The History of the Class of '21

IN the fall of 1917 a subdued crowd of Freshmen appeared and applied for admission to Verona High School. As they seemed harmless as well as hopeless, the faculty, with a sigh of resignation, deemed it advisable to grant their request. This seemingly unimportant event marked the birth of the Class of '21.

Shortly after entering, the Freshmen met as a class for the first time in their history, and amidst great tumult and disorder, proceeded to select as their class officers, Howard Crawford, President; Viola Curley, Vice President; Everett Taylor, Secretary and Treasurer.

Early in October we were invited to hike to the Cedars; it need not be stated what happened to the Freshmen who participated. Our next event, which proved a great success, was a Hallowe'en party given by the Seniors. In order to further the social activities of the school, a dancing class was organized with the kind assistance of Miss Daily. Two events closed the terms, the awarding of a prize for dancing to Barbara Bush, a Freshman, an unprecedented event.

After ten months of hard labor, mental and physical, chiefly mental, this brilliant class was granted two months in which to recuperate, upon condition that its members return the following year.

Time passed quickly, and once again, with a decrease in number, we entered as Sophomores. At this point, Professor Wilkin appeared on the scene. The following officers were chosen to lead the class: John Demarest, President; Everett Taylor, Vice President; Ruth Bescherer, Secretary and Treasurer.

The class started the year right by giving the Seniors a dance. It was the first dance in the history of the school at which cake was served instead of crackers. That year five of the members, John Demarest, Howard Crawford, John Gahm, Everett Taylor and Edgar Coffin, made good at athletics, and they have continued their good work throughout their school years. Again our class showed talent in the High School play when Viola Curley, John Demarest and John Gahm displayed dramatic ability.

One of the important events of the year was the marriage of Miss Marion Daily to Mr. Kenneth Rogers. At the close of the term, Mrs. Rogers left our school, and in appreciation our class presented her with a mahogany clock. On this occasion we had an enjoyable evening at the teacher's house. After an exceedingly busy year, composed of lessons and school activities, this class was ready for its hard-earned vacation.

In resuming our studies in September, Miss Swift entered as teacher of English. In the course of a week our class assembled and selected as its leaders: Elizabeth Smith, President; Orrie Dorrill, Secretary and Treasurer. The first event of our Junior year was a dance given by the Seniors, to which we were invited. This eventful evening was spent in the skate house, where one had to wear his overcoat in order to be comfortable. In return, our class attempted to give a dance, but on account of the severe illness of one of our members, it was postponed indefinitely. Toward the close of the term Miss Chaney informed us that this would be her last year at Verona. As a token of remembrance, our class gave a surprise party at the home of Orrie Dorrill. Miss Swift, with her well-known versatility, helped to make the evening a success. On this occasion we presented Miss Chaney with an electric lamp. As a yearly occurrence, the Juniors were well remembered on Class Night.

At the beginning of our last term, some familiar faces were absent, and one new one appeared, Mr. Van Horn, as Vice Principal. At our first class meeting, Helen Barter was chosen President, and Howard Crawford, Vice President; Hilda Shanks, Secretary and Treasurer; Miss Markham, class dean. Shortly after our entrance, the High School went for a hike to the reservoir, where some Senior girls displayed their brilliancy by discovering a new road. A few weeks later the Juniors and Seniors joined in giving a dance.

During our Christmas vacation the alumni held a dance at the school, to which we were cordially invited. Those that attended had a most enjoyable time.

As we leave for the last time we will go forth ready, willing and able to prove and maintain the ability of the Class of '21 of the Verona High School.

SCRAPS FROM THE SCHOOL ROOM

In view of the predicted paper shortage, the editors suggest the following rules of conduct:

1. Save your lunch paper for the tests—never mind if the grease spots hide the mistakes.
2. Use the Seniors' chocolate wrappers for tracing paper, but first remove the chocolate.
3. If you find, on completing a task, that you have used only one side of the paper, tear off the other side for future use.
4. When you run out of paper in a physics test, use the collar of the guy in front of you.
5. Don't waste time and paper on a test you are sure you will flunk. Cut the class.
6. To save note-book paper, don't take notes.
7. When you are looking for spit-ball ammunition, use only paper with writing on both sides.

WANTED—Someone to invent a dustless eraser. $10,000 reward.

—Commercial Students.

SIMPLE GEOMETRY

Given: A fellow loves a girl.

To prove: That the girl loves him.

Proof: 1. The fellow loves the girl; therefore the fellow is a lover.

2. The whole world loves a lover.

3. The girl is the whole world to him; therefore the girl loves the fellow.

Mr. V. H.—What are the greatest nations on earth?

J. L.—Examinations.

Miss S.—What were the dates you were absent, Elizabeth?

E. S.—February 29, 30, 31 and 33, Miss Swift.

Miss M.—When do the leaves begin to turn?

B. B.—The day before examinations.

H. S.—May I speak to Mr. W.?

Voice (answering)—Mr. W. is engaged.

H. S.—Well, you don't think I want to marry him, do you?

Miss S.—A mother's handwriting should not be judged by the excuses brought to school.

The Freshies all are swell heads,
The Sophomores are a fake,
The Juniors are a wonder,
But the Seniors take the cake!

SATURDAY

Social Activities

There were not very many social activities this year, and everything was unusually quiet at the school.

Our activities were begun with a hike to the Newark Reservoir in Cedar Grove. All members of the High School were invited and had a good time roasting frankfurters and marshmallows.

The Sophomores gave the Freshmen a party and held a Hallowe'en dance for themselves.

The Juniors and Seniors, in co-operation, held a dance. All who attended will remember the cider and doughnuts served, which made it such a success.

A dance was given for the Seniors by the Class of 1918. The music was unusually good.

The Juniors and Seniors each had a progressive supper.

All members of the High School enjoyed a trip up the Hudson on June 20th.

The basketball season of 1920-1921 has been the most successful in the history of the school. For this Coach Wilkin is to be especially commended. Although handicapped by the lack of a gymnasium, under his supervision and strict training, a team noted for its clean-play, strong team-work and shooting ability was turned out.

One of the special features of the season was the Bloomfield-Verona game, played on the former's court. Bloomfield put up a strong defensive game but was finally forced to yield to the onslaught of the Verona team.

On March 5th the Elimination Tournament for the High School Basketball Championship of New Jersey was held at Shanley's Gymnasium in Newark under the auspices of the State Athletic Association. Verona drew Emerson High of West Hoboken as an opponent and was defeated, but she has not lost confidence as she is the smallest High that has ever entered this tournament.

The team will lose three of its men by graduation this year but it is hoped that the deficiency will be made up by two very promising players, Lynn and Bray.

THE ALMA MATER

I

Come, lift your voices, let them ring
To Verona's praise and glory;
No stain shall darken any page
Of Verona's splendid story.

II

Though storms may threaten to engulf,
And tempest may arise;
Her courage shall throw off the yoke,
And break misfortune's ties.

III

Then here's to her, long may she light
The path of honor and of right;
Verona, the bravest of the brave,
Long may her noble banner wave!
