SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

OUT of the centuries, the year 1927 loomed importantly, for it was the year of Verona Grammar School's largest graduating class. Seventy-five strong, we went to our new classes with our heads up and chests out, for we were part of Verona High School.

But with a look into the mirror after the Hike our feeling of importance wilted. However, we carried on, until at the Hallowe'en party our injured dignity was soothed. In the spring we gained prestige by entertaining the High School at a party.

We were guided through the year by Leroy Lum as President, John Duffy, Vice-president; Muriel Collins, Secretary-Treasurer and Miss Imogene Cook, as class dean.

When vacation had come and gone we found ourselves diminished by twenty three. On the advice of the previous senior class we assumed "the much needed studiousness and dignity" so well that the senior class of '29 willed us "a sashweight to hang on the end of our nose."

The result of class elections gave us William Freedman as President, Betty Sims as Vice-president, and Muriel Collins as Secretary-Treasurer. Mrs. Edith Burton and Mr. Charles Renn acted as class Deans.

In our opinion the most outstanding event of the year was our party held in March. (Oh that punch!)

The following autumn brought us to school as Juniors. William Freedman was again our president; Marion Allard, vice-president; Muriel Collins, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Overton was our class dean.

Several of our members took leading parts in the School Plays, "The Romancers", "The Trysting Place", and in the Operetta "Rosamunde". (Remember the guards?)

As we were Juniors this year we made Class Night a gala affair for the Twenty-Niners.

How the years have flown! Seniors! Our officers for this year are John Duffy, president; William Freedman, vice-president; and Muriel Collins, secretary-treasurer. Miss Mary Overton is again our class dean. Transforming the gym into a spider web one evening, we invited the School into our parlor for a Hallowe'en party. We were again well represented in the High School Play, "The Magistrate", and in the Operetta "Sailor Maids".

With the aid received from the Operetta, the Parent Teacher's Association and friends we boarded the train on April 9 for Washington, D. C. It was a wonderful trip and it is fitting at this point that we express our appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Brown, our chaperones.

To the Board of Education, Mr. Crane, the faculty, and especially to our class deans, we extend our heartfelt gratitude for all their counsel, aid, and encouragement.

THE WASHINGTON TRIP

WHAT shouts of rejoicing there were when we were told that our long hoped for Washington Trip was to become a reality! And then what a scramble for funds, as all of you undoubtedly know.

All our worries were terminated, except those of our chaperones, as we reached the Market Street Station on April 9. After purchasing all kinds of magazines, candy, etc., we boarded the 1:31 and began our journey (also our foolishness). Upon arriving at the Union Station in Washington at 6:10 we were conveyed to the Hotel Driscoll in a bus. We walked after dinner to the beautiful Library of Congress, where we viewed many interesting, historical documents, among which was the Declaration of Independence. The boys had previously purchased canes only to have them grabbed away as they entered the building. There was dancing at the hotel, plus a very unique performance by a very clever person who demonstrated his skill at singing, playing the piano, and dancing—all apologies to those arts. As there were more than one pair of tired feet, we ascended to get into our pajamas. A party—and you know there isn't a party without eats—was scheduled at twelve by the clock in room 436, the room with the bath.

Have you ever seen people hanging out of windows? Yes? Ah, but you haven't seen two, three, yes, and sometimes four heads out of each window of the side of a building—all with the same thought in mind and therefore all getting drenched! And it's queer how, when one's trying to get to one's own room in the wee hours of the morning, there is a house detective everlastingly in the way. The following morning everybody was up bright and early (yes, up in bed). We did manage to get in a little food before starting on our tour of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving where we saw United States money being printed. Later the beautifully constructed Pan-American building, where they have a monopoly on the coffee market, the Washington Monument, the White House, the Capitol, the Amphitheatre, and the Lincoln Memorial held our interest.

In the evening we were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brown at the new Fox Theatre and Brownley's ice-cream parlor.

The morning of our last day arrived all too soon, and we took our places for the trip to Mount Vernon, the picturesque mansion of George Washington, passing through Alexandria and stopping at Christ Church, the Masonic Temple, the old Presbyterian Church, the Smithsonian Institute, and the new National Museum.

We left the hotel at 4:45 and scrambled aboard the train, leaving the "White City" behind. As soon as we all got on the train, we paraded to the dining car and were served all we desired (and how!). The waiters were so nice, but so were their buttons, many of which are "Among our Souvenirs." After a very busy and noisy time we arrived at "Ye Olde Market Street Station" at 9:50 happy—but, oh, so tired!

PARENT TEACHER ASSOCIATION

THE Parent Teacher Association for the season 1930-1931 had a good beginning in October, with the following Officers and Committees: President, William F. Fismer; Vice President, Harold A. Crane; Recording Secretary, Horace J. Sheppard; Corresponding Secretary, Claude Valentine; Treasurer, Mrs. A. C. Jackson. Committee Chairmen: Publicity, Mrs. Charles Meuser; Membership, Mrs. G. A. Derwig; Hospitality, Mrs. A. C. Jackson; Refreshment, Mrs. H. Douglas; Program, James McEwan.

One important item of business enacted at this meeting was the raising of the dues from twenty-five cents to fifty cents annually. The membership also went on record in commending and thanking Mrs. James McEwan for her efficient and successful administration.

The program for each meeting was instructive and interesting. The theme for the year aimed to bring to the attention of the students, the educational opportunities that are available, at low cost, right here in Northern New Jersey.

The annual banquet under the supervision of Miss Hopper, was both satisfying and enjoyable. The speakers were Mrs. C. A. Hill, Vice President, New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers—and Miss Helen Hosp, at that time of the High School Faculty, who gave a brief, interesting account of her trip around the world.

Other speakers throughout the year were Mr. John Walko, Principal, Essex County Vocational School for Boys, Montclair, N. J., Miss Clara H. Krauter, Principal, Essex County Vocational School for Girls, Newark, N. J., Mr. Herbert Meyer, Chief of Placement Junior Employment Dept. Vocational Schools, Newark, N. J.; Mr. Allan R. Cullimore, Dean of the Faculty, Newark College of Engineering; Professor Smith, from Newark Public School of Fine and Industrial Arts. For the concluding number we were favored with Mr. Frans Ericsson, Dean of the Faculty, Upsala College, East Orange, N. J.

Special music was supplied for each meeting and that with the general singing made a pleasing variation. The High School Male Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Schill, sang at one of the meetings.

The third year French Class, under the direction of Miss Cheney, presented a one act play, "La Voyage de Monsieur Perrichon." It was well given and reflected creditably on Miss Cheney. A demonstration of the Gym work, the girls directed by Miss Beck, and the boys by Mr. Goeltz, was well received.

A card party and dance for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund and the Senior Class Washington Trip was successfully given in March. The proceeds were apportioned as follows: fifty dollars for the Scholarship Fund and the balance for the Seniors.

A social hour followed each regular meeting, when under the mellowing influence of cake and coffee, general discussions took a more personal note, and better understanding ensued.

Our program asks, "Why should you belong to a Parent Teacher Association?" "Because it is the one purely democratic, non-political, non-commercial organization that seeks to further the interests of all children, through which you may make yourself a better parent and join your efforts to those of the teachers and your neighbors to improve school conditions and to make this community a healthier, safer, saner place in which to raise your family."

We have come to the close of another year. The work under the able leadership of our President, William F. Fismer, has been most pleasant and we have loyally kept the torch burning. This brand we pass to our successors with the hope that they will make the next year the best in the history of the association.

Respectfully submitted,

Horace J. Sheppard
Recording Secretary.

MUSIC

ORCHESTRA

All the members of the High School wish to thank Miss Allen for her splendid leadership of the orchestra, which has been so successfully shown.

We all feel great pride in the results of the rehearsals. We have enjoyed practicing many new selections such as: "The Glow Worm" by Paul Lincke, "Country Gardens" by Percy Grainger, "Song of India" by Rimsky Korsakoff and later we hope to present successfully "The Blue Danube" by Johann Strauss.

The officers elected last fall are: President, Otto Cannon; Vice-President, Astrid Anderson; Secretary, Ethel Johnson; Librarian, Clara Stilwell; Stage Manager Charles Marchant.

E. J. '32

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Esther Allen, was organized this year into a Tuesday Club and a Thursday Club.

The officers of the Tuesday Club are as follows: Virginia Miller, President; Gertrude Carlson, Vice-President; Margaret Zimmerman, Secretary; Ednamae Donahue and Emma Oates, Librarians. The officers of the Thursday Club are: Valeska Jacobsen, President; Helen Jackson, Vice-President; Anna Gulla, Secretary; Ruth Sellick and Marion Teare, Librarians.

Participating in several school programs the combined clubs entertained the Rotary Club, the Women's Club, and the Parent-Teacher Association.

MUSICAL COMEDY

"SAILOR MAIDS"

Glee Club members especially enjoyed taking part in this year's musical comedy, "Sailor Maids," by Charles Ross Cheney, because it had a modern setting. The music was peppy and there was a healthy oceanic atmosphere throughout.

The principal characters in the cast included Ethel Johnson, the leading lady, Virginia Miller, Hugh Lynn, Sidney Cook, Harold Krasner, William C. Freedman, Arthur Krauss, and the not-to-be-forgotten "Swedish Destroyer," Emma Oates. With the cooperation of a large chorus, the cast was able to do creditable work.

Miss Allen, Miss Wetjen, Miss Beck, Miss Hopper, and Mr. Dwyer, were exceedingly patient in helping to make a success of the operetta. We are happy to have been able to show our appreciation of their assistance by collecting a large amount in receipts.

SOCIAL EVENTS

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Friday night, October 31, the Senior Class invited the entire school and all alumni and parents to attend their Hallowe'en party. After the Grand March, which all enjoyed, the prizes for the costumes were awarded as follows: prettiest, Marian McEwan; handsomest, Carl Witte; most original, Helen Mueser; funniest, George Derwig. Music for dancing and special novelty dances was provided by Bill Camarata's orchestra. Doughnuts and cider were served.

M. C. '31

SOPHOMORE PARTY

The Sophomore Party this year was held on February 6. The auditorium was decorated in red and white by a committee consisting of: Charlotte Gleisner, Albert Perella, Lois Dryden, George Crawford, Elizabeth Hoffmann, and Judson Parker. Refreshments were prepared and served by a committee of Gertrude Morris, Marian Knipshild, Gertrude St. Claire, and Robert Ellett. The entertainment committee made up of Anne Weir, Elsie Pien, Lester Genser, and Harold Krasner took charge of the novelty dances and prizes. One of the dances was for the Freshies. Frances Carlson and Theodore Magee won prizes for this dance. Music for the evening was furnished by Bill Camarata and his orchestra.

V. W. '33

FRESHMAN PARTY

On Friday evening, May 15, the Freshman Class entertained the school at a party. Some of the specialty dances of the evening were the Lemon Dance, Spotlight, and Lucky Number. Tables were provided for those who preferred to play cards, checkers, or ping-pong. Music was furnished by Charlie Cowan's orchestra. The refreshments were punch and cake. After a very enjoyable evening the party broke up a little after eleven o'clock.

HI-Y

This year an awakening of interest in the necessity of making White-horne a better high school brought about the banding together of a group of boys interested in "creating, maintaining, and extending throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character." The fifteen active members tried hard throughout the year to accomplish this aim by "Clean Speech, Clean Sport and Clean Scholarship." Much of the credit for the founding of this HI-Y club must be given to its President, James Franklin, who had the able assistance of Vice President, Hugh Lynn and Secretary-Treasurer, Floyd Bragg. The members of the club wish to express their gratitude to Mr. Franklin and Mr. Eric Anderson, the clubs two advisers, who helped make the Verona HI-Y a success.

DRAMATICS

PLAY CAST

The annual school play of the year was Pinero's "The Magistrate", which was ably coached by Miss Hosp. The play was well done.

The plot of the play hinges on the false statement of her age made by Mrs. Posket when she marries a second time. By subtracting five years from her age she makes her nineteen year old son a boy of fourteen. Amusing situations arise when Colonel Lukyn, an old friend of the lady in question arrives on the scene and the last five years stand in danger of discovery.

The parts were taken by Marian McEwan, David Sheppard, Hugh Lynn, Victor Duffy, Floyd Bragg, John Duffy, Lillian Smith, Cherry Brown, Hildgarde Derwig, Charles Smiley, Ralph Cohen, William Freedman, Nelson Smith, Alfred Colardeau, Claude Valentine, and Clarence Littlefield.

"LE VOYAGE DE MONSIEUR PERRICHON"

This year the Junior French classes under the supervision of Miss Cheney dramatized two scenes from the comedy "Le Voyage de Monsieur Perrichon". The first scene takes place in a railroad station when Monsieur Perrichon, a retired carriage maker, his wife, and daughter are about to take their first trip. While Monsieur Perrichon madly dashes about making preparations, Madame Perrichon and Henriette are approached by two admirers of the latter, Armand and Daniel, who learn their destination and follow them.

The second scene is laid in an inn in Switzerland. It portrays the tumult which ensued shortly after Monsieur Perrichon had been rescued from a fissure in the glacier by Armand.

The dramatization was presented first before the school assembly and later at a Parent-Teacher Association meeting. The audiences managed to get a good many laughs from the performances although very few understood its content.

The cast was as follows: James Franklin, Marion McEwan, Pera Marion, George Mowry, William Crabtree, Victor Duffy.

The annual public speaking contest was held on the evening of April 24 under the supervision of Miss Audrey Wetjen. By the judges' decision the first prize of ten dollars was awarded to Hugh Lynn, the second prize of five dollars to Eileen Moore, and Honorable Mention to Boyd Dickerson. The Girls' Glee Clubs rendered selections between the recitations and we were also fortunate in having with us Mr. Paul Hamilton, Baritone, of Montclair State Teachers College who, accompanied by Miss Allen, gave a group of songs.

SOCCER

The 1930 soccer season opened with a large squad of candidates. Seven veterans formed a nucleus with good prospects for the rest of the positions.

The team played some of the best teams in the state. Its record for grit and determination has won for Verona the recognition of many schools.

Goals were scored by: Capt. Duffy 3; Smith 2; Camarata 2; Freedman 1; Dox 1; Beam 1.

This season we won two games, lost five, and tied three.

The following schools were played: East Orange; Montclair; Dickinson; Harrison; East Side, Paterson; Kearny.

Coach Goeltz deserves much credit for this team.

S. B. C. Jr. '31

BASKETBALL

Although our basketball team won only two of eleven games, it will go down in Verona's athletic history as one of the gamest teams ever organized. With only one experienced player, Captain "Bill" Freedman, who ably led the team, and four new men, Alan MacNaughten, center, Captain elect Hugh Lynn, forward, Nelson Smith, forward, and Joe Dox, guard, the team held teams more experienced to close contests.

Captain "Bill" Freedman will always be remembered as Verona's best defensive player and especially for his shooting in the Chatham game in which he amassed sixteen points. The other graduating player, Alan MacNaughten, playing his first year of varsity basketball was the most consistent of the scorers and will be remembered as the fighting "diminutive" center.

Prospects look bright for a 1932 team with three experienced men as a nucleus.

BASEBALL

With the season not quite half over as this goes to press the baseball team is fast rounding into shape. The defeat of Caldwell marks the high spot of the first half of the season. Winning this game has increased the enthusiasm of the team and its followers.

The team was handicapped during the early part of the season by bad weather but has progressed rapidly under the able coaching of Mr. Wilkin.

The lineup for 1931 is as follows: first base, Freedman; second base, Crawford; shortstop, Lynn; third base, Camarata; catchers, Smith and Ginsberg; pitchers, Dox, Beam, and Swallow; outfielders, Duffy, Cohen, and Crabtree.

G. A. M. '32

TENNIS

1931 is our first year in this particular sport. Mr. Crane is acting as coach and he hopes to develop a winning combination. Although handicapped by the lack of school courts, the fellows show an interest in the sport.

The team has yet to prove its ability. So far this season we have lost games to Kingsley 3-2, Glen Ridge, 3-2, Montclair Academy 5-0. We still have a few games to play and hope before the end of the season to have a winning team. Those who have shown ability in this particular sport are MacNaughten, Lynn, Camarata, and Goldbaum.

W. K. '31

GOLF

Golf, a fast-coming sport in the schools of the United States, has taken a firm hold on the boys of Verona High School.

The team enjoyed a very successful season and made a fine showing against much larger schools. The schedule included two games with Caldwell, South Side, West Orange, and Newark Academy., The first match with each team was played on the home course at Greenbrook Country Club in North Caldwell.

GIRLS' A. C.

The Girls' Athletic Club has had a successful season owing to the fine spirit of the girls, especially of those in the Freshman class.

The Senior team was a close second for the basketball championship this year, but the Junior team, for the third time won that honor.

The officers of this year's club were; President, Kathryn Douglass; Vice-President, Peggy Jackson; Secretary, Helen Mueser; Treasurer, Hazel Lofstrom.

Miss Beck deserves a great deal of credit in the organization of this club and in the way she has worked out a point system enabling us to have some way of recording the goodwork done by the members.

OUR IDEAL MR. 1931 Has:

The hair of Sidney Cook.
The eyes of Alan MacNaughten.
The physique of Art Krauss.
The smile of Bill Freedman.
The height of David Sheppard.
The sense of humor of Donald Maguire.
The common sense of John Duffy.
The personality of Salvador Camarata.
The all-aroundness of Walter Kiefer.

Can You Imagine

Agnes Colleary being innocent?
Bill Freedman in an Austin?
Betty Sims without a grin?
Tourie Camarata working in History?
Dag Anderson without the basketball?
Johnny' Duffy going steady?
Dot Bahr on a diet?
Donald Maguire as a minister?
Hazel Lofstrom in a sweet mood?
Elmer Williams and Eileen Moore going together?
Walter Kiefer smoking cigars?
Evelyn Parsons shouting?
Art Krauss driving under fifty?
Muriel Collins without her conceit?
Dave Sheppard's hair staying combed?
Virginia Dryden laughing to herself?
Sidney Cook as an athlete?
Anne Fenton without Freddy?
George Derwig as a Chicago racketeer?
Marion Allard without three meals a day?
Alan MacNaughten on a date?
Mildred Baldwin in a bad humor?

HAVE YOU FORGOTTEN:

The laundry yard?
Anne Weir's fainting?
Smitty and Ruth?
Anne Fenton's punctuality?
Gobby's gossip?
Mr. Dimmers' spring outfit?
Miss Wetjen's "quizzes"?
The Horse at the Barn Dance?
Boughton's "er's"?
Krauss' boxing?

SUNSET FROM THE AIR

How wonderful it must be
To gallop through the skies
Behind a hundred horses
Prancing and snorting
With reddened nostrils wide.

What exhilaration to cleave the skies
With silver wings,
And feel the wind dancing through one's hair,
As we go to view the sunset from the air.

The landscape below
In the firelight glow of the evening sunset,
A mass of color and delight,
Changing slowly into night,
Tells a tale of earthly beauty
Unseen by mortals bound to earth.

Oh, for the sunset from the air
Where daily cares have no voice,
And beauty shines everywhere!

D. M. '31

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

They say he was homely,
I don't see why;
I see only his soul
Shining deep in his eye.

Some praised to his face,
But others as I,
Praise in their hearts,
Alone, to the sky.

E. L. P. '31

WHEN!

When the classes end at one o'clock,
And books are studied at home,
When the baseball team has won a game,
And the high school starts to roam;
When the library's used for reference work,
And the study halls quiet down,
When Sheppard and Cook are seen no more
Trailing each other aroun';
When assembly becomes an exciting abode,
And gym classes appeal to us all,
When Freshmen begin to realize their place,
And Freedman begins to grow small;
When Fenton gets to some classes on time,
And Maguire is seen with a frown,
Then—you might as well hang your hat on the floor,
For the world will be turned up-side-down.

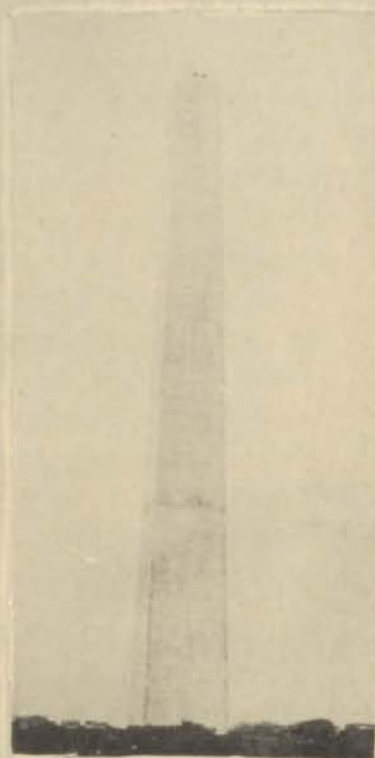

A TRIBUTE TO THINGS GONE BY

The lower hall is silent,
 The stairs are all well-worn,
The backs of wearied students bent
 With loads that must be borne.

Oh, those good old days are gone,
 Noon hour's no longer free,
The sun shines on and on,
 But "Cafeteria" holds you and me.

All hail to the person, however,
 Whom we'd greet with kind attention,
If we knew that worthy one's name,
 For doing away with detention!

C. M. B. '32

MR. WILKIN!

FORTY score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new language and called it Latin. We are now met in Room 5 in a great examination to test whether that language or any other language so deadly can long be remembered. To those unsuccessful ones who have met here before us we dedicate a portion of our sympathy, and we hereby do highly resolve that those slain shall not have tried in vain and that this school have a new lease of life, and that Latin shall perish from the earth.

Mr. Anderson: "What do we call a man who refuses to eat meat?"

Shirley: "Fussy."

Dot Bahr: "Look at that man on the ladder! He's losing his equilibrium."

Bill Freedman: "A lady wouldn't notice that."

Frank M.: "What's an operetta?"

Arthur: "Don't be so dumb—it's a girl who works for the telephone company."

WANT ADS

Wanted: A man; tall, dark, and handsome; with money.

Cherry Brown

Wanted: Male Students who can really sing.

Miss Allen

Wanted: Gigolos for the sophs. Good pay. Late hours.

(Will Duffy answer this?)

Wanted: A square circle. Send at once to Gilbert Tobin.

Wanted: A popular gym class.

Fred: Er,—a lady who makes butter.

Soph (to Fresh): "Did you ever take chloroform?"
Fresh: "No, who teaches it?"

"Is Gobby a musician?"
"No, he plays a drum."

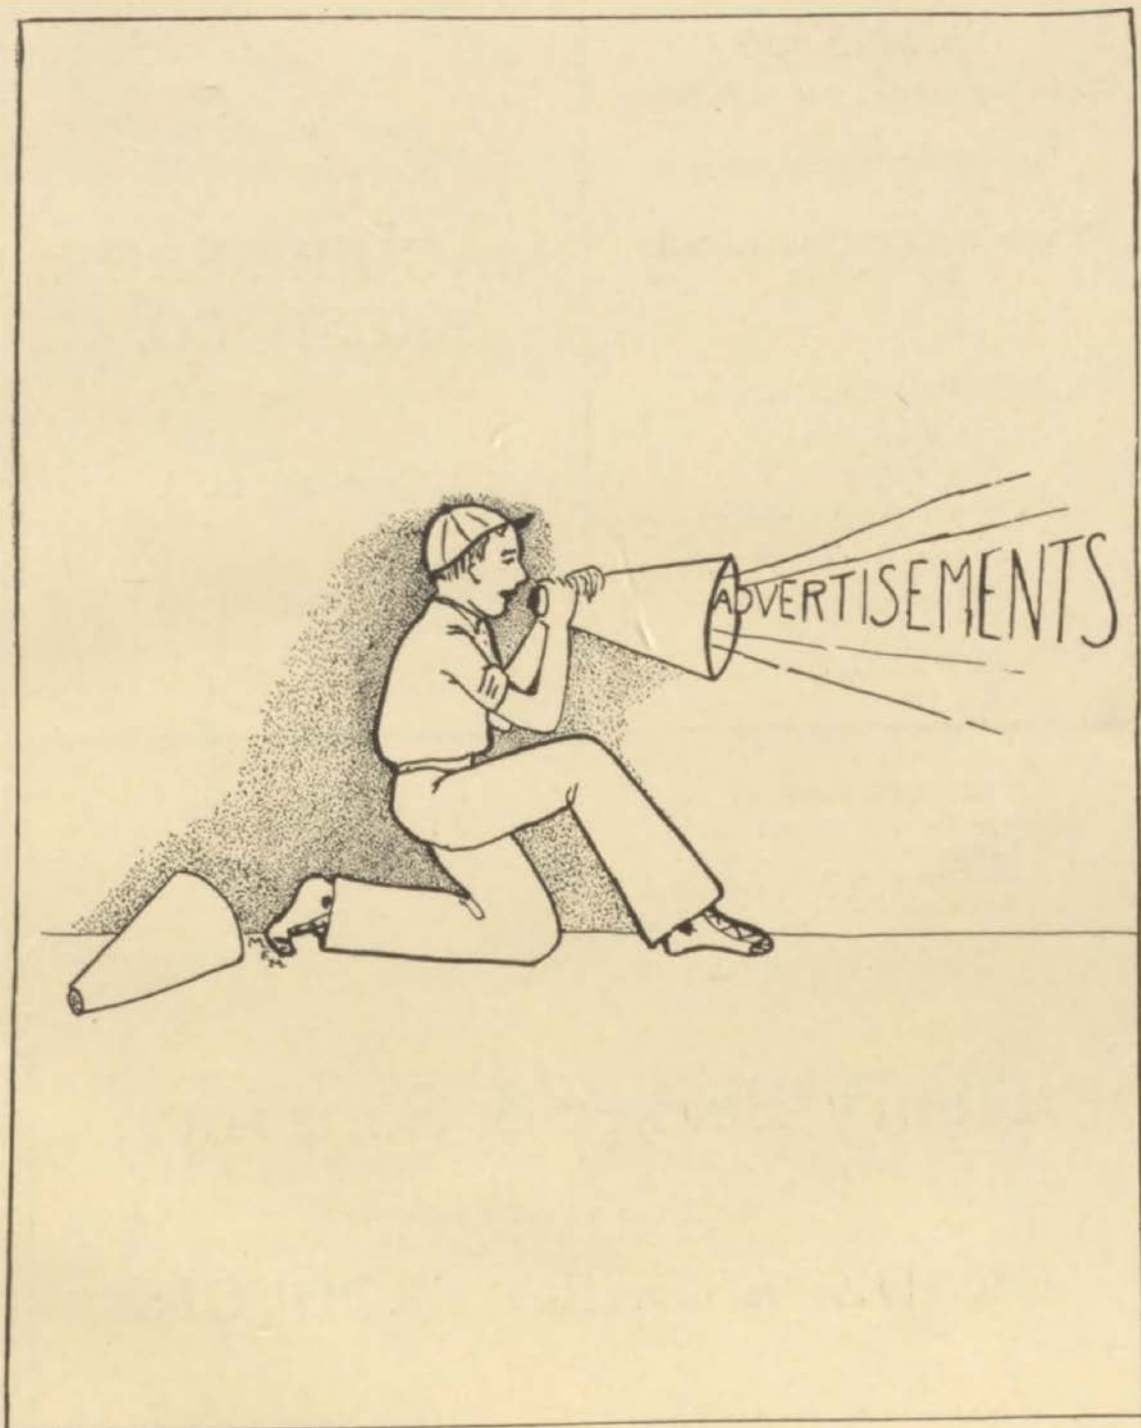

"The best thing for you to do," said Doc, "is to give up smoking, drinking anything but water at your meals, dancing, late hours—"
"Wait," interrupted Nelson Smith, "what's the next best thing?"
