FOREWORD

The staff in preparing the 1938 "Shadows" has endeavored to produce an improved and different type of yearbook.

In both photographs and text, the purpose has been to create a vivid and impressive picture of the activities of Henry B. Whitehorne High during the school year 1937-1938.

It is the hope of the staff that the Class of 1938 may leave with pleasant memories, stimulated, and kept alive by "Shadows."

DEDICATION

With the utmost esteem and appreciation for his many years of devoted service in our behalf, we dedicate this, the seventeenth edition of Shadows, to Frederick N. Brown, whose retirement this year prompts us, at the same time, to bid him farewell—and God speed!

FAREWELL TO THE SENIORS

Another year has been concluded at V. H. S.; another class, through work and hope and perseverance, has attained its goal and is ready to leave us, fortified with the knowledge and experience gained in the past four years. We bid them farewell and wish them as much success in their future endeavors as we hope to have in equalling them in athletic and scholastic triumphs.

The Juniors have not been so quiet this year as you think—ahem! At the Lincoln Assembly Question Bee, we contributed contestants in the persons of Janet Brown, Bryant Reed, and Henrik Kathenes. The finish of the Question Bee found the Juniors on top. We also planned and carried out a successful prom in June, which everyone enjoyed. So—you see we are ambitious??

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Station WWG (will we graduate?) presents your Snoopreter, Dicky Boy Fiske, and his news flashes of the Sophomore Class, right out of his inquisitive mind. Are you ready?

Flash, flash! Sputter, sputter!

Brice Bloodgood was going to give a vocal recital, but the authorities thought too much of the public.

Personal to Bobby Robbins—We know all about the classic Traveling Salesman. You'd better think up a new line.

Miller and Purdie rendered a wonderful arrangement for four hands. The piano could stand it, but did your audience?

Advice to Lois S.—That was nice singing, but you make some people nervous just watching you.

Ladies, Attention! Mildred Polak is showing some of the latest coiffures a la Paris.

Announcement! The Class of '40 is not behind times. A new secret society, the K. C. K., has been formed. It's very modern and efficient, and while often dormant, it crops up in the most unexpected places. It was formed, as I have learned, to protect his associates from the verbal utterances of one who enjoys "The wrong thing at the wrong time." When he buzzes around, you whisper K. C. K. and he'll go away. Poor Larry!

Did you know that it is rumored that Gordon is 3' 6", but don't believe everything I tell you, and you'd never know Mouse. Tempus fugit, n'est-ce pas? Ja!

Appreciation to Miss Howell for acting as post mistress during fifth period study hall and delivering the mail, at this time is extended. I imagine it is rather embarrassing to receive a note from a teacher's lily-white hand, especially if you're not expecting it. I wasn't there, but for further information, ask one who was.

Just a moment, President Tom Cartmill, Vice-President Bob Miller, and Secretary Betty Blomquist, have just rushed in with an important announcement. The announcement is to the effect that the Sophomore Class Dance was given May 27. Tch, Tch, as if we didn't know. The class, also has been represented in sports, dramatic and musical events.

Time is up now, so until next Spring your Snoopreter says adieu.

THE CLASS OF '41 MAKES ITS BOW

Last September, a class of uncertain, unadjusted, and completely unfamiliar students entered the Verona High School. For several weeks they floundered about the halls and stuttered incoherent recitations in class, generally making fools of themselves, much to the disgust of the upper classes. But by December, they had found themselves and had become a very organized group, contributing their plentiful talent to drama, music, athletics, and many other fields, much to the surprise and perhaps dismay, of the upper classes. In March they presented a Sports Dance which was a great success.

There are 122 students in the Freshman Class, governed by the following class officers: Donald Graham, President; Marjorie Sterett, Vice-President; and Imogene Garrett, Secretary-Treasurer.

Now that the end of the term has arrived, looking back, we must agree that the Class of '41 has a very enviable record as a Freshman group.

THINGS WHICH MAKE SOME FRESHMEN ORIGINAL

Mary Lou Conover and Imogene Garrett—Their uncanny attraction which draws seniors like flies.

Jay Howett—His knack for talking a lot and saying nothing.

Louis Van Orden, Robert Hyde, and John Shaw—those candid camera-men again!!!

Jack De Camp—His habit of working himself out of class.

Edwin La Rue—His staff of mathematicians which he maintains to check his algebra problems.

Paul Kreuder—His accurate reproduction of his older sister's giggle.

Esther Tanner—Her accurate (?) definitions of startling words in English class.

Martha Lafferty—Her original little game of handkerchief-pulling.

Blair Williams—That reporter's instinct—he never misses a thing!

Warren Sihl—His gusty, voluminous laughter when something happens in class.

Paul Smith—His falsetto School Council reports.

Muriel Wilson—Her never exhausted supply of chewing gum—in her mouth.

"Butch" Chidester—His painstaking way of packing up his homework while we sit waiting for dismissal.

Robert Hyde—His weakness for playing the Sophist.

Imogene Garrett—Her hopeful translations of sign language.

SHADOWS . . . The Shadows editors were elected by the Student Council, early in December, from the members of the senior and junior classes. Donald Hoagland was elected Editor-in-Chief for the second year. The other editors included: Frances Scher, Literary; Opal St. George, Typing; Oliver Cordz, Business. Members of the staff were as follows: Sophie Kreuder, Roberta Kautzmann, Eleanor Sterett, Betty Danielson, Dorothy Bush, Virginia Shaw, Robert Hyde, Christine Mau, Jill Young, Florence Finkel, Adolf Pischl, Jane Walker, Irene Scharago, Ben Gulla and Eleanor Indahl. Paul E. Dimmers served as the adviser.

SCHOOL COUNCIL 1937-38 . . . The 1937-38 School Council has put a good year's work behind it under the capable leadership of its president Bert Englert. As the council is the legislative body of the students, many problems are brought up before it and some solution worked out. This year the Council installed clocks in the locker room with funds donated by the Class of 1936. A foot bath was fixed in the boys' locker room, more bookshelves added, the forming of a student court provided for, preventative methods taken to insure students against locker thefts and, in general, an attempt to make V. H. S. a better school.

The International Students' Society . . . This year the International Students' Society had the largest membership since its organization. At the first meeting these officers were elected: President, Hyman Amsterdam; Vice President, Adolf Pischl; Secretary, Frances Scher; Corresponding Secretary, Dorothy Collins; Treasurer, Pat Campbell.

At Christmas a party was held, in which several old French customs were carried out, and French carols sung. The peasant costumes that the girls wore added to the holiday atmosphere. A Guignol show and several plays concerning "Toto" were given. On October 27th, the club sponsored the well-known motion picture, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" which was very successful.

The Girls' Athletic Association . . . Under the able leadership of Mrs. Aline B. Van Houten, faculty adviser, the Girls' A. A. has had a most successful year.

During the different seasons, the girls have participated in several sports including hockey, basketball, ping pong, archery, and baseball. After the packing away of clubs, balls, and shin-guards, the club carried on a successful basketball program. Following the intra-mural basketball tournament, a play day was held at Verona with the following schools: Montclair, Glen Ridge, Caldwell, and Morristown. Soon afterward Caldwell was entertained and two games were played. Rainy weather delayed baseball, but after a

The purpose of the Radio Appreciation Class is to develop a more critical listening audience among students and help others become more appreciative of radio through them.

This year's activities included visiting studios and studying scripts of radio art, and analyzing and evaluating programs, creating and producing programs, and considering current radio problems.

The class published a pamphlet "Read, Listen and Learn," telling what they had learned and suggesting radio activities for others. This was written mainly for parents to assist them in guiding their children's listening habits.

This course was introduced two years ago, by Mrs. Fletcher, after a summer's study at the U. S. Office of Education's Radio Workshop.

The purpose of the Publicity Committee this year has been to arouse the interest of the student body in school activities, such as dances, by means of posters and blackboard advertising. Through the Committee, publicity was provided for the A. A. ticket campaign and the Hallowe'en Dance. The members were: Lloyd Wicks, Chairman; Opal St. George, Roberta Kautzmann, Frances Scher, Donald Hoagland, and Joyce Wilkin. Mr. Dimmers was faculty adviser.

In its fifth year of existence as a part of the School Council, the Finance Committee handled the finances of the various school activities and organizations.

The handling of the door admissions at dances, basketball games, and other evening functions, and the keeping of records, and reports to the organizations were the principal duties during the year.

The members of the committee were: Oliver Cordz, chairman and Book-keeper; Ruth Allard, Betty Blomquist, Walter Bunton, Rachel De Santis, Donald Hoagland, William McCrystal, Elinor Sigler, and Robert Williams.

Mrs. Harriette E. Prince and Miss Sarah B. Decker were the faculty advisers.

The Lost and Found Committee, with a member on duty every afternoon from two to quarter of three, has handled about a hundred and fifty lost articles this year, many of them quite valuable. It also has a complete card system, which enables a detailed record to be kept. If unclaimed for two weeks, anything found is returned to the finder, or disposed of.

The Lost and Found Committee consists of: Chairman, Florence Finkel; Faculty Adviser, Miss Alice Cheney; and Virginia Shaw, Rita Salzman, Susan St. George and Jack Pruden.

Formation of our first traffic unit occurred in the fall of 1933. The initial task of this group was to keep traffic moving during the passing of classes.

During the last two years, however, a number of additional duties have added to the responsibilities of the Traffic Patrol. Class traffic has been encouraged to use right hand doors and one-way traffic has been enforced in two sections of the building. Members of the Patrol have taken entire charge of at least two fire drills per month. Assembly seating is made according to seniority and in orderly form through supervision of Patrol members. To insure honesty in the lunch lines four members have been on daily lunch line duty. Infractions of traffic regulations are handled by the Patrol Adviser working with the Patrol members.

The Social Committee, with Winnie Coad as chairman, aided in the Social affairs of the school. There were four evening dances. The School Council gave a semi-formal dance in honor of the Alumni. The Senior, Sophomore, and Freshman ran individual class dances.

These were organized and directed by the committee. Members of the committee were Winnie Coad, chairman; Eileen Cronin, Adolph Pischl, Elaine Wilder, Jack Pruden, Jeanne Greenig, Marie Hansberry, Betty Blomquist, Doris Johnson, Mary Lou Conover, and Marjorie Sterett.

Miss Vera Michel was faculty adviser.

Social Committee

The purpose of the Assembly Committee is to plan interesting assemblies for the year. Some of the more successful assemblies this year were: The School Play previews given on December 8; Amateur Hour, on March 2; Archery Program, on March 23; Mrs. Kaas' "Anecdotes of Verona," and Dramatic Club Plays. We had several science assemblies such as: "Previews of Progress," and "The Life of a Bee." Special speakers covered the topics, "Good Manners," "Memory Training," and the Armistice and Columbus Day programs.

The members of the Committee were: Ruth Allard, Chairman; Ruth Manalio, Secretary; Florence Toomey, Clarence Anderson, Robert Williams, Doris Johnson, Frances Pangburn and Maurice Wilson.

The Service Committee had charge of selling tickets for the Athletic Association, dances, and helped out in any way that was needed. The members are as follows: Wallace Hart, Janis Scott, Bryant Reed, Janet Brown, Henrick Kathenes, Evelyn Cory, and Audrey Varley.

DRAMATIC CLUB

The Dramatic Club applied for a charter at the beginning of the year, from the Student Council, and they now have a member on the Council.

Its members have been very active this year, for they presented the School Play, "Wait 'Till We're Married," a three-act comedy, in December, and followed this up with two one-act plays in assembly, "Chiselers Three," in February, with a freshman and sophomore cast; and "The Florist Shop," in April. The cast of the School Play also presented "The Monkey's Paw" in June.

Their program also included a variety show, several parties (including a roller-skating one), and several trips to New York to see the University of Pennsylvania's production "50-50," and "Golden Boy."

The officers were: President, Florence Finkel; Vice-President, Ruth Allard; Secretary, Florence Toomey; Treasurer, Beth Bollenback. The faculty adviser and coach was Mr. Harold Butterworth. A meeting of the entire club was held every other week, and an executive committee, composed of the officers, Mr. Butterworth, and selected members of the various classes met on the alternating Tuesdays. Various committees were formed at the beginning of the year to assist production.

In all, this year, the Dramatic Club has been one of the largest and most active clubs in the school.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

This year the combined Glee Clubs and Orchestra have enjoyed a very successful season. The Christmas program was produced through the efforts of these organizations, under the leadership of Miss Muriel Lewis and Edmund Schill. A concert and radio review was presented on April 8 to a filled house. Highlights of the program included selections by separate clubs and a concertized version of George Bizet's opera, "Carmen." The last project of the year will be the program for the commencement exercises the last week of school.

The members of the Glee Clubs were invited to join after their voices were tested and found to be suitable material for group work. Aside from the aforementioned projects, the Glee Clubs have sponsored, with the Band, the community carol sing the week before Christmas.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The Orchestra furnished the music for the School Play, "Wait 'Till We're Married," as well as the marches and anthems for the assembly programs. At the annual P. T. A. Banquet the Orchestra furnished the dinner music.

Some of the members of these organizations went to see the Barber of Seville at the Metropolitan Opera House in March.

Four representatives of the Girls' Glee Club were chosen to sing at the Essex County Festival. They were Beth Bollenbach, Eleanor Indahl, Doris Bealer and Roberta Kautzmann.

The high school Band showed great improvement this year, not only in its playing, but also has resumed parading because there was sufficient number of players and the proper balance of instruments. At the Pep-Rallies and the Caldwell-Verona games, the Band performed with vibrant enthusiasm. For Memorial Day the Band is practicing for an open air concert which will take place in Verona Lake Park.

THE BUILDING and GROUNDS COMMITTEE

At the beginning of the year, authorities recognized a great need for improvement of the appearance of the building and grounds. About October the idea for the Building and Grounds Committee was turned over to the Council. They approved it and appointed Eric Thyren as Chairman of the Committee. The group has representatives in the cafeteria, locker rooms and halls. A set of rules were given out, announcing conditions in the cafeteria, locker rooms, and the main hall. With the cooperation of the student body, this group has been rather successful. Members of the committee include: Eric Thyren, Chairman; Robert Robbins, Charles Sweeney, Henrik Kathenes, Pat Campbell, Beth Bollenback, Dorothy Wachtel, and Jean Sigler. Mr. Crane was the faculty adviser.

SCHOOL COUNCIL

This year, for the first time, the council has, at its own expense, provided for the printing of the pictures of all civic committees under its jurisdiction. The council funds are always on hand to help any school affair out of financial difficulty.

Several members of the council went to Montclair State Teachers' College where the annual School Council Convention was held. Nearly a thousand students representing the whole state of New Jersey attended various lectures and discussions on all phases of student problems in their respective schools, one giving ideas to another. Through this convention and a visit to East Orange High School, we received help concerning our Traffic Court and other problems.

Perhaps the most successful achievement of the Council year was the establishment of a new tradition for Verona High School namely the School Council Alumni Dance, given at Christmas time in honor of the Alumni. This semi-formal dance has been the most successful one given under school auspices in several years. Though the Council may have failed in several points, it has earnestly tried to do its best and has accomplished many things not done in past years.

The following students are members of the School Council:

Bert Englert, President; Robert Dunn, Vice President; Shirley Anderson, Secretary; Oliver Cordz, Wallace Hart, Lloyd Wicks, Betty Mau, Winnie Coad, Florence Finkel, Eric Thyren, Donald Hoagland, Nan Carrol, Daniel Conklin, Elinor Sigler, Ruth Allard, Henrik Kathenes, John Molinari, Clarence Anderson, Mary Lou Conover, Robert Mills, Louis Van Orden, Paul Smith, Thomas Cartmill, William Tourelle, John Shaw.

TRAFFIC PATROL

The Patrol Chairman is appointed each June by the School Council. Members are chosen by the Chairman and Adviser based on the needs of the current school year. Included in this year's personnel are Betty Mau, '39, and Dorothy Wachtel, '39, Associate Chairmen; Jean Allard, '41; Beth Bollenbach, '38; Richard Bourie, '41; Patricia Campbell, '38; Evelyn Cory, '39; Ralph Flook, '39; Donald Graham, '41; Jean Pierson, '40; Robert Robbins, '40; Charles Schweitzer, '39; Earle Shotwell, '40; Jean Sigler, '39; Paul Smith, '41; Eric Thyren, '39; Jane Walker, '38; A. L. Johnson, Adviser.

ATHLETICS

SOCCER . . .

This year, "Doc" Goeltz turned out one of the most successful soccer teams in the history of Verona High School. Having very few players from the preceding year, he started from scratch and succeeded in turning out a hard-kicking forward line. The season was closed with a total of six wins, four losses and one tie. The second Kearny game was a heart-breaking defeat, which resulted from a ball glancing off "Dunnie's" foot and sneaking into the corner of his own goal. The other defeats were by Harrison, and East Orange. The team showed it could give as well as take, in turn defeating East Orange once, Montclair twice, Hawthorne twice, and the Alumni.

Those who received letters were: Captain Joe Gulla, Bob Dunn, Bob Morris, Bob Nesbitt, Donald Hoagland, Pete, Tony, and Mike Tucci, Ben Gulla, Allan Vitale, George Brookwell, Bill Dox, Fred Hill, Henrik Kathenes, Bert Englert. Of these, Gulla, Morris, Nesbitt, Hoagland, Brookwell, Dox, and Englert will be lost by graduation.

TRACK . . .

This year's track season was officially opened by a meet with Bloomfield High School. Verona suffered a crushing defeat, obtaining only 18 points while Bloomfield garnered 77. However, this was not a real test and much practice had been lost by inclement weather. The squad also was inexperienced and will probably gain in confidence and ability as the season progresses. The team, as last year, is being coached by "Skipper" Smith. Clarence Anderson, and Herbert Maroot, lettermen from last year are expected to form the backbone of the squad in coming meets. In the Bloomfield meet a star performer was uncovered in Louis Winters, who is only a sophomore, and gathered 8 of the total 18 points. The team is captained by Clarence Anderson and the other members are Oliver Cordz, Kenneth Reynolds, Roger Shotwell, Herbert Maroot, John Gonsalves, Elwood Hermey, Werner Hoffman, and Louis Winters.

BASEBALL . . .

Three lettermen from last year are expected to form the nucleus of this year's team. They are Bob Morris, Bob Nesbitt, and Joe Gulla. Other players who had experience last year and are expected to fill some of the empty positions are: Hugh Gerard, Harry McCusker, Bob Dunn, and Charles Peterson. In addition to these there are many newcomers who will be out to win a place on the team. Gulla will probably do most of the pitching with Morris receiving. The three returning lettermen are all seniors and will be lost by graduation. Therefore it is probable, that this year's team will form the greater part of next year's.

BASKETBALL . . .

The sharp-shooters who represented Verona on the Basketball Court this year played against old man hard-luck more than ever before. The team, having only one veteran, Bob Nesbitt, showed plenty of fight and endurance and they are proved capable of handling their assignments. The squad, piloted by Coach "Doc" Goeltz, gave the majority of its opponents many exciting moments before tasting defeat.

Coach Goeltz alternated his starting line-up throughout the season with six men seeing the majority of the action. These six were: Joe Gulla, Bob Nesbitt, Bob Morris, Bob Dunn, John Molinari, and George Brookwell.

Jack Weiner, Pete Bentley, and Tommy Cartmill all saw considerable action.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of '38, of Henry B. Whitehorne High School, Verona, being of sound mind, and of our own free will and accord, do give and bequeath to the Class of '39 all the privileges which we, as seniors, have possessed.

Also, to the Junior Class we leave the remainder of our estate, including valuable property such as: our tested excuse system, our ability to catch up in our sleep in class, the skeleton in our closet (namely, our atrocious attitude in assembly), our library containing the only copy in existence of the book, "Through High School On the Five Year Plan," or "Why Go Into That?" without which no one can hope to succeed in High School, and another Benny Shaw to cheer them when the detentions pile up.

The following articles we give and bequeath to our teachers: a SHADOWS staff he can lean on, and a toupee to Mr. Dimmers; to Miss Howell, a U. S. History class that is not afraid to cut because they need the sleep; for Mrs. Burton a brain trust class who not only can understand her college board questions, but can even answer them; a new cook book for Mrs. Wood; a hair net for Mr. Johnson; a Lincoln Zephyr for Miss Cook; for Mr. Wilkin a Freshman more intelligent than Appius Claudius, ninety years old and blind; and to Mr. Anderson that stupendous scientific discovery of a complete vacuum, the senior mind.

To all whom it may concern, be it known that the honorable Paul E. Dimmers is herein and hereby duly appointed executor of this our last will and testament.

CRYSTAL GAZING INTO 1948 A. D.

Ed Sellmer is running an Escort Service Agency in Hollywood, with reduced rates for debts. He employs only the best college men, with or without mustaches.

Gordon Meacham, an up and coming pharmacist, has opened a drug store next to Smithline's, and is affording serious competition with "Meacham's Modern Mustard Plasters."

Adolf Pischl has at last found a job to suit his delicate temperament. He is the fellow who pushes the button which sends the current to the electric chair. How shocking!

Sophie Goldberg has opened a modern exquisite beauty salon—ten years off your age for $5 and $8 for each year after that.

Jill Young is head of an exclusive finishing school where girls are taught the most approved technique in the most approved manner.

Beverly Rieser tells children's stories over WJZ at 6:30. Serious competition for Uncle Don, we hear.

Ben Shaw, whom we remember for his scholastic habits, has just accepted the position of English tutor at Harvard. He is planning a ten-volume history of the Victorian poets with comments and improvements by the author.

Dan Conklin, we are not surprised to hear, has made a pile of lucre with his perfection of a good nickel cigar. Does it smell like the ones you smoked in V. H. S., Danny?

Duwen Abramson has become manager of Verona's largest A. & P. The women shoppers simply dote on his shy smile.

Bert Englert, the distinguished business executive, has just returned from a vacation tour of the Continent. He says Jean was homesick.

Louise Berry is enjoying huge royalties on her new book, "The Care and Feeding of Husbands." She says she is planning a book on male psychology, which will appear shortly.

Rita Sinsheimer left today for her fourth trip to Reno. Rita's motto is "If at first you don't succeed, try again, and again, and again——." She says she just can't find a man who will live up to her high ideals.

Doris Bealer is teaching higher mathematics at Bryn Mawr. The girls are dears, she states, but sometimes she thinks the mathematics is a little too high for them.

Marvin Waimon is vacationing from his latest slap-stick comedy, "Here's Mud in Your Eye." Marvin was a riot in the custard pie scene.

Livingston Hutchins is male attendant, at Overbrook, New Jersey. Ibbey knocks 'em out when they get too obstreperous—or else he plays his violin to them, with the same effect. He says he will stay as long as that blond nurse does.

Ruth Allard, famed actress of stage and screen, has recently signed a five-year contract with M. G. M. Ruth's public is clamoring for another romance like "Passionate Butterfly." We still remember you in "Wait 'Till We're Married," Ruth.

Bob Nesbitt is crooning over the air every Tuesday at 11:30, over NBC. Bob's melting tones are to be heard in every American home, and bid fair to outshine Crosby's. Bob made good as soon as he lived down the Glee Club reputation.

Jane Walker is head of an affluent correspondence school, and is becoming well-known through her mail course on "How to Become Popular in Ten Easy Lessons."

Lloyd Wicks is in Hollywood, expecting to be the choice of the Fox Studios, for the role of Rhett Butler in "Gone with the Wind." They say he will only have to wait another year or so.

Robert Hansen is playing the silent man in the latest Broadway hit, "Struck Dumb."

Dorothy Collins has opened a delightful shop on Fifth Avenue, featuring exclusive Paris creations. She says her mannequins are direct from Europe.

Lorraine Fischer is doing a neat bit in the floor show at the Trocadero. The work is interesting and the pay is good she says.

Oliver Cordz is manager of a big lipstick factory in Hoboken. He claims they've been "in the red" so long now, he'll have to stop giving all his girl friends free lipsticks.

Eugene Leone has become a millionaire over night due to his smart night-club, which is the latest rage in the Big City. Eugene says "I owe all my success to the fact that I hired only red-haired cigarette girls."

Johnny Molinari is working as body guard to the five-year-old Goldrocks heiress. His only complaint lies in the tender age of the heiress.

George Swenson is usher at the "Colossal Picture Colosseum." He says he likes to see the pictures over, but plans to quit because so much standing is bad for his health.

Janet McNeilly is official joke-writer for the Cantor and Baker programs. She claims all credit for the latest twist on the Scotchman wise-crack.

Frances Scher has recently published a simple dictionary called "Monosyllables for Morons." She dedicates it to the memory of the associates she caused to suffer back in V. H. S.

Opal St. George is Walt Winchell's latest Girl Friday. He says her secretarial skill and nose for news combine to make her a most successful reporter.

Roberta Kautzmann has just published a lengthy thesis refuting Einstein's irrefutable theory of relativity. She is also planning an essay on "Four Dimensional Fallacies."

Paul Johnson has found his true life's work as lion-trainer for Barnum and Bailey. His blond hair fascinates them.

Donald Hoagland is editor of the new local paper, "The Verona Backwash." Repeated editorship on SHADOWS gave him adequate experience in how to deal with recalcitrant reporters.

Bill Gilbert is running in the coming election for Justice of the Peace. His quiet respect for the law and reputation for dignity and carefulness assure him of success by a large majority.

George Brookwell has achieved the high position of Chief of the Volunteer Firemen of Verona. Congratulations, George, we always knew you were a fast worker.

Raymond Coslick and Lewis Fredericks have set up a Gents' Furnishings store next to the Florence Shop, and are doing a thriving business in collegiate apparel.

Barbara Bansemer is teaching art at Cooper Union, and is at present administering a course in the "Sketching of Contortionists." That must tie 'em in knots, eh Barbara?

Hyman Amsterdam, after having been thrown out of three successive surgical colleges for "cuttin' up," has at last become an eminent surgeon. He gets it from his father.

Elaine Wilder, the screen's greatest glamor girl since Shirley Temple, has followed in Shirley's footsteps by appearing in that smash hit, "Poor Little Ritchie's Girl."

And who but Joe Gulla (alias Second-Story-Sam) is pitching for the Sing Sing Striped Sox! Joe is on good terms with the warden who runs a policeman's vacation camp. It seems Joe suggested the name — "Camp Dicks."

Ruth Winans, former chauffeur of the Class of '38, is now running a school bus between the high school and Sherry's. Says Ruth, "I always knew I had a flair for driving!"

Gladys Mueller, the girl who used to wear Robert Taylor's picture in a locket, is still carrying the torch for him, it seems. According to Gladys an old flame never dies, and she hopes to surpass the torch-bearing record of an old-timer like the Statue of Liberty.

Rosina Leone has become the first woman vice-president of Verona Moving Van Company. Rosina started as the boss' very private secretary and owes her success she says, to the fact that she always did like trucking.

Pat De Carlo, having just returned from Paris is considered the too utterly ultra hair stylist of the day. Pat's experience came in Verona where he could always manage to say things that would make your hair curl!

We hear from Wimbledon that Roger Shotwell has just won the World Tennis Championship. He is now publishing a book called "Bringing The Rackets into the Courts," which he lovingly dedicated to "Danny."

And little Doris Clegg has made good in the movies! She is employed as Walt Disney's model for Sleeping Beauty. Doris enjoys the work, and is making personal appearances in all the largest theatres where she says the applause doesn't wake her any more than classes used to.

Don't be surprised when you see Marian Wirthlin smiling out at you from an Ipana Toothpaste ad! We always knew Marian could cash in on that gorgeous smile.

And Robert Morris is doing pretty well for himself as a real estate agent in Florida. Bob's biggest selling argument is that the weather there is always just like June!

Bessie Arminio, prominent business woman in Newark, said in a recent interview that she was just a career woman at heart. Come now, Bessie, let's be Frank about things.

Bill Dox has turned author now. The book is called "The Life and Loves of Don Juan Dox," in which Bill explains the newest and best technique. He seems to be our modern authority.

Eileen Cronin is now assistant gym teacher under Mrs. Van Houten, and is very popular with the girls. It seems that Eileen doesn't mind gum chewing. "I'm stuck on it," she said.

Rose Gulla is Mayor La Guardia's chief assistant these days. She is in charge of New York's anti-noise campaign. La Guardia took Rose on the strength of her four-year silence in high school.

Betty Jane Johnston is living in Verona now in the darlinest rose-covered cottage, with Woody and all the little splinters.

Jean Allard, Verona's new librarian, is clamping down on those people who won't bring back the books from the lending library. It seems that Jean values highly anything that's Lent.

And Janice Lance is still waiting for the lad who's working on a rock-pile out in Colorado. They say, when his sentence is up, that she is going to try to reform him.

Beth Bollenback, pianist for the National Symphony, has just completed her newest masterpiece called "Rhapsody in Chords and Dischords," which she fondly dedicated to the boys' glee club.

Dorothy Bush is now directress of a Home for Orphaned Children in Verona. Oh, Dot, quit kidding!

Mae Baumgarten has taken over Prout's Funeral Home. Hearse is a grave business.

Jean Farley is Verona's finest farmerette. She specializes in carrot tops. Wow! She's the tops!

Great Scott! Wally Hart has finally settled down in a proverbial vine-covered cottage. Yoram, Caldwell Progress!

Florence Belogin is finally realizing her dreams in traveling. She gets around.

Nan Carroll, of the scientific mind is now a dentist. She must have pull.

Winnie Coad has just won second prize in a "Miss Verona" Beauty Contest. We just can't figure it out.

Ruth Jane Wilson has just opened a roller skating rink. We bet it's a flop.

Winnie Bonnet has opened a hat shop in "Joisey City." The best of Bonnet's Bonnets is the vegetable salad special.

Walter Bunton, who originally trained to be a public accountant, has changed his vocation to that of sound man on the Buck Rogers program. At last Walter can make noise and money at the same time!

Pat Campbell is the determined leader of the women's movement for Female Forest Rangers.

Arthur Littlefield has just won the ten-day motorcycle race in Atlantic City. He wears his laurels with becoming modesty.

Jean McCusker is head of a huge potato-chips factory in Peoria. She got her background eating potato chips in fifth period study hall.

Fred Tourell is the fellow with the megaphone on one of those sight-seeing buses that tour New York. Fred has an extra-large megaphone.

Loretta Rekoon has opened a farm to raise animals for their fur. Of course you know what kind—it's a racoon farm!

THE IDEAL SCHOOL HAS:

Democratic teachers, with anti-homework complexes.

Ten minutes' rest period between each class.

Upholstered seats in assembly, with chewing gum receptacles.

Light locker rooms fitted with mirrors and showers.

A Mickey Mouse entertainment after every test.

Modernistic cafeteria furniture, guaranteed not to catch girls' stockings.

Consolation favors distributed with report cards.

Lounge rooms, complete with radio and phonographs.

An Art department with an unlimited souvenir supply.

Banisters wide enough to slide down.

A Broadway hit showing in assembly every month.

An exemption system from exams, for the most ingenious excuse writers.

A free lunch to the last one in the line.

Segregated detention classes, so that the tardy people, the cutter-uppers, the flunks, can get together and compare methods.

Marksmanship classes, to avoid disorder around the waste-paper baskets.

A shy and retiring Freshman class.

WE'LL NEVER FORGET

By Frances Scher

We're leaving high school now, to face greater triumphs yet,

But we're taking some things with us that we never will forget;

The soccer games and baseball games, and entertaining dances,

Detention for our escapades, the silly young romances,

The awful, hollow feeling caused by dread examinations,

The noisy study halls, looking forward to vacations,

The surreptitious whispering when classes become palling,

The meeting of stern questions with the good old art called "stalling,"

The laughing, and the joking, and the arguments in class,

And the ardent prayers, 'round test-time, that one may safely pass——

These memories, and others, we will always have, I guess . . . . .

It seems we're taking with us the whole of V. H. S.!

SONNET

By Frances Scher

If I could hide my soul within a brush,
And cover sullen canvas with broad sweep
Of burning color, riotous and deep,
Yet breathing softly beauty's gentle hush;—
If I could raise to eager lips a flute
As fair as that which Orpheus' sad soul spake,
And thence into the trembling air could shake
A fount of silver notes that ne'er fall mute;—
If I could swell my throat with liquid sound,
And lift upon the wind a wordless song,
To echo from the mountains sweet and long,
And quiver into life the valley round;

If I the power of one of these could reach,
Then would I, glad, forego the need of speech.
