lack of control. Keimel has a good fast ball and a nice change of pace. Goodell, a righthander, has a good curve ball.

Dave Jubanowsky and Art Lennox will share the catching duties, with Bill Schurina, who improved greatly last season, at first base. Heuer also may see some action at first base when he is not on the mound.

Ed Sauerberger, second base, and Dave Appier, shortstop, give the Highlanders a strong center of the infield. Both are excellent fielders and good hitters. Trying to fill Nesbitt's shoes at third base will be Marty Connolly or Charley Schramm. Huncher thinks highly of both boys.

Mark Kelley, centerfielder, is the top all-around outfielder. He is fast, has a strong arm, is an excellent baserunner and slider, and adequate as a hitter. Jim Viendese, rightfielder, also is strong defensively, but weak with the stick.

Also in the running for outfield berths are Dan Christiansen and Keith Simmons. Both are classified as excellent fielders, but weak hitters.

Zimmer Wins Borough Loop Scoring Title

New Providence — When the New Providence Recreation High School Basketball League drew to a close, it case as little surprise to find that Chris Zimmer had captured his second straight league scoring title. The 6-3 sharpshooter enjoyed a record-breaking campaign.

Chris, who gunned Los Angeles into a second-place finish, wound up with 321 points in 12 games for a 26.8 average. The fine season was a fitting climax to Zimmer's three-year career, during which he scored 613 tallies.

Runnerup in the point race this season was Joe Smith of last-place Milwaukee. The dynamic 5-10 cager ripped the nets at a 15.6 clip for a 187 total, second highest in league history. Third place went to defensive center Frank Steffey, who swished in 169 tallies at a 14.1 norm while leading New York to the league championship.

Also passing the 100 point mark were Dick Broad, Boston's talented 6-3 ace, with 156; Steve Gries, who starred for Detroit, 151; Jim Guerriero, 129; Mike Bonnell, 124; Bob Regan, 118; Bob Mathewson, 110; Larry Wayne, 108, and Rich Dwyer and Ken Swarthout, both 101. Rounding out the top 20 were John Donio, 92; George Gehling, 73; Jim Martin, 63; Gary Higgins, 62; Frank Binkley, 57; Pete Frank, 51; George Campesi, 48, and Jim Irvine and Doug Nichol, 45.

Zimmer also was the leader in all individual departments. He was tops in field goals with 140 and in free throws with 64 for 64 per cent to edge Steffey, who made 29 per cent.

As far as single-game performances go, Zimmer's 83 tallies against Milwaukee was a monumental accomplishment. He also registered 37, 30 and 28 points in games. Regan notched a 45-point effort, while Smith pumped in 34 and Gries 32. Broad tossed in 26 points on one occasion and grabbed a record 39 rebounds on another.

Garrison Tops Area Scorers

Ted Garrison of New Providence put a halt to Governor Livingston Regional High School's three-year domination of the Summit Area's individual basketball scoring championship during the past season.

The Pioneer senior tossed in 443 points, a school season record, to beat out Bob Heuer of Governor Livingston, who finished with 410 markers.

Garrison also was tops in per game average with 19.3 points, with Oratory School's Tom Mehlman the runnerup at 17.9. Ted topped all area cagers in fouls made—123, but was second to Heuer in field goals. Heuer scored 166 field goals, six more than Garrison.

Brent Cromwell of Summit finished third in the scoring race with 372 points. John Adamiak of Governor Livingston was fourth with 288 markers, followed by Larry Rovelstad of New Providence, 284, and John Mallory, Summit, 281.

Other top scorers in the area were: Mehlman, 269; Rick Badgley, New Providence, 248; Dave Jubanowsky, Governor Livingston, 242; Bob MacDonald, 230; Sid Rhines, Summit, 224; Jim Royer, Summit, 200; Bob Schauder of Oratory 193; Jeff Hartlaub, Summit, 179, and Bob Lynch, Governor Livingston, 160.

Some of your best friends are rats.
They could help save your life. They are used in research laboratories where the unceasing war against cancer is fought. Like all wars, it is expensive to wage. For instance, 1,000 rats cost $2,500 — ½ gram of cobalt 60 for radiation cost $6,000 — one electron microscope costs $35,000. Last year, the American Cancer Society spent $12,000,000 on research to help fight this war. Every dollar helps save lives. To cure more, give more.
